ARTIFICIAL LIGHTS BOOST EGG OUTPUT
One among many means of increasing winter egg production is artificial lighting. The laying hen belongs to no union, but to her working day is over when sunlight no longer filters into the poultry house. She's ready for the roosts then, and the production of her next egg will have to wait until the light of day appears again tomorrow.

13-Hour Day
To offset the effect of short winter days, many poultrymen resort to the use of lights, turning them on either early in the morning or at dusk, or evening lighting to account for a 13-hour day is considered ideal by most raisers of poultry, and experience has borne out that this probably strikes about the right balance between feeding time and roosting time.

Lighting is an important factor because it helps maintain proper body weight, tends to hasten maturity for late hatched pullets, and has the effect of bringing breeders back into production—all these in addition to lengthening the daily laying period.

If hot weather retards food consumption among early hatched pullets that begin laying in June or July, use lights to prevent the loss of body weight if weight cannot be maintained by any known feeding method. Usually by mid-October lighting should be started on birds that have been in production for some time.

Keeps Them Producing
Usually moulting will appear earlier in a flock housed without lights than in one which has a longer day of feeding. Flocks of high production birds have been kept at 50 per cent production or better than 12 to 15 months by use of lights.

The most satisfactory method of lighting is to turn the lights on at about 3 a. m. Usually poultrymen contrive to do this by the "alarm clock system" or some similar method.

Under the evening lighting plan, birds get up at dawn and lights are turned on when it begins to grow dark in the evening and are left on until 7 p. m. or as long as is necessary to make a 13-hour day.

Morning or evening lighting should be discontinued when the days become 13 hours long in the spring.

WESTERN MARKET NEWS
Cotton and corn continued to sag last week in contrast to higher prices for livestock and peanuts and mostly steady prices for other southwest farm products, according to USDA's Production and Marketing Administration. Cotton prices dropped more than $11 per bale last week as early gains were erased by later declines. Domestic and foreign demand was dull. Farmers offered little cotton for sale and put more under government loan. Poultry and egg prices held about steady at southwest markets last week despite slow demand and increased supplies of red meats. However, movement was light due to rain. Turkeys were weaker with Ft. Worth quoting toms at 25 to 27 cents a pound. Cattle prices turned upward last week as receipts declined around the market circle and trading continued active. Houston sold common and medium steers and yearlings at $12 to $15 a hundred pounds and good cows at $12.25 to $13. San Antonio moved medium grass steers at $17 to $20 and medium and good cows at $11.50 to $14.50. At Ft. Worth medium and good beef steers and yearlings $16 to $22 and medium and good cows $11.50 to $14.50. Medium and good steers realized $18 to $20 at Oklahoma City and $19 to $25 Denver. Medium and good light steers sold at $17 to $20 a hundred, Wichita.

PIONEER AIR LINES OPERATES BETWEEN HOUSTON AND LUBBOCK
Pioneer Air Lines, Inc. at present operates between Houston and Amarillo, by way of Austin, San Angelo, Abilene and Lubbock. The route was inaugurated on Aug. 1, 1945, and since that date the air line has recorded tremendous increases in almost every phase of operation. "Pioneer Air Lines is a feeder line and that is all we claim to be," Smith said. "As a feeder line we provide air transportation between the points we serve and provide all of these cities with connections to the major trunk lines. In doing that, we render to each of our towns a community service fitted, as best we can, to their individual need. Pioneer emphasizes community service. It intends to provide local communities with schedules designed to fit the convenience of passengers."

SLATON IMPLEMENT CO.
HAS NEW MILL AGENCY

Slaton Implement Co. has been appointed local headquarters for the famous Harvey Red Hed Hammer Mill. This is the machine that enables farmers to grind their feed 1-3 faster and to make 4 bushels of feed equal 5 in dairy or meat production. Government Experiment Stations say that grinding grains, roughage and even soft corn increases feeding values 20 to 40%.

We understand that this new Red Hammer Mill accomplishes these labor and feed savings by utilizing the principle of fly wheel momentum. Due to the unique grinding chamber design and the tremendous impact of the hammer heads, nearly all the ear and shelled corn is ground in one trip from feed opening to screen. This large grinding chamber creates a hammer head speed of approximately 15,000 feet per second.
 Slaton Implement Co. informs us that he now has the Harvey Red Hed Hammer Mill in stock.

How to Handle a Fortune

Some month ago I reported in the Slatonite how Mel Bate's uncle died and left him with a tidy fortune.

Naturally, our town was curious to see how Mel would spend it: Traveling around the world... getting a new house or car... wearing fancy clothes... or dining on cold peasant and champagne...!

We can now report, Mel hasn't changed a bit! Drop in on him any night, and you'll find him in his shirt sleeves by the fire, chatting with the Missus, sharing a mellow glass of beer with friends.

From where I sit, Mel has learned the art of handling money—as well as handling people. You don't let cash-in-the-bank push you around any more than you let people push you around. If you like the simple, homey life; companionship and quiet ways; a glass of beer and friendly talk—that's worth a fortune, after all!

Miss Pearl Harper, a former Army Nurse who was in Belgium near the Battle of the Bulge, is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Harper. She is now a civil nurse and lives in Wichita Falls.

A fair vote was cast at the two elections on Tuesday and Thursday in spite of bad weather and general lack of interest. Seven elections have been held this year.

Of the election boards which have had from three to six members, F. H. Stahl is the only man to be a member of each election board. Harold M. Morrison received his release from the army several days ago and is now at home. He had recently been receiving treatment at a San Antonio Army Hospital. Pete Miller was one of a party of deer hunters who left the first of the week. Mrs. Laura Boyd has received an offer of $500 per acre for 40 acres of her land which borders the Slaton highway. The small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Patterson is doing right well after a recent illness. The Posey Gin has turned out several hundred bales and the price of cottonseed has been raised to $100 per ton. The Gentry Store has installed new gasoline tanks and now offers added service to customers. Melvin Johnson of Lubbock visited relatives near Posey Saturday and Sunday. Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Morrison may soon move to lower climate for the benefit of Mrs. Morrisson's health.

When mistakes are made by a newspaper it seems they run in series all about one person or business. Week before last we were scheduled to publish a nice advertisement about Dean Brookshire coming here to hold a Gospel meeting. The same copy was to be used for a placard. We printed the placard and set the type aside in the job printing department to use in the paper but not until Friday morning did we think of the fact that it had not been used. It did not take J. Loyd Moyer long to discover that we had "done him dirt," and he was the first man to greet me at the door when I arrived. I want to say right here that he is a mighty fine fellow for he listened to my tale of woe and after his blood pressure had gotten down to the boiling point he forgave me and decided I would not have to go—that day, to where all preachers fear the most of us will eventually end up. No sooner had he gotten so that he was willing to live in the same town with me when he discovered that we had not delivered all of the placards he had ordered and came back and wanted to know where they were. I found a flock of them where they had fallen under a table. He left mumbling to himself and I think he counted ten, three times before he got out of the door.

All of which reminds me of a story I once read about a paper in Southern town that published a story about the death of an old Confederate soldier who had passed away while in a state of inebriation.

The paper intended to say that he was battle scarred veteran but the type setter either intentionally or through error set the type so that it read battle "scared" veteran. The old southern family was greatly insulted and the son of the dead man called and demanded that the error be corrected. The paper made an explanation of the error and said that instead of saying that he was battle scared, intended to say that he was "bottle scarred." There the story ends and ever since I read it, many years ago, I have wondered what the son did about the second error, perhaps just what preacher Moyer did, walked away mumbling things that could not be said out loud.

It is my opinion that Slaton and Lubbock both will sooner or later have to get a better water supply than can be obtained from wells and the sooner this fact is realized by the municipal officials of both places the better off we will be. It has been suggested by people who know the territory that a dam could be constructed in the canyon near Slaton that would provide an immense amount of water for this section that could be used to supply both towns and to provide some irrigation. That irrigation pays in this area has been proven and it is most probable that the money that could be secured from this source would soon pay for a dam. Other towns in this area are attempting things like this and it is not out of reason to suppose that Slaton could accomplish many progressive works if we could get our forces organized.

"Due to the increase in the cost of materials and of labor we find it necessary to increase the cost of our products 93 per cent" . . . this is the beginning of nearly every letter I get these days, these letters always get my disposition upset and I go around making speeches to who ever will listen to me about the condition of the country. I gripe about communism, the Republicans, the weather and taxes, then I go to the restaurant and look at a menu and it says roast beef, roast pork, brown beef ribs, little pig sausage and cold vegetable plate, drinks and dessert extra." and I get so upset I can't eat the stuff I order, then I go with my wife to the grocery store and go around to the fruit rack and pick up an orange, "what is the price of oranges," I ask, not because I like or want any oranges but just to addle the mind of the poor guy who is punching the adding machine with a sore finger, "fourteen cent per pound," or something like that, he answers. Never having bought oranges by the pound I figure out what the oranges would cost each and my blood pressure goes up and I have gotten to the point where I can hardly eat without figuring out what each bite costs me and when I see my wife take an extra big bite of something I feel my bank account groan and shudder. If something is not done before long I am gonna go on a diet, be wearing a sarong and hiding my pennies in a tin can.

Just when we need a good active Bellyachers Club it seems to have gone entirely dead on our hands. There was a time when Doctor Payne, as President, was a very active and able director but he has gradually gone soft on us and he may be organizing an Optometrist Club here any day. And Squire Peavy and I used to get together on a street corner about once a year and give the government, the rich the poor and all of those in between including the Democrats and the Republicans, a first class working over but I tried to get Squire to work over the Republicans with me but he put up a mighty weak defense. When there are no good, loud Bellyachers in a town it needs to have an awakening. When any town or person gets to the point where they are too well satisfied or too listless to raise a howl they have pretty well gone to sleep. After six years residence in Slaton I have, like a great many others, become used to a great many things that seemed wrong when I first came to the town. If my memory has not failed me I was shocked at first by the fact that the signs on the business buildings were so poorly done and so faded and many did not even represent the firms doing business in the buildings. Another was that there was so much junk and trash in the alleys and in the rear of the business buildings and in the summer, winter and fall such a rank growth of weeds all over the town. During the six years that I have struggled to help publish the Slatonite I have become hardened to these things and take them for granted, just as one would become used to a wart on ones nose or to the seven year itch but in many ways we have become as slovenly as some of the other people here. There is usually a lot of trash paper blowing around in the rear of the Slatonite just as there are a lot of bones, spoiled fruits and vegetables and packing boxes in the alleys over town. Our trash barrel at home is getting all bent up and lop sided and a lot of folks have hauled dead trees, grass cuttings and what have you into the alley back of our home. Perhaps our town is as clean as most others but that should not be the hope or aim in an alive town where there are some active Bellyachers, we should be better than the average town, we should make Slaton an ideal town where the stores are the best and the homes the most attractive. It should be the Bellyachers Capitol of the world.

Conditions have changed. While the old-fashioned girl hesitated to hold a man's hand, the modern girl is afraid to let go. The loose-leaf system dates back to the Garden of Eden. We can't see what keeps girls from freezing. But, I guess we're not supposed to.

TEXAS TECH NOTES

Expansion and possible reorganization of certain engineering curricula at Tech, with leaders of petroleum and other industries cooperating with college officials in laying plans for development of courses along lines best fitted to serve industry, is foreseen following a meeting this week between industrialists and college administrators.

Tech students hold positions as air pilot instructors, high school teachers, construction teachers, mail carriers, dormitory social directors, hospital laboratory technicians, bus drivers and in an numerous other jobs. One is director of the local B. Y. Club, and six say they are qualified and experienced as baby sitters.

Of 3265 students enrolled this fall, 2575 are freshmen, 1244 are sophomores, 780 are juniors, 611 are seniors and 75 are graduate students, according to figures compiled this week by the registrar's office.

The Red Raiders will close their home football season Saturday afternoon, Nov. 16, with the Oklahoma Aggies as their guests.

The Raiders will be out to turn the tide of victories in their favor and to avenge the 46-6 loss of last year—possibly the heaviest loss a Tech team ever has suffered.

The Aggies and Raiders have met on nine previous occasions and neither has the advantage. Tech opened the series in 1935 with a 14-0 win, coming back in 1936 to take another, 12-0, and in 1937, 14-6. In 1940 it was a 6-6 tie and then Tech took its fourth game in 1941, 16-6. The Aggies were victors in 1942, 9-6, in 1943 to the tune of 21-13 and in 1944, 14-7, before rolling up the big score of 1945.

The Raiders feel that on the basis of the records this season they are the better club and will be out to prove it on their home grounds before what is expected to be a record crowd. All reserved seats have been sold for almost two months and demands for general admissions indicate several hundred added bleachers will not care for spectators.

Techsupporters have been turning out in droves all year and a large number of other persons will be on hand to see All-American Bob Fenimore perform for the Aggies. Tech will be primed to deny onlookers the privilege of seeing Speedy Bog go far.

Tech will follow its last home game with visits to Tuscon Nov. 23 to meet the University of Arizona and to Abilene Nov. 29 for the closing contest with Hardin-Simmons.

Special Renewal Rates On Daily Papers May Be Cancelled Soon

Many subscribers are taking advantage of the special low rates that are now available on the Lubbock Avalanche and the Fort Worth Star Telegram. Neither one of these papers will accept new subscriptions but the Slatonite is still accepting new subscribers.

Both the Star Telegram and the Lubbock papers have recently increased their rates but special bargain rates are now available at the Slatonite office on renewals either alone or in combination with the Slatonite.

According to reports the paper shortage is still stringent and will likely continue to be until the price ceilings are lifted and most all daily newspapers say it will be a considerable time before they will accept new subscriptions and a much longer time before rates are lowered. The present rates may be cancelled at any time and those whose subscriptions expire at any time within the next three months will save considerable expense by renewing now. A phone call will bring a Slatonite representative to your door.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like aches and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come. Started 3 days before "your time"; it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try it!

WOMEN IN THEIR '40's

Were Never Meant To Suffer Like This!

Here's a tip for women troubled by Nervous Tension, Irritability and Weak, Tired, Cranky Feelings — due to "middle-age"

If the functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women makes you suffer from hot flashes, touchy, high-strung, weak, nervous feelings, try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Taken regularly — this great medicine helps build up resistance against such "middle-age" distress.

Thousands Upon Thousands Helped! Pinkham's Compound is one of the best known medicines you can buy for this purpose. It has proved some of the happiest days of some women's lives can often be during their 40's. We urge you to give Pinkham's Compound a fair and honest trial. Just see if it doesn't help you, too. It's also a great stomachic tonic!

Government Coal

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

IN ENGLAND the government now owns the coal mines. The mines were taken over by the government. There it is known popularly as "nationalization," and the coal industry and its mines are not expected to be returned to the owners at any foreseeable date. Former owners were given government bonds bearing a low rate of interest. Under this plan the smaller stockholders could cash out their interests if desired, but it is very difficult at this time for the larger holders to exchange their bonds.

English coal mining has faced many difficulties in the past. The industry got underway long before any mining machinery was developed, and some of the mines have never adopted modern methods. In many, the vein depth has such wide variations that an underground floor has been created, making it difficult to put in modern conveyors.

Instructions LONDONERS say progress these factors kept private owners from modernizing to a greater degree in the past: (1) Labor opposed it, fearing not enough jobs would be left, (2) Numerous government regulations retarded progress, (3) Limited profits and high taxes made it hard to get reserves needed to pay for modern equipment, and (4) Uncertainty with regard to the issue of government ownership, about which there had been constant agitation since World War I. Owners rightly saw no expediency in making large expenditures when there was threat of loss of control of the investment, not knowing what type of returns

Although the conditions set forth to justify the nationalization of England's mines are non-existent in America's coal industry, where equipment is modern and production efficient, these four obstructions to progress have presented themselves in various shapes to plague and sometimes to stall our own industries. We must come to realize that these factors which limit our progress could in time bring the same sort of "nationalization" which now retards Britain's industrial progress.

So Far Not HAS THE new system given England the coal she wants? The answer is: No. Output per man-hour has not held up—much less improved—under the labor government and nationalization. All methods of recruiting adequate labor have failed. The month of May was one of the best, with nine-tenths of one ton produced per man per day, but since May the average has decreased. This figure compares poorly with an average of more than five tons produced per man-day in America.

The minister of fuel, Mr. Shinwell, has just warned that "there may be some stoppages in industrial undertakings this winter." He estimates coal reserves in Britain at the start of winter will be 5,000,000 tons below the safety margin. Referring to nationalization, Mr. Shinwell said: "If under the new program, the industry proves to be a failure, and does not secure the coal we need, it'll be a bad outlook for the whole country." So far the outlook is bad.

THIS WEEK'S LESSON

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 17.

The Golden Text is: "Thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ" (Galatians 4:7).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God" (Romans 8:16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God and man coexist and are eternal. God is the parent Mind, and man is God's spiritual offspring" (page 336).

The most bankrupt man in the world is he who has lost his enthusiasm.

CHICAGO -- The gang around the bandstand will have its eyes focused on the 21st Century version of the guitar. Shown above is Dottie Oschman strumming the new streamlined Ultratone designed by Barnes & Reinecke Inc. Despite the use of plastics in silver, gold, coral, blue and white coloring, the tone quality is superior to the conventional guitar.

Why Scold?

It may let off steam. Dad probably feels better now that he has gotten it off his chest.

But it really hasn't helped Bobby very much. He is a bit frightened, of course, and so he is willing to promise most anything. But he hasn't really changed his mind.

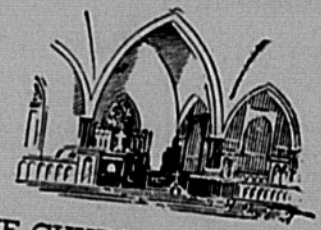

Whether it is a matter of leaving spinach on his plate, playing with some companions who will get him into trouble, or not wanting to go to church, a ton of scolding isn't as good as an ounce of example.

So don't scold him! Show him! Set the example!

Jesus Christ came into the world as an example for men to follow. His influence has reached millions because his living was as pure as his teaching.

Exhortations and instruction are wholesome and necessary in the training of youth, but the example of clean living is the most potent of human influences for good.

The Church and the Bible will aid you in your quest for knowledge and exemplary living.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

WHAT IS "BALANCED FARMING"?

Everyone has heard of "balanced farming."

But have you ever stopped to think just what these words mean?

Isn't "just right" a good definition? Not too much, nor too little, of any one crop or livestock to make efficient use of your land, labor and time?

TOO MUCH IS BAD—TOO LITTLE IS EVEN WORSE

Consider cotton, for example. In the past, some of us planted too much of our land in cotton. We needed more grains, pastures and livestock.

TODAY, MANY FARMS HAVE TOO LITTLE COTTON TO SUPPLY THEIR OWN NEEDS FOR COTTONSEED FEED PRODUCTS, OR TO TAKE FULL ADVANTAGE OF THE PRODUCTIVE ABILITY OF THEIR LAND.

MORE COTTON, ON SUITABLE LAND, WILL MEAN MORE MONEY, MORE FEED, AND A BETTER BALANCED FARMING PROGRAM IN '47.

WILL YOUR FARM BE MORE PROFITABLE AND BETTER-BALANCED WITH MORE COTTON IN 1947?

Bartels-Reissig Nuptials Read In Church Ceremony Monday

In an impressive double ring ceremony, at 8:30 a. m. Monday, November 11, in St. John's Church, Hermleigh, Texas, Miss Hilda Bartels and Alfred Reissig were united in Holy Matrimony by Rev. Michael, who read the Nuptial Mass.

Albert Joe and Julio Roemisch, cousins of the bride were acolytes. The wedding marches were played by Rev. Joseph Ballrin. The young peoples choir accompanied him at the organ with singing during the Mass.

A beautiful array of multicolored chrysanthemums and fall flowers were arranged on the altars.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown. The fitted bodice was trimmed in a white beading design and a sweetheart neckline, the sleeves coming to a point over the hands. The gathered skirt fell into a train edged in lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught in a shining beaded coronet halo and also edged in lace. She carried an arm bouquet of white carnations with white satin streamers.

For something new, she wore pearls, a gift of the groom, something blue, a handkerchief, her rosary was borrowed and for something old she wore a bracelet. She also had a penny in her shoe for good luck.

For bridesmaids, she chose the grooms sister, Miss Jeanette Reissig, his cousin, Miss Mildred Kitten, and Bernadine Stump, a friend. They wore identically designed gowns. The fitted bodice of light blue velvet on white net sleeves, with a sweetheart neckline edged in sequins came to a point in the front over a skirt of white gathered net, over which was scattered ting blue circles of velvet and sequins. Their head-dress of white veiling and sequins was held in place by a halo of white net, and blue ribbons. They carried arm bouquets of pink carnations and blue streamers.

Edward Reissig brother of the groom, and Leonard and Erwin Bartels brother of the bride, served as the grooms attendants.

Following the ceremony, an all day reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, attended by approximately 125 guests. In the evening the couple were hosts at a dance in the Slaton Legion Hall. After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Sweetwater, Texas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bartels of Hermleigh, and the groom, a son of Mrs. Hilda Reissig, and the late Erwin Reissig, of Slaton.

Out of town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. Hilda Reissig, Edward, Jake, Jeanette and Joan of Slaton; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schilling and Rodger of Shallowwater; Mrs. Hoelscher of Boerne, Texas; Mrs. A. J. Stump and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bellah and daughters of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kuss and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kitten and family; Mr. and Mrs. August Kitten and sons; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kitten and daughters; also Misses Patsy McCarthy and Estella Wimmer, all of Slaton.

SHOWER IS GIVEN

The bride was honored with a miscellaneous shower Friday, November 8, at the Slaton Club House.

A comedy version of the "Bride and Groom" program from Hollywood was presented, and a verse was recited by Joan Reissig.

Many useful and beautiful gifts were presented to the bride.

The serving table was covered with a crocheted cloth, with center piece of artificial fruit and tall tapers. Multicolored flowers decorated the rooms.

Mrs. Walter Schilling presided at the bride's book.

I'm going in for farming!

So far this year more than 12,000 telephones have gone into service on farms in our five-state territory. They are the first in our program to make good telephone service available in every rural area where we operate. Construction and installation work now in progress is adding daily to the growing number of farms equipped with telephones.

This rural extension and improvement program is one of the telephone company's big postwar undertakings. We figure it will take five years and 14 million dollars to do the job in 700 communities and do it right. Shortages of material have caused us to run somewhat behind schedule, but the future looks brighter and we expect to catch up before too long.

Meanwhile, you can be sure we'll be coming your way as soon as we can with new and better farm telephone service.
