News Behind The News THE NATIONAL Whirligig

WASHINGTON By George Durso Grievances The White House maintains steadfastly that when James A. Farley does retire from one of his jobs it will be the Democratic Chairmanship. And this won't be in the immediate future, it is safe to say.

Other inspired New Deal sources are spreading the story that it is true all right that Farley will quit the cabinet after Congress adjourns—but not until adjournment in 1937. The inference is that Big Jim will continue making himself the best cabinet record possible until time to step out and run for Governor of New York in 1938. All of which is predicated on the presupposition Mr. Roosevelt will be reelected next year.

Most sideline observers here have figured Farley's organizing talents would be needed in the field for the approaching campaign just as they were prior to 1932. When Walter Brown was Postmaster General under Herbert Hoover, he shielded the Republican National Chairmanship, saying he could function politically more efficiently from the cabinet post. Farley's friends are now saying Brown had the right idea.

Meanwhile Democratic Senators and Congressmen with patronage and other grievances are trying hard by insinuation to ease Big Jim out of both jobs if possible—politics being that sort of a game.

Earning—In Department of Commerce corridors the rumor has been gravitating among sub-officials just as they were prior to 1932. When Walter Brown was Postmaster General under Herbert Hoover, he shielded the Republican National Chairmanship, saying he could function politically more efficiently from the cabinet post. Farley's friends are now saying Brown had the right idea.

Whether this even develops or not there is a grave suspicion that the wish may have paternal influence on the thought. "Uncle Dan" Roper has been so busy fawning for the New Deal that his Commerce Department has become inactive in internal politics. The action in the Commerce setup that Uncle Dan himself probably doesn't know about. Those "agin him" are spreading the word he is soon to become Postmaster General. Who knows but what he'd like the job?

Postponed—Senate administration leaders were forced into the open the other day on the question of that 29-hour week bill. It now appears that the White House definitely wants to leave the question of working hours to NRA—which still awaits rejuvenation.

Senator Hugo L. Black (D) of Ala., who has been sponsoring the 30-hour week for nearly two years, unexpectedly jolted the leadership of Senator Joe Robinson the other day when he moved for immediate consideration of his measure.

Senators were quick to announce that in opposing an instant vote they did not want necessarily to be recorded as opposing the general idea of the Black bill. The measure went over, and a bystander would get the impression it will go over into next year's session at least.

Supervision—The big push for Senator Burton K. Wheeler's bill contemplating government ownership of railroads will be deferred at least until next session.

One reason is that Wheeler at the moment is interested in getting an investigation of railroad financing under way. It is in the cards that the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee will look this phase of the problem over before another Congress convenes.

The interesting angle of the ownership bill is that men in the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Railroad Coordinators' Office aided in drafting it. Their reason for lending a helping hand was that if such legislation was going to get serious consideration it should be sound legislation.

Hopeful—Only one or two voices were raised in the House against the exemption of "labor" from conscription in wartime. This item of the bill to take the profit out of war was adopted by an overwhelming vote. Stanton of Texas, who has no big labor element in his district, objected strenuously to exempting labor while drafting everybody else.

"During the World War we had 5,000 strikes in this country, and President Wilson had continual trouble with labor," said Stanton. "Finally organized workers got $30 a day while their brothers were getting $20 a month in the trenches."

Captain R. A. Eads, in command of the CCC camp here, said that no official notification had reached him for replacements due this camp.

C. L. Anway, 65, Found Dead Friday At Tourist Camp

Body of C. L. Anway, about 65 years of age, was discovered in a cabin of a tourist camp on the west highway 6:30 p. m. Thursday.

He had been dead about two and a half days.

An inquest had not been held by Justice of Peace J. H. Hefley Friday noon, but he indicated his verdict likely would be death from heart attack. Anway reportedly had suffered several minor attacks of late.

He was shot on Tuesday afternoon when he went to his cabin. Thursday when application was made for a cabin at the camp, the management, under the impression Anway had left, took the applicant to the cabin.

They found Anway's body stretched underneath the edge of a bed where apparently he had fallen. None of his valuables had been taken, thus dispelling any theory of foul play.

For several years Anway served as janitor of the First Presbyterian church, both in the old building and in the new structure at East Seventh and Rannels.

He left here and was gone for some time, returning to take part time employment at the court house under J. H. Underwood, caretaker.

Anway was from Omaha, Neb. A letter from a daughter was in one of his pockets. No relatives had been contacted Friday at 2:30 p. m.

600 Birds Are Released Here

Game birds took a new case on life here Friday when 600 bobwhites arrived for distribution over the county.

Purchased by the Game and Fish Protective association's Howard county chapter and other interested individuals, the birds were obtained at a cost of approximately $250.

They were distributed to sportsmen, farmers and ranchers as a part of the chapter's game propagation program.

By noon Friday, about half the birds had been given out for distribution but there were more than 300 of the fowls left at the Big Spring Hardware company.

The bobwhites were shipped from Mustang Island off the coast near Corpus Christi. Each bird cost 77 cents, however the state matched purchases bird for bird.

They were being paired before being given out. They came in crates containing from 24 to 32 birds. Mating season for them is about to begin, according to sportsmen.

On the chapter's game propagation committee are Noel Lawson, Lee Hanson, and Walter Winn. Winn, for several years, spent much time and money in an effort to stock the county with pheasants. It was a lone battle and little success greeted his efforts. However, recently in a rabbit drive on the Guitarr ranch, several hunters reported seeing a few pheasants. Winn put out approximately 400 in all.

Jones Grocery Destroyed By Fire Friday

Building Ignites As Pail Of Gasoline Overturns Near Gas Stove

Second fire causing appreciable damage within a week wrought total ruin to the stock and serious damage to the building of the E. R. Jones grocery, Rannels and East 10th streets, Friday morning.

The building ignited when a pail of gasoline overturned near a lighted gas stove. The fuel was being used to clean fixtures and flames quickly spread over most of the store.

A mix-up in the alarm sent the fire department rushing to 111 Rannels before the mistake could be corrected.

Amount of the loss could not be estimated Friday noon.

City Fire Marshal E. B. Bethel issued another strong warning against negligence. He quoted from the city fire code: "Do all gasoline cleaning in the open air. Everyone should refrain from using gasoline or like volatiles in the house. This material should not be kept in the house nor in glass bottles. Beware of rags or cloths used in oiling floors or cleaning or polishing furniture. They may ignite spontaneously. Be sure and burn them after using. Leaving them about for only a few hours may mean a fire."

Earlier in the week a trash fire flared against a garage at 1211 Rannels street and started a blaze that destroyed the building, a new car, and damaged an adjoining house.

Both fires, said the fire marshal, were due to lack of care. He warned that many such fires would deprive Big Spring of part of its 12 per cent credit on the key fire insurance rate.

The prevailing opinion in the House was that "labor" is free and "capital" is not, and doesn't need to be drafted. A strong argument against specific drafting of labor was that all men from 21 to 45 were subject to military duty anyhow.

Your moods, your actions, your very personality—all are influenced by the state of your health. Avoid common constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. This ailment may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy. It takes the color out of living.

Kellogg's All-Bran, a natural laxative food, furnishes you with this needed "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

The "bulk" in All-Bran remains effective with continued use. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Isn't this cereal food better than patent medicines?

All-Bran also provides vitamin B and iron. Serve it as a cereal with milk, cream, or cook into muffins, breads, waffles, etc. It's much more satisfactory than part-bran products. Get the red and green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Timber
Gov. Hoffman of New Jersey will visit Washington soon, to widen his acquaintances. He has stalwart friends who think they see in him the white hope of the G.O.P. for 1936. A few volunteer scouts who are on the lookout for sound timber are inclined to think that Hoffman is not sufficiently trained for the big race—that he might do well four years hence.

Col. Frank Knox is under consideration. He is well established in Illinois, having become publisher of the Chicago Daily News in 1931. Progressives who have been sounded out are favorably inclined toward Knox, and regulars praise him. That's going some.

Notes

No matter how busy Congress may be it always finds an excuse to adjourn over for the opening ball game. It required a peremptory order to shift the Soil Erosion service from Interior to Agriculture. Few men in this country enjoyed a wider acquaintance than Warren Delano Robbins, late Minister to Canada—he was President Hoover's master of ceremonies, spent $135,000,000 more than he collected in processing taxes during the last two years.

NEW YORK
By JAMES McMULLIN

Sauce
The railroads will have a good game try at silencing their wage bill on May 1—when notice of a pending wage cut will be filed. But their employees won't have to worry about it for quite a while. Last time the brotherhoods cooperated in arranging a pay reduction on the promise of speeding up recovery—so it went through in jig time. This time they'll fight it every step of the way. New York experts estimate it will take at least eight months to put through a slash—until next January—if labor utilizes the resources for stalling at its command. The machinery for rail wage adjustments is complicated. When one road files notice for a cut and the problem is handed over to a mediation board all other roads are enjoined from taking similar action until the original case is settled.

There are endless possibilities for legal delays. The funny part of it is that rail executives themselves are responsible for this one-road-at-a-time business which now cramps their style. They urged it into the law—in more prosperous days—to hamper unions gunning for pay increases. The present situation is a beautiful sample of sauce for the gander.

Weight
Wall Street has long cherished the impression that rail labor hankers for government ownership of the roads. Informed sources say that in reality the brotherhoods are so strenuously opposed as the most ardent conservatives.

One reason the rail workers' chiefs are pushing to gain every inch they can—in the states as well as in Washington—is because they see federal ownership coming this way. They are convinced privately that once Uncle Sam takes over they will do well to hold the territory they have won—let alone making fresh conquests. You might think such a large group of government employees would throw a lot of political weight and could darn near have the Treasury for the asking. But the brotherhood leaders figure the opposite—and keen financial observers agree. They point to the postal personnel—which is certainly numerous enough but obviously has a tough time making a dent either on congress or the executive branch.

Timely
For all the ills that beset the railroads, it's worth noting that in one important respect they are better off than they have been in previous depressions. Their proportion of debt to equity interest is far smaller than it was in 1920. With all their RFC borrowing the roads collectively only owe about $200,000,000 more than they did in 1931—hardly more than chicken feed under the circumstances. The Interstate Commerce Commission—which has worked for years to get the roads to cut the percentage of their net worth in stock—is pleased by this phase of the situation. This was quite a factor in its approval of loan extensions to the New York Central and Baltimore & Ohio and fresh

Goes To Virginia

RAY CANTRELL, manager of Hotel Settles, leaves Saturday for Mountain Lake, Va., where he will manage the Mountain Lake Hotel, popular summer resort of the National Hotel company, which opens June 1. Mr. Cantrell will return to Big Spring October 1 to resume management of the Settles.

To Manage Settles

LEE H. HUBBY, formerly manager of Hotel Clovis, Clovis, N. M., will assume management of Hotel Settles in this city, succeeding Ray Cantrell, who is going to Mountain Lake, Va., for the summer months. Mr. Hubby has been with the National Hotel company for four years, first serving as clerk, auditor and manager at Clovis, then coming to Big Spring several months ago as auditor.

Cantrell To Manage Hotel In Virginia

Lee H. Hubby Succeeds Him Here As Manager Of Settles

Ray Cantrell, manager of Hotel Settles, leaves Saturday morning for Mountain Lake, Virginia, where on June 1st he will open the popular Mountain Lake Hotel. This summer resort, property of the National Hotel company, is open to the public from June 1 to October 1. It is located in the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia. Cantrell formerly managed the Mountain Lake hotel.

Before going to Mountain Lake, Cantrell will visit the home office of National Hotel company in Galveston for several days. He intends to go by way of New Orleans, Birmingham, and other southern cities.

Lee H. Hubby, formerly manager of Hotel Clovis, Clovis, N. M., and for the past several months assistant manager of Hotel Settles here, will assume management of the hotel here during Cantrell's absence. Cantrell will return to Big Spring after October 1.

credit to the latter. Central has won favor by reducing its equipment trust indebtedness under difficulties. New York Central's security holders have causes to thank the RFC and ICC for their timely aid. If repayment of RFC credits had been insisted upon at the original maturity dates the road would have been in the soup for fair. The breathing spell now granted gives it at least a chance to come through without painful revamping of the capital structure.

Realizable
Many New Yorkers have believed that the Baltimore & Ohio was destined to end its career as a mere appendage of the Pennsylvania. Its success in obtaining federal credit implies a new lease on life.

Keen observers figure engineering advances in this picture. A number of B. & O.'s lines were laid out in the infancy of railroad-ing. The many curves discouraged the possibility of handling modern high speed traffic safely without enormously expensive changes in the roadbed.

But the development of new light cars with a low center of gravity may make track straightening unnecessary. Insiders say that important progress in this direction is within reasonable distance.

Flair
Youth is being served in the new Stock Exchange setup. While the coming president—Charles E. Coy—is older than his predecessor Richard Whitney the average of governors is noticeably lowered. The old guard has been bound in the grand manner despite dip-sonate gestures to Whitney and Treasurer Warren Nash as heading for bitter squalls. The man who has controlled the Exchange for years will have very little to say about it from now on. Note that E. Burd Grubb—late "boy president" of the Curb and mentioned in this column as a possible future head of the Big Board—is among the new governors. The informed still predict he's going places. Comment runs that he seems to have a flair for attracting friendly publicity.

Resignation

New Yorkers who know Jim Farley well are aware that he personally has no thought of resigning from his post office job—despite persistent reports to that effect. It's understood of course that his resignation is always in FDR's hands if FDR wants it—which holds equally true of other cabinet officers and high administration officials.

Expert

Sources in a position to know remark that most lawyers are as far as sea in preparing tax returns as an accountant would be confronted by a complicated legal problem. It's a little known fact that taxes are laid on an accountancy base rather than a legal basis—indicating that it might be a smart caper for corporations to give the accounting profession a break. New York state tax officials are frequently asked for assistance by lawyers in getting their client's returns ready. This service is given free. But there's no known record of a lawyer blushing when he presents a bill for a $500 fee for a job on which the tax bureau did most of the work. A critic observes that there are harder rackets than posing as an expert. Copyright McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Negro Dies From Skull Injury

MIDLAND — Lewis Ray, negro highway worker who was struck on the head by a rock during blasting on the highway west of here Wednesday died in a Midland hospital at about 9:30 o'clock Wednesday night. The body is held at the Ellis Mortuary where services will be held Friday.

Ray was seated with other negroes in an automobile eating his lunch when he was struck by a single large stone flung by a discharge of dynamite. His skull was badly crushed. He is described as being the "Old Southern darky type" and well-liked by the colored population of Midland.

Reunited In Death's Row With Palmer

OCCUPIED OLD CELL No. 7; Death Date To Be Set Monday Or Tuesday

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—Raymond Hamilton, the southwest's most notorious surviving outlaw, returned Saturday to his old cell No. 7 in the Texas penitentiary death house. From that cell Hamilton broke last July in the most spectacular escape in Texas prison history.

From the cell, having the unexpected, he will walk only twice more; once to be carried in chains to the district courtroom three blocks down the street, probably Monday or Tuesday to hear his death date set; next to march down the hall to the electric chair.

The young brigand, recaptured Friday night in Fort Worth, was reunited in death row with Joe Palmer, who was with him in the sensational escape, but was soon recaptured. Palmer was taken to Grimes county Saturday soon after Hamilton was dressed and sentenced to die May 16th on the same charge which Hamilton faces—murder of Major Crowson during an earlier break from Eastham prison farm.

Meat Processing Plant Appears To Be Step In Right Direction

Have you ever wondered why we live in the midst of a cattle raising country but as yet have no more for meat than as people who live in other parts of the country?

If you ask your butcher why this is so he will tell you that it is because he gets his meat from a packing house in some city a good many miles away.

The new plant is located just north of the railroad track in the east part of town. It consists of feeding pens, a feed storage barn, a sanitary butchering room, and refrigeration vaults.

The plant covers an area of 43 acres. Total cost has amounted to $10,500, about $2,500 of which is invested in the refrigeration vaults.

Everything about the place is well arranged. It was designed and built by Greer, who knew what he wanted.

The butchering room is so designed that it may be kept clean at all times. Flies can be kept out by screens on both windows and doors.

Two vaults are provided in the refrigeration plant. In one the warm meats will be kept until thoroughly chilled.

Greer plans to have cattle inspected both before they are killed and after they are sold as meat.

For those who have long clamored for a meat processing plant here, Greer's project appears to be a step in the right direction.

Fourteen others, Hudspeth, Terrell, Upton, Farmer, Hutchinson, Carson, Hidalgo, Cameron, Nueces, Bee, Karnes, Gonzalez, Fayette and Fort Bend, were in the respectable class in the eyes of state relief officials with not more than from 5 to 10 per cent of their residents receiving aid.

Interest Grows In Church Of Christ Revival

The revival meeting at the Church of Christ, 14th and Main streets, started Sunday morning with splendid interest manifested. J. P. Crenshaw, of Sweetwater, who is doing the preaching, spoke to two good crowds Sunday. His subject for tonight will be "Can a Man Be Saved Outside the Church?" Services are conducted twice daily at 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Monday evening the visiting evangelist spoke on "Rightly Dividing the Word of God." He said in part:

"When Paul wrote to Timothy insisting that he 'study to show himself approved unto God . . . rightly dividing the Word of Truth' he lays down a principle just as applicable to us today as it was to Timothy.

"We need to study the Bible, because, like the rich oil fields, there are things therein that only help us to dig them out and appropriate them to our own use.

"We need to study it because it contains all the light and revelation that we have ever had or ever will have.

"We need to study it, because, out of the things therein written we will be judged and our destinies determined.

"Unless we rightly divide the Word of God no one can learn what God requires of him here and now. Unless we understand that Jesus Christ really shed his blood, that those who believed on him and obeyed his commandments might inherit everlasting life; and that these facts, these commands, and these promises, are found in the New Testament under which we live, we can never learn the plan of salvation as it applies to us. Therefore, we must study it and rightly divide it.

"In all of the Old Testament (thirty nine books), the question 'what must I do to be saved?' is neither asked nor answered. True it is, that these Old Testament scriptures are written for our admonition and instruction. Certain it is, that no man understands his Bible without a thorough knowledge of the teaching of the Old Testament. But it is equally certain that the plan of salvation must be sought in the New Testament. One must read Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John to become convinced that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God (John 20:31-21).

"One must read the book of Acts to learn how the inspired apostles preached the Gospel and how men obeyed it then. The very thing they obeyed must be obeyed by us today. The Gospel was the power of God to save in these days (Rom. 1:16). It was to last forever (I Pet. 1:25). Hence, no power short of the Gospel will save us today.

"One must read the epistles following Acts of the Apostles to learn how one may grow and develop in the Christian life."

Yard, Garden Contest To Be Started Apr. 20

A yard and garden contest to start April 20 will be sponsored by the Civic and Beautification committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The committee, in session Tuesday afternoon, voted to sponsor two such contests, one running from April 20 to July 20, and a second to start on July 20 and continue for two months.

Prizes of shrubs and plants will be given to first, second and third place winners. Entry blanks may be had at the chamber office.

Judges will be picked from the committee and from the Garden Club.

The committee took under advisement the feasibility of circulating a petition asking that the federal building promised this city be constructed this year.

A reminder that April 20 is the final date for contracting for the special residential irrigation rate was issued by the city Wednesday morning.

The rate provides for a $3.50 rate on a 10,000 gallon minimum. Regular rate is $5.00 per thousand with an excess charge of 40 cents per thousand.

Any part of a second ten thousand gallons, under the rate, would cost 30c per thousand, and any part of a third 10,000 would cost 25 cents per thousand. Thereafter the standard rate would prevail.

Under the rate it is possible to save $1.20 on 10,000 gallons, $2.20 on 20,000 gallons, and $3.70 on 30,000 gallons.

Hoboes Engage In Stabbing Affray Near Odessa Sunday

MIDLAND—One man is in an Odessa hospital near death while another is held in jail as the result of a stabbing affray near Odessa Sunday.

The men were members of a bunch of hoboes that had crawled off a freight train while it was standing at Odessa and while on the ground the two men started quarrelling and as one of the men, by the name of Wyatt started to remount the train the other, George Brown, pulled out a long knife and stabbed Wyatt in the right chest.

While someone was going for aid for the wounded man, the train pulled out and Brown crawled on it and rode as far as Duoro, 10 miles west of Odessa, where he quit it and took to the open country. He was caught soon afterward by Sheriff Reeder Webb as he was trying to hide in some bushes.

Wyatt's condition was described as critical Monday, but he was given a slight chance to live unless complications set in.

No charges have been filed against Brown pending the outcome of Wyatt's wound.

Oklahoma City Man Dies After Legs Severed

MIDLAND—Alex Holt, 29, of Oklahoma City, died at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at a Midland hospital as result of an accident at 7:10 Sunday morning when he attempted to board a moving freight train and had both legs cut off.

The eastbound train No. 54, had stopped at the station here and was moving up at the rate of about 25 miles per hour, scheduled to stop at the stock pens to unload the John M. Gist stock cattle which were being returned from the El Paso stock show.

Holt, according to Eugene Franklin, negro proprietor of a barbecue stand near Alamo Courts, had stopped for something to eat and Franklin gave him a sack of food. Holt, referring to the freight train, asked if it was a local.

"No, it's a hot shot," said Franklin. When the train moved eastward, Holt ran toward the tracks and Franklin said he shouted to the man that he couldn't "make it," seeing that the train was gaining speed rapidly.

Franklin said he could see the brakeman waving to Holt, apparently signalling that he should not attempt to board the train.

Holt, however, stepped to the south side of the track just opposite the Humble station and pumps, ran eastward along the track and cut in to the train about four cars behind the locomotive. The impact and suction threw him under the wheels cutting the left leg off at the hip and the right leg just below the knee. He was badly managed but was conscious when the train stopped and aid was given, remaining so for several hours.

The train was "cut" to allow aid to be brought from the north side of the track. A "hobo" riding the freight ran to the Humble station and asked F. F. Lord to call an ambulance. Members of the train crew, assisted by Franklin and others who gathered as quickly as possible, picked up the injured man and placed him in the Ellis ambulance, rushing him to a hospital.

Suffering intensely from shock and loss of blood, complete amputation of the injured members could not be made for several hours. Holt remained conscious, however, almost until the time of his death.

He gave the name of his mother, Mrs. Minnie Herring, 500 S. E. 18th street, Oklahoma City. Holt was unmarried, was red headed and young in appearance.

The accident was almost identical with the one sustained about ten days ago here by Oscar Brown, also of Oklahoma, who had his leg run over below the knee. He still is in a hospital here, surgeons saying he will remain a cripple for life.

The accident victim was buried at Fairview cemetery here Monday, following receipt of advices from relatives.

Mrs. Corlies Glover of Big Spring spent the week end with Mrs. Malcolm Green of Forsan.

Manon Writes Reagan As To Postoffice

The following letter from Congressman George Mahon to B. Reagan relative to the postoffice situation in Big Spring, is reproduced below to acquaint Big Spring people as to the status of the new postoffice for this city:

April 6, 1935.—Mr. B. Reagan, The First National Bank, Big Spring, Texas.—

Dear Mr. Reagan: I am sending you a copy of the April 15th issue of the Congressional Record. On page 5223 and 5224 you will find reference to the public building program of the federal government. I think the big appropriation bill ought to have included certain public buildings. As you note it does not. Big Spring cannot hope to get a postoffice, as I understand it, out of the $4,800,000 appropriation bill.

Mr. Buchanan of Texas is chairman of the appropriation committee, and you will note what he has to say on the pages to which I have referred. I am sending you this letter and the copy of the Congressional Record in order to let you know what we are going to be up against in so far as the securing of a postoffice building is concerned.

Forty million dollars will not be a drop in the bucket in the public building program. There are already, according to my information several times more than $40,000,000 worth of public building projects authorized and approved. Among these, as you know, is a postoffice building for Big Spring. Of course, the Big Spring project was approved months ago, and would now have a preference rating.

It would appear, therefore, that if only this amount is spent on public buildings a selection will be made from the projects already authorized, and many of the projects which have already been authorized will not be constructed in the near future, because $40,000,000 will not go around. Sixty five million for public buildings was authorized last year, and as you know, the Big Spring postoffice building, though previously authorized, was not given preference.

I am writing this letter, not to discourage you, but to show you what we are going to be up against if we can pass an appropriation bill of $40,000,000 of more, for public buildings. I believe we can get a postoffice building for Big Spring. I assure you that I am going to continue to be on the job, and I invite the continued suggestions and assistance of you and other Big Spring people.

Sincerely your friend,
GEORGE MAHON.

In writing friends in Big Spring, Mr. Mahon said: "I cannot write all my friends, but I cannot let some of you know matters of this kind, as I do not want the people to misunderstand a matter as important as this."

Radio Compass Is Put To Test

Enroute to the west coast to install his radio compass in the plane Amelia Earhart, preparatory to her flight into Mexico, William P. Lear put the instrument to test on a West Texas sandstorm as he flew into Big Spring Tuesday afternoon.

"We tuned it on the beam station here and just came right in," said Lear.

His radio compass is a device especially adapted to aircraft use as a direction finder and "homing" instrument. It is, as Lear explained, an immeasurable aid to blind flying.

The instrument does away with the necessity of constant listening in to follow the course of a radio beam. A visual "right-left" indicator shows the pilot whether he is on the right or left side of his course.

It is not confined in practicality to radio beacon stations, but to any 500 watt commercial and industrial transmitting stations.

None of the ship is pointed toward the station nearest destination and the radio is tuned in on the frequency of this station. The visual indicator advises the pilot how nearly he is staying on his direct course.

According to Lear, the radio compass also has a use in finding the arrival of radio static, thus indicating location of storm centers and their path of travel.

Mechanism of the instrument consists of a loop antenna, which when mounted on a plane presents only 7 pounds drag at 200 m. p. h., a radio receiver-compress-dynamometer built on a single frame and weighing only 20 pounds, the visual indicator, remote control for selecting either of three bands, and a hand set if desired.

Lear, traveling with Howard T. Allor, sales manager, and A. C. Moreland, merchandising department, spent Tuesday night here. They hoped for the west coast Wednesday morning to begin installation of the radio compass on Amelia Earhart's plane.

Texas Pass Defense Weak

Chevigny To Continue Spring Drills Next Week

AUSTIN, (Sp.)—As the spring football training period draws to a close at the University of Texas, prospects for the 1935 team are no better than they were a year ago. Coach Jack Chevigny, after the Round-Up game last Saturday, announced that training would continue until Wednesday, April 17, and that at least one more scrimmage session would be held before the close.

Every man of the group of 80 candidates saw action in the game last week and all gave indication by their performance that the coaching staff had made more progress than last spring. Better offensive blocking and better all-around defensive work was in evidence, but both teams showed poorly on the pass defense.

Ample "Back" Material
 The two principal disclosures made in the Round-Up game were that ample backfield material will be available in 1935 and that there will be several weaknesses in the forward wall. At the guard and end positions the Longhorns will be strong, but at center and the tackles there will be the greatest weakness. The latter two positions will be taken care of by one dependably and tried man, but there will be a shortage of reserve material.

At the ends, Collins and Van Zandt of the 1934 team showed an advantage in the game, while squadmen Launey, Tippen and Bleymaier and freshmen Voss Williams and Roach appeared the most promising youngsters. Letter man Harold Griffin, squadman Bill Hughes and freshman Bill Dunne were the three leading performers at center, with Griffin and Hughes showing the best style. Griffin is the leading defensive man in the trio, but because of his lack of weight, 200-pound Hughes will likely keep him pressed for the starting position next season.

The doubtful tackle positions have only Clint Small and James Tolbert, letter men from last season, as a background. The failure of several big prospects to show as well as expected has left the places in the harem of these two, especially with the loss of Louis Oliver, star sophomore from Port Arthur through scholastic ineligibility. Frankovic, McMahon, Maedger, Burns, Keeling and Froman are the group of heavy sophomores who will have to bolster up the positions.

Letterman guards, Captain Joe Smart, Woodrow Weir and Merrill Chaplain are backed up at that position by squadmen Henderson and Curtis and a quartet of promising freshmen, King, Valton, Linder and Egging are the first year men who should aid the experienced group in making the Longhorn guard positions as strong as any on the team.

In the backfield no stars were uncovered in the Round-Up game, but a number of dependable men were seen at each position. The two leading men at the quarter-back position were Charles Johnston, outstanding man on the 1934 team who has returned to the school, and "Red" Sheridan of the 1934 team. Childow, a squad man, and freshman Morrow and O'Rourke showed sufficient talent to be considered contenders for the position.

At left halfback a half dozen men will be available next season. Hadlock, Jurecka and Nelson are the letter men at the post, and Bill Pizer, sensational sophomore fullback last season, has been shifted. Freshmen Street, Wolfe and Samde will also be reckoned with before the 1935 schedule has been run.

At right halfback Irvin (Duke) Gilbreath, star of last season, is the leading contender, but he will be pressed by Jay Arnold, star of 1933 who has returned to eligibility. The loss of Hush Wolf at this position hurt the 1935 team, but the two men of experience will be aided by Breaker, Delaney and Dueschle.

No Experienced Fullbacks
 Fullback candidates number seven, but none of them are experienced. Wheeler, Alchison, Nelson, Mittermayer, Hancock, Coffing and Reading are the candidates, and Alchison and Mittermayer showed exceptional ability in the Round-Up game. Both are big and fast and possess power.

The possibility of several changes leaves the positions in the backfield somewhat problematical, but with the absence of any outstanding stars it is probably that several combinations will see plenty of action in the season to come.

to basketball, Roy E. Henderson, league athletic director, said.
 While the league has fostered no contests in girls' basketball, numerous complaints were sent to Austin, prompting the editorial against the sport.

SPORT SLANTS

Dudley Wilkins, Southwestern Louisiana Institute's great hop-step-and-jumper, who holds the national championship in his specialty, comes forward with an explanation for the success of Japanese athletes enjoy in the jumping events.

The Japanese's amazingly strong leg development is partially the result of their national custom of "squatting" on the floor instead of sitting on chairs? From childhood they learn to assume this position in preference to standing. They even "squat" while waiting for a street car. Believe it or not.

This bending and stretching of the muscles naturally tends to develop powerful legs. As a matter of fact there isn't a better leg exercise in the world, the Japanese Chubei Nambu, the Japanese star who set a new world's record of 51 feet 7 inches in winning the Olympic hop-step-and-jump title at Los Angeles, also holds the world's broad jump mark of 26 feet 2 1/2 inches. Nambu finished third in the Olympic broad jump in 1932 while his teammate, Mendel Obshim, took third place in the hop-step-and-jump. Shubei Nishida was runner-up in the pole vault.

'Baby' Of Touring Group
 The success of the Japanese in the jumping events at the 1932 Olympic games has served to inspire them to build toward world supremacy in athletics. To this end they are building athletic fields and gymnasiums the equal of any in the world.

Wilkins, a youngster still in his teens, was one of the group of American track and field stars who toured Japan last summer. The Crowley (Louisiana) youth was the "baby" of the party which included Anderson of Cornell, Cunningham of Kansas, Crowley of Manhattan, Parsons of Southern California, Metcalfe of Marquette Good of Bowdoin, Thompson of Yale, Dunn of Stanford and Marty of Fresno.

Wilkins' coach at Southwestern, R. L. Brown, the great high hurdler, returned from a barn-storming trip on the European continent, he reported that at every meet Japanese sports directors were busy taking motion pictures of the form and style of the American athletes.

In Japan last summer the American athletes, likewise, did their specialties before a battery of clicking motion picture cameras which were to afford the Nippon athletes an opportunity to study and later copy our champions' form.

Dudley Learns Lesson
 Turn about is fair play. Wilkins figured, and made the most of the opportunities to study the Japanese jumpers in his favorite event. A pulled tendon prevented him from competing in the last five meets of the tour but he picked up much in the way of jumping technique.

Wilkins is completing his varsity career at Southwestern this year but has his heart set on making the trip to Germany for the Olympic games in 1936.

He began his jumping career by winning the state hop-step-and-jump championship in 1931 and since then has twice won the Southwestern A. A. U. title in that event. He holds the national junior and senior championships.

NAGS ARRIVE FAIR GROUND

Everything Points To Successful Meet

DALLAS, (Sp.)—Horses are arriving daily at the State Fair race course and applications have been approved for each of the 1020 available stables, it has been announced by Julius G. Reeder, general manager of the track. There are now 514 horses stabled at the track. A waiting list of 500 horses in addition to the 1020 approved applications is now on hand and Judge Reeder said that more and better horses than have ever campaigned in this section will be on hand for the opening of the spring race meeting, April 25.

See String On Hand
 The H. Van Ree string of six horses arrived at the track during the week. These horses are widely known on the Florida tracks where they have been campaigning over the winter months. They come to Dallas from Tropical Park. Included in the string are Seminole Queen, Willow Wood, and Chu Chu.

The E. R. Fain horses of Wichita Falls, including Carlines Combs, Carlines Court, Denver, Lad Light Zephyr, Carans, and Duran, will be seen in the feature events during the spring meeting according to Dr. J. M. Dunleavy, trainer.

The H. C. Rummage horses and those owned by Mrs. E. Davis will also be on hand for the opening of the spring race meeting. These horses, trained by W. M. Emerson, include such well known winners as Our Count, Pharrtime, Rapid Belle, Trap Lou, Bettina H., Sleepers Pride, Closing Event, Lovely Amelia and Just Make.

Best Of All
 "Everything points to the most successful season yet held at the State Fair race course," Judge Reeder said. "The fact that the track is in such excellent condition and that during the fall season there was not a single accident on the track, has popularized our racing strip throughout the country and horsemen are anxious to race their animals on our track."

Wilkins is completing his varsity career at Southwestern this year but has his heart set on making the trip to Germany for the Olympic games in 1936.

He began his jumping career by winning the state hop-step-and-jump championship in 1931 and since then has twice won the Southwestern A. A. U. title in that event. He holds the national junior and senior championships.

Local PTA Worker Has Fine Record

Mrs. A. Sidney Woods, Only District Officer Here, Discloses Plans For Future

By O. R. P.

Mrs. A. Sidney Woods, seventh vice-president of the district has the distinction of being the only Big Spring P. T. A. member who holds office in the sixth district. She was appointed to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Roy Pearce who resigned this year.

Mrs. Woods has one of the most excellent records in P. T. A. work held by any woman in Big Spring. She has served the East Ward P. T. A. as a capable president for the past two years, her term coming to an end this school season. During these years she has stimulated interest in attendance so that the number of mothers present at East Ward has never run less than 37 and has often been as many as 75. During her administration the school has added playground equipment to an absolutely bare campus. A set of six swings, 2 seesaws, a slide have been erected. Twelve shade trees have been planted.

The school last year immunized 75 children against diphtheria and is planning this year to cooperate with the tuberculin test program.

As seventh vice-president of the district it is Mrs. Woods' duty to keep a motherly eye on the various P. T. A. units in Howard and Glasscock counties. Every vice-president of the district is assigned her respective territory and her job is to aid local units therein to the best of her ability.

Mrs. Woods hopes to organize a county P. T. A. council this year. She will have until April 1936 to complete the work. There are already 4 active P. T. A.'s in the rural schools. Garden City has its P. T. A. also.

The Moore P. T. A. has a man as its president, G. C. Broughton, a farmer in that district. He has attended every one of the district P. T. A. sessions here, said Mrs. Woods, and his 4 daughters have registered as delegates. With such material to work on and an active interest in P. T. A. work in Howard county she believes the county can build up one of the strongest county councils in the sixth district.

This vice-president has herself attended all convention sessions. Unlike many of the local officers she did not use the dust storm or her large family as an excuse for staying away from the meetings. Last year she went to Abilene to the district meeting—the first she had ever attended—and she brought back from it a wealth of ideas to use in her work as president of the East Ward P. T. A. She plans to visit the meetings of the executive board when they meet several times during the year in various West Texas towns.

Her office is a credit to "Big Spring, but she is herself a credit to her office. She represents the finest type of P. T. A. official whether local or district, because she takes her job with a well-balanced seriousness, an eagerness to learn, rather than to criticize. Her past record, therefore, is one of constructiveness, and her future, already well-planned, promises to be filled with fruitful results of her work.

District Officer

Mrs. Sidney Woods, seventh vice-president is the only local woman who at present holds office in the sixth district. Mrs. Woods is also the able president of East Ward P. T. A.

Panhandle To Get U. S. Aid

To Use To Fight Ravages Of Wind Erosion In Section

AMARILLO (UP)—A federal emergency appropriation of $500,000 to fight the ravages of wind erosion in the Texas Panhandle was made available Friday, according to telegrams received here from Congressman Marvin Jones and Carl Hinton, secretary of the Amarillo chamber of commerce, who is now in Washington.

Direct Grants

Congressman Jones advised that the fund would be available immediately in the form of direct grants to farmers and would not have to be repaid. He said the money was to pay fuel costs for listing and cross plowing according to plans approved by the Texas A. & M. college extension service.

The allocation was made on the same basis as one recently made to Kansas, with 10 cents being allowed per acre, Congressman Jones said.

O. E. Martin, director of the extension service, advised Wilbur C. Hawk, Amarillo newspaper publisher, that surveys had been completed in the Panhandle, that disbursement of the emergency fund would be speeded.

Hawk explained that the aid would be made available through county relief administrations, but that it would not be limited to relief clients. He said the appropriation was in addition to other emergency and permanent erosion control measures.

"It is designed to bridge the gap until the national program can be put under way," he said.

Drive Out The Poisons

When regular bowel movements stop, souring waste matter clogs the bowels and soon begins to poison the entire system. When you feel bad on this account, take Theford's Black-Draught to get rid of constipation. Refreshing relief follows.

"I take Theford's Black-Draught for dizziness, headaches, bad taste in the mouth, a dull, tired feeling and for any bad feeling that comes from a clogged system," writes Mr. D. M. Minton, of Chieftain, Fla. "Soon I am feeling good as new. Only take a dose once in a while."

"I'll get you," he snarled and fired. Rosenthal stopped but felt no pain. The prowler jumped out of the window and escaped. He had fired a blank.

23 Children Die In Bus-Train Crash

Baltimore & Ohio Train Strikes Bus Near Rockville, Maryland

ROCKVILLE, Md., (UP)—At least 23 children were dead Friday when a school bus containing 23 pupils was struck by a Baltimore and Ohio eastbound train near here.

The school bus was returning to the Williamsport, Md., high school after the pupils had attended a chemistry exhibition at the University of Maryland, not far from Washington.

The express, tearing into the bus, caught the wreckage up and carried it a mile before the brakes of the train ground it to a halt.

Immediate identification of the dead was made difficult by the mangled condition of many of the bodies.

The accident occurred virtually in the outskirts of this village, located 16 miles north of Washington. Ambulances were hurried from Washington to the scene.

One hospital at Washington reported it had received five injured, of which two were expected to die.

The pupils, whose ages ranged from 12 to 18 years, were accompanied by the principal of the Williamsport, Md., high school, which they attended.

The view of the crossing on the outskirts of this village was described by police as not obstructed. Railroad men said the train was not derailed and was proceeding to Washington.

Kiwanis Hears Of Convention In San Antonio

An On-to-the-International Convention program was given at the Kiwanis club in their regular weekly session last Thursday noon with Dr. Lee Rogers in charge.

Plans made include the chartering of a bus by the club to carry 20 members to the convention to be held in San Antonio May 13, 14 and 15. In this way those attending would be out only the money for their food and lodging while there. It is planned for the bus to leave Big Spring Monday morning and to leave San Antonio for the return trip Wednesday at noon.

George Gentry, who was a delegate to the convention held in Milwaukee, spoke on the highlights of the meeting at that time. Merle Stewart, delegate to Los Angeles, spoke on that convention. Garland Woodward, delegate to Montreal, Canada when the convention was held there, forcefully urged the members to make the trip to San Antonio and stressed the good to be gained at the convention.
