Motor Inn Adds Timkin Bearing Distributor

Motor Inn Auto Supply, a servicing depot for filling stations and garages, has recently become the warehouse distributing center for Timken bearings and Perfect Circle piston rings, two of the most popular brands of merchandise of that kind being manufactured today.

The establishment, which maintains its Big Spring office at 404 Johnson street, also put the famous Fulton automobile sun visor on the market and that accessory is proving very popular with the West Texas motorist.

The best makes of vehicle air conditioners, which have attained a new degree of perfection, can also be purchased at Motor Inn Auto Supply.

Motor Inn's management has been assured that other lines of popular automobile merchandise are being added to the concern's stock from time to time. The mechanic seeking most any make of accessory can usually find it at the store. The establishment specializes in such items as the Lincoln Lubricating equipment, Sioux Valve equipment, Bean Wheel Balancers and Front End equipment and Binks and Devilbiss Paint Spray equipment.

A modern machinery shop, which specializes in cold welding of motor blocks, cylinder heads and other castings, occupies the rear of the Motor Inn Auto Supply building. Motor Inn mechanics employ the famous K-M method, in which cracks in heads can be repaired without the use of heat.

Business telephone of the concern is 244.

Tucker Puts Feed Mill To Operating

Already in production, Tucker Grain company soon will be able to supply almost any type and amount of commercial feeds for this area.

With new and latest equipment, E. T. Tucker, operator of the company, is now marketing ground milo heads, ground threshed milo, ground corn, and 20-80 (softened meal and hulls).

He is turning out a 16 per cent sweet dairy ration, and is to turn out an 18 per cent mixture. These, along with special feeds for chicks, hogs, and other livestock and poultry, will be marketed as soon as government labels are received.

In order to produce these quality feeds, Tucker has gone to considerable expense in installing equipment which includes a big hammer mill, a one-ton dry feed mixer and an automatic sweet feed mixer.

The grinder is in a concrete pit in an annex to the feed building and it possesses ample stroke and power to do an exacting job. The dry feed unit huris dry ingredients off the tips of a big auger blade into a big drum which slopes the feed back into the whirling blades. Every five minutes it is ready for another ton.

Under heavy and regulated pressure, molasses is sprayed into the sweetfeed mixture according to the formula. Adjustments of dials will insert 10 pounds sweetness per 100 pounds of feed, or to any other level. Tests prove that the mixing is 100 per cent thorough.

Demand for the products has thus far exceeded supply, but now that production kinks have been caught up, Tucker is prepared to turn out feed to meet local needs. Several feed concerns are marketing the products now.

Grain Seed Stocks Ample At Tucker's

Grain seed needs can be supplied promptly and in any amount at the Tucker Grain company.

E. T. Tucker, operator of the concern, has laid in a good supply of sudan, combine maize, goose-neck milo, small grains, corn, etc. All seed he secures are re-cleaned to insure purity and maximum germination. On one carload of Howard county combine maize he has received, the germination tests showed an uncanny 98 per cent.

Soft Molasses Hermits
 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon cloves
 1/2 cup shortening
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 egg, well beaten
 1/2 cup dark molasses
 1/2 cup sour milk or buttermilk
 1/2 cup raisins
 Sift flour, baking powder, salt and spices. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well; then add molasses. Add flour, alternately with milk, stirring only to blend. Add raisins. Drop from teaspoon on greased baking sheet placed about 2 inches apart. Bake in oven (400 F.) 10 minutes, or till done. Makes about 42 cookies.

Pineapple Yam Souffle With Nuts
 Easter Sunday deserves something as special as the following recipe combining three extraordinary foods: yams, pineapple and Brazil nuts. You will like the flavor, the texture and the easy way this family or company dish is made.
 3 cups hot mashed yam sweet potatoes (4 to 5 medium)
 2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 tablespoon brown sugar
 1-2 cup drained canned crushed pineapple
 2 eggs, separated
 2-3 cup finely chopped or ground Brazil nuts
 6 whole Brazil nuts, sliced
 Add to hot mashed potatoes the butter, salt, sugar and pineapple; mix well. Beat in egg yolks one at a time and finely chopped or ground Brazil nuts. Beat egg whites with rotary egg beater until stiff enough to hold a point when beater is withdrawn; fold lightly into yam mixture. Turn into 1 1/2 quart greased baking dish; top with sliced Brazil nuts. Bake in moderate (375 F.) oven for 45 minutes. Makes 6 servings.
 Note: To prepare mashed yam sweet potatoes cook whole in skins in a small amount of boiling salted water until tender when pierced through center with a fork; drain, peel and put through food mill or ricer or mash.

Casserole Cornbread
 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
 3 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 cup yellow cornmeal
 1 cup boiling water
 1 teaspoon salt
 2 teaspoons butter or fortified margarine
 2 eggs, separated
 1/2 cup milk
 Mix and sift flour and baking powder. Sprinkle yellow cornmeal into boiling water to which salt has been added and stir constantly as it thickens. Remove from heat, stir in butter or margarine and put aside to cool. Beat egg whites until they hold a point when rotary egg beater is withdrawn. Without washing beater, beat yolks and milk together; add to cornmeal mixture with sifted flour and baking powder, mixing well each time. Fold in stiffly-beaten egg whites lightly. Turn into greased one-quart casserole or baking dish and bake in a moderate (375 F.) oven for 30 minutes, until top is puffed and browned and sides are crusty. Cut in wedges in casserole with a knife and serve immediately, to be split and buttered or served with lamb stew and gravy over them. Makes 4 servings.
 Note: Flour may be stirred rather than sifted before measuring.

Quick Onion Soup
 2 1-2 cups thinly sliced onions
 3 tablespoons beef drippings, butter or fortified margarine.
 1/2 teaspoon brown gravy concentrate
 4 cups boiling water
 5 beef bouillon cubes
 4 small or half-slices dry toast
 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
 Cut ends off onions and peel; cut in half lengthwise. Hold an onion half at slight angle and starting down to make narrow even strips. Heat fat in large heavy skillet or kettle; put in onions and cook over low heat until partly tender and slightly yellowed, about 10 minutes. (If any tender onions are preferred cook 10 minutes longer or until onions are quite soft.) Add brown gravy concentrate and stir well. Add boiling water and bouillon cubes and stir to dissolve cubes. Bring soup to boiling point and then simmer over low heat for about 10 minutes to develop flavor. Ladle soup into bowls and put a small slice of dry toast in each bowl. Sprinkle each slice with a tablespoon of grated Parmesan cheese and serve immediately. If heat-resistant individual casseroles are used for the soup they may be put under the broiler to melt cheese before serving.

Chocolate Brownies
 2-3 cup sifted flour
 1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1-3 cup butter or fortified margarine
 2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate
 1 cup sugar
 2 eggs, well beaten
 1/2 cup walnuts, coarsely cut
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Melt butter or margarine and chocolate over hot water. Add sugar gradually to well-beaten eggs, beating thoroughly. Add melted chocolate mixture and stir to blend. Add dry ingredients and mix well; then add nuts and vanilla and mix. Bake in a greased 8-inch square pan that is 2 inches deep in a moderate (350 F.) oven for 35 minutes. While still warm cut in the size square desired. Remove squares from pan with a spatula and finish cooling on cake rack.

Group Approves Tideland Bill
 WASHINGTON, March 25. (AP)—A House Judiciary subcommittee yesterday approved a bill to grant the states title to tidelands.
 The bill is by Rep. Chadwick (R-Pa.). It is one of several on the subject, Chadwick said his bill

"starts at the same place and ends at the same place" as the measure approved recently by a Senate Judiciary subcommittee.
 "Fundamentally it is the same bill," Chadwick said.
 It would affect lands beneath navigable waters within state boundaries and natural resources within such lands and waters.

Church Distinctive Institution, Dieson Tells Lions Members
 R. A. Dieson, Austin, commended the church to the Lions club Wednesday as a unique and necessary institution.
 Only the church served as a home for man in his loneliness, he said. It was the best aid for men in deciding between right and wrong for "no question is settled until it is settled right. Moreover, he continued: it is "the only institution in the world which says 'whosoever will may come,' " and the only one which proclaims a Gospel of redeeming Grace and which actively preaches brotherhood under the fatherhood of God.
 Bill Dawes, president, announced plans for a Lions club minstrel. Preparations will begin on April 27, he said, a month in advance of the show dates of May 27-28.

High School Band Uniforms Arrive
 All band uniforms have arrived, and the Big Spring High school band will sport them when it goes to Abilene next week for the annual regional band concert.
 J. W. King, director, said that there now are a total of 86 uniforms, consisting of black Pershing-style caps with gold trim; gold coats with black citation cord; black trousers with gold stripe.
 The remaining 24 uniforms needed to complete the wardrobe were ordered by the school board. The Lions club had assured the board that it would support the project.

Radio Research Developing Vital Mobil Communications

GALVESTON, March 25 (AP)—Post war research is developing an important role for mobile communications in the nation's future.

A former professor of radio engineering at the University of Connecticut believes the role will be two-fold — important contributions to industrial expansion and a vital link in the nation's defense program.

"We must take no chances on hindering the progress of mobile communications for we shall have great need for such facilities when bombs start falling," Dr. Dan Noble, Chicago, researcher, said here yesterday.

Speaking before one of the opening sessions of the fortieth annual convention of the Southern Gas association, Noble described new mobile equipment he says is capable of making instant contact with any one of 18,000 automobiles in a given area, or can take remote control readings of any of a similar number of farflung meters and gauges.

He displayed pictures of a new frequency modulation "handie-talkie" which he said is now in production and retailing at approximately $250. The set is the approximate size of a portable typewriter, has a French telephone instrument mounted on the top, and contains 18 radio tubes.

Noble says experiments indicate the set has a range of 15 miles and can be used for communicating with permanent installations or with other similar mobile units.

He predicts the new telemeter and "handie-talkie" equipment soon will be in widespread use by pipe line and public utility companies, fire and police departments, dredge operators, newspapers and radio stations, and for sea-to-shore communications.

"Also, such equipment will be a vital link of communications that we can count on should we be attacked," he explained.

His discussion of the role of mobile instruments in defense strategy also carried a warning that called for congressional rejection of a House resolution he says is designed to instruct the Federal Communications commission on handling frequency modulation regulations.

"The commission already has assigned two frequencies of low powered channels for such instruments as the 'handie-talkie,'" Noble said, "but the resolution introduced by Representative Lemke of North Dakota would replace this order and find Mobile radio a victim of bad channel allotments." "It is vital to the defense of the nation that such mobile facilities receive support that will encourage continued research developments," he added.

Noble is chairman of the Mobile Services committee of the Radio Technical Planning board, an advisory board of the F. C. C.

Appreciation Night

Appreciation night in honor of Harold P. Steck, immediate past commander of the American Legion, is being planned for Saturday, Post officials said that the affair would be for Legion members and their guests and would start at 7:30 p. m. in the Legion hut.

Backers Active For MacArthur

LOS ANGELES, March 25 (AP)—Backers of Gen. Douglas MacArthur today began circulating petitions to place delegate-candidates for him in the California primary, June 1.

Allen Worcester, chairman of the "Draft MacArthur for President club," said a delegation would be sought for California at the republican national convention.

Joseph Choate, chairman of the "MacArthur for President club of California," said his organization, which he termed the only committee approved by the Wisconsin MacArthur headquarters, did not sanction the petitions.

"Our official organization repudiates any step designed to place Gen. MacArthur in competition with any 'favorite son' in a primary," said Choate. "It is against policy."

The California republican party organization is supporting Governor Earl Warren.

State Parks May Be Transferred

AUSTIN, March 25 (AP)—Legislation will be sought at the next session of the legislature to bring 10 historical state parks and shrines under the wing of the state parks board.

The parks are now under the board of control.

The transfer was agreed to here yesterday in a joint meeting of the two boards. Members of both boards expressed opinions that control should be with the parks board.

Similar legislation, introduced at the last session by Rep. J. M. Heflin of Houston, died short of passage on adjournment.

Parks and shrines involved in the proposed legislation include Fannin State park, Gonzales state park, James Stephen Hogg Memorial shrine in Wood county, Lipantlan state park at Nueces county, San Jacinto state park at La Porte, Washington state park at old Washington, Acton park and Monument Hill State park near La Grange.

Baked Spinach Ring With Creamed Salmon

Today we can enjoy baked spinach ring with creamed salmon on a modest food budget because we needn't use the most expensive canned salmon in concocting it. Lower-priced varieties will do just as well. Or you can use left-over fish such as cod or halibut instead of the creamed salmon. In any case, it's a good dish that's nutritious and colorful, appropriate for a March day whether you're practicing Lenten abstinence from meat or not.

Baked Spinach Ring with Creamed Salmon

3 tablespoons cooking fat
1 tablespoon chopped onion
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1 1/2 lbs. spinach or 1 cup cooked spinach
2 eggs, beaten separately
Salt
Paprika
1-4 teaspoon nutmeg (optional)
2 cups hot creamed salmon

Melt fat in skillet; add onion and fry for about a minute; stir in the flour until well blended, add the milk and cook, stirring until slightly thickened; add the chopped, cooked spinach; reduce the heat; stir in the 2 well beaten egg yolks and cook until thickened. Add the seasonings and fold in the 2 stiffly beaten egg whites.

Fill a greased baking dish or ring mold with the mixture; set in a pan of hot water and bake in a very moderate oven (325 deg. F.) for about 30 minutes or until well set. Unmold the spinach on a platter and pour the creamed salmon over it. Or, if a ring mold is used, fill the center with the creamed salmon. Serves 4.

Menu Suggestions: With this meal let's have carrots and scalloped potatoes—which can bake while the spinach ring is in the oven. For salad, try unpeeled brilliant red apples with orange sections. Your dessert might be your favorite gingerbread served in a new way—warm squares topped with a mixture of spicy apple butter and cottage cheese.

Food Tips: The canned salmon in our markets is from five species of fish, varying in color and texture of flesh, in size and abundance of supply. The first two types listed below are generally higher in price than the other three.

1. Chinook or King salmon is usually salmon red but the color may be lighter, varying to white. Flesh is firm in texture.
2. Red or Sockeye salmon has a firm flesh and has a deep orange color.
3. Medium red, Coho or Silver salmon has fairly firm, medium red flesh—usually deeper colored than Chinook and lighter than Sockeye.
4. Pink salmon is generally pale pink in color. Its texture is less firm than that of the King, Red and Coho species and its price is lower, largely because it is more abundant.
5. Chum, sometimes called Keta salmon ranges from light pink to white. And it generally contains less oil than the higher-priced classes.

King, Red and Coho salmon are generally preferred for serving without further cooking as for a cold plate, as salmon with tart potato salad. The less firm and less colorful varieties are good in cooked dishes and combined with other foods. Today's Peace Plate may well use one of the less expensive types since the salmon gains flavor from both the sauce and the spinach.

Baked Prune Whip

2 egg whites
1-4 cup sugar
1 1-16 teaspoon salt
1 cup pured cooked-prunes (two 5-ounce containers baby-food strained prunes)
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Beat egg whites with a rotary beater until stiff enough to stand up in peaks. Add sugar, a tablespoon at a time, along with salt, while continuing to beat. Fold in the prunes in several additions; fold in lemon juice. (To fold means to draw mixing spoon from one side of bowl to other side, rotating spoon handle as you do so to turn mixture back into bowl continuously; the bowl itself is rotated with the other hand while the mixture is being folded in.) Turn into 6 cup baking dish (it is not necessary to grease it) and bake in a slow (325 F.) oven for 45 minutes. Remove immediately and chill. Serve with soft custard sauce made from the two remaining egg yolks. 4 servings.

Cabbage, Corn And Peanuts In Slaw

8 cups shredded green cabbage, firmly packed
1 12-ounce can (about 1 1/4 cups) whole-grain corn, well drained
1/2 cup thin pimento strips
2 tablespoons finely grated onion
Salt and pepper to taste
Cooked salad dressing to taste

1 cup salted peanuts, very coarsely chopped
Salad greens, if desired
Combine all ingredients except peanuts and salad greens and stir just before serving mix in peanut (If peanuts are added too long in advance they may lose some of their crispness.) Serve on bed of lettuce leaves or watercress or other salad greens if desired. About 12 to 16 servings.

FALSE TEETH

IT'S GOOD TO KNOW

Mrs. Tucker's HOME MAKING HELPS

A warm smile is the first thaw when "breaking the ice" in a new community.

Next year's pecons can be next week's dessert highlight if you shell them, seal into glass jars or in cellophane bags and freeze. They stay fresh for use until next year's crop is ready.

When giving steaks or chops the cold shoulder, try using squares of cloth between the layers instead of paper. Then when it's "dinner for one" the cloth will pull the meat loose, allowing the remainder to go back into frozen storage.

Mrs. P. J. Maloney of Terrell, Texas, tried her Postal Pot Luck winning $10 for herself and a flavorful hint for you:

To a pint of good vinegar, add 5 cloves of garlic, peeled and slit. Let stand, covered, at room temperature for a week. When you want the flavor of garlic, use 1 or 2 tablespoons of the vinegar on roasts, steaks, dried beans, green beans, in salads or salad dressings, gravies and sauces. It adds that "trace" of garlic so desirable, yet eliminates frequent peeling and handling.

ASK OR TELL MRS. TUCKER! Send questions and suggestions to Mrs. Tucker's Homemakers Dept., Sherman, Texas. $10 paid for each recipe, menu and home help published.

CHILQUIA BANANA adds to her host of friends with this Pot Luck Posting received from Mrs. Janita H. Goodall of Siloam Springs, Arkansas... Ten dollars are on the way!

BANANA BREAD

1/2 cup Mrs. TUCKER'S SHORTENING
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1-3/4 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup bananas

Mash bananas, add soda and let stand while you cream the shortening; add sugar gradually and cream until light and fluffy. Add beaten eggs and mix well. Sift flour, measure and sift again with salt. Add to sugar mixture alternately with mashed bananas and soda. Stir in pecans. Bake in a greased and floured loaf pan in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 50 or 60 minutes.

Let stand 24 hours before slicing for best thin slices, but delicious served warm with MEADOLAKE MARGARINE.

Lets Hunt Our Easter Eggs Elsewhere

Already there have been of the traditional Easter egg hunts in progress here, but the heavy end of that seasonal fun lies ahead for the week end.

Accordingly, we want to suggest that adults in charge of such social functions exercise judgment for the youngsters.

We have in mind the damage done to city park flowers and shrubs last season. Because flowers offered a lovely place to hide an egg, or a bush an enchanting place to secret the Easter bunny's treasure, adults hid the eggs in these spots.

with reckless abandon. They had no thought of a flower or a bush. Their minds were on colored eggs. Nothing else.

So we make an appeal to adults to in turn caution youngsters about trampling flower beds. By refraining from using the city park beds for hiding places and so informing and impressing upon children that none are hidden there, perhaps the park can be spared treatment which would undo months of hard beautification work.

There is too much space in this country to dictate exclusive use of park flower beds for egg hunting.

Provide For Paving While Iron Is Hot

City commissioners Tuesday evening passed an ordinance calling for paving improvements on 27 more blocks which have been listed on tentative plans and on which basis engineering has been completed.

At the same time, the commission appropriated $13,288 for its share of the estimated cost of the improvements.

Although members of the board looked ahead to an additional 30 blocks, they did so with an evident regard, not for demand, but for the city's ability to shoulder its part of the cost.

50-block program.

This is one phase of a paving program which has heretofore been given little consideration because the size of programs controlled it.

It is to be hoped that means can be found for financing the municipal share in any size project which materializes—and to find means now. We say this because we believe that the time to strike is while the iron is hot.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Italians Told Of U. S. Policies

WASHINGTON.—Last week I gave the following broadcast short-wave translated into Italian to the Italian people:

"Amecchi Italiani! It seems only a very short time ago since I was traveling through Italy on the Friendship Train. I remember vividly the hosts of Italian friends who greeted us; the children of Naples with their flags, the stirring reception Premier De Gasperi gave us at the Campidoglio in Rome, and the railroad train crew that threatened to strike because they wanted the honor of hauling the Friendship Train beyond Bologna.

"And I want to tell the Mayor of Udine that we are still telling people over here about the beautiful folk songs and dances he arranged for us, and about the little boys' bands that rehearsed for three weeks before the Friendship Train arrived. And I want to tell the children of Padua and Bologna and all the other cities that we have been showing Americans the friendship drawings they so thoughtfully brought to the train.

"And Gorizia! Well, there is one thing I haven't told Americans about Gorizia—namely, how hard I worked trying to learn a speech in Italian, and how sympathetic the thousands of people in Gorizia were when I tried to deliver it.

"My thoughts and those of many other Americans have been with the Italian people since that time, especially so right now. 'This week, the Italian film, 'Thanks America,' expressing the gratitude of the Italian people for the Friendship Train was shown before members of the American cabinet, the Supreme Court, the Senate and House of Representatives—a stirring demonstration of Italian-American friendship.

"Your American friends have also been thinking about you these days because we have been worried. We have been worried by disturbing reports that some of the things we fought for may now be forgotten.

"I think I can truly say—because I knew well the American soldier—that they were sincerely fighting a war to end war and preserve democracy. And many of you, though your Fascist dictator was on the other side, courageously helped them toward that goal.

"But when the Armistice came, and we sent our armies home, we found that another power didn't. At first we couldn't believe this. As allies we had trusted each other. But with the end of the war, when one power kept a big army in the field we began to wonder. And as that army marched into other weaker countries to enforce its rule we wondered more, and became worried.

"The American Army was demobilized from the huge total of 15,000,000 men to only 600,000 in a few short months, but our ally, though discharging a few men, has kept a very large army.

"Then another thing happened that you in Italy may not know about. I consider it most important.

"During the war the United States had developed a new and terrifying weapon—so terrifying that after the United Nations was organized, we offered to abolish this weapon—the atom bomb. We offered to wipe it out altogether and never make another bomb—on one condition.

"That condition was that an international board be appointed to inspect the war plants of other nations to make sure they were not making the bomb which we had agreed not to make.

"But this one power, this former ally which had not demobilized, refused to cooperate. It refused this generous American offer to abolish the atom bomb. This one country refused to have the United Nations inspect its war plants—though we were willing to have ours inspected.

"Now I am a newspaperman who frequently publishes news which Washington officials do not like. And as a newspaperman I studied this atom-bomb question most carefully. I can assure you that my government and the American people were most sincere in their desire to cooperate.

"I am afraid the refusal by one power has led to more distrust and ill will than anything that has happened since the end of Hitler.

"For if the atom bomb could be abolished, and the peacetime secret of the atom could be shared by the world, it would bring a new haven of happiness and prosperity. If the atom could be harnessed for peacetime medicine and industry, it would mean the end of Italy's worries over coal. It would mean energy for the great factories of Milan and Bologna and Turin without importing one ton of coal. It would mean heated homes for all Italy—the sunshine of the summer blossoming forth in the winter.

"All this, America offered to the world. And because of one nation, it was refused. AMERICA HAS FAULTS

Don't Count United Nations Out

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER For DeWitt MacKenzie

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—Don't count the United Nations out yet.

That is the opinion expressed by United Nations leaders and delegates two years after the security council held its first meeting in America. The actual anniversary is today.

The U. N. is going through perhaps its blackest days, but no responsible leader here, from Secretary General Trygve Lie on down, and no responsible delegate shows any signs of throwing up his hands and quitting.

The overriding concern is the split between the Slav countries, led by Russia, and the western powers—chiefly the United States, Britain and France. None of the big powers, especially Russia, is showing any letup in interest.

In the 1947 general assembly several delegates complained that the world apparently expected the U. N. to establish peace.

They pointed out that the U. N. was not built to make the peace after World War II. The U. N., they said, is intended to preserve peace once the big powers have agreed upon it.

Some delegates consider that the top achievement of the security council during its two years in America came in the Indonesian case.

The council and its good offices committee succeeded in stopping serious fighting in Indonesia. There still is no agreement on control of atomic energy, in the Balkans case, in Korea, in the Egyptian complaint against Britain, and other top items on the security council's list of headaches.

The greatest strain now comes from the Palestine partition controversy and the Russian-western battle over Czechoslovakia.

Those issues still are far from being settled. Most of the U. N. accomplishments have been in the economic field.

The economic and social council has approved three economic commissions—one for Europe, another for the far East, and a third for Latin America.

An economic commission for the Middle East is in the mill. The largest trade conference in history, meeting at Havana under U. N. auspices, is setting up a new U. N. agency for bettering world trade.

Postal Workers Plan Food Co-Op

About 700 Dallas workers are trying to set up a grocery corporation. Best by the high cost of living, they want their own store where they can buy food more cheaply.

They have hired a lawyer to secure a state charter. Each worker entering into the plan is putting up about $15 to finance the enterprise.

Their store will deal in non-perishable goods such as flour, shortening and canned goods. There will be no meats or vegetables. The establishment will be situated in downtown Dallas and the postal employees will hire outside men with grocery experience to run it.

Goods will be sold to the corporation member, at a certain fixed price—just enough profit to pay the overhead.

Treasurer of the enterprise is James E. Conner, tall, lanky postal worker who has had accounting experience. Conner, almost 50, explained:

"These high prices are rough on fellows in the postal service. Salaries run from $1,500 to $3,100 per year and lots of the boys never made as much as $3,100." Two wholesale grocery firms have agreed to sell the proposed store groceries at wholesale prices, Conner scored.

There will be no dividends—no profit-sharing schemes.

A meeting was held last night to enable the group's attorney to explain what processes must be followed to get a charter.

An official of a big grocery chain was asked what he thought of the project.

"He didn't seem to mind at all," Conner said. "He figured there are so few of us in relation to his company's total trade that his firm won't even miss us when we're gone."

New Weapon To Stop Big Strikes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new weapon to stop big strikes at least 90 days is being used now by the government.

It's part of the Taft-Hartley labor act passed nine months ago. But there's been no need of it until now.

The government is using it in the case of the striking coal miners and meatpackers and the atomic workers who threatened a strike at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The three cases will be news for some time. This explains what the government has done, can do, and why.

If the President thinks the national health or safety is endangered by a strike or lockout—going on or threatened—then:

He can set up a fact-finding board to look into the dispute. Within a time set by him, the board reports back to him.

It recommends nothing. It just says what both sides want. The President makes the report public.

By that time if the strike or lockout is still threatened or is not over—then:

He can tell the attorney general to ask a Federal judge for an order stopping or forbidding a strike or lockout for 90 days.

If the workers or boss refuse to obey him, the judge can fine or jail them. They must continue working for at least 90 days.

(If either side thinks the order unfair, it can appeal to the higher courts but meanwhile must continue work.)

Men from the U. S. Mediation service jump into the dispute—while work is going on—and try to get both sides to reach a settlement.

This takes place during the first 60 of the 90 days. In the meantime the President calls back his fact-finding board.

At the end of those 60 days, if there's still no settlement, the board reports on the situation to the President. He makes the report public.

Then, within the next 15 days, the National Labor Relations board (NLRB) steps in. The NLRB takes a secret vote among the workers to see if they're willing to accept the employer's last offer.

In Hollywood—Bob Thomas

Vallee Dips Into Video

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Rudy Vallee, America's tireless troubadour, is out to conquer yet another medium—television.

One of Hollywood's non-stop talkers, the former vagabond lover described his newest project, Vallee-video, on the "Unfaithful Yours" set. He believes that radio has passed its peak of popularity as a form of entertainment and will soon take a back seat to television.

Right now, Vallee is experimenting with illustrated songs. For example, he takes a tune like "These Foolish Things" and flashes the "things" on the screen as the song is played. Such films take from one to four days to complete and the producer said he is in no hurry to release them.

"I can wait a year or two," he declared. "The market isn't one-hundredth the size it will be. When the demand goes up, prices go up and a backlog of programs is like gold in a vault." He'll have to get a bigger vault, then, Vallee is rumored to be one of the richest men in show business.

Vallee is also making a half-hour sketch called "College Life," which will be filmed on 35mm film for telecasting. He hopes to interest sponsors in a series of shows along the same line.

He is currently dickering for a 20-acre site in Hollywood for a television studio. He envisions it as an extensive plant capable of producing several projects at once, including the apparently inevitable soap operas.

"Talent will be no problem," he declared. "We will develop our own Clark Gables. Young performers will be able to appear before audiences of millions. At the end of a 40-week series, they would be famous and could command good salaries in movies and the theater."

It may be noted that Vallee doesn't plan extensive television acting at present. He'll stick to radio and movies while baby grows up.

Olivia DeHavilland was telling about the thrill she got presenting the academy award to Ronald Coleman. When she was a teenager, he was her idol. She even wrote for and received an autographed photo from Coleman.

Note: I hearby resolve never again to try to predict academy winners. Not this year, anyway.

Where's Rubber Gun?

What has happened to that offshoot of the tire industry, that product of depression days, the rubber gun?

Well do I remember how the fellows and I would come home from the weekend westerns, double bill, serial and two shorts for a nickel, our imaginations spurred by the fearless exploits of Tom Mix, Buck Jones, Bob Steele and others.

An argument seldom occurred such as "I shot you first," "No, I shot you." For the sting of a flying band usually settled the issue.

Our artillery was versatile to meet every need of battle. There was the small pistol carved from a board to resemble a real six shooter. It had a clothes pin bound on the back of the hand grip to hold the band cut from a bicycle inner tube. The ammunition was stretched from the notch on the front of a short barrel and secured in the grip of the "trigger" borrowed from the clothesline.

Of larger "caliber" was the rifle made from a broom stick. It worked on the same principle with the exceptions that the clothes pin was fashioned flush on the back of the stick and the band used was cut from a full sized automobile tire tube. This piece had more range than the smaller weapon.

The heaviest and most fearful piece was the machine gun. This automatic artillery was made from a 1"x4" board with notches cut in the top. A string was tied on a nail driven in front of the cut nearest the front of the barrel. A rubber band with the string immediately under it was pulled into each notch, starting with the cut nearest the front of the barrel. By pulling the string, a barrage of rubber "shots" were fired the one nearest the back of the gun being released first. This piece was saved for the frontal attack on the club house or cave.

The more powerful bullet had its elastic counterpart in the band which had a knot tied in its center. This move, of course, shortened its length and added to its power.

Those were the days. I guess the past war has put a crimp in any such thoughts the younger generation might have. Even now, there are precious few inner tubes being cast around.

Maybe our youngsters will catch on. On the other hand, maybe they just won't be interested. After all, how can you make a rubber gun Bazooka.

Hal Boyle's Notebook

U. S. Cows Sissified

By ARTHUR EDSON

NOTE: Hal Boyle is taking a week's vacation. Arthur Edson will write the column in his absence.—ED

WASHINGTON, (AP)—And now, stand by for an item of international importance:

The cows of this country are sissies.

No, I'm not kidding. And neither is the food and agriculture organization of the United Nations, which brought the whole thing up.

Before we meander into the international picture, let's consider the sissification of cows and other barnyard characters.

U. S. cows—and cows of other agriculturally advanced nations—are highly specialized creatures.

Some do nothing but produce rich milk. Some stand around growing their (bones).

Some with other beasts and fowls. Our pigs are the pork shopkeepers. Our chickens are the cacklingest. Our sheep are the sheepiest.

Sounds good, doesn't it? But there's a catch. If these cows, chickens and pigs are to live and prosper, everything must be just so.

Most of them need special shelter. Most of them need special food, and lots of it.

I am reminded of an old friend of mine. She was a cow named Jerz, because she was not a guernsey.

Jerz was as finicky as a junior leaguer.

In the winter we had to warm her drinking water. When Dad wanted to shift her from prairie hay to alfalfa, he had to start a month early, sneaking a little alfalfa among the prairie when she wasn't looking.

Jerz was a good cow, but let's face it. Most of the world isn't set up so that a cow can be happy.

That's where the United Nations agriculturists come in. They think improved livestock would make this world a better place in which to live.

So they have come out with a book called "breeding livestock adapted to unfavorable environments."

They find that years of study have gone into developing livestock for rich farmland—and only a few minutes of study have been made for the poor countries.

Take the water buffalo. There are 78,000,000 water buffaloes in the world, with 48,000,000 of them in India.

The W. B. is a very handy animal.

He can pull a load of from one to one and a half tons, zipping along at two miles an hour. This may not be a very flashy speed, but it's just right for cultivating a rice paddy.

Mrs. Water Buffalo can give up to 3,000 pounds of milk a year.

The United Nations people have nothing against the water buffalo. They know it can eat coarse feed that wouldn't appeal to a cow.

But they believe it could do even better. A fine milk water buffalo, for example, would solve India's food problem.

Gunther Set To Music

NEW YORK—John Gunther's "Inside U. S. A.," adapted to the musical stage, of all things, will be seen in the huge Century Theater. Producer — Composer Arthur Schwartz reluctantly agreed to that big house after trying to land the Winter Garden.

The latter's tied up by the movies and can't be had, at least this season.

Tom Heggen saw only four plays before he wrote the season's biggest hit, "Mister Roberts." "For the record they're 'The Glass Menagerie,' 'A Bell For Adano,' 'Arsenic and Old Lace' and 'Foolish Notion.' His earnings weekly from his play: $1,750! "

Anti-aircraft guns in the "Mister Roberts" set had to be whitened out of wood. The real McCoy armament could have been bought from surplus material for a few bucks, but they would have been too big for the set's perspective. The whitened jobs cost 900 clams each!

Dublin Gate Theater of Ireland which came here accompanied by large Gaelic expectations, including my own, flopped disappointingly. Yale drama student, James B. Allerdice, sold his play "At War With the Army" for fall production. Dick Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein 2nd, all but own theatrical Chicago. Their "Annie Get Your Gun" hit the road again after a wov 17-week engagement whose receipts never dropped below $51,000 a week, and now their production of "Show Boat" has arrived in the Windy Burg to extract more willing cash from the natives. And just to rub it in, their "John Loves Mary" also is a solid Chicago smash.

Antoinette Perry awards for Broadway theatrical accomplishment will be announced Easter Sunday night. No "First" or "Best" are included, just a bunch of good will distributed in an unusual fashion. Besides the usual categories, there will be prizes for "a progressive theater operator in New York" (admittedly tough to choose), a "courteous and efficient doorman," "a progressive theater manager out of town," the latter to point up a traditional touring complaint.

The awards are given annually in the name of the late "Tony" Perry, who headed the theater's war activities in the American Theater Wing.

Joan Platt understudies both the mother and daughter roles in "The Heiress." This week she was able to play mother and daughter at alternate performances when both ladies in the play took sick in an eminently thoughtful and cooperative fashion, one at a time.

ARTURO TOSCANINI, born March 25, 1867, in Parma, Italy, is, at 81, still acclaimed as the greatest orchestral conductor of his time. He conducts without score, demands perfection and works slavishly to obtain it. He fought Fascism with such actions as refusal to play the party hymn at a patriotic festival. Among orchestras he has conducted are La Scala Opera, Metropolitan Opera and New York Philharmonic Symphony.

TRITES AT ABILENE

Local Residents Killed In Mishap

Funerals were being held in Abilene Monday afternoon for two Big Spring people, killed in an automobile mishap five miles west of Colorado City early Sunday.

The dead were Herschel H. Hyer, 26, driver of the car, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Alma Maydean Hyer, 21, Mrs. Sidney M. McAdams, 19, Hobbs, N. M., a sister of Hyer, who was in critical condition at Colorado City where Root hospital attendants said she had not regained consciousness late Sunday night.

Other occupants of the car, Ray Hyer, brother of the dead man, J. W. Woodward and W. K. Hyer, Abilene, father of the deceased, were unhurt. Ray Hyer told Highway Patrolman T. T. B. Rader, Sweetwater, that the car had overturned four times when it struck a soft shoulder while attempting to pass another car on the curve at the rock filling station west of Colorado City.

Rites for Mrs. Hyer were set for 3:30 p. m. Monday at the Corinth Baptist church in Abilene with the Rev. L. Grantham officiating. Burial was to be in the cemetery at Caps. Those for Hyer were to be held at 2 p. m. from the Laughlin-North funeral home with burial in the Cedar Hill cemetery at Abilene, and with Rev. D. G. Reid in charge.

Mrs. Hyer is survived by her husband and son; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wheatshunt, Abilene; two sisters, Mrs. Clifton Wilkerson, Odessa, and Mrs. Bonnie Lovell, Abilene; and three brothers, Carol A., Charles, and J. B. Wheatshunt, Jr., Abilene.

Hyer leaves his wife and two children, Howard Lee and Glendola Sue Hyer, Big Spring; three brothers, Ray, W. T. and Jackie Hyer; of Big Spring; seven sisters, Mrs. C. L. Phillely and Mrs. L. Z. Nichols, Abilene; Mrs. Sidney Steel, Mt. Vernon, Okla.; Patsy, Ann, and Shirley Hyer, Big Spring; and Mrs. McAdams of Hobbs, N. M.

Big Spring as a community had joined together this afternoon to pay tribute to its overseas war dead, in funeral rites scheduled for 4 p. m. at the First Baptist church for Sgt. John W. Payne, Jr.

The body of Sergeant Payne is the first of Howard county overseas war victims to be returned home for burial, and because of that distinction the city was suspending all business activities for the memorial tribute.

Public schools also were closing at 3:30, Supt. W. C. Blankenship announced.

Sergeant Payne was to be interred with full military honors, following rites at the church. The American Legion has charge of the services, providing honor guard, firing squad, pallbearers and bugler Preston Denton. Legion chaplain, was to conduct the rites.

Negro Group Backs Civil Rights Plan

TUSKEGEE, Ala., March 22. (P)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is demanding equal rights for Negroes in schools and ballots.

A seven-state NAACP policy conference here yesterday also demanded "the right of personal safety."

Emory O. Jackson of Birmingham, president of the policy committee, said this is the Negro's answer to the white South's revolt over President Truman's civil rights proposals.

Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, termed the Dixie outcry over expanding civil rights a "cheap political trick."

He predicted the South will be solidly democratic again this summer because "these political hickers are powerless to take effective action because they are ensnared by the one party system."

Both white and the conference denounced the plan of southern states to create regional schools to provide Negroes with college training.

It is a "slick device" to get around a U. S. supreme court decision ordering equal education facilities for all races, White said.

The conference deplored Ku Klux Klan activity in Georgia. NAACP Field Secretary Daniel E. Byrd said the Klan used the mails to warn all registered Negro voters in Mount Vernon, Ga., to "stay away from the polls on a recent election day."

As a result, he added, only about 120 of 600 registered Negroes voted. Alabama's Boswell amendment, adopted in 1946 as a means of barring Negroes from voting, also was attacked. The amendment requires all prospective voters to be able to "understand and explain" the U. S. Constitution to the satisfaction of voter registration boards.

LITTLE GIRL SHOWS MEN HOW TO HANDLE TOUGH TEXAS BULL

BARNSTABLE, Mass., March 22. (P)— A 13-year-old girl caused considerable blushing among full grown men yesterday when a belligerent Texas bull, accompanied by a cow and a calf, tied up traffic on Route 6 for a half hour.

The bull and his family strolled onto the heavily-travelled highway and refused to move despite the shouts and honkings by irate motorists.

Some drivers attempted to start a roundup, but they quickly returned to their automobiles when the bull began snorting and raising his hoof.

Cars were lined up a mile in each direction before Little Dolly Van Duzen, 13, came to the rescue.

She rode her horse up to the bull and dismounted. Waving her arms in the bull's face, she yelled "scat."

Hunger Is Called Major War Cause

DALLAS, March 24. (P)—One of the major causes of war would be gone if hunger and malnutrition could be abolished, Dr. Fritz Verzar of Switzerland said here.

Dr. Verzar is director of the foods and agriculture organization, a unit of the United Nations.

He told two college fraternities—Alpha Pi and Alpha Omega—yesterday his organization is trying to fight starvation and malnutrition all over the world.

He said Americans soon will be asked to give one day's income to the United Nations' international children's emergency fund. The fund provides food for 3,900,000 children in 11 countries.

STATE VIEWS Tidelands Policies Outlined By Giles

By PAUL BOLTON
Herald Austin Bureau
(Second of Three Stories—Ed.)
AUSTIN, March 24.—Since the question was raised as to whether state or federal governments would handle publicly owned lands to the greatest advantage — in terms of income to the taxpayer — several questions were put to Land Commissioner Bascom Giles.

Giles outlined state policy, and it was compared with proposed Federal policy.

On unexplored state lands, a minimum of 12½ per cent royalty is fixed, with bidding on a cash basis. Data is not available in Austin on past policy of the Department of the Interior.

Giles said he was not able to obtain it. But data is available on what is proposed in the bill now pending before Congress for Federal leasing of tidelands. This bill proposes exactly the same method: a minimum royalty of 12½ per cent, with bidding on a cash basis. The state policy was followed in the big November sale of tidelands (leases) calls for a flat per acre rental of $1 per acre. The Federal bid provides a 25c per acre rental starting the fourth year of the five-year primary lease, and 50-cents per acre thereafter. In this comparison, the edge would seem to be to the state.

It has been argued that the federal policy would make it possible for more people to participate in the production, because of limitations upon lease size.

The Federal bill provides for an overall leasing limitation of 128,000 acres to any one company, which may retain not more than 30,270 producing acres of leases.

The state policy does not put a top on the number of acres any single company may lease. However, it does put a smaller limitation on the size of the original lease — 1,440 is the maximum

Arnett Reports Total Of 1,613 Are Baptized

The 95 churches within Baptist district No. 8 reported a total of 1,613 baptisms during the past year, the Rev. W. J. Arnett, district missionary, told the annual district convention Monday afternoon at the First Baptist church.

yet he said that the district "has not reached the saturation point."

Accordingly, he outlined an ambitious six-point program of advancement to include stewardship, evangelism, missions, strengthening of agencies within the church, assisting rural churches in a program of re-investigation, and to promote use of the Baptist Standard, state denominational paper.

Gifts through the co-operative program (the state convention agency for missions, benevolences, minority work, rural church aid, etc.) amounted to $84,132.25 or $4.68 per resident member. The Rev. Arnett felt that although the total sounded well, it was actually too small when considered on the basis of individual responsibility.

Simultaneous revivals last April resulted in 1,130 additions to the 58 participating churches, and of the number, 641 were by baptism. Membership of the district last year was 25,574, of which 18,747 were resident members. The Sunday school enrollment closely paralleled this with 18,116, but attendance averaged roughly half or 8,193. The picture was much the same for the training union with 5,749 enrolled and 2,734 attending.

During the year the district missionary made 199 sermons and addresses and traveled 32,000 miles in making contacts with churches, pastors, associational, district and state functions.

Field Extends PM Publishing Life

NEW YORK, March 24. (P)—Marshall Field III will continue publishing the newspaper PM until April 9, two weeks beyond the scheduled March 26 closing date.

Field had announced on March 12 that he would either sell the eight-year-old tabloid or cease publication next Friday.

Announcement of the extension of PM's life was made in a joint statement issued by Louis Weiss, secretary of the newspaper, Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice-president of the CIO New York Newspaper Guild, and Nathan Aleskovsky, PM guild unit chairman.

The new deadline was requested by Field and accepted by the guild. The publisher, Weiss said, is considering the proposals of "several serious potential buyers."

Martin Contributes To Scout Fund Drive

STANTON, March 22.—Three Martin county communities have subscribed $2,200 for the Buffalo Trail Council Scout Ranch campaign, officials announced Saturday morning after results of a Friday night report meeting were tabulated.

What has a railroad got to do with Easter Eggs?...

Who would think that the railroads have anything to do with those gaily colored candy eggs that delight the hearts of little children at Easter time? But they do—because whether it is candy Easter eggs or tractors, toothpaste or motor oil, the railroads bring them from the manufacturing plants of the nation—to you.

And, the railroads provide good jobs for thousands of people—people who spend their salaries in their home towns, thus contributing to the prosperity of their individual communities.

Yes, the railroads are more than a system of transportation. They are a vital part of your life and well-being.

Yes, the railroads DO make a valuable contribution to your day-to-day living.

And, too, they help to protect your safety and welfare. How? The millions of dollars the railroads pay each year in federal, state and local taxes help maintain schools, police, fire and sanitation protection for you and your family.

The Texas and Pacific Railway, as a service and tax-paying "citizen" of Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico takes an active interest in these three great states.

It is proud of its share in helping bring better living and greater prosperity to the towns and cities it serves.
