

WOULD YOU LIKE SLATON MANUFACTURING CENTER

According to the Management Engineering Department of A. & M. College the smaller towns all over the nation now have the greatest opportunities of all times to expand and attract manufacturing plants that are endeavoring to move out of the closely congested areas.

The College authorities are in touch with a number of the firms that are looking for new locations and the College is preparing a questionnaire that will be sent to the authorities in the smaller towns asking for information concerning the advantages and disadvantages of each community.

With the proper cooperation of the Slaton civic organizations and individuals one or more factory or distributing plants might be encouraged to make Slaton headquarters.

There are some advantages and some disadvantages to having such plants in a town and it is a subject that should be given consideration.

Kendrick Sees Pontiac Review

Mr. Tip Kendrick of the Slaton Implement Co. has returned to Slaton after attending a dealers' preview of the new 1949 Pontiac Silver Streaks in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Following the meeting, veteran Pontiac factory officials said that the enthusiasm of dealers for the new cars here and elsewhere where similar meetings are being held is greater than for any other new model Pontiac has ever produced. Dealers clapped, whistled and cheered when the curtain went up on the new Silver Streaks.

More than 150 dealers from this area saw the new cars for the first time and attended a day-long sales meeting conducted by Mr. Don C. King, Jr., Assistant General Sales Manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Using elaborate slides, stage props, movies and skits, department heads from central office presented the latest dealer programs covering merchandising of parts, accessories, service and used cars. Presentations also were made on local advertising, promotion and customer good will.

Mr. O'Madigan revealed to dealers that the 1949 Pontiac Silver Streaks feature two completely new and distinct lines of cars. Entirely new to Pontiac is the Chieftain line, which is functional in design and of the notch or bustle back type.

Its companion is the new Streamliner series, an up-to-date version of the slant or fast back type made popular by Pontiac. Both body styles are mounted on a 120-inch wheel base. The former Torpedo series has been discontinued.

Pontiac will make 10 body styles for 1949 and, with the exception of the convertible (Deluxe only) and the swank new sedan delivery (Standard only), all will be available with either standard or deluxe equipment.

Former Minister Is Honored At Banquet Friday

A number of friends entertained with a turkey banquet at the Slaton Club House last Friday evening honoring Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Ferguson, former pastor of the First Baptist Church, who has recently moved to Lubbock.

The table was centered with a large crystal bowl of pink carnations and flanked on either side with triple crystal candle holders and apple green candles. Several double holders with the same candles were set at intervals down the table. Plates were laid for 150, but due to the extreme cold weather, only 100 were registered.

The program consisted of instrumental music furnished by Lewis, John and Bob Fondy; a skit presented by Mrs. Clifford Young and Mrs. Joe Tate; Nancy Teague sang a solo, accompanied by Anna Doris Phillips; then the group enjoyed singing.

Before the guests came by to shake hands with the honored couple and express their love and appreciation, Rev. and Mrs. Ferguson were presented a gift of over a thousand dollars from those present and some who were unable to attend.

People from several different churches of the town and some with no church affiliation participated in these gifts in appreciation of Rev. Ferguson's unselfish and untiring service to the church and community for almost fourteen years. The centerpiece of carnations was also presented to the Fernsons.

They received another surprise the same day when they were invited to be guests for one week at a large hotel at a health resort.

While local telephone services were affected to some extent by the recent ice and snow storms this area did not suffer as much as some other parts of West Texas, however the damage that was done to the wiring and equipment has required considerable work by the emergency crews that have been working for weeks getting the lines back in normal working order.

Damage totalling more than $7,500,000 was suffered by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in recurring ice and sleet storms which struck parts of Kansas, Arkansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Texas in January the company reported today.

It was the most widespread and costly storm damage in the company's history.

Most service had been restored when the second blow struck two weeks later. All but 200 long distance circuits had been restored to service, for example, and most of the 10,000 poles replaced.

Texas and Oklahoma suffered most heavily in the second storm disaster. There were 2,200 long distance circuits and 33,000 telephones out of service at one time during the several days of intense damage. About 13,000 poles and 17,000 crossarms on long distance lines were broken.

At the height of the storm period, more than 4,000 men were working to restore service as quickly as possible to isolated communities. Conditions were trying—there was bitter cold, snow, rain, or sleet during much of the month. Some sections of pole line had to be repaired several times as new ice formed and undid the work of emergency repairs.

While most service put out by the last storm has since been restored, some repairs to telephone plant have been temporary and company officials said telephone crews would be working for many months to replace storm-damaged plant.

"Well, yes, it is, Martha. How long have you been married?"

"Laws, I danno." Considerable pause. "I ain't married to the one I'm livin' with now."

Mrs. Brown was shocked. "Why, Martha, you don't mean you'd live with a man you're not married to?"

"Laws, Miz Brown," explained Martha, "You can't go marryin' with every man you live with. Why, thy'd git you for bigamy." —Mrs. Maudie Taylor Sarvis.

AUSTIN—A resolution asking Congress to declare January 30—the birthday of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt—a national holiday, was presented in the senate last week by Senator Kilmer B. Corbin of Lamesa. The lengthy resolution lauding President Roosevelt was unanimously adopted and went to the House for consideration. Copies of the Corbin resolution will be sent to the President, Vice President, Speaker of the House and to each Senator and Representative from Texas in the Congress of the United States.

Much of his time last week was occupied in a battle which is expected to result in West Texas getting what it wants in the way of water priority laws.

At a meeting here, called by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Corbin was selected to direct the progress of water bills in the Senate and protect West Texas' interests when water measures are considered.

This is a diesel... a modern locomotive that means better service to you.
Leaders of two unions think it's a feather-bed... a "make work" grab that means less service to you.

Leaders of unions representing railroad engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste—a "make-work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher costs—for YOU!

Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you.

Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the front. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman sits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically nothing else to do.

No Benefit To You
Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to use the diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.

The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in this dispute of these two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this feather-bedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads—of which the diesel is the outstanding symbol. Diesel crews are among the highest paid railroad employees—well aristocrats of labor! Their pay is high by any standard. Granting of these demands, therefore, would mean that the railroads would be paying out millions in unearned wages to those in the very highest pay brackets.

We'd Like To Spend This Money On You
You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and convenience. The railroads have many more of them on order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to spend money on better service for you.

Proud as the railroads are of the diesel, it is only a small part of their improvement program. Since the War, literally billions of dollars have been spent on improvement of tracks and stations, on new passenger and freight cars, as well as on diesel locomotives, and on the many other less conspicuous details of railroading that contribute to improved service.

Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You
But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive. These demands are against YOUR interests—as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work". Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.

That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch—and why they are telling you about them.

Keep Tires Properly Inflated

Underinflation is bad for tires made of natural rubber and even worse for synthetic. Both types become warm in use even when they are properly inflated, as a result of flexing or bending as the tire rolls along. The lower the tire's pressure the greater the amount of bending and the more heat produced. Tires containing synthetic rubber, due to their different composition, develop even more heat than natural rubber tires.

Discovery of New York

New York, one of the original 13 states, has had a vital and eventful part in American development since the earliest times. Verrazano, sailing for the French, discovered New York harbor and lower Hudson river in 1492. It remained for Henry Hudson, an Englishman employed by the Dutch East India company, to explore the river and establish the Dutch claim to the region in September, 1609.

How to Put Out a Fire

When a fire is small, it can be put out easily. You can stamp it out with your foot, smother it with a rug or douse it with a pail of water. One of the commonest kinds of fires in a home—food or grease burning on the stove—can best be put out by placing a metal cover on the pan or vessel containing the burning food. Such action at the start of the fire may be more effective than the work of the entire fire department five minutes later.

Hill-Climbing Errors

One of the most common faults in hill climbing is to stay in high gear too long. Cars frequently labor up hills, going slower and slower until both car and engine have almost stopped. This is bad practice and sometimes dangerous. It is a common cause of overheating and "vaporlock." There is no point in straining to see how steep a hill can be climbed in high gear. When the car begins to labor on the hill, shift to second when the speed drops to around 20 miles an hour.

Russia's Cost of Living

A pound of butter, costly as it is, requires only 48½ minutes of the American worker's time. A Russian must work 10 hours, 42 minutes to earn a pound of butter. A worsted suit costs the American three days of labor. It costs the Russian more than three months of hard work. An American worker labors but 10 minutes to earn a quart of milk. The Russian worker has to labor an hour and 18 minutes for the same drink.

FURNITURE FASHIONS

GRAND RAPIDS, MICHIGAN—One of the highlights of the newly re-decorated Grand Rapids Furniture Museum . . . the illustrated man's den combines the simple lines and warm mellow tones of pine furniture with soft shades of green and brown and accents of lemon yellow to provide a comfortable, inviting setting for the man of the house and his special guests. Principal pieces in the room is a large pine Welsh cupboard holding glasses, steins, guns, books — all the accessories and mementoes that will be treasured by men. Unusual wall piece on the right is a pipe rack designed to hold a hundred briars. Simple Colonial accessories accented the conventional Colonial print wall paper in antique green and white—the paneled dado finished in antique green. Furnished with an eye to masculine good taste and real comfort — each individual piece is illustrative of the discriminating good taste and meticulous workmanship for which Grand Rapids furniture is famous.

Snake River Canyon

Oregon's Grand Canyon of the Snake river, forming the boundary between Idaho and Oregon, is 1000 feet deeper than the Grand Canyon of the Colorado in the center of a great wilderness, accessible only by trail from the Oregon side and by boat from Lewiston on the Idaho side. A lodge near the canyon mouth is at the end of the longest river mail route in the nation.

Old Man River's Toll

Water tables are said to be falling, and more rivers are getting out of control. In one month—July, 1947—it was estimated that the Missouri floods carried off more than 115 million tons of the topsoil that has made Iowa one of the richest agricultural regions in the world.

EVERY EGG COUNTS WHEN FEED IS HIGH

Your laying flock must produce a lot of eggs these days just to pay for the expensive feed they consume. With feed prices at such a high point and other expenses at parallel levels, each layer will pay her keep only if she utilizes feed efficiently and produces eggs at a high rate.

Now is a good time to take stock of your management program. Perhaps you're forgetting a thing or two — things important enough to have a detrimental effect on your flock's production. Suppose we list a few of the management factors generally considered necessary to encourage high production.

Handle Gently

Handle hens gently. Throwing hens off nests or roosts, kicking them out of the way, or any other type of rough handling will disturb production and may even stop it if the hens are injured. When in the henhouse, move slowly and deliberately, without exciting the flock.

Work on a regular feeding schedule. Anything that prevents the flock from getting feed and water at their accustomed time hinders egg production.

Give the birds plenty of fresh, clean water. About two 2½ gallon waterers per 100 birds is right.

There should be one nest to every five hens, and each nest should be well-filled with clean nesting material to reduce the number of cracked and dirty eggs.

Check Body Weight

Failure to maintain body weight while laying may mean an untimely molt, so weigh a few of the same birds every week or so, to check the condition of the flock.

Cull continually. It doesn't pay to feed birds that produce at a low rate.

Use good laying stock. A hen laying 250 eggs a year uses about half as much feed per dozen eggs as a hen laying 100 eggs a year.

Dirty eggs spoil more quickly than clean ones, and are less attractive to buyers. Keep your produce clean and cool.

Use artificial lights in the henhouse to make it possible for the flock to eat more and lay more.

Have your prescriptions filled at TEAGUE'S DRUG STORE by a registered pharmacist.

Minerals for Corn

It takes about 150 pounds of nitrogen, 25 pounds of phosphorus and 75 pounds of potassium to produce 100 bushels of corn.

Where Cocaine Is Popular

A large part of the people living in the Andes of Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia and nearby countries of South America use cocaine daily. The drug is obtained from the Peruvian and Bolivian species, Erythroxylon coca, cultivated for this purpose. The cocaine plant is harvested much like tea. Nursery-grown seedlings are transplanted to terraces on the moist slopes of semi-tropical valleys. The leaves are picked when they are fully grown. Most of the cocaine leaves produced in South America are used locally.

AT SELF'S SERVICE STATION

Howdy Folks: This is the cold in the head season and we feel we could benefit our readers with a few suggestions on cold prevention and cure.

Let us say in the beginning that we know the remedy taken most frequently for colds is advice.

One of the best ways to catch a cold is to hunt bear.

And a good way to prevent a cold is to wear a hat. It's easier to check than a cold.

Don't feel bad if you have a cold in the head. Even that is something.

When a rich man has a cold it's laryngitis. When a poor man sneezes, it's just a cold.

And even if you were rich, you couldn't buy a better Automobile Service than at SELF'S SERVICE STATION.

We'd like to prove that to you.

Flashless Powder for Explosives

A flashless propellant powder composition has been invented by a New Yorker. It is described as providing a plasticizing agent for explosives, such as of the nitro-cellulose type, better adapted than other substances for the purpose of reducing the flash resulting from ignition of the powder, without adversely affecting its moisture resistance.

JUST TALK
by
A.M.J.

There is considerable difference between engineers, conductors and mechanical workers on the railroads. Several weeks ago I referred to R. H. Todd as a conductor and since then every conductor and engineer in town has griped at me. Last week I went into a barber shop and L. M. Garrigues was getting everything that was in the bottles on the shelf and after about forty minutes and three dollars and forty cents, while the shop was full of customers and three of the barbers out drinking coffee, Mr. Garrigues slid back on his spine and had the barber shave the top of his head and polish it with a chamdo. I asked him why, with so little hair on his head, he had it shaved.

"I'll tell you," said Mr. Garrigues, "If I'd let my hair grow on the top of my head, I'd have just about as much as you or L. C. Odom and I'm afraid I might be taken for a newspaper man or a conductor, so I have my head shaved so that there will be no doubt about whether I am bald or not. It gives me something different from the ordinary run of semi-bald folks who spend a lot of time trying to brush their few remaining wisps over a moth eaten dandruff scalp that might as well come out in the open and quit trying to hide."

The restaurants were full over the week end with folks whose water systems were frozen, at least that is the reason most of the women gave for being there, saying that their husbands could not wash the dishes, as there was no water in which to do the dunking.

Getting back to the engineer and conductor contest, I asked L. R. Gregory if he would feel irritated if some one would refer to him as a conductor or an engineer and he said that as no one had ever inferred that he was in either category, he did not know, but that he figures that if it were not for the mechanical men, the engineers and conductors would not have a hoot of a chance of running a train.

And while on the railroad subject I have been wondering why the Santa Fe changed the time table for the train that usually gets here from the South at about eleven or twelve in the morning. Until about a year ago it was supposed to arrive at about ten, then they changed it to 7:30 a. m. It still arrives at about eleven or twelve.

Personally I have had enough of ice and snow, but I do not think we are through with the stuff and I doubt that more of it will help the country at the present time.

Those who have had to do deep digging, say that the moisture goes down about as far as it can go and that more of it could hardly do any good now.

My overshoes are beginning to look like meal sacks, the tail on my overcoat is getting frayed from being under me when I sat down so often on the ice and I'm getting to look like a Chinaman from squinting at the snow. Gimme a few sandstorms and I won't say a word.

It seems that everything goes haywire at what seems to be the most inconvenient time. Most of the time during the ice storm, I drove over town with a spot about the size of a quarter on the windshield from which I could see, with my door open and my semi-bald hoggin sticking out like a turtle in its shell. We have been doing without water, driving blindfolded and trying to warm the house for so long that I'm afraid I'll wham into someone in weather where one can see both forward and backward. I'll probably fall down and bust my suspenders when the ice has all gone, and I'll be missing the wind, sleet, snow, skiddy sidewalks and the women with their heads tied up so that you cannot tell whether its worth while to try to figure out who it is in the package.

Kirby Scudder and I had quite an argument as to why pipes and things bust when water freezes in them. We both agreed that the school books say that heat expands and cold contracts and my theory is that a container in which water freezes contracts more than the water and the container bursts. Kirby claims that the ice contracts and then as soon as it gets things just right, it expands again and pop goes the weasel. It's very confusing trying to be a scientist.

On the radio last Sunday night it was broadcast that one of the big moving picture studios had posted a sign that the salaries of all employees, including the president, would be cut fifty per cent starting February 1st. Another announcer reported that a big New York newspaper had notified all of its employees that a big reduction in salaries would go into effect. The newspaper P. M., that has been published in New York, gave up the ghost and went out of business; food prices are supposed to lower, but I cannot tell the difference.

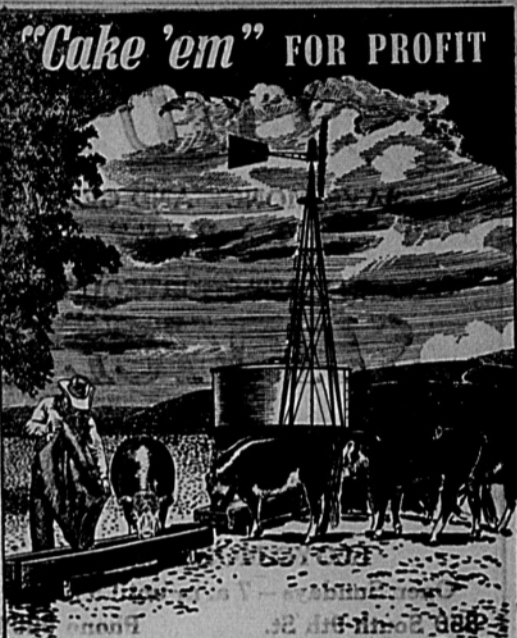

It is reported that sales resistance has developed on a lot of high priced items such as automobiles and housing and that Kaiser-Frazer and Ford Motor have both laid off considerable help because of the shortage of materials and because there is not the demand for automobiles that was evidenced some time ago.

If it is a cinch that prices cannot keep on going up and up and up and it is probable that we will have a period sooner or later when the business men will have to get off their high horses and give the customer a break, but there is not going to be another depression, for the Government will step in and do a lot of spending at home, before conditions will be allowed to go very far haywire. But it does feel kinder good to have a salesman come in and want to sell some of the stuff they have been acting so tight with so long.

All present said they were very good games. Glenda Grantham made 8 points and Mary Frances King made the other 4 points for Southland.

There was Church and Sunday School as usual at the local Baptist, Methodist and Church of Christ churches Sunday, but not very big crowds on account of the bad weather.

Eutale Davies, who is employed in Lubbock, spent the week end with her parents and attended church with her sister, Mrs. Grady King.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jack Myers over the week end were his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Cox of Tullia, and Sunday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Reeps of Post. Ned Myers, who has had so much trouble with his leg, is doing fine at this time.

Calvin Grantham, who fell and cut his hand over a week ago, had the stitches taken out Saturday and is doing fine.

Mrs. Marvin Truelock is on the sick list at this time.

Oma Jane Truelock is suffering again with after affects of rheumatic fever.

Julian Vela was brought home from Mercy Hospital Friday where he had been a patient for a week following an operation.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Poindexter is their son, J. B., and family, who are moving to a farm near O'Donnell.

Billy Van Leake has been sick with the flu this week.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Pennell are two of his cousins, Jim Bryant and Ray Parsons, of North Carolina.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Dunn Sunday was their son, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dunn and children. Mrs. Dunn has been ill most of the winter.
