Senior Babe-Ruth All-Stars Named

After a 6-5 win over Littlefield on June 20, the Muleshoe Number One Senior Babe Ruth team proved they were number one by completing the 1978 season with a perfect 12-0 record.

riquez for Littlefield. All-Star players chosen from the Number One team included Billy Vinson, Danny Wilson, Jeep Shanks, Mike Silguero and Mark Harmon.

Dimmitt fell in an embarrassing 16-0 score to the Muleshoe team on June 18, while the Senior Babe Ruth Number One team had 16 runs from 12 hits. Vinson was the winning pitcher and Ogu was losing pitcher for Dimmitt. Vinson also had a home run in the game.

Friana was a victim of the Muleshoe Senior Babe Ruth Number One team on June 15. Vinson pitched the team to a 5-4 victory over the Friana team with losing pitcher, Cary.

One June 13, the Muleshoe Number One team beat the Muleshoe Number Two team by 15-3, behind winning pitcher Ware and losing pitcher Perez and Sanches. Long had a home run for the Number One team.

One Charged After Fight Injures Duo

Shortly after deputy sheriff Monty Phipps, assisted by Patrolman Wayne Holmes, answered a call to the VFW and brought one man to jail for public intoxication Phipps and Deputy Sheriff James Williams were again called to the VFW Thursday night.

In the second call, it was reported that two men had been injured in another altercation. Taken to West Plains Medical Center for treatment were Kenneth Briscoe and Joe Dan Briscoe. A hospital spokesman said Kenneth Briscoe had more than 20 stitches taken in his side from lacerations and Joe Dan Briscoe was treated for cuts to his hand.

The Bailey County Sheriff's Office records show that Frank Reyna was arraigned before Justice of the Peace K.B. Martin on a charge of simple assault, and on a plea of not guilty, was released on a $250 cash bond.

WHAMMING IT HOME...Although it was a back and forth ball game, and the young Lion at bat was a real slugger, the Sox came back in the final analysis to win a squeaker Thursday, 13-12, thus keeping their championship fight alive in the Muleshoe Little League.

Pioneer Gas Asking For Price Increase

Pioneer Natural Gas Company has notified the city officials on its West Texas System that the Company is applying for an increase in its base rate for gas service within the cities on its West Texas distribution system. Included was the Muleshoe City Council.

In his letter to the cities, K.B. Watson, Company President said, "As you are probably aware, Pioneer's last base rate increase became effective during the year 1970, based on recommendations of the Company and a committee of city representatives."

Watson went on to say, "Since that time, in spite of the increased cost of gas to the consumer, the Company's rate of return has decreased substantially due to many factors and an increase in the base rate is now essential."

Watson pointed out that the increase in the customer's cost of gas over the past several years has come about by the "cost-of-gas adjustment, an adjustment that is designed to pass the increased cost of gas in the field directly through to the consumer."

Pioneer does not retain any of the increased cost of gas and does, in fact, fail to recover much of the increase because of several cost items not recovered in the cost-of-gas adjustment," Watson said. Company officials have pointed out on numerous occasions in the past that the cost-of-gas adjustment has been the assurance that Pioneer Natural Gas Company has been able to maintain an adequate gas supply to protect the interest of the customers it serves and to enable the Company to continue to serve the growth of its service area.

Pioneer has not specified the new rates needed in this initial request to the cities and said it would supplement the application. The Company has retained the services of H. Zinder and Associates, Inc., utility consultants, to assist in the study currently being made to determine the appropriate amount of the deficiency in the gas service revenue at Pioneer.

Watson told the city officials that a preliminary draft of a report of the studies made by the utility consultants indicates the current value of the properties used to serve the West

New Events Added To Make Full Day

More activities have been added to the July 4th celebration this year and it is expected that regardless of what anyone would want to do, an activity will be available.

Events start off with the annual Pony Express Race. However, stiffer competition is expected this year as an Amarillo Riding Club will be competing against the Muleshoe riders. The race will be at 7:30 a.m. from Needmore to Muleshoe. Be early, the riders don't take very long to make the ride.

As the riders are beginning to set up their riding locations, the Bailey County 4-H will start an omelet rodeo. The unusual event will get underway at 7 a.m. across the street east of the courthouse. Five bunsen burner stoves will be set up and 4-H youths will start an omelet on the first stove, cook it to a certain stage and move it to the next stove. It will be moved down the line until it is completed and ready to serve.

For $1.75, you may purchase an omelet which will be ham, bacon, cheese or Spanish, and be served coffee, milk or juice. The event concludes at 9 a.m.

At 9, youth activities will begin on the west side of the courthouse, sponsored by Alpha Zeta Pi and Beta Sigma Phi. Included will be bicycle races, sack races, bobbing for apples, tire race, small bike race, hot wheels race, buried treasure, going fishing and balloon break.

At 10:30 a.m. the annual World Championship Mule Shoe Pitching contest gets underway on the courthouse lawn. Coordinating the event are Doug Bales and Larry Price.

Also at 9 a.m. and again at 11 a.m. the Muleshoe Volunteer Fire Department will give demonstrations of the Jaws of Life rescue tool and at 9 a.m.-11 a.m. and again at 3 p.m. the Muleshoe Police Department will present a film.

Oldtimers will meet at the First United Methodist Church in the fellowship hall. Featured entertainment will be the "Gospel Notes."

At 5 p.m., the parade will feature floats, riding clubs and sweethearts. It will begin at the Boy Scout grounds, travel north on Main and back to the Boy Scout grounds down South First Street. Immediately following the parade Cont. Page 3, Col. 2

Entry fee is $1 per entry said Jaycee Chairman Balty Buentello. Three age divisions will be bracketed with first through third place prizes in each division.

The first place winner in each age group will compete against the other for the grand prize.

Age groups are eight and under; 15 and under and 16 up. Jaycees will be selling frisbees from their concession trailer and they urge everyone to attend this first time tournament.

Touch Calling

Coming Here

Late This Year

New service is being offered to Muleshoe customers by General Telephone in the way of Touch Calling. In making this announcement, O.D. Hearn, division manager, stated "this is one of General Telephone's efforts in continuing to provide the latest in modern telephone technology for the customers."

Design of the new telephone service is to provide for easier and faster dialing with push button use. At present 600 lines are being equipped for touch call. Along with this new service, the company is also adding an additional 300 numbers to be installed by the close of 1978 providing for the future growth of Muleshoe.

The new touch call telephones will be available by calling the company's business office.

EXPLORING...Two young men found the tall pile of gravel at the new Civic Center site a place to explore Wednesday just about dark. Russell Magby is helping his friend, Paul Silguero, make it up the side of their own private mountain. No further experience could delight young explorers more on a rainy evening.

CHECKING ACCIDENT...With truck accidents in the area becoming more and more common, especially in rainy weather, a slick road on Wednesday's light rain late in the evening was listed as a contributing factor to this truck turnover. T.H.P. Trooper Larry King is inventorying the contents of the cab of the truck. Driver Loyd Gilbert Morgan was hospitalized overnight for treatment of injuries received in the accident.

Texas Distribution System to be in excess of $178 million in addition to the value of properties used to serve irrigation and other rural customers. The deficiency in annual revenues has increased substantially in very recent years and is approaching $30 million according to the study.

In his communication to the cities, Watson pointed out that in the eight-year period since Pioneer's last base rate increase, the cost of providing gas service - aside from the cost of gas in the field - had increased tremendously.

Watson said, "I am sure that you, as businessmen, understand this tremendous increase in the cost of doing business." He went on to say, "In most businesses, much of this cost has already been absorbed in price increases passed on to the customer and returned to the business. In Pioneer's case, this is not true. The increased cost of natural gas to the customer has been reflected only in the cost-of-gas adjustment which has been flowed through directly to the gas producer." Watson emphasized that Pioneer's rate of return on investment has dwindled significantly in the past eight years.

Vinson pitched the Number One team to a 5-1 victory over Dimmitt on June 8, and losing pitcher was Gonzales.

Olton became a 2-1 victim in a squeaker on June 4. Vinson was winning pitcher and Saldivar was the losing pitcher.

On May 30, Sudan was a 23-3 loser to the Number One team. Wilson, Sudduth and Vinson all pitched for Muleshoe and Edgar and Brett pitched for Sudan.

In other games this season, Littlefield lost to Muleshoe 14-3; Muleshoe Number One 5 and Muleshoe Number Two 2; muleshoe Number One 14 and Anton 4; and Muleshoe 10-Olton 8.

Both Coach Derrell Embry and Assistant Coach Bill Long said they would like to thank the loyal fans throughout the season and especially would like to thank the team sponsors, Woolley-Hurst, Whit-Watts and Rempe, Sonic and Gordon Wilson Appliance.

Safety Stressed For Upcoming 4th

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today estimated that traffic accidents during the 102-hour July 4th holiday weekend will claim 53 lives in Texas.

"July 4th is traditionally one of our more dangerous driving periods, and I am hoping that all Texans will do their best to prevent accidents," Speir said.

The DPS director asked that motorists join DPS Troopers in burning their low-beam headlights during daylight hours throughout the holiday period as a safe driving reminder to others.

"There was widespread citizen participation in this 'Light the Way for a Safe Holiday' program during the Christmas and New Year weekends, and we believe it had a very positive impact," Speir added.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN--An oppressive cloud hangs over our heads and casts a long, dark shadow. That cloud is drug abuse, and the shadow is crime, wrecked homes, destroyed minds, abused children and other atrocities.

Drug and alcohol abuse is not a new concern for the Texas Legislature. In the last several sessions a great deal of work has been done formulating laws to deal with the growing problem. But it still exists and, as long as it does, we must persist in our efforts to control it.

The Select Committee on Drug and Alcohol Abuse and Control was formed as a special interim committee to pursue all possible research avenues in development of legislation and recommendations for the 66th Legislature.

Specific areas the committee was charged with investigating include possible legislative measures to curtail the supply of illicit drugs into Texas, revisions of the Texas Penal Code to inhibit distribution of such contraband, requiring alcohol and drug-related coverage in health insurance plans, and the state's proper role in providing assistance to diagnostic and referral services.

Thus far the committee has held two public hearings. A recent hearing in Austin was devoted primarily to testimony on measures to prevent transfer of illegal drugs along the Texas-Mexico border. Suggestions included doubling a task force now in operation along the border, creation of a separate district in the area to watch drug traffic, and the need for compensatory pay for the dangerous patrol job.

Concern was expressed on increasing abuse of prescription drugs. Testimony indicates that some drugs are prescribed needlessly and recklessly for great profits. Additions to the Controlled Substances Act were suggested as a remedy for this loophole.

Kiwanis Look For Missing Sweetheart

Following their Friday morning meeting, the Muleshoe Kiwanis Club said they would like to put out an "All-Points Bulletin" for the following person - the Muleshoe Kiwanis Sweetheart.

She was described as about five feet tall, weighing around 100 pounds, very good looking, and a good personality.

Her crime? Missing two Kiwanis meetings in a row, and she has the Friendship Coin. Her name - Fran Berryhill.

Kiwanis said, "Anyone who could help apprehend this young lady and get her back to Kiwanis meetings would be greatly appreciated as we miss her very much."

"If anybody knows the whereabouts of this young lady, bring her to the Kiwanis Fireworks trailer and put her to work."

Other than the APB, no other special program had been planned for Friday.

Experience is something to be purchased if it's worth having.

July 4th

On the Fourth of July the people of this country take note of the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, which ranks as one of the most important documents of history.

In it, Thomas Jefferson, the principle author, set forth the inalienable rights of man and the theory that governments are instituted by men, not set up by God, and, therefore, derive their powers from the consent of the governed.

This was something of a revolutionary doctrine in 1776. Moreover, the Declaration makes plain the right of the people to alter or abolish their government and to institute a new government in such a form as they may deem most likely to provide for their safety and happiness.

The historic Fourth has become identified as a day of leisure, marked by fireworks, accidents, games and amusement, but there are also, appropriately, programs which point out the significance of the Declaration and the principles that it expresses, too often forgotten.

Drug abuse is exceedingly wasteful of human potential. Idealistically, we wish that we could take each drug and alcohol abuser and give him what he as an individual needs to replace that "habit" he has formed. Realistically, we know that government can never provide the cure-all for everybody's needs, but we must endeavor to form guidelines, offer needed services, restrict criminal profiteers, and educate the public so that they can make knowledgeable and rational decisions.

One might call this the era of the investigation.

Fireworks May Cause Permanent Blindness

Bottlerockets, firecrackers and skyrockets top the list of fireworks responsible for 106 eye injuries to Texans last year, 32 of which resulted in total vision loss or impairment, reports the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

From its 1977 fireworks survey of 250 Texas ophthalmologists, the Society learned that 56 of these injuries were caused by bottle rockets and some were caused by seemingly harmless items like punk, used to light fireworks, and sparklers which burn at heats exceeding 1,500 degrees Fahrenheit.

Ironically, the greatest number of accidents were reported in the major Texas cities where fireworks are illegal - San Antonio with 21 injuries, Dallas-Fort Worth with 16, Corpus Christi, 10, and Houston, eight.

The majority of injuries were to males, ages 10-19, and many victims were bystanders not directly involved in setting off the fireworks.

Though sight was restored in a few cases, most injuries resulted in some degree of permanent vision loss or impairment. Ophthalmologists reported cases of burns to the eyelids and cornea, the clear part at the front of the eye. Cases of traumatic cataract, a clouding of the lens of the eye, and hyphema, or hemorrhage between the cornea and iris, the colored part of the eye, were reported as were several cases of damage to the retina, the most sensitive part at the back of the eye which transmits images to the brain.

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, parent organization of the Texas Society, reports that an estimated 7,555 Americans were taken to hospital emergency rooms for treatment of fireworks-related injuries last year and that 17 percent of these were injuries to the eyes. This figure represents only a fraction of actual injuries since there is no way to estimate the number treated in doctors' offices, at home or by direct hospital admission, NSPB notes.

The Texas Society urges that use of all fireworks be restricted to licensed public displays. It encourages parents to keep even the smallest firecrackers out of the hands of their children since the majority of fireworks victims are usually under age 15.

TSPB says enjoy the holidays, but enjoy them safely.

MR. AND MRS. CARL RICHARD HAVENS (nee Sonia Dinette Kube)

Miss Kube And Havens Repeat Vows

Miss Sonia Dinette Kube and Carl Richard Havens were united in marriage, June 13, at 8:30 p.m. in the St. John Lutheran Church of Lariat. The Rev. Larry Hennricks officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Miss Kube is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Kube of Muleshoe. Havens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence R. Havens of Theresa, N.Y.

The couple stood before an altar decorated with a large center bouquet of pink gladiolas, white carnations, greenery and cranberry bows. On both sides of the bouquet were spiral candelabras with fifteen branch candles entwined with greenery, and pink and cranberry bows and streamers. Two white wicker baskets, each holding an arrangement of pink gladiolas, carnations, greenery and pink and cranberry bows and streamers were at the side of the entrance of the altar. A double kneeling bench decorated with pink and cranberry bows was at the front of the altar where the minister said the Lord's Prayer with the couple as the first thing they did in their married life.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white organza gown with a long fitted bodice and full length bishop sleeves, featuring a Queen Ann collar trimmed with Chantilly lace and seed pearls. The full five tiered Chantilly lace bouffant skirt fell into a long chapel train of Chantilly lace. The long three tiered chapel length veil was edged in Chantilly lace which fell from a Camelot cap covered in Chantilly lace and rows of seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of pink and cranberry silk sweetheart roses and rose buds, white stephanotis, caleyia orchids, English Ivy, Plumosis Ivy, and baby's breath on to of a white Bible which was carried by the bride's mother in her wedding.

For something old, the bride wore a set of wedding rings belonging to her paternal grandmother and great-grandmother. Something new was her dress and a diamond necklace given to her by the groom as a wedding gift. Something borrowed was a Bible from her mother which she carried in her wedding. For something blue, the bride wore a blue garter which was a gift from the bride's sister, Stephanie Kube. Miss Kube also carried pennies in her shoe minted in the year of her's and the groom's birth.

Votive candles with cranberry and pink bows and pownosig fern decorated each of the pews. The parents pews were marked with a cranberry bow and a rose for the mothers. A memory candle was lit by the couple as Paulette Woods sang "You Light Up My Life". The candle was made by Mrs. Don Blalock. The candle was molded in the couples wedding invitation and wedding napkin. It was decorated with white wedding bells, fatal fern, pumasis fern, and pink and cranberry bows. On both sides of the candle were two candles for lighting as the minister explained their life as one.

The program of selected music was presented by Charles Turner on the organ as Mrs. Paulette Woods sang, "We've Just Begun" and "Wedding Song". The "Twelfth of Never" was played on the flute by Jacqueline Kube, accompanied by Charles Turner on the organ.

Stephanie Kube, sister of the bride was the maid of honor. Miss Kube wore a cranberry chapel length gown of satin. It was fashioned with a self tucked bodice ending with an empire waist line and a gently flared skirt. The layback Mandarin collar formed a modified v-neckline to compliment the puffed sleeves. She wore a matching picture hat accented with silk and velvet roses, and cranberry bows and streamers. Miss Kube carried a long stem sweetheart rose with baby's breath and cranberry satin streamers tied in love knots.

The bridesmaids, Miss Nancy Ramm, cousin of the bride of Muleshoe, Penny Hughes and Kathy Key, both friends of the bride from Friona. They wore claret rose chapel length dresses identical to the mail of honor's. They wore matching picture hats accented with a silk and velvet rose, bows and streamers. They carried a claret rose colored silk sweetheart rose with baby's breath and long streamers of claret rose tied in love knots.

The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo with a white pleated shirt and boutonniere of a cranberry and pink silk sweetheart rose bud, and baby's breath.

Live palms and two white wicker baskets with bouquets of pink gladiolas and carnations were on either sides of the table. Tanya Burton-Crawford United In Marriage

Tanya Denise Burton and James Douglas Crawford exchanged wedding vows during a candlelight ceremony held Friday, June 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the Trinity Baptist Church of Muleshoe. The Rev. H.D. Hunter, Jr. performed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Alton Burton and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Crawford, all of Muleshoe.

The front of the church was decorated with a pointed arch candelabra holding yellow taper candles adorned with a fresh arrangement of yellow and white daisies, baby's breath, leather leaf, and plumosa. On either side of the arch were tree candelabras with yellow taper candles and arrangements of yellow and white daisy poms with baby's breath and various greenery. To complete the setting were two three branch candelabras with yellow taper candles decorated with fresh flowers of yellow and white daisies and greenery.

The aisles of the church were marked with isleabars decorated with crystal votive cups and garlands of leather leaf, plumosa, baby's breath, and yellow bows. The parents and grandparents pews were marked by isleabars with crystal votive cups, garlands of fresh greenery, and nosegays of yellow and white daisies tied with yellow satin bows.

The bride and groom stood before a kneeling bench draped with fresh floral garlands and nosegays of yellow and white daisy poms, baby's breath, and mixed greenery. At the close of the ceremony the couple lit a white frosted unity candle nestled in a mixed greenery arrangement of leather leaf, plumosa, and baby's breath.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white dacron polyester and organza bridal gown featuring an empire waist, Queen Anne neckline, and ruffled short sleeves. The bodice of the gown was covered with venise lace and the chapel length A-line skirt was edged with two deep organza flounces topped with Venise lace trim.

The fingertip veil was edged in Venise lace and attached to a matching camelot cap, decorated with tiny flowers.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of yellow daisy poms and white stephanotis surrounded by baby's breath and fresh greenery, tied with a white satin bow and white streamers.

For the traditional something old, the bride wore the garter worn by her mother in her wedding, something new was her wedding gown, something borrowed was a diamond necklace from Mrs. David Gallman, and something blue was her garter. She also wore pennies in her shoes minted in years of their births.

Miss Jo Roming of Muleshoe served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Belinda Nickels and Mrs. Matt Williams, both of Muleshoe. They were dressed in identical formal length gowns of buttercup yellow polyester satin. They featured a deep V-neckline with two deep ruffles over the shoulders and empire waists.

Lace fans were carried by the attendants with yellow daisy poms, baby's breath, greenery, and white satin ribbon.

Miss Kristyl Albertson of Muleshoe served as flower girl and wore a formal length yellow chiffon dress trimmed with white lace and tiny flowers on the yoke. She carried a white lace basket with an attached corsage of yellow and white daisies, and dropped yellow and white love knots down the aisle.

All of the brides attendants wore fresh daisies and baby's breath in their hair.

Best man was Bobby Henry of Colorado Springs, Colo. Groomsman were Gary Parker and Matt Williams of Muleshoe.

Chad Black of Muleshoe was ring bearer. Darren Albertson served as candlelighter.

The groom and his attendants were dressed in yellow tuxedos with black lapels and yellow ruffled shirts edged in black.

They wore daisy and stephanotis boutonniers. Ushers were Terry Burton, brother of the bride, and Galen Bock, brother-in-law of the groom. They wore black tuxedos with yellow shirts.

For her daughters wedding,

Nancy Baker Feted With Shower

A personal shower was sponsored by the Baptist Women honoring Nancy Baker, Tuesday evening, June 20 in the fellowship hall at the First Baptist Church.

Cookies and punch were served to those attending. Nancy will join her husband Dexter in the mission field work in Van Horn, Texas shortly.

Today the same makeup is no longer used for all occasions. Heavy makeup on the job is no longer appropriate—warm colors are more effective under bright fluorescent lighting. Evening makeup should be dramatic.

Mrs. Burton chose a yellow formal length polyester gown featuring a cowl neckline with full flowing cape bodice and a deep v-lace yoke.

The mother of the groom wore an apricot polyester gown with a long A-line skirt, topped with a matching chiffon cape and a self-edged pleated ruffle. Both mothers wore corsages of double japhette orchids with white satin ribbon trim.

Billy Donaldson of Muleshoe, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Wendell Speck, sang "I Can't Help Falling in Love" and "Wedding Song". Miss Nancy Ramm played musical selections on the organ while the guests were being seated and during the ceremony.

Registering guests was Mrs. Galen Bock, sister of the groom. The register table was covered with a white cloth edged in lace. A silver candlestick holder with a yellow taper candle and a fresh flower ring of yellow daisies and greenery adorned the table.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The reception table stood before a white latticework background draped with white chiffon and tied with mixed greenery and baby's breath. Crystal and silver appointments graced the table. The centerpiece was an arrangement of yellow and white daisies, baby's breath, and mixed greenery with white taper candles designed in a tiered crystal table candelabra.

The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with yellow daisies and topped with two white doves surrounded by flowers and tulle.

Presiding at the brides table were Miss Benetta and Keva Roming of Muleshoe.

Members of the houseparty were: Mrs. Ben Roming, Mrs. Bob Donaldson, Mrs. Dwayne Powell, Mrs. David Beckett, Mrs. Gerald Shanks, Mrs. Calvin Embry, Mrs. Bill Loyd, and Mrs. David Gallman.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico the bride wore an ice blue pants suit. The blouse featured a shirred yoke with puffed sleeves and a ruffled collar.

The new Mrs. Crawford is a 1977 graduate of Muleshoe High School. The groom is a 1975 graduate of Muleshoe High School also, and they both attended West Texas State University. They are employed at J.C. Hamilton in Amarillo. The couple are now at home at 3447 Amherst in Amarillo.

Special guests at the wedding were the grandfather of the bride, Arnold Beckett of Sudan, and the grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. A.R. McDaniel of Muleshoe.

The grooms parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at the XII Steakhouse on the evening of Thursday, June 15.

Before repainting metal outdoor furniture, remove rust with a wirebrush and fine steel wool. Damp soap pads and a household cleaner will remove corrosion from aluminum furniture.

When you plan a garage sale, ask one or two neighbors to join you. Each should catalog his or her items and place corresponding number and price on each item. Advertise for a successful sale.

Fiber-glass draperies need special, gentle care. Vacuum while hanging to remove dust (use a soft brush attachment). Never machine wash. When very soiled soak in a mild warm water detergent in bathtub. Dunk and squeeze—don't scrub. Rinse in clear warm water. Hang on shower rod or clothesline until nearly dry, then rehang at window and hand-smooth pleats and seams.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Two interesting letters from one of our readers is in the mail today. She signs herself as "Another Granny" and the following is a part of one letter:

"Your column in our local paper is very interesting and I usually agree with the answers you give. However, I do not quite agree with your answer to "Granny." I am somewhat in the same boat that she is, except that my daughter is a widow and lives with us. Most of these old mothers who are now living with their daughters have had a useful life behind them and, therefore entitled to be treated with love and respect which is their due. It is, of course, natural for them to be concerned with the welfare of their children and their families and any advice given which is usually based on long experience should be respectfully listened to because it comes from a mother's warm heart.

She just cannot help being concerned about the welfare of her children and she should be permitted to show it. There are always two sides to a question. And it should be to the interest of any young mother to listen to the opinions of her mother-and then act according to the decision she has reached. For love and consideration is like a boomerang and comes back to the one who sends it out.

Another Aged Granny

Answer:

I agree with you that we grandmothers have had a lot of practical experience which could be valuable to the younger generation if they asked for it. But do you remember how you felt when you were young and your children were small? Did you hang onto your mother's words or did you try to work things out your way?

I, myself, made many mistakes and learned a great many things the hard way but I learned. And remember this—we are all due a great many things which we fail to get because this is an imperfect world. So the best thing to do under the circumstances is to try to adjust ourselves to conditions so that living will be as pleasant as possible for everyone concerned.

Good Meat Makes Good Barbecue

Some people contend that the range wars in the Old West could have begun as arguments over who had the best barbecue. Now that may be stretching it a little, but the fact is most people cannot agree about what's good barbecue and what isn't.

Actually, what they're arguing about is the flavor of the barbecue sauce and not the taste of the meat. By following tips suggested by Dr. C. Boyd Ramsey, director of the Texas Tech University Meats Laboratory, you can make your charcoal grilled meat taste better and save a high-priced cut from near ruin.

The first step, of course, is meat selection. High quality meats give the best results as they tend to be more tender and juicier than the lower quality meats, Ramsey said.

Choose the thicker cuts of meat. They will stay juicier than the thinner cuts, Ramsey said. A steak or chop should be at least three-quarters of an inch thick. Thicker meat cuts must be placed farther away from the heat and cooked slower, though, to prevent charring the outside while cooking the inside.

Hamburgers barbecue better when they contain about 35 percent fat, because they will stay juicier and more tender, Ramsey said. Two types of ground meat to stay away from in backyard cooking are round and chuck, which don't have enough fat.

The next step in barbecuing is in preparing the charcoal. Use only enough charcoal to cover the area under the meat. Excess charcoal does nothing but add more "hot air" to the atmosphere, Ramsey said.

Place the charcoal in a pyramid shape and light it with a lighter fluid, kerosene, or diesel fuel, electric lighters or commercial lighting buckets, Ramsey said. Never use gasoline, because it is highly flammable and too dangerous to use as a lighting agent.

"Most people finish cooking just when the charcoals are at the right heat to begin," Ramsey said.

To get the best results, let the charcoal burn for at least 20 minutes and preferably 30, Ramsey said, until the charcoals are evenly gray in appearance. This allows for more even cooking and gets rid of the lighter fluid taste, he said.

Before putting the meat on, spread the smoldering charcoals out so no two pieces are touching, Ramsey said. This prevents flames which can ruin the meat and it provides more even cooking.

One of the most important things to remember in barbecuing, he said, is to cook the meat slowly. That way it ends up juicy, tender and more flavorful and not charred and dry. Slow cooking also reduces shrinkage.

And don't ruin carefully selected meat by overcooking, Ramsey said. The most reliable way to prevent overcooking is using a meat thermometer, inserted into the edge of a steak or chop or into the top of a roast, Ramsey said.

Remove the meat from the heat when the thermometer reads three to five degrees below the desired temperature. Ramsey said this is because the center of the meat will continue cooking after being removed from the heat. Suggested temperatures are 145 degrees for rare, 150 for medium rare, 155 for medium, 160 for medium well and 165 for well done, Ramsey said. The less done the meat is, of course, he said, the more juicy and tender it will be.

When adding seasoning or sauces, Ramsey suggested adding them just a minute or so before removing the meat.

"When you turn the meat over the first time, add the salt to the cooked side rather than the uncooked side," Ramsey said. "For one thing, salt tends to draw the moisture out of the meat and for another, adding seasoning to the uncooked side and turning it causes the salt simply to fall off."

He said there was no advantage to using barbecue sauce during cooking, and, in fact, it could lessen the end flavor of the meat.

"Most barbecue sauces contain tomato products," Ramsey said, "which tend to char when barbecued. Putting the sauce on just before removing the meat will warm the sauce, prevent the charring and give just as much if not more flavor than adding the sauce during cooking."

The exception is chicken, which needs to be kept continually moist, because it is low in fat. Use a sauce without tomato products, though, Ramsey said.

Telephone Plans For Disabled

The ability to use the telephone to talk to friends, business associates or schoolmates is taken for granted by most, but not by General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

There are thousands of people with temporary or permanent disabilities which prevent them from using the telephone. Unless their needs can be met by matching their existing physical abilities with existing equipment, they may not enjoy a luxury most people consider a necessity of life...talking on the telephone.

Matching needs and equipment often takes the expertise of General Telephone's special engineering section and other people throughout the company, according to Don Prigmore, vice president of marketing and customer service, and Frank Mallory, vice president of network engineering and construction.

Many situations must be evaluated individually but most needs can be met with minimum costs, Prigmore said. Mallory added that for all practical method for summoning help when unattended and there is a variety of equipment that may solve such problems.

Another comparatively common service provided by the telephone company is school-to-home telephone service which allows a student physically unable to attend class to participate in all classroom discussion via telephone.

For the blind, there is Braille identified equipment.

General Telephone has installed in high activity areas coin telephones which are accessible to people in wheel chairs or the unusually short person. Some coin telephones in busy locations also have hard of hearing volume controls.

Both vice presidents emphasized that they do not want to stimulate false hopes for anyone. Not every situation can be solved quickly and sometimes it is costly, but special services can make an important difference in a person's life. And General Telephone is willing to help.

Beef Market Will Weaken Says Expert

Texas and the nation's cattlemen are enjoying a bit of prosperity these days due to improved cattle markets. The situation might change a little, however, during the second half of the year, believes a livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Ed Uvacek foresees a weakening in cattle prices in the third quarter of the year (July through September), with some strength returning as the year's end approaches. This improved market could easily carry into the new year.

"Fed cattle prices will probably be at their lowest levels in September or October and then should begin to gather strength once again," he contends. "Prices of feeder cattle will follow the same basic pattern. In fact, the feeder market will remain dependent on the fed cattle market price level."

Weakeness in the fed cattle market this fall could easily cause feedlot cattle coming out then to lose money, notes Uvacek. "This could really hurt the feeder market since most cattlemen will be selling their 1978 calves about that time.

Fortunately, feeder cattle numbers are down sharply this year, so this should help feeder prices somewhat."

The marketing specialist believes that beef prices will come down somewhat in response to some consumer or retailer resistance. "It is somewhat difficult to justify the present price levels simply on the basis of supply and demand. Supplies are not off that much, and it is difficult to believe that consumer demand has increased that much in such a short period of time."

Beef production should only be down about 2 percent during the July-September period from that same period a year ago. Although fed cattle marketings should be up substantially, the reduction in total beef production will be caused by a decrease in non-fed steer and heifer slaughter and much lower cow slaughter levels. This same quarter, however, will have increased quantities of pork, broilers and turkeys. Overall, total meat supplies could be up 3 percent from a year ago, says Uvacek.

William Cox, Commerce Department economist:

"It would be a mistake to assume that these high rates of inflation... represent a momentum."

Anwar Sadat, Egypt's President:

"Within two months either the peace process gains momentum again, or it proves to be a failure."

Use Grasses For Grazing In Summer

Fields lying idle this summer can be put to good use by growing annual grasses for hay or grazing, says Don Dorsett, forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Annual grasses include hybrid sudan, sudan-sorghums or forage sorghums. Millet could be used in sandier soils.

"These annual grasses make rapid growth for high quality grazing or hay," points out Dorsett. Because they are annuals, they die after the growing season and the field can be prepared for spring planting. They do not regrow from roots the following year."

Annual grasses take advantage of warm temperatures and adequate moisture to produce forage high in protein and digestibility until seedhead formation. After seedhead formation, protein and digestibility decline rapidly unless the grasses are used for grazing or hay, notes the forage specialist.

"As with any grass, fertility is a key factor in producing the desired amount of pasture or hay," says Dorsett. "Many fields and pastures have a history of cropping that has left soil fertility extremely low. Without fertility, these fields would not produce the desired volume of hay or grazing. Fertilizer should be applied according to a soil test to assure that the grass is getting the required plant nutrients."

"With proper management, warm season annual grasses can produce high quality pasture or hay," contends the specialist.

A PLACE TO PRAY

Man can, and should, pray anywhere. God has placed no limitations on his communion with him.

Our Lord has said, "... Ask and ye shall receive." God listens when we seek him, no matter where, however he desires that we gather together in prayer too. "... mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all people."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Economists Look At Beef Situation

Rising prices of beef in the supermarket result from a complex world economic situation which spans several years, and short-term answers really won't help the consumer in the long run, an analysis by three agricultural economists at Texas
A&M University concludes.

America's beef producers are being caught in the middle as they begin to emerge from the beef industry's "worst depression since the 1930s," the economists said. These views are included in a position paper prepared by Dr. John A. Hopkin (cq), head of the TAMU department of agricultural economics;
Dr. Donald E. Farris, professor of agricultural economics, and Dr. Ernest E. Davis, Extension
livestock marketing specialist.

Prior to 1973, the countries that now make up the European Common Market (EC-9) were the largest beef importing area of the world, the economists noted. Developments in these countries resulted in a beef import embargo and dealt a crippling blow to South American and Australian beef producers.

This clogged traditional channels of international trade, and the only place left for the surplus beef was the U.S. market. When the U.S. import quota limit was reached, the heavy surplus caused the international beef market to collapse.

As a result, 24-cans cases of 12-ounce cans of beef sold at only $10 a case in international trading. This price covered transportation of cattle and processing costs, but left nothing to pay the producer for the cattle.

Despite the excellent bargains
on the international market, Japan, Russia and the EC-9 allowed fewer imports during the 1974-77, far below their 1973
rates when international prices were much higher.

"At the same time," the TAMU economists said, "they maintained very high prices within their own markets and thereby held their per capita beef consumption at low levels."

The resulting depression was felt by nearly all beef exporting countries and by importing countries where markets weren't tightly protected.

"In the U.S., the Meat Import Act of 1964 provided an upper limit on imports, but we were still by far the largest beef importer," the economists noted. "Very little of the record
U.S. production could be exported. As a result, U.S. consumers had record beef supplies and producers had low prices coupled with record high feed costs."

"In the Americas, Africa and Oceania, there has been little or no profit incentive to increase investment in cattle or in range improvement during the four-year period 1974-77."

At the same time that Japan, Russia and the EC-9 were preventing their consumers from responding to the lower world prices, "the U.S. market, despite burdensome supplies of its own, took no additional actions to restrict imports," the economists stressed.

Because of such foreign restraints on consumers in other countries, the authors recommended "that the U.S. Meat Import Act of 1964 be amended to include a counter-cyclical quota."

Such a quota, they explained,
"is one that automatically decreases when U.S. supplies are heavy and increases when supplies are short." Such a plan would likely allow all of the available imports to enter for the next three years, while American cattlemen rebuild their herds, they said.

"Political or administrative decisions to change the quota are less satisfactory than a system that changes under a known set of rules," the economists said.
Federal price controls such as were attempted in World War II and in 1972-73 have proven ineffective, but "most disruptive"

to the industry, they said.

The economists characterized the beef industry as highly competitive with large numbers of competitors having relatively free entry at every level in the system.

"Anytime there have been good profit possibilities, it has always stimulated expansion and new investors," they noted.
There has been little chance to protect markets, or new technology with patents, they pointed out.

"As a result, there is no evidence of any long-term profits within the industry. On the other hand, there is substantial evidence of very low profits in cattle production since 1952."

They said many producers have been able to stay in business only because of land appreciation which provided increased debt capacity, income from sale of crops, or off-farm employment.

They said the excess competition stems from two main factors. Improved technology has provided a steady increase in beef output, and federal farm programs have encouraged farmers to divert agricultural resources out of crop production into beef production.

"The acreage control programs for crops invariably channel some additional resources into beef production," the economists explained. As a consequence, consumers have been offered more beef than they were willing to buy at prices that would cover total production costs."

Because many of their production costs are fixed costs, the economists said, cattlemen have been slow to shift to other agricultural activities.

Price recovery which the cattlemen must have to get back on a sound financial basis appears likely during 1978-81 "unless there is government interference with the market system," they said.

At the same time, the three predicted, American consumers should have supplies at least as high as the 1973 levels of 110

pounds per person.

Under unrestricted market conditions, prices for beef similar to those of 1973 seem most likely, with temporary fluctuations above and below those levels, the economists said.

"Even so, these prices will be lower than those paid by consumers in most other areas of the world."
