

WTCC SPEAKERS OPPOSE ADDED TAXES ON OIL

Britons' Income Tax Hiked To 27 1-2 Pct. To Finance Huge Rearmament Program

LONDON, April 26 (AP)—The British government jolted the nation today by boosting the income tax from 25 per cent to 27 1-2 per cent to help pay the costs of the staggering rearmament program.

The chancellor also announced an increase in the duties on tea and oil. The higher tax on tea will reach into the pocketbook of virtually every family in the land, rich or poor.

The budget included 253,250,000 pounds ($1,366,250,000) for armaments expenditures, but this did not include 90,000,000 pounds ($450,000,000) to be borrowed to meet additional costs of the defense program.

In the United Kingdom every one who earns 150 pounds ($750) or more a year pays income tax. But the tax will not be increased this year for single persons making up to 200 pounds ($1,000) or for married men with one child earning up to 400 pounds ($2,000).

He declined to disclose the amount of stocks on hand or exactly how long it was estimated they would last.

Industry Pays Big Share Of State Govt. Unfair Levies Hit; LaGuardia On Afternoon Program

WICHITA FALLS, April 27 (AP)—Strenuous opposition to additional taxes on the petroleum industry was voiced by speakers at the annual convention of the West Texas chamber of commerce here today.

No Additional Burden H. E. Fell of Ardmore, Okla., executive vice president of the International Petroleum association, told a group conference technical advances had made it possible to give consumers good products at low prices despite excessive taxation but the process could not be kept up forever.

H. H. Wilkerson Test West Of City Has Free Oil Showing Topped At 3,225 Feet, Structurally High; Shut Down For Orders

Free oil in the hole of the Texas Co. No. 1 H. H. Wilkerson, Tuesday focused oil interest in this section on the wildest test eight miles west of Big Spring.

Top of the show was picked at 3,225 feet and the test was shut down for orders at 3,230 feet. According to reports, it was running about a gallon of free oil on every barrel return. Top of the section was said to be approximately 12 feet higher than in the Marland No. 1 Doch-Guitar which had shown before abandoning.

Heavy Damage From S'East Texas Flood

Guadalupe River Due To Reach 30-Foot Stage Wednesday

VICTORIA, April 26 (AP)—Swollen tributaries of the raging Guadalupe river today fed the river from a dozen sources as the river at Gonzales continued rising half a foot an hour, heading for a 30-foot stage expected sometime tomorrow.

Heavy rains in the Yoakum, Cuero and San Marcos areas put the river out of its banks in the lowlands yesterday, damaging crops and causing slight livestock loss.

The river here was falling after inundating lowlands on the outskirts of town. Observers said the water pouring into the Guadalupe from the terrain in this area would move into the Gulf of Mexico before the Gonzales rise began to affect the lower stages in the Victoria-Cuero area.

Crops Lost Rich farm lands in the river bottoms were flooded and farmers expected newly planted crops, damaged at Easter by a heavy frost, would be almost a total loss.

At Hochheim, a small town eight miles from Yoakum where 12 inches of rain fell Sunday, Peach creek was rising slowly and emptying into the Guadalupe. The river there stood at 26 feet and needed to rise several more feet before serious damage would occur.

Observers here said there apparently was no danger of a serious flood along the Guadalupe unless more heavy rains fell. It was still cloudy, but there was little precipitation. They said a 30-foot stage at Gonzales would cause very little damage except to lowland farms. The river had reached 28 1-2 feet today.

The San Bernard river between Wharton and Rosenberg and its tributary, the West Bernard river, were flowing over their banks in some spots but ranchers hustled their cattle to high ground before the floods came.

HOPKINS ACCUSED OF PROPAGANDA FOR SPENDING PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—Representative Taber (R-NY) accused Harry L. Hopkins today of inspiring "chain letter propaganda" in favor of President Roosevelt's pump priming program.

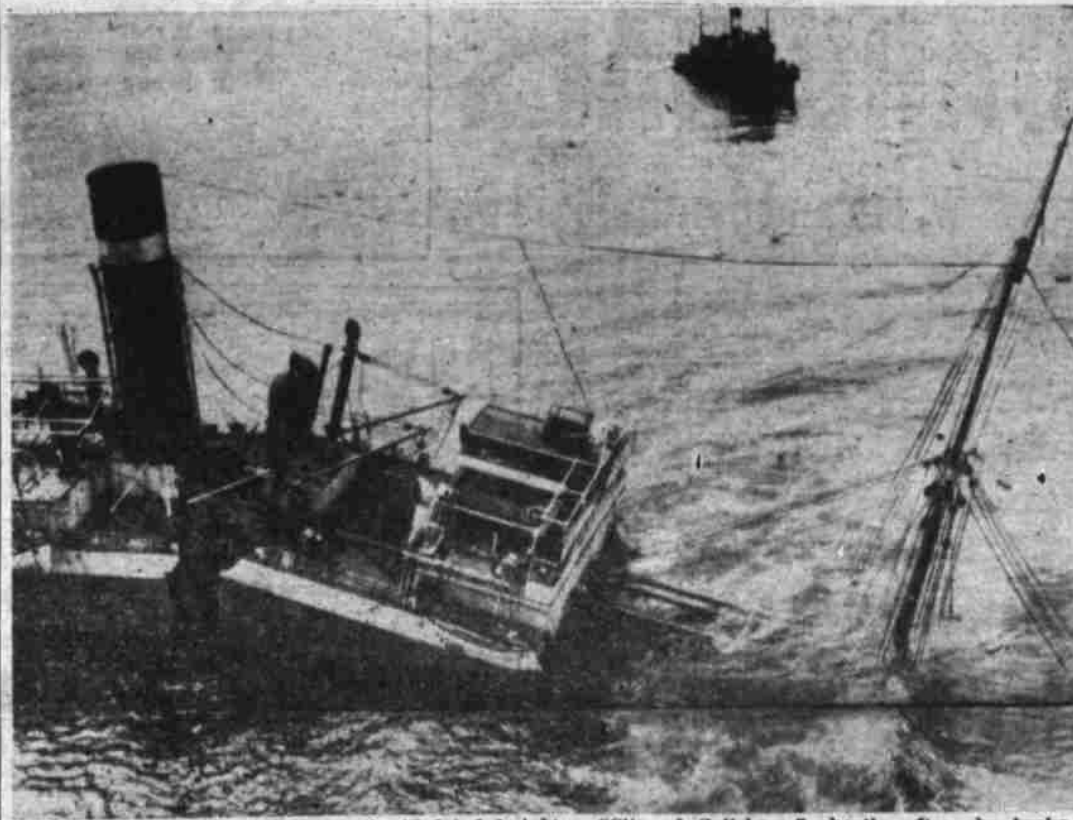

Taber's statement to reporters came while house members had before them an anonymous letter to President Roosevelt telling of "new propaganda about to be launched against your recovery program."

A petition form was attached to the letter which the writer said originated in a large corporation in Detroit.

NEW YORK, April 26, (AP)—Stockholders of the Texas Corp. at their annual meeting today unanimously passed a resolution authorizing officers of the company to embark upon a newspaper advertising campaign "to tell the facts" about business problems in relation to taxation.

ANIMALS AND CREW SAVED AS FREIGHTER BREAKS

This graphic airview shows the ill fated freighter, "City of Salisbury," shortly after she broke apart and her bow sank in Boston harbor. The crew and a cargo of wild animals were safely rescued from the 415-foot vessel when she first went aground on a ledge during a heavy fog.

Philadelphian New AP Head

Robert McLean Named President To Succeed Noyes

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Robert McLean, president of the Philadelphia Bulletin, today was elected president of the Associated Press.

He succeeds Frank B. Noyes, president of the Washington Star, who retired yesterday after serving in that office for 38 years.

The board of directors elected W. H. Cowles of the Spokane Spokesman-Review first vice president, and Paul Patterson of the Baltimore Sun second vice president.

The other officers, including the executive board, were re-elected.

McLean became a member of the Bulletin staff in 1913, after he was graduated from Princeton university with a bachelor of literature degree.

He worked in the news, circulation and advertising department of the paper to become familiar with the entire operation of the paper.

McLean was away from the paper in 1916 when he served with the United States army on the Mexican border, and again during the World war. During the war he rose from a second lieutenant to major of artillery, being attached to the 311th field artillery of the 79th division.

Upon the death of his father, the late William L. McLean, in 1931, he became president of the Bulletin. He has served as a director of the Associated Press since 1924.

For the past year he has been first vice president of the Associated Press.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM SHARKS Agree On Tax Bill Terms

KINGSTON, Jamaica, April 26 (AP)—Three members of the crew of a twin-engine Pan-American flying boat had a narrow escape from sharks, it was disclosed today, when the craft was forced down at sea yesterday 30 miles from Jamaica.

Twelve passengers and one member of the crew were taken off the stricken plane by the passing steamer Cavina, but the commander and two others remained with their craft. It began to sink and the three hurriedly launched a collapsible boat.

As they were getting into it two sharks attacked, but missed the men and then began fighting each other. The collapsible boat floated and the men had to take to a rubber raft before they were picked up by the tug Killerig.

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—A joint conference committee completed work today on a compromise draft of conflicting senate and house tax revision bills. With differences between the two bills composed, Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the senate finance committee said the compromise measure "is the most forward step in years toward helping employment by private initiative through a fiscal policy of the federal government."

The committee earlier had accepted a modified form of the undistributed profits tax, approved by President Roosevelt and condemned by business, and had adopted principles of capital gains taxation which were approved in some business circles.

The group voted to accept house approved provisions increasing the liquor gallonage tax from $2 to $2.25. It rejected a proposal by Senator Borah (R-Idaho) to make future issues of government securities taxable.

Mr. Roosevelt asked tax exemptions be removed from both federal and state securities and salaries. Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the democratic leader, said that whether the senate would approve the president's recommendations was "in the realm of doubt."

Legislators, while generally favoring the president's objectives in withdrawing exemptions from government securities and salaries, disagreed over the question of whether they could be effected by mere legislation or whether a constitutional amendment would be necessary.

Beaumont was unanimously selected as the site for the 1939 convention after Galveston withdrew its invitation. Tom Walker of Beaumont extended the invitation for the Southeast Texas city.

The convention moved swiftly toward its closing business, and elected a big batch of vice presidents. Hubert M. Harrison of Longview was re-elected vice president and general manager and C. A. Loftis of Longview was named treasurer.

F. D. Perkins of McKinney was elected first vice president. Other vice presidents in numerical order were: Henry Humphrey of Texarkana; Noble Davis of Henderson, A. M. Goldstein of Waco, J. E. Wheat of Woodville, John D. Rogers of Navasota.

A big parade, climaxing feature of the session, and featuring decorated floats, and drawing thousands of visitors from 70 counties, was scheduled to get under way at 2:30 p. m.

Marching bands will provide music. Floats will feature industrial products of East Texas cities. Yesterday delegates studied tax problems and heard lectures trace the industrial possibilities of the East Texas section.

Local Airmail Volume Runs Very Light

City Urged To Boost Mailing During 3-Day Check

Hopes for a great showing on airmail postage on points along the proposed Amarillo-San Antonio airline were absorbing some stiff body blows Tuesday afternoon, first day of a three day survey.

A check at the post office showed only 18 letters for delivery along the proposed route had been mailed at 2:30 p. m., less than two hours before the first plane during the afternoon. Of this number, two firms were reported to have mailed all but four letters.

During the morning the chamber of commerce contacted all business houses, urging them to use airmail Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday to points on the suggested line.

These towns are Amarillo, Plainview, Lubbock, San Angelo and San Antonio.

Results of a survey from the towns during the three days, both as to number of pieces and weight, may have an important bearing on the fight for the line.

Postmaster Nat Shick, commenting on the small number of pieces sent out, said that "if people think that a showing of this sort will get the job done, they are sadly mistaken. Somebody needs to get some postage for delivery along the line the next three days."

NEW CANDIDATE TO OPPOSE KLEBERG

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 26 (AP)—Gabe Garrett, former Corpus Christi newspaper publisher and nephew of the late Speaker Finis J. Garrett of the U. S. house of representatives, today announced he will be a candidate for congress from the district now represented by Richard M. Kleberg.

His announcement increases the number of candidates to three. Kleberg announced for re-election several weeks ago, followed shortly by James Marion Bird, also of Corpus Christi, who has the support of the Townsend old age assistance group.

Representatives In Wichita; Reagan Re-elected

Big Spring representatives in Wichita Falls carried on their campaign to win the next meeting of the West Texas chamber of commerce, although much of the good work was conceded to be a foundation for a bid for 1940.

Abilene reportedly had the inside track for the next convention with enough votes pledged to win the regional meeting in 1939. J. H. Greene, chamber manager, however, was pushing the Big Spring cause.

E. Reagan, one of the men who helped to organize the West Texas chamber of commerce, was again made director of district No. 6 and G. C. Dunham were named city directors for Big Spring by the regional directors.

The West Texans, trio composed of Ruby Bell, Mrs. Willard Read and Mrs. R. E. Blount, had engagements for as many spots as possibly could be filled.

Charlene Fallon, "Miss Big Spring," was representing the city in the oil festival revue, regional extravaganza. Gerald Anderson was Big Spring's entrant in the "My Home Town" speaking contest.

LOUIS SCHMELING TITLE BOUL SET FOR JUNE 22

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Joe Louis will defend his heavyweight championship against Max Schmeling in the Yankee stadium Wednesday night, June 22. Promoter Mike Jacobs announced today.

Jacobs' announcement merely confirmed the well-rounded impression that the match would be held in New York. Chicago, Detroit and Philadelphia all had been mentioned as possible sites.

YOUTH RESEMBLING PIERSON TAKEN AT BROWNFIELD

BROWNFIELD, April 26 (AP)—A youth answering the general description of Howard Pierson, slayer of his parents, Judge and Mrs. William Pierson, was jailed here today while officers investigated his identity.

Pierson escaped several days ago from the state hospital at Austin and has been the object of a wide search.

The youth entered a hardware store at 7 a. m. and asked a salesman for razor blades. The salesman said he thought the young man resembled Pierson, and reported to officers. The youth was picked up in a recreation hall a few hours later.

HUNDREDS AT Church Meet

Annual Council Of Assemblies Of God Underway Here

There were in addition many visitors who had not registered. The registration list included ordained and licensed ministers, church delegates and visitors, delegates and visitors to the Christ's Ambassadors, and delegates and visitors to the Women's Missionary Council.

The convention will continue through Thursday.

Following an opening song service led by Earl Vanzant and devotional conducted by M. E. Stuehfield of Midland, visitors were welcomed by Rev. Homer Sheats, local pastor, as the sessions got underway at the municipal auditorium. A musical program was broadcast.

COLEMAN, April 26 (AP)—An eight months old baby was killed and four women injured severely this morning when their automobile overturned near Silver Valley ten miles northwest of Coleman.

The baby's mother, Mrs. J. F. Stevens, of Trent, was reported suffering from a broken hip. Other injured were Opa Freeman, and Mrs. C. C. McRee, both of Trent and Mrs. H. P. Williams of Garber, Okla.

The party was enroute from Trent to Comanche to attend a Woodman Circle convention. A tire blowout was given as cause of the accident.

CONCERN--NOT ELATION--OVER FINDING OF OIL IN WATER WELL

After years of exploration to find an oil well in the city's back yard, concern and not excitement resulted when a T. & P. water well near the city park started pumping oil this week.

The well on the eastern edge of a sump from which the city's original water supply is pumped, Monday recovered about two barrels of sweet crude from its shaft. City wells were not affected, neither were two other wells belonging to the T. & P.

Tests on the crude showed that it came from the Yates pool. E. J. McDaniel, superintendent of the city waterworks, believed that the oil might have been some of that trapped in shale formations after an adjacent pipe line developed a leak four years ago.

At least he and water works employees were not disappointed with a new "oil pool," but with what the district petroleum might be to one portion, at the municipal water supply if not trapped and recovered. Tuesday the slightest trace of oil had been found in any of the other wells in that area.

TRANATHAM AND FROSCHAUER SET FOR OPENER HERE

Game Returns Here After Nine Years

Battle Begins At 2:30 P. M. Wednesday; Stores To Close

The death knell of a nine year famine will be sounded Wednesday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, when out at the brand new baseball ballpark at West Fifth and San Antonio streets the Big Spring Barons and the Midland Cardinals, fighting for the places in the West Texas-New Mexico league sun, ring up the curtain on the 1938 season.

Players of the old West Texas league put away their bats and bats for the last time in 1929, the year that the Cowboys, as the team was known at that time, finished in a deadlock for last position with Abilene. Now, getting the jump on Abilene and Coleman, Ballinger, Hamlin and other teams of that old circuit, the local crew is scheduled to begin anew.

Big Spring's franchise holder this year is Jack Hutchison, formerly of Monahans; its manager Charles Barnabe, who led as illustrious a baseball career as could be found in modern annals.

Together they have brought a team to Big Spring contrasting strangely to that colorful crew of '29 but nevertheless an outfit that is very capable of representing Big Spring. Whereas in the Cowboys, we were advanced in years as ball players go, most of them with several seasons' baseball experience, the majority of the present crew are "freshmen," seeing their first season of organized baseball.

Is Satisfied

The two weeks training period has apparently left Barnabe well satisfied. His crew won its only practice game last Saturday against strong opposition and, all in all, the entire lineup is shaping up better than expected.

Pitching chores for the opening game will probably be handled either by Clarence Trantham, who has been kept out of all practice games; or Johnny Soden, formerly of Yakima, Wash.

The rest of the lineup is practically set, Barnabe said, after the team's short drill today. Allen Berndt, one of Jess Orndorff's pupils, is slated to be on the receiving end of Trantham's or Soden's twirlings. Harry Siebert, NBS freshman, will cover first, Bobby Decker second, Pete Joiner short, Hank Henderson third, Joe Saportito left field, Douglas Harkey center, and George Quigley right.

If Trantham starts the Wednesday game, Soden will be used in the second game with Frankie Jacot slated to open up in Midland Friday.

Monahans' carryovers on the team are Decker, who was switched from third to second this season; Trantham; Marvin Keller, pitcher; Jacot; Saportito and Harkey. Keller's arm is a question mark but he is expected to be ready within a few days.

Fincher Withers, manager of the visitors, indicated that he would open the game with Hank Froeschauer, a righthander, on the mound. Every man on Tat's squad is a rookie, most of whom were signed at the National baseball school in Los Angeles, Calif.

Probable lineup with batting order: Midland—

- Buzz Brown M
George Zemek SS
Jim Morris LF
Jake Suytar LF
Chas. Ringer RF
A. Doodoosioria 2B

Hank Froeschauer P

Virtually all the merchants of the city are cooperating and will close the doors of their business houses at 2 p. m. allowing their employees plenty of time to get to the game. A parade with the high school band taking the lead will take place immediately before the park initiation.

Devils Defeat West Siders

Ben Daniels' Devils soundly trounced the strong West Siders in practice softball game on the Mundy diamond, winning 13-2. Not until the eighth frame were the Westerners able to cross the plate and that was after the Devils' ace finger, L. D. Cunningham, had left the mound.

Cunningham, limiting the opposition to two hits what time he was on the mound, aided his own cause along with a home run in the seventh inning.

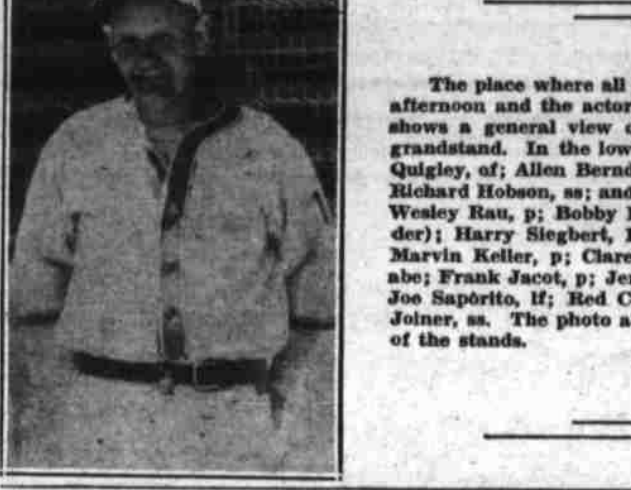

The Devils managed five runs in the second frame, came up with two in the fifth, two in the sixth, another pair in the seventh and the final couple in the eighth. Score by innings: West Side 000 000 020 - 2 3 1 Devils 050 022 223 -13 10 1

Pat Murphy's Squad Of 46 Boys Includes 13 Seniors - To Be Balance Can Play 2 Years Or More

Longhorns To Play Second Intra-squad Game Friday

Mentor Pat Murphy of the local high school would have no fears if the football season was to begin this weekend. He could put a team averaging 170 pounds on the field today which isn't small for high school by any means.

The squad of 50-odd boys which greeted him the first day of spring training eight weeks ago has dwindled to 46, most of whom saw action in the spring intra-squad opener last week. That number includes 13 players who will be eligible for the last time next fall, 14 who have two seasons play, 15 who can play for three years, and four freshmen.

The forward wall, most of whom are squadmen from last year's team, will average around 170 pounds while the secondary will come in at about 162.

Two Vets Out

Missing from the spring drills are two vets, Ross Callahan and Chuck Smith, guard and end, respectively, who are being counted upon to carry a large part of the team's burdens next fall. Callahan may be moved into the backfield if Bill Gartman and Winsett Nance come through. Nance showed to advantage last year and, although only a freshman now, he is being seriously considered for a starting berth.

Others who have been starring in spring workouts are Chuck Jones, contender for all district honors who was ineligible last season, Harold Hall, Howard Hart, Clyde Smith and Alton Bostick.

Bostick and Jones are expected to combine with Soph D. R. Gartman and Junior Lefty Bethell in giving the Longhorns a formidable secondary.

Players and their classifications are: Seniors—A. Bostick, qb; Boswell, g; Bugb, e; Callahan, g; Dearing, t; H. Hall, e; U. Hall, e; Hart, c; Jones, b; Clyde Smith, t; Wright, b; and Chuck Smith, e. Juniors—Anderson, b; Battle, g; Bethell, b; Davidson, b; Fletcher, g; Coffee, e; Gilmour, b; Martin, g; McDaniel, t; Mix, b; Prager, t; Frye, t; Savage, e; and R. Smith, g. Sophomores—B. Local Boxers Work Out For Abilene Trip

Quintet Due To Go Up Against Best Of That City Friday Night

Four local amateur boxers who have been in training for the past two weeks, to be joined by a fifth this week, will polish off their respective attacks for three days and then leave Friday afternoon for an invasion of the simon-pure circles of Abilene.

The quartet who have been training off and on since the Golden Gloves tournament here in early February are Ellis Read, flashy middleweight; Johnny Owens, feather; Ynez Yanez, fly; and Alton Bostick, welter. Red Womack, the fifth, has had little time to work with the gloves due to interference with high school athletics but all that has been put aside now and the young man will spend as much time as possible practicing his punches for the April 29 go.

Read is especially anxious to meet Haskell's Lon McMillan in the Abilene ring. McMillan is the state Golden Gloves title holder, having defeated Red's conqueror, Matt Martinez, in the finals at Ft. Worth but the local youngster has been building his attack and studying the defense that should stand up under two fisted assaults of the rugged champ.

Owens' opponent will probably be Kenneth Terry but opponents for the other boys have not been named.

Howard Nag, War Admiral Both At Belmont

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—The Biscuit and Popeye the Sailor are both on hand and before you know it their hooves will be beating out the pattern for the race of the century.

The Biscuit is Seabiscuit, Charles S. Howard's handicapped king, who races Popeye the Sailor, War Admiral to you, for $100,000 at Belmont Park, Decoration Day. Seabiscuit joined the Admiral at Belmont yesterday and started limbering up today. He will not have any speed trials until Jockey Jack (Red) Pollard arrives.

Seabiscuit stepped from his car looking surprisingly fresh after the 3,000 mile journey from the coast. Trainer Tom Smith, however, says this is nothing usual.

"He is a grand traveler," Smith commented, "nothing bothers him and the beauty of it is he never suffers any ill effects from a trip such as this one."

Smith has no plans for Seabiscuit beyond getting him limbered up in a day or two.

Local Boxers Work Out For Abilene Trip

Quintet Due To Go Up Against Best Of That City Friday Night

Four local amateur boxers who have been in training for the past two weeks, to be joined by a fifth this week, will polish off their respective attacks for three days and then leave Friday afternoon for an invasion of the simon-pure circles of Abilene.

The quartet who have been training off and on since the Golden Gloves tournament here in early February are Ellis Read, flashy middleweight; Johnny Owens, feather; Ynez Yanez, fly; and Alton Bostick, welter. Red Womack, the fifth, has had little time to work with the gloves due to interference with high school athletics but all that has been put aside now and the young man will spend as much time as possible practicing his punches for the April 29 go.

Read is especially anxious to meet Haskell's Lon McMillan in the Abilene ring. McMillan is the state Golden Gloves title holder, having defeated Red's conqueror, Matt Martinez, in the finals at Ft. Worth but the local youngster has been building his attack and studying the defense that should stand up under two fisted assaults of the rugged champ.

Owens' opponent will probably be Kenneth Terry but opponents for the other boys have not been named.

Howard Nag, War Admiral Both At Belmont

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—The Biscuit and Popeye the Sailor are both on hand and before you know it their hooves will be beating out the pattern for the race of the century.

The Biscuit is Seabiscuit, Charles S. Howard's handicapped king, who races Popeye the Sailor, War Admiral to you, for $100,000 at Belmont Park, Decoration Day. Seabiscuit joined the Admiral at Belmont yesterday and started limbering up today. He will not have any speed trials until Jockey Jack (Red) Pollard arrives.

Seabiscuit stepped from his car looking surprisingly fresh after the 3,000 mile journey from the coast. Trainer Tom Smith, however, says this is nothing usual.

"He is a grand traveler," Smith commented, "nothing bothers him and the beauty of it is he never suffers any ill effects from a trip such as this one."

Smith has no plans for Seabiscuit beyond getting him limbered up in a day or two.

Drops Decision
NEW YORK, April 26 (AP) — Write this into Lou Ambers' record: "Knocked out by Lou Ambers (1)."

The lightweight champion was working out in Stillman's gym yesterday. He took a terrific swing at a punching bag, knocked loose the upper fastening and the heavy chain which held it fell on Lou's head, putting him down for the count. He suffered two small scalp wounds.

LOSES FIRST START
JERSEY CITY, April 26 (AP) — New York Giants officials are still hopeful of developing Tom Baker into a major league pitcher despite a defeat yesterday in his first start with Jersey City. Giant International league farm. Errors played a prominent part in the young Texan's 5-4 loss to Buffalo.

Would Close For Baseball

Petitions Seek Business Halt For First Game

Petitions were being circulated among the merchants Tuesday morning for a three-hour cessation of business Wednesday afternoon in honor of the opening of the West Texas-New Mexico baseball league here.

Many were reported to have signed Tuesday morning to close between the hours of 2 p. m. and 5 p. m. Wednesday when the Big Spring entry in the league will make its official debut.

Plans were being shaped for parade starting at 2 p. m. Wednesday through the downtown section. The high school band was to furnish music at the game, where a special section was to be reserved for it in the new park at West Fifth and San Antonio streets. The parade was to start at the Settles and last for 20 minutes.

The league, of which Big Spring is now a member, is rated as Class D. Leagues of this type are the cradle of organized baseball, where virtually every major league player gets his first professional training and experience. With very few exceptions, all players at the top of the baseball heap come out of Class D ball. Several of the players in the old West Texas loop, of which Big Spring was a member, are now in Class A, or the majors.

Jas. T. Brooks Named President Of Rotary Club

Jas. T. Brooks, pioneer Big Spring attorney, Tuesday was elected president of the Big Spring Rotary club. Named unanimously, he will assume office on July 1, a successor to Tom W. Ashley.

E. V. Spence was named vice president of the club and Ira Driver treasurer. Thos. E. Pierce was re-elected secretary. Named to the board of directors were Ashley, Ira L. Thurman, Walton Morrison, Will S. Crook and Edmund Nottelstein.

The election was chief item of business at the organization's luncheon session. Moving picture films dealing with traffic safety were shown to club members by representatives of the American Legion.

Farmers' Group To Meet Saturday

Walter Robinson, president of the Howard County Agricultural association, announced Tuesday that a meeting of the association was being called for Saturday at 2 p. m. in the district court room.

The association is to undergo re-organization, he said, and officers will be elected.

Robinson has requested the state association to send out a speaker for the occasion, but Tuesday had not had any confirmation on his request.

Howard county's association was organized here last May. Meeting of it Saturday will not be restricted to members. All farmers and others interested in farming problems are urged to attend, said Robinson.

Class Luncheon

The Ruth class of the First Baptist church will give a luncheon affair at the church Thursday, from 12 to 1, it has been announced. All members are invited to attend.

Insurgents Advance On Coastal Front

HENDAYE, France (At The Spanish Frontier)—April 26 (AP)—The insurgents reported a general advance today all along the coastal beltfront from Albocacer to Alcala De Chivert after "pulverizing" government defenses with artillery fire and aviation bombardment.

Dispatches said the insurgent offensive pushed toward Castellon De La Plana, important Mediterranean seaport 25 miles to the south, despite government counter attacks yesterday. Although exact details of the gains were not given, insurgent officers predicted "continued success."

The government, however, declared its counter attacks had broken the insurgent lines in the center of the Albocacer-Alcala De Chivert line and that insurgent troops had been driven back in disorder.

TEMPERANCE UNION MEETS WEDNESDAY

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will hold its meeting at 3 p. m. Wednesday in the E. 4th Baptist church, it was announced. Mrs. S. E. Earley, chairman of the flower mission, will be in charge of the program. Mrs. Anell Lynn is to be the principal speaker.

LABOR MEETING

A meeting of the Central Labor union has been called for Wednesday at 8 o'clock, in room 3 of the Settles hotel mezzanine. All delegates are urged to attend.

over KBST and the morning meeting was climaxed with a sermon by the district superintendent, Elder A. C. Bates.

Rev. E. H. Caudle of Las Cruces was to speak this afternoon and a business session was scheduled later. Tonight's session will be featured by an address by J. J. Grubbs of Hereford, secretary-treasurer of the district organization.

Wednesday's session will be opened at 8 a. m. with a ministers' meeting with Rev. Doyle Davis of Fort Worth, district superintendent of the Texas district, and Rev. E. R. Foster of Amarillo, assistant superintendent of the Texico district, as speakers.

The general assembly will open with a devotional service at 10 o'clock, with Rev. H. M. Puffer of Mountainair, N. M., in charge. A brief business session will be followed by another radio program, and at 11:30 Rev. Wm. Kitchen of Oklahoma City will bring a message. In the afternoon, a devotional service, sermon and business meeting are on the schedule.

Pension Law For Firemen Challenged

Insurance Companies Put Evidence Before Court

AUSTIN, April 26 (AP)—Fire insurance companies operating in Texas continued to place evidence before a district court here today in support of their claim the state firemen's pension law is unconstitutional.

The law requires payment of a two per cent tax on premiums into a fund to be used for firemen's pensions. Collection of the tax has been held up pending outcome of the suit.

The suit was filed many months ago by the American Alliance Insurance company as a class action including a number of companies. Other concerns intervened and many are represented by counsel.

Contentions of the companies in the trial which started yesterday, are:

The law is invalid because it is taking public money, collected through taxes, and paying it out for private purposes in that it is being used to support private citizens who were at one time employed by municipal fire departments;

That it is a special tax for special purposes levied on companies which are not the principal beneficiaries, and

That it is, in effect, a confiscation of property insofar as it is a tax on the companies in an act which provides the companies cannot pass the levy on to policy-holders.

Insurance company witnesses have testified the law violates 13 provisions of the Texas constitution.

Rate-making engineers explained methods of determining key rates for cities on a charge and credit basis and actuaries testified regarding rate reductions in the past and the anticipated results of the new tax on future rates.

The companies' business methods were developed in detail.

Japs Claim Chinese Evacuating Area

SHANGHAI, April 26 (AP)—Japanese, driving forward savagely only 12 miles from the east-west Lunghai railway, their objective in four months of fighting, reported today the entire Suchow area was being evacuated by Chinese civilians.

A Japanese army spokesman said aerial observation showed all roads in the sector choked with Chinese farmers carting their belongings southward and westward, in apparent expectation of a rapid Japanese advance upon Suchow, the strategic junction of the Lunghai and north-south Tientsin-Pukow railway.

At the same time a wide shake-up in the Japanese naval command in Chinese waters was announced. Transferred to unidentified posts were Vice Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, commander-in-chief of the third fleet in Chinese waters throughout the Shanghai operations; Rear Admiral Tadao Honda, former naval attaché to the Japanese embassy in China, who issued many of the navy's statements and explanations at the time of the sinking of the U. S. Panay, and Rear Admiral Wenshichi Okochi, commander of the special naval landing party in China. Their successors were not named.

Grothe versus Myrtle Grothe, divorce granted; J. E. Greene versus Modene Greene, divorce granted and maiden name of Modene Hall restored to defendant; First National Bank in Big Spring versus A. B. Sheriff W. G. Rogers filed the murder charge in Justice Ira G. Cook's court, accusing her of firing the fatal shot at their home Sunday morning.

The works committee of the chamber at a night session approved resolutions advocating lower freight rates for West Texas.

Release of ear-marked public funds to complete dams of the Brazos river authority and other West Texas projects, protection of virgin wool and mohair by federal trade commission rules so the public would know when reclaimed wool and mohair was used in fabrics, establishing a permanent West Texas resource institute and museum and continued work for West Texas solidarity.

Support for Air Line

Another resolution adopted declaring support for affiliated towns seeking highway and airway improvements, and particularly in obtaining air mail service connecting Amarillo and San Antonio through Lubbock, Big Spring, San Angelo and Kerrville.

Well Explosion Injures Three

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 26 (AP)—A drilling company president and two workmen were injured here today in a terrific oil well explosion that tossed four nearby automobiles about like toys.

James B. Clark, president of Clark and Company, Inc., and workmen Forrest Roach and R. O. Webb were blown from the derrick floor and knocked unconscious.

The well, an important extension of the northeast Oklahoma City oil field, was mudded in at 6,549 feet last night and Clark and the men went to the well this morning to open it.

Apparently an accumulated head of gas was too strong for the separator and before the trio could close the master gate they had opened, the mud and oil gushed up with a terrific roar, blowing them from the floor.

"Pin The Tail On The Donkey"

When you were young, you played that timeless game. Blindfolded, you weaved your way to the painted donkey on the wall, and tried to pin his paper tail in approximately the right position. You hit his nose, his ear, his leg—or you missed completely, and your blind stab landed on the empty wall.

Do you still "pin the tail on the donkey" when you go shopping? Do you make your purchases "blindfolded," leaving your choice to chance? That is literally the "un-enlightened" method. It wastes your time, your energy, your patience—and your money.

Don't buy haphazardly. Know beforehand what to buy, and where to buy it, and how much to pay for it. Read the newspaper advertisements! Scan the shopping columns; compare prices, compare values—decide upon your bargain. Then go directly to the store which advertises it; make your purchase—and be content!

No more hit-and-miss buying when you follow the advertisements. They lift the blindfold; they make it easier to find the best values.

Get at the Cause of Constipation!

You know that constipation often gives you that dopey, sunken, bogged-down feeling. Why not get at the cause and fix it? If you eat what most people do—things like bread, meat and potatoes—the chances are all that's the matter with you is you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean what you may think. It's a kind of food that isn't entirely digested, but leaves a soft, bulky mass in the intestines that aids elimination. If this is your trouble, what you need is a dish of crisp, crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day. It contains the "bulk" you need, plus Nature's intestinal tonic, vitamins B₁ and iron. Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and see if the old world doesn't look a lot brighter! All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Beggar By Day Jailed As Night Club Patron

BOSTON (UP) — A municipal judge has decided that Arthur Prudhomme, 38, no longer should be allowed to sit on a Tremont Street sidewalk, display a supposedly crippled arm and solicit alms. Prudhomme was sentenced to one month in jail for soliciting alms without a license after it was testified that when he finished his "soliciting day," he would go to his hotel, don a tuxedo and take his sweetheart to night clubs. Prudhomme said he considered $30 a good day's receipts.

Chattergrams By Jeane Suits

If you have arrived at that stage where fear of spinsterhood has become an obsession, put on your new Spring bonnet with the blue ribbons on it and take off for greener, newer fields. Darwin said, "The faculty of amateness is not aroused except by the unfamiliar." It is a fact that one third of all marriages in the United States occur in just this way. There really isn't any reason why you couldn't be among those present at the altar in June, but you'll have to hurry.

Plan a nice bus trip (if there is such a thing) and in no time at all you'll be chattering with new people. And at any moment — maybe the next stop — you will meet the man whose been looking for you all your life.

If girls would circulate around more, lovers wouldn't have so much trouble finding them. A typewriter and desk have hidden many a charming girl in this modern age. This is the swiftest Spring ever sprung, gals — so climb over those dusty desks, flippantly sock X on the typewriter and start to gadden. Write Aunt Susie or Cousin Fannie you are on your way to see her, grab a train, bus or plane and be off to the unfamiliar. But on this riotous spree bear this in mind — Be subtle, be sweet but be sure — you've got the right one or you'll find life returning to the same old ABC behind a detectable desk and abominable typewriter.

Of course, I'll admit you'll be plenty lucky if you nab one on the first spree, but keep trying every year and even if you never succeed, you will have seen a lot of the country, which is somepin'.

I always thought if you had anything in the bag, you had it in the bag, but when a woman has her knitting in the bag it isn't in the bag at all. The fact that she has it in the bag is positive proof that the deal isn't "sewed up." Only when she completes the knitted garment and removes it from the bag does she actually have it in the bag — none of which makes sense.

Today And Tomorrow

By Walter Lippmann. (Mr. Lippmann's column is published as an informational and news feature. His views are personal and are not to be construed as necessarily reflecting the editorial opinion of The Herald.—Editor's Note).

THE SUPER-SUPER NAVY

On Thursday Senator Vandenberg delivered a carefully prepared speech opposing the supplementary naval bill and since this is likely to be the strongest case that can be made, Mr. Vandenberg's argument needs to be studied.

Under the existing law the size of the navy is fixed at the tonnage provided by the naval treaties; under the bill now being debated a 20 per cent larger navy would be "authorized." That does not mean that we shall soon have such a navy. We do not now have a navy as large as the existing law already authorized. We may never have it.

For all the ships authorized have not been built. The money necessary to build them has not even been appropriated. There is nothing which compels future congresses to supply the money. The new bill simply makes it legal for future congresses to provide the money and for this president and future presidents to build, if they can get the money, ships up to 120 per cent of the tonnage stipulated in the virtually defunct treaties of naval limitation.

All this Senator Vandenberg understands very well. This makes the character of his argument a large one. For in the first column on page 7,395 of The Congressional Record he cries out that "this new billion dollar burden" will bring us nearer to "national bankruptcy"; and in the second column of the same page and for many pages thereafter he is complaining that this "super-super navy" will cost from 10 to 20 years in construction. Now he cannot have it both ways. He cannot charge the sponsors of the bill with adding a billion dollar burden that threatens national bankruptcy and then chide them for not having spent 650 million authorized, but not yet appropriated, under the act of 1934. He cannot declaim against the "insanity" of a hasty expansion of the navy and also against the slowness with which the navy is being expanded. If the senator is right that supplemental construction will take even 10 years to complete, then he must not talk as if he were being asked to make the taxpayers give up a billion dollars next week.

What he is actually being asked to do, of course, is neither to appropriate a huge sum of money, nor even to start the actual construction of what he calls a "super-super navy." He is being asked to give his approval to a legal plan, good theoretically for five or 10 years, which will guide the navy and future congresses in their building program. The reason for making such a plan is that the navy needs to be planned in advance what kind of navy congress is likely to provide the money for. The navy needs to know this, because it takes about a year merely to draw the paper designs and make contracts for a battleship. Moreover, it takes years to provide the facilities for great ships and the trained personnel, and unless the whole thing is planned over a long period of time it is impossible to make an efficient and properly balanced fleet.

The question, therefore, is whether or not the congress ought now to tell the navy to proceed on the assumption that in the coming years it must build a navy 20 per cent larger than the navy contemplated in 1934. Senator Vandenberg asks whether anything has happened which requires and justifies the United States in 1938 to plan for a larger navy than it planned for in 1934. The answer to that question depends upon one's judgment of what has happened in the rest of the world.

A lot has happened. Japan has freed herself of all limitations under the treaties and has taken the position that she will not even inform us as to what kind of navy she is building. So we are confronted now, as we were not in 1934, not merely with unlimited Japanese naval construction, unlimited as to quantity, unlimited as to tonnage, unlimited as to gun caliber, but with the Japanese navy, the fact that Japan is building a secret navy, Senator Vandenberg asked what happened in January of this year to cause the administration to ask for this supplemental authorization. If he will read the bill which he is opposing he will see what must have happened.

The bill authorizes the construction of 135,000 tons of additional capital ships. Let him divide that figure by three and he will see that this means three 45,000 ton battleships. Under the old law and the old treaty ships were limited to 35,000 tons. It does not call for a Sherlock Holmes to detect the fact that some time around the beginning of this year our government must have learned that Japan is secretly building 45,000 ton ships. Once that information was obtained, and the Japanese have not denied it, what could the government do but to ask for the authority to plan ships of equal power? For we must remember that only a ship of 45,000 tons, with all that it implies about armor, speed, and size of guns, can deal with another ship of 45,000 tons. A smaller ship cannot even give battle in the larger ship, and if we are to have a navy that is even equal to Japan's we must have ships of equal power. It is no good having a navy composed of small ships which can be sunk by bigger guns fired from a distance that there can be no reply. That surely is the primary reason for this bill which Senator Vandenberg professes to find so mysterious. And if the administration does not shut its reasons from the house tops, ought it to be blamed for preferring not to expatriate Japanese public opinion or to agitate American opinion? The essential facts are evident enough to anyone who cares to look for them.

The fact that Japan is building a super-navy secretly is not the only reason why it is reasonable to say that in 1938 we should plan for a bigger navy than we thought necessary in 1934. Since that time Japan has invaded China proper and has started on a career of conquest which, if it succeeds, will give the Japanese empire command over something between one-quarter and one-half the population of the globe. She may not succeed. In any event it will take time for her to consolidate this empire and to mobilize its immense potential power.

But it also takes time, as Senator Vandenberg pointed out, to build a great navy. Is it not the part of prudence to plan for the expansion of our own power so that five or 10 years hence we shall not find ourselves relatively so weak that we can no longer talk as equals with the Japanese empire?

This is not all. Since 1934 the greater Germany has come into existence, a Germany seeking colonial expansion in the outer world. Africa is not the only continent into which Germany might expand. There also is South America, and that this is no fantastic possibility may be seen by the recent action of Brazil, which, with first-hand knowledge of the Nazi penetration, has thought it necessary to take very strong measures indeed.

Since 1934 this expanding greater Germany has become the military ally of Japan. This is a new fact which congress did not have to consider when the existing plan of the navy was adopted.

In the face of these circumstances is it jingoism or hysteria or sinister fear mongering for congress to tell the navy to plan for a navy that is 20 per cent larger? I think not. To be sure, it may take years for Japan to achieve her power in China. It may take years for Germany to feel strong enough in Europe to move upon Africa or South America. But it also will take years for us to build this larger navy. If in the mean time a real peace can be negotiated with Germany and Japan, if in the interval the situation changes and we conclude that our present fears are unfounded, there is nothing in this bill which compels future congresses to appropriate the whole sum.

But if our present estimate of the world position is not mistaken, then we shall in the future be glad that we had the foresight to plan an adequate development of our naval power.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds by ROBBIN COONS. HOLLYWOOD — However the Jackie Coogan affair comes out in the courts, there's one bright angle: there's money to fight about. This isn't always true, as Marie Osborne can testify. As "Baby Marie Osborne" of the silent she was a bright little twinkler — now she's Ginger Rogers' stand-in and occasionally an actress.

Some of the stars could take lessons in poise from the dress extras on their sets. Watched a white-tie-and-tailed gent on "Garden of the Moon" between scenes and from his carriage and dignity he could have been pegged as at least a leading man—but when the camera started in the ballroom he merely gave his arm to a lady, stepped with her across the floor, and walked out of the picture—far in the background.

On The Spot "Garden of the Moon," although not identified as such, is supposed to represent a Los Angeles night spot like the Cocoanut Grove. That spot, however, already is featured by name in another current film, which will be previewed in the hotel housing the nitery, with subsequent festivities in the Grove itself. This trick of previewing in the actual locale of a picture is being carried to extraordinary lengths, what with the premiere of "Gold Is Where You Find It" in Weaverville, and some talk (mostly funny) about taking "Spawns of the North" to Alaska for first showings. The idea, fortunately, didn't occur to anybody for "Dante's Inferno," but "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea" is coming up. (James, my diving suit!)

Isn't Life Wonderful department: Kay Francis quoted in an account piece—"My role in 'Dr. Monica' taught me the beauty and worth of self-sacrifice, etc., etc." Some day a star is actually going to say something like that but it won't reach print—because the interviewer will pass out from shock.

Man About Manhattan by GEORGE TUCKER. NEW YORK — Conversation piece at midnight: Roy Howard, the publisher, is sitting at a table adorned with spreading cocoanut blossoms, imported from Hawaii. He is chatting with Commander Baile of the coast guard, and with Mr. and Mrs. George Sutton, of the Sutton news agency with Charles Rochester, the hotel man, who is his host for the evening, and with Mrs. Rochester, and a number of people whom your correspondent can not identify.

Out in front, in a pool of light, three girls in skirts made of T (tea) leaves are swaying softly to the strains of a murmuring tropical lullaby. And the man at the microphone is singing softly a song which runs like this: "To you, sweetheart, a-lo-ha — from the bottom-of-my heart — Keep the smile-on your lips — Brush the tears-from your eye. — It goes on like that. It is Ray Kenney singing, and when Ray sings, the best is singing.

It is his homecoming, and much him back. They are jammed at tables over which hang vast palm fronds. It is, of course, the Hawaiian room at the Lexington hotel.

Meanwhile busy waiters are placing before guests glasses that are the tallest in town. They are served sitting in a deep, hollow plate, which is necessary, because five or six inches of crushed ice has been frozen about the glass. It clings to the glass like a frosted pineapple. This refreshment is called "The Dagger" and it will stab you and wound you if you are not careful. It is of rum and fruit juices and, to the palate, is reminiscent of the daiquiri. Those waiters handle so many "Daggers" they could qualify as knife throwers.

Suddenly Charles Rochester rises casually and strolls over to one of his aides. The man nods understandingly, catches Kenney's eye, and Kenney gives him an answering nod. Rochester returns to his guests and sits down.

It is one minute of midnight. As Kenney and four of his men leave the orchestra stand and wander over to Mr. Rochester's table, an attaché of the room plugs a telephone into the wall. He hands the telephone to Mr. Rochester, who takes it and turns to Roy Howard. "Roy," he says, "here's a call for you."

"For me? Thanks." He takes the phone, speaks into the transmitter. At first incredulity comes over his face. He is surprised, then amazed. Finally his countenance is wreathed in smiles.

For Rochester has arranged a surprise call for Roy Howard, publisher. It is from his daughter in Honolulu, who is working on one of the newspapers there. And so midnight strikes for Roy Howard. And while he talks with his daughter Ray Kenney and his men serenade her softly, in the background, she tells her father that she hears every word, perfectly. The happy man talks a few moments longer, says aloha, and hangs up.

It seems to me that this surprise Charles Rochester has arranged for his friend is one of the nicest, most genuinely thoughtful things he could have done.

In recent years Mexico has been first in world production of silver, second in antimony and molybdenum, third in lead, fourth in zinc, fifth in gold, and seventh in petroleum and graphite.

The Boxwood Barrier

Chapter 37. "SOMETHING TO TELL YOU" The music suddenly took up a swifter measure. Gary and Judith moved through space with beautiful, free strides. His eyes approved her vivid colored gown. "You're magnificent, Judy!" "It's this dress," happily. "It's you," holding her closer. "It was madness to wear it tonight. The dress I mean." "We're swamped in madness," gloomily. "But thank heaven everything ends sooner or later."

Tenseness under his usual carelessness. A shadow in his blue eyes. She wondered if Clary's prophecy had already come to pass? She wanted to shout out what Clary had told her. Wanted Gary to know he was in danger of losing his position. Wanted to urge him to discharge Reuben quickly before he harmed Gary, shamed himself and—her.

Something told her tongue. She was like a soldier trying to be loyal to the flag he marches under while his heart is on the enemy's side. By all the bitter days she had shared with Reuben, by all the anxious nights, she owed him a surface loyalty at least until he stooped to betray.

Dishonor would free her as nothing else would, but maybe Clary had been talking to gain her own ends; to find out what Judith would do. Clary admitted she was out for a new deal. Judith's voice was saying the things she wanted to hear. Gary's eyes were adoring. Why spoil a perfect moment bothering about a future that would probably take care of itself?

It was a typical Goodloe philosophy. So far it had always worked out well for them. No reason to believe it wouldn't continue to work out well—

Flame Growing Warmer On the way home Gary managed to detach Judith from Clary and Reuben. "Let's walk home by the Ridge. There's a late moon." Her high beating heart warned her: "Don't. Unless you want to precipitate things, don't—Gary will kiss you tonight—if he does."

Sensibly she reminded herself that Gary had been kissing her, on occasions, all her life. Why the sudden coyness?

But she did not deceive herself. She could feel the smothered flame growing warmer— "It will be absolutely ruinous to my dress," she protested weakly. "I'll help you fix it under your coat." He commenced to wrap swirls of chiffon carefully about her.

"How do you girls get away with it? The most agile male swathed and break his neck." He talked lightly to disguise his real feelings; "How's that?" "Fine—if it stays," skeptically, "maybe I can tie it with my scarf. There—that's better."

The Ridge—a climbing path, rimmed with semi-circular valley. Towering pines bordered its inner side. Their needles made a soft, spicy carpet. The night was brightened by a million stars. Soon an almost exhausted last quarter moon would stagger up.

Judith walked lightly on orange matin heels—on little wings of uncertainty—in a hushed breathless hush—her arm slipped through Gary's. He held her hand in a warm clasp, content to be silent until they were half-way home. Then: "Let's rest on Gambler's ledge, Judy. I've something to say to you."

"Must you say it—now—tonight?" "Tonight," doggedly. At the byways Judith's feet faltered. If she stopped at Gambler's ledge now the old order of things would be gone forever—no more careless, happy drifting—she would be swept into the whirlwind—

"Judith," Gary began when they were seated on the rock that jutted over the valley, "remember the moths we watched doing their dance of death the night you came here?" "I remember—silly things."

"It was your fate. I've been doing just such a dance." — Gary could not miss a chance to dramatize himself—"trying to leave the flame. Getting burnt. Now Judith—now."

One Little Moment He brought his bright head closer to her dark one. His voice—Gary's deep, pleasant voice—muted with a strange tenderness: "Judith!" His lips against hers, "Judith!"

She felt a little frightened. She reminded herself that this was Gary. This was the moment that had been snatched from her that May afternoon at Goodloe's Choice. Now it was here—years deferred—too late—

No, no, no! She wouldn't let it be too late. She wouldn't let anything cheat her of her perfect moment. One little moment out of a lifetime! Every woman was entitled that. She wouldn't think of her tangled life or the problems that lay ahead. The long closed gates of her paradise were swinging wide. Was the glimpse beyond the perfection of which she had dreamed?

Of course it was. She relaxed in the circle of Gary's arm. She breathed in great breaths of lush, sweet air. Beyond them a broken fragment of moon peeped shyly over the ridge. Threw a dull glimmer of silver over the valley below them; over winding streams—"You love me, Judy?" "I love you, Gary!" She wanted to hear herself say it.

"And I love you. Nothing else matters!" His words beat against the exquisite stillness of the night. Beat against the earth. Against the stars. Against her heart—her perfect moment—

"Judith asked nothing else. All the longing, the uncertainty of the years was cleared away. Her faith

In Gary justified—it was enough—"Perfection never lingers! Arie told me that out centuries ago. Judith was to learn it now. Gary himself shattered her perfect moment. Gary who wanted every thing from life. He said: 'Things can't go on as they are any longer.' Her heart lunged: 'What things?' "Olive, mainly." "She drew herself from his arms." "Gary."

"Perhaps you don't know how I feel toward him, Judy. I hate him! But for you I wouldn't have tolerated him on the work for an hour." (Copyright, 1938, Blanche Smith Ferguson) Tomorrow: Divorce?

The Effects Of Liquor Cannot Be Repealed. THE SECRET OF SOBRIETY. "Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank; therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself." Daniel 1:8.

Daniel was among the youthful Jews carried captive into Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar and concerning whom the king gave a three-fold provision: First, they were to be taught the learning and language of the king; second, they were to be served meat and wine from the king's table; and third, at the end of three years they were to be examined by the king as to mental standing and physical fitness.

Daniel refused the prescribed diet and pursued a course of total abstinence; and three things may be said concerning his course: first, its origin was in his soul—"purposed in his heart"; second, its fortification was in making it known—"requested the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself"; and third, its profit was a clear head and remarkable wisdom—"in all matters of wisdom."

Men and women do not live soberly by accident. Clean living is the outflow of clean purposes and resolutions of the heart. That is why we are admonished to "keep our hearts with all diligence for out of it are the issues of life." And again "from the abundance of the heart—the mouth speaketh." Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself. Others may help us; but others can neither make nor break us. We make or break ourselves by the purposes of our hearts.

and understanding that the king enquired of them, he found them to be 10 times better than all the magicians and astrologers that were in his realm.—Dan. 1:2.

NTSTC TWINS IN NEW ATTEMPT ON PENN MARKS

PHILADELPHIA, April 26 (AP)—Sectional rivalries will be renewed this week-end when leading college trackmen of the east-south, mid-west and southwest vie for honors in the 44th annual University of Pennsylvania Relay Carnival.

Last year it was the east versus the mid-west and southwest with honors even at four American titles each. Manhattan contributed two titles and Pittsburgh and Cornell one each to the east's total while Indiana won three and North Texas Teachers one.

The same rivalry is in prospect this year although the presence of strong southern teams may complicate the battle. Indiana, North Texas Teachers, Michigan, Ohio State and Michigan State are the chief western title favorites while Manhattan, New York University, Fordham, Columbia, Pittsburgh and Dartmouth carry hopes of the east for titles.

Relay officials awaited the arrival today of the North Texas Teachers squad, first of the 3,000 college preparatory school and high school athletes expected here by Friday for the two-day classic. Included in the Teachers' squad scheduled to arrive for preliminary workouts were the famous twins, Wayne and Blaine Rideout and Elmer and Delmer Brown.

The Texans have three of the four runners in the Brown twins and Alvin Chrisman who helped win the quarter mile title last year and the same trio were members of the mile relay team which turned in the fastest time of the 1937 carnival in winning the class B title. The Teachers also will present a strong distance medley quartet in the Rideout twins, Delmer Brown and Henry Morgan, Lone Star Conference mile champion.

Dallas Trims Tulsa, 4-0; Shippers Lose To Houston

By the Associated Press

Games today:
Dallas at Oklahoma City, night.
Fort Worth at Tulsa, night.
Houston at Shreveport, day.
Beaumont at El Paso, night.

Beaumont's Exporters, still leading the Texas league although blanked 9-0 by the Houston Buffs last night, move to San Antonio today (Tuesday) to play the Missions in the second of 15 games scheduled on the Exporters' current road trip.

Both other games last night were also shut-outs. The Dallas Steers jumped from sixth place into a tie with the Missions for fifth position by trouncing second place Tulsa, 4-0.

Oklahoma City's Indians remained in fourth place despite a loss 2-0 to the Fort Worth Cats. Dallas will play the Indians and Fort Worth moves to Tulsa tonight.

The tallier Shreveport Sports and the Missions were idle again last night because of rain. The Houston Buffs, clinging securely to their third place in standings, trek to Shreveport for a day game with the Sports.

Stellar pitching by John (Bradder) Grodzicki, brought him his second shut-out and third victory of the season, as the Buffs downed the Exporters.

Rabbit McDowell of the Fort Worth Cats, accidentally flipped his bat into the way of a pitched ball in the second inning, for a hit which scooped past first base and aided his teammates in their victory over the Indians.

A one-hit pitching performance by Sal Gliatto, slim Dallas right-hander, turned in a victory for the Steers and halted, at least temporarily, Tulsa's drive for the Texas league leadership.

Meeting Of Liberals Is Watched

Possibility Of A Third Party Is A Factor

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—Governor Philip La Follette's call for a meeting of liberals at Madison, Wis., Thursday night is exciting lively interest among legislators seeking to ascertain the potential strength of a national third party.

Although there is little expectation that a new party would have countrywide influence in this year's congressional elections, members of congress were divided over the question of whether the time is ripe for a political realignment.

Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) asserted today that third party advocates should hang back until it is determined whether President Roosevelt will seek another term.

"The president doesn't want a third term," Norris said, "but if a coalition of democrats and republicans in congress succeeds in blocking his measures, the people will insist that he run again.

"I think the formation of any third party should wait until we see whether we will have to run the president for another term."

Representative O'Connell (D-Mont) has contended that the Madison conference would offer an opportunity for liberals to pledge support to the president for a third term. He said that if Mr. Roosevelt was not renominated by the democrats, it would be "very wise" for liberals to place him at the head of a new ticket.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said the time is ripe for a new party. Such a trend has been developing for 20 years, he said, and a "realignment of the political parties is overdue."

O'Mahoney said a third party might wield influence in the 1940 elections, but asserted that none could now predict what form a new organization might take.

A highly-placed republican, who declined to be quoted by name, argued that the La Follette meeting indicates a drift of progressives away from the president.

Mrs. A. J. Campbell has been quite ill for the past week. She spent some time at the home in the country of a sister, Mrs. Yates, but was brought home over the weekend.

He contracted pneumonia last night and was placed in an oxygen tent. Hollon and three other members of the Midland First Baptist church were en route to Corsicana seeking a minister when their car collided with one driven by Jess Morton, 46, of Lamesa. Morton was killed.

Paul J. Babb Sr., 38, Dallas and his brother, L. Pat Babb, 30, of Amarillo, injured in a collision at Azle Sunday which claimed the life of the elder Babb's wife and Mrs. J. R. Trull, 67, Gainesville remained in a serious condition in a hospital here. The funeral of Mrs. Babb was delayed pending outcome of her husband's illness.

Latin-America Topics Talked At Institute

Mexico Expropriation Of Oil Properties Discussed

DALLAS, April 26 (AP)—Prof. W. J. Hammond of Texas Christian University, who yesterday assailed the policies of American oil companies in Mexico, addressed the Institute of Public Affairs today on Latin-American relations.

Expropriation of foreign oil properties by the Mexican government was discussed at yesterday's session of the institute.

Dr. Samuel Guy Inman of New York, who spoke last night, said that Mexicans feel they are perfectly justified in expropriating oil properties because their constitution provides that all sub-soil wealth belongs to the state, not the individual. This belief dates far back into Spanish history, he said. Mexicans also believe no foreigner has extra-territorial rights, but should be treated like a national in any dispute with the government.

Inman said the expropriation of foreign-owned oil properties was only an incident in a vast plan of returning Mexico's land to its people.

The institute, sponsored jointly by the Arnold Foundation of Southern Methodist University and the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, through S. D. Myers, of Southern Methodist, its director, has promised that both the Mexican government and the American-owned companies would be given an equal opportunity to present their sides of the question.

Myers said a representative of the companies may speak later this week.

Military Cooperation Will Result From New British-Irish Pact

LONDON, April 26 (AP)—The new treaty of friendship between Great Britain and Ireland clears the path toward an effective military cooperation.

It is likely that talks will begin almost immediately on the matter of defense, so that Ireland may be added to the circle of "friendly nations" around the British empire.

These conferences, it was said today, would be pointed toward establishment of Irish military forces, closely supervised and trained by British army, navy and air force experts.

The talks would be unofficial.
