HOME TOWN TALK

In comparison with other cities that were not making special efforts to obtain the 1932 convention Big Spring was well represented at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting in Lubbock.

But our delegation was "dumb" that is, we had no voice—no band. Fourteen bands kept the Hub of the Plains ringing day and night.

These West Texas Chamber of Commerce conventions are great affairs. Compared with the annual meeting in the organization's earlier years, there is much less "whoopie."

And we agree with him when he declared that this trend indicates the building of a stronger civilization.

To us about the finest thing about the conventions is the opportunity they afford one of meeting old friends and making new ones.

The policy followed by Fort Worth in connection with the W.T.C.C. is very commendable.

While thousands milled in the streets and hotel lobbies, with bands and drum corps and orchestras going full blast, the business sessions were well attended.

You lived from this second until the next. Nothing was certain in those days. But say, prosperity since America hardly ever will see again prevailed. In one Nevada mining camp there were 1,000 miners working steadily making big money. You can imagine how loose everybody was with his money in those days."

Here is THE TRUTH about Ward's Tires!

Montgomery Ward & Co. sells two qualities of tires

THE RIVERSIDE IS OUR FIRST QUALITY TIRE

It is made by one of the largest tire companies in the world. It is built to one of the most stringent sets of specifications in the tire industry. It is one of the best known tires in America. It has been sold by Ward's for nineteen consecutive years. Millions of Riversides are in use today. It is backed by a guarantee without limit as to time or mileage.

Other fine tires equal in quality to our Riversides are Firestone High Speed, Goodyear All Weather and Goodrich Silvertown Cords... but these tires are much higher priced than Riversides. The table at the left gives you a size-for-size price comparison.

Having studied that price comparison there remains only one question for you to ask... "Are Riverside tires really as good as these other tires with which they are compared?" Well, Montgomery Ward & Co. has been in business for sixty years. It is one of the largest and oldest merchandise institutions in the world. It is the originator of the "Satisfaction Guaranteed or Your Money Back" guarantee. It depends for its business not only on tires, but also on some 40,000 other items of merchandise which it wishes to sell to you. Isn't it reasonable to believe therefore that Ward's MUST be telling the truth when it makes these direct statements to you?

RIVERSIDES Compare

Here are some leading makes of tires that are similar in quality to WARD'S Riversides—and the published list prices:

SIZE	WARD'S RIVERSIDES (4-ply)	Firestone High Speed Goodyear All Weather Goodrich Silvertown
29x4.40/21	$4.95	$ 7.05
30x4.50/21	5.49	7.85
28x4.75/19	6.48	8.55
29x5.00/19	7.00	9.15
30x5.00/20	7.10	9.40
28x5.25/18	7.90	10.55
31x5.25/21	8.55	11.40
29x5.50/19	8.90	12.00
30x5.50/20	9.00	12.50

SIZE	WARD'S RIVERSIDES Heavy Duty (4-ply)	Firestone Gum-Dipped High Speed Goodyear Heavy Duty Goodrich Heavy Duty Goodrich Silvertown (6-ply)
29x4.40/21	$ 7.15	$10.10
30x4.50/21	7.40	10.80
28x4.75/19	8.30	11.15
29x5.00/19	8.90	12.25
30x5.00/20	9.10	12.60
28x5.25/18	9.40	13.50
31x5.25/21	10.25	14.75
29x5.50/19	10.95	15.20
30x5.50/20	11.10	16.10
32x6.00/20	11.80	17.00
32x6.50/20	13.10	20.40
35x7.00/21	16.70	22.75

THE TRAIL BLAZER IS OUR SECOND QUALITY TIRE

It is of the quality similar to such other nationally known "second line" tires as Firestone Oldfield, Goodyear Pathfinder, and Goodrich Cavalier. And it, too, sells for LESS than other second line tires... as the table at the lower left indicates.

This combination of quality-with-lowest-price which is offered by Ward's seems to have made some of our competitors very envious (especially Firestone dealers) so they are making and publishing misleading and inaccurate statements about "Mail Order" tires. But they do NOT compare their first quality tires with our Riversides... and their second-line tires with our Trail Blazers... for they know that to do so would immediately indicate how very much lower Ward's tires are priced. So these alarmed competitors have, cunningly enough, priced their "second-line" tires at exactly our first quality Riverside prices... and then they print incomplete comparison tables which are intended to make people believe that their prices, quality for quality, are the same as ours. Well, they are NOT! (See tables at the left.) And the chart directly below shows how Ward's Trail Blazers compare in quality as well as in price with other nationally known second-line tires. Will you please compare the specifications and the prices?

Trail Blazers Compare

SIZE	WARD'S Trail Blazer	Firestone Oldfield Goodyear Pathfinder Goodrich Cavalier
29x4.40/21	$4.55	$4.98
30x4.50/21	5.15	5.69
28x4.75/19	5.95	6.65
29x5.00/19	6.30	6.98

Not all sizes have been listed—but enough to give an idea of how prices compare. And by the way, Ward's prices are even LESS when you buy in PAIRS!

Ward Tires are made by one of world's largest tire companies!

8 WAYS TO COMPARE TIRE VALUES

This Table lists the eight comparisons that were made (Six FIRSTS for Ward's Trail Blazers) And Trail Blazers are also the lowest priced.

4.50-21 Tire	Ward's Trail Blazers	Firestone Oldfield	Goodyear Pathfinder	Goodrich Cavalier
Non-Skid Depth	.250 In.	.250 In.	.218 In.	.190 In.
Tread Thickness	.390 In.	.343 In.	.328 In.	.367 In.
Thickness of Tire	.625 In.	.593 In.	.558 In.	.500 In.
Width	4.713 In.	4.747 In.	4.768 In.	4.742 In.
Strength of Carcass	1714 lbs.	1655 lbs.	1256 lbs.	1418 lbs.
Strength of Tread Stock	4170 lbs.	3490 lbs.	3160 lbs.	4165 lbs.
Outside Diameter	30.765 In.	30.765 In.	30.796 In.	30.664 In.
(List Price)	$5.15	(List Price) $5.69	(List Price) $5.69	(List Price Usualy) $5.65

WEIGHT AS A MEASURE OF TIRE QUALITY IS NOT INCLUDED IN THIS TABLE FOR TWO REASONS:

- 1st, Because no two tires of the same brand and size weigh exactly alike, and
- 2nd, Because quality of rubber and cotton fabric used, rather than the compounded weight after being mixed with other ingredients is the determining factor. Reclaimed or second hand rubber weighs more than new rubber. Tires containing a large percentage of second hand rubber, therefore, weigh more than those made entirely of new rubber—even though the tires are exactly alike in size—so "Weight as a standard by which to measure tire quality MEANS NOTHING."

I have personally examined the specifications of the four tires described above and hereby certify that I know these specifications to be exact, accurate and devoid of prejudice.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 9th day of April, 1931 at Chicago, Ill.

George B. Smith, President, MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.

All Is Not Gold
RENO is discovering with something skin to amazement that his new divorce isn't all beer and skittles.

Under the old law requiring three months' residence merchants and apartment house owners realized a great profit on the visitors. Under the new law, requiring only six weeks' residence, the divorce-seekers come and go so fast that trade languages and rentals are cut in half. The wealthy woman who found it necessary under the three months' clause to replenish her wardrobe is now able to live out her
"sentences" without that necessity.

So it may come to pass that Reno will have to depend more and more on a quick cleanup. Houses of vice gambling dens and other sources of community revenue may be expected to reduce their activities.
If Reno goes flat broke it will leave the rest of the nation cold.
In spite of gangster movies, indecent stage plays, talk of sin parties, loose sex relations, the heart of the nation is still fundamentally sound.
The decent people are still in the majority, and public opinion is still something to be considered.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Republicans and the Tariff

Christian Science Monitor:
IT IS unquestionably a tactical blunder for the Republicans at Washington to rush, as they have,
to the defense of the Hays-Smoot Tariff Act against the criticisms expressed by the International Chamber of Commerce. Several prominent Republican senators and representatives now in Washington have denounced the chamber's appeal that
'all nations should unite in an effort to remove all unjustifiable restrictions in such a way as to make appear that the Republican party stands ready to claim ownership of the tariff law and to condemn assaults upon it emanating from any sources. While Chairman Fess has not spoken up to this moment, the press describes certain of these utterances as 'dramatic' from Republican headquarters.

Only an incapable observer of American public opinion can fail to see that dissatisfaction with this law is almost as great within the borders of the United States as it is among the people of foreign nations seeking to enter the American market. In financial circles the feeling is widespread that the stringent limitation put by it upon the importation of foreign goods has had much to do with the continuance of the business depression abroad
which in turn has caused so much trouble in the volume of the United States' exports.

Leading American industrialists seeking to develop foreign markets hold to the same view. As for academic students of economic conditions, they ascribe to the United States tariff, as at present formulated, almost a major influence upon the depression from which the United States is common with others, is suffering. In common with others, it is suffering. In common with others, it is suffering.

The tariff law has its defenders.
That goes without saying. But the defenders are almost to a man politicians in active political life. There are few great figures in the financial or industrial life of the nation who will come to its defense. When no time-honored and veteran advocates of the protective tariff as general attorneys find it necessary to condemn the present law, it should, at least lead some of its political defenders to consider whether they may not be in error.
Certainly the open and notorious dissatisfaction with the law among the masses in the United States
justifies the assertion that it is bad politics for leading Republicans to commit their party as an organization to its unqualified defense.

and it would not have been made a law. A good many leaders in the opposition party now deplore the part that certain of its representatives in the house and senate played in its enactment. They would be happy enough to lay full and undivided responsibility for it upon the threshold of the Republican organization.
And apparently it is to be the policy of the leaders of that organization to help them in this ridding themselves of a very heavy political liability.

Not internationalists alone, but all open-minded students of economic conditions will look with a good deal of friendly interest upon the utterances of the international chamber concerning international tariffs, reparations, silver, and the debts. The one of these issues which is likely to become involved in domestic politics in the United States is that of the tariff. It may be doubted whether the Republican party will contribute to its own downfall if it adopts an attitude of thick-and-thin defense of a law which is widely unpopular in the United States.

HOW'S your HEALTH

COOKED FOODS
The discovery of fire was one of the great achievements of prehistoric man. Fire gave him mastery over beasts and over cold. Fire enabled him to mould metals into useful tools and weapons.

Fire also enabled man to predigest
his food. For cooking is essentially predigestion, outside of the stomach and intestines.

Most foods are made more disgestible by cooking, and certain foods, such as, for example, rice or potatoes, cannot be eaten raw. Cooking renders meat more tender by softening and breaking up the connective tissues. The constitution of meats in particular is changed and its flavors improved.

Cooking also sterilizes food and renders it safe for eating. Methic-illitis considered cooking the greatest sanitary innovation ever introduced to protect man against infection.

Most of the germs which affect man are easily destroyed by heat.
Hence fire is truly a great purifier in the cook-pot. There are many advantages, therefore, to cooking
but also some slight disadvantages.

The principal disadvantage in cooking is the destruction of certain vitamins. There is also some slight loss of mineral salts
and some of the nutritive elements of the food, but these disadvantages are insignificant compared to the advantages.

The destruction of vitamins by cooking may be overcome by regularly including fruits and vegetables in the diet.
Vitamins A and C are particularly liable to destruction by heat.
Vitamin A may be readily supplied through butter, milk and cod-liver oil. Vitamin C is found in raw canned or dried tomatoes, fresh raw cabbage, spinach and in lesser quantities in milk.

Mad Pursuit

BY JESSIE DOUGLAS FOX

SYNOPSIS: The restless life of the unsuccessful artist, Julian Lake, has deprived his motherless daughter, Nora, of the home stability she craves. So she tells him in opposing his decision to desert the Italian villa they are occupying rent-free. Her dis- may when he urges her to wed the painter, Nicholas Thayer, their guest, heightens her dislike for this man, a brother of the Jonathan Thayer whose charm for her has lasted since a meet- ing five years before. Nicholas' displeasure her by abruptly re- voking his plan to leave their house, but she is moved to pity when he cuts his hand painfully opening the blind. Telling her- self she never wants to see him again, she is nevertheless trou- bled as he packs his things to de- part.

Chapter 4
A YOUNG LADY
DESPITE her feeling against Nicholas Thayer, Nora stood thoughtful for a moment considering the 'daisy' gash beneath his thumb. Then she went over to the desk and began to write with a creaking pen.

"Have that cut looked after,"
she struck the piece of paper on slim balustrade where he would be sure to see it as he left.

Then she caught up her hat and crushed it down over her hair. She let herself out through the rusty gate on to the winding road that led down into Florence.

Perhaps if she walked very fast,
Nora thought, she could forget Nicholas Thayer. But Florence was made for loitering and she found herself wandering along the pavements of the Lungarno, stopping to lean on the parapet to watch the fishermen holding their long nets up.

had never seen Mrs. Nevers before with such real pleasure.
"You've saved my life," she laughed. "I've run up a bill in the pastry shop and I can't pay for it.
Oh, one lira will be loads."

Mrs. Nevers went in and settled the small total at the desk; then she stood beside Nora's table a moment.
She was a fair woman, thin almost to the attenuation, dressed with elegance. She was one of those smart unsatisfied women that Nora had met before, always eager for any new sensation. She suggested a Venetian goblet that might hold nothing more dangerous than acid white wine.

The long gold earrings that she always wore, calmed on her pale cheeks as she talked.
"Did you come back sooner than you expected?" Nora asked, her heart sinking as she realized that the tenure of the Villa-Rosa was over.
"Was so bored," Mrs. Nevers smiled. "You make me feel quite diminutive. What a long-legged creature you are!" she said, eying
Nora coolly, "a young Diana!"

But it was said with a twist of the lips as though Diana were a many uncounted young woman who might better roam her fields than venture into city streets.
"I'll tell Julian. And you shall have the villa at once."
"No, I wouldn't think of disturbing you!" Mrs. Nevers said. "How is your father? Working, I suppose at his wonderful pictures?"

Nora felt her cheeks begin to redden. She could see her father lying in bed, smoking incessantly
as he turned the pages of "Don Quixote."
"I wonder if you appreciate, my dear, how lucky you are to have such a charming man for a near relation?"
Nora knew that Helen Nevers

did not like her. Mrs. Nevers could never like anyone younger or fresher than herself; she longed to revenge herself on any girl for her own lost youth.

Nora desired she must tell her father Mrs. Nevers had returned.
And she was afraid. She was afraid of their future, afraid of her father's secret plans. There was only one way that Nora knew of outwitting fear and that was to purge recklessly toward it. She ran toward the tram.

She went in through the gate of the villa some 20 minutes later and pushed open the door. How silent the whole place was! Its loneliness pressed against her heart. The apartment was ablaze with sun. Nicholas Thayer was walking up and down. His face looked flushed and feverish and he brought his eyes
to her as though she were a stranger.
"What's the matter?" she asked.
"It's my beauty!" he said.

"Let me see it!" she demanded.
"Here's nothing to see," he laughed, "but it's been acting up like the deuce."

NEEDLE IN HAND 4 YEARS
NEW CASTLE, Pa. (INS)—
When, four years ago half a needle entered the hand of Mrs. S. S. Rigby, medical men who treated her said they were unable to extract the steel silver and advised her to leave it alone and await future developments. While attending church services recently, Mrs. Rigby felt something pricking at her wrist. Looking down, she saw that the needle had worked its way to the surface of the skin again. A friend with the aid of a pair of pliers pulled it out for her.

FOR CALENDAR CHANGES
WASHINGTON (INS)— The
movement to change the calendar is gaining momentum, according to its proponents.
One plan is to divide the year
into 13 months, four weeks in each month, to be known as the International Fixed Calendar. Its backers say it would simplify all forms of bookkeeping, because the day would come on the same day
and date each month, thereby eliminating the leap year and other short and long months. Each year would have the same number of days, 364. Another plan, called the World Calendar, would retain the present 12-month year and endeavor to eliminate the existing irregularities.

Of course... you can get along without Twin Ignition ... but you don't get along so well
You could, if necessary, see with one eye. You can drive with one hand. Two make a better job of it.
The same applies to Twin Ignition. People who drive the Nash Twin Ignition Eight-80 or Eight-90 (16 spark plugs, 16 firing points, instead of 8) have a distinct advantage over cars still using single ignition. The gasoline mixture is burned more quickly and more completely.
By engineering test, the same motor with Twin Ignition instead of single ignition, produces 22% more power, 5 more miles per hour top speed and 2 extra miles of travel from a gallon of gasoline.
Of course, you can get along without Twin Ignition. But we say, and these cars will prove it, that you don't get along so well!
Just compare the pep, power, smoothness and gasoline consumption of the Nash Eight-80 or Eight-90 with cars of the single ignition type at the same price, and you'll agree with us and with Nash owners, that here is a most desirable improvement.
Buy no car today until you have made this interesting comparison. We will gladly arrange a demonstration. Just phone... we'll send a car.

Senior Play Is Rated Energetic Peppy Success

By RALPH HOUSTON

"Fowl Play," a three act college drama, served the high school senior class of 1931 as a vessel for displaying the dramatic abilities of its members when it was presented to a large and appreciative audience in the school auditorium Friday evening.

Though it had none of the possibilities for characterization of an O'Neill or a Shaw play, or even those of the offerings of a hundred more humble playwrights, it radiated the same vigorous and youthful atmosphere of collegiate fraternity, love, and athletics which has meant success for dozens of movies and equal numbers of stage performances in the lull between the production of world plots and the rise of gang land themes.

Play of Atmosphere

It was, indeed, a play of atmosphere rather than of characterization and the never falling interest in the last and greatest grid iron contest of the season were in abundance. Twice was the living room of the Fraternity House, the setting for the play, filled with a group of wildly yelling students who were conducting a pep rally in preparation for the game, on the first occasion, and, on the second appearance, were sounding a grand finale to the victory achieved a few minutes previously on the football field.

The second act brought the audience a popular vocal number, "He-Hum," from the Siwash College Glee Club. Lucille Rix, Evelyn Merrill, Francis Sheffer, Rose Mary Duff, Carmen Simpson, Vera Donahoe, Mary Gene Dubberley, and Valera Slich, wearing white sport dresses and blue ties, formed the chorus.

Versatile Bob Kidwell

The versatile Bob Kidwell was perhaps the outstanding character for the evening, acting the part of the fraternity president in an all but perfect manner and assuming in the third act the role of radio announcer broadcasting the game. Electrical arrangements made through the help of Seth Parsons and Texas Electric Service Co., made the broadcasting very realistic.

Particularly well casted was Brownie Henshaw, Siwash's athletic idol who was in a good way to enjoy the game from the bench because of a ban placed on his fraternity when two of its pledges were accused of unlawful appropriation of some prize hens for the annual initiation dinner.

Louise Hayes, Lucille Bishop, and Melva Gene Handley held the leading female roles.

Joy returned to Siwash when Miss Hayes in the part of a frosh with detective inclinations brought pressure to bear on the combination William comedian, Lawyer Shinsburg, acted by Nathan Orr, to make him clear the fraternity of suspicion and let its athletes into the game in time for a last minute rally and victory.

The cast of characters was as follows:
Cluek: Fraternity President—Bob Kidwell.
Harris Star Football Player—Brownie Henshaw.
Bakely, Harris' Friend—Tommy Hutto.
Burdoughs, A Fraternity Brother—

Four High School Favorites Whose Names Were Selected By Vote Of Student Body

BILL FLOWERS DELBERT ROGERS

MARY GENE DUBBERLEY ZILLAH MAE FORD

The 1931 High School annual, "El Rodeo," which came off the press and was distributed to the students this past week, is a clever, modernistic book that is a credit to the school and the members of the staff.

It uses color on the inside pages for the first time; a delicate shade of pancy and deep ivory in the art pictures at the front of the book and repeated on the borders and frontispieces of the successive sections. The modernistic scheme of tall buildings, dirigibles, airplanes, speed machines, borders the pictures of the buildings in the art section. Each section has a picture representing the progress of the four classes.

An unusual fact about the annual is that every member of the staff is an honor student and a member of the National Honor Society.

The pictures of the four favorites shown above which appeared in this number of the El Rodeo, were selected by a vote of the students of the high school and kept a secret until the annual appeared. They represent the most popular students in the school. All are seniors but Bill Flowers, who is a sophomore.

Zillah Mae Ford, one of the favorites, was the competent editor in chief. Robert Kidwell was the efficient business manager. The art work and cartoons, done by Mary Petter, feature editor, deserve special mention; they show unusual ability in a high school student.

The arrangement of the faculty pictures is particularly good this year and reveals the increase of the school system. The group of 100 seniors makes the book look like a college annual, which is high praise for a high school annual.

Assisting Zillah Mae, Robert and Mary were Pauline Melton, associate editor; Jerrill Pickle, sports editor; Polly Webb, class editor; Steve Ford, Jr., assistant business manager; Audrey Davis, assistant business manager; R. V. Jones, assistant class editor.

Frank H. Etter, of the high school faculty, was the sponsor for the annual.

The editor-in-chief and the business manager expressed their thanks to the merchants and advertisers of Big Spring who helped make the annual possible and provided such an interesting arrangement of advertising material for this year's book.

The annual was dedicated to Mrs. Fox Stripling, secretary of the Board of Trustees. This is the first time an annual has been dedicated to a member of the board.

You know that if the manufacturer of that substitute product had discovered a method whereby he could produce equal quality at reduced prices, he would be eager to advertise this fact convincingly and greatly increase his sales.

You know that you could not buy, say your present car, at the price you paid unless it was produced by mass production.

You know that mass production is possible only by advertising the merits of the product to millions. Also that high quality and low cost can be maintained only through continued mass production made possible by continuous advertising.

You know that advertising does not increase, but decreases prices and adds extra quality never before possible. To illustrate how little advertising costs, a well-known brand of breakfast food costs $0.15, and the cost of advertising each package is only $0.003 (one-third of 1c). If an unadvertised substitute contained the same quality it would cost at least $0.20.

You know that a cake may be baked with cheap ingredients and still be made to look just as good as if only the best of everything had been used. But when such a cake is cut and tasted, the difference is discovered. The catch is that the cake is bought and carried home before that difference is discovered. Just so are all substitutes whose claims are "just as good and cheaper."

Beware of unknown substitutes, for you don't know how they were made nor the quality of their ingredients. Be guided by known, advertised brands, for they always give you the highest quality at the lowest prices.

Lilyan Tashman Sets Styles For Blondes In "Millie"

Strong Cast Will Appear With Actress

'Money Not Only Necessary To Well-Dressed Woman,' She Says

Lilyan Tashman, who will be seen as "Helen" in Radio Pictures' "Millie" at the Ritz Theatre, today, Monday and Tuesday, sets the styles for blondes in Hollywood and many other cities of the country.

Since her entrance into motion pictures from the New York stage she has been known as the "best dressed woman in screenland."

Black is one of her smartest colors. She also shows to advantage in white, gray or beige. Neutral shades are most becoming to her. Her figure demands simplicity in line with very little trim.

In evening gowns Miss Tashman prefers form fitting gowns that suggest the figure without exaggerating it.

"I have my dresses designed in Paris and Hollywood. Whenever I find a design that I like, that is where it comes from," she says. "The actual work of making the dress is mostly done in Hollywood."

In "Millie" Miss Tashman wears several evening gowns and negligees, also two street outfits—all made especially for her from exclusive designs.

In discussing the well dressed woman Miss Tashman says that nearly every woman can develop a taste and knowledge of clothes if she devotes time to it. "Money is not the only necessity to the well-dressed woman, in fact, some of my most beautiful gowns are the most inexpensive. Style and becomingness are more important than the cost of the cloth."

Miss Tashman is one of the featured players in "Millie." The other members of the cast include Helen Twelvetrees, Robert Ames, Joan Blondell, John Halliday and James Hall.

LONG VACATION

For years John Halliday has made it an iron clad rule of his life to take a three months' vacation each year and his sensational success since entering talking pictures a year ago is not going to break it. Immediately upon the completion of Radio Pictures' "Millie," the Charles R. Rogers production of Donald Henderson Clarke's famous novel, he sailed for Europe.

Clarence Bledsoe and Merle Huford, two football halfbacks, are the fastest dash men on the University of Washington track team.

Romantic Comedy Role Is Taken By Light Opera Star

Evelyn Laye, English light opera star in "One Heavenly Night," an original romantic comedy by the celebrated novelist, Louis Bromfield, will come to the Queen Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. The scene of the dramatic love story is laid in Budapest, where Fritz, the darling of cabaret patrons in the night life of the city, has, through her scandalous behavior, incurred the censure of the law, and is banished for six months. Lili, a flower girl, worships Fritz, and is easily induced by the slyger to accept the exile in her stead. How this leads Lili to the Count's castle, and the results of the discovery of the deception is told in frolicsome action, witty dialogue, and tuneful song. Colorful costumes, and a large cast of citizens, peasants, soldiers, swells and police, and the atmosphere of both castle and cabaret are presented in a typically lavish Goldwyn production. Evelyn Laye has the role of Lili, the heroine; the other half of the love action being entrusted to the capable John Boles, who is heard to advantage in a number of selections. Leon Errol, famous stage and screen comedian, has lines and situations worthy of his great talents as a popular actor, while Lilyan Tashman, as Fritz, gives a brilliant performance. The story was adapted to the screen by Sidney Howard, well known playwright, and the musical numbers were composed by Herb Klein Brown and Bruno Granichstaedgen. The production is said to be well worthy of its eminently successful director, George Fitzmaurice.

 Keyser visited Texas from his Missouri home in the early, early days. Then he returned to Missouri, and getting a chance to go scouting for Buffalo Bill, struck out for the bleak and dangerous west.

Opportunity
 "Opportunity abounded on all sides," he continued. "Why, if I'd used any judgment or could have looked into the future, I'd have been a millionaire today. When I first came into Texas you could have had all the land you wanted for 10 cents an acre. In fact, they'd probably have given it to you just to get you into the state. They were trying to build up. They wanted settlers. As far as you could see it was Texas, wide open, not a house for miles and miles. It was the same in Wyoming, Montana, Utah, Nevada, and Idaho. With all the modernism and artificiality of today America never will see the prosperity that existed in those old days. Those opportunities are gone forever. Coming generations cannot realize just what this western country really was back in the 60's, the 70's and even as late as the 80's. If the country keeps filling up and moving west in the next 50 years like it has in the past half century, there won't be a 20-mile acre ranch left anywhere.

"Why look, in some places over Texas now you can see three and

He did not place blame upon such towns for trying to protect their own interests as they see them. Cities Told How To Reduce Rates On Fire Insurance

AUSTIN, Texas, May 16 (INS)—Answering queries from a number of towns and cities, J. W. DeWeese, state fire insurance commissioner, today outlined a plan for towns to follow in order to reduce fire losses and obtain a low rate of fire insurance.

The commissioner outlined six steps which towns should take as follows:

Renovation of ordinances bearing upon fires or fire hazards; appointment of a city fire marshal; erection of city fire prevention boards; a study of state statutes governing fire prevention; procedure under these laws to place them into effect and finally, the development of a well trained personnel within each fire department.

The more important city ordinances, he said, should deal with the city's fire limits; the building ordinance; ordinances providing for cleanliness of streets and alleys; city laws providing for inspection of premises by fire marshals; regulating burning of refuse; and discharge of pyrotechnics. He pointed out that under Texas statutes, the council has the power to prevent and prohibit dangerous fires, fire-places, stove pipes, etc.

Loving County To Be Organized

MENTONE, Texas, May 16 (UP)—Their petition for home rule granted by the commissioners court of Reeves county, 130 citizens of Loving county, the newest domain in Texas, today planned the election of a county seat.

This town of 100 inhabitants has been selected by the county seat of the last bit of unorganized territory in Texas. The rolling terrain of the new county is devoted chiefly to cattle grazing, although development of the wheat oil pool has added to the $3,240,000 estimated wealth of the area.

Loving was created when Tom Green county was divided into a score of smaller units in 1887. It secured a name from Oliver Loving, Texas pioneer who fell mortally wounded in an Indian attack. Until yesterday its government had been administered by Reeves county.

600 Army Planes Gather For Show

DAYTON, Ohio, May 16 (UP)—Six hundred army airplanes took to the air today under one command for the first time in history.

All forces were so combined in order of Brigadier General Benjamin D. Ffolios.

The flyers practiced a variety of group maneuvers which residents of Chicago, New York, Boston, Washington and other towns will see during the next two weeks.

The most spectacular aerial show in the nation's history will parade Sunday. Every ship will take part, forming the parade over many square miles of territory south and west of Dayton and passing in review before General Ffolios.

Aimee Going Home With Poems 'Divinely Inspired' On Trip

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 16 (UP)—Aimee Semple McPherson today was traveling back to California with a new store of courage and poems she said were divinely inspired during her trip around the world.

"It has been wonderful—wonderful," she repeated to 25 members of the Kansas City branch of Angelus Temple, the four square gospel church, who greeted her as the train passed through last night.

The delegation apologized for its paucity in number, and a woman told Mrs. McPherson the crowd would have been much larger but for the refusal of the station master to allow so many to get on the train for fear they would be run over by a locomotive.

Motion Picture Ads Go Underwear Flashes One Better Will Declares

All I know is just what I read in the Moving Picture ads, and say they what an education it is! I thought the underwear ads in the magazines were about the limit in presenting an eye-fall, but these Movie ads give you the same thing without the underwear.

Even I myself appeared in a Nightgown in the Connecticut Yankee, so on the billboards it would add a touch of romantic glamor, to say nothing of a smattering of sex appeal. Mind you, you must let the add have anything, to do with what you see on the inside. You are liable to see the wildest stuff facing you on the billboards, and then go inside and everybody is dressed as equinus—all through the picture. In other words Will Hays has trouble in getting pictures that will live up to the pictures on the ads.

You know in all Latin American Countries, I am speaking of authority as I flew over them at an altitude of sometimes as low as ten thousand feet! In those Countries, if you put a picture on the boards to advertise what you are having inside or if in your wording you say that Miss Millie De Rokum will entirely die on a tight wire, why on the said night Millie better do a mighty good job of stripping or the cash customers will clothe Millie and her management with some seats and chairs, and any other handy article lying around.

Or if it shows a picture of a bull fight and a Matador being gored by an unruly Ox, why the day of the fight, you better have the man gored, or be prepared to be gored yourself. In other words you got to deliver what you advertise. So the big problem of the Movie now is to deliver up to what the Lithographers makers and the add writers have shown on the outside. In other words that branch of the Industry has "Outstripped" the Production end. We just can't seem to get em as wild as they show em on the outside. We got to get wild or people. A lot of these have been out here for years, and they are getting kinder old and tame. There is an awful lot of us out here that just cant arouse the passions in our public like we ought to. And thats why we keep trying to get new blood into this ART.

Then in the Titles of Pictures, there is where its getting hard. They just cant think up enough suggestive Titles to go around. They bring every big Writer out here from New York and England and have them in an Office just thinking all the time on Titles that will lead you to expect you are going to see on the inside about four of the most prominent Commandments broken, right before your eyes. But there is just so many of those Titles, and every Company is fighting to get em. Lou take old plays like "The Old Homestead." Now they are just waiting till they can think up some title for that and then it will go into Production.

A few of the best that have been turned in by the highest priced Writers up to now is "The Old Love Nest," "Home in Name Only," "The Birthplace of Folly," "Devilment Galore Among the Honeyuckles," "What Took Place Under the Old Roof," "The Gal Pays the Mortgage With Body and Soul," "The House is Old but the Carryings on is New and Spicy," "The Gangsters Birthplace as Far as We Know."

So you can see that they are right on the edge of getting something that will combine all these, and give them an inkling of what the old roof has seen take place under it, and then they will start in making it.

The word "Hell" while generally frowned upon as conversation in the grammar grades, has been literally pounded upon by the Movie Title manufacturers, and they have just about "Helled" everything to death. They have pictured the Doorway, the stage Entrance, and every part of Hell, till Hell has just got so it dont mean nothing anymore but another word in a title. Putting the word Hell on the billboards and expecting to scare up any excitement among the prospective victims any more is just blowing up. Course any old friend Will Hays still insists that Virtue triumphs, but they keep making you more and more doubtful right up to the end, in fact most of them hold it back till after the final fade out. And I have seen some of em lately where it looked like it was still in doubt as to whether it triumphed or not.

Thats called "Subtlety." All the Writers try to be what they call "Sophisticated" or "Subtlety." That means nobody knows what you are talking about and dont give a D— about nothing. You are both bored but you have to do something till somebody mixes another cocktail. We are getting a lot of those kind of Talking plays now. Titles that if printed on the old silent screen would have got the "Rawsberry" now are considered smart for they apply to nothing and mean less.

I saw one the other night called "Kiss and Leave each Other Flat." It was so subtle that it didnt say whether you can leave em flat physically, or financially. They call em drawing room plays, women with nothing on their minds eat em up kids has em, and old men sleep right through em. They had em on the stage till they ruined it. So between "Subtlety" and Gangsters we have run the old Cowboy trying to save the sheriffs daughter right back to the dairy farm. No modern child would want to learn how to shoot a 45 Colt. He wants to know how to mow em down with the old Browning Machine Gun, but we will live through it, and come out with something worse. We al ways do. So we better make the most of this while its here. (Copyright 1931 by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Blankenship Corrects Mistaken Impression Concerning Tax Officer

In order to clear an impression that two additional employees have been added to the office of the Big Spring Independent school district tax office, W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of public schools, issued a statement Saturday.

"It was erroneously announced by school officials," he declared, "that Mrs. D. H. Reed and Mrs. J. H. Dillard, who have been on leave of absence, would be in the tax office next year. The list we issued should have stated that these two teachers would be on the teaching staff next year."
