PRAYING FOR RAIN IS NOT ENOUGH

Rainfall is mighty important in determining yields of cotton and other crops. On the average, lack of moisture reduces the U. S. cotton crop yield about 8 per cent. annually.

Other things are important, too. Boll weevils, for example, reduce our cotton yields, on the average, about 7.7 per cent—ALMOST AS MUCH AS DEFICIENT MOISTURE.

We can't control the weather; but cotton farmers can control many factors that influence their yields.

Good planting seed, plenty of fertilizer, control of diseases and insects, and other sound practices will make more cotton per acre in 1947.

They will help you "cash in" more on every acre of cotton you plant. And higher yields multiplied by more acres will mean more cash and more livestock feed for you, and more cotton and cottonseed products needed by everyone.

FRUIT TREE PLANTING TIME IS NOW HERE

Fruit tree planting time is almost here, and nursery stock is scarce, say horticulturists of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, and if fruit growers want to get early December delivery on the varieties of stock they want, they should place their orders now.

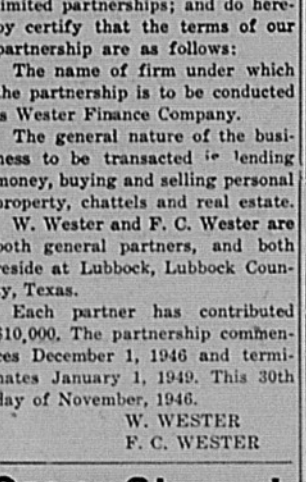

In replacing old orchard trees with new ones, not only the old tree but the soil that supported it should be removed and replaced with new, rich, sandy leaf mold, say the horticulturists. New trees planted in old soil can result in disease attacks that may have caused the old tree to "pass out."

Nursery stock should be examined closely on arrival. If there are knots or "bead-like" growths on the roots, the order should be rejected. If it is necessary to hold the young trees a few days before planting, they should be "heeled in" and watered. The roots need moisture and protection from heat.

A well-drained loam site is desirable for the new orchard plot, the horticulturists say. The soil should be prepared well by breaking, disking and rowing before setting the trees. For instruction in laying out and handling the young orchard, a copy of Extension publication B-78, "Orchard Management," can be obtained by writing to the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, College Station.

SUDAN SEED WILL BE SCARCE IN SPRING

Texas farmers who wait until spring to start hunting seed for a sudan crop are likely to find themselves out of luck.

According to a report received by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service from the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics, production of sudan grass seed in Texas this year is estimated to be only 5,200,000 pounds—the smallest since 1929. Indicating just how low that figure is, the report showed the average seed production of this state over the past 10 years to be 27,490,000 pounds. Last year's crop was only 9,000,000 pounds, which was still nearly twice as large as the current crop.

Although Texas farmers aren't ordinarily on the lookout for sudan seed this far ahead of the spring planting season, the short crop, as indicated by the BAE report should move them to buy sudan seed now instead of waiting until spring when a mad rush to find seed usually occurs.

Present supplies of the sudan seed for the entire nation, including production this year plus the carryover, stand at 45,859,000 pounds. This is 34 per cent smaller than the 1945 supplies.

THIS WEEK'S LESSON

"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 15.

The Golden Text is: "As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the Lord is round about his people from henceforth even for ever" (Psalms 125:2).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand" (Psalms 121:5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man, made in His likeness, possesses and reflects God's dominion over all the earth" (page 516).

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like aches and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come. Started 3 days before "your time," it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try it!

Mrs. Floy King

Last week's Brotherhood meeting was postponed until the night of Dec. 10, because the pastor, Rev. E. Brooks, was called away to conduct a funeral and Mr. I. J. Duff was also out of town. W. T. North of Slaton is the speaker for Tuesday night.

Last Monday seven Baptist ladies attended the all-day week of prayer program with two more attending in the afternoon.

Sunday the whole church joined the women in their annual Christmas offering for foreign missions.

Monday night, Dec. 16, at 7:00 at the Baptist church the Sunbeams are giving their Christmas program based on Bible verses and carols. The mothers are meeting with the leaders Tuesday morning to sew the costumes for the angles, wisemen, etc. Every one is invited to attend the program.

J. J. Croft of Tech is spending the week end here with Joe Gayle Fleming, also a student there.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis carried food and met her brothers and sisters at the home of her mother, Mrs. S. C. Spikes, Sunday for a surprise birthday dinner for her mother, who celebrated her eighty-sixth birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Wood have moved back here from California where they have lived for about ten months.

Curley Taunton who has been in a hospital at McKinney for over two weeks is expected home soon. Several from town went out last Wednesday afternoon to help find Billy Tolison, the five-year-old son of the Roy Tolison's, who had gone with his grandfather down in the brakes hunting and became separated from him. When he was found he and his dog were coming toward home.

A large crowd attended the Banquet given by P.T.A. at the lunch room Friday night.

Mrs. Lola Massie who has been visiting the Edd Kings for some time left Tuesday for her home in Haskell.

Mr. I. J. Duff, Sr., and his son, I. J. Jr., went to Stamford on Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Weaver and family of Lubbock spent the week end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Weaver.

Miss Anita Sokell and her niece, Carol Sue Sokell, of Slaton recently visited the W. W. Gillilands. Weekend guests of the W. W. Gillilands were Mrs. Joe Childress and baby.

Last Wednesday night Mrs. Cummings took sick.

Rev. R. B. Walden preached his first sermon since his illness to a large crowd at the Methodist church Sunday morning. Although he was tired, he was still able to accompany his wife to Plainview, Sunday afternoon, to visit their daughter for several days.

Saturday Donald Pennell and Wilbur Woods went deer hunting in South Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Williams of Post visited his brother, Roy, and family here Saturday.

At regular P.T.A. meeting last Tuesday, 33 were present to hear the interesting talk made by the guest speaker, Rev. Luther Kirk, pastor of the Slaton Methodist Church. Mrs. I. J. Duff's room had 7- the largest number of mothers present. Most of the year books had already been passed out at school. Newly elected officers were: Mrs. Duff, assistant secretary; Mrs. R. C. Green, vice-pres.; Mrs. R. O. Rankin, historian. A finance chairman is to be elected soon.

Culminating Southland's High school's ninth and most successful football season, the P.T.A. honored the boys, their coach and the faculty with a banquet Friday night.

The gym was decorated in the school colors of red and black, with a penant on the wall for each game played this fall. Holly and different colored leaves adorned the tables. The centerpiece of the main table was a miniature gridiron with the football in the middle surrounded by autumn flowers, the goal posts were of the teams colors.

Supt. J. P. Hewlett introduced the speaker, Mr. O. R. Weakley of Post, who spoke on the game and general sportsmanship. Coach R. C. Green gave the highlights of each game and named the ten boys who had lettered: Billy Stone high point man of the season; Harley Martin, Bobby Jack Trimble, Valton and Ferrell Wheeler, Duane Gilliland, Hollis Barkley, O. R. Carey, Billy Van Leake and Richard Becker.

Fred and Ned Meyers brought in satin pillows on which rested gifts for the squad's favorite. The co-captains took them and Billy Stone pinned the gold-lettered white ribbon "Football Sweetheart" on Juanita Wright, while Harley Martin took the P.T.A.'s gift—a corsage of gold mums with its large S-and presented it to Miss Wright. The Pep Squad sang, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." These girls in red and black completely surprised Valton Wheeler with the presentation of a miniature gold football by the Sweetheart - a token of the girl's choice of Hero of the season. Bobby Trimble gave the The Pep Squad several

by
A.M.J.

Mrs. Gus Seel reminded Miss Bertha K. Duncan this week that the folks who live in this area as well as those all over America, should if possible show some appreciation to the many many, folks who are putting in long hours at this time of year so that Old Santa Claus will not disappoint us. This appreciation can be shown in many ways even if you are not able to do any better than to express your appreciation in words to those who deliver mail to your door, to the clerks who wait on you at the stores and to the rail road folks you meet on the street.

A smile to a weary, sore footed mail carrier or a nerve taunt salesperson, will show them that you are not as mean as they thought you were and one should keep in mind at this time of year that it will soon be "Merry Christmas," and that it is going to sound mighty funny coming out of your mouth if you have been going around griping most of the time.

I believe the folks in Slaton are more honest than those in other places. Since we have published the Slatonite, we have run many classified advertisements for lost articles, among them automobile tires, when a tire was about the most valuable thing a man could find, money, watches and the most unusual of all was an upper plate of false teeth.

On all the advertisements of this kind that we have heard reports on the owners have gotten their money or articles back and the man who lost his upper plate was in here not long ago and took it out and displayed it around the office and reported that it is still giving excellent service.

It has occurred to me that it might pay to run an ad every once in a while on any article that I might need for there are usually two or three answers on most items and there is no telling one might get most anything this way.

Several communications have come to the Slatonite recently unsigned or signed as a Committee or something of that kind.

These letters are usually critical of some condition or of some organization and they are not published because we are not going to criticize any one or anything without investigation. There are no doubt many conditions and many injustices here as in many other places and I do not mind to calling attention to anything which is of public interest but those who wish to do so and take the responsibility on their own shoulders will have to sign their names, even then we reserve the right to choose whether we wish to publish such communications or not.

Ray C. Ayers and Son report that from 80 to 90 percent of the grain has been gathered in this area and that it has been a very good crop. It proves says one farmer that it pays to diversify although a good many farmers did not do too badly with cotton this year.

My mother-in-law used to quote an old lady who said that sometimes she liked to sit and think and at other times she liked to sit.

The older I get the more I enjoy sitting and the less I care about what I have always considered thinking although as time creeps up on me I have decided it was mostly worrying and not much thinking.

The person who does a lot of thinking and has the world on his shoulders may help the world improve perhaps or he may get it in a worse fix than it is but the fellow who does not let his digestion get upset over this and that lives a lot longer and enjoys doing it.

Of course there are some folks who can think without getting high blood pressure, at least they get credit for being pretty smart fellows and they are an asset to any community. Take Doc Castleberry for instance, he is always in a good humor although flying around like a whirling dervish, his work on the School board is something that every Slaton citizen should appreciate and as far as that goes the thankless job of being a member of the school board is one that is accepted by only the most public spirited citizens and Slaton has a group of men on its school board who have done a big job well, when all the problems of help and shortage of materials are considered.

Roy Mack has put in a lot of time and his abilities as a good business man to the school problems and although he has lost some frontage I do not believe it was because of the problems but because he is dieting. Personally I would have worked myself into quite a lather over these things or I would not have done them at all, probably the latter, but I admire the other fellow for doing a good job.

MODERN MOTHERS AGREE!

That Darham's Nu-Mo-Rub is a more modern preparation for relieving discomfort of children's simple chest colds. Doctors like its 29% Guaiacol-Camphor formula for it vaporizes better and affords a stronger antiseptic effect. Try Nu-Mo-Rub for coughs. Subject: THE PROFITABLE DOCTRINE

"All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works."

II Tim. 3:16-17.

The above scripture, like all the word of God, is worthy of our study in our effort to show ourselves approved unto God, a workman that needeth not be ashamed.

We can easily comprehend the profitableness of the doctrine of God, because it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth. Of course, to those who do not believe, it does not result in salvation.

"Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." Mark 16: 15-16.

The first above scripture tells us of the value of the inspired word of God, in that it reproves all things which we may have in our lives that are contrary to His doctrine, and that if we believe in and accept it, that correction of those things wherein we are at fault will be made; otherwise no profit will accrue to us. Herein lies the test of the man; whether or not he is willing to permit the inspired Scripture to reprove and correct his life.

Our study also reveals that the man who fully accepts the instruction in righteousness that comes only from the Scripture may be made perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works. Then if the Scripture alone thoroughly furnishes a man to every good work, why have any creed or doctrine written by man in addition thereto.

Is not this a fair question to ask ourselves:

When we add to the Scriptures a creed or doctrine written by men, is not that addition in itself an admission of our lack of faith in the completeness and power of God's Holy Word?

TEXAS TECH NOTES

Nathan Allen, senior student at Tech, was high point man in the livestock judging contest held at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago recently.

An overwhelming majority of the students enrolled are either Baptist or Methodists, according to figures released from the office of the registrar.

Baptists are leading the field with 1781 members, and Methodists are close behind with 1701. Presbyterians are third with 430 members.

Adding a cosmopolitan note to the faculty is Mrs. Charles Cobb, attractive young Irish war bride who is now an instructor in English at Tech.

The wife of a Lubbock lawyer, Mrs. Cobb arrived in the United States last May. Before her marriage she taught English and French in Lurgin College and Belfast Technological College in Ireland.

Texas grown certified seeds for rice, sweet potatoes and a newly developed variety of rescue grass will be available next planting season for the first time, following recent action by the State Seed and Plant Board when certification standards were set up for Texas, according to Dr. A. W. Young, board chairman, and head of the department of plant industry of Tech.

A serious need for the state legislature to make additional funds available for seed testing work was voiced at the board's recent session.

WESTERN MARKET NEWS

Cattle held about the only strong position at southwest markets last week. Hogs registered the greatest losses while other farm products were about steady to weak.

Cotton prices declined only slightly last week as demand continued good, especially for lower grades. The coal strike caused increasing concern as to immediate effects on transportation, embargoes on movement of cotton and mill supplies.

Grain markets were disturbed by the strike also. Wheat, corn, barley and sorghums declined. Oats went down, too, but regained most of the loss. Rice stood at top OPA levels.

Peanut crusher bought farmers' stock mostly at support prices last week. Demand has slackened but offerings have been fairly well cleared to date.

Demand for poultry and eggs followed the usual post-holiday lull. Prices held about steady for fryers and chicken hens, but tended weaker for turkeys with few sales reported.

Cattle went up 25 to 50 cents per hundred at most terminals last week. Beef cows appeared to have made the most gains. Common and medium cows brought $9.50 to

POSSUM FLATS... "THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS"

$12.75 at Houston; $10.50 to $13.50 at Denver. Medium and good cows realized $11.50 to $14.25 at San Antonio and $12 to $14.50 at Fort Worth. At Oklahoma City beef cows reached a top of $16.50.

Hog prices tumbled as much as $2 to $3 per hundred last week as marketings began to increase seasonally, especially at northern terminals. Top butchers were quoted last Friday at $23 at San Antonio; $23.50 at Fort Worth; $24 at Oklahoma City; $24.25 at Denver; and $23.50 at Wichita.

Howdy Folks; Christmas is nearly here. Do your shopping early or you'll do it surely.

This season we are all complaining of the high cost of giving.

Christmas is the time when we get the kids something for father to play with.

It's the time when we all want our pasts forgotten and our present remembered.

When Christmas comes, bills cannot be far behind.

And it's a time when only Santa can go around with an old bag all night and not be talked about.

And it's the time when we can sell you MOBILGAS and MOBILOL and make delivery at once.

A Grand American Tradition

The Cuppers had a grand old family reunion last week—for the first time since the war.

Big and little Cuppers came, by car and train, from as far west as Nebraska and as far east as Vermont. They crowded Dee and Jane's house, set up quarters in the barns, or stopped with neighbors—and a jollier gathering you couldn't have imagined!

I was asked to their final Saturday night supper, when they sang old songs, drank beer and cider, reminisced. Dark Cuppers and blonde ones—Vermont accents and Alabama drawls—doctors and farmers... all with their differences of taste and politics, yet as close and harmonious in spirit as a group could be.

From where I sit, it's a great American tradition—not just family reunions, but the ability to get along as one harmonious family, regardless of differences of taste—whether it's taste for politics or farming, beer or cider.

CASH IN ON HIGH WINTER EGG PRICES

This is the time of the year when sound management can pay real dividends if you have a flock of sturdy pullets in your laying house. With egg prices higher, it behooves you to do everything you can to coax a few extra high quality eggs out of every bird.

To profit most from the high winter prices, there are two primary requirements you must fulfill: 1. Keep egg production at a good level, and 2. Take the very best care of your eggs from the time they are hatched until they reach market.

Producing Eggs

A healthy, contented flock usually is a good laying flock. If your birds are receiving an inadequate or poorly balanced ration, if they're lousy to the point of discomfort, or if they are diseased or rundown you cannot expect much production. So it's up to you, through good management, to correct any condition that you may feel is cause for lowering the output of eggs. Keep the birds in a warm house where there are no drafts but where there is ample fresh air. See that the house is clean and sanitary. Watch your birds closely for signs of discomfort or lack of appetite. Put them on a diet that contains all the nutrients needed for good egg production. Don't crowd them, and make sure there is plenty of feeding space at the hoppers and that the drinking fountains are big enough.

Care of Eggs

- After eggs are hatched, the care you exercise in handling them will probably determine how they are graded when you take them to market. Here are some pointers to remember about handling eggs:
1. Collect eggs often, three times per day if possible.
2. Nesting material should be clean and deep.
3. Do not allow birds to roost in nests at night—dirty eggs result.
4. Keep litter dry—this keeps eggs cleaner.
5. Store eggs in cool, moist place (45 to 55 degrees).
6. Use wire baskets; do not pack eggs in boxes or cases until cool.
7. Clean eggs with steel wool.
8. Pack eggs big end up.
9. Line cases with newspaper during cold weather.
10. Before taking them to market, candle all eggs for poor shells, cracks and meat spots, separating them according to unexpected grade.

We're expecting a lot of long distance calls on Christmas

Thousands of people will be calling long distance this Christmas.

There'll be so many calls that circuits—even with the hundreds of new ones we've added during the year—will be crowded beyond capacity.

Long distance operators will do their best to get every Christmas call through on time... and most calls will go through that way.

But in spite of every effort, we know some calls will be delayed.

If you can call before—or after—the holiday rush, you'll have a better chance of getting through promptly.

Smooth Line Social Asset to 'Teen-Agers

A SMOOTH line is the most interesting distance between two points of conversation. Practically everybody has a line. Or maybe you're just developing your own brand of chit-chat.

That's what a line is—a fund of small talk flavored with an individual's personality. Holly Miller reminds 'teen age readers of nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer.

"A line doesn't have to be insincere just because you think of things to say beforehand and consciously practice them so that they come out easily," she counsels in the magazine.

"Special features are what make a line your own. Here's one—nick-name friends for famous people. Call girl friends Hedy or Lauren and watch them preen. Fellows get a kick out of being referred to as Superman or Hope."

"Twist your own double talk. Original superlatives and explosives for your own use. Something a duffer character would call 'swell' might be 'gee-gosh-gorgeous' to you.

"Listening is part of a good line. Learn how to draw out a new acquaintance with easy questions.

Practicing your line is essential, she adds, suggesting that the family is the best audience for breaking in a new catch phrase or joke. If the reception is lukewarm, polish the story up a bit before springing it on the public.

Yes, Nature may do all this. And yet you may find your face mockingly slapped if you suffer these distressing symptoms, which so many unfortunate girls and women do.

Something You Should Not Joke About!

So if female functional monthly disturbances are causing you to suffer from pain, nervous distress and feel weak, restless, so cranky and irritable that you almost turn into a 'she-devil'—on such days—THIS IS SOMETHING YOU SHOULDN'T JOKE ABOUT. Start right away—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. It's famous for this purpose. And don't forget—Pinkham's Compound does more than relieve such monthly pain. This great medicine also relieves accompanying nervous tension, irritability, those tired-out, mean 'pick-on-everyone' feelings—when due to this cause. Taken regularly thruout the month—Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such distress—a very sensible thing to do. Just see if you, too, don't remarkably benefit! All drugstores.

With love,
Mary Solino

Dear Santa,
As for myself, I am satisfied. I am home for Christmas, for the first time in 4 years.

So let me be so kind as to request some things for my good friends, at the Slatonite.

First, I would like for you to bring Mrs. Birtwood some cap and lower case "A's". And have some one work in her machine. Nine times out of ten she has to stop and look at "A's," and the ones she has wait come out of the "a" channel.

Next, I would like for you to bring a metal screen to put around the bottom of the electric saw as Irene is always complaining about the leaves flying out and hitting her.

As for my "Buddy" James Hill, I would suggest a new "make-up" rule. I hope he is just about beaten up a pulp. And he needs a new car for his car.

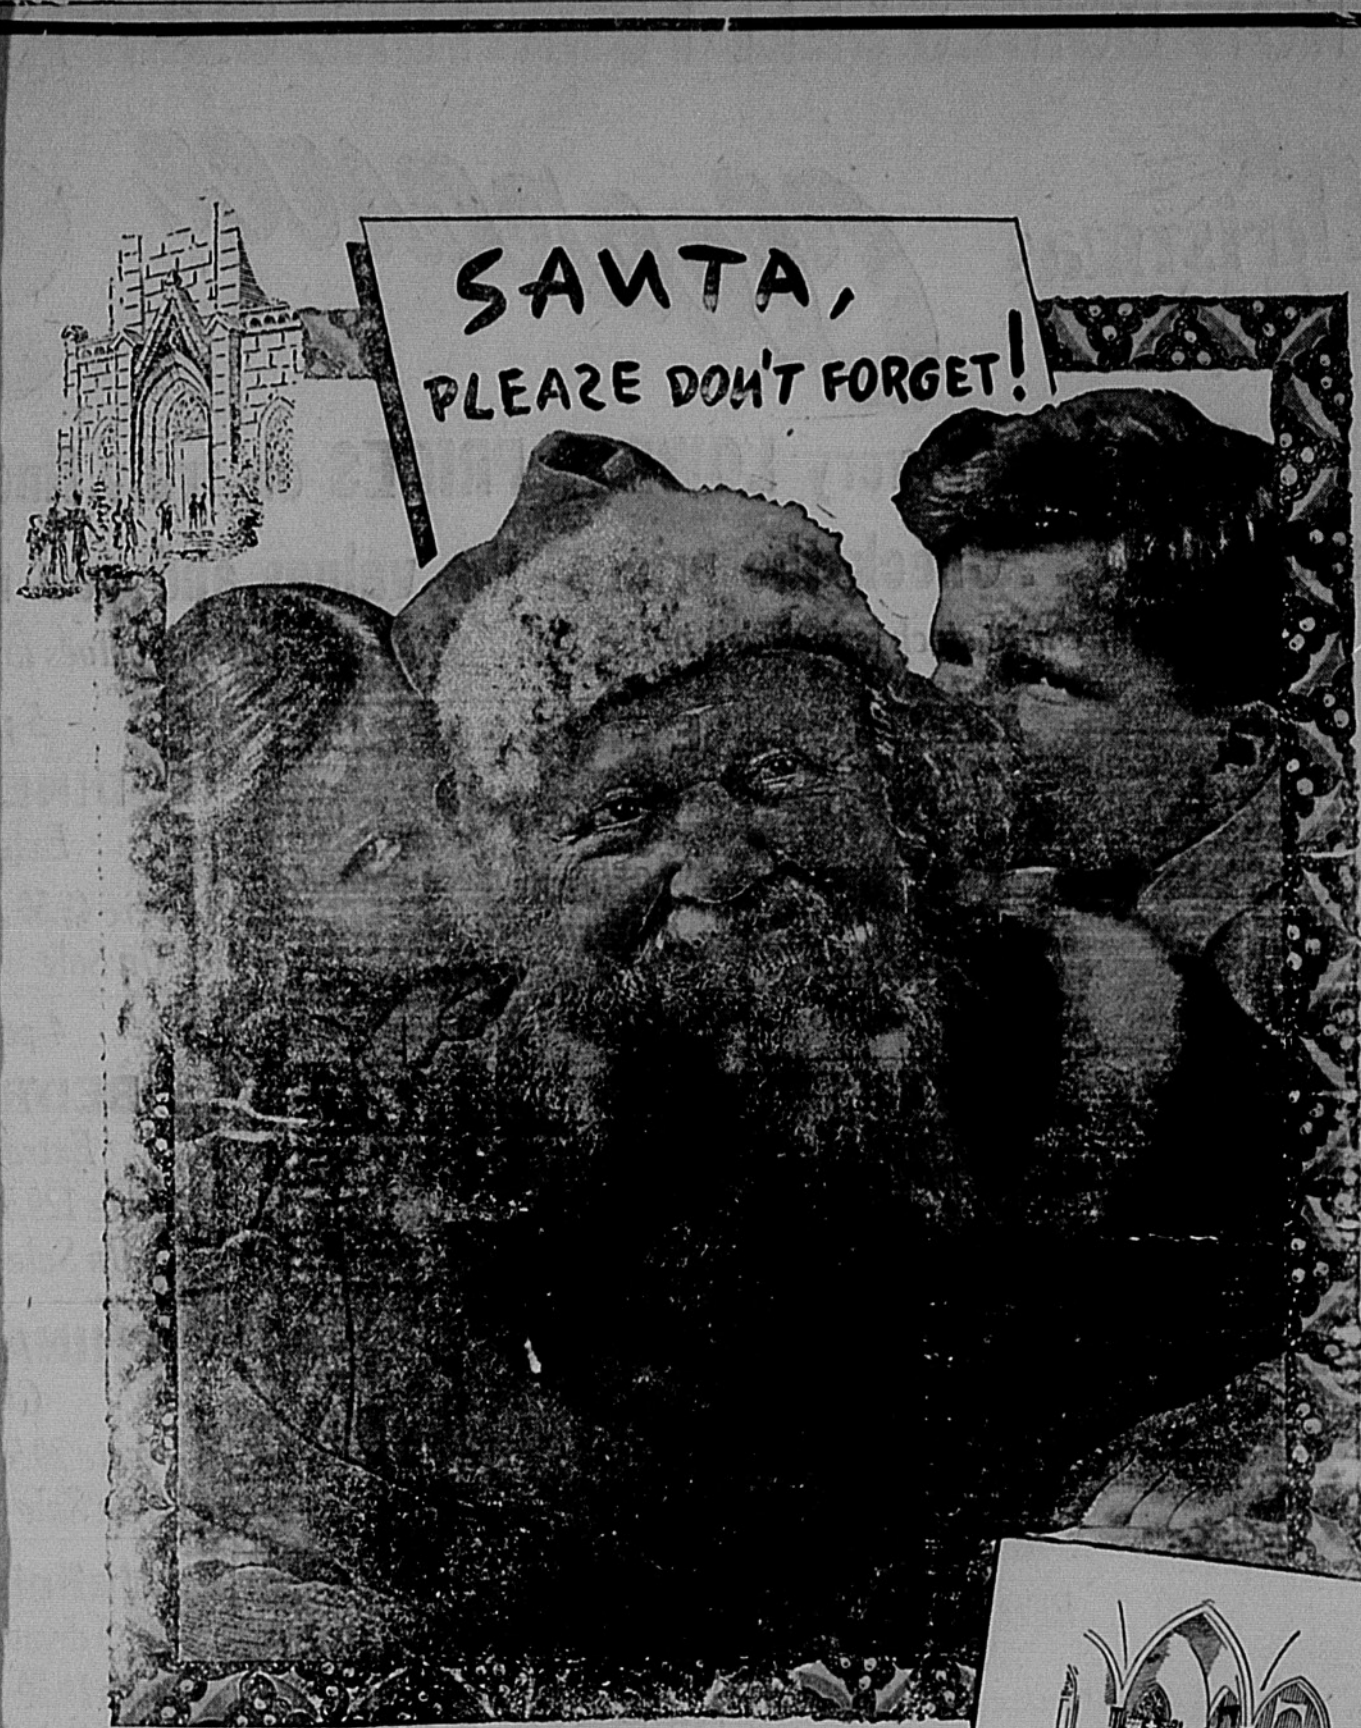

Then other night he invited my wife and I out to dinner. After we had dinner, he suggested going to a movie in Lubbock. After the movie we were ready to go home, but the car ready? No! My "Buddy" and I had to push his car through all the traffic on College Ave.

Mr. Jackson, I would like for you to bring him 100 pounds of coal. I hope it won't be too heavy. Mrs. Jackson, some ink refills, when she comes in the sewing room she always gets stuck in her dress.

For Miss Duncan, I wish you would bring her a pair of hip boots, so she can get out and around, when it starts raining next year.

Well, Santa, I guess I had better quit, or you won't have room in your sack for anyone else's gifts.

Your friend
Jimmy Donaldson

This little boy and girl are telling Santa Claus what they wish for Christmas. The mythical night ride of this jolly old saint, and his ludicrous scramble down chimneys, is one of the greatest joys and most cherished memories of childhood.

The spirit of giving and receiving at this festal season helps to develop the finer impulses of those who celebrate Christmas in the traditional manner. We should impress upon children, however, that it is a time to think less of ourselves and more of the pleasure and benefit we can bring to others.

But giving and receiving should not be permitted to overshadow the deep spiritual significance of the great Church festival. It should be hailed and welcomed as the birthday of the world's Savior.

We celebrate the birthdays of many famous people; but the birthday of Jesus is the most important day in history. His life, his character, his faith, is the foundation of all that is good in human life. Children soon learn that Santa Claus is a jolly myth. They must be taught that Jesus is the Savior—the Prince of Peace.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.
