3rd Dimension Idea Is Given In New Movies

By EDWARD CURTIS
NEW YORK (UP)—You can now take a dizzy ride on a roller coaster—sitting in a movie seat. You'll gasp, get clammy hands. It's real.

It's Cinemascope. This is a new movie system of projecting pictures which gives an illusion of the third dimension—depth.

After its premiere last night at the Broadway Theater, old movie man Louis B. Mayer exclaimed: "I think it means new life for pictures. It'll do for the industry what sound did for silent pictures."

The first showing of the new film is pitched on its technique rather than a dramatic story. The backers of the new process wanted to show what it could do. The result is a series of beautiful and at times startling sketches in color of European and American scenes.

The film is projected on a curved screen. It's like looking into the bottom of a "U". The screen is about six times the size of the one in your neighborhood theatre.

The image on the screen is not one picture. It's really three. In making the movie, the photographer uses a camera with three lenses. One looks straight ahead, a second to the left and a third to the right.

The projection is the same way. You see three pictures joined together as one on the big screen. Because of the curve in the screen, you get the illusion of depth.

With the new projection system, Cinemascope also has come up with new sound. There are five loudspeakers spaced around the curved screen and other loudspeakers are at the sides and in back of the theater.

The most exciting sequence in the film, "This Is Cinemascope," was the opening one. This took the audience on a roller coaster ride with all the realism of being in the front coaster seat.

Few People Turn Out For Red Anniversary In British Colony

HONG KONG (UP)—Only a handful of this crown colony's 2½ million Chinese turned out today to mark the third anniversary of the founding of the Red government in Peking. ## Lewis Gets His Contract, But Small Mines May Close Down

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (UP)—For the second straight year John L. Lewis has come up with a wage boost for miners without a strike—but at a price that industry leaders say may force many mines out of business.

Southern coal producers came to terms with the United Mine Workers chief late yesterday, there by avoiding a threatened walkout today of their 100,000 miners.

The Dixie group agreed to the same terms Lewis had previously negotiated with the rest of the industry—a $1.90 daily pay increase, plus a 10-cent-a-ton hike in the operator-paid royalty for the union's welfare fund. The daily wage now becomes $8.25 and the royalty 40 cents a ton.

A number of industry leaders said that undoubtedly a number of mines would have to close, rather than try to pay the new costs. These, they said, are the less-mechanized, hand-labor mines where labor cost is relatively greater.

Even union leaders conceded privately some mines would have to close. One union man told a reporter: "Just as the farmer with a single hand plow can't keep going today against the competition from the mechanized farm, neither can a coal producer keep going if Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association, said a number of his member owners plan to close down some of their high-cost mines.

Moody said this would be true even if the government hoists coal price ceilings. On that point Moody observed:

"We're going to try to get a dollar a ton increase because, if we don't get it, we won't be in the coal business very long."

Coal has been selling below present ceilings. Prices vary considerably by types and quality, but the average price received by the mine owners runs around $5 a ton. The price to retail consumers is, of course, much higher, due to freight and handling charges.

A handful of owners in Moody's Dixie group refused to sign up with Lewis yesterday. Lewis said he'd give the holdouts "the next day or two" to come around to the contract terms before ordering them closed by strike.

The holdouts were described as having about four million tons annual production, as compared with the 110 million output of Moody's entire group. Those still unsigned included the Island Creek Coal Huntington, W. Va., and the Logan County (W. Va.) Coal Operators Association.

The pay and royalty increases require approval by the Wage Stabilization Board.

Rotarians Hear Of YMCA Program

The YMCA's four-point program for religious, social, intellectual and physical development of youth was outlined for Rotarians Tuesday by Glenn Rogers, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lee O. Rogers.

The youth, a leader in YMCA and school activities, was guest speaker at a ladies' day luncheon program at the Settles. He stressed importance of the Community Chest campaign to the program of the YMCA, one of five Red Feather agencies.

Rogers described the "Y" as a place where young men and women learn by doing. They hear speakers discuss various youth problems, and have discussions and debates on the same subjects.

Some 700 high and junior high school boys and girls participate in of athletics, "youth in government" projects and other activities, he said.

"The YMCA program is based on the Scripture, 'And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man.'" Glenn said in explaining the religious, social, physical and intellectual development goals of the organization.

Rotarians chose Oble Bristow as their contestant in the Sultan contest being sponsored by the Big Spring City Federation of Women's Clubs, Inc. The contest is being conducted in connection with the CFWC's "Follies of 1952" show which will be presented Oct. 16 and 17.

Riding THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

A Texas Employment Commission report on farm labor from 47 Texas points indicates a shortage of 23,025 cotton harvest hands at those points.

What is probably the greatest shortage is in Lubbock County where 4,500 pullers are needed. The pay rate there is from $1.50 to $1.75 with two bits for weighing and hauling.

Other heavy shortages are Lamb County 1,000; Hall County 750; Hockley County 970; Brazos County 745; Hill County 600; McLennan County 500 (with a pay rate of from $2.50 to $2.75 delivered, housing good and yield one-third); Knox County 1,000; Haskell County 1,000; Pecos County 500, and Wilbarger County 1,000.

Growers in Austin County are paying pickers an average of $3.50 on a half bale yield.

Reports from the San Angelo District of the TEC, which includes Howard County, are that cotton is approximately 66 per cent open and 12 per cent harvested. Generally the crop in this district is reported to be from poor to fair.

In the Amarillo District, which comes down to the north line of Howard County, the irrigated cotton on the South Plains is reported as being from good to excellent. Dryland cotton over the area is from good to fair and opening rapidly. In the southeast and below the Cap Rock, the crop condition is poor. Demands for hands continue heavy in most areas with the North Plains harvest just beginning.

The Dawson County crop is reported poor; 27 per cent open; 3.5 per cent harvested; 45,000 estimated production and 1,420 ginned to date.

Leland Wallace, Howard County Hereford breeder, had the best heifer over six months and under one year at the Dawson County Fair in Lamesa last week. She was also reserve grand champion of the show.

Leland is fitting a string of bulls for the coming sales, and he also had the second place bull in the class of those one year old but under two years. His entry was topped by a bull from the Youngblood Ranch. Youngblood also had the best bull over two years.

Other winners in the Hereford division of the Lamesa event were James Hunt and Connell Echols of Lamesa and Borden Gray of Gall.

Soil Conservation Service specialists are recommending the planting of Abruzzi rye in the middle of cotton and sorghum fields as a soil-protection. They describe it as a hardy grain that will withstand severe conditions on land subject to wind erosion. It can also be drilled solid like other grains. They say hairy vetch mixed with rye makes an even better soil building cover because of the nitrogen the legume adds to the soil.

Jake Hodges, formerly of Big Spring and now SCS work unit conservationist at Snyder, reports that about 70,000 acres of cover crops are being planted in Scurry County and that all planting equipment owned by that Soil Conservation District is being kept busy.

Reports of great cover crop planting activity are also received from Work Unit Conservationist Painter C. Wylie at Colorado City. Ben Osborn, work unit conservationist at Midland, says that before recent rains it looked like cover crops would be limited to the 3,000-acre irrigated area, but that the rains have brought another 60,000 acres into the picture. The supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, the SCS, feed dealers and planting equipment supply houses have co-operated in a cover crop planting demonstration there.

DALLAS, Oct. 1 (AP)—Stalder Hotel Company will call for bids for construction of a Dallas Hotel by Nov. 15, the chain's president, Arthur F. Douglas, said yesterday. The hotel is expected to cost about ten million dollars.

unit of the Martin-Howard SCD, Rancher Hunter Midkiff has alfalfa and barley up to a good stand on irrigated land. Farmer F. D. Reven, who cultivates 15 acres, has ordered rye and vetch seed to cover five acres. East of Midland, F. F. Elkin and Jack Leonard are putting in 20 acres of permanent pasture. They are discing in 200 pounds of 16-20-0 with one-third bushel of oats per acre with a grain-fertilizer drill and are then following close behind with a grass drill, planting a mixture of perennial ryegrass, Harding grass, Kentucky 31 Fescue, alfalfa and Madril clover. She insists others of the gang are just as gully, and she names them.

She said that the sight of sleek cattle grazing by the road had always impressed her as an easy way to make money. She got a trailer in which to haul them away and she was in business. Just like that!

"I wanted fine clothes and a fine car," she explained.

Shivers Plans To Reveal Vote Decision Soon

AUSTIN, Oct. 1 (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers will tell his plans for the general election in a radio speech this week or early next week.

The Texas governor is one of three rebellious Southern governors and has said he would not vote for the Democratic Presidential nominee, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, in the general election. Other Democratic governors balking at voting for Stevenson are Gov. James Byrnes of South Carolina and Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana.

Shivers also told reporters yesterday he would ask Atty. Gen. Price Daniel for an opinion on a write-in plan suggested by Claud Gilmer under which Democrats might be able to vote for GOP Presidential Candidate Dwight Eisenhower under a Democratic column.

Gilmer is chairman of the Texas Democrats for Eisenhower organization. Shivers, who has not said he would vote for Eisenhower, said he thought a good many Texans now planning to vote for Stevenson would vote for Eisenhower if the attorney general rules the Gilmer proposal legal.

In another statement, Shivers said he does not supplement salaries paid his staff members and knows of no other state agency that does.

Formal Charges In Plane Bombing Due

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 1 (AP)—The state today filed formal charges against two persons suspected of time-bombing a plane to collect insurance on seven passengers' lives.

The attorney general's office said there are five basic charges against each: attempted homicide against the 20 plane occupants, causing injuries to individuals, damage to private property, attack against public communications, and fraud.

Conviction on all charges would bring sentences of over 70 years, but Mexican law limits the maximum cumulative sentence to 30 years.

The defendants are Paco Sierra, a popular and well-known singer, and Emilio Arellano Schetellege, identified as a U. S.-educated engineer. The case went before Federal District Court Judge Clotario Margalli, who has three days to check the evidence and decide whether to order trial.

The bomb went off on a Oaxaca-bound plane last Wednesday, damaging the craft and slightly injuring two American tourists. The pilot managed an emergency landing.

Seven passengers told police they were hired by Arellano for jobs in Oaxaca that turned out to be fictitious. The seven were insured for 2,000,000 pesos ($230,000). Police said the beneficiaries were Arellano and intimate friends of Sierra's.

Arellano yesterday claimed a 10,000 peso ($1,100) reward offered during the search for him on the basis that he gave himself up to police. However, Compania Mexicana de Aviacion, the plane owner, sent the reward to Attorney General Francisco Gonzalez de la Vega, who promptly returned it.

Bible Class Celebrates Its First Birthday

The Business Men's Bible Class, an organization which meets every Sunday morning in the Settles Hotel, celebrated its first birthday Tuesday evening.

Some 35 members and guests were on hand for a barbecue, a short business session and fellowship period at City park.

Rupert Ricker, teacher of the class, who has previously been associated with large similar organizations in San Antonio and San Angelo, commended the members for their interest which has led to substantial growth during the past year.

Frank Hardesty, newly installed class president, noted that attendance usually averages 40 or more each Sunday, and urged members to invite others to join the group.

"Our interest is in men who are not affiliated with Sunday Schools in the churches," Ricker explained. "And there are a lot of them in this town who need our class and we certainly need them."

The class voted to authorize its board of directors to select an appropriate gift to be presented as a token of appreciation to each retiring president.

Murph Thorp has served the class as president during its first year. He has now been succeeded by Hardesty who will serve until next July. Thereafter, the class will install new officers every six months.

New Bible More Nearly Right Than Old One, Rev. Ragle Says

The language of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible says to people today what the original authors said to their people.

It is more nearly correct than any other version ever printed, said the Rev. Doyle Ragle, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Munday in an address to an interdenominational gathering Tuesday evening at the Baptist Church. Approximately 300 people attended the community-wide service which marked the introduction of the new Bible here. The service was sponsored by the Big Spring Pastor's Association.

Rev. Ragle said that printing of the revised version of the Bible was not an attempt to destroy the Bible in any sense. "The new version is an attempt to make the Bible vital, meaningful, and understanding in our day."

The two purposes of the new Bible are to simplify the English to present day understanding and to make it more correct, he said. "The King James Bible is a wonderful translation, but the Revised Standard Bible is a better version of a good version."

Rev. Ragle pointed out that hundreds of words meant one thing in 1611 and another today. "We need new words in the Bible that mean what we think when we read," he said. It was explained that the King James version was based on manuscripts no older than 1100 A.D. The new version is based on manuscripts from around 300 A.D.

The last part of Mark has been omitted from the Revised Standard Version of the Bible, Rev. Ragle said that it was omitted because it was not found in the older manuscripts.

"The modern version is not interested in making changes in thought ideas, except to get over the idea of the authors," he said.

It was explained that the King James version is one of four different Bibles that has been "authorized" by the Church of England through the years. Rev. Ragle said that the Revised Standard version is "authorized" by 40 Protestant denominations.

Five Bibles were given to representatives of basic fields of community life by Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, who presided at the meeting. Those receiving the new Bibles were A. A. Porter, veteran Sunday school superintendent; Mayor G. W. Dabney, for the city; Supt. W. C. Blankenship, for the school; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rainey, for the family; and Mrs. Clyde Thomas Sr. long time Sunday school teacher.

Those appearing on the program included Darrell Mock, First Baptist music and education director; Rev. E. C. Armstrong, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church; Rev. Clyde E. Nichols, minister of the First Christian Church; Rev. Lewis Patterson, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene; and Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The Big Spring Pastor's Association had a display of the new Bibles at the church entrance, directed by Rev. D. Orval Strong.

Farm Price Dip May Bring On Lower Costs

WASHINGTON (AP)—A dip of 2 per cent in average farm prices, with meat and potatoes leading the drop, held out some hope today for lower food costs.

The decline in prices of farm products as a whole during the month that ended Sept. 15 was reported late yesterday by the Agriculture Department.

At the same time the department said average prices paid by farmers dipped only 1 per cent so that farm prices averaged 101 per cent of parity, compared with 103 per cent both a month and a year ago.

Parity is a standard used to compute farm prices that give farmers a fair purchasing power judged by a past favorable period. The most favorable recent period for farmers was October, 1946, when farm prices averaged 122 per cent of parity.

More livestock are moving to market now as a result of a period of high prices and so market prices were 15 per cent lower than a year ago and lowest since June, 1950, just prior to the Korean War.

Movement of more potatoes to market after a short crop also pushed prices downward as much as 50 cents and more a bushel. They averaged $2.22 a bushel in mid-September and $2.78 a month earlier.

Milk and other dairy prices moved in the opposite direction, probably because of widespread drought and high prices for livestock feeds. The survey showed an 8 per cent increase in average dairy prices and the highest average for any September in 43 years that records have been kept.

Prices of things that farmers buy, including some foods at retail, were down slightly for the month. But offsetting this were higher prices for sugar, corn meal, flour, coffee, milk and eggs.

125 New Casualties
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Defense Department identified 125 Korean War casualties today in a new list (No. 661) that included 29 dead, 93 wounded, two missing and one injured.

Paving Adjustment Okayed At City Commission Meet

Paving in and around the Wiley Terrace Addition, south of Washington Place, came up for discussion at the city commission meeting Tuesday.

Talks resulted in no action but a clarification of the positions of the city and developer in respect to the proposed paving. Developer Carl Hensley was allowed to dedicate a street with only 4 1/2 feet of right-of-way between curb line and property line across the front of one tract of land for a distance of about a half block.

The adjustment was okayed after Hensley explained that a private engineering error required relocation of the street. He has been unable to secure title to the additional 4 1/2 feet of right-of-way, Hensley said.

Regarding proposed paving, commissioners explained that the city's only commitment is to include surfacing in the same contract with other segments of the city paving program, if that is desired by the developer and other property owners.

They said there apparently is a misunderstanding among property owners in the area concerning financing of the paving. A development concern who proposed to plat and develop Wiley Terrace prior to the time Hensley became interested in the project informed property owners in the vicinity that developers would pay for paving in and around the addition as well as along a street to connect the development with existing pavement, commissioners said.

Mayor G. W. Dabney said these commitments were made by the potential developer in connection with securing signatures for a petition that that entire section of town be brought within the city limits.

Hensley said he has been informed of no such arrangement, and indicated he will contact owners of adjacent property in an effort to share cost of the paving program. He is to proceed with paving of a street through the center of Wiley Terrace, while remain-

OPEN LETTER

Bud Irvine

To Whom It May Concern:

WE DON'T ASK that you accept it because our preacher is a great and good man. If it doesn't read in your Bible the same way he preaches it, we insist that you reject the message; then come and show us, so we can reject it too.

Our preacher will give the Bible references as he preaches. Bring your pad and pencil; take down the references and study the scriptures when you get home. Along with Paul, we invite you to "prove all things" (1st Thessalonians 5:21). Accept what is taught only after you have seen for yourself that it is so.

We cordially invite you to hear Brother "Bud" Irvine of Baytown, Texas, October 1 to 12, at 7:30 each night. This is our regular fall meeting.

Who knows? you too, may come to say, "This is what I've been looking for."

Come and See!

30 Planes Lost By UN In Sept.

By GEORGE A. McARTHUR
SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 1 (AP)—The U. S. Air Force today reported 30 Allied planes were lost to all causes in September. But it said only seven of its jet fighters were shot down in the furious air battles which cost the Communists a record 62 MIG-15s destroyed. The previous one month record for MIGs downed was 44, set last April.

The announcement came soon after the Allies opened another month of air blows with a massive B29 attack against a sprawling chemical plant only 40 yards from the Manchurian border. An armada of 48 Superforts dropped about 425 tons of high explosives on the Namsan plant in one of the biggest B29 raids of the war.

The Air Force said the Reds threw up "meagre to moderate" ground fire. All B29s returned safely.

Brightly colored pennants fluttered on the Western Front as Chinese Communists celebrated the third anniversary of the founding of their Red regime. The Reds added a gruesome touch by displaying the body of a dead American soldier before one forward position.

Savage close-in fighting flared on the Central Front west of the Pukhan River when a company of Chinese tried to capture an Allied hill position.

The hand-to-hand fighting lasted nearly two hours. U.N. troops stood their ground and forced the Chinese back with bayonets, grenades and fists.

The U.S. Eighth Army said the Reds lost 3,171 men killed, wounded and captured last week in ground fighting.

The B29 attack on the Namsan plant was the first of the war. An Air Force spokesman said it was "one of the most important industrial facilities in North Korea." It produced tungsten, carbide, black lead and other chemicals used in making munitions.

The bombers made their runs in single file through a network of searchlight beams and ground fire from both sides of the Manchurian border.

Egypt Trials Soon

The fund is administered by County Health Nurse Jewel Barton and Fire Chief H. V. Crocker.

Park Superintendent Resigns His Position

ALPINE, Oct. 1 (AP)—The superintendent of Big Bend National Park, Dr. Ross A. Maxwell, will resign Nov. 8 so he can devote full time to geological research. Maxwell's resignation was announced yesterday. He had been superintendent of the park since it was taken under the National Park Service in 1944. Earlier he worked in connection with CCC camps established there and with Texas state park developments in the park basin.

Hearings Over Airline Service Continue Today

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—More representatives from Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas cities lined up today to give their views on proposals of Central Airlines Inc. to continue and expand its feeder service in the area.

A score of others who appeared before the Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday were preponderately in favor of Central's applications.

The five-member board opened the two-day hearing yesterday on the recommendations of Examiner Herbert K. Bryan, who heard the evidence in the case.

Central now serves a score of cities in the three states. It has asked that its operating authority be renewed, that it be allowed to add some cities and eliminate others in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas, and that it be allowed to expand with segments through Arkansas with terminals at Memphis and Shreveport.

Bryan recommended: That operating authority be extended for five years; that Central be allowed to drop Winfield-Arkansas City, Kan., Wewoka-Holdenville, Okla., and Greenville and Gainesville, Tex.; that it add Stillwater, Okla., to this route; that the board deny Central's request for an Oklahoma City-Dallas line via Chickasha, Lawton-Ft. Sill and Duncan, Okla.; that Central be allowed to expand from Texarkana to Little Rock via Hot Springs; and that a Little Rock-Memphis segment via Pine Bluff, Stuttgart and Helena be rejected. Decision on a Little Rock-Shreveport segment via Pine Bluff, Camden, El Dorado and Magnolia should be delayed until a decision is made in a Texas local service case, he added.

Pioneer Air Lines, Inc., and Trans-Texas both seek the Arkansas segments.

One witness yesterday, P. G. Anderson, El Dorado, Ark., recommended Pioneer for the Arkansas Service, contending El Dorado interests need connections to Texas and West Texas available through Pioneer.

Others who gave oral arguments yesterday, however, generally favored granting Central's requests in all or in part.

Lebanon Forms A New Cabinet

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—After a week of fruitless attempts at forming a full parliamentary government, Lebanon's President Camille Chamoun has named Amir Khalid Shehab to head a four-man administrative cabinet.

The appointment, decreed last night by Chamoun, appeared to have ended at least temporarily the ministerial crisis which followed the resignation last week of President Bechara el Khoury under opposition pressure. Chamoun was elected by Parliament to fill El Khoury's place.

Amir Shehab now is Lebanon's minister to Jordan.

Thrills Of The Circus

Lyle Bettger, cast as an animal trainer, uses an elephant's foot in an attempt to settle a personal score with circus performer Gloria Grahame. This is a scene from the Technicolor spectacle, "The Greatest Show On Earth," which opens a week's run at the Ritz Thursday. The Cecil B. De Mille production has such stars as Cornel Wilde, Betty Hutton, Dorothy Lamour and James Stewart. It was filmed with the Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey shows, is a thriller to compare with the circus itself.

SALARIES NOT SUPPLEMENTED

Shivers Says Key State Aides Not Paid Enough

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN, Oct. 1 (AP)—Key state employees are not paid enough but their salaries are not supplemented, Gov. Allan Shivers says.

He was asked at his press conference yesterday if salaries of his staff are boosted by outside contributions and the reply was:

"I don't supplement salaries and I don't know of anyone who does."

Shivers added that he did not think it was a good practice and that the state ought to pay high enough salaries to attract and keep efficient men in key posts. Reminded that in some state departments subordinates are paid higher than their bosses because pay of the top men is set in the Constitution, the governor commented:

"That's a bad practice and it should be remedied."

"We need to do some more adjusting on state salaries. What we really need is a job classification system. The pinch now is not so much on the top brackets, but on state employees who are in the middle brackets or below."

He indicated he would ask the Legislature to do something about it when it meets in January.

Shivers said as for morals and ethics of salary supplementing, it depended on the source of the fund and the way the matter was handled.

The governor suggested that legislators' pay at least ought to be enough to support them and their families in Austin during sessions, and that it is not now. He said he would like to see the Legislature meet regularly once a year rather than every two years, and that sessions should be strictly limited to 60 days.

Now the Legislature meets for 20 days at full pay. Any overtime is at half-pay.

The discussion of state pay came up after Shivers said he had no comment on the salary supplementing fund in Illinois.

Japan To Polls In First Free Post-War Vote

By WILLIAM JORDEN
TOKYO (AP)—Millions of Japanese voted today in this nation's completely free election since World War II and the fate of pro-American Premier Shigeru Yoshida rested with their decision.

Voting was heavy at the 46,000 polling places. By mid-afternoon an estimated 60 per cent of the 46 million registered voters had cast ballots.

Yoshida's dominant Liberal party was expected to win the greatest number of the 466 Parliament seats sought by 1,243 candidates.

Yoshida's main fight was within his own party. His leadership has been challenged by Ichiro Hatoyama, founder of the Liberals and head of the party until he was purged from political life by the Allied occupation.

Hatoyama turned over the party reins to Yoshida in 1946 and the latter guided Japan's government through the occupation.

Hatoyama is not anti-American. His differences with Yoshida are over financial policy. Yoshida wants a stable budget. Hatoyama is willing for Japan to have an unbalanced budget if it will get big industry rolling again.

Their supporters are opposing each other in many districts. There was a possibility that if Yoshida's candidates gained a majority of the Liberal seats Hatoyama would bolt the party and join with the new Progressive party to form a coalition government.

Community Reluctantly Says So Long To VA Hospital Manager

Big Spring today says farewell to Dr. L. B. Andrew as manager of the Veterans Administration Hospital. It is not easy to see a man of the calibre of Dr. Andrew move on, but the greater opportunity and responsibility of his new assignment is such that none could but wish him well in it. His elevation in the VA medical organization is evidence of his ability, both professionally and as an administrator.

Dr. Andrew came to Big Spring well in advance of the activation of the hospital here. He had charge of assembling the staff, of seeing that the various "kinks" were ironed out so that the hospital could accomplish its primary mission — the treatment of veterans in this region.

Getting a hospital started is no small task, but under current conditions maintaining staff has been equally difficult. Against considerable discouragement, Dr. Andrew persevered and never seemed to lose his good humor nor sense of balance. Among the personnel at the hospital, he has been much respected.

It would be easy for a man in his position to hold aloof, but such was not the case with Dr. Andrew or Mrs. Andrew. Both have been active in various affairs and have fit naturally and willingly into the community life. They are the type of folk you feel that you have known all ways. Certainly Big Spring wishes them the best of everything and hopes that they have left some small part of themselves here.

West Texan Outlines The Issue Against Truman Administration

You don't have to look any farther than Monahan to find a man who has gotten up on his two feet and announced his views on the state of the political situation.

The man is J. Conrad Dunagan, who was named as Democratic presidential elector, and last week resigned. Dunagan said he will cast his personal vote for Eisenhower and Nixon "and I hope all thinking Democrats of Texas will do likewise." He said "I cannot with honor remain as the presidential elector for my congressional district."

In his letter of resignation, Dunagan said that "although the Constitution of the United States provides the presidential electors shall choose the President and vice president, the voters are entitled to vote for an elector whose views are well known to them."

Then Dunagan gave his real views on the matter. They are views that are being shared by thousands of Texans. They are worth passing on, as we see it, so that perhaps thousands of other Texans can give consideration:

"I cannot vote for continuance of Trumanism, corruption in high office, government by crony, condonation of Communism, creeping socialism, government greed for centralized power, deficit spending while taxing exorbitantly, the steal of the tidelands, bungling foreign policy, and shedding of blood in Korea without a plan for victory.

"To allow my name to stand for those candidates who derive their support from the forces which nurtured and which would continue and expand these abhorrent things would cover it with shame. I will not vote for Stevenson or Sparkman. The time has come to throw off the chains of tradition which have bound us to a national party whose principles are no longer worthy of our support."

Merry-Go-Round — Drew Pearson

Gen. Eisenhower's Investments Include One In A Lipstick Firm

WASHINGTON — General Eisenhower's income taxes, when and if published, will contain some small and interesting enterprises that the public doesn't know about. There's nothing wrong about them, but the public doesn't ordinarily think of a five-star general investing in a lipstick company or a restaurant.

However, Eisenhower has a stock interest in the "Charm-More" Company which puts out lipsticks. He was one of the original investors when the company was first organized.

He also owns part of a Howard Johnson restaurant in Washington, D. C. George Allen, the former White House jester got like into this deal, along with another famous Democrat, Ed Pauley, the big California oil man. The restaurant is located in downtown Washington.

Ike also has his farm in Gettysburg, which he bought through George Allen. Only embarrassing thing in Ike's income tax returns in addition to the generous capital gains tax which the Treasury let him pay on the $1,000,000 received on his book, is an exemption on his house received while president of Columbia.

In 1948 the general wrote the Treasury asking that his house, plus 12 servants and upkeep not be considered as income since he was required by the university to live there. The Treasury ruled in his favor, gave him tax exemption on his Columbia expenses.

In contrast, the Treasury has balked at letting waiters, waitresses, bellhops, chambermaids, who also may have to live in hotels, deduct their meals and lodging. These must be treated as taxable income, except under certain circumstances.

For instance, waiters in restaurants do not have to treat as income a noon-day luncheon served while they are on duty, but cannot deduct dinner at the end of the day if served to them when their work is over.

Nurses who have to live in hospitals were finally given more favorable treatment than waiters, though only after a long Treasury wrangle, whereas Eisenhower got his riding without any trouble.

The man who gave him the rulings on both the book, which saved him about $500,000, and the house at Columbia was Charles Oliphant, who resigned after bitter criticism by Republican congressmen.

NOTE — At Columbia, Eisenhower received his regular Army pay of $15,751, plus three aides or stenographers, plus $100 a month.

Friends of Senator Kem of Missouri are planning a last-minute sneak attack on Stuart Symington, now running against Kem for the Senate. They will charge that Symington was once convicted for stealing an automobile in Baltimore.

Of course, politics can be pretty dirty. But the real facts are that Symington, when seventeen years old, went for a ride with two other boys in a car belonging to their next-door neighbor. That was in the days when there weren't so many automobiles. Unfortunately the boy who was driving ran the car into a ditch, the neighbor naturally got sore and the three boys were fined $25 each.

However, the neighbor, Harry Dorsey Watts, learning that the incident might be used against Symington in the Senate race, wrote him a letter.

"Your father," he wrote, "one of my closest friends, immediately got together with the parents of the other boys and paid me in full for the damage. The incident was only a prank, and it's absurd that it could be considered anything else 34 years later."

NOTE — One man who really tried to clean up Washington is Symington — regardless of any joy-riding in his youth.

Malayan Merchant Ships Due Emblems

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (U)—Malayan merchant ships will soon be flying a Malayan ensign in accordance with a bill published in the government gazette.

The bill gives the high commissioner, Gen. Sir Gerald Templer, power to prescribe an ensign to be known as the national colors of a Malayan ship. Only Malayan citizens and shipping companies having their principal place of business in Malaya can make use of the ensigns.

Wage Earner Gets The Tough Side As Tax Law Denies Him Needed Deductions

Today's income tax law breeds class discrimination. Particularly in its provisions for deductions, it discriminates against the wage-earner, favors the individual getting an income from a business or from investments.

Our Congressional tax-writers are actually asking us to list our complaints about the income tax. (Man bites dog!) As I reported yesterday, a joint House-Senate committee is inviting us to submit specific suggestions for improvements and it plans to make these the basis for an overhaul of our entire tax system.

O.K., here's backing for the strong statements above. Any profit-seeking venture—from the giant industrial corporation to the small corner store—is entitled under the law to a deduction on its income tax for every expense, ordinary or necessary in the production of its income.

And any property owner can deduct all the expenses involved in the production or collection of his income. That makes sense. It's proper to allow the corporation, the investor or the property owner to deduct what it costs to get an income even though the income may never materialize.

BUT to the wage-earner, the law denies deductions for expenses he must incur if he is to earn the income on which he pays the taxes. For instance, the law doesn't allow any deductions for what a wage-earner may spend on books, coaching, formal education, business magazines, etc., to improve himself and thus earn more taxable income. He can deduct these costs only if his employer requires them.

The law refuses to allow millions of working wives and mothers to deduct the costs of household help—even though they couldn't leave their homes to earn their taxable incomes unless they had this domestic assistance. The law prohibits deductions for money spent on transportation to and from work—even though the worker may not be able to earn his paycheck without excessive traveling expenses. Not even a disabled worker can get any tax consideration. The law scoffs at deductions for work clothes and many forms of uniforms customarily adopted by the trades—despite the fact that the clothes are required by the job.

The law denies deductions for medical and dental costs, except when they top 5 per cent of adjusted gross income. A business can deduct anything spent to keep the income healthy, but a wage-earner's spending to keep himself (his income) healthy is shrugged off.

The law refuses to consider personal expenses that distort home budgets—such as home entertainers, costly dinners, and other luxuries required by the employer. Yet many wage-earners spend many dollars on entertainment just because of their jobs.

The law won't permit deductions for money spent to get a job and to move to another locality to get a position, employment agency fees, special training. The law accepts the absurd theory that all wage-earners live close to their jobs, and thus it denies deductions for expenses when the wage-earner is away from home for meals.

And this is just a sample of unreasonable discrimination in deductions, of class distinction. I have dozens of other illustrations for injustices, and probably so have you. Send them in. Just as the system of deductions is miserably lopsided, so the system of exemptions is antiquated and cruelly tough on smaller taxpayers. Tomorrow's column will prove that one.

Wanted: A Magic Potion To Create Nice Dreams

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (U)—Why doesn't some kind-hearted scientist invent a pill or magic potion to create pleasant dreams?

This is one of the world's great needs. Life is such a living nightmare to millions today that they deserve and need peace in their sleep. But too often the goblins that infest their waking hours haunt their night minds, too, in even more magnified and fearful form.

It simply isn't fair. The quest for an elixir of youth may be doomed to failure, but science ought to be able to brew that will at least keep us young, happy and free of warts for our eight hours of slumber. If we all could stroll at ease in a Garden of Eden while asleep, it would be easier to face the troubles of the day. As it is now, we often merely close our eyes on a set of terrors, and doze off only to face another set even worse.

Consciousness is a two-sided coin—waking and sleeping—and is marked by fantasy in both periods. A man has some control of his dreams while he is awake. If the boss hawks him out, his mind immediately creates an interior drama in which he himself becomes head of the corporation and the boss becomes a janitor.

Every bum is a hero in his waking fantasies and walks his brain a king. But once he dresses off his conscience remorselessly and goes to bed, he awakens. If the boss hawks him out, his mind immediately creates an interior drama in which he himself becomes head of the corporation and the boss becomes a janitor.

Even dogs and innocent children are harried by bad dreams. If the other night a friend of mine was startled by the crying of his six-year-old daughter. When he went to comfort her, she said: "Daddy, I dreamed I was in a boat with two men. They were rowing around in the water picking up pieces of paper, and every piece of paper was where a little boy had died."

Why should a child have such an unexplainable nightmare? Presentiments of death and disaster come to all of us at times

Early Morning Fare On Airways Starts You In Fine (?) Style

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

The fare served up over the early morning airwaves has me worried. Is it a contributor to the frenzy of our times, or does it merely reflect?

If you farm, have to catch an early train or plane, have a baby in the house, or are afflicted with the habit of early riding, you are in for a liberal education or re-education in hill billy music. Now there's nothing particularly wrong with hillbilly music except that too much of it is like too much corn bread—just too much corn. From 6 a.m. to 7 a.m. the air is saturated with "Ah Ha's" and "Howdy Neighbor," and "Now lookie here, Slim," all woven in with a continuing dispute between a guitar and a fiddle with a piano as moderator.

Sometimes you run into an early morning commentator who dishes out the news fare of the previous night, or more accurately the stuff you had in last night's paper. These fall into two general categories: 1) Those who are unhappy with their lot because of having to roll out of bed while the masses soak up the best sleeping part of the day, or 2) those who barely make it in time to go on the air and therefore have had no time for editing or going over tricky names of people and places in the news.

Around 7 a.m., however, the mayhem on nerves begins in earnest. Commentators by this time have become argumentative if not belligerent. You either was angry with them or whoever they happen to be talking about, depending how you felt about the matter to start with. This tribe is noted for getting stuck on one subject. If it's politics, and most likely it is, then you'll catch politics until you almost sicken of it.

Then comes that most accursed of all musical assassins, those infernal and alleged trios and ensembles. The players employ wierd instrumental combinations. Their forte is to start on separate tangents at a given signal and to blow and beat for all their worth in hopes that one will drown out the other. In this bedlam, any resemblance to the announced tune is not only coincidental, it is purely unintentional. If your nerves are of less than pure iron, a quarter hour of this is calculated to have you growling at your wife and snapping at the children.

By the time you sit down to your breakfast, you are jumpy, alarmed at the world situation, concerned about the state of the nation, mad as everybody in general. Your digestion is in a turmoil and the old ulcer is all warmed up. What a lovely way to start the day.

Today And Tomorrow—Walter Lippman

Vannevar Bush Urges The JCS To Be A 'Recommending Body'

At long last, on Thursday evening in Baltimore, Gen. Eisenhower began to talk seriously about the subject he knows the best—about the planning and the operation of the military establishment. Early in his speech he made it clear enough, without going very far into the matter, that he knows where is the root of the trouble. "Those civilians who should exercise authority in military matters," said the general who may be the chief civilian, "feel hesitant because of their lack of specialized knowledge and experience. In a threatened emergency Congress is reluctant to question the demands of the military."

This could be understood to say that, being a General of the Army with specialized knowledge and experience, he would not be hesitant about exercising the kind of authority over the Pentagon that President Truman and Secretary Lovett do not now exercise. That, I feel confident however, is not the whole or the most important part of what he means. If it were, if being a General he felt he knew how to fix everything, he would not be proposing to "create a commission of the most capable civilians in our land to re-study the operations of our Department of Defense."

The fact of the matter is that, as the military establishment is now organized, no one in the top civilian posts—the President, the Secretary of Defense, and the three service Secretaries, is in a position to exercise authority in military matters. The reason they cannot exercise authority is not because as individuals they lack specialized military knowledge and military experience. Gen. Marshall, when he was the civilian Secretary of Defense, performed a great service in fixing the overall principle of the policy of our rearmament, but his warmest admirers would admit, I think, that he did not exercise himself, or help the President to exercise, an adequate civil authority.

The real trouble in the system as it is now organized is that the civilians at the top have to get all their military information and all their military advice from the very men over whom, in law and in principle, they are supposed to exercise supreme authority. It is the business of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to advise the Secretary of Defense and the President on what to do about the Navy, the Army, and the Air Force which they themselves command.

This means that everyone concerned is in an impossible position. Can the chief of any service advise the Secretary of Defense to reduce the appropriation for his service in order to increase the appropriation for another service? The unhappy man has to live the rest of his life with his fellow officers. He has to be the advocate of his service, not the objective planner of the national military policy.

As a result "the civilians who should exercise authority in military matters" are almost helpless, even if they are themselves, by training, professional soldiers. They are helpless because there are no men to whom they can turn for independent information and expert advice on what is best for the national defense as a whole—as distinct from what is best for the special and vested interests of each of the three services.

This crucial point is the main theme of the extraordinary address which Dr. Vannevar Bush delivered at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., on Friday evening. No one, in or out of uniform, is better qualified than Dr. Bush to speak about military planning in the Pentagon. He has been working over the substance of this address for a long time, and I venture to say that there has been no more important or illuminating discussion of the problem of how to establish a wise and effective control of our enormous military establishment.

It is difficult in a brief summary to do justice to Dr. Bush's recommendations—not to make them sound simpler than they are and less thoroughly studied than they have been. But the gist of what he recommends is that "the Joint Chiefs of Staff be reorganized as a recommending body. Its sole duty, as a body, should be to advise the Secretary of Defense and to recommend action to be taken by him or by the President. It should not itself exercise command directly or indirectly."

The whole duty of the Joint Chiefs would be to advise the civilian authorities. They would have no duties, no rights and no powers of command over the services themselves.

Although Dr. Bush does not say so, his proposals carry with them the idea that an officer who was appointed to the Joint Chiefs of Staff would probably not go back to a command in his service. He would be rather like a Senator who was appointed to the Supreme Court and expected to be out of politics, in his case, out of service politics, for the rest of his life.

Commie Recruits Become Guerrillas

HONG KONG (U)—An independent press report from South China says the Chinese Communists inadvertently recruited 100 men for the anti-Red guerrillas recently.

A dispatch to the Kung Sheng Daily News said river boats carrying 100 recruits for the Communist armies recently were seized by guerrillas as they headed up the East River to Canton.

The report said the recruits joined the guerrillas.

Catfish Guard Eggs And Young

There is a widespread belief that fish lay their eggs and then forget about them. That idea is true for many kinds of fish, but certain of them follow a different plan. Close study has proved that the eggs of some fish are guarded.

An ancient Greek told facts about a fish family in which the young had excellent care. This man was Aristotle, and he lived 2,400 years ago. His words were written down, but it seems that little trust was placed in his statements about such fish. Perhaps people felt that the account was "just another fish story."

Aristotle told about a fish which he described as the "glanis." He said that it lived in the largest river in Greece, and that the males took good care of both the eggs and the young.

Fish of the type described by Aristotle, or some which are very much like them, have been found and observed in Greece during modern times. They are members of the catfish family, but have only four barbels. Most catfish have six or eight barbels.

We need hardly travel to Greece to observe catfish which take care of their

New Liquid Kills Roaches and Ants

ROACHES and ants are the most difficult household pests to control, and they come just as they are brought into the home at any time. Science has just come forth with a new discovery, a colorless coating that kills cockroaches and ants, and that stays effective for months. It is called Johnston's NO-ROACH.

It's just as simple and easy to use as it looks. You paint the coating on surfaces frequented by roaches and ants, woodwork near the sink, baseboards, garbage pails, window and door sills. When these crawling pests come in contact with this invisible, odorless, stainless coating they slowly become paralyzed, turn over on their backs with legs waving in the air, and die. Then the coating stays effective for months to kill any strays that get into the home and that walk over it.

Effective For Months

Science has seen to it, too, that this product contains no DDT, no sodium fluoride, and no phosphorus. Johnston's NO-ROACH is not a contaminating spray or a messy powder. It is colorless, and may be brushed just where you want it, without having to move all your dishes and pots and pans.

Guard against crawling insects, this modern NO-ROACH way. Prices are 8 oz. for 89¢, pint for $1.69, and a quart for $2.98.

Talent Party Produces Follies Entertainers

Ya wanna make like a chorus girl? Ya wanna learn to do the Charleston?

Well, it ain't easy, bub.

Twelve good Big Spring citizens can prove that. They tried to learn the finer points Tuesday night.

It all happened at the talent party sponsored by the Big Spring City Federation of Womens' Clubs, Inc. at the Settles Hotel Ballroom.

Following the direction of a Russell Nype type character, Calvin Swanson, who often looked like a hoochie-coochie girl from the rear, the group kicked, spun and swayed until they were out of breath.

Swanson, complete with crew cut and a grey flannel suit, has just arrived from New York to direct the Follies of 1952 which will be presented here Oct. 16-17 under the auspices of the Federation.

As the would-be chorus danced to the peppy music of Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser, Swanson stood in front of them and led the way. It was a merry chase.

High heels and inhibitions were tossed by the wayside as the performers tried to keep up with the music, the director and their feet. As the ball started rolling, a barbershop quartet, "The Sand Dunes," composed of Gilbert Cook, Telford Durham, Lt. Bob Baker and Dr. Dwight Jones, sang a group of songs.

They wore grey felt fedoras and fluorescent red, gold, green and chartreuse bow ties and interspersed their music with corny jokes.

Four teen-agers, Judy Douglas, Margy Keaton, Marilyn Constant and Sue Zollinger, attired in black tights and black mesh hose, danced a lap routine, "Sweet Georgia Brown." They were accompanied by Mrs. Bill Bonner.

Jane Burnett, a vocalist that would put Doris Day to shame, sang a medley of songs with all the feeling she could muster. Mrs. Bonner also accompanied her.

Guilford Jones served as master of ceremonies.

Rehearsals for the musical numbers will begin at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at St. Mary's Episcopal parish house. Successive periods will be held Thursday and Monday.

The first readings for the sketches and skits to be used in the show will be held Friday at 7:30 at the parish house.

Historical Museum Attracts More Than 2,700 Since July

The B&PW Club, observing National Business Women's Week, noted the progress of one of its favorite projects, the West Texas Historical Museum in the City Park.

Dr. Ora Johnson, chairman of the Museum committee, reported that 2,705 persons have registered at the Museum since July 4.

New Sunday hours have been arranged to continue through the winter. The Museum is now open on Wednesdays and Fridays from 2 to 6 p. m. and from 1 to 6 p. m. on Sundays.

New locks have been installed on all cases and new glass put in on all cases previously exposed. The cases are being readied for refinishing, and as soon as a new roof can be put on the building, painting of the walls will begin.

Mrs. Henry Derrick, a teacher in the Washington Place school has offered to donate past and present school projects to the Museum for display, and an immediate B&PW project will be the erection of a large tree with mounted birds perched on the limbs. Suggestions and the assistance of the public is invited in carrying out this project.

In recent months the city has repaired plumbing, wiring, and blinds and has paid for the services of the attendant, Mrs. Opal Sides.

The sum of $91.11 has been collected since July 1 through a container placed in the Museum for free-will contributions.

Anyone having a large used air conditioner to donate or sell at a reasonable price is asked to call No. 208.

Acresage Controls May Return By 1955, Rep. Mahon Believes

The possibility of the return of acresage controls by 1955 was foreseen last night by Congressman George Mahon, in his address to the annual convention of the Howard County Farm Bureau, at the first meeting ever held in the new show barn of the Fair Association. Mahon told the 500 persons present that without a worsening of the international situation this country's spending peak will have been passed by that time, and he said that a return of acresage controls may become necessary in the leveling-off process of returning to more normal business conditions. The congressman from Colorado City, himself a Mitchell County farmer and Farm Bureau member, was one of the convention's two guest speakers. The other was Loy D. Harbour, a swine and alfalfa farmer near Iowa Park, who is a district director of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation. The two speakers were introduced by C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma, vice-president of the state organization. Cecil Leatherwood, president of the county bureau, presided and the invocation was pronounced by County Agent Durward Lewter. Musical entertainment in the form of old-fashioned barber shop harmony was presented between the supper and the business meeting by the Sand Tunes Quartet composed of Gilbert Cook, B. H. Baker, Telford Durham and Dr. Dwight Jones.

Both speakers touched directly on politics in the course of their remarks. Mahon told his hearers that both presidential candidates and both political parties offer the farmer about the same thing. It is up to the farmer to determine which of the two he prefers, Mahon commented. He said he thought whoever was elected in November "we will have a pretty good President and a pretty good Congress." Both Mahon and Harbour pointed out to their listeners that the farmers are definitely in the minority in this country since they compose only about 15 per cent of the population with indications being that this percentage will drop to about 12 per cent in a few years. Both speakers urged that the farmers seek to retain the respect of the majority of the people, to whom the agricultural interests have been grossly misrepresented by persons who do not have a clear picture of the farm and ranch situation. Mahon stressed the difficulty faced by the members of Congress from a farming and ranching section in getting acceptable farm legislation enacted. He described the opposition that develops because of the voting strength of the city areas plus the diversity of thought on agricultural subjects from the various points of the country. Harbour emphasized the importance of Congress in the agricultural welfare. "I have more respect for Congress than for any other branch of the government," he said. He warned the county bureau members that it will be dangerous to turn over to the government the obligation of looking after the welfare of agriculture. He said a tremendous effort will be made in the next Congress "to put everything" under price controls, and in this connection he quoted a statement of the Communist leader, Earl Browder, in approving price controls. Both speakers also disagreed with some of the policies of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan. Mahon called the American Farm Bureau Federation a strong influence in Congress and one that had the good will of the national legislators. He suggested that the Bureau restrict its recommendations to Congress to matters directly affecting agriculture. The Federation, he suggested further, is making too many recommendations about too many things, indicating that by a pursuit of this course it could eventually destroy its effectiveness. In addition to the resolution asking price supports at 100 per cent of parity, the county convention adopted four other resolutions prepared by the committee of which Ralph Proctor is chairman. These called for continued support of the state bureau's rural road program; amendments of the Bracero pact; support of the organization's insurance programs, and quarterly informational meetings of the county organization. Eight new directors were elected or re-elected. They were Paul Adams, Ellis Iden, Ralph White, Marion Edwards, Grady Cross, Bob Middleton, L. B. Hodnett and Perry Walker. These directors were among those nominated by the committee of which Leroy Echols is chairman.

GOP Sponsored Workshop Set To Open Today

FORT WORTH, Oct. 1 (AP)—The vice chairman of the Democratic and Republican executive committees in Texas got together today for Eisenhower. And when you get two women together—"well, there's no telling what we women can do," said Mrs. Hal C. Peck, Midland, the Democratic vice chairman. Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Frank T. O'Brien, Amarillo, the Republican vice chairman, announced they would serve as co-chairmen of a state-wide organization of "Womenpower for Eisenhower" to be planned here today. Several hundred women gathered for the day-long clinic. Mrs. O'Brien estimated one-third of them were Democrats. They came from all over the state. Some wore like pins with the name spelled out in rhinestones. A number of others wore gold like earrings. Robert S. Stripling, Midland attorney and former investigator for the House Un-American Activities Committee, was scheduled for a major speech. For most of the women, it will be their first look inside politics. But political celebrities will also be on hand: Miss Bertha Adkins, Washington, executive director of the women's division of the Republican National Committee; Miss

Nan Proctor, Victoria, vice-chairman of Texas Democrats for Eisenhower; and Mrs. Carol Arth, Redlands, Calif., co-chairman of the National Federation of Young Republicans. Other than Stripling, also aide to Senator Richard Nixon during the Alger Hiss case, addresses will be made by Norris J. Nelson, director of visual aids program in the National Eisenhower-Nixon campaign, and Mrs. Frank T. O'Brien, vice-chairman of the Republican Executive Committee of Texas. Another speaker will be James Cromwell, former U. S. Minister to Canada and one-time advisor to South Korean President Syngman Rhee. Delegates were to spend much of their day in special workshops designed—as Republican headquarters here put it—"to give them inspiration, information and enthusiasm and an easy-to-do method of spreading the Eisenhower-Nixon story in their hometowns."

City Tax Rate Remains Same

A city tax levy of $255,368.56 was approved Tuesday by city commissioners who also formally established the tax rate at $1.70. The tax levy is $23,177.97 higher than in 1951 when it totalled $232,290.59. Assessed valuation for 1952 is $15,021,680, compared to $13,658,270 last year. Breakdown on the valuation show $10,578,140 in real estate and $4,443,540 in personal property. The tax rate, approved informally several weeks ago, stands at the same level as for the past 12 or 13 years. Seventy cents per $100 valuation is provided for the interest and sinking fund and $1 goes to the general fund. Estimating collections to April 1, 1953, at 90 per cent of the levy, Tax Collector C. E. (Perry) Johnson figured that $4,636.53 will be available for the interest and sinking fund and $135,195.12 will be collected for the general fund during the remainder of this fiscal year. Estimated total is $229,831.70. Taxes become payable today and payments made in October will receive a three per cent discount. Discounts of two and one per cent will be allowed in November and December, respectively, and net taxes will be paid in January.

East Reich Police Lost 380 Men To West In September

BERLIN, Oct. 1 (AP)—East Germany's Communist People's police lost 380 men—the equivalent of nearly two companies—to the West in September. West Berlin police headquarters announced today that many members of the militarized East Zone force asked for asylum in Allied West Berlin last month. This brought the total number of people's police deserters registered here since Jan. 1 to 1,388.

Reds Display Dead Yank During Fete At Front Lines

WESTERN FRONT, Korea (AP)—A Chinese outpost flanking T-Bone Hill displayed bright pennants and the body of a dead American today, apparently in celebration of Communist China's independence day, Oct. 1. # Tariff Group Hears More On Wool Imports

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Tariff Commission called more woolen textile trade spokesmen today to describe probable effects of a proposed import fee on foreign wools.

The hearing, expected to wind up late today, was called after the Agriculture Department had complained that wool imports have interfered with the price-support program on American-grown wool. A 15¢ cents per pound import fee in addition to the 25¢ cent per pound present tariff was suggested.

New England textile mill operators went before the commission late yesterday, voicing opposition to the fee. They declared it would raise the cost of wool to the American consuming public and lead to still greater use of synthetic fibers in the place of wool.

E. D. Whalen of Boston, telling the commission of the great inroads synthetics have made in the use of wool during recent years, tossed a big piece of suit yardage on the bench for the commissioners to wrinkle and feel.

He and others, including Elmer L. Ward and Arthur Wellman of Boston and Harold J. Walter of Uxbridge, Mass., declared that the position of the proposed import fee would simply raise the cost of wool and thereby hurt American growers by diverting consumers to synthetics.

Ray Willoughby of San Angelo, Tex., a vice president of the National Wool Growers Association, told the commission it was impossible for American producers to compete with foreign growers who have much lower operating costs because of lower wages.

He expressed distaste for a subsidy, but declared it was up to the American people to decide whether they wanted to maintain a domestic wool growing industry as a national security measure.

More Rain Is Needed Over Most Of State

AUSTIN, Oct. 2 (AP)—Typical fall weather last week added Texas harvests but was still too dry for most farm needs.

The United States Department of Agriculture today reported good progress in the harvesting of cotton, sorghums, peanuts and rice but said most parts of the state still needed more rain.

Showers in most southern high plains and southern counties of the low rolling plains temporarily eased the two-year-old drought there.

Early planted wheat in the northwest was up and needed moisture to maintain development.

Range grass, late feed and hay was responding to improved moisture in irrigation water, south central and coastal counties where torrential rains broke the drought two weeks ago.

Early planted vegetable crops in the Laredo, Winter Garden, and Eagle Pass areas continued to make good progress. Harvest of a small acreage of fall-crop cantaloupes in the Laredo section was active and a few early pepper fields were ready to provide light pickings. Planting of hardy type vegetables continued.

The Coastal Bend was still too wet for soil preparation but a light planting of winter vegetables was started about mid-week. Most of the Raymondville area and the western half of the Valley received no rain and was still without sufficient irrigation water.

Rains in some of the low rolling plains and West Texas counties during the week have temporarily eased the critical drought but more moisture will be needed to bring on adequate winter feed, USDA said. Supplemental feeding continued over most of the state with drought emergency hay supplies arriving in a number of counties.

Sack water was reported short in East Texas and some blackland counties.

Dub Oliver Quits C-City Chamber Of Commerce Post

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 1—Dub Oliver, manager of the Chamber of Commerce of Colorado City, submitted his resignation as manager and will join the staff of a Louisiana broadcasting station on Oct. 20th.

He expects to work in New Orleans and Lake Charles until a station is completed at Baton Rouge, and will then go there for a position on the sales staff.

Oliver graduated from Baylor with a degree in radio journalism, came to KVMC in Colorado City in 1951 and took over the Chamber of Commerce management in February of this year. A. L. McSpadden, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said Oliver's resignation was accepted with regret and added that the organization was seeking a replacement.

It's 'Lewis' Day In The Hospital

Two Lewis, who are not related and had never met before, were in the same room at Big Spring Hospital today as a result of separate oil field mishaps.

Roy Lewis, an employee of Delta Engineering Company, suffered an eye injury in an accident last night. George Lewis, of the Rowan Drilling Company, was injured as he climbed down from a derrick. Neither was in a serious condition, hospital officials reported this morning. Details of the accidents were not reported.

Appeals Are Filed In County Court

Corporation Judge W. E. Greenlee filed appeals in three cases in County Court today. Ernest W. Cole and Ruben Roblez appealed decisions and fines made by Judge Greenlee.

Judge Greenlee recently gave Cole a $50 fine on charges of being intoxicated in a public place, and a $98 fine for displaying fire arms in a public place. Cole had pleaded guilty to both charges, but he later appealed.

Roblez received a $200 fine on Sept. 24 for reckless driving. He is out on $400 bond pending appeal trial in County Court. Cole paid $296 bond.

Lovely Weather Over Most Of Texas Areas

October dawned clear and bright for most of Texas Wednesday but fog marred the month's traditional bright blue weather early in the day at Beaumont, Houston and Palacios.

A low overcast hung over San Antonio but was expected to break up as the morning sun got hotter. Temperatures were mild and light, variable winds brushed the state. There was no rain reported.

It was a safe bet for a few days at least that October would be just one more month of the two-year-old Texas drought. Scattered thundershowers west of the Pecos River and near the coast were possible. But if they came they were not expected to be of the drought-breaking variety. Palacios had 0.1 of an inch of rain Tuesday, September's last day, and any rain Wednesday was expected to be similar.

Except for the Hill Country south and west of Austin September was about as dry as the months—24 plus—p-ceding. The area around Fredericksburg, San Saba, Junction, Llano, Boerne and Mason had torrential rains during the month that resulted in floods in such streams as the narrow Pedernales River. But for most of the state, the drought hung on and its seriousness increased.

Temperatures at 4:30 a. m. Wednesday were generally in the upper 60s in Central and East Texas, in the upper 50s in Far West Texas, the lower 50s in the Panhandle-Plains country, and near 70 in South Texas.

But real fall weather was on its way—veterans of Texas weather could tell by that early-morning nip just before the sun came up.

McGRATH

He was supposed to administer. It adds: "His testimony and his record as attorney general indicate that he was content to let the status quo remain without knowing what the status quo was."

In particular, investigators said he made "inappropriate appointments to high office"—specifically, the appointment of A. Devitt Vanech as deputy attorney general. Vanech, investigators said, had made "improper representations to gain admittance to practice before the Tennessee and U. S. Bars."

Vanech was shown by investigators to have failed the District of Columbia Bar examinations three times and the Virginia Bar examination once before being admitted to the Tennessee Bar as a non-resident.

2. He (McGrath) had "little interest in purging the justice department of 'wrongdoers and incompetents'" and gave little aid to Newbold Morris after naming him to direct the ill-fated housecleaning in Washington last spring. McGrath fired Morris just before he himself was forced to resign by President Truman.

3. He failed "completely" to cooperate with Chief committee investigators and "surrounded himself with subordinates of the same view."

Investigators added, however, that "the fairness to Mr. McGrath should be noted the majority of his subordinates were originally placed in top positions by Tom Clark, McGrath's predecessor who now is a Supreme Court justice."

One was Vanech, the report noted. Another was T. Lamar Caudie, fired by President Truman over McGrath's head as chief of the Tax Division last November following tax scandal disclosures.

The report devoted considerable space to the committee's difficulties in obtaining information from the Justice Department prior to the appointment of James P. McGrath as attorney general.

The report said delaying and hampering tactics were employed by McGrath, and subsequently by Acting Atty. Gen. Philip B. Perlman.

Investigators said the interest of department lawyers seemed less in catching wrongdoers than "in seeing how little could be done without bringing on a showdown, and in keeping the work of their department from the scrutiny of any outside eyes insofar as it might be possible."

"Such an attitude on the part of Department of Justice personnel is bound to raise questions as to whether it seems from fear of exposure of corruption or inefficiency within the department," the report said.

Reviewing McGrath's refusal to grant investigators access to department files, the report stated: "Many files were refused for a variety of reasons. Some of these reasons individually might be defensible, but in the aggregate so many reasons for nondisclosure cannot but arouse suspicion that at least some of the reasons were more excuses."

Of Vanech, No. 2 man in the department as deputy attorney general, the report stated: "Officials such as he in high places weaken the entire department and cast undesired reflections on the men and women who serve under them."

STEVENSON

Smith's deputy is Allen Dulles, a prominent Republican and brother of John Foster Dulles, Eisenhower foreign affairs adviser.

The whole episode shows, Stevenson said, that fighting Communist penetration in government is a job, and a never ending one, for our security agencies. He said President Truman had picked the best possible men for the task, regardless of party. And he questioned whether Eisenhower could find better men than Smith, Dulles and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

"Gen. Smith's statement," the Illinois governor said, "makes ludicrous the claim of the Republicans that this is a simple job which can be done easily if it is turned over to them."

So far as Stevenson himself was concerned, the CIA episode indicated the seriousness with which he and his lieutenants regard the Communist issue.

The Democratic nominee isn't one to get out a statement at the drop of a dangling participle. But with the GOP trying to make communism in government one of the big issues of the campaign, he rushed out a statement this time.

Stevenson's meeting with leaders of the volunteers supporting the appointment on the governor's schedule today.

The volunteers had a full day of business, strategy and financial huddles on their program.

Their national publicity director, Porter McKeever, said some "interesting revelations" regarding Republican campaign plans and how they were coming out. These, McKeever said, were to be made by George Ball, Washington, D.C., lawyer and executive director of the volunteers.

Ball was scheduled to address a business session around 2:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, Wilson Wyatt, Stevenson's campaign manager, was billed for a speech at a dinner meeting and the volunteers' appointment with Stevenson was for 9 p.m.

McKeever said that the volunteer movement began in August with the thought of concentrating in 12 or 15 key states. Now he said, it has spread to an extent that only 11 states will not be represented at the rally.

The 11 are North and South Carolina, Oklahoma, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, Arkansas, West Virginia, Vermont, Rhode Island and Montana.

National co-chairman of the volunteers are Hermon Dickhaut Smith and Mrs. Edison Dick, both of Chicago.

School District Tax Statements To Be Mailed

Tax statements on the 1952 roll of the Big Spring Independent School district will be in the mail Saturday.

Rolls were approved at a called meeting of the board Tuesday evening. The current roll stands at $26,283,327 with a levy of $394,259.81 as against $23,875,470 and a levy of $358,141.63 last year.

The number of tax payers was 5,196, a gain of 512 over the 4,678 shown a year ago, said J. O. Haggard, tax assessor-collector. The increase in values was about equally distributed between real and personal properties, he reported.

The division this year is 39 cents to interest and sinking fund and $11.10 for local maintenance, or a division of 26 per cent for the bonds and 74 per cent for operations. Last year 22 per cent of the roll went to the bond debt.

Poll Taxes Can Be Bought Now

Charlie FoFus, Courthouse janitor, was the first man in Howard County to pay his poll taxes for 1953. Mrs. Viola Robinson, deputy tax assessor-collector, said he was waiting when the office opened this morning.

Mrs. Robinson reported that three poll taxes were paid this morning, along with three tax statements for the year. Mrs. Forgas also paid her poll tax (No. 2), and Frank Robinson, a Negro, was number 3.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Williams received two exemptions and paid their tax statements. Forgas and Robinson also paid their taxes.

Approximately 8,200 tax statements were mailed yesterday in Howard County. Taxes will total $32,568,268 this year. Payment in October will bring a 23 per cent reduction.

Father Of Local Man Is Dead In Arkansas

The senior Wilson died suddenly Tuesday at Foreman. The Big Spring man was notified of the death through a police-radio network from Foreman to Big Spring.

Houston Police May Keep Sammy's Dice

AUSTIN, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Supreme Court said today the Houston cops may keep Sammy Habeeb's dice, including 20 pairs, described as "carrier" or "flat tops" that can't help but roll naturals.

The court said these are so-called "six-ace" dice.

Also among the 508 pairs were some that would turn up sevens 90 per cent of the time because of the way they were shaped or designed, the court's opinion by Associate Justice Will Wilson related.

Justice Wilson called them crooked dice and ruled the police could keep them along with Habeeb's straight dice.

Here's what happened:

Habeeb's car was stolen and recovered by the police. They found a leather case holding 508 pairs of dice in the car. The cops told Habeeb he could have his car, but not the dice.

Habeeb contended the dice were a "hobby" of his.

He sued to get them back and the City of Houston argued Habeeb could not use the courts to recover gambling paraphernalia.

The trial court and the Court of Civil Appeals ruled against the city. The city argued that these decisions made a laughing stock of the law.

Justice Wilson and the Supreme Court agreed with the city.

"The record suggests no purpose to which such a leather case contained numerous pairs of matched dice, conveniently arranged for speedy use, might be put other than that of cheating in a game," Justice Wilson wrote.

"It is inconceivable that the plaintiff would go to such elaborate length as to cheat in a game which was not a gambling game."

It might be contended that paraphernalia designed to cheat at craps takes the chance out of the game by making the outcome certain and for that reason is not gambling paraphernalia. To so hold would be to place it on a higher plane in the eyes of the law than a straight or honest gambling device."

TRUMAN

The Senate against Sen. Ecton (R-Mont.), was the man, more than any other, responsible for the damage "he is the man you are going to send to the Senate this year."

Truman said Eisenhower had accepted the view such projects are "socialism," but that he would "like to say to the Republican candidate that the public power in this country is just as much a part of the American system as the public schools or municipal waterworks, or the postoffice or the national forests."

Truman said the Democrats won't let propaganda about "socialism scare us into failing to develop our resources."

He charged that when the appropriation for Hungry Horse was before Congress, "the Montana Power Company set its chief engineer down to Washington to fight against it," telling a Senate committee it wasn't justified, that there was "no market in Montana for power" and that his company could carry all the load.

This engineer, Truman added, "didn't think there ever would be a shortage of power out there."

"How foolish that blind, selfish opposition looks today," Truman remarked. He said a chemical plant at Silver Bow already has been built and a major aluminum plant is to be built at Kallispell.

"The monopolists can't attack public power directly because they know that people like it," he added, "so they attack socialism which the people don't like."

He said the only positive action taken by the Republicans in 30 long years of opposition to public power was to pass a special act of Congress "to change the name of Boulder Dam to Hoover Dam."

He said the heart of the public power struggle today is monopoly opposition to government transmission lines and that Eisenhower has adopted that view.

Democratic candidates aboard Truman's special train expressed delight over the President's campaign in the state and over the response to his appearance.

Truman himself claimed the crowds were bigger than those of 1948.

He told a crowd at Shelby, Mont., to see him while he is "not running for office than were out to see me when I was — I don't know whether that has any significance or not."

At Belton last night, Truman opened up on Eisenhower again as he had been doing all day. At the ground-breaking for the new Tiber Dam he touched off a blast of dynamite shooting the first dirt skyward.

"That's what we are going to do to Eisenhower," he said in a loud that went out over all the loudspeakers.

Action Sought To Free Alaniz

AUSTIN, Oct. 1 (AP)—Quick action will be sought in the Court of Criminal Appeals to free Nago Alaniz, one of two men charged in the slaying of a South Texas political leader's son.

Percy Foreman, Houston attorney for Alaniz, said he will file a motion seeking the immediate action when the court record is complete. The necessary statement of facts still had not been filed with the appeal court yesterday.

Alaniz, Alice lawyer, and Mario Saez, a bartender, are in jail at Abilene, held without bond on charges in connection with the slaying of Jake (Buddy) Floyd Jr., son of attorney Jacob Floyd of Abilene.

Man Is Picked Up From Vacant House

Officers of the sheriff's department last night picked up a man with $42.76 in his pockets in an old house across from Cosden refinery.

The man was bedded down for the night in the vacant house. Deputies A. C. Abernathy and Hoyt Halford and State Highway Patrolman Jack Taylor arrested him after a call informing them of his presence.

Abernathy said this morning that there is reason to believe that the money was stolen in Colorado City. Police in Colorado City are now investigating, he said.

Stray Horses Owner May Have Been Found

Street Superintendent E. V. (Skeet) Forestry hopes he has located the owner of stray horses which have grazed Washington Place lawns for the past two days.

Five horses were rounded up by Forestry's men Monday night. Another stray was found on a lawn at 1605 11th Place last night.

Forestry said he thought he'd be able to contact owner of the animals this afternoon. He'll request that the horses be kept at home.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

One of those sitting in on the World Series in New York today is Jay Haney, who earned the trip by guiding the Midland Indians to the Longhorn League title.

Midland fans put up the money for the trip. Haney was accompanied to the classic by his wife.

Incidentally, one of Haney's hands, Woody Pennington, is a coal miner during the off season. He lives in Arkansas.

WHY NOT GIVE JOHN FAN A BREAK, FOR CHANGE

Some of the colleges are worried over dwindling football attendance and the powers-that-be are wondering what they can do to remedy the problem. Baseball was similarly concerned not so long ago.

The reason is simple. America has not lost interest in athletics. Far from it. But the bite they take out of you at the games is something terrific.

You can go a long way toward the purchase of a Christmas gift with the asking price for a Southwest Conference football game. $3.00. Multiply that a couple or three times and you reach the bottom of the pocket in no time. Then 50 cents for a program. What a lick for a pamphlet that runs the lineup and perhaps half a dozen pictures. Peanuts—and you can count them on your toes—cost 15 cents a bag. They're killing the goose that laid the golden egg.

Pro baseball has done more toward holding the line than football. You still gain admission to Longhorn League games for what you did six years ago. The operators are determined to stem the tide as long as they can, too.

The entertainment dollar is harder to come by these days, what with taxes, the cost of living and all. The outlook for sports will get worse before it gets better, too.

If you plan on attending the Sun Bowl game in El Paso next New Year's Day, the best seat will set you back $6. You can get off easier at the Cotton Bowl game in Dallas.

Don Faurot, the University of Missouri football mentor, says he has a better passer in Tony Scardino, a sophomore, than he had in All-American Paul Christman, who was there a few years back.

Scardino is only a sophomore. He completed 23 passes against a great Oklahoma team last year.

If some one wants to bet you that Casey Stengel has won his fifth pennant in a row, don't take it.

True, Stengel has only been with the New York Yankees four years. Before that, he managed Oakland, where his Oaks copped the duke in 1948.

Some are saying Rocky Marciano, the new Heavyweight Boxing champion, couldn't stay in the same ring with Ed Sanders, the Golden Gloves Heavy.

Sanders still has three years to do in the Navy, so he won't be turning pro for a while.

DIBRELL TO TAKE PART IN CHEVIGNY CEREMONY

A Big Spring man, who played under and then coached with Jack Chevigny will be in Austin this week end for the Notre Dame game and for ceremonies honoring memory of the former University of Texas coach.

He is John L. Dibrell Jr., former Big Spring High coach and now operator of a sporting goods firm. Dibrell played under the colorful Chevigny at St. Edwards and then moved with him over to the University campus as end coach.

Chevigny engineered the defeat of Notre Dame in South Bend, Ind. the fall of 1934 by a score of 7-6, marking the first time in 37 years the Irish had lost an opening game.

He ran into leaner years later on and was replaced by D. X. Bible in 1937. Chevigny was killed in action with the U. S. Marines during World War II.

Dibrell remembers Chevigny as a personable and exceptionally capable person.

He worked hard at fundamentals, he recalled. "Jack had been good as a player, and he was young and able to demonstrate to his players. He was a good coach."

As an evidence of this, Dibrell cites the Notre Dame game in 1934, recalling that "pictures showed a hole several feet wide when Bohn Hilliard went over for that touchdown." With the goal kicked, Texas held on, but actually they also had the Irish holding on, too.

When Texas managed one touchdown one season by recovering a fumble over the goal line, sports-writers complimented the Steers on their alertness and good fortune.

When it happened again, some began to speculate that more than coincidence was involved. Finally, they were convinced, as the season wore on, that the "Chev" had a fumble play all rigged when the Longhorns were unable to punch over the goal line.

"Chevigny, to my knowledge had no fumble play," said Dibrell. "But Jack was too shrewd a judge of good copy to deny the rumor. He just looked wise and reaped a harvest of publicity."

It was Chevigny who banged over a crucial touchdown for Notre Dame in his playing days and said "here's one for the Gypster" (George Gyp, great Irish gragger who died in his college days and asked that some day someone "make one for the Gypster").

Although the alumni soured on Chevigny after three seasons, the third of which was noticeably lean, players were intensely loyal to Chevigny.

Young and unfettered, even by marriage, Chevigny took things in stride as they came. When his coaching head went on the block, the "Chev" departed in the best of spirits, leaving lots of admirers behind, among them his young end coach.

Thus, the dedication of Saturday's game to Chevigny will mean much to Dibrell personally who can still see vividly the priests on the Notre Dame faculty making their way to the dressing room 18 years ago to clap the happy young extrovert on the back and say if anyone had to beat the Irish they were happy it was the "Chev."

Shreveport Sports Go One Up In Series With Chicks

SHREVEPORT, Oct. 1 (P)—The Memphis Chicks try to even Dixie Series play here tonight at two games each with Tom Hurd on the mound against Shreveport's Bud Lively.

The Sports of the Texas League came from behind last night to edge the Southern Association Chicks, 2-1, after Memphis had taken a 1-run lead in the fifth inning.

Manager Mickey Livingston of the Sports evened the count in the seventh with a long solo homer and the clincher came in the eighth on Joe Koppe's third single and a double by Chico Garcia.

Garcia's game-winning two-bagger was his first hit of the series. Despite nine Chick bingles, Hugh Sooter of the Sports deserved a shutout with his mound performance. The Memphis run came on Al Kozar's single, an infield out and Shortstop Koppe's wild throw on Pitcher Jim Suchecki's slow roller.

Each pitcher allowed nine hits, walked one batter and struck out

Buffaloes Host Crosbyton Club

STANTON — The Stanton Buffaloes after breaking even in two road games, return to their home field Friday night, meeting Crosbyton in an 8 p.m. engagement.

Little is known of the Crosbyton team but Coach Charles Read of the Bison is expecting a tough game. Crosbyton lost to Hale Center last week end, 21-13.

The Buffs, an up-and-coming team, opened the 1952 season with an impressive 35-9 win over the Big Spring reserves, then defeated Grandfalls. Coahoma upended the Stanton lads last week, however, 14-0.

The Buffs will be idle next week, then meet the Midland Bees before opening their conference campaign against Seagraves on Oct. 24.

$25,000 Party Is Due For Johnny Ray

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Marion Davies, once movieland's most fabulous hostess, will toss a $25,000 party tomorrow night for Johnny Ray, a singer she must have heard but never has met.
The soiree gives every indication of being the biggest social affair in Hollywood in years. The acceptance list, numbering 500 already—and growing—reads like pages from the movie almanac.
Miss Davies has talked with Ray on the phone and she knows his bride, the former Marilyn Morrison. Mrs. Ray is the daughter of Charlie Morrison, owner of the Mocambo. But what brings Ray to town, ironically, is an engagement at Ciro's, the Mocambo's rival for Sunset Strip night life trade.
Ciro's signed Ray for a crying engagement at the first inkling of Johnny's romance with Morrison's daughter.
Capt. Horace Brown, Miss Davies' seafaring husband, will be at her side receiving guests in her spacious Beverly Hills home. Some of them will be Joan Crawford, Gary Cooper, Hoagy Carmichael, Ethel Merman, Debbie Reynolds, Jack Benny, Spike Jones, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Clifton Webb, Conrad Hilton, Van Johnson, Edward G. Robinson, Bill Granger, Bill Powell, Charles Farrell, Jerry Lewis, Esther Williams, Lana Turner, Fernando Lamas and Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll, better known as Amos 'n' Andy.

Huge tents will be erected on the grounds. Three rooms within the mansion are being redecorated to resemble three New York night spots—the Stork Club, 21 and El Morocco. There will be three bands and a host of butlers to serve. There will be a half dozen bars.

It will be something like the parties Marion used to give in her king-sized beach front cottage at Santa Monica.

An aide to the former movie queen estimates the cost of this affair at $25,000—"and that's conservative," he added.

Wonder Drugs Won't Work On All Diseases We Have

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Editor
WASHINGTON (AP)—Doctors should be wary of appraising the powers of the wonder-drugs in the way grandma measured the success of onion poultices, a Washington physician says.
Declaring that medical practitioners are all too prone to credit a wonder-drug like penicillin with the cure when a patient treated with such a drug for a poorly defined ailment—especially of the nose and throat—gets well, Dr. John A. Washington told the annual Scientific Assembly of the District of Columbia Medical Society late yesterday.
"Like grandmothers with onion poultices we credit our success to the medicine in use at the time the temperature drops," he said.
The George Washington University pediatrician said that while the antibiotic wonder-drugs are valuable foes of certain specific infections, there are others against which the drugs have no power at all—and that some of these ailments are subject to spontaneous recovery.

He made the remarks in cautioning doctors against "unnecessary" use of the antibiotics lest they:
(1) Needlessly expose a patient to the risk of some kind of a reaction from the drug; (2) subject a family to unnecessary expense for the drugs; (3) cause mothers to waken needlessly at all hours of the night to give the drug to a sick child; and (4) build up fears in a child of a "needle-wielding doctor."
