A Statement Regarding The Lubbock County Beer Election

In order to make the stand of the Slaton Slatonite clear regarding the beer election, that is coming, the publisher wishes to state that the columns of this paper are open to any one who wishes to write or advertise on either side of the question. As stated before the editor has no intentions of endeavoring to impose his opinion on other people regarding any public question that is controversial enough to require an election.

We believe by opening our columns to anyone who wishes to express opinions, pro or con will bring out the points in question so that each one who wishes to read them may have the facts and the arguments that are being promulgated and judge for themselves.

It is a self evident fact that one of the greatest advantages of our Democratic form of Government is our right to vote and if the United States Government considers the prohibition question one that the people have the right to decide by vote then the Slaton Slatonite is not going to endeavor to do anything more than to state the facts, which is the purpose of a newspaper.

So if you as an individual or as a member of an organization feel that you wish to use our columns you may do so, so long as your copy does not reach more than 750 words.

Fair Delegation Coming Sep. 24

A large group of businessmen, accompanied by good speakers and entertainers, will bring the latest available information about the 29th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair to Slaton at 7:35 o'clock, Tuesday morning, Sep. 24. They will give a short program at the school giving the highlights of the first renewal of the "Show Window of the South Plains" since 1941.

Their stay, a yearly pre-Fair feature, also includes a brief period for visiting and renewing old acquaintances on the downtown streets.

The delegation will travel by chartered bus and will have all the latest available information on what will be doing at this year's Fair. Judging by the interest shown by South Plains residents the past two weeks, Fair officials said they expected attendance and exhibits to be greater than ever before in the history of the event. Ter White swine, considerable increases in premiums have been made. Total premiums to be awarded to exhibitors amount to nearly $7000 with extra prize money being awarded participants in the rodeo and midget auto races.

The two tours for the week beginning Sep. 22 include stops at Slaton, Southland, Post, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Seminole, Seagraves, Brownfield, Meadow, Anton, Ropesville, Shallowater, Littlefield, Amherst, Sudan, Muleshoe, Farwell, Clovis and Portales. Two more trips will be made the following week.

ACTIVITIES OF LOCAL GUARD UNIT ARE MANY

The Mexican platoon of Company C, 39th Battalion, Slaton Unit of the Texas State Guard acted as color guard in the parade staged by the local Mexicans in celebration of their Independence Day. They were also deputized as special officers for this two-day celebration. It is greatly to the credit of the Mexicans that this celebration with three nights of dancing, that not a single arrest was made.

Another activity of the local guard unit is the handling of all the football games in Slaton and Lubbock by the members. All members of the unit and their families have been furnished free passes to these football games, including those at Tech. The best section of the grandstand has been reserved for the Tech games for these members.

The Slaton unit now has a full company, but are still taking men into the company and carrying them as supernumeraries. These get the same credit and have the same advantages as regular members, according to the Commanding officer, Capt. Jay W. Moore.

What Lubbock Co. Citizens Want?

By LUTHER KIRK

In a recent issue of our local paper as well as in a recent issue of our daily paper I noticed that a petition had been signed by a large number of people who live in this county requesting a beer vote for the county. I must say that I am not surprised at this request. No one can observe the trend of the present day, with our present day society and its practices and be surprised at anything that is done by a certain social set in this day and age. This type of society spends little time burying the dead, trying to mend broken hearts, broken families, and broken homes. This bunch spends little time in building for high morals and decent religious living. Theirs is for the destruction of all that the church and christian workers try to establish and maintain. Theirs is to make our town and communities a place in which to entertain and make rich, home breakers, orphan makers, character destroyers. To bring into our midst to associate with our children, those who make their living by taking bread from hungry mouths. When we observe this element of society we are not surprised at the recent move made for a means to quench their thirst.

Some have tried to make it appear that this is the wish of a majority of our veterans. I am one that will have to be shown. I do not believe that our veterans as a whole, want to bring this curse on their community. The man who fought for his country and home that it might be saved could not honestly desire it nor his neighbors destroyed or even sinned against by this enemy to man, home or God. I believe that we have some of as fine citizens who are veterans, as we have who were in civilian life. Yes many of our finer citizens today are veterans. I know that the "brewers" boast that they are confident of the veteran's support, but I maintain that they have got to show me.

Some months ago according to "The Voice" nearly 4,000 daily and weekly newspapers carried advertisement similar to the following: "One must consider the important influence of the veteran of this war will have upon the molding of public opinion when the war is over and they return... I am confident that we can depend upon the approval and good will of a large percentage of those who served in the armed forces of our country in this war. They have had an opportunity as the result of the sale of beer in the post exchanges of the army camps to see what a contribution beer has made to the morale of the service men... Can we doubt that we shall start the post war period with good relations with this large and important element of the American public?"—James R. Nicholson; Brewer's Journal, Dec. 15, 1944.

I am sure there will be a percent but I do not believe that that percent will be large compared to the number of veterans that we have. I have confidence in our veterans who fought to preserve home and Christian ideals. I resent the insinuations of the beer and liquor crowd.

"How is your sugar supply? In January, 1946, a total of 17,918,687 lbs. of sugar and syrup were used to make beer in the United States. That was 747,610 pounds over January, 1945. Your allowance is 5 pounds of sugar for four months! Full beer barrels mean empty sugar bowls." — Quincy Council for Alcohol Education.

Dear friends I believe that I live in that section of our "Beautiful Texas" that will not be defiled with beer joints and taverns. I have confidence in the better society of my community than to believe that we will allow the beer gang to dominate. As a friend to Christian society I call on every God loving and God fearing citizen to help save our community and county from the ravages of this terrible evil. I know that the better citizens of this county want our county to remain in the dry column.

Mexicans Observe Independence Day With Two-Day Celebration

The Latin American citizens of Slaton staged a very colorful and interesting parade Monday at 3:30 p. m., which was a part of their two-day celebration of Mexican Independence Day. The gala festivities ended Monday night with the crowning of the two queens at the out-door pavilion at 8 p. m. The queen representing Mexico, Eduvina Perales, was crowned by the president of the festivities, Sixto Perez. The queen representing North America, Eusebia Cisneros, was crowned by Mayor Wooton.

The noted Mexican hat dance, the Jaraba, was danced by a small Mexican couple. Three little boys dressed in charro costumes sang Mexican folk songs, especially "Me He De Comer Ea." Several patriotic speeches were given by prominent Mexicans. Dancing was participated in by all those present until an early hour Tuesday. Two orchestras furnished the music for dancing.

The parade was the second to be held in Slaton since the rodeo in 1941. A number of United States Army trucks and jeeps helped to carry out a patriotic theme. The Mexican platoon of the Slaton Unit of the Texas State Guard acted as color guard under the direction of Captain Jay W. Moore, commanding officer of the local unit. A group of lovely Mexican girls in flowing white dresses added an artistic note to the parade. There were also a group of small Mexican boys dressed in colorful charro costumes. On float consisted of a group of musicians playing typical Latin American music. Many gaily decorated cars and trucks also formed a part of the parade. Much credit is due Senora E. R. Lopez for leadership in this enterprise.

The two-day festivities were attended by an estimated crowd of 1,500 persons representing Mexican as well as North American citizens from many surrounding towns. Hidalgo, the George Washington of Mexico, liberated Mexico from the Spaniards in 1810. The Mexicans celebrate September 16 as Independence Day in a traditional manner passed down from their forefathers.

The local Mexican citizens are to be commended for their enterprising spirit and civic pride not only in this celebration which has successfully passed into history, but also for other recent similar activities. They have also promoted and attended a number of ball games during the summer months which have attracted a lot of out-of-town visitors to Slaton. They have made many substantial improvements in their homes, and have constructed an out-door pavilion for recreation and public entertainment.

WHAT THEY WRITE

Carlsbad, New Mex.
Sept. 16, 1946

Mr. A. M. Jackson
Slaton Slatonite
Slaton, Texas
Dear Mr. Jackson,

Mother has just sent me a clipping from last weeks Slatonite regarding aircraft landing on the streets of Slaton. These two incidents truly brings home the fact that Slaton really needs an airport.

Private aircraft is fast becoming the mode of transportation, whether it be a hundred miles or a thousand. With the surplus Army Aircraft already in civilian use and many more thousands to be released, it is even more necessary that every town, city, and village, regardless of size or location have an airport.

Slaton, being located as it is, is in the traffic route through the Southwest. Many will say that Lubbock will adequately supply the surrounding territory, but just bear in mind the past week and what it brought. Believe me Mr. Jackson, it is not fun to set a ship down in a strange street of some town at ninety miles an hour and never know how, when or where you will get out.

With the GI Bill of Rights in force and many veterans taking advantage of the flight training it gives would make a profitable enterprise either for Slaton or an individual. Any aircraft organization would put forth no end of effort and financial aid to put an aircraft at Slaton in order to have an agency there. But regardless of the cost, if an airfield at Slaton would save one life, which no doubt it would in time, then all the time, effort, and money expended would be more than justified. If Slaton is to grow and prosper as it will, then let her people keep up too. An airfield is just one step in that direction.

Just thought I would pass these few remarks on to you for what they are worth. If you think the measure justified, I would be more than happy to help in any way possible.

Very truly yours,
Joe S. Turner

ROUNDUP

THE CANYON NEWS reports that the response from property owners with respect to paving has been light, as only a small percent of the owners have paid their assessments.

The State Highway Department will top some of the streets in Canyon as part of the farm-to-market road paving program. Caliche base is also being run in Precinct 4 as a part of this program.

Temporary quarters for the new National Guard unit will be at the American Legion Hall. The Commissioners Court and the City Commission joined in buying 20 acres of land for the new site of the National Guard Armory which the federal government will build in Canyon.

The city of Canyon and the Commissioners Court of Randall County joined in the purchase of a site for a city-county airport which will be built in the future. The site is within easy walking distance of a cafe, bus station, and is on a paved street.

THE GAINES COUNTY NEWS reports that voters of that county will go the polls October 5 to cast ballots for or against the sale of beer.

THE TRIBUNE of Lorenzo reminds Lorenzo and Idalou that both towns should get busy and build labor camps for the accommodation of cotton pullers as the laborers are coming in and have no place to go.

More than $30,000 worth of maize was marketed in Lorenzo during the week preceding the publication of the paper.

According to THE CROSBYTON REVIEW the city of Crosbyton received approval this week on the purchase of three buildings at the Hereford Prisoner of War camp.

Men, women, boys, and girls are invited to a five-day Recreation Institute to be held September 23-27 at Plainview. Thirteen west Texas counties are to be represented.

THE HOCKLEY COUNTY HERALD urges that Hockley County communities go "all out" for the October 5 annual crop and livestock show. Many amusement attractions are in store for visitors.

THE LYNN COUNTY NEWS announces that Lynn County's vocational schools for veterans will open October 1. To date, about 50 returned veterans are certified to begin school.

THE SCURRY COUNTY TIMES states the Scurry County vocational school opened last week with a class of 19 veterans enrolled.

GET READY FOR FALL HOUSING
Now is the time to prepare for what some poultrymen consider a tedious task - fall housing.
Your chickens are going into their winter home. After a summer of freedom on the range, they will spend the next several months crowded closely together in the poultry house. Under these conditions, the state of their health and the rate of their winter egg production is going to depend a lot on what you have done to protect their health and provide them with comfortable quarters.

FALL HOUSE CLEANING
To help insure good winter
livability spend some time cleaning and repairing the poultry house before the flock is put into it. Make sure it's sanitary by removing or destroying all of the old litter, scraping dirt and droppings
from the floor, and then scrubbing thoroughly with hot water and strong soap. Give the equipment - nests, feeders, waterers - the same treatment. Then disinfect the entire interior - equipment and all - with a reliable disinfectant.

Next examine the building
closely - every square foot of the interior - for cracks or openings that might permit drafts to enter. These must be plugged. And if it hasn't already been done, why not see to it that the walls and ceilings are insulated, if possible.
A well insulated house will keep your birds warmer and will eliminate the danger of sudden temperature changes.
In most poultry houses it is not difficult to add an inner wall and stuff insulating material between this and the outer wall.

Check over the ventilation facilities, too. While drafts must be avoided, the chickens
do need fresh air and a good ventilation system will provide it without causing extreme drops in the temperature.

PROTECT BIRDS' HEALTH
While you are corralling your chickens for housing, it is a good idea to separate the culls
from the healthy birds. Eliminating them will lesson crowding besides removing non-producers that will consume valuable feed. Look over each bird for lice, too and use a good louse powder when birds are heavily infested. Some poultrymen give each chicken a good individual worming treatment at this time, and find that it pays dividends later on during the season of high egg prices.

Rodeo And Next Governor To Visit

Buck Steiner's Rodeo will be the main attraction of the evening, October 8-12, at the 29th Annual Panhandle South Plains Fair, according to officials of the Fair Association. Opening night, October 7, will be devoted to a veterans
"Welcome Home" day program.

Beauford H. Jester, governor-elect of the State of Texas, will be principal speaker at the "Welcome Home" day celebration for veterans of World War II on Monday, October 7, the opening night of the 29th Annual Panhandle South Plains Fair, it was disclosed today by Homer D. Grant, president of the Fair Association.

Stiener, owner of the largest handmade saddle shop in Texas and of three ranches, has guaranteed "the cleanest, fastest, wildest and most spectacular rodeo ever produced." His stock, most of which will come to Lubbock direct from a rodeo in New Orleans
where Steiner is furnishing over 200 head, is second to none.

Bob Steiner and his son, Buck,
jr., are active professional cowboys. Steiner started riding bucking horses and bulls at the age of twelve. Buck, jr., rode calves and shetland ponies from the time he could walk, and has been a winner
many times in rodeo events in recent years.

Among the famous bucking horses which are throughout the United States and which will be ridden by top cowboys are "War
Paint," "San Wah Keen," "Hard
Tack," "Frisco Kid," "Calico Dot,"
"Slingshot Sam," and many others.
These are among the wildest, toughest broncs in the country. The old Harry Knight string of bucking horses belong to Steiner as do thirty head of Cuff Burrell bucking horses from California. Harry Knight was one of the original owners of the Madison Square Garden Rodeo Corporation. Cuff Burrell runs a ranch in California and is one of the top bucking horse owners in the United States.

WOMEN IN THEIR '40's

Were Never Meant To Suffer Like This!

Here's a tip for women troubled by Nervous Tension,
Irritability and
Weak, Tired, Cranky
Feelings - due to
'middle-age'

If the functional "middle-age"
period peculiar to women makes you suffer from hot flashes, touchy, high-strung, weak, nervous feelings, try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms.
Taken regularly - this great medi-

THIS WEEK'S LESSON

"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 22.

The Golden Text is: "Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the God of Jacob" (Psalms 114:7).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble" (Psalms 46:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "He uttered His voice, the earth melted."
This scripture indicates that all matter will disappear before the supremacy of Spirit" (page

THE tons-heavy stalactite—the giant "icicle" of stone—is Conoco scientists bring to America's motorists the benefits of

By molecular attraction, a special ingredient of Conoco Nth

molecular attraction holds Conoco OIL-PLATING up where it

MUTUAL RELIANCE

BETWEEN DOCTOR AND DRUGGIST

Your Doctor and Pharmacist are members of two of the oldest and most mutually dependent professions. They are both required by law, and rigid principles within their own organizations, to spend many years of preparation before receiving their degrees of "M. D." (Doctor of Medicine) and "R. Ph." (Registered Pharmacist). All 48 states require standards of qualification before licensing Doctors and Pharmacists to practice. Like the Doctor, the Pharmacist has his definite responsibilities to the community.

Both Doctor and Pharmacist must understand the preparation and preservation of drugs, and be well qualified in prescribing and dispensing important and often dangerous drugs. Their mutual reliance is founded on realization of responsibility to each patient. Hand in hand with Medical profession, Pharmacy has helped in the development of new, life-giving drugs. Truly, throughout life, your Doctor and Pharmacist are important to the well-being of your loved ones. Keep the hands of politicians off these two guardians of your health.

The local Insurance Agents have received notice from the State Fire Insurance Commissioner, Austin, Texas, effective September 1st, 1946, all new and renewed policies covering the perils of Extended Coverage, Winstorm, Hurricane and Hail, Explosion, Riot and Civil Commotion, Vandalism and Malicious Mischief and Aircraft and Motor Vehicle Property Damage Insurance, must carry the $100.00 Deductible Clause on all policies covering on buildings and structures, except Farm Property for which a new $50.00 Deductible Clause shall be used. These deductions do NOT apply to Household Goods or stocks of Merchandise.

The Deductibles are applicable to the entire State and may not be omitted by the payment of an additional premium.

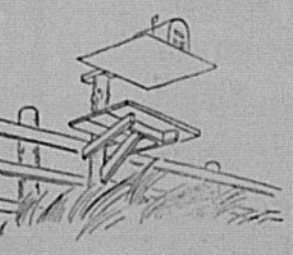

The State Fire Insurance Commissioner states that it was necessary to use the Deductible Clause in order to retain the present low rate on these coverages, otherwise they would have to be raised to where it would be prohibitive.

Please bear in mind that all policies written on and after September 1st 1946, must have the deductible clause attached on building and structures, but NOT on household goods or Merchantile Stocks.

Handy Mail Box Shelf
 SURPRISINGLY few mail boxes are provided with shelves for parcel post packages, yet we get ruffled when a package gets soaked and muddy during bad weather because the carrier must place it on the ground.

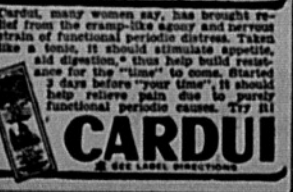

An easy way to provide a shelf on a one-mail box post is shown here. Spike a short 2x4 on each side of the post at about a 45-degree angle 18 inches below the mail box arm. Brace the two arms as shown and place a board or a piece of 1/4-inch mesh hardware cloth across them. To provide more weather protection, nail a board or a piece of galvanized iron under the mail box arm directly above the shelf. In addition to protecting packages, such a shelf will be handy for the carrier.

If one post is to support two mail boxes, the boxes can be set at the end of 4-foot arms, properly braced, and a shelf provided by placing a board or hardware cloth across the arms. Use of hardware cloth helps to eliminate coating with ice or sleet.

JUST TALK
by
A.M.J.

From the Crosbyton Review we clipped the following newspaper man's lament, a plaintive melody that is sung to the tune of Swartzes Wedding March.

Recently we've found it necessary to brush up on the technique of reporting weddings. Somehow in our journalistic training we always avoided this study, much to our sorrow now. It's fairly simple to present the facts and to make it sound legal. But no, what does convention say we must do? Why we've practically got to dress the bride. We've got to tell everything! We must describe in detail not only the gleam in her eyes but also the color of grandma's petticoat. And why must they select flowers and clothing with such unpronounceable names? We can't even find some of the words in the dictionary. For all we know they might not even be nice.

But the really shameful aspect of these write-ups is our treatment of the bridegroom. Honestly, we always feel like apologizing to the groom, because he's bound to think we don't like him. Sometimes we casually remark that he was present at the ceremony, and we may even take time out from describing the bride's going away costume to mention that he is accompanying her on the honeymoon. It just isn't right, and we think something should be done about it. Why shouldn't we run his picture in the paper? Why shouldn't we also describe his clothing? For instance we might say, "The bridegroom, blushing handsomely was attractively attired in a three piece ensemble of brown woolen material consisting of a coat, a vest and pants. The coat vest was sleeveless, closed in front, gracefully fashioned with pockets. It was held together in the back with a strap and buckle. His pants were neatly pressed for the occasion and he wore them with an air as if he little suspected it would be the last time he wore the pants in that family. Hose and necktie added just the right dash of color to complement the affect. The shoes were genuine leather, laced with a string of the same material giving a chic appearance. The shirt was of white broadcloth and was borrowed from the best man who purchased it on the black market in Dallas. It had an 8-button front, one back, two sleeves, two cuffs and one collar. The shirt was worn with the tail neatly tucked in the pants."

Out in a western town a number of lions had broken out of a circus and were headed for the open prairie. A posse was organized to hunt them down, and the leader suggested that before the chase began it might be well for the mn to stop in a saloon and have a drink. This suited all the members except the town ne'er-do-well, Jason.

"Whiskey for all!" the leader yelled when the men had lined up before the bar.

"Not for me," objected Jason, "Just gimme a jigger of ginger ale."

"You'll take whiskey!" shouted the leader. "It'll give you courage."

"Heck!" rejoined Jason. "That's jest what I'm afeared of."

The maid was sobbing as if her heart would break, and the mistress, coming in upon her tears, asked what wa the matter.

"My husband bane get put in jail," wailed Hilda.

"In jail? Oh, isn't that too bad. But there's a cheerful side to everything. I understand they give prisoners splendid educations there nowadays."

"He bane got all the education he needs," answered Hilda through her tears. "He bane there 10 years before."

An officious and unpopular A.R.P. official was putting the stretcher-bearer party through its paces. He lay on the ground and said, "Now, remember, I'm completely smashed up. Every bone in my body is broken. Now let's see how you pick me up."

The stretcher-bearers picked him up efficiently, laid him on the stretcher and asked, "Well, was that satisfactory?"

"Yes, it was all right," snapped the officious one, "only you didn't have the look of regret in your eyes I expected."

Slaton should start now to plan a Christmas Celebration of some kind. How about an old fiddlers contest? How about crowning some young lady as "Mary Christmas," a musical program on the City Hall lawn a couple of Saturday afternoons before Christmas. Now is the time to start planning and preparing a program, one in which the folks who perform will do a creditable job.

One of the best trained and best small town programs I have ever seen or heard was one the Post Lions Club gave when the Slaton Lions Club was given its charter. The woman, a Post instructor, who took a great deal of interest in young folks, trained the young ladies and they were really good.

Another local talent playlet that seemed mighty good to me was the one that Mrs. L. A. Harral directed in which only women took part. Of course it demonstrated how terribly the men treat their wives but they did a mighty good job and demonstrated that it pays to take time and do a job of that kind right. What I am trying to say is that Slaton should start now to have a good Christmas program and if local people are going to take part, there is nothing as embarrassing to actors or audience as a messed up show of any kind.

Charlie Whalen and his wife raised some mighty pretty dahlias this year, the kind that almost made me go home and dig up our roses, especially the ones that were close to the peach tree and got covered up by the tree branches. Mr. and Mrs. Whalen have some of the prettiest flowers in Slaton and my wife smiles sweetly when folks come in and say, "my what pretty dahlias." She always explains that they were given her by Mr. and Mrs. Whalen but in a way that infers that she had something to do with it.

For some time I have been weeping crocodile tears about the underpaid school teachers although down deep in my heart I have always envied them the nice long three months vacation they get in the summer time. For some of them my sadness over their pay has been wasted for it seems that a good many are not doing so badly after all.

A check up shows that many of the men are getting from $3000 per year up for 9 months work which is better than a great many folks who have spent considerable money on their education are making.

Superintendent Kavanaugh says that men teachers no longer make application to Superintendents, the Superintendents make applications to the teachers.

Not long ago Professor Kavanaugh went to Abilene to apply for the services of a man teacher.

The teacher's mother was at home and was receiving applications for her sons service. She had a long list of the names of the Superintendents over the state who had made application, and a blank form that had to be filled out regarding living conditions, salary, working hours etc. Kavanaugh was the sixth that had applied that day.

The instructor was playing golf, his mother told our Superintendent that he would be notified if his application was worth considering. Glancing down at the blanks that several had offered as much as $1,000.00 more per year than he was authorized to give and so Slaton will have to struggle along without that particularly valuable teacher.

From now on I'm going to feel sorry for myself and if anybody gives me that sob story about the underpaid teachers I'm going to say Ho-ho, ho, hum.

"My man," she said, "can you tell me whether this is a female hippopotamus or a male hippopotamus?"

Then the worm turned. The keeper eyed the lady coldly. His tone was metallic.

"Madam," he said, "I don't see how that could interest anyone but a hippopotamus."

Howdy Folks: One of the in the barber shop said he had a half a mind to get married. Well, a half a mind is about all a man has when he gets married. Another boy said his girl was pestering him to death for a set of diamond earrings, but if she wasn't careful, she'd get a paste in the ear. She probably was the same girl who said she just loved men with blue eyes and green backs. Of course, many a man sees a wolf at the door because his wife saw a fox in a window. Some times a marriage changes an ideal into an ordeal. Our customers never change their minds about Mobilgas and Mobiloil though. That's why we sell it. ## POSEY ITEMS

The Quarterly Conference of the Methodist church meets Saturday morning, Sep. 21, at the school house. Rev. Lipscomb of Lubbock will speak. Everyone is invited and there will be a basket dinner. Mrs. J. M. Morrison sent the Sunday School a note for a pot plant which she received while she was in the hospital. Raymond Johnson of Wolfforth, was a Sunday School visitor, also Mrs. Hayes of Slaton. The C. E. Birdwell family spent Sunday at Levelland visiting relatives.

There was no singing Sunday night because of the meeting which Rev. Crimm was holding at Slaton. Mr. D. D. Connor now has his flower garden in full bloom. There are dahlias, hibiscus, zinnias, 4 o'clock and other flowers. He plans to enter some of the dahlias at the Lubbock Fair.

L. K. Hart has about recovered from burns which he received a month ago, while destroying an ant bed with gasoline. Harold M. Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison who lives about 2 miles north of Posey has been given an additional decoration. He is now in Japan.

The father of Lewis Droemer, who lived a few miles southwest of Posey, died Thursday night. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Posey Lutheran Church.

Preaching services are to be held Sunday, September 22, by W. R. Fleming, Methodist pastor. The Posey gin has turned out several bales. It will take from four to ten acres to make a bale of cotton this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Benton Patterson, plan to leave the community and move to their farm near Wolfforth. The special election concerning the sale of beer of October 5, will be in charge of M. P. Gentry, chairman and F. H. Stahl, assistant.

break out in a rash of letters. So far as I have noticed there hasn't been one "cheep."

I am wondering what has become of the radical (not to say rabid) opinions so freely expressed in days gone by. Can it be that everybody has decided that a cold bottle or two would be soothing for

Dear Editor:

When you offered space in the columns of the Slatonite, some weeks ago, for people to express their opinions on the beer election, I imagined the paper would

"atomic jitters" or that maybe a few more bottles would make them "forget it all." Considering the present state of affairs such decisions would be understandable.

I do not know how much of our shrinking from the thought of any sort of liquor being sold in our own "home town" may come from aversions that were planted in our minds during childhood and youth by lurid lectures, articles etc. on "The evil of drink." I do not know whether or not these feelings are justified by facts.

Anyone who reads in the Lubbock papers the many accounts of accidents and "license suspended for drunken driving," can readily see that, by whatever devious routes or inconvenience that is necessary, the drink or the drinker still get together in our "dry" area.

I grew up a few miles from a town that had "open saloons" but the youth of the country could not, and did not, patronize them. I imagine a dealer would have found himself in very hot water indeed, had he dared sell to a minor. It was years afterward, during the "noble experiment" that under-cover liquor selling got such a boost that we will never be rid of it, and that made it possible for anyone, of any age, to buy.

Mrs. Roosevelt's advice to young people a long time ago on "learning to drink" raised such a furor of condemnation that it still echoes down the years. Only recently a letter to her read: "Some time ago I heard that you encourage our young people to drink. This I don't believe. Will you tell me what you think about this subject?"

Mrs. Roosevelt replied: "This harks back, I am afraid, to a very ancient time. In the days of Prohibition, when young people were prone to think it smart to go out and drink bootleg liquor, I once said that I had been brought up in a very strict home, but that on my grandmother's table there stood, as a rule, two decanters of wine. This was the custom in many old-fashioned houses, and all young people learned to take wine in moderation, just as we were taught, when we were old enough to drink coffee, to drink it in moderation.

During the days of Prohibition I thought that this teaching might be a safeguard to some young people. I do not like anything which is done immoderately. Where people indulge in anything to excess, I think it is unattractive and unwise.

I would gladly see hard liquor done away with. Since that is unlikely to happen, I do believe that the individual has to make decisions for himself, and that it is rarely successful when moral decisions are made for individuals by law, except in the case of criminal offenses which injure society. I, therefore, would bend every effort if I were bringing up children today to teach them moderation in all things."

I thought her answer an epitome of common sense on the subject, a forthright facing of the facts as

Fixing Up the Farm by BURTON WILLIAMS

Range for Pullets

MANY farm flock owners are reducing the cost of raising strong, healthy pullets by putting them on clean range as early as possible so they can get the full benefits of good pasture and sunshine. This practice has increased the demand for portable range shelters which are light and easy to move and economical to build.

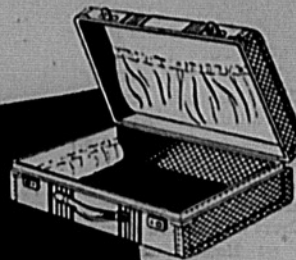

One type of inexpensive range shelter which is adapted particularly to farm flocks is shown in the illustration. The frame of this shelter is 6' 6" x 6' and is made of 1 1/2" x 2" lumber, with five 2" x 2" posts. The roof is made of two pieces of asbestos cement board, each of the standard 4' x 8' size.

The walls and floor are covered with poultry mesh and the floor should be of welded mesh wire. Sacks or canvas may be added to protect the young birds against storms. The wood frame should be painted but the asbestos cement board needs no preservative treatment.

Moving and storage can be simplified further if the structure is built with a hinged roof and front, rear, sidewall and roost sections to be fastened together with hooks and eyes.

IS YOUR CITY SAFE?

Since we have seen pictures of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, we haven't been sure. What would an atomic bomb do to New York or Chicago—or your own home town? Would this towering skyline collapse like a house of cards? The very question makes us so nervous that we are already talking about building our homes and factories in great caves.

But the atomic bomb is not the most dangerous threat to your city. "Except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain." No tree can stand long after its heart has rotted. No city is safe if its people forget God.

Is your city safe? How strong and faithful are its churches? How enduring are its marriages? How disciplined and trueworthy are its people? How free are its youth from delinquency?

Does that sound hopeless? It isn't. For long ago, concerning a city notorious for its evil, God said, "If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for its sake."

Are you one of the "fifty" who make your city safe?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.
