Air Raid Warden of the Southwest

Civilian defense is not new to the Indians of the Southwest. As a protection against hostile attacks of warring tribes and later the Spanish Conquistadores, a system of defense has been part of their communal life for more than five hundred years. Standing atop his Hogan, this young Navajo brave assumes the role of "air raid warden of the Southwest" to demonstrate how the centuries-old organization of his forefathers will function again in case of an enemy bombing.

THIS WEEK'S WAR MOVES

The Senate passed and sent to conference with the House the 1942 War Revenue Bill which the Treasury estimated will yield $9 billion in new revenue annually. Of this total, approximately $1,706 million would be refundable because the bill provides an extra 5 percent "victory tax" on all individual incomes above $12 a week—part of which would be refunded as a credit on other taxes a year later or as a post-war refund. The New Bill will make 42 to 44 million persons subject to Federal taxes, compared with 28 million at present, and will bring total Federal Revenue up to $26 billion a year.

Price Administrator Henderson announced a five-step Government plan to keep every passenger car "rolling for essential mileage" throughout the war: (1) Rationing of used tires and recaps, and new tires now in stock, to provide as far as possible the minimum essential mileage to each of the nation's passenger cars; (2) actual control of each car's mileage through the rationing of gasoline to prevent unnecessary driving and to hold the national average down to 5,000 miles per car per year; (3) compulsory periodic inspection of all tires to guard against abuse and to prevent wear beyond the point where they can be recapped; (4) denial of gasoline and tire replacement to cars which persistently violate the 35-mile-an-hour speed capacity use, through the rationing of every car on every trip so far as possible.

The War Production Board cut the production of flashlight batteries 10 per cent and other types of dry cell batteries 10 per cent from last year's levels. The Board announced that on construction using non-metallic materials and equipment to insulate buildings so that fuel can be saved may be undertaken without specific authorization. The order will not apply to construction begun prior to January 1, 1943. No heavy forged hand tools, such as bars, hammers, picks, tongs, etc., which do not conform to the size, type, grade,

Air Men To Be In Slaton Next Sat. and Mon.

Lubbock Army Flying School, Lubbock, Texas, October 16.—This week-end may be the last opportunity men with mechanical or technical experience and ability will have to enlist directly into the U. S. Army Air Forces.

That was the blunt warning given by Captain W. B. Marschner, post technical procurement officer at the Lubbock Army Flying School, Lubbock, Texas.

Representatives from the Lubbock Army Flying School will be in Slaton, Texas Saturday and Monday at the Chamber of Commerce Office to interview men interested in enlisting in the Air Forces to become skilled aviation mechanics and technicians.

Men between the ages of 18 and 50 and physically able to pursue a mechanical or technical trade in civilian life or capable of being trained as aviation mechanics, or technicians are eligible for enlistment. All types of mechanics—farm workers who are able to operate tractors and make minor repairs on them—likely will be accepted.

finish, weight and quality established by WPB, may be produced except on approval of the Board. The WPB ruled that plastic tubes are not acceptable as turn-ins for new tubes of toothpaste and shaving cream, and cut the percentage of tin which may be used in toothpaste tubes and shaving cream tubes.

U. S. Army Headquarters in Britain reported that 115 American bombers, in their first large-scale daylight sweep over Occupied France, shot down 48 Nazi planes, probably destroyed 38 more and seriously damaged at least 19. Never before had so many German planes been shot down in a single operation over Western Europe as were brought down by the massed fire of the American Flying Fortresses and Consolidated B.24s. Only four American ships were lost and the crew of one was saved. The bombers made a destructive attack on the Lille industrial area.

Gasoline Rationing And The Effects It Will Have On Texas

Ben Mansker, Commissioner for this precinct received the following from the Texas Good Roads Commission and believes it contains some very interesting information.

The Baruch Committee in making its recommendations pointed out that the National Pre-War average annual passenger car mileage was 9000 and that this average has already dropped to about 6700 due to voluntary action of motorists. The committee recommended a 5000 mile national average. It is obvious that pleasure driving should be curtailed and that 5000 miles is more than enough to care for the needs of many car operators, even in Texas, but at the same time it is felt that Texas motorists generally will require more than the average amount of mileage, rubber and gasoline to carry on business and war activities. The truth of this statement is demonstrated by the facts already given showing the general dependency of Texas on Highway

Navy Officers To Visit Slaton

Hopeful of maintaining a steady flow of Navy volunteers from Slaton and nearby communities, the U. S. Navy Recruiting service has increased its itinerary to include Slaton on the regular weekly "traveling service" trip of the South Plains district.

A Navy officer from the recruiting station at Lubbock will be in Slaton every Monday morning at approximately 9 o'clock, and invites conferences with all men interested in joining some branch of the Navy. Applications may be made with the traveling officer, thus saving an extra trip to the Lubbock sub-station.

Under temporary arrangement, the recruiting officer will stop at the office of Harry Stokes and at the station operated by Herbert Gaither in Slaton, and will meet applicants at either place, prepared to fill out enlistment papers. Applicants then may set the day they wish to leave, and will be furnished transportation by train at government expense to the Main Station in Dallas for final enlistment.

The Navy especially urges the enlistment of men about to be summoned for military induction, and points out that man may enlist in the Navy even after he has received his orders to report for induction. Men with experiences at certain trades, such as mechanics, carpenters, electricians, cooks, bakers, etc., may enlist in the Navy with a petty officer rating. Men not experienced may take up any type of work and receive special training either aboard ship or in a Navy trade school. The officer who will be in Slaton each Monday morning can give complete information regarding Navy enlistments.

Glider Training Center To Be Open To Public Next Sunday

LUBBOCK, Oct. 16.—(Special)—One of the biggest glider pilot training centers in the world, the South Plains Army Flying School, will throw open its doors to South Plains people Sunday, Oct. 18, in a formal open house.

The flying school is located at and just east of the former Lubbock Municipal airport, five miles north of Lubbock on the Plainview highway.

Visitors will be permitted to pass the gate and inspect the hitherto closely-guarded and confidential field only from 1 to 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon, said Col. Norman B. Olsen, post commander.

Glider flights and other operations will continue as usual, Col. Olsen said, and visitors will be permitted to inspect the gliders and towplanes—both large and small—insofar as military regulations permit.

Col. Olsen particularly invited all young men of 18 and 19 years of age to attend the open house and see how the army lives and

A committee of Slaton Business men met with the Slaton B. C. D. and C. of C. last Tuesday night to discuss means to secure a Rationing Board for Slaton and this section of Lubbock County. Those who met with the Board were J. S. Edwards, Allan Payne, W. L. Muerer, B. G. Guinn and Howard Swanner. Together with the directors of the Chamber of Commerce the needs of this town and adjoining territory for a Rationing Board was discussed and after consideration the Directors instructed Briggs Robertson, secretary-manager of the C. of C., to go to Dallas next week to see the officials in charge of Rationing for this territory and to endeavor to secure a board for Slaton.

The need for A. A. A. Board for Slaton was also discussed by the Chamber of Commerce and Briggs Robertson was instructed to contact B. F. Vance, State Supervisor of A. A. A. and to contact the Lubbock County A. A. A. Board in regard to the matter. All directors agreed that both the Rationing and the A. A. A. Board are vitally needed here in order to reduce travel and to aid in the war effort and expressed the intention of all members to work toward this end.

The resignation of M. G. Martin as a Director of the Chamber of Commerce was accepted but the election of a new member to take his place was postponed until a later meeting. Mr. Martin, who is First Lieutenant of the Slaton Unit of the Texas Defense Guard, was asked to be released from his duties as a Director of the Chamber of Commerce because meeting dates and other duties for both organizations could not be met.

Our Weekly Sermon—

The Faith Way
 By the Rev. John H. Cable, D. D. Member of Faculty Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Text: "As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him."—Colossians 2:6.
 When we became children of God we received Christ by faith. Now "we walk by faith and not by sight." John Wesley said that the Christian walks by faith and not by feelings.

First of all we should remember that the Christian life is a 'walk.' To receive Christ is only a step, but to 'walk in him' is a lifetime journey. To accept Christ is an act; to walk in Him is an attitude or life habit. To become a Christian requires but an instant; to be a Christian means constant progress. The Christian is a new creation, who should become an adjusted creature.

Colossians 2:7 tells us that we must be "rooted and built up in him, and established in the faith." Rooting means stability. Trees that have no long, strong tap roots are easily blown over by the wind. Now, some Christians seem to have very poor roots. Winds of emotion sweep them this way and that. Beloved, we should have our roots of faith so wrapped around the Rock of Ages that no storm will blow us over.

Roots also provide life nourishment. The psalmist pictures "the blessed man" as he who is "like a tree planted by the rivers of water" (Ps. 1:3). Such a one is ever fresh, fruitful, and prosperous in whatever he does.

"Built up" reminds us of how a plant or tree grows according to its inner nature. And God gives us a new nature when we are born from above by faith in Christ as our Saviour. We must not hamper that growth by needless regulations or artificial laws. Christ said, "Consider the lilies, how they grow." May we so grow, and thus be established, or confirmed,

Transportation. As has already been shown, Texas passenger cars traveled at least 1000 miles more per year than the average of other states in pre-war days and it would be impossible for Texas motorists to reduce travel proportionately with most other states without serious effects to our economy because of our greater dependency on such transportation.

It must also be remembered that more than 1.3 of all of Texas' widely scattered communities are entirely dependent on Highway Transportation. Some other states have a higher percentage of towns not served by railroads but they are smaller states with shorter distances involved. To establish an average limitation of 5000 miles of annual travel per passenger car in Texas will very seriously cripple business, industry, farms and ranches, thus dislocating the economy and throwing many out of their occupations at a time when there is need for tax revenues and the best of morale for the war effort.

Likewise to establish this 5000 mile average in Texas would mean cutting not only average travel in half but reducing tax revenues to the Counties and State which would very seriously affect governmental operations. Let us take Gasoline Tax Revenues as an example: Assume that all trucks will be allowed to continue operation about as at present and that passenger car travel is cut to an average of 5000 miles. Since passenger cars have made up 81 percent of the traffic, the gasoline tax revenues would be reduced on half of 81 percent or approximately 40 percent if travel were at the usual speeds. Since travel will be limited to 35 miles per hour, it is probable that gasoline mileage will be increased 20 to 25 percent so actually gasoline tax collections would be cut about 50 percent instead of 40 percent. On the basis of the last two years this would mean:

1. The State Available School Fund would get approximately $6,000,000 instead of $12,000,000 per year.
2. The Bond Assumption Fund $9,800,000 would get approximately $6,000,000 instead of $12,000,000.
3. The State Highway Fund with construction commitments totalling $36,000,000 would get in faith, which will become more and more a persuasion and force in our lives.

$12,000,000 instead of $24,000,000 from gasoline taxes.

Gasoline rationing at this time may not seriously affect the total of Oil Production, due to the increasing use of Petroleum Products in the war, but it will create some serious adjustments in the industry which will affect many areas in the state. This will be true because of the fact that many oil fields produce low octane crudes which are suitable for the lower octane gasolines used in motor vehicles but which cannot be used in airplanes. A reduction in motor vehicles gasoline usage will cause many fields to cut production, if not to close down entirely.

The statements heretofore presented only indicate the far-reaching and varied detrimental effects of attempting to cut normal average Texas Passenger Car travel down to 5000 miles or at 50 percent, but it is believed they merit serious consideration by those who have the responsibility of planning and administering nation wide gasoline rationing as a means of conserving rubber. It is to be hoped that Rubber Administrator Jeffers, the Office of Defense Transportation and Office of Price Administration will not fail to give consideration to the varying travel needs throughout the United States.

Will We Lose Our Investment In Roads?

One other phase of this problem which apparently has been given little, if any, attention is the loss of capital investment in roads through deterioration as a direct result of curtailed traffic.

Those who are familiar with road construction and maintenance realize that bituminous surfaces improve with traffic and that lack of traffic is more injurious than heavy traffic. If you don't believe it, just go look at some dead-end street surfaced with asphalt and subject to the traffic of only a few vehicles per day and compare that section with an adjacent one of the same character but carrying heavy traffic. Bituminous surfaces without a reasonable amount of traffic disintegrate. While other surfaces are not affected by lack of traffic to the same degree, all roads are better off under use. Under any plan that seriously curtails motor vehicle traffic roads will suffer due to lack of adequate maintenance by reason of reduced funds. In the end, we may lose a great investment in Roads that cannot easily be replaced. To quote from the September Issue of BETTER ROADS:

"Look out. The time is coming soon when we shall reap more than we sowed. Roads cannot be built in a day. Cars cannot appear overnight. Maintenance crews, once lost, can be replaced and trained very slowly. Hotels and restaurants that are closing for want of business do not find new owners. Filling stations are shutting down. Their windows are being broken, their pumps are being dismantled by hoodlums, their managers are gone with the wind.

"In a word, one of the biggest taxpaying and money-making businesses in the United States is being destroyed because we were not prepared to produce all the synthetic rubber we need. Now we are contemplating rationing of gasoline to keep full-grown Americans from using too much rubber. It is almost unbelievable.

"When, if ever in our lives, this war is over, we shall look back with disgust at the follies committed, and not the least of them will be what happened to our road system."

several other well known men of this vicinity.

It is an excellent picture made by Mr. Meadow and Kirby says that it has attracted a lot of attention.

A doctor told the aged patient, "I'm sorry, but it would be wrong to hide from you the fact that you are a very sick man. Is there anyone you would like to see?" The patient nodded feebly. "Who?" "Another doctor."

The two months that I spent in a training camp for the first World War stand out in my memory like a door knob in a dark room. Particularly prominent are the serums that were shot into me almost as soon as I hit the camp and should the army get in such a bad shape that my services should be called for again I would fear the men armed with the serum needles far more than I would the Japs or the Germans.

Never will I forget the morning they lined up that lot of recruits. Went into a long barrack with two men stationed in opposite corners of the room both armed with syringes full of typhoid serum. The syringes were so long that the men held them in both hands and they resembled fire extinguishers. One of the men was a lieutenant, the other a private. A recruit who stood just back of me said, "I know that old boy in the corner," as he pointed to the private who was giving the injection, "he used to work in a butcher shop in Cuero."

A little fellow about five foot three who stood in line just in front of me fainted and I stumbled over him and managed to end up in front of the Lieutenant instead of going to the private, as I was scheduled to do, however, I do not believe it was worth while going to all that trouble for, from the way that Lieutenant jabbed that needle in, I feel sure he must have been a butcher too.

Just why most people fear getting jabbed with a hypodermic needle is not clear to me but the average person will cringe and shiver every time a dentist's name is mentioned and it does not take a detective to discover that it is his needle that they fear more than it is the pain of having a tooth extracted. My system has been jabbed so full of needles and I have become so jumpy that it takes all my nerve to sit down in a barber's chair for I expect the barber to say "open looks like we are going to have a good crop. The farmers will have lots of money, the merchants will have little merchandise to sell, the sand storms will start pretty soon and it will be tax paying time; the women will have a tougher time than ever, trying to find pin cushions to give as Christmas gifts; and the war will go on and on and it looks like a hard year for the newspaper business.

While on the subject of crops, cotton, etc. Professor M. S. Kavanaugh is working up a wide reputation as a boll puller and he seems to have more pride in his ability to out grab others in pulling bolls than he does in his degrees from Universities over the country. Those who have seen him in action say he looks like Charlie Austin's peanut thrashing machine and that it is dangerous to get within ten feet of him for he will have your hat and half your clothing in his bag before you can get untangled.

Most everything I buy for operating this newspaper requires my signing a Priority rating card stating that the material is for maintenance, repair or operating supplies according to Preference Rating Order P-100, as with the terms of which I am familiar. Every time I look at that "with terms of which I am familiar," I shiver and shake in my shoes for I never do feel sure that I am familiar with any rule or regulation and I begin to wonder whether I am the part of the first part or the guy who broke the law and will have to spend the rest of my life in constant fear of detection. Then I some time wonder if there is some double meaning to a couple of "whereases" that bob up in the rules and smear the sense of the whole thing so that I may have to answer to some gimlet eyed inspector. Every time a stranger comes in the office with a brief case and looks me in the eye I excuse myself and go hide out in the back room until some one else finds out that he is a life insurance agent or a representative for Bradstreet & Dunn.

"Antigodlin" across the street from my office is Leo's Farmall Shop and I can look out my window most any day and see many of the worlds most complicated and weird looking machines in operation. Leo specializes on farm machinery and he has concocted some of his own designs with knives thrashing the air that look as if they would churn buttermilk, crush rock and pick chickens all in the same operation. Every day or two Leo will turn out a smoke screen that puts this entire end of town in sudden darkness and I have thought of sending a letter to the war department asking that a representative be sent down here for I feel sure that Leo could turn out a machine that would make dog meat out of the German and Japanese army and the only thing that has stopped me is that I would not like to feed the dogs such terrible meat.

Uncle Sam will take a big bite out of the Slatonite force next week when Dewitt Reed goes into training for the army. Dewitt has been on the jump for the past year acting in every capacity for this paper and I feel that the Slatonite is making a big contribution to the armed forces when Dewitt leaves. His pleasing personality and his always cheerful outlook has made many friends for the Slatonite. Hundreds of Slaton people have inquired concerning his departure. It is with regret that we, of the Slatonite, see him leave, we feel that Uncle Sam will get an efficient and conscientious soldier, who will do his best for his country as he has done while working for this paper. When Dewitt rolls up his sleeves and goes after the Japs and the Germans the war should show a definite improvement for our side.

Tom Turner and Louie Ares are hanging their heads in shame and Dutch Eckert has his chest stuck out like a bureau drawer at midnight because Dutch caught a six pound bass out at Buffalo Lake this week. Now Dutch is ruined for life and Mrs. Eckert will be a Fisherman's widow every day that Dutch can sneak away. Louie said the bass was certainly a beauty and that all he could do was to sit in the boat and clap his hands. Louie feels that Dutch cheated just a little for he cast right in the spot where Louie was all set and ready to cast when the fish struck on Dutch's bait; however Louie said the bass did not put up any fight at all like some of the big ones he has caught.

JUST TALK by A.M.J.

Perhaps a lot of us feel that we have been cramped by not being able to buy the unnecessary things that makes up the largest part of our purchases but my sympathy goes out to a young man who sent his father a large part of the money he has made in England as an officer, with the instructions to invest it in War Bonds, and with the comment that he would have liked to have spent some of it foolishly but that there was nothing in England to spend it on.

Like the young officer in England I feel quite pleased with myself when I put my dough in War Bonds but it would cramp me, to no end, to have to go without my cup of coffee at 9, 3 and 5 or my coca cola at 10:30, 2:30 and 8:30 or a bar of candy in between times. It does not upset me greatly to know that I am going to have to get along on two pounds of meat a week or that I might get a little dirty behind the ears on account of a shortage in soap but I might hunt up a black market for an extra cold drink or for one of those little half size bars of candy they are overcharging a nickel for in the stores today.

4 Ways to Save for Victory

- SHOP WISELY—Get all of the good out of the foods you buy. Take advantage of bargains and specials. Serve foods that are "in season"—they're plentiful and cheaper. Less expensive cuts of meat have the same nutritional value as costly meats.
- PLAN BALANCED MEALS—Serve health-building meats, vegetables, milk, eggs, bread and cereal. "Waterless" top-burner cookery on your Gas Range and low temperature roasting in the Gas Oven will save precious food vitamins and minerals.
- CONSERVE FUEL—Turn off the Gas before removing utensil from burner. When boiling starts turn down burner to a low flame. Take advantage of the superior time- and fuel-saving features of your Gas Range.
- BUY—United States War Savings Bonds and Stamps.

The Automotive Mechanic of Yesterday Is the VICTORY SERVICE MAN of Today

Help him to help you "SAVE THE WHEELS THAT SERVE AMERICA" by getting a skilled service check-up regularly. Take the word of millions: MORE PEOPLE GO TO CHEVROLET DEALERS FOR SERVICE than to any other dealer organization.

Just how important the automotive mechanic's work is to the nation will be clear to all who consider the following facts:

- 54,000 communities depend entirely on motor vehicles.
- Six out of every ten farms use one car or more; 67% of farm car mileage is necessity driving.
- More than 65.2% of all war plants reporting in Michigan (a typical war production state) depend on trucks to haul their incoming and outgoing freight.
- Trucks haul nearly 100% of the milk supply of most large cities—and 58% of all livestock marketed in the U. S.
- Trucks are the sole transportation system serving our 54,000 communities not reached by railroads.

The automotive mechanic—the trained Chevrolet Victory Service Man—is the lifeguard of America's millions of cars and trucks. Help him to help you and America by getting a skilled service check-up at regular intervals.

Feeding family for Health and Strength is simple with this plan

says Dorothy Greig

Baked Chicken Loaf with Chicken Gravy is main dish for well balanced meal.

ONCE you get the hang of it, it's easy to plan the kind of meals that make your family strong and vital. The plan is this: A quart of milk every day for each child—a pint for each grown-up. That counts in the milk used in cooking, for soups, cassards and so on, as well as that served over cereal and fruits, and the milk you drink.

At least three or four eggs a week for everybody. Here again include the eggs used in cooking. Tomatoes, oranges, grapefruit or raw cabbage or salad greens—every day serve at least one of these. A big glassful of tomato juice for breakfast, for instance, is one way to supply this requirement.

Meat, poultry or fish every day. Well, dinner takes care of that item.

Whole grain products. That's your morning cereal, whole wheat and enriched white breads. Vegetables and fruits. Eat them raw, eat them cooked. But serve them in abundance and every day. Butter (or enriched margarine) is a daily must, too.

Easy, isn't it? These are the grand foods we all enjoy. When they are included in the day's meals we can forget about vitamins, minerals, proteins and the like—because we'll be getting them.

Health Building Dinner
Tomato Juice Cocktail
Hot Chicken Loaf with

Green Peas
Glazed Sweet Potatoes with Apples
Bran Raisin Muffins
Peach Cream Pie
Coffee—Milk

The baked chicken loaf has fine savory flavor and notice that it calls for milk and eggs:

- *Baked Chicken Loaf with Chicken Gravy
- 2 cans condensed chicken soup
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 2 1/2 cups ground chicken
- 2 cups soft bread crumbs (lightly toasted)
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 3/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup milk
- 3 eggs
- Strain the chicken soup and save the broth for gravy. Cook the onions in butter until soft, but not brown. Then combine onions, ground chicken, toasted bread crumbs, chicken and rice (strained from the soup), seasonings, milk and eggs; then mix well. Put into a buttered loaf pan (8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2") and bake in a moderately hot oven (375° F.) for 1 hour and 15 minutes. Serves approximately 6.
- Chicken Gravy:
- 3 tablespoons chicken fat or butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 1/2 cups chicken broth (strained from chicken soup)
- Melt the fat in a pan, add flour and cook until frothy. Then add chicken broth and cook until thickened. Makes approximately 1 1/2 cups gravy.

German U-Boat Rammed, Crew Captured By Canadian Destroyer in Fierce Duel

THE top photo, one of the most graphic taken during the present war, shows a German submarine slipping away from the bow of a Canadian destroyer as the destroyer attempted to ram the U-boat. The action during this encounter took place at extremely close range—often with the two vessels no more than a few feet apart. The destroyer just missed ramming the submarine when this photo was taken by a member of the crew, but her aim was more accurate and deadly a little later, and the sub was crashed by the destroyer's bow. The raider stood suspended in the ocean for a moment and then was swallowed up by the waves. The survivors of the submarine were picked up after their craft was sunk. The lower right photo shows the rescue. The U-boat survivors smoked and chattered as they waited their turn to board the Canadian destroyer. The daring, courage and clever seamanship exhibited by individuals in this sea battle is typical of the spirit found in the sailors of the Royal Canadian Navy.

Bowling Teams To Be Organized

Bill Cunningham, owner of the Plamor Lanes in Lubbock, was in Slaton this week to contact men and women bowling enthusiasts. There are a number of South Plain bowling teams that make the Plamore Lanes at 1011 Fourteenth St. their headquarters.

All the lanes in this new amusement center are new and are equipped with Tel-E-Foul and Tel-E-Score scoring devices which add greatly to the enjoyment of the game.

The Plamore Lanes are the most complete of all the Bowling establishments in West Texas and can accommodate more players than any in this section of the State. Mr. Cunningham hopes to organize a bowling team of both men and women in Slaton.

At the first signs which may warn of a cold—the "Dionne Quintuplets" chest, throats and backs are rubbed with Musterole—a product made especially to promptly relieve coughs due to colds, make breathing easier and break up local congestion in the upper bronchial tract. Musterole gives such wonderful results because it's MORE than just an ordinary "salve". It's what so many Doctors and Nurses call a modern cough-irritant. Since Musterole is used on the Quints—you may be sure it's just about the BEST cold-relief made!

IN 3 STRENGTHS: Children's Mild Musterole for children and people with tender skin. Regular for ordinary cases and Extra Strength for stubborn cases.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

A pelorus, used by the Navy, is a device which fits over the surface of a compass to enable the operator to take bearings on distant objects. It has split hair sights, has been in use for many years... and costs approximately $125.

These instruments are essential equipment to every American ship which comes out of the shipyards. With the scores of ships now being completed each month, we need many of these instruments. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps will help pay for them. Invest at least ten percent of your income every payday in these interest-bearing Government securities.

Andy Hardy finds a new romance and successfully gets out of it to become a free man again in "The Courtship of Andy Hardy" test picture in the popular family eric which shows Friday and Saturday at the Palace Theatre. Not only does Andy meet a new girl, but he also rescues his sister from a dramatic 'scrap', gets into trouble with the police, and barely escapes the clutches of Polly Benefield, played by An Rubenford, who returns to further complicate his young life. The picture introduces an attractive newcomer to the series, Donna Reed, Lewis Stone, Key Holden, Cedric Belfrage and Sara Hayden add their charm to the family picture.

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello will appear as bus drivers who become antagonists on an uncharted south sea island, in their newest Universal comedy "Pardon My Sarong" which opens at the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday. According to advance announcements the new vehicle takes the famous comedians halfway around the globe in a combination chase, treasure hunt and encounter with a tribe of south seas dancing beauties. Virginia Bruce has the leading feminine role and the very promising cast includes Robert F. Lyons, Lief Ericsen, Nan Wynn, the four Ink Spot and the Saronga Facing Girls.

With three people who make life more exciting, love more precious, laughter more joyous... Cary Grant, Jean Arthur and Ronald Colman are "The Talk Of The Town". Each star is personally directing, each heart-throb poignantly real, each moment vibrantly alive, during the unrelenting

THIS WEEK'S SERMON

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 18.

The Golden Text is: "John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sins of the world" (John 1:29).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ" (I Corinthians 3:11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The supremacy of Spirit was the foundation on which Jesus built. His sublime summary points to the religion of Love" (page 138).

When a person is polite enough to ask you how you are feeling, you should be polite enough not to bore him by telling him.

of the stirring new picture "The Talk Of The Town", which opens Tuesday at the Palace Theatre. Grant is seen as a fugitive from justice, Coleman as a candidate for the Supreme Court Bench who befriends him, and Miss Arthur as the warm-hearted, lovely young woman who shares their romantic adventures. The featured players of the film are Edgar Buchanan, Jienda Farrell and Tom Tyler. "Talk Of The Town" shows Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Untested Seed Slow Down Our War Production

AUSTIN, Oct. 16.—"A seed dealer who sells untested and untagged seed is endangering our most vital war production, that of food and fiber," Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald said today, and reminded dealers they could avoid this at not cost to themselves by having their seed tested free at State Seed Laboratory in Austin or Lubbock.

"Before the war, dealers who sold untested seed were breaking the state law which requires that each container of field seed bear an official Texas seed tag showing germination and purity," Linden Jones, chief of the Seed Laboratory Division, said. "Now, with our food production every day becoming a more serious problem, gambling the productivity of a farm and of the farmers' labor on unsafe seed shows lack of patriotism."

Farmers, too, must realize their responsibility in seeing that their seed is tested, the official stated. Formerly it was merely good business to help insure a crop by buying tested seed. But now it is the patriotic duty of every farmer, he said.

There is never a month in Texas when seed is not being planted in some section, Jones stated. "Therefore, the seed business is one of the largest in Texas. We need the cooperation of every seed dealer and farmer in the state to be sure seed planted in Texas produce crops to feed our fighting men and allies."
