

Reds Will Compromise On Repatriation Issue

Voluntary Principle Is A Part Of Plan

By JOHN RANDOLPH
TOKYO (AP)—Red China Premier Chou En-Lai tonight offered a compromise solution to the knotty problem of repatriating Korean war prisoners—the only issue blocking an armistice agreement. It was the first break in the Reds' previously unyielding demands that all prisoners be returned.

Chou proposed that both sides return those prisoners who insist on going home and hand over the others to a neutral state "to insure a just solution to the question of repatriation."

He did not propose a neutral state by name, presumably leaving that question to be decided at the armistice site of Panmunjom. The United Nations walked away from Panmunjom last fall after telling the Reds to accept the principle of giving prisoners their choice of returning home—or come up with an acceptable solution.

Chou's offer—similar to plans advanced in the United Nations assembly—came in a broadcast, heard here, over the Communist T'ai-ping radio.

Chou's plan is similar to the Indian proposal to end the war which was submitted in the United Nations last fall and was promptly and sharply rejected by the two warring Communist nations and Russia.

The Chinese premier, No. 2 man in the Ailan Communist hierarchy, is the one usually selected to make important announcements.

He had just returned to Peking from a trip to Moscow where he attended the funeral of Stalin and signed new, important economic agreements with Russia.

In his statement tonight, Chou said: "It is only because the termination of the bloody war in Korea and the peaceful settlement of the Korean question is bound up with the question of the peace and security of the people of the Far East and the world that we take this new step x x x"

He kept some sting in his words although not as much as the usual Red rhetoric. As he referred to "those captured persons of our side, who, under the intimidation and oppression of the opposite side, are filled with apprehensions and are afraid to return home."

He said the time is ripe for settling the POW question and ending the fighting in Korea.

The broadcast quoted the entire question of prisoners of war in order to ensure the cessation of hostilities in Korea and to conclude the armistice agreement.

The Peking broadcast of Chou's remarks amounted to a restatement of Saturday's mild, courteous acceptance of the Feb. 22 U. N. proposal.

Chou said the opposing sides should sit down again immediately at the armistice table and try to work out an armistice.

The U. N. has been cautiously... See REDS, Pg. 11, Col. 2

House Takes Up Tides Measure; Okay Expected

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation to establish the coastal states' title to the oil-rich submerged lands off their shores was called up for House debate today with passage, probably on Wednesday, a virtual certainty.

Proponents of the bill contend it would ratify what had been accepted for 150 years—state ownership of the submerged lands, often mistakenly termed tidelands. Opponents denounce it as a giant steal of perhaps 40 billion dollars.

The Supreme Court held in 1947 that the federal government holds dominion and power over the lands involved in the case of California. It did not use the word title. Later the court made similar rulings on Texas and Louisiana.

Former President Truman (twice vetoed legislation to give the states title to the submerged lands, and shortly before leaving office he declared them to be a naval petroleum reserve. During the campaign, President Eisenhower said he would have signed the bills Truman vetoed—a position he has since reaffirmed.

The Senate plans to start debate on its own bill, differing somewhat from the House version, on Wednesday. Republican Leader Taft of Ohio has said it may require 10 days of debate there.

The House bill would: 1. Declare the states have title to the lands beneath their maritime seas within their historic boundaries—three miles except on the Texas and Florida Gulf Coasts, where it would be 10 1/2 miles.

2. Authorize the states to develop the natural resources of these submerged lands, even if the act is challenged in the courts and the title sections are held unconstitutional.

3. Authorize the secretary of the interior to develop the mineral resources in the outer continental shelf beyond the states' seaward boundaries.

4. Authorize the states to impose severance or production taxes on oil and gas produced in the outer continental shelf, and police and enforce their own conservation laws in the area. The states would not get any of the revenues from the production in the area.

5. Authorize mineral leases in the outer continental shelf, by the interior secretary, with leases going to the bidder offering the highest cash bonus. A minimum 12 1/2 percent royalty on production is reserved for the government.

6. Provide for return of money, which has been held in escrow since the Supreme Court decisions to the states where it was earned. Revenues from operations in the outer continental shelf, held in escrow, would go into the Federal Treasury.

Resigns

The Republican National Committee has been summoned to meet at Washington April 10 to accept the resignation of Chairman C. Wesley Roberts, above, and elect a successor. Roberts resigned Friday after a Kansas state legislative committee said he violated the spirit of the state lobbying law when he accepted a fee for helping to handle a hospital sale to the state. The incident occurred before he became GOP chairman.

President Said To Be Planning Foreign Aid Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported by congressional leaders today to be planning a cut in foreign aid spending.

Senate Republican leader Taft (Ohio) and House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said there has been no determination yet on the amount of the cut, but that there definitely will be a reduction from the 7 1/2 billion dollars proposed by the Truman administration for foreign aid in the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Taft and Martin held a news conference immediately after their weekly meeting with Eisenhower. Taft said Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen is having a study made to find out whether 10 billion dollars in foreign aid carry-over funds can be cut.

Stassen sat in with the congressional leaders at their conference with Eisenhower.

Taft and Martin also announced: 1. The President would send to Congress later in the day a special message asking creation of a commission to study federal-state relations on such matters as taxes, grants in aid and social security.

Eisenhower told his news conference last week it would be the job of the proposed commission to eliminate waste and duplication.

2. The President will sign later this week an executive order to strip civil service protection from several hundred federal government policy-making officials appointed by Democratic administrations.

3. Agreement was reached with Eisenhower to fix July 4 as the target date for adjournment of Congress. Taft said Congress in any event "positively" will adjourn by Aug. 1.

4. The leaders informed the President that both the House and the Senate plan to start debate this week on legislation to give the states title to oil-rich submerged coastal lands.

Taft predicted the coastal lands bills will be enacted.

Taft also announced that after the Senate completes debate on the submerged lands measure it will take up a bill to extend the Defense Production Act, scheduled to expire May 1.

33 Perish In Florida Nursing Home

A flash fire Saturday night swept through the Littlefield Nursing Home near Largo, Fla., 22 miles north of St. Petersburg on the Florida west coast. Of 57 persons in the building, 33 died, many because—as one rescuer put it, "They didn't want to be removed from their warm beds." Attendant T. R. Hasty added: "I just lifted them and carried them out bodily." But the flames moved too fast to allow enough trips. (AP Wirephoto).

Probes Start In Fire Fatal To 33

LARGO, Fla. (AP)—Three agencies are investigating the wind-swept fire that destroyed a one-story frame nursing home yesterday, taking the lives of 33 elderly patients and a valet nurse who tried to save them.

Investigations were started today by the state fire marshal, the State Hotel Commission and Sheriff Sid Sanders.

Twenty-five patients were saved as neighbors turned out barefooted and in night clothes to back up the rescue efforts of the owners, Mrs. and Mrs. W. L. Littlefield. Fire companies from Largo and Clearwater also came quickly, but within half an hour the sprawling wooden structure was doomed.

The tragedy cost 34 lives in all, Angus D. Smith, Pinellas County welfare director, was killed in an automobile collision while driving three patients to a hospital.

Many of the victims died in their beds, unaware of the danger that suddenly roared at them about 3:30 on a chilly Sabbath morning.

Of those who gained consciousness, some were too panicky to follow directions; some were too feeble-minded and some too indignant and stubborn.

"If they had done what I told them they would all have gotten out," Littlefield said in a tired voice.

The Littlefields were sleeping in the home with the patients. Littlefield said he was awakened by the screams of a woman. He tried to fight the flames with fire extinguishers, saw he was losing, and began waking up patients and trying to get them out.

Mrs. Littlefield ran outside, screaming for help, and collapsed with a heart attack. She is in serious condition.

"One man was sound asleep and he came to the door and fought me while I tried to get him out," said Mrs. Aletha Herring, who lives across the road.

"They were just like children—they didn't want to be removed from their warm beds," said another neighbor, T. R. Hasty, who carried old people out till he was almost cut off by the raging flames.

However, some of the patients themselves helped others escape. Will Hardin, 76, Palm Harbor, said: "I carried out Gus Simpson, who is 94 years old. He had two canes and he could walk just a little."

Mrs. Frank Colley of Clearwater helped get two out. Mrs. Gertrude Warnick, 55, a nurse, brought one woman out, returned to the flame-swept building and did not come out again.

Cause of the fire remains a mystery. Fire Chief Peter Treola of Clearwater said preliminary checks led him to believe the blaze started near the kitchen and supply room. Littlefield said he thought the fire began in a front bedroom.

The patients ranged in age from 45 to 98, with most of them above 65. Many were old pensioners, getting a little additional welfare help from Pinellas County. Others were mental cases.

Suit Challenges Spraberry Oil Area Shutdown

AUSTIN (AP)—An injunction suit challenging the railroad commission's order shutting down the huge Spraberry oil producing area has been filed in 98th district court.

Arch Rowan, Fort Worth, independent oil operator in the West Texas area, brought suit alleging the commission's order is invalid because it discriminates against producers in the area.

Judge Charles O. Betts set hearing on the temporary restraining order asked by Rowan for tomorrow at 9 a.m.

The commission ordered Spraberry oil and gas wells shut down last week to halt what it called wasteful flaring of natural gas.

Rowan said in his petition seeking a temporary restraining order that he has average oil production of 500 barrels daily in the field.

The shutdown was to have become effective April 1. If the temporary restraining order is granted, it would have the effect of nullifying the shutdown order until the lawsuit is resolved.

Temporary restraining orders ordinarily remain in effect 10 days pending further injunction proceedings.

The commission order was written to stop all production in the Spraberry trend area in Midland, Glasscock, Reagan, Upton and Martin counties. It would have dropped the April oil allowable an additional 95,000 barrels a day. It had already been reduced 119,366 barrels daily.

The suit also reduced temporarily at least the immediate threat to state finances posed by the shutdown order.

The commission order directed production to "cease completely" in the Spraberry trend until such time as necessary facilities are made available for gathering, marketing and processing of all natural gas from wells in the field.

NEW YORK (AP)—The freighter S. S. Henry Stevenson radioed in distress today that it was afire in the Atlantic about 530 miles east of New York.

The Coast Guard, reporting the call for help, said the French liner Ile De France and a Coast Guard cutter were speeding toward the scene.

The Coast Guard said the distress message told of crewmen fighting a blaze in the vessel's number one hold "between decks."

There was no indication whether the ship was in danger of sinking.

The stricken vessel, 7,343 tons and 423 feet long, left New York Saturday morning en route for Yugoslavia.

The Ile De France was 100 miles east of the vessel and en route to New York. The Coast Guard cutter Chincoteague was about 240 miles from the Henry Stevenson.

The freighter is owned by the T. J. Stevenson & Co., Inc., New York City.

Absentee Voting Will End Tuesday

Last opportunity comes Tuesday for casting absentee ballots in the Big Spring school board election.

John L. Dibrell Jr., board secretary, said this morning only three absentee votes have been received. The deadline is midnight Tuesday. Election will be held Saturday.

A dozen votes have been turned in for the city election which will be held Tuesday, April 7. Absentee voting period for the city race will end at midnight Friday.

On Way To Red China

HONG KONG (AP)—Some 650 Chinese, including 400 students, passed through Hong Kong yesterday on their way to Communist China.

Technicians oil field workers were among those aboard the two Dutch ships from Malaysia and Indonesia.

M'Carthy Hit On Ship Deal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Stassen, Mutual Security Director, today accused Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and the Senate investigations subcommittee of "undermining" the work of executive agencies seeking to cut off trade between the West and Iron Curtain areas.

"You are in effect undermining and are harmful to our objective," Stassen told McCarthy to his face at a televised hearing of McCarthy's subcommittee.

There was a sharp edge in Stassen's voice as he spoke. Stassen was referring to McCarthy's announcement Saturday that the subcommittee staff had negotiated an agreement with Greek owners of 242 ships that they would break off all trade with North Korea and Communist China.

McCarthy's move had raised a constitutional question, since it is the President who is charged with the conduct of foreign affairs under the constitution.

It was not clear whether McCarthy's subcommittee, in bypassing the executive branch of government to negotiate an agreement with foreigners, had infringed upon Presidential prerogative.

The State Department announced today that Greece already has put into effect a new order prohibiting Greek-flag ships from trading with the Communists.

The order, approved March 23 by the Greek council of ministers prohibits all ships registered under Greek law from calling at any port under Communist control, or ports in mainland China and North Korea, a spokesman said.

Lincoln White, state department press secretary, said the Greek decree had the effect of law immediately, although it is subject to ratification by the Greek parliament. Its effect is binding on all ships of the Greek registry.

In announcing the agreement with Greek ship owners Saturday, McCarthy called attention to the Greek government decree and said his action went "far beyond it."

He said he felt President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles "will be pleased."

Stassen disagreed. The Mutual Security Chief's attitude frankly announced McCarthy to Stassen: "I frankly feel that we are helping you."

He disclaimed any desire or effect of undermining.

At one point Stassen demanded to know whether the subcommittee in making the agreement had agreed to call off an investigation.

Davis Hopes To Get Bond Today

Ray Davis, charged with murder following the shotgun slaying of Robert A. Childers here Friday, was still in county jail this morning.

However, the sheriff's department said Davis had indicated that he hoped to arrange bond sometime today.

His bond was set at $4,000 on conclusion of an examining trial conducted Saturday afternoon by Justice of the Peace Cecil Nabors.

Davis was arrested Friday afternoon at the Wyoming Hotel. Childers, owner and operator of the hotel, died early Friday night of a shotgun wound in the stomach.

Davis' wife, Patricia, was under treatment in a hospital for gunshot wounds in the left shoulder.

Police officers who arrested Davis said the shooting occurred in the hotel manager's apartment. A 410 gauge shotgun was turned over to police by Davis shortly after the shooting.

DE GASPERI BACKED Red Strike Call In Italy Is A Failure

ROME (AP)—A Communist call for a 16-hour nationwide strike met with only scant success today as the Reds, already out-voted and out-slugged in a riotous week-end legislative session, sought to protest Premier Alcide De Gasperi's new election law.

The huge, Communist-dominated Italian Federation of Labor (CGIL) called the walkout in "indignation" at Senate approval yesterday of the new election measure.

The bill cleared the upper house after a wild free-for-all in which senators were slugged, chairs and desks smashed and a woman senator slapped a male opponent.

The legislation, expected to swell De Gasperi's government majority after general elections next June, now goes to President Luigi Einaudi to be signed into law.

Motivated police and Army troops patrolled the major Italian cities to forestall strike violence.

Would-be demonstrators on the outskirts of Rome were scattered before they could organize a march and some 50 leaders were arrested.

Most public streetcars and buses failed to run early today and thousands walked to work, but the government mustered emergency transport including Army trucks.

In the big industrial center of Milan, the strike was felt in some of the biggest plants but was ignored in others.

At Modena, in the Communist stronghold of Emilia province, police charged and scattered several hundred pickets who tried to prevent workers from entering factories. Forty pickets were arrested.

Naples police said the strike there appeared to be a fizzle, with only about 100 workers heeding the Red call.

Gas was ordered cut off from homes for 24 hours.

The Italian Free Confederation of Labor (CISL) and other independent unions did not participate in the walkout, which the CISL described as "purely political."

Tough Interior Minister Mario Scelba mustered his crack battalions of anti-riot police and assured Prime Minister Alcide De Gasperi that any Communist disturbances over the new law would be "strongly repressed."

Mayors Urge US Development Of Tidelands Areas

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mayors of 27 U. S. cities today urged Congress to pass a bill that would provide federal development of the off-shore oil lands and earmark the oil revenues for educational purposes.

In a statement released by Mayor Joseph Clark Jr., of Philadelphia the mayors said: "The education of more than four million children is being impaired by inadequate buildings, under-trained teachers, and part-time school attendance due largely to the inability of the state and local taxing units to meet the growing costs of education."

The statement pointed out that the U. S. Supreme Court, on three different occasions, ruled that the oil deposits off the U. S. coastline "belong to all the people of the nation."

No southwesterners were among the 27 signing mayors.

ROKs Beat Back Red Push; UN Has Vegas

SEOUL (AP)—South Korean troops threw back a Chinese Red drive on Christmas Hill on the Eastern Front in a driving snowfall today as U. S. Marines dug in firmly on bloody Outpost Vegas in the West.

Some 300 Reds jabbed 50 yards beyond Allied advance defense lines on a 350-yard front west of Christmas Hill, which is west of the Munsung Valley. South Koreans drove them back, killing or wounding 100 Chinese.

Entrenched Marines on smoldering Vegas had won back the outpost at dawn Sunday after being knocked off three times in the Reds' bloody spring fever drive on the Western Front last week.

Grumpy and weary, the Leathernecks smashed a three-pronged Red drive on Vegas late yesterday and broke up a Red force massing for another attack last night with a thundering curtain of artillery fire.

In the air, U. S. Sabre jet pilots reported probable destruction of one Communist MIG jet and another damaged.

In a big day Sunday, Sabre pilots reported shooting down four MIGs and damaging a fifth. Lt. Col. George L. Jones of Vero Beach, Fla., got one of the MIGs, his fifth, making him the 30th U. S. jet ace of the war.

The early spring snowfall deposited up to five inches on the Eastern Front and up to one inch in the western and central sectors.

The foul weather sharply curtailed Allied fighter-bomber strikes but pilots reported 13 Red supply trucks destroyed in frontline sweeps.

The Reds backed their drive in the Christmas Hill area with 1,800 rounds of artillery and mortar fire. The Chinese denied the advance line after an hour of bloody, close-quarter battle with the South Koreans.

However, the South Koreans called up reinforcements at 1 a.m.

Quick Action Fails On Teacher Pay Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—Backers of a teacher pay raise today failed again in the House to get quick action on the matter.

The motion was to send the bill to a more friendly committee, which had promised a public hearing Thursday.

The vote was 82-54—a majority of the House, but still not the necessary two-thirds vote that the motion required.

Rep. Lamar Zivley, Temple, author of the measure, asked that the bill be taken out of the appropriations committee and given to the committee on public lands and buildings.

"Time is the thing I'm fighting against now," Zivley said.

But on every attempt he made, Rep. Joe Kilgore, McAllen, author of another bill affecting teacher salaries backed by Gov. Allan Shivers, raised a point of order, saying Zivley wasn't following the rules.

Speaker Rueben Senterfit upheld Kilgore on each point of order. Zivley finally tried to suspend the rules and failed.

Zivley's bill gives the teachers a $600 a year pay raise to be paid entirely by the state. Kilgore's bill arranges the plan of school financing, placing more of the burden on local districts. It provides a raise of about $240.

A drive to speed up congressional redistricting bills also failed by a narrow margin in the House.

Rep. Harold B. Parish, Portland, tried to get the House to instruct the redistricting committee to report in two weeks on grounds the legislature's session is growing short.

The House voted 82-42 with Parish, but it was just short of the two-thirds vote necessary for such motion. Redistricting is one of the session's principal issues. No new district has yet been drawn from the state's additional congressional seats.

Rep. Horace Jackson, Atlanta, opposed Parish's motion, asking "what's the hurry?"

More pulse-feeling tests on the teachers pay raise issue were due as the legislature started its 12th week.

Companion bills to give teachers an added $600 a year and cost the state between 30 and 35 million dollars annually were ready to strike fire in either the House or Senate.

Lady Sailor Has No Worry If She Does Need Date

NORMAN, Okla. (U)—The best deal in the whole Navy? Lt. Maggie Cason of Portales, N. M., thinks she has it.

As the only Wave at the Norman Air Technical Training Center, she has 7,000 sailors all to herself. That's discounting the married ones, of course.

But does she take advantage of this woman's paradise? No. It isn't for lack of date opportunities, however. To the many would-be swains she has the classic reply of all gals who aren't willing.

"I just say I'm busy," she explains.

Lt. Cason, as the sailors must call her, is the center education officer. And it being the only Wave among the multitude of some men weren't enough, the sailors have still another reason for trying to woo her.

When tests for promotions come up, who do you think is in charge? Maggie, that's who.

She seems to have a way of wangling these deals. When she was recalled from the reserve in May, 1951, Maggie was the only Wave officer at the Atlantic City (N. J.) Naval Air Station.

There was some competition, though, from 50 enlisted Waves whom she commanded.

In such a situation, the interesting question of where Maggie is quartered arises. Particularly since Uncle Sam didn't have women in mind when he built this base in World War II.

The Navy solves this problem by safely segregating its lady officer in an apartment in town.

Living off the base, she says, it's hardly like being in service at all. "I live like a civilian when I'm off duty."

These off-duty hours are spent with other civilians, although the sailors never stop trying.

Crowds Pay Homage At Queen Mary's Bier

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON (U)—Damp and silent crowds filed through Westminster Hall today to pay last homage to Queen Mary.

It rained intermittently. There was a nip of cold in the gusty breeze. Mourners who came in thousands splashed through puddles on the pavement of Parliament Square and the new palace yard in front of the hall where the queen lies in state.

The throng was not as overwhelming as the crowds which went to the same place to pay respects to King George VI 13 months ago. Weather discouraged many. Others were content with the television broadcast of the scene last night.

But by early afternoon, persons were passing at the rate of 4,000 an hour. It was expected that by the time the body is removed for the funeral service at St. George's Chapel, Windsor, tomorrow about 100,000 will have come personally to say farewell to the 85-year-old queen, who was a venerated member of the British royal family through six reigns.

Mourners from all walks of life moved past the catafalque today, but it was obvious that many were elderly members of Queen Mary's own generation.

There was no ceremony in dress. Some housewives carried shopping bags. Workmen erecting coronation stands in the neighborhood came in overalls. Large numbers carried umbrellas. But most, perhaps in unconscious tribute to Queen Mary as the upholder of protocol, were formally or at least soberly dressed.

The thinning ranks of Europe's royalty began arriving for tomorrow's funeral.

The royal delegations were to include young King Baudouin of Belgium; Queen Juliana of The Netherlands and her husband, Prince Bernhard; Crown Prince Olav of Norway, and ex-King Umberto of Italy.

Greece's Queen Frederika arrived yesterday.

They will journey to Windsor Castle for simple funeral rites tomorrow for the 85-year-old Queen grandmother, whose death last Tuesday severed British royalty's last living tie with the Victorian era.

Throughout last night and today, a silent file of mourning Britons moved past the dead Queen's coffin as it lay in state in ancient Westminster Hall, adjoining the Houses of Parliament.

By dawn, nearly 40,000 people had passed the candlelit catafalque, resplendent in its purple drapings and silver pall.

The Queen's coffin was brought to the hall yesterday, carried through crowded, silent London streets from Marlborough House, her residence where she died. Before the procession, the royal family attended a memorial service for her in the chapel there.

Locusts Threatening

AMMAN, Jordan (U)—Swarms of locusts once again are threatening Jordan's cultivated areas. Moving in from the desert, the insects have started laying their eggs. Experts from Egypt, Syria, Lebanon and Kenya met today with Jordan officials to discuss co-ordinated action against the crop menace.

Baffled Scotland Yard experts ordered the nation-wide search for the killer redoubled. They also ordered a speeding in the dismantling of the dingy West London tenement house where the victims were found.

The remains of two bodies and possibly of a third were dug out of the tiny garden of the Notting Hill horror house during the week end. Another was found under the floor boards of the ground floor apartment and three more, believed the killer's most recent victims, had been hidden in a papered-over alcove.

Police speculated that the murderer used the alcove as a halfway house to store the bodies until he could bury them. For that reason, they said, more corpses still may be found the house or in the garden.

One of Britain's biggest police nets was out for John Reginald Christie, 55-year-old trucking clerk who had rented the murder flat for a number of years. His wife was among the victims.

London Police Warn Crazy Murderer May Strike Again

LONDON (U)—Urgent new warnings went out today to all Britain's police that London's sex-crazed strangler may strike again at tonight's full moon. Already investigators had found the remains of six victims—all women—and what may be the shattered skull of a seventh.

Police believe the murders show a pattern of moon madness that could bring another slaying tonight. They pursued a theory that the killer at the time of the full moon goes berserk, entices the women into some secluded place, strangles them and assaults them sexually.

Poage Warns About GOP Co-Op Attitude

WASHINGTON (U)—Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco, Tex., has written the folks back home that the Republican Party "may be privately committed" to weaken farmer-owned electric power services.

In a weekly news letter to constituents the congressman said the administration's attitude was indicated when some 30 leaders from the Brazos Electric Power Co-operative of Texas visited the Department of Agriculture last week.

Poage said Secretary of Agriculture Benson was "rather evasive as to his attitude" when the Texans talked with him about government loans.

"These farmers who own the Brazos Co-operative borrow money from the REA (Rural Electrification Administration). They pay interest on that money," Poage wrote. "The government gives them nothing. They were here merely to ask the Department of Agriculture and Congress to keep the door open to them so they could borrow when they needed to provide generation and transmission facilities."

Poage declared he did not question Benson's sincerity but said the co-operatives could be weakened and practically destroyed by the secretary of agriculture, "without any actual overt act, or without any clear-cut or open opposition."

"All he has to do is to tell his REA administrator—now that he has got rid of Mr. (Claude) Wickard (who resigned recently)—to find something wrong with each loan application," Poage wrote. "We hope we are 'seeing ghosts.'"

He said the Brazos power co-operative is the second largest such organization in the United States, made up of 19 local co-operatives extending almost from Houston to Wichita Falls and serving more than 80,000 farm subscribers. Its headquarters is in Waco.

Poage said wholesale power rates in the area have been reduced by more than 60 per cent since the co-operative was formed.

"This farmer-owned power system has created the highly desirable competition situation which exists in the power industry in rural areas of Texas," Poage said.

Latest Texas Jet Ace May Return Soon

TYLER (U)—Texas' newest jet ace may be coming home about May 1, his wife said hopefully last night.

Word came yesterday from Korea that Maj. James P. Hagerstorm, 36, of Tyler had shot down his fifth Communist MIG—one for each of his three boys and two girls.

Mrs. Hagerstorm at her Tyler home was glad to hear the news but she was more interested in when he was coming home. She said he wrote on March 19 that he had 74 combat missions and planned to have 65 by the first week in April. She said she expected him to return home about May 1.

The veteran pilot, who shot down six Japanese planes during World War II, has never seen his youngest child, 6-week-old Mark, born Valentine Day. His other four children—Teresa, 18 months; Kristin, 2½-year-old girl; Eric, 5; and Michellen, 7—take his MIG-hunting as a matter of fact, Mrs. Hagerstorm said.

Hagerstorm, a native of Waterloo, Iowa, and the former Virgie Lee Jewell of Frankston, Tex., near Tyler, met in Orlando, Fla., in 1944 while she was in the WASPS. When he was discharged from the Air Force in 1945 they settled in Tyler where he continued flying as a professional pilot. He was recalled to duty in October, 1950, in the Air National Guard.

These off-duty hours are spent with other civilians, although the sailors never stop trying.

Airplanes were first used in war against the Turkish forces in Tripoli in 1911 and 1912.

Millikin, Mundt Deny Any Split Among GOPs On Bohlen Issue

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators Millikin (R-Colo.) and Mundt (R-SD) joined Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) today in denying there is a Republican foreign policy split as a result of the fight over the appointment of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen as ambassador to Russia.

Millikin and Mundt said in separate interviews they believe that differences of opinion signaled when 11 Republicans voted against confirmation of Bohlen are only temporary and soon will be forgotten.

Bohlen was confirmed by a 74-13 vote last Friday and Taft, the Republican leader, said over the week end this did not represent any permanent division of GOP members on foreign policy.

The Republicans who voted against President Eisenhower's choice of Bohlen said they did so primarily because the appointee served in what they called an advisory role at the 1945 Yalta conference. The agreements made there were condemned in last year's Republican platform.

Taft indicated he sympathized with that viewpoint, since he himself had condemned the agreements. But he added he didn't believe the Bohlen nomination involved future foreign policy at all since the appointee would not fill a policy-making job as his Moscow assignment.

Mundt, who voted against Bohlen, said there was nothing to substantiate reports that the Republicans had divided into factions led by Taft, who supported the President, and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), who fought confirmation.

"Those who voted against Bohlen simply demonstrated a difference of opinion about who should be ambassador to Moscow," Mundt said. "It certainly does not mark any permanent cleavage in party ranks."

"As far as I know there never has been any resemblance of factionalism between Taft and McCarthy. It's silly to try to read that meaning into a single vote."

McCarthy, appearing on a recorded MBS broadcast from New York last night, said he thought his opposition to Bohlen did "not interfere with the unity of the Republican party." He added:

"We are through with a rubber stamp Senate. We are more concerned with the country than with the party. President Eisenhower doesn't want a rubber stamp party. I don't think the President wants me to be a rubber stamp."

Millikin said he agreed with Taft that the Bohlen vote is neither a permanent split in Republican ranks nor a test of strength between Taft and McCarthy.

Several Republicans who voted for Bohlen said they did so primarily to support Eisenhower. That apparently was the essence of Taft's position.

Tragedy Unites Two Teen-Age Brothers

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Tragedy was cast in an unfamiliar role today, credited with uniting two teen-age Tulsa brothers who had never met despite the fact they lived in the same city all their lives and went to the same high school.

Ted Garrison, a 18-year-old youth, was despondent over the death Thursday of his foster father, Elton F. Garrison. Lonely and brooding, he was spending a few minutes at a root beer stand, telling the owner of the tough life he had given him. Monday, his foster grandfather had died, and Thursday his father.

The root beer owner sympathized. But, he said, he knew of another youth, about Ted's age, who had also had a tough time of it. His name? Wayne Shurley, and he was 17.

Ted asked the man to spell the other youth's last name again. The odd spelling convinced Ted he was related to the other boy. He knew Shurley had been his name before he was adopted at the age of 8 months. Ted had also been told he had a younger brother.

He contacted Wayne and the two met at an aunt's house. After a while Ted was able to convince Wayne they were at least related. They discovered they both had gone to Will Rogers High School, and both had left school after their sophomore year.

Wayne brought Ted home with him and confronted his mother, Mrs. C. A. McClain. The woman haltingly admitted Ted was her son, told the boys of the adoption but would not reveal anything else.

As it turns out, the reunion will be brief.

Ted is scheduled to leave for San Diego, Calif., and the Navy May 1. Wayne has enlisted in the Army and will be inducted at Ft. Sill, Okla., May 16. But in the next month, the youths said they plan to spend a lot of time together to mend a bond that never really had been broken.

Amateur Bull Fighters Raise $1,800 For Juarez Church

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP)—Seldom has the historic old Plaza de Toros seen anything like it: The bulls were brave, the matadors likewise, and the fans even more so. Together they staged quite a ball.

And they raised about 15,000 pesos ($1,800) to buy windows for the Chapel of the Little Jesus, a small adobe chapel on the outskirts of this old border city.

The bulls were the usual ferocious, range-bred animals used in Juarez' colorful bullfights. They pawed the ground, bellowed and charged in the best tradition.

But the five matadors from El Paso, Tex., were strictly novices. At times it appeared the bulls would be the victor, but with a few bumps, the amateurs made out all right.

And the fans were so pleased that at the end of the show, dozens jumped into the ring to bait an angry giant released as an "open bull" — fair game for all comers.

One fan was knocked out. The whole thing started when the El Paso group offered to fight for funds for the little Catholic church which they and other residents of Juarez and El Paso have been building since 1945.

Panchito Reyes, cashier in a department store and most experienced of the bullfighters, opened the show. He killed his bull and won an ear—the mark of a good fight—but not before he was tossed into the fence surrounding the ring.

Here's how his mates made out: Al Darnell, magician; Magic wouldn't work and he was sent to the showers after trying for half an hour to kill his bull. Substitute Charles Scanlon polished off the wife, Marilyn Evans, and daughter, Derri Diann, will join him here April 7.

S-Sgt. Edgar F. Kimes from Elington AFB, Texas. His wife, Louise, and daughters, Beverly Anne and Marilyn Jean, will join him later.

Squall Line In Texas Ahead Of A Cool Front

By The Associated Press
A squall line brewed thunderstorms from Abilene through East Texas Monday.
Rain burst out of low-hanging clouds over Dallas and Fort Worth. Earlier thundershowers fell at Abilene and Mineral Wells.
Conditions were right for rain all across the eastern half of the state. Humidity was high and clouds sagged close to earth.
The squall line was a forerunner of a cool front that nosed into the western tip of the state. It extended from the Sherman area past Dallas and Fort Worth and trailed off west of Waco, Austin and San Antonio.
The cool front was expected to reach the Dallas-Fort Worth area by late afternoon and push on to the Texas coast early Tuesday morning.
More turbulent weather was forecast in Oklahoma. A tornado ripped farm land near Lawton Sunday night adding to destruction wrought by flash floods and heavy downpours earlier in the evening. The highway patrol said the twister tore down part of a barn, ripped fences and damaged buildings. No injuries were reported.
Hail and 1.17 inches of rain covered Lawton streets with as much as two feet of water. Some residents had to evacuate their homes.
Dallas water experts watched run off water still flowing into the low Lake Dallas reservoir as a result of rains last week. They hoped for more showers in the watershed Monday to ease the city water shortage.

Jury Trial Set For Airman Who Resisted Police Search

A jury trial will be held in Justice Court Tuesday morning for a Negro airman charged with disturbing the peace.
The airman is Charles Hammond, who was arrested in the Negro Elks Club last Saturday night.
Hammond was arrested after he allegedly resisted a search at the club. Police and sheriff's deputies had been called to the club Saturday night on a report that someone there had a pistol.
All people in the club were searched. Hammond resented the search and used vile language in the establishment, officers said.
When taken before Justice of the Peace Cecil Nabors Monday morning, Hammond pleaded not guilty to charges and demanded a jury trial.
Nabors set the trial for 10 a.m. Tuesday. He has instructed the sheriff's department to summon jurors for the trial. Two Webb Air Force base officers and an enlisted man were present at the hearing this morning when Hammond pleaded not guilty.
Hammond's bond was set at $400 pending trial. He remained in jail in lieu of bond.

Fate Of 18 Is Unknown; Lost Airliner Found

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia
—A missing Viking airliner with 18 persons aboard was located today 80 miles southwest of Dar Es Salam in Tanganyika at the edge of a region of mangrove swamps. Fate of the 13 passengers, including two women, and the crew of five is unknown.
Information relayed here by natives did not make clear whether the Central African Airways plane had crashed or made a forced landing in the east African wilds. Search parties were organized to hunt for survivors.
The plane was en route from Dar Es Salam to Salatyre in Nyasaland when it went down.
The plane had been missing since Saturday. Reports received here said Louis Yudin, stage director for the Covent Garden Opera Company and Sadler's Wells ballet in London, was among those aboard.
London offices of Central African Airways were unable to confirm that Yudin was aboard the plane. The office said it had no passenger list.
An office spokesman said Royal Air Force planes had dropped supplies at the crash scene. The spokesman added: "There was activity about the plane so it may be presumed if there was a crash there are survivors."

Accessories Are Important

Lovely MGM Actress Eleanor Parker stresses the importance of accessories. "The outfit is only part of the impression," Eleanor tells Lydia Lane.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

By Lydia Lane

HOLLYWOOD—Despite the fact that the trend at the studios today is to pare player lists down to the bone, MGM has signed Eleanor Parker to a long term contract. This has been a good year for Eleanor. She has a new baby and a new studio. We chatted about this and about the new color of Eleanor's hair, when we were having lunch together last week end. "There is a great psychological aspect to hair," she told me. "My natural color is neither a rich brown nor a gleaming blond. Having such a drab indefinite color affected my personality. Whenever I changed the color of my hair I got a violent reaction one way or another."

"Do you weigh the compliments against the slams?" "Yes. When I went blond everyone liked it so much I said to myself this is for me. I use people's reaction as a guide for clothes, too. But one must remember that the dress is only part of it—the over-all impression consists of your accessories, make-up and hair-do. One time I wore a beautiful dress—it had a full skirt and was strapless but I went to a party and no one made a comment," Eleanor continued. "I said I'll put this in my memory book as a mistake. But I gave it one more trial. This time, instead of a long bob, I drew my hair back off my face with a low bun. I wore long ear rings and there was the sweep of neck and shoulder unbroken. This time everyone told me I'd never looked better."

THIS IS GOOD EATING

BAKED APPLE CUSTARD DESSERT

Ingredients: 4 small baking apples, 2 tablespoons water, 1 egg (separated), 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 cup milk, grated rind of 1 lemon, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2 cup butter or margarine (melted).

Method: Wash apples, core, but leave a little of the blossom end of the fruit to hold in custard. With a paring knife, make 8 equidistant slits from top of core cavity to about one-half way down apple. Place in 2-quart casserole (about 5 inches wide and 3 inches deep); pour in water so it will cover bottom of dish. Cover and bake in moderate (350F) oven until soft when pierced with fork, about 25 minutes; do not allow to get mushy because apples will get 5 or 10 minutes more baking. Just before apples are ready, beat egg white until stiff; without washing beater, beat egg yolk slightly; now beat white and yolk together until combined. Add sugar, milk, lemon rind and lemon juice; beat together well. Beat in melted butter. Drain off any liquid in bottom of apple casserole. Pour custard mixture over apples, filling cavities. Return to moderate (350F) oven just until custard is heated and foamy top of sauce is slightly set—3 to 10 minutes; do not bake longer or sauce may separate too much. Serve hot or warm. Makes 4 servings. Makes a tempting dessert for the following:

Broiled Steak
French-fried Potatoes
Broccoli
Harvard Beets
Bread and Butter
Baked Apple Custard Dessert Beverage

With this for future use, it may conveniently be pasted on a recipe file card.

Wilson Is A Key Figure In Ike Budget-Balancing Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson would be a happy man if he could find some way to cut defense spending about four billion dollars.

For example the Navy now is insured at only about 80 per cent of wartime strength. Wilson could reduce that to 75 or 70 per cent.

Business Outlook — J. A. Livingston

Wilson Is Good Bet To Secure Top Strength At Minimum Cost

Forecasting the trend in business—in production, prices, employment, and ultimately retail sales—is still a wide-open guessing game. But Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson offered a clue the other day. He said at a press conference that defense spending won't increase above recent levels.

could upset Wilson's plans, of course—by deciding on an expanded military program. But otherwise, it's at least an even guess that Wilson will keep outlays level and later work them down.

Wilson has only 85 per cent of total national security expenditures under his control. Outside his domain are the Atomic Energy Commission; foreign economic aid; largely handled by the Mutual Security Agency; and foreign military aid.

It's hard to find a pessimist. True, J. H. Ashbaugh, vice president of Westinghouse Electric, told the installment credit conference of the American Bankers Association in Chicago that an "8 per cent to 10 per cent decline" in general business was to be expected starting in 1954.

Wilson would tell the Navy to figure the costs of staying ready for prompt and sustained action. Adm. William M. Fechteler, chief of naval operations, could provide him with an answer.

One teen-ager put his objections in this way: "If you should marry at 19 and your husband was 21, would you like it if you went bowling and you couldn't have a beer with him?"

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Many folks who read after reports of the H.C.J.C. basketball team in the National Juco Tournament at Hutchinson, Kansas, could not understand how the Jayhawks, after having attained the semi-finals, could finish sixth in the meet.

The explanation is simple. The order of the final seedings is based on how many games and when a team wins. Whereas the Hawks copped only two of four games, the teams ranked ahead of them boasted a better win-loss percentage, though some of them lost their first round games.

Although it may seem otherwise, it's a very fair way of rating the field. And what's wrong with a sixth place finish, anyway? There are 450 junior colleges in the country, most of which field basketball teams. That's among the top two per cent.

For a team that was competing in the big Hutchinson meet for the first time, against several quintets that had played in the gigantic fieldhouse many, many times, the Big Springers did better than all right. They put Big Spring on the map as no other local team in history ever has. And the good will they created cannot help but pay dividends to the school and the city in future years.

They deserve a mammoth welcome upon their return here today.

Jay Haney, the Midland baseball chieftain, is trying to make a first baseman out of Hayden White, who roamed the outfield for the Indians last year.

Lefty Shelton, the Fortan baseball impresario, is telling friends he won't manage the Fortan Concho Basin League entry this year but he's made such threats before. Chances are he will.

Bill Garbe, who played first base for Big Spring before World War II, is still at it. Bill hit .296 for Fresno in the California League last year.

And Dominic Chiola, who bossed the Sweetwater entry in the Longhorn League for a while a couple of seasons back, could hit only .276 for El Dorado in the Class C Cotton States League in 1932.

Vince Sarubbi and Melvin Miller, who played with Artesia last season, are trying out with Tom Jordan's Albuquerque club in the WT-NM league this season. Roswell's Bobby Lemmel, the rookie of the year in the Longhorn wheel last year, is with the same team.

No team will probably come close to Sweetwater's all-time team hitting record of .330, set in the Longhorn League back in 1947, but Artesia's power-juggernaut Drillers may hit comfortably above .300 as well this season.

Earl Perry, the Artesia boss, must reason a good offense is the best defense in any endeavor because he's building his club around his hitters again this year.

Perry undoubtedly figures he'll simply overpower the opposition this year. He might, at that.

IN EXHIBITION

Houston Nips Indians, 5-4

By The Associated Press

Oklahoma City had a big 12th inning, but the Houston Buffs had a bigger one Sunday and edged the Indians, 5-4, in a Texas League exhibition game in Houston.

In other Sunday exhibition games, the Dallas Eagles defeated Beaumont 5-4, Shreveport took the second of a series from Augusta, 8-3, and the New Orleans Pelicans fell to Tulsa, 3-2.

A pinch single by Roy Broome drove in the winning Houston run in the bottom of the 12th in Houston. At the end of 11, the score was tied, 2-2. Oklahoma City scored twice in the top of the 12th. In the Houston half of the inning, Larry Claffone singled and Billy McGhee doubled. Ed Phillips' two-run single tied the score. Broome's single brought in Phillips with the game-winning run.

The Dallas Eagles staged a five-run eighth inning to defeat the Beaumont Exporters in Beaumont. It was Beaumont's eighth exhibition loss against no wins.

The Shreveport Sports had little difficulty in stopping Augusta of the South Atlantic League in Shreveport. But the Sports pitchers saw their string of red-hot hurling broken after a combined opposition had failed to score an earned run in 28 consecutive innings. Right-hander Ed Arthur gave up the three runs.

Tulsa handed New Orleans of the South Association its first loss of the exhibition season in New Orleans. The Pelicans had won seven straight, four of them against Tulsa.

Monday exhibition games find Dallas at Tyler and Tulsa and Augusta at Monroe, La.

Angel Defeated By Masterson

ODESSA — Robert Angel, Big Spring number one singles player, lost out in the third round of the Odessa Invitational Tennis Tournament here Saturday.

His conqueror was Henry Masterson, El Paso High, whose margin of victory was 6-0, 6-0. Masterson went on to win the championship.

Big Spring's doubles team of Donald Mac Richardson and Steve Kornfeld lost to McCamey's representatives, 6-6, 6-0, 6-4.

Jim Layne, playing junior singles for Big Spring, yielded to Pecos, 6-1, 6-2.

Red Wilson May Stick With Sox

MESA, Ariz. (U)—Robert (Red) Wilson, Chicago White Sox rookie catcher, gambled with his athletic future—and won.

Wilson was a star center for the University of Wisconsin football team as well as the baseball squad's regular backstop.

When he was graduated in 1930, he was offered a $10,000 salary to play pro football with the Cleveland Browns. He turned it down in favor of baseball.

The gamble paid off. The 24-year-old Milwaukeean is hitting at a .364 pace in Sox spring training exhibitions. Manager Paul Richards says he's "at least an even bet to be our No. 1 catcher."

Smaller Umpire Staff Is Named

DALLAS (U)—A curtailed umpiring staff, cut from 12 to 10 members in a Texas League economy move, was announced today by league President J. Alvin Gardner.

Mill Steengrafe, starting his eighteenth season, is the dean of the staff. Others on the staff are Frency Arceneaux, Bill Maleaky, Bud Newman, Leonard Roberts, Cy Simon, Bob Smith, Mike Williamson, Bill Wilson and newcomer Stan Lecamus.

Kermitt Cran, who came to the league only last year, was released while Buster Capps and Eddie Cassini retired to private business.

Lecamus comes to the league with four years of experience. He was with the Pioneer League last year. He also was in the Gulf Coast League a year.

Gilliam May Be Ready To Stay

By JACK HAND

SARASOTA, Fla. (U)—The kid who chased Jackie Robinson off second base is a 24-year-old Negro from Nashville by the name of James (Junior) Gilliam, fresh from the Montreal farm.

In fact, Gilliam still is on the Montreal roster, pending final action by the Brooklyn brass. They want to be sure before they make their move.

Manager Charley Dresen is almost as sure as you can be at this stage of a spring training season.

"If he continues as he has up to now, he's got to play second base," said Dresen. "Hitting is the only question. If he can hit .260, he can help us. He looks like a fine leadoff man."

Robinson, moved out of his regular job by Gilliam, has this to say about the newcomer:

"He can get balls that I can't touch any more. If he hits .275, I think the club will be strongest with him at second base. He is fast. He has a good arm. The only question to me is the double play. He isn't a polished double play man—yet."

Gilliam, a switch hitter, is getting his big chance after only two years of organized ball—both at Montreal. Last year he hit .301 and was named the most valuable player in the International League.

He isn't exactly a novice at the game, having played in the Negro leagues since 1945, when he was only 16.

"It seemed like I always was fooling around a ball park," he said. "Down home in Nashville, around Sulphur-Dell. That's where I started with Nashville in the Negro Southern League in 1945."

Next year I went up to Baltimore, where I live now, and played with the Elite Giants. I was there for five years until Brooklyn bought me."

Red Sox In Last Game At Sarasota

Hemus Hustles Back

PUBLIC INVITED

Sportsmanship Party Upcoming

Arah Phillips' girl athletes are going to break bread with the boys at Ted Phillips' Sportsmanship Banquet in the High School Cafeteria at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Twelve members of the High School girls' volleyball team will attend the dinner, along with basketball players of H.C.J.C. and Big Spring High School.

There'll be three Sportsmanship awards given. Trophies to the H.C.J.C. and Big Spring High School cagers will be awarded by Phillips as per custom. John Dibrell, local sporting goods dealer, has announced he will henceforth provide one for the girl volleyball team.

Jackie Robinson, former All-American and Olympic basketball star, will again serve as chief speaker at the party.

In each instance, winner of the award is judged on ability, sportsmanship and popularity with his or her teammates.

Last year, Charley Warren of H.C.J.C. and Gene Carpenter of Big Spring High School won the prizes. Warren set a precedent when he asked the committee to consider some one else on the H.C.J.C. team for the award this season, implying a player should not be allowed to win the trophy more than once.

The public is invited to attend the Saturday night party, which will serve as a sort of homecoming for the H.C.J.C. basketball team, which recently won sixth place in the National Juco Tournament at Hutchinson, Kansas.

Tickets for the event, priced at $1.50 each, have gone on sale.

BEEES IN FINALS

Volley Ball Team Plainview Champ

The Big Spring High School Steerettes returned from Plainview over the week end, with a 16-inch trophy, emblematic of the championship in the second annual girls' volleyball tournament there.

To enter the throne room, the Steerettes had to defeat Phillips, runner-up in the recent Big Spring Tournament, in the finals, 15-4 and 15-7.

To get to the finals, the Big Spring A's defeated Petersburg, 15-1 and 15-10, and Pampa, 15-10 and 15-1, in that order.

Phillips advanced by turning back Plainview, 15-8, 12-15 and 15-2; Spade, 15-3 and 15-4.

The Big Spring B-team moved up in its bracket, nudging Petersburg, 15-11 and 15-11 and Plainview, 15-3 and 15-1, before losing to Phillips.

Plainview won consolation honors in the A bracket, defeating Hale Center, 15-8 and 15-10. There was no consolation bracket in the B tournament.

Rosemary Rice of Big Spring rated the all-tournament team in the A division while Frances McClain and Jo Cochran represented Big Spring on the B all-star squad.

The Steerettes, who next see action against Midland here Tuesday at 7 and 8 p.m., have won four trophies in five tournaments they've entered to date.

They were runnerup in the Grandfalls Meet, lost in the quarterfinals at Odessa JC and Sweetwater, copped the Consolation trophy in their own tournament and then won the Plainview crown.

Rice was named to the all-tournament team in each of those meets. Nell Glover and Anna Mae Thorp are other local players who have been singled out for their play.

In winning 18 games in 23 starts this year, the Big Springers have scored 640 points to 418 for the opposition.

Rice will be the only A team player lost by graduation this year. The Bees will lose McClain, Dene Choate, Barbara Hill and Bea Vaughn for the same reason.

Coach Arah Phillips has some fine replacements coming up from Junior High, among them Bernice Rice and Jane Watson, spikers, and Carolyn Miller, set-up.

Hodges And Cox On Ailing List

SARASOTA, Fla. (U)—The Brooklyn Dodgers were without the service of two of their stars, Gil Hodges and Billy Cox, as they prepared to take on the Boston Red Sox today.

Cox pulled a tendon in his back Saturday and will be out for five days.

Philly Clubs Play Ragged Engagement

CLEARWATER, Fla. (U)—The Philadelphia Phillies took a two to one edge in spring competition with the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday in a game neither team was very proud of.

The final score was 10 to 6 in favor of the National Leaguers, but the pitching and fielding on both sides was sour. The two clubs made five errors, three for the A's and two for the Phillies. Harry Byrd, rookie of 1952 in the American League, went the full nine innings and was raked for 10 runs and 10 hits.

The Phillies learned that outfielder Mel Clark will be out of action for at least a week. The young fielder was hit in the mouth with a line drive on March 26.

Tribe, Giants Clubs To Watch This Season

By ED CORRIGAN

If you want to take the word of the experts, the Cleveland Indians and the New York Giants are the teams that will win the major league pennants if the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers falter.

The Indians this spring have been playing the kind of baseball one would expect of a pennant contender.

They always seem to look good in the training season. But there's always that one year that would be the one. Al Lopez' team now has won six in a row from major league opposition, including yesterday's 15-3 slaughter of the Giants. They also hold a 6-2 lead in the series with the Yankees.

The Giants, on the other hand, are far game for the viewers with alarm. They've been playing poorly as the statistics will show. There's no need to go through the entire list. Suffice it to say they have lost their last five games and 10 of their last 12 against major league opposition.

And Durocher doesn't even have his lineup set. He still had Hank Thompson in center field yesterday, and it's pretty generally agreed that Hank can't make the grade. Bobby Hofman played second base and Daye Williams pinch hit.

The Giants pulled out of Phoenix today and they play the Indians in eight states before arriving at the Polo Grounds.

Durocher, who has been spending most of the spring denying that he was worried about the performance of the Giants, made no bones about being displeased with the barrage to which three of his pitchers were subjected. All told, Al Corwin, Hoyt Wilhelm and Reuben Gomez were pounded for 17 hits, including two home runs, two triples and three doubles. They also gave up nine bases on balls.

The Dodgers and Kanks, meanwhile, went at each other as though the World Series were at stake in St. Petersburg, with the Brooks winning out, 2-0, to pull even in the exhibition series, 2-all. Johnny Podres and Joe Black held the world champions to five singles while Jackie McDonald went all the way for the Yanks.

The Dodgers made only four hits and their one run came about in the second inning when Jackie Robinson walked, went to third on a double by George Shuba and scored when Roy Campanella grounded out.

The Detroit Tigers, who are playing like anything but tallenters, defeated the Boston Red Sox, 11-7, for their 11th victory against five defeats in Grapefruit League competition.

The Washington Senators, with Jackie Jensen hitting a home run and two singles to raise his batting average to .407, defeated the Milwaukee Braves, 10-7.

It took an assist in the form of four errors, but the St. Louis Cardinals, who have been having their troubles all spring, stopped the Cincinnati Reds, 9-4.

Harry Byrd, who is trying to work his way out of the Philadelphia A's doghouse, took a step in the wrong direction when he went all the way against the Philadelphia Phillies and was clubbed for 10-7 loss.

Scarborough Will Try For Distance

LAKELAND, Fla. (U)—The New York Yankees' Ray Scarborough will attempt to go all the way today against the Detroit Tigers.

The 34-year-old righthander had only two complete games last season while compiling a 6-6 record with the Yankees and the Boston Red Sox.

Ned Garver and Art Hoytteman will work for the Tigers.

KANSAS RELAYS ARE SCHEDULED

AUSTIN (U)—The next big track and field carnival for Southwest Conference teams is the Kansas Relays at Lawrence, Kans., April 18, and they have the men to win their share of honors.

The Texas Relays here last week end showed that the Southwest may not be too strong in the relays but has some of the nation's top individuals.

Darrow Hooper, the Texas Aggie Olympics Star, will be after his third straight double triumph at Lawrence—victory in both the shot put and discus throw. Hooper made it three in a row for these events in the Texas Relays as he established a record in the shot with 56 feet 2 3/4 inches and won first in the discus with 138 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Texas has a couple of relay teams that will rank with the best. The sprint relay quartet did 41.7 here although running without two of its regular members of last year—Jim Brownhill and Dean Smith. Brownhill was out because of an injury. Smith is scholastically ineligible this season. The Texas 880-yard relay team whipped up a 1:26.2.

Bobby Ragdale of Texas A&M broad jumped over 24 feet, Malcolm Marks of Texas A&M pole vaulted 13 feet 6 and Charles

Thomas of Texas is a threat in any meet in the sprints.

Among the colleges not in the Southwest Conference but with strong contenders in any meet are East Texas State with its Charles Holding, who high jumps 6 feet 5 any time he wants to and has done 6 feet 9 1/2 inches, and sprint medley, 440, 880 and mile relay teams from North Texas State and Abilene Christian Colleges.

Kansas should dominate its own relays in the distance events. The Jayhawks won four relay events here—the sprint medley, distance medley, four-mile and two-mile, setting records in two and tying a record in another. Wes Santee anchored all four of them. Santee is one of the greatest distance runners in the nation. He did a 4:06.7 mile here, and that's the best the race has been run this season. He also ran a 1:49.4 half-mile.

Hooper's shot put was the second best in the nation this year. Only Parry O'Brien of Southern California, who beat Hooper in the Olympic Games, has a better throw and it was a matter of inches.

Texas A&M, which led the Texas Relays in points, thus won the unofficial championship; Texas, Arkansas, Baylor and Southern Methodist will have teams in the Kansas Relays.

Three Clubs Are Unbeaten In Southwest Loop Play

By The Associated Press

Two of the top teams in Southwest Conference baseball take on lower strata clubs Tuesday in the only action of the week having a bearing on the championship.

Baylor and Texas, two of the three unbeaten teams in the circuit after one week of play, engage Texas A&M and Rice respectively.

Southern Methodist, the other undefeated nine, has no games at all this week.

Texas opened defense of its championship with a 9-0 strapping of Texas A&M. Baylor whipped Rice twice, 6-2 and 5-1, and Southern Methodist trimmed Texas Christian twice—4-1 and 6-4.

A good A&M play at College Station tomorrow while Texas and Rice get together at Houston. Thursday Rice plays Texas City of the Gulf Coast League at Texas City, Texas taken on San Antonio. Friday, Texas Christian and Hardin-Simmons clash at Abilene and Rice plays the Baytown Oilers at Baytown.

Texas is undefeated for the season, winning five games. Last week the Longhorns whipped Minnesota twice in intercollegiate tilts. The scores were 8-6 and 7-4.

Man Fined $10 For Drunkenness Here

A man who was arrested Sunday sitting on the side of the highway beside his wrecked automobile was fined $10 in Justice Court today on charges of drunkenness. The man said he was in an accident, claiming he ran into the back of a car. Officers said the right front of his automobile was caved in.

However, the other vehicle involved could not be contacted. Neither could anyone that knew anything about a wreck. The man was not too clear on the details, either. He pleaded guilty of drunkenness, paid his fine, and was released. He was arrested on Highway 80 east of Coahoma.

Italian Party Sets Middle-Way Policy

MILAN, Italy (AP)—The Independent Italian Socialist party, which cares little for America and even less for Soviet Russia, ended a two-day conference here last night with resolutions urging Italy to find a "middle way" between Moscow and Washington. Most of the 600 delegates attending were rebels from the big fellow-traveling Italian Socialist party, which since the war has linked itself with communism.

No Injuries Noted In Week-End Mishaps

No injuries and little damage resulted from two traffic mishaps in the city during the week end. T. K. Ruppard, 600 Birdwell, and W. R. Rabbitt, Coleman Courts, were drivers of cars in a collision at an unreported location Sunday night. J. W. Holt, 504 Presidio, and William David Mullen, Webb AFB, were operators of vehicles which were in collision in the 400 block of Main, police said.

Examining Trial In Forgery Case Waived

Mack Majors of Big Spring waived examining trial in Justice Court today on charges of forgery and passing. Justice of the Peace Cecil Nabors set his bond at $1,000. Majors was arrested by sheriff's officials after he allegedly passed a forged instrument at Safeway Grocery here. The check was for $19.95, and it was made out to Mack Majors and signed with the name Clyde Majors.

(Continued From Page One) and again 15 minutes later. Within 20 minutes after they arrived, the Reds withdrew and the gap was closed.

A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman said 15 dead Reds were counted, 31 estimated killed and 42 estimated wounded. In fighting at Outpost Vegas Sunday night, the Reds advanced in three columns of about 100 men each under cover of a 15-minute artillery barrage.

But the watchful Marines atop the height fired illuminating flares, snapped on searchlights, and called for supporting artillery. The pounding forced the Reds to fall back less than two hours after they jumped off.

Marine artillerymen employed what they call the box technique to smash the Chinese efforts to mount a second attack. It involves dropping shells both in front of and behind the Reds.

The Chinese employed the artillery box technique themselves at RENO, Odessa, offered a notarized statement of a former state health department employee today to back up Rutherford's charge of mis-use of state equipment and personnel by Health Officer George W. Cox.

The statement, signed by Hadley Johnson, was submitted as the State Board of Health began investigation of Rutherford's charges against Dr. Cox and others in the health department.

Johnson said in his statement he had painted the kitchen, back porch and a bathroom cabinet in Cox's house on state time and using state paint brushes in Oct., 1952.

studying the Red acceptance and has given no indication of when it will answer.

However, the Communist radio blared more of its old charges to-night, saying the United States has "intensified germ warfare with the outbreak of spring." The U. S. repeatedly has denied such charges. The truce talks—started in July, 1951—finally broke down Oct. 8, 1952, over a U. N. demand that prisoners be given a choice whether they want to return to their homelands.

The letter was the first Red move since, and it set off a welter of wondering. Were the Communists sincere—would they go through with an actual exchange?

Would this be a package deal in re-opening the truce talks necessary before the Reds will swap sick and wounded POWs? What's behind it—perhaps some hidden gimmick to benefit the Reds?

The matter of sincerity was met with a "wait and see" attitude here, in Washington and other world capitals, stung before by apparently genuine Red offers of peace.

At New Delhi, home of the Indian government that has often tried the role of East-West peacemaker, officials said privately: "We must wait and see. The world has been disappointed too often already."

The question of a package deal was not answered by the Reds, but the U. N. obviously viewed the POWs and truce talks as separate proposals, to be dealt with one at a time.

In Washington, the State Department made it clear it believes the prisoners can be exchanged without formally reopening the truce talks. A spokesman said it is too early to comment on going back to the armistice tent at Panmunjom.

The best Army opinion here is that necessary talks for POW exchange would be a "working level" arrangement and not by any means a resumption of the truce talks.

Such talks would be in the hands of lower ranking Red and U. N. officers to make detailed arrangements. They could be started in minutes, once the go-ahead is given.

That okay had to come from Washington. Normally the State Department makes the basic recommendations after consulting with the United Nations. Then Gen. Mark Clark U. N. Far East commander, gets the signal and notifies the Communists.

The question of whether the Reds' acceptance is loaded with a hidden gimmick is causing plenty of hard figuring all over the world. That figuring is keyed to the Reds' request for more truce talks.

In Washington, a military officer familiar with the Communists commented: "They never ask for a truce, unless they are in trouble."

However, the Communists are in the midst of their strongest drive in Korea in five months, although Allied officers regard it as a feeler attack.

Man Says He Painted House For Dr. Cox On State Time

AUSTIN (AP)—Sen. J. T. Rutherford, Odessa, offered a notarized statement of a former state health department employee today to back up Rutherford's charge of mis-use of state equipment and personnel by Health Officer George W. Cox.

The statement, signed by Hadley Johnson, was submitted as the State Board of Health began investigation of Rutherford's charges against Dr. Cox and others in the health department.

Johnson said in his statement he had painted the kitchen, back porch and a bathroom cabinet in Cox's house on state time and using state paint brushes in Oct., 1952.

He said Cox paid him $25 for his week's work and that $10 of that went for paint. Johnson, now a state Senate employee, was reported ill at home when he was called for direct questioning.

Rush Starts For Licenses

The mad rush for purchase of 1953 license tags was on this morning at the Howard County Courthouse.

Four lines were in operation, one at each window. And the lines were each fairly long. Mrs. Viola Robinson said the rush was as expected.

License number CB 7179 was issued this morning, and Mrs. Robinson did not have any idea as to how many would be issued through the day. She expects about 5,500 to be issued in all.

Lines dwindled off just before noon, but the clerks expected another rush this afternoon and tomorrow. Deadline is Wednesday, Mrs. Robinson said.

The city will receive bids on the big paving project until 2 p. m. Tuesday, April 14.

Plans for the work may be secured from the city engineer or copies may be inspected in the Chamber of Commerce Plan Room, Settles Hotel.

McCarthy made his announcement at an unusual news conference in the subcommittee's hearing room. The public was admitted, as well as reporters. The conference was filmed for television broadcast later.

Obviously jubilant, McCarthy called the shipping agreement a major blow against the Communists. He said he had been told that "this will have a very, very demoralizing effect on the Chinese economy and their efforts to wage war."

McCarthy said the agreement worked out with Manuel Kulu-kundis, president of the Greek ship owners' New York committee. He said a similar but separate agreement was entered into with Stavros Livanos, described as the operator of 36 of the 242 ships but not a member of the New York committee.

Livanos' attorney, Donald D. Geary, said in New York his client readily agreed to stop trading with China. Geary said Livanos' business would not be seriously affected because he did little trading with China—no cargo carried to the Communists and about a dozen cargoes brought from China in recent years after unloading in other Far East ports.

McCarthy said the agreement "will have some of the effects of a naval blockade" of Red China—a high-level policy matter that long has been a subject of controversy in the conduct of the Korean War.

Firefighters Pour Water On Ruins Where 33 Died

Total destruction of a nursing home near Largo, Fla., Saturday night is shown by this Sunday morning picture. of the Greek owners who signed. "That is no concern of yours, Mr. Stassen," McCarthy retorted tartly, but not before Francis D. Flanagan, the subcommittee's chief counsel, had responded absolutely not.

The new Greek government decree is not binding on Greek owners of ships flying the flags of other countries. McCarthy said that the agreement he worked out with the ship owners was thus more inclusive and effective than that of the Greek government.

McCarthy said Saturday that his agreement, negotiated without consultation with the Eisenhower administration, provided that the Greek ship owners would not "carry cargoes of any type from one Communist port to another in any part of the world."

The Greek government's action, as reported here, was understood to apply only to ships flying the Greek flag. Officials said the Greek government could take no action against vessels owned by Greeks but operating under the flags of other countries.

McCarthy said that of the 242 ships involved in his committee's action, 51 fly the Greek flag, 88 the Panamanian, 52 the Liberian, 34 the Canadian and 17 the British.

Since the U. S. Constitution makes the President responsible for the conduct of foreign affairs, McCarthy's move raised a constitutional question. It was not clear whether a senatorial subcommittee, in bypassing the executive branch of government to negotiate an agreement with foreigners, had infringed upon this presidential prerogative.

There was no comment from the White House or State Department. "I didn't want any interference by anyone," McCarthy replied when reporters asked if he had informed the State Department or any other government agency about the negotiations.

Later in New York, McCarthy said he felt President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles "will be pleased." He said another 150 ships may be covered by tomorrow under similar agreements.

Members of McCarthy's subcommittee, Republicans and Democrats alike, said they had not seen the agreement in advance. However, Senators Mundt (R-S) and McClellan (D-Ark) said they were aware of staff work leading to it. Senators Potter (R-Mich) and Jackson (D-Wash) said that, although the announcement was a surprise, they approved of the agreement.

McCarthy made his announcement at an unusual news conference in the subcommittee's hearing room. The public was admitted, as well as reporters. The conference was filmed for television broadcast later.

Obviously jubilant, McCarthy called the shipping agreement a major blow against the Communists. He said he had been told that "this will have a very, very demoralizing effect on the Chinese economy and their efforts to wage war."

McCarthy said the agreement "will have some of the effects of a naval blockade" of Red China—a high-level policy matter that long has been a subject of controversy in the conduct of the Korean War.

Reporters were curious about why the ship owners entered into the agreement, which McCarthy said would cost them a lot of money. "I don't know all the things that influenced them," McCarthy said. "I think their primary objective was to deal a heavy blow to the Communist cause."

He had announced previously that a primary target of the subcommittee was the use in trade behind the Iron Curtain of 96 surplus ships sold by the government after the war.

McCarthy said he did not know how many of these 96 ships were covered by the agreement, but added that as far as they were concerned the investigation had become "rather a moot question."

The Maritime Administration recently declared 21 of the 96 ships in default of their mortgage terms—and subject to seizure if they entered American ports—unless they filed required certificates of seaworthiness. Several of the 21 already have filed these certificates, clearing up their mortgage difficulties.

Some of the ships were sold to Italians, others to Greek and French interests. McCarthy said the subcommittee will continue its investigations of those not covered by the agreement.

Odessa Man Is Beaten, Robbed Sunday Night

An Odessa man is in serious condition at Cowper Hospital today after having been beaten and robbed last night.

A. V. Hardin suffered multiple lacerations and "very severe" contusions on the head and face, doctors reported. X-rays were being made, but it had not been determined at noon whether any fractures resulted from the assault.

Police believe Hardin was beaten on the head with a big rock. They found a bloody piece of stone in the Negro Park in northwest Big Spring, where Hardin's car also was located.

Hardin said he was robbed of $27 in cash and a check for more than $200 by a Negro man. He was unable to give details of the attack.

Police theorized Hardin may have been taken to the park. They said he may have picked up a hitchhiker and let the man drive while he slept.

The Odessa man, an oil field worker, drives to Big Spring every other Monday morning to make payments on hospital bills, police said.

First police knew of the robbery was about 3:50 a.m. today when they received a call from Alamo Courts, 901 W. 3rd Street. Hardin apparently walked from the north-side park to the highway to summon aid.

An unidentified woman at the tourist court notified officers that a badly injured man had come there for help. He was taken to the hospital. Police said he was in no condition to talk this morning.

A physician said the man's head was seriously injured and that both his head and face had been "badly mauled." Though in a serious condition, he was "doing very well" at noon.

Thieves Get Money From Coin Machines

Burglars who entered the Top Hat Cafe, 312 NW 4th, without breaking any locks or windows Saturday night escaped with money from three coin-operated machines.

Police said a juke box, cigarette machine and pin ball machine were rifled. There was no sign of forcible entry.

Patrolmen F. V. Chapman and Durwood Proctor discovered the burglary about 4:15 a.m. Sunday when they noticed a door standing open.

An attempt was made to enter a residence at 204 East 13th, police said. Screens on back door and window of the house were slashed, but the home was not entered.

IN MANAGEMENT CLASS

Certificates Given To Webb Trainees

Certificates went to 46 graduates of Webb Air Force Base modified management training school Monday.

Col. Henry S. Tyler Jr., base executive officer, addressed the class. He cited the importance of more efficient management and methods as a means of enabling fewer people to do a better job for the Air Force.

During course of the training program, the class inspected several business firms in Big Spring.

Certificates were awarded to: Lt. Johnnie J. Zioher, Lt. James M. Heatley, Lt. Donald M. Hubsch, Lt. Maurice H. J. Sevin, Mrs. Barbara J. Daniel, Mrs. Elva E. Moore, Mrs. Alene H. Olsen, Mrs. Peggy R. Fuhrer, Mrs. Marion J. Keaton, Mrs. Wanda T. Carr, Mrs. Christina L. Lanham, Gilbert E. Webb, Samuel B. Swafford.

M-Sgt. Winton D. Emple, Jack L. Shelton, Alvin D. Smith, Michael J. Mercurio; T-Sgt. Norman D. Crawford, Oran L. Webb, John T. Latsko, Pryor D. Kyle, Raymond F. Whetsell, Dominick J. Ranelli, Robert W. Bonham, Paul W. McLain.

That is commission's policy in trying to prevent abuses, he said. The spokesman said road programs had been stopped in Van Zandt and Kaufman counties, but the claims had been met, the ban had been released and "they're all happy up there now."

Only a few other counties are involved. The spokesman preferred not to name them because he said in some cases the irregularities were inadvertent, and one by one the situations were getting adjusted.

Under state laws, a car owner must register his car in the county of his residence. The money from the registrations goes to the highway department, but the counties get returns on a graduated percentage scale. Beyond a certain percentage all the funds go to the state. The larger counties, like Harris and Dallas, collect enough registrations to get the maximum and have some left over for the state highway department. The smaller counties fail to collect enough in many cases to get their maximum.

It is an advantage to a smaller county to get as many car registrations as possible. Car owners register their cars in the smaller counties sometimes to escape certain taxes in larger counties. That leads to out-of-county registrations, which are illegal.

The highway department has asked the affected counties to repay the department for loss of revenue, to make up the difference between what their total registrations are and what it would be without the illegal out-of-county registrations, the spokesman said.

At Camp Rucker they will receive training from the 47th "Viking" Infantry Division. After finishing eight to 16 weeks of primary training, they will be eligible for reassignment for further infantry or specialized training.

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Ernest Reuter of West Berlin has wound up a tour of the United States during which he helped raise $375,000 in cash and pledges for refugees from Communist-dominated lands.

An additional $100,000 in pledges of food, medicine and clothing was received.

Leo Cherne, chairman of the fund-raising campaign, gave these figures yesterday at a joint news conference with Reuter.

Reuter told the newsmen he would press for free elections for all Berlin upon his return. He added: "Now is the time to repeat suggestions for peace to Russia."

The news conference was held just before Reuter left by plane for Frankfurt, Germany.

Hereford Group Has Woman As Its Head

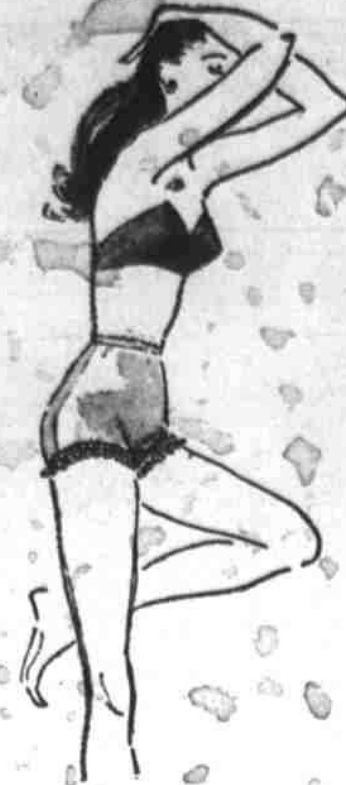

By SANKY TRIMBLE
 ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (U)—A woman of the West who slept at an Eastern women's college with a pistol under her pillow took over today as boss of a tough, realistic cowman's organization.
 Mrs. Linda Mitchell Lambert was elected president of the New Mexico Hereford Growers Association, a group devoted to the production of registered cattle.
 New Mexico ranchmen say that never before to their knowledge has a woman headed such an organization.
 Mrs. Lambert, of Mosquero, N. M., heads an association which, with 250 members, is one of the nation's largest organizations of pure-bred cattle growers.
 Equally at home with tea cup or branding iron, the attractive cowgirl almost caused a riot when she checked in some years ago at Wellesley College in Massachusetts. As she unpacked, she chatted with her assigned roommate, a demure city gal.

 Mrs. Lambert drew from her suitcase an Old West revolver—standard equipment at her ranch home—casually spun the cylinder to check the bullets, and stuck it under her pillow.
 The Eastern girl fled in horror, demanding another roommate.
 In town, Mrs. Lambert looks more like a Long Island socialite than a prosperous, successful ranch operator. On the range, however, she's at ease in boots, levis and a broad-brimmed hat.
 She insists it's coy but true that she learned to ride about the time she learned to walk and started shooting a pistol almost as soon.
 Born and raised on the famous Tesquesquite Ranch in Northwestern New Mexico, Mrs. Lambert says she is 45 and "not ashamed of it."
 For years she operated by herself—and later with her son-in-law and daughter—her own spread, the Triangle Ranch of some 8,000 acres.
 Her father was T. E. Mitchell, himself widely known in ranching circles. Her brother, Albert, is New Mexico Republican national committeeman and a member of the Department of Agriculture advisory committee.

Floyd Hill Put On FBI 'Most Wanted' List

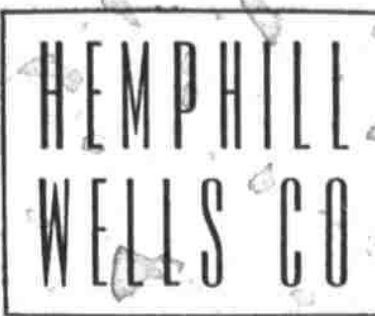

WASHINGTON (U)—The FBI today put Floyd Allen Hill, Southwestern bad man, on its list of "10 Most Wanted Fugitives."
 Hill, 40, twice an inmate of Alcatraz, is currently wanted for alleged participation in a $248,000 robbery, carried out in a fashionable Fort Worth motel last October.
 Arrested and indicted after that robbery, Hill helped to lead a violent mass break of prisoners from Fort Worth's Tarrant County jail on Feb. 18. Ten men fought their way out of the jail.
 In the motel robbery, the victims were two representatives of the deposed regime in Cuba. The FBI said the Cubans were in Fort Worth with a quarter million dollars in cash to negotiate an arms purchase, and were tricked into an interview with the robbers, one of whom posed as a spokesman for a group desiring to supply the weapons.
 The Cubans were tied up in their hotel room against machine-gun point and the bandits departed with virtually all their cash.
 A few weeks later, Fort Worth police arrested Hill in a wooded ravine near Azle, Tex. The officers found nearby a buried gallon vacuum jug holding $128,000.
 A native of Fort Worth, Hill has a criminal record dating back to age 19 and has done time in numerous prisons in the Southwest.
 He has a large build, weighs around 192 pounds and is 6 feet 2 inches tall. His dark brown hair is turning grey, and he has a cut scar in the center of his forehead.
 He was put on the "most wanted" list as a replacement for Robert Benton Methus, southeastern states robber who was caught at Dusan, La., March 19.

21 DEAD, 150 HURT Damage In Train Crash Over Million

ERIE, Pa. (U)—New York Central Railroad officials estimated today that property damage alone will total more than one million dollars in a triple train crash which killed 21 passengers and injured about 150.
 After a 10-hour rest, wrecking crews resumed work today to clear the twisted wreckage of two passenger trains and a freight.
 Two tracks on the Railroad's main east-west line have been opened to traffic. Officials hope to have all tracks restored by tomorrow night.
 Only one of the 21 persons killed in the pileup late Friday night just inside Pennsylvania, four miles east of Conneaut, O., is unidentified. The victim is a woman, about 30 years old.
 More than 60 of the injured remain in hospitals here and in Ash-tabula, O., and Conneaut. Three are in serious condition. They are Harold Ballman, Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. Elsa Dickout, Kenmore, N. Y., and Clayton Miller, Middlebury, Ind.
 After a routine probe, the FBI ruled out any possibility of sabotage.
 The New York Central said the wreck resulted from an almost unbelievable set of circumstances. Two passenger trains—Westbound No. 5 (Buffalo to Chicago) and Eastbound No. 12 (the Southwestern Limited) were about to pass at the same time two freight trains were passing on the other tracks. This is what happened, the NYC said:

 Some stakes broke off a gondola car in an eastbound freight train, allowing a few links of 18-inch pipe to fall off.
 One of the pipes struck the north rail of the westbound passenger track, bending the rail. Seconds later, the Buffalo to Chicago-Express hit the kinked section of rail and some of the cars smashed into a westbound freight. Several cars of the westbound freight train were derailed and No. 5's cars blocked the eastbound passenger track. Just then, the Southwestern Limited smashed into No. 5's cars.

Local Students Lose Campaign For State Post
 Big Spring missed on its bid for the vice-presidency at the annual meeting of the Texas Association of Student Councils in Lubbock Saturday.
 But a neighbor—Midland—succeeded in landing the presidency. Pampa edged Big Spring by a narrow margin in the second spot, which, sometimes is a stepping stone to the presidency. Ysleta and Victoria also sought the vice-presidency.
 Jimmie Porter and Roger Brown conducted group discussions on the problem of vandalism in high schools. Ten delegates attended, accompanied by their sponsors, Roy Baird and Mrs. Betty Lou Ratliff. Next year the state convention will be held in Laredo.

Two Barges Wallowing In Ocean; Six Aboard
 NORFOLK, Va. (U)—Six men were reported aboard two large barges wallowing helplessly in heavy Atlantic seas early this morning.
 Coast Guard headquarters said the ocean-going tug Marlon Moran, towing the steel oil barges to Bermuda, radioed that the two craft had broken adrift and were bumping each other and in danger of sinking 150 miles northeast of Cape Hatteras, N. C.
 The Moran said it was unable to remove the bargemen because of high seas.
 Two Coast Guard cutters were sent to the rescue.
