By TOM MADDOX CHESTER, Ill. (U) - Unruly convicts and fast-nerved officials at Menard State Prison pressed their endurance contest into a third day today with lives of 10 hostages depending upon the outcome.

Stalemates Again

The U.S. battleships Missouri (left) and Iowa, two of the world's most powerful fighting ships, are together again in a fighting zone for the first time since World War II. They ride together from a buoy in a Far Eastern port during a pause in the fighting against Communists in Korea.

'Top Secret Document' Being Used Against Him, Ike Claims

By RELMAN MORIN NEW YORK (U)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, pointing a power-house drive at the big voting centers around New York City, says a "top secret document" on Korea is being used against him by his political enemies.

He did not identify the document, other than to describe it as "a top secret document of the American Defense Department."

In a program broadcast nationally last night by radio and television, he said:

"This morning, there was a very significant item in the paper. It was this: There was quoted a top secret document of the American Defense Department. How it got there, we will never know, probably."

"There was a military estimate made in September, 1947, and it had this conclusion—the military occupation of South Korea is not essential to the security of the United States."

He asked his studio audience: "And how was the top secret document released? Wouldn't you like to know? Many Americans would."

In Minneapolis Monday, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon—a Republican who has bolted his party and said he could not support Eisenhower—read a government memorandum to an audience at the University of Minnesota. It was signed by the late James Forrestal, former secretary of defense, and was dated Sept. 26, 1947. The significant paragraph read:

"The Joint Chiefs of Staff consider that from a stand point of military security, the U. S. has little strategic interest in maintaining the present troops and bases in Korea..."

Eisenhower, as Army chief of staff at that time, was a member of the joint chiefs.

The argument over responsibility for the actions that led up to the Korean War has been raging back and forth with increasing bitterness. Briefly, it centers on this:

President Truman and other Democrats claim Eisenhower, as Army chief of staff, bears part of the responsibility for decisions affecting American policy in the Far East.

Eisenhower, in reply, says the joint chiefs made purely military estimates, at the request of the administration. He has emphasized his argument that a vast difference exists between such military estimates and political decisions.

And he has accused Secretary of State Dean Acheson of making a major blunder in announcing, later, that the "defense perimeter" of the United States in the Far East did not embrace either Korea or Formosa.

The general said last night: "The claim is made that that secret military estimate was responsible for our highest political leaders making a political decision in 1949. If that is true, what these political leaders are saying is this: 'We abdicated our authority and responsibilities as the political leaders... the civilian political leaders, and took a military estimate...'"

Gunboats in Battle

HONG KONG (U)—Reports from Macau today said 15 small Chinese Nationalist gunboats and three Chinese Communist craft battled for 2 hours in the Pearl River Estuary between here and the Portuguese colony Monday night and Tuesday morning. The outcome was not known.

Duchess Has Winner

HONG KONG (U)—The Duchess of Kent had a good thing today when she visited the Jockey Club track with Gov. Sir Alexander and Lady Grantham. She cashed a winning ticket on the fifth race.

Adlai Charges GOP Against Social Gain

By DON WHITEHEAD ABOARD STEVENSON SPECIAL IN PENNSYLVANIA, Oct. 29 (U)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson opened his bid today for Pennsylvania's important bloc of 32 electoral votes by labeling the Republican obstructionists in the fight for social gains.

Stevenson stood bare-headed in a raw wind that whipped snow flakes around him as he told thousands at Scranton that "the Democrats have proved their concern for the average man through legislation such as the minimum wage law."

"This was done despite the obstruction of the Old Guard Republicans," he added.

Police Chief Michael J. Ruddy estimated the crowd at 9,000, the first gathering to greet the Democratic candidate on the start of his two-day tour of the Keystone State.

Stevenson was due to talk for about 20 minutes but he cut his remarks to about 11 minutes, saying: "It's awfully hard to get mad at anybody at 8 o'clock in the morning."

Seranton—called the anthracite capital of the world—was chosen mate on an entirely different subject, two years old, as our alibi." Eisenhower is keeping the Korean War in the forefront as his most powerful area of attack during these closing days of the campaign. The general tells virtually every audience:

1. An honorable peace in Korea will be his first objective if he is elected.

2. Regardless of Democratic taunts and criticisms, he is determined to go up to the Korean front himself if he wins next Tuesday's election.

3. The Truman administration has blundered there, and everywhere, in its foreign policies of the past seven years.

Tax Discounts Will Be Cut By Three Agencies

Deadline for tax payments at three per cent discount comes up Friday at two local collecting agencies, while another will end three per cent discounts on Monday.

The county always allows three per cent discount for all payments on current taxes through Nov. 2. Since that date falls on Monday this year, payments made on Sunday will be computed at three per cent discount.

Both the city and the Big Spring Independent School District close on Friday. Payments submitted by mail will be allowed the full discount, however, if they are post-marked before midnight on that date.

Beginning Saturday, the city and schools will allow discounts of two percent, while the two per cent saving will go into effect next Tuesday at the county.

The city and schools allow three per cent discounts during the calendar month of October, while the county allows three per cent discount until 60 days before the first of the year.

Through Tuesday the school tax office had collected $160,841.47, of which $157,954.22 came from current taxes. Discounts allowed had totaled $4,739.48, while delinquent collections amounted to $2,594.28. The remainder of the collections came from miscellaneous items, such as court costs, etc.

Of the amount collected, $113,464.27 has been credited to the local maintenance fund, and $39,750.47 to the interest and sinking fund.

Chest Drive Nears Goal

Area contributions and a few "special gifts" still outstanding may push the Community Chest campaign to the vicinity of its goal, Chairman Elmo Wasson said this morning.

Area solicitation got underway only this week, Wasson said. The remaining special gifts are expected from a few prospects whom solicitors have been unable to contact thus far in the drive.

Already raised toward a goal of $49,952 is slightly more than $44,000, Wasson said. A few contributions still are trickling in by mail and anyone who has not been contacted and who wishes to contribute is invited to send in checks.

The Community Chest fund is for a local servicemen's center, Salvation Army, YMCA, and Boy and Girl Scouts.

Sniper Ridge Crest Is Secured By ROK Drive

Truman Says Nixon Is Aiding The Dem Cause

By ERNEST B. VACCARO ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN, Oct. 29 (U)—President Truman said today that the trend in Iowa has been strongly Democratic "ever since the appearance in that state of GOP Vice Presidential Nominee Richard M. Nixon."

Truman told an enthusiastic crowd at Waterloo that he would be "delighted" to have Nixon continue to help the Democrats by his speeches but that he is afraid there isn't time before the election "for all the people to see what he's like."

Nixon spoke in Waterloo last week on a whistle-stop trip across Iowa.

Waterloo Police Capt. Q. T. Parker at that time estimated the Nixon crowd at about 5,000. Capt. Parker estimated this morning's Truman crowd at Waterloo at about 10,000.

The President's appearance at Waterloo was his second of the day. An early morning talk at Manly was more in the nature of a neighborhood chat with a crowd that clustered around the rear platform of his special train about three blocks outside Manly. Many who had waited in the station there were unable to hear him.

Truman told the Waterloo crowd that if this nation should cut out all aid to foreign nations it would be left facing the Russians "all along."

He said if the Republican "Old Guard gains control in next Tuesday's elections such a thing could happen."

Truman recalled that when he was farming in Missouri in 1906 he bought his first "manure spreader" at Waterloo. He then retold his story that William Jennings Bryan once made a talk from a manure spreader in Missouri and said it was the first time he ever "spoke from a Republican platform."

Truman said that throughout the years of the "new deal and fair deal" the Republicans "have been voting against progress."

He told the crowd the Democratic farm support program provides $1.60 floor under corn.

"And over half the House Republicans voted against this level," he said. The President once again referred to the "awful, do-nothing 70th Congress" and said it passed the Taft-Hartley Act which threatens the gains workers have made.

He also mentioned the war in Korea.

"Our troops are fighting in Korea to keep war away from our own borders, even to keep war away from Waterloo, Iowa," he said.

The President sought to convince the Midwest today that if the "millionaires" supporting Dwight D. Eisenhower have their way on policy the country will end up "in a crash and a depression."

And he argued that the hopes for continued prosperity for the farmer, laborer and small business-man depend on the election of

Artillery Pounds Retreating Reds

SEUL (U)—South Korean infantrymen in savage close-quarter fighting today forced a battalion of Chinese Reds off the crest of bloody Sniper Ridge for the seventh time in 16 days.

The Reds, driven off its highest peak at Sniper Hill—late last night, began their counterattack at dawn.

Slowly they clawed back up the slopes. They gouged out small gains with hand grenade barrages, then grappled hand-to-hand with the Reds in bunkers and trenches.

AP Correspondent John Randolph said the Central Front crest was secured at 10 a.m. Then the ROKs began a tortuous advance northward along the narrow, shellscarred ridge, scene of the longest continuous battle since Heartbreak Ridge last November.

Roaring artillery barrages pounded the retreating Reds.

Gen. Mark Clark, touring Korea, congratulated Lt. Gen. Chung Il Kwon, South Korean commander, for the "magnificent fighting" of his men.

The Reds pounded U. S. 7th Division troops on nearby Triangle Hill with artillery and mortar fire during the night. There was no contact by ground forces.

Fighting flared briskly elsewhere along the 155-mile front as temperatures dropped to a chilling 35 degrees.

One Hill Falls Without A Fight

Groups of up to 175 Reds jabbed into Allied lines at five places southeast of Kumson on the Central Front. By midafternoon all attacks had been repulsed.

In contrast to the vicious battle for Sniper, Allied soldiers seized one hill position without a fight Wednesday. Chinese Reds battled grimly for the hill, near Iron Horse Mountain, all day Tuesday.

There was no resistance when the U. N. troops approached today.

Measured by Red casualties, the fighting this month is the heaviest since last November. The U. S. Eighth Army said 27,096 Reds were killed, wounded or captured in the first three weeks of October. Last November the toll was 44,729.

Allied warplanes pounded Communist positions at the front and deep in North Korea Wednesday.

The fledgling South Korean Air Force launched the first all-ROK close support strikes of the war.

Ten B29 Superforts early today dropped 80 tons of 500-pound bombs on a Communist military headquarters near Sopo, on the outskirts of the Red Korean capital of Pyongyang. Pilots reported large explosions.

B29 invader bombers attacked Red supply centers behind the lines Tuesday night. Marine and Air Force fighter-bombers Tuesday dumped 7,000 gallons of jellied gasoline on a Communist supply area east of Sinmak near the Korean West Coast. Pilots said more than 15 buildings were destroyed.

Gas And Bus Rates Hiked

Gas rate and bus fare hikes were approved by city commissioners Tuesday.

Fare for adult passengers on City Bus Lines was raised from 12 to 15 cents, as requested. The public, as usual, was absent for the public hearing which had been called to precede the decision.

Three laundry operators were present, however, to inquire into the gas rate increase proposed two weeks ago. Their questions resulted in an adjustment of the rate schedule in favor of the small commercial consumers.

After pointing out that the percentage of rate increase would get progressively larger as the quantity of gas used increases, according to the proposal, Commissioner Cecil McDonald moved that an equal charge be spread over a 500,000-cubic-foot bracket, instead of different charges for the 20,000, 30,000, 50,000, 100,000, and 300,000-cubic-foot brackets.

The adjustment will favor the "small user," he said, and would result in a saving of about $5 per month for the laundry operators who use approximately 100,000 cubic feet of gas per month. The commission unanimously approved McDonald's motion.

The residential rate increase was granted as requested. Gas company officials said the increase would add an average of approximately 80 cents per month to household gas bills.

The gas company asked permission to hike its rate two weeks ago, citing rising labor and material costs in support of the petition.

Only other changes in the bus fares will be elimination of the three-cent transfer charge and the selling of 10-ride cards at the rate of two rides for a quarter (12 rides for 1.50). The cards formerly sold at the rate of 12 rides for 1.25. Child fare was left at five cents. New bus rates will become effective Saturday, Nov. 1.

Laundry operators present for the public hearing on gas rates were L. R. Nichols, J. C. Thames and D. R. Hughey.

N.Y. Times Is Urged To Back Stevenson

NEW YORK (U)—The New York Times said today it has received in the past four days 3,917 letters and telegrams asking it to switch its support from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson.

The Times said that in the same period it received 268 messages favoring the paper's stand for Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee.

Dies Is Recovering From An Operation

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 29 (U)—Martin Dies of Lufkin is recovering from an operation and should be able to go home in a few days, Foundation Hospital reported yesterday.

Dies, designated congressman-at-large from Texas, was admitted to the hospital last Thursday and was operated on Friday. He is now able to sit up.

Byrnes Drives In Florida In Behalf Of Ike

TAMPA, Fla. (U)—Republican presidential candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower will give the United States World leadership if solely needs, Democratic Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina believes.

On the other hand, Democratic candidate Adlai Stevenson has "surrendered completely to the Truman administration," Byrnes asserted in a talk prepared for delivery at a luncheon rally of Democrats for Eisenhower here today.

Byrnes said Sept. 18 he would vote for the Republican party standard bearer, and on Sept. 30 introduced Eisenhower for a speech from the South Carolina State House steps.

This was his first full-fledged campaign venture for Eisenhower out of his home state, where he has been a life-long Democrat.

The former secretary of state under President Truman said Stevenson stands on civil rights, limiting debate in the senate and on the Taft-Hartley Labor Law.

"As the campaign progressed," Byrnes declared, "it became the story of a bicycle built for two—with Mr. Truman on the front seat..."

Stevenson had a right to change his mind on those issues, Byrnes said, but "the people of the South also could change their minds when he surrendered his position to the Truman administration."

Byrnes said that the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt once told him (Byrnes) of voting for Republican Theodore Roosevelt in 1904 because he was the best qualified man; and Byrnes cited a statement in a biography of President Truman that quotes the President as saying he once voted for a Republican county marshal.

Thus, Byrnes said, "those Democrats who vote for Gen. Eisenhower because they believe he is the best qualified candidate will do only what has been done by Democratic leaders."

"No longer," he said, "can we look to the National Democratic party for protection of states rights. When the Democratic party deserted the principles of Jefferson and Jackson, the reasons which caused the South to be loyal to the Democratic party ceased to exist."

On the other hand, Byrnes declared, "Gen. Eisenhower visited the South and asked for our support. He assured us that the rights of the states will be preserved as provided under the Constitution."

Roy Rogers, Wife Adopt Indian Girl

DALLAS, Oct. 29 (U)—A beaming Roy Rogers and a smiling Dale Evans leaned over the crib as "Little Doe" took her bottle.

The Western film star and his wife and leading lady flew to Dallas yesterday to adopt the seven-month-old girl, a full-blooded Choctaw Indian, and fly her back to their home in Encino, Calif.

The film stars said they named the child Little Doe because of her "dear ways." They have five other children.

A daughter of the couple died a few months ago.

Another Link Is Cut

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (U)—Argentina reportedly is cutting another link with neighboring Uruguay, a haven of refugees from President Juan Peron's regime.

Shipping sources last night said the Peron government has ordered all Argentine-owned ocean-going ships to stay out of Uruguayan ports.

A Plate For Every State

Mrs. Margaret Powell, postmistress at Westbrook, and her son, Fred Powell, a student at New Mexico Military Institute, look over her collection of plates at a recent open house she held to show the collection and to honor her son. Mrs. Powell has plates from all of the 48 states and most of the territories and has also collected 176 picblers. Her most treasured is a tiny gold pitcher brought from Ireland by her great-grandmother. Mrs. Powell opened the first drug store in Westbrook in 1919 and operated it until she sold in 1943. At the open house she was assisted in receiving by her sister, Mrs. Millie Van Horn, Odessa; four nieces, Mrs. D. P. O'Keefe and Mrs. M. O. Boring Jr., Odessa; Ramelle Hamilton of Dallas, and Mrs. T. L. McCoy of Abilene; and friends, Mrs. W. D. Turpin of Pecos, Mrs. S. A. Walker and Mrs. T. B. Coker of Westbrook.

STUDENTS TO VOTE TOO

Come election day the eighth grade history classes of Lorena Huggins at Junior High will cast their ballots along with the nation's other voters. In a special election project of their own, Miss Huggins' 165 students "paid" their poll taxes before the deadline, Miss Huggins has printed their own ballots, and Friday they will have a political rally to campaign for their favorite candidates. Tuesday, when the nation's voters cast their ballots, these American history students will do likewise, totalling their votes at the end of the day.

Wendell Shive, a student at Texas Tech, spent the week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Shive.

Mrs. Rex Shive is confined to the hospital, where she underwent surgery. Three Schools Plan Carnivals Thursday

The Junior High, South Ward and North Ward Schools will have Halloween carnivals this evening. The coronation of a queen at 6:15 p. m. at North Ward will open the evening's entertainment there. Following the coronation the food booths will open to serve supper and other concessions will operate for the entertainment of parents and pupils.

South Ward's game party will begin at 6:30 p. m. There will be movies and a fish pond for the children and sandwiches, coffee, pie and cold drinks will be served. The Junior High carnival will begin at 7 p. m. on the concrete slab in front of the school and a dance will be held later in the gym. A queen will be crowned at intermission.

Committee Heads Named At Lodge Meeting Tuesday

Mamie Roberts named committee chairmen to make arrangements for the bazaar to be held Dec. 6 when the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge met Tuesday night in the IOOF Hall. Irene Gross, noble grand, presided when reports from various committees were heard. Reports from the Association meeting held in Crane Saturday, where the degree team won a gold loving cup, were also given. Pictures of the degree and memorial teams were taken during the meeting. Thirty-five attended including Mrs. Dollie Mae Mann, a member who lives in Niles, Ohio.

Federation Nets $1,243 On Follies

The Big Spring Federated Clubs' building fund is $1,243 richer for the Follies. This was the amount of net reported from staging the variety musical, "Follies of '52," recently. Mrs. H. W. Smith and Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, co-chairmen, reported to the Federation executive board that the project had been a success in every way. This report was received at the meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Oble Bristow. Also discussed was the Big Spring Concert Association. The board recommended that each club member be responsible for selling two dual tickets during the Concert Association drive. The third Monday of each month was set as a regular meeting time. Nell Brown is scheduled to be the next hostess. At the Monday session, six clubs were represented.

Halloween Party Entertains Lodge

Members of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge were entertained Tuesday at a costume Halloween Party at Carpenter's Hall immediately following their regular lodge meeting. Orange candles and Halloween lanterns decorated the hall and the refreshment table was laid with a Halloween cloth with matching napkins. Pumpkin pie and coffee were served to 33.

Texas Congressmen Aware Of The State's Best Interests

Thoughtful Texans could have good cause to wonder what has happened to all the campaigning in behalf of the Truman-Stevenson-Sparkman ticket that was supposed to be done by the Texas Congressional delegation.

With the exception of Speaker Sam Rayburn, who obviously has his own axe to grind, there has been little of the enthusiasm that the Trumanites would like to have boasted about. Those few of the Washington delegation who are taking any part at all are doing it in such a modest way that it is escaping the state-wide press.

Senator Connally made his gesture, and then has had little else to say. The same applies to Senator Lyndon Johnson. Of the House group, some have notably gone on an extended fishing trip. A few are out-posted to the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket. Rep. Frank Wilson of Dallas, for one, says that if Texas see fit to help elect Stevenson, then they have no right to expect consideration on the tideland issue.

The Congressman from this district,

George Mahon, made a couple of appearances with Speaker Rayburn, but patently without fervor.

What it boils down to, it seems to us, is this:

The Texas delegation in Congress — and by and large we think it is an able one — has, on the record not been in favor of the Truman ideology in government. Its members are in favor of state ownership of the tidelands; they are against an FEPC; they are against mounting government expense and would like to see taxes lowered; they are dismayed by the corruption of the Missouri gang and all its ramifications. They are, broadly speaking, against Trumanism, and their votes, praise be, have indicated that, in recent sessions of Congress.

It is no wonder that the Truman-Stevenson-Sparkman ticket can evoke no enthusiasm among Texas Congressmen. They know what Texans want, and they know what is good for Texas.

Proposed Amendment Lacking In Merit Sufficient For Approval

Voters, it is to be earnestly prayed, will turn out in record numbers on Tuesday. After four months of intense haranguing, the public is well aware that there are at least two major candidates for the President listed on the ballot.

There are other columns, too, some of which may come as a mild surprise to some voters. But what is apt to toss many completely will be the presence of two proposed constitutional amendments at the bottom of the ballot.

In Texas there is an old political saying that in the case of constitutional amendments, if you don't know what they are, vote against them. Maybe it's a pretty good idea, after all, not to change the situation unless you understand to what position or direction you wish to change. The better solution, however, would be to be enlightened before voting.

However, in the instance of the two amendments proposed this time, we cannot see any constructive purpose to be served by adoption of either. One would provide for enactment of laws enabling cities to provide workman's compensation insurance themselves, etc. The other, holding out the aim of locating more doctors in rural areas, would provide grants, loans or scholarships to medical students who pledged to practice in rural sections upon completion of their education.

In the former instances cities already are free to provide this service through private channels and possibly at rates comparable to what combination of municipalities could supply. More than likely it would become compulsory, permitting the state to usurp local powers.

As for the medical amendment, not much would be accomplished. The question of practice in rural areas is largely one of economics, not of training. This would increase the output of doctors, which is the real bind in supply of talent to any area. The term "medical" is inadequately defined and there is no assurance that even if a student did take advantage of the assistance that he or she would perform. As for us, it seems that a "no" vote on both issues would better serve the public interest.

Gallup Poll

Political Ferment In South Said Outstanding Feature Of '52 Race

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 29.—The outstanding feature of the election campaign to date is the swing of sentiment to Eisenhower in the South.

In no area of the United States is there such a political ferment. Nothing like it has been seen below the Mason-Dixon line since the Herbert Hoover-Al Smith election of 1928.

Latest Institute surveys show Eisenhower running about 15 percentage points stronger now in the South than Dewey did on Election day four years ago.

This is the one area of the country where the trend to Stevenson, as found elsewhere, has not developed at least up to now.

The last Institute survey for the nation as a whole showed Eisenhower ahead, but found a continuing trend against him and in favor of Stevenson, who has gained steadily in October.

The biggest shifts in the South have come in the group of states where the States' Rights or Dixiecrat party polled the largest number of votes in 1948.

However, two points should be borne in mind.

First, certain Southern states have been so overwhelmingly Democratic in the past that even if the Republican vote there were doubled, the electoral vote count in those states would not be affected.

Second, the big question is whether the Southern Democrats who now say they like Ike will really vote for him Nov. 4—or whether they will return in the end to their traditional habit of voting the Democratic ticket.

In the 13 Southern states as a group, the popularity of the candidates is as follows in the latest survey:

"If the presidential election were being held today, which CANDIDATE would you vote for—Stevenson, the Democratic candidate or Eisenhower, the Republican candidate?"

The following table shows the survey result, together with two ways of allocating the undecided vote. One is on the basis of how the undecideds voted in 1948; the other on the basis of economic, educational and other characteristics.

CANDIDATE PREFERENCE—IN SOUTH

Stevenson	46%
Eisenhower	43%
Undecided	11%
100%

Allocating the 11% Undecided:

Democratic	61%
Republican	39%
Undecided	0%
100%

Analysis by '48 Vote

For convenience in analyzing, the 13 Southern states may be divided into two groups.

Group A consists of the seven states which bolted the Democratic party and went Republican in the political revolt of 1948.

These are: Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, Florida, Oklahoma and Texas. Those states demonstrated at least once their willingness to accept the Republican party label.

Here is the vote on Eisenhower and Stevenson in the seven states taken as a group:

CANDIDATE PREFERENCE—GROUP A
(Va., N.C., Ky., Tenn., Fla., Okla., Tex.)

Stevenson	45%
Eisenhower	43%
Undecided	12%

a) Allocated b) Allocated
2-to-1 Dem. 3-to-1 Dem.
Stevenson	53%
Eisenhower	47%
Undecided	0%

In 1948 the Republican vote in those states as a group was 34.1 per cent. In other words, Eisenhower is now running about 13 percentage points stronger there than Dewey did.

The second group of Southern states are those which have never gone Republican at any time since Civil War Reconstruction days.

They are: South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.

However, four of the six—South Carolina, Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi—were carried by the Dixiecrats in 1948.

Truman and Thurmond, the Dixiecrat candidate.

Ike Ahead of Party

Eisenhower runs substantially ahead of his party below the Mason-Dixon line. This is revealed in answers to a second question in which Southerners were asked what party they would see win this year.

"If the presidential election were being held today, which POLITICAL PARTY would you like to see win—the Democratic Party or the Republican Party?"

The vote, with the same allocation of undecideds as described above, follows:

PARTY PREFERENCE—IN SOUTH

Democratic	53%
Republican	36%
Undecided	11%
100%

Allocating the 11% Undecided:

a) Allocated b) Allocated

The Sun Will Continue To Shine, Regardless Of Election Results

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

A week from today the nation will know who will be the new president of the United States of America.

In the heat of battle some have cast themselves one way or the other with such complete abandon that they will see in the outcome, if their candidate has not won, a great catastrophe. It is probable, however, that regardless of results in light of personal convictions, the sun will continue to rise and shine upon this great nation.

Not so long ago a man familiar with the national scene and sincerely concerned with the welfare of the country said in private conversation that he was not totally wrapped up in what would happen if his candidate or that became the nation's leader. His chief concern was whether bitterness and cynicism would remain to convert healthy differences into malignant cleavages.

After all is said and done in a political campaign — and some pretty mean and nasty things can be said — the fact remains that under democratic processes we must function under those whom we have chosen. It is well that issues and individuals be subject to debate and review; it is not well to impugn the character and patriotism of anyone who might be of contrary mind.

To hold back with rancor and secretly hope for trouble to overtake the country and its leaders, because they happen to be of another affiliation, is the mark of littleness. Ranks need to be closed with the graciousness of bigness so that citizens will serve as good soldiers. Times are grave enough that our leadership must have the earnest prayers of earnest people.

Such a course does not close the doors to vigilance and to difference of opinion. These qualities should always be maintained and exercised in a democracy, else it will cease to become a democracy. Disagreement can be healthy in arriving at a decision; intolerance which feeds on the hatred of a result can become deadly.

The nation will soon know who is to be charged with the fearful responsibility of leading the United States in this particular moment of peril on the ceaseless stage of time. He cannot be equal to the task if he stands only as President of part of the people. He cannot — and the nation cannot — measure up to the demands of the hour without the help of a kind Providence and the good will of the people.

Finally, the administration of public affairs will not for long exceed the character of the people. What success any man has with the presidency for the next four years will depend more than can be dreamed upon the personal conduct, the moral and spiritual fibre of each individual citizen. As the hour of labor in our democracy comes and goes, those who truly love the country will seek to live and serve in such a way that God can and will bless America.

24 States Have Time-Off Provisions So That Workers May Cast Their Vote

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—In half the states you legally can take time off from your job to vote.

In many of the others employers have been active in campaigns to get out the vote Nov. 4, and a number of corporations are making sure their employes have a chance to get to the polls.

In some cities, plans are being discussed to stagger time-off-for-voting periods for workers so as to keep an early and steady flow to the polls and ease the usual after-work voting rush.

The 24 states with time-off provisions show wide variance as to how long, when and even who can have the privilege, and as to whether the worker gets the time-off with pay.

One of the most general laws, the National Foremen's Institute points out, is California's, which enables every eligible voter, without penalty, "to absent himself from any service or employment in which he is then engaged for two consecutive hours between the time of opening and the time of closing the polls."

Many other states have more restrictive provisions.

A survey by the Commerce Clearing House, a law reporting agency in Chicago, shows that all workers are entitled to pay during this time off in 13 states. Two others specify the particular workers who must be paid.

States requiring pay for two hours for voting are listed as:

Republican Schism Arose Out Of Defeat, Was Stimulated By It

It would be an advantage in any political campaign if the ad hominem argument were discarded. The use of it generally makes candidates sound like noisy fishwives and adds nothing to the enlightenment of the people. The present campaign has reduced itself to a slugging match over personalities.

One of the arguments that I see used constantly is that General Eisenhower surrendered to Senator Taft. This involves an assumption that Senator Taft was either an ideological or a personal enemy of General Eisenhower. Actually, the most that can be said is that Taft is a Republican, leader of his party in the United States Senate, and a contender for the Republican nomination for the presidency. His party regularity has never been in doubt.

At no time has Senator Taft denied General Eisenhower's right to be a candidate. If a personal schism developed, it was over the conduct of General Dewey, not over the conduct of General Eisenhower. Yet, knowing Senator Taft intimately, I would say that were Tom Dewey a candidate for President, Taft would be on his team because he firmly believes in the two party system and recognizes that a party cannot be subject, in a free society, to dictation by an individual but is a meeting of the minds on general principles, with a recognition of differences in approach and methods to be employed.

It is customary for a contender who failed, to wait for the successful nominee to invite his active support. This is done in both parties. The only difference in 1952 was that Eisenhower had never been in politics before and had less contact than is usual with the active leaders of the party. He had been a soldier and in recent years had been engaged in war and preparation for war outside the country.

Therefore, Senator Taft desired, if Eisenhower was willing, to discuss party affairs, personalities, relations and past performances. This was done at the famous conference at Morningside Drive in New York.

At that moment, a schism existed in the Republican Party arising from causes that go back to 1932. That schism had been continuous since 1932 and each year became more intense. It was not a fight over the fundamental principles, except the degree of American intervention in European affairs. It largely arose out of defeat and was stimulated by continued defeat. Involved also was a growing repugnance within the Republican party for the continued and increasing domination by New York, its bankers, its industrialists and its so-called intellectuals connected with national magazines.

With much of this, General Eisenhower was vaguely familiar. He was nominated because of his record in the American Army at war, not because of his record as a Republican politician. Taft, as is his habit, puts his ideas on paper; maybe, it is a habit arising from Yankee thrift. That document was not an ultimatum to Eisenhower; Taft had already agreed to active participation in the campaign and part of his speaking schedule had already been arranged and announced by the Republican National Committee. It was a statement of Taft's own position which Eisenhower could have rejected in whole or in part.

Eisenhower, recognizing that the American way is not dictation but a meeting of the minds where agreement is possible, while maintaining the full right to a free conscience and independence of thought where differences are fundamental, agreed with Taft in principle.

The points of agreement and disagreement were made public. The result of this has been that a schism in the Republican Party, which has lasted 20 years, was healed with the exception of the position taken by Senator Wayne Morse.

If the United States is not to become a political anarchy, the two party system must be continued. Had the schism not been healed, the Republican Party would have broken into splinters. While this would have assured a Democratic victory, it would also have had a like effect in the Democratic Party and would have produced blocs in the Senate. We might have had a Senate that resembled the French Chamber of Deputies.

So The Lunch Is Snazzy And The Suit Is Terrific

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—"Want more salad, dear?" she asked.

"No, thanks," he said.

"How do you like my new dress?"

"Fine."

"Fine?"

"Sure, fine. Wonderful."

Pause.

"What happened at the office today?" she asked.

"Nothing much. Usual routine."

"Now tell me frankly. Why don't you like the dress?"

"But I said I liked it."

"You said fine."

"Well?"

"Fine isn't your word. It's like grand. It's perfunctory. Swell, terrific, snazzy, maybe. But not fine."

"Okay, it's snazzy. It is, you know."

Pause.

"I suppose you think I'm silly," she said. "But I always say I like your new suits."

"It's been a year and a half since I had a new suit."

"Why do you say that?"

"Oh, let's cut this nonsense. I just said it, that's all."

"You're trying to make me feel guilty."

"Now look, I'm not trying to make you feel anything. I'm just trying to eat."

"Eat, sleep, office, eat, sleep. That's all I hear. I'm just—"

"Now you sound like someone in a bad soap opera."

"I don't care how I sound. So it's trite. Well, I feel trite. I'm locked up in this house all day while you're at the office doing heaven knows what—"

"What do you mean, Heaven knows what? I work at the office. You make it sound like something else—like wild parties."

"All day, cleaning in this house. Do you know how frustrating it is to clean a house? You dust the blinds. Next day they need dusting again. Oh, it's so rewarding. It's all so incredibly dull while you, you have lunch—"

"Don't you have lunch?"

"Sure, I have lunch. I have lunch alone or I have lunch with a neighbor and we talk about a new cake mix or the diaper service and isn't it scintillating? While you're having lunch out, different places, different people."

"What is it you women want anyway?"

"We want nothing special. Just to be happy. Well, to feel fulfilled. Just to be a part of the world. And you, you begrudge me a new dress!"

"I didn't begrudge you anything. You women are all alike. Before you're married, you talk about nothing but making a home and having children. And then you get married and you act like your husband put you in jail."

"Let me tell you that—"

"No, let me tell you. You women make your own jails and pretty soon you make your husband feel like he's not only the warden but a prisoner too. You make him feel like busting out. You—"

"Well, bust out! Go on, bust out!"

She ran up to her room, crying, and he ran up to the nearest bar. But she didn't go home to mother and he didn't stay away.

Instead, they had lunch together in town the very next day, which he thought was snazzy, and he bought a new suit, which she thought was terrific, and they didn't have another fight that whole month.

Electoral College Casts Votes

As happens once every four years, the United States is now a center of interest because of the presidential election. On the fourth day of November, a vast number of men and women will vote to decide who will be the next President. People are asking, "Will it be Ike or Adlai?" or "Will it be Eisenhower or Stevenson?"

Without taking sides, I present this question: "Which of the two men is more likely to lead the United States, and the world as well, along the path of peace?"

That question seems to rise far above all others. We have suffered two world wars during the present century and they have brought loss to every nation involved — loss of wealth and, far more important, loss of human beings. Clever men who are good of heart should be chosen for public office. Such men should be able to meet world problems without calling on the insane action known as war.

I have said that voters of the United States decide who will be President, and that is true in a general way. There is however, a "technical" fact. As provided by the American Constitution, the final voting is done by the electoral college. The voters choose electors, who send their ballots to Washington, D. C.

The electoral votes provide the legal choice when one candidate for President has the majority (more than half) of the votes. The same is true of the votes for vice president. The official vote takes place before Congress in January, and the new President and vice president go into office in the same month. That may sound like a long time to wait, but almost always the voters know which ticket will have the electoral majority during the night of the November election or the next morning.

If voters swarmed to the polls during a big election without advance proof of their right to vote, one persons might cast a dozen ballots in the same contest. To guard against that, men and women are required to register their names in advance of voting. When they register, they are expected to show that they are old enough to vote and are legal residents of the precinct.

Cadet Brings Ailing Plane Down Safely

A Webb Air Force Base aviation cadet exhibited skill and good judgment late Tuesday afternoon in bringing down an ailing T-28 propeller-driven trainer with no injury to himself or property, and minor damage to his airplane.

Cadet Melvin L. Toponce, of Richmond, Cal., was on a regular training flight when the propeller on his airplane began malfunctioning.

He called the Webb Air Force Base radio control tower, saying that he was losing altitude and preparing for a forced landing two miles north of the air base.

The tower operator watched Cadet Toponce execute an excellent forced landing with the airplane's wheels retracted.

Toponce's T-28 slid to a normal emergency belly-landing in a field north of the airport. Except for damage to the propeller and underside of the ship, the plane was shipshape.

Webb AFB officials said that it is normal practice in the Air Force to land in soft dirt with the wheels of the airplane retracted, to prevent a possible noseover which would greatly endanger the pilot and probably destroy the airplane.

Cadet Toponce was on the ground walking around his damaged plane within seconds after the landing, Webb officials said.

Area Drought Breaks Marks

The drought in the Big Spring area continues to break all records.

No rain at all has fallen in the 11-county West Texas Weather Improvement District area this month, and unless some is received during the few remaining days of the month other records will tumble.

The Water Resources Development Corporation reports it has not had a cloud-seeding opportunity since Sept. 30 and that the prospects at that time were only marginal. Not a single generator has been turned on since that date, a spokesman for the WRDC says.

Long range forecasts also indicate less than normal moisture for the area during November and December.

Sunday Funeral Ban Sought By Local Group

A second request that Sunday funerals be prohibited was met with the suggestion that florists, undertakers and ministers agree among themselves not to conduct the services.

City commissioners told a group of florists they "think we already have too many laws. The less government in business the better."

Spokesman for the flower shop operators was M. T. Kuykendall, of Faye's Flowers. He said all Big Spring florists are in favor of the banning of Sunday funerals, and that undertakers and preachers have been contacted and are in agreement with florists on the matter.

Kuykendall and other flower shop representatives said they hadn't intended for the funeral ordinance request to be brought up at the commission meeting last week, when it was rejected by commissioners.

They also said they have never considered the "expense or inconvenience" involved in remaining open on Sunday, topics which commissioners injected into the discussion last week.

The florists said they will attempt to reach an agreement on voluntary closing on Sundays. They also will investigate ordinances prohibiting Sunday funerals in other cities of comparable size to Big Spring. They asked that commissioners keep the matter under consideration.

Represented at the meeting were Faye's, Conley Flower Shop and Cottage of Flowers.

East-West Line Seen Over Armageddon

The East and the West face each other across the Valley of Efrata, where the "last great battle" is to be fought, Dr. P. D. O'Brien, First Baptist pastor, told fellow Rotarians Tuesday.

The minister, who visited the Holy Land and Europe last year, said that a line drawn between the Communist powers of the East and the Democracies of the West would pass across the great plain where the world's final battle (Armageddon) is to take place. And Palestine is a powder keg, he said.

He told of a feeling of oppressiveness that fell on him as he stood on a height and looked across the valley.

"It's time for some serious thinking and living that will bring down God's favors upon us," he declared in concluding a brief description of political and economic conditions he saw while in Europe and the Near East.

Dr. O'Brien discussed "the power of propaganda, problem of ignorance, unity of the Arab nations," and told of hate that he heard expressed against this country. Only the British are hated worse than Americans in Palestine, he said.

The speaker told of attending a Rotary Club meeting in Damascus where the flags of all nations except the U. S. and Britain were displayed.

Hate for this country and for the British stems from acts of businessmen and politicians, particularly in the seven Arab nations, he declared.

The minister said he considered this country's Point Four Program for the enlightenment of backward peoples as one of the most vital parts of foreign policy.

Guests at the meeting included Clifton N. (Jack) Bellamy, Bill Anderson and Dr. B. Broadrick of Big Spring; Ed L. McCollum and Floyd O. Boles of Midland; Jack Arrington of Granbury and E. A. Moritz of Boulder City, Nev.

Bootleggers Can Get Liquor Without Violating Any Laws

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of stories giving background on events leading up to the State House Crime Investigating Committee's decision to hold public hearings on charges of Texas bootlegging activities. The hearings will be in Amarillo Nov. 6-7.

By BOB BRAY

Amarillo Globe-Times Reporter

AMARILLO, Oct. 29 (AP)—Officers say bootlegging in Texas is a multimillion dollar business and some of them complain it's almost a legal one. If the bootlegger gets caught, odds are he can pay a stiff fine and still make money that month.

The State House Crime Investigating Committee, during its Nov. 6-7 public hearings in Amarillo, will study the bootlegging business from a profit standpoint. It also will consider possible loopholes in the law controlling bootlegging.

Officers say one glaring shortcoming in the State Liquor Control Act is that known bootleggers can purchase all the whiskey they want simply by saying it is for their own consumption. Liquors have built stores in isolated spots where their illicit trade can continue relatively unnoticed.

One swanky West Texas layout—an alcoholic oasis on the edge of a local option desert—reportedly sells more than $200,000 worth of liquor monthly.

Officers say dealers not only can sell to known bootleggers without violating the law. They also can draw up perfectly legal "false" road manifests and haul beer right up to the bootlegger's front door. Should they get caught unloading the beer, they can be prosecuted.

In order to make manifests legal, a beer wholesaler in Odessa, for example, rents warehouse space and takes out a branch distributor's license in Amarillo. He loads up a couple of hundred cases of beer and makes out a bill of lading for the Amarillo warehouse. This gives him the legal right to haul the beer through the dry counties between Odessa and Amarillo.

Should he be stopped by any officer along the way, he simply shows his manifest and tells the officer to go and catch someone who is violating the law.

The driver then goes to the bootlegger, say in Lubbock, who ordered the beer and hurriedly unloads it.

A couple of years ago a pair of alert officers in Lubbock spotted a semi-truck burdened down with beer parked in front of a club. Without waiting for any unloading to begin, the officers arrested the truck driver and confiscated his beer and truck. He quickly produced a bill of lading showing the brew en route to Amarillo and maintained he had just stopped at the club to call his wife.

Despite irrefutable evidence that the club sold beer to its members and a statement by the owner of the Amarillo warehouse that the place hadn't sheltered a bottle of beer in several years, it had been rented for that purpose and the case wouldn't stand up.

Second Man Charged In Kidnapping Spree

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The second of three men charged with kidnaping 20 persons in a three-day escapade through Georgia and Tennessee is in custody.

An alert FBI agent recognized 21-year-old Charles Edward Hopkins as he walked out of the Postoffice here yesterday and arrested him without a struggle.

Virgil LeMay, 15, was arrested at Nashville, Tenn., Saturday and is being held in $12,000 bond.

The man they both called the ringleader, James Francis Hill, 31, was still at large.

'Action Car' Dodge Now Displayed Here

The new 1953 Dodge passenger automobiles are now on display at Jones Motor Company, 101 Gregg Street. The new Dodges were unveiled here last Thursday.

J. T. Isbell, manager, calls the 1953 edition of the Chrysler Corporation's restyled Dodge the "action car." It has the most dramatic changes in the 83-year history of the automobile.

These changes are both in the motor and body. The new Dodges have a smooth flowing effect and a powerful 140-horsepower Red Ram V-Eight engine. Ten different models are being offered.

The new V-Eight engines are featured in the Coronet series, but the dependable six cylinder engine is retained in the Meadowbrook and Meadowbrook Special series. The Wayfarer is not included in the 1953 Dodge lineup.

Isbell stated that the Red Ram V-Eight engine produces more horsepower per cubic inch of displacement than any other automobile engine in volume production today.

Lower, softer lines were prominent on the new Dodge. And an increased glass area giving improved visibility adds to the body beautification of the car.

But in addition to a changed chassis and the Red Ram engine, other significant features were added, Isbell said the buyer has a wide choice of transmissions, with four different types of drive being offered.

The Gyro-Torque drive provides lightning response without shifting, the Gyro-Matic drive offers smooth no-shift driving, the automatic overdrive provides a cruising gear for gasoline economy, and standard drive is provided for those preferring to shift gears.

The chassis has been redesigned with a new compactness, but the passenger headroom and hiproom was increased further. The 1953 model has lower, longer and more smoothly flowing lines than any previous model. The long, low fender line is continuous from front to rear, accented by a "kick-up" on the rear fender.

Ornamentation has been completely changed. The hood is one-piece without a center-stripe. The grille styling, while entirely different from the 1952, still incorporates a touch of the previous model.

The instrument panel has been redesigned with new style control knobs. Interior styling is highlighted by new fabrics with smart stylized patterns for seat cushions.

The rear-end styling has a low, sleek continental appearance. Unusual features include a stern-side gasoline filler pipe cap, mounted directly below the left hand corner of the trunk lid. Dodge will also offer wire wheels and a continental-type rear tire mounting on the Diplomat hardtop at extra cost.

An improved control-arm arrangement on the front suspension system causes the 1953 Dodge to resist tilting on turns, Isbell said. And new, softer two-inch-wide rear springs with fewer leaves contribute to a more comfortable ride.

A wide range of bright, new colors and two-tone combinations are available to complement the beauty of the 1953 Dodge.

New Gift Shop Being Opened At Wagon Wheel

You'll notice a couple of innovations, next time you dine at the Wagon Wheel, Big Spring's "finest restaurant."

Constantly alert to the needs and demands of the area he serves, H. M. Rainbolt, Wagon Wheel owner and manager, is establishing a gift shop to be operated in conjunction with the restaurant.

The gift shop will be opened in the Wagon Wheel's Candlelight Room. It will feature a complete line of gifts, including many varieties of pottery and ceramics.

Rainbolt announces the gift shop will represent several of the country's best pottery and ceramics manufacturers, and all the products will be of the highest quality.

The Wagon Wheel gift shop is being opened as a result of both local and transient demand. Although Rainbolt felt he didn't have sufficient parking space for the more than 250 diners which could be served as long as the Candlelight Room was devoted to banquets and parties, he calls attention to the fact that gift shoppers will find adequate parking facilities at the Wagon Wheel throughout the day.

Closing of the Candlelight Room to dining doesn't mean that parties can't be accommodated at the Wagon Wheel, either. Rainbolt reminds patrons and others planning gatherings that the Western Room still is in operation and offers facilities for up to 30 persons. The same private service that made the Candlelight Room so popular is extended to the Western Room.

Another new feature at the fine restaurant is the new menu design. Rainbolt has installed a menu printing machine, which turns out menus that are easily read and which show almost at a glance the many selections of fine foods available.

The same high quality and deliciously prepared foods are served throughout the Wagon Wheel, whether patrons dine in the general restaurant area or the private dining room. Service is the best and most efficient available, helping to make the restaurant the most popular as well as the finest in the Big Spring area.

Cars Should Be Prepared Now For Winter Driving

Motorists should make certain that their automobiles are equipped to withstand the icy blasts of the winter just ahead by filling their vehicles' radiators with Prestone, long established as the best kind of anti-freeze on the market.

A concern which has plenty of Prestone on hand and is prepared to service automobiles with it is the Harland Magnolia Service Station, located at 1000 Lamesa Highway in Big Spring.

If you're in doubt about the supply of Prestone you had put in your vehicle last year, the place to have it checked is the Harland station, owned and operated by Grady Harland.

Harland's concern also has in stock a big supply of tires and tubes, including white sidewall tires, which recently have returned to the market.

The Mobil-tires and tubes are distributed by the Harland concern, along with other products of the Magnolia Oil Company.

Harland's is also a headquarters for motorists who have their automobiles washed, greased and the oil changed. Oil filters, of course, can also be installed by the employees of the Harland establishment in Big Spring.

Harland maintains an operating schedule of 6:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. seven days a week.

The personnel of the station is prepared to take care of the needs of motorists who demand emergency service and who might be stranded somewhere in the area.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Leslie C. Arends, Illinois Republican, said today that four million of the 13 million persons over 65 in this country are working "in order to live." He attributed this to "frightful inflation."

Man Without Nation Goes Into Drydock Along With His Ship

HONG KONG (AP)—Michael Patrick O'Brien went into drydock today with his home of the past six weeks, the Hong Kong-Macau ferryboat Lee Hong.

He came out of Red China last month with a Red Cross travel document but no passport. The Portuguese let him on the ferry at Macau but the British wouldn't let him off here. Back at Macau, the Portuguese closed the gate, too.

Ever since O'Brien has been making one round trip daily between the two cities. He claims U. S. citizenship but the U. S. consulate here says he is Hungarian.

Immigration authorities are keeping a close eye on O'Brien. The Lee Hong may be in drydock a month.

Alteration Shop Now Operated By New Owners

New ownership and management of the Alteration Shop is being announced.

Mrs. A. F. Gilliland has purchased the shop, located at 112 1/2 E. 2nd, from Mrs. Beulah Routh. She has two skilled seamstresses assisting with alteration and drapery work.

The Alteration Shop performs clothing alteration work of all kinds, specializing in maternity clothes. Fast service is assured for all work by the adequate staff and modern equipment, including latest models of Necchi sewing machines.

Quality of all alteration and other work is assured too, as Mrs. Gilliland is in business to stay and will depend on established as well as new customers.

Another convenience afforded the working wife are the shop hours observed by the Alteration Shop. Open each morning at 8 o'clock, the shop will receive patrons until 6 o'clock each evening, so that the working woman may bring her garments or other goods for alteration after her 5 p.m. quitting time.

The Alteration Shop also is open on Saturday afternoon for the benefit of patrons unable to call at other times.

Mrs. Gilliland also announces plans to remodel and enlarge her shop. The remodeling work will be started shortly and completed as quickly as possible in order to provide more working space and greater convenience and comfort to customers.

Operated in conjunction with the Alteration Shop is the Gilliland Sewing Machine Exchange, owned by A. F. Gilliland. The exchange is distributor for Necchi Sewing machines.

Yuletide Mail Overseas Up To Defense Needs

Since calling attention to the suggested dates for mailing Christmas parcels to military personnel stationed overseas, Postmaster Nat Shick says he would like to add that if these parcels are not delivered in time for Christmas that the Post Office Department should not be blamed.

He suggests that parcels be mailed even earlier than the former suggested dates, because, the Post Office Department does no more than deliver parcels to ports of embarkation where it is turned over to the military departments. "In other words," Shick says, "if a parcel is sent by air mail we can guarantee it air mail delivery to one of these ports, but that is as far as we can make a guarantee on it. When such mail reaches these ports it is turned over to military authorities and the Postal Service has nothing more whatever to do with it, or the manner in which it is transported overseas to its destination."

Shick says this matter is being brought to the attention of the public at this time for the reason that the Secretary of Defense has warned there are times when it is necessary to give airlift priority to urgently needed combat and medical supplies and military personnel, and that at such times it will be necessary to divert even air mail parcels to surface transportation or leave it at the port of embarkation for a later and less crowded airlift.

New Beauty In 1953 Chrysler

Shown above is the new 1953 Chrysler Windsor DeLuxe six-passenger sedan which features an entirely new body styling with long, low lines. The complete new Chrysler line goes on display tomorrow, and models will be shown locally at the Marvin Hull Motor Company, 600 East Third St. The 1953 models carry the proven engineering features which Chrysler introduced for this year.

ON DISPLAY TOMORROW

Longer, Lower Lines Noted In Chrysler Models For '53

New body styling featuring long, low lines is to be noted in the Chrysler models for 1953 which are ready for public showing. The new line will be shown locally beginning Wednesday at the Marvin Hull Motor Company, 600 East Third St.

The Chryslers boast of such proven engineering advances as the 180-hp V-8 FirePower engine, full-time power steering, Fluid Torque Drive, power brakes and Oriflow shock absorbers.

The 1953 Chrysler will be offered in six models with a total of twenty body styles. The lines this year are the Windsor, Windsor DeLuxe, New Yorker, New Yorker DeLuxe, all on an 125 1/2 inch wheelbase; Custom Imperial with a wheelbase of 133 1/2 inches and the Crown Imperial line with a wheelbase of 145 1/2 inches.

The Windsor is available in six-passenger sedan, club coupe, Town and Country wagon and 8-passenger sedan models; the Windsor DeLuxe in a choice of six-passenger sedan, special Newport club coupe and convertible coupe models. New Yorker models are available in six-passenger sedan, club coupe, special Newport club coupe, Town and Country wagon and 8-passenger sedan; and New Yorker DeLuxe models are available in six-passenger sedan, special Newport club coupe and convertible coupes.

The front end styling for the 1953 Chrysler models is designed to retain the established identification. The grills have been redesigned and refined and the new front end treatment includes new hood top ornaments and new parking light styling. On the sides of the cars long, low lines are achieved by carrying the front fender top line, back through the doors and blending it with the rear fender top lines.

Driver and passenger visibility has been considerably improved and a feeling of lightness in the top design in the new Chrysler is achieved by the more extensive use of glass. The total glass area has been increased from 23.3 to 25.9 square feet, and includes a new one-piece wrap-around curved windshield.

The new Chryslers are one inch lower than the previous models, measuring 62 1/2 inches in height. Despite the lower over-all height, head room has been slightly increased.

An increase in car width from 75 1/2 to 76 3/4 inches results in a 1/2 inch additional seating room in the front seat and a rear seat 5-8 of an inch wider. An increase of 11 cubic feet in the body volume has resulted in a much larger trunk compartment with a capacity increase of 26.8 to 38.7 cubic feet—an increase of 44.4 per cent.

The interiors of the new Chryslers are completely new with beautiful styling to match the new exterior design. The ledge between the top of the dash and the windshield is now covered with a non-reflecting vinyl material which cuts down glare and reflection. All instruments are grouped above the speedometer and directly in front of the wheel to provide visibility and permit safer driving.

The upholstery treatment in all Chrysler models for 1953 is rich and luxurious. Four upholstery options are provided for Custom Imperial models, in dark green, dark blue, tan and gray. Matching wheel, garnish molding, and carpet colors are provided. Other models are available in a similar variety of colors.

Chrysler for 1953 is offered in fifteen solid colors and in seven two-tone color combinations. New upholstery materials are available in thirty-five different fabrics and leathers.

Sparkman Says Ike Waves A 'Piece Of Political Baloney'

PORTLAND, Ore. (U.S. Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama, disregarding a recent attack of laryngitis, reeled off six speeches in Oregon and Washington yesterday and headed today for two more in Montana.

The Democratic nominee for vice president, warming up to his task in this final week of campaigning, went after Republican nominees Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and Sen. Richard Nixon personally in his Oregon talks.

He made five in that state, and in the most important—given at a Democratic rally that drew an estimated 1,000 in Portland—he accused the general of delivering "the biggest piece of political baloney waved before the voters in this campaign."

That was in reference to the general's stand on electric power developments in the Pacific Northwest. He told the crowd the general was trying to appear as favoring big public power projects, but in reality was siding with private utility interests.

In another talk—in the same Jewish synagogue building where Nixon, his Republican counterpart, spoke last month—he derided Nixon's stand on relations with minority groups.

Sparkman said he had voted against the McCarran Immigration Act, but that Nixon had voted for it. He said the bill was a slap in the face for immigrants and minority groups.

"Never at any time did he (Nixon) say one word about the need for modification which he has discussed so eloquently in recent

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sweetwater's Mustangs picked up 501 yards net against Plainview in that District 1-AAA battle last week end.

The Big Spring Steers don't figure to do as well this week against the Bulldogs but they reason any defense that leaks like that can be penetrated.

The Steers have the guns with which to do it. They have the incentive to win, too.

The Steers, though they've won only one of six games have been able to move consistently against every team they've faced but Breckenridge. And they have a fierce desire to go out and prove they're a better team than their record indicates.

Coach Carl Coleman may not have to do much to fire them up for this one. Mentally, they should be ready.

RICE GREATS WILL BE HONORED SATURDAY

Olie Cordill, the lad who went from Big Spring to football glory at Rice Institute, will be honored along with other members of the 1937 Owl team at Homecoming Saturday in Houston, when Rice plays Wisconsin.

Olie, now an officer in the US Air Force, stationed in San Antonio, was Ernie Lain's favorite receiver (and a great running back, besides) on the Rice team that beat Colorado in the Cotton Bowl, 28-14.

DALLAS TEXANS ARE IN A BAD WAY

Not much is being written about it in this area but the Dallas Texans are in serious financial straits.

Directors of the pro club met in Dallas last week to determine if they were to continue operations in the league.

The Dallas backers had expected to average 40,000 paid attendance per game. The average has been something like 13,000.

It's very likely the Miller brothers, Giles and Connell, will yield control of the club if it does remain in Dallas.

There is a possibility the club will be made a civic enterprise, like the Green Bay Packers.

It is figured the club can break even with an average attendance of 24,000.

Frank Calo, who caught for the Roswell Longhorn League baseball team last season, is coaching a girls' basketball team in that city.

Roswell, incidentally, is still distressed over the fact that it didn't land John (Monk) Raines, a hurler it purchased last winter.

Raines didn't report due to business interests. Instead, he wound up playing at Edenton of the Class D Coastal Plains League, where he won 26 games, lost five, posted an earned-run-average of 1.80, worked 32 complete games, pitched 268 innings, walked only 96 and fanned 244. (He was allowed to play there because he was sold back to Edenton.)

With a lad like Raines around, the Rockets would probably have finished high in the first division.

36 GAMES ON TAP

Webb Cagers Pared By Coach

With their opening game only a little more than two weeks away, the Webb Air Base basketball team is bearing down in workouts.

The Dusters, coached by I. Frank Dzierdanowski, have scrimmaged HCC's Jayhawks and another workout with the same bunch is on tap for Thursday night.

Dzierdanowski has cut the squad to 15. At one time, it was 50 strong.

At the present time, the player roster includes Thomas A. Davis, Robert E. Parkin, Robert R. Myers, Alton C. Mann, Charles Hammond, Johnny Peterson, David Johnson, George Simpson, R. M. Lopez, W. Flanagan, William Heater, Billy Williamson, Ed Columbus, Clayton Johnson and Dennis Cordero.

Webb opens its campaign against Walters AFB here Nov. 14. Thirty-six games have been carded for the team. A dozen of those games will be in conference play. The Dusters will compete in the North one of the Air Force Southwest Zone of the Air Force Southwest league play Jan. 6.

The Dusters wind up regular season play Feb. 27 against Ellington Air Base.

Charley Hoag, Kansas, Is Named AP 'Back Of Week'

By RIP WATSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—Charlie Hoag, slashing Kansas' backfield whose one-man offensive display dazzled Southern Methodist last Saturday, today was named the Associated Press' back of the week.

Hoag, the greatest ground-gainer in Kansas' history and one of the best all-around athletes in football this year, had the Mustangs going around in circles as he ran for one touchdown, passed for another and was the key man in two more scoring drives in Kansas' 26-7 victory.

Here's what the 20-year-old senior from Oak Park, Ill., did:

Sprinted 13 yards over right guard—without a hand being laid on him—for the first Kansas score.

Passed 13 yards to Paul Leoni for the final touchdown.

Kept the other Jayhawk scoring drives going with his running and pass-receiving, winding up with a total of 79 yards gained rushing, 74 gained catching passes and 13 passing himself for a total of 166 yards.

Kicked two extra points.

Coach Rusty Russell of Southern Methodist summed up the left halfback's performance as "great" and Kansas Tackle Oliver Spencer, who plays with Hoag as co-captain of the team, said it was the best performance of Hoag's three-year career.

Hoag, who set the University of Kansas' record of 9 spot in the AP poll after dropping from the top ten last week.

Hoag, who set the university ground-gaining record of 1,447 yards at the end of his junior year, also was an important member of Kansas' NCAA champion basketball team and the U. S. Olympic basketball squad. He also is a discus thrower—gaining fourth in the Big Seven meet in 1951 and won five letters in his first two years of competition.

Santa Clara Signal Bakers In Battle

SANTA CLARA, Calif., Oct. 26 (AP)—A red-hot battle is shaping up for the quarterbacking spot as Santa Clara's football Bronco driver for Saturday's game against Hamilton-Simmons at Lodi.

Duane Lewis has anchored the passing and signal-calling spot since the opening game, when regular QB Joe Clark injured a knee. But Clark returned yesterday and looked good in practice.

Coach Dick Gallagher indicated it's a tossup who will start against the Cowboys.

Ackerly Is Scene Of Game Thursday

FLOWER GROVE — Klondike and Flower Grove have moved their football game forward to Thursday night and will play it on a neutral field, at Ackerly.

The six-man contest was advanced in order to avoid conflict with Halloween festivities going on at both schools.

One Arm Gridder

Gets Acid Test Thursday Night

BULLDOGS IMPROVING

Plainview Will Be Tough, Football Scouts Insist

Scout reports on the Plainview football team, which plays Big Spring there this week end, are ominous. If the Big Springers are expecting the Bulldogs to be their paties Friday night, they'd better think again. So warn the scouts. The Bulldogs, although they haven't won a game, are coming along as a ball club. They're going to get a lot better before this season is out and Big Spring just might be the first club to find that out. Plainview gave the Sweetwater Mustangs all they could handle in the first half of their game last week. It was a different story the second half but, for the first two quarters, the Mustangs thought they had a tiger by the tail.

The Bulldogs are big, perhaps bigger than the Steers which field one of the heftier clubs in the state. And they're learning to use their size to good advantage. The Plainview team has been identified as a T Formation outfit but against Sweetwater the Bulldogs ran three out of every four plays from the Single Wing.

The Plainview club also throws a lot of passes and passing has been a weak spot in the Big Spring defense all year. Until the Longhorns are 'up' for this one, they may have a bad time of it. Physically, the Steers are sound. Big Jimmy Ellison, who sat out last week's game with Lamesa, is due back and should be able to play a lot of tackle for the Steers. No major injuries resulted in the Tornado go.

The Steers may take to the air against Plainview as they never have before. The Bulldogs often used a nine and ten-man line against the Ponies.

The Big Spring reserves have been running Plainview plays against the varsity corps this week, as the coaches spend long hours fretting over the defense.

The locals were due to go over play rehearsals this afternoon. Only a light drill is on tap for Thursday.

Steers Picked To Lick 'Dogs

Big Spring is picked to defeat Plainview this week by the Williamson Features Syndicate, Inc., grid analysts for the Daily Herald and other papers.

The margin of win will be slight, however, according to the system. Big Spring is given a strength rating of 77.4, compared to 76.4 for Plainview.

In other games this week end, Arlington Heights is liked over North Side (Fort Worth). Odessa gets the nod over Borger. Breckenridge is favored over Grand Prairie. Lamesa is the choice over Snyder. Midland is considered superior to Abilene. Wichita Falls is picked over Waco. Brownwood is likely to lick Weatherford. Austin of El Paso is apt to manhandle Yaleta. Denver City is the favorite over Sundown and Wink is selected over Big Lake.

In the Saturday games, it's Amarillo over San Angelo, Lubbock over Pampa and Paschal of Fort Worth over Fort Worth Tech. So says the Williamson system.

Ken Davis Kayoes Mexican Fighter

CLARENDON, Oct. 29 (AP)—Kenneth Davis, Clarendon, knocked out Timmi Rivera, Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, in 1:35 of the first round last night.

A right to the jaw sent the Mexican down for the count.

It was Rivera's first knockout in 30 professional bouts. The contest was Davis' fourth professional bout but before entering the fight-for-pay ranks last July, he had fought 115 amateur bouts in which he had registered 71 kayoes.

SHORTHORNS, ODESSANS CLASH HERE SATURDAY

Now sporting a 3-3 won-lost record, the Big Spring High School B football team faces its sternest test of the year here Saturday evening, at which time it plays the Odessa Hooses.

The Shorthorns, coached by Roy Baird and Mac Alexander, have beaten Sweetwater, Snyder and Colorado City while losing to Stanton A, Seagraves A and Sweetwater. The Shorthorns have come a long way since losing their opening game, 35-0, to Stanton. They're reaching the peak of efficiency last week end against Colorado City, when they won, 38-0.

This will be the last home game for the Dogs, who play in Snyder Nov. 8 and in Odessa Nov. 15.

Jerry Coody One Of Best, Bear Opponents Insist

WACO, Oct. 29 (AP)—Speaking of versatile football players consider Jerry Coody, the Baptist preacher who plays for Baylor.

Not only is he a fine runner but he's an excellent pass receiver and is considered the most solid blocker among the backs in the Southwest Conference.

Not since Jim Thomason's vicious blocking cleared the way for John Kimbrough at Texas A&M more than a decade ago has any back been quite so proficient.

And at hauling the pigskin he's quite a fellow.

To date, he's carried 39 times for 175 yards, a 4.5 average. He's the Bruins' leading pass-receiver with eight catches for 109 yards, and their top punt-returner with nine for 118 yards. He also was Baylor's top ground-gainer in 1951.

Coody has set up Baylor touchdowns in each of the team's last two games with punt returns of 34 yards or more. When the Bruins were plagued with "fumbleitis" in their Texas A&M game last week, Coody was the only Bruin back who did not fumble. He carried 10 times for 33 yards, returned three punts 58 yards and caught two passes for 22 yards.

He scored one touchdown and caught a pass on a 17-yard gain that put the winning touchdown drive in motion.

SMU's Bill Forrester calls Coody the hardest back to tackle he's met in two seasons. The Texas A&M players were quick to single out Coody as the "best back on the field out there today."

Yearlings Visit Odessa Saturday

The Big Spring Junior High School Yearlings try for their first win over an Odessa team Saturday when they play Crockett Junior High in Odessa.

The Yearlings have dropped two games to Bowie of Odessa and one game to Crockett. All have been close, however.

Next home game for the locals will be Nov. 8, when they play Snyder.

LOT OF FISHING IN MOSS CREEK

A lot of fish hooks have been wet in Moss Creek since the reservoir was first opened to fishermen eight years ago.

Lakekeeper Frank Covert reported today that more than 84,000 permits have been issued for fishing in the lake. That's more than 10,000 per year.

Covert said the number of fishermen at the lake doubled last week end after W. C. Mattingly of Big Spring pulled a 47-pound catfish out of the water.

US Team Wins At Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 29 (AP)—The United States equestrian team, weary from more than a year of almost steady competition, has shown it still has the ability to win when it counts the most.

The Americans, who won the three-day international low-score jumping competition at the past two Pennsylvania National Horse Shows, turned in a perfect ride last night to move out in front again this year.

Mrs. Carol Durand, Kansas City, Mo., on Pale Face, and Arthur McCashin, Pluckemin, N. J., came up with a faultless performance to snare the paired jumping event. The victory snapped the Mexican Army team's domination of the first three events at the week-long show.

The American triumph came right where it was needed the most—in the middle, and most difficult, event of the low-score competition. Coupled with Monday night's flawless ride, in which they lost the blue ribbon on time, it gives them an aggregate total of no faults. Runner-up Mexico has nine faults, all picked up last night.

The paired event called for two riders to take their mounts over a nine-jump course while keeping abreast. Mrs. Durand and McCashin rode in unison in a brilliant display of horsemanship.

Mexico, which had won the first three events of the show on the basis of their slightly speedier riding, needed two attempts before the veterans Gen. Humberto Martines on Chihuahua II and Capt. Victor Carrillo on Resorte II could get by on a knockdown apiece plus one fault for failing to take a jump abreast.

Going into the final event Friday afternoon the low-score standings have the U. S. team followed by Mexico with 9 faults, Ireland with 9½, France with 10, and Canada with 10½.

The five teams compete twice today for individual honors and the Maj. Gen. Guy V. Henry and Governor's Challenge Trophies.

The Brooklyn Dodgers' widest margin in the '52 race was 10½ games. The Brooks were never further than 2½ games off the pace. They trailed the Giants by that margin on May 28.

TV Woes Tops, Says O'Malley

NEW YORK (AP)—President Walter O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers is of the opinion that the television problem, rather than the bonus controversy, will be the No. 1 job for the major league owners at the annual winter meetings in Phoenix, Ariz., in December.

"We would like to televise our road games next year," O'Malley said. "In order to do that, I must get permission from the seven other clubs in the league. Sometime ago I wrote to all these clubs. Up to now, not one has given me the desired permission."

Despite capturing the National League pennant with what has been called the best team ever to represent Brooklyn, the Dodgers' home attendance was approximately 800,000 below their record year. "It took a seven-game World Series to put Brooklyn in the black," declared O'Malley.

Contrary to earlier reports, Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugger now stationed with the Marines in Puerto Rico, declared he fully expected to resume his baseball career after his discharge in October, 1953. "A man 34 or 35 years old, who has spent two years out of baseball as I am doing, can hardly come back and show the same effectiveness," he was quoted as saying. "But I expect to try a comeback. If I find I have lost the touch I will retire. I don't want any other position than that of a player."

Longhorns 16th In Dick Dunkel Grid Ratings

By DICK DUNKEL
Plowing relentlessly onward, like a bunch of berserk bulldozers, the seven undefeated teams that head the college football Power Index all fattened their ratings as the result of last week end's action.

No. 1 Michigan State pushed its batting average to a new high of 113.0, after its 34-7 pounding of Penn State was added to the record. The Spartans have licked their five opponents by an average margin of 25.4 points. These adversaries have had an average rating of 87.6. Adding 25.4 to 87.6 gives State its new number of 113.0 - the nation's best to date.

All of the country's 625 teams have set their own averages in this manner since the beginning of this system. At that time, all started with identical median ratings which eliminated the use of anyone's guess work.

Oklahoma maintained second place, with 110.2, after walloping Kansas State, 49-6, with Maryland (109.8) just a whisker behind after running over L. S. U., 34-6.

The remainder of the sensational seven fared as follows: No. 4 Georgia Tech (109.3) beat Vanderbilt, 30-0. No. 5 Southern California (107.8) dropped California from the undefeated list, 10-0. No. 6 Duke (105.3) did the same to Virginia, 21-7; and No. 7 U.C.L.A. (104.6) dumped Wisconsin, 20-7.

Other members of the Top 30 hopped around like fleas on a yo-yo, finally coming to rest - until next Saturday - as follows:

VOTE COMING UP

Bonus Payments To Untried Players May Be Curtailed

By RALPH RODEN
NEW YORK (AP)—Payment of fancy $100,000 bonuses to untried youngsters to sign with major league baseball clubs may be sharply curtailed in 1953.

Major and minor league clubs, at their joint December meeting in Phoenix, Ariz., will be asked to vote on a proposed new bonus rule that would limit such payments to $6,000.

The new proposal follows the shelling out of vast sums by major league clubs on green talent during the past several years. During the past 18 months, for instance, the Boston Red Sox spent some $430,000 for high school and college stars.

Two of the highest bonus players are Pitchers Paul Pettit and Billy Joe Davidson. Pettit, property of Pittsburgh received an estimated $100,000. Davidson reportedly received $120,000 for casting his lot with Cleveland. Neither has yet made the majors.

The new proposal was drawn up yesterday by a special recommendation committee of the game's Major-Minor Executive Council.

Committee members and the council met in Commissioner Ford Frick's office here. Afterwards they declined to say what was discussed, but it was learned that the bonus was the main topic of discussion.

The new proposal provides: 1. Each major league club owner would agree—in a sort of "gentlemen's agreement"—not to offer a bonus exceeding $6,000 to any player.

2. Violation of this agreement would subject the transgressor to a year's suspension, a $500 fine and loss of the player.

3. Minor league clubs would enter into a similar agreement with $6,000 as the ceiling for open classification, triple and double A loops, $4,000 for double A and $3,000 for B, C, and D organizations.

4. All bonus players regardless of the amount they received, would be subject to unrestricted draft if not called up to their major league club within one year.

5. Clubs would be forbidden to make special payments to parents, friends, relatives or agents in forms of cash, homes or automobiles.

The New York Giants have won more National League championships than any other club. They have copped 14 flags. The Cubs are next with 10 while the Cardinals follow with nine pennants.

Maxwell, Other Americans Competing At Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 29 (AP)—Mexico's 17th national amateur golf championship got under way today with defending champion Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, again the favorite.

But the three-time winner is up against tight competition in the championship flight of 58. Among the top entries are Billy Maxwell, Big Spring, Tex., and 1951 U. A. Amateur champion, Al Mengert, U. S. Amateur finalist; Count Henri de Lamaze, European champion; Joe Conrad, Denton, Tex., who won the 1950 Mexican title; and Texans Buster Reed, Dale Morey and Marion Hiskey.

Flight Captain Fernando Sala Gurria called the crop "excellent" and the outcome difficult to predict. But it was his opinion that Stranahan today is the world's number one amateur golfer, knows the flat 6,615-yard Mexico City Country Club course thoroughly, and is determined to take the title a fourth time.

Fifteen Mexicans are competing in the championship flight. They are headed by Carlos Belmont, tournament veteran who won the title in 1944, was finalist the following year, and again is back in top form after recently winning the Guadalajara title.

The 18-hole qualification round is played this morning. The 36-hole final is Sunday.

Mrs. Sara Chait Is High Bidder

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 29 (AP)—Mrs. Sara Chait of Putnam Valley, N. Y., was top bidder yesterday as the thoroughbred yearling fall sales opened at Keeneland.

She paid $11,700 for a roan colt by Mighty Story-May Mack, consigned by A. B. Karsner.

Second highest price of the afternoon and night session was the $11,500 Burton D. Chait of New York spent for a yearling black son of Reaping Reward-Lull from the Janet Hoaglin consignment.

The 72 youngsters sold at the afternoon session averaged $2,185. The 73 auctioned last night returned an average of $2,840. The opening day session last year brought an average of $1,467 and the night session $1,266.

The two-day yearling auctions, conducted by the Breeders Sales Company, continue through Friday. Breeding stock and horses of other ages will be disposed of next week.

Most of the spirited bidding at yesterday's session revolved around the Karsner consignment. Trio Stables paid $10,000 for a bay colt by imported Princequillo-Ficelle and $8,500 for a bay colt by Faultless-Set In.

Another Karsner colt, a son of Tiger-Celestial Blue brought $8,500 on a bid of Managhan Stables.

The afternoon session featured two $7,500 bids, one from Clifford Mooers, Texas horseman, who bought a bay colt from the Oglin consignment. The youngster was by Faultless-Queenul.

The other $7,500 offer was submitted by William Post of New York for a bay colt by Rippey-Boys I'm In.

HAUL WITH THRIFTY POWER... SWITCH TO DODGE!

"... pays off in extra economical operation!" says Vernon Hanson, Vernon Hanson Lumber Co., Creswell, Oregon

"We operate over rough off-the-road areas and haul big loads in all kinds of weather," says Mr. Hanson. "Our work is plenty rough on trucks, but our Dodge 'Job-Rated' truck can really take it. "We've found, for example, that we haul bigger payloads without overloading in a Dodge. Our maintenance cost is exceptionally low, too, and this pays off in extra economical operation. "And Dodges are super dependable, day in and day out they really put out the work. Yes... for tough hauling jobs, we like Dodge trucks!"

THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

With the comment that "we've got a lot of people on the payroll in Washington who ought to be in the penitentiary," an 82-year-old West Texas Democrat, rancher and veteran peace officer, has announced that he is going to support Ike this time.

He is Bob Hewitt, retired rancher and former Tom Green County sheriff. "My Dad was a Democrat," he says. "I was born and raised a Democrat and have always voted the Democratic ticket. I still consider myself a Democrat, but I can't vote for Stevenson. He may be all right but he's running with a bad bunch." It was at this point that he added his comment about the payroll and the penitentiary.

Hewitt says he has given the campaign a lot of study and has been in doubt about the course he should take because he hated to break his Democratic tradition. "But I can't stand that Missouri gang any longer. If Truman were to call me some of the things he has been calling other people, I'd hit him, even if he is President."

"Uncle Bob" started working cattle for his father in Coleman County in the late 1870's, while still a boy. Later he worked on various ranches in the San Angelo country, often as a wagon boss. He served as deputy sheriff from 1921 to 1924 and as sheriff from then until 1932. He owned a Coke County ranch from 1906 until he sold it in 1937.

Hassell Elliott, the man who gets the Creighton Herefords ready for the shows and sales is a pretty busy man these days. He's preparing 20 registered bulls for the coming auctions, and that takes a lot of washing and brushing and combing and feeding and cleaning and teaching 'em how to behave them selves so as to make the best impression on the man who has two things, (1) need for a bull, and (2) a check book.

Seven of the bulls Hassell is giving the best he's got, are going to the Round Up Sale at Fort Worth, sponsored by the Texas Hereford Association; four go to the Abilene sale, Dec. 1; one to the Sweetwater sale, Dec. 2; one to the Anxiety 4th Sale at Amarillo, Dec. 8; two to the Big Spring sale, Jan. 8; two to the Concho sale at San Angelo, Jan. 10, and two to the Sand Hills sale at Odessa in March.

And when he takes the two bulls to the sale here, the chances are that Hassell will call their attention to some work he's done in the car penning and construction line, because he was one of the men who put in a lot of hard work and time getting the interiors of the Howard County Fair Association barns in top shape.

Creighton brought his 109 head of registered Herefords home from Kansas over the week end. He managed to get a 300-acre stalk field and has them on it. Charlie says it is beginning to get pretty dry in Kansas, too.

When we recently published the figures showing the large number of pink bollworms being found in gin trash in this area, some farmers didn't believe them. They were sure it must have been a printer's error. There just couldn't be that many in this part of Texas.

And so they went to see Bert

Badger, fieldman-inspector for the Division of Pink Bollworm Control, and Badger assured them the figures were correct and that he had supplied them for official records. The pink bollworm infestation in this part of West Texas is heavier than it ever has been. The pink bollworms are moving north. Last season they wintered farther north than they ever have before, which can in some measure be attributed to the mild winter.

Many farmers do not know their crops are infested because they don't know how to look for the pink bollworms, or because they haven't looked at all. This week Badger brought in a batch of green bolls selected at random from over the area. Nearly every one of them looked perfect from the outside, and yet we found pink bollworms in nearly every one of them, with the seed destroyed and the lint discolored and ruined.

Farmers wishing to know whether or not their crop is infested with this most destructive pest that cannot be reached with insecticides, should gather a number of green well-formed bolls at random from all parts of their fields and take them to Badger at his office in the basement of the Big Spring Post Office for examination, or make an appointment with him to visit the crop and make an inspection in the field.

The pink bollworms aren't the only form of unusual life that appears to be moving north. For years true armadillos have been found farther north than ever before. This year they are being discovered as far north as McAlester, Oklahoma. Heretofore it has been unusual to find one north of Red River. Game and fish officials in both Texas and Oklahoma have no answer to the question of why these animals are moving north. Wild animals are much more sensitive to coming, even long range, weather changes than man-made gadgets. This may be a sign that we're in for milder winters over a long cycle. If this is true all forms of insect infestation may get worse.

Cotton Belt Plans No More Discontinuances

TYLER, Oct. 29 (AP)—General Passenger Agent R. A. Pendergrass says the Cotton Belt Railroad does not plan to do away with any more passenger train schedules in Texas.

"The two trains operating between Tyler and Waco which were discontinued Oct. 15 were the only Texas trains to be discontinued," he said last night.

He said the Cotton Belt would continue to operate two trains daily between Dallas and Texarkana and between Tyler and Mt. Pleasant.
