Sanitary Laws Are Being Broken Say Inspectors Of Conditions

Due to the fact that a good many complaints have come into the Sanitary Department office concerning outdoor toilets, an inspection is being made by Dr. W. E. Payne, City Health officer, Mayor Wootton and F. C. Davis, water superintendent. They report that they have found a number of instances where the city ordinance is being broken concerning outside toilets.

Mr. Davis said that there is an ordinance that requires all buildings that are being used for residential purposes, to have sewer connections, if within 150 feet of a sewer line, and if not, all toilets must have septic tank connections.

Dr. Payne reports that while there have only been a few instances found where the laws concerning sewage connections are being broken there is a very grave risk to the health of the citizens of Slaton and that if the conditions are not corrected that epidemics of many kinds could result.

Mayor Wootton said that he hopes the people who have toilets that are not up to the city specifications will make proper adjustments, if they do not, said the Mayor, we will have to take steps to make them.

Local Officers Recover Auto

About one o'clock Monday morning, Mr. J. E. Todd and Mr. L. N. Bartley recovered a stolen automobile for the Snyder Police Department. The car, recovered at S. 5th and Division Sts., was driven by Ivory Rose, a negro, who had stolen it in Snyder Saturday night. Sgt. Somerville of the Snyder Police Department picked up the car at 4:00 A. M. Monday. It was Mr. Bartley's first night with the local police department.

SURGERY PATIENTS

Patients undergoing major surgery in Mercy Hospital this week were Mrs. F. Elmore, Fort Worth, Mrs. Charlie Walton, Slaton, and Mrs. Mike Custer, Slaton.

Week's Question

Local People Hold Differing Opinions On Crime In Area

Much newspaper space and radio time has been taken up throughout the nation recently with crime probes and investigations. Indictments and the uncovering of organized crime rings and syndicates, as well as the realization that widespread narcotics peddling exists in this country have been the result. Another conclusion of these investigations has been that there is a general increase in criminal activities in many areas.

The slightly divergent opinions of Slaton people on the crime situation in our area show no fear that startling crime situations might exist here. Those answering the question, "Do you think there is organized crime in this section and if so, what should be done about it?" were also asked if they think there has been an increase in the incidence of crime in this section.

Rev. P. J. Burns, pastor of the First Christian Church: "Not as we know of it in the East and North. The incidence of crime here is minor in comparison with larger cities, but the general crime increase is due to the fact that our morals have been lowered because of the difference in emphasis on what we mean by good and bad morals. It centers from weakening of American homes. Good homes make for better morals and less crime. American families have delegated most of the activities that belong in the home to outside agencies. A good home is the basis of a good civilization and when the home weakens that weakens the society." Mr. Burns believes a remedy would be to make homes more church centered, to teach the Bible in the home, and to give the home first place in all our activities.

Mr. Charles D. Yates, Constable, Precinct 2, Lubbock Co.: "Maybe around Lubbock, but not here." Mr. Yates says Amarillo has always been crime headquarters for this section. He cited a number

Safe Damaged In Cotton Offices

Harry Bryant reported this week that his cotton office on N. 9th street was broken into sometime between Saturday night and Tuesday morning and that his safe has been severely damaged.

The Bryant office has been broken into at least ten times within the past three years, said the cotton man, and although there has been only minor damage done in most of the raids, his records have been disarranged and much inconvenience caused.

The raid made over the weekend was the most serious and the safe will cost considerable to have repaired. "We believe that two or three boys must be making the raids," said Mr. Bryant, "and I will personally give a ten dollar reward to the person who will give me, or the officers, information leading to the arrest of the culprits."

The officers are on a close watch for whoever has done the damage and they hope to put them under arrest at an early date. They are keeping a closer watch on the Bryant office.

The boys must be looking only for money believes Mr. Bryant for they have not tried to take other property.

Recruiting Officer Here Every Tuesday

Sgt. C. G. Stroud, of the Lubbock Army Recruiting Station, will continue to be at the City Hall every Tuesday from 9:30 until 11:00 a. m. and is accepting application for recruits into all branches of the army and air force for men and for women into the Waes or Wafs.

There is information available from Sgt. Stroud concerning the advantages of volunteering into the service and he is always glad to answer all questions about the service.

Mrs. Neal Hallmark and daughters, Dina and Nancy, of Okla. City have been visiting Mrs. Hallmark's mother, Mrs. C. L. Parks, this summer.

American Legion Post Elects New Officers Monday

At the regular meeting of Luther Powers Post No. 438, The American Legion, on Monday night, July 9, 1951, the following officers were elected for the coming year:

R. C. Patton, commander; Sam N. Gentry, 1st vice-commander; Claude S. Cravens, 2nd vice-commander; Clifton N. Cox, adjutant; Phil Brewer, finance officer; Paul G. Meading, historian; Everett Robertson, sgt.-at-arms; Dan W. Liles, chaplain; Nat Heaton, judge; Henry Jarman, mess officer and Raymond Johnson, service officer.

The new officers will be sworn in and take office at the next meeting of the Post, Monday night, July 23, 1951.

Slaton Softball Team Wins Games

The men's softball team, the Slaton Tigers, has played six games and won four this season. On Tuesday of this week they defeated Bell Ice Cream of Lubbock 14 to 7. Thursday they play Architectural Stone of Lubbock at Roosevelt. They would welcome any Slaton fans who would care to come out and watch the games. There is no charge. All games will be played out of town until some arrangement is made for lights here. The games are being scheduled at Roosevelt every Tuesday and Thursday. The boys would like to play the tournament at Slaton and are hoping some interested group will do something about the field.

Manager Bill Wiley says they are ready to give Slaton a good time if Slaton will give them a place to play.

Scout Troop No. 28 Gets Free Trip

Boy Scout Troop No. 28, sponsored by the Christian Church will leave for Carlsbad Caverns on Tuesday, July 17 and will return Thursday. The group will include about 25 boys, the Scoutmaster, Rev. P. J. Burns, and the Assistant Scoutmasters, Cliff Cox, and Carl Lewis, Jr. It will be a free trip for the boys.

Travis Irons Is Accident Victim

Funeral services were held at four p.m. Thursday afternoon for Travis Irons, who died in an accident near Amarillo on Wednesday at 12:15 a.m. Details of how he met his death were not determined. He was 48 years of age at the time of his death. He had been a Slaton resident for 27 years.

Services were held in the Slaton Church of Christ, Andy Burks, minister, officiating.

Survivors include his wife; two sisters, Mrs. Uris Paogue of Sulphur Springs and Mrs. G. E. Palmer of Beaumont and a brother, Ernest, of Sulphur Springs.

Burial was in the City of Lubbock cemetery under direction of the Williams Funeral Home of Slaton.

J. Terrell Nash Is Prisoner Of War

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Nash received notice Wednesday from the War Department that the name and serial number of their son, Pfc. J. Terrell Nash, was heard on an enemy propaganda broadcast of prisoners in North Korea. Pfc. Nash was reported missing Feb. 12. He was in the Reserve, was recalled in Sept. and had been in Korea since December. His wife and 2 year-old baby live in Seagraves.

Santa Fe Man Suffers Injury

Mr. Ray Miller, Santa Fe Carman, is in the Santa Fe hospital at Albuquerque after suffering a very serious injury while at work July 5. A piece of steel broke off a hammer, went thru his right eye and lodged near the brain. He has lost the sight of his right eye completely. His left eye was swelled so that he was unable to see when he left Lubbock Memorial hospital for Albuquerque, but it was due to severe penicillin reaction and he now has the sight of one eye.

An operation was performed at Albuquerque, but only a small sliver of steel was removed, the larger piece being too deeply embedded. Ray's brother, Clem Kitten, Jr., who saw the X-rays taken at Lubbock, says the steel fragment appeared to be the size of the red tip of a match. The doctors hope to leave this piece of steel in an effort to save the eyeball, but if further infection necessitates another operation, the eyeball will be removed. Mr. Miller will return home in about ten days. Mrs. Miller has been with her husband in N. M. Three of their seven children are with Mr. and Mrs. Clem Kitten, Jr., two with Mr. and Mrs. Tony Angerer, and two with Mr. and Mrs. Royce Hill of Lubbock. Three months ago Mr. Miller broke his heel and had only been back at work two weeks when his eye was injured.

Softball Teams Hold Practice

The Slaton Women's softball teams are still in the process of being organized. There will be no matched games until the teams can get better organized and choose their field managers. Mrs. Jack Berkley, Slaton P. E. teacher, will work with the working girls' team. For the present, members of both teams will meet at the base ball field at 8:30 a. m. Monday thru Friday for work-out and practice.

Girls interested in playing on the business women's and working girls' team may leave their name with Mrs. J. C. Champion, whose phone number is 270, and those interested in playing with the housewives and young girls may call Mrs. W. T. Poulos, No. 368-W, or Mrs. A. T. Wright, No. 37-J. Those attending the daily practice sessions are having a wonderful time. If you are interested in soft ball come out and join them. Everyone is eligible and welcome.

O.P.S. MEN TO TALK HERE

Two representatives of the Lubbock office of O.P.S. will address a meeting of Slaton business men at 8:00 p.m. at the City Hall Auditorium next Monday night, July 16, to explain the regulations on ceiling prices and particularly those pertaining to regulations 7 and 34. W. A. Robertson and L. I. Shaddix will be the men who will explain the price regulations.

Methodist Church To Hold Revival July 18 Thru 29

REV. G. W. FRENCH, JR.

Rev. J. L. Mayhew, pastor of the First Methodist Church announces that the Church's revival will begin July 18 and continue through July 29th. Due to construction work being done on the First Methodist Church, the First Baptist Church has graciously consented for the revival to be held on their church lawn at 255 South 9th.

The evangelist for the revival will be Rev. G. W. French, Jr., pastor of Weatherford Street Methodist Church in Fort Worth. Though a young man, 28 years of age, Brother French has had extensive experience as an evangelist in the Methodist Church. During eight years as a pastor he has held 114 revival meetings in 14 states in the south and southwest, many of them large city-wide campaigns that attracted thousands of people. More than 3,000 people have been converted at altars of prayer under his ministry and more than 1,000 have united with the Methodist Church during these campaigns.

No less a personage than Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, who at the time of his death was Senior Bishop of the Methodist Church had this to say: "All that I know of G. W. French, Jr. gives me full confidence that he will present a well rounded gospel call, free from wildness, yet crowded with a persuasive earnestness."

French makes no apologies for being a preacher of the "old fashioned gospel" and preaches without fear or compromise. He is outspoken in his condemnation of the present day evils of our world. A bitter foe of Communism and Socialism, he feels that America needs not only to guard her military secrets, but needs to discover the SECRET of righteousness.

Brother French is in his fifth year in the city of Fort Worth where he is pastor of one of the oldest churches in the city, located in the heart of the downtown area. The church boasts one of the largest evening attendances at its evangelistic services in the city.

He holds degrees from Southwestern University at Georgetown and Perkins School of Theology at Dallas.

The church at Slaton is sparing no effort to make this one of the most effective revivals in its history.

Born on July 5 to Mr. and Mrs. Victor Reyes, Slaton, Texas, in Mercy Hospital, a girl weighing 6 lbs., 7 ozs.

Born on July 8 to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Matthews, 2610 1st St., Lubbock, Texas, in Mercy Hospital, a boy weighing 9 lbs., 13 ozs.

Born on July 8 to Mr. and Mrs. Milton Piwonka, Slaton, Texas, Rt. 2, in Mercy Hospital, a girl weighing 7 lbs., 11 ozs.

Water users are taking more water than has ever been used in Slaton before, says water superintendent F. C. Davis. All twelve of the city wells are being pumped twenty four hours per day and are pumping nearly 3,000,000 gallons of water every twenty-four hours.

If the dry weather continues and users make heavier demands on the water supply there will have to be restrictions made said the superintendent but if folks will conserve a little there will be enough to meet the demands.

The best way to get the most benefit from watering lawns and gardens said the superintendent, is to wet the ground before noon or after five p. m. when the severe heat does not evaporate the moisture before it can be absorbed into the ground.

Hot ground evaporates the water before it can penetrate said the water superintendent and a great deal of the water is being wasted.

There is no grave danger of a water shortage according to Mr. Davis but there is an abundance of water and a stitch in time saves lots of things.

Area Farmers To Meet In Lubbock

A Soil Improvement meeting for Lubbock County Farmers will be held today, Friday, July 13th at 2 p. m. in the Court Room 3rd Floor Old Court House in Lubbock. Soil packing, lack of humus and soil blowing is quite common on too many farms.

Recommendations and suggestions along with a "Guide For Growing Legumes" and otherwise improving the soil and increasing yields will be discussed. Previous to the meeting all agencies will meet together to present the most feasible plans to solve the problem.

The Board of the Soil Conservation District of Lubbock County planned the program at the June meeting. The Lubbock County Mobilization Committee composed of all agricultural agencies, P.M.A. Committee and Soil Conservation Board of Supervisors will present a long range program of soil building and rotation based on a survey of Lubbock County soils and farming conditions.

The meeting is open to the public, to all farmers and city businessmen as well. Experiment Station findings will be reported. Agencies and others to make short reports on how they can help farmers carry out such a program of Soil Improvement are P.M.A., S.C.S., Extension Service, P.C.A., Farm Bureau, Vocational Agriculture, Veterans Agriculture, Texas Tech College, Farm Home Administration. Time limit will be adhered to so that the meeting can be adjourned at 4 p. m. Exhibits of soil, Legume Seed and Conservation equipment will be on display after the meeting.

Clothing Drive To End This Week

The clothing drive by members of the Methodist Church for Korean children 2 to 15 years of age will close Saturday. They are hoping many more people will come by the parsonage, 355 West Lubbock, with clean, ironed, patched clothing for these suffering children.

The church members learned of the plight of the children thru a local boy, who is stationed in that section of Korea. The clothing will be sent to this Slaton boy and his group's chaplain for distribution.

It is hoped that Slaton people will respond generously to the plea these last days of the drive. Mr. Joe Walker, Sr. and Mrs. J. D. Barry are chairmen of the drive. If you have any questions, you may call Mrs. Barry at 477.

Mrs. Hub Haire of Sulphur is in Mercy Hospital suffering with a throat ailment.

Surveyors were busy Tuesday staking out the site for an oil well that is to be drilled on the Clifford Young irrigated farm 5 1/2 miles Southwest of Slaton. Mr. and Mrs. Young expect operations to begin at an early date.

The location is 2 1/2 miles North-east of the well that is being drilled near Wilson and is just over the line in Lynn County. The land is under lease to the Cities Service but the well will be drilled by an independent driller. Full details of how deep the well is to be dug were not available to Mr. and Mrs. Young but they feel sure that a deep test is to be made.

The well that is being put down near Wilson was reported to have reached the Ellenburger and it was rumored that a showing was found at one point.

Mr. and Mrs. Young have been very active in leasing land in this territory and both are enthusiastic about the possibilities of finding oil near Slaton. "Could be that the well on our place will be the discovery well for this section where there are so many encouraging signs for oil," said Mrs. Clifford Young who gave the information concerning the well to the Slatonite.

"We'll keep you informed on further developments," promised Mrs. Young.

175 Make Claims To S. S. Office

During the first six months of 1951 the Lubbock office of the Social Security Administration has received an average of 175 claims per month for old-age and survivors insurance. This is an increase to about 4 times the figure for the same period last year; according to John G. Hutton, manager of the office.

Most of this increase, Hutton explained, is due to changes made last year in the law, which drastically reduced the requirements for eligibility. Under the new rules payments can be made in many cases after as little as six quarters—in about a year and one-half—in jobs covered by the law.

The new eligibility rule applies to two types of cases:

- (1) Retired workers past the age of 65
 - (2) Survivors of workers who have died since August 1950
- The required six quarters of work may have been done at any time since the law went into effect in 1937 and can be from either steady work or scattered jobs with several different employers.
- One effect of the changes, Hutton pointed out, is that a large number of workers, many well past the age of 65, who were not eligible under the old rules, may now qualify for payments. The majority have already filed applications, but Hutton is certain that there are many in the Lubbock area who have not filed claims and are losing payments.

"We can make back payments for only 6 months," Hutton said, "so that a claim filed now will cover only the months from January on. Any payment which might have been due for 1950 are now lost. If a claim is delayed until August, then January will be lost, and so on, a month lost for each month of delay. For this reason, we urge anyone who believes he may be eligible for payment to get in touch with us at once."

School To Buy Ball Park Lights

At the regular meeting of the Lions Club last Tuesday night, at the Slaton Club House, it was decided to sell all of the light fixtures at Slaton Lions Club Ball Park. The prospective buyer is the Friendship School and their representative is to complete the sale at an early date.

When completed it will relieve the Club, and all of the business men who signed notes for the original purchase of the light fixtures, of all liability.

The fact that the people of Slaton have not supported ball games or other activities at the park made it imperative that the sale be made.

AIN'T NOBODY HERE BUT US CHICKENS

Ain't nobody here at all at the local place of confinement for evildoers. When the Chief of Police was in the other day he said the jail was empty. Mr. Gentry has certain rules and regulations for the tenants at the jail. When he locks them up, he tells them not to use the air conditioner too much, not to play the radio too late at night, and not to use the phone any more than necessary. If he's going to be so "one-way" about it, it's not surprising that law violators pay their fines and get out in a hurry. And since Mr. Gentry's object is not to keep the place occupied he will probably go on being hard to get along with in regard to over use of non-existing modern living conveniences at the Slaton Jail.

Kenneth Louis Melcher, ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Melcher, was in Mercy Hospital last week with a strep throat infection.

First Baptist Church News

A group of Junior and Intermediate boys from the First Baptist Church have been attending the Plains Baptist Assembly Camp, near Floydada, this week. Sponsors taking them were Glynndon Dawson, J. T. Bolding, Jr., and the Pastor. The Pastor, J. T. Bolding, was a teacher on the Camp Faculty.

The First Baptist Church has a Camp House for the first time this year. The cottage consists of two large rooms and a sleeping porch. The cottage was built mostly by volunteer labor, given by men in the church.

The S. S. at the First Baptist Church was well attended last Sunday; 465 were present. The teachers and officers are constantly seeking new ways to improve their organization. The Sunday School boasts an Educational Building comparable to any on the Plains. They are especially proud of the three nurseries. Each nursery is equipped with germicidal lights.

The church opened a Church Library recently and now before and after services there is a group of book lovers seated around the tables or prowling through the books. The library was equipped with books given mostly by interested friends.

Plans are already underway for the Revival which will be held in front of the Educational Building on the lawn.

Richard Conte As Pioneer Doctor

Richard Conte, who gained nationwide attention with his sensitive portrayal of the innocent victim in "Call Northside 777," has another top role as Dr. Alexander Meade in M-G-M's "Big Jack," coming Tuesday at the Caprock Drive-In Theatre.

He portrays a young doctor of the early 1800's who has the vision and courage to perform then unheard-of operations. Hounded by ignorant and superstitious villagers, he is saved from hanging by Big Jack, notorious bandit played by star Wallace Beery.

The two outcasts join forces, the doctor unwillingly accepts protection from Big Jack as a means of furthering his medical experiments. Conte, currently acclaimed for "Cry of the City," first attracted Hollywood attention when he portrayed the playwright in the Broadway show, "Jason."

1851 Southern Church Used As Film Setting

One of the oldest churches in the South was used as a setting in "Intruder in the Dust," M-G-M's film version of the best-seller novel by William Faulkner, coming soon to the Caprock Drive-In.

Producer-Director Clarence Brown, who filmed ninety percent of the story in its actual locale in Oxford, Mississippi, arranged with the vestry of St. Paul's Episcopal Church to photograph the church and its congregation as part of the picture's atmospheric background.

St. Peter's was built in 1851. It was one of a number of Oxford sites used to give authentic flavor to the filming of Faulkner's exciting murder mystery. Other sites used include the Lafayette County Jail, a college professor's home, a cotton farm, a dress shop, a drug store and a lawyer's office.

Claude Jarman, Jr., who won an Academy Award for his performance in "The Yearling," heads the cast of "Intruder in the Dust" as the boy who saves an innocent man from a false murder charge. Also in prominent roles are Davis Brian, screen newcomer who recently scored opposite Joan Crawford in "Flamingo Road," the well-known character actress Elizabeth Patterson, Charles Kemper, Will Greer and Porter Hall. More than five hundred inhabitants of Oxford also make their appearance in the realistic production, playing "themselves."

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Henzler, their son, Junior, and Donny Bill Pohl spent three days last week camping out and fishing at Buffalo Lakes. They caught some three-pound Channel trout and what they call little "polly wogs," catfish weighing about a pound each. There was too much wind for good fishing most of the time, but the group also enjoyed the camping and boating.

Mexican Mission

Twelve from the Baptist Mission attended the Camp for Mexican Baptists near Floydada last week. Their expenses were paid by the Alethean S. S. class in the First Baptist Church.

The mission is growing constantly and people in Slaton should be proud of such a nice place for their friends and neighbors to worship.

The Mission leaders from The First Baptist Church are Mr. J. J. Maxey, Miss Paula Maxey, Mr. Wayne Liles, and until recently Mr. Lile Barry.

LOCAL MAN WRITES SONGS

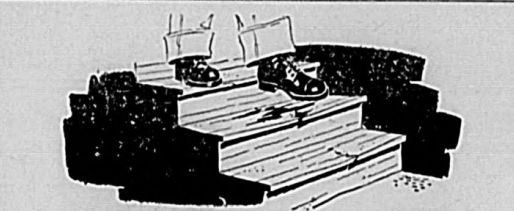

We have talent in our midst. Many people claim to have music in their bones, but usually the only result is an inability to sit still while listening to good music. More rarely the result is ability in the field of music. In one Slaton family this ability is evident in the fields of playing, singing and composing.

One of our Slaton men has written and copyrighted a number of songs. Mr. R. A. Thompson, Sr. has written the words and music to "Bonus Boys", which tells of the World War I veterans who marched on the White House during the Hoover Administration. "Being Very Careful", another of his copyrighted songs, was written when Hitler and Mussolini were overrunning Poland and the other small countries. He has applied for a copyright on "You Can't Fly So High (That You Won't Come Down)" and is working on "My Wife and I".

Mrs. R. A. Thompson has also written the words and music for "Mill Girl", a song about a cotton mill girl, which she is having copyrighted. Mrs. Thompson is an accomplished pianist, and their son, R. A. Thompson, Jr., is a singer.

Mrs. Ed Haddock spent last week in Lubbock with her aunt, Mrs. Bode S. Adams, whose husband underwent major surgery.

Slaton Art Club Holds Exhibit

The Slaton Art Club Exhibit was held at the Club House, with 52 pictures exhibited, plus copper wire, aluminum work, leather work and ceramics and china painting. The pictures, including several by children, were the best selection ever shown by the local group.

Refreshments were served to those who called. The tea table was laid in green and white, with a centerpiece of Marconi Daisies.

SLATON PEOPLE RETURN FROM VACATION TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Norris and Mr. and Mrs. L. Suits of Petersburg have returned from a 15 day trip to Chicago, Ill. They enjoyed good baseball while there. They saw the Chicago Cubs, the Brooklyn Dodgers, and the Boston Braves play at Wrigley Field. Mr. Norris says that Chicagoans insist that it be referred to as "beautiful" Wrigley Field, and he thinks it earns the description. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Suits' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Engle. Mr. Engle, a reporter on the Chicago Tribune, took them thru the Tribune building. They saw all of the sights usually enjoyed by visitors, including the Grant Grounds. The weather was ideal, cool and raining for the trip up and back, and perfect while they were in Chicago.

SLATON ART CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

The Slaton Art Club met in the home of Mrs. W. S. Bradshaw with Mrs. Hammer Dawson as co-hostess. Ten members were present. Mrs. Richard M. DeMoss was voted in as a new member. Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

Miss Rose Kahlich's favorite recipe is for cream puffs, which she finds make a wonderful summer dessert. They are also nice for unexpected company, because you can have both the shells and filler on hand for an emergency dessert. Rose gets lots of compliments from her friends on these puffs.

Cream Puffs

1/2 cup butter
1 cup water
1 cup flour (sifted)
1/8 teaspoon salt
4 eggs
1 1/3 teaspoon vanilla

Place boiling water, butter, and salt in a saucepan, stir over heat. When mixture boils vigorously, add sifted flour all at once, stirring briskly. Stir constantly until the dough forms a soft ball and leaves sides of pan clean. Do not overcook. Remove from fire and turn into mixing bowl. Cool 2 minutes. Beat in eggs one at a time. Beat briskly until mixture thickens and becomes stiff. Requires rapid beating. With two spoons, shape on ungreased baking sheet, leaving two inches apart for spread. Bake in very hot oven, 450 degrees F. for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 degrees F. and bake 20 to 25 minutes longer. When cold, cut sides of shell, fill center with whipped cream, or any kind of custard or fruit, topped with whipped cream, or a powdered sugar icing and coconut.

Miss Kahlich gives some tips for getting best results with these delicious cream puffs. She suggests filling the shells just before serving, because they will stay crisp a week unrefrigerated, and it helps to have the filler chilled.

Rose was born in Schulenburg, Texas, and came to Slaton in 1938. She likes West Texas in spite of the blowing sand. Her hobbies are gardening and flowers, and she is interested in sports.

She is a member of the C. D. of A. and the Altar Society of St. Joseph's Catholic Church. She lives at 250 S. 16th St.

The first released drawing of the architects conception of the $115,000 dining room building, which will serve 1800 meals a day at Mo-Ranch-in-the-Hills, site of the Presbyterian Assembly Grounds, near Hunt, Texas.

Spurred on by the modern trend to functional-style buildings to accommodate large groups, the Board of Trustees of Mo-Ranch, Hunt, Texas, has approved of the plans of Fehr and Granger, Austin architects, for a new dining hall. This little community in itself has everything but its own post office, getting mail at Hunt, Texas. It was purchased by the Presbyterian Synod of Texas from the estate of the late Dan Moran, and includes its own commissary, book store, 75 ft. tiled swimming pool, water and ice plants, laundry, infirmary, gymnasium which substitutes for an auditorium, when dances as well as meetings are held, chapel, gas pumps, fire-fighting equipment, tennis courts, bowling alley and water-front facilities with a 30 ft. high coaster slide. This is in addition to the Manor House, Guest Lodge and the many dormitories which are available the year round for groups or individual families by making reservations for days or week ends. JUST TALK by

A.M.J.

It must be that folks in New York City, Washington and maybe London are waiting with bated breath for the Slatonite as it is published each week. That is presuming that bated breath means with lively interest.

How come I think so? Well, I'll tell you. Two or three weeks ago I read in a magazine about some chemical called monosodium gluconate that is supposed to make all kinds of meats and vegetables taste better than they are supposed to taste and I threatened in Just Talk to get some for my wife to try out on me.

She got the monosodium gluconate and she tried it. We both have decided that it does what the book says it should and now my wife makes mean cracks about my German goitre that makes me look like I'm sitting down when I'm really standing up. While I do not blame my expanding belt line entirely to the monosodium gluconate, I do put some of the responsibility on the fact that it makes a hamburger taste like what I remember hamburgers used to taste like at the Dallas Fair when I was twelve years old and could surround four big nickle ones at one sitting. Now a small fifteen cent one without any monosodium gluconate does me no good whatever.

The following letter from Electra Blimazes, who is in charge of publicity for Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, Inc., of New York has my ego almost as big as my stomach and I've thrown all caution to the wind and am sprinkling Ac'cent, which is a trade name for monosodium gluconate, on everything from hard boiled eggs to a lot of things I never liked before, but am eating now. Our cocker nearly bit one of my fingers off that had a little Ac'cent on it and I'd advise folks to be careful in using it for picknick crowds for fear of riots and to keep ordinary folks from grabbing food away from each other. Here is what Electra Blimazes had to say:

Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, Inc.,
383 Madison Avenue,
New York 17, N. Y.
July 3, 1951

Mr. A. M. J.,
"Just Talk"
Slatonite
Slaton, Texas

Dear Mr. A. M. J.:
By this time, you have probably found out that monosodium glutamate does make "hamburger taste like filet mignon, carrots taste like something fit to eat and soup taste like the kind mother used to make."

I was quite interested in one of your recent columns in which you mentioned you were going to give MSG a good try. As publicist at BBDO I am in charge of publicity for Ac'cent (pure monosodium glutamate) and anxious to meet up with any and all of Ac'cent's enthusiastic followers. I don't know whether or not you were able to get Ac'cent's new Third Shaker Set in Slaton, and just in case you didn't, I am sending one to you under separate mailing. I know your wife will find this an attractive as well as mighty useful set.

Incidentally, although I have been a faithful user of Ac'cent for a little more than a year I am not quite 700 pounds—so I don't think you have to fear on that score. I will admit it makes you eat more and more—and all good food tastes even better, but with a little will power, all can be well. Just for your records, I am sending you some literature which will give you a little more background information—and some tempting recipes.

My best wishes—and good appetite!

Cordially,
Electra Blimazes
Publicity

The name Electra Blimazes intrigues me as it is the first time in my life of ups and downs that I have ever seen the name in writing. It has an air of mystery to it and I'd fit Miss or Mrs. Blimazes into a novel of high adventure if I knew how to build such a tale.

If you'd like to try some monosodium glutamate ask for Ac'cent. Electra Blimazes says it's the pure stuff. We'll form a fat folks Ac'cent club and enjoy ourselves from now on with the "accent" on good eating.

Last week I had occasion to visit in the editorial offices of Charley Guy at the Avalanche Journal in Lubbock and for the first time in my several years acquaintanceship with Mr. Guy I saw him use a typewriter and folks I want to tell you he is the fastest three fingered typist I have ever seen.

He uses one finger on his left hand and two on his right. As a four finger operator myself, one on my right hand and three on my left, I'd like to challenge Charley to a speed contest on typewriters, provided I may be allowed to use one I bought ten years ago secondhand. It cost me nineteen dollars and it baffles every one in the Slatonite office and I never have to worry about anyone sitting down at my typewriter and using it very long.

It is an old model Remington Noiseless and resembles the old style Oliver Typewriters that had an egg beater motion. The one my father had used to spit at me occasionally.

Charley has a particularly fast right punch with his index finger while, being left handed myself, I claim to have a vicious left hand roundhouse jab.

My challenge is for the bout to go three rounds with only three mistakes allowed to the line, the wording to be clean, and the referees all to come from Slaton.

If Mr. Guy will accept the challenge I will arrange to have my representatives meet him in a special Helicopter at Posey and will keep my artillery silenced until he can make up his mind.

Mr. and Mrs. John Berkley, Gene and Johnette, and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Clark and family are leaving Sunday for Colorado Springs, Colo. Gene and Johnette Berkley have been visiting Mrs. Berkley's aunt, Mrs. Elmer Gollehon, in Hereford and will be picked up there by their parents.

A friendly cow can kill you!

Don't let friendliness with livestock take the place of caution. The animal that wouldn't hurt a fly today may send you flying tomorrow. So watch your life, watch your livestock!

Spraying & Dusting

There is abundant early season evidence that the cotton insects in this area are now beginning to make their presence felt.

Our business for the past 10 years has been that of commercial spraying and dusting crops, especially cotton, by air, and we are prepared to assist you in controlling them in this manner, having the latest type airplanes for both dust or spray and experienced pilots.

On or before August 5th we will establish our headquarters on the landing strip adjacent the Farmers Cooperative Society Gin at Wilson, Texas, at which time or before, our planes and ground equipment will be available for service.

Any information before or after that time will be furnished you by Mr. Murray, of the Farmers Cooperative Society at Wilson, 214-1, who has consented to take our calls.

THIS and THAT FROM HERE and THERE

Views And Comments—

Oh, well, it is a good thing to know that at least our part of the world has a good, solid granite foundation even if it is 10,000 feet down. A lot of oil smeared around over the country would have made a smelly mess and would have spoiled some good grass and cotton land.

—The Floyd County Hesperian

For Your Information—

Heard a good story from a traveling man in Seagraves Tuesday. It seems he was driving between Plainview and Lubbock last week and he noticed two men in hip boots wading in a surface lake near the highway. A second glance revealed that they were equipped with casting rods and were fishing. Two cars filled with women and children were parked off the highway.

The traveling man said he thought about the matter and decided that the fishermen were from out of the state. He turned around and went back and talked to the party. Sure enough, they were from Minnesota. They told the traveling man that the lake appeared a likely spot for fish. "This spot where you are fishing was dry 30 days ago," he told them. "It was probably dry since last fall until the first heavy rains came in May."

—Gaines County News

A colonel in the U. S. Army found out Monday that he could not violate traffic laws in the City of Tahoka and get away with it.

The officer is alleged to have broken into a funeral procession on South Sweet street, pulled out of the procession in an attempt to pass it, and then pulled into it again.

Brought into City Court, he became incensed over being arrested for the violation.

Judge Russell McGee slapped a $15.00 fine on him, which he paid and went away cussing a City that would fine an Army officer.

—The Lynn County News

Up And Down Main Street—

Lohengrin and lace are all over the place in this lovely month of June. Brides all over the nation are choosing engagement and wedding rings which they will wear with pleasure possibly all the days of their lives.

The third-finger-of-the-left-hand convention is a modern invention. In sixteenth-century England thumb rings were the vogue at weddings, presumably on the theory that the bigger the ring the greater the love. However, there were other reasons for thumb rings.

The Roman Emperor Maximus was so fat that no ordinary ring would slip onto his pudgy fingers; so he used his wife's bracelets as thumb rings. The little finger was long thought of as the "love finger," and for centuries the right hand was preferred to the left—Rubens' betrothal paintings always show the ring on the right hand.

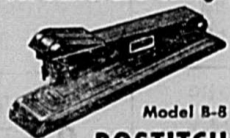

The wise woman of Main Street says a liar's punishment is not in the least that he is not believed, but that he can not believe anyone else.

Getting Out On The Limb—

There was that time when I spent three days lugging a camera around photographing Mrs. "My Day" Eleanor as she sweat-ed, bowed and scraped until I thought her tight fitting khaki britches wouldn't give another thousandth of an inch across her broad beam. I figured I might get a picture the boys in the public relations department would let me keep for my album and the rest of the poor guys on that far-away Pacific island would get a

The installment plan is the only method so far discovered that will induce some people to do things on time.

—The Hockley County Herald

Back in January, a Lubbock man was fined for driving while intoxicated. Not having the money to pay his fine, he asked for an audience with Judge J. M. Rankin, after serving 10 days in the county jail. Payne made all kinds of promises to pay his fine within two weeks if released, and county officials let him go.

After some time passed, and the fine was not paid, officials set out to look for him. Lubbock county officers reported they were unable to find him, and other rumors that he might be found at Wichita Falls, Brownfield, and other places failed to flush him out. Late Sunday night Crosby county officials noticed three men working on a car just on top of the caprock this side of Blanco canyon. Stopping to offer assistance, they saw one of the men dive for cover in the back seat. They pulled him out, found him to be the man they had hunted for.

You Be The Judge—

Then there was the problem of the crippled bootlegger. Bound to a wheel chair for now many years, John, aged 54, was taken into confinement after he had been caught selling pints and somebody had thrown fourteen pints in the weeds around his wheel chair. "I'm helpless and penniless," he told the sheriff. "If I could have food and laundry I'd never sell whiskey." The Commissioner's Court, acknowledging its responsibilities for paupers, arranged for those necessities.

Might Say The Birds Got "Nettled"

Had dinner with Tik Bradley the other day, and over a frosty bottle of beer I found out about his job with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

"Now just exactly what do you do?" I asked him. "Shoot birds with a cannon" he calmly replies.

Seems they actually do use a cannon—to shoot out a net over a flock of birds feeding on the ground. The birds start to take off at the sound of the shot, but the settling net brings them back to earth. Then they're banded around the leg so more can be learned about their migratory habits. Afterwards, they're let loose—and everyone's happy.

From where I sit, it was a good example of how when you learn the real facts they're often not as bad as they may sound at first. Like with people. Get to really know your neighbor and chances are you'll be more tolerant of his preferences—even though they're not your own. Take a good look, before you jump to conclusions.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

WARDON us if we play switch-k man with a familiar railroad phrase, but we aim to flag down some certain people . . .

Those folks who've always had a great big yen for a new Buick, but a big worry that Buick prices ran too high for their budgets.

Now we'll have to grant you that —on style and beauty and size and impressive appearance — a 1951 Buick looks like a pretty high price tag.

And we'll have to grant, too, that the zooming power and the luxurious ride and the heavyweight steadiness you get in a Buick would also indicate prices beyond the reach of most people.

But honestly, you'll find nothing farther from the truth when you note the price tags on 1951 Buicks.

You'll find that beauty with the big-power, big-mileage, valve-in-head Fireball Engine is really within your budget picture—with prices starting below those of many of today's sixes.

And you'll have to admit then and there that you can have Buick room and comfort, can have Buick ride and handling, can have Buick style and size—for little, if any, more than you've been paying for lesser cars.

That leaves the next step up to you—stopping in to see us.

Come in soon, look over the SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER you've always wanted—and let that happy glow go surging all through you as you sign up for your smart-buy Buick.

The Future Of The South Plains . . .

The South Plains is one of the few areas in the United States that can look forward to considerable development, and now is the time the people in general, and the leaders in particular, should consider what kind of development is desirable, and work toward getting such enterprises into the area.

This development that requires a large amount of water could not succeed here is a foregone conclusion. The interest of the people should be directed to the growth of such industries that do not require water power.

The influx of low priced labor, or of factories that require vast numbers of workers, would tear down the independence and freedom of all who would congregate here. Vast factories would likely not be desirable, but a number of smaller factories could be sustained, and it is possible that with the decentralization of big industries some such activity could be brought to this area.

With the improvements in cotton picking machines and the ever increasing cost of gathering cotton, it is certain that the cotton pullers, and the activity in business during the harvest season that they make possible, will soon be a thing of the past. The business men and those who have the interest of the South Plains at heart should consider this fact and endeavor to secure something to take the place of the cotton pullers trade. When the mechanical cotton pullers get into widespread use the flush days of fall will be over for the average business firm, for a cotton pulling machine requires no food, no clothing, and they buy no used automobiles or bicycles, nor do they require the thousands of items that the itinerant worker spends his money for.

Sooner or later the South Plains will have to look for something besides cotton and grain for its prosperity, and the sooner the planners start working toward this end the better things will be in the future.

How Will Peace Affect Inflation? . . .

We must drive ahead with our full program for combating inflation regardless of developments in Korea, thinks Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston. He wants to retain all controls now in effect. In addition, he wants the Senate to add $2,800,000,000 to the $7,200,000,000 of new taxes recently voted by the House.

He is right in sensing the danger of a letdown in our efforts if peace is declared in Korea. Possibly Kremlin thinkers are figuring on that very thing. But he is wrong in insisting that there be no readjustment. If a truce is struck in the present fight between this country and Russia, then a different condition will exist. It will call for a reorientation of efforts.

He wants us to spend more money, although we will be relieved of the consuming effect of a fighting war. He wants us to spend more, although a cessation of the active war would call for a readjustment to spending needs, even if it be assumed that a speeded-up spending program is needed in the future. Following Johnston's advice to appropriate an additional $2,800,000,000 would lead inevitably to wasteful spending.

Abnormally heavy spending of tax money is always inflationary in the long run. It is inflationary in the short run if it is wasteful spending. Anything that encourages consumption of goods and commodities without encouraging production in like degree is inflationary in effect.

The Economic Stabilizer is right in saying that we must maintain our vigilance. But without a war in Korea our vigilance and our actions must be directed differently. It is not merely what we do, but how we do it, that really counts.—The Dallas News.

Passenger Trains . . .

Those who prefer the comfort and safety of passenger trains to increasing hazards and strain of highway travel may have sympathy for the railroads which are facing opposition on all sides in efforts to deal with an unprofitable phase of operation.

The Department of Agriculture has charged recently that the Interstate Commerce Commission has kept freight rates higher than necessary in order to offset the deficit from passenger operations. This annual loss for Class 1 carriers has amounted to more than $500 million, and has persisted for two decades except for the World War II period.

Passenger service between large cities has been profitable, but has been uneconomic in branch line and local operations where the competition of automobiles and buses is too great. Yet in efforts to discontinue this unprofitable service that accounts largely for heavy deficits, the railroads have met the opposition of affected communities and employees who would lose jobs by the curtailment. Neither position is tenable, for every successful enterprise must have sufficient patronage to continue.

The future of mass transportation, which becomes a live problem in war, is uncertain. The problem commands impartial study with due regard to the public interest. It is doubtful that the vital importance of the railroads is recognized by its critics. The shifting of their burden to highways is not the solution, although motor transportation has its field of usefulness.

Discontinuance of passenger trains from loss of patronage is a straw in the wind that demands realistic consideration of a trend in transportation. The easy way out of subsidy is not the answer, nor would government ownership be a solution by any means. A start in the right direction would be for every tourist to calculate his cost of travel, including depreciation of his investment, taxes and repairs.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

QUOTES . . .

The Communists are prepared to make coming to terms with the Reds look like coming to the Reds with terms.—The Dallas News.

Nowadays the only people who can live like millionaires are the billionaires.—George Sawtelle.

"I think we can well be as afraid of inflation as we can of International Communism."—President William H. Ruffin of the NAM.

"When I started work, I used to dream about getting the salary I'm starving on now."—Herald, Calgary.

"The hand is quicker than the eye; that's why you see so many black eyes."—Frances Rodman.

Tests indicate that oxygen may be the wonder cure for the d.t.s. It is yet to be explained how they get all the elephants under the small tent.—Evening News, Buffalo, N. Y.

Affluence is the state in which one complains about the quality of the champagne.—"Editorial Points," Globe, Boston, Massachusetts.

Work is the sole palliative for sorrow, the one way to escape worry, the only method of keeping a sound body and mind.—Mrs. Walter Ferguson, Press, Pittsburg, Penn.

RARE FORM—The world may be a little upside-down to shapely model Yvonne Marve, but she's a gal who likes to look at things from every angle. Yvonne keeps in trim by exercising at Hampton Beach, N. H., and from any point of view, it's a very shapely trim.

MORSE, NOT REMORSE—An old skill has given 90-year-old Mrs. Emma Read of Pueblo, Colo., a new life. When her hearing failed years ago, Mrs. Read, once a frontier town telegrapher, became an expert lip reader. Recently her sight began to fail. Undaunted, Mrs. Read taught Morse code to her daughter and now has an electrical contact with the world.

Indian brooms
Early American housewives used brooms made and sold by the Indians. The broom handles were usually sticks of birch, ash or similar material. The brush part was made up of thin strips cut into a block of wood. Softer than such "splitter brooms" were those of husks, twigs, and rushes.

Visitors in the Vascar Browning home last week were Mrs. Browning's sister, Mrs. C. W. Thompson and her son, David.

Mr. and Mrs. Magnus Klattenhoff and children and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Olenbusch of Lubbock spent last week in the mountains in New Mexico, fishing and vacationing.

Electric Cooking Is

...as MODERN women KNOW!

No grease, no soot, no fumes when you cook electrically. That means no dirty curtains, no spotted walls, no carbon-coated pots and pans. Instead, when you cook electrically, everything is bright and shiny. The pans, the walls, the curtains, your disposition — all of them — bright and shiny.
Electric cooking is clean because electricity is clean. Cleanest of all heat producing methods. Whoever heard of a dirty kilowatt?
Yes, electric cooking is clean. It's fast, economical, automatic, dependable, efficient, cool, and convenient, too . . . as modern women know!

Slaton People Worth Knowing

Mrs. V. G. Browning is a member of a pioneer family and has been a Slaton resident for 34 years. Her maiden name was Paulene Marriott and she is a granddaughter of the late "Uncle George" Marriott, a Slaton pioneer. She was born in Wellington, Kansas, educated in Slaton and Lubbock, finishing High School here, and taking one year of Liberal Arts training at Texas Tech. Had she continued her college work she would have planned to go into the field of Home Economics, but she left school and married Vascar Browning in 1934. She has done substitute teaching in the Slaton schools until last year.

Mrs. Browning is a member of the Junior Civic Culture Club and of three Social Clubs. Her hobbies are homemaking and antiques. Both she and Mr. Browning are baseball fans and like to travel, but she always likes coming back to Slaton and wouldn't live anywhere else.

She is a member of the Methodist Church and has been active in missionary work.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Neu, and their son, Herbert Neu, recently spent a weekend in Gainsville visiting Mrs. Neu's aunt, who is a Divine Providence Nun, now teaching in Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Vascar Browning left Monday for Canada and points East.

West Texas Roundup

W T ROUNDUP
Another oil test in Floyd county has come a copper. It is Houston Oil Company's No. 1 J. S. Lackey, two and a half miles northeast of Cedar.

The company's superintendent said yesterday total depth was 10,396 feet. "Dry and abandoned" he said.

The official report said the well was plugged after drilling into granite wash. The drill found no signs of possible production in any zone.

—The Floyd County Hesperian

A new deep oil test for Lynn county, the Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 Jarrell Cox, was spudded in early this week.

The wildcat, about 15 airline miles north of west from Tahoka and north of West Point, is located southeast of the Terry county Mound Lake pool and northwest of the recent Mrs. W. D. Nevels failure.

—The Lynn County News

During the past seven days, eight new locations and eight new completions in the Levelland area were reported to the Oil and Gas Division of the Railroad Commission of Texas.

Cochran county listed eight new locations and six new completions and Hockley county reported two completions.

—Morton Tribune

Final approval has been given the Calgary farm-to-market and Fairview-New Home connection by the Texas Highway Department, according to notice received by J. M. Rankin, county judge.

The approval, which places the Crosby county roads in the "operative" class, was made following the receipt by the state department of the official notice of acceptance of Crosby County Commissioners' court, made at a recent meeting.

—The Crosbyton Review

Qualified voters of the Farmer school district voted recently to issue bonds in the amount of $10,000 for the purpose of building a new school building there.

The Farmer school, a large 4-room building, is the oldest building still standing in the county.

Have you ever heard of the Amarillo Mountains? Well, there are such mountains and they're in Texas, and not so far from here.

It was a "faulting" that caused the Amarillo Mountains that caused the earthquake felt here in Littlefield last week.

This "faulting" consisted of a "slipping" of underground layers of rock in these Amarillo Mountains, which, it may be explained are underground.

—County Wide News

Stockton Construction Co. of Amarillo was awarded the contract to erect a 75,000-gallon water storage tank for the City of Abernathy. The contract was let Friday in a special session of the City Council. Kenneth Trimble of Hale Center represented the Stockton Company in the transaction.

The Stockton bid was $8,500.

—Abernathy Weekly Review

Crosbyton's wheat crop will probably reach 200 car loads, in addition to an undetermined amount stored on the farms, a check with the elevators disclosed this week. This is from 50 to 100 car loads more than most pre-season predictions made a month or more ago.

—The Crosbyton Review

Nonwhite Death Rate

The infant death rate for nonwhites in New Mexico—235 per 1,000 born—was more than six times as great as the white infant death rate in Connecticut last year. And the difference is marked even within the same state. For example, Connecticut's white infant death rate was 38 and the nonwhite rate was 63 per thousand born. In New Mexico, the death rate for nonwhite babies was more than twice that for white babies. In Georgia, Tennessee and South Carolina, the death rate for nonwhite babies was about one and one-half times that for white babies.

Baptist To Have Revival Meeting

A large group of Teachers and Officers of the First Baptist Church met Monday evening in the Fellowship Hall of the new Educational building to discuss plans for the Revival meeting, to begin August 5.

Rev. L. D. Ball, formerly pastor of First Church, Greenville, Texas, now pastor of First Church, Lamesa, Texas, brought the message of the evening. The Church leaders seemed enthusiastic about the plans and are hoping for the greatest Revival in the history of the Church.

Fourteen Junior Girls and three adults attended the camp this week. The girls especially enjoyed the large swimming pool, the hikes and the services each day.

O. P. S. REPRESENTATIVES EXPLAIN REGULATIONS

About 30 or 35 people were present at the O. P. S. meeting held in the City Hall Auditorium on Monday night. Those present were divided into three groups, with an O. P. S. representative explaining the price regulations which pertain to their group. Those representing groceries were in one group, those selling services in another, and those affected by Regulation 7, such as hardware store representatives, in the third.

Mrs. John Fertig accompanied her husband, who is with the Santa Fe, to San Angelo last week.

MANAGING POULTRY IN SUMMER MONTHS

Summer management of growing birds takes on added significance at housing time. It is then that the good or poor management practices are in evidence. It is then that the poultry raiser either houses a healthy, vigorous flock of layers or finds a rundown, poor conditioned group of birds on hand.

Whatever the condition of the laying flock, it is greatly influenced by the management the birds receive during the summer months. Because it takes sound management to keep growing birds in healthy surroundings, a raiser has many important duties to perform during the summer time. These duties are extremely important to the welfare of the flock.

Management Practices

To mention a few, the poultryman should:

1. provide plenty of range for growing stock.
2. Provide enough succulent green feed.
3. Separate cockerels and pullets early so that the more promising pullets will have additional room.
4. Fatten and sell the undesirable cockerels and pullets.
5. See that the range flock has access to shady areas.
6. Clean waterers and feeders daily.
7. Provide birds with clean fresh water at all times.
8. Move the summer range shelter at regular intervals.

Sources of Disease

One of the first considerations is contaminated water. Areas where water stands, or open waterers where birds may deposit filth and manure are definite threats to poultry health. To avoid contamination, spade-up holes and ditches and fill them in with dirt. Also clean waterers daily and keep them filled with clean fresh water. Soil contamination is also a source of disease. Birds should be ranged on land where no chickens have been allowed for two years.

Another threat is the insect problem. Grasshoppers, mosquitoes, flies, and dung beetles are known to be intermediate hosts for tapeworms. Raisers should spray the premises regularly to keep down the insect population.

Some diseases are spread through mechanical means such as shoes, feed sacks, wild birds, dogs and by contaminated feeders and waterers.
