Over the Wire

A new and rather unusual line of business will get into operation in Slaton in the near future when F. D. Bostick opens his water softening operations. While such services have been available in the larger centers for a number of years it is something new for towns our size.

Considering the number of new homes that are being constructed over the town the building permits do not nearly represent the amount of money that has been spent on new construction. According to those who were living in Slaton during the depression when so many houses were moved away, there are more homes now in Slaton than there were during the time Slaton was at it previous best. Population estimates for Slaton run anywhere from 4500 to 6000 with probably 5000 being about the best figure.

As is usual a good many farmers are beginning to worry and complain about the weather and the lack of moisture. The top soil is beginning to blow and if some rain or snow does not come soon the old sand storms are likely to start.

Conservation experts say that the land in West Texas is fast deteriorating and that unless something is done to control both Johnson grass and the destruction of the top soil by irrigation and over cultivation that the land in this section will be worth less than the land in the devastated parts of the country where the same methods have been used over a longer time.

There are a number of places in Slaton where considerable out of town business is being transacted. With the proper promotion there could be more business from out of town sources brought here. One furniture repair shop is receiving work from a number of towns over the South Plains without much solicitation and the Ray C. Ayers and Son Grain concern does business in many states of the Union. These firms have proven that good work and good service and good products will sell anywhere if properly advertised and by going after the business instead of waiting for it to come to them of its own accord.

High School Band Progressing Fast

Frank Herring, Band Director at the Slaton High School reported this week that the members of the band had secured enough money, from a recent magazine selling campaign to purchase a recording machine that is now in use. He also plans to give local concerts before long.

There was very little paving in town and none on the highways. There were few fences between here and the other towns over this area and if you knew your cow paths you could light out across country and get most anywhere. The Robertson block on Texas Avenue was the center of the business district, there was a bank in the building now occupied by the Slatonite and Lanham and Smart, Ragsdale's and John Simmons were the leading grocery stores. Allan Payne was doing a prosperous business, as he is doing now."

Present at the 90th. Birthday celebration were Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Eaves, and another daughter, Mrs. W. R. Tucker of Amarillo, two grand children, two great grand children and one great-great grandchild.

Mr. Olive is very active and alert and says he feels, "fine," and he does not feel that "13" has been an unlucky number for him, particularly January 13th.

Ty's Cow Goes to College

When Ty Martin went to college under the G. I. Bill of Rights, he took one of his Dad's Holsteins and enrolled it in the college herd.

Nobody thought it was odd for Ty to bring a cow to college, because that's what a lot of the boys are doing—not only cows, but chickens, sows, and ewes... for the student-operated farm.

That way the boys pay part of their expenses. They share in both the profits and the profits; allocate the work; make their own schedules and rules. They're learning not only how to be good farmers but good citizens to boot. And they're learning industry and moderation—next to milk it seems to me that their favorite beverage is wholesome, temperate beer.

From where I sit, the more education is linked with practical problems of working and getting on together—and practical habits of industry and temperance—the closer we are to its true purpose.

R. L. BOYD

There will be a quarterly Methodist Conference meeting Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the school house. A stewards meeting at 2 o'clock will also be held, according to S. N. Gentry, a district steward.

Mrs. S. E. Melton of 1910 Ave. Q., Lubbock visited friends here Sunday.

K. Boyd and B. Boyd were visitors at Wilson Sunday.

M. P. Gentry has been selling part of his farming equipment and says that he will retire from active farming for awhile.

The J. H. Stone family is moving near Dora, N. M.

Sickness caused a light Sunday School attendance. Two officers and teachers were absent.

Ginner Tudor has been able to dispose of the gin burr pile which is to be used as fertilizer.

Another test irrigation well is being drilled on the Payne farm about 2 miles southwest.

When the Posey Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. M. M. Brieger new officers were installed and committees were appointed.

The president of the school trustee board has been inquiring for a driver for the school bus, as the present one, Oscar Lee Johnson, wants to do something else.

Pastor Charles F. Schulte says that the Posey Immanuel Lutheran Church has 118 members and the St. Martins of Littlefield, where he is also pastor, has 83 members.

Executive Com. Met Tuesday, January 6

The Executive Committee met Tuesday, January 6, in the home of Mrs. J. S. Edwards, Jr.

They discussed and made plans for the next meeting which will be in the chapel of the Methodist Church, January 28 and Mrs. Ivy Savage from Lubbock will lecture on "Preparing the Pre-school Child to Enter School."

The nursery in the church basement will be open for mothers to leave their children during the lecture. The Brownies, who try to win the child care badges, will be in charge of the children.

Membership is open to all the mothers of the pre-school age. Those interested in becoming members call Mrs. Joe Walker, Jr.

They also report that the play school for pre-school age children will be opened the first Wednesday in February.

At The Theaters

Columbia Pictures' "Gunfighters," lavishly-scaled outdoor drama adapted from Zane Grey's great Western adventure yarn, "Twin Sombros," will open Sunday and Monday at the Slaton Theatre.

Filmed in glorious Cinecolor at the Painted Desert of Arizona, "Gunfighters" tells the thrilling story of the days when men lived, loved and died by the rule of the gun. According to advance reports on the picture, it contains all the excitement and rousing turbulence which characterized the Westward sweep of the pioneers, the mighty struggle for power in the rich and undeveloped lawless West.

"Gunfighters" stars Randolph Scott as Brazos Kane, a tight-lipped, poker-faced cowboy seeking revenge for the murder of a close friend. Co-star Barbara Britton is to be seen as a lawless beauty boldly trading her kiss for a man's life.

The supporting players are headed by lovely newcomer Dorothy Hart and include Bruce Cabot, Charley Grapewin, Steven Geray, Forrest Tucker, Charles Kemper and Grant Withers.

Alan LeMay, one of the screen's top writers — he's scripted "Reap the Wild Wind" and "Along Came Jones" — wrote the screenplay. George Wagner directed for producer Harry Joe Brown.

Another gent you'll love to hiss is introduced in "Caravan," Eagle-Lions Films release opening Tuesday at the Slaton Theatre.

Several years ago, a pleasant-looking young man from the London stage made his film debut in "A Canterbury Tale." The critics greeted him with approval and the public looked forward to seeing more of him on the screen. The new screen player was Dennis Price. His next film was "A Place of One's Own," with Margaret Lockwood and again his notices were agreeable.

And then it was decided to cast Price as the villain in "Caravan," a period adventure film of swash-buckling heroes and romantic leading ladies. Price's characterization of a brutal husband gives him the opportunity to play a completely ruthless man — sardonic, brilliant and completely evil. Playing villains is practically a sure-fire method of reaching screen stardom — and that's what the producers for "Caravan" feel Price will do as a result of his performance in the film.

The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cloth, red carnations in a beautiful cut-glass vase was in the center of the table.

Do Not Put Water On Electric Wires

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 12 — Entomologists of the USDA Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine recently sampled untreated bins of wheat in a midwestern state and found a heavy infestation of stored grain. If all wheat in farm storage is infested at the same rate, the scientists report, the loss of grain will have direct effect on the grain conservation program.

Grain stored in southern states is always more heavily infested and damaged by insects than the grain stored in northern states because of the moisture and temperature factors, entomologists of Texas A.&M. College point out. The insects develop more rapidly and do more damage to grain with a moisture content above 9 percent, while a daily temperature of 70 degrees or more encourages their development.

The entomologists recommend a mixture of three parts of ethylene dichloride to one part of carbon tetrachloride as the ideal fumigant for killing insect pests in the stored grain. It won't burn or explode, but it is a poison gas and care must be taken not to inhale its fumes. The grain must be stored in tight cribs or bins, and a garden-type sprayer is best for making the application. Spray the liquid thoroughly and evenly over the grain at the rate of 6 to 8 gallons for a thousand bushels. A commercial mixture of carbon disulphide-carbon tetrachloride is also effective.

It's a good idea, the entomologists say, to check stored grain on a monthly basis, if insect infestation and damage is found, fumigate promptly.

Cities Use Automobiles

One motor vehicle, including trucks, police cars and other types, for each 700 residents is needed by most city governments to carry on municipal tasks. This figure is based on nationwide averages as determined in a recent survey.

Ancient Radiant Heat
Wealthy Romans living in England centuries ago built their homes with dual walls with air space between them. Walls and floors were made of a masonry material and an open fire was built in the basement. Smoke and heating air rose in the space between the walls. Thus, first floor and walls were heated, introducing the first system of radiant heating.

CHICK CHATS
By Robert Huser of Huser's Hatchery

SANITATION IS VERY IMPORTANT
So much is said and written about the importance of good sanitation in poultry raising that to discuss it here once more might appear to be needless repetition. But for the very reason that sanitation is so important, one is never amiss in studying its principles and applying what he learns to his own poultry-raising enterprise.

Poor sanitation is a factor in nearly every outbreak of poultry disease. That fact alone is enough to justify the attention we give it.

Feeders and Waterers
The feeders and waterers in your poultry house are 2 of the commonest sources of disease. Fountains and feed hoppers should be cleaned thoroughly and often. At least once a week, a good scrubbing and disinfecting is in order. When disease is present, of course, they should be cleaned and disinfected even more frequently, sometimes daily.

Many poultry raisers find that a reliable drinking water antiseptic will help starve off certain kinds of poultry diseases. Since the drinking fountain is one of the first places to become contaminated, an antiseptic which helps prevent heavy contamination is an extremely valuable tool for preventing disease.

Many poultry diseases are spread through the droppings of diseased and 'carrier' birds. In a good sanitation program one of the regular practices should be to remove accumulations of droppings periodically. This will help eliminate the danger of diseases spread through this source.

Keep House Clean
The entire house should be kept as clean as possible. Litter should be clean and dry; wet litter should be removed. At intervals, new and fresh litter may be added.

Give your laying flock a clean, sanitary, well-ventilated and comfortable place to live and the results will speak for themselves.

Circular Cutting
About 1820, a mower was invented with a circular cutting blade which revolved against the grain, imitating the action of the old hand scythe blade.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain
Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taking like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "blues" in some. Started 2 days before "your day", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try it!

The Slaton Mattress Co. is the only factory that makes an innerspring with muslin bags and tacked with a 20 lb. bag on each side of the springs and tacked so the cotton cannot give or lump thus keeping the bed smooth for long years of service and good sleeping comfort, plus beauty and quality.

Before you buy, notice the quality of material in the mattress. This can be determined by the little tag or label on the end of the bed. This tag is a government regulation and must give you the correct information about the materials in the bed. Come by and look at ours. We say "Invest In Rest. Make Sure It Is A Sleep-Well" from—

Cause for Worry

The teacher was talking of Niagara Falls. "The falls are slowly wearing back toward Buffalo and in the course of 200,000 years they will wash away Erie." One of the girls in the class began to cry and the teacher asked what the trouble was. "Oh," wailed the girl, "my sister lives at Erie!"

The Gospel of Christ A MESSAGE TO INSPIRE CHRISTIAN UNITY J. LLOYD MOYER Phone Box 583, Slaton, Texas Res. 293-J Office 333 SUBJECT: The Drawing Power Of God Rom. 1:16 I Cor. 9:16 Gal. 1:18 Have you come under the influence of God's drawing power? Unless a man has been drawn by God Himself that man is in a sad condition. "No man can come to me, except the Father that sent me to draw him." John 6:44. It is not the Holy Spirit direct and without the word. "It is written in the prophets, "and they shall all be taught of God." Every one that hath heard from the Father, and hath learned, cometh unto me." John 6:45. It is done by the Spirit, but the Spirit does it through the Word, New Testament. "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto myself." John 12:32. His being lifted up on the cross is God's drawing power. When the Spirit, through the New Testament, tells you the sad and unselfish story of Calvary, God's drawing power is being exerted on your soul. God's drawing power was exerted at Corinth, (I Cor. 4:11), and that people became washed, sanctified or justified. How was it exerted? Paul was sent there with the New Testament on his lips. What did he say? "For I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and Him crucified." I Cor. 2:2. The sacrifice Jesus made on the Cross is the drawing power of God. It is not a big building. If some are attracted by an ornate meeting-house rather than the cross, they are not drawn to God. Such people will quit when they move to a town where the church meets in a rented hall. It is not a likeable preacher. "I'd have been to service today if I had known you were going to preach." The one who said that has never been drawn by God's power, but only the preacher's power. It is not a social program. Wholesome parties, picnics, and fellowship dinners are fine, and help to get sinners in a place to be drawn to God, but they are not the drawing power of God. A preacher emphasizing a social program more than "cross-preaching" may build up a big attendance, but his listeners will not have been drawn to God. It is not kindfolds. If a boy is baptized because his mother wants him to do so, he is not drawn to God. If a husband is baptized "to get in the same church with his wife" he is in nowise drawn to God, but to his wife. Since our aim, hope, desire and prayer is that all that come to Christ and be saved let us see just what we need to do to accomplish this end. Paul declares in Rom. 1:16 that the gospel of Christ is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth. Now to believe we must come to a knowledge of the Word and of course we must hear, therefore hearing is the first step in the direction of salvation. The power that brings this salvation is vividly portrayed in the fourth chapter of Hebrews where the writer says that the Word of God is living, active and sharper than any two-edged sword and that it is piercing, that is even divides the soul and spirit of man that it is quick to discern the thoughts and intents of the heart. In John 8:32 Jesus said that if men know the truth it will make them free of sin. In John 17:17 He said the Word of God Truth. Then when we read know it, what more do we need? What more can we do? The New Testament confers the power.

JUST TALK
 by
A.M.J.

When I walk down the street and see young fellows like Phil Brewer, Bobby Hoover, Sam Burnett, Jack Thompson and others tearing around bareheaded, wearing a sweater or a sport shirt, no tie and on cold mornings with a heavy jacket, I realize that styles are changing in men's wearing apparel.

For a while last summer I got up enough nerve to go without a hat but when the cold winds started blowing across the deserted places on the top of my noggin I got out my flop eared hat and have been wearing it all winter.

I'd like to do away with my overcoat too and put on flashy sport shirts and a sport coat that would stop a meteor in its flight but I must admit that I am of the old school and cannot get away from wearing stiff collars, neckties, hats and overcoats, but I believe the manufacturers who are in the tie making, overcoat manufactures and men's suit business should start looking around, for they are going to be in the same fix that the hat pin manufacturers were in when women started wearing the funny looking things that they now call hats instead of the bird cages and the two story nightmares that our

CECIL SAYS—
 Howdy Folks;
 How calm and peaceful are Saturday afternoons now that the foot brawl season is over.

Football is a game where the winning team takes home the goal posts and some one else takes home the gate.

Anyhow, too much attention to the pigskin has a bad effect on the sheepskin.

The fastest run on record while carrying the pigskin was the fellow who was shot at. It seems the pig was still in the skin.

However, we do advocate football, even though many father invests a fortune in his son's education only to get a quarterback.

They say a good football fan is one who knows the nationality of every man of the Notre Dame team.

We heard about one college student who on football was a half and in his studies was a way grandmothers used to barge around in.

A lot of good folks have some ideas that could be brought to the attention of the readers of the Slatonite and we would like to have any of our readers send us contributions for the amusement, entertainment and for the information of our subscribers. If you would like to put some of your ideas into print, please send them in to us, by mail or bring them in person, if you want them edited we will be glad to help on that too.

What progress—and improvement is made in Slaton will be mostly done by the people who live here and most certainly the success of any enterprise will depend a great deal upon the help and cooperation of the citizens of Slaton and we should have competent leadership, a well planned program for the future and be willing to put our faith in our home town. If we individually cannot do this then we should go some where else where we could have faith in some other town.

If you would like to put some of your thoughts on paper concerning any important or unique pertinent subject do so and let us have it.

And while I am at it I'd like to say thank you to those who have been so good about phoning and sending in news items, club reports, etc., to us. Your help is appreciated. There are many happenings that can be secured in no other way except through the interest of those outside of our working force. Help us make the Slatonite as interesting as you can and you will enjoy reading what the other person reports and he or she will enjoy hearing the things you tell us about.

As we go to press Thursday noon with our last four pages of the paper it is important that reports be made as early in the week as possible for we do not have the facilities or the time to report a great mass of news in the limited amount of space available after noon Wednesday, it is better to make reports on Tuesday if the full details are at hand.

Are the men of Slaton better to their wives or are they more henpecked than men in other towns, or am I just situated in a nest of well managed husbands.

Last summer when a group of men in my neighborhood got the baseball fever it was quite a job to get the gang together until the wives could be wheedled into consenting. Several times I phoned Ray Hickman and asked if he would like to go with me and he never said yes until Mrs. Hickman consented for him to make the trip. Doc Crow had to get a pass from headquarters before he was allowed out at night and Leonard Harral had to work up gradually and approach the subject of an evening out with great subtlety, whatever that means, and the May or had to start at least an hour before hand experimenting on the temper in which his wife was at the time. He talked big but when she glinted her eye at him he melted like an ice cream cone in a three year olds chubby fist. With me it is different, I just put the proposition up to my wife and if she says no I just fold up like an envelope and look sad. This sometimes causes a thaw and sometimes it does no good what ever. Harry Stokes looks and acts like a man of great independence but when his wife puts her dainty foot down Harry gracefully consents and reports that he has a headache, a previous engagement or suddenly loses interest in ball games.

It pains me very much to think about the ball games that may be played this summer for I'm going to have to do some mighty fast talking and I'm going to have to listen to some mighty queer excuses from the other men. T. H. Duckett used to think of some of the best ones I've ever heard and he had some mighty nice ways of getting permission to go. I tried out some of them and they worked surprisingly well. I hope Duck gets back in time for the opening of the ball season.

Have you paid your poll tax? If not you'd better go down to F. A. Drewery's office and put your money on the line or you will be ashamed to accept a lot of "your vote and influence will be appreciated" candidate cards this summer.

Personally I get suspicious every time a man walks into my office and pokes out his hand for me to pump for candidates are about the only folks now days who care a whoop whether you greet them or not. Salesmen used to be great hand shakers, but the only salesman who has been in my office lately was very peevish and he turned up his nose everytime I asked him about letting me have such items as newsprint, scotch tape and wrapping paper.

While there are a few of the office seekers in the County for who I have preferences, as for the State office seekers I know nothing, in fact I know less about them than I ever did and it seems to me that the Legislature and the Governor have done less in the last two years than at any time I can remember.

This is not a criticism, in fact I believe the entire country would be better off if less tampering with laws and operations of civic business could be arranged.

Can Pappy O'Daniel come back? Personally I doubt it. He has made a donkey's son of himself too many times to count, but he has had the courage to stand up against the majority of great many times, his political judgment has been mighty poor, but he has not been wrong in his position on every occasion by a long shot.

My door is open to the boys seeking office and my sympathy is for them for I know what sore feet and disappointment means as well as a few minor triumphs.

Looks That Way
 "Mother," said little Mabel, "do missionaries go to heaven?"
 "Why, of course, dear," her mother replied.
 "Do cannibals?"
 "No, I'm afraid they don't."
 "But, mother," the little girl insisted, "if a cannibal eats a missionary, he'll have to go, won't he?"

Your Gas Company recommends the use of FLUE-VENTED gas heating equipment

The proper flue-venting of any gas heating equipment is very important. It carries to the outside air all normal products of combustion including water vapor, thus eliminating the condensation of this moisture on windows or walls.

Central Furnace

Flue-venting also carries to the outside air any carbon dioxide or carbon monoxide which may be produced by improperly adjusted burners.

Floor Furnace

Flue-venting thus provides greater safety, more healthful living conditions and greater cleanliness. Besides all this, flue-vented equipment may be thermostatically controlled, providing greater convenience and the steady maintenance of whatever temperature you desire.

These are always vented: central furnaces, floor furnaces, panel wall heaters. These should be flue-vented: circulators, gasteam radiators. These cannot be vented: open-face radiant heaters or open circulators.

MARKET NEWS

As of January 12

(USDA)—Generally good demand and light offerings raised all grain prices. Wheat advanced about five cents to bring $3.11 1/2 to $3.12 1/2 per bushel in bulk car lots at Texas common points. Corn gained seven to ten cents and oats seven cents. No. 2 milo sold from $4.23 to $4.28 after a rise of ten cents a hundred. Spot cotton markets increased activity. Harvesting made good progress and neared completion except in the high plains. Prices declined $1 to $2 a bale. Lower Rio Grande Valley vegetable markets found good demand during the week, but citrus remained slow at weaker prices despite very light track holdings at terminal markets. Heavy cabbage and carrot loadings moved well at better prices, and lettuce gained volume. Colorado onions sold better, as potatoes slackened off. New Orleans, St. Louis and Kansas City reported lettuce, tomatoes and onions in light supply at mostly higher prices, with cabbage and cauliflower moderate and generally lower. Eggs weakened further at the principal southwest markets, as poultry sold steady to slightly stronger. Current receipt eggs moved mostly around 40 cents a dozen at Dallas and Denver, 45 to 47 at Fort Worth, and 48 at New Orleans. Heavy hens ranged generally from 23 to 26 cents a pound, but New Orleans paid 35 to 38.

Hogs scored net gains at Oklahoma City and Wichita, but lost ground at other southwest terminals. San Antonio reached a high point for the week of $27, Fort Worth $28, Oklahoma City and Denver $28.75 and Wichita $28.25. Most sows sold from $23.50 to $25
