Ike Seen Insisting Mate Come Clean; 76 Gave To Nixon Fund

Truce Talks Are Recessed

MUNSAN, Sunday, Sept. 21 (AP)—Truce talks lapsed back into another week-long recess today—the eighth in a row—when a rancorous 52-minute session of Communist and United Nations delegations failed to crack the prolonged deadlock on prisoner exchange.

Each side accused the other of propounding lies.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior U. N. delegate, barely mentioned the prisoner issue. Instead, his 27-minute statement challenged the Red contention that South Korea began the war. He declared: "... You have now arrived at the point where the bigger lie, the better it sounds in your ears."

Eisenhower Awaits Formal Accounting

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The controversy over Sen. Richard M. Nixon's expense fund continued tonight amid these developments:

1. A Pasadena backer of Nixon made public an accounting showing that 76 California manufacturers, lawyers, oil men, social leaders and others contributed $18,235 for Nixon's expenses as a senator since November, 1950. The accounting said the money was spent for travel and hotel expenses, radio and TV, extra office help and the like.

2. Before hearing of the accounting, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was reported to feel that Nixon should "come clean as a hound's tooth" if he was to remain as the Republican vice presidential nominee. Word from Eisenhower's campaign train at that time was that the general felt, from all the facts so far in his possession, that Nixon had done no wrong.

3. As Nixon campaigned through Oregon, Democrats in his audiences raised placards bearing such taunts as "No nink coats for Nixon, just cold cash." Nixon warmly replied that his wife wore a "good Republican cloth coat" and that the cash was an open and above board fund to assist him in fighting "crooks and Communists."

Eisenhower aides said tonight that the general had not yet received the Nixon fund accounting and would not comment until he had Jack Bell and Don Whitehead, Associated Press reporters on the Eisenhower train, wrote:

"From the information given by the highest possible sources on the train it appeared to these reporters that unless a detailed breakdown shows some expenditures for Nixon's personal use or advancement of his standard of living, Eisenhower is likely to accept the California senator's explanation and that Nixon is not guilty of wrongdoing."

The accounting given today seemed not to include any expenditures that Eisenhower might find objectionable on the grounds that Nixon was receiving money for personal use.

Bell and Whitehead added: "The Republican presidential nominee is known to feel, however, that one of the principal points involved is whether Nixon may have been influenced in his Senate votes and in his general activities by the expense contributions."

"Eisenhower can be said to feel that if the contributors were making the money available to aid Nixon in carrying on a campaign against Communists and corruption in government, he would regard that as a worthy cause."

The accounting of the fund was made public at Nixon's request by Dana C. Smith, Pasadena attorney who says he originated the idea of the fund and has acted as trustee.

Nixon later issued a statement saying that existence of the fund had been a matter of public knowledge all along and reiterating that he never got a cent for his personal use and that none of the contributors ever asked him for favors or received any.

He also declared: The fund was set up to finance strictly political activities on his part; it enabled him to fill his speaking and mailing schedule without padding his government expense accounts; contributors were persons who wanted him to continue a campaign against communism and corruption; and

Coal Peace Is Achieved

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—John L. Lewis won sweeping concessions from Northern soft coal operators today in a new contract which staves off a strike due Monday.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers Union, was expected to insist on—and probably get—the same terms from the rest of the industry.

His agreement with the Northern operators calls for a boost of $1.90 in daily pay and a 10-cent-a-ton increase in the royalty mine owners pay into the miners welfare fund.

Present pay is $16.35 a day and the current royalty is 30 cents a ton.

The wage increase and other contract terms will be effective Oct. 1 and run until Oct. 1, 1953.

Lewis told reporters that he had sent out telegrams ordering Northern mine workers to remain at their jobs Monday. About 170,000 of them had been scheduled to walk out then.

Lewis called the agreement "a triumph of collective bargaining in the mining industry."

The pact was announced jointly by Lewis and Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Producers' Association. Moses said in a statement:

"We are gratified to be able to inform the American people that they will have an uninterrupted supply of bituminous coal this fall and winter."

Moses said the $1.90 per day pay boost means about a 32-cent-an-hour increase for the miners. He said that it was an increase of 11.6 per cent in wages.

The new contract will cost the operators almost 40 cents per ton of coal, Moses said. He made it plain that coal prices will go up shortly, saying:

"We feel we have an obligation to apply for a price increase and we probably will (do so)."

He added that while coal now is selling below ceiling prices, the industry believes that prices should be decontrolled.

Lewis chimed in at the joint news conference to say the union agreed with the decontrol idea.

Joseph E. Moody, chief negotiator for the Southern Coal Producers Association which was not involved in today's agreement, said he thought the pact between Lewis and the Northern operators was "awful rough."

"I haven't any idea what my people will do," Moody said.

The Southern association's board of directors meets here Thursday. On the matter of reaching an agreement with the Southern owners, Lewis said they could reach him by telephone at any time to resume negotiations. The Dixie owners face an Oct. 1 strike threat.

Lewis and Moses said that they had negotiated "other changes" in the old agreement, but they declined to specify them and Moses observed that they were relatively unimportant.

The new agreement contained no changes in working hours. Lewis had been reported seeking a reduction in the present eight-hour day.

UN Takes Old Baldy In Korea

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR
SEOUL, Korea, Sunday, Sept. 21 (AP)—Two columns of Allied infantrymen battled their way to the top of Old Baldy Hill in Western Korea early today and recaptured it after a stiff fight with defending Chinese Reds.

An Allied front-line officer reported confused fighting still was in progress several hours later, but said:

"We are still on the hill."

The Allied attack was launched from two directions in an apparent attempt to envelop the Reds and cut off their retreat.

First reports from the front said only the Allied forces were on top after a stiff battle.

Thunderous U. N. artillery fire supported the Allied infantrymen as they battled up the scarred eastern and western slopes.

The Chinese answered with intense mortar and artillery fire at both the relief columns and tired U. N. infantrymen who have hung to the southern slopes since Thursday night.

An earlier attempt Saturday to regain Old Baldy was turned back by the Chinese after Allied infantrymen reached within 300 feet of the top.

Fighting raged at eight other points or the Western and Central

Hammer Burglars Hit

Two sides of vault were attacked by hammer-wielding burglars who broke into the Big Spring High School principal's office early Saturday. At right is door of the principal's vault with arrow pointing at hole where combination knob used to be. At left is the wall of a restroom which forms one side of the vault around the corner from the door. Burglars used an eight-pound sledge in an effort to break through the wall. They didn't get in.

Young Burglars Escape When Police Surprise Them At HS

Two youthful burglars were flushed out of the Big Spring High School building early Saturday when police surprised them in an attempt to break open a vault.

The pair, believed to be about 17 or 18 years of age, escaped by outrunning one policeman and evading another who was waiting outside the building at what he thought would be their point of exit.

They failed to crack the vault and fled without loot of any kind. Tools used in the attempted burglary were left behind.

It was the second time in less than a week that burglars have raided the high school. Last Sunday night, $170 in cash and checks and two wrist watches were taken from the same vault in Principal Roy Worley's office.

The Saturday morning burglary attempt occurred between midnight and 1 a.m. Police Sgt. C. L. Rogers and Patrolman E. R. Buzbee surprised the juvenile yeggs after finding two windows broken. They were visiting the high school on a routine patrol.

Suspecting burglars might be inside, Buzbee entered the building through one of the broken windows while Rogers remained outside the other near the east entrance to the plant.

As Buzbee approached the principal's office, he saw one of the youths, who evidently spotted the officer about the same time. The burglar fled out the front entrance with the patrolman in hot pursuit, but the door slammed shut in Buzbee's face and he was delayed in getting out the building.

Meanwhile, Rogers, at the entrance to the east wing several hundred feet away, saw the youth Buzbee was chasing and another person flee from the front of the building, across Eleventh Place and between houses in the 700 block. Buzbee got out of the building in time to fire three warning shots in the air before the youths disappeared. The officers tracked the pair to 703 E. 13th Street where

Reviewing The Big Spring Week With Joe Pickle

The Big Spring High School Steers broke the football drought Friday evening. The 33-0 trouncing administered the San Angelo Bobcats was not only a measure of sweet revenge for the lads, but it was the largest score piled up by a Steer in 11 years. More of the same brand of ball exhibited in the opening home game will make the team a district contender instead of a supposed door mat.

In view of this major upset, it wouldn't surprise us now if the weatherman should come through. Showers, incidentally, poured out .06 of an inch with the east side of town getting substantially more.

Public hearing on a proposed $557,391 budget for Howard County in 1953 is scheduled for 10 a. m. Monday. If you don't bother to voice opinions at these sessions, arranged specially for citizens, you don't have any beef coming on expenditures.

Attendance has been good and so has response at the tent revival being led at 16th and Nolan by Evangelist Lester Roloff. When they apparently got in a waiting automobile and escaped.

The policemen saw enough of the burglars to approximate their age and describe their clothing. Charles Reidy, 703 E. 13th, saw one man enter a car which was parked across the street from his residence at about the same time the two were escaping from the school.

Not knowing of the attempted burglary, he notified police of the presence of a prowler in the neighborhood. Reidy said the automobile had driven up and down the street a number of times earlier in the evening.

The youthful yeggs apparently tried to open the vault by knocking the knob off the strongbox door. The punch they carried evidently was too large to extricate the tumbler pin, so they then tried to hammer their way through a restroom wall at the side of the vault.

Two large holes were knocked partially through the wall with an eight-pound sledge hammer, which was left in the building. A small flashlight also was left in the building, and a screwdriver and punch were found on the escape route near Eleventh Place.

Stevenson Opens Southern Drive

By MARVIN ARROWSMITH
RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 20 (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson arrived in Richmond tonight, starting his first campaign in the South, and said in a speech he fully supports the Democratic platform which calls for federal legislation to back up a Fair Employment Practices Commission.

Stevenson traveled by automobile across Virginia, driving from Washington to Richmond.

The Democratic presidential candidate's prepared speech said:

"In the broad field of minority rights, the Democratic party has stated its position in its platform; a position to which I adhere."

Crowds formed an almost solid line on both sides of the streets in Richmond from the city limits to the capitol buildings. Stevenson went to the executive mansion of Gov. John Abtite, who greeted him on the steps of the mansion. The presidential candidate stayed at the mansion and had dinner until time for him to begin speaking.

Stevenson stopped twice on the road to Richmond, first at Fredericksburg where some 2,000 people were waiting in the center of town, and again at Bowling Green.

At both points, the governor, standing in an open convertible, made brief statements. He said that out of deference to the fact that today was Rosh Hashanah, Jewish new year, he would not make a political speech.

"I am not going to cut the enemy to ribbons," he said. Then he grinned and declared:

"Anyway, they seem to be taking care of that themselves."

This apparently was a reference to disclosures that the GOP vice-presidential candidate, Sen. Richard Nixon, received $18,235 in donations from a group of Southern Californians. There has been talk that he may resign from the race as a result.

All along the route Stevenson was greeted with "I Like Ike" placards and people called out that Republican campaign slogan frequently when he passed.

But the smiling, slightly sunburned governor told a crowd about a thousand in Richmond's Capitol Square that he enjoyed every minute of his trip down in Virginia.

Earlier in the day at Quantico, Stevenson handed out commissions to new second lieutenants in the marines—one of whom was his son, Adlai III.

Campaigning in the South for the first time, Stevenson declared here that he stands by the Democratic platform calling for federal legislation in the politically explosive civil rights field.

In a prepared speech at the Mosque Auditorium in this capital of the old Confederacy, Stevenson added:

"I should justly earn your contempt if I talked one way in the South and another way elsewhere. Certainly no intellectually dishonest presidential candidate could, by an alchemy of election, be converted into an honest President.

"I shall not go anywhere with beguiling serpent words."

Bidding for Dixie votes against the background of opposition to his candidacy on the part of some prominent Democratic leaders in the South, the Illinois governor said "long years of Republican

Ike Vows Clean-Up Will Be First Task

By DON WHITEHEAD
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower told a St. Louis audience tonight a housecleaning in Washington would be his first job if he is elected president in November.

In a prepared speech at a rally sponsored by the National Federation of Women's Republican Clubs, the GOP candidate said the clean-up in Washington would be the first of a five-stage program. The others he labeled: to save, to streamline government, to decentralize it and to unify it.

"From the beginning," he promised, "we will bring into government men and women to whom low public morals are unthinkable. Thus we will not only drive wrongdoers and their cronies out of government. We will make sure that they do not get into government in the first place."

Chest Kick-Off Is Set Monday

IRA THURMAN

First phase of Howard County's 1952 Community Chest campaign will get underway Monday morning.

Kick-off breakfast for the special gifts division of the drive is set for 7:30 a.m. at the Settles Hotel.

Chairman Ira Thurman and other leaders of the division will distribute solicitation kits to some 30 workers, offer instructions and furnish solicitors with pledge cards. Special gift workers will start their contact work immediately after the breakfast.

Team leaders in the division are K. H. McGibbon, Truman Jones and A. Swartz.

Other phases of the Chest campaign will be started a week later with a dinner at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 29. While the special gifts drive is progressing this week, business and industry and residential canvass divisions of the campaign organization will be recruiting workers and setting up machinery for a concerted drive next week.

Next Sunday will be "Red Feather Day" in all local churches and Mayor G. W. Dabney is to proclaim the week of Sept. 28 "Community Chest Week" in Big Spring.

Zone chairmen in the business and industry division of the drive are to have all team captains appointed for their part of the campaign by Tuesday. Chairman Lewis Price will meet with zone and team leaders at that time to discuss drive plans and complete the job of choosing a full staff of workers.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Krausse are co-chairmen of the residential solicitation division. They also will select team captains and other workers to conduct that phase of the campaign next week.

A similar program is being set up for the area gifts phase of the drive, which E. L. Powell will direct.

General chairman of Community Chest is Elmo Wasson. He is assisted by Krausse and Gil Jones, vice chairmen.

The Howard County Community Chest will drive for $49,952 this year for distribution to Boy and Girl Scouts, the YMCA, Salvation Army and Servicemen's Center (USO).

The goal this year is the same as in 1951 except for the addition of a $3,000 item for the Servicemen's Center. The Red Feather drive is conducted in lieu of five separate campaigns for the participating agencies.

County Fathers To Hold Open Meeting On Planned Budget

The Howard County Commissioners Court will hold a public hearing on the proposed budget for 1953 at 10 a.m. Monday in the Courthouse.

Tentative budget was filed by County Judge Walter Grice and Auditor Chester O'Brien last week. The budget is subject to criticism and inspection Monday.

Disbursements for 1953 are planned at $570,295. The tentative budget calls for $52,274 more expenditures during 1953 than in 1952. The ending balance in 1953, according to the tentative budget, will be $9,103.

Iran Queen Mother Breaks Ankle On Arrival In U.S.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Iran's Queen Mother arrived today for a visit in this country, but misfortune marred the occasion. She slipped on a stairway of the liner Nieuw Amsterdam and broke an ankle, a ship's officer reported.

The Queen Mother, Esmat Molouk Pahlevi, had been travelling incognito but the accident quickly brought out her identity.

About 100 people, including the Iranian consul general of New York, saw the mishap occur about 8 a.m. after the vessel had docked at nearby Hoboken, N. J. Witnesses said she fell about three steps.

Ike Headquarters To Be Set Up Here

The local drum-beating for Ike will take on a rhythm this week—and plans of his supporters are for the tempo to step continuously from now until November 4.

Two developments were announced by Republican leaders:

(1) Headquarters offices for a Howard County Eisenhower Club will be opened Monday. They will be located in the lobby of the Settles hotel, where personnel will be on duty regularly and through which campaign activities will be clear.

(2) A meeting has been called for 7:30 Tuesday evening in the city courtroom at the city hall, of Ike supporters. Notices of the meeting have gone out from Al W. Dillon, campaign chairman of Republican Eisenhower forces, who specifically is seeking leaders from each of the county's voting precincts. He announced, however, that "every person interested in the candidacy of General Eisenhower is cordially invited to attend."

Dillon also called attention to the fact that every citizen who wants to enroll as an Eisenhower supporter is invited to do so notify the local club through the downtown headquarters. This office is to have a telephone by Monday he said, and on hand as clerk-receptionist will be Miss Ruby Powers, former member of the Big Spring school faculty.

Campaign buttons, literature and general information will be made available through the headquarters, Dillon said.

The supporters of Eisenhower are taking this means of opening their campaign to the public," the chairman said. "We feel that there are many, many Howard County citizens who are for Eisenhower, and are ready to work in his behalf as well as vote for him. We invite contacts from every one of these people. We feel that of the sentiment in Texas is like that of Governor James F. Byrnes of South Carolina who has announced that loyalty to country comes before anything else. We think this sentiment can be turned into a victory for Eisenhower in November. We solicit the help of all those willing to join in this cause."

Drought's Length Averages 27 Months In Key Areas

FORT WORTH, Sept. 20 (AP)—The U. S. Soil Conservation Service said today the Southwestern drought is the worst in Texas' history.

Neighboring Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana are in better shape. They have been hard hit in some areas by months of dry weather. Crop yields, especially corn, have been greatly reduced—but most range and pasture lands are in condition to recover fairly well, the conservation service said.

The blistering sun and dry weather have cost Texas farmers an estimated one hundred million dollars in crops alone and untold losses in pasturage. Reviving rains must fall before the experts can tell how much Texas forage has been baked beyond recovery.

The service's regional office analyzed reports from 440 field offices—230 of them in Texas—for its four-state drought survey.

The service used these checkpoints in determining that Texas drought is the worst yet: areas in which, duration, effect on land cover, persistent heat and scanty rainfall.

Louis P. Merrill, regional director of the conservation service, said the present drought has been in effect an average of 27 months in key areas—and as long as 34½ months in South Texas.

The drought of 1916-1918 lasted an average of 24 months. And the big dry spell of the 1933-36 "Dust Bowl" days hung on for an average of 24.4 months.

However, from the standpoint of area covered, the 1933-36 drought was worse nationally than the current one. In the Great Plains states, including Texas and Oklahoma, the "Dust Bowl" spread through 1,203 counties.

The conservation service's report shows a broad, uneven belt of the worst drought condition—poor to very poor soil cover and poor to very poor moisture—running from Brownsville, at the southern tip of Texas, to the Red River on the Oklahoma border. It covers nearly half the state.

This belt follows the Rio Grande southwest into the Big Bend and far West Texas. Its eastern edge angles into Central West Texas, then veers sharply east and north to the Red River.

There are big patches of this condition in El Paso's far western corner of the state, in the Panhandle and South Plains and in North Central Texas.

Most of the rest of Texas shows fair to good soil cover but poor to very poor moisture. This condition prevails in Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. However, Oklahoma also has big strips of the worst drought condition joining Texas' bad strips in the Panhandle and at the Red River.

In widely separated locations, the estimated length of the drought includes 28 months at Lubbock, 23½ months at Haskell, Fort Worth and San Angelo; 24½ months at Big Spring, 22½ at Fort Stockton, 32½ at Del Rio and 34½ at Falfurrias.

"In many of the drought-ridden western, southwestern and southern portions of the state," Merrill said, "crops have been a complete failure. In ranching areas, range cover has largely disappeared. Stockmen have sold or moved out up to 80 per cent of their herds."

The survey showed that conditions in the Lubbock area have improved materially since April and that much relief has come to the Marfa-Fort Davis County in Southwest Texas.

Heavy, flood-producing rains last week in the Colorado and Guadalupe river watersheds may be a forerunner of a break in the drought in those areas. Still, the conservation service said cautiously, the rains may have been no more effective than heavy storms at Alice in 1951 and near Dublin earlier this year. In both cases the drought was interrupted only briefly.

East Texas has suffered from the hot, dry summer but still has fair to good soil-covering vegetation, although it is generally dry.

But 81 counties in West and South Texas and parts of 68 others are suffering extreme drought with respect to both cover and moisture. Twenty-two counties and parts of 40 others west of the North Texas blacklands have fair cover but are extremely dry.

In Mitchell, Howard and Reagan counties, the shipment of livestock to market or to pastures elsewhere is estimated at 80 to 90 per cent. In 20 other counties, the outward movement has been from 60 to 80 per cent, in 32 counties it has been 40 to 60 per cent and in 48 counties 20 to 40 per cent.

Some ponds have dried up and water wells are falling, but stock water conditions generally are not yet critical. In the isolated critical areas, stockmen have been hauling in water for months.

Plant cover and crop residue—important in farming and ranching conservation—no longer exist in some drought areas. In many sections work on most conservation practices is at a standstill, Merrill said. In others, farmers are taking greater interest in conservation.

Most Texas land was too dry for planting summer grasses and legumes. But in many soil conservation districts, farmers now have supplies of winter grain and legume seed ready for planting when moisture conditions are better.

South Texas sections have been hard hit. Zapata County is one of the driest. Drought conditions began there in 1951. In parts of the county, no rain has fallen in 1952 and ranchers have sold or shipped away 75 per cent of their livestock.

"The extent of damage from the drought in Texas range areas cannot be measured immediately," Merrill said. "Forage losses can be determined only after enough rainfall has occurred to bring surviving plants back into growing condition. Recent rains in a few drought areas show that ranges on which conservation management has been practiced have come through the dry weather in best condition."

Although Merrill said flatly the current drought has hit Texas harder than those of 1916-18 and 1933-36, he said information is too sketchy to make a good comparison with the one of 1885-87. But according to an account by Dr. W. C. Holden, curator of the Texas Tech Museum at Lubbock, that drought ran 23 months, four months less than the average for the one still hanging on.

SCOUTS SEEKING COUPLE'S MONEY

DENISON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Some 50 Boy Scouts showed up at the J. E. Boren farm southwest of Denison early today and started a king-sized treasure hunt.

The scouts were armed with hoses and rakes and will comb the 3-acre tract where the 73-year-old Boren lost his life's savings of $580 last week.

"It's pretty close to a needle-in-a-haystack task," reported Scout Executive Byron Wolsey, "but three acres isn't much ground for 50 boys to cover and it was lost there, we have a longshot chance to recover it."

The old couple had kept their savings at home rather than in a bank. Mrs. Boren had worn it strapped around her waist until it got too hot about a month ago when she gave it to her husband.

Texas Doctors Dedicate New Austin Building

AUSTIN, Sept. 20 (AP)—Texas medical doctors today pointed proudly to their new $750,000 headquarters and library building here, dedicated in double-bared ceremonies yesterday.

The building houses offices of the Texas Medical Association and its 22,000-volume library.

Speakers at the afternoon and night ceremonies warned against the danger of socialized medicine.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) listed these practical steps the medical profession is taking against socialization with these words:

"It is not for the government—either at the county, state or national level—to institute a system of medicine for its citizens. That is not the way to solve our problems."

"The fruitful approach—the approach that should be taken by free men—is cooperation between every medical association and individual citizens. Through that cooperation, we should strive to make good medical care available to good people regardless of their financial station in life."

"That is an objective towards which we are making good progress."

TB Group In County Sets $1,695 Budget

After reviewing an expanding program, Howard County Tuberculosis Association officials Friday evening looked hopefully for record response to the annual Christmas seal sales.

A budget of $1,695 was affirmed. This included $515 for administration, $150 for seal sale expense, $300 for patch test materials for city and rural school children, $420 for X-rays on follow up of patch tests and other diagnostic aid, $150 health education, and $160 expense in connection with the mass chest X-ray campaign.

Last year the association expended $491 for administration, $135 for seal sale expense, $273 for supplying materials for the urban and rural school children patch tests. Then it spent $418 for X-rays in following up on positive reactors to the patch tests, and in helping in indigent cases. This proved adequate only because hospitals made considerable cost concessions to help the program. The association spent another $25 for health education, bringing the total year's disbursement to $1,343 (exclusive of $253 which went to state and national TB work).

Net revenues amounted to $1,176, thus the association had to dip into its reserves by $167. Because $180 for the mass chest X-ray program already had been expended, the association has gone further into reserves this year. Dr. J. M. Woodall, president, said he hoped that this trend could be reversed by generous purchase of Christmas seals.

The board accepted resignation of Mrs. James T. Brooks as treasurer. Mrs. Brooks has been in ill health. Oscar Glickman was appointed to the board and Capt. Robert E. Hall of the Salvation Army was named to succeed Capt. James Harrison as a board member.

Appointed to a committee to select a seal sale chairman were Jimmie Hale, Mrs. Louise Horton and Mrs. Moree Sawtelle.

School Teachers Meet To Talk New Register

Approximately 25 county school teachers met with Walker Bailey, County Superintendent, Saturday at the Courthouse to discuss the new teacher's register.

The new daily register was issued with several changes this year in the absentee average report. Space for the report was expanded, and a more accurate average is necessary.

The daily register has sections for all students, their absentee record, their courses and grades, class status, and biographical information.

Deed Returned For Owner's Signature

County Judge Walter Greig stated Saturday that the final deed on the planned road between V & L-moor and Highway 87 was received without the owner's signature.

The deed was returned to the Abilene owner for reconsideration. Commissioners Court must await a second forwarding by the owner before taking action.

A Texas and Pacific Railway deed is holding up the U.S. 80-87 cutoff road. A. J. Stallings, commissioner of precinct 3, says that T&P officials have promised quick action on the deed.

ARCTIC FLIGHT TAKEN

First Woman Flies Over Pole In Tour

By ELTON C. FAY
NORTH POLE, Sept. 16 (Delayed AP)—The North Pole had its biggest crowd of visitors today.

Thirty-six persons in a Military Air Transport Service plane circled above the bleak and dreary ice field, floating in 14,000-foot deep Arctic Sea, which pinpoints the geographical northern axis of the globe.

Most of the passengers were press and radio reporters who have been making the first public inspection of the huge United States Air Force base at Thule, Greenland. The others are military officers, among them Col. Bernd Balchen, veteran aerial explorer who today was making his seventh flight to the Pole.

In the group was the first woman to reach the North Pole—May Craig, Washington correspondent for the Portland Press Herald and other Maine newspapers.

The reporters started out to take a look at an ice island on which some Air Force experts have been floating for months to report weather conditions at the top of the world. But the island, designated by the Air Force as T-3, was hidden below clouds which threatened to form dangerous ice on the plane. The Pole was only 130 miles away, so we went on to take a look.

Things have improved since Rear Adm. Robert E. Peary reached the North Pole by a dog team in 1909—and even since Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, in 1926, became the first man to fly there. This trip today was much like the cross-country airliner hop that hundreds of persons make in the United States every day. Even the airplane was the same, a Douglas C-54, which commercial lines call the DC-4.

But the Arctic hasn't changed. It is still 910 miles over one of the world's most desolate, forbidding, uninhabited—but also beautiful—regions from Thule, Greenland, to the Pole.

Of the 36 persons in this plane, none except Balchen (who rode today strictly as a passenger) ever had been to the Pole. This flight testifies to the skill of the Air Force and Navy air crews who fly planes everywhere in the world.

The North Pole looks precisely like any other spot for a thousand miles in any direction—an ice field with a tracery of black water "leads" across the dazzling white and pastel blue shadows of the mass.

There had been clouds for an hour before we reached the Pole. But then, as the plane swung in a shallow turn, and the left wing dipped to point, finger-like, to the spot, the sun poked through for a moment, its low rays edging the pressure ridges with gold.

Where are the cairns and flags and weather-proof boxes of record left by yesterday's explorers, who trekked and hungered and froze to reach the Pole? Carried off long ago by the drifting ice field, probably, or dropped into the bitterly cold, grey water when cracks opened up.

At our 7,500-foot altitude the temperature outside the plane was 2 degrees above zero. Down on the surface of the ice, the navigator figures, it was 23 above. The sun was 2 degrees, 30 minutes above the horizon in this early afternoon—getting nearer each day to dropping down out of sight for the dark days of winter.

Here the latitude, of course, is 90 degrees. There is only one direction, south. You are making a round-the-world flight in two minutes. For one minute you are in the Eastern Hemisphere, during the next you are in the Western Hemisphere. To cross into the Eastern Hemisphere down near the Equator, it takes almost two weeks of steamship travel from the United States West Coast.

Nine-Year-Old Says He Robbed Residence

Juvenile Officer A. E. (Shorty) Long Saturday said a nine-year-old boy has admitted burglarizing a Big Spring residence.

The youth has been remitted to custody of his parents. Long said the boy admitted stealing money from the house after he was questioned about a $2 bill he carried.

320 Visits To TEC Noted During Week

Three hundred and 20 visits to the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission were recorded for the week, Leon M. Kinney, manager, said yesterday.

Kinney said 16 new applications for employment were filed; 48 persons were referred to non-agricultural jobs and that 32 of these were placed in employment.

Seventeen claims were filed for unemployment compensation, he said.

Comets Zoom Through British Skies

Three British Overseas Airways Comet jets fly in formation over England. This type of plane is today flying 800 hours a month—about 200,000 miles—and the company plans to increase this total. By 1953 British Comets are scheduled to be flying half way around the world from London to Tokyo. (AP Wire-photo).

GOT ANY MONEY TO INVEST?

Britons Offer Super Jets, But They're From Drawing Boards

By MICHAEL NEWMARCH
LONDON, Sept. 20 (U)—For sale—a spanking jetliner capable of flying non-stop between London and New York three times a day with around 100 passengers a flight. Its operation should cost just a bit over a cent per passenger-mile. No such machine ever has been built, of course. But that does not stop eager British manufacturers from offering super-jets for sale, straight from the drawing boards. In the past few months, Britain's commercial jet travel has struck the world's air lines like a charge of dynamite. There are prospects of immense profits for the men who build and fly the giant jetliners expected to come into regular service by 1960. But the risks are great, and those who miscalculate may find themselves flung right out of aviation into bankruptcy. On the surface, there is little sign here of anxiety about the future of jet travel. It already is routine. At London airport, passengers for South Africa or the Far East no longer goggle at the gaping holes in the liners where the propellers used to be. The nationalized British Overseas Airways Corp. puts in 800 flying hours of jet travel a month—or around 300,000 miles. This will be increased considerably when the Comet service to Colombo, Ceylon, is extended to Singapore in a few weeks. By early 1953, British jetliners will be flying half way round the world to Tokyo when some foreign airlines may be just about ready to launch their first jet flights with British Comets.

How did the British manage to get so far ahead of Americans in the jetliner field? Sir Miles Thomas, BOAC chairman and boss of all the world's operational jetliners at the present, says: "It was because Britain was fortunate in having the craftsmanship and nimbleness of technique to develop the principle of jet propulsion and was not hidebound to a piston-engine program by reason of a tremendous demand such as that brought about in the American aviation industry by the Korean War." There probably is more in it than that, however. The domestic demand and excellence of American piston-engine machines—neither of which Britain could match—were factors leading Britain to seek an entirely new type of plane after World War II. Americans did not bother. Britain also has a flourishing prop-jet industry. The second nationalized airline, British European Airways, plans to use the 320 m.p.h. 40-passenger Vickers Viscount prop-jet to relieve holiday congestion next Christmas. They probably will ply between London and Paris. BEA is taking 25 Viscounts and 28 others have been ordered by operators in France, Ireland and Australia. Why has the advent of the 500 m.p.h. Comet and a couple of prop-jets which don't fly faster than conventional planes upset the calculations of air line executives? The answers are simple. For one thing, the Comet enables BOAC to carry passengers 80 per cent faster than before at the same cost. But a Comet load is less than 40 passengers, which apparently represents all about the economic limit of this particular type of plane. High fuel consumption is a jet problem. They may carry perhaps four times as much as gas-driven planes, cutting payloads. Actual fuel consumption and maximum range of the Comets still are trade secrets. The Comet probably could fly 2,800 miles without refueling—and still have some of its 6,000 gallons of kerosene left for emergencies. But the advertised working range, allowing for headwinds, diversions and other hazards, is only 1,750 miles. If the Comet design were extended to much bigger planes—able to carry more passengers longer distances—there might not be an airport in the world big enough to land on. Jets can't be reversed for braking like a propeller, nor do they operate so efficiently as propellers at ground level. Current jetliners thus are limited by runway lengths. Jetliners also are much more expensive to build than propeller planes. So Britain, despite the Comet, is building and selling prop-jets. No one can say for sure the propeller is obsolete until the landing speed problem is solved.

Junior College Registration At The 430 Mark

Registration at Howard County Junior College reached 430 Saturday at deadline time. Of this number, 387 are actively engaged in some phase of regular college work. The remaining 43 are in auxiliary programs including a carpenter's apprentice class with 23 and a ceramics class with 18. B. M. Keese, registrar, said Saturday that there were 237 non-veteran students. Of this number 65 are men taking full time schedules and 45 women with similar subject loads. There are 31 boys with part-time schedules and 15 girls carrying less than a regular number of semester hours work. Twenty-one nurses and aides from the Big Spring State Hospital are taking regular class loads. There are 61 veteran students, one of them a woman, who are taking part time courses. Three of the veterans saw service in the Korean war. They are Thomas Blewett, an elder brother of Enoch Blewett, an HCJC graduate and now in service; Gilbert D. Hernandez; and Frederick E. Shaad. From Webb Air Force Base, there are 19 of the service personnel who are taking advantage of "operation bootstrap" and are enrolled at HCJC for some courses. Of this number, 15 are men and 4 are women. Nineteen men are enrolled in the basic preparatory class which takes individuals with little or no education and permits them to progress as rapidly as they are able up the scholastic level. Ultimately, if they continue, they may be graduated with an academy certificate, which is equivalent to a high school diploma. Most of these are Latin-American veterans. Around Oct. 1, a vocational nurses course, similar to one offered last year, may be started. Keese noted registration this year was from a substantially wider area than before. Students are here from Petersburg, Mason, Monahans, Lamesa, Plains, Seminole, Snyder, Colorado City, Garden City, Stanton and other points.

Man Injures Head In Auto Repair Mishap

Fred E. Shaad, 805 Johnson, suffered a painful head injury Saturday afternoon when his car slipped off a jack. He was rushed in an Eberley ambulance to the Veterans Administration Hospital for treatment of a six-inch scalp wound and for observation. Shaad, employe of Delta Engineering Company, was working on his car while he had it raised on a bumper jack, which suddenly gave way.

No Driver's License Brings Heavy Fines

Drivers without license paid heavily for their offenses this week. Twelve were fined a total of $295 after pleading guilty in Corporation Court to charges of driving without required licenses. With the exception of drunkenness, driving without license was the most prevalent violation of the week. Thirty-two persons were fined for intoxication. Their fines aggregated $625. In addition, eight others forfeited bonds amounting to $120 on failure to answer drunkenness charges. Otherwise, both fines and offenses were varied during the week, the Corporation Court docket shows. Four fines of $1 each were assessed on disturbance charges. Another dollar fine was levied for indecent exposure, and levies of $1 each were assessed against parkers who blocked an alley and driveway, respectively. Two others were fined $7 for improper parking, and five were fined a total of $21 for prohibited turns. Running of red lights cost two other drivers $5 each and one of the offenders is to report to the Court each Saturday morning for the next six weeks. A driver who "ran" a stop sign in a school zone was fined $10. Six paid fines totalling $140. One of these, a $50 levy, was assessed against a 17-year-old accused of "racing" on crowded Main Street at 45 miles per hour. A $45 fine was assessed for speeding in heavy traffic on 15th Street. Leaving the scene of a mishap cost another motorist $75. A $10 fine was assessed for "negligent collision" and a $5 levy resulted from a charge of "excessive noise." A $5 fine was assessed for riding double on a motorcycle. Four persons were fined a total of $28 on vagrancy charges and a $20 fine was assessed for affray. Transferred from Corporation Court to custody of county officials were two persons charged with driving while intoxicated, two charged with carrying concealed weapons, and one accused of car theft.

Merchants Group Of C-C To Meet

Merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce has called a fall-and-winter project planning meeting for 10 a.m. Tuesday, Culin Grigsby, chairman, announced Saturday. The session, which 150 local businessmen are expected to attend, will be held in the Chamber's conference room on the Settles messanine. Among other topics up for discussion will be the annual Christmas season observance. A parade is being planned for opening of the Yule season early in December and the Merchants Committee also plans to sponsor the annual street decoration program. Grigsby urges all merchants and others interested in affairs to the Merchants Committee to attend the important Tuesday meeting.

More Dorm Space Due At Hardin-Simmons

ABILENE—An additional floor of rooms will be constructed on the new women's dormitory at Hardin-Simmons University. It was announced Saturday by President Rupert N. Richardson. It will increase from 125 to 180 the number of women students who can be housed in the dormitory and will make the four-story structure, when completed, the largest housing unit on the campus. Construction of the new edifice has been necessary following the evacuation of Smith Hall, co-op dorm, last spring. It was felt then that there was danger because of shifting ground.

Farmer Is Arrested On Forgery Charges

Charlie Barron, farmer from near Luther, was arrested Saturday on charges of forgery. Deputy Hoyt Hallford, arresting officer, stated that a warrant was issued on Barron Sept. 17. The complaint filed against Barron claims he signed and passed a check on J. L. Moates for $25 on Aug. 10. Hallford arrested Barron on the latter's farm.

CED Pictures Asia, Mideast As Danger Area

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Committee for Economic Development said today that in the next few years there probably will be greater damage of piecemeal Communist gains than of a military attack deliberately launched by Moscow.

For this reason, the businessmen's group, in a survey of American and foreign policies, pictured Southeast Asia and the Middle East as particular danger spots to this country and the free world.

Calling for "continuous political support, technical and administrative assistance, and foreign capital on a large scale" for Asia and the Middle East, the group said also: "There is need for the United States to assert vigorously, in the name of the whole free world, an interest in social and economic reform in free Asia and to support that interest with practical action through United Nations agencies and otherwise."

The report was prepared by the Research and Policy Committee of the CED, which is composed of business leaders and educators and is devoted to research and planning in economic affairs. The CED is headed by Marion Folsom, treasurer of Eastman Kodak Company.

The report questioned whether American policies provide sufficient forces to bolster local defense against Communist aggression in Asia.

Strengthening Asian nations was listed in the report on "the threat to our national security" as one of four most urgent tasks currently facing the United States. The others were:

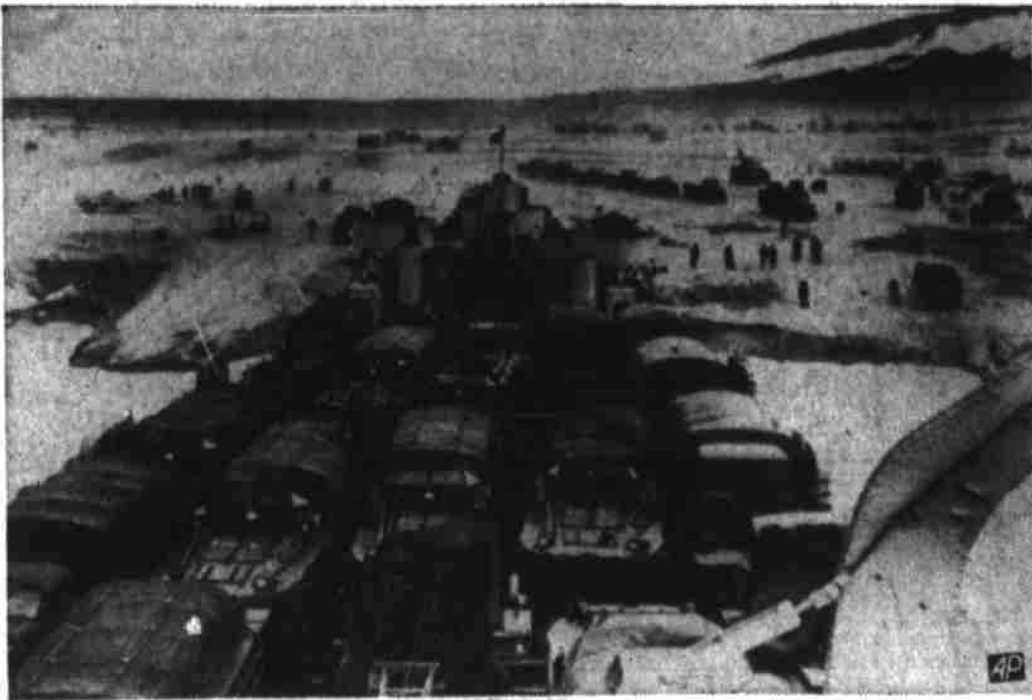

"1. To maintain a high and stable level of employment in the United States, without further inflation.

"2. To strengthen the political, economic and military organization of the Atlantic community. We need to ask ourselves by what steps the Atlantic community can evolve from a loose association of separate national states toward a more integrated economic and political system.

"3. To liberalize American import and commercial policies."

Nine Arrested In Colo. City Liquor Raids

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 19—In a two-day series of arrests, climaxed by a lightning raid Thursday night, nine Colorado city persons were charged with possession or sale, or accomplice in the sale of liquor in a dry county.

The sheriff's department, under Sheriff Dick Gregory; the Colorado City police department, headed by Chief Sam Hulme, Dan Nowlin of the highway patrol and liquor control agents made the raids, striking simultaneously at 8:45 Thursday night to hit four places, and gathering in about 250 pints of whiskey.

Members of the liquor control board had been in the area for two weeks, making purchases from some of those charged Thursday and Friday.

Those entering a plea of guilty to the sale of liquor and fined were Lottie Davison fined $1,000 and costs on four offenses; Willie Dawson, sentenced to 15 days in jail and fined $300 in costs; Arthur Lee Belvin, $300 and costs; and Betty Seales, $300 and costs.

Those who pleaded not guilty and were released on bond were, Woodrow Paul, W. L. Riley, and Bill Counts. Bonds were set at $1,000.

WORK DETAIL IS SOUGHT FOR NEW FAIR BUILDINGS

There will be two days of hard work for everybody, tomorrow and Tuesday, at the new buildings of the Howard County Fair Association at the Rodeo Bowl, according to County Agent, Durward Lewter.

"We hope every farmer and business man in Big Spring and Howard County will be there with hammer and saw and post hole digger," Lewter said, "because we'll sure be able to use them all."

This work program, he said, will be for the purpose of putting the stalls in one of the buildings and all the finishing touches on the interiors and exteriors of both of them.

256 New Casualties

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Defense Department today identified 256 battle casualties in Korea. A new list (No. 653) reported 26 killed, 225 wounded, three missing and two injured.

James Barber was charged with possession of intoxicating liquor in a dry area and bond set at $1,000. G. H. Miles was charged with being an accomplice to the sale of liquor and released on $1,000 bond. Miles and Barber entered pleas of not guilty.

Two Get Fined For Illegal Transactions

V. H. Woods and Evelyn Millner pleaded guilty to charges of unlawful transactions with alcoholic beverages in County Court Saturday. Each received a $100 fine plus costs of court.

Miss Millner was arrested Friday by Kenneth Green, Liquor Control Board agent, on the Lamasa Highway. She was charged with unlawfully transporting alcoholic beverages in a dry area.

Woods was charged with selling liquor after hours. He was arrested by Deputy V. G. Grady Friday afternoon. Charges were filed against Woods by J. T. Morgan of the liquor control board on Sept. 10.

New Trial Granted Medina For Charge Of Assault

Judge Charlie Sullivan granted a motion for a new trial in the Joaquin Medina case Saturday. Medina was found guilty of assault with intent to murder and given a 1 1/2-year prison sentence by a jury Monday.

Attorney Cliff Tupper, acting for Medina, filed the request for a new trial claiming an error in the charge to the jury.

The jury was instructed that Medina could not be judged guilty if it was found he acted in fear of death or serious bodily injury. Tupper claimed the jury should have been instructed that Medina could not be found guilty if he acted because of an unlawful attack on him.

Judge Sullivan said that the Texas law upheld Tupper's claim. The jury, he said, should have been instructed that Medina was innocent if he acted because of an unlawful attack or because of fear of death or bodily injury.

Medina, from Sterling City, was tried for allegedly shooting Andres Alcantar Jr. on July 18. Several Latin-Americans were present at a night dance, and testimony in the Monday trial revealed that two of the boys—one who was with Medina—had trouble over a girl.

After the dance, Medina testified that Alcantar and several other boys started walking toward his automobile and began throwing rocks.

Medina said he fired into the group of boys with a .22 pistol. Doctor's testimony revealed that Alcantar had been shot in the back. G. M. Lara, another of the boys, said he was shot in the leg.

The jury deliberated for five hours before bringing in a verdict of guilty last Monday.

Three Murder Cases To Be Tried In Court

Three murder cases and a rape case will be tried in the 118th District Court this week. A special venire of 120 men has been called to provide jurors.

Enrique Artega and Enrique Sanchez will be tried separately on charges of allegedly beating Francisco Villa to death on April 19. Both are out on $5,000 bond.

Bertha Rene Timmons, out on $2,000 bond, will be tried for allegedly killing Beverly Hicks by stab wounds on Feb. 20. Gilberto Ortiz, out on $1,000 bond, will face charges of raping a girl on Dec. 19.

District Clerk George Choate stated that next week has been set aside for civil cases.

LOST 33 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Barcostrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcostrate. Pour into a pint bottle. Add 12 ounces of grapefruit juice. Then take just two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. No starvation diet the Barcostrate way.

"I cannot praise Barcostrate enough," writes Mrs. Lola Butler, 515 Washington Ave., Waco, Texas. "It has done wonders for me. I don't have that tired, worn-out feeling any more. I weighed 170 pounds when I started to take Barcostrate. I now weigh 137."

NIXON FUND

all disbursements were made by Smith, by check.

Rep. Herman Eberharter (D-Pa.), in a statement distributed by the Democratic National Committee, called upon Nixon to "explain all the circumstances of his purchase of an elaborate home in fashionable Spring Valley," a neighborhood in Washington.

"Houses in that area do not come cheaply," Eberharter said. "Sen. Nixon has stated that 'not one red cent' of the $18,000 he received in contributions from wealthy friends went for personal use. The public is entitled to know whether the contributions which the Republican nominee received even indirectly permitted him to buy an expensive home."

"The down payment on his house must have considerably exceeded an entire year's senatorial salary, and the cost of living in Washington is notoriously high."

Nixon has angrily denied a Democratic assertion that his acceptance of the money was morally wrong, and has said he did not get "one red cent" of it personally. He attributed the furor over the incident to crooks and subversives who, he said, are trying to hinder his anti-Communist campaign.

Sen. Robert A. Taft today termed ridiculous demands that Nixon withdraw as the GOP vice presidential nominee.

Such a demand had been voiced on Thursday by Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell of the Democratic National Committee following public disclosure that Nixon had accepted the private expense money.

Mitchell said today he wasn't backing down. He told newsmen at Jefferson City, Mo., that he had been doing some investigating on his own, and he added:

"Here's a holy Joe that let him put some facts."

Shortly thereafter Smith made public at Pasadena the list of contributors and a summary of expenses from the fund. He said that if Nixon wanted a full audit made public, it could not be completed until next week.

Smith's list contained the name of one man who contributed $500 twice. Smith has said annual contributions were limited to that amount. The man who gave $1,000 was listed as Keith Spalding, retired Pasadena business man.

Robert Hoover Jr., a Pasadena engineer and son of the former President, was listed as one of half a dozen who contributed $500. Besides Hoover, they were J. B. Van Nuys, wealthy member of a pioneer Southern California family; John E. Marble, South Pasadena; K. T. Norris, Los Angeles manufacturer; John Burnham, Rancho Santa Fe; and W. O. Anderson, Los Angeles.

Contributors of lesser amounts included several persons prominent in GOP affairs in California.

The biggest item of expenditure was $3,430.78 for travel and hotel expenses for Nixon and his aides. Radio and TV expenses were down for $2,017.79 and there were lesser amounts for such items as postage, telephones and telegraph services, extra office help and meals for visitors to Nixon's office.

President Truman, in Connecticut for a speech, was said by aides to be exultant over the incident, but he withheld direct comment. He suggested to reporters they should read about a vice presidential candidate who had difficulties in 1952.

He referred newsmen to Stephen Loran's "The Presidency." That turned up no clues as to the incident Truman had in mind and Loran, the author, said he thought the President must have been thinking of a different candidate in a different campaign.

The accounting of the fund which Smith made public went at least part of the way toward meeting the suggestions of the two presidential candidates, Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower and Democrat Adlai Stevenson, that the facts be made public.

"Knowing Dick Nixon as I do," Eisenhower said at Kansas City last night, "I believe that the facts are known to all of us, they will show that Nixon would not compromise with what is right."

Stevenson, in a statement issued in New York, said that "condemnation, without all the evidence, a practice all too familiar to us, would be wrong."

He said, however, that he was sure the Republican party would learn the facts, make them public and act in accordance with our best traditions and with due respect for the second most important position in the land—a statement which left the way open for later criticism on his part if Nixon remained on the ticket.

"From what I have heard about it," Stevenson said, "the question seems to be: who gave the money, was it given to influence the senator's position on public questions, and have any laws been violated?"

Sen. Taft, talking with newsmen in Cincinnati, had an answer to the last part of Stevenson's question. Asked if Nixon had violated the law or ethical code, the Ohioan replied, "Absolutely not, none whatever."

Danish Girl Is Hitch-Hiking On Tour Of America

DENVER (AP)—A slender, brown-haired Danish girl is spending these fine fall days hitch-hiking through the West on a seeing America tour that already has taken her through more of the United States than many Americans see in a lifetime.

Annette Brodsgaard, 25, packs 60 pounds of belongings in a rucksack on her back and says she has no trouble getting automobile rides.

"Sometimes they make, how you call, a pass," she said in Denver, "but they treat me with respect when I tell them no go."

Annette left Denver Sept. 10, heading for San Francisco.

She is from Roskilde, a small town near Copenhagen, where her father is a doctor. She declined to give his name.

Annette, who speaks English creditably, worked as a secretary for an export business back home until a year ago when she drew her savings, gathered up her belongings and sailed for New York.

She worked there for an importing firm until last December when she decided on a warmer setting—Florida. Later she moved on to Texas, then decided on her hitch-hiking tour as the best way of seeing lots of the United States.

By the time she reached Denver she figured she had covered 8,000 miles, taking in such points as El Paso, Carlsbad, N. M.; Oklahoma City, Kansas City, Little Rock, Memphis, Detroit, Chicago, Minneapolis, Omaha, Bismarck, N. D.; and Cheyenne, Wyo.

Annette, who has had plenty of time and opportunity to study the American woman, says they "spend too much time on their looks. They want attention and are very spoiled by the men. The women are much skinnier here and dress with more care."

Meals are being served in the dining room of the Pan-American Airlines restaurant on Wake Island, in spite of the heavy damage a typhoon leveled on the building. The Sept. 15 storm destroyed more than 90 per cent of all the buildings standing on the island. (AP Wirephoto).

No Hurry By Many Aliens To Become U. S. Citizens

By CLARKE BEACH

WASHINGTON (AP)—A thought for Citizenship Day: One of the best buys in the world is U. S. citizenship—at $11 each to persons who are qualified to obtain it.

The price hasn't gone up since it was set in 1944. The applicant pays $3 when he files his "first papers," his declaration of intention. He pays $8 when he submits his "second papers," his petition to the court for naturalization.

But there's no great rush on the part of many resident aliens to become citizens. Well over two to a quarter million of them live here. About 250,000 new ones come in each year. But only 88,393 were naturalized in the fiscal year which ended last June 30.

Of the Mexicans who were naturalized, the average had lived in the United States 28 years. The Italians naturalized had lived here an average of 24 years. The average length of residence of Russians was 32 years.

The English, French and Germans who were naturalized had

Turk Charming Receiving Lot Of Proposals

By FRED ZUSY

ISTANBUL, Sept. 20 (AP)—Miss Europe of 1952 is back home—in Asia—figuring what to do with her new title.

Slim, dark-eyed Günsel Bashar won the Miss Europe championship against a field of beauties in Naples last month. She is the first Turkish girl to achieve such fame.

Günsel, 20, lives with her parents and a sister in that part of Istanbul which sprawls along the Asiatic side of the narrow Bosphorus Straits. She was born in a small town called Duyar Baker.

The Turkish charming says she is "thinking" about such things as the movies, modeling and—something in the future—marriage. But so far she has turned down all offers.

Loads of fan mail pour in daily from all over the world. Some are proposals of marriage—ranging from students to rich old tobacco merchants.

"I don't want to get married yet. I'm too young," smiles this emancipated young Turkish girl—a product of the great revolution wrought in Turkey by Mustafa Kemal Ataturk.

Prior to Ataturk, the idea of a Turkish woman parading in a bathing suit would have been unthinkable. Today in Turkey's big cities you'll see many young women on like Günsel on the streets, in the schools, restaurants and cinemas.

Günsel says she was lucky—her shape "is a gift of God," but admits to a bit of dleting to keep it that way. She doesn't bother to exercise. Sports in general bore her.

A home girl, natural in manner, she's at ease lounging around the small apartment where she lives with her father—a retired Turkish Army colonel who thinks it's time she thought seriously of getting married—and her mother and 23-year-old sister, Peykan.

IN LAKE AUSTIN

Game Fish Not Hurt Too Much By Floods

AUSTIN, Sept. 20 (AP)—Nature gave the upper six miles of Lake Austin a chemical treatment in recent floods that killed uncounted tons of rough fish but didn't hurt game fish as much.

A sudden surge of silt-laden flood water poured from the bottom of Lake Travis into Lake Austin when heavy rains doubled the Travis' size.

This water was also "dead" so far as having useable oxygen in it, explained Marion Toole, chief aquatic biologist of the Game and Fish Commission.

It trapped fish in the channel and moss for six miles below Lake Travis and in upper Lake Austin, literally smothering thousands of catfish, bass, carp, buffalo, sunfish, and shad.

For some reason, Toole said, it caught very few freshwater drum and crappie. He thought perhaps they weren't in that part of the lake, or even had become more conditioned to that type of water.

"Both by numbers and weight the dead rough fish, such as carp, totaled two to one greater than the game fish such as bass," Toole said. "Actually this thing was a blessing in disguise. It had the same effect on the rough fish as a complete chemical treatment of a large section of the lake and the final net effect on the rough fish as a commodity."

That was good news for many Central Texas fishermen whose experience had led them to believe that the smallest of the huge Colorado chain of lakes—consistently a fine bass and crappie lake.

They were gloomy when they saw the murky water pushing acres of uprooted moss laden with dead fish down the lake. A north wind and runoff from hard rains later on the western watershed of the lake carried the stinking mess of fish and moss eight miles down the lake.

When the first turgid water from Lake Travis poured into upper Lake Austin it paralyzed thousands of fish below the dam. People picked up hundreds and hundreds of pounds of these paralyzed but edible fish and hauled them home to deep freezers.

Then the fish started dying and the die-off continued as the murky waters poured downstream. Many fish also were similarly stricken in Lake Travis but the concentration was not so great.

Toole explained that water such as that which flowed from the bottom of Lake Travis into upper Lake Austin normally is heavy with toxic gases such as methane and that

Dawson County Fair This Week

LAMESA, (SC)—Dates for the annual Dawson County Fair have been set for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. No fair was held last year but directors voted to make it an annual event hereafter.

Livestock that has been shown in the spring show may be shown at the Dawson County Fair by the 4-H Club and FFA Chapter members, it has been ruled, and Terry, Lynn, Garza, Gaines, Borden, Andrews, Martin and Howard counties have been invited to participate.

A flower show has been added this year. Flowers may be entered by Garden Club members and must be grown in the exhibitor's own garden.

The cotton classing office in Lubbock will have an educational exhibit that will be of special interest to farmers.

Former Resident Dies In Corpus

Mrs. Doyle Robinson, 46, resident of Big Spring for many years, died about 9:45 p. m. Saturday at her home in Corpus Christi.

She had been seriously ill for about two months. Funeral arrangements are incomplete but the body will be brought to Big Spring for final services, probably Monday or Tuesday.

Mrs. Robinson, the former Maude Estes, daughter of Mrs. Clara M. Estes, moved with her husband to Corpus Christi in 1944. Doyle Robinson was associated with his father, T. J. A. Robinson, in the grocery business here.

She was born in July, 1906, in Silver City, Miss.

Survivors include her husband, a daughter, Lanell Robinson of Corpus Christi; her mother, a brother, Dr. George Estes, and a sister, Mrs. Nell Copeland, all of Corpus Christi.

Her father-in-law and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. A. Robinson, of Big Spring; a brother-in-law, Lawrence Robinson, Big Spring; two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Euta Hall of Big Spring and Veda Carter of Garden City, and a niece, Charlene Kee of Big Spring.

Bank Official Dies

DALLAS, Sept. 20 (AP)—Luther M. Jordan, 70, a Sears, Roebuck Co. executive and a Dallas bank official, died today after a long illness.

Reams Denies Bail To Alaniz And Sapet

ALICE, Sept. 20 (AP)—Dist. Judge Sam Reams tonight denied bail to two men charged in the mistake murder of Jake (Buddy) Floyd Jr. Nago Alaniz, Alice attorney, and Mario (El Turko) Sapet, San Antonio, were returned to County Jail and bound over to the grand jury following habeas corpus hearings.

They are charged with murder in the death of the University of Texas student and with conspiracy to murder his father, Jake Floyd Sr. The elder Floyd is an Alice lawyer and South Texas political leader.

Lawyers for both defendants gave immediate notice of appeal. But Reams denied requests that bonds be set while the appeals are pending.

The judge gave his decision without basing it on any grounds. Alaniz' hearing ended about 9 p. m. after two days. Sapet's attorney, Fred Semann, San Antonio, agreed to let the same testimony stand for a similar hearing for his client. Sapet's hearing was concluded quickly minutes after Alaniz'.

This afternoon's testimony was highlighted by that of a surprise state witness, Henry Norris, Pfreer. Norris testified that he saw Sapet, Alaniz and Campbell King, chairman of the Duval County Democratic Executive Committee, together in an automobile in Freer either Aug. 24 or 31.

This was the first time King's name had been mentioned in the proceedings.

It was also the first time that anybody had said they actually saw Alaniz and Sapet together.

In addition, it was the first time a member of the Freedom Party, an organization opposing Duval County political boss George Parr, had testified. Norris is a member of the Freedom Party.

Norris said Alaniz was driving with King and Sapet as passengers. Freer is in Duval County.

Reams Denies Bail To Alaniz And Sapet

Earlier H. H. Taylor, firearms expert for the Department of Public Safety, testified he believes a bullet found near young Floyd's body was fired from a pistol found in a nearby trash can.

The grand jury is scheduled to convene Oct. 6.

Other witnesses testified the bullet and pistol were found soon after young Floyd was shot to death in the driveway of his home the night of Sept. 2.

Examining trials for Alaniz and Sapet brought out testimony that a third man, a hired assassin who has not been caught, shot young Floyd, thinking that he was firing at the elder Floyd.

Stevenson Will Seek Item Veto

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 20 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson indicated tonight that as president he would press for enactment of legislation permitting a Chief Executive to veto individual items in appropriations bills.

At present, the President must either approve or veto money bills in their entirety.

In a prepared speech for delivery here tonight, the Democratic presidential nominee praised the "Constitution of the old Southern Confederation."

"Scholars of constitutional law have long recognized it as a sound and most thoughtful document," Stevenson said.

"It contained some brilliant innovations, including the so-called item veto—authorizing the president to disapprove individual items in an appropriation bill, without having to veto the entire message."

"This inspiration of the Confederate statesmen has since been incorporated into the Constitutions of about three-fourths of our states, including my own state of Illinois."

"Is it too much to hope that our federal government may soon adopt this priceless invention of Southern statesmanship? I hope not, because it is a most useful tool."

TSCRA Seeking No Price Controls

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Directors of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn. today voted to initiate a movement toward removal of price controls from meat and meat products.

Current price controls were termed "unfair" and a "great burden" to the industry.

"From the viewpoint of the cattlemen, price controls are useless since everything now is selling below ceiling prices," said Judge Joe Montague, counsel for the big Texas cattle organization.

Citing the surplus of commercial and utility grades of beef now piling up in packing plants, other speakers pointed out that importation of five million pounds of New Zealand beef plus meat and cattle coming into the country would add further to the overabundance. Furthermore, they explained that because of the continued drought, it will be necessary to market large numbers of thin cows, making the supplies of these grades of beef even greater.

A purse containing some $75 was reported stolen in City Park late Saturday afternoon.

Reason is that the pre-induction physical examination calls have lagged well behind induction calls for several months and the backlog is gone. Thirty-five men went for pre-induction checks but they won't be ready for 21 days yet.

This breaking and entering at high school is getting to be serious business. Sunday night the principal's office was ransacked, the vault opened. Citizens should report any possible leads to police promptly.

Slimmer Diet Of Dairy Products Due Next Year

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Current production trends point to a slimmer diet of dairy products, eggs, poultry and pork next year.

Beef may be the only livestock food that will hold its own with this year's supply.

This general outlook is drawn from several recent Agriculture Department reports showing that the production of milk, chickens, and hogs is declining.

These downturns were said to reflect the fact that rising costs are discouraging many producers.

The fall crop—which will become the pork supply next spring and summer—is expected to be 9 per cent smaller than last year's.

Milk production during the first eight months of this year was down 1,300,000,000 pounds from the 82½ billion pounds produced in the corresponding period last year. Production in August was the smallest for the month since 1940.

Commercial hatchery production of baby chicks during August was 15 per cent smaller than in the same month last year. For the first eight months of the year, hatchery production was down 5 per cent from the corresponding period last year.

The main cause of these downward production trends is an advancing cost of livestock and poultry feeds that is not being matched by corresponding increases in producer prices of hogs, eggs, poultry and milk.

On the other hand, supplies of most food crops—such as bread-grains, rice, dry beans, sugar, peanuts, and most fruits and vegetables—are likely to be as plentiful as this year.

Softening-Up Process

An example of making maximum use of a scarce West Texas product—water—is shown above at Cosden's refinery. The tank-like vessel at right is a hot lime treatment which takes relatively pure effluent from the city disposal plant and reduces it to two or three grains hardness. This water then is used for cooling purposes. At the left of the larger vessel and slightly higher and smaller is a unit which gives hot lime and sodium aluminate treatment to effluent. Then it goes to a unit immediately behind for treatment with phosphates, which cuts it to zero hardness. The horizontal tank at right is a filter through which it passes to trap precipitates and organize matter. Cosden uses more than a million gallons of water per day in its refining and BTX operations.

Processed Water Given Double Utility In Industrial Role

There's a lot that goes into oil refining besides oil. Now that the BTX plant is going into operation, Cosden's refinery operations now require about one and a fifth barrel of water per each barrel of crude oil put through. If this figure is imposing, it is hardly more so than that Cosden is making maximum use of a scarce West Texas commodity. All the industrial water is effluent from the City of Big Spring disposal plant. By extensive aeration and treatment, the city delivers water to ground storage for Cosden in relatively good state. However, for industrial purposes, further treatment is indicated. As the water is received from the pipeline Cosden operates to the disposal plant, the stream is cut in twain. One part goes to a hot lime treatment. Here, at 180 degrees, the water is passed through calcium which has the effect of adding a calcium atom to the calcium bicarbonate molecule which is soluble, and making it into an insoluble molecule which will precipitate out of the water. After treating with a stabilizing agent, the water goes to cooling towers with a hardness of perhaps two to three grains. The other part of the water goes to a more extensive treatment. In the initial phase it gets the hot lime treatment, plus sodium aluminate to coagulate minute particles, at 220 degrees. Then a final phase puts the water through a phosphate treatment at 220 degrees. This water is then filtered and emerges at zero hardness and goes to the boilers. Just how important this is may be seen in the record of operating sometimes as long as a year without having to break down the boilers. In this section of the country, untreated water of any sort would probably mean breaking the boilers down every month and sometime oftener. More than 400,000 gallons of water go daily to boiler operations to create steam necessary for the extensive operations. More than twice that amount will be required for cooling purposes. It figures up to around 900 gallons per minute. Just east of Cosden, General Atlas Carbon is using another 100 to 150 gallons per minute. Thus, around 1,000 gallons per minute of water that once was turned down the creek is being put to sound use. Water must be checked constantly, and Cosden has a little laboratory on the spot to run hourly tests. Regular samples are sent to the Betts company, manufacturers of the equipment, for consulting purposes. Seemingly slight variations can cause trouble. Once a ruptured sewer line let in storm waters and the minute amount of silica caused boiler tubes to pop like popcorn until the trouble was finally traced. At the moment, the infusion of water from a new supply has made necessary the addition of a caustic to the phosphate step to reduce to zero hardness.

Operator then drilled ahead from 9,886 to 9,916, still in Fusselman, and was taking a drillstem test in the new section. On the first test the open flowing pressure was 980 pounds to a maximum of 2,060. The 20-minute shut-in bottom hole pressure was 2,800. Location of this test is 660 from the north and east lines of section 7-B15, PSL survey, four miles north of Juddkins. It is between the Penwell and the TXL pools.

Fusselman Shows In Ector Test

J. D. Wraether of Dallas No. 1 Hall, central-west Ector County wildcat, has indicated as a strike in the Fusselman. On a drillstem test from 9,820-86; with the tool open 2 1/4 hours, gas surfaced in 32 minutes and oil started flowing in 1 1/4 hours. It continued to flow at the estimated rate of 20 barrels per hour, and with no water.

Operator then drilled ahead from 9,886 to 9,916, still in Fusselman, and was taking a drillstem test in the new section. On the first test the open flowing pressure was 980 pounds to a maximum of 2,060. The 20-minute shut-in bottom hole pressure was 2,800. WEEK'S REVIEW

Four Discoveries Reported In Area, Another Stronger

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 20—Four discoveries were completed this week in West Texas while another strike in Upton County gained more Devonian pay. An Ector County strike flowed from the Ellenburger.

The Texas Co. No. 1 M. A. Fuller, Pennsylvania reef lime discovery in northern Scurry County, completed for a daily flowing potential of 256.8 barrels of 39.2 gravity oil plus 92.1 barrels of basic sediment and water. Production was from perforations between 7,586-596 feet with gas-oil ratio of 622-1. Location is C SW SE 62-5-H&G, 6 1/2 miles southwest of the Polar (Ellenburger) field.

A Wolfcamp discovery in central-south Gaines County, Texas No. 1 R. A. Cox, completed for a daily potential, pumping, of 51 barrels of 34 gravity oil plus 193 barrels of water from perforations between 9,200-228 feet. Perforations were treated with 8,000 gallons of acid. Location is C NE NE of south half of section 12-C45-psi, 10 miles southeast of Seminole, and four miles east of the southeast side of the Robertson field.

Gulf No. 1 McElroy Ranch Co. State, central-west Upton County wildcat C NE SW 182-E-CCSD&RGNG, found additional pay in the Devonian. The project, bottomed at 10,594 feet, cored between 10,544 feet and total depth and recovered 50 feet of chert and lime with scattered shows of oil. Earlier the project flowed 143 barrels of 46 gravity oil during a four-hour, 10-minute drillstem test between 10,500-544 feet. Location is C NE SW 182-E-CCSD&RGNG.

The Benedum-Spraberry field of Upton County was extended 3/4-mile south with completion of Shell No. 1-L University for a daily flowing potential of 334 barrels of 38.2 gravity oil plus six-tenths of one percent basic sediment. Gas-oil ratio was 841-1. Production was from perforations between 6,572-620 feet with top pay picked at 7,426 feet. Location is 635 from north, 1,980 feet from the south lines of the northeast quarter of section 12-58-University. Superior No. 1-B-11 University completed as a half-mile west extension on the south side of the Block 11 (Devonian) field in southwest Andrews County. The well completed for 164.7 barrels of 40.8 gravity oil in nine hours from pay between 8,040-329 feet. Location is 660 from north, 1,080 feet from west lines of section 27-11-University.

A flowing Ellenburger discovery in southeast Andrews County, Anderson-Prichard No. 1-K Fasken, found water in the Ellenburger. It came on a test at 12,750-775 feet with tool open five hours. Recovery was the 2,975-foot water blanket and 8,950 feet of salt water. There were no shows of oil. The test had produced 161 barrels of 49.8 gravity oil in 1 1/4 hours from pay at 12,616-740 feet. Operator is taking electric log surveys and will then set and cement casing on bottom, squeeze off water with cement and perforate opposite the Ellenburger oil column to complete.

Location is 500 feet from north and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 24-42-In-G&MMB & A survey, 15 miles southeast of Andrews. An additional 27 feet of Ellenburger pay has been indicated for Phillips No. 1-B Millard, west offset to a recent 3/4-mile northwest extension to the Penwell (Ellenburger) pool of southern Ector County. On a two-hour, 30-minute drillstem test between 8,650-77 feet, the total depth, oil flowed to pits for 42 minutes and tanks for one hour. Recovery was 24.82 barrels of 42 gravity oil, gas-oil ratio of 408-1. Location is 660 feet from the north and 665 feet from the east lines of section 24-B15-psi.

Strawn pay was opened in the Salt Creek (Canyon) field area of Kent County with completion of Superior No. 1-195 A. Wood for a daily flow of 214 barrels of 36.9 gravity oil, no water. Gas-oil ratio was 247-1. Production was through perforations between 6,613-28 feet.

Drilling Now On Increase In Basin Area

The steel strike-imposed nose-dive in drilling operations in Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico seems to be ending with the report from Reed Roller Bit Company that rotary operations again are on the increase. With stepped up delivery of tubular goods to the oil industry within sight, operators are digging into stock piles of pipe and going ahead with drilling programs. The semi-monthly survey of Permian Basin rotary activity by Reed showed 494 units in operation September 10 as compared to the 489 of August 25.

Lea County, N. M., for several months the county leader in activity, picked up one rotary on September 10 to give that area a total of 109. The Spraberry Trend, which covers an area somewhat less in size to Lea County, showed 83 rigs in operation, one over the previous count.

Most observers believe it will take until April 1953 for the activity to approach the 673 rotaries turning September 15, 1951. The county breakdown for the Sept. 10 report, with comparative figures as of Aug. 25 in parenthesis, follows:

Andrews 32 (31), Borden 8 (11), Cochran 18 (15), Coke 9 (9), Crane 8 (8), Crockett 11 (12), Dawson 8 (9), Ector 22 (21), Gaines 22 (24), Glasscock 7 (12), Howard 9 (9), Kent 7 (9), Martin 2 (1), Midland 22 (19), Pecos 16 (13), Reagan 34 (37), Schleicher 10 (12), Scurry 17 (14), Terry 8 (3), Tom Green 2 (4), Upton 47 (46), Ward 12 (14), Yoakum 16 (16), Lea, N.M. 109 (108).

IPAA Meet Slated For September 29

MIDLAND, Sept. 20—A regional meeting of the Independent Petroleum Association of America will be held at the Midland Country Club on Sept. 29. It has been announced by A. S. Donnelly, vice president of IPAA for the Permian Basin Area.

Speakers at the meeting will include Charlton H. Lyons, of Shreveport, La., president of IPAA and Russell B. Brown, of Washington, D. C., general counsel for the association. Lyons will discuss future programs of the association and Brown will speak on "The Effect of Foreign Imports on United States Domestic Production."

Former Continental Man Here Succumbs

FORT WORTH, Sept. 20—Henry Fraser Forbes, 35, regional engineer for Continental Oil Company, died early today from polio. He was the 13th person to die from the disease in the hospital this year and the 10th from Tarrant County. Forbes had been a patient at the hospital since Aug. 8. A native of Wheat Ridge, Colo., Forbes had served with the petroleum company in various West Texas posts including Midland and Big Spring.

Cosden's BTX Plant Begins Production

Engineers are bringing up the final phase of operation in Cosden's BTX plant Saturday, and initial chemical production was due today.

When it goes on stream, it will be the first for this new type of process in the country for making urgently needed war and industrial chemicals out of hydrocarbons. Three weeks ago the initial section of the three-in-one plant went on stream when the feed preparation units were brought up. Then on Sept. 13 engineers eased the platforming section into operation. Now the extraction and separation of benzene, toluene and xylene, the three vital industrial chemicals which give the plant its name, is in progress.

With time remaining for ironing out any production difficulties, Cosden is due to meet its schedule delivery date of Oct. 15 on products. The new facility has been constructed within the year at a cost exceeding $3 million.

Engineers put the feed preparation part of the plant to work on Aug. 28. This part of the unit, located north across the T&P tracks from Cosden, takes a regular gasoline from the refinery as its charge stock. When storage is ample, this unit is blocked out. Since crude oil of this area abounds in aromatics, the regular gasoline is rich with the top half of the fundamental (two chemical building blocks. The other is the olefins.) The feed preparation makes a cut on the stock, sending the part with aromatics to storage remainder, its fuel value unimpaired, back to the refinery. The aromatic cut is put through a solvent, which, in a manner of speaking, absorbs the aromatics and precipitates the heavy end as a low grade product. The Platformer, which derives its name from the use of platinum oxide (which costs $9 a pound) as a catalyst, reforms the molecules so that this heavy product is upgraded into high octane (93 or better) gasoline. This superior quality fuel is returned to the plant for blending of motor fuels.

The solvent, saturated with the aromatics, then goes to a stripper, which takes the aromatics out of the solvent. Then, in the final phase, the aromatics are put through three fractionating columns which makes the separation into benzene, toluene and xylene.

Estimates are that the plant will turn out 100 barrels per day of benzene, 280 barrels of toluene and 370 barrels of xylene. Daily 1,200 barrels of raw gasoline will be charged to the BTX plant and 1,250 will be returned to the refinery as high octane Platformer. The balance, except for the BTX products, will be returned to the refinery as regular gasoline, minus the aromatics, which contribute nothing to fuel performance.

The new plant, known as Udex, has been installed by Procon, Inc. Two others are now in process of construction, one at Houston and one in California.

NEW HOT SPOT

Shallow Area In Northeast Howard Has New Location

Another location has been staked in the shallow zone northeast of Vincent.

Hayes and V-T Drilling Co. of Odessa No. 1 Chester L. Jones was announced Saturday. It will be 2,310 from the west and 330 from the north lines of section 15-28, H&TC, scheduled to 3,200 with rotary. It will be seeking the shallow pay tapped by Coronet No. 1 Brokhage, which is one fourth of a mile west and 1 1/4 miles to the north. The Brokhage well completed in what it called the San Angelo around 2,900.

STERLING SPRABERRY VENTURE ABANDONED

Delta Drilling Co. and Delta Gulf Drilling Co. No. 1 Calvin H. Sugg, a Weddell-Spraberry venture in southwest Sterling County, has been abandoned at 6,016 in the Spraberry with salt water. This test had no shows of oil or gas. Location is 177.3 from the south and 660 from the west lines of a 41-acre lease in the Calvin H. Sugg scrap File A-1327.

MEET THE 'SENIORS' Of The COSDEN FAMILY

This is the 69th in a series of special Cosden presentations, recognizing the long and valued service of those employees who have been associated with Cosden for 15 years and longer. Cosden is proud of the scores of its workers who have contributed to its success through so many years.

JAMES HOWARD SHEATS

James Howard Sheats joined Cosden in 1937 and is now rated among its group of veterans by virtue of his fifteen years of service.

He was born in Dublin, Texas, and attended public schools in Estelline. He also attended King's Business College in Lubbock for one year.

Prior to his joining Cosden, he farmed for several years and was later employed by Montgomery-Ward as Warehouseman. When he joined Cosden in August 1937, he was assigned to the laboratory and remained there until 1940, when he was promoted to Mechanic No. 1, the job he now holds.

In 1929, Sheats was married to Velma Smith of Denton and they have two children, Mrs. Ernest E. Lillard, 18, and Howard Morris, 15. They own their home at 501 Gollard Street.

He calls his favorite hobbies fishing, baseball and basketball.

Sheats is a member of the Assembly of God Church.

Guill Believes Ike Has 50-50 Chance In Texas

FORT WORTH, Sept. 20 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower as of now has a 50-50 chance of carrying Texas, Ben Guill, state manager of the Eisenhower-Nixon campaign, said today.

Guill made the assertion after a conference with section managers.

The former Republican congressman from the Panhandle is directing the drive which has for its objective the setting up of an active vote-getting organization in every county.

"Reports which we are getting indicate a tremendous interest in favor of Gen. Eisenhower and Sen. Nixon not only among Republicans—new and old—but also among Democrats and independent voters," Guill said.

He admitted, however, that a lot of work still remains to be done in the six weeks remaining before the general election.

The five section managers here for the conference were J. N. McKean, Midland; Bill Tucker, Fort Worth; Bert Sherron, Crockett; Miss Ziggy Hunter, Austin, and Curtis Traveek, Hereford.

Joining the group was Louis Henna, Round Rock.

McKean, covering far West Texas, reported that while he had found few Republicans in his territory there was wide-spread interest among Democrats. Midland especially is strong for Eisenhower, Ector County (Ozona) likewise has a strong Eisenhower organization, he said.

Tucker, who covers the central part of the state from Quanah on the north to Seguin on the south and Waxahachie to Abilene, east to west, said "if the election were to be held today, Wilbarger, Hardeman and Wichita Counties would go for Eisenhower and possibly Denton, Gillespie and Bell." He estimated that 40 per cent of the voters in his entire district would vote for the general.

Sherron, who has the East Texas district from the Louisiana line to Waxahachie to the Gulf, said, "We are coming to the place (in East Texas) where the vote is split 50-50 and I believe that if we will get out and work we can carry the entire state, 52 to 48 for Ike."

Miss Hunter, who has the Southwest Texas area, declared that the way her district will go depends on how the blocs of Latin-Americans vote.

Traveek has the upper Panhandle and most of the South Plains. He was not available for a first-hand report.

Wright Morrow Resigns Post As Texas Demo Committeeman

HOUSTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Wright Morrow of Houston resigned today as Texas Democratic national committeeman because he does not agree with and can not work for policies of the national party.

Morrow's resignation prompted immediate speculation that the State Democratic Executive Committee may refuse to accept his offer to step out.

It also brought tart comment from Maury Maverick, San Antonio, leader of the Loyal Democrats who have fought Morrow since he took the office in 1948.

"It's the best Democratic news we've had in years," Maverick said. "He (Morrow) should have had self-respect enough to have resigned four years ago."

Morrow in his letter of resignation said he can not carry on the functions of the National Committee in view of the action of the recent State Democratic Convention at Amarillo.

The Amarillo convention gradually put Democratic nominee Adlai Stevenson's name on the ballot, then instructed its officers and all Democrats to work for the Republican nominee.

At Austin, Gov. Allan Shivers said he had no comment on Morrow's resignation, except that it would be taken up at the next executive committee meeting.

Wallace Savage, Dallas, new chairman of the State Central Committee, commented he didn't think the committee would appoint anyone to succeed Morrow who had political views differing with Morrow.

"So," Savage said, "why accept the resignation?" He emphasized he could not speak for the whole committee.

The state committee is made up almost entirely of close friends of Gov. Shivers, who has said he can not vote for the Democratic National Convention's presidential nominee.

Morrow became national committeeman in 1948 when the late Myron G. Blalock, Marshall, retired. He came immediately under fire from the party's liberal faction which accused him of having left the Democratic ranks in 1944 to join the Texas Regulars in a battle against Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Morrow was sustained through the long fight by the national committee, and had been re-elected by the July convention in Chicago.

Morrow's letter to Savage said his personal feeling, as well as the mandate of the convention at Amarillo, caused him to resign.

Although stating he disagreed with some of the policies of the national party in 1948, Morrow was a key money raiser for the national committee. At a time when the national committee didn't have enough money to pay for President Truman's scheduled nationwide broadcast from Pittsburgh, Morrow and a few other top Democrats pitched in and raised the necessary amount.

Flash Flood To Aid Planning By State

AUSTIN, Sept. 20 (AP)—Flash floods of Sept. 17 threw a sudden mass of water into Lake Travis equalling a major flow of the Mississippi River for six straight hours, the State Board of Water Engineers reported today.

Information gathered from the dramatic but scientific recording of the flood's short and violent life will be of great value in future planning for control and conservation, the water board's engineers concluded.

It was the first chance they have had to study a flash flood operating against a back ground that permitted recording of its growth and power, plus utilization of a system of control measures designed to curb it but never fully tested before.

Here in part is the water board's story of what happened:

Drought conditions of Central Texas streams were being monotonously recorded at stream flow measuring stations Sept. 9. The apparently unending recording of the drought ended abruptly on Sept. 10. Slowly-falling rain began that morning and by evening, rain intensities had increased to flood-producing proportions. The continuingly-operated stream flow measuring stations began recording one of the greatest floods that has been known in portions of the Colorado and Guadalupe basins.

In the Colorado River basin the series of Lower Colorado River Authority reservoirs were operating under water-ratoned conditions, producing reduced quantities by hydro-power and releasing rationed water for rice growing along the lower reaches of the river. As the rain fell observers of rain gauges employed by the U. S. Weather Bureau and the Lower Colorado River authority commenced to report as two inches of rain was measured, and continued to report each additional two inches.

The reports poured in so fast that it was a race to plot the data on the master chart. This was warning of a flood to come.

Immediately operators of flood control and water conservation reservoirs began to wonder what would be the peak rates of stream flow and the vital volume of flow. When would the flow reach each of the reservoirs and in what quantities? These were questions that required quick answers for the proper operation of a reservoir system. Rainfall data outlined the storm area and where the rainfall was becoming heavier but determination of peak flows and the rapidity of flood flow travel was the responsibility of the stream flow recording network.

As the flows increased, overflowing stock tanks, filling and ignoring the water retardation structures and other soil conservation measures, the small rivulets and the dry arroyos became torrents, pouring into the streams with a roaring, swirling, muddy rush. The fourteen stream flow measuring stations operated jointly by the State Board of Water Engineers, the United States Geological Survey, and the Lower Colorado River Authority, immediately began to measure and record the increase in flow.

Flow reports from the gauging stations telephoned to the LCRA load dispatcher and to engineers of the U. S. Geological Survey, began to echo out the storm pattern as to where the water would hit the system of river dams. Engineers of the U. S. Geological Survey at Austin were dispatched to measure the flood flows, check previously determined flood flow charts, and obtain other field data. Engineers of the survey's field offices at San Angelo and Fort Worth were sent to perform similar work at other stations as the flood progressed.

As the measuring stations were located at strategic stream points, the information provided by the current meter (for measuring stream velocities), the water-stage recorder (for recording water heights), and other special equipment, made possible the collection of valuable flood data.

Spraberry Pair Is Staked In Midland

Two Spraberry locations were staked on the Midland County side of the Tex Harvy pool at the end of the week. Another location in the same area was amended.

Magnolia Petroleum No. 2-C A. L. Judkins, 660 from the north and east lines of section 40-37-34, T&P, will go to 7,350 feet with rotary.

Magnolia Petroleum No. 16 Logie Shackelford will be 660 from the south and east lines of section 26-37-34, T&P, and will be projected to 7,400.

Texas-Alberta Oil Corp. No. 4-F L. E. and Jay H. Floyd, section 18-36-34, T&P, filed application to deepen to 7,100 with cable tools.

Community Organization Is Formed

STANTON, (SC) — The first community organization formed in this area with the assistance of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service has emerged from a community meeting held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lillard of the Brown Community, south of Ackerly this week.

About 25 people from the community attended the meeting and expressed an interest in the project, explained to them by Dr. W. B. Coke and Mrs. Eula Newman, specialists in the community organization plan from Texas A&M College. They were introduced by Mrs. Mildred Eliand, Martin County home demonstration agent.

Elmer Dyer was elected temporary president; H. B. Pettus, temporary vice-president and Mrs. H. B. Pettus, temporary secretary.

Another meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dyer at 7:30 p. m., Wednesday, Oct. 1. All residents of the Brown Community are invited to attend.

Others assisting with the organization meeting at the Lillard's were Joe Glover and Miss Vida Holt, district Extension Service workers from Fort Stockton, and Ray Hastings, Martin County agricultural agent.

WE INVITE RUPTURED OF BIG SPRING

A Private Trial Fitting Of New Rice Support

If you are ruptured and wear a truss, now is your opportunity to get a 30-day trial of a scientifically constructed rupture support "made up" to meet the needs of your particular and individual condition.

On Tuesday, September 23 Rice Fitting Experts of Adams, N. Y. will be at the Settles Hotel, Big Spring, Texas, to give free demonstrations and private trial fittings of a Support designed to comfortably hold any reducible rupture—large or small—no matter where located or what your work may be.

Backed by more than 65 years' experience and fitted by Experts with a thorough knowledge of what they are doing, the modern Rice Support should prove to be a revelation to the most skeptical—and you are allowed a 30-day trial period to see if this is so. No binding, cutting or chafing, but a comfortably directed pressure at just the right spot to keep bowel from escaping.

Thousands have reported entire satisfaction with the Rice Support, so why endure the burden of reducible rupture suffering if you can be free from it? Anyway, it will cost you nothing to come in and learn about Rice method and the wonderful opportunity it offers. Just ask at the hotel desk for the Rice Experts and they will do the rest. Hours 10 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. or 7 to 9 evening. There is absolutely no obligation and you are promised friendly, courteous treatment. (Adv.)

Organization Of 4-H Club To Get Going

Organization of the 4-H Clubs in this county of the schools will get underway Monday at Midway, Mrs. Eugenia Toland, county home demonstration agent, and James Wrenn, assistant county agricultural agent, said yesterday.

Mrs. Toland and Wrenn will meet with the Midway students Monday morning at 10:45, and with the students at Coahoma at 8:45 p. m. that night.

Wednesday they will visit the Knott school at 8:45 a. m. and the Vealmoor students at 11 a. m. Thursday at 1 p. m. they will discuss 4-H activities with the students at Gay Hill, and Friday at 8:45 a. m. will visit the Centerpoint school.

They said that on the trips they will also work out a schedule of regular meeting dates with the principals of the various schools.

All students above the age of nine are being invited to attend the conferences. The parents of these children are also invited to be present, Wrenn said.

Father Of Local People Succumbs

Baldwin Rogers, 83, father of Mrs. Lad Cauble, 800 Johnson, and Sig Rogers, 308 2nd Street, passed away Saturday morning at his home in Whittier, Calif.

Mr. Baldwin Rogers was visiting her children in Big Spring at the time of her husband's death.

Mrs. Rogers and her two children left for California Saturday evening. They were accompanied by the deceased's grandchildren, Dot Cauble and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cauble.

Funeral services are pending the arrival of the Big Spring group. Mr. Rogers is survived by eight 15 great grandchildren.

In addition to Mrs. Cauble and Sig Rogers of this city, other children are Rev. Buck Rogers and Mrs. Glenn Brush, Whittier; Mrs. Ray Wilson, Riverside, Calif.; Dick Rogers and Mrs. Harry Mogenst, Big Bear, Calif., and Mrs. Ivan Turmiger of Azusa, Calif.

Mr. Rogers was born in Clinton, Ind., but had lived in California 17 years.

FIRE BADLY DAMAGES Residence In Forsan

FORSAN—Fire of undetermined origin badly damaged the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McGuire Thursday afternoon.

McGuire found the interior of his house burned when he returned home about 4:15 p. m. Furnishings in a portion of the house were destroyed and outside of the structure was charred and peeled.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McGuire were away from home throughout the day. The fact that the house was closed tightly probably kept the fire from consuming the structure.

Amazing Steers Crush Angelo Eleven, 33-0

Locals Explode Suddenly For Decisive Win

The Big Spring Steers wrote their own version of a Cinderella story Friday night as some 3,200 astonished fans watched Carl Coleman's revived up Longhorns swarm over San Angelo's Bobcats, 33-0.

The Steers, long in the throes of a victory drought, dominated play from the opening whistle with positive emphasis in scoring the first major upset of the season in West Texas high school football.

After a scoreless first quarter, which saw the ball passed back and forth, mostly deep in San Angelo territory, the Longhorns exploded with amazing suddenness for 20 points in the second quarter to all but tie the cat to the Bobcats.

The San Angelo boys, who were reeling from the punishing blows,

San Angelo	Big Spring
First Downs	23
Net Yards Rushing	252
Net Yards Passing	10
Passes Completed	4 of 9
Pass Interceptions	3
Points Average	3 for 29
Penalties	5 for 45
Own Fumbles	Rep. 1

may have got that way from watching J. C. Armistead cross their goal line. The 164-pound Steer back carried the mall on four touchdown plays.

And the Bobcats probably hope they never again see likes of Gix Gilstrap, Tiny Ellison, Junior Suter, Louis Stipp and some eight or 10 other Big Spring linemen who made a specialty of operating most of the evening in the Bobcat backfield.

The Longhorns made a break for themselves on the opening kick-off, when they thundered down the field to drop the San Angelo receiver on the Bobcat three-yard line. The Angelo lads were never able to pull out from that disadvantage, despite the fact that the Steers were not able to get their offensive jitney cranked up until the second quarter.

In fact, neither team was able to negotiate a first down in the first period.

Early in the second, however, Bobby Hayworth, who sometimes runs like a fullback from his signal calling post, and Billy Martin got the Big Springers started on a march that eventually paid off with six points. Armistead climaxed the drive by bulging over the double stripe from three yards out.

Most of the fans sat spellbound on that one.

Donald Mack Richardson's try for extra point was no good, and most everyone in the stands a t back and waited for the Bobcats to retaliate.

They never got a chance. Tiny Ellison pounced on a fumble on the 50-yard line, and Carl Coleman's express began to function as if it were just getting broken in. Martin, Armistead and Hayworth again maneuvered the ball down the field behind excellent blocking, and Armistead soon had his second touchdown of the evening, this time on a two-yard plunge.

The erratic Bobcats promptly fumbled again, and the Steers had their third tally before radio announcers could clear their throats. The Bobcat miscue was covered on the San Angelo 26, and on the first play Frank Long passed to Wayne Medlin, who sidestepped a defender and streaked across the goal line.

The two teams exchanged misfortunes in the scoreless third quarter, with San Angelo getting a punt blocked and the Steers losing the ball once on a fumble.

In the fourth, however, the Steers pieced together a 57-yard drive that saw Armistead wait the final 18 for a touchdown. A few moments later the same lad was off on a 33-yard gallop that produced six more points, and Donald Mack Richardson converted.

No less than nine Steer backfield men shared in ball carrying duties, and all but one of them gained yardage against the Bobcats.

Armistead's 33-yard touchdown scamper was the longest run of the game. James Hollis turned in a 18-yard jaunt, and Martin and Doyle Maynard each got away for 16. Hayworth, Ted Scott and Brick Johnson all were able to gain consistently.

Hayworth proved to be a power on both offense and defense, while Long and Robert Angel turned in sterling performances while they were spelling Hayworth occasionally on offense.

VICTORY NO. 2 Buffs In Triumph Over Grandfalls

GRANDFALLS — Stanton's Buffaloes overpowered Grandfalls, 20-0, here Friday night in a non-conference football game.

It was the second victory of the season for the Buffs, and the Stanton lads have not permitted their goal line to be crossed this year.

A week earlier they shut out the Big Spring B team, 35-0.

Climax of the Friday night game was an 80-yard run by Duane Connell. Buff center which produced the third touchdown. Connell intercepted a Grandfalls pass on the Stanton 20 and went all the way.

Conrad McKaskle put Stanton ahead in the first quarter when he plunged over for a touchdown from the four-yard line. Leroy Polk ran the ball over for the extra point.

The score remained 7-0 in favor of Stanton until the fourth period when McKaskle broke through center on a 10-yard touchdown run. Connell's interception and run-back came a few moments later.

Longhorns Pace District Teams

Big Spring was the only member of District 1-AAA to muster a victory this week, as all members of the loop, except one, battled 4-A opposition.

And, by virtue of the 33-0 trouncing of San Angelo from District 1-AAA, the Steers undoubtedly showed more improvement during the past week than any other club in its district.

While the Longhorns were running up their topheavy margin over the Bobcats, Sweetwater, the district favorite, was bowing to Odessa by 27-6. Lamesa was absorbing a 13-35 defeat at the hands of Midland. Plainview was being routed by Lubbock, 47-0, and Vernon was being held to a 7-7 tie by Altus. Okla. Snyder suffered a 29-0 defeat at the hands of Northside (FW) on Thursday night.

DISTRICT RECORDS: BIG SPRING 0 Breckenridge 33 San Angelo 0 SWEETWATER 26 Levelland 6 Odessa 6 VERNON 6 Wichita Falls 7 Altus, Okla. 7 SNYDER 7 Jefferson (EP) 21 Northside (FW) 0 LAMESA 18 Paschal (FW) 13 MIDLAND 0 PLAINVIEW 0 Lubbock 47

Next week's schedule: Carter Riverside (FW) at Big Spring; Ysleta at Plainview; Vernon at Pampa; Sweetwater at Abilene; Snyder at Levelland; Jefferson (EP) at Lamesa.

Ballinger Hands C-City A 12-7 Setback Friday

COLORADO CITY — The Ballinger Bearcats clawed the Colorado City Wolves to the tune of 12 to 7, Friday night in Colorado City, capitalizing on Wolf fumbles and a weak pass defense.

The game was played in 81-degree weather before 3,000 fans which included a large group of Bearcat rooters.

The Wolves set the pattern in the first play of the game, fumbling and recovering for a two yard loss, and later donated the ball to the Bearcats three times on fumbles. In the third quarter, when the Bearcat land game turned sour, Quarterback Jerry Bell stepped from the winged T and fired passes from an old fashioned short punt-good for 32 yards and a TD in three plays. The Bearcats completed 8 of 13, the Wolves 7 of 14, passes. First downs were Ballinger

HCJC Students Help In Program

Three Howard County Junior College students are assisting in the Big Spring elementary sports program.

They have been assigned to coach the teams in three ward schools. Joe Mize, who worked with Park Hill youngsters last spring, was reassigned there by request.

At Washington Place, Fred Barnes, student from Forsan, is the team coach. Tommy Randolph, from Pottersburg, is coaching at College Heights. The junior college men are used to supplement the regular school staff because men teachers are not available in all places.

During his career as an outfielder for the New York Yankees, Joe DiMaggio hit 148 homers at the Yankee Stadium.

Flower Grove Falls To Kats

GARDEN CITY—The Garden City Bearcats thundered over Flower Grove, 46-19, here Friday to mark up their second six-man football game of the season.

Bryant Harris started the Bearcat scoring parade early in the game when he accepted a pass from William Bednar and ran 30 yards for a touchdown.

Don Thompson then crashed over for Flower Grove to knot the score and the visitors went ahead briefly when Shorty Phelon ran across for the extra point. Howdy, Tommy Rich came back to score for garden City and the Kats had a 12-7 advantage at the end of the first quarter.

Early in the second Rich took a lateral on the 20 and ran for a TD and Jimmie McQuorquade converted from placement. John Lee Daniel then took a lateral from Truett Newell for another Kats score to make it 26-7 at the half.

In the third Harris scored on a 30-yard pass from Bob Frizzell, and then Flower Grove got another touchdown when Carles Nance plunged over.

Gerry Mitchell made a Kat touchdown on a 35-yard pass in the fourth, and shortly thereafter Dale Hilliger added six more points for the Kats and McQuorquade again converted.

Dan Thompson made Flower Grove's last touchdown, and Larry Calverley scored again for Garden City just before the final whistle.

Several District No. 8 coaches were on hand to scout the Kats, who host Blackwell in a conference opener next Friday.

All Three Teams Due To See Action

All three Big Spring football teams will be in action next week. The varsity Steers will meet Carter Riverside of Fort Worth here in the second home game of the season and the second successive game to pit the Longhorns against 4-A competition.

Meanwhile, the junior high Yearlings are due to see the week's first action. They meet the Sweetwater junior high team here Thursday night.

The Big Spring B team, the Shortorns, is scheduled to travel to Sweetwater on Saturday for a skirmish with the Pony B aggregation.

Loraine Nudges Lueders, 9-6

LORLAINE — The Loraine Bulldogs came from behind late in the game to edge the Lueders Pirates, 9-6, here Friday night.

It was the second victory of the season for the Bulldogs.

Loraine took a 2-0 lead when Swenson of Lueders was trapped behind his own goal line in the second quarter.

The Pirates rebounded to go ahead, 6-2, in the third when Commons romped 60 yards for a touchdown. However, the Bulldogs immediately put on a scoring drive, with Roy Johnson hitting the middle of the touchdown from three yards out. Johnson ran across the goal line for the extra point.

Steers Electrify Fans

J. C. Armistead (No. 30) at left, crashes over the double stripe for the second of four touchdowns he scored Friday night as the Steers stunned San Angelo's Bobcats, 33-0. That's Norman Dudley sprawled to the right of Armistead, while Bobcats Harold Wills and Mike Henson come in too late. Above, Doyle Maynard ducks his head in preparation for a collision with an unidentified Bobcat. Maynard scampered 16 yards on the play. (Staff photos by Leonard Hartley).

RAMBLING IN SPORTS

Stasey Seeks Method To Boost Attendance

(Sports Editor Tommy Hart is on vacation. His regular column, "Lookin' 'Em Over" will be resumed on his return.) By WACIL McNAIR

Big Spring is not keeping abreast of the times, except in team performance, in the professional baseball world, and that is the one and only reason that Pat Stasey probably would be willing to surrender ownership of the local club.

Stasey is not tired of managing, he is not weary of his duties in the business office and he is well satisfied with the Longhorn league. However, he believes that this city's baseball fortunes in the future would be enhanced if someone with more financial resources than he possesses could take over the business reins of the club.

"We need a new baseball park, and it should be a park owned by the baseball club," Stasey suggested. "Understand that we have no quarrel with the school system. It's just that the school needs all of its athletic grounds for its own use, and in the summer time the baseball club needs a park it can call its own."

Stasey believes that attendance could be boosted substantially here if a bigger and better grandstand was available. In fact, Big Spring now has the poorest facilities in the Longhorn league, and Stasey believes that factor has hurt attendance.

The Bronc manager feels that the local franchise should always be controlled by local interests, but that some individual, or group, who is able to get into the business on a first-class, permanent basis should have ownership. That would entail building and maintaining a modern ball park which would require a substantial amount of capital.

Once the initial step is taken, however, Stasey believes Big Spring can count on professional baseball indefinitely.

Speaking of baseball attendance, Jim Lindsey of the Midland Reporter-Telegram recently called attention to the fact that total attendance for the two playoff games between the Broncs and Indians attracted 4,668 customers to the Midland baseball park. In their two playoff games here the Broncs and Indians drew an aggregate of 2,100.

Hugh Harrell, president of the Hub City Baylor Alumni Association, has advised this department that his organization is planning a big "open house" reception for all Baylor exes who attend the Baylor-Texas Tech football game in Lubbock Oct. 18. The event will be held from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. in the Chimayo Room of the Caprock Hotel.

If you are in doubt about where to place the credit for the Steers' victory over San Angelo Friday night, we suggest spreading it over the entire Longhorn squad and then cutting the coaches in for a fair share. We saw the Steers practice every day this week and they had the same type of enthusiasm on the practice field that fans saw on the playing field Friday night, and we can personally testify that the local lads put to use what their coaches taught them during the week. That amounted to quite a bit, as the game score clearly indicates that the Steers have learned some football since the Breckenridge game.

San Angelo representatives in the "press box," and we use that term loosely, were amazed to see their offense stalled. They had seen the Bobcat backs shine a week earlier when they routed Plainview, 40-7, in a scrimmage session.

The 3560th Supply team copped three points from Pilot Training Group "Tri-Hards" to finish the week's activity at the top of the heap in the Airmen's Wednesday Night Bowling league. The 3560th outfit had a team total of 2,283.

Wing Headquarters, with a total of 2,288, took four points from Pilot Training Group "Pussy Cat" and Pilot Training Group "Stogies" took four points on a forfeit.

In the other match, Pilot Training Group "Gobblers" split two with 3561st Maintenance.

Maynard of Wing Headquarters turned in a 194 line for high game honors, while Caston of 3560th Supply had the high series, with 537.

The standings: TEAM W L 3560th Supply 9 3 Wing Headquarters 8 4 "Tri-Hards" 7 5 "Gobblers" 7 5 3561st Maintenance 7 5 "Stogies" 5 7 "Pussy Cats" 4 8

Hermligh Stops ASPERMONT, 20-0 ASPERMONT—The Hermligh C. dinals scored a 20-0 non-conference victory over the Aspermont Hornets here Friday night.

Walls scored all of the touchdowns for the winners, one of them coming on a 39-yard run. Gerald Jordan kicked two extra points.

Bulldogs Rout Divide For Second Victory

COAHOMA—Everybody on the local squad got into the act here Friday night when the Coahoma Bulldogs routed the Divide Trojans for their second football victory of the season.

Coach Fred Salling used every man he had at his disposal, and every combination he sent to the field managed to eat up huge chunks of yardage.

Six different players contributed to the scoring, as the Bulldogs racked up 10 touchdowns and made good on eight tries for extra points.

Meanwhile the Trojans were able to make only two first downs against the Bulldog defenders.

Bill Read made two touchdowns, one on a quarterback sneak and one on a pass from Robinson. Robinson added 12 points, returning a punt for a TD and circling end for another.

Billy Joe Cramer scored on a pass from Read, David Hodnett scored once on an end run and again through the line, while Gerry Hoover bucked over center for one and Jimmy Spears took a pass for one and ran over tackle for another.

Read converted on eight of 10 tries from placements.

ATTENDANCE UP FOR FIRST HOME CONTEST

The Big Spring Steers picked a good night from an attendance standpoint to jump back on the victory rails.

Friday night's crowd at the Steer-San Angelo game was one of the largest to see a High School football game here since the war.

Pat Murphy, school business manager, said Saturday that a preliminary calculation indicated that approximately 3,050 persons paid admissions into the stadium.

This included 1,086 reserved seats, 1,150 general admission tickets, 895 student tickets and 15 junior college student tickets. The bands, pep leaders, etc., who stationed at the edge of the playing field probably ran the total attendance to something over 3,250.

Of the total number of tickets sold, there were 50 advance sales of adult tickets and 160 student tickets in San Angelo while the remainder were sold Big Spring.

Murphy said he already had received requests for tickets to next Friday night's game, which brings the Carter Riverside team of Fort Worth to the local gridiron.

Union Triumphs Over Hillbillies

UNION—The Union Bobcats triumphed, 26-8, here Friday to hand the Knott Hillbillies their second defeat of the season in a District No. 7 six-man football game.

The Hillbillies were forced to operate without the services of their captain, Dan Chapman, who suffered a fractured skull in a practice session last Wednesday.

Tiny Bayes, who sprinted 65 yards for Knott's only touchdown one minute before the game ended, was the leading ground gainer, despite the fact that he had not fully recovered from an injury. Phil Stovall place kicked the extra points.

Dunbar completed 12 of 18 passes for Union, and that accounted for most of the difference between the two teams. The Hillbillies outrushed the Bobcats by 168 yards to 115 yards. First downs favored the Bobcats, 5 to 3. Only two penalties were called during the game, both of them against Knott.

Knott fumbled four times and recovered one of its own bobbles, while Union fumbled three times and made one recovery.

The Hillbillies will meet Courtney on the Knott gridiron next Friday.

Robert Lee Wins Conference Opener

IRA—The Robert Lee Steers smashed the Ira Bulldogs, 45-0, here Friday night in the opening District 5-B football game for both teams.

Norman Roberts scored three touchdowns for the Steers, while Donnie Duncan counted twice and Bill Havins and Garland Davis once each.

Davis made his touchdown on a 25-yard pass from Duncan. All other scores came on running plays.

Rugged Match Due In Coahoma

COAHOMA — A rugged football struggle is in prospect here next Friday night when two neighboring rivals, both unbeaten and untied in two starts, come to grips on the local high school gridiron.

The Stanton Buffaloes, who have looked impressive in their first two games, are due here that evening to challenge Coach Fred Salling's Bulldogs, who have looked strong enough themselves in their earlier engagements.

The two teams already have met a common foe, but the outcome failed to produce a basis for naming a clear-cut favorite in next Friday's battle. The Bulldogs tripped Grandfalls, 13-6 a week ago in their opener, while the Buffs whacked the same Grandfalls eleven by 20-0 last Friday night. The Bulldogs trampled the Divide Trojans, 68-0, in their latest start.

Team Three Leads In Bowling Loop

Team Three and the 7-Up Bottlers took top honors Friday night in the Women's Classic Bowling League tournament. Each team won two games and lost only one.

Standings in the tournament show Team Three in the lead, with 4 wins and 2 losses. The 7-Up team and Dibrrell's have 3 wins and 3 losses, and Cecil's Liquor has 2 wins and 4 losses.

Friday night the high team was 7-Up, with 2,121 points. Top individual game—755—was bowled by the 7-Up team.

Watson of 7-Up bowled highest in the series—488—and highest individually with 178.

Team Three's wins came from Dibrrell's, and 7-Up's wins were from Cecil's Liquor Store. Series scores Friday were Team Three, 1903; Dibrrell's, 1856; and Cecil's, 1990.

Steers Escorted To Field

Reich Leads Kansas Over TCU Frogs, 13-0

By SKIPPER PATRICK LAWRENCE, Kas., Sept. 20 (U)—Gil Reich, former defensive star at West Point, blossomed into a brilliant attacking quarterback today by engineering the Kansas Jayhawks to a 13-0 victory over Texas Christian in a major inter-sectional football game. Reich, a 187-pound senior from Steelton, Pa., passed for both Kansas touchdowns against the defending champion Southwest Conference Horned Frogs. He reached halfback John Konek with a 14-yard toss in the first quarter and hit Bob Blandberry, another half, with a 5-yarder in the final period. About 25,000 fans turned out for the game, first on the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s nationally televised program. A morning-long rain that stopped just before the kickoff left the turf in a slippery condition, but on any footing Kansas was the superior team. It was the first time Coach Dutch Meyer's Frogs have been shut out since the Rice game of 1947-48 games ago. And Reich, one of the boys rushed out of the military academy in the cribbing scandal two years ago, was in the defensive lineup every time TCU appeared dangerous. Only in the final quarter and after the sun had brushed away the rainclouds did the Texans show any sort of an offensive. The Frogs, with Ray McKown doing the passing, moved once to the Kansas 6-yard line and again to the 12 yard line when a strong Jayhawk defense swatted them back. It was the finest Kansas defense in years and the defenders' role was as important as Reich's attacking operations as the Jayhawk victory. TCU managed only 58 yards net rushing and 129 through the air against the Kansans who hope to beat out powerful Oklahoma and Colorado in the Big Seven Conference race. TCU's miscues proved costly in the opening minutes. Ronald Clinkscale, a 6-6-second trackman starting at quarterback, fumbled the opening kickoff and Kansas recovered on the Frogs' 31. Kansas failed to cash in immediately, stopping itself with a fumble on the 1-yard mark, but it didn't let the Texans out of the crack before scoring. McKown punted out weakly after the fumble recovery and Kansas needed only two perfect passes—the first to end Jerry Bogie and the second to Konek—to break the tie. Konek missed the try for extra point but made the placement after the second touchdown. After Kansas got on top, Reich's fine punting kept TCU deep in its own territory until Kansas had built up a 13-0 lead in the last period. He kicked out of bounds on the 5-yard line in the third quarter and the Frogs were able to run the ball back only 29 yards on Reich's eight kicks.

Graves Leads Texas Aggies Over Cougar Eleven, 21-13

By WILBUR MARTIN HOUSTON, Sept. 20 (U)—Slender Ray Graves tonight used his own savvy, speed and sharpshooter passing to send Texas A&M smashing over the University of Houston, 21-13. A leaky A&M pass defense kept 50,000 spectators on edge throughout the final period, but the attack wasn't enough to make up for the touchdowns by Darrow Hooper and Don Ellis in the game's beginning and one by Graves near the end. Graves hit Hooper with an eight-yard pass for the first A&M score, set up Ellis' 11-yard touchdown jaunt with another and counted himself on an 11-yard run. Hooper kicked all of the extra points. Houston, paced by bruising Paul Carr and passer Bobby Clatterback, threatened seriously five times but went all the way only twice in the third period when Carr capped an 80-yard drive with a one-foot goal line smash, and again in the last quarter on Clatterback's 27-yard heave to S. M. Meeks. Graves, 170-pounder who was a regular on defense last year, threw hard, bullet passes and his favorite receiver was Hooper, U. S. Olympic shot putter. When his battery wasn't working, Graves was running—or sending Ellis, Ray Haas, Connie Magourik or Don Kachik through a burly Houston line that was tough only at tackle. Statistically, there wasn't so

Sun Devils Clip Cowboys By 26-7

ABILENE, Sept. 20 (U)—Arizona State, the law of averages and a "night fighter" jet job named John Henry Johnson finally caught up with Hardin-Simmons football department. The Sun Devils from Tempe, living up to pre-season tempo, rolled over the Cowboys 26-7, for their first victory in the 11-game series. Hardin-Simmons had won 10 games on the field one by forfeit, up to Saturday night.

Cubs Throttle Cardinals, 4-1

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (U)—Warren Hacker, the Chicago Cubs' strong-armed right hander, checked the St. Louis Cardinals today 4-1. Stan Musial, the Cardinals' center fielder and the National League's leading batter, went hitless in four official times at bat, and as result his average dropped to .333 compared to Frankie Baumholtz' runner-up mark of .319.

Bears Fight From Behind To Nip Deacons, 17-14

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF WACO, Sept. 20 (U)—Baylor's Bears fought from behind twice to tie the score, then beat Wake Forest, 17-14, with only 14 seconds to go today in a game marked by such unusual incidents as a player coming off the bench to tackle a runner and a Bear charging on the field to steal an official's flag. C. O. Brocato, the rugged Baylor linebacker, booted the field goal from the Wake Forest 11-yard line to climax a stormy football battle in which long passes and long runs kept a crowd of 16,000 in pandemonium. It was 92 degrees, so hot the people fanned themselves in the stands, and the game coincided with the weather. Charles (Sonny) George passed for both of the Wake Forest touchdowns. Francis (Cotton) Davidson and Billy Hoopes boomed long throws to set up the touchdowns for Baylor. The incident of the Bear was ludicrous. It was one of the mascot Bear cub twins—either Topsy or Turvy, no one was sure—that came on the field and grabbed the official's flag while the crowd roared. The official had thrown it down to signal a foul against Baylor. But the incident of the player coming off the field to tackle the runner wasn't so funny—for Wake Forest. It was Vann Seawell, a substitute Deacon quarterback. Allen Jones had run around right end for 10 yards, stepping out the Baylor 19, then cutting down the side lines, not knowing he had gone out of bounds. Seawell couldn't restrain himself—he ran out and made a fine tackle. Jones hit him on the head with the ball and the fans thought it was slugging. But the officials penalized Wake Forest 15 yards. Both teams threw away numerous opportunities to score. Wake Forest scored first in the second period on a 26-yard pass from George to Jack Lewis. George kicked the extra point. Baylor thundered back to tie the score with only three seconds left in the half. L. G. Dupre, a sophomore, figured most prominently in the surge. He took a pass from Davidson that gained 58 yards, then teamed with Don Carpenter to hammer to the Wake Forest 5. Here, the Deacons were penalized to the one for offside and Dupre rammed right guard for the touchdown. Brocato kicked the extra point. Wake Forest took the lead in the third period after recovering a fumble by Davidson on the Baylor 44. Billy Churm, the hardest runner for the day in the Deacon backfield, and George combined for the score—Churm with his runs and George with his passing. The touchdown was set up on a 12-yard pass from George to Wesley Leford that placed the ball on the one. George then plowed center for the score and again converted. Baylor counted the next time it had the ball, rolling 63 yards. A 40-yard pass from Hooper to Charley Jones that carried to the Wake Forest 22 was the big blow. Dupre carved out three in a line plunge, then Hooper passed over the goal line to Charley Cowley. Brocato kicked the extra point to tie the score. Wake Forest 0 7 0 0-14 Baylor 0 7 0 10-17 Wake Forest scoring: touchdowns, Lewis, George; conversions: George 2; Baylor scoring: touchdowns, Dupre, Cowley; conversions: Brocato 2; field goal, Brocato.

Longhorns Roll Over LSU Tigers, 35-14

By HUGH MULLIGAN BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 20 (U)—Quarterback James (T) Jones scored two touchdowns and passed for another to guide the University of Texas to a 35-14 football victory over Louisiana State tonight. Jones kept the Texas offense rolling despite a steady rain that fell most of the night, driving his team deep in LSU territory time and again. A 52-yard pass to end Tom Stohandske drew first blood for Texas late in the first half. Texas added three touchdowns in the third period, with Jones dashing 22 yards for one and crashing one for another. Halfback Poo Price intercepted an LSU fumble on the 15 and returned it all the way. LSU came back after the half with a quick drive that covered 62 yards in 80 seconds. The fine breakaway runs of fullback Russ Gautreaux and the backs of halfback Jerry Marchand ate most of the distance, with Marchand plowing over from the two. Linebacker Jim Barton intercepted a pass from the arm of LSU's Cliff Stirlingfield and dashed 35 yards down the sidelands for the final Texas score in the closing minutes of the game. LSU's other touchdown came on halfback Dick Prescott's bulldozing three-yard run in the final quarter. Safety man Bob Ingram booted all five Texas conversions. Stringfield got both LSU extra points.

Lopat Blanks Athletics, 2-0

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (U)—Lefty Ed Lopat shut out Philadelphia with four hits today to boost the New York Yankees lead to two full games with a 2-0 victory. The Yanks scored twice in the eighth. Phil Rizzuto's double with one out opened the winning spurt. Hank Bauer's single scored Rizzuto with the first run, and Bauer after advancing on an error, tallied soon afterward as Yogi Berra looped a double to left.

Roberts Beats Giants

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20 (U)—Big Robin Roberts pitched his 20th victory of the season tonight for the Philadelphia Phillies, a 3 to 2 job that sent the New York Giants reeling five games behind the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National League pennant race with seven games left to play.

Tech Jackets Skip Past The Citadel

ATLANTA, Sept. 20 (U)—Georgia Tech, third best team in college football, looked like an underrated club today when a fleet of footmen piled up a 54-6 score over The Citadel in weather better suited for a swimming meet. Just as pre-season dopsters said, Tech presently is strictly a running team. The passing game is purely incidental and it was used today against the slow but willing soldiers as a diversionsary effort. However, when Tech ordered up a pass, it usually got to the target. Sophomore quarterback Bill Brigrman did most of the throwing and directed one of the finest sets of runners in the Southeastern Conference since World War II.

Washington Nats Lick Sox, 10-6

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (U)—Mel Parnell's string of 17 straight victories over Washington was snapped tonight when the Senators defeated the Boston Red Sox, 10-6. Mickey Vernon blasted a three-run inside-the-park homer to feature a six-run Washington uprising in the fourth inning.

Crockett Colts Nudge By Peppery Yearlings, 19-6

The Crockett Junior High Colts of Odessa executed two long passes and a 50-yard run, each for a touchdown, to elp the peppery Big Spring Yearlings, 19-6 Saturday night at Steer Stadium. However, the Yearlings, who were victims of a shaky pass defense in the first half, came back to play the favored Colts to a standstill in the third and fourth quarters. The local lads displayed a potent defense that proved deadly around the ends and it was the defense that ultimately produced the only Big Spring score of the game. Gerry Graves blocked an Odessa punt and Sidney Cravens fell on the ball behind the Colt goal line for the touchdown. The Odessans had

Hogs Squeeze Past Oklags

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 20 (U)—Rookie linemen Bud Brooks and Lewis Carpenter, a squirming, battering-ram fullback, were the difference as the Arkansas Razorbacks edged a tougher-than-expected Oklahoma A&M team, 22-20, in a football season opener tonight.

Washington Nats Lick Sox, 10-6

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (U)—Mel Parnell's string of 17 straight victories over Washington was snapped tonight when the Senators defeated the Boston Red Sox, 10-6. Mickey Vernon blasted a three-run inside-the-park homer to feature a six-run Washington uprising in the fourth inning.

Huskies Throttle Vandals By 39-14

SEATTLE, Sept. 20 (U)—Don Heinrich, the wizard of Washington, stepped back on the football stage today and flabbergasted Idaho, throwing two touchdowns passes as he piloted the Huskies to a 39-14 Pacific Coast Conference victory. Washington ran up 32 points in this season opener before the visiting Vandals carved out their first touchdown late in the third period. An all-America quarterback who set out the 1951 season with a shoulder injury, Heinrich kept the air full of leather through the first half. He pitched 24 times and completed 17, in action briefly in the second half, he had just one more completion in five tries. Tough luck dogged the Vandals much of the way. Penalties bogged them down several times in the first half and the toughest blow came early in the second period, when quarterback Wayne Anderson was thumbed out on a rule infraction.

Maryland Wins With Late TD Over Missouri

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 20 (U)—Maryland's proud 12-game winning streak and national reputation rode the arm of Jack Scarbath and the churning legs of Ralph Felton to a narrow comeback 13-10 victory today over Missouri's supposedly out-classed Tigers. It was Felton who took a pitch-out from Scarbath and carried it 15 yards across the goal line early in the fourth quarter to give Maryland its first touchdown. It was Scarbath, calmly picking his receivers under the pressure of dying seconds, who spotted Lloyd Colterryahn on Missouri's 26 yard line and opened the door for Maryland's winning score with a minute remaining. Colterryahn grabbed the pass, hesitated while Felton threw a key block that removed a Missouri key defender, and then raced into the end zone. Except for that brilliant comeback, Maryland looked like a fall-on-giant. For three quarters it resembled anything but the team that was rated 1-2 among the nation's football greats with Michigan State.

Browns Win Two

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20 (U)—The St. Louis Browns took both games of a two-night doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox tonight, winning the first with a five-run ninth inning rally, 9 to 6, and the second, 4 to 0.

Injured

Don Chapman, captain of the Knott football team is confined to Medical Arts Hospital for treatment of a skull fracture he suffered in practice last week. Chapman, who stands 6-3 and weighs 185, is a Junior and made the all-district team last year. He not only will be forced out of action for the remainder of the football season, but may miss most of the basketball season as well.

Indians Spank Oilers To Take Lead In Series

MIDLAND, Sept. 20 (U)—The Midland Indians moved within one game of the Longhorn league championship here tonight by blasting the Odessa Oilers, 6-1, behind the five-hit pitching of Righthander Eddie Jacome. With the Shaughnessy playoff series standing at 3-2 in Midland's favor, the two teams moved to Odessa for the sixth game at 8:15 p.m. Sunday. The steady Indian mound ace gave up only two walks and struck out five as he blanked the Oilers all the way, except in the seventh inning when the visitors combined Felix Castro's two-bagger and Pinchhitter Evilio Ortega's single for their lone tally. The Indians jumped off to a fast start when little Manny Tames, the second baseman who was out of most of three games with injuries received Tuesday night, came in to blast a first-inning home run over the left field fence with Earl Bosnerberry and Glen Selbo on base. Midland picked up two more runs in the seventh inning when a triple by Bill Brown, a double by Galien Dinkle and a single by Gordon Tanner chased Reliever Carlos Perez.

Bums Outlast Boston, 1-0 In 10 Innings

BOSTON, Sept. 20 (U)—Brooklyn's pennant-driving Dodgers, thanks to the combined and highly effective efforts of Jackie Robinson and righthander Carl Erskine, today provided manager Charlie Dressen with a most welcome 54th birthday present—a 10-inning 1-0 shutout over the Boston Braves. Robinson's fourth successive hit drove in Billy Cox with the winning run while Erskine gave up only three safeties. In the seventh, after Boston had loaded the bases on two walks and a single, Earl Torgeson took a third strike that extinguished the Braves' only threat of the game. As the game wore on, Warren Spahn seemed to improve, but Billy Cox became the first Brooklyn batter to open an inning with a hit in the 10th. Erskine laid down a perfect sacrifice, and Carl Furillo was purposely passed. After Peewee Reese fled to right, the hard-slugging Robinson hit safely into left field to decide the game.

Browns Win Two

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20 (U)—The St. Louis Browns took both games of a two-night doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox tonight, winning the first with a five-run ninth inning rally, 9 to 6, and the second, 4 to 0.

Merchants Get Warning About Unlabeled Food

A warning against either selling or purchasing unlabeled food products was directed to area merchants and farm and dairy operators by City-County Sanitarian Lige Fox.

The health official issued the warning as a result of last week's disclosure that oleomargarine has been selling here for more than a year as unlabeled "country butter."

Fox said his chances of building a case against persons responsible for the profiteering hoax were jeopardized by the fact that local merchants unwittingly purchased and resold the unlabeled product. He said charges probably won't be filed in the case since the oleomargarine distributed as butter was not labeled as either butter or margarine.

Analysis of a pound of the product showed that it contained no butterfat whatever, Fox said Saturday.

He estimated that more than 1,000 pounds of the substance have been sold locally as "country butter." It went for 75 cents a pound, wholesale.

The sanitarian emphasized that producers must label all food products with their name and address, name of the product, and the approximate weight. Failure to do so is a violation of state food laws. Merchants who purchase unlabeled foods for distribution also are liable for prosecution, he warned.

East Reich Leader Says United Germany Ought Pay Reparations

By BRACK CURRY
BONN, Germany, Sept. 20 (U.P.)—A deputy premier of Communist East Germany, spade-bearded Otto Nuschke, old newsman here today that a united Germany would be duty bound to pay reparations to Russia.

Nuschke tossed out this potentially explosive declaration before a luncheon and news conference of the Foreign Press Association while police outside held back a thousand or more angry, jeering anti-Communists.

It was the first time any East German leader has said publicly that a proposed new national German government—the topic of a long exchange of notes between Russia and the Big Three Western Allies—should take over from the Soviet zone regime the multi-billion-dollar war damage claims pressed by the Kremlin.

Just why Nuschke presented the idea at this time is obscure. Propaganda for unification of Germany has been potent. But few among the 48 million people of West Germany, whom the Russians would like to swerve from alliance with the West, have any desire to add to their tax burden the reparations levies that the 18 million East Germans have borne since 1945.

Nuschke, 69, is not a Communist. He is a fellow traveler. He heads the East German Christian Democratic party, which collaborates with the ruling Socialist Unity (Communist) party. In West Germany, the Christian Democrats are the backbone of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's conservative coalition.

Nuschke appeared before the foreign newsmen as the leader of a five-man delegation which presented the Bonn Parliament yesterday a batch of Soviet zone proposals for unification.

He declared the East German reparations payments are so small in volume they are hardly noticed. He said they amount to only one half of per cent of current production.

According to Allied officials, however, the Russians have milked East Germany of at least 16 billion dollars in reparations since the war. Prime Minister Stalin announced in 1950 he was reducing the bill to $6,800,000,000. Payments are sought until 1965.

One of Nuschke's Communist associates, Hermann Matern, told newsmen Russia is prepared to free German war prisoners convicted of crimes whenever the international situation eases through reunification of Germany. Without estimating their number, he said he had no knowledge of any Germans kept in Russia who had not been convicted of crimes. Adenauer told the Bonn Parliament this week Russia holds more than 100,000 German war prisoners.

Matern said the Potsdam agreement could be the only basis for reunifying Germany. He did not elaborate on this, but the United States, Britain and France have previously made clear they have no intention of reverting to the Potsdam formula for four-power control of Germany.

The hostile West German speculators hurled insults at the Red delegates when they arrived at a Bonn hotel for the luncheon news conference. They were called murderers and kidnapers.

Giant banners were hoisted: "Out with Stalin's messenger boys," and "No negotiations with kidnapers."

IN ROAD FINANCING

Tax Valuation For Martin Shows Gain

STANTON, (SC) — In discussing the proposed $250,000 road bond issue which will be submitted to the Martin County voters on Saturday, October 18, County Judge James McMorris said completion of the tax rolls had brought an agreeable surprise.

This surprise he described as being a disclosure that valuations have gained $300,000 over last year bringing the total to approximately $4,962,350.

"But even without this increased valuation which was unexpected and which comes as something of a windfall," the county judge commented, "we could have financed the bond issue without an increase in assessments or the tax rate. This unexpected valuation increase only makes it all the more certain we can do it without raising anybody's taxes."

McMorris then explained that the principal purpose of the issue will be to provide a wider right-of-way through Martin County for the more than 13 miles of U. S. Highway 80. He said that as soon as the county gets this wider right-of-way, the State Highway Department will be ready to complete its plans to rebuild Highway 80 as a four-lane highway through the county, with a park area division between east-bound and west-bound traffic from the Howard County line to the Midland County line.

McMorris said estimates on the rebuilding of Highway 80 through the county have been set at $1,250,000 which will be paid by the state. This rebuilding, he said, has already been set up in the state's 1953-54 program "and if we can pass this bond issue and get the right-of-way we will get the road. If we don't pass the bond issue and provide this right-of-way, at no additional cost to the taxpayers of Martin County, then the construction money the state now has ready for us will probably be diverted to some other county in some other part of the state. To take advantage of this opportunity we will have to pass this bond issue."

Part of the $250,000, McMorris said, will also be used to buy right-of-ways for other farm-to-market roads in all parts of the county. "These right-of-ways will then be ready as soon as the state gets around to paving them," he explained.

Tuesday, McMorris, accompanied by County Commissioners Oliver Vaughn, Irvin Welch, Ed Bloomer and Joe Froman, will go to Austin for a conference with state highway department officials.

Congressman George Mahon of Colorado City will be one of the two guest speakers at the annual Howard County Farm Bureau barbecue and convention in the new Fair Association buildings here at 7 p.m., Tuesday, September 30.

The other speaker will be Loyd D. Barbour of Iowa Park, a director of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation.

The two speakers were announced yesterday by County Agent Durward Lewter.

The principal business to be transacted at the convention, according to Cecil Leatherwood, president, will be the election of eight directors and the selection of delegates to the state convention.

M. D. Owen, Big Lake, was dismissed from Malone & Hogan Hospital Saturday morning after being hospitalized overnight. Owen apparently collapsed from heat exhaustion while in downtown Big Spring Friday afternoon.

Man Is Released From Jail On $5,000 Bond

W. R. Taylor, who was arrested Wednesday on charges of allegedly fondling a minor, was released from jail Saturday on $5,000 bond.

The release followed an unsuccessful court attempt to have the bond reduced. Judge Charlie Sullivan refused action on a petition of habeas corpus filed Friday in Taylor's behalf.

George Thomas, acting as Taylor's attorney, claimed the bond had been set too high, and that Taylor was consequently being held illegally. Justice of the Peace W. O. Leonard set the $5,000 bond Wednesday.

Taylor was arraigned in Justice Court after a complaint was filed Wednesday morning. A 13-year-old girl's mother filed the complaint for her daughter. Taylor operates a grocery store on West Highway 80.

Mahon Will Speak At Farm Bureau's Meeting Tuesday

Congressman George Mahon of Colorado City will be one of the two guest speakers at the annual Howard County Farm Bureau barbecue and convention in the new Fair Association buildings here at 7 p.m., Tuesday, September 30.

Friendly Texans Like Friendly Homes

Texas Home Fashion Time, a celebration designed to demonstrate to Texans how their homes can be more livable, attractive and friendly, is being observed in more than 140 cities from Sept. 18-27.

Using as their theme "Friendly Texans Like Friendly Homes," many furniture dealers have arranged special displays showing the latest trends in home furnishings.

DINING ALCOVE—In the dining end of the living room at the home of Mrs. Roy Townsend, 804 Edwards Blvd., is this handsome grouping of cast aluminum table and chairs, painted aquamist to match the walls, woodwork, carpeting and louvered shutters above the planter, which is covered with Japanese grass cloth and decorated with huge Chinese brass knocker. Table top is three-quarter-inch plate glass, and chair cushions are covered in a nubby textured cloth in gold woven with a gold metallic thread. The clock is gold leaf and the five pictures are hand-done lithographs in gold leaf and antique mirror frames.

FOR EVERYDAY LIVING—Mrs. A. Walker, 608 Aylford, selects this ranch type furniture for her den. The wood is bleached oak and the covering is a red plastic leather which will not split or crack. Covered wagons and cowboys on cushion backs are outlined in white stitching. Brilliantly-colored ranch scenes decorate the shades on the wagon wheel lamps, and the old-fashioned round dining table, cut down to coffee table height, holds plants and ceramic figures.

GRACIOUS LIVING—Against one wall of this spacious living room at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Martin, 807 W. 15th, are the modern, tufted back sofa in a nubby-textured brown cloth shot with metallic threads, lamed oak end tables holding brown lamps with beige shades and the lamed oak coffee table with magazine niches at each end. Draw drapes over the casement windows are in a floral print in shades of green on a cream background. Carpeting and walls are seafoam green, and cigarette boxes, ash trays and other accessories are green and brown.

LOUNGING GROUP—Mrs. Billie Joe Morris, 1005 Bluebonnet, selects a sofa and matching chair in a nubby weave cotton in beige, brown and black, interwoven with gold metallic thread for a corner of her living room.

TRADITIONAL LIVING ROOM—Dark green walls with white woodwork set off this sofa grouping in the home of Mrs. J. A. Wright, 1301 Nolan. The sofa and a matching lounge chair not shown are covered in wool frieze in a tweed-effect weave in gold and copper. The step end tables are mahogany, the lamps have dark green ceramic bases with matching green shades, and the pull-up chair is covered with green frieze.

'COUNTRY MODERN'—That's what the manufacturer calls this dining group in amber birch with rush-text chair seats and backs which are washable. This is the dining end of the L-shaped living room at the home of E. L. Newsom, 1605 Eleventh Pl. The wool carpet is beige and the draw drapes are in a modern print in beige and warm brown. A copper shield reflects light from the indirect fixture above the table.

MRS. ROBERT CARROLL DELBRIDGE

Virginia Blaisdell Wed To R. C. Delbridge

Virginia Anne Blaisdell became the bride of Robert Carroll Delbridge Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Zion Lutheran Church in Houston. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dolan Blaisdell of Houston and Mrs. Mary Delbridge of Big Spring.

The Rev. George B. Reck performed the double ring, semi-formal ceremony before an altar flanked with urns of large white chrysanthemums, Candelabra holding bridal tapers illumined the scene and greenery formed the background for the altar.

E. A. Gillum, organist, played a medley of pre-nuptial selections and the traditional wedding marches. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ice blue Chantilly lace gown. The ballerina length skirt was worn over pleated nylon tulle. The shoulder-length veil of illusion was caught to an ice blue net and satin headdress.

She carried a bouquet of white Fuji chrysanthemums tied with ice blue satin ribbon. Mrs. Carl David Bond and Bertha Louise Aydam both of Houston were the bridal attendants.

They were identically attired in turquoise tulle ballerina length dresses. They wore matching velveteen jackets and turquoise nose veils. The attendants carried bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums tied with moss green satin ribbon.

Lawrence A. Blount of Houston served as best man. Ushers were Neely Joe Ellis and Ben Wells both of Houston.

At the reception immediately following the ceremony, the refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of chrysanthemums and greenery flanked by silver candelabra.

The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated in ice blue and white. When the couple left on a wedding trip, Mrs. Delbridge chose a teal blue tweed suit with black accessories and a red hat. She wore a corsage of green Cymbidium orchids.

Upon their return they will make their home in Houston. The bride was graduated from Rice Institute in 1950. Her husband is a graduate of Big Spring High School and attended Southwestern University at Georgetown.

Executive Group Will Meet Monday

GARDEN CITY, (SpI) —Members of the Garden City P-TA Executive Board are to meet Monday evening at 8 at the Lottin McDowell Ranch. It is important that all members attend.

Helen Cunningham and Lewis Newell won the prizes at a half and half party given at the Baptist Parsonage Tuesday evening. The Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Pennington directed the lawn games. Refreshments of sandwiches and tea were served to Jo Ellen Green, Patsy Gotcher, Helen Cunningham, Bonnie and Jenny Lyon Gandy, Margie Self, Doris Cardin, La Delia Geiger, Kerney Sue Scudday, Sandra Wilkerson, Kay Mitchell, Marceline Gill, Mary Jo Cox, Larry Calverley, Lewis and Truett Newell and Theora Calverley.

HI-TALK

By Margie McDougale

The election of class officers was in full swing this past week. Everyone running for an office had to have a petition turned in the office with twenty signatures signed on it. We will have the runoff one day next week.

Thursday night in the Big Spring Junior High School building the FFA met and elected officers for the coming year.

The officers are Elbert Lond, president; Roger Brown, vice president; Travis Fryar, treasurer; L. T. Nelson, secretary; Delbert Davidson, reporter; Jim Dameron, second vice president; Billy McIlvain, third vice president; Joe Clark, parliamentarian; Red Sanderson, sentinel; Calvin Daniels, historian; Ronnie Davidson, student advisor.

The boys voted to operate the peanut and candy concession at all home football games again this year.

The 1952-53 dues were set at $2 per member. Travis Fryar presided over the meeting.

It seems Big Spring has its FFA and FHA and now we are going to have a new organization, the FTA, Future Teachers of America. This club is open to all boys and girls who plan to make a career of teaching. This club organization is a subsidiary to the CTA, Classroom Teachers Association. Glen Guthrie will be the sponsor and the first meeting will be held soon. The purpose of the club is to encourage students who wish to enter the teaching profession.

Some of the kids seen backing the B team in Stanton last Saturday night are Junior Suler, Punkin McGeehee, Bobby Hayworth, Frank Long, Charles Fox, Wayne Medlin, Giz Gilstrap, Joyce Welch, Betty Earley, Claudette Harper, Leonard Hartley, Patsy Clements, Bill Dorsey, Lila Turner, Robert Angel, Jann Bailey, Grady Dorsey, Gay Jones, Speck Franklin, Dean Choate, Nancy Miller, Janice Boardman.

The evangelist, Lester Roloff, who has been conducting a revival in town spoke to the students of BSHS Thursday. He was accompanied by Roy Le Tourneau who sang for the group. The Rev. Roloff gave the students a very interesting address on making friends.

BSHS has seven new students. They are Ruby Wilson, a sophomore from Kentucky, Lillie Shipley from Houston, a junior; Johnny and David McNeely, both juniors from Bangs and from Pyote; from Chandler, Ariz. comes a sophomore, Halver Vance.

We are happy to welcome these new students to BSHS and we hope they will enjoy going to school with us.

The majorettes for the 1952 season are Gloria Byrd and Ann Pennington. The band has not yet elected the band lieutenants, but expect to do so in the near future.

The Key Club has gained eleven new members. They are Brick Johnson, James Day, Frank Hunt, Howard Smith, Lefty Reynolds, Kim Milling, Bobby Hinky, Robert Morehead, Roy and Loy Loudamy and Kirk Falkner.

The pep rally that was held down town Friday afternoon was a big success. Everyone met at the Junior High building and walked down to the Ritz theatre. The cheer leaders led the group which snake danced down to Hemphill Wells. They led everyone in some yells and songs with the help of the band.

It seems everyone was out to watch the Steers win a wonderful ball game by a score of 33-0.

Some of the kids seen backing the Steers and attending the dance afterward were Jody Miller, Steve Kornfeld, Joyce Gound, Don Anderson, Kay Bonifield, Robert Morehead, Monohn Holley, Elbert Long, Judy Douglass, Dick Fort, Mary Lou Leopard, James Phillips, Betty Wright, Ray Todd, Rosemary Lawson, Warren Cooper, George Harrison, Jim Newsom, La Rue Casey, Randy Hickman, Margie McDougale, George McGann, Joyce Welch, Norman Dudley, Janice Anderson, "Gizz" Gilstrap, Jo Ann Green, Jackie Millam, Nancy Miller, Freddie Blalock, Patsy Clements, Bill Dorsey, Janice Nalley, White, Doyle Mason, Ann White, "Punkin" McGeehee, Bea Vaughn, Savoy Kay, Jann Bailey, Don Reed, Joyce Anderson, Luther McDaniel.

Engagement Told

Mrs. Janie Birdwell, 1207 E. 6th, has announced the engagement and approaching marriage of her granddaughter, Jane Hansel, to Ray Baker, son of Mrs. Y. W. Baker of Lees. The ceremony will be performed Oct. 3.

Leaves For College

Mary Elizabeth Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preach Martin, left this week to Las Cruces, N. M., where she has enrolled in New Mexico A&M College. Miss Martin is a junior majoring in education.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By DARLENE SNEED

The first general assembly of the year was held Tuesday morning during activity period. B. M. Keese, registrar, opened the program with the invocation. He introduced the faculty to the student body. Dr. P. W. Malone, president of the board, introduced Rev. Lester Roloff, who sang several songs. He sang "Jesus Will Walk With Me," and "Listen for The Whispers of Jesus." The students then sang "Angels Watchin' Over Me." The Rev. Roloff gave a short message on "One Is Incomplete Without Jesus." He led the students in "My Country 'Tis of Thee." Dr. W. A. Hunt addressed the student body.

Cecil Hoggard has been appointed temporary president of the student body. Beverly Jones, Charles Warren and Luann Nall have been appointed as the committee in charge of elections. Mr. Keese is the instructor in charge. Election for student officers is scheduled for the latter part of next week and all students should be thinking about whom to vote for. Annual pictures are to be made the latter part of next week if possible. Also scheduled for next week is the sale of annual ads. All students are asked to help with this campaign.

Classes for nurses from the State Hospital have enrolled about 20 students, both men and women. These students are taking courses of English, chemistry, physiology and nursing arts.

New employees of the Soil Conservation Service are taking a six-weeks training course. These men are not included in the enrollment of the college.

Mr. Keese stated that approximately 423 students are attending classes both day and night. There are 125 regular full-time freshmen, 60 sophomores, and approximately 90 airman from Webb Air Force Base. There are more students attending from out of this county than there ever has been. The enrollment of the sophomore class indicates that this year will be the largest class ever graduated.

A committee of students will be appointed this week to help the instructors plan decorations, etc., for the cafeteria which is going to be used as the recreation room.

Seen enjoying a hamburger fry Wednesday night were Bobbie Adams, Jackie Jennings; Luann Nall, Jimmy Wayne King; Marie Petty, Jimmy Jennings.

Six sleepy girls eating a sunrise breakfast in the park last Sunday morning after a slumber party at Darlene Sneed's house were Jan Masters, Gayle Price, Beverly Jones, Mary Sue White, Marty Johnson and Darlene.

The library at H.C.J.C. reminded students that the past week was "Constitution Week" by books on display about the famous participants in the framing and adoption of the Constitution of the United States. Pictures of the "Father of Our Country," the "Father of the Constitution," and the signers of the Constitution were on display. Visitors at the college last week were James B. Lakas; Mrs. Bill Holbert; Lieut. Jim A. Carlisle, Pueblo, Colo., now stationed at Webb Air Force Base; Lt. Mayo H. Nielsen, Richfield, Utah, now at Webb; Bill Dameron; Mrs. Agnes Miller and Nancy; Hardie Fortenberry, coach of Sildell High; W. O. C. Harris, Plainview; Leonard J. Van Hornpleden; Russell Green; Billy Wayne King; Jackie and Jimmie Jennings.

Gerald Brenholtz, instructor of the industrial arts department, cut several of his fingers badly in the machines at the shop. He was taken to Malone-Hogan for treatment.

Choir officers elected last week are: Charles Warren, president; Luann Nall, vice president; Bobbie Adams, secretary; Shirley Riddle, reporter. A committee to help the director, Elizabeth Cope, select music for the group, check roll, determine grades, and check behavior was appointed. Those on this committee are Cecil Hoggard, tenor group; Weldon McElreath, bass group; Bobbie Adams, alto group; and Frances King, soprano group.

Fashion Show Models

Showing daytime and evening fashions they will model in the Officers Wives Club style show are Mrs. Ralph E. Kauffman Jr. in a suit of imported sharkskin in slate blue and Mrs. Philip L. Munn Jr. in a black sequined evening gown.

'Portrait Fashions' To Be Theme Of Officers Wives Style Show Friday

"Portrait Fashions" will be the theme of the fashion show to be presented Friday at 8 p.m. by the Officers Wives Club in the Academic Building at Webb Air Force Base.

Included in the showing will be fur and evening, afternoon, after-five and spectator sports clothes from a number of leading designers. Swartz's, local ready-to-wear and specialty store, is cooperating with the Officers Wives in staging the show and is furnishing the fashions.

The models, all officer wives, will enter the stage through a large picture frame and will promenade the length of a ramp to be installed into the audience seating section.

Directing the planning are Mrs. Walter L. Harter, style show chairman; Mrs. G. P. T. Howell program chairman; Mrs. Robert D. Ingraham, publicity; Mrs. B. J. Clark, reservations; Mrs. Ernest K. Wackwitz, advisor; Mrs. James B. Keith Jr., art; Mrs. Ralph E. Kauffman Jr., model coach.

Mrs. Charles E. Pope will be commentator and models will be Mrs. Robert N. Meeker, Mrs. Philip L. Munn Jr., Mrs. Robert D. Ingraham, Mrs. John A. Thomas Jr., Mrs. James S. White, Mrs. Alex P. Goodkin, Mrs. E. R. Conners, Mrs. Nolan I. Jones and Mrs. Kauffman.

Refreshments will be served after the show. Hostesses are to be Mrs. Sidney P. Nischan, Mrs. William C. Whelan, Mrs. Darrell Sinn, Lt. Mary S. MacKenzie, Mrs. Donna W. Bryan and Mrs. Herbert Dahne.

Working on the art committee with Mrs. Keith are Mrs. Marden B. Charlson, Mrs. Harter, Mrs. Homer L. Stillens, Mrs. Henry J. Fisher and Mrs. Robert G. Woda.

Mrs. William A. Smallwood will play organ music during the style show, and Estah's flower shop will assist with the decorations, which will follow a fall motif. Make-up and hair styling will be by Mrs. Ina McGowan of the Settles Beauty Shop. Coats, capes and stoles will be included in the furs which are being flown from New York for the showing. In the collection are designs by Paul Parnes, Ann Fogarty, Herbert Sondheim, Frank Starr, Martini of California and Lee Claire. Furs are by Jonclif of New York.

One gown to be featured is a black sequined model that was shown on the Sept. 8 cover of Life magazine in red. Others follow the fashion trend toward the more narrow and straight silhouette, often moulded to the figure.

The narrow Chesterfield has returned to the coat fold, and a new top coat has been added which is longer than the old "shortie" and fashioned in either the barrel or bell shape. Hats are generally halconcealing.

On several Ann Fogarty dresses to be shown is her wrap-up model of camel-colored fluffy wool fleece, weighing only six ounces, which displays her unflinching sense of rhythm and feeling for color and design.

Popular in the collection are black and white and combinations of both, definite leaders Paris designers agree, green, a new dark gray, blue, and brown—in all shades and tones.

Resident Returns

Mrs. Mary Delbridge has returned home from a month's visit with her niece, Mrs. A. J. Schlegel, in San Antonio.

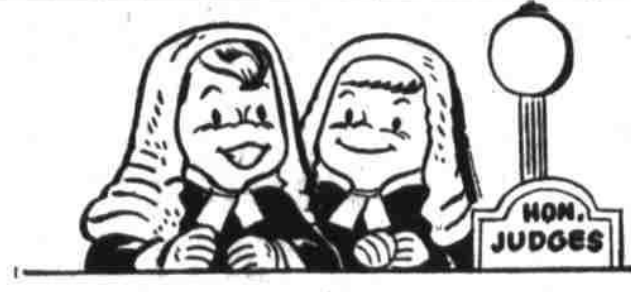

She returned via Houston where she attended the marriage of her son, Robert Delbridge, a senior medical student at Baylor.

"Poodle" Skirt

You get both, in this pattern—the full skirt and the poodle! The popular dog figure is done in applique, in three sizes—one of 6 inches, one of 5 and one of 4 inches. Felt, poodlecloth, contrasting linen or cotton may be used for the appliques. Embroidery completes the "fluffy" fur of the little dog. All embroidery stitches are given in pattern, applique for the figures. Jr. Forum To Promote Cub Scouting Project

"Social Problems Confronting America" will be the course of study for the Junior Woman's forum for the 1952-53 club year, and the club project will be to promote the program of Cub Scouting. The Forum, organized and Federated in 1946, held its second meeting of the year Friday. This week it also launched ticket sales for the book review project which is being sponsored again this year. The book review series sponsored for the first time last year under the name of Thursday Review Club met with such success that the reviews will be resumed again this month. This first review will be given by Mrs. Charlotte Sullivan on Oct. 25.

An impressive list of reviewers has been arranged, including at least two from out-of-town. New officers of the organization are Mrs. J. D. Elliott, president; Mrs. Charles Tompkins, vice president; Mrs. O. R. Cole, recording secretary; Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. M. Stoutenburg, treasurer, Mrs. Harold Talbot, federation counselor; Mrs. Clyde Johnston, parliamentarian; Mrs. Gullford Jones, historian; and Mrs. Joe Pickel, reporter. Standing committees include Mrs. Tompkins, Mrs. Clyde Johnston and Mrs. Talbot, program; Mrs. Jack Y. Smith, Mrs. Cecil McDonald, Mrs. Carl Benson, Mrs. Arnold Marshall, Mrs. Willard Hendricks and Mrs. Clarence Percy Jr., project; Mrs. H. W. Kirby, Mrs. W. E. Gibson Jr., Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Joyce Stanley, hospitality; Mrs. Roy Tidwell, Mrs. Omar Jones, Mrs. J. A. Jolly, Mrs. Elvis McCrary and Mrs. Wallace Carr, telephone; Mrs. D. D. Federation Meeting Monday Cancelled

The Big Spring Federation of Women's Clubs, Inc., will not have its regular meeting Monday evening in the home of Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow as originally planned. Mrs. Hayes Stepping, president, said the meeting had been cancelled because so many called meetings had been held in connection with the production of the Follies of 1952.

Favorite Flowers Garden Club Topic

"My Favorite Flower" will be the topic of discussion when the Big Spring Garden Club holds its first meeting of the season Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. in the music room in the H.C.J.C. auditorium. Four speakers will appear on the program, according to Mrs. J. B. Knox, president.

Post Girl Wins District 4-H Scholarship To Tech

Lois Ritchie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Ritchie of Rt. 2, Post, has been announced as winner of this year's District 2 4-H Girls scholarship to Texas Tech in Lubbock. The scholarship is given annually by the home demonstration clubs of the district to an outstanding 4-H club girl who plans to study home economics at Tech. Howard County had no entry this year, although any girl who meets the qualifications may compete for the scholarship.

LOIS RITCHIE

Howard County clubs who contributed $5 each toward the scholarship fund this year included the Elbow, Vealmoor, Vincent, Center Point, Lomax and Luther groups. Mrs. Loyd Johnson of Seminole is treasurer of the fund.

A 4-H club girl for eight years, Miss Ritchie was vice chairman of the 1952 District 2 4-H Camp, was a winner of the 1952 Santa Fe awards, with a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago, was the winner of the Garza County Gold Star award in 1947, won two trips to Round-Up, at College Station, and was winner of the Garza County dress revue in both 1948 and 1949. She has carried on a clothing demonstration for seven years, a poultry demonstration for six years, gardening for six years, bedroom improvement, six years, and yard improvement six years. She held every office in her own club at some time during the eight years, was vice president of the Garza County organization and, in addition was active in school work, serving as editor of the 1953 annual and a member of the pep squad.

Lois lists art as her hobby.

Two Guests Attend Rook Club Meeting

Mrs. Sam L. Baker and Mrs. W. F. Power were guests at the meeting of the Rook Club in the home of Mrs. Arthur Pickle Friday afternoon. Eleven members attended. The next meeting, the second Friday in October, will be held in the home of Mrs. W. F. Cook.

MR. AND MRS. RANDOLPH C. HOWELL AND APRIL DIANE

Former Abilenians Are City Newcomers

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph C. Howell, 1281 Scurry, would drive Culbertson-type bridge players crazy. To them, bridge is just a game, a form of relaxation and a time to catch up on the latest news.

The Howells and daughter, April Diane, 7 months, moved here a week ago from Abilene, where they have lived off and on during the 6 1/2 years of their married life.

According to her mother, April Diane wasn't born in the month for which she was named.

"We just thought it was a pretty name," Mrs. Howell said. "But we added the Diane because the grandmothers swore they'd never call her April. "But they do," she added with a smile.

The Howells are natives of Eastland County and met while both were attending Hardin-Simmons University.

Howell, who is warehouse supervisor for Humble Oil Co., received his degree in business administration from the school.

While living in Abilene, Mrs. Howell was active in the garden club.

"In fact, I was a garden club member without a garden," she laughed. "There isn't much space in which to grow flowers when you live in an apartment," the short, blonde newcomer commented.

Her husband is a woodworking enthusiast and his wife has a number of projects lined up for him "when he gets the time."

Jack W. Madigan Reported Improved

The condition of Jack W. Madigan, VA Hospital employee, who is receiving treatment in the hospital, is much improved, Mrs. Madigan reported Saturday. He will undergo surgery Monday.

With Mrs. Madigan are her two children, Mack Wayne Corley of New Braunfels and Charlene Corley of Abilene; two sisters, Mrs. J. B. McCausland of Odessa and Mrs. Vallye Terrell of Abilene; a brother, Alfred Churchill, and his daughter, Mrs. Vallye Wall of Claremont.

Meeting Cancelled

The regular meeting of the Christian Women's Citizenship League scheduled for Tuesday night has been cancelled, according to Roberta Gay, because of the city-wide revival and other conflicting engagements.

Luther Club Plans Luncheon, All-Day Meeting Thursday

An all-day meeting and covered dish luncheon will be held Tuesday by the Luther Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. D. C. Zant at Luther, beginning at 10 a. m.

Discussion and demonstration will be on the refinishing of furniture. Mrs. Zant gave the demonstration on that topic at the late meeting of the group in the home of Mrs. Cromwell Rhoton. She also gave a recipe for mixing a paint and varnish remover.

Members present were Mrs. John Couch, Mrs. Montie Hamlin, Mrs. Joyce Richardson and Mrs. Zant.

Mrs. Sullivan To Give Book Review Thursday

The Junior Woman's Forum will open its book review series Thursday with a review of "I Led Three Lives" by Herbert Philbrick, presenting as guest speaker Mrs. Charlotte Sullivan, economics and business administration instructor at Howard County Junior College.

The review will be given at 3 p. m. in the music room at the college auditorium. Season tickets at $3 for the nine reviews to be given during the year have been on sale for the past week.

Mrs. Jack Y. Smith, project chairman, has announced that the reviews will be presented on the fourth Thursday of each month with the exception of those in November, December and May, when the date will be the first Thursday.

The story of "I Led Three Lives" begins in 1940 with a young salesman living in Cambridge, Mass., a pacifist who was seriously concerned with the war. During his travels he stumbled into a pacifist organization with which he worked. Also a Baptist church worker, he later went to the FBI with his findings, but they refused at first to consider him.

Later, as a member of the Young Communist League and then of the Communist party, he furnished information, including names, dates and facts, for nine years.

The book is dedicated to the author's wife, Eva, who he says, "proved that a woman can keep a secret."

Tickets for the individual reviews may be purchased at the door on the afternoon of the reviews for 50 cents each.

Other reviewers scheduled during the year include Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper in October, Mrs. Ann LeFever in December, Mrs. Ira Thur-

Mrs. Teele Leads Study At Meeting

GARDEN CITY, (SpI) — Mrs. E. M. Teele was leader when the missionary society of the Garden City Cumberland Church met at the church Monday afternoon to continue their study of "Great Stewards of the Bible."

Mrs. Teele opened the meeting with prayer followed by talks by Mrs. Cecil Wilkerson, Mrs. W. L. Lemons and Mrs. Jim Ratliff.

The group voted to meet each Monday afternoon at 4. Mrs. Jim Ratliff closed the meeting with prayer.

Clyde Reynolds is in a Roswell, N. M. hospital after getting food poisoning. He was at his ranch near Roswell when he was stricken. Mrs. Reynolds left Garden City Tuesday for Roswell and will remain there with him until he is able to return to his home here.

Olan Rich and Leon Locker have returned from a fishing trip to Port Lavaca.

Beta Omicron chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the home of Beverly Stulting, 705 W. 17th, the new president. Mrs. Don Newsom, announced Saturday.

Modern Woman's Forum Opens Season At Luncheon

"Americanism" and "Citizenship" were the program topics at the 1 p.m. luncheon Friday of the Modern Woman's Forum opening the 1952-53 club season.

Mrs. Bob Eubank opened the meeting with "The Great Invocation," which was followed by the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Approximately 30 American flags formed the centerpiece, and larger flags were used at other points around the room.

Mrs. Clyde Thomas Sr. spoke on "Americanism" and Mrs. Fred Whitaker's topic was "Citizenship."

Mrs. Horace Reagan reported on ticket sales for the Follies of 1952, and Mrs. Sam Baker discussed ticket memberships in the Big Spring Concert Association.

Mrs. W. F. Taylor reported for the program committee of the Follies.

Mrs. J. F. Dodge, club counselor, gave a report and called attention of the members of the death of Mrs. R. J. Turrentine of Denton, club, church, civic and youth leader and a past president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, who was buried Monday. The group observed a moment of silent prayer in memory of Mrs. Turrentine.

The meeting was closed with the Federation song and repeating the club collect.

Attending were 20 members and a guest, Mrs. Wynelle Vines, of California.

The condenser of a refrigerator should be cleaned once or twice a year with a stiff narrow brush or with the round-brush attachment of the vacuum cleaner. If the vacuum attachment is used the refrigerator itself should be disconnected from its electric outlet before the cleaning is done.

Surprise Gift

At a recent Sunday morning service of the Trinity Baptist Church, the man of the church presented the pastor, the Rev. Jack Power, and his family with a new automobile. Shown with the car are, left to right, Mrs. Power holding Calvin, Jerry, the Rev. Power and Jackie. Since coming to Big Spring 6 months ago, the Rev. Power has seen construction begin on a three-story Sunday School building and plans completed for enlarging the church's auditorium.

New Officers Of Philathea Class Honored At Friday Tea

Guests were greeted by Mrs. J. D. Jones, outgoing president, and others in the receiving line were Mrs. J. T. Baird, teacher; Mrs. B. M. Keese, president; Mrs. John Steward, vice-president.

Others in the house party were members of the social committee, including Mrs. Alea Carleton, Mrs. Albert Smith, Mrs. Garner McAdams, Mrs. Cecil McDonald and Mrs. Harold Parks.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Lina Flewelling, past teacher; Mrs. M. R. Turner and Mrs. Grady Duling, assistant teachers. The table was laid with an imported grass linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of red and white asters with red candles, carrying out the class colors. Appointments were of crystal and silver.

About 35 guests called during the social hours.

Darlene Sneed New Campus Columnist

This year's campus correspondent at Howard County Junior College is Darlene Sneed, a sophomore majoring in physical education. Her column, "Campus Chatter," a resume of the week's news at the college, appears in The Herald every Sunday.

Darlene, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Sneed of Seminole, is a 1951 graduate of Forsan High School. She is a member of the Lasso Club, the a cappella choir and the staff of El Nido, college newspaper. She plans to become a member of the annual staff when it is organized this year.

Local Clubwomen To Attend District Meet In Big Lake

Several Big Spring women will be in Big Lake on Monday for the district No. 8 board meeting for the Federated Women's Clubs. Mrs. Harold Keith, district president, and Mrs. Bob Eubanks, were to leave this afternoon for Big Lake.

Making the trip Monday morning will be Mrs. Cliff Wiley, Mrs. Tracy Smith, Mrs. J. P. Dodge, Mrs. Obie Bristow, Mrs. Lois O'Barr Smith and Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle.

After the grids of a waffle iron are seasoned they should not be washed. Brush the grids clean while they are still hot, after you make waffles, and leave the waffle iron open to cool. If any grease or batter sticks to the hinges of the iron be sure to wipe it off before putting the waffle iron away.

---Where to shop--- HELENS HINTS ---for what---

HERE'S A NEWCOMER YOU'LL WANT TO KNOW... His name is "Speedy", and he'll be helping FAYE'S FLOWERS and other F.T.D. Florists all over the nation as Mercury's new assistant. He's a chubby, freckle-faced youngster wearing a winged hat and clutching a bouquet in a tiny fist, and because he's always on the run, he was christened "Speedy". This beaming little diaper-clad lad will be Mercury's right-hand boy when it comes to world-wide delivery in helping you "say it with flowers" by wire. He's meeting the nation for the first time this month, but Speedy works only in shops identified by the famous Mercury emblem of Florist's Telegraph Delivery. You can meet him in Faye's window, and she'll be glad to tell you more about his many talents as a floral messenger.

LEADING THE FASHION PARADE in bright and breezy style, are the Julliard Feathered sport shirts by JAYSON from ELMO WASSON'S. These fine wale corduroy shirts, with hand stitched collar and pockets, have a fine talent for enlivening a man's leisure. An open-and-shut case of style plus comfort (collar may be worn open or closed) they're the kind of shirt that style-aware men appreciate. Whether his tastes lean toward the "stand out" colors or the conservative, there's a wide assortment to choose from—fire engine red, pine green, maroon, tan, chamois and cocoa. Priced at $10.95, these shirts are just right for taking it easy in a handsome way. Ladies love 'em, and for the man who counts, you can count on his whole hearted approval of corduroy for perfect comfort in his casual moments.

NEWEST IN THE FALL FOOT-FIELD OF FASHION are the soft and supple calf pumps from MARGO'S. Designed by Martinique, they'll cast a wonderful fashion shadow with your suits, coats and dresses... smooth your feet to lovely lines. They close the heel and leave the toe open, and the cut-out design of the vamp is sophisticated styling at its best. The semi-D'Orsay style of these little pumps reveals the beauty of your instep, and their flattering high heel, uncluttered line, graceful contour and air of quality make them an ideal shoe for either dress or tailored wear. Plain and pretty, their matchless beauty and serene comfort make them lovely to look at, luxurious to wear... a standout in any setting. Your choice of black or brown, they're priced at $18.95.

SPARKLING WITH PERSONALITY... be-guiling all beholders... that's the costume jewelry you'll find at M-LADY'S ACCESSORIES. Nettie Post, Hattie Carnegie, and many others give you fabulous and utterly charming jewelry that's an expression of true designing genius... jewelry with glamour and dash... jewelry that has an amazing flair for just today and tomorrow of fashion. There are heavy neck pieces, set with large stones to enhance fall wools (some with bracelets and ear screws to match), the very new bibs, fashioned from pearls, various colored stones or all metal designs, individual pieces to kindle your fall wardrobe with smart styling. The lovely lustre of pearls, the elegant glitter of rhinestones, the gleam of gold and silver... whatever your choice, jewelry is always appropriate, always welcome, always the cavalier of your costume.

PICKING COTTON... for your fall ensemble is fashion's latest decree, and the three-piece Nardis of Dallas creation at ZACK'S Of Margo's is definitely "top pickings". Designed with a circular quilted skirt and topped with a matching quilted vest and long sleeved plaid blouse, it's an outfit that's styled with a flair and finished with finesse. The very character of this crisply quilted cotton and dashing plaid combination interprets the temperament of the autumn season with the casual comfort that only cotton can give you. The waist is lined with plaid to match the blouse, and the fresh clean colors of navy with red or cocoa with blue are expressive of fall with all its talent for bringing fashion sharply into focus. For desk-to-date serviceability, this fine-combed cotton captivator is destined to be seen at smart pieces by appraising eyes.

THEY WHISTLE WHILE YOU WORK... they let you know it's time for tea. There's the Regal aluminum singing teakettles now on display at the BIG SPRING HARDWARE. I'll admit these little teakettles don't have the versatility of a canary, and their talents won't exceed that of a "Johnny-One-Note", but when they take their place in your kitchen, you'll welcome their cheerful whistle... and best of all, they won't let you forget the water you've put to boil until the pan boils dry. Of three quart size, light to lift, and tagged at $5.95, these gay kettles are made of long wearing aluminum in scintillating metallic colors, of sunset gold, emerald green and cherry red... it's for sure they'll add a bright spot and a light note to your kitchen workshop.

IT GRILLS, IT FRIES, IT TOASTS, IT BAKES... it practically cooks a whole meal without your turning a hand. In this modern age everything is automatic, and Universal's "Cook-a-matic" (combination grill and waffle maker) at HESTER'S is the closest thing to magic you've seen in a long time. Designed for efficient, automatic, at-the-table cooking, the big (21 1/2 sq. in.) surface fries 12 eggs, toasts 4 sandwiches, grills 24 sausages at once or makes four big 4"x8" waffles. The automatic signal light and adjustable heat control gives you light, medium or dark waffles to your taste. Once you've seen it, you'll agree that this wonder grill, complete with two sets of grids, will make cooking a delight instead of a drudge. Once again it's Universal for the "First among the finest".

TRADITIONALLY... nothing but the best will do. Tradition and weddings go hand in hand, and now that fall is upon us, many weddings of the season are being planned. The tradition of wedding reception is a most important point, and the best in food is a must. Mr. Bowen at the DOUGLASS COFFEE SHOP will do the catering for your wedding reception with all the beauty and dignity that the occasion deserves, and he will plan, prepare and serve the choicest of items in keeping with all the loveliness of Lohengrin and lace. Preparing for a wedding is a busy time, and the assurance that your reception will be planned to perfection is a calming influence when you need it the most.

BEAUTY TO GRACE THE LOVELIEST HOME... tone to please the most sensitive ear... is yours with RCA Victor's superbly styled "Victoria" 3-speed table combination. You'll find this smart, compact 1953 table model at THE RECORD SHOP. So much entertainment... so many top features—in such little space... it brings you "all-record play" plus a powerful AM radio, conveniently combined in a stunning, compact cabinet that looks well, fits well, anywhere. You'll play your "45" records using the ingenious "Slip-On" spindle, and your 78's and 33 1/3's will play easier than ever. Radio and records both will be heard through the superb "Golden Throat" tone system. You have your choice of cabinets in rich mahogany, walnut or modern lined oak finish.

LINES THE THING

Excellent Design Dress Is Geared To Fall Wardrobe

New tack on fashion for the sophisticated woman is taken by Paul Parnes in this excellently designed dress that is geared to get your fall wardrobe off to a marvelous start. As in all Paul Parnes' clothes, the line is the thing—and it always adds up to the maximum in simplicity of fashion. Apparently the way he achieves this is by adhering to the simple—and this dress, elegantly simple as it is, is a masterpiece in understatement of flair. There are no furbelows, no fripheries. Rather, there is the flowing subtlety of line that hallmarks this year's fashion picture. Also, the dress adheres to the trend for fall and winter in that it is designed for any one of the newly gorgeous fabrics that will be seen round and about. The style is excellent for the tall slender woman, as it provides the covered look of the neckline, is fullsome through the bust, is pinched at the waist—and the restrained skirt casually flares into a soft fullness at the bottom. Although the dress has an appearance of a coatdress, with an apron throw in to boot, it is anything but that. It is a strictly tailored, clearly delineated dress for the first days of fall. Fabric suggestions are as open as a book: any one of the wonderful fall fabrics will do the trick up brown. For contrast, choose the fabric that will best companion your dress choice. Size 12 requires 4 1/2 yds. of 39-inch material, while 1 yd. of 39-inch material will suffice for the contrast. Pattern 1116 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. To order Pattern 1116, send $1 to Spadea Syndicate, Inc., Dept. 164, Box 258, York 10, N. Y. For air mail handling, enclose 25 cents. To order our new pattern booklet, VII, send 15 cents.

Mrs. Carter Is Elected Study Leader

GARDEN CITY, (Sp) — The WSCS of the Garden City Methodist Church had their first meeting Tuesday afternoon at the church since disbanding in August. Mrs. J. P. Boswell gave a report from the School of Missions held in Lubbock in July. Mrs. Roy Carter was elected study leader to replace Mrs. Joy Wilkerson who resigned. Mrs. Carter will bring a lesson from the study course when the group meets Tuesday at the church at 3 p. m. Mrs. Tom Ashill called a meeting of the program committee for Monday at 1:00 p. m. at the Carter Grocery Store. Mrs. D. W. Parker led the closing prayer. The Rev. W. W. Kitterman of the First Cumberland Presbyterian Church of Ft. Worth has accepted the pastorate of the Garden City Cumberland Presbyterian Church. He will not be able to move to this field of work until November so his first sermon will be Nov. 9. According to Mrs. E. M. Teele, secretary of the local session, there will be a speaker here to fill the pulpit until The Rev. Kitterman arrives. The Rev. and Mrs. Kitterman have one daughter and she was married Sept. 5. Mrs. Edward Barfield has received word from her husband that he is now stationed at Camp Rucker, Ala.

COSDEN CHATTER Sweitzer Is Honored At Luncheon

Wednesday afternoon, after a farewell luncheon, Walter M. Sweitzer, construction superintendent for Procor, Inc., departed for his next job at Corpus Christi. We all feel that Walt did a wonderful job and was a grand person with whom to work. We shall miss him and hope it won't be too long before he returns to Big Spring. R. L. Tollett returned to the office Friday morning after an absence of ten days, which he spent in Washington, Atlantic City, New York, Pittsburgh, and Chicago handling company business. Wednesday afternoon Jack Pohlenz and Karl Hartwig from Chicago office of Universal Oil Products Company arrived to observe initial operation of the Udex unit. Lyle Owen, district representative for U.O.P., returned from El Paso the same evening to be on hand for start-up of the new plant. Ed Hedrick, Procon Inc., buyer who was in charge of materials for the BTX Unit, was a visitor. J. C. Reed, Procon Inc. vice president was here Wednesday to inspect the BTX Unit and supervise the closing of the construction. Tuesday afternoon Dan Krausae went to Midland and Odessa to visit natural gasoline plant operators and Thursday evening he was in Lubbock for the annual inter-city meeting held by the Lubbock Rotary Club. Mrs. Bobbie Thomas left Thursday to join her husband, Dee, who is stationed at Great Lakes, Ill. H. C. Blocker, jobber at Stanton, and Bill Baker, jobber at Midland, were visitors Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burrell of Pecos were week-end visitors in Big Spring. J. M. Simpson from Amarillo was a visitor Tuesday. Bob Tom Coffey is visiting in Waco this week end. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith are in Brownwood this week end to attend the wedding of Mr. Smith's brother. New employees at Cosden are Carthan Joe Stocks, Bob Powell Kennedy, Corrine Denton and Margaret Sanville.

Evangelist Notes 'Marvelous' Response To Campaign Here

The evangelistic campaign being carried on by Rev. Lester Roloff at 16th and Nolan Streets reached the half-way point today. Services in the revival tent began Sept. 10 and will continue through Sept. 28.

"We've still got a long way to go," the revivalist said. "I haven't done half the plain, hard preaching I have to do."

Rev. Roloff stated that from 2,500 to 3,000 people are attending his services each evening. "The tent has not seated them all since the fifth evening," he said.

Benches have been placed on the west side of the tent for overflow crowds, and a space has been reserved on the east side for the physically handicapped and those confined to automobiles.

"The response to my campaign in Big Spring has been marvelous," Rev. Roloff said. "The people of this city have been wonderful."

The evangelist holds two services in the tent daily. One is at 7 a. m. and the other is at 7:30 p. m. The morning service is broadcast over Radio Station KTXC.

Although the tent revival is being sponsored by eight local Baptist churches, Evangelist Roloff said that the meetings have transcended all denominational lines. And he said that the poor and rich have been rubbing shoulders in his tent.

Rev. Roloff stated that he has visited all the trailer camps in the city, and that other visitations have been made to houses. "Everyone knows there is a revival here," he said.

Rev. Roloff has personally visited "liquor stores and beer joints." He said the only place the visitation program has fallen down is at Webb Air Force Base. "I wish the Webb folks would let me know what to do," he said. "We would like to have more of them at our services."

The evangelist believes that Big Spring has furnished a spot for the revival tent which is better located than the revival cities in most cities. "We are less disturbed here, and it is quieter."

Last Monday was the best night for audience response, the evangelist said. "Anywhere from 500 to a thousand rededicated their lives that night," he said. "My sermon topic was about the Bible—a gold mine in the home."

A patriotic night will be held Monday, he said, with the sermon topic being "Enemies to Old Glory." The sermon will be about the liberty and freedom of worship as Rev. Roloff sees it. He said he would "nose around" court house records and tell people about their county administration.

Rev. Roloff stated that he would give anyone an opportunity to speak in the Monday night service. "I'm not playing for the gallery applause, but I am going to let the people know what's going on. If I'm going to fight one battle, I might as well fight them all."

People have been attending the revival from all over the Big Spring area. Several nights persons have been present from Lubbock. It was estimated that about 200 were from outside the city each night.

While in Big Spring Rev. Roloff has been a busy man. In addition to his sermons and visitations, he has been recording radio programs and speaking to various groups. He has appeared at the ABC Club, the High School, Howard County Junior College, and before the blind people.

The tent evangelist will enter the last half of the Big Spring campaign with a new lighting system on the east side of the revival lot. The lights are for the overflow crowds.

Money taken in during the campaign goes to support the revival team, pay for radio programs, local expenses, and support other religious movements. "Much of the money we collect is spent locally," Roloff said. "For instance, our electric bill here will run from $160 to $170."

Rev. Roloff stated that a high school night would be held sometime next week. He also said that on the last Saturday of the meeting, a morning service would be held for the children. "We will meet at 10 o'clock, and I'll tell Bible stories and sing songs with the children."

Evangelist Roloff is from Corpus Christi, where he pastored a church for seven years prior to becoming a revivalist. He was also a pastor in Houston. Since becoming an evangelist, Roloff has conducted revivals in Texas and Georgia.

Rev. Roloff is a graduate of Baylor University and the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He was born in Dawson, Evangelist Lester Roloff, right, and Singer Roy Le Tourneau are pictured above on the platform of the tent in which they hold revival services twice daily. Rev. Roloff, formerly a Corpus Christi pastor, carries his revival campaign all over Texas and is a known radio evangelist. Le Tourneau is the son of multi-millionaire R. G. Le Tourneau, Longview builder. The revival will be held in Big Spring through Sunday, Sept. 28, and services are held at 7 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. daily. The tent is located at 16th and Nolan Streets.

FOR HOWARD COUNTY

Farm Bureau Sets Meeting Tuesday

The annual convention of the Howard County Farm Bureau is scheduled to be held Tuesday evening, Sept. 30, in the new Fair Association buildings. Plans will be discussed for the annual membership drive set for the week of October 10-17.

In announcing the convention and membership drive, Cecil Leatherwood, the county group's president, pointed out the importance of every farm and ranch family having membership in the Bureau and taking an active interest in the Bureau's work.

"One of the Bureau's major objectives for a number of years has been in getting servicable all-weather roads for the farmers and ranchers of Texas," Leatherwood says. The president of the county bureau then goes on to explain that $42 of Howard County's farm and ranch families live on dirt roads a mile or more from a paved road. Viewing the situation on a wider scale, Leatherwood says there are 120,000 miles of dirt roads in Texas and that 68,000 of these are school bus routes. The Texas Farm Bureau Federation, made up of the membership of the various county farm bureaus, is making a fight to bring about an improvement of this condition. Leatherwood adds that the doing of this job is becoming more and more difficult and the bureau needs to have every farmer and rancher as a member.

"Farm Bureau members will recall," says Leatherwood, "that we sponsored the Sewell Bill in the last session of the legislature, which proposed a tax of one cent per 1,000 cubic feet on natural gas, the major portion of which is sent out of the state through pipelines to the East. A token tax was levied on natural gas, but sponsors of the bill failed to get any portion of the roads. The greatest fight the Farm Bureau has yet encountered in its effort to get more and better farm-to-market and ranch-to-market roads is looming in the next session of the legislature. This is just another reason why we need all the members we can get."

Leatherwood hasn't forgotten either that other legislation introduced at the 1951 legislative session would have taken from every county "every penny of the road bond assumption money which is expected by the commissioners courts."

"Because we were able to defeat that bill," Leatherwood says, "Howard County will get $25,167 road bond assumption money this year and again in 1953, and both of these years Howard County will get another 5.1 miles of farm-to-market roads, or a total of 10.2 miles in the two years. This will mean about $51,342.25 that we will get each year from this source. If it hadn't been for the State Farm Bureau Federation and the county bureaus we couldn't have beat that bill."

According to the 1950 census, says Leatherwood, there were 997 tractors in Howard County, and he estimates that the Farm Bureau's battle to save these tractor owners the tractor gas refund has resulted in a saving of at least $25,140 to Howard County farmers in a normal crop year.

"Annual Bureau dues are $10 a year," Leatherwood explains. "We have saved every tractor owner enough to pay these dues and to have $32 left over. The Farm Bureau is the only organization that puts up a scrap on this issue and it's an issue that we have to meet every session of the legislature."

On the national level, Leatherwood says, the American Farm Bureau Federation, through its fight against the OPS price rollbacks on beef, has saved Howard County ranchers and farmers a minimum of $181,000 annually for normal years.

Leatherwood says Howard County stockmen market an average of 6,036 cows and calves during a normal year and that they are receiving on an average $30 more for each of these animals because of the opposition to the rollback on the part of the American Farm Bureau Federation and its allied agricultural groups.

These are some of the arguments which will be made in the drive for new members next month, Leatherwood says.

Civic Clubs To Hear Delmar Roberts Talk

DELMAR ROBERTS

Delmar Roberts of Las Cruces, N. M., president of the New Mexico Farm and Livestock Bureau, will deliver a Citizenship Week address to a joint meeting of Big Spring Service Clubs next Friday noon at the Settles Hotel.

The local American Business Club will host the meeting. Jaycees and Lions will attend the Citizenship Day meeting in lieu of regular meetings this week. Both Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs will hold their regular sessions, but members have been urged to attend the joint meeting.

Members of other organizations and interested citizens have been invited.

Arrangements for Roberts' appearance here, and Citizenship Week speakers in a number of West Texas cities, were made by local chambers of commerce, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and the National Cotton Council. The latter two organizations are coordinating Citizenship Week observance in the South and in West Texas, respectively.

Roberts, 51, was born in El Paso and lived there until 15 years ago when he moved to a farm 25 miles north of that city just over the New Mexico line. He operates a 300-acre irrigated farm, producing cotton, alfalfa, cantaloupes, onions and lettuce. He is a member of the national board of the American Farm Bureau Federation, a director of the National Cotton Council, and vice president of the Southwestern Irrigated Cotton Growers Association with offices in El Paso.

September 17 was designated "Citizenship Day" by the last Congress. It was the first congressional recognition in the nation's history of the signing of the Constitution.

Sponsored by the National Congress on Citizenship, purposes of this special observance are:

To re-examine the functions and duties of American Citizenship in today's world;

To assist in the development of more dynamic procedure for making citizenship more effective;

To indicate the ways and means by which various organizations may contribute concretely to the development of a more active, alert, enlightened, conscientious and progressive citizenry in our country.

Basement Of New Courthouse Said To Be Half Done

Wooden forms were removed from the foundation cement of the new courthouse this week end, leaving basement walls in place all around.

Workers are now criss-crossing the floor with further foundations beams. All basement plumbing is also being installed. The construction foreman estimated that work on the basement was half finished.

Beginning Monday workers will put up the central basement columns to hold up the first floor. Engineer plans call for the construction of one floor at a time.

Area-ways (spaces around the outside of basement windows) will also be constructed during the coming week, the foreman said. Work began on the basement construction about July 1.

A Bible Thought For Today—

We will be old ourselves and may be feeble and dependent on others for care. Honor old age. "Dishonor not a man in his old age."—Ecclesiasticus 8:6.

Give Commissioners Your Reaction To Courthouse Square Landscaping

More and more people are calling us or dropping a note to us relative to a recent stand against chopping off any of the courthouse square for parking space. Some few have disagreed with us, but the overwhelming majority have given warm endorsement of the position that the courthouse square ought to belong to all the people and should be at least modestly landscaped.

While we appreciate the response, it is our suggestion that people communicate directly with members of the commissioners court and let it be known to them how strongly you feel about his matter. We believe that members of the court honestly want to do what the people want and especially so if they are convinced that such is right course.

It would be, to our notion, a minor tragedy were the original plans of peeling off a strip of ground around part of the square for parking space. It is as we have repeated before, a weak gesture at solving a problem that would be affected probably no more than two or three percent at this moment and less ultimately. The truth is that such a step would have such little bearing on the over-all parking problem downtown that it is of no value. Besides accomplishing nothing, the addition of a recessed parking zone would create a hazard to pedestrian traffic.

Worst of all, however, it would be an out-and-out surrender to crass materialization. The people of Howard County are investing a million dollars in this enterprise. The beauty and utility of a new plant should not be marred by cutting up the grounds. Instead, the building ought to be given an appropriate setting, especially so since a place for rest and relaxation can be provided for our people. To many, particularly our older citizens who have labored so well to establish the foundations on which we now thrive, this will be a convenient haven downtown, for many of them do not have transportation to go to park areas in outlying sections.

Finally, attractively landscaped grounds for the seat of the county government will be a testimonial to the character of the county. It will proclaim that here is a people who are big enough to devote some of their most valuable ground to God's handiwork.

Gallup Poll

Poll Shows GOP Holding Own As Ike Still Runs Ahead Of Party

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 26—Political analysts are watching eagerly for any indication as to which campaign, Eisenhower's or Stevenson's, is winning votes.

The latest survey by the Institute shows that up to the present time no trend has developed in either direction since the campaign "fireworks" started in early September.

This is in contrast to the situation four years ago when a definite trend against Dewey began early in the campaign and continued up to Election day.

The latest national survey, in which the bulk of the interviewing was conducted in early September, shows virtually no change in party strength since the previous Institute report. The findings:

"If the presidential election were being held today, which political party would you like to see win—the Republican party or the Democratic party?"

A total of 14 per cent were undecided, but half of these were willing to state which party they "lean" toward. With these "leaners" included, the results are:

Republican	51%
Democratic	42%
Still undecided	7%

The comparable vote in the Sept. 5 report was:

Republican	51%
Democratic	43%
Still undecided	6%

Ike Ahead of Party

When the same people are questioned on their preference between Eisenhower and Stevenson, Eisenhower runs substantially ahead of the party as he has in earlier surveys.

This advantage of Eisenhower is undoubtedly due to the fact that he is better known to voters than Stevenson is.

Eisenhower's advantage may disappear after Stevenson does more campaigning and becomes better identified, particularly with people in the lower education levels who are normally Democratic in their political sentiments.

The survey question:

"If the presidential election were being held TODAY, which candidate would you prefer—Eisenhower, the Republican candidate, or Stevenson, the Democratic candidate?"

Eisenhower	55%
Stevenson	40%
Undecided	5%

The above figures include those who expressed a definite choice or a "leaning" toward one candidate.

Comparison With 1948

It is instructive to compare this latest poll on party strength with an Institute poll in 1948 at approximately the same date.

On Sept. 24, 1948 the Institute reported the following figures:

Dewey	46%
Truman, Wallace & Thurmond	44%
Undecided	9%

When this is compared with today's standings of 51 per cent Republican, it can be seen that the Republican party is 4 to 5 percentage points stronger than the Dewey ticket at this same time four years ago.

In the 1948 election Dewey received 45 per cent of all votes cast.

Analysis to determine why the poll erred in 1948 revealed these two chief reasons: failure to continue polling up to Election day to get last-minute trends, and the method of handling the undecided vote.

If all the "undecided vote" in 1948 had been given to the Democrats, the final Gallup Poll would have been right within 1 percentage point.

Problem of Undecided

In today's poll the 7 per cent who are still undecided are obviously an important factor in the November race.

Analysis shows that 2 people in this group who voted in 1948, voted 2-to-1 Democratic.

Furthermore, on political issues the undecided voters at present side heavily with the Democrats rather than with the Republicans.

It would undoubtedly be easier for Stevenson to lure them back to the Democratic camp, than for Eisenhower to get them to shift to the G.O.P.

Uncle Ray's Corner

Sunday Talk: A Reader Writes

Here are paragraphs of a letter from Mrs. Allie J. Breckley:

"I am a daily reader of your column, and wish to ask a favor of you. Will you please tell us about dog days? When do they begin, and how long do they last?"

"Last March I was 83 years of age. I am still very interested in all animals. Such stories as you tell about them, also about plants and foreign lands—in short all the articles you write—are edifying to old and young."

"I have observed alligators in Florida. I have heard them bellow loudly in hot weather. The bellow sounds like the noise made by a raving mad cow."

"Thank you, Mrs. Breckley, for your kind comment on my work. I also wish to give thanks to the many other readers (boys and girls, men and women) who have sent such comments to me. You may be sure that they raise my spirits, and make me want to do ever better in my writing."

"As to dog days, it seems that we hear of them less often in the present period than when I was a boy. Each summer I used to hear people speak about the coming of 'the dog days.'"

The dog days make up a period which is marked, in many places, by hot, sultry weather. Official dates never have been set for this period, but the general view seems to be that the dog days start about the middle of July and last until about the middle of August.

In past years there was a wide-spread belief that dogs were in special danger of "going mad" during the dog days. This view has been shattered by records kept on cases of rabies. The records show that other parts of the year provide as much, or as little danger of rabies as the dog days.

It seems that we must go back to ancient times for the origin of the dog day idea. In Egypt, in particular, people paid special attention to the rising of the bright star, Sirius. This is the brightest of all true stars, although it is less bright than certain planets. An ancient name, or nickname, for Sirius was Dob Star, and we hear that name to this day. When people of long ago saw the Dog Star in a certain position, they said that it meant the start of the dog days.

Spotlighting A Week Of News

The Fire Gets Warmer As Politicians Watch The Clock As It Nears Nov. 4th

By FRED GREENE

As has been the case of late, political scenes in the Spotlight again this week. However, the fiery political scene saw more coals poured on the fire after it was reported that an "expense fund" was set up for Sen. Richard Nixon, Republican vice-presidential candidate.

Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell initiated his party's scathing attack on Nixon, charging the California senator was "morally wrong" and demanded he resign as running mate to Gen. Dwight Eisenhower. The trouble, according to Democrats, was that Nixon did not report this $16,500 fund for income tax purposes.

Nixon reported that he did not have to report this money as personal income. He said he did not receive the money personally; it was disbursed by a committee.

Furthermore, Nixon argued, if he couldn't take such money, why should Sen. John Sparkman, Democratic running mate of Gov. Adlai Stevenson, keep his wife on the government payroll—It's the same idea, Nixon believes.

Actually, Nixon didn't have to report this money, so long as he didn't spend it himself. That's a pretty fine point, of course, for he could easily get the contributions by having other people spend the money for something he (Nixon) needs.

While this is in no real way similar to a wife on the payroll, there appears to be nothing illegal about Nixon's actions.

It is no easy task financially for most men to run for public office. We cannot allow only wealthy men to seek high positions in government. This is hardly conducive to good government for the benefit of all people.

Yet, what if the man does not have $16,500 with which to pay expenses? Under the interpretation of Demo Chairman Mitchell, we would need to find another man for Nixon's place as well as exchange a goodly number of congressional faces around the nation's capitol.

The answer basically appears to be one of assuring that funds are not illegally acquired, illegally spent or illegally handled insofar as income tax laws require.

The Democrats seem to be making a mountain out of a molehill in view of repeated Republican accusations about their own troubles over the various scandals.

Unless it can be proved, then, that Sen. Nixon did not use this money in the proper manner, Democratic charges can be properly answered as an attempt to take the heat off them.

The only trouble is, however, that too many people are now so loaded with scandal stories that they will believe Democratic charges without inquiring into the real facts.

This campaign is far from the high-level one promised.

Both sides are resorting to much fabrication, it seems.

In the meantime, the candidates continue to acquire more travel time. By the time they get through with these campaign tours, they shall have every right to say: "See America First."

Adlai Stevenson took off on an eastern tour. New England saw him first and heard him continue to harass the Republicans with witty words. His next stops are in Maryland, Virginia and one of two other eastern states.

Dwight Eisenhower is in the Midwest. His speeches still lambast Democratic mishandling of domestic policies as well as some of our foreign policies. Ike also and scandal in government, calling it the "Washington Mess."

Eisenhower heard some welcome news this week when Gov. James F. Byrnes, Democrat of South Carolina, came out in support of the general. Byrnes, former associate chief justice of the U.S. and secretary of state, gave up his long-time Democratic affiliation saying that loyalty to his country transcended loyalty to party.

The Korean War grabbed part of the Spotlight when the Navy announced that "pitiless planes" or guided missiles have been used successfully against the Reds.

Although the Navy was cautious in its story about the robot aircraft, they did note that such use of pitiless planes will shortly herald a new era in warfare.

The initial use of such craft came Sept. 1 when the Navy used a converted Grumman Helicat fighter and catapulted it from the aircraft carrier Boxer.

According to the Navy, the robot plane is so efficient that it can be directed into a railway tunnel. Although the Helicat lambasted a target 150 miles from the carrier, Navy aides say the television-guided robots would have a range of about 900 miles and need not be in sight of a remote control "mother plane."

T. Lamar Caudle, ousted assistant general, told of some trips made by Ellis Slack, under fire by a St. Louis grand jury in the tax scandals, with the purpose of dismissing some tax indictments.

Caudle testified this week at a House probe along with J. Howard McGrath, fired from the attorney generalship by President Truman.

While the continued scandals are being unfurled, no concrete indictments of persons responsible seem to be forthcoming.

Other News In The Spotlight: Eighteen more Reds were arrested in the Midwest and West Coast areas this week in a new crackdown by the FBI.

Gen. Eisenhower's name cannot appear under a Texas Democratic label on the state ballot, District Judge Jack Roberts at Austin decided this week.

Around The Rim—The Herald Staff

Are You Willing To Befriend The Lonesomest Man In Town?

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

About this time every year, I come to the conclusion that if the city were going to name its No. 1 citizen, that one should be the fellow who heads up the Community Chest campaign.

He would also probably qualify for the lonesomest man of the year, because he certainly gets the cold shoulder enough times, from people who on other occasions are his warm friends.

It is difficult to understand that psychology that prompts people to go sauntering up to the Campaign Chairman and give him a jeering look as if to say, "Boy, you've been taken for a sucker." This, when so many of us who like to think we help "contribute to the town," should, on the other hand, be rushing up with something like, "Fellow, you're to be congratulated on being picked to handle a big job. And I'm ready to help you put it over."

Oh, generally speaking, the Community Chest drive squeaks through, after causing a few top committeemen to acquire a first-rate set of ulcers, or to lose a head of hair, or both. But there is that particular time when an organization is being picked, when the good chairman and his faithful associates have to muddle through the Slough of Despond. They get so deep into this morass that the only escape is finally to wind up with the same little group of faithful men who have worked on every other drive for the past ten years.

I guess the laws of Nature provide that eventually a turnover comes about in these posts of civic duty, but it looks like mankind does nothing around these parts to hasten the turnover.

There are some mighty fine younger business and professional men in Big Spring who ought to be willing, even anxious, to pick up a part of the community project, but too many of them are loath to come forward. I wonder if they are looking ahead to what kind of town they would like to be living in, say five or ten years from now.

As you should know by now, the Chest attempts to raise, in one solicitation, funds to operate the Boy Scout program, the Girl Scout program, and the activities of the YMCA and the Salvation Army. Every one of these agencies essentially is devoted to the welfare of our young people. If you want to be trite about it, they are helping the coming generation. But the triteness takes away none of the truth.

The Chest fund this year also includes an allotment to set up a downtown servicemen's center, for the accommodation of the young men of Webb Air Force Base. This is a moral obligation Big Spring has had to the visiting boys—an obligation that we have defaulted on for too many months.

The Chest program was designed so that the one drive would replace five separate ones. Oh, that's a fine idea, says you. But are you one of those who, when he would give $20 to each of the five drives, tries to settle off for $50 in the Chest campaign?

The Chest program was designed so that the manpower required of solicitors could be concentrated and minimized. Wonderful, says you. But are you one of those who would give just eight hours to help complete a needed civic program? Just 250 workers, you know, giving four hours apiece, would make 2,000 hours. And I bet you the best hat I never owned that if 1,000 such man hours were put into our Chest drive, it would be far over the top.

Think about these things, Mr. and Mrs. Big Spring. This forthcoming Chest campaign is a part of your good citizenship coming cheaply. We ought to be willing to pay honestly for it. You ought not to have to be asked to help on this undertaking. You ought to be volunteering. All you have to do is to pick up the phone and call Community Chest, 3908. This will make you feel better, and will help keep me from turning into a common scold.

—BOB WHIPKEY.

Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Harold Stassen Tried To Gain AFL Approval For Eisenhower

WASHINGTON.—Ex-Gov. Harold Stassen is serving as Ike's secret ambassador to labor and did a herculean job of trying to appease top union leaders before the general's A.F. of L. speech—to no avail.

Stassen, who also wrote Ike's AFL speech, first had a talk with President Bill Green, urging that the AFL not take a definite stand in favor of Stevenson. Green gave him no encouragement. Stassen also talked to Richard Gray, head of the AFL Building and Construction Trades who had been a strong Eisenhower supporter but later switched to Stevenson. Likewise he talked several times to George Meany, AFL secretary.

Stassen's first talk with Meany was around Labor Day, at which time the ex-governor of Minnesota, now president of the University of Pennsylvania, told him in brief:

"The general is thinking very seriously about Taft-Hartley, and it might be he would come out for repeal. If so, of course, it would increase defections from the Taft wing of the party, and we would have to do something to make up for it."

What Stassen wanted was that the AFL either give Ike some tacit support or else hold off endorsing Stevenson. However, Meany made no commitment.

"The general should do what he thinks best, and we should do what we think is best," he said in brief.

Stassen, however, approached Meany a second time on Sept. 4, again urged that the AFL hold off regarding Stevenson. But Meany refused to trade.

"It's something the general should decide on the merits," he said, "and it's something we also should decide on the merits."

Not satisfied, Stassen came back again. The last time he saw Meany was on Sunday, Sept. 14, one day before the AFL convention was to meet, when he urged that Eisenhower have the privilege of meeting with the executive council of the AFL before he addressed the convention. At this time Ike would let them look at the text of his address and make any changes before he delivered it to the delegates.

This also was turned down. Meany and other leaders took the position that AFL delegates should be free to discuss and vote their own political ideas without any tacit direction from the executive council.

Any advance perusal or correction of Eisenhower's speech, it was felt, carried implied approval, and might prejudice the freedom of the convention.

Finally Stassen came back with an invitation to the top labor leaders to lunch with Eisenhower after finishing his speech. This, they felt, implied no pledge of support and was accepted.

Ex-Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, who performed money-raising miracles for the Democrats in 1948, has been sounded out by the Republicans to raise funds for the GOP ticket this year.

The irony is that Johnson got the key to his 1948 contributions from two Republicans, Johnson was on good terms private with Sinclair Weeks, the GOP finance chairman, and Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire. From there, he wangled the Republicans' secret list of contributors.

Then Johnson made the rounds and hit up each Republican for a Democratic contribution too, arguing that it was safer to place money on both sides. The implication was that if the Democrats remained in power, they might remember the big firms that contributed to the GOP only.

NOTE—The Democrats also are trying to bring Johnson into the 1952 campaign as a member of a veterans-for-Stevenson braintrust. So far, the ex-secretary of Defense has told both parties that he will have to check with his doctor first.

The powerful real-estate lobby, which Washington's Sen. Harry Cain has served so faithfully, is now going to bat to get their friend and servant re-elected. One scheme the real-estate boys have hit upon to fill his campaign chest is the old chain-letter gag, this one asking for one-dollar contributions.

This column has obtained a copy of a confidential letter to apartment operators, outlining the scheme. The letter is signed by Donald Haas and C. A. Nicholson, who run the Apartment Owners' Association in Washington state.

"Senator Cain has consistently voted against federal rent control, public housing and other controls over real property," the letter points out approvingly. "He is opposed to federal ownership of tide-lands, and a firm opponent of government deficit financing....

"We who believe in the principles of freedom of property rights, operation of the free and private enterprise system and a balanced budget in government, cannot afford to stand by while Senator Cain is attacked." The letter continues. "A plan has been devised whereby financial support can be given to Senator Cain's campaign. And all it will cost you is $1.00 plus postage for six letters, plus a few minutes of your time."

The letter then outlines the chain-letter plan, concluding that "a chain of letters sweeping across the country can re-elect our friend."

NOTE—The Post Office has ruled that chain letters are illegal, though this may not apply if the money is intended as campaign contributions.

Senator Kefauver's former campaign staff has been hit by another e-suality. Right after the Chicago convention, two of his boosters—Downey Rice and George Martin—were quietly fired from Sen. Lyndon Johnson's preparedness committee.

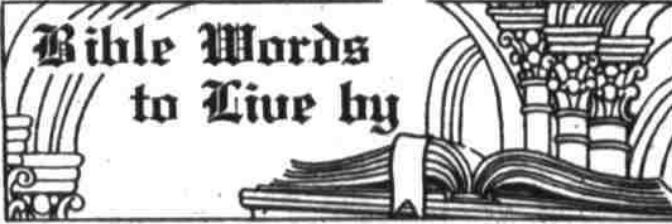

Now Kefauver's ex-campaign manager, Gael Sullivan, has lost his job.

He was notified that his contract would not be renewed with the Motion Pictures Association. Knowing this, he beat them to the gun and resigned.

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

Lovers of hair-raising novels saw a new type of volume displayed in bookstores on this day in 1961.

The experiment of New York publisher named Beadle was just twenty-four hours old, but already the word had spread that this fictional account of stirring adventure in Texas made gripping reading. Written by 20-year-old Edward S. Ellis, the book was entitled "Irona: or, Life on the South-west Border" and contained a thrilling account of a flat-boat trip on the Red River and of Indian fighting in Texas.

Other publishers were shocked at the price asked for the paperback volume. It sold for a mere ten cents, and thus despite the excitement of the Civil War the "dime novel" was born.

And Texas became a favorite background for authors of the "shoot-em-up" variety. In the next half-century the dime novel became an integral part of every boy's boyhood, to be succeeded by pulp magazines. The "small editions" are now crowding seriously into the market of the pulp thrills.

The first novel about Texas was much older. "L'Hercule du Texas," authored by "G... n F... N," a most odd pseudonym for a writer, was published early in the 19th century and was based on the Champ d'Asile settlement in Texas by French emigres.

JOHN 7:16 — "My teaching is not mine, but his who sent me, if any man's will is to do his will, he shall know whether the teaching is from God or whether I am speaking on my own authority."

Christ went about shattering man's ego. He has always battled our personal pride. We insist that God make Himself known to us on our terms. We demand that God submit to the methodical examination of our scientific age. Man feels so powerful because he has conquered the elements of life. He seeks a similar feeling of power in trying to make God submit to such a critical analysis.

Jesus told the scribes that personal surrender was the means by which man came to know God. To know Him in mind and will, one must will to do His will even before he knows what it is. This is a favorite verse because it hits the center of my sin and that of society. Such unequivocal surrender guarantees a degree of personal humility. In such humility one finds the will of God for his life.

Teacher Retirement Plan Moves Ahead In 15 Years

The teacher retirement plan, starting timidly 15 years ago this month, has grown into a robust program.

In those 15 years the number of participants in the Big Spring Independent School district has increased five fold; the amount of contributions nearly 14 times.

At the outset the plan was optional. Only 37 teachers, administrators and auxiliary employees elected to participate in September of 1937. Nine of them are still in the system.

Those 37 members contributed $177.70 as their five per cent for the initial month's salary. None, except the superintendent, was affected by the $180 maximum contribution per year. That year's total contribution by teachers amounted to better than $1,500.

Five years later membership had grown to 54 and the rate of contribution was $349 per month, or slightly in excess of $3,000 per year.

Five more years saw the membership rocket to 104 with monthly contributions at $1,273, or around $15,000 per annum, which, it will be noted, was roughly 10 times that at the outset of the program.

Figures for this year are not yet available pending the initial payroll at the end of September, but it will be up substantially from the 178 members in May of 1952 when contributions amounted to $2,386 or at the approximate rate of $21,000 per year.

Contributions are based on five per cent of salary up to $3,600 per annum. Thus, the maximum contribution is $180 per year. In addition, each participant pays a $1 per year membership fee for administration costs.

Benefits are based upon a number of factors, including length of service, average annual contribution, and upon retirement options.

Those with prior service records at the time the act became effective in 1937 could take retirement after August 1941. Payment in that case would be based at two per cent of the average annual salary for the 10 years preceding the date of act, not to exceed $3,000 per year, times the number of years prior service, not to exceed 36. The reversed late Prof. W. W. Lackey of Midland was one who qualified for maximum benefits of $2,160 per annum under this provision.

The teacher retirement act specified that 20 years teaching or service as auxiliary employe in Texas school systems is now a requisite in order to retire at age 60. Any teacher or employe with 25 years creditable service may retire after 25 years provided benefits are not payable until he or she shall have attained the age of 60. Any person who has 30 years of creditable service can retire at anytime regardless of age.

Persons with 20 years service may be retired for disability causes before the age of 60, but if disability is subsequently removed, payments may be stopped or reduced.

Anytime a member withdraws, he or she will receive the total amount of personal contributions made, but they do not share from proceeds of a matching five per cent the state has put up. After six years absence from teaching or school employ a person is automatically withdrawn and an effort is made to refund their accumulated savings. If this is unsuccessful, the accumulation is credited to the permanent retirement fund.

The act has been amended extensively. Those who waived out of the program at the outset were subsequently given the opportunity to return. The optional feature of the program at first was erased and now it is compulsory to all teachers and school employes. However, if a person has twice been a member and has twice withdrawn, he or she can not become a member a third time. Those in armed service can continue contributions at their last annual rate. In any event, the receive time credit in the retirement system for time in armed or other drafted service.

Exact amount of payments upon retirement are based upon tables prepared by an actuary. The program is administered by a state teacher retirement board of trustees, which has the power to invest in U. S., state, municipal and district bonds. The legislature each biennium appropriates an amount to match the five per cent put up by school employes.

Nine teachers who are still teaching here and who were members on the original list are Leitha Anderson, Mrs. R. L. Baber, W. C. Blankenship, (Miss) Neal Cummings, Lorena Huggins, Grace Mann, Clara Pool, Clara Secrest, Naomi Lee Stephens. Heading the list is the grand lady of the teaching profession here—Mrs. Della K. Agnell—who is in retirement.

PATIENTS RESHUFFLED

State Hospital Here Changes Ward And Hospital Facilities

By CLIFTON LAWHORNE

A reorganization program is underway at the Big Spring State Hospital. Dr. Sam Hoerster, acting superintendent, is directing a change in ward and hospital facilities.

The change began last Sunday with a reshuffle of patients. Women occupying the north wing of the psychopathic hospital were moved into another ward.

Fifty of the custodian patients—older people with little chance of being cured—were sent to the Kerrville State Hospital via airplane.

The space vacated by the women will be remodeled and made into a wing for men patients. By the change, a building once used for housing purposes will now be used for treating and curing newer patients.

All the younger patients with a chance of being made into useful citizens once again will be placed in the Psychopathic hospital after it is remodeled. Women will be in the south wing, and men in the north.

Between the women and men, Dr. Hoerster plans to have an insulin treatment room. Previously, insulin treatment had to be given in the main hospital—patients having to be transferred from building to building.

Dr. Hoerster said that 20 patients were treated with insulin last year. All but two of those treated have been released from the State Hospital. The insulin treatment is the best found yet, he said, and appears to be more effective than electro and hydro therapy.

The insulin treatment room will have beds for 12 to 15 patients at one time. Adjacent to the room—still between the men and women wards—will be an occupational therapy room.

One of the nurses at the hospital will be sent to San Antonio and Wichita Falls soon to learn recreational and occupational methods to pass on to the patients.

Day rooms and recreation rooms are also planned for the patients. Dr. Hoerster stated that the transfer of patients was necessary to make room for the improvements.

The transfer cut the total number of patients from 544 to 494. Dr. Hoerster states that under ideal conditions, only 316 patients should be accommodated.

The transfer of patients was ordered from Austin headquarters. Dr. Hoerster said, Kerrville—where the older ladies were transferred—is designed to give better care for the older patients. Hoerster said equipment has been especially provided for them there.

After changes are complete, the Big Spring Hospital will be set up to accommodate and treat the newer patients.

"We're doing the best with what we have," Dr. Hoerster said. "Actually we're making the buildings serve in the capacity for which they were built." He said a recreational building was needed, but that obtaining one was unlikely.

There are only 72 attendants authorized for the hospital. Of these, 21 are now attending a nurse's technician night school, which is part of the extension work of Howard County Junior College. The school is held at the State Hospital.

Hoerster said that he hopes to have more attendants in the future.

The State Health Department has just completed an investigation of the school. A good report was made on the cleanliness of kitchens, wards and grounds.

Environmental conditions were considered "undesirable" in the report due to overcrowding. Dr. Hoerster admitted the hospital is overcrowded, but there is nothing he can do about it.

JC Instructor Is Speaker At ABC Club Meet

Bill Holbert, instructor of biology and psychology at Howard County Junior College, was guest speaker at the meeting of the ABC Club at the Settles Hotel Friday at noon.

Holbert told the group that Texas is second in the nation in the number of junior colleges and in enrollment.

"Howard County Junior College offers five outstanding opportunities to the citizens of this area," Holbert said.

"They include two years of terminal training education, a university parallel course, adult education, training for academic delinquents and the popularization of education.

"The standard of living is parallel to the educational benefits offered in an area," the instructor concluded.

During the business session, the organization voted to sponsor Jack Johnson in the sultan's contest to be held by the Big Spring City Federation of Women's Clubs.

The contest winner will be featured in the closing performance of the Follies of 1952 to be held at the City Auditorium Oct. 16-17.

Dr. H. F. Schwarzenbach, club president, read the organization's financial report.

A. Mack Rodgers was in charge of the program.

Influenza Tops Disease Listing

Influenza was the most prevalent contagious infection in Howard County this week, according to weekly communicable diseases roundup of the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit.

Physicians reported diagnosis of 25 cases of flu. Next in order of with 16 cases: tonsillitis, 14; gonorrhea, nine; tuberculosis, three; syphilis, two; and hepatitis and pneumonia, one case each.

Diagnosis of tuberculosis is on the increase, probably because of the chest X-ray survey conducted here recently by the Howard County Tuberculosis Association and the State Health Department. More than 80 "suspicious chest conditions" were revealed by the survey and persons suspected of having tuberculosis are being advised to contact their physicians for more extensive examinations.

Camera Club To Talk About Print Analysis At Meet

Print analysis will be the chief topic of discussion at the next meeting of the Big Spring Camera Club, which is scheduled for Thursday night at the YMCA.

The program for the evening will be directed to amateur photographers who are interested principally in pictorial exhibition photographs. However, the discussion is expected to be of interest to any amateur who is interested in improving his pictures.

Thirteen salon prints will be used as illustrations and these will be analyzed from the standpoint of subject matter, composition and general picture-taking technique. Good and bad points of each photograph will be discussed in detail, and the three basic points of print quality will be emphasized.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. and all club members are being urged to attend.

Gene Autry aims his sights on land surveying in the above scene from "Barbed Wire," to be shown at the Lyric Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Autry, playing a cattle buyer, straightens out a mess between cattlemen and homesteaders over fenced-in cattle trails.

Diplomatic Courtesy

Ann Blyth, playing the part of a Russian Countess, and Gregory Peck, a Boston seaman, are shown above in a lover's embrace in a scene from "The World in His Arms." The movie will be shown at the Ritz Theatre today through Wednesday.

Friends

Jane Russell and Thomas Gomez are fixing to have a pow wow, in the movie "Macao," which will be shown at the Terrace Theatre today and Monday. Gomez plays the part of a policeman, and Miss Russell is a misplaced singer. Robert Mitchum rounds out the cast in the role of an adventurer.

An Immigrant Has A Look At Life In U. S.

Paramount's "Anything Can Happen," scheduled for Big Spring at the State theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, pictures the adventures of a carefree European who comes to America in search of love, laughs and adventure—and finds them all.

The new comedy stars Jose Ferrer in his first screen role since his 1930 Academy Award winning appearance in "Cyrano de Bergerac." Kim Hunter plays the part of the American girl he meets and falls in love with.

Adventures of the new arrival to the U.S. are heartwarming as he learns new and strange ways of life. The movie is based on the best-selling book by the same name written by George and Helen Papishvily.

The story gathers many of its laughs from the supporting actors. Some of the characters include a landlocked sea captain who navigates throughout the city with a compass, a widow who is trying to land a mate, and an eccentric rancher who lives to give away land.

The supporting cast is headed by Kurt Kasnar, Eugenie Leontovich and Oscar Karlweis.

The Cavalry Is In Action In Lyric Film

The Lyric Theatre will have a Technicolor story of the 7th Cavalry for movie audiences today and Sunday. It is "Bugles In The Afternoon" and stars Ray Milland. Milland departs from his usual type role for the movie, as he is usually seen as a sophisticated individual or an alcoholic. He has the part of a tough cavalry sergeant in the movie.

Helena Carter, Hugh Marlowe and Forrest Tucker support Milland in the co-starring roles. Tucker perhaps has the best supporting part, playing an Irishman who becomes Milland's best friend. The movie deals with the side-lights of Custer's defeat at the Little Big Horn. The setting is in post-Civil War days on the western frontier.

Nelsons Bring Family Life To The Movie Screen

A domestic comedy will come to the Ritz screen Saturday with the showing of "Here Come The Nelsons." The movie will star Ozzie and Harriet Nelson and their two children, David and Ricky.

Most people are familiar with the Nelsons through their long standing radio show. Their appearance on the screen will mark the first time an entire family has appeared in a motion picture since the Gleasons teamed up in the "Higgins Family" series 12 years ago.

The comedy hit also stars Rock Hudson and Barbara Lawrence in supporting roles. Sheldon Leonard and Jim Backus round out the cast. "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet" radio show has been honored by civic and religious organizations since its beginning in 1944. The program — like the show — deals with family life and its humor and hardships.

Alaska Becomes Playground For Abbott-Costello

Another comic duo is scheduled for the Ritz movie goes Wednesday through Friday as Bud Abbott and Lou Costello take to the screen in the motion picture, "Lost In Alaska."

The Universal-International release co-stars Milt Green and Tom Ewell. The movie will be the 30th for the Abbott and Costello comedy team.

As is usual, Abbott will play the straight role and Costello will take all the falls. The show starts off with the San Francisco Fire Department in the gay 90's and ends up with a dog sled in the Arctic. Bruce Cabot plays the part of the perpetual Abbott-Costello "crook" and Miss Green is a Yukon dance hall girl.

What A Dog-Gone Way To Campaign

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—Don Magnuson, the newspaperman who surprised the politicians, reported a dog-gone new twist in campaign expenses.

The Seattle reporter said during his successful campaign for the Democratic nomination for the new post of congressman-at-large that he couldn't afford sound trucks and billboards. So he paraded a pooch with "vote for Magnuson" signs. His campaign cost report of $615 today included two dog blankets.

GREGORY PECK STARRED

Picture Shows New Issue With Russians

Strife between Americans and Russians—a timely topic—will be flashed across the screen in an ancient setting at the Ritz today through Tuesday in the Technicolor movie, "The World In His Arms."

And this particular movie finds room for love between a Russian lass and an American boy, Gregory Peck, playing the part of a seafaring man from Boston, and Ann Blyth, a Russian countess, furnish the love interest.

The movie is the 40th anniversary year picture of Universal International studios. "The World In His Arms" is an action-packed thriller of San Francisco and Alaska in the 1850's.

Peck, as Captain Jonathan Clark, throws a big party in San Francisco after selling a cargo of seal pelts obtained in the Pribilof Islands in defiance of Russian authorities. He meets the Countess Marina Selanova — Ann Blyth — there.

The Countess is the niece of the governor-general of Alaska, and she has been promised in marriage to a Russian prince. She falls in love with Peck, but just before marriage she is found by the Prince and taken back to Alaska.

Peck, drinking heavily, plans to race a rival sea poacher—Anthony Quinn—to the Pribilof Islands. Peck wins the race but is captured by Russians. From this point until he escapes with Ann Blyth, action is steady and constant.

Top supporting actors include Quinn, John McIntire, Andrea King, Carl Esmond and Eugenie Leontovich.

A humorous element is added to the movie by the 14-year-old trainee seal—Tommy Tucker. He flips in and out of various scenes as a fill-in for the main action.

Know Him?

This clown is none other than Movie Star James Stewart, in the role of the clown he plays in that extravaganza movie, "The Greatest Show On Earth." This Cecil B. DeMille spectacle of the circus also has in the cast Betty Hutton, Cornel Wilde, Dorothy Lamour and Gloria Grahams. It is booked into the Ritz Theatre for an extended showing beginning October 2.

THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

Seven Howard County 4-H Club girls have steers on feed and say they're ready for the show circuit that will soon open.

They are Anne White, Sue White, Jane Ellsard, Patricia Iden, Joyce Robinson, Kay Robinson and Judy Brooks.

It has been definitely decided that the steers being readied by the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd White will go to the Texas State Fair at Dallas.

Anne's entry is from the Largent-Sadler herd at Merkel, and Sue's top steer is from the TO Ranch in New Mexico. The Largent-Sadler steer now weighs 1,015 pounds and the TO steer weighs 1,065. In age these two steers are only a few days apart and up until quite recently there was never more than 10 pounds difference in their weights. They'll probably weigh closer together than the present 50 pounds difference by time of the Dallas show.

Other Howard County club steers going to the State Fair at Dallas are one being fed by Woody Caffey from the herd of Dorothea Griffin, of Lawn; one being fed by Donald Denton from the herd of Mrs. Rupert Harkrider of Abilene; one being fed by Edgar Allen Phillips from the herd of R. H. King of Snyder; one being fed by James Shortes from the herd of Dr. R. B. G. Cowper of Big Spring, and one being fed by Bobby Powell from the herd of Runish Hamilton of Texas.

The Woody Caffey steer weighs 1,140; the Denton steer 1,160; the Phillips steer 1,050; the Shortes steer 1,075 and the Powell steer 815 pounds.

Other steers that may be included in the Dallas show string are being fed by Franklin Williamson from the Perry Walker herd and weighing 835 pounds; one being fed by Sonny Choate from the herd of W. D. Collier of Ralls and weighing 820 pounds, and another Perry Walker calf being fed by Leonard Smith and weighing 845 pounds.

The steers going to the Texas State Fair (October 4-19) will be shipped from there to the American Royal at Kansas City (October 18-25) without being returned to Big Spring.

Men handling Hereford show strings are sometimes seen going around slapping at black spots before their eyes. They aren't imagining anything because these spots are really there.

Four of these "Black Spots" ran up an impressive and to-be-remembered-with record in the top quality 4-H steer show at the Eastern States Exposition just ending in Springfield, Mass.

The grand champion went to an Aberdeen-Angus weighing 860 pounds. Another Angus was reserve grand champion, with two other black spots placed third and fourth. It's quite likely that some of these Angus may meet some of the Howard County Herefords on the circuit this year.

H. L. HUNT BRAINCHILD

Facts Forum Called 'Freedom Soapbox'

By MARTHA COLE
DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 20 (AP) — A soapbox for freedom is what H. L. Hunt, one of Texas' wealthiest oilmen, calls his brainchild, Facts Forum.

Hunt believes that if a lot of miscellaneous people in a lot of miscellaneous places get to cussing and discussing a lot of miscellaneous topics of life and government, the world will be better off.

He's willing to pour several hundred thousand dollars into a project to get them started.

So far Facts Forum, in a little over a year, has inspired some 5,000 persons in four states to meet once a month and talk.

It may be about a negotiated peace in Korea or whether fluorine should be added to city water supplies to prevent tooth decay.

Both those questions have been on the poll of questionnaires conducted every three weeks by Facts Forum.

"An awareness of public affairs may be temporarily depressing but should have no permanent ill effects," Hunt declares.

What has amazed the few people who had ever heard of H. L. Hunt of Dallas before a few years ago is that he has become interested in getting people to think. He had guarded his privacy well and was an almost mythical, fantastically rich man who sat somewhere in a carpeted office and raked in a million dollars a day.

He launched Facts Forum in June, 1951.

"Actually... Mr. Hunt had been thinking about it for years," explained Dan Smoot, co-ordinator of Facts Forum. "It wasn't just a sudden whim. He had thought and thought about it and then all at once he was ready to go."

Eventually the goal is to have a Facts Forum in every community of America so a bunch of people—preferably not over 42 at a time—will get together monthly and talk about what's going on in the world.

taken title to a place in Choctaw County, Oklahoma, in the Choctaw Nation country, just north of Red River and has shipped two loads of cattle there to grass.

This location is pretty close to the southern tip of the free range country of Eastern Oklahoma.

The annual convention of the Howard County Farm Bureau will be held in the new Fair Association Buildings the evening of Tuesday, September 30.

Lots of eats will be served and after the feasting there will be a business meeting. This date, incidentally, will be the evening before the two-day county pig show and sale, a program which will also include the area show of the Sears Foundation Duroc gilts from Martin and Howard counties.

The annual drive for members for the Howard County Farm Bureau will be held the week of October 10-17.

The Mexican government has just handed in a revised "black list" of Texas counties and towns in which Mexican nationals will not be permitted to work because of discrimination against them or against other persons of Mexican ancestry although the latter may be native-born Texans.

The list includes among other counties, Brown, Crane, Ector, El Paso, Hockley, Lubbock, Mason, Schleicher, Sterling, Winkler and Andrews. In all more than 80 counties and towns are named.

Where a county is named it does not necessarily mean that the entire county has been blacklisted. It may be that the ban is placed on only a part of the county.

Lubbock county, incidentally, is in immediate need of 2,100 cotton hands according to the Texas Employment Commission.

From Bureau of Agricultural Economics report.

Profits from cattle feeding this winter are likely to be higher than last winter when they were below average... Prices of feeder cattle have dropped sharply this summer...

Feed prices probably won't be much different than last winter. Even if prices of slaughter cattle decline moderately as is expected, profits in the coming year should be about average.

On the national scene milk production has dropped off more than usual from the June peak. Output in July was three per cent below July of 1951 and the lowest since 1940. Drop from a year ago is due to slightly fewer milk cows on farms and reduced production per cow as a result of hot, dry weather in several parts of the country.

Feed grain prices rose slightly from mid-July to mid-August when they averaged seven per cent higher than a year earlier. Supply of feed grains and other concentrates for 1952-53 were estimated in August to be five per cent smaller than in 1951-52. This would be less than in any of the last four years, either in the total or per animal unit.

AT DAWN THE WORK WAS DONE. THEN ONE BY ONE, THE GRACE-FUL, HIGH-HEARTED LADIES BADE FAREWELL TO HUSBAND, SON OR SWEETHEART AND SLOWLY MOUNTED THE TOWER STAIRWAY.

"BUT, MY CAPTAIN," I CRIED, "THE LADIES! THEY ARE STILL UP IN THE TOWER!" THE FACE OF CAMORAN WAS UNABLE TO SEE AS HE POINTED TO THE SCREAMING HUNS WITHOUT. "THE LADIES DO NOT CHOOSE TO FALL INTO THE HANDS OF THOSE DEMONS!"

"THEN THE REMNANT OF THAT BRAVE BAND ARMED THEMSELVES AND LEFT THEIR FLAMING HOME BY A SECRET WAY. AND FEARFUL WAS THE GLEAMING OF THEIR EYES AS THEY WENT TO THEIR LAST ENCOUNTER WITH THE HUNS!"

"A HUGE BOULDER BLOCKED THE EXIT OF THEIR TUNNEL BUT THEY THREW THEIR WEIGHT AGAINST IT....."

"...AND WENT LEAPING OUT INTO THE SUNLIGHT, SHOUTING THEIR BATTLE CRIES..... TO CUT A CRIMSON PATH THROUGH THE ENEMY RANKS!"

GOLLY, YES! I SEE WHAT YOU MEAN!

AH, MY DEAR YOUNG EQUESTRIANS... ARE YOU THE FORTUNATE PROPRIETORS OF THIS EYE-FILLING STEED?... AS HANDSOME A DESCENDANT OF THE GREAT GODOLPHIN AS I HAVE EVER SEEN!

HUH?... I... ER... HE... IF YOU MEAN IS THIS OUR HORSE, YES, SIR!

AM I CORRECT IN ASSUMING THAT YOUR PRESENCE WITH THAT EQUINE BEAUTY UPON THIS CIRCULAR PATHWAY PRESAGES HIS ENTRY IN A CONTEST OF SPEED?

IF YOU MEAN ARE WE GOING TO RACE HIM, WE GOT HIM ENTERED IN THE BLUEBROOK HANDICAP BUT THERE'S SOMETHING WRONG WITH HIS GAIT.

SO I OBSERVED AS I APPROACHED FROM YON SHED, WHICH IS MY TEMPORARY RESIDENCE... IF YOU WILL PERMIT A SUGGESTION, I BELIEVE WE CAN CORRECT HIS TENDENCY TO INDULGE IN A CAKEWALK!

JEEPERS! DO YOU KNOW ABOUT HORSES?

DO I KNOW ABOUT HORSES?... MY FRIENDS, YOU ARE GAZING UPON CEDRIC WELLINGTON CHOLMONDELEY, PROBABLY THE WORLD'S GREATEST EQUINE EXPERT... TO EXPEDITE MATTERS, JUST YOU CALL ME, "STOVEPIPE"!

GLAD TO MEET YOU, MR. STOVEPIPE... THIS IS PETE PETERS AND I'M RUSTY RILEY... WHAT DO YOU THINK IS WRONG WITH "SPACE PILOT"?

AH!... MY GUESSTION IS JUSTIFIED! THIS HORSE HAS BEEN SHOD WITH A "TIP" SHOE FOR PASTURE... BUT IT'S MUCH TOO HEAVY... WE MUST HIE US TO THE VILLAGE SMITHY AND EQUIP THIS STEED WITH RACING PLATES!

YES, BUT SUPPOSE HE IS ALIVE AND IS CURED BY THE MIRACLE DRUG FOUND IN THE ROWENA, AND HE DOES COME BACK TO BRENDA?

THAT'S THE CHANGE I MUST TAKE. AT LEAST I'LL HAVE A REAL MAN TO FIGHT FOR THE GIRL I LOVE.
