SLATON AUTO ACCIDENT VICTIMS IMPROVING

Last reports from the Lubbock Hospital where W. H. Jones, Superintendent of the Santa Fe Railroad, his son Robert Jones, T. J. Anderson, Master Mechanic of the Santa Fe and W. H. Bickle of San Angelo, are being treated after an automobile collision last Tuesday afternoon near Posey, were that all of the Slaton men are improved.

Mr. Bickle, 60, is considered to have been injured the most, having suffered a broken jaw and brain concussion. Robert Jones had wrist and leg bones broken and Mr. Jones and Mr. Anderson received cuts and lacerations.

The accident occurred when Mr. Bickle attempted to pass a truck at the curve near Posey and did not see the car coming toward Slaton until too late to avoid the collision.

Girl Scouts To Observe Scout Week March 9-15

Girl Scouts of America observe the 35th anniversary of the origin of scouting movement for girls during the week of March 9-15, for the Girl Scout movement was initiated March 12, 1912, in Savannah, Ga., Mrs. Juliette Lowe had brought back from England where it had received official recognition in 1910. They were first known as Girl Guides, but though this term had meaning in England, it lost its significance in America. However Scouts had been a very definite part of our pioneer history, and they first became known as Girl Scouts in 1913.

Today the total Girl Scout membership is 1,172,459. The World Association of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides was formed in 1928. Their slogan is this observance of their 35th anniversary is "Build a Better World."

Their contribution toward the building of a better world has taken the form of "Share the Food Plan" originated by the Girl Scouts in 1945. As a result of this plan food, clothes, blankets, and small gifts of essential items have been sent to many of the suffering countries of the world. The Girl Scout magazine for this month reports from Poland, the Netherlands, France, Finland, Greece, Hungary, and Italy of the immense joy these gifts have brought to the needy of those lands.

SEVERAL FROM SLATON ATTEND AREA SCOUT MEETING IN LUBBOCK

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Pember, Bill Layne, Delma Hodge, J. W. McCarver, and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hagerman represented Slaton at the banquet opening the annual Area Scout Council meeting in Lubbock Tuesday night. The meeting was held at the Hilton Hotel and 300 persons attended.

Mr. Hagerman was again elected as a member of the Executive board of the area council, which position he held for several years. The South Plains Area Council consists of 20 counties. In this area there were 4107 scouts at the close of 1946. The receipts for the year were $26,650 which is used for the expenses of the council.

The council felt that the improvement of Camp Post and Camp Mammie Haynes were of great importance to scouting in this area.

Slaton representatives say that there are enough boys interested in scouting in Slaton to form two or three more troops if some church or civic organization would accept the responsibility for the sponsorship of such troops.

Additional Hospital Facilities Needed For Tubercular Patients

Tuberculosis is still one of the dreaded diseases in the United States and much is yet to be done in the effective control of this disease. In 1945 2,923 persons died of tuberculosis in Texas, and of these 68 per cent died in their homes.

At the present time there are 4,000 individuals in Texas in urgent need of hospitalization because of active tuberculosis, and the state has fewer than 2,000 hospital beds for such patients. The recognized minimum standard for hospital care for tubercular patients is 2 1/2 beds for each annual death from this disease. In other words Texas needs more than 5,000 additional beds available now to adequately meet the needs for hospital care of tubercular patients.

In Texas where there is a serious shortage of hospital beds, the death rate from tuberculosis was 43.7 per cent per 100,000 population. By way of comparison in three states where there is no shortage the death rate is as follows: Wisconsin, 21.3 per 100,000; Minnesota, 25.1 per 100,000; and Michigan, 32.1 per 100,000.

The State of Texas now operates two tubercular sanatoriums, one at Carlsbad and one at Kerrville. These are totally inadequate to meet the hospital needs of the 5,000 new cases of tuberculosis reported to the State Health Department in 1946 alone.

There is now before the Texas Legislature a Senate Bill No. 142 and House Bill No. 311 providing for the establishment of two State supported district sanatoriums in east and south Texas where the incidence of this disease is greatest. The bill has the endorsement of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, the State Medical Association and the State Board of Health, and many other organizations interested in the adequate care and prevention of this disease. Enactment of this legislation would require an appropriation of $1,600,000, which is a small investment that will provide large dividends in lives saved, health restored, and general economic efficiency.

The local interest in tuberculosis has been focused on the small Mexican child suffering from miliary tuberculosis, for the medication of which local civic organizations have been trying to raise the necessary funds. The physicians in charge report that the child is responding nicely to the treatment and has shown some improvement to date.

OUR BOYS WITH THE COLORS

Pfc. George C. Brunson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Brunson, 850 South 12th Street, this week was graduated from one of the world's greatest educational programs—one of the Air Training Command's airplane mechanics training courses at Keesler Field, Miss.

The training he received in the mechanics school covered basic airplane and engine mechanic operations. The technical course extended over a period of approximately 16 weeks and included instruction in aircraft electrical systems, engine operations, fuel and oil systems, propellers, structures, instruments and basic inspection. This qualified him for additional specialized training in the maintenance of heavy bombers, cargo planes, jet and rotor aircraft.

Retail Merchants Assn. Elects New Directors

The Retail Merchants Association held its annual banquet Friday evening of last week at the Slaton Club House. New directors were elected at that time, and the canvass of election ballots resulted in the election of L. D. Carrington, Vern Johnson, M. H. Lasater, O. D. Kenney, and R. W. Cudd. The officers will be elected at the next meeting of the board, and will be announced at that time.

Other directors whose terms do not expire are J. W. Chenoweth, H. G. Sanders, J. T. Hendrick, and Howard Swanner.

Dr. D. D. Jackson of Texas Tech gave the main address of the evening. Musical numbers were given by Bill Sewell, Howard Hoffman, Miss Myrtle Teague, and Miss Wilda Ruth Hannah. Mrs. Webber Williams was accompanist.

Mrs. Lee Green, secretary, says that the Association is in better financial condition and that more interest is being shown in its work than since the beginning of the war. This is probably a good indication that business is becoming stabilized once more.

Red Cross Drive To Be Held In Month of March

The month of March has been designated as the month for the annual Red Cross Drive for funds. The Quota for the county is less than half of the amount set for 1946, according to an announcement by the county chairman.

The quota for Slaton has not been announced as yet, according to W. L. Pearson, local chairman. The local branch has not completed its organization for the drive, but detailed plans will be announced soon.

Half of the funds collected are retained by the local chapter and the remainder sent to national headquarters to aid disaster and relief work throughout the nation.

At a meeting last Monday night the Slaton Independent School District Trustees decided to hold an election March 15th to ask that the tax rate be increased from $1.00 per $100 valuation to $1.50 per $100 in order to meet the greatly increased demand of the Slaton Independent School District.

If the Slaton Independent Schools are to be operated at anywhere near modern standards more money must be raised and this is one of the methods the Trustees believe is the best.

In discussing the matter Mr. Roy Mack, President of the Slaton School Board, said the members of the board expressed themselves as follows:

"This is what you might call an emergency action, as it was not in the minds of the board at the time the revaluation program which is now in progress, was first started. However this will not in any way effect the need for a revaluation of taxable values and this part of our program will continue to a conclusion as previously planned.

Everyone is mindful of the move to raise our school teachers pay and the board is heartily in accord with this move. To raise our pay scale and to secure necessary equipment to improve our school system calls for added revenue. This situation must be met and it can only be met by a raise in rate or a raise in assessed valuations. Under the present set-up additional aid may be had in a financial way from the state fund (other than the regular per capita apportionment which all schools participate in) by those schools showing a need for further financial aid. To be eligible for this added "state aid" your assessed valuations must not be lowered—and an increase in tax rate is preferable to too large an increase in valuation.

It must be made clear to everyone that each school district must assume their part of the increased cost of operating their schools. And that an increase in school taxes is inevitable. But it is the thought of the school board that if this increase in rate is voted, and we are successful in qualifying for state aid, then our local taxes could be held at a lower level than if the school district has to pay all the increased cost with no additional help from the state.

None of the increase to be voted on, above the present $1.00 rate can be used for payment of bonds or interest on bonded indebtedness. It must be used for the maintenance (teachers salaries, supplies, etc.). And the board does not contemplate that the full 50 cent increase will be needed next year. Under the present rate of $1.00, 50c may be used for bond payments and interest and 50c for maintenance, and under the proposed rate of $1.50 the amount for bonds and interest on bonds remains the same 50c and the rest, up to $1.00 may be used for other purposes.

This proposed raise in rate does not mean that your taxes will be any higher than under the present rate of $1.00. Your taxes will be raised under either plan. But with a raise in rate and a smaller raise in valuation we have a better chance to get some additional funds from the state than we will have if we are forced by a vote of the people to continue with the $1.00 rate and put all the raise on your assessable valuation.

At present there is state aid to be received by small schools toward the payment of teachers salaries and operating expenses. This aid is figured on a rather complicated formula, but is based on the number of teachers employed in a school with pay at State approved rates, plus a certain figure for operating expenses. From this allowable expenditure is deducted an amount equal to .50 per hundred dollars of valuation in our district. It can readily be seen from this, that we would penalize ourselves to raise our valuations any higher than necessary, or than they should be, because it would reduce the amount of State aid, for which we would be eligible. We, of course, must have our valuations as high as they should be, but it is better to get additional revenue by increasing rates beyond the present figure, than by increasing valuations beyond a reasonable amount; because, when valuations are once made, they cannot be reduced in order to qualify for State aid."

Six Charged In City Court Over The Week-end

The local law enforcement officials had a comparatively quiet week-end, according to Ernest Ward, Chief of Police.

Six individuals were arraigned in City Court and fined for offenses committed over the week-end. Four were charged with gambling, and two were arrested for drunkenness.

CHICK CHATS

by Robert Huser of Huser's Hatchery
CHICKS ARE EASY PREY OF DISEASE

Respiratory and bowel disturbance get a big share of the blame for early death losses among baby chicks. Neither of these conditions causes widespread damage among older chickens, but in the brooder house they often cause severe harm to birds only a few days old.

Once a brood of baby chicks is attacked by trouble of this type, the poultryman may find that it is a difficult task to restore them to normal health. If the disease is severe enough this rarely can be done without sustaining the loss of a number of future egg producers. The best advice, then is to keep bowel and respiratory diseases out of the brooder house by following the right kind of chick management routine.

Clean the House
Before the chicks arrive, clean and disinfect the entire interior of the brooder house and every bit of the equipment that will be in use. See that the house is in good condition; make whatever repairs are necessary to eliminate drafts.

Practice wise and careful brooding methods. Avoid overcrowding. Keep the house warm enough to prevent chilling but not so hot that the chicks will be overheated. Do not allow them to eat coarse feed which is likely to cause bowel trouble. In this regard, bear in mind that baby chicks often eat litter until they have learned how to feed. To prevent this, spread newspapers over the litter for the first several days.

Keep the house and equipment clean at all times, and never allow wet litter to remain on the floor. Replace wet areas with dry litter. About once a week, depending on the conditions, disinfect the feeding and watering equipment. Be alert constantly to detect anything which might lead to trouble.

Handling An Outbreak
Should disease gain a foothold in spite of your precautions, remove dead birds immediately and put sick birds in separate enclosures. Double and redouble cleaning and disinfecting efforts. It may help to increase slightly the brooder stove temperatures, and it is also likely that feeds and treatments which will relieve constipation and furnish easy-to-digest nutrients will prove beneficial. Consult a feed or poultry remedy dealer on this problem.

"No"—claim medical authorities, who ought to know! Nature has so constructed and physically endowed woman that in many cases she's apt to suffer certain distressing symptoms during her life. For instance, when she enters womanhood—or during the menopause, the period when fertility ebbs away.

Now if on 'certain days' of the month—female functional monthly disturbances are causing you to suffer from pain, nervous distress and feel so tired, cranky, you snap at your children and husband—then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. It's famous for this purpose.

Made ESPECIALLY For Girls and Women

Pinkham's Compound DOES MORE than relieve such monthly pain. It also relieves accompanying nervous tension, irritability and weak, highstrung feelings—when due to this cause. Taken regularly throught the month—this great medicine helps build up resistance against such distress. A thing any sensible woman should want to do!

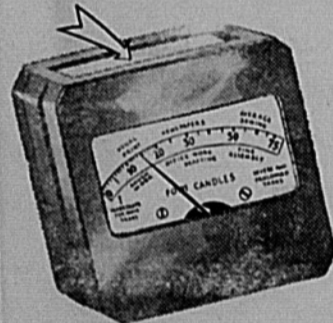

Lydia Pinkham's Compound is also very effective to relieve hot flashes and those funny, embarrassing feelings during the years 38 to 52—when due to the functional 'middle-age' period peculiar to women.

Pinkham's Compound is worth trying!

Have You Ever Seen A Gadget Like This?

It's a "LIGHT METER" to test Lighting in Your Home or Place of Business

The "camera bug" in the family may say it's an exposure meter, but that's wrong. It's another sort of meter, designed expressly to measure the amount of light received on any eye task in your home or place of business.

When our lighting specialist finishes his survey you'll know just how good or bad your lighting is. Is there enough light to read by in that easy chair? Should you sew by the light of those wall lamps? Do the children have enough light in their room? Is that bed lamp right for reading?

These questions will be answered at no cost and no obligation to you. Just fill in and mail the coupon, or call your nearest Public Service Company office.

WASHINGTON HIGHLIGHTS

By GEORGE MAHON

This is being airmailed from Washington on George Washington's birthday. There are eight inches of snow on the ground but the sky is clear and planes are scheduled to begin flying west again at noon today. Personally however, I do not care about airplane travel in this kind of weather. Yet despite crashes in recent weeks which have taken considerable toll of human life, we are told that commercial air travel was twice as safe in 1946 as in the previous year. Authorities point out that a passenger could fly around the world 38 times before, according to the law of averages, he would lose his life in a fatal accident. Few would desire to tempt fate that far.

Yesterday the House of Representatives celebrated Washington's Birthday by listening to Congressman Lodge, descendant of Henry Cabot Lodge, read Washington's Farewell Address and passing a bill to provide extension cooperation with Mexico in an effort to prevent the spread of the hoof and mouth disease to the herds of Texas and the Southwest.

Earlier in the week we passed a resolution proposing a cut of 6 billion dollars in government spending. Though I favor economy and feel that many reductions can be effected, I made an eleven-minute speech against the resolution on the ground that the Republicans were concealing the principal facts as to what cuts were contemplated and that drastic cuts in the armed forces would jeopardize our national security.

My principal job this week has been to attend daily hearings of the War Department Subcommittee on Appropriations. We are scheduled to meet almost daily for a month or six weeks in hearings and in preparation for submission of the bill to the House.

General Eisenhower, Army Chief of Staff, spent three hours with us on Wednesday explaining the reasons why he thought the army needed 6 billion dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1st. We hope some substantial reductions can safely be made, but it is early to say where we can cut. We are requested to provide for an army of slightly over one million men. In view of the general world situation and the fact that none of the peace treaties have been finally approved, I feel that an army of the strength requested is required. Secretary of State George Marshall will soon be sitting across the table from Generalissimo Stalin in

ANIMALS CHIEF MEANS OF SPREADING HOOF-AND-MOUTH DISEASE

The outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Mexico, with its resulting threat to the United States, has caused USDA officials to repeat the warning that this livestock plague is highly infectious and spread chiefly by animals.

The next most common carrier of infection is persons who visit infected premises, the officials say. A third source of danger comprises infected vehicles and products of various kinds, including garbage that contains fresh meat.

These conclusions are based on evidence obtained from October, 1914 to May, 1916, in the most widespread outbreak of the disease in this country.

During that major outbreak approximately 1,600 herds were thought to be infected by animals brought onto the premises from infected stockyards, stables, or pastures. In a few cases dogs and other small animals were identified as carriers. A total of 672 herds were infected by persons. Other known sources of infection that accounted for 411 of the remaining cases were infected stock cars, contaminated feed and drinking water, infected highways, and miscellaneous causes.

JUST TALK

A.M.J.

My wife, Mrs. Portwood and Miss Duncan, the three word detectives at the Slatonite have worn out two dictionaries in six months and they get into some of the hottest arguments and the folks who read the paper never know the difference, personally I sling the words together and let them fall where they may, the results are confusing, the meaning of little consequence and the profit zero.

A record was broken last week. E. R. Heinrich, who announced the opening of the Heinrich Bros. Butane Station here, changed the title of their establishment after instructing us to run the announcement as first decided upon and it was necessary for the Slatonite mechanical force to go to considerable trouble to make the change, just before press time.

To show his appreciation Mr. Heinrich brought the entire force candy bars—never in my 2,000,000 years experience as a newspaper man has such a thing occurred or for an advertiser to express any regret for having very expensive changes made in advertising—where the error, change of copy or omission was his fault, but let the mechanical department omit something and if you really want to hear a war whoop you should see an irate advertiser ! ! ! !

Mr. Heinrich let me bow low—courtesy,— take off my hat—and say we appreciate your appreciation of the fact that we could make the change for you.

Never having been on a farm over two weeks on a stretch in my life, I often wish that we could make the Slatonite more interesting than we do for the farmers. We get a mass of material from A. & M. College, from farm journals and from the Government, some of it I easily recognize as information that a farmer in this area might want to know, I say "might" because I feel sure a great deal of it is passed regularly and repeated time after time and I often choose such articles for publication. Lately I have been interrogating such men as Charley Austin, P. H. Appling, W. T. Davis, and I even once took a stab at E. E. Wilson, asking questions about farming operation and what should be done about them in this country and every time each man went into a tirade about listing, harrowing, two row equipment and so forth and when I asked a few, what seemed to me, important questions, they sniffed in a certain way and quit talking and I've decided I'm no farm writer and will have to let the farms go to, the dogs, or where ever the sand storms are blowing them.

A very beautiful bride of 28, who has just moved to Cleveland with her new husband, helped him chaperon a dance of young people the other night. The bride is a lovely dancer, who has always been sensationally popular at parties.

Possibly you can imagine her emotions when a young man who had just danced with her informed her condescendingly: "You must have been a whiz in your day!"

U. S. race prejudices baffle most Latinos. Usually they are surprised and shocked at Jim Crow laws.

During a recent South American trip, a well-traveled latino asked a gringa newspaperwoman in excellent English what sort of material was after. "Data on white collar workers," she explained.

The questioner looked startled then dismayed. "But we don't have that race problem here," he assured her.

A Texan heard that a factory was interested in buying bullfrog skins. So he wired the bullfrog company that he could supply any quantity of bullfrog skins up to 100,000 on demand.

Needing the skins badly, the factory wired him to send in the whole 100,000. About ten days later a single skin came through the mail with a rather pathetic letter:
 "Gents: I'm sorry about this, but here's all the frog skins there were. The noise sure fooled me."

Translators note: The two women were discussing the game of gin rummy.

"Bill and I played gin all last evening. I won $3.84."

"The most I've ever won in one evening from Tom is $48.96."

"My, that's a lot. You must play for high stakes. We just play for a quarter of a cent a point."
 "We play a cent a point."
 "That's too steep for us."
 "That's what I tell Tom. A cent a point can run into an awful lot of money."

Churchill and a companion were discussing the effects of environment on people.

"I wonder whether being born in a wealthy and socially prominent family, as you were, is a good thing," said the friend. "Seems to me it spoils a man—makes him critical and fussy."

"I don't know," smiled Churchill. "My tastes are very simple. I am easily pleased with the best of everything."

Clients were surprised when they telephoned a Houston funeral home and were greeted with a cowboy singing: "I'll be glad when you're dead, you rascal, you."

So were the funeral home attendants.

They picked up the telephone again and heard: "Put the blame on Mame, boys."

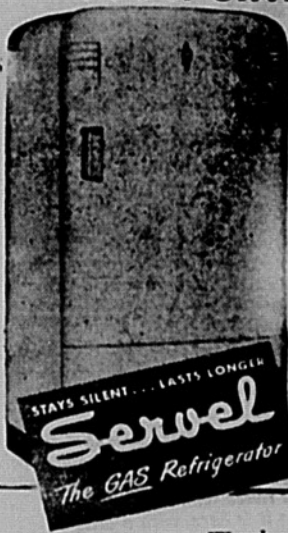

A check by telephone company workers revealed the funeral home line had been crossed with a cable carrying recorded music to a nearby juke joint.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this the 19 day of February A. D. 1947.

2,460 DEATHS CAUSED BY PNEUMONIA IN TEXAS DURING YEAR

According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, pneumonia caused approximately 2,460 deaths during the past year in Texas, a total which is entirely too high. This disease is most prevalent during the winter and spring months.

Pneumonia is caused by a germ caused the pneumococcus, which many of us have lurking in our throats ready to start trouble, when our resistance to it is lowered. We can keep up our resistance by avoiding undue fatigue and unnecessary exposure to extreme weather conditions. When we go outside in cold weather sufficient wraps should be worn to protect us. Keeping the temperature of our homes as low as is consistent with comfort will greatly lessen the difficulties encountered in adjusting ourselves to the cold when we leave the house.

Another method of prevention in pneumonia is not to neglect a cold, for the common cold often results in pneumonia when neglected. A person with a severe cold should stay at home, and call his physician for advice if temperature persists or the cold lingers on. He should follow his physician's advice until the cold has disappeared.

The successful treatment of a pneumonia case often depends upon starting treatment very early. That is why a physician should be called at once when pneumonia is suspected. A patient may really have beginning pneumonia when he thinks it is only a cold. If the physician's advice is sought, he will have an opportunity to start treatment early if pneumonia is present, or develops in such cases.

Bert Solves the Labor Problem

You hear a lot of labor nowadays, as if the two could never get together. But look at Bert Childers—who has 320 acres of producing land, a fair-sized herd of cattle, and two farm hands working for him.

If you called Bert a "capitalist" he wouldn't know what you meant, and neither would Spike and Sandy, the hired men. Bert works side by side with both of them; and in the evenings they sit around the fire together—sharing a friendly glass of beer or two.

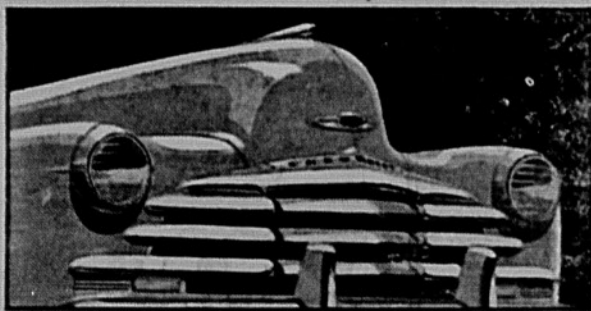

If anybody has a beef—whether it's about wages or hours or equipment—they talk it over at those friendly evening sessions.

I don't say all labor problems are as simple as Bert's. But from where I sit, the basic principle applies to any farm or factory or business: A principle of confidence and mutual respect, of daily talks together in a friendly and congenial atmosphere.

BALDRIDGE'S SALLY ANN Bread

THIS WEEK'S LESSON

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 2.

The Golden Text is: "Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, the mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace" (Isaiah 9:6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, 'Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world'" (John 1:29).

Lesson-Sermon also includes following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Christ is incorporeal, spiritual, — yea, the divine image and likeness, dispelling the illusions of the senses; the Way, the Truth, and the Life, healing the sick and casting out evils, destroying sin, disease, and death" (page 332).

Howdy Folks; After emerging safely from the "Gay Ninety" era, we wonder if it wouldn't be proper to classify the present period as the "frightened forties?"

They say that every thing goes in circles, and we seem to be creating bigger and better circles to go round in.

This is an age where we develop more machines to provide more people with more leisure in which to be more bored.

It's an old saying, but true, that when the time comes that we spend more for face powder than we do gun powder, then we can honestly say that we are making progress.

Right now, we can figure that we are making progress if we break even.

In a lighter vein, we know a woman who claims she's making progress learning to drive a car, because, as she says, the road turns when she does.

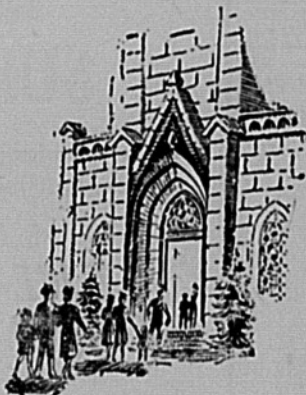

Well "there'll always be a United States," and we hope we'll be on the job for a long, long time to supply you with MOBILGAS and MOBIL OIL.

CLOSE-UP OF A NERVE ?

No. It's just a rope . . . at the breaking point. But, frankly, it's a good illustration of how a man feels when his nerves are "worn to a frazzle."

The Church has never claimed that religion is a cure for frazzled nerves. But a man's Christian faith does this for him:

It shows him a Purpose in life more important than mere existence. It shows him a Power more effective than his own strength. It shows him a Future more rewarding than selfish gain. And it gives him courage more lasting than the sheer force of his human will.

With these spiritual resources, founded in the certainty that God understands and helps, a man never reaches "the breaking point." For when his human reserve is exhausted . . . he has only begun to tap the vast reservoir of Divine Strength.

THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE CAN SHOW YOU THE WAY

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.
