Americans Fight Off Nazi Attacks Foe Thrown Back

GERMANY BOMBED AGAIN

SW Section Is Goal Of Forts And Liberators

U.S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators in strong force smashed at southwest Germany today hard on the heels of a 600-bomber assault by the RAF last night upon the important war center of Stuttgart.

The American target was not announced immediately, but the direction of the attack suggested a U.S.-RAF double night-and-day punch in the Stuttgart section like the ones highlighting last week's powerful aerial drive.

More than 600 RAF bombers participated in last night's operations with a record low proportional loss of only four planes. Mosquito bombers staged a diversionary raid on the shrine city of Munich, and other formations struck targets in France and the low countries. London newsppaers estimated

1,680 to 1,900 tons of bombs were dumped on Stuttgart last night. The Allied daylight formations headed out toward Europe at dawn, with Marauders of the

U. S. Ninth Air Force bombing "military objectives" in northern France, perhaps on the Nazis' "rocket coast."

More Allied medium bombers flew over the strait this afternoon.

Stimson Gives Bombing Policy

WASHINGTON, March 2 (4) The Allied military policy respecting Rome is to spare those portions of the city which the Germans themselves refrain from using for military purposes, Secretary of War Stimson said today. The Russians met powerful German resistance in the Narova crossing, the Moscow bulletin said, but Govorov's infantry and artillery smashed through killing 1,200 Nazi troops and routing two regiments in the bridgehead battle and capturing 25 big guns, together with other abandoned war material.

L. Dibrell, 40 years a Texas Ranger, U. S. Customs Patrolman, and U. S. Customs Inspector, who says he had no wound or serious injury in that time, has retired.

When he was appointed Ranger in 1904 he was working in the silver mines in the Big Bend country. He was a friend of Captain J. H. Rodgers, in command of the Rangers in that section of the state.

As a ranger, Dibrell saw service in most of Texas and covered cases ranging from breaking up of a racket in East Texas, which sold the answers to examinations for school teachers, to protecting negroes from would - be lynchers and chasing down bands of cattle In 1908 Dibrell received an appointment as a Deputy U. S. Mar-shal at Dei Rio, where he served for over a year before transfered to the U.S. Marshal's office at San Antonio. Eighteen years after becoming deputy marshal he was appointed to the U. S. Customs Patrol working out of Eagle Pass. In 1936 Collector of Customs Harry P. Hornby of the 23rd (Laredo) district appointed Dibrell a U. S. Customs Inspector. Since then, until his retirement, he had been in charge of the customs station at Zapata, in Zapata county. Mr. Dibrell is the father of John L. Dibrell, Jr., director of athletics and football coach for the Big Spring schools. Report From Police Shows Over 1,400 Arrests ing and disciplining during the year, however.

Big Spring police department during 1944, the annual report compiled under the direction of Police Chief J. B. Bruton shows.

Approximately 200 of these resulted in dismissals, but the overwhelming per centage ended in convictions and fines. Around a thousand of these cases meant fines paid in the city court, while another 200 involved transfers to the sheriff's office, to the military, US authorities and othersand here again convictions were the rule rather than the exception.

Drunkenness, as has been the case for years on years, led in the cause for arrest with there being 575 booked on this count and 543 paying minimum $15 fines. Twehty-four of these cases were dismissed. There were half a dozen or more which drew fines above the minimum. Besides these, there were 14 cases of dangerous driving (the name under which the city pleads its drunk drivers) and 19 which were booked in county or district court for driving while intoxicated.

and most popular office was theft, with total of 67 cases. Many of these were petty items and handled in corporate court, but the majority were transferred to the county for action. Not a few of these were juveniles.

Bruton's record shows 28 bona fide juvenile cases for various offenses ranging from prowling and theft to gameing and malicious mischief. There were more juveniles than these taken for question-

Records showed 12 burglary cases, some juveniles. There were 152 booked for gameing. Another popular cause for arrest was unlawful train riding with 171 picked up for this cause, all pleading guilty. There were several more for the same offense transferred to the county for further action. No less than 108 were booked for vagrancy with most convicted. Thirty-two were picked up for investigation of draft status, and part of these were found to be AWOL and turned over to the

There were a host of other complaints from assault to murder, from lock picking to illegal possession of sulfa drugs. The department also did yeoman service in combatting prostitution.

Texas Feeling

oday Texas celebrates the 108th anniversary of the declaration of her independence from Mex-

Many people, and particularly those from other states, are puzzled and sometimes amused or annoyed by the goings-on in Texas and by the talk by and of Texans over the world today. This is understandable, for they do not understand the rich history of Texas, which, thanks to a continuing state pride, is still drilled into the heads of each new generation through our schools.

It might help a lot of folks to consider that Texans come from the good old stock from Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, and many other states, that these people migrated to Texas out of choice and eager for a new adventure in living. Instead, they ultimately found false promises and then tyranny.

They fought back, and to this good day it has been a tradition of the state never to be pushed around. It is somewhat characteristic of individual Texans and certainly it is true collectively as witness the record of men and women who not only are but have been fighting in great volume since even before the United States was drawn into

Our rugged forefathers are proud of their liberties, and they valued them more than a compromised life. Thus, on March 2, 1836 in a partly built blacksmith shop down in the lower Brazos country, they solomnly declared their independence-and what is more important, after a series of critical et-backs, they kept on hour they denvered me blow which on it at San Jacinto.

Texas then became a republic, and this is a fact which many outsiders fail to comprehend in their analysis of Texans. That young republic again protected its liberties from another treacherous thrust from Mexico, thus establishing its right to an existence as a republic.

When Texas came into the union in 1845, she came as one sovereign nation joining another. She was no territory being annexed or one state being carved out of another. Although the much lesser partner in power and size, she was infused into the union in the spirit of ally as well as partner.

Hearking back to their history, Texans never quite get away from an unconscious feeling that theirs is just a little more than state pride.

All this talk about how big we are as a state. of our seemingly limitless variety of resources, of our beautiful girls, etc. somehow stems down from the spirit of that group, which 108 years ago today declared that we would be an independent people. And somehow, no matter if it does sometime rub the fur of out-of-staters a bit the wrong way, we hope that that Texas feeling will continue to be handed down from fathers to sons and from mothers to daughters.

The Finnish press today was taking a hostile view of Moscow's armistice terms, and Finns in Stockholm expressed the opinion that their country wasn't likely to accept the Red proposals, mainly because she couldn't afford to withdraw her troops from their present positions as a preliminary to further talks.

However, Helsinki presumably is sparring for position. Finland's alternative to making peace now is to invite disaster by continuing as an ally of the Hitlerites. America, giving friendly advice, has warned the Finns that they must quit or their blood will be on their own heads.

It's an anxious moment not only for harassed little Finland but for all the United Nations, since her submission undoubtedly would set in motion great events favorable to the Allied cause. As the signs read, capitulation by the Finns might impel Bulgaria also to desert the Axis. Realizing all this, you get an added significance from Marshal Stalin's statement to President Roosevelt that he believes the diam's feat of Hitler is near Stalin's Red armies have set the Hitlerian battle line in Russia rocking until even its extreme flanks are being shaken. Those flanks are Finland in the north and Bulgaria in the south.

There certainly is a strong possibility that both countries would become temporary battle grounds, until the Germans were cleared out by force, or were threatened with being cut off and annihilated. It would be too much to expect Hitler to abandon these positions voluntarily.

Getting Finland out of the war and clearing that country of Germans would help to make the Baltic states untenable for the Nazis and expedite the Red advance in this territory.

It would release the Red navy into the Baltic ofact, kindly, scholarly Doctor any such young man hanging sea. It would relieve the German menace which long has hung over Russia's great Arctic port of Murmansk, and permit a free flow of supplies into the Soviet from the north. It would in due course release large numbers of Red troops from the Finnish war and permit of their use elsewhere, Bulgaria's desertion of the Axis would be to the Balkans what a lighted match would be to a key of gun-powder. The whole peninsula probably would blow up in Hitler's face, for Rumania and Hungary couldn't long stand the strain.

Record Chamber Budget Approved

Formal approval of a $16,000 budget was given by chamber of commerce directors Monday at the Settles.

The budget, by far the largest in chamber of commerce history here, was predicated on an inclusive planning program for the year. This figure had been mentioned prominently in previous committments by the directorate and thus was no surprise.

Approximately half of the budget would go to maintaining a staff, which would be enlarged to care for the planning and an at-tendant survey. Other appropriations ranged from $900for telephone and telegraph to $50 for books and pamphlets. Heavier Items were $600 for recreational facilities, $350 for livestock and agriculture, $300 each for highway, travel and tourist development, office repairs and replace ment, and other and lesser figures for conventions, good will, car expense, postage, advertising and publicity and Christmas activities.

The directors voted to enter the city in a national and state fire prevention contest, expressed a desire to reward 4-H club boys for feeding projects although the number is few, passed a reso-lution asking city, county and school officials to meet for considering the juvenile situation.

M. H. Morrison, an early day president of the chamber spoke briefly, lauding "the unselfish efforts of the chamber to build a better community." A. V. Karcher Red Cross war roll call which starts Wednesday.

Awards have stacked up A. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Myers. Word from England is that he was presented the Distinguished Flying Cross. In addition, he already had the air medal and "a bunch of eak leaf clusters," which he brushed aside in a letter by observing that "they don't mean much." Sgt. Solons Would Lift Meat Rationing

WASHINGTON, March 2 (A)-Suspension of meat rationing in Canada evoked some congressional agitation today for a similar step in this country but most legislators adhered to the official view that the meat surplus is temporary and that lowering of ration point values is all that is justified.

Commenting on testimony yes-terday of Philip R.
