

Costa Rican Government Claims Wins

By CARLOS ESCUDERO
SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—The Costa Rican general staff announced today the capture of the rebel stronghold of La Cruz and the nearby town of Puerto Soley on the Pacific coast. It added that the rebels were now caught in a trap, with Loyalist troops closing a pincers from the north and south.

The announcement came on the heels of unofficial reports that the rebels were withdrawing toward the Nicaraguan frontier.

The action was at the edge of the newly proclaimed buffer zone between Costa Rica and Nicaragua. Neutral ground and air observers of the Inter-American Peace Commission were patrolling a belt 18 miles long in the area to keep the rebellion from touching off a war between the two neighboring countries.

Presumably the rebels were hit by a flanking group commanded by Costa Rican Col. Frank Marshall. A highly authoritative source confirmed that Marshall's column struck late yesterday at La Cruz, a rebel strong point on the Inter-American Highway little more than three miles by air from the Nicaraguan frontier and only about 10 miles by the winding highway. Puerto Soley, one of the first invasion points, is a Pacific coastal hamlet about six miles southwest of La Cruz.

Launching its major peace-preservation effort, the five-nation commission of the Organization of American States dispatched 23 officers to patrol the neutral buffer zone 18 miles long and six miles wide which the commission established yesterday along the border north of the fighting area.

In accepting the neutral zone proposal, both Costa Rican President Jose Figueres and Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza agreed to keep their troops out of the area and their planes out of the zone above it.

Somoza already has announced he would intern any of the Costa Rican rebels chased across his border. The demilitarized area runs athwart the rebels' natural escape route, between the Pacific Ocean and Lake Nicaragua.

In setting up the buffer zone, the OAS commission emphasized that it was not seeking a ceasefire in the rebellion but only keeping the Costa Ricans and the Nicaraguans from tangling. The commission made its proposal after Somoza charged Costa Rican planes attacking the rebel headquarters Wednesday had violated Nicaraguan territory. He warned further border violations would have "grave" consequences.

Aside from the loyalist flanking operation, the chief military activity appeared to be strafing of rebel positions by the four F51 Mustang fighters the United States turned over to Costa Rica earlier this week. Government communiques made no mention of ground fighting.

The general staff claimed the F51s destroyed a gasoline dump at La Cruz, the rebel headquarters seven miles south of the border, as well as one jeep, one small truck and three armored trucks.

A communique said the flanking operation, led by a Costa Rican of German descent, Col. Frank Marshall, was going "according to plan and doing very well."

The secret rebel radio in turn said a battle was "raging in grand proportions" for Liberia, the loyalist headquarters 30 miles southeast of La Cruz. Foreign observers said the town yesterday was as sleepy, dusty and tranquil as usual, and that nothing bigger than a large-scale skirmish or a patrol clash had occurred anywhere since the rebellion began Jan. 11.

The rebel radio also claimed both sides had suffered "enormous casualties." In San Jose, the total loyalist dead were reckoned at less than half a dozen.

To patrol the neutral zone, the peace commission now has a total of 59 air force and army officers, including 35 from the United States, 11 Mexicans, 11 from Ecuador, 1 Paraguayan and 1 Brazilian. The U.S. contingent is headed by U.S. Air Force Col. Willie Lewis, of Washington, D.C. and Benton, Ill.

Long Probe Looms In Car Bomb Death

SAN ANGELO (AP)—A long investigation faced officers today, seeking the bomb killer of Mrs. Harry Weaver.

Mrs. Weaver died Wednesday when she turned on the ignition of an car in which she had intended to visit a hospital where her mother was ill.

Police said last night they lacked enough evidence to make an arrest or face a grand jury.

Sheriff Cecil Turner said the nitroglycerine bomb could have been rigged to kill either Weaver, Mrs. Weaver or both.

Evacuation Proposal Is Jolt For Formosa

By SPENCER MOOSA
TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China, shaken by the loss of Yikiangshan, got another jolt today.

Press reports that President Eisenhower was considering asking congressional approval for the use of U.S. air and sea power in a possible evacuation of some Nationalist offshore islands came as a real shock.

Top Nationalist authorities might have been told in advance the President was turning the matter over in his mind. In any event, they refused comment.

But junior officials familiar with the top thinking indicated these views:

1. The Nationalist government might disagree with Eisenhower on the wisdom of a withdrawal, but President Chiang Kai-shek and other leaders realize the White House is activated by the best of motives.

2. If there is a withdrawal, much as the Nationalists oppose it, it will be the result of a friendly understanding and not through American pressure.

The idea of pulling out from the threatened Tachens, 200 miles north of Formosa—and now within artillery range of the Reds on Yikiangshan—is extremely distasteful to the Nationalists.

A Defense Ministry spokesman declared today, "So far we have no plan to evacuate any of our island outposts. All of them will be defended at all costs."

But even if the Nationalists agree to give up the Tachens, they might insist on holding at least some of the more important of their offshore outposts as a prestige factor.

Unofficial quarters here are afraid a pullout from the Tachens without a fight might touch off a chain reaction in the United States. It might lead, they fear, to U.S. efforts to put Formosa under a United Nations trusteeship, possible admission of Red China to the United Nations and eventual U.S. recognition of the Peiping regime.

Tells Of Talk With Convicts

The Rev. Edward F. Hartigan, Catholic chaplain at State Prison, tells newsmen of his talk with four long-term convicts who are holding five guards as hostages in the Boston prison. Fr. Hartigan reported the men said they were determined to hold out but spoke of "injustices" they felt in their long sentences. The priest said he hoped to see a peaceful outcome to the siege. # AT BOSTON PRISON Committee Seeks To End Outbreak BOSTON (AP)—A seven-man committee, including two editors, prison officials and the president of the Boston Bar Assn., conferred early today with four rebel convicts at Massachusetts State Prison, in efforts to end a four-day rebellion.

One committee member said the group had met with the quartet in an effort to obtain release of five hostage guards and six other inmates held as hostages in the prison's solitary confinement cell block.

The desperadoes had three guns and several rounds of ammunition and authorities were fearful that if the stalemate continued much longer the tension might lead to bloodshed.

Word from the depths of the prison indicated that leadership in the uprising had shifted from bank robber Theodore (Teddy) Green, 39, to robber-gunner Walter Balben, 31.

Balben and Green both had guns. The third gun was in the possession of rapist Joseph Flaherty, 32, of Boston. The fourth desperado inmate was cop-killer Fritz Swenson, 31.

One investigator hinted the guns might have been sent into the prison in Christmas packages which escaped the scrutiny of prison authorities because of the shortage of help at the prison.

The original demand of the convicts was for a car to carry them to freedom. Warden O'Brien replied "nothing doing," a position he still holds.

IN LEGISLATURE Bill For 2-Cent Hike In Gasoline Tax Introduced

By BO BYERS
AUSTIN (AP)—The first tax bill of the new Legislature, a 2 cents per gallon increase in the gasoline levy as proposed by Gov. Shivers, was filed for the House today.

The bill was offered by Rep. Charles Murphy of Houston. The Legislature was in weekend recess. Murphy said he had discussed the need for expansion of the highway program with the governor and highway officials before preparing the bill.

"In my opinion, there can be no doubt that this money is urgently needed and that increasing this road user tax is the fairest and most practical method of obtaining it," Murphy said.

The tax increase would raise an added 60 million dollars a year, of which 4 million would go to highways and the rest to schools as required by the Constitution.

"While no one likes to increase taxes, I believe this is an emergency situation and that the people who use our highways are willing to pay for better—and safer—traffic facilities," said Murphy.

He said the shortage of four-lane, divided highways and other necessary traffic facilities is so critical that it is hampering the development of Texas.

Shivers told the Legislature the 2 cent increase in gasoline tax should be made to take care of highway needs.

He also recommended a one cent

Red China To Permit Relatives To Visit GIs

Freed GI Says Reds Building Nuclear Plant

BERLIN (AP)—An American soldier who spent six years in Soviet captivity said today the Russians are believed to be building an atom-splitting plant at Vorkuta, the notorious Arctic slave labor camp just west of the Ural Mountains.

Pvt. William Verdine, 28, of Starks, La., said he heard this during his 30-month stay at the camp.

His statements were reported by a U.S. spokesman, who said, "He seems a little hazy about how many prisons he has been in."

Verdine said he recollected being in six Soviet prisons in East Germany, two in Moscow, two repatriation camps and Vorkuta.

At Vorkuta he hauled lumber, mined coal and cut timber. Major construction projects at the camp, he said, involved building a railroad and a power plant to "split atoms."

Verdine ate a steak dinner last night and described it as the "best meal I've had in six years."

He said his meals at Vorkuta consisted of "lots of boiled cabbage, herring, black bread, boiled oats and barley."

Verdine said he had not heard of any Americans who may be in Soviet prison camps.

Verdine said he was sent to Vorkuta in July 1952 after having spent 3½ years in Soviet prisons in East Germany. He remained in Vorkuta until June 1954, when he was taken to a repatriation camp.

He had nothing to say immediately about his treatment, how he got into Russian hands or why he was released. He said he had typhus while at Vorkuta, but denied reports he had been suffering from tuberculosis. Army hospital technicians today began an intensive medical examination by giving him chest X-rays.

Bullet Fragment Is Near Youth's Brain

COLORADO CITY (AP)—A splinter from a bullet has complicated what appeared to be a relatively minor wound suffered by Johnny Joe Brown, 12, of Colorado City Wednesday.

Johnny was shot through the right ear when a supposedly empty rifle discharged as he and his brother, Dwight, 4, were playing. The bullet entered the flesh just in front of the right ear and came out at the back of the mastoid bone.

The injury at first appeared to be not too serious, but it was learned that a fragment of the bullet had flaked off and lay in or near the brain. Johnny has been transferred to a hospital in Lubbock for treatment by a specialist. It was not known this morning whether surgery would be required.

Johnny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll J. Brown, of Route 3, Colorado City.

Chicago's Phantom Philanthropist Sets Off New Frowns

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's phantom philanthropist has brought new puzzlement to police and the Secret Service.

Masco Stone, 26-year-old carpenter, told police a stranger approached him yesterday while he repaired a front door transom on the West Side, and commented: "It must take a lot of money to keep these old buildings in shape."

"I guess so," Stone replied.

"Here, then," Stone quoted the stranger, who he said handed him five crisp new $20 bills and drove off in a car. Stone went to a policeman to report the windfall and have police check whether the money was counterfeit. Secret Service agents later said it was genuine.

Police kept the $100 given Stone for a further check.

U. S. Might Not Give Out Visas

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Red China announced today that the relatives of 17 Americans held in Chinese jails are welcome to visit the prisoners.

The United States, however, does not extend diplomatic recognition to Red China and there was no indication the State Department would provide passports good for travel there—even in the event any of the relatives should desire to go.

Mrs. Edwin Heller, wife of a lieutenant colonel held in China, said at Philadelphia she had been advised the United States could extend her no protection. She added she did not believe her husband would want her to go, anyway.

The Red Chinese bid for relatives' visits was announced simultaneously in Peiping and at the United Nations today.

The U.N. issued the following note disclosing this action: "As is being announced this morning from Peiping, Premier Chou En-lai, during his talks with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, indicated that the government of the People's Republic of China would provide facilities for relatives to visit those United States personnel who had been convicted and those whose cases were under investigation, if they should wish to do so, and that the Red Cross society of China would make all the arrangements necessary."

The U.S. personnel referred to in the announcement means the 11 aviators who were convicted of spy charges; two civilians who were seized as spies but who were not under Army control; and four jet pilots whose cases are being investigated by the Chinese.

It was said the question of giving visas to the relatives to visit the personnel would be up to the U.S. Government.

Hammarskjold informed Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. delegate, of this action at his first talk with him on Jan. 13 immediately upon his return from his globe-girdling trip.

Hammarskjold also told Secretary of State Dulles, who he conferred with him in Washington this week, that he had received assurances of the well-being of the prisoners. There was no indication

Uprising Beaten Down In Uneasy Guatemala City

GUATEMALA (AP)—The government pushed a roundup of Communists and supporters of ex-President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman today after beating down an uprising aimed at unseating anti-Red President Carlos Castillo Armas. At least 100 persons already were under arrest.

Government troops held Guatemala city and other strategic centers in an armed grip. Castillo Armas announced that 10 persons were killed and an undetermined number wounded in a brief clash yesterday between loyal forces and rebels seeking to capture Aurora Air Force Base, outside the capital. He blamed the Communists and Arbenz's supporters.

The anti-Red government—in office less than seven months—promptly declared a state of siege—modified martial law. But authorities announced they were in control throughout the country.

Machine gun-carrying soldiers mounted tight guard on military posts and strategic points. A 10 p.m. curfew went into effect in the capital.

A presidential decree said the state of siege was necessary to snuff out the "subversive groups" which "in connection with Communist elements disturbed public tranquility and by an armed action tried to overthrow the legally constituted government."

Press censorship was ordered but so far no checks were placed on foreign correspondents' dispatches.

The outbreak was the most serious attempt thus far to unseat the anti-Communist President, who gained power last June when he led a revolt that drove out Arbenz's Red-supported government. The ousted President recently went from his exile residence in Mexico to Switzerland, where he was granted Swiss citizenship because his father had been born in that country.

State Department Warns It Can't Encourage Visits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today the government cannot "encourage" relatives to visit Americans imprisoned in Red China—but it refused to say whether they will be permitted to make visits.

A statement issued by press officer Henry Suydam said that Red China is an area "where the normal protections of an American passport cannot be offered."

The United States has no diplomatic relations with the Chinese Communists and for five years has enforced a policy of denying passports for travel there.

Suydam's statement did not, however, say passports would not be issued in the present instance.

It criticized the Peiping regime for not having released the Americans who, in the American view, should have been freed in the Korean prisoner of war exchanges.

The Chinese Communists have placed "the families of these imprisoned Americans in a harrowing dilemma," Suydam said.

He apparently referred to the fact that the families know they would have to make any such visits without the protection that American citizenship carries in any country with which the United States has proper relations.

Lower Food Prices Force Index Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that lower food prices in December brought the nation's living costs their lowest level since May, 1953.

Score Of Americans May Be In Red Hands

By TOM REEDY
BERLIN (AP)—U.S. officials speculated today that perhaps a score of American soldiers and Navy fliers still may be trapped in Soviet slave labor camps.

The Army disclosed that 12 American soldiers have been missing from Berlin for a considerable length of time, one for more than five years. The Army said it has no information on their whereabouts, but officials said some or all may be in the Kremlin's arctic camps, lost among hundreds of thousands of men and women of all nationalities.

Eight aviators from a Navy Privateer shot down in the Baltic in 1950 also may be in the camps. John H. Noble, of Detroit, who was released two weeks ago after nine years in captivity, said he had heard eight men of the crew of 10 had been rescued by the Soviets and were being held.

The return yesterday of Pvt. William A. Verdine, of Starks, La., from six years of captivity cleared up only those three cases of the U.S. Embassy in Moscow has been prodding the Kremlin about in recent months. Pvt. William T. Marchuk, of Norristown, Pa., was released with Noble and is now in the guardhouse here facing possible court-martial.

Verdine was promptly hospitalized on his home address, May 18, 1951; Pvt. Charles J. Scott, no home address, Dec. 4, 1951; Pvt. Arthur T. Shearer, Washington, D.C., June 27, 1952; Pvt.

Knowland Thinks China Holds 800

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) says he believes Red China holds "something over 800 other GIs" in prison besides the 15 American airmen they acknowledge holding.

In a speech to the Cicerio Manufacturers' Assn., last night, the Senate minority leader said: "We have stronger reason to believe they hold more than the 15 they acknowledge holding."

The men showed up neither in the little or big switch prisoner exchange following the Korean truce in 1953, Knowland said. Names of the imprisoned Americans, he said, were learned from Red propaganda broadcasts, other released POWs and Pentagon reports.

Knowland said a compilation of the various reports led him to the strong belief the Red Chinese held "several hundred other GIs in prison enclosures." He later set the figure at "something over 800 other GIs."

He said the Reds hold 4 "fighter airmen" plus the 11 U.S. airmen already sentenced to 4 to 10 year prison terms on trumped up spy charges. Another 32 civilians, including clergymen, businessmen and students, also are illegally imprisoned, the California Republican said.

Knowland declared the United Nations should, within a "short time," tell the world what it is prepared to do if the men are not released.

Borden County Wildcat; Locations Set In Howard Fields

Electric logs were taken and the casing has been set for a test of a zone higher up where oil shows were encountered. This project is a stepout to the Howard-Grasscock field about six miles east of Forsan.

WILLIAM J. MURRAY

Murray To Address Scout Meet Tonight

William J. Murray, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, will be the featured speaker as workers in the Scout movement gather here this evening to hear the best reports in the 32 years of the Buffalo Trails Council.

Initial reports on the past year's achievements, which touched a number of new records, will be heard at the 4:30 p.m. business session in the Settles ballroom. Three hundred or more are expected.

Roy E. Carter, Kermit, council president, will preside over both the business and banquet sessions. Invocation will be given by the Rev. C. W. Parmenter, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church, and Dr. G. F. Dillon, immediate past district chairman, will give the welcome. Group singing is to be led by Darrell Cook, accompanied by Mrs. W. T. McKee. The Triple Trio composed of Mary Sue Hale, Patsy Hayworth, Carrie Sue Lawson, Annabelle Lane, Sharon Lewis, Kathy McRee, Jane Reynolds, Colleen Vaughn and Shirley Ward, will sing.

Recognition of boys who have attained the Eagle Scout rank during the year will be conducted by W. C. Blankenship, Big Spring. The Rev. Clyde Lidsley will conduct awarding of the Silver Beaver, and H. W. Alford will conduct the closing tableau. Benediction will be by the Rev. William D. Boyd, rector of the St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

In his Scouting days, Murray rose to the highest rank of Eagle and received the Harmon Foundation Scholarship. He was a scoutmaster while he was working for the Railroad Commission in Kilgore. For two years he served as president of the Capital Area Council, comprising 16 counties surrounding Austin. At the present time, Murray is a member of the executive board and national council representative. He also holds the Silver Beaver, highest within the province of a council, granted to him in 1954.

Murray made history as not only the youngest member of the Railroad Commission but also as its first member to come up through the ranks when he was appointed by the late Gov. Beauford Jester in 1947. He is a member of a well known Abilene oil family and compiled an outstanding record in petroleum engineering.

They are charged with breaking into the Couden Service Station at Second and Scurry on Sunday night. They were arrested a few minutes after Police Patrolmen J. D. Campbell and J. C. Walton surprised two persons in the act of rifling a cigarette machine in the station.

The officers said they were making routine checks in the area when they heard a noise in the station. On investigating, they saw two persons in the building. The two escaped through windows.

Felony theft charges have been filed against Luther Jones. It is alleged that he took two watches from O. A. Tankersly of Colorado City in the "flats" section of Big Spring on Tuesday night.

Sarah Johnston was charged with forgery and passing a forged instrument. Complaint was made in connection with a check for $16.40 given at the J & K Shoe Store Tuesday bearing the name of Omega Johnston.

A local operator of a pest control service complained to police Thursday about what he called illegal business practices of another termite control company.

Police referred the operator to the County Attorney's office, but he apparently did not take the trouble to file an official complaint.

The operator of the local service accused employees of the rival company of fraud, charging them with showing home owners "planted" termites which purportedly came from under the houses being inspected.

The operator said the other firm carried termites in the trucks, and that employees take these pests under houses with them when inspecting. When the inspection terminates, the employees show their own termites to the homeowners claiming they were under the houses. It was charged.

The local operator submitted to police two company names which he said were being used by the same firm.

William Brackeen, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Brackeen, 113 Mount Vernon, has been accepted for enlistment in the Navy, according to Chief R. E. LaFon, local recruiter.

Brackeen is a former member of the Big Spring National Guard Unit and was attending Howard County Junior College at the time of his enlistment. He is now en route to San Diego for nine weeks of "boot training," the recruiter said.

LaFon said Brackeen was the fifth man to be enlisted in the Navy since the recruiting station in the basement of the post office had been opened.

Conservatives Unhappy Over Gas Price Proposal

AUSTIN (Sp1) — The big push is on for a bill to allow the Railroad Commission to fix the price of natural gas.

Some of the best educated guessers in the House are that the bill will have rough sledding, but that it could get through if a lot of "educating" is done.

The process of education began the first day the Legislature met, when TPRO (Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Assn.) tossed their arguments for a price fixing bill on lawmakers' desks.

Since then pressure for the bill has been mounting. A widely known former legislator is said to be helping with the education process. Opponents of the legislation say that one lobbyist might put the bill across.

At this moment, the West Texas delegation is split 50-50 on the proposition. An informal poll Thursday showed.

The House seems to be extremely conservative — more so than last session.

The conservatives view the minimum price for gas proposition as a choice of two "evils." Traditionally conservatives are against setting prices by law — they've turned down the gas bill before, that compromise will be necessary.

On the other hand, they're also states righters. They're against encroachment by federal agencies, in this case FPC, which has taken over setting gas prices.

The conscience of the House slumbered again Thursday as members voted to adjourn until next week after only four days of work. A week ago they voted overwhelmingly to work five days each week.

More and more water legislation is being thrown into the hopper. And there's talk among advocates of the "official" water program, that worked up by the Texas Water Resources Committee, that compromise will be necessary.

J. B. Thomas of Fort Worth, head of the governor's Water Committee made up of 101 top Texans, talked about compromise being necessary when he was here Wednesday.

Rep. Truett Latimer will have his Hubbard Creek legislation ready next week. It authorizes four cities, Abilene, Anson, Albany, and Breckenridge, to go together on a water project.

If the Legislature passes it, the four cities would have to ratify the agreements and pass bonds.

Rep. Walter Plans Changes In House Anti-Commie Staff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Walter (D-Pa) promised today a series of changes in the staff of the House Un-American Activities Committee as the group prepared to resume its Red-hunting under Democratic control.

Walter was named chairman yesterday at what he called a "very harmonious" meeting. He said the committee "decided unanimously to direct our attention to information we had concerning defense industry."

But its principal aim, he said, will be to study communism generally in a locality, rather than in a type of industry or occupation.

Heading the staff, Walter said, will be Frank S. Tavenner, who held a similar post before the Republicans took control in 1953 and who continued as cocounsel with Robert L. Kunzig during the last two years. Kunzig's resignation has been accepted, Walter said, and the Republican committee members made no objection to elimination of the cocounsel post.

Walter said staff members slated to go off the payroll include: Rea Van Fosson, the former Air Force intelligence agent who was hired as a committee investigator last November after reportedly giving the congressional group secret FBI data.

Odessa, Big Spring Firms Win CRMWD Contracts

Area contractors had the sharp pencils when last major contracts of the Colorado River Municipal Water District were awarded here Thursday afternoon.

Clyde Yarbrough of Odessa submitted the low bid of $106,970 for construction of 18,615 feet of 18-inch pipeline for a repressuring project in southwestern Scurry County, W. D. Caldwell and associates of Big Spring were low on construction of two 15-million-gallon earthen reservoir with plastic membrane lining on a total offer of $95,542. Following an analysis of proposals directors ordered contracts awarded to the low bidders.

Yarbrough specified 60 working days for completion of the line which will connect the CRMWD reservoir, Lake J. B. Thomas, with a unitized group which has Warren Petroleum Corp. as operator. This project would use about two million gallons per day. CRMWD already is supplying the Scurry Area Canyon Reef Operators Committee with eight million gallons daily for its repressuring project. Nearest bid to Yarbrough was R. B. Hudson, Lubbock, with a proposal of $109,343. Highest of 10 bids was $130,377.

Caldwell was joined in his bid by R. B. Brown and A. J. Pruitt, and ranked ahead of a $102,125 offer by Cage Bros of San Antonio. Highest of five bids was $173,675. Engineer estimates on cost for the pipeline project was $115,000 and for the reservoirs was $101,590.

The Big Spring reservoir will be 352-ft. top diameter, 240-ft. bottom diameter and a depth of 32 feet. The Snyder-SACROC reservoir will be 358-ft. top diameter, 260-ft. bottom diameter and 28 feet deep. The Snyder job runs higher because part of the material must be hauled in. Completion is scheduled in 75 days.

Directors authorized Robert T. Piner, president, to execute a contract with Warren Petroleum Corp. to furnish water, subject to municipal and prior requirements, for the repressuring project. E. V. Spence, general manager was empowered to continue negotiations with drilling contractors for charges in furnishing drilling water.

Estranged Wife Burns To Death In Los Angeles Fire

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An insurance executive's estranged wife was burned to death early today when her $35,000 home was severely damaged by an explosion and fire, apparently fed by gasoline which police said was slopped over furniture in nearly every room.

Officers found the body of Mrs. Yetta Weisstein, about 60, crumpled in a hall closet. She was alone in the house at the time.

Police Capt. M. A. Stephenson said gasoline cans and matches were found by the body. He said the death probably is a suicide.

The explosion blew out the living room window and knocked plaster from ceilings.

Detective Lt. L. B. Seigel said gasoline from several one-gallon cans had been poured on furniture, rugs, bedclothing, and on a bed-sheet tied to an ornamental iron railing by a staircase.

Officers sought her husband Julius, about 60, insurance agency owner, to notify him of her death. Neighbors told police the couple separated two days ago. They have a married daughter.

Regarding notification by Lario Oil Company that it intended to proceed with erection of a mound and a concrete protective device for wells near the dam and in the emergency spillway of Lake J. B. Thomas, the board directed the president to inform the operator it had no funds for this purpose.

A resolution authorizing the re-submission of a presentation to the State Board of Water Engineers for impounding of flood waters of Deep Creek was adopted. Original action was taken on this matter in 1951, but, through a technicality, needs to be resubmitted.

Transfer of $518,690 of net revenues to various funds in keeping with terms of the indenture was approved. Of this amount $306,158 ($267,408 interest and $38,750 principal) was applied to interest and sinking requirements; $147,351 to the reserve fund; $10,500 to the contingency fund; $2,750 to the improvement fund; and $49,900 to the retirement fund. Piner said that the District now owns $4,000 of its own bonds.

Directors authorized a binder which would afford the District temporary protection while the report of the insurance committee, headed by Lyle Deffebach, Snyder, is under consideration.

The board also approved a second notice by Spence to cabin site leaseholders that all leases not renewed before Feb. 1 will be canceled. Spence said that within two weeks meters are due at Odessa and terminal storage there will be filled.

MAY SPLIT LEAGUE

Iraq's Premier Pushes Arabs Toward West

By ROBERT HEWETT

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Iraq's tough little Premier, Nuri Said, who has banged Communists in the streets of Baghdad, is pushing the reluctant Arab states toward a pro-Western Middle East defense pact.

The jealousy-ridden Arab League may crack wide apart in the process.

Most of the league members prime ministers meet here tomorrow to thresh out long-smoldering differences which erupted last week when Arabic Iraq announced she would sign a mutual defense treaty with American-backed Turkey, a Moslem but non-Arab nation.

Nuri, however, will not be at the round table. He sent word he was too ill to attend the emergency meetings. Egyptian newspapers headlined the news: "Nuri Said pretends sickness."

Egypt has accused Nuri of double-crossing the Arab League by signing a pact with an "outside power." The Egyptians want the league states to depend only on their Arab mutual security pact. Though it was signed in 1950, it has never been implemented.

The Iraqi-Turkish invitation to their neighbors to join up is portrayed in Cairo as a move to lure the Arab states away from a policy of neutrality and line them up with the West.

Prime Minister Gamal Abdel Nasser's military government called the pact "a serious event that may threaten the very existence of the Arab League and endanger the Arab nations as a whole."

Egypt invited the Arab prime ministers here to try to pull together the frayed threads of Arab unity. Western diplomats assume Egypt will try to persuade the rest of the Arab collective security pact signers—Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Yemen—not to accept the invitation from Iraq and Turkey.

Nautilus Submerges For Historic First

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The nuclear submarine Nautilus slipped down into the heaving Atlantic Ocean yesterday in the first atomic-powered submarine dive in history.

The dive was made in rough sea and high winds south of Montauk Point, Long Island, after extensive surface tests.

A man that hath friends must show himself friendly: and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother. (Pr. 18:24).

Only Way Polio Campaign Can Be Financed Is Through Your Heart

We read by our paper that the current March of Dimes has produced something in excess of $3,500 so far. This is far removed from the $10,500 goal. A number of activities remain and all the coin collection containers have yet to be gathered and tabulated. Even so, there is a big gap between where we are now and where we ought to be.

It is our hope that where we have been unconcerned that we will take notice; where we have been putting in pennies we will put in quarters and dollars; where we have been letting someone else do the job we will be helpful; too.

Automatic Age Increases Rather Than Decreases Need For Workers

Remember that sensational theory that went around a couple of decades ago that was going to solve everything and produce the pushbutton stage of our industrialized civilization?

As we recall, we could build everything we needed by machinery. Just push a button, let the machine run say a couple of hours a day, then knock off and go fishing. No need knocking ourselves out bending over an automatic machine all day long, neglecting our teeth-brushing chores and developing those horrible backaches and the miffous airborne medicine men of the day have so many sure cures for, about which they moo and coo at all hours.

Well, that theory scared the pants off a good many people who got the notion practically everybody would be thrown out of work when the age of the automatic machine arrived.

Now you hear a lot about "automation," a term applied to any automatic operation of productive machinery. The National Association of Manufacturers has put out a 24-page booklet called "Calling All Jobs," which emphasizes that the so-called workerless plants are a myth and will remain so.

General Motors, for instance, has increased its manpower pool by 200,000 in the last few years in spite, or perhaps because of, the modern automatic equipment it has installed. The Ford people say: "Automation at Ford conserves manpower, but does not eliminate men from the industrial scene; it saves men from many burdens and hazards and gives them jobs which utilizes their brainpower more effectively."

Finally, we quote: "I do not know of a single instance where a great technological gain has taken place in the United States that has actually thrown people out of work. I do not know of it, I am not aware of it, because the industrial revolution that has taken place in the United States in the past 25 years has brought into the employment field an additional 20 million people."

Who said that? The late Philip Murray, president of CIO, addressing the convention of that organization in 1951.

After all, machines wear out and must be replaced. Pushbutton warfare? The worst pipe-dream of all.

Washington Calling—Marquis Childs

Federal Aid For Schools Noted As Omission From Ike's Budget

WASHINGTON — What was not included in the Eisenhower budget for the new government year has caused almost more stir than what it did contain. Educational leaders were shocked to find that there was no allocation for Federal aid for school construction.

They felt especially let down since in his State of the Union message President Eisenhower had said that "positive, affirmative action must be taken now" to overcome an "unprecedented classroom shortage." The educators had thought that this meant at least some Federal aid would be forthcoming to help overcome the shortage of classrooms throughout the nation, which is estimated at 370,000.

When he addressed Congress on Jan. 6, the President promised a special message on education to be sent up on Feb. 15. But since there is no allocation to school aid in the new budget, educators are putting slight hope in the forthcoming message.

Several Congressmen are reported to have been given a preview of what the President intends to propose. He will recommend, it is reported, a Federal school building authority which would aid and encourage the formation of state school building authorities.

The Federal authority would have a small fund for grants-in-aid to those states least able to finance their own schools. According to one report, this will be only $25,000,000. In the light of present school construction needs, estimated conservatively at $4 billions a year for the next five years and somewhat less thereafter, this in the view of education officials would be an insult. However, it is believed, according to another source, that the amount recommended may be perhaps even $100,000,000.

POTOMAC FEVER

By FLETCHER KNEBEL
WASHINGTON — Ike proposes federal spending of $62 billion this year. That's enough to go round the world 20 times — but not enough to go around in Washington.

Democrats chide Republicans for their third straight unbalanced budget. But one thing about going broke with Republicans. At least you have a feeling it's happening by accident — instead of on purpose.

A Washington Cabinet officer leads a full life. He will spend the next three months telling Congress what he spent the last three months preparing — and will spend the next six months regretting.

The Navy's Nautilus, first atom submarine, begins sea trials. The vessel can stay down indefinitely. And considering how much of the military budget the Air Force got, maybe it will have to.

Treasury boss Humphrey estimates the federal deficit this year at $2.4 billion. The Eisenhower team's new roadbuilding program will bridge everything but the gap between income and outgo.

It revives the New Deal's old idea-harnessing project at Passamaquoddy, Me. There is a tide in the affairs of men, which, taken at flood tide, might keep Maine from going Democratic again.

Big Jim Folsom, again Alabama's Governor, says he'll save the folks from "smopery and stoppers." The guy's her, boys. He's got that ham what am, from Alabama.

It is also reported that the President's February message may recommend an additional sum for scholarships and fellowships in college and graduate schools. This will start at $50,000,000 a year and go up to $200,000,000 at the end of four years. Linked with this is the report that the President will recommend construction aid for colleges.

But in view of the desperate need at the grade-school and high-school level it seems unlikely that the White House would propose funds for advanced education. One authority estimates that 20 per cent of all pupils are now attending school in fire-traps while 10 per cent of all elementary pupils are in buildings more than 50 years old. This is due to many factors, including the lag in new-school construction during World War II, the greatly increased birth rate and the failure to replace old buildings.

The President in his budget message sticks closely to the line of state responsibility. Educational leaders had hoped that perhaps this line had been breached when in his State of the Union address he had spoken of the need for the Federal government to serve as "an effective catalyst" in dealing with the serious school shortage. The word "catalyst" appeared in the text of the President's talk as released by the White House. But in reading it Mr. Eisenhower substituted the word "agent." This may be a reference to the rumored Federal school building authority which would help the states to initiate action.

Sen. Lister Hill (D., Ala.), new chairman of the Senate Labor and Education Committee, has introduced a bill providing $500,000,000 a year for school construction. It has 30 sponsors, 28 Democrats and two Republicans. There has been some talk of bringing this out of committee without formal hearings, since it is identical with a bill sponsored in the last Congress by former Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky except for the fact that the Cooper bill called for expenditure of $250,000,000 a year.

Favorable action is expected from the Senate. The bill will have tougher going in the House. Those opposing it are said to feel that the segregating issue — an amendment stipulating that no state practicing segregation in education shall receive funds under the measure — will kill it in the House. Republicans and conservative Democrats would undoubtedly sustain a Presidential veto.

A Kiss For Snow White

The World Today—James Marlow

U. S. Appears Prepared To Write Off Some Of Chiang-Held Offshore Islands

WASHINGTON — The United States apparently is ready to kiss off some of the islands held by its ally—the Nationalist Chinese of Chiang Kai-shek—and let the Communists have them without American opposition.

The United States is committed to defending Chiang's main forces on Formosa and the nearby Pescadore Islands. Until now the administration has been vague on what it would do if the Reds slammed at Chiang-held islands near the mainland.

The answer now seems to be: nothing. This week President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles described as unessential to Formosa's defense the Tachen Islands, held by Chiang but now under Red assault, and Yikilangshan Island, just captured by the Communists.

The Reds proceeded with their attack on both. They alone know whether they will be satisfied with the Tachens and Yikilangshan or will use them as stepping stones for attack on Formosa. They have expressed determination to take Formosa.

The present shooting reflects a change in events, which Eisenhower probably could not foresee two years ago, and a change in his administration's mood.

One of his first official acts after taking office in January 1953 was to announce he was changing the orders of the U. S. 7th Fleet, an act widely interpreted at the time as opening the door for Chiang to attack the mainland.

The statement was a world sensation. But very little happened. Chiang made some raids on the mainland. But he did not have the strength to invade the mainland and now seems to lack the strength to hold his outlying islands.

When Chiang fled to Formosa, after the Reds chased him from the mainland in 1949, President Truman said this country would not defend Formosa. He changed his mind after the Korean War started. Then he assigned the 7th Fleet both to prevent attack on Formosa and prevent Chiang from attacking the mainland.

Defense of Formosa has been American policy ever since. But Chiang seems so unable to cope with the Red assault on the outlying islands that Eisenhower is reported considering asking Congress for authority to use naval and air forces to evacuate Chiang's men from the islands near the mainland if that is necessary.

Until now the United States has been playing it alone in defense of Formosa. Now it seems the U. S. will be playing it with a partner.

fire, both sides would be practically admitting they were separate countries and their fight was not a civil war.

That would freeze them. It would about ruin Chiang's hopes, and any American hopes, that he might someday retake China. And it would just about finish any hopes his followers on the mainland might have for liberation from the Reds.

known pilgrim who had made his journey to Mecca consented to write a story about how delightful it was that he could buy Coca-Cola along the hot route across North Africa. He could buy it in Cairo, a great Moslem center, he said, and even in Mecca.

That began to help. Then the Sultan's son, Moulay Hassan, allowed himself to be quoted at a bicycle tournament as saying he would like a drink of Coca-Cola.

Sales began slowly to climb. But the end was not yet. Nationalists moved in. They declared a boycott against any beverage which used sugar, because sugar in Morocco is a French monopoly. The Nationalists were eager to do anything to harass the French.

Terrorists backed up the boycott by burning stores and shooting merchants who sold tobacco and sugar products. Down went sales again.

This reporter talked to one bottling plant owner who said annual sales of 500,000 cases had been assured him but sales in 1954 were about 30,000 cases. With sales of 30,000 cases a year a man can't support a factory able to bottle 500,000 cases. Some are taking in side lines of beer and fruit juice.

The reporter toured around in the bazaars of several cities and tried to buy Coca-Cola. The signs were still up, glossy and red, but the drink was hard to come by.

Discourse On Things That Other Things Rattle Around In—Heads

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald. — Editor's Note.

This column needs no head. It has plenty of them, and it took a lot of them to think them all up.

Just wait until you get a load of what follows. It's heads, and you'll probably be calling me every one of them before you're finished reading.

Those to be discussed are blockhead, chucklehead, chowder head, knuckle head, knot head, pinhead, bullhead, squarehead, egg head, hophead, dope head, cabbage head, fat head, big head, swelled head, mallet head, lunk head, jug head, lug head, burr head, hard head, booze head, and empty head.

The original blockhead was a wooden head serving as a block for hats and wigs, hence a head wanting in intelligence. A blockhead therefore is a stupid and dull individual. So says the dictionary, which has a number of other things to say about heads.

For instance, a chucklehead is a person who laughs to himself or one who laughs convulsively. A squarehead first meant (colloquially) a Scandinavian and since World War I was used to refer to a German. It is, of course, slang meaning numskull or dolt.

A pinhead is the head of a pin, which would make it anything small or insignificant. Consequently a pinhead is a person lacking in understanding.

A knuckle head is not defined in the dictionary, but judging from the dual meaning of knuckle, such a person could be one who yields easily or one who puts up a heck of a resistance. Since a knuckler is a pickpocket, a knuckle head could be the same. A knuckle head could be slow too, as a knuckle tooth is one which is strong but imperfect.

A chowder head is probably a fishy individual, as chowder is either made of fish or clams. I suspect that an egg head is one who cracks up easily. Such a head would probably be oval in shape, and it might be reproductive.

A bullheaded person is described as one who is stupidly headstrong or stubborn. He could also have a massive skull.

The definition of a knot is "an interlacement of the parts of slender and flexible bodies forming a lump or knob." This would probably mean that a knot head has his thought cords all tangled up.

A hardheaded person is described as being one who is shrewd, sharp-witted, stubborn, willful, and of sound judgment. He could also be a blockhead.

Hopheads are those addicted to opium or possible malt liquors. A dopehead is also a user of opium or dopes. Booze heads are people who stay on intoxicating liquors.

Fatheads are dull-witted fellows. And since the dictionary says fat consists of "tissue of cells distended with greasy or oily matter," you can draw your own conclusion as to what else they are.

A cabbage head is a compact head, and it is claimed that such a person would be a numskull or birdbrain.

Individuals with bigheads have an exaggerated opinion of their own importance, while those with swelled heads have an overwhelming conceit. There must be a difference, but both sound like egotists to me.

Lunkhead is defined simply as a block head. That could make one a German, Scandinavian or a numskull.

Since a lug is about 25 to 30 pounds and considered all the average man can carry, it is obvious that a lughead can't accommodate anything inside his cranium.

The burr heads are those who have a rough rounded knot or knob projecting from their shoulders, and they could be individuals with a flat top haircut. Jug heads are individuals with quite a bit inside that can't get outside unless someone else grabs the handle and tilts.

A mallet head is one who strikes down or crushes. A mallet is usually used for driving a "tool," which could be interpreted to mean a simple individual.

All this brings us down to the empty heads. These fortunate people have an upstairs section which contains nothing. Their skulls are unfilled, void of content, vacant, unoccupied, and unburdened.

As I pointed out before, it took a lot of heads to think up all these heads. Contributions came from those who decided they wanted to know the difference between heads—and tails.

Political Playback

The most astounding, and I think, the most misunderstood, one-sentence statement ever uttered in the governor's office has given an extra month of life to about 200 Texans. Its effect lingers on down an indefinite future.

This thing recurs about every 10 or 15 days in a statement from the governor's office that the governor has granted the "customary" 30-day stay of execution to persons under death sentence. More recently, the term "constitutional" has been used sometimes, with a shadow of inferred plausibility.

W. Lee O'Daniel was opposed to the death penalty, on conscientious and possibly religious grounds. When the first death penalty case came to him soon after his inauguration, he looked into the constitutional provisions about clemency. He found the Constitution said the governor can grant one 30-day stay of execution on his own, but otherwise can act only on majority recommendation of the Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Gov. O'Daniel granted the 30-day stay. Only, in some of the peculiar workings of his unorthodox mind, when he was asked about it, he made the fantastic reply: "It will only make him suffer that much more."

I think, and I believe I am right, that was intended as bitter criticism, or ridicule, of the law's exaction of human life for crime.

But it was taken as it sounded, and O'Daniel was widely and severely criticized for his unfeeling comment.

Not the fact of his granting the reprieve, but the notoriety given his bleak expression resulted in an unbroken custom from that time, of every governor's giving every condemned person this 30-day stay. Long, it also resulted in another three-day stay, by board action, because most sentences were set for a day so that a 30-day stay would call for a Sunday execution. There have been no Sunday executions.

Of the approximately 30 death penalty cases per year, something like 10 or 12 are commuted to life, on board recommendation. No governor has ever failed to commute a sentence recommended by the board, though not required to.

So far as known, the "customary" 30-day stay has never changed the final outcome. Pleas for board clemency can be made as well before as during such a delay.

This 30-day reprieve, now routine, was called "constitutional" in that it is authorized by the Constitution. But it is not required, and is a limitation rather than an affirmative grant.

Today And Tomorrow—Walter Lippmann

UN Could Achieve Lasting Good With Truce In Formosa Strait

Whether or not it was planned that way in Peking, there is a striking parallelism between the affair of the fliers and our proposed security pact with Chiang's government in Formosa. Peking announced the conviction of the fliers at the end of November, which was just as the negotiations were being concluded in Formosa.

Chou En-lai in his talks with Mr. Hammarskjold seems to have insisted that China felt itself threatened by the American support of Chiang who, of course, is bound to keep announcing his intentions to return to the mainland. While Chou was complaining to Mr. Hammarskjold about that, Mr. Dulles was showing the Senators an exchange of notes with Chiang's Foreign Minister promising, though not in the clearest language, that China will not invade the mainland without our consent.

This is an interesting situation. Peking is worried that the United States, using Chiang as an instrument and a pretext, is preparing to attack Red China. Washington is worried that Chiang will deliberately entangle the United States against its will in a war with Red China.

It is far-fetched to say that the situation is made to order for a constructive action by the United Nations? Why should the United Nations not move to bring about a cease fire in the Formosa Strait, thus ending the last shooting war in Asia?

Why should not the United Nations then become the guarantors of the principle that force shall not be used to determine the future of Formosa and the relationship of the two Chinese governments?

Such a truce under the auspices of the United Nations would reflect correctly the political and military realities. Red China is quite incapable of crossing a hundred miles of water and conquering Formosa. The United States is in fact quite incapable of putting Chiang back on the mainland and restoring him to power. A sound agreement in international relations is one which registers, which states in clear language, the real situation. A truce in the Formosa Strait would register a real situation between Red China and the United States. It would change only the propaganda speeches from the other side about the liberation of Formosa by force and from this side about the liberation by force of the mainland.

Peron Appears Winning Fight With Roman Catholic Clergy

By FRED L. STROZIER
Buenos Aires—A series of actions by President Juan D. Peron has lessened the power of the Roman Catholic Church in several aspects of Argentine affairs. But there is no noticeable evidence, as of today, that Peron's actions have weakened the support of his followers, most of them Catholics.

He has been battling the clergy openly for about three months, and so far has won all the battles.

He started it because religious groups, apparently counting on support of the Catholic Church, decided to form a Christian Democratic party like those that have won widespread support in Italy and Germany since the last war.

If such a party got an effective start in a predominantly Catholic country like Argentina, it might one day effectively challenge Peron's own Peronista party. Peron recognized the threat when less discerning politicians had not yet discerned it. Peron saw that such a party could oppose him on some parts of his program that the church did not like. He was ready to legalize divorce and reopen houses of prostitution, and he already had antagonized the Catholic hierarchy by giving illegitimate children the same rights as legitimate children in Argentina.

The President made a fiery speech Nov. 10 in which he named three bishops and 21 other Catholic clergymen as open enemies of his regime. He said they were trying to infiltrate labor unions and other organizations supporting him in order to undermine his government.

Quickly, all parts of the Peronista movement shouted approval. All but a handful of independent newspapers joined in the chorus. There were few dissenters among his backers.

One woman senator from Cordoba province refused to go along on legalized divorce. She was expelled from the Peronista party and forced to resign from the Senate. A few religious leaders around the country quit minor government jobs.

Ten priests were arrested for causing disturbances or for disrespect of the President. One priest served 30 days in jail, two others were placed under house arrest for five days and one was fined 100 pesos (about $7).

The church's traditional right to appoint teachers of religious education in schools was canceled. Priests serving in schools were discharged. Churches were denied the right to hold outdoor meetings or march in processions. Two religious programs on Buenos Aires radio stations were cut off the air.

In a few days, Congress obediently legalized divorce, and Peron by decree authorized houses of prostitution.

The church itself has taken a carefully moderate position. The cardinals and bishops issued two pastoral letters which were read in all Argentine churches defending the clergy from charges of interfering in political affairs. They also wrote Peron urging him to veto the divorce law, but he signed it just the same.

The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano has published editorials severely critical of Peron's stand.

Far Eastern Missionary Will Speak Here Monday

The Rev. Thoburn T. Brumbaugh, associate secretary of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church for Japan, Korea, and the Philippines will be a guest speaker at the First Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m. Monday. The session will be a district meeting.

Dr. Brumbaugh has made three visits to Japan and other Far Eastern countries since the end of hostilities in the Pacific. During the war he was executive secretary of the Detroit Council of Churches, and previous to that was for seventeen years a missionary of the Methodist Church in Japan, as head of the Wesley Foundation in Japan. He served college and university students in Tokyo and other educational centers. During 1946 and 1947 he was executive director of the Committee for the Establishment of a Christian University in Japan, which has now become the Japan International Christian University Foundation.

Born in Agostia, Ohio, Dr. Brumbaugh was educated at Ohio Wesleyan University, Boston University School of Theology and Union Theological Seminary. He first went to Japan in 1924 as a missionary of the Methodist Church. He left that country in 1941 when the Methodist Church recalled its missionaries because of the immolation of war.

During recent visits in the Orient, Dr. Brumbaugh has interviewed religious, social and political leaders in Japan, Korea, Okinawa and the Philippines. In Japan, he twice met and discussed these conditions with General Douglas MacArthur, and on one occasion

Dr. BRUMBAUGH was granted an audience with Emperor Hirohito. In Korea he talked with General Hodge, Dr. Syngman Rhee, and other outstanding leaders. In Okinawa he made arrangements for the re-opening of Protestant missionary service in the Ryukyu Islands. In the Philippines he traveled widely and met religious, social and educational leaders of the New Republic.

Dr. Brumbaugh is, therefore, qualified to discuss intelligently various aspects of America's relations with the Far East and the responsibilities of the Christian church in the Orient.

Bishop W. C. Martin will supervise the meeting.

Ike Begins 3rd Year In Presidency

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Washington—President Eisenhower started his third year in office yesterday and his physician declared "he is in excellent health" for a man 64 years old.

His doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, said in an interview: "I would say he is in excellent health for a man of his age. He doesn't show as much wear and tear as one would expect in the light of the serious way he takes his responsibilities."

"Actually, there has been very little change in his physical condition during the last two years, and it was very good when he was inaugurated."

Snyder said the President's weight fluctuated between 172 and 180 pounds and "usually has been about 176"—only about four pounds more than he weighed when he played football at West Point more than 40 years ago.

Snyder's only complaint was that Eisenhower "doesn't get enough exercise to satisfy me—not nearly enough since he got back from Colorado last October."

Reviving A Romance

Few high school romances are as enduring as the beautiful century plant. For the most part they bud in pure sweetness, bloom in delicate, fragile beauty, and wither and fade, not unmoored, in the scrapbook of high school memory.

Why? Because of the very fragility of their nature. The romance that lasts, the love that endures, is tender, but hardy as well. It sips of dreams and poems and love songs, yes, but it is also nourished on the facts of life and living at the breast of Common Sense.

All courtships face the crises of wandering eyes and waning interest from time to time. Often the love struck and injured party goes into a panic and resolves to do something.

"Silence is golden" and there is strategy in waiting, but for a person anguishing in unrequited love, this is hard to believe.

The news that one's steady is dating another on the sly is usually met with vehement denial, secret sleuthing and the addition of several tear-drenched chapters to the faithful diary.

All this is harmless enough, if only it would stop there. The majority of people cannot stand "a cold war." They want to bring the mixed-up mess into the open and speak their minds, as if their oratory would restore their former dating happiness. In desperation, they are compelled to do something.

Actually, the less said and done just now, the better. The wise one in love knows this. You cannot command love, nor can you buy admiration or companionship with words.

Convincing your heart-throb that he or she has been unfair to you, that he or she is guilty of a line or of dating behind your back, and making your hurt feelings known, will gain you nothing.

It causes the one in error to feel guilty or embarrassed, and how can you ever draw anyone toward you by making him uncomfortable?

"It's her or me," many girls command. In anger at being put on the spot, and to maintain masculine pride in the face of your jealousy, he'll choose "her" every time even though he may really prefer you.

Why do boys lose interest? Two main reasons are: They are bored with charms too freely given, and they feel trapped.

As long as a woman holds some element of mystery about her, she is intriguing, and as long as she lets her date be the master of every situation, as he should be, he is willing to enjoy her company.

Be like the three little monkeys. Refuse to hear, see, or discuss anything unpleasant. Ignore the causes of a withering romance and concentrate on becoming a gayer, happier, more fun-to-be-with sort of date, and soon you'll find all is once again as it should be.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Hog in southern France sniffing for truffles.

The taste to be far better. A truffle may be as large as an orange or smaller than a walnut.

Differing from mushrooms, truffles grow under the surface of the ground. Often they are found about the roots of oak trees or beeches.

A truffle may grow at a depth of a foot or more. Although it is out of sight, there is likely to be a crack in the ground above it. An odor rises through the crack, and this may be smelled by people. Pigs however, catch the odor more rapidly than people do.

In some places dogs are employed to locate truffles.

GM Offers Common Stockholders Right To Buy New Shares

WASHINGTON (AP)—General Motors Corp. yesterday offered common stockholders a new issue of 4,385,000 shares in the biggest industrial capital-raising venture ever recorded at the Securities and Exchange Commission.

GM registered the offering with the SEC and paid registration fees on the basis of 435 million dollars.

The giant automotive firm previously had announced it would raise 325 million dollars by the new issue to help finance a 1.5-billion-dollar expansion program.

The actual price to be put on the new shares will not be known until some later time, possibly the day before the issue is put on the market following the completion of registration with the SEC. That could not be earlier than 20 days from now.

GM offered the new shares for subscription by its common stockholders of record at the close of business Feb. 8, 1955. It said shareholders would have the right to buy one share of the new issue for each 20 shares held on Feb. 8. The offer will expire at 6 p. m. EST March 7.

Sinatra Says His Daughter's Latest Is Son Of Crosby

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Crooner Frank Sinatra says his 14-year-old daughter Nancy's favorite boy friend—at the moment—is Bing Crosby's youngest son Lindsay.

"Lindsay's been paying her so much attention that Mr. Crosby and I have looked at the possibility of a merger," Sinatra quipped at a press conference here this week. The singer is now on tour in Australia.

Questioned about the reported "romance," Sinatra said it started a couple of months ago. He said Crosby phoned him one day to ask if he intended to "keep on barking into a microphone, making films and working for the next 15 years."

"I told him I suppose so and asked him why," Sinatra said, quoting Crosby as replying: "Well, my youngest Lindsay—he's about 15—is stuck on your daughter. He's been walking around with sheep eyes for weeks and I want to be sure of his future."

Galveston Pupils Win Top Places In Essay Contest

Two students from Ball High School of Galveston won top honors in the state-wide essay contest sponsored by the Big Spring High School student council.

Students of all schools represented in the Texas Association of Student Councils were eligible to participate. There were 147 entries.

First place went to Fred Emerson of Ball High, whose essay was entitled, "The Student Council—Its Method and Purpose." Elizabeth Hunter, also of Ball High School, won second place and third went to Ann Weatherall of Electra High School. Honorable mention was won by Joyce Halbert, San Antonio, and Jerry Shrimpton, Breckenridge High School.

The essays were judged by Mrs. E. A. White and Elizabeth Daniel, instructors at Howard County Junior College; Ione McAllister and Keith Odum, teachers in Big Spring High School; and Agnes Currie and Velma Blagrove, teachers in Big Spring Junior High School.

The Power of the Holy Spirit
THE COMFORTER PROMISED BY JESUS CAME TO HIS DISCIPLES

Scripture—John 14:26-28; 16:7-15; Acts 2:1-4; 1:1-4; Romans 8:26-27; 1 Corinthians 2:9-16; Galatians 5:22-23.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"THE YOUNGER CLASSES" may find this lesson somewhat difficult," writes Dr. Wilbur M. Smith in his notes on the lesson. At first glance it seems so, but there are truths presented in the references given us that will thrill the even young children, and give them an insight into the "spiritual and temporal values of life," which a prominent churchman recently stated the youth of today needs.

"We will try to tell the story of the lesson simply and let the teacher apply it to the age group he or she is teaching.

In the first place, Jesus is talking to His disciples—all the men and women who believe in Him. He is trying to make them understand that He will be with them but a short time, a thing they cannot seem to comprehend.

"These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you."

"But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in My Name, He shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you."

Again, "I tell you the truth; it must not preach Jesus Christ any more.

This same once cowardly Peter spoke out again before these powerful churchmen: saying, "Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye. For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard."

Going to their own company and reporting what had happened and what had been told them, all prayed together, and the Holy Ghost came upon them again, giving them still more inward peace and greater boldness to do God's work.

Writing to the Romans, Paul says that the Holy Spirit helps our infirmities; helps us to pray aright, and intercedes for us.

Finally Paul tells the Galatians the most comforting and helpful "fruit of the Spirit," is "love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law."

Let us memorize these words which make a beautiful, inspiring ending to a fine lesson.

the States. At least they were in 1954 when she left.

Alaska has a way of fascinating one, she says, and it gets a firm grip on you. Juneau, she especially considers beautiful, probably because she spent more time there.

The atmosphere is a friendly hospitable one. "The people are very carefree and have an independent air. They are not busy or rushed," she explained. She attributes this to the fact that so many people have gone to Alaska as adventurers.

Her first trip to Alaska was made in 1943 when she and her daughter, Elaine, went to help relatives who were missionaries for the Church of God. Mrs. DeArmond stayed and eventually went to work for the CAA in Anchorage.

They returned to the States for a while but Alaska called again and in 1948 Mrs. DeArmond and Elaine went back. This time Mrs. DeArmond worked for the territorial agency in public health work, doing a stint of five years. Although she did not do actual case work she worked closely with a medical social consultant who was concerned with crippled children and chronic disease.

About disease Mrs. DeArmond says that tuberculosis is very prevalent among the natives. She understands that the natives had little disease until the white man came, and their once good, hard teeth have been softened by civilization's chewing gum and candy.

Contrary to the general opinion that Eskimos make up the entire population in Alaska, Mrs. DeArmond explained that the Eskimos are just one of four races.

Around Juneau the natives are principally Thlinkits. Ethnologists have classified all the races except the Eskimos as being remote offshoots of the North American Indian stock.

A favorite native dish, Mrs. DeArmond said, is herring eggs which they dip in seal oil which is sent down by relatives from the interior. Then the eggs are dragged through hot water (this is the only cooking they get) and a great time of feasting is had by all.

One advantage about Alaska that Mrs. DeArmond mentioned is the abundance of salmon. You can almost catch them in your back yard.

An active church worker, Mrs. DeArmond describes a need for more churches in Alaska. There are so many transients that there is room for permanent churches and families. The outlying communities especially lack churches, she points out. At one time she was song director, Sunday School teacher, church treasurer and young peoples' director of a church in Alaska.

She came to Big Spring last year to be with her daughter, now Mrs. Frank Blackwell, whose husband is at Webb. She has just recuperated from an operation and is ready to go to work now when a suitable position opens up. In the meantime she has been leading singing and does some office work for the First Church of God.

DiETING'S Not Easy
Singing star, Dolores Gray, appreciates her figure more because she has to work for it. She shares her formula for staying thin with Lydia Lane in today's Hollywood Beauty column. She'll soon be seen on the screen in MGM's new musical, "It's Always Fair Weather."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

You Have To WANT To Face The Dieting Issue

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—Although Dolores Gray has lived in Hollywood since she was three, it took a Broadway play to make the studios appreciate her talent.

From a busy TV and night club schedule, she came west to do "It's Always Fair Weather" and when I went to visit Dolores on the set, her lovely figure was the lively topic of conversation between two of the set technicians.

When I repeated their compliments to Dolores, she was very pleased. "I think we appreciate the things we have to work for more than what is gifted us by nature," she remarked.

"Do you mean you have difficulty staying thin?" I asked with obvious surprise. "It's a constant struggle," Dolores admitted. "I'm one of those unfortunate who can't eat three meals a day without getting out of shape. When I'm not working I never even think of lunch and have only a very light breakfast of fruit juice and coffee."

"But dieting builds character," Dolores said, with a trace of humor. "Every day on the way to the studio I have to pass a doughnut shop. The aroma of the freshly baked doughnuts as I go by the shop is almost more than I can bear. To go by without stopping really takes a discipline. I don't drink or smoke and this type of goody is my one big indulgence."

Dolores admitted that she slipped up in her discipline once in a while and I wanted to know how she compensated for these lapses. "I go on a skim milk diet for a day or two," she told me. "I drink a glass as often as I feel I need sustenance. It really seems to agree with me. My skin looks clearer after I've been on liquids for a couple of days. It's very good to cleanse your system with a liquid diet every once in a while."

"But," Dolores said with emphasis, "the success of any diet depends on the mental preparation you give yourself. You have to WANT to lose. Unless you do, dieting is a futile gesture."

"I also have a skin problem," Dolores continued. "I'm allergic to soap and water that seems to agree with my complexion. It's oatmeal—the coarse, ground kind. I take some of this in the palm of my hand and soak it with sufficient warm water to make a paste. I scrub my face every night before going to bed with this oatmeal paste and my skin doesn't get dry and I never have trouble with clogged pores."

"This oatmeal facial has solved my cleansing problem beautifully," Dolores said gratefully. SUITABLE DIET
If you want to take away those few excess pounds, it's best to find a diet that is right for you. Dolores Gray likes a liquid diet. Perhaps you would like leaflet M-34, "Seven Day Diet of Gene Tierney," to help you. In it is outlined a complete menu for each day of the week—totaling only 750 calories a day. To get your copy of M-34, simply send 5 cents AND a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald. Remember, it's leaflet M-34.

Jayhawks Seek Third Zone Win Here This Evening

Odessa Jaycee Tests Locals

Tonight at 8 o'clock, the Howard County Junior College Jayhawks will try to take a big step toward sewing up first place in West Zone basketball standing.

At that hour in their own gymnasium, the Big Spring collegians entertain the Odessa JC Wranglers, who are shaping up as the locals' chief challengers for the coveted position.

The Hawks have been all-victorious in two Zone starts. The Wranglers will be getting their baptism of fire.

Knots has recovered enough to see limited action against the Wranglers, a fact that will probably cheer local fans no end.

The Hawks will be seeking their 20th win of the season in this one. Their only losses have been at the hands of Schreiner and San Angelo.

Knots may not start, in which case Coach Harold Davis will go with a lineup composed of Wiley Brown, Arlen White, P. A. Schall, Wickard, Ronald Anderson and either Ray Crooks or Jimmy Robinson.

In their only meeting this season, the Hawks toppled Odessa, 70-56, to win championship honors in the Temple Tournament. At that time, however, Co-Captain Don Webb of the Wranglers was out of the lineup.

Larry McCullough, the former Big Spring coach who now is ringmaster of the Odessa basketball show, is due to go with a lineup consisting of Milton Gillespie, Dugan Johnson, Shelby Stapleton, Jimmy Coulter and Webb.

Anything can happen, and usually does, when the two teams clash. Two years ago, the Hawks fielded one of the highest scoring teams in the country but the Wranglers played ball-possession and held the locals to a 52-49 win. They may try the same thing tonight.

The Hawks will be idle all next week, at which time they will be taking mid-term examinations. They next see action against Clarendon there Tuesday, Feb. 1.

Cee City QBC Sets Banquet

COLORADO CITY — Colorado City's Quarterback Club will hold its annual Football Banquet January 31st, with L. R. (Dutch) Meyer, Athletic Director at TCU, scheduled as principal speaker.

Reverend Bill Austin, pastor of the Oak Street Baptist Church, will act as master of ceremonies.

The banquet will honor coaches and players, and will be held in the Primary School Building at 7:30 on the 31st.

Cooperating with the Quarterback Club are the Lions, Kiwanis, Jaycees, and the Band Boosters.

Mickey Wright Out Front At Tampa

TAMPA, Fla. — Hard-working Mickey Wright, in her first year as a professional, showed the veterans the way by two strokes going into the second round of the $5,000 Tampa Women's Open Golf Tournament today.

The tall blonde from San Diego was the only one in the field of 149 to break par 75 for the tough Palma Ceia course yesterday, coming in with 35-39-74.

Four veterans were tied at 76—Babe Zaharias of Tampa, defending champion Betsy Rawls, Spartanburg, S.C.; Jackie Pung, Honolulu; and Beverly Hanson, Indio, Calif.

Another group, bunched at 77, was composed of Louise Suggs, of Sea Island, Ga.; Fay Crocker, Whitestone, N.Y.; and Marlene Bauer, Sarasota, Fla.

Pat Lesser, Seattle, and Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., tied for low amateur honors at 78. The veteran pro Patty Berg also came in with 78.

Jack Dull But He Wins Over Green

COLUMBIA, S.C. — Beau Jack, the one-time champion, was back on the comeback trail today following a dull 10-round victory over Eddie Green last night.

Jack showed little of his form that carried him to the lightweight championship of the world in 1943.

Beau piled up enough points in every round to win a unanimous decision.

Redell Will Take Amarillo Offer

OKLAHOMA CITY — John Redell, 24, head football coach at Classen High School here, said last night he had resigned to take a similar post at Palo Duro High in Amarillo.

His resignation was contingent on acceptance. Redell said he had received a verbal release.

Sales Campaign Starts

R. R. McEwen, who represented the Rotary Club at last night's meeting of service club committees participating in the drive to sell 2,000 season baseball tickets, accepts an assignment from Chairman Bob Whippley as other club representatives look on. They are, left to right, R. E. McKinney of the ABC Club; Bill Morse, Junior Chamber of Commerce; Pepper Martin, owner of the Midland mound staff, who announced he represented a 'group of enthusiastic baseball fans' who wanted to see baseball remain here. The meeting took place at the Settles Hotel.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Horace Busby, business manager of the Midland Indians, is boldly predicting that the Tribe may field its greatest team in 1955.

The Warriors finished a lagging fourth in the Longhorn League last year and might have slipped entirely out of the first division, had Big Spring left the barrier a bit faster.

If anyone can cut the mustard at Midland, however, Billy Capps, the new ring master at Midland, can do it.

Capps, who served his baseball apprenticeship in Big Spring, doesn't stand for complacency on a ball field. Either the hands make an honest effort for him, or they hit the grit for distant places.

Julio Ramos, Frank Pickens, Romarico Soto, Jose Heredia and Harold Hacker will be back to form the nucleus for Capps' mound staff.

Dick Baife, Frank Roberson, Idris Brulle, Bill Gassaway and Len Piller will also be trying to win places on the Midland mound staff.

Busby and Capps have yet to come up with an adequate replacement for catcher Rudy Briner and those may be hard shoes to fill but, otherwise, the team seems fairly well set.

Until the Texas freshman team defeated the Rice Owlets recently, Bowie's fabulous Temple Tucker (a freshman at the Houston school) had never played as a regular on a basketball club that lost a decision.

Pepper Martin, owner of the Big Spring Broncs, figures the team's new home and road uniforms will cost him $1,500.

The Broncs haven't had new togery since Pat Stasey was in his first years here.

Martin could use a lot of help (and moral encouragement) toward getting off the ground this year — fans can't seem to warm to baseball until the chill goes out of the night air. However, he's far ahead of the schedule he had to follow last year. He didn't even know he'd field a team here until February and, at that time, he didn't have a player in sight, outside of himself.

The Hobbs park, where Pat Stasey is now in business, will have something like 240 boxes and, from all indications, every one will be sold before the Longhorn season begins. (Some have six seats, too).

Stasey told Martin he sold more than 80 on a recent morning. That's more than the local park has, and Martin is experiencing the usual difficulty in disposing of that reserved space.

Fence sign reservations are moving slowly, too. Merchants and businessmen could help by dialing Martin at 4-4790 and asking that their signs be reserved.

If you've lost track of Mike Michalak, the rugged ex-Baylor coaching aide, he's been at Sam Houston State College since fall.

Ace Miler Takes To Boards In Philadelphia Tonight

PHILADELPHIA — Wes Santee takes to the boards for the first time this season in the 1955 Philadelphia Inquirer Games at Convention Hall tonight and the world's ranking active miler thinks he'll do all right.

"I think the winner of the race (although he didn't say he'd win) will run pretty close to the world (indoor) record and probably will top it if conditions are right," he said.

"This is my first time on the boards this season and I've never run on the boards here before," he continued. "But I'll see what happens. I think I'm due for a good night one of these days."

Gil Dodds' world indoor mark of 4:05.3, set in 1948, figures to get a good test from Santee, who in turn figures to have all he can handle in Denmark's Gunnar Nielsen and Belfast's Vic Milligan.

Nielsen won the mile event in the Boston K of C games last Saturday night in 4:07.9 and has said he's confident he can set a new world's mark before the indoor season ends.

Another world mark is endangered in the 600-yard dash with Villanova's Charley Jenkins figured the winner. Jenkins was a half second off the world's record in the Boston meet.

Three Big Spring Boxers Matched

Three local fighters will see action in the Odessa Regional Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament tonight, Trainer Pete Jenkins was informed this morning.

Baseball Drive Is Shaping Up

You can look for that service club representative to come knocking on your door, offering for sale season tickets to Big Spring home games.

The committee to acquit the fact that Big Spring is going to have a ball team again this year got organized at the Settles Hotel last night, with Bob Whippley serving as chairman.

Participating in the drive will be the Rotary Club, the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce, the American Business Club and an organization known as "the enthusiastic baseball fans."

Dr. T. C. Tinkham, representing the latter group, said he was confident his workers could sell 500 or more season tickets.

The objective is 2,000 season tickets, Pepper Martin, owner-manager of the Broncs, said he was in a position to offer $1 for each $20 duct the service clubs sold.

Various business of the city and county will be canvassed by teams assigned by the organizations.

The tickets will be offered to the public on an 'easy payment' plan, whereby the customer can pay $3 down and the remainder in installments before the season gets under way late in April.

A March 1 deadline was placed on the campaign. If the objective is not realized by that time, all money will be returned to the buyers and the drive will be called off.

Martin said he had toyed with the idea of bringing in a team of professional solicitors to raise the money but rejected the idea in the hope that service clubs would help and the money would be kept here. All money earned by the service organizations in the drive will be used for charity locally.

Representing the Rotary Club at last night's session were R. R. McEwen, Ira Thurman and Byron Lillie. R. E. McKinney was the ABC representative in attendance while Bill Morse served as the Big Spring Jaycee delegate.

Also in attendance were Ken Welch of Radio Station KTXC, Dick Pfeiffer, Dr. W. B. Hardy, Travis Reed, Weldon Wood, Bert Baez, Al Valdes, Huck Doe, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Rainey, Martin and Whippley.

The Broncs baseball office at 305 Rannels Street will serve as headquarters for the drive.

Mueller Tries Carmen Basilio

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — Carmen Basilio gambles on a tentative April 1 title shot with welterweight champ Johnny Saxton tonight when he boxes Peter Mueller, sturdy German middleweight, in a 10-round match at War Memorial Auditorium. A sellout crowd of 8,700 and a gross gate of $40,000 are expected.

Syracuse will be blacked out on television. Otherwise the show gets the usual network radio-TV (NBC) treatment, starting at 10 p.m.

Of course, Basilio might not lose his second chance at the 147-pound title if he should be beaten by Mueller. The match was made at a 155-pound contract over the welter limit. However, a defeat in his home territory would be damaging to the prestige of the No. 1 contender.

Basilio is a solid 14 to 5 favorite to make the "Crown of Cologne" jump through the hoops. Unbeaten since he lost a disputed split decision to Kid Gavilan in a title fight, Sept. 18, 1953, Basilio is a vastly improved boxer.

9th Grade Wins Over Midland

MIDLAND (SC) — Big Spring Yearling basketball teams split a double bill with San Jacinto Junior High of Midland here Thursday evening.

The Big Spring Ninth Graders won their eighth decision in nine starts by belting the Bullpups, 37-28, while the Eighth Graders from Big Spring lost, 40-30.

Jimmy Evans, Jan Laudermlk and Eugene Walker all had big hands in Big Spring's win. Evans scored 12 points while Laudermlk and Walker had eight each.

Eston Hollis led the Big Spring Eighth Graders with 14 points.

The two Yearling quintets visit Odessa this evening for games with Bowie Junior High School.

The Ninth Graders play the Junior High School Faculty in a March of Dimes benefit game at 3 p.m. Monday and invade Snyder Tuesday for games.

Longhorns Host P'view Tonight

Now entrenched in second place in District 1-AAA basketball standing, the Big Spring Steers will try to unseat Plainview as the conference's top team here tonight and spoil the comeback of the Levelland Lobos here Saturday evening.

This is the biggest weekend of the season for the Steers and they can be sitting right on top of the basketball world by achieving a sweep.

Plainview has had some close calls in the conference race but has won four straight games without a loss. Among other feats, the Bulldogs hold a 23-point victory over Big Spring, registered in the Plainview Tournament.

The Longhorns have been spoiling to get even since that time and, in the 1-AAA race, have shown they meant business by bowling over three of their four opponents.

Only against Snyder did the locals slip. The Tigers roared to a 63-51 success in the first loop game of the campaign for both teams.

Since that time, the Longhorns have knocked over Sweetwater, Breckenridge and Vernon, in that order.

Coach Johnny Johnson will probably go with a lineup composed of Al Kloven, Wayne Tollett, Bobby Phillips, Charles Clark and Kenneth Harmon.

Plainview is due to counter with a quintet consisting of Hugh Bob Tison, Bobby Bryant, Stewart Webb, Lonnie Holland and either Clifton Hartley or Bill Wall.

Levelland will bring the conference's tallest team in here Saturday night.

The Lobos will probably start Mac Freeman (who quarterbacked the Levelland football team), Tommy Oehlein, Larry Corbin, Ches Jackson and Gary Lawhon against the Longhorns.

Levelland got off to a great start in conference play, beating Vernon and Breckenridge, in that order, but last week dropped decisions to Sweetwater and Snyder.

The games each night start at 8 p.m. Scene of action each time will be the High School Gym.
