Big Spring Faces Crisis

(An Editorial)

The people of Big Spring must lend a hand at remedying a condition that will cause untold damage to the community if a solution is not reached immediately. NRA is dedicated to putting men to work. If federal and state authorities cannot be shown—quickly—that the oil refiners of Big Spring should be given the right to buy more crude oil from the Howard-Glasscock field hundreds of men are going to be thrown out of work. Big Spring's position with reference to the regulation of crude oil production is unlike that of any other community in this section of the mid-continent area. In other West Texas fields major purchases take the production. A few thousand barrels per day purchased by a major from one pool is an altogether different matter than the purchase of a few thousand barrels by a local refinery which employs men and maintains a payroll that bears a major portion of the burden of supporting the community. If either of the majors purchasing from the Howard-Glasscock county field were ordered to stop taking oil from this field there would be practically no effect upon the number of men employed by them. But, the Cosden Oil Corporation, which is completing one of the finest refining plants in America, needs thousands of barrels more crude than it now is allowed to buy. This crude must be had or the new plant, representing investment of hundreds of thousands of dollars and providing employment for scores of men, will have to be shut down. The same goes for the Howard County Refinery company, which must be guaranteed the right to buy sufficient crude to maintain operation of its plant here. This is what must be done at once: the people of Big Spring—merchants, civic organizations, railroad men's brotherhoods, professional men must join in a campaign to inform the proper officials of the local situation. Considering the fact that the needs of the local refineries, and oil producers, call for protecting the jobs of many men there is no reason why this fight cannot be won if properly carried on. Write or write your congressmen, United States senators, state legislators, railroad commissioners or any officials you may know in Washington who will help the cause. Call the officials of either of the refineries for information and they will give you names of officials of the Oil Planning and Conservation committee who should be contacted.

Compliance Board Asks Meeting For Discussion Of Code

The local NRA Compliance Board, headed by R. W. Henry, Friday sent managers of restaurants of Big Spring an invitation to meet with the board Monday evening at 7 o'clock at the Settles hotel. Mr. Henry asked any restaurant manager who might not receive the letters of invitation to attend, assuring a welcome for all. The board also issued a statement of its functions and duties and explanation of the manner in which complaints of non-compliance may be filed with it. The invitation and statement follows: "The local Compliance Board will handle all matters concerned with the President's Re-employment Agreement and its substituted provisions, and will act as official NRA information source for all matters concerning code compliance. The Compliance Board has no authority to approve or enforce local codes or agreements fixing prices or regulating closing and opening hours; it is concerned only with national agreements and codes. Many complaints filed by employees are due to misunderstanding of the authorized wages and hours provisions of the national agreement or code. Every employer is requested to post and maintain in a conspicuous place a copy of the wages and hours provisions under which he is operating. The board solicits complaints against any business not operating under a permanent code. Complaints must be in writing, stating the nature of the complaint, and be signed. They may be mailed or handed to either the board secretary, Clyde Thomas, or the chairman, R. W. Henry. Complaints will be kept in absolute confidence. Complaints against industries having permanent codes should be made on the forms provided for the purpose, and may be sent by any one direct to the District Compliance Director, E. L. Tutt, Department of Commerce, Houston, Texas. These forms may be obtained from members of the local compliance board, or from the post office. Complaints filed by employees. In any case where it can be proved that employer has threatened his employee with discharge if they should file complaints against him, or where it can be clearly shown that an employee was discharged solely because of filing a complaint against his employer, that employer is frustrating the spirit and intention of the agreement and therefore is violating Paragraph 8. The invitation: To manager of all restaurants in the City of Big Spring: You, or your representatives, are invited to meet with the NRA Compliance Board of Big Spring at the Settles Hotel at 7:00 p. m. on Monday, November 13, for the purpose of discussing the Substituted Provisions of the President's Agreement, and for the attainment of mutual understanding. The local NRA Compliance Board is undertaking to investigate all complaints against businesses in Big Spring, and to determine compliance or non-compliance with the President's Re-employment Agreement, or with the Approved Substituted Provisions. Complaints against businesses operating under permanent codes will be transmitted to proper authority. Adverse rumors are injurious to business and the board may be of great assistance in giving a Letter

Armistice Day!

Armistice Day! Men in khaki uniforms marching down the streets of a town, singing "The Stars and Stripes Forever," to the accompaniment of a band. Why the sommelier of our shots and the casting of red and blue flags by the large crowd that thronged the streets? What is the meaning of this Armistice Day? Probably, the boys, Armistice Day, just another day away from the boys which returns him time to work. The boys say as he put on a few belts on a broken foot, with perhaps the college student's comment, "they are the proper time to write a thesis, finish the solution of math problems, or catch up on his lost sleep. What does Armistice mean to an ex-soldier of the World's War? Ask him and learn his answer. Probably he would lift his voice to the sky and shout, "Armistice Day! A day which is a symbol of precious peace that set men free from a living death of fire; the finish of a horrible disaster; the end of a World's war on Monday, November 11, 1918, 11 o'clock which was imposed on Germany by the allies and the United States. The reaction from tension of a complex state of affairs gave expression in a great demonstration of joy throughout the allied world. When the Armistice came, victorious nations gave themselves up to a holiday. Belgians at Ghent said "it" with "Vive La Belgique," and the French troops shouted, "Guerre fin, Guerre fin." Tammany Hall Dethroned As Ruling Force In New York City, La Guardia Elected Over McKee And O'Brien

LOUISVILLE (AP)— Election day killings had increased to 15 Wednesday after it was reported five men were dead in Floyd and Knott counties.

NEW YORK (Associated Press)— La Guardia was elected mayor of New York City in a bitter contest that saw the Tammany candidate, Mayor John P. O'Brien, ousted.

Historic Tammany Hall conceded La Guardia's election for a four-year term within two and a half hours after the last of 2,270,051 voters had registered their choice in Tuesday's election.

It was the first time since 1914 when John Purroy Mitchell elected mayor on a fusion ticket, that Tammany had been defeated.

Although the fiery La Guardia, who four years ago was defeated for mayor by James J. Walker, piled up a strong lead, the contest for the other two major offices on the board of estimate were comparatively close.

Frank J. Prial, democrat, who has asserted his independence of Tammany, held a slight lead for comptroller, and Bernard S. Deutch, La Guardia's running mate on the fusion ticket, was ahead for president of the board of aldermen.

Tammany, however, maintained enough strength in Manhattan to place Samuel Levy in the van for borough president and William C. Dodge for district attorney.

Ferdinand Pecora, the senate banking committee's counsel, was a far behind in the district attorney race.

La Guardia, who was ahead in every borough but Manhattan, failed to carry his own election district. The vote there was O'Brien 70, La Guardia 27, McKee 58.

As the returns were being counted, police and court officials began a riot of the case of violence and fraudulent voting reported during the day. Of 36 warrants issued by the court of general sessions for illegal registrations, only two were executed. Times Square, the heart of the brilliantly lighted theatrical district, was jammed with men and women watching the returns flashed in electric lights.

RICHMOND, Va.— With more than one-fourth of the state's precincts reported, Harry F. Byrd led his reelection drive. He was A. Wise by 27,000 to 10,000 in the United States senate from Virginia.

Other democratic candidates were leading by comfortable majorities. Byrd led out of 1,500 precincts reported.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.— The democratic administration of Mayor E. J. Conroy was overturned Tuesday in municipal elections.

A socialist, Jesser McLeary, was elected mayor of Bridgeport by a plurality of 2,600 to 1,000. He defeated a former mayor who was a republican.

In Hartford, Mayor William J. Rankin, democrat, was denied reelection as a split in the party sent the republican, J. Watson Beach, into office by a narrow margin of about 2,000 votes.

One democratic mayor, however, John W. Murphy of New Haven held his office, defeating Mayor Edward L. White, republican, by more than 7,000 votes after a quiet campaign.

Ex-Cadet, Crippled By Hazing, Operates Own Business Now

DALLAS (UP)—New color in flowing into E. Gordon Knight's drawn features and new vitality appears to be suffusing the wasted limbs which have kept him bedridden for seven years.

For Knight, victim of a hazing ordeal in 1926 when he attended Texas A. & M. College, has found a purpose in life—a purpose by nothing diminished because he is doomed to spend the remainder of his life in bed.

Before him extends an endless vista of magazines and neat rows of figures and the prospect of an uninterrupted parade of days made happy by the knowledge that at last he has something to occupy his mind and absorb the restless energy that has made life in bed one of constant mental and physical torment.

It is Knight's ambition to develop his new magazine business into the largest thing of its kind in Dallas and over his bedside telephone to build an enterprise as extensive as if he had an uptown office and all the facilities of normal men at his command.

In 1926 Knight, descended from a family of pioneers, strode upon the campus of Texas A. & M. full of the joy of living and eager to come to grips with the problems of school and afterward with the world.

Then came a fraternity initiation which laid his liver. At first he thought in time the pains would go away. But they persisted, and finally he was forced to carry his maimed body wrapped tightly in tape.

He continued in Texas A. & M. a while and then went to the University of Oklahoma, where he served as president of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

But the pains grew steadily worse. His doctors ordered him to bed. They found he had three fractured vertebrae.

The past seven years have been tormenting ones in which he fruitlessly chased the will-o'-the-wisp of health's return in Arizona and California and in eight or nine hospitals in four different states.

For months he lay in plaster casts and braces. But from the hip came his wretched body with little sign. Only with difficulty and with help could he swing about his room.

Then he decided to try to make his own living. He started a magazine business, and within a few months he was earning $100 a month.

Now Knight is in Dallas, where he is operating his magazine business. He has a large following and is expected to expand his operations.

Schoolboy Grid Teams Widen Leads As Important District Bouts Scheduled For Week

Dallas Tech and Central Fort Worth High school, took a down hill sprint for the championship of their respective districts the past week.

The Mason Football club took an unexpected possession of first place on Dallas by ousting Sunset High 12 to 0. Only North Dallas and Oak Cliff remain in the path of the Wolves, and as both clubs have been equally trounced by teams which Tech has beaten, neither is expected to pose an obstacle.

The scrapper Panther club took a step by clinching the Fort Worth title by smothering the Mansie Hornets 12 to 0. The schedule is yet to run its course, but nothing is to be gained by the title unless the Panthers win to the title.

Other interesting battles of the week saw Highland Park remain at the top of District 6 by beating Galveston, 13 to 6, and Sherman stayed clear to the Highlander with a 6 to 0 decision over Denton. The championship of the sector probably will await a meeting between Sherman and Highland Park in Dallas the latter part of November.

Both the leaders are expected to gain victories over McKinney and Denton this week. Many important contests dot this week's chess in District 10, the championship will be decided when Corpus Christi and Laredo, the one contenders, meet at Corpus Christi Friday. Neither team is expected any chance of flourishing in the state race.

In the Houston sector, District 2, some between San Jacinto and Sam Houston, the unbeaten leaders in the overall high light. Temple On Homage.

Temple, which will certainly have the advantage of being the home team, is expected to be the favorite in the district.

Problem Of Liquor Tax Faces Solons

WASHINGTON (UP)—Alcoholic beverages will become legitimate factors in American life under a haphazard system of taxation and import duties, which is expected to form one of the most important matters before the next Congress.

An annual income to the United States Treasury of at least $200,000,000 has been estimated as the possible return from repeal. It is more than likely that this figure will form the goal for future legislative enactment.

Such an amount was estimated by the Rockefeller Committee, appointed to study repeal problems. It also was the estimate published earlier by Sen. E. C. Kerley, Democrat, Mississippi, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

Without Local Taxes. These estimates do not take into consideration local taxes imposed on the liquor traffic by states and municipalities.

While greatly in excess of receipts in 1918, the peak year before prohibition became effective when the return was $448,310,000, many believe the $200,000,000 return can be obtained without driving the liquor demand into illicit channels.

Their contention receives some support from the revenue from the sale of 12 per cent beer. When this liquor was legalized government receipts totaled $100,000,000. It would have been $150,000,000 if it had been legal for 12 years. Law has been the cause of $275,000,000 in lost revenue, when other factors are taken into consideration.

Savory Foods for Crisp Fall Days

Take A Leaf From Napoleon

By Jane Rogers

NAPOLEON once said that an army travels on its stomach. What he meant was that an army's stamina and morale depend largely upon its being well fed. The same thing is true of a whole people, but probably even more so.

People—you and I and all the rest of us—can keep alive on a diet of the merely essential foods. It is, however, a diet that lacks zest; that does nothing to build morale. Today, when at last we seem to be winning our way back to recovery, nothing is more essential than morale if we are to reach our goal.

In contributing to the building up of this precious essential, every housewife can help by adding to her menu, to the greatest extent the budget will permit, those delicacies that give real zest to a meal and pleasure to those who partake of it.

In the scheme of life as a whole, a dessert may seem a little thing. Yet the ability to top off a meal with a dish of ice cream or some other sweet is as good a symbol as anyone can think of for the higher standard of living that has distinguished the great mass of our people from the less fortunate peoples of the old countries of Europe.

Here are two recipes that will enable your family to raise that symbol of the prosperous past we look back to, and of the future we look forward to with new hope after the lean years through which we have been passing.

Orange and Pineapple Ice Cream
1 cup orange juice 2 cups milk
2 1/2 cup lemon juice 2 cups cream
2 1/2 cup sugar 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups crushed pineapple

Mix ingredients in order given, in ice cream freezer. Freeze until stiff.

Chocolate Cottage Pudding
Heat mixing bowl with hot water. Cream 2 tablespoons shortening. Add 1/3 cup sugar and mix well. Add 1 egg and beat thoroughly. Sift in 3 tablespoons cocoa with 1 cup flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Add 1 1/2 cup milk and beat again. Turn into small greased angel-cake pan and bake in a moderate oven or at 350 degrees F for 30 minutes. Serve with vanilla sauce. Cottage pudding may be steamed if preferred, and served with a variety of sauces, including foamy sauce, lemon sauce and mocha sauce.

Apples Still Tempt Adams

No longer "forbidden" but recommended, apples remain the annual Autumn temptation. Yes, apples still mean "the Fall" to most of us. Maybe it's the eternal Eve in us that leads every mother's daughter to seek knowledge of new apple recipes; more likely it's the like-ness of the fruit. But an apple a day keeps everybody gay—so choose your favorite, be it Wine-sap, McIntosh, Grimes Golden or Delicious; be it Jonathan, Wealthy, Fameuse or Rome Beauty.

The healthfulness of the tempting fruit is too well-known to need emphasis. But it is important to make sure that apples remain healthful when they are made into cooked dishes, by combining them with ingredients which are healthful in their own right and will not detract from their good-taste or good-deeds. That's one of the reasons—economy and sure success—being a couple more—why you will enjoy these apple recipes, which use wholesome crackers in combination with the fruit. The fruit is age-old, but these recipes are new, because the ease and certain of success because the crackers do the hard work for you.

Easy Apple Muffins
16 Graham crackers.
2 tbsps. sugar.
1-4 tsp. salt.
2 tbsps. butter.
1 1/2 cup milk.
1 egg.
2 tbsps. baking powder.
2 cooking apples, pared and sliced.
Crumble crackers and add 2 tbsps. sugar, salt and melted butter. Beat milk and pour over cracker mixture. Add beaten egg and baking powder. Fill greased muffin pans 2/3 full. Place 2 or 3 slices of apple on top of each. Sprinkle with cinnamon and bake in hot oven (425 degrees F) 20 to 25 minutes. 12 small muffins.

Apple Jonathan
6 pieces zwieback.
1-4 cup milk.
2 eggs, beaten.
1 1/2 cup sugar.
1 tsp. baking powder.
2 cups sliced apples.
Crumble zwieback fine and mix egg and sugar and combine with zwieback. Stir in baking powder. Put apples in a buttered baking dish and pour mixture over them. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven (400 degrees F), 6 portions.

Premium Baked Apples and Sausage
20 flake crackers.
18 link pork sausage.
1 tbsps. sugar.
1 1/2 tsp. cinnamon.
4 peeled, cored and sliced apples.
Crumble the crackers (you should have about 2 cups of crumbs) in bottom of greased baking dish. Cover with sausage and cover sausage with sliced apples. Sprinkle apples with sugar and cinnamon. Cover and bake 25 minutes in a hot oven (475 degrees F) until apples are tender. Uncover and brown. Serve hot. 6

"HAD CONSTIPATION SINCE BIRTH OF MY FIRST CHILD"

Then Mrs. King Discovered ALL-BRAN

We quote from her voluntary letter:

"I have suffered from terrible constipation since the birth of my first child—9 years ago! I have tried everything and nothing had any lasting results. Very reluctantly I tried your 'ALL-BRAN' with good faith in it at all. Much to my surprise, I have not had to take any medicine since starting to use ALL-BRAN, 4 months ago."—Mrs. Doris Eyre King, 16 Abbey Road, Oxford, England.

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN contains two things which overcome constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Certainly this is more natural than taking patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoonsful daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by L.logg in Battle Creek.

Presbyterians Observe 250th Anniversary of First Church

REHOBETH, Md.—Uniting for the first time since the Civil War, five thousand Presbyterians from the churches of the north and south gathered at the little red-brick Rehobeth church here the other day to pay tribute to the man who founded Presbyterianism in America 250 years ago.

It was in 1683, when Indians still inhabited the eastern shore of Maryland, that the Rev. Francis Makemie arrived from Ireland with authority to establish Presbyterian churches. That at Rehobeth was the first and is generally known as the mother church of Presbyterianism in the United States.

As the little red-brick building, erected in 1706, marks the beginning of organized Presbyterianism on this side of the Atlantic, so monuments in the churchyard and in nearby family cemeteries, some of them probably

Farmers Who Leave Soil Not To Get Places In U. S. Transient Camps

DALLAS (UPI)—The first rule of the federal government's transient bureaus being established all over the country, according to Miss Mary Bullard, supervisor of the Dallas office, is that the government does not intend to aid farmers who leave the soil and go trekking to the cities.

"We will not give even one meal to farmers who leave their land and come to the city," Miss Bullard said. "Their place is on the farm where they have been making their home, and they should not leave there."

The rigid policy in this respect, Miss Bullard said, is to prevent if possible any augmentation of the horde of transients roaming over the country.

Farley Made Dozen Speeches In Texas

SAN ANTONIO (UP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley estimated he made about 12 speeches during his Texas tour.

San Antonians and many other Texans will remember him most gratefully for his reference to the Alamo in a luncheon address here. He had asked to see the historic shrine.

Farley proved himself almost as familiar with the fortress and its place in Texas traditions as natives are. Other visiting dignitaries from Washington have not.

San Antonio has not forgotten the remark of the late President Coolidge. As he was being shown through the bullet-packed cradle of Texas liberty, the president asked, "What do they use this place for?"

In 1901 President McKinley visited San Antonio, pronounced the word Alamo with an accent on the second "A" during a complimentary address.

The city's mayor was a diplomat when he rose to thank President McKinley for the compliment. He too pronounced the word incorrectly.

To save the dignity of the distinguished visitor, the Alamo became the Alamo throughout the remainder of that luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Speed of San Angelo were here Thursday. Mr.

Farewell Autumn Tea Given By First Methodist Women

The musical tea honoring Mrs. C. C. Ussery, aunt of Dr. J. Richard Spann, Saturday afternoon in the parlors of the First Methodist Church was the loveliest social function ever given in the church parlors.

The three women's Sunday School classes acted as hostesses to all the Methodist women of the city. The decorating committee converted the church basement into a beautiful reception room for the occasion.

By the use of lamps, draperies, Oriental rugs, portieres, and the church parlor furniture the committee achieved the effect of a home atmosphere, with an abundance of room for the guests.

A yellow, green and lavender autumn color scheme was carried out in bows on baskets of flowers, by using autumn leaves for centerpiece, baskets and vases of roses and chrysanthemums were effectively arranged in the rooms. The decoration committee was composed of Mrs. H. N. Robinson, J. L. Hunsan, W. J. Riggins, G. R. Coningham, J. B. Pickett, Jake Bishop, Clyde Holmes, Jr., Oran Waters and J. C. Waites.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. G. H. Wood and Mrs. Jake Bishop, who introduced them to Mrs. Fox Stripling who presented them to Mrs. Ussery, who was beautifully gowned in a black velvet and headed in pearls. Also in the receiving line were Mrs. Charles Morris, Mrs. C. T. Watson and Mrs. Russell Manion. Mrs. H. G. Koenig presided over the pretty hand-painted guest book in which the visitors registered. This was later given to the honoree.

The guests were then ushered into the tea room. The table was spread with a handsome lace cloth. Mmes. Boykin, Hall, Talley and Hayes Stripling presided at the silver service during different hours. All four were dressed in evening gowns. Silver compote and trays held open-faced sandwiches of different shapes spread with sandwich fillings in the pastel shades of the party, green mint, macaroon, serving these were Mmes. Clyde Waites, Jr., Woodward, Schnitzer, Waters, Talley and Galbraith, evening afternoon and evening dresses.

The floral centerpiece of the table was a large ship made of white, pink and yellow chrysanthemums and harmonizing ribbons. This was stowed on a motor representing water. The motor was banked with ferns and chrysanthemums. At the foot of the table tall yellow taper candles with yellow and green stars and yellow and green chrysanthemums in a chrysanthemum. On the table were Mmes. J. C. Waites, Sr., Flewellen, Schnitzer and Miller.

After the guests were seated they passed into the reception room where they were seated for a large family

New Deal For Health Made By State Officer

AUSTIN—In speaking of New Deals, Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, suggested that every one should declare a New Deal for their health. Many persons overdid the annual vacation and instead of relaxing and giving the body a chance to recuperate, tried to see how much they could do in the time allotted to them. As a result many such persons are now complaining about their tired condition. Vacations spent in such a fashion would seem to need a rest period at this time of the year.

In making this statement there is no idea of suggesting that one quit work and do the whole thing over. The point is to give the body a new deal. With the crisp autumn days it would be to everyone's advantage to make the most of them instead of staying in an over-heated room, step out into the open each day for a walk. It may be that a few less bridge games will be played or fewer movies seen, but your body will not miss them. On the contrary it will be benefited by the fresh air and exercise.

It may be advisable to give the stomach a new deal. Not that any starvation diet is being advocated, only that if one has been habitually over-eating or under-eating, then to return to normalcy. It will be wise to give the body its eight hours of sleep each night of which it has likely been so consistently deprived for a long time.

The beauty of this new deal is that it will not cost any money at all at the same time make up for the vitality building opportunity lost during the summer. Such a program is quite worth while. TRY ONE.

Time-Saver For Substituting Grid Players Explained

AUSTIN (UPI)—A time-saving method for the substitution of football players on the gridiron has been recommended to the Southwestern Intercollegiate League by Floyd O. Betts, superintendent of Wharton schools.

Betts was a four-letter man at Southwestern University, Georgetown. He has coached football at Temple and Highland Park, Dallas.

His plan goes to conference and league officials with the benefit of a trial. It was tested in a recent game between St. Thomas of Houston and Wharton high school. Twice the complete line of one team was replaced in 15 seconds under Betts' plan.

Briefly, the plan requires that opposing teams be seated on benches on the same side of the gridiron with a scorer's table between them at the 50-yard line. Presiding at the table is the official scorer or a representative of each team acting as scorers. They work with an official form in triplicate and an official starting lineup certified by coaches of the two teams.

A substitute player goes to the table, gives his name and number and the name of the player he will replace. He enters the game according to the rules at a whistle from the scorer, reports to the referee and merely starts, "Hillard for Jureks." The referee calls "Jureks off" and football play resumes immediately.

The scorer's triplicate records preserve detailed information on the game. One copy is sent to the secretary of the conference. The other two are kept by the playing teams. In later years there can be questions as to whether a player participated in a certain game.

"Under the present system," declared Betts, "when a substitute goes into the game he usually runs to the referee, who may be across the field. As the referee is not taking substitutions he wastes his time in making official who is late.

"The substitute runs to another part of the field in an effort to get into the game. This official goes out a piece of paper and a pencil writes down the player's name after learning how to spell it, locates the player's number on his back, then runs out who is to go out of the game.

He then looks this individual up and accepts his number and notifies him that he is to leave the game and writes down the name and number of this individual.

About the time the other team sends in a substitute and the same process is repeated. Betts declares he believes his plan of substitution will do four things:

- 1. Reduce delay and confusion.
- 2. Mainline spectators' interest in the game by keeping interruptions at a minimum.
- 3. Furnish complete records of the game for future reference.
- 4. Disinjure injuries. Under the present slow system players grow physically cold before leaping into action on another play.

Proposal For Licensing Is Not Accepted

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Ohio turned its back upon prohibition in the first ballot in which its women have participated on prohibition as a statewide question.

The state that gave birth to the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and to the Anti-Saloon League in the later part of the 19th century, apparently gave repeal a majority of at least 600,000 votes.

Looked upon as a pivotal state in the last, Ohio waged a quiet battle over repeal in the weeks preceding the final vote, with dry leaders taking refuge toward the last in a last-minute effort to save it. Its prohibition was retained.

Ohio women voted for the first time in the history of prohibition on the question itself. On a bare majority on a phase of prohibition—on November 2, 1920, when they were credited with 120,000 votes.

PHILADELPHIA—Slovely increasing returns from the Pennsylvania prohibition repeal election showed wets leading by nearly 6 to 1.

Tabulation of the vote for repeal was slowed because in many sections municipal contests overshadowed repeal at the polls.

Tentative returns showed a narrow victory for the wets.

SALT LAKE CITY—A vote favoring repeal of national prohibition by a margin of approximately 2 to 1 appeared on the face of scattering returns from ten of Utah's 29 counties in Tuesday's elections.

The total from 164 of the state's 798 voting districts gave 16,927 for repeal and 12,949 against.

The vote on repeal of the state prohibition amendment, so far as it had been reported, maintained about the same proportion.

Cow Business Lost Profit With Advent Of Fences And High Priced Grass Declares Midland Pioneer

MIDLAND—W. D. Cochran, 81-year-old cowboy, now residing in Midland, thinks that maybe the cow business is through. He doubts if any more money will be made in it, grass is too high, and the cattlemen can't get room enough. The cowmen pass, in his belief, with the erection of fences. The old-time cow industry was a roving occupation, with big roundups, no fences to hinder. Many men have made money in the business who never saw a roundup, old saved many of them in the last few years. A big healthy man, of six feet, around 200 pounds, his condition is a tribute to the good influences of open air, frijole beans and plenty of meat.

The first cow outfit west of Midland, he remembers, was that of W. H. George and John W. Cowden who established the J.A.'s just fifty years ago. Mr. Cochran it was who developed the first water well on what is now the town of Jal, New Mexico, an old town built about 7 years ago after the striking of oil. Mr. Cochran did not know that oil field workers would sip the water from his well when he dug it in 1886, two years after his arrival here. A rancher west of Midland himself ten years, drove his stock to Midland seventy-five miles.

Remember Towns' Fight

He was at the site of the new Red Bluff dam when the towns of Angeles and Orta said had things about each other about thirty years ago. Mr. Cochran had come here to farm, but was up and left. The J.A.'s had about 10,000. Mr. Cochran had about 1,000 himself.

The next big cattle venture in Midland territory was that of Ned Morris of Chicago packers who founded the C ranch still in operation in Andrews county. Morris set up the first fence in that country; used bob-dare posts for part of it and part of the fence is still there. People laughed at Morris, but he was right. The time had come for private ownership of lands. The C ranch has 400 sections, is owned by Canadian capital today. Morris used to come to Midland pretty often himself.

Mr. Cochran talks with interest of the big roundups he has seen and taken part in and tells of one in Throckmorton county where 20,000 cattle were assembled. It lasted for a week and was so big that the work could not be done well. About 200 to 300 men were there representing some 30 or 40 ranches. A ranch in those days was a brand and not a tract of land. He stops to tell of the old Narbo crossing on the Peeros river near Carlisbad, N. M., and of Lovings' Bend also on the Peeros, not far from the New Mexico line. Lovings' Bend was named from a trail driver killed by the Indians. Why do you know of your newspaper boys write a story and give all the names of the Peeros river crossing," he asks. He knew Bob Trent, formerly of Odessa, and a buffalo hunter. Trent used to sit on the ground with three rifles while the buffalo herds came by shooting with a gun until it got hot and then changing. He kept that up all day, sometimes the big herds never crossing their marching for two to three days. Just one shot after another and he was an expert and they dropped to the ground for their hide and bones. When Mr. Cochran first came in this country Bob Trent was running a hog ranch north of Monahans.
