Memorial Services To Be Held Sunday For John Rolfe Carter

Hand Carvings On Display Here

Demonstrating what can be done with artistic ability, a good sharp pocket knife and a lot of patience is a display in the Slaton Pharmacy window showing some of the wood carving done by Mr. I. A. Howard of 605 South 5th St. in Slaton.

Long wooden chains that have been carved of single pieces of wood, a replica of a Mexican, driving a team of oxen to a cart, and other art pieces are shown in the window and Mr. Howard has many other articles at his home that are the work of his hands.

Mr. Howard is 82 years of age and is as active at his hobby as he was thirty years ago.

Trucks Must Register Before Gasoline Rationing Or Else!

Briggs Robertson at the Chamber of Commerce reports that he has a supply of substitute registration blanks for truck owners and that any truck owner who has not registered can do so at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Mr. Robertson reports that he understands that every truck owner must fill out a registration blank, and the blank recorded in Detroit, Michigan, before any truck owner or operator of any commercial vehicle can secure gasoline under the new gasoline rationing orders that go into effect for commercial vehicles on Nov. 12.

Registration papers have been sent to most of the operators of trucks and other commercial vehicles but there is also a large number who have not received them and those who have not filled out papers should do so at once if they expect to drive their trucks after rationing goes into effect.

Memorial services honoring the memory of John Rolfe Carter will be held at the Baptist Church Sunday beginning at 7:30 p. m. and will be directed by Pastor W. F. Ferguson of the Baptist Church and Pastor H. C. Gordon of the First Methodist Church. There will be no regular service Sunday evening at the Methodist Church and Reverend Gordon urges all members of the Methodist Church to attend the Memorial meeting at the Baptist Church.

The Services will be of a patriotic nature and in honor of the first known Slaton casualty in the war. Members of the American Legion are planning on attending in a body. Members of all organizations in Slaton are urged to be present.

Graphic war action films of desperate sea and air battles of the south pacific and the presentation of a blue flag for the minute men to the officers and employees of the Santa Fe Slaton Division for their patriotic achievement in purchase of victory bonds will feature an all out program scheduled for the high school auditorium here next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Special arrangements have been made through local officials of the Texas State Victory Bond campaign and officials of the Santa Fe to present one of the most interesting war-time programs in this community.

Public interest will be centered in the historic action scenes of the battles of Marshall Island with the United States Navy blasting away at the enemy and also the epic battles of Midway and the Coral Sea. These films were brought here from the East by officials of the Santa Fe as an outstanding feature of the auditorium show to which the public is invited.

Slaton should be proud that this large division of the Santa Fe Railway has earned a blue flag awarded to business firms for patriotic investment in war bonds. It should be doubly proud that the division and its employees are 100 per cent enlisted in the payroll deduction plan.

Kirby Scudder, postmaster, will be master of ceremonies during the program. He asserted that Slaton is not only proud of this distinction for the Santa Fe but doubly proud to know that with the Santa Fe employees supporting the government payroll deduction plan that it aided materially in putting the community of Slaton over its quota in general bond sales.

Full credit is given superintendent H. R. McKee and his hard-working committee and sub-committees which assured the outstanding success of the campaign. The Slaton division was among the first three of the Santa Fe Western Lines to go over the top 100 per cent and also among the first on the entire system to achieve this distinction.

G. C. Jefferis, former superintendent at Slaton, and now general manager of the Western Lines and C. R. Tucker, Assistant General Manager over this district, with H. C. Vincent traffic manager of the Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway and E. F. Browder Secretary and Treasurer of the P & S F will take part in the program.

While the blue flag will be officially presented by Treasurer Browder, chairman of the Santa Fe Bond Committee for the P&S F, he will be aided in the presentation by Tom Turner, General Yard Master, whose son, Jack, is reported missing in action at Java, and whose other son, Bob, is likewise doing his share in the Army Air Service.

General Manager Jefferis and the other officials deeply interested in the success of this necessary aid to the government, were high in praise of the exceptional record attained by the employees of the Slaton Division.

"We must give our fighting boys every assistance and protection possible" Jefferis said. "Unstinted support of the payroll deduction plan and enthusiastic support of Victory Bonds is essential for this purpose. It is the least we can do, and we should do it in a big way, I am proud that the Slaton Division employees have shown that they are interested in helping one hundred per cent, and I wish to congratulate not only Superintendent McKee but each and every member of his committees and all the employees who have their country's interest at heart.

One of the featured speakers of the evening will be Jack I. Chairman of the Bond Con in Lubbock County, Mayor Teague and Superintendent school M. S. Kavanaugh, who are assisting generously in making the program a success will also address the audience.

H. R. McKee Superintendent of the Slaton Division

Supt. McKee asserted that the success of the efforts were due to the assistance of a hard-working committee and sub-committees which enthused the employees to the importance of the appeal. He wisely stated that he was intensely proud of the showing made by the Slaton division and every employee.

Members of the immediate committee which did such a splendid job included Tom Keane, Foreman of Engineer; T. B. Smith, Trainmaster; L. B. Johnson, Master Mechanic; C. E. Browder, master; Davis J. Neil, Chief of the Master Mechanic; Alton Brown, General B & B Foreman; J. H. Adair, Chief Clerk; H. R. McKee; J. G. West, Division Foreman; R. N. Champion, Chief Dispatcher; D. L. Kent, Chief J. D. Raymond, Trainmaster; Roy Connors, General Foreman, San Angelo; F. W. Ater, Agent San Angelo; R. F. Bayless, Agent, Lubbock; Tom Turner, Yardmaster.

Particular praise for assistance is also given by Supt. McKee to local chairman of the Brotherhoods and other organizations.

Every patriotic citizen in this community will enjoy this program next Wednesday.

Nov. 5 Deadline For Commercial Sugar Users

November 5th is the deadline for all commercial users of sugar to get ration cards from Briggs Robertson over at the Chamber of Commerce office and Briggs says that 11 firms that do not get cards will be penalized on future amounts of sugar. This applies to cafes, drug stores, bakeries, etc.

"WE'LL BE SEEING YOU, ADOLF" says Kay Trowell, an inspector of Canadian aircraft instrument factory, whose all-seeing eye is shown in the above picture peering through the magnifying glass she uses to detect flaws in the finished products of her plant.

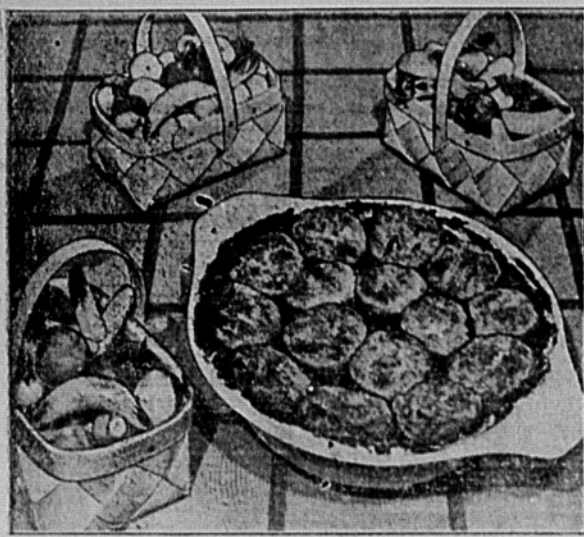

Prior to the war, the Dominion's instrument production was insignificant. Today, having created a giant war industry which is turning out large quantities of aircraft, ships, tanks, guns, and other weapons, Canada may well look with pride also to the expanding instrument industry she has developed to implement her war program. In scores of plants, from coast to coast, thousands of skilled hands are now assembling countless types of instruments for planes, naval vessels, land ships, and artillery. From shops, both large and small, flows a steady stream of devices: radiolocators, submarine detection equipment, wireless equipment, 20 types of sighting and optical instruments, 14 types of special military and naval instruments, 2 types of binoculars, thousands of precision instruments for war industries, and several types of aircraft instruments such as the airspeed indicator shown in the upper left photograph.

One of the most significant developments in Canada's wartime instrument industry has been the creation of a huge Government-owned and operated project administered by Research Enterprises Limited. Said to be the most modern plant of its kind in the world, this factory produces optical glass of the very highest quality, an industry completely foreign to Canada before the war. In addition, it manufactures a wide range of optical and electrical fire control instruments, and electrical devices for the three services. The firm employs 3,500 men and women, many of them highly skilled technicians. Orders, filled or on hand, total over $100,000,000.

Women workers play a role of paramount importance in the Dominion's war instrument program. Their deft fingers are eminently suited for the intricate precision work required in instrument making. Pretty Alma Lizotte is one of the thousands of girls engaged in this industry. In the lower right picture she is shown inspecting the machine on which she fashions parts for aircraft instruments, her eyes well protected against flying steel particles.

Chicken Pie Supper Still Is Traditional as Harvest Fete

WHEN the crops are in and the frost lies lightly on the stubble the harvest supper appears again as the American scene. Though the menu for this hearty feast may change in different parts of the country, nearly always it features that glorious, soul-satisfying dish—the golden-crust chicken pie. For a new version with a nut-like taste use bran in the crust according to the directions that follow:

All-Bran Chicken Pie
1 1/2 pound chicken 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 dash of pepper
2 tablespoons flour 2 cups chicken
4 tablespoons butter or chicken fat 1 recipe All-Bran Biscuits
Cut chicken in pieces; place in kettle in about 1 quart of salted water, cover tightly and simmer until tender (1 1/2-3 hours). Remove meat from bones in as large pieces as possible; arrange in 2-quart casserole. Melt butter or fat, stir in flour and seasonings, and when well blended, add chicken stock slowly, stirring constantly over low heat until mixture thickens and boils. Add more salt to sauce if necessary. Pour over chicken in casserole. Cover with All-Bran Biscuits and bake in moderately hot oven (425° F.) about 20 minutes—or until biscuits are done. Yield: 6 servings.

All-Bran Biscuits
1/2 cup All-Bran 3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup milk 1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups flour 1/2 cup shortening

Soak All-Bran in milk. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut in shortening until mixture is like coarse cornmeal. Add soaked All-Bran; stir until dough follows fork around bowl. Turn onto floured board, knead lightly a few seconds; roll or pat to 1/2-inch thickness and cut with floured cutter. Yield: 12 biscuits (2 1/2 inches in diameter).

ON THE HOME FRONT

With two weeks remaining before registration gets under way for gasoline rationing and before trucks and commercial vehicles must have ODT certificates of war necessity in order to operate, all eyes on the Home Front this week turned to the government's mileage rationing plan—a plan which it is hoped will keep all America transportation rolling on rubber tires for essential travel.

Farmers, ranchers and others in the vast spaces of the great Southwest were asking: "Will I get enough gasoline to take my produce to market? Will I be allowed enough gasoline to look after my stock? May I keep my trailer tires?" These were a few of the questions but hundreds of others were popping up.

Regional Price Administrator Max McCullough assured farmers they would be allowed plenty of gasoline for their necessary travel. In the Southwest, he pointed out, we are rationing mileage to conserve rubber—not gasoline. The farmer is listed in the "preferred" class by preliminary regulation. He comes near the preferred classification when transporting farm products and necessary farm supplies between farm and market, shipping point or point of delivery, or between one farm establishment and another. If his occupational driving requires more mileage than is permitted with an "A" and "B" book, he will be given a "C" book.

The "A" book, which every passenger car owner is entitled to if he owns no more than five tires for each passenger vehicle, is good for 90 miles of personal driving and 150 miles of occupational driving per month. The "B" book permits 320 miles of occupational driving per month. If the two books together still do not take care of the farmer's needs, then he can apply for the "C" book which contains 90 coupons worth four gallons each and is good for a three months' period. It may be well to point out that the local boards can "tailor" the books to fit the individual's approximate exact needs. This is done by tearing out coupons or extending the period of time for which a book of coupons is valid. The motorist may get 'A' and 'B' books, or 'A' and 'C' books, but not all three.

The government's idle tire purchase plan caused many inquiries to OPA officials. It was emphasized that "A" books will be denied passenger car owners if they possess more than five tires for each passenger car they own. The Railway Express Agency is the official idle tire station. Excess tires are not included in the program but the government will buy them because they are needed badly. Truck-type tires are not included in the program but Uncle Sam will buy them too. Truck-type tires are marked as such on the sidewall of the casing. Tires actually mounted on the running wheel of passenger car trailers and similar equipment may be retained but no spare passenger-type tires are permitted for such equipment.

Although truck operation will be controlled under the over-all rubber conservation program, rules concerning them will differ from those governing passenger cars. Beginning November 15, trucks and other commercial vehicles will have to have certificates of necessity to enable drivers to buy rationed gasoline, tires and repair and replacement parts.

Applications for the certificates have been mailed to commercial vehicle owners everywhere, but should any have been missed they should write immediately to the nearest Office of Defense Transportation district office for the necessary forms.

Owners already having received their blanks are urged to fill them in with care and mail them immediately to Detroit in the envelope mailed with the blanks. If blanks are held too long they might get in a mail jam at the last minute and deprive a vehicle of its certificate by the effective date. As an assistance to farmers, County Farm Welfare Boards have volunteered to help with the application blanks.

Elsewhere on the home front, new developments concerning food and clothing were important during the last week.

Of greatest interest to women, probably, was the OPA order for sharp reductions in the prevailing "fantastic prices of women's nylon hosiery. The order (MPR 95) set maximum dollars-and-cents for all types and constructions of nylon

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

FUNNY thing to my way of thinking is the way married folks have to pretend they don't like each other. Now, I know a lot of married couples that would pine away like buffalo grass in a drouth if they should have to live apart for a little while. And still they always pretend to third parties that of course they don't really like each other.

So a lady says to another lady at a bridge party. "And I hear your husband is a self-made man! Isn't that thrilling?" "Well," she says, "he was self-made when I married him, but I done a lot of alterations on him since then. Maybe when I get him made over a bit more he'll be a little more thrilling."

ATTENTION SOYBEAN PRODUCERS

West Texas Cottonoil Co. at Brownfield has entered into a contract with the Commodity Credit Corporation to process soy beans; and in a short time (as soon as grading facilities can be obtained) will buy soy beans at support prices.

Soy beans must be sacked by the producer. New sacks, if needed, may be bought at actual cost from the oil mill who, in turn will buy them back at O. P. A. ceiling prices.

Each producer should immediately confer with his County Committeeman about the number of bags needed, based on about 100 lbs. per bag.

3rd Anniversary For Berkley & Haddock

Today and tomorrow John Berkley and Ed Haddock will celebrate the third anniversary of Berkley & Haddock and accept with due modesty any congratulations that might come their way.

Today they carry one of the largest stocks of nationally accepted lines of fine foods in the South Plains and their business increasing each month. It has become the shopping place for those who desire the unusual as well as for those who demand the best in staples. The constant flow of merchandise from the Berkley and Haddock Stock insure the best and the freshest foods at all times and they can be depended upon to keep the best that the market affords in keeping with the War Effort.

John Berkley is a market man with many years of experience and he makes personal selection of every pound of meat and all products that are sold in the meat department. Under his management, the Berkley and Haddock store has built up a business that is many times that of three years ago and Mr. Berkley feels very grateful to the people of this territory for the patronage that has come to Berkley and Haddock.

Ed Haddock has had charge of the Grocery department of the store and has added many new lines to the original stock that was first carried in the store. The arrangement of the store has been improved and the service made as prompt and courteous as possible. It is always a pleasure to shop at Berkley and Haddocks and the people of this vicinity will find it especially so today and tomorrow when Ed and John will put on their best efforts to make it worth your while to visit them.

"We have done our best to serve Slaton and the South Plains with the best in quality at the most attractive prices at all times", says Ed Haddock, "and we feel that the people have appreciated it by the fact that our business has multiplied itself many times since we opened just three years ago."

"It is with great pleasure that I view the past three years of business in Slaton," says John Berkley, "the friends I have made and the generous patronage of the people of this territory make our birthday one of the biggest events of my life."

DEAL'S MACHINE SHOPS Vital To County War Efforts

Among the busiest places in Lubock County these days are the Deals Machine Shops being operated in Slaton and Lubbock. The ever increasing shortages in all kinds of metals and the constant demand for repairs on all kinds of farm machinery, factory equipment and home appliances has put the mechanics of Deal's Machine Shops in some tight places says Mr. Deal, but up to date there have been very few jobs that they have not figured out satisfactorily.

Both Deal Machine Shops are equipped with the most modern mechanical equipment for welding and repairing things made of metals, all the men are highly trained specialists who have been employees of Deals Machine Shops for years and even though there are many things that cannot be secured on account of war conditions these machine shops and their experts can supply substitutes and suggestions on how to solve many knotty problems.

Mr. Deal considers the work his plants are doing of most vital importance to the welfare of the community and to the war efforts of this county, by enabling hundreds of farmers to keep on operating farm machines that could not have been replaced by new ones, as well as helping to solve many of the production problems that have faced food purveyors and many manufacturers of other necessities that are handled by mechanical means.

The foremen at the Deal Machine Shops are always glad to help in working out any kind of mechanical problem both for the individual or for the large institutions, quite often they are able to make suggestions that will save considerable money for Deal Customers. You are always welcome to come in and consult with Deal's mechanics.

Our Weekly Sermon—

Are You Registered?

By the Rev. Warren Filkin, Ph.D., Member of Faculty Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

The cards said we could not vote unless we were registered. So just before the deadline for registration my wife and I went to the city hall. There was a big crowd there, too big, we thought. So we went to a school building where the announcement said we might register. But the place was not open for business. We hurried back to the city hall, and found the large crowd still pressing toward the registration windows. But we decided we would do our best to register. After all voting is a privilege in a democracy. It is more than that—it is a solemn obligation.

As we waited we saw one man raise his right hand to be sworn. The official had him swear that he had lived at least a year in the state and so many months in the county. At the word of having to live a year in the state, I began to ask questions. We had lived only nine months in the state. Therefore we could not register. And if we could not register, we could not vote.

So there is no going to the polls for us this fall. Our names are not in the book. And I notice there is no going to heaven for some people, for their names are not in the book. Revelation 21:27 declares: "And there shall in no wise enter into it anything that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie; but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life."

Notice the expression, "but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life." That is the registration book. All of the other books may be all right, but the important one is the Lamb's book of life. John the Baptist cried, "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." Jesus Christ is the Lamb of God. He died for all men that they need not die for their own sins. He knows who accepts Him as Saviour and Lord, and it is these, and only these, whose names go into the registration book, "the Lamb's book of life."

We were concerned whether our names were in the proper book for an election. We went to some trouble to find out about registering. Ought we not all go to as much trouble to be sure that our names are in the heavenly register?

The believer in the Lord Jesus need not guess about it. He has this promise: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life" (John 5:24).

Ten Men Wanted From Slaton Area

Striving for a goal of 100 Navy enlistments from the South Plains during the first two weeks of November, the U. S. Navy Recruiting Service is asking for at least ten volunteers each week from Slaton and surrounding territory.

The reopening of many petty officer ratings in the Navy Construction Regiment, or Seabees, now makes it possible for a large number of men skilled at a trade to enter the Navy with an officer rating. There are openings now for bakers, clerks, cooks, draftsmen, blacksmiths, bulldozer operators, carpenters, concrete workers, drillers, electricians, engine operators, mechanics, oilers, painters, pipefitters and plumbers, pipelayers, powdermen, riggers, road machine operators, sheet metal and steelworkers, telephone and switchboard men, truck drivers, welders, water tenders and wharf builders.

Men enlisting in the Seabees will be returned to their homes and civilian work for two months or longer before being called to active duty.

The Navy also urges the immediate volunteering of men in the 18- and 19-year-old class, and offers specialized training in any one of 40 different trades or schools. It is not known how long men will be privileged to "volunteer and choose their work," and those anticipating service in some branch are invited to investigate the opportunities offered by the Navy.

A Navy recruiting officer will be in Slaton each Monday morning to interview interested men and take applications, thus saving an extra trip to the recruiting station at Lubbock.

38,000 4-H Club Girls To Meet

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 30.—More than 38,000 Texas 4-H girls will lay the results of their year's work on the line for inspection during National 4-H Achievement Week, November 7 to 14.

Their aims, says Onah Jacks, state girl's club agent for the A. & M. College Extension Service, was expressed in the Victory Demonstration's pledge, and 25,000 of them tried to live by it.

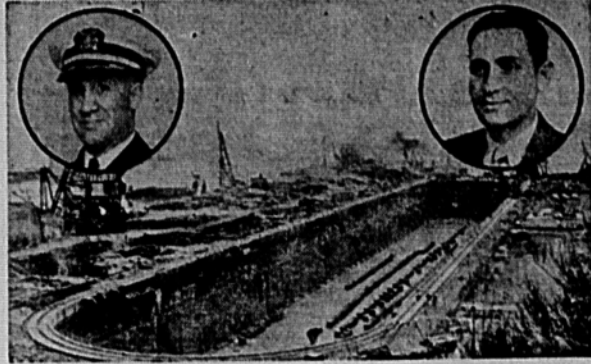

According to Miss Jacks, the major effort of Texas 4-H Club girls was production of food. They took greater interest in controlling garden insects and as a consequence increased food production in some places by 25 per cent without corresponding outlay for land, seed and water. A total of 1,782,856 quarts of food were put up by 4-H Club girls through September. In some counties they used a type of neighborhood leader plan of their own for helping all of the people of a community in economical production of food.

More than 24,000 club members did field work during the year. They drove tractors, plowed and planted with teams, hauled cotton, grain, fruit, vegetables and other crops to market, and worked in dairies. Nearly 5,000 cared for and repaired farm machinery. Many assumed more house work, care of gardens, chickens and cows to enable older members of families more time for work in the fields. About 29,000 girls took the responsibility for the care and repair of home equipment, clothing and house furnishings.

In scrap collecting Texas club girls turned in 7,913,274 pounds of metal; 1,189,612 pounds of paper, burlap and rags; 1,036,580 pounds of rubber, and bought $197,193 worth of War Bonds and Stamps. About 4,500 took first aid and home nursing courses, and more than 13,000 are cooperating in some type of war or defense work.

We have no idea whether or not this war will be followed by another depression, but we think it's a good idea to plan your affairs that way.

Navy Men Get $13,700 Welding Award

CLEVELAND, OHIO, Oct. 6.—Capt. C. A. Trexel, (upper left), and A. Amirlikan, (upper right), of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, U. S. Navy Department, Washington, today were named recipients of the $13,700 Grand Award from The James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation, Cleveland, Ohio, in its nationwide $200,000 industrial study on arc welding.

They are shown with a modern drydock having an all arc welded caisson, the welded construction of which costs 25 per cent less than other methods. This means a saving on caissons built, under contract and soon to be contracted for, of $5,192,000. Enough steel is saved to bomb-proof the caissons.

The 2-1/2-year welding study, in which 408 awards were made, indicated a possible annual cost savings by arc welding of $1,825,000,000, including 7,000,000 tons of steel valued at $271,000,000 and 153,000,000 man hours of labor.

An award of $11,200, (Second Grand Award), went to John L. Miller, chief metallurgist, Gun-Mount Division, The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio. The subject was the redesign for welding of the 40mm Bofors anti-aircraft gun made of high-strength low-alloy steels. The total saving with 35,000 units is estimated at $6,000,000.

An award of $500 went to Lt. Junior Grade, H. S. Knerr, U. S. Navy, Navy Yard, Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

The subject was the design of a 30-foot cabin cruiser. An award of $250 went to Edgar Brooker and Loren L. Elliott, Ordnance Engineers, Ordnance Department, U. S. Army, Washington. Their subject was the welded construction of an armored tank.

An award of $150 went to Edward G. Biederman, Fisher Tank Division, Flint, Michigan. The subject was the welding of armor plate for tank production.

An award of $100 went to Harold Nagin, Chief Engineer, Reliance Steel Products Company, McKeesport, Pennsylvania. The subject was the design of welded girders and stringers for a military pontoon bridge, capable of supporting 60-ton tanks.

Awards in Texas were as follows: BORGES—$100, L. V. Hils, Phillips Petroleum Co., Borger Refinery. BRUNI—$100, W. E. Sweatt and C. S. Nichols, Western Machine Works. FORT WORTH—$100, D. E. Uncle Sam Needs Your SCRAP

Before the Snow Flies

We've all heard a lot lately about the need for scrap metal. Probably you've already done something about it. But every one of us has got to do more. Much more. AND DO IT QUICK!

Here's Why

This war is swallowing steel like a quicksand. We need scrap metal to make steel . . . steel for more tanks . . . more planes . . . more ships . . . more guns . . . and more shells. It's our job to supply our boys and allies with all these things they must have to smash the Axis on land, at sea, and in the air.

Scrap Is Precious

Steel for tanks, planes, ships, etc., is made by melting old scrap metal with pig iron—about half and half. The pig iron is made from iron ore that comes from mines. But that precious scrap—THAT'S got to come from us folks here on the Home Front.

What Is Scrap?

Scrap is ANY old thing, made out of iron or steel, that we don't absolutely need. It is anything from a hairpin to a busted steam boiler . . . from a paper weight to a cracked rail. It is old machinery, pipe, tools, flat-irons, auto parts, screws, nuts, bolts, bathtubs, lawnmowers, stoves, tanks, metal barrels, iron fences—and what have you.

Where Is It?

This old scrap is everywhere. It is in cellars, attics, closets, alleys, auto graveyards, fields, garages, barns, and factories. We've all got SOME, be it little or much. A typical town family is said to have about 70 pounds lying about; a farm family, nearly 750 pounds. In ten months after Pearl Harbor the Santa Fe scraped together 210,716,000 pounds of scrap. A pound here, a ton there. That's how it mounts up.

Scrap Means Steel...Steel Means Victory
Sell It or Give It...But Get It In

Steel is the only language those bandits in Tokyo and Berlin understand. Let's give them plenty of talk . . . in their language. Every county, city, and town is having a scrap drive. Watch your local newspapers on how to get in it. Sell what you have, or give it away—but get it in! And now's the time, before snow flies! Your scrap can save American lives and help shorten this war. Every pound you turn in helps.

JUST TALK
by
A.M.J.

About half the people you meet have colds and they are doing their best to give them to the other half. I was on the side that backed off ten feet every time some one sneezed up until this week but now I am talking through my nose, coughing in my neighbors face and spreading destruction on every side. My wife has 'all but moved out of the house and jumps like a jackrabbit every time I clear my throat and insisted on calling the doctor but I persuaded her that it is useless as most of the doctors have colds too.

Mrs. L. B. Kitten has decided that just "Fresh Country Butter" is not quite descriptive enough for the kind of butter that she prepares and from now on hers will be known as "Golden Grain Butter," made from fresh Gurnsey cream by Mrs. L. B. Kitten. When she came into our office to have butter wrappers printed for the new brand of butter my mind immediately turned to hot biscuit dripping butter all over my chin and I have been putting up my best sales talk ever since for a big pan of hot biscuit but Aunt Betty Bread is too convenient.

That Slaton has gone over the $240,000.00 quota in the purchase of War Bonds should be an incentive to other towns, especially to those that have had immense increases in revenue and salaries from war time enterprises and army camps. It must be that the men who are making the over-stuffed salaries are not as interested in buying bonds as the farmers and ordinary small town business men and railroad employees who have little or no more revenue than they had before the war started. The Bond Buyers of Slaton have a right to admit that they have done a good job.

Just what effect the war will have on the Christmas Card senders has not developed yet. I pay little attention to Christmas cards myself except to glance at the name of the sender. Whether the picture on the front is of cherubic baby or group of people making hogs of themselves at a turkey dinner makes no difference to me and the canned sentiment in poetry on the front does not mean a thing for the person sending the card did not write it, probably did not believe it himself and could not have put it into rym thic words anyway. But just the same we have a lot of fancy Christmas cards, letter-heads and Christmas calendars for sale at our office.

There are very few people who will admit that they like to see their picture in the paper or enjoy making public speeches but it takes very little persuasion to break down the objections. It seems to me the best idea is to be realized and I am looking forward to getting my first hair cut by a woman barber, my first steak cut by a woman butcher and my hydrant fixed by a woman plumber. Whether to choose one of those bunny rabbit hair cuts with my few remaining front hairs sticking straight up or the long flowing style with my back hair turning up over my ears like a water fall is already a serious problem with me and I feel sure that some day before long I will be eating steak with poked edges like a brides underwear and I have great fear of what a woman plumber will do to the water fixtures for she will probably do all her work with a knitting needle and a can opener. Hold tight folks we are surely in for some surprises.

Nick Carter and The Plains Lumber Company have already gone sissy and if you want any hardware or lumber you will probably have to buy it from a woman. Nadiene Smith and Connie Henry will advise you on what kind of fishing tackle to buy and what size hinge the back gate should wear and Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. J. D. Cox will tell you where to go and get a 2 x 4 if you are entitled to have one under the new regulations.

It seems rather far fetched to me for Wendel Wilkie and other speakers to gripe at the people in the United States about no second front in Europe. The American people are as patriotic as any people on earth, we are willing to sacrifice anything to win the war and we as a people are not asleep, if anyone is nodding it is the men who are directing the war and the politicians who are afraid of losing their jobs. If Russia and China need more help than we are giving them it is not the fault of the American people and to leave the impression that it is any more our duty to help the Russians or the Chinese than it is their duty to help us is all wrong. Any help they get from us is purely a favor on our part and it seems to me the reason we should be helping them is because any successes they have will be helping to win the war. We owe no other country in the world anything and instead of criticism from Europe they should be thankful for what we are doing. If help can be given then it should be done and if the war is not being prosecuted in the right way changes should be made.

The limitation on meat that is soon to go into effect does not sound as if the restriction will be very hard on anyone in fact very few of us will need permission to buy any more than two and half pounds at the price meat is now.

Just why every one should cut out all pleasures because of the war is not quite clear. The Readers Digest had a complaint in it last month from one of Doolittles Tokio fliers concerning the argument some folks were having in a small town concerning a picnic. The flier considered it a crime that people were even considering a picnic when such a terrible war is going on.

If any citizen of this country were neglecting any duty that he could perform to help toward victory then the consideration of the picnic would assume the aspects of a crime but for all of us to sit around and consider nothing but the war would soon drive us all mad. Let's have a reasonable amount of amusement and we will all do better in our efforts.

Care For Your Car... For Your Country

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL

THE well-dressed woman will wear overalls—willingly—to care for her country's cars. And on her civilian duties she doesn't go faster than 35—same as all other patriots. 35 gets you there without undue wear. But there's another battlefield against wear at exactly 00 miles per hour!

When your car's stock-still, with the engine starting cold, what's faster—your Winter oil or rampant Friction? You can have hopes—or you can have your engine OIL-PLATED by the quick simple change to Conoco Nth motor oil. Enriched by an added synthetic, this patented Conoco Nth oil seems to "magnetize" OIL-PLATING to inner engine surfaces as closely as durable plating on bumpers.

Where does any good plating go during all-day parking or overnight? It doesn't go. It stays. And neither does OIL-PLATING all go draining down to the crankcase at every chance. Long hours after you stop—long minutes before any oil from below could climb all the way up—the OIL-PLATING that's stayed up can be easing cold starts. This faithful OIL-PLATING is still there at 35, of course, aiding the high-duty liquid film of Nth oil to keep wear that much farther away.

Not much chance now of changing to a new car. Smart strategy is changing to an OIL-PLATED engine. Get Conoco Nth oil for Winter at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 1st.

The Golden Text is: "My son, despise not the chastening of the Lord; neither be weary of his correction; for whom the Lord loveth he correcteth; even as a father the son in whom he delighteth" (Proverbs 3:11, 12).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart; and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit" (Psalms 34:18).
