The theme for the program is "Make Level in the Desert a Highway for Our God" with Mrs. J. B. Huckabay as leader.

CHICK CHATS
by Robert Huser of Huser's Hatchery
GET READY NOW
FOR POULTRY YEAR

Now's the time to be laying ground for the poultry raising season ahead. To have a flock of good pullets next fall, high quality chicks are needed this spring. It takes five to seven months to mature a heavy breed, which means that pullets will start to lay from July to September if started during February, March or April. For those who start only one brood of chicks each year these are generally the most successful months to begin operations.

What's Your Objective?
After deciding to start your chicks early, select a breed that fits the objective you hope to achieve. Always some poultrymen wish to make changes simply to try something different, but the poultrymen who year after year have the best results are those who stick by the breeds and hatchery with which they have enjoyed the most success in the past.

Sexed or Straight Run?
Another question usually roving through a poultry raiser's mind in February is,
'Shall I buy sexed or straight run chicks?' This brings one once more to the question.

'What are my objectives and what are my facilities?' If your aim is toward laying profits select pullets from a heavy laying strain, but be sure the brooder and laying houses are large enough to accommodate the number purchased. Pullet chicks should have more space in the brooder house if they are to do their best, than straight run chicks.
If one is dressing fryers or broilers, cockerels are fine, but first determine the maximum market possibilities and make selections accordingly.

Housing Requirements
Be sure the brooder house and equipment are adequate for the number of baby chicks which will comprise the brood.
Allow at least one square foot of floor space for every 2½ chicks and regardless of floor space do not brood more than 300 to 350 chicks in a single unit. Make sure the house is tight, free of drafts, and well insulated.

10 ways you can help yourself to good telephone service

Telephoning is easy. But more depends on the user than you perhaps realize. What you do when making or receiving a call often has a lot to do with how satisfactory that call is. Here are ten suggestions:

1. Before you call, make sure of the number.
2. Give the called party time to answer.
3. Speak directly into the mouthpiece.
4. Move the switch hook slowly up and down to recall or signal the operator.
5. Replace the receiver carefully when you have finished talking.
6. Answer calls promptly. It's courteous to do so.
7. Identify yourself. Not everyone recognizes you by your voice.
8. Space calls on party lines. If you have a series of calls to make, allow a few minutes between each one so others can use the line.
9. Keep calls brief on party lines. Other folks on the line will appreciate your thoughtfulness.
10. Avoid calling during busy hours if possible.

Chinhae, Korea
Mr. A. M. Jackson
Editor, Publisher, (No. One Man)
The Slaton Slatonite
Slaton, Texas

Dear Mr. Jackson,
During the past several years I have noticed, as well as read with interest—letters from Slatonites serving all over the world describing the country surrounding them. Never do I recall having read one from Korea, so here is one for your collection.

All arrivals and departures in Korea must pass through Inchon (Jinsen) if by ship. The tides all over the Korean coastline are so high that everything must be loaded and unloaded about a mile from the shore. At Inchon the deep water comes a little closer in so naturally it is the Number 1 Korean port. That will give you some idea of why you hear of the shortages of everything from nations to men here.

I was assigned to Battery "C" of the First Field Artillery Battalion upon arrival here. The battalion is a part of the Sixth Division with headquarters at Pusan (Fusan).

The Sixth Division Artillery is located around Chinhae except the 53 P.A. Bn. which is at Masan. It consists of the 1st, 51st., 30th., and the 53rd Battalion.

The First is building a new camp at the Division Artillery Airfield about 5 miles from Chinhae. The airstrip was originally a Japanese Naval airbase for both land-based and sea-planes. In fact, all the barracks and buildings used by the Division Artillery were Japanese Naval installations.

Chinhae is located between the hills and the sea in a sort of bowl. All in the hill and small islands in the bay were well defended by large coast artillery guns and plenty of troops. The Japs must not have intended for an enemy to take Korea. On the largest hill here they had an underground airplane factory. When the Americans came they destroyed all the guns and blew up most of the tunnels.

The Koreans are backwards by our standards but they consider that the methods used by their ancestors are good enough for them. In the towns women are seldom seen except going to and from markets. The carpenters use tools that seem by comparison inadequate. They do wonderful wood-work though if you pin them down.

The y have other funny customs such as their New Year. Their year has 13 months so the actual changing of the year comes on a different day each time. This year it was January 22nd and they celebrated until yesterday. The full moon was last night and as soon as it showed up over the hills they lighted enormous bonfires. The whole place looked like it was burning down. I don't know exactly what it symbolized but it must have done a lot of good.

When a Korean is born he is immediately one year old. The following New Year's Day he is two years old and each succeeding New Year's Day he has another birthday. You can never tell exactly how old one is unless you know what date he was born. That is the date he was born by the calendar we use. You can see why that you usually don't know how old a Korean is.

I suppose I could write about this strange land for quite a while but I just haven't been here long enough to know too much about it.

I do know that I was lucky to be sent down here in the Southern part instead of being up North where it is cold. It freezes here every night but it usually thaws out during the day. In the North it snows in the fall and thaws in the spring. In between the fall and the spring it is really cold. We are issued fur-lined Parkas to combat the cold. Sometimes it is very inadequate.

Enough of this stuff. I don't even write Mon and Dad letters this long. Give my best to Mrs. Jackson.

Sincerely,
Bill Cherry

(Editors Note: We are very glad to hear from you Bill, in your new world, we are wishing you the best of luck in everything.

The Slatonite welcomes letters from our service boys all over the world.

Fred Whitehead has a scheme to hold a Beauty Contest in Slaton and he pictured the production so well that I almost bought a ticket. It will be a tri-county affair with all the best looking girls contesting for Whitehead money and he promised that I could be one of the Judges, a dangerous honor that only a semi-bald head like me would even consider. Cadillac Strange of Lubbock told that he was selected as a Judge of a bathing beauty contest at Midland once, he wanted to give the prize to a cross-eyed woman until one of the other judges called attention to the fact that her eyes did not match as well as her feet and knees.

The undertaking seems to me to be one that would suit Fred for he claims to have had a lot of experience as an auctioneer.

Slaton is changing fast with the prospect of many more changes, in the near future. With three new business firms going into business and more in the cocoon stage, Slaton seems to be like a girl who suddenly seems to become a young lady overnight. Some of the old timers will soon have to at least open one eye or go sound asleep.

It is hard to realize we are in a new age, with many changes in methods of doing business, in ways of thinking.

The hardest thing for most folks to realize is that prices are high and likely will stay that way for a long time, especially as long as most lines of manufactured goods are controlled by combines that will not produce as long as competition can be controlled as it is being done at the present time. The labor unions had their day last year but the National Robbers Association has taken over now and may do to the United States what the big cartels in Europe did to Germany after the first world war, endeavor to make people work for very low wages, keep a permanent shortage of manufactured goods and mess up the country in a big way. Certain unscrupulous business men of the nation have proven that they would bring chaos on the country in order to mass large fortunes if it should bring on a national catastrophe. It's time that Congress starts thinking about big business.

There will soon be three Radio stations in Lubbock with a prospect of four as it is said that the fourth is all set to put in an application for permission to operate. That four stations operating in Lubbock would be too many is an evident fact and three is more than should be allowed. This in my opinion is an instance where competition will be a detriment to the service that any one of them can give. Being in the newspaper business and competition with radio I naturally am prejudiced against radio advertising and personally I think that most all of the programs stink. The news broadcasts used to be interesting but even they are as flat as my feet and three stations will certainly have things messed up.

Whether times have changed or not I am unable to say, but it seems to me that people eat in Slaton more than any place I have ever lived. There are more banquets at the Slaton Club House than there are at the Waldorf Hotel in New York and every place you are invited to in the homes you are served food and it's all good food too, but it takes a man of stronger constitution than I have to live up to it all.

It is said that the healthiest men are those who are married to women who are poor cooks for they live on light diets and do not get over-stuffed but if a man attends all the public dinners given in Slaton he'll either look like a walrus or have a physical break down. Eating is my favorite pastime but I have gotten so that I get goggle eyed every time I see a baked hen or a slab of ham, and what has happened to the beef, it is all as tough as a money lenders heart and as tasteless as Jello, and what prices it is! How in the world the steaks got so tough and so tasteless is hard to understand for we used to get the best beef in the nation.

And it makes no difference where you go it all seems to be the same way and I'm wondering whether we will ever get the kind of meat we used to get and I'm heart broken for I prefer a good steak to all the other kinds of foods there are.

That all Slaton children are unusually smart is an acknowledged fact according to all Slaton parents and the Slatonite wishes to let a small part of the world know the smart things that Slaton children are saying.

If you wish to send in a bright saying just mail it to us on a post card or letter with the child's

Homiletic & Pastoral Review

Before Emily Post would allow the elbows anywhere near the table, a four-year-old boy settled this tochy problem of etiquette, at least to his own satisfaction.

He was calmly munching corn-on-the-cob, elbows astride his plate, when his mother whispered:

"Take your elbows off the table, dear."

Junior paid no attention. Then the luncheon guest said sweetly: "See dear, I don't put my elbows on the table when I eat corn."

Junior, unabashed, looked up just long enough to say, through a mouthful of kernels: "I does!"

Hand in hand, Father and Junior were taking their Sunday constitutional. A puffing panting from far below reminded Father that Junior's legs, while sturdy, were not quite as long as his own. "Am I walking too fast, son, he asked.

"No, Father," the boy declared. "But I am." —Bert Meyers

"I hope they all get me something nice for my birthday," said the little daughter to her mother as she awaited the arrival of her friends for her fifth birthday party.

"You mustn't always talk about 'getting, darling," corrected her mother. "You must think about 'giving,' too!"

"Well, then," replied the little girl, "I hope they all GIVE me something nice."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin dress with fitted bodice and full skirt ending in a train. The marquisette yoke, the outlining collar, and the pointed sleeves were bordered with seed pearls. The long tulle veil, attached to a satin tiara embroidered with seed pearls, was edged with Alescon lace. For something old, and borrowed the bride wore a cameo lavalliere. For something new she carried a white prayer book, the gift of the groom. For something blue she wore a bow of satin ribbon attached to her allip. She also had a penny in her shoe for luck. Her shower bouquet of white rosebuds, with cascades of buds from small white ribbon streamers, was tied with wide satin ribbon. She wore white sandals.

All wore sweetheart-shaped headresses made of the same material as their gowns with matching sequin-trimmed veils. All wore long mittens of material to match their frocks. They carried bouquets of vari-colored sweet peas tied with white satin ribbon streamers. They wore tiny gold crosses on gold chains.

refreshment table. Mrs. Hunter poured the first hour and Mrs. Glascock the second hour. They were assisted in serving by Mesdames Adkin, Lewis, Cole, and Dowell. Mrs. Dawson presided at the bride's book the first hour and Miss Hannah the second hour.

A Valentine motif was carried out in the decorations. The living room was decorated with red carnations, and white carnations formed the buffet centerpiece in the dining room. Jonquils used in the rooms where the refreshments were displayed. Red roses formed the decoration for the table with the bride's book. The refreshment table was centered with a miniature bride and groom amid red and white carnations. Refreshments of heart-shaped cookies, coffee and nuts were served.

Approximately 85 guests called. The Junior Civic and Culture Club met Tuesday, February 18, with Mrs. Otis Browning, hostess. Mrs. Yates Key, chairman, presided over the short business meeting.

A MESSAGE TO INSPIRE CHRISTIAN UNITY

J. Lloyd Moyer

Phone Res. 239 J
Office 333

Subject—The Comfort Of The Scriptures

"Thou shalt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on thee." Isa. 26:3.

"That we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope." Romans 15:4.

We believe if the unconverted could know the comfort and peace the Holy Scriptures can bring to the Christian the churches could not house the multitudes seeking admission. Yet no beatitude of Christianity is more surely taught than that the living word of God received and kept in the hearts of men shall bless the heart and mind with the "peace of God which passeth all understanding" (Phil. 4:7). Not only do the Scriptures say that it shall be, but the experience of every true Christian confirms this truth that the word of God is a source of comfort and happiness far above any earthly pleasure and comparable only to the promised bliss of heaven of which it is undoubtedly a foretaste.

In our meditation we think what comforts the Bible has brought: under the arms of the Pilgrim fathers when they came to this country . . . in the hands of our minister when death came to our loved ones . . . in the best libraries of earth . . .

in the humble Christian homes of the poor and lowly . . . in the tent of the dear boy far away in our country's service . . . in the hands of his mother as she waits and prays.

One of the scars of this age is the continued failure to find peace. In dismay we must realize that this generation, which has agitated most for peace, has produced the most wars. The words of our text, written by Isaiah in troublous times, gives the divine solution. It is an individual matter.

These lines are written hoping to help someone toward Christ and His peace, and may not we who have named the name of Christ and who by reason of haste and the cares of life have not always found the comfort the Bible may bring, may we not fail to seek and claim this precious treasure which, through the death of Christ, our elder brother, has been provided for all of us as children of God.

THE LIVING WORD

No statement of the Bible is more significant or more important to dying Christians than the Word of God is a Living Word. Among many scriptures revealing this great truth is that of Philipians 2:16 where the apostle calls it "the word of life." Jesus himself in John's Gospel declared his words to be "spirit" and "life," and Hebrews 4:12 declares the Word of God is "living and powerful and sharper than any two-edged sword."

In this old world of death and decay, of which Satan has made one gigantic cemetery it is heartening to know that there is one living thing that shall die—God's Holy Word—the memory of nearly two thousand years has proved it indestructible, for it has withstood the attacks of its enemies and today stands higher in the minds of all right thinking people than it has ever stood, and this includes the wisest scientists of our day.

In the New Testament, we approach the higher and deeper truth that it is not only a living word, but a life-giving word. This is strikingly revealed in the accounts of conversion in the beautiful figure of the new birth. In I Peter 1:23, he describes the Christian as "being born again not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the Word of God, which lives and abides forever."

WASHINGTON HIGHLIGHTS

By GEORGE MAHON

I was rather pleased to read in a Texas newspaper today that George Mahon is one of the hardest-working men in Washington these days. I don't want to enter into a controversy with the press and cannot therefore deny the statement.

Speaking of denials, we are having a hot argument in the Joint Senate-House Budget Committee the other day when Congressman Knutson, a blustery Republican leader, shouted that if the Republicans didn't do so-and-so they would be rightfully accused of talking through their hats for the last ten years. Senate Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky spoke up very quietly and said, "Well, I would like to say to the gentleman that I am in no position to deny that."

My main work lately has been in connection with the effort of Congress to slash the budget and reduce Government spending, an essential requirement for our national well being. As a member of the Joint Senate-House Committee to do the spade work of the job and report to Congress, I have attended all the meetings. At the final meeting last Friday, I voted against the 6 billion dollar cut which was proposed and approved by the committee. I made a speech in opposition to the action of the Committee, asserting that the Republican members had concealed from the Congress and from the American people the facts and figures as to just where the cuts were to be made. I said that the report would be meaningless and ineffective unless backed up with an itemized list of the major cuts. Senator Taft agreed with me on this point and to demonstrate his good faith, he himself gave some specific figures as to where he would support certain reductions but the figures were inadequate and inconclusive. As to the Armed Forces, he thought a cut of one billion dollars would be in order. My thought is that some cut in military appropriations can safely be made, but not that much. Cuts in the military should be made in civilian personnel and in Army construction, but not in such things as military personnel, research and development, and aviation.

At any rate, it is estimated by those best acquainted with the facts that if the 6 billion dollar cut actually goes into effect, the Army and Navy will be decidedly reduced, the Federal road program will be curtailed, the school lunch program for next year will be abolished, the administrative expense of the Veterans Administration will be reduced by 200 million dollars, AAA payments already committed will be reduced by 100 million dollars, authorization of REA loans to local Co-OPs will be reduced by more than 125 million dollars, the Soil Conservation Service will be pared down, support prices for agricultural crops will be jeopardized.

The Department of Agriculture on a percentage basis would take the most drastic cut of any agency; I have said to my colleagues here that Government economy was the interest of Agriculture but that was poor economy to try to balance the budget out of the hide of the farmer, and I could not go along with the Republican sponsored plan for Agriculture.

In the meeting last Friday, 10 Members of the House and Senat-were permitted to participate. We made a motion to permit members of the press to listen to the proceeding so that a full report could be given to the people. The motion was voted down. A motion was made that 3 billion dollars of the 6 billion dollar expenditure reduction be applied on the public debt. This motion was likewise voted down. Senator Barkley, on behalf of three Members of the Senate, and Cannon, Doughton, and myself of the House, offered a motion that no income tax reduction be considered by Congress until we had passed the major appropriation bills through the House and had actually demonstrated that the proposed saving would be made. This motion was likewise rejected.

The whole controversy has now gone to the floor of the House and Senate. It will be confusing to try to follow this controversy. But I hope that many needed economies will be made and Government spending reduced, without the impairment of essential Government operations. Everybody wants to cut expenses and reduce taxes. The argument comes over the extent of the cuts and where they are to be made.

The Bureau of the Budget has recommended the spending of 37 1/2 billion dollars next year, but Congress thinks that's too much and we feel the people agree.

One day last week General Omar Bradley came down and said he needed 2 billion dollars in additional funds for the Veterans Administration. We are going to provide part of the money now and more later when he needs it. The OPA has 14,000 employees and plans to spend 28 million dollar operating expenses between now and July 1st. But we are asking Congress to reduce this expenditure by one-half, recapturing some of the funds appropriated for OPA before the President lifted most controls last November.

One of the Members of our Committee said he got a letter from a man in his District in Missouri a few days ago which began like this, "I'm so mad at the OPA that I am shouting to my stenographer as I dedicate this letter."

As this session of Congress gets under way, clashes between Democrats and Republicans become more pronounced, but this is understandable because we live in a Country where men in and out of public life are permitted to have different opinions and freely express them. This is unlike Russia where Joe Stalin in his District recently was elected by a vote of 110,691 to nothing.

Where Cissy Spent Her Honeymoon

Most of the young newlyweds in our town spend their honeymoon at Roundstone Lake or Jackson Falls; why the Martins even went as far as New York City.

But when Cissy Cupper married the young Carter boy, they allowed as how they were going to spend their honeymoon right here.

"There's no place better than our town," Cissy says. "And I'd like to start married life at home, with things Bud and I are used to."

Makes sense, come to think of it. Folks naturally left them alone; and except for occasional visits to the Garden Tavern for a glass of beer, they stayed at home, getting used to married bliss.

My missus prefers traveling—and that's her right. But from where I sit, there's no place better for a honeymoon—or second honeymoon—than right at home—with your own possessions, good home cooking, and a friendly glass of beer or two—with the best companion in the world.

SLATON STUDENTS ON COLLEGE HONOR ROLL

James and J. C. Burton of Slaton have been named on the academic Honor Roll of Southwest Texas State College, San Marcos, for the fall semester just completed. College officials indicate that 311 students, 21.1% of the total enrollment, maintained the average of "B" or above, without "D's," "F's," or "Incompletes," necessary to achieve the distinction.

AVENT ENTERS COLLEGE

Billy Avent, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Avent, 600 N. 3rd St., has enrolled as a student in Abilene Christian College. He is one of the 199 new students enrolled by Abilene Christian College for the spring semester of its forty-first regular session, bringing the school's total enrollment to 1396.

THIS WEEK'S LESSON

"Mind" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 23. The Golden Text is: "O the depth of the riches both the wisdom and knowledge of God, how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out" (Romans 11:33). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite" (Psalms 147:5). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Infinite Mind is the creator, and creation is the infinite image or idea emanating from this Mind" (page 256).

Howdy Folks; This week, we will discuss America's greatest indoor sport — bridge.

The most important thing in the bridge game is to pick a good partner. Never select a partner with a one trick mind.

Early to bid and early to raise doesn't make a good player.

A good bridge player is one who learns to take it on the shin.

To The Husbands
One of the neatest card tricks is learning how to get out of making a fourth at bridge.

During the war, the servant problem was so serious many women stopped playing bridge and started playing Bridget.

Playing a good game of bridge indicates the triumph of mind over chatter.

Our game is to supply you with Mobilgas and Mobiloil.

We try to do a good job of it.

Everything you need is here EXCEPT...

All the medicines needed to cure you of what ails you are here on these shelves. Everything you need is here, everything except the hands of the pharmacist, skilled to mix the proper proportions! But even the most highly trained medical men have not yet found all the answers. There are thousands of experiments still to be performed; years of research are still undone.

Everything you need for security is right around you. All the ingredients for happiness are within reach. But you also need trained hands to mix the right proportions. The Church is skilled in that very art. It can tell you how to combine the elements of life in the best possible way.

But even in the Church there are thousands of experiments still to be performed, years of research still to be done. The Church needs your steady hands, your questioning mind, your eager soul to help it in its search for further truth. You cannot live a truly healthy life without it; and it cannot progress without you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp, "hot" and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. TRY IT!

NEXT WEEK'S OFFERING AT PALACE THEATRE

Baffling mystery and turbulent romance are combined in RKO Radio's new drama, "Nocturne," costarring George Raft and Lynn Bari. The story, laid in Hollywood, concerns the mysterious death of a well-known composer famed for his Don Juan tendencies. At the Palace Friday and Saturday.

Uniting Humphrey Bogart the screen's favorite "tough-guy," with luscious Elizabeth Scott is a little like applying a match to high-octane gasoline. Both are explosive combinations. John Cromwell's "Dead Reckoning," a Columbia production which will come to the Palace Theatre for the Preview, Sunday, and Monday, is potent and stirring screen stuff for it stars Bogart and Miss Scott.

No two more polished or amiable crooks have been seen on the screen in some time than those represented by Lucille Ball and John Hodiak in the new M-G-M romantic drama, "Two Smart People," will be shown at the Pal-
