Slaton Loses To Sundown Sun.

Sundown and Littlefield came within a half game of Slaton in the Oil Belt League standings last Sunday when Sundown defeated Slaton, 7 to 3, and Littlefield beat Brownfield, 12 to 2.

This Sunday, Slaton will go to Littlefield. Those who do not go to the game may listen to the ball game over the Littlefield radio station.

In the game last Sunday each side collected eight hits, but Sundown was able to put theirs together to jump ahead in the first inning by scoring two runs. Slaton came back in the same inning when Moyer, first up, got a double and Weaver got a triple. Wilson, who before Sunday's game had given up only ten hits in twenty-seven innings of pitching, was the victim and was charged with his first setback after winning four games in a row.

Baldy Joiner led the hitting for Sundown with three for four, while Weaver was the leader for Slaton, with the same.

Whistle Banks will go to the mound Sunday and will try to win the first game from Littlefield. At this time Littlefield and Sundown are tied for second place, and Post is in fourth place.

Special Service Is Planned In Baptist Revival

Rev. W. F. Ferguson reports that the revival at the First Baptist Church got off to a good start the first of the week, with Rev. Wm. K. Lawrence of Dallas doing the preaching and Jack Terrell of Ft. Worth in charge of the singing. Rev. Ferguson is especially anxious that this revival may be community wide in its reach and urges that all share in the joys of this revival season. He says, "God tells us in His Word to 'seek the Lord while He may be found, call ye upon Him while He is near.' Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved."

A special service is planned for next Thursday evening for all former service men and women. Rev. Lawrence is desirous of having as many former service men and women as possible for this service. He served four years as a chaplain in the Army Air Corps and is now holding the rank of Major in the Air Corps Reserve. He has a message that will appeal to and be helpful to all former service personnel, as well as all others.

Jack Terrell is also a former service man, having spent three years in the Navy. These two men make a great evangelistic team and their message in both gospel and song will be a blessing to all who hear them.

Construction of the new school building on West Lubbock St., seems to be getting off to a slow start, but as is the case in most places, the materials are hard to get and slow work.

Meat prices have not gone as high in Slaton as they have in South Texas according to reports from people who live in that section but fruits and vegetables are much higher. It is said that a lot of fine citrus fruit spoiled on the ground this last season but prices remained high in this section on these fruits.

Several new institutions are expected to be ready for business within the next few weeks. The changes in the names of business places in Slaton have been greater in the last six months than it has been in many years and there are rumors of more changes to come.

The new building of the Crow-Harral Chevrolet Company is coming along nicely and the VFW is expected to start work in a short while on their new home which will be next door to the new Chevrolet building on East Lynn Street.

While the actual date of the opening of school has not been officially set it will likely be the first Monday in September as it usually is in Slaton.

Most farmers say that the cotton harvesting season will be considerably later this season than usual and it is estimated that there will not be as much cotton gathered in the immediate territory as there was last year unless the per acre yield is much better than it was in 1947 as the acreage in cotton is much less.

Street Sweeper Needs More Room

Mayor Lee Wootton reports that the operator of the new street sweeper is having considerable trouble keeping the streets clean because of the fact that a great many people leave their cars parked next to the curbing over night.

"This custom will have to be stopped," said the Mayor, "if we expect to keep our streets clean, if the motorists cannot be persuaded to cooperate with us by parking in the center of the streets. If they expect to leave their cars out in the street over night, then it is most likely that a city ordinance will be passed making it unlawful to park cars on the streets after 12:00 p. m. We hope the motorists will cooperate with us so that we will not have to make it too hard on them but we intend to keep the streets clean."

Rev. D. A. Ross Is New Posey Pastor

Rev. Ray Cox, pastor of the Methodist Church at Posey, is moving to Dallas to attend S.M.U. The new pastor is Rev. D. A. Ross, who comes from Abilene. He has been teaching Bible at McMurry College.

Postmaster Kirby Scudder reports that postal receipts in Slaton show a consistent gain over last year for the first seven months of this year. This is one of the best barometers available for business conditions in a town, says Mr. Scudder. A ten per cent gain is counted as a very heavy gain and the figures show that Slaton has about a twelve and a half per cent increase in receipts so far this year.

Postal receipts for 1946 were $22,010.43, and for 1947 they amounted to $22,061.80. The following are the amounts gained each month so far this year over last year:

January	23.49
February	345.07
March	214.90
April	248.76
May	327.33
June	168.40
July	245.13
TOTAL	1,573.13

Mr. Scudder says the building inspector for the Post Office is expected soon and he will check on proposals for a new lease. Five bids have been indicated. July 15 was the closing date for bids.

Football Boys To Meet Aug. 11 For Physical Exams

They also request that all boys coming out for football meet them at the City Hall Wednesday, August 11th, for physical examinations. All local doctors are graciously giving their time for these physical examinations. Some of the boys will be examined August 11, 12 and 13.

Complete new equipment has been secured for the high school team and the junior team. Boys in the 6th, 7th and 8th grades will be as well equipped this year as the high school team.

Rumor Of Polio Case Not True

Reports at the beginning of the week that a polio case had developed in this area were wrong however a child was under observation at the Mercy Hospital with symptoms that sometimes come with polio. A check up with the doctors who treated the child was that it definitely was not polio.

There are cases of polio at Post and Levelland and Doctor W. E. Payne, City Physician, says that this is the most critical time of the year for the spread of the disease and he urges the people of this area to keep down all risk of pollution of water and to control flies and insects in every way possible.

CHICK CHATS

By Robert Huser of Huser's Hatchery

CHICKENS "CHEW" WITHOUT TEETH

The chicken is a toothless creature yet it is able to consume large quantities of hard grain and dry grasses. It can do this because Nature has given it a different kind of equipment with which to grind food — the gizzard.

This is the tough muscular organ in which the grit or gravel is retained to crush and grind the feed. When it is loaded with feed the gizzard begins to expand and contract causing the hard grain to be crushed and ground by the pebbles or grit. When the feed is reduced to finer form by the grinding, it passes out of the gizzard and on into the intestine where it is digested and assimilated by the bird's body.

Impacted Crop

Of course if there is no grit in the gizzard no grinding can be done. Impacted crop or gizzard frequently results when the bird does not have access to grit or other grinding material.

Eventually the grit grinds itself into powder, then passes on through the intestine. Grit should always be kept before the birds so that they may replenish their supply.

With baby chicks and poults it is a different story. While the youngsters are receiving all-mash rations there is no real need for grit and so it is recommended that it be withheld for a few weeks. The danger in giving grit to very young chicks or poults, particularly the latter, is that the little birds may gorge themselves on the substance, filling up their gizzards so completely that the regular movement of feed through the digestive tract is blocked. Of course, after the birds are old enough to eat whole grain, grit should be available at all times.

Grit should be rather insoluble. Soft material such as marble or ordinary limestone powders quickly and the birds must eat large amounts of the material for replacement.

Casual Comment

By Mrs. Nora Billingsley

A little quip on a news item in the Avalanche a few days ago was good for a smile. The item:—While practicing making a fast draw of a revolver from her brassiere a Knoxville girl suffered a flesh wound when the firearm was accidentally discharged.

The comment:—“We have been suspecting for a long time that some girls were supplementing nature in certain localities, but we had no idea they were doing so with artillery.

On a recent trip to Michigan I paid a one cent tax on my fifteen cent breakfast of buttered toast and coffee at Tulsa.

“For what is this tax used?” I asked the elderly man who took my check.

“For old age pensions,” he replied.

“What is the monthly pension in Oklahoma?” I inquired.

He gave me a suspicious glance, and mumbled that he “didn’t know.” I was evidently catalogued to his own astute satisfaction—a nosy old woman, who would like to locate where the fattest pensions were being paid.

The object of the trip was a planned reunion of seven sisters—a dream that did not come true, for only six of us were there.

One thing that gave additional pleasure to our natural joy in being together was the “differentness” of the locale. There were tall sugar maples, and other trees of natural growth. There were orchards and vineyards, lakes and rivers, weiner roasts on the beach at sunset, a short cruise on Lake Michigan in the luxury liner, “The City of Grand Rapids,” which was “a city block long” with five decks.

The apples, pears and peaches will not ripen till later in the season, but the red cherries were ripe, as were also gooseberries, red and black raspberries, currants for jelly making, and last but by no means least, there were “trees and trees” of big black sweet cherries.

I’d like to pay a tribute of appreciation to our hosts, a sister and her husband, who each have the proverbial “heart as big as a barrel,” and in the sunshine of whose warmth and welcome we rested and reminisced in a real reunion. With five visiting sisters, and other relatives who came to see us there was often quite a crowd, but with beds upstairs, an extra bed set up in the living room, and beds in the basement, there was room and a welcome for all.

Marvin, the brother-in-law, came in for much badinage about the amount of food being consumed. Much of it was raised on the place, and of course much of it was not. We were in their home a week, and on our last day, Ruth remarked at the breakfast table, “Don’t talk to Marvin this morning. He is about to cry right now, because we are leaving today.” And so, with light words and laughter, we pushed aside the question that hovered in the background of the minds of each of us. “Will we ever meet again?”

While I’m on the subject, I’d like to say a kind word for my brother-in-law, because a good many years ago I very strongly advised my sister to not marry him; in fact, I prophesied that if she did, the only cheering prospect she would see down the years of her life, would be the little white slab that would mark her grave at the end of it — or perhaps I predicted that the little slab would not even be painted white.

Anyway, I take it all back. They have now been married for 31 years, and their children are grown and married, but Marvin is still a kindly considerate and affectionate husband — the sort who never forgets his wife’s birthday, or their wedding anniversary and who breaks the monotonous “over and over” tasks of homemaking by suggesting that they take dinner out, and go to a show or to the beach. He is also the sort of a neighbor who can be depended on to help out in a pinch, or to get the balky car or tractor started.

And so, because of my bad judgment these may years ago, in not recognizing on sight that he was the “best catch” in the Flatwoods of Arkansas, I proposed a toast — to be drunk in this part, of course, in clear cold water — “A good husband, neighbor and friend, my brother-in-law, Marvin H. Haynes, of St. Joseph, Mich.”

Buy Dusters To Suit Own Needs, Council Advises

Buy cotton dusting equipment suited to the needs of your individual farm.

The wrong kind of dusting equipment, no matter how small or large the original purchase price, will prove to be an expensive investment to the cotton farmer, the National Cotton Council declares.

A prime rule in buying dusting equipment, to combat the boll weevil and other cotton insect pests, the Council says, is to select the machine which will perform the job best on the individual farm.

For example, a farmer with several hundred acres in cotton should not depend on a hand gun. Nor has the very small farmer need for a large tractor-driven duster.

Following are acreages which may be covered by various types of equipment: hand duster, 2/3 acres per hour; 2-row mule duster, 2 1/2 acres per hour; 2-row tractor duster, 5 acres per hour; 8-row tractor duster, 100 acres per day; airplane duster, 50 acres per hour. County agents and vocational agriculture teachers throughout the Cotton Belt are ready to lend farmers in their own areas assistance in selecting the proper cotton dusting equipment.

the price on newsprint went up and the dailies howl like stuck hogs but I notice they are publishing much more advertising than they ever did as the papers are more crowded with advertising than in the past

The weeds and flies and mosquitoes should show a decided growth since the recent rains and the folks of Slaton should do some cleaning up. The stress look much better since the newspaper has been put into operation but the kind of weather we're now having will likely increase the danger of polio, and other diseases traceable to poor sanitation, we should all do some disinfecting around our homes.

It seems to me that the boys and girls of today are missing one of the greatest pleasures of childhood and that is going barefooted. One seldom sees a child over two years old without shoes on and to me the memory of going barefooted is one of the most cherished pleasures.

The tickling grass on the bottom of my feet when first ventured out on tender feet at the beginning of summer, the hot sand bubbling up between my toes as the summer grew and the oze of the bottom of the creek I fished for crawfish was something out of this world. Of course stone bruises, cuts and scratches were a part of the risk one ran when going barefooted but it was worth it.

As my memory serves me I must have gone around the greater part of the summer until I was fifteen years of age with one or more of my feet tied up in a dirty rag for I was continually stepping on broken bottles, splinters and stumbling over things, but it never entered my head to put on shoes until the schools opened. Even the girls up to twelve went barefooted in summer time and my sister had a hard time being ladylike when it came time for her to wear shoes all summer.

There are some women who flop around the home now days barefooted and they say they enjoy it. It certainly is a relief to me to take off my shoes when I get home at night and sit out on the front porch and let the breezes blow through my sox and quite often when I get up in the mornings I slosh around the house barefooted and I'd like to work that way. Would I get some attention that way?

KANSAS CITY, 1921 — (Soundphoto) — When General John J. And while talking about the weather the farmers who have cotton should get ready to do some dusting for I believe we are going to have a lot of worms. Of course the fact that I have never lived on a farm fits me to advise the farmers just like an old maid and an old bachelor are equipped to tell folks how children should be raised. My experiences in a great many ways have been sadly neglected but I advise easily just like so many folks tell me what should be done about operating a newspaper. Lots of suggestions would be good if there were enough money in the newspaper business to do some of them but the higher prices go the harder the picking in this business. Last week

SERVICE—from the ground up

From Brownfield to Post, our new electric transmission line has stretched in recent months. It brings more power to the fast growing agriculture, manufacturing and business of this region. It means more dependable power for the Slaton, Post, and Tahoka section.

This new line didn't just grow overnight. Careful study and planning came first. Surveys of the proposed route followed. Meanwhile, materials and supplies were ordered, to be sent to the right spots for use. Then poles went up, with wires, crossarms and hardware on them. Finishing work followed. Substations were built, too. Energizing the line—turning on the "juice"—is just about the last step in a long job.

It takes that type of planning, all the time, to furnish good electric service to our customers. We've been at this work 24 years. Our experience, know-how and manpower are your assurance of continued good electric service.

Rides For Kids To Be At Fair

LUBBOCK, Aug. 3. (Special)—Midway ride prices to fit young purses were announced today for Children's Days at the Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 29 and 30.

All "kid" rides will be a nickel; the merry-go-round 6 cents; Ferris wheel 12 cents; others in proportion. They will be just half the usual charges—as low, if not the lowest, for similar entertainment at any important fair in the U. S. this year.

These low prices are provided for in the Fair Association's contract with Forsythe & Dowis, who operate one of the biggest and unquestionably the "cleanest" carnivals booked in the Southwest this year. It features rides particularly, but will present numerous tent attractions of high entertainment and educational value.

Miss Pauline Kenney Marries Robert D. Parise Of Washington

On Saturday morning, July 31, in the First Christian Church at 10:00 o'clock the vows were spoken which united Miss Pauline Kenney and Robert D. Parise of Seattle, Wash., in marriage. The altar rail was hung with ivy, in front of which stood tall candelabra, with white tapers, and large baskets of pink gladioli. The bridal aisle was marked with pink and white nosegays.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Kenney of Slaton. Mr. Parise is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Parise of Tacoma, Wash.

Rev. Dale W. Medearis read the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Lillian Butler of Lubbock played the traditional wedding marches and soft wedding music throughout the service. Miss Billie Jean Tucker sang, "I Love You Truly" and "Because," preceding the ceremony and "A Wedding Prayer" at the close.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beige gabardine suit, cocoa brown blouse, beige felt hat with cocoa brown veil, brown accessories, and carried a bouquet, composed of a center orchid with tuberoses and white streamers, on a white Bible.

For something old and borrowed she wore a gold chain belonging to her mother and which had formerly belonged to her great-grandmother. It is over one hundred years old. For something new she wore a wrist watch, the gift of the groom; something blue was blue garters and a penny in her shoe for luck.

Mrs. E. J. Kenney of Wellington, Kansas, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a pink gabardine suit with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Wayne Kenney, brother of the bride, served as best man, and Alton Kenney, younger brother of the bride, and Everett Kenney of Wellington, Kansas, cousin of the bride, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore grey with black accessories and a white carnation corsage. The groom's parents were unable to attend.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Slaton Clubhouse. After the bride and groom had cut the first slice from the large three tiered wedding cake, Mrs. Joe Tate served the cake and Mrs. J. A. Smith poured coffee. Misses Glenna Sue Liles and Betty Jo Gentry presided at the bride's book. Others assisting in receiving were Mesdames R. L. Smith, Dan Liles, R. C. Sanner, and Carl Lewis. Daisies and gladioli were used in the decorations.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were from San Angelo, Muleshoe, Lubbock and Wellington, Kansas.

Mrs. Parise is a graduate of Slaton High School and holds a B. S. degree in Education from Texas Technological College. She has been employed for the past two years as a buyer in a department store in Seattle, Wash. Mr. Parise holds a B. S. degree in Food Biology from the University of Washington and is employed as Production Manager and Head

Gifts were displayed on lace covered tables. Approximately thirty-five guests registered in the hand-painted white satin bride's book.

Misses Leonita Tunnell and Venita Green and Jackie Sheppard furnished piano selections and duets throughout the receiving hours.

Section 1. That Section 28 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

"Section 28. The Legislature shall, at its first regular session after the publication of each United States decennial census, apportion the state into senatorial and representative districts, agreeable to the provisions of Sections 25, 26, and 26-a of this Article. In the event the Legislature shall at any such first regular session following the publication of a United States decennial census, fail to make such apportionment, same shall be done by the Legislative Redistricting Board of Texas, which is hereby created, and shall be composed of five (5) members, as follows: The Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Attorney General, the Comptroller of Public Accounts and the Commissioner of the General Land Office, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum. Said Board shall assemble in the City of Austin within ninety (90) days after the final adjournment of such regular session. The Board shall, within sixty (60) days after assembling, apportion the state into senatorial and representative districts, or into senatorial or representative districts, as the failure of action of such Legislature may make necessary. Such apportionment shall be in writing and signed by three (3) or more of the members of the Board duly acknowledged as the act and deed of such Board, and, when so executed and filed with the Secretary of State, shall have force and effect of law. Such apportionment shall become effective at the next succeeding statewide general election. The Supreme Court of Texas shall have jurisdiction to compel such Commission to perform its duties in accordance with the provisions of this section by writ of mandamus or other extraordinary writs conformable to the usage of law. The Legislature shall provide necessary funds for clerical and technical aid and for other expenses incidental to the work of the Board, and the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall be entitled to receive per diem and travel expense during the Board's session in the same manner and amount as they would receive while attending a special session of the Legislature. This amendment shall become effective January 1, 1951."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the state on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1948, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment providing for gubernatorial succession in the event the Governor-elect dies, or becomes disabled, before qualifying and for such succession in other contingencies."

Each voter at such election shall mark out one of such clauses on the ballot, leaving the clause expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

High Pest Cost Cuts Income of Cotton Farmers

Cotton insects are an expensive luxury to farmers of the Cotton Belt.

In 1946, the boll weevil, bollworm, and other pests devoured more than $250,000,000 worth of the farmer's cotton. This meant, the National Cotton Council reveals, a loss of one-eighth of his cotton income to the average farmer. Such losses can be avoided in 1948, the Council continues, through observance of cotton insect control recommendations prepared by land grant college entomologists in each state.

Generally, the Council says that farmers should stock enough poison for at least one dusting, have adequate dusting equipment to apply poisons, make regular infestation counts, and begin dusting when infestation of cotton by the boll weevil or other pest becomes severe. Dusting should continue at about five-day intervals until insects decline below the danger point.

Farmers in this locality are urged to consult their county agent or nearby vocational agriculture instructor for detailed information on cotton insect control measures recommended for the surrounding area.
