TIGERS, POST MEET FRIDAY IN 4-A ENCOUNT

November Trades Day Best Yet; Next To Be Monday, December 5th

To the second se

who generously gave his time and his acting talent to make the day a success.

It is planned to have a special Christmas Trades Day on Monday, December 5th with some new features. The Trades Day programs have proven excellent drawing cards and the interest in them is growing and the one to be held in December is expected to be the biggest one. The merchants will offer special values for the occasion and the holiday buying will likely be at its best by then.
Following is a list of the winners in the drawing:
Three U. S. Savings Bonds won by Jack B. Clark; Mrs. J. A. Merrill, and Nestar Kitten.

B-25 Formation To Fly Here Friday, 11

In connection with Armistice Day festivities of the Air Force. a formation of eighteen B-25's from Reese Air Force Base at Lubbock will file your Slaton at approximately 11:29 a. m. Friday, November 11. The formation is scheduled to make a complete circle of all the towns within the vicinity of Lubbock.

Marilyn and Betty McSween, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Jay McSween, are visiting in Austin with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McSween.

Have Met 28 Times

Post and Slaton meet November 11, at Post in their annual game at Post. This is the 28th time the two teams have met. The first game was played in 1921. That year two games were played with Post. Slaton came out on top both times that first year.

The first recorded game was played in 1926. The Tigers won over Post that year by a score of 14-12. Slaton won district that year being beaten only by Memphis by a score of 35-0.

The only teams on the plains at that time were—Lamesa, Post. Tahoka, Ralls, Lubbock and Slaton. Slaton and Post were about the same size and Slaton won nearly all the games so that Post began to look forward to a win over Slaton. This is the way the traditional rivalry between the two teams started.

The first Tigers team to invade Post were as follows: Napps, Dawson, Smith, Oliver, J. Burton, Anderson, Burton, Weaver, M. Abel, Florence, Hefner. The first coach for Slaton was W. V. Lemon and the first manager was Bagley.

In the early days Slaton beat Post and all the other class "B" schools so bad that they had to be put in class "A" with Lubbock. Amarillo and Wichita Falls.

The last Post team to beat Slaton before 1946 was in 1928. That year Post won district. From then until 1946 Slaton won every game played with Post.

Some of the scores for the last few years are:

According to Mrs. Lee Green, it has been the custom of Retail Merchants of Slaton and other cities throughout the state to close the doors of their business establishments on four different occasions of the year, November 11, Thanksgiving, Christmas and the Fourth of July, Mrs. Green reports that the majority of the business firms in Slaton will be closed Friday in commemoration of Armistge Day.

The Question Of The Week

Now that we have thoroughly grhausted our school resources, we have weakened and returned to asking stlly questions of some of the less serious-minded Slaton citizens. However, this question proved to be quite a serious mater with some—"What do you do when your husband (or wife) gets angry with you?"

Asked what she does, Norma Lasater says, "Just plain make myself scarce. Hack doesn't get mad often, but when he gets all mad and irritated, we just all leave him alone."

The Week....

would displease him, I managed to too busy getting me in a good mood again." It's worth a try, but isn't anything?

Apparently there are some men who are still nice about the whole a want to make up with their wives enough to do something about it. Asked what he did when his wife was good and angry, Bill Kelley admitted. "Maybe this sounds and irritated, we just all leave I can honestly say I've spent more I can honestly say I've spent more

Bland Tomlinson looked very shocked at the question, and he breathlessly replied, "Why my wife never gets angry with me!" And Mrs. Tomlinson verifys the remark somewhat by explaining. "I see that the never home look through the new mad at him."

J. M. Anthony, a friendly man

mad at him."

J. M. Anthony, a friendly man with both an abundant supply of wit and energy answered the 'What To Do in Case Of Anger problem with this solution, "When my wife is angry she gets over it quick so I just leave home for a few months." But more seriously he said, "To tell the truth, we don't get mad often enough for it to be much of a problem."

Ladies, here's one you'll have to try. Mrs. Jeff Hardin explained that she and her husband had been married long enough now that they don't fuss much, but when they don't fuss much and the word of the more sensitive points.

3. From ten to twenty years, they whow one another well enough to get another husband or wife.

3. From ten to if to be make up with one another.

3. From ten to get answers we drew the following conclusions: "It if the couple has been married from one to five years, they don't fuss much of the more sensitive to ten years, they repreted from one to five years, they said the same and the same and the full try to make up with one another.

2. If they've been married from different as they're pretty in different as they're pretty pretty silly to some people, but I just take her a box of candy; and I can honestly say I've spent more money on candy in the past two years than I should have in a life time." Then the questioning turned to how long Bill had been maried, and he said, "Two years."

Then there are those who are less heartless, J. C. Champion treated the subject without mercy. He says, "What do I do If she's mad enough she doesn't talk, then I'm happy."

From these answers we drew the following conclusions:

'1. If the couple has been maried from one to five years, they still try to make up with one another.

2. If they've been married from

Armistice Day

Today, people of Slaton, and Texas, and the United States will pause from their daily activities to pay homage to those who gave their lives in two great wars that the rest of us might live to enjoy the privileges of peace and democracy.

Our first impulse is, quite properly, to bow our heads in sorrow for the loss of those valiant men who made the supreme sacrifices. We remember Chateau Thierry and the Marne. We remember Guadalcanal, Anzio and Normandy. We sigh and recall that Victory was achieved in both wars, but yet, there is still no true wictory of peace.

Thus it is that no memorial to these men can ever express the honor that is due them, unless it is a living memorial expressed in terms of achieving the principles for which they gave their lives.

A momen't pause once a year, then is not too much the difference of the supplies to the principles for which they gave their lives.

A momen't pause once a year, then, is not too much. And if in that moment we all resolve to strive unceasingly for adherence to the democratic principles for which our soldiers died, and if we practice those principles, without compromise, without relaxation, then perhaps we shall have given purpose to their supreme sacrifice.

Many Slaton merchants will be closed in observance of this Armistice Day, 1949. People who have not done their shopping earlier in the week may do their week end purchasing Saturday when all those business establishments who were closed today will again open.

SPENCERVILLE, IND.— The largest bank swindle in the history of the country, in relation to total deposits, has brought indictments against Clyde Rectenwall, 65, cashier of the bank, here, since 1914. Two local residents and three out-of-town depositors are also accused of drawing checks on inadequate bank accounts. The bank had 900 depositors and total deposits of $675,000, but somehow some $350,000 has seeped out of the bank in the past eight years. Rectenwall is shown as he leaves the Federal Building at Ft. Wayne, Ind., followed by Denuty U. S. Marshall Charles Boudt.

This marks the all-important and crucial game with the Post Antelopes. Post-Slaton games are looked forward to each season with a great deal of interest by football players and fans alike, and it's always a matter of "may the best team win."

Past records show that the boys from Slaton have held the edge in victories down over the years, but this is the first time in four years that the Tigers have had the opportunity to meet Post where a win would really mean a great deal to both teams. They are now dead-lorked for first place in the district race, and the winner will more than likely get to meet Littlefield's Wildcats of the north half for the championship. The Wildcats are currently leading that race, with little possibility of getting knocked out of the running.

Post went through the entire race, with little possibility of getting knocked out of the running.

—o00—

Post went through the entiro season last year without a defeat and advanced to the regionals, where they lost to a Phillips eleven. This year they have suiferenthree defeats, and those were at the hands of Floydada's Wairrinids, Levelland's Lobos, and Crosbyton's Chiefs. Defeats have been handed to Slaton from Floydada, Abernathy and Mulesnoe, and season openers.

—o00—

Early this week local fans as well as Post fans were making ready for today's invasion of the Tiger squad. According to near-by sports writers and local interest shown, this Armistice Day tussle has stirred up the most interest of any high school game to be played in these parts this year. Lots of people are remaining in the middle of the road, but you can bet that followers here will say that naturally Slaton can win, and probably Post enthusiasis feel the same about their own team.

The season's conference records show that both teams are fairly evenly matched as far as defense and offense is concerned. Post has the better offensive show, with 145 points scored to the opponents 13. Slaton boasts the best defensive record with 76 points and only 12 points scored against them. The Antelopes will be considered as seven to twelve points better than the local team, however.

seven to twelve points better than the local team, however.

—o00—

Many Slaton people who have been lucky enough to secure tickets for the Lubbock Westerner-Odessa Bronco game today will be taking advantage of the holiday to go down there. This will be one of the top clashes in the Double A circuit this week end.

—o00—

With the football season just about over, coaches are now looking forward to the oncoming basketball year. At a recent meeting in Levelland representatives voted to divide the district into two halves, which placed Slaton in the South Half with Post, Tahoka, Seagraves and O'Donnell. The South Will hold a double round robin, giving Slaton a total of eight conference games.

The first game for the Tiger cagers will be held on December 2, at Littlefield. This will not be a conference game, however. Final playoffs are expected to be completed around February 17 and 18.

Have We Advanced Or Just Changed?

Are we of today in much better circumstances than were our parents and will the people of tomorrow be in a better position to live a better life than we of today are able to do?

How much more can mechanical implements improve lively conditions and do the people in closely inhabited places have better living conditions than those who live in isolation.

While science has overcome many of the contagious diseases that killed off large numbers of people in the past, diseases caused by neurosis, over stimulation and strain has greatly increased heart trouble, insanity and nerve strains.

There is something to say for what we consider progress, but there is also something worth considering before the entire nation becomes one vast manufacturing center where there would be no place where a person could seek solitude, where the hum of machines and the sound of voices could not be heard.

There are hundreds of towns, acres of packing plants, thousands of miles of railroads and paved streets and roads now where there was nothing but farm land, prairie land and grazing land, when our parents were young, there are hundreds of rivers that are now so polluted with sewerage and chemicals from manufacturing plants, that fish cannot live in them, new problems face us that never faced us before.

Before we of this section invite further development we should stop and consider whether we want to live in crowded cities, have our streams polluted, and live in towns where the intensity of crowded conditions place us where we cannot find a single place to go where we can escape over civilization.

What About The Future Of This Area? . . .

What About The Future Of This Area?...

What does the future hold for the South Plains? With the ever increasing cost of pulling cotton and the steady improvement in mechanical picking equipment it is evident that the cotton pullers are gradually forcing the farmers to go to mechanical means of gathering their harvest.

This of course will likely mean more money in the hands of the farmers, but that there will be a great shrinkage in the number of customers who will come to the stores in the towns over the area. Instead of hundreds of thousands of dollars and to spend the major part of it, there will be a few mechanics to operate the picking machines and that will be all.

There is no great likelyhood of this area becoming a manufacturing section as we do not have the water supply that a manufacturing section as we do not have the water supply that a manufacturing section as we do not have the water supply that a manufacturing section as we do not have the water supply that a manufacturing section as we do not have the water supply that a manufacturing section as we do not have the water supply that a manufacturing section as we do not have the water supply that a manufacturing is perfectly an an advantage of if it should allow the development of manufacturing the plans would be built nearer the source of water supply than in this area and all that Slaton or Lubbock could hope for, at best, would be a high priced source of water.

Some folks who are interested in the development of oil in this area seem to feel that there is a vast supply of oil in this immediate section but this might prove more of a disadvantage in the long run than it would an advantage for when the independent operators get gobbled up by the big companies an oil town suffers and is often worse off than it would have been had oil never been developed near its borders.

The town of Levelland has enjoyed its prosperity longer than most oil towns, Snyder is at present getting a big play but when all the fuss and hullabaloo dies down Snyder may

We here in Slaton are well off now and a steady growth that is able to take care of normal expansion will not cause overexpansion. In five, ten or fifteen years Slaton may prove to be one of the best towns on the South Plains.

We have one of the best towns in Texas right now when it comes to having good old home folks who are interested in its development. We have what is truly a "Home Town" and if we can keep it so, then we will develop in a good healthy way and become a part and parcel of what the future South Plains will develop into and not a "has been town" that used to be on a "boom."

Save Your Energy For Christmas Day

Although Christmas is still nearly two months away, now is the time to start thinking about your holiday shopping. Slaton merchants report that desirable merchandise is still very scarce and hard to get. In order to save yourselves from being shop-worn after tramping over the town on Christmas Eve while looking for just the right gift for your husbands, wives, children, and friends, buy your presents now when you see them in your local stores.

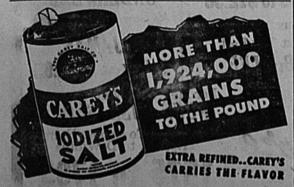

stores. Some people with very large families are extremely hard hit finacially at Christmas time because of the many gifts they must buy at once. If people would start buying their gifts early, the whole Christmas expense would not fall on them at once. Early Christmas shopping would not only help individuals financially and hrip them find the things they want to buy, but it would also help the merchants. Early shopping would give them a chance to replenish their stock in order that those who are perpetually late in purchasing could have something from which to choose.

See The Game; Drive Carefully

Friday many Slaton football fans will be going down to Post to see the traditional game between the Tigers and the Antelopes. And in most cases, these fans will be driving their own cars to the game. Although everyone will be in a hurry to get a fifty-yard line seat, now is the time to stop and take notice of the risks that each of us may take, the risks which could take human lives.

This year thousands of people have been killed and many more have been injured, perhaps crippled for life. And in most cases, as has been revealed in safety reports, these injuries and deaths could have been prevented if drivers had taken the necessary precautions to see that they were not going too fast for the conditions of the roads, or that they were just not going too

In all cases, Texas roads are not the best in the world as has been pointed out in an article in the Oil Progress Edition of the Hockley County Herald. The state would like to design the main roads for better safety conditions, but a project like that costs money and the state is now spending as much as possible on highway construction, the article went on to say.

Automobiles are an important part in our way of life today. So it's up to us to be careful and not injure ourselves and other innocent people. On the way to the game drive carefully and sanely. Watch out for others, as well as the guy behind the car in front.

Junior Play Cast Is Chosen; Date Set

With the date set and the play selected, the Junior class ended first preparations for their Nov. play "Its A Riot," by selecting the cast Oct. 27.

play "Its A Riot," by selecting the east Oct, 27.

Judges who picked the cast were Mrs. W. V. Childers, Mrs. J. P. Nobles, and Miss Ruth Cowart.

Force of circumstance brings two families together under the same roof. The heads of the two families have been bitter business rivals for years, have pretentious homes in which to live, and yet have to spend several days together in the same house. The situation is full of potential hillarity, especially since the son in one family and the daughter in the other are secretely in love.

The cast was selected as: Sherman Bladen, a business man, Bobby Taylor; Harriet Bladen, his wife, Pansy Sloan; Lynn Bladen, the son, Don Kendrick; Bert Larkin, his pal, Bob Norris; Jackie Hayden, an English girl, Shirley Teague; Elmer Jorgenson, the handy man, Everett Hodge; Nancy Tubbs, the house maid, Carolyn Steffens; Ruby Rush, owner of The Elms, Jimmie Hudman; Guy Shelby, a business man, Jerry Huckabay; Janice Shelby, h i s daughter, Maybelle Pember; Perry Trimble, a publicity man, Harley Patterson; Nell Henry. a ranch owner from Texas, Nell Henry.

Mrs. J. B. Caldwell and Alton Gardnre, Junior sponsors, will direct the play.

Clam Chowder Can Be Dynamite!

If Smiley Roberts is a friend of yours, like he is mine, and if you want to keep his friendship, like I do, don't ever let him hear you sa that good clam chowder can be made without cream.

In New England, where Smiley comes from, friendships have been broken over tomatoes versus cream in clam chowder. Experts say that south of Boston the tomato reigns supreme, but north of Boston it's cream-or else!

From where I sit, whether it shou'd have cream or tomatoes is imply a matter of taste. This is plain to anyone who doesn't come from clam chowder country.

from clam chowder country.

What a great world this would be if we could all see that most prejudices are matters of taste only. Some like hot coffee. Some like it iced. Some people like a temperate glass of beer. Others prefer ice-cold lemonade. My grandmother used to say, "Prejudice that sees only what it pleases, cannot see very plain."

LAND OF THE LOST

by A.M.J

a There is as much difference in dogs as there is in people and perhaps more so. In our home we have had a wide variety of pooches and each one has posed a problem. We have had two fox terriors, one could open gates, liked to play with a ball and pushed down every bay that came near her, through some kind of hokus pockus sae knew when we were going out in the car and had hysteries if we did not let her go. The other one was a male and he was a regular jug head, at least that is the way he struck me. He ignored a ball, despised riding in the car, had no use for people except as a supply of food and he finally got out of our back yard and we have never seen him again. Personally I never did like him very much.

We have had two cockers, brothers, one was black, had fleas all over him and we tried everything that the drug store had to kill them, but could do no good. He was a comedian, he stole slockings, shoes, handkerchiefs, he tore around at top speed and bumped into walls, furniture and into people. He did not know a stranger and tried to get into everybody's lab. He was a glutton and would eat anything from onions to sawdust, he could be coaxed to domost anything except keep still, but was as hard headed as a mule if we tried to force him.

His brother is the most timid dog I have ever seen. He will not eat when he is being watched, he will stand for hours to be petted, but say boo at him and he'll run like the devil were after him. Ho ignores a ball and looks like Abe Lincoln must have after the battle of Bull Run.

My wife has always said that she has found her dog.

When I worked in Amarillo there was a Men's Furnishing Store

When I worked in Amarillo there was a Men's Furnishing Store that did a very large credit business and the man who operated it was quite well to do. They had the simplest bookkeeping system I have ever seen and I have often though about how it would work for the Slatonite, but have never gotten up the nerve to try.

All the bookkeeping equipment he had was an expanding file; when a customer bought merchandise he made notations on the back of blank checks, he was not particular as to the name of the bank, filed the notations in alphabetical order and when the customer made payments he made the notation on the slip, when the customer paid up, he tore the slip up, put the money in his pocket and that was all there was to it. We have all of the filing equipment that can be thought of, we check and double check and hunt for a lost penny like a hunting dog for a rabbit, we have stuff filed all over the building and every week we add more to it. What in the world a place like the Avalanche-Journal or the StarTelegram does with all of their accumulations, I have no idea, but if they keep even a part of them there must be several large storage buildings full of nothing but "In answer to your letter of the tenth," and "on your invoice No. 6780-57238 we find, etc."

A publisher of a weekly newspaper I know told me that when he gets his mail out of the Post Office he separates it into mait with three cent stamps on it and the kind with one and two cent stamps. He opens the three cent into the trash can.

This idea sounded very reasonable to me antil I shoved a $50.00 bond into the can. Since then I have opened up every piece of mail I have received, usually get the stuff all mixed up and shove it all into the trash can and then spend hours trying to find the things I intended to keep. It makes no difference what I do it tall seems to get mixed up and shove it all seems to get mixed up and shove it all seems to get sore at folks who use the trash can for a spittoon, when I use it for filing purposes

Folks the cold weather is getting eleser and closer and the first thing you know you are going to wake up some morning; soon with lie all over the ground, with the floor furnace out of fix, the water frozen, your overcoat at the cleaners, your last years longhandles too small for you, the water in the hot water heater will be cold and you'll have to abave, your wife will blame you for it all and you'll have to face a dark and dismal week of course you take my advice so frourse you take my advice.

and get anti-freeze in your car, two new pairs of longhandles, have the plumber come out and check the floor furnace and demand that your wife get down on her hands and knees and regulate the water heater right now.

her hands and knees and regulate the water heater right now.

For months I have been reading the magazines, the newspapers and listening to the radio trying to bring myself up-to-date on the latest sport lingo and endeavoring te figure out what has happened to the different football teams, in fact I have gone so far as to read some of the short stories in Colliers and the Saturday Evening Post with some big football players as the heros.

Results: I am more befuddled than before, the football teams have been having the biggest setbacks of the season, all of the coaches have ulcers, inferior complexes, the squads have taken rugged punshment and none of them ever believe that they can win a game. Most of the players are cripples and the sorriest in the bunch usually grab the ball and run for most of the touchdowns.

From now on I do not intend to read a thing about what happened on the sport page, I'm gonna look at the results on the top of page 1 of the Sunday papers and see which coaches actually told the truth.

Mrs. Edmond Maeker of Wilson, sister of the bride and marron of honor, wore a light pink taffeta dress fashioned like that of the bride, and carried an arm bouquet of white and pink mums. The bridesmaids, Misses Beth Brassfield, Mary Harral, Louise Davidson, and Leonita Tunnell, were gowned in taffeta in shades of dusty manve, sumae, pomenade and vintage. Their arm bouquets were identical to that of the matron of honor. Misses Shirley Ball and Josephine Shephard, both of Slaton, wore dresses of light pink taffeta with white carnation corsages at their waists.

Phyllis Leach 1s Chosen As One Of 16 Tech Beauties

Since deciding last week to change my taste from coffee to tea, I have been doing a little home research in the art of fine tea making. Never before having been a connoisseur of the beverage. I found that brewing hot tea constitutes many problems. The first problem comes upon pouring the hot water over the tea bags, as the bags invariably float on top taking so long to soak up that by the time the tea is about strong enough, the water is cold again. What the tea industry needs is to add metal sinkers to tea bags so they will sink to the bottom of the cup, eliminating the need for keeping them down with a spoon. Once the water is finally colored to the desired strength, another problem raises its ugly head—how to get the water out of the tea bag in order to leave as least a half a cup of tea for the poor sipper.

It's just too much trouble, so I

I was reading in a magazine the other day about humorous slips which are printed in newspapers and I happened to think of one of my most embarrasing verbal slips. A few years ago I was invited to a dinner party, the kind you don't want to go to but can't get out of. The host was the type person who wearies everyone with his dullness and by relating his lite's experiences. He had a favorite Biblical expression which he'd use at the end of every tale he hold. He'd say ,"Well, I just decided to give the ghost up." In the first place it, seemed a bit sacrilegious, and in the second place he misquoted it every time. Finally after the meal was over and everyone was sufficiently bored to death, I glanced at my watch which registerd 11:00 p.m., and decided I might as well break the party up; so I said, "I don't know about the rest of you, but I'm afraid I'm going to have to give up the host." Eevryone except the host realized it was a slip, and the roof came down with laughter. Incidentally, I never had to worry about it again as I was never invited back.

Slaton's Dickson Hatchery was set up in 1935 by N. C. Dickson, father of the present owner, Mr. Ralph Dickson. However, in 1935 the Dickson establishment was primarily a produce store. It was not until two years later that the hatchery was added. The elder Mr. Dickson operated the store up until the time of his death in May, 1946; and in January 1947 Ralph took up his father's duties.

The Dickson Hatchery today not only handles baby chicks, it also sells a complete line of chicken and dairy feeds, insecticides, and almost anything pertaining to chickens. "We also buy cream, eggs, and poultry from nearby farmers which we in turn sell to the market," Mr. Dickson added.

The hatching part of the business is in operation all through the spring and the early summer months. This period is the so called "hatching season." The Dickson Hatchery has a capacity for hatching as many as 52,000 eggs at one time. "We ran full capacity for six months last year," Mr. Dickson pointed out, "And sometime that seems like almost too much," he added jokingly.

What kind of chickens can you get at Dickson's? All kinds. The eggs are bought from local agriculturists from what is called "farm flocks." The flocks are blood tested, culled, and controlled by the Dickson buyers. However, the hatchery has recently set up a private poultry farm which will work in connection with the farm flocks. It will act as a supplementary feeder flock.

For the past two years the Dickson Hatchery has been a member of the International Poulity Association and the Texas Poultry Improvement Association, They also operated under the international improvement plan which supplies representatives to inspect all flocks and the hatchery itself.

It is for this reason that the hatchery cannot afford to take the risk of hatching the eggs of individual customers. In order to safe guard against poultry diseases, all eggs must come from the recognized and approved flocks.

Asked if he hatched for customer or-ders only, Mr. Dickson smiled and said, "Not entirely.' We take many orders, but the others we just go ahead and hatch with the anticipa-tion of selling most of them. So far it's worked out pretty evenly."

Lorenzo's three gins had ginned a total of 3,010 bales of cotton as of October 27. However, due to bad weather most of the week the number of bales ginned was light. Should good weather prevail all next week a large number of bales will be harvested in this area. Seed was selling for $43.00 per ton last week. — The Lorenzo Tribune.

Lettuce harvest continues in Deaf Smith with shipments run-ning a little lighter. Cold weather has not hurt the crop so far to any appreciable extent, as a matter of fact the frost resisting varieties were helped.

Hereford Farms and Aterbury-Beasley, who combined operations to cut shipping cost are sending out 20 to 25 cars a week while Williams Farms are sending out light shipments and will continue to do so for the next week or ten days until the late lettuce comes in, which depends on the weather.
