C. of C. Elects New Manager; Rains Play Havoc With Crops

BRIGGS ROBERTSON ELECTED MANAGER OF B. C. D. AND C. OF C.

Briggs Robertson, who is a member of one of Slaton's pioneer families, was elected as manager of the Slaton Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday night.

Mr. Robertson is particularly well fitted for this kind of work, as he has had a wide experience in publicity work. Briggs has done newspaper work on the Austin, Wichita Falls and Slaton newspapers, promoted a service station co-operative service of almost national scope and at one time operated one of the largest Department Stores ever to do business in this city.

"I feel deeply grateful to the board of directors of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce and B. C. D. for the confidence which they have placed in me. Having lived in Slaton ever since the city was founded, I have seen it grow from just a staked township on the prairie, to the modern city that it is today. I am happy to have had a not inconsiderable part in the development of our fine city, and with the coordinating support which I feel sure, will come from the board of directors, and with the good will and support, that I know my friends will extend me in my efforts; you and I, should build a better Slaton. We have made—we must admit—progress, as well as mistakes, in the past, but by united efforts, we can lessen our mistakes and speed up our progress. The co-operation of all Slaton will, in a large measure, determine my success in this undertaking, so I ask my friends to help me help Slaton and you."

Mr. Robertson will fill the unexpired term of Jack Norman, who has been granted a leave of absence in order that he may join the Marines.

The Directors of the Chamber of Commerce were unanimous in their choice of Mr. Robertson.

Attendance To Game Tonight Urged By Coach Hamilton

The Tigers' chances are not so good for the football game with Levelland's Lobos here tonight. Although the Lobos were defeated by Morton last week, the Tigers are the underdogs in the game tonight, due to the fact that several of the first string boys on the Tiger eleven will not play in the game.

Shirley Butler and Louis Cates will be out due to foot injuries. These two boys will probably be out for several weeks. Wallace Sanders is a victim of flu. Jack Cleveland has a bad knee, as does Billy Miller. Jimmie Cooper has a broken rib. There boys are all first stringers.

Levelland had four first stringers out of school when they played Morton, who will be back this week.

This Friday's game is dedicated to parents of football boys. All parents will be admitted free and will be permitted to sit on the sidelines with the boys, and all are urged to attend.

Coach Hamilton urges all Tiger fans to turn out. So far this season, the Tigers have not received the support that they deserve.

Be there tonight, and help the Tiger win.

Band Students Are Wanted

Mr. Truman Shelton, newly elected director of the Slaton Tiger Band, announced that more band students are wanted. Mr. Shelton stated that he would like to have a class of beginner students for band work.

Parents of children interested in band work are asked to talk to the director at an early date.

Mr. F. A. Drewry, Miss Joan Drewry and Mr. Oree Glasscock visited relatives and friends in Sherman over the weekend.

Style Show To Be November 3

Mr. Tess Bruner is to be Commentator for the Style Show sponsored by the Band Parents, Monday, November 3, at 8:00 p. m., at the High School.

Each business house will have a representative in the show and the gentlemen will model the latest dashing creations, from a sports ensemble to evening apparel. The winner will be crowned "Queen" of the show. There will be an all girl orchestra, taken from the Tiger Band, and a musical program throughout the evening.

Admission will be 9c, 15c, 25c.

Ammonia Drum Explodes At Locker Plant

Reports Thursday afternoon from Mercy Hospital were that E. H. Armstrong's condition was very satisfactory. Mr. Armstrong suffered severe shock last Tuesday night, when a barrel of ammonia exploded in the lobby of the Slaton Frozen Locker Plant at 1 a. m. Mr. Armstrong is the manager of the Armstrong Supply Co., of Lubbock, and was superintending the defrosting of the Locker plant when the accident occurred. The Armstrong Supply Co. installed the Locker Plant here several months ago.

The explosion shattered the plate glass in the front of the building and did some damage to the floor but did not affect the operation of the plant in any way, as none of the machinery was stopped or injured.

Mr. E. R. Legg, owner of the Locker plant, stated that while the explosion made a lot of noise, it had not caused any great inconvenience in the work at the plant. The plant carries explosion insurance.

Today and Tomorrow 2nd Anniversary For Berkley and Haddock

Berkley & Haddock are celebrating their Second Anniversary today and tomorrow, and both are as proud as peacocks over their two years of serving Slaton and this community.

"Two years ago today we opened in a modest way," said Ed Haddock, "and we were two of the most excited men in town. Since that time, there never has been a week that we have not advertised in the Slatonite and we have enlarged our stock and added many new fixtures. Our business has grown steadily and today we wish to express our sincere appreciation to the hundreds of patrons who have made our store what it is now. We have striven at all times to give this community the kind of grocery and market service that is second to none. The lines we carry are the nation's best and we keep up with the times and add new lines as soon as they prove themselves acceptable to the public. We are always alert to get extra values for our patrons and buy in large quantities in order that we may pass savings on to our customers and we are associated with the Red & White organization in order that we may take advantage of the wide buying power they give us. We are, we believe pardonably, proud of Berkley & Haddock on this, our Second Anniversary, today."

"Even if I do say so myself, I do not believe there is anyone who can select meats any better than I can," said John Berkley, "and the fact that our meats are the best, is the reason we have had such a large business in our market department. We particularly specialize in the best packers put out, fine steaks, roasts and best cuts that really make the average daily meal a banquet. While Ed may think that the Grocery Department is the most important part of our business, I am thoroughly convinced that the Market department is the one that is the most popular with our patrons."

Berkley & Haddock is a one hundred per cent home owned institution.

New Cafe Open.

L. H. Mell, who is well known by all railroad employees for his excellent cooking, has opened a cafe in the Palace Theatre building. Mr. Mell was for years the chef on the Santa Fe Diner on the Eastern and Western lines.

Mr. Mell will feature hamburgers, stew, home made chili and regular meals. "We will give curb service to our customers," said Mr. Mell, "Just drive up in front and honk."

New Drivers' Law Effective Nov. 1

AUSTIN, Oct. 28.—A complete reorganization of Drivers License schedules throughout the state, effective Nov. 1, was announced today by State Police Director Homer Garrison.

The new schedules, making Drivers License Examiners much more accessible to the public, are the result of an expansion program under the new Drivers License Law which provided for the 62 new Drivers License Examiners who graduated from training school Saturday and will begin active duty Wednesday. Here's where and when to get your driver's license problems solved:

Lubbock Schedule: Patrol District Office, 8 to 5, six days a week.

Axis Has Big Aluminum Supply

While the United States is busy stepping up its aluminum production and seeking new sources of bauxite, the Axis powers face no such problem. France long has been one of the largest producers of bauxite, and large deposits also exist in Hungary, Italy and Yugoslavia. In fact, the Axis probably is better off in the aluminum field than in any other, and there is little doubt that aluminum is being used there to replace the deficiencies in other metals.

Great Britain has stepped up its production of aluminum greatly in the past two years and Canadian capacity has been more than doubled. Although Canadian exports to the United States declined in 1940 and the early part of 1941, due to British demands, this country has purchased a large supply from Canada to be delivered during the emergency years. Canadian exports to the U. S. were resumed in the fall of 1941.

While aluminum long has been regarded as an essential military material, not even experts in that field forecast any such demand for it as has taken place since National Defense production started. As is the case with most metals, we had more than enough for all civilian demand. Its use in aircraft is a new use, and one that has swept the world in a short time. The demand will continue as long as the defense emergency exists—as long as tyranny and oppression threaten the world and the Arsenal of Democracy pours forth an ever-increasing fleet of planes to fight for freedom throughout the world.

Rain And Cold Damaging Crop

Reports from farmers and ginners are that the continued rains are seriously damaging the crop and that many of the bolls are rotting, especially the ones that are on the lower parts of the plants.

The gins were in full operation Monday and Tuesday, but due to the condition of the cotton, progress was very slow. Much of the cotton is very dirty and is very hard to gather. Boll pullers were having much difficulty in gathering the cotton in the fields that were dry enough to work in; much of the ground was still too wet to allow pulling. With the additional rains Wednesday night and Thursday, it will be several days before any more work can be done in the fields.

Many of the farmers have been feeding boll pullers during the bad weather. Transient help is becoming scarce, as many of the families who came to this section several weeks ago, have gone back to South Texas.

Should the weather clear and allow the farmers to gather their crops, it is feared that a labor shortage will occur, as most of the cotton will mature at once.

It is estimated that nearly four inches of rain has fallen in this territory within the past week.

Listing Of Trucks Is Troublesome Job

F. Thayer Stoddard, head of the Texas division of the Public Roads Administration and Director of the National Defense Truck and Bus Inventory, is having trouble with Uncle Sam's mail delivery system which has returned 20,000 questionnaires because of improper address.

However, Stoddard estimated that between seven and ten thousand completed forms are being returned each day. He urged truck and bus owners who have failed to receive questionnaires, through change of address or otherwise, to write the Highway Traffic Advisory Committee, 607 Highway Building, Austin, Texas.

Lynn Shaw, General Manager of the Texas Motor Transportation Association, estimated that approximately 20 per cent returns have been received since the inventory began on October 5. The final figures will show between 50 and 75 per cent of the trucks and busses in the State, Shaw predicted.

Stoddard emphasized the importance of license numbers being included with requests for questionnaires. This is necessary, he said, in order that a control file can be kept of each vehicle.

The results of the inventory so far show that the percentage of vehicles operated in fleets of two or more is considerably higher than previously estimated, and may reach 30 per cent.

REFRESHER COURSE IN AVIATION DISCUSSED BY C OF C FOR SLATON

Vaccines Given To Lubbock Co.

AUSTIN.—Detailing some of the ways the State Department of Health is aiding each county in the prevention and control of communicable disease, Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, today revealed that the number of specimens examined and the amount of vaccines distributed free to Lubbock County in 1940 by the State Hygienic Laboratory would have cost $2,506.00 if purchased through private laboratories.

Miss Burton Is Buried Monday

Miss Elizabeth Ann Burton, age 33, well known in Slaton for many years, died Friday, October 24, after a long illness. Funeral services were held Monday, October 27, at 3:00 p. m., at the Slaton Church of Christ, with Elder Liff Sanders of Lubbock, officiating. Interment was in Englewood cemetery.

Miss Burton was born on April 19, 1908, at Farwell, Texas. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Annie Burton, three brothers, James Q. Burton of Chicago; Joe H. Burton of Los Angeles, John C. Burton of Slaton, and three sisters, Mrs. R. L. VanDyke of Slaton, Mrs. L. Harrell of Chicago, and Mrs. W. O. Porter of Georgia. Of the above, attending the funeral from out of town were Mrs. Harrell and Mr. Burton of Chicago.

Automobiles Kill More Than Bombers

Nazi bombers are doing very little better than Texas automobile drivers. For every 100 Britons the Nazis killed in September, autoists killed 82 Texans.

On October 14 the British air ministry announced 217 persons killed by bombs in the United Kingdom during September. Today State Police Director Homer Garrison announced that 178 traffic deaths were counted in Texas during the same month.

Continuing a trend which recently caused Garrison to predict an all-time high for traffic fatalities in 1941, deaths for the first nine months of this year totaled 1,370, a 13 per cent increase over the 1,213 persons killed in the same period last year.

Garrison found, on a basis of gasoline consumption, that the increase in travel has almost exactly paralleled the increase in fatalities. Privately owned vehicles have been driven approximately 13 per cent more this year, while no figures are available on the enormous increase in travel by Army and other government-owned vehicles.

As 'Enemy' Captured Fort Tilden

Fort Tilden, one of the defenses of New York, falls to the "invaders" from Fort Hancock. Men of the 52nd coast artillery (top) charge directly under muzzle of the 16-inch coast defense rifle as they capture the fort. Below: A machine gun crew guarding Marine Parkway bridge on road to Fort Tilden is shown, hands aloft, in token of surrender, when surprised by "enemy raiders" during a realistic test.

A.M.J.

Either our young folks are getting soft or are maturing faster than they did when I was a boy. What has become of the sand lot baseball team, the kids who played marbles and youngsters spinning tops. I'll bet there is not a boy in Slaton who would know how to play a game of "One Eyed Cat," "Foot and a half" or would know what kind of game "Cutting Grass" could be.

There is no longer any danger of a baseball coming through your "Parlor" window, for there is no longer any such thing as a "Parlor," nor are there any boys playing with base balls. It has been years and years since I have seen a kid playing "Mumble Peg," and I have often wondered just what a youngster of eight to fourteen does with his spare time.

Christmas seems to have lost a lot of its glamour for the kids, too. The squaking of tin horns and the crash of toy drums is gone from the big holiday of the year and the little girls seem to have lost all interest in dolls. About all that seems to be popular now 'ays is roller skates and air guns.

The little boys and girls are dignified, self assured and just one degree from being "Sassy," which is probably a good thing, but the imagination and make believe seems to be gone from the lives of our children and about the most active sport they take part in is playing "Jacks."

Kids with tousled hair, sore toes, scuffed up shoes and rib stockings are probably gone forever and if we don't watch out we'll have a bunch of softies coming on.

The problems of other people always keep me steamed up to the boiling point just as much as my own difficulties and I spend most of my working hours trying to work myself or some one else out of a hot spot. The shortage of automobiles has got me worried more than it has Crow-Harral, Harry Stokes, Jeff Custer or Van Stokes; the continued wet weather has me more up-set over cotton prospects than it has J. J. Neihoff, Judge Smith or Roy Mack and I nearly had a nervous break-down when I sympathized with Ray Ayres down at The Plains Grain and Heads Handling Co. The fleas on our little Fox Terrier are worrying me more mentally than they are the dog physically and my wife got me all in a dither because she pointed out a trailer behind a negro cotton pickers jalousy in which a ton or more of pickaninnies were stored under a worn tarpolin to protect them from the rain.

So far I have done no good at all for the cotton crop, new automobiles are scarce r than ever, the dog has still got fleas, the feed crop is almost a total loss and I don't know what happened to the pickaninnies, but I'm still working on the problems and looking for more. If you have any suggestions send them in.

The subject is trite and has been worn threadbare by every small town in the Nation, but it is one that should always be kept in mind by people who live in smaller communities, "Don't knock your Home Town."

It is said that an optimist sees the doughnut while the pessimist sees the hole. We have too many people here who see the hole. A little more confidence on the part of our merchants and a little more loyalty on the part of our citizens would help Slaton be a much better town in a business way. When the opportunity arises say a good word for Slaton, if you cannot, then don't say anything at all.

Jesse Brasfield, who has 16 1/2 acres of cotton planted out near the Golf Links, says nobody will believe him, but just the same he has picked 4400 pounds of lint cotton from his patch and he estimates that if the weather will just give him a half chance he will get 25 bales or more off his field. Jesse did not poison his crop and believe those who did use poison did more damage than they did good.

Since Mr. Brasfield came in and reported about this patch of cotton, I have worn out a full length lead pencil figuring out how much money the cotton farmers are going to make and how I can get my dipper in the gravy, but it is still a Chinese puzzle to me.

Mrs. W. J. Walker was in the office last week and said that she and her husband are raising chickens for the market and from what she said, their chickens must be the kind the restaurants advertise, but never serve.

Not long ago, Dr. Brooking let me have several copies of an English newspaper that was published in December, 1940, and about all the advertising it had in it was on golf balls, liquors and cigarettes. These were all the suggestions the English had to offer for Christmas gifts.

While we have much to worry about and will probably have much more, we still have an opportunity to buy most anything we can pay for or think we can pay for in the future.

It is said that the American people have gone on a buying drunk and that it won't be long before we will begin to feel the pinch of shortages in many lines, but foodstuffs are likely to be plentiful although they will be getting higher. By next Christmas a lot of the doodads and funny things the women like will be gone and I want to suggest right now that everyone start their 1942 shopping, for it is just 419 days until Christmas, 1942.

Mrs. Harry Stokes and Mrs. R. G. Loveless have threatened me and I am shaking in my boots, for they have signified their intention of submitting a defense of the women for this column. They said I have been criticizing the women too much. While I will, with reluctance, print anything they may submit, I am afraid to get into a word contest with the women. With Kipling's warning that the female of the species is more deadly than the male, I am afraid they will throw everything at my head, including the kitchen stove.

It is said that in China, where many of the women fight in the ranks with the soldiers, that the women show no mercy for a captive, whatever, and snip off an enemy's head as neatly as they would snip a skein of thread.

It has always been my intention to be chivalrous and let the women down easy and I have never told the whole truth about the women for fear of discouraging the young men who were on the brink of getting sucked into the whirlpool of marriage, but if the women do turn loose on me, I will turn the full fury of the truth loose on the world and go down screaming for liberty.

Our Weekly Sermon—

When The Broom Flies
 By r. Henry Ostrom, Member of Extension Staff, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Text: "I will sweep it with the besom of destruction."—Isaiah 14:23.

Amazing Bible: Find me a country or a language where it does not fit. Point me to an occupation where it does not directly apply. Consider the close fitting, direct application to the dwelling. What home exists without a kitchen or a kitchenette? And what kitchen without a broom?

The word "besom" in our text means a broom. The verse refers to the most outstanding soiled spot on earth, Babylon. It tells of Babylon's doom when God sweeps the filth away, causing actual destruction. We speak of cleaning a house. God speaks of cleaning the earth. Nothing on earth is so defiling as idolatrous, hypocritical, formal, dead religion. At length it must be utterly swept away. It is crammed with contagion.

Moral purity will not mix with impurity. This places us at once in the laboratory. We are to apply the microscope of truth to the subject of morals, and insist that the immoral must be separated and cast away. We have for this a definite standard—the Bible. Marvelous it is, how the Bible's moral code promotes value and harmony in the family, the neighborhood, the nation, and internationally. A broom is indeed needed today to sweep away the filth of thinking and habits which at least forcibly hint at immorality, for they are all Babylonish. "Housecleaning" would be a very good watchword for the earth.

Surely a word for the housewife is here. You may substitute the electric sweeper for the old-time bunch of twigs or reeds, but it is nevertheless sweeping. Righteousness at the broom handle is a sign of a well-ordered kitchen.

Purity of purposes will even outdo purity of atmosphere.

For whom do you sweep? Do you answer, "Why, I just sweep; the house has to be swept." Then, that is your mistake. You can elevate the mental task up to moral grandeur by doing whatsoever you do in the will of God and for His glory. Dust and dirt you would destroy, but just as truly your efforts are to be toward the destruction of all that is Babylonish. How? Claiming Christ as your Saviour, and placing your subdued life in His will so that your aim is to do all for His glory.

As the sweeper plies, let the rooms and ramifications of your being rescind with the word, "clean, clean." Christianity does not purpose to cover filth, it rids us of it. For the blood of Jesus Christ, God's Son, cleanseth us from all sin.

Chief Yeoman, John F. Handford, member of Houston Post of Philadelphia, has a favorite story about a comrade who was a bit careless about attending to his church duties, but whose wife was regular in her attendance.

The pastor was a bit surprised one Sunday morning to find the former sailor waiting to speak to him. The sailor seemed a bit embarrassed, but finally got around to making his request. "I want you to pray for Anna Bell," he said.

The pastor agreed, assuming that Anna Bell had been seized with some sort of sickness. A couple of Sundays later he met the sailor husband, who did not seem at all cast down. Solicitously, the pastor asked about the wife and was assured that she was all right. A bit puzzled, he asked if the prayers should be repeated on the following Sunday.

"No, thank you very kindly," was the astonishing reply. "She won last Wednesday--seven to one!"

West Ward Notes.

PATROLMAN VISITS SCHOOL. Tuesday at 1:30, Highway Patrolman Roe, of Lubbock, talked to the West Ward pupils in chapel.

Patrolman Roe told the pupils that the Patrolmen and Officers are their friends. The Patrolmen want to help the children and want the children to help them by avoiding accidents.

The children can help the Patrolmen and themselves by observing these rules:

1. Cross the street at intersections.
2. Walk on sidewalks.
3. Cross streets on a green light.
4. If you must walk in the street or road, walk on the left hand side.
5. Do not play in the street.
6. If you ride your bicycle at night, you must have lights.
7. When you ride your bicycle, you must observe the traffic rules, just as cars.

When you see a Patrolman, remember that he is your friend and his job is to help you.

Mr. and Mrs. Sug Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. Hop Halsey of Lubbock were in Amarillo last Saturday for the Lubbock-Amarillo High school football game.

The engagement of Miss Geraldine Johnson to Dr. George Dore Jr., of Seattle, was announced Wednesday, October 22, in Clovis at the home of Mrs. Mark Phillips, sister of the honoree, with Mrs. Lawrence Brady as joint hostess.

The engagement and the date of the approaching marriage was inscribed on autumn leaves and read, "Jerry and George, November 8". The announcement was again told at the refreshment table, centered with a golden brown banner bearing the announcement, and held by a tall copper urn. The table, covered with a cutwork cloth, was lighted with tapers.

Eighteen guests were received during the evening.

Musical Program Given

The Library at Clovis was the scene of a miscellaneous shower on Tuesday, October 23, honoring Miss Geraldine Johnson, bride-elect of Dr. George Dore, Jr., of Seattle. Guests were greeted by Mrs. W. S. Carmack and presented to the receiving line, composed of Mesdames M. F. Snow and L. E. Durand, Miss Johnson and Mrs. L. B. Johnson, mother of the honoree.

Miss Johnson was presented the gifts, which were placed on a cutwork cloth covered table. Miss Helen Miller presided at the bride's book.

The serving table was centered with an arrangement of chrysanthemums in a crystal bowl.

Musical selections were offered during the evening and special numbers were rendered for the group.

Baby Industry

Everybody knows that our normal, peacetime standards of living must be cut during a war. Everybody knows that ships must carry war needs; that material and labor must all work for the war effort. But does everybody realize that, while a shortage of supplies means inconvenience to the buyer, it must mean hardship to the seller?

All honor then to the great mass of traders who accept the new conditions with good grace.

In war time, production must be for war and not for peace. Here are examples of the change-over from peace-time products to war-time necessities:

Corsets become Parachutes and Chin-straps.

Lace Curtains become Sand-fly Netting.

Carpets become Webbing Equipment.

Toilet Preparations become Anti-gas Ointments.

Golf Balls become Gas Masks. Mattresses become Life Jackets. Saucapans become Steel Helmets. Combs become Eyeshields.

"We are glad that we can announce the distributorship of the Babee-Tenda, the new safety chair for baby," says Frank Barclay of the Babee-Tenda Co. "We feel that this is just as important to the mothers of today as war materials, for never before has quite so much been put on the Mother's shoulders. It is up to the Mother to keep things so pleasant at home that war can be pushed into the background for a few hours. Babee-Tenda helps take care of the baby and gives Mother more time to do the things that need doing."

"Babee-Tenda is only half as high as a high chair, and square. It simply cannot be pulled or tipped over. The new halter strap gives extra security. Knowing Baby is safe, the Mother can go about her household duties, free from worry. Babee-Tenda costs no more than a good high chair and can be used for the same length of time. Besides, in Babee-Tenda you are getting two combinations in one piece young bodies. Without milk and cream it would be difficult to please a family, for milk adds that added zest of flavor to any meal. Johns Dairy is the dependable concern in Slaton for pure wholesome milk and cream. Johns cows are T. B. tested for your protection. Johns milk and cream can be received at all Slaton grocery stores or delivered.

'Glassing' Adds to Housewife's Vocabulary

Grandmother did her "glassing" over a hot kettle, and put up a supply of glassed foods that would suffice during the winter. A typical grandmother of this bygone era is shown above at right. At the left, is a modern housewife who achieves the same results as Grandma but in an easier and more efficient way.

Modern methods applied to an old custom have evoked a new word for the housewives' language—"glassed."

"Glassed" means anything that is glass packed or preserved in glass jars or bottles. It encompasses hundreds of products, but its use is particularly applicable to foods. You will find vegetables, fruits, meats, coffee, jams and jellies, of course, and scores of other glassed food products in the neighborhood market or grocery.

In keeping with glassed foods, some other new terms come into the everyday language of Mrs. Housewife. "To glass" and "glassing" now replace other terms applied to packing or preserving.

Glass Led the Way
The term "glassed" is as old as the language and as new as the modern art of preserving. Indeed, glass was the first material ever used in both the commercial and home-preserving of perishable foodstuffs. But, like so many other words in the language, it has never been used correctly in reference to preserving foodstuffs in glass.

Nicholas Appert, "Father of Preserving," used glass jars for his first experiments in putting up foodstuffs "way back in the early 19th century. The men and women who perfected his art also used glass containers in their experi-

New Terms Take Place In Housewife's Lexicon

These are the new words and terms for the housewife's dictionary:

"Glassed"—packed, preserved, put up in glass jars or bottles.

"Glassing"—the process of packing or preserving in glass jars.

"To glass"—the act of putting up foodstuffs, or jams or jellies in glass containers.

ments. Had it not been for glass the art of preserving might have waited years longer for development.

It's heart-warming for the housewife of today to know that the great packing and preserving industries of today have followed an example established by "Mother America" and "Grandmother" America.

Those white-haired

Grandmother had to forego any rest in "preserving time" in order that the family could enjoy fruits and vegetables later on. She evolved recipes and processes for preserving that eventually industry adopted.

Honor for "Mother America"

All credit for glassing, then, to Grandmother in bringing us the choice products and flavors of today in an economical and practical-modern way.

The laboratories of the great glass industry have developed techniques which today turn out glass jars lighter, stronger and unbelievably inexpensive. The glass jars used commercially today are so economical and easy to replace that the housewife can discard them like any other type of container when they are emptied.

Today, expertly glassed foods have brought the color and interest of Grandmother's pet packs into the grocery and market.

Brakes On Your Car Should Be Relined

The past several months, with so much mud and water, have caused brake linings on automobiles to wear considerably. In most cases, the lining has worn out and the rivets are cutting into the drum, and if this continues, the drums will soon be damaged beyond repair.

Without good brakes, you have no control over your car, and driving is dangerous.

Carl Sartain, who operates a garage on North 9th Street, is especially equipped to re-line your brakes and adjust them so that all wheels will brake evenly and this will give you that confidence that makes driving a pleasure, instead of a hazard.

Mr. Sartain invites you to call at his place of business and let him figure with you on re-lining your brakes. Practice "Safety First", and have this matter attended to now.

of furniture. You see, after the seat is out grown, Babee-Tenda is not discarded. It is easily converted into a permanent play table that may be used for years."

"We do have a piece of furniture that is as vital to the Mothers of our country as shells are to the Army and Navy, and we are assured of a steady supply of them from our factory. We are also glad to announce that we are co-operating with the defense program, and will be glad to explain our plan."

"Babee-Tenda is always on display and for sale at TeenyTots Togs, 1417 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas, or dial 5332 and Miss Bonnie Pendleton will be glad to give you a demonstration."

Comments On Proper Time For Planting Nursery Stock

The Most Satisfactory Season For Transplanting Trees, Shrubs And Evergreens.

While such plants may be transplanted with more or less success at any time of the year, the most favorable time is during the period when they are most nearly dormant.

Spring And Fall Planting In This Latitude.

These terms are applicable in the Northern section of the country where the ground remains frozen throughout the winter, making planting in this season impractical if not impossible. Generally, from November 1 through April, is the most satisfactory time with the fall and spring seasons merging, with only slight interruptions, due to ground being frozen for short periods. For early planting, November, December and January. For late planting, February, March and April.

Cause Of Winter Injury To Nursery Stock And Newly Transplanted Stock.

Damage to plants by freezing is most likely to occur during sudden freezes following a warm period, which has caused the "sap to rise" and the plant to make an unseasonal growth. Until a plant becomes well established and has replaced some of the roots that it has necessarily lost in being transplanted, it is much slower to respond to unseasonable periods of warm weather than plants which have been undercut by the tree-digger and have gone uninjured, while like plants which have not been disturbed, have either been killed or severely damaged by low temperatures. Deep freezing around the roots is neither injurious to newly planted or to well established plants.

Advantages Of Ear Planting.
Early planters get the pick of the crop or first choice. New feeders start growing almost as soon as the plant is put out in its new location and continues to grow all winter. These new roots are very important in giving the plant a good send-off the first season.

$10,513,515 Paid Texas Farmers By Cotton Oil Mills

$10,513,515 was the amount received by Texas cotton growers from the sale of cottonseed to oil mills during September, it was stated by Bennette Wallin, Secretary of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers' Association. This estimate is based upon the reports of two Federal agencies, the Bureau of the Census and the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Seed receipts by Texas mills during September were 20,000 tons less than during the same month last year. Because of much higher prices, however, growers cash income from cottonseed during the Better Service At The Nursery.

Seventy-five to ninety percent of all nursery stock is bought and planted in the latter part of the planting season, mainly for two reasons: Some of the planters have the mistaken idea that newly planted stock is particularly susceptible to winter injury and the old human custom of putting off until tomorrow what could better be done today. Earl customers can be assured of personal attention from the management.

This helpful information on the planting of nursery stock is given by one of the South Plains' leading nurserymen, R. O. Kershner of Kershner Nursery, located on the Slaton Highway just out of Lubbock.

When a Child Needs a Laxative!

SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT is a tasty liquid that most children will welcome whenever they need a laxative. What's more important, it has the same main ingredient as BLACK-DRAUGHT, its older companion. Perhaps that's why it usually gives a child such refreshing relief from the familiar symptoms which show a laxative is needed. Comes in two sizes: 25c-50c.

month was two and one-half times that of a year ago. During September, cottonseed were bringing growers about 160 per cent of "parity." On a parity basis, seed are worth more than any other farm commodity with the single exception of Maryland tobacco.

Green pasturage, which is succulent and high in protein, is better for dairy cows because it will produce more milk than will any other kind of roughage.

OT MUCH CHANCE for you to go clocking different brands of motor oil to prove which one flows fastest in Eskimo season. Yet the quicker the lubrication at every cold start, the less "dry rub" on delicate surfaces in your engine. Then why not change now to Conoco Nth oil for Winter and get an OIL-PLATED engine? OIL-PLATING is high up in the cylinders to fight fierce grind, much sooner than any plain oil-flow alone could even start wiggling.

Conoco Nth oil, you see—all in addition to speedy flow—fastens OIL-PLATING to inner engine surfaces, as if by "magnetic attraction." This close-bonded OIL-PLATING is up to its topmost point before you even touch the starter—and that's "faster than fast," to aid you toward anti-friction starting.

Even up in Iceland, of course, any engine's normal firing is hotter than the Land of the Hottentots. Yet you don't want to "burn up the oil." And Conoco Nth proved it could last for more than twice the mileage averaged by the five other big-name oils in the impartial Death Valley Death-Test. When all five others were used up—engines ruined as each strict 5-quart fill gave out—the Conoco Nth oil that competed under identical conditions was still up at 2.7 quarts! Certified!

A known economy record... plus a known aid to safe prompt starting... when you change to Conoco Nth for Winter OIL-PLATING, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Today. Continental Oil Company
