Two More Petitions Filed For Places On Ballots Of April 1

Two more petitions for candidates for Commissioners were submitted to the City Secretary this week. They are for J. B. Huckabay, whose name is to be on the ballot for Commissioner for Ward 1 and W. T. Brown who is candidate to succeed himself as Commissioner of Ward 3, to date Mr. Huckabay has no opponent but Mr. Brown has one in Paul Brasfield.

Two candidates have come out for Mayor no great amount of campaign matter has been put out by either one. Mr. Brown has served as Commissioner for Ward 3 for two terms, Mr. Huckabay is candidate for the place that Ray Hickman is now holding but for which he is not seeking re-election. Due to the fact that fewer poll taxes were paid this year than usual light vote is expected and a hot contest may develop for the limited number of people who will be in position to elect our City officials.

OUR SCHOOLS NEED YOUR SUPPORT

Many signs point to a period of growth and development for Slaton and this area . . . but any one who has any hopes at all for the future must see and admit that the town cannot advance or even hold its present status without the expansion of many of our civic facilities . . . particularly our school buildings and increasing our expenditures on educational systems in many ways.

To do this will require more money from the tax payer and if you have a vote you will have to vote for more taxes on March 15th or Slaton will have one of the worst school systems in Texas before very long.

Scouting Activities Typify The 35th Anniversary Slogan "Build A Better World"

Girl Scouting in Slaton is less than one year old, but the Girl Scouts of America is celebrating its 35th anniversary March 12, and Girl Scouts everywhere are observing the week of March 9-15. Much credit is due the local Lions Club for its financial contribution and support of the Girl Scout movement in Slaton. It allotted a $400 budget to the organization work in this area, this amount having been Slaton's part of the area budget.

The week's activities will be initiated by the attendance at Church Sunday morning with girls attending their own Church in groups. The Girl Scouts will join with the Boy Scouts in presenting a program on "Health and Safety" at the P-TA meeting next week. The Girl Scouts will present programs at the Rotary and Lions clubs at their regular meetings next week. Individual parties will be held by various troops in observance of the anniversary date.

An especial stimulus to Girl Scouting activities and interest in Slaton was the visit of Miss Betty Jo Crisler, Area Field Director recently. She will return to Slaton on March 18 for a three-day of instruction, the hours for classes and the place of meeting will be announced later. This school will be open to all interested persons, and is designed as a training school for those interested in becoming leaders, assistant leaders,

If you have never met the Rankin family, you are in for a rare treat in the senior play.

Of course—Randall Haines wouldn't fall for one of those OZARK dames, Oh, no! He just steps right into an Ozark fued and a hillbilly wedding and is almost blown up by a moonshine still.

To see how he handles these problems, see the senior play, "His Ozark Cousin," on March 14 in the high school auditorium. The proceeds from the play will help pay for a cyclorama the seniors are leaving as their gift to the school.

SOIL TESTING NOW AVAILABLE AT A & M
A soil testing service, set up at Texas A. and M. College last July, is proving useful to Texas farmers
in determining what fertilizers and soil treatment their lands need.

Farmers who wish to have their soil analyzed send samples to the college, where the Agricultural Experiment Station's Division of Chemistry laboratory performs the chemical analysis. Reports on the tests are then turned over to the agricultural chemist of the Extension Service, who confers with Extension agronomists, horticulturists and other specialists to determine just what treatment need be given to the soil from which the sample was taken.

When the soil recommendations are completed they are sent, along with a copy of the analysis, to the farmer. Copies of these recommendations are also sent to the agricultural agent of the county, who checks the farmer's activities to see what results are being obtained

LOADING HEN IS LIABILITY
The loafing hen is a drain
on the poultryman's purse, and if she cannot be brought back into production, she should be removed from the flock.

Most poultrymen are hard put to find the real reason why some hens suddenly quit laying as winter draws on.
Often the hen's ancestry gets the blame, and indeed, heredity is all-important in determining how great an egg harvest
the poultry producer will reap.
There are plenty of hens, however, that fall off in production before their time, birds that would be able to continue laying if they were cared for properly.

They Take A Rest
Such instances are not uncommon in the winter laying house where hens, after long months of laying, go out of production as if to rest up after working overly hard. Frequently these birds will resume laying if they are given the right kind of care.

When the poultryman sets
out to regain good production, one of the first things he should do is to look for conditions within the laying house which may be causing discomfort among the layers. The house should be well ventilated without drafts, tight enough to afford protection against weather, and sufficiently warm. Chills, dampness or drafts frequently are responsible for laying slumps.

Food Requirements
One of the commonest causes of reduced production is the lack of certain food nutrients. Make sure the loafing birds get plenty of grains
which are high in fat content, such as corn. Perhaps the birds need more variation in their diet. Many poultrymen
find that warm, crumbly,
moist mash is especially helpful for lagging layers particularly during cold weather.

If the birds are badly out of condition, a conditioner consisting of stomachic drugs
may be added to the regular mash. Many producers who have tried this report good results.
Hens which fail to respond after a reasonable length of time should be removed for they are not paying for their keep.

DDT BEST FOR KILLING CODLING MOTHS
Experiments during 1946 by the U. S. Department of Agriculture have brought out recommendations on the use of DDT for various fruit insects, particularly the codling moth.
Paul Gregg, assistant entomologist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, reports that the research has shown DDT to be "highly effective" against the codling moth. Wettable DDT powder is the most common form in which the insecticide is applied for this purpose.
The one "catch" to the recommendation of DDT for the codling moth is that the material seems to have no ill effect on many orchard pests other than the codling moth. This situation, says Gregg, has caused entomologists to ponder the question, what other pests of previous small significance will become destructive in orchards

when DDT is substituted for lead arsenate and when DDT kills off beneficial parasites?

DDT has a good record in the control of several other fruit insects beside the codling moth, says Gregg. On grapeleafhoppers, a dust of 2 to 5 per cent DDT has proved effective. For tarnished plant bugs, promising results have been had with a spray consisting of 1 pound of DDT per 100 gallons of spray. The oriental fruit moth is controlled by one application each month before picking time. Effective control for the apple maggot is three or four applications of DDT at 10-day intervals, and pear thrips are killed by any one of several forms of DDT mixtures at the time the thrips appear on the trees in the spring.

EDISON BEGAN BUSINESS LIFE AS A RAILROAD ENGINEER, AND MUCH OF THE TIME THROUGHOUT HIS DISTINGUISHED CAREER WAS IDENTIFIED WITH RAILROADS.

STARTING AT THE AGE OF 12 AS CANDY BUTCHER AND NEWS BOY ON TRAINS BETWEEN PORT HURON AND DETROIT, HE SOON SET UP A PRINTING PRESS IN THE BAGGAGE CAR AND THERE PUBLISHED A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER.

AT 16, HE WAS A RAILROAD TELEGRAPHER AND PERFECTED A METHOD FOR SENDING MESSAGES BOTH WAYS OVER THE SAME WIRE.

HE INVENTED THE BATTERY CELL WHICH POWERED THE FIRST ELECTRIC SEMAPHORE SIGNAL EVER USED ON AN AMERICAN RAILROAD. AND HE WORKED TEN YEARS ON WHAT IS SOMETIMES CALLED HIS GREATEST INVENTION — A BATTERY DESIGNED ESPECIALLY FOR RAILROAD PURPOSES. Subject—WALKING WITH GOD

"He hath showed thee, O man, what is good, and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" Micah 6:8.

To walk with God, we must walk humbly. No one remaining proud and self-important has ever, or will ever, walk with God. Matt. 23:11; Proverbs 26:12. The proud walk in their own way. "There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death." Proverbs 14:12. "O Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps," Jeremiah 10:23.

To walk with God, we must be in agreement with God. "Can two walk together, except they be agreed?" We cannot say that we are walking with God unless we are living in agreement with His word. Is there anything unfair about that? Doesn't God, who made us, have the right to set the standard by which we must live? Isn't it as fair for one as it is for another, and won't it accommodate us all, if we will only submit to it? Is God to be charged with a bigot, or narrow-minded, or intolerant because he has given us his way—the one way? Each of us has a watch, let us say. Very likely our watches will vary in telling the time. Yet we have one standard: Central Time. If all our watches are at variance, one might be right, or all might be wrong, but it is evident that all could not be right. Is there anything unfair about having the standard? Could we not all correct our watches according to it, if we were so disposed? We have a standard of weights. You ask a clerk for five pounds of potatoes. He drops some in a sack and straightway hands them to you. You say "Please weigh them." He replies, "Honestly and sincerely, that's five pounds of potatoes in my opinion." Would you let it go at that. Hardly! You would reply, "I appreciate your opinion as such, but there's some scales; let's weigh these potatoes and be sure." Why can't we be as sensible when the "commodity" involved is the never-dying souls of men. We have the standard in the gospel of Christ. Let us weigh ourselves in the balance, and if we are found wanting, let us without delay supply the want.

Dogs Played an Important Part In Lincoln's Life, History Shows

To the long list of historical figures who were lovers of dogs, the name of Abraham Lincoln, martyr President, should be added, according to the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City.

Not only was Lincoln very fond and understanding of dogs and owned several during his life, but they in turn seemed to have loved and understood him, it states.

At Fort Wayne, Ind., in front of the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company building, is a huge bronze statue named "Abraham Lincoln—the Hoosier Youth," executed by Paul Manship, world-famed sculptor. This statue shows young Lincoln wearing a homespun shirt, buckskin trousers, and boots, his left hand caressing the head of a hound dog seated at his side. This striking memorial has been praised as the truest as well as the most beautiful, concept of Lincoln as a young man ever given this country. The inclusion of the dog in the statue was intended to symbolize Lincoln's great love for animals and the many occasions upon which he showed kindness toward them.

Lincoln's constant companion as a child was a large hound owned by his father, Thomas Lincoln. The dog went with the boy on fishing and hunting expeditions and on jaunts over the Kentucky hills and streams.

Once when playing in the woods young Abe and his boyhood chum, Austin Gollaher, found a dog with a broken leg. Abe made a splint for the injured leg, carried the dog to a nearby cave for shelter and brought food and water to it for several weeks. When the broken leg had healed Lincoln took the dog home and named it Honey. Abe's devotion to the dog was repaid, for Honey once brought aid to his owner when the boy had been trapped in a cave by falling boulders.

When Lincoln was 21 his family moved from Indiana to Macon County, Ill. During the long, tedious journey in March of 1830, the family was accompanied by a small dog. The dog trotted along under the big covered wagon pulled by eight oxen. On one occasion the dog fell behind the caravan and didn't catch up until after the wagon had crossed a large stream. The stream was high and thick with broken ice, and the dog stood on the bank whining and howling as he saw his family disappearing. Lincoln could not endure the dog's distress, and as it was impractical to ford the stream again with the wagon, he waded through the icy water, rescued the dog and carried him over.

On leaving his home in Springfield, Ill., for the White House Lincoln presented his dog Fritz to an old friend, John E. Roll. But in the White House another dog soon became a member of the President's family. Frequently when exhausted and worried Lincoln would seek relaxation by getting down and playing with the family dog. When the Lincoln cat had kittens and the Lincoln dog had puppies, both litters arriving on the same day, the President shared the excitement of his children to the extent of announcing the news of the births to senators and other officials calling on state matters.

"Yes, I served on the jury. They were holding a woman for shooting her husband. She was so good looking we couldn't convict her and we couldn't turn her loose on

 by
 A.M.J.

he insisted on me drinking some water. Of course I knew there must be some kind of hokus pokus about it, but hoping to get some business out of him I tried to drink some of the water. Sure enough the glass had little holes all around it about two inches from the top and the water ran down all over my coat and pants.

He had the time of his life out of it, I got sore and the paper got no advertising from that particular account and to this day I cannot think of that guy without being irritated.

It takes a man of iron courage extreme optimism, of almost unlimited wealth and a disregard for all consequences to start out to do anything beyond making a trip down to the Post Office.

If one should decide to build five or ten feet of fence or to make a little spring garden he would have to have all of the necessities to do the job or else he would be sunk in an abyss of dead end clues to try to find some nails, a few planks and a gallon of paint or if he does not have a hoe and a rake he might as well decide now that the corner of the back yard will fill up with weeds this year just like it did last summer.

Personally I have about given up hope of getting certain kinds of paper, you may expect from now on to get your letter heads on most anything from paper towels to butter paper. And when you come to think of it butter paper, adding machine paper and ledger sheets are getting harder to find than candy that does not have peanuts in it.

CUTIES .. By E. Simms Campbell

"Of all things! Can you imagine anyone so Mid-Victorian? She wears DRESSES to school!"

Doc Crow, who attended an automobile dealers meeting last week, says that he does not look for any great increase in automobile production for many months. The factory men say that while there is no all out strike on, in the automobile industry there is a slow down among all workers and there will be a continuous shortage of some parts of all makes of automobiles until the workers and the manufacturers get together or if they don't it will be like it is now, from now on.

And a lot of folks say that some of the new cars are not near as well built or as dependable as the cars were before the war. But just the same I'm getting that old feelin' and I certainly would like to be sitting behind the wheel of a large red number with all the fixings including a 1947 nose wiper, back scratcher and bug catcher.

Not long ago a man came into the office and wanted to know where he could find a tinner. My wife was sitting at her desk and I started in to tell the fellow how to get to Dan Liles tin shop.

At first I tried to explain to him how he could drive down Lynn Street from the Slatonite office, I jerked my thumb out of place, kicked over the waste paper basket and broke the buttons off my shirt trying to demonstrate to him how the street crossed ninth, ran into a three cornered wedge and slewed off to the left and that Dan's tin shop was at the three cornered intersection. My wife then took up the job, she pointed in the opposite directions that I had pointed, she knocked a bottle of ink off on the floor and nearly broke her glasses, then one or two from the composing room came in and we looked as if we were all darning some kind of Indian war dance, the poor fellow left and said he would go the Palace Theatre and work out from there as all of us for some reason had given it as not being over a block from Liles tin shop. Personally I'll be mighty glad when that paint arrives and the Junior Chamber of Commerce can paint those signs on the Slaton Streets.

What has become of the old time disease folks used to suffer, such as catarrh, neuralgia, apoplexy, and spring fever. In fact I have not seen anyone in many years who claims to have had the old time chills and fever like I enjoyed when I was a boy.

There used to be some stuff called Grove's Tasteless chill tonic. It was full of little hard pills of quinine and it was so bitter, one could swallow a glass full of vinegar after the chill tonic and never know whether it was vinegar or water.

In those days everybody suffered from catarrh and most of the women would enjoy a spell of neuralgia off and on, most all the men who died suddenly died from apoplexy. Spring fever was something that came along about the time the first pretty fishing weather arrived and we all suffered attacks from it until mid-winter.

To date I have received no compliments, no flowers, no encouragement at all for my faultless weather predictions and I have lost interest in checking on the feathers on Leonard Herral's hen, on the buds of our peach tree and the depth where the fishing worms have gone.

My experiments this week lead me to say that we will have a good snow by Monday or Tuesday, another sand storm by Thursday and some balmy weather by the end of the week.

Don't put your long handles in the cedar chest yet, you'll need them until May 1st.

Five of us were driving after work to a professional dinner club. I sat in front with the driver, who was public-relations man for a national manufacturer. His kindly, but stern, eyes were deep-set in a creased, ascetic face.

A signal stopped us, and we saw the too-tall, somehow unattractive girl waiting on the curb for a bus. She appeared unhappy, as if she knew that she was gangly and that her cheap clothes did little for her.

Just as the signal changed, the driver leaned across me to the open window and gave her a "wolf" whistle, waving and smiling at her.

As he drove on he must have been aware of our surprised silence. Finally he said: "Well, that was my good deed for the day."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

A Definition of Our Town

Somebody defined our town just the other day as "A place where the people talk about you behind your back, and come to wait on you when you're sick."

I've got to admit there's something to it. A lot of our folks are inclined to be pretty outspoken and quick to criticize... even about little things, like a woman's hat, or a man's preference for a glass of beer, or the color of Cy Hartman's new barn.

But when anyone's in trouble, those differences and points of criticism are forgotten... and folks become neighborly and helpful, like they really are.

From where I sit, criticism never did much harm to anybody, so long as folks don't let it guide their actions... so long as they respect our individual preferences, whether they apply to hats or beer. That's the way it is in our town, anyway, and I hope that it's the same in yours.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, & thus help build resistance for the "time" to come. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. TRY IT!

CARDUI

BEFORE An Emergency SELECT The Doctor

who can best serve your family

The American way is to choose a legally qualified Doctor of Medicine, acceptable in every way to one's self and family. A recent national survey showed that 79% of families interviewed had a family physician, on whom they called for all illnesses.

However, during these restless years, there are many families who have moved into new communities, and many new young families, who have neglected to make this important selection.

Then, in case of a sudden emergency, there may be difficulty in locating a physician who is not "swamped" or who is suitably qualified for the particular need.

If you do not have a family physician, why not follow the example of other thoughtful family men—when you get that physical check-up, investigate carefully the background, experience and practice of the physician selected. Then be frank and honest with him, follow his advice, and begin to build a bulwark of mutual confidence — against times of emergency.

WESTERN MARKET NEWS

AS OF MARCH 1ST Hogs reached all-time highs and grain went up sharply, as most other southwest farm products sold at steady to strong prices last week, according to Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

All grains made strong advances during the past week, except oats which remained fully steady. Friday's price on wheat was $2.55-60 per bushel, bulk, for No. 1 ordinary at Fort Worth and Galveston; corn reached $1.83-84 for No. 2 white, and $1.69-70 for No. 2 yellow; and sorghums $2.68-71 per hundred.

Some feeds were higher, as bran and shorts moved up around $3 per ton over a week earlier. Good quality alfalfa advanced $2 per ton above the last quotations. Peanut meal remained about steady at $65 per ton for 43 percent protein. Farmers stock peanuts resold at $210 to $215 per ton in the south-eastern states. Small quantities of rough rice moved to mills at ceiling prices.

Eggs held firm last week despite increased supplies. Most southwest points paid around 36 to 37 cent per dozen. Houston and Baton Rouge paid 40 cents. Fryers and broilers remained steady, but hens strengthened last week. Heavy hens were quoted 27 to 28 cents per pound at Dallas, and a few as high as 28 at Fort Worth.

Spectacular early-week advances carried hog prices to new all-time highs at practically all markets. Southwest trading tended to level off toward the close at net advances of $1.90 to $1.50 for the week. Highest price paid at San Antonio was $26; while at Fort Worth the record price was $28; and at Denver $30.25. Friday's top at Oklahoma City was $28.50; and $28.85 at Wichita.

Cotton netted around a dollar per bale advance, as demand slackened.

ARE YOU JUST A PLAYTHING OF NATURE?

Nature may endow you with breathtaking beauty, a lovely curvaceous figure. She may bestow gifts on you that make you a brilliant actress, a leader in your class at college, sought after at dances, or a charming wife and mother.

Yes, Nature may do all this. And yet you may find your face mockingly slapped if you suffer these distressing symptoms, which so many unfortunate girls and women do.

Something You Should Not Joke About! So if female functional monthly disturbances are causing you to suffer from pain, nervous distress and feel weak, restless, so cranky and irritable that you almost turn into a 'she-devil' on such days—THIS IS SOMETHING YOU SHOULD NOT JOKE ABOUT. Start right away—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. It's famous for this purpose. And don't forget—Pinkham's Compound does more than relieve such monthly pain. This great medicine also relieves accompanying nervous tension, irritability, those tired-out, mean 'pick-off-everyone' feelings—when due to this cause. Taken regularly throughout the month—Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such distress—a very sensible thing to do. Just see if you, too, don't remarkably benefit! All druggists.

WASHINGTON
HIGHLIGHTS

By GEORGE MAHON

West Texas wheat and grain sorghum producers have long known of the critical box car shortage, but not until very recently has the nation as a whole felt the full impact of the shortage. Officials in Washington tell us that we are being threatened with a national calamity because of the shortage of box cars.

It is claimed by Monroe Johnson, a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission who appeared before our Committee on Appropriations the other day, that many manufacturing concerns will have to slow down production or close entirely because goods are piling up and transportation is not available. He predicts that this sort of thing might easily precipitate widespread unemployment and economic chaos.

Among shipments most seriously affected by the box car shortage are those of grain and newsprint, but nearly all items of commerce are now affected to some degree. A cut of approximately 40% in the production of flour milling concerns has been necessary, and some daily papers foresee the possibility of having to temporarily suspend publication.

The railroads did a great job during the war, but the fact is that since V-J Day, box car loadings have increased each week over the corresponding week of the previous year, and loadings are now at an all-time high. In the face of this great transportation demand, the number of box cars is decreasing rather than increasing. 40,000 new cars were built last year but 59,000 became unfit for further service. One-third of box cars in service are over 26 years of age, despite the fact that the average life of a box car is supposed to be only 25 years. A single box car costs about $35,000. There are 22 factories in the United States which are engaged in the production of these cars.

There is now a definite ray of hope that decisive action will be taken to meet the situation. Senator Reed Chairman of a Senate Committee investigating box car shortage, called a conference of railroad presidents, steel manufacturers and Government officials which met last week in an effort to work out a plan for increasing the production of box cars. At this meeting agreements were made between steel companies and manufacturers, and we are now promised box car production at the rate of 7,000 per month for the present, which should increase to 10,000 per month in the near future. Even so, it will take about a year for production to catch up with demand.

Our Committee on Appropriations has approved a request for $130,000 for the Office of Defense Transportation, which will have a part in expediting the production program.

The proposed box car program is important to West Texas. A portion of last season's grain sorghum crop is still lying on the ground deteriorating because of box cars. The accelerated program for box cars is going to help, but unfortunately, it appears that box car difficulties will continue to plague us through the 1947 crop year.

I voted for a House Resolution which was approved last week and which provides for a continuation of the Committee which has been investigating the newsprint shortage. Newspapers have been confronted with both transportation and production shortages. This Committee claims credit for having been instrumental in getting necessary equipment which resulted in speeding up the production of newsprint in the paper mill at Lufkin, Texas.

And A Six-Day Week. The farmer doesn't worry about an eight-hour day; he'd be happy to settle for an eight-hour night.

Irving Hoffman says a lot of movie producers could learn a lesson from this tale which was told by Ollie James, once a senator from Kentucky. Ollie observed that he owed his success in politics to the close study he made of his old Dominecker rooster.

"He could outshuffe any rooster in the Blue Grass country. He could fly higher and cut deeper than any fighting cock I ever saw. Only he couldn't keep his mind on his business. Right in the middle of a fight—he'd stop and crow."

GIRL SCOUTS

"Something for The Girls"

Mrs. Juliette Lowe, on a return visit to her native Georgia from England in 1912, telephoned a friend in Savannah that she had an idea for "the girls of Savannah and the world." She had seen the beginning of the Girl Guides movement in England and was offering the training and guidance of that organization to the girls of Savannah, of Georgia, and of the entire United States.

On March 12 a group of girls met with Mrs. Lowe, and some of her interested friends, and thus began the movement which was to be known as the Girl Scouts of America and the world. The organization was first known as Girl Guides as the organization was known in England, but a year later it became known as Girl Scouts.

The World Association of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides was formed in 1928. Their slogan in this observance of their 35th Anniversary is "Build a Better World." Their contribution toward the building of a better world has taken the form of "Share the Food Plan" originated by the Girl Scouts in 1945. As a result of this plan food and other necessities of life have been sent to other girls in the war-torn countries of the world. The Girl Scout magazine for this month reports from Poland, the Netherlands, France, Belgium, Greece Hungary and Italy of the immense joy these gifts have brought to girls of those countries.

Howdy Folks; The telephone is one of the world's greatest inventions. It connects you with so many strangers

A man should be very careful about marrying a telephone operator, though. She seldom rings true.

Her job is neither a trade nor a profession. It's a calling.

She comes close to being a saint. There's a continual hello around her head.

Of course the party line keeps the neighbors well informed.

The telephone has made a sucker out of the nickle. It causes the poor old jitney to get so many wrong numbers.

Jitneys saved become dollars, you know. That's why it's good business to buy our MOBILGAS and MOBILLOIL. We'd like to tell you more about this.

The Open Bible... Bulwark of Freedom

Strange as it may seem to some, there is no stronger support for freedom than the Open Bible! Wherever its influence is strong, tyranny cannot thrive. Where it is read and loved and obeyed, selfishness in all of its forms finds it difficult even to exist. On its pages one finds God revealed in all of His beauty. And one finds Christ there! And the Church! And all that is good and beautiful and true!

The Bible plainly teaches that the individual is of supreme worth. Even the Sabbath was made for man, said Jesus, and not man for the Sabbath. This fundamental truth is denied by all ideologies that look upon man as a creature of the State. It is denied by those who would use man as a means to an end, rather than the end for whom all creation exists. To protect this doctrine of personal worth, which is fundamental in our democratic way of life, there is no way quite so sure as to rely on the teachings of this Open Book!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.
