

Americans Capture Historic Chateau-Thierry And Soissons; French Form Solid Buffer To Help Wipe Out 19th Army

Roads Strewn With Destroyed Nazi Transport

BULLETIN ROME, Aug. 29 (AP) — American troops have driven into Montellimar on the Rhone 100 miles above Marseille. "Except for isolated pockets of resistance the enemy now has been cleared from the Rhone valley south of Montellimar," Allied headquarters announced tonight.

ROME, Aug. 29 (AP) — French troops of the Seventh army, in sweeps well west of the Rhone in southern France, reached Uzès and drove through Nîmes today, forming a solid southern buffer to help wipe out the battered German 19th army already cut off by an American surprise thrust to river far to the north.

From Nîmes, a city of 93,758 population 14 miles beyond the Rhone, one French column turned southwest along the coast in a drive toward the French-Spanish border.

Other French columns extending west and northwest of Avignon for at least 24 miles to the Uzès area won control of a triangular region north of which the fleeing Germans are being pressed against the American just above Montellimar, some 45 miles from Avignon. The flying column under the command of Brig. Gen. Frederic Butler which reached the Montellimar area Friday, after inflicting wholesale punishment on at least one force of 15,000 German troops, killing many and possibly knocking out the remainder, continued to spread out through the entire region.

Reports from these said roads were strewn with destroyed German transport and other vehicles. American forces on the eastern coastal flank late yesterday drove into Cannes, 10 miles northeast of Cannes, and Venice, five miles inland due north of Cannes—advances which placed them five miles from Nice and only 20 miles from the Italian frontier.

Thousands of German troops fell into Allied hands with the surrender of the final holdout enemy resistance in Marseille. The full liberation of Marseille and Toulon gives the Allies adequate port facilities.

Surrender of forts on the St. Mandrier peninsula in the Toulon area brought an end to fighting in the coastal area.

The surrender was arranged through Lt. Gen. Gotthold Schaefler, commanding the German 244th division and supreme Nazi commander in the Marseille region.

Donald Nelson May Take Over Byrnes' Post

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said today he understood from "reliable sources" that Donald M. Nelson had been picked to succeed James F. Byrnes as war mobilization director upon Nelson's return from China.

Ferguson said he understood President Roosevelt's plan was to turn over to the War Production Board chairman direction of the gigantic task of demobilization. Ferguson added he had heard that Byrnes had indicated a desire to be relieved of his present duties as soon as it is convenient, and that he had emphatically expressed a desire to turn over the demobilization task to some other man.

There was no immediate comment from Byrnes' office today. However, the former supreme court justice has told friends of a desire to return to private life, probably at the end of this year, assuming Germany is defeated by then.

Meanwhile, confronted by the angry resignation of another top-ranking administrator, big, rosy-cheeked Julius A. Krug waded into discussion-torn War Production Board ranks today with threats of dismissal for "trouble makers."

The 37-year-old ex-navy lieutenant commander, declared there will be but "one team at the WPB from now on."

Any who don't play ball, he said, will be let out.

Drive Carries Troops Over Hallowed Soil

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 29 (AP)—Swiftly advancing American troops captured historic Chateau-Thierry and Soissons today in whirlwind advances which carried them over French soil hallowed by their fathers' blood to within 55 miles of Belgium and a scant hundred from the German frontier.

Fighting on ground where the men of 1918 scouted the Germans in the second battle of the Marne, the GIs of 1944 swept through Chateau-Thierry and raced northward 25 miles into Soissons in a thrust which was rapidly flanking the whole Pas de Calais department where the Germans launch their robot bombs. A new and more deadly trap might be forming around the remnants of the German Seventh army, broken in Normandy, and the 15th army, in Pas de Calais.

At Soissons, where the old First and Second divisions helped their Allies win one of the closing battles of the last war, the Americans were 55 miles northeast of Paris.

Parallel columns driving north reached the Flammes area 16 miles east of Soissons and reached the upper Marne at two places between Chalons and Vitry.

Troops were less than 50 miles from Verdun where a younger Marshal Petain congealed in the slogan: "They shall not pass." The Americans and British bridgeheads on the Seine northwest of Paris were welded into a solid front of 25 to 30 miles when

Russians In Sight Of Ploesti Oil Fields

MOSCOW, Aug. 29 (AP)—Swift Russian drives through Romania approached the great oil center of Ploesti and Bucharest today as one army poured across a 75-mile stretch on the Danube and another knifed 15 miles inside Hungarian-held Transylvania. Hungarian and German troops were reported massing in Transylvania, the 16,642 square mile section of Romania which Hitler gave to Hungary in 1940. The sudden Russian push through passes in the Carpathians gave the Red army the good base town of Breiscu on a railroad and highway. (The German said the Russians had captured Buzau, 40 miles northeast of Ploesti and 60 miles from Bucharest. Buzau is a rail and road junction 60 miles west of Braila, the large Danube port which the Russians captured last night.)

The entire Danube delta was in Russian hands and troops which crossed the Danube on a wide front were racing for the Black Sea port of Constantia and the roads leading to Bucharest from the east and northeast.

The Russians captured a large flotilla on the Danube and each hour, new ships were arriving on the Danube and Black Sea coast behind Russian lines, flying the Red flag. Already the Ploesti oil field derricks, north of the city, were in sight of Russian troops. Cosacks, tanks and motorized infantry on the plains before the Romanian capital ranged close to the city of 650,000, feeling out German resistance.

Other Russians deep in captured Romania edged within 45 miles of Brasov, 12th city of the kingdom with 62,000 people, and seriously menaced any chance the Germans might have for a stand.

Hearings To Get Underway Sept. 9

DALLAS, Aug. 29 (AP)—Hearings on contesting delegations to the state democratic convention to be held here Sept. 12 probably will get under way before a subcommittee of the state executive committee on Sept. 9, Charles E. Simons of Austin, executive committee secretary, said today.

Simons was in Dallas with Jay Phillips of Houston, chairman of a subcommittee on convention arrangements, to inspect the fair park auditorium, where the convention will be held.

Counties which have notified the executive committee that contesting delegations will seek convention seats, Simons said, are Dallas, Tarrant, El Paso and Harrison.

Simons said personnel of the subcommittee to hear contests had not been named, that Committee Chairman George Butler of Houston would name the sub-group later.

Conferees Announce General Agreement On Form Of Organization

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Dumbarton Oaks conferees announced today "general agreement" on the form of an international security organization, including a council composed of big powers plus a number of smaller nations.

The conferees declined to amplify the announcement made or to say specifically in a joint statement what authority should be given to the small powers on the council in relation to the big nations.

The joint statement said: "After a week of discussions, the three heads of delegations are happy to announce that there is general agreement among them to recommend that the proposed international organization for peace and security should provide for:

"1. An assembly composed of representatives of all peace-loving nations based on the principle of sovereign equality.

"2. A council composed of smaller number of members in which the principal states will be joined by a number of other states to be elected periodically.

"3. Effective means for the peaceful settlement of disputes including an international court of justice for the adjudication of justiciable questions, and also the applications of such other means as may be necessary for maintenance of peace and security.

Rio Grande River On 20 Foot Rise

McALLEN, Aug. 29 (AP)—All streams along the Lower Rio Grande watershed today were discharging heavily into the already swollen river while a rise larger than had been earlier reported was rolling downstream from Laredo.

J. L. Lytel of San Benito, international boundary commission engineer, said the Laredo flow was 80,000 cubic feet per second this morning. A report from Laredo said the river reached a stage of 20 feet during the morning and was slowly inundating irrigation pumping pits in the Laredo area, and that additional rain there last night brought the total since Aug. 21 to 3.25 inches.

Lytel said the flow at Rio Grande City was 58,000 second feet and rising. The overflow from an earlier rise was still coursing through floodways in the lower valley, and was falling slightly, but there was prospect that it would increase when the new rise comes down.

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 29 (AP)—Rains which over the weekend have ranged from three to fourteen inches today threatened crops and flood conditions in parts of South Texas, since the breaking of a two-months drought. Rains on the Nueces, all the way from the edge of the Edwards Plateau where it rises, have swollen that stream which crosses the San Antonio-Laredo highway at Cotulla.

Man Qualifies For Unluckiest Citizen

LUFKIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—H. H. Stanford, manager of an ice plant, believes he can qualify as Lufkin's unluckiest citizen.

A year ago he broke a leg in a motorcycle accident. A few months later he slipped at the ice plant and broke it again. Third and fourth breaks followed in falls at home.

Today was the climax. A home he bought six months ago burned with all contents, including clothing.

Allied Troops Kill Or Capture 122,000

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS NEAR THE SEINE, Aug. 29 (AP)—Allied troops killed or captured 122,000 Germans in the great Falaise entrapment, British Second army headquarters disclosed today, and still more thousands of Germans will be added to the toll from the disorganized enemy retreat across the Seine.

The 122,000—including 30,000 killed and 92,000 captured, a third of the latter wounded—represented the bag of American, British and Canadian armies through successive entrapments in the Falaise area up to Aug. 25.

Small Crowd Sees Last Rodeo Performance

Big Spring's ninth annual rodeo passed into history before a frightfully small crowd Monday evening but not without excitement and fast times by ropers despite a heavy arena.

J. B. Hunter, East Vaughn, N. M., who had thrilled audiences in three previous shows with his bull riding ability, met up with Banana Horn, an evil old Brahman, and came near being seriously injured. His spur hung as he finally was thrown and he was dragged under and stepped upon by the bull. Moreover, he was dragged further but finally the sirsingls team put on another snappy and colorful drill with John Lindsey, clown, doing the calling. And John called the dances like "she ain't never been called before."

Derrell Garrett, Sterling City, gave another fine exhibition with his wonder horse, Hogarth. Show leaders in various events were: Cowgirl sponsors—Billie Lou Henson, Lampasas, $150 saddle by Cosden Petroleum Corp.; Mary Harris, Odessa, belt set by Mead's Bakery; Thena Mae Farr, Seymour, belt set by Crawford and Settles hotels; Bianche Allizer,

LONDON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Germany announced officially today the fall of Paris, four days after the fact, asserting in a communique that Nazi strongholds in the French capital "succumbed to enemy superiority."

the troops which crossed at Mantes and Vernon joined hands. The assault front pushed 11 miles north of the Seine almost to the Rouen-Paris highway. American armor, racing toward the Ardennes invasion route to Germany and flanking the Nazis' rocket bomb positions, surged across the Marne river at two places today, pushing to the outskirts of Chateau-Thierry and closing the German escape gap across northern France to 76 miles.

One spearhead plunged 16 miles northeast of Meaux to Couvergnon. These U.S. Third army units were within 10 miles of the forest of Compiègne where the first world war armistice was signed and where Adolf Hitler forced his terms on France in 1940.

The second breaching of the Marne occurred 10 miles east of Meaux. Crossing on bridges captured at La Ferté-Sous-Jouarre, that force continued driving upstream and its advance elements were reported to have reached Chateau-Thierry, 13 miles away, where American troops won a historic victory on June 21, 1918.

The whole 85-mile Third army assault east of Paris was swinging north to within 20 miles away from the first world war seige citadel of Reims.

Second Quad Dies

GAINESVILLE, Ga., Aug. 29 (AP)—A second quadruplet son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Lee died today at Hall county memorial hospital.

The infant was the third-born of four boys, born prematurely Sunday night to the 23-year-old wife of a farmer now serving in the army. The first-born, weighing 2 pounds 14 ounces, died last night.

Attending physicians said the remaining two boys were in good condition and were expected to survive.

The father, 25-year-old anti-tank gunner stationed at Camp Blanding, Fla., was expected at the hospital this afternoon on emergency furlough.

Mrs. Lee, in good condition, had not been told of the death of the two babies.

War Lords Make Appeal To Nips

By LEONARD MILLIMAN Associated Press War Editor Japanese war lords appealed to industrialists and workers today to produce more planes and more munitions to stem the American air offensive pounding along the northern and southern island highways to Japan.

Tokyo radio warned that Nippon's reputedly-tight innermost defense line would be impregnable only so long as planes were available to furnish air support.

The imperial command was receiving a continuous demonstration of the consequences of lost air power in the southwest Pacific where almost unmoled Allied bombers continued their month-long average of putting five Japanese ships a day out of commission. Eleven were knocked out Sunday, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today, including seven off the Celebes.

Premier Kuniaki Koiso's government drafted new air production and armament plans as Aleutian-based bombers made three new strikes at the Kuriles, northern road to Tokyo. Japanese fighter planes watched from a safe distance as U. S. bombs burst on Onnekofan.

The Bonin-Volcano island group on the southern approaches to Tokyo, apparently drew a breathing spell. American warplanes hit farther south at islands lying between their Marianas island bases and Tokyo or the Philippines.

Nipponese ground troops pressed an offensive against potential U. S. air bases in the west, within easy bomber range of Japan. There Japanese threatened Lihui in China's coastal province of Chekiang.

Political Probe Opens In House

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—The house campaign expenses committee today began a drive to uncover "slush funds" and find out who contributes how much to the campaigns of candidates in the November elections.

Labor and industry will be called before the group. Yesterday the committee quizzed Sidney Hillman, of the CIO's Political Action Committee and drew from him a vigorous defense of charges that the PAC is "communist-engineered from the top down."

Hillman said the PAC is backing the Roosevelt-Truman ticket and seeks to elect a "progressive congress." He emphasized however that it will not contribute funds to the democratic national committee.

The PAC, he said, is non-partisan and might support a republican in any given campaign. In fact, he said, the CIO in 1937 gave $5,000 to support Thomas E. Dewey in his race for district attorney in New York.

With the assurance from Hillman that he would give the committee regular reports on the PAC's drive to obtain $5,000,000 from CIO members at a dollar each, the committee, headed by Rep. Anderson (D-NM) announced that officials of the National Association of Manufacturers would be questioned at its next meeting, the date for which has not been set.

Fighters Race Over Europe For 3rd Straight Day

LONDON, Aug. 29 (AP)—American fighters raced at tree-top levels over France and the low countries and into Germany today for the third straight day, bombing and strafing transport targets and airfields in a ceaseless effort to bring enemy movement between the west front and the German frontier to a dead halt.

Knifing through a low ceiling, American and British fighter bombers based in France swept strongpoints ahead of the advancing Americans and British troops.

The scope of their operations was not announced immediately. However, they probably did not approach those of the past two days.

In that period Ninth U.S. Air Force fighter bombers alone knocked out 726 enemy motor vehicles, 258 railroad cars, 23 tanks, 53 ammunition carriers, and 21 locomotives.

British Mosquitoes bombed rail and road transport from the mouth of the Seine to the German border all through the night, in continuation of the round-the-clock Allied air assault.

Other squadrons of these hard-hitting speedsters, armed with everything from bullets to two-ton bombs, heaped new destruction on one of the last Seine crossing points available to Nazi remnants upstream from Rouen. Still others blasted the German city of Essen, home of the Krupp armament works.

The weather continued spotty over France today but it was more worse than yesterday when more than 800 American fighters hammered German rail, highway and river transport in five countries.

Nazis Retire To Gothic Defenses

By NOLAND NORGAARD ROME, Aug. 29 (AP)—Forward elements of the Eighth army, advancing along the entire eastern half of the Italian front, have pushed at one point to within three miles of the formidable concrete and steel fortifications of the Nazis' Gothic line. Allied headquarters disclosed today.

A communique announced infantry and tanks had surged forward throughout the sector, with Polish forces on the coast occupying the town of Fanz and establishing a line on the southern bank of the Arilla river. Further inland other units punched across that stream.

It appeared, however, the enemy's voluntary withdrawal had ended as the Nazis settled themselves into the prepared defenses on which thousands of men have toiled in recent months.

Apparently fearful the Allied command was preparing to strike across the Arno at a number of points, the Germans called upon their carefully hoarded air force to bomb and strafe several points in the Fifth army sector west of Florence.

SENATOR ILL McCOOK, Neb., Aug. 29 (AP)—George W. Norris, 85-year-old former veteran independent United States senator from Nebraska, suffered a cerebral hemorrhage early today. His physician reported he is unconscious but resting easily.

Lieutenant Takes 946 Nazi Troops

GRENOBLE, Aug. 25 (Delayed) (AP)—A German formation of 946 troops surrendered today to a 24-year-old American lieutenant, Clarence E. Coggins of Poteau, Okla., whom they had captured a short time before.

The Nazis were members of a division which the French said had been using ruthless methods in attempting to combat patriot activities, and apparently surrendered to the American for fear of what might happen if they fell into French hands.

When the captives were brought into Grenoble a crowd gathered menacingly about them and had to be restrained by American military police.

Coggins was captured Wednesday night while on reconnaissance northeast of Grenoble.

"They put me with 11 of my men who were captured, but when they learned I was an officer they called me over for a conference with their officers," he said.

Eventually their commanding officer, a major, asked Coggins to take the surrender offer over the lines. Coggins made the trip accompanied by a German officer.

Later he returned to the German with the terms from his battalion commander that they lay down all arms and come in their own vehicles.

The Germans did so early today.

New Officers Elected For Woman's Missionary Society

Mrs. L. E. Hutchins Will Be President For Coming Year

New officers were elected at the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church Monday afternoon when the group met for a business meeting at the church.

Mrs. L. E. Hutchins was elected president and Mrs. O. D. Turner was named recording secretary. Mrs. Inez Lewis will serve as corresponding secretary and treasurer. Young People's leader will be Mrs. Dick O'Brien and Mrs. Della K. Agnell will be publicity chairman.

Mrs. W. J. Alexander, retiring president, presided at the meeting and thanks were given to her for her faithful service as president of the group for the past four years.

The business session included reports given by circle leaders and committee chairmen. Mrs. Dick O'Brien gave a report on young people's work and Mrs. W. R. Creighton gave a report on Missions.

Contribution to the Ministerial Relief Fund was totaled at $120. Members voted to send $30 to Buckner's orphan home.

Plans were also made for entertainments to be given visitors expected during the Big Spring Baptist association meet which will convene here September 8th.

Mrs. Creighton gave the opening prayer and the meeting was closed by prayer.

Those present were Mrs. R. D. Uirey, Mrs. Theo. Andrews, Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. A. L. Hobbs, Mrs. Ernest Hock, Mrs. Creighton, Mrs. Ernest Hock, Mrs. Creighton, Mrs. W. D. Buchanan, Mrs. W. W. Ohio Scientist Finds Vitamin Treatment For Hay Fever Distress

News of vital interest to thousands of hay fever victims comes from an Ohio college laboratory, where Vitamin C has been used with amazing success to check the distress and suffering of hay fever.

Under scientific observation, 25 annual sufferers were given this vitamin in generous amounts. All but 3 experienced relief from their usual discomfort—ranging from marked improvement to almost complete absence of unpleasant symptoms.

The eminent scientist in charge of this study believes Vitamin C may help the body get rid of excessive histamine, a substance held to be responsible for the nose and eye irritation in hay fever attacks.

Wheatamin CEVIGARDS represent a convenient way to obtain pure Vitamin C in the amounts reported effective. The vitamin is incorporated in tablets made with a natural B-Complex base which provides a dietarily nutritive value. Ask for CEVIGARDS by name—and get a free leaflet giving full directions at Collins Bros. Drug and Walgreen Drug Store in Big Spring.

What's New In Coats, Suits

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Fashion Editor

WHAT'S NEW IN COATS:

Three-quarter length fur-trimmed wool coats. Some are loose and boxy, with tuxedo closing. Some are swagger and belted in the manner of the officer's coat.

Fur tuxedos—big news on the coat front. Loose, roomy sleeves with turned-back cuffs. Easy to slip on over suits—cut in the manner of the 1944 fur coats.

Two-tone coats. They look like two-piece suits at first glance, with colored top, black or brown skirt. Usually they're belted.

Coats that are half fur, half cloth. Doublet sleeves.

Bright colors for town coats—fuchsia or kelly green, for instance. Suit and coat ensembles, sold separately, of course.

WHAT'S NEW IN SUITS:

Softer tailoring, longer jackets. A new look of elegance; a departure from the casual, mannish classic.

Fur-trimmed tuxedo suits. Fasciful lapels—sometimes petal-shaped, sometimes rolled. Two-tone suits—jacket one color, skirt another.

Tunic suits. High colors—the rainbow is the limit.

Slim, slit skirts. Shoulders wider than ever.

Dressmaker details and a ladylike look.

PIN-WORMS Now can be Beaten!

The misery of Pin-Worms has been known for centuries, and many doctors have sought a way to deal with this dreadful pest that lives and grows inside the human body.

Today, thanks to an important scientific discovery, a new and highly effective treatment is being hailed by medical authorities. It is based on a remarkable drug known as gentian violet. This drug is the vital element in P-W, the new Pin-Worm tablet developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines.

P-W makes it unnecessary for you or your child to suffer in silence with the embarrassing rectal itch caused by Pin-Worms, or to take chances on the real distress they often create. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets set in a special way to destroy Pin-Worms.

So watch for possible warning signs such as: itching seat and nose, uneasy stomach, bed-wetting, nervous fretting. If you suspect Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for a package of P-W and follow the simple directions carefully. It is easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Thanks To Voters Of Precinct No. 4 and Friends Throughout the County

Since it is impossible to personally thank all those who supported and voted for me in the run-off primary Saturday, I take this means to express my appreciation for the democratic nomination as county commissioner from precinct No. 4.

The size of the vote makes me doubly appreciative, and increases my impression of responsibility. As commissioner I want to serve every person in the precinct and to serve the county well. I shall need your help to do the job as best I know how.

Have Patience Don't Scold Him

(Prepared by the Staff of the Child Study Association of America, Inc.)

AP Features

When your baby is twelve or fifteen months old, start training him to be dry. Take him to the toilet when he seems to need it, or about every two hours. Soon he will begin to tell you when he wants to go.

Slowly he will learn that it is more comfortable to be dry, and more satisfying too, since he knows you want him that way.

He may still be wet at night and perhaps during his nap for some time to come. He may be three or more before he stays dry all night. Only if your child wets his bed well past this age should you be concerned. If he does, talk it over with your doctor, for in an older child it may be a sign that he needs special help.

Remember not to force Johnny beyond what he can do. Too much pressure in these things can easily make him stubborn and resentful. He will begin to say "No" to everything you ask of him, because in this one thing you have asked too much.

Scolding or punishing won't teach Johnny to stay dry. It will only make him less anxious than ever to please you.

Help him work it out at his own pace, when he is ready for it and able to begin to share the responsibility.

This is the surest way to help him learn. This is discipline at its best.

Shine Philips Gives Informal Talk At The Post Hospital

Shine Philips gave an informal lecture on the "Development of West Texas" when he was guest artist Monday evening at the post hospital on the weekly program of the Red Cross Hospital Entertainment Committee.

Mrs. G. R. Paulsen and Mrs. William C. Patterson were hostesses and distributed cigarettes donated by the Red Cross to the 35 patients present. Cold drinks were donated by the Officers Wives club.

Next Monday's program will be a novel radio show including a large cast under the supervision of Lt. William C. Patterson, S-Sgt. Dale Francis and Cpl. William Mavromatis.

Committee members will meet Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Harry Kelly at 1812 Main.

Bible Study Is Directed By Mrs. Hurt At Meeting

The themes "Faith" and "Every Christian an Ambassador for Christ" were carried out in the lesson study directed by Mrs. Harry Hurt when the Presbyterian Auxiliary met Monday afternoon at the church.

The study was taken from the fifth chapter of Corinthians.

Those present were Mrs. S. L. Baker, Mrs. R. T. Piner, Mrs. R. L. Carpenter, Mrs. A. A. Porter, Mrs. T. S. Currie, Mrs. G. D. Lee, Mrs. James E. Moore, Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. L. A. Roby, Mrs. D. A. Koons, Mrs. R. V. Middleton, Mrs. F. H. Talbot.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Clayton, Jr., with their children, Dorothy Claire and A. P. III, are visiting here this week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Nummy and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Clayton and with other relatives.

JOIN GULF'S "Anti-Breakdown" Club TODAY!

BEFORE THIS WAR IS OVER, there may be only two kinds of people in America...

1. those who can still get to work in automobiles,
2. those who are forced to walk.

If you want to be in the fortunate group who will still be riding to work in automobiles, join Gulf's "Anti-Breakdown" Club today. How do you do it? Just come in for Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan!

This plan was conceived by experts in car care. Gulf developed it because car maintenance is a most important civilian job.

Here's Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan...

- 1 Guards 39 danger points!
- 2 Gives you a cleaner, smoother-running motor!
- 3 Scratches precious gasoline coupons!
- 4 Get an appointment at your Gulf Station....

GULF'S Protective Maintenance Plan includes Gulf's Registered Lubrication which reaches up to 39 vital points with six different Gulf-Lubricants that reduce wear, and lengthen your car's life.

IT'S IMPORTANT to give your car a good motor oil. Gulf offers two outstanding oils: Gulfride, "The World's Finest Motor Oil," and Gulfube, an extra-quality oil costing a few cents less.

AIR-FILTER, spark-plug cleaning, and radiator flushing help stretch mileage. Clean air filters make gas burn more economically; clean plugs increase power; a clean radiator prevents overheating.

HELP YOUR Gulf Dealer do a thorough job—make an appointment in advance. Phone him at the station. Then you should encounter no delay in getting Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan... 15 services in all!

Bishop FitzSimon Delivers Jubilee Sermon At Meeting

CASTROVILLE, Aug. 29 (AP)—The 46th annual meeting of the Catholic State League opened here today as Castroville marked the centenary of its founding by a group of colonists from Alsace-Lorraine.

In his jubilee sermon prepared for delivery to the league meeting in the Most Rev. Laurence Fitz-Simon, D. D., bishop of Amarillo, recalled how the colonists, under the leadership of Henri Castro, arrived at the site of the city on Sept. 3, 1844.

Most of his sermon dealt with the history of St. Louis church and parish here. He said that Castroville's "history as a political entity and county center is buried in old archives," but added: "She has become a flourishing center of spiritual life."

Also on the morning session of the two-day program was a pontifical mass, the celebrant Most Rev. Robert E. Lucey, archbishop of San Antonio.

Archbishop Lucey and the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Luigi L. Ligutti, director of the national Catholic rural life conference, were to speak later in the day.

Hawaiians expressed a desire to become the 49th state of the United States as early as 1896.

McEwen Sworn In As Head Of American Legion

The American Legion post here will be dedicated to the cause of preparing a place for "our boys when they return home," R. B. McEwen, new post commander, said in an address following his induction Monday evening.

He pointed out that the Legion would have a potential membership of 2,000 after the war and not only envisioned opportunities but responsibilities.

"An organization of that size can be a powerful force for right or wrong," he said. "If our power is not for good, then our organization will have no right to exist."

Sworn in with McEwen were J. C. Douglass, Jr., adjutant; Alvin Cliff Wiley, second vice; Ike McGann, third vice; C. S. Blomshield, fourth vice; Dewey Martin, sergeant at arms; and Cecil Collings, chaplain.

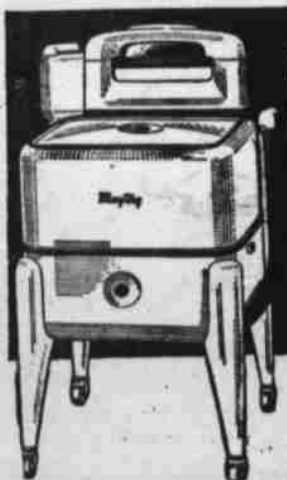

C. L. Rowe, retiring commander, inducted McEwen, who once before held the post commandership here, and was in turn presented with a past commander's pen by McEwen.

Junior calf roping — Bobby Cathey 66.7.

Although it will be several days yet before all bills are in, rodeo officials were hopeful that the show may approximately break even despite the slim attendance Monday night.

M. M. Edwards and Charlie Creighton, who worked long and hard to make the show a success, told Jimmie Greene, chamber of commerce manager and who headed up the event, that "even if we had to dig down and pay a little we still think that it is worth it. It was a good show and a fine thing for the community." This was typical of many comments on the quality of the performance, which some believed the best Big Spring had ever had.

Politics Out Of Security Meeting

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull said today that he and John Foster Dulles, the republican foreign policy advisor, had agreed that the problem of establishing an international peace and security organization "must be kept out of politics."

The comment by Hull was a further interpretation of the statement which Dulles, as a representative of republican presidential nominee Thomas Dewey, and the secretary issued last Friday after three successive meetings on world security.

Negro Fined $100 In County Court

A fine of $100 and costs was imposed on Sam Banks, Jr., negro, by Judge James T. Brooks after Banks had entered a plea of guilty to a charge of aggravated assault.

He had been taken into custody following the slaying of his wife, Daisy Nell Banks, Sunday evening at Sam's Cafe in the "flats" section of northwest Big Spring.

In statement to Police Chief A. G. Mitchell and Capt. Ken Manuel, Banks said he procured a butcher knife when his wife refused to let him see their children and wielded it against her. She was not seriously hurt, although suffering stab wounds in the back. In his statement to officers, the defendant said he had been drinking and that he and his wife had been separated.

The case was transferred to the county for action.

Polish Premier Is Asked To Head Govt.

LUBLIN, Poland, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Soviet-sponsored Polish committee of national liberation has asked Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, premier of the exiled Polish regime in London, to head a unified provisional Polish government, committee President Edward Boleslaw Osobka-Morawski has announced.

Mikolajczyk has not yet replied to this suggestion, Osobka-Morawski said yesterday at a press conference in Lublin.

Osobka-Morawski disclosed that the national committee also offered places in a unified government to three other members of the Polish regime in London. The committee's plan for the new government was presented to Mikolajczyk during his mission to Moscow early in August. Mikolajczyk had delayed a decision until he could consult with his colleagues in London, the committee president said.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—Two New York newspapers, the Times and the Herald Tribune, announced today the reopening of their Paris offices.

Brest has been an important French port of war since the days of Richelieu.

German Begin To Leave Bulgaria

LONDON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Reports that the Germans have started withdrawing troops from peace-seeking Bulgaria coincided today with Istanbul dispatches suggesting that American-British armistice terms already have been received by Allied diplomats there for relay to Sofia.

The Moscow radio, quoting the Bulgarian news agency, said the Germans were beginning to move out of Bulgaria and asserted the withdrawal would be completed within a few days.

"Disarming of German troops crossing the Bulgaria-Romania frontier is going on," the broadcast added.

Daughter Of Local Couple Has Part In Current Film

Sp. 3-C (P.R.) Mary Elizabeth Turner, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. W. E. Turner of Big Spring, is reported to have a prominent part in a short subject Spar recruiting film showing here currently at the Ritz theatre. The picture, made late last year, deals with the induction and training of Spars.

S 3-C Turner entered the Spars July 22, 1943, and received her boot training at Palm Beach, Fla. She is now with the public relations office in Boston, Mass.

Maj. Turner, stationed at the Big Spring Bomber school, and his wife also have a son, Wright Turner, in the armed forces. Wright is in the navy V-12 at Purdue University.

Gins Qualifying For Fall Season Permits

Gins, compresses and other cotton processors in this area are in the midst of qualifying for permits for the 1944 ginning season. G. W. Chowns, bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, said Tuesday.

Gins in particular must qualify in operational respects to handle cotton since Howard is in a limited pink bollworm quarantine area.

Here 'n There

Two youths reportedly entered a trailer house parked on South Gregg street Monday and made away with gasoline coupons covering 800 gallons, police reported.

Harry Hurt is convinced that he can't comprehend the operational mysteries of a rodeo. Signing checks as chamber of commerce vice-president and treasurer, he was impressed with this fact: "First I write a check to a man for being thrown off a bronc. Then I write one to have him picked up. Next I write a check to a performer for tying a calf and then to another man to untie it."

John M. Cochran has reported loss of ration books from his home at 507 State, police said Tuesday.

FOR LITTLE BOYS

Sport suits, sport shirts, sweaters; slacks, fingertip reversible coats, loafer coats, sports coat and slack ensembles, wash suits, union suits and brown moc oxfords

FOR BIG BOYS

Suits, knicker, sports coats, dress shirts, sweaters, melton jackets; wing-tip oxfords.

FOR LITTLE GIRLS

Shirts, sweaters, blouses, corduroy jumpers, reversible coats, Fall and Winter coats, dresses, dainty slips, practical union suits and plain toe oxfords.

FOR BIG GIRLS

Dresses, skirts, sweaters, jerseys, suits, slacks, jumpers, jackets; Mooses, slacks, hots, Chesterfield coats, suits, shirts, and casual shoes...in smart styles.

Mother took us shopping last week and bought our school clothes where she always does—Montgomery Ward. She likes to go there because she can buy us complete outfits for such a small amount of money, and because they last for a long, long time. We like to go there, too, because Wards have the clothes that kids like best—the sweaters and skirts and longies and reversibles that the whole crowd goes for! Only nicer-looking than most! That's why we can say, without bragging, that "with our new Ward clothes...we're the best-dressed kids in school."

P. S. Mother says it's so easy to pay for the clothes she buys at Wards. Any $10 purchase will open a monthly payment account.

Series Talk Legitimate In League Clubhouses

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

World series talk was legitimate business in four American league clubhouses today after a routine post-season planning session in Commissioner K. M. Landis' office but the four contenders were more interested in vacuum-cleaning the bushes, looking for another starting pitcher.

If there was a footloose hurler in the minors who could win in the big show, operators of the St. Louis Browns, Boston Red Sox, New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers would be very much interested.

Lord Byron Nelson Heads South To Pick Up More Links Gold

CHICAGO, Aug. 29 (AP)—Lord Byron Nelson, the big money man of golf, headed south today to pick up more links gold.

The tall Texan who said he played "just as well as I could have possibly played" to win $13,462.50 in war bonds in the all-American open yesterday, departed today for Nashville, Tenn., where he will compete in the $10,000 Invitational open Sept. 1-4.

In chalking up his third win since George S. May inaugurated his all-American golf show in 1941, Nelson posted a 289 score for the 72-hole route, finishing with a three-under-par 69 to discourage challengers who believed they had a chance after the champion turned in a third round 73.

Ed Dudley, president of the P. G. A., came from far back in the pack to get a final round 69 good for a 285 total and second place. The husky P. G. A. prey was a stroke ahead of Pvt. Buck White, who lost a title playoff a year ago to Harold (Jug) McSpaden. McSpaden, who won the 1943 championship with 282, dropped to ninth place with a 76 for 289.

Although the open and women's championships were decided yesterday, three amateurs—Ed Furgol of Detroit, Ken Helleman, the St. Louis chemist, and Ed Christiansen, the golfing detective from Miami, Fla.—were involved in an 18-hole playoff today for the slamon-pure title. They were deadlocked at 72 holes with 295 totals.

Little Betty Hicks, of Long Beach, Calif., won the women's 72-hole championship with a 318 total, a bare stroke in front of Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia. Nelson's rich first prize in the open brought his total 1944 cash earnings to $25,700, topping the previous record of $19,600 by Siammin' Sammy Snead back in 1938.

Nelson and many of the other leading professionals will make their next appearance at Nashville. Then they'll move on to the $13,333 Invitational tournament at Dallas, Sept. 8-10, which will end the summer tour.

Lugging Ball Beats Slugging The Enemy

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29 (AP)—Lugging a football beats slugging the enemy, says bronzed ex-Marine Jack Sugarman who is trying for a berth on the Temple University varsity eleven.

Sugarman, credited with killing 125 Japanese in defense of Guadalcanal and wearer of the Navy Cross, said "that was no thrill—that was just business."

"I want to feel again that thrill which comes when I bring a man to earth with a good tackle or pick a forward pass out of the air," he said. "That ticks killing a thousand Japs."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—The recently-revised discussion of whether a match play provides a true test of golfing ability, leaves this corner cold. . . . The argument against match play is that a player can blow a couple of holes with 7's or 8's and still win. . . .

But in a 72-hole medal tournament, the guy who ruins a round that way still has three chances to make it up, so what's the difference. . . . After expending a lot of thought on a scoring system that would give credit both for match play victories and medal scores, we found no way of making allowances for the ability to win when the chips are down, and it's human fallibility that makes golf interesting. . . . Any good mechanic could devise a machine that would shoot better than Byron Nelson, but no-one would put up 10,000 prize money for it to win.

One-minute sports page—Blake Harper, concessions manager at Sportman's Park, is moaning about the prospective shortage of pop corn for the world series. . . . What could be worse is an over-supply of pop files. . . . Middle-weight George Kochan, recently discharged from the coast guard, has received enough offers to keep him busy fighting every ten days all winter. . . . Marine trainee Ed Bush, who'll play tackle for Penn State this fall, will be performing for his third alma mammy. He captained the Minnesota freshmen in 1942 and played for Northwestern last year. . . . Tip: The Navy grid squad is so strong that Ralph Ellsworth, a regular at Texas U. last season, isn't working with either of the first two backfields.

Service dept.—A recent change in Navy regulations should help the pre-flight schools during their early grid games. It says that future pilots, after completing their courses, will be pooled at the pre-flights instead of at primary stations. . . . Sgt. Dave Rowe, who followed the Kearns Field, Utah, Eagles to Wichita, Kas., for the national semi-pro baseball tourney, reports there were more major leaguers playing there than in the big leagues. The service teams included about 100 players with big league experience while the majors hardly can boast that many genuine big leaguers.

Utah To See First Pro Game Tonight

OGDEN, Utah, Aug. 29 (AP)—Utah will see its first professional football game tonight when the Washington Redskins meet Brooklyn's Tigers—and some 16,000 fans are expected to show up at Ogden stadium to find out how the play-for-pay boys do it.

Coach Dud De Groot sent the Redskins through "T" formation specialties twice yesterday on the Ogden gridiron. His star, Quarterback Sammy Baugh, nursed a charley horse picked up Saturday when Washington snared its opener over March Field of California, 7 to 3. However, Sammy opined there was nothing wrong with his slinging arm and an air full of flying footballs was in prospect.

Pete Cawthon's Brooklyn crew ran through a final workout yesterday at Denver University and entrained for Ogden. The Tigers lapped an all-star service team in Texas, 34-13, in their opener Saturday.

Cashion's Dream To Come True This Fall

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 29 (AP)—Red-headed Jim Cashion, born on the campus of Texas A. and M. college, is going to realize his ambition of playing football with the Aggies.

"He's had a football in his hands all his life," says his father, M. L. Cashion, secretary of the college YMCA, who was not a grizzer in his college days but did a neat job of pitching on the baseball nine at Erskine College in South Carolina.

Jim, 17, was for four years a star back at A. and M. consolidated high school. He graduated last June and entered A. and M. and reported for football. Coach Homer Norton considers the 160-pound youngster the best prospect to do the Aggies passing this fall.

The elder Cashion came to the college in 1926. He formerly was coach at Austin College, and while there tutored Dr. Homer P. Rainey, now president of the University of Texas, in baseball and tennis, two sports Rainey starred in after his college days as a student.

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 29 (AP)—Luck of the draw pitted Medalist Billy Smith, Hillsboro city champion, against Defending Titlist L. M. Crannell Jr., Dallas, as match play began today over the Brackenridge Park course in the state junior golf tournament.

Smith, darkhorse winner, shot a three under par 68 over a rain-soaked course yesterday to cap medal honors by a five-stroke margin.

Crannell was not forced to qualify but he played the medal round in an effort to help Dallas win team honors. San Antonio won the team title, with a 290 score and Dallas was second.

Tied for second in medal play were Gene Towry, 15-year-old Dallas golfer, and Gilbert Cavanaugh, Brackenridge high school champ from San Antonio. Each shot a 73.

Qualifying scores and pairings for the championship flight include: Billy Smith, 68, Hillsboro, vs. L. M. Crannell, Jr., 80, Dallas. Bill Maxwell, 77, Abilene, vs. Gene Darby, Jr., 86, Pharr. Herbert Reid, Jr., 72, Lockhart vs. Bill Gilmartin, 83, Fort Worth. Chester Hauser, 74, Kerrville, vs. Don Millender, 82, Dallas. Charles Tims, 77, Dallas, vs. Layton Young, 86, Arlington.

Witness Called In Hunt Murder Trial

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 29 (AP)—The first witness was called today in the trial of Jim Thomas, 50, paroled convict charged with murder in the slaying of Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield, last Oct. 26.

The testimony stage was reached after completion last night of a jury which included nine farmers and three automobile dealers. Eighty-six veniremen were examined.

Thomas, arrested at Galveston, Oct. 27, 1943, the day after the mutilated bodies of Dr. and Mrs. Hunt were found on a bed at their home, pleaded innocent when arraigned in Lamb county. He is charged only in the death of Dr. Hunt. At the time of his arrest, Thomas was on parole from Texas state prison where he had been serving a five-year sentence from Lubbock county following conviction on a charge of assault to murder.

Officers Named For State Association

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Miss Laura A. Hobby of Dallas and Mrs. Herbert P. Gambrell of Dallas, were elected vice-chairman and secretary, respectively, of the Texas State Library and Historical Association for the coming year.

Meeting here yesterday, the commission also elected John Gould of Wichita Falls as chairman. The commission recommended that a building to house the state library and archives be included in post-war state planning. The library and valuable archives are now housed in the capitol.

Wartime "Bag-O-Tricks" to get more light from your lamps

- Retine Dark Shades: Dark shades absorb light. You can retine them with white paper easily and at small cost. You'll be surprised at the improvement.
- Move Lamp Closer: You can double the light on your book or sewing by moving the lamp one-half closer. Keep lamps close as practical for better seeing.
- Use Right Size Bulbs: It's no economy to strain your eyes under a lamp with a small bulb. Poor light tires your eyes and lowers efficiency.

LT. DOWDEN GETS LEG WOUND, THEN BREAKS IT IN JUMP

For outstanding bravery above and beyond the call of duty, First Lt. Richard J. Morrow of Madison, Wis., has been awarded the Silver Star. He already held the Air Medal with seven clusters for meritorious achievement in the Middle Eastern, African and Italian theatres.

The Distinguished Service Cross, the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with three clusters have been awarded to 1st Lt. James N. Cathey of Lubbock, Tex., who returned home in May from England, where he completed 25 missions against the enemy. After a leave spent here, Lt. Cathey returned to England.

In the skies over Schweinfurt, Germany, the day the ball bearing plant was destroyed by Yank bombardiers was Lt. Leland A. Dowden of Little Rock, Ark. That was October 14 and Lt. Dowden has been a prisoner of war ever since. When his plane was shot down, the lieutenant bailed out. He was shot below the left knee, and when he landed he received a double compound fracture in the same place. He was confined to his hospital bed for five months. By then he was able to walk around with the aid of crutches. In letters to his family, he states that his food, medical treatment and hospital care have been very good, and that his morale is exceptionally high.

Lt. Thomas J. Cunningham of Corning, N. Y., has been missing in action since an operational flight from his base in England over Germany on October 9, 1943. He arrived in England around the first or the middle of August, and in letters to his family had never mentioned that he was participating in any missions, so it is not known whether or not this was his first.

Although 1st Lt. Herbert H. Smith of Chicago, Ill., was injured in a plane crash at Boise, Ida., following his graduation here, he has completed 30 missions against the enemy from England without a single injury and has received the Air Medal with two clusters.

Don't Toss Your Money About; Clerks May Not Find You

Not all people have $440, and those who do are generally more careful with it than the persons who recently mailed that amount in an envelope with either no or an incomplete address.

According to Postmaster Nat Shick, three weeks ago the envelope was posted at the local office with only a man's name on the envelope—no street, no town, no stamp. Through efforts of postoffice clerks, the owner was located and $40 in it returned.

That was three weeks ago. Saturday night someone dropped a billfold in one of the outside mailing boxes. It wasn't wrapped, nor addressed, nor stamped, but it contained a cool $100 in cash. Again the owner was located.

But the postmaster isn't sure that the luck or efficiency of his clerks will continue indefinitely and he urges that people be more careful of their money.

JACK W. HOLT TAKES PART IN INVASION OF SOUTHERN FRANCE

Landing of troops in southern France was "carried out with clockwork precision and we were all gratified," Jack W. Holt, who was on a ship taking part in the invasion, has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Holt of Big Spring.

"Now that this operation is over, I can say that we have been in Italy most of the time getting ready," he wrote. "Everyone on board has had the opportunity to visit Pompeii and a large number have been fortunate enough to go to Rome and many have had audiences with the pope. A few weeks before the invasion the captain allowed us to have picnic parties on the Isle of Capri and there we were able to relax a bit and tour the island and visit the famous Blue Grotto and to swim on the beautiful beaches there. . . ."

"Getting back to the invasion of southern France again, we made our attack in daylight hours of the morning after allowing our air forces to bomb the beaches first. After the first landing we moved our ships in closer to shore and later in the morning we were able to see the big bombers coming in and dropping their bombs on new ground. The bombing was so terrific that the ship actually vibrated from the concussion. All of the battleships and cruisers were right close by and we could see them shelling the beaches and hills all day long." On the ship he was on, men did not see a single enemy plane although some were reported near. "I am sure our air 'umbrella' took care of the enemy planes before they came near enough to even get a good look at us," he wrote. There was not a single casualty in landing of troops from that ship.

The ship was unloaded in one day and left before nightfall. "We don't have any idea as to when we will be coming home again, but we do know that the completion of this operation is one good big milestone that is passed," he wrote.

Farmers Entitled To Buy Lumber

Farmers who buy lumber in Howard county now are entitled to buy small amounts of lumber for essential maintenance and repair of implements and farm service buildings by simply signing an application at the lumber yard, according to L. H. Thomas, chairman of the Howard County Agricultural Conservation committee.

Three hundred board feet is the largest amount that can be obtained from the dealer without first getting a farmers' lumber certificate, Thomas said. Any farmer who needs more than 300 board feet of lumber should apply to the county AAA office at Big Spring for a certificate. The committee has authority to issue farmers' lumber certificates for essential maintenance and repair use and for new construction, other than residences, where the cost is not more than $1,000 per farm per calendar year. The committee also will issue certificates for lumber needed for emergencies. For construction which must be approved by the War Production Board, the ACA Committee receives farmers' applications and makes recommendations but does not issue certificates.

Farmers' lumber certificates rank as certified and rated orders, with ratings as high as any assigned to non-military users, Thomas stated. Dealers can use the ratings when they place orders. In fact, Thomas said, these ratings offer the only opportunity to keep enough lumber in the county to meet our essential farm needs.

The Old Tariff Game

Business Week comes out with an article which says business should be geared to postwar imports of around two and a half billion dollars more annually than was the case before the war.

And while we are thus drinking this stimulating news and reflecting on the good days ahead, the article hastens to slip in paragraph No. 2, namely: "Also, if non-partisan advice from this country's leading economists is followed, tariffs will be reduced on such items as sugar, fresh vegetables (in off seasons), eggs, butter, cheese, meat, wool, and copper, most of which are now protected by tariffs of more than 50 per cent."

Non-partisans, did they say? Well, it may be sure it wasn't a bi-partisan pronouncement, for no self respecting democrat would have been a party to a new tariff crime such as here proposed. We'll lay odds that they can't truthfully say that "non-sectional" advice was evidenced in the proposal.

Scan the list of commodities listed. Without exception, none is a manufactured item. All of them are raw material, and with the exception of copper, they are agricultural items, and copper, like the others, must be processed to take on utility.

We agree that tariffs should be reduced and in most instances even abolished. But we strongly condemn efforts to hold the South in economic bondage or to aggravate the already grievously unfair balance under the guise of promoting international trade. Why not pull the stiffs out from manufactured items, too? Why not let English textiles compete with those produced in our industrial East? Why not let foreign made machinery come in duty free?

Two things have held us back economically and industrially in the South, Southwest and West—oppressive discriminatory freight rates and tariffs. We are making a fight to get relief from the former. We have fought long to keep our agricultural goods from competing in an open market while being obliged to buy our goods from a protected market. If international trade is so precious as to accentuate the open market policy, we recommend it to our brethren in the industrial North and East. We'll go as far as they.

Use The Service More

Many wise farmers make use of the services of our US Experiment Station here. Curiously, those away from here seem often to seek and appreciate the storehouse of information it has more than those of us right at home.

Farmers who are really interested in doing better at their business may find the answer to many of their problems already on tap at the station. Others certainly can find many a shortcut to feeding success by consulting records of feeding tests. We cannot understand why there should be any hesitancy about making inquiry at the station for after all, the idea is that it shall carry on the experiments and spare the individual the expense and loss of time.

Kay Francis Breaks Into Producing

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — You may shed a tear for many a little woman who takes on the headaches of a producer's job. Don't waste one on Kay Francis. There's one who can take care of herself, and it's on the record.

Kay is to star in and co-produce with Jeffrey Bernard a Monogram trio of films, beginning with "Divorce." She plans to sit in on the first production, to learn the ropes. I'll have no office and I don't want any chi-chi about the thing," she says. It's a way for me to break into the producing end of the business, which is where I want to be.

Well, that settles it. The other producers might as well move over and make room. Miss Francis, the stately dark beauty, may have trouble saying her R's but her diction with S's is perfect.

Around 15 years ago Kay Francis, William Powell and Ruth Chatterton were the bright twinklers of Paramount. One day the Paramount bosses were shocked to learn that their prize babies, all three, had been kidnapped by Warner Bros. There was sputtering, fuming and vitriol in the air, but the deal struck. Kay Francis getting $5,000 a week, "raged one. Para top, why, she isn't worth $500."

Miss Francis had arranged with WB a deal, then rare, to make at least one outside film a year. For that one she picked Trouble in Paradise. No Paramount made it, and no other actress would do—Ernest Lubitsch had prepared it for Kay Francis. Paramount paid, whether sputtering or weekly is not on the record.

In time WB's prize babies had their troubles on the home lot. Miss Chatterton and Powell soon were engaged in warfare with the bosses and departed hastily when their time had been served. Kay's deal was for seven years, the last three without options and she was riding high. But then she, too, lost her rating as teacher's pet. New stars were coming up and Kay Francis was on the books for a

The War Today

By Dewitt Mackenzie
Associated Press War Analyst

We are on the verge of the beaten Hitler's great retreat from western France to the defenses of his own frontier where he plans to fight just as long as he can find men who are willing to risk their lives for him.

Events have moved rapidly during the past few hours. Any chance the Germans may have had of holding the strategic line of the Marne river have been nullified by General Patton's drive to the world war battlefield of Chateau-Thierry, hallowed by the gallantry of our doughboys of a generation ago, and his daring thrust fourteen miles northward from Meux on that river.

This move not only has cut the river, but it has decidedly increased the German danger of being flanked. Meantime westward towards the sea the Canadian-British forces have established another bridgehead across the Seine near the coast, thus increasing the very sure Allied grip on that river.

The Seine and the Marne form a natural defensive barrier across northern France, and it has been the obvious intention of the Hitlerites to make a strong stand there. Now they will have to pull out quickly or suffer another disaster such as has been visited on them in the battle of Normandy.

Actually it will be surprising if the Germans aren't already in the process of withdrawing. Their probable intention is to make their next big defense on the Somme river in the northern tip of France, and perhaps on the Aisne, which forms a more or less continuous front with the Somme.

Whether the Germans will be able to pull up their socks on the Somme is a matter of some question. They are under increasing pressure from the great and exceedingly mobile Allied forces which are bent on trapping the Nazis against the coast of the English Channel. Moreover—and this shouldn't be overlooked—the Allied air forces are taking a terrific toll from all concentrations of enemy troops and from forces moving on the roads.

This serial slaughter of men, destruction of equipment, and the consequent disorganization in Nazi ranks certainly will make it difficult for them to reform for a strong stand on the Somme.

The B-29's smash in the Pacific is another move toward forcing one of our enemies down on its Japanese.

Life's Darkest Moment

Hal Boyle: Correspondent Used His Noggin And Came Out With Paris Story

By HAL BOYLE
RAMBOUILLET, France, Aug. 25 (Delayed AP)—This is how one of the war's outstanding news beats was achieved.

A tiny, dust-covered jeep whirled into the driveway of the Hotel Grand Venex early this afternoon while scores of war correspondents milled about waiting for word when Allied troops would move into Paris.

Don Whitehead, chief of the Associated Press staff in France, unlimbered his six-foot-one-and-a-half inches and climbed stiffly out of the jeep. His face was dusty and streaked with perspiration as he ambled unburdened toward the hotel's lounge, which had been converted into a press room.

"Where you been, Don?" asked one correspondent sitting leisurely on a bench.

"Paris," said Whitehead. Immediately he was surrounded by a surging crowd of correspondents all excitedly asking questions. Whitehead answered as many as he could in a few seconds and then sat down at his typewriter.

In exactly 45 minutes, he pounded out a 1,600-word account of the capture of Paris. It was the first eyewitness story of one of the most dramatic days of the war.

Whitehead's story reached the United States through censorship and normal communications channels Friday afternoon and was published prominently by newspapers across the country. It was ahead of any comparable account to reach the United States.

Whitehead got his beat by a combination of forethought, good luck and drive. He arranged several days ago for the loan of a jeep to get his story and a small reconnaissance plane to fly it back. His driver was a college-trained specialist who speaks French like a native.

Most of the correspondents joined the column trying to reach Paris from the west. Whitehead took another route, went through the small village of Bures Sur Yvettes, southwest of Paris, and encountered the Grand National highway leading into Paris.

"I was tipped by a Frenchman that this was Brig. Gen. Jacques Leclerc's column and knew then that it was a real thrust in force. That was at 2:30 p. m.," he said. "We moved up into the column and at St. Germain turned north toward Paris. We were stopped at Longjumeau by German shelling."

They stayed overnight in a French farm house, but were up at daybreak. The column was held up again by mines and anti-tank defenses at Port d'Orleans. Then, as the defenders broke and the column started into Paris, a French captain stepped up and said that by the order of General De Gaulle and Leclerc no one except the combat force could enter the capital without written permission.

An American colonel said that only the American general commanding the entire operation could issue an order barring non-combatants and Whitehead decided "that gave us a clear right to enter." "I took the wheel and drove back to where the captain stopped me. He gave me the same story, but I just stepped on the gas and drove on in with the column in the fog. We passed through the gates of Paris at 9:57."

BANK WIDE OPEN

NEW YORK (AP)—The main door of a downtown bank stood ajar throughout the week end, but police and bank officials found nothing missing. The open door was not even noticed until discovered by a window cleaner who called police. The mystery was cleared up by the bank porter who said he forgot to lock it Saturday.

RANDOM HARVEST

NEWTON, N. C. (AP)—A farmer agreed to cut a neighbor's hay field for a share of the crop. Two days later he returned to rake and bale the hay.

In the field he was greeted by another man who told him, "thank you for cutting my hay. With all the labor shortage I didn't know how I was going to get it out." The farmer had cut the wrong field.

Reading Ban Lift Is "Hush" Matter

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—Although you will never get them to say anything about it for publication, Army officers here will give you a grin and a wink at any mention of the speed and dispatch with which Congress lifted the ban on reading matter, films and broadcasts going to the soldiers.

Almost without debate in the Senate and with none at all in the House, Congress unanimously took out of the Soldier Vote Bill, Sen. Robert A. Taft's amendment restricting soldiers' reading matter to that which would have no bearing on the coming elections. It was apparent that there was no possibility of controversial debate on the amendment, but Sen. Taft couldn't refrain from expressing the opinion held by many: That the Army by its strict enforcement of the original ban put Congress on the spot as it rarely has been in recent years.

"The War Department," said Sen. Taft, "has not only interpreted the act in a nonsensical manner, but has given the public and the soldiers an entirely erroneous idea of what the act actually does."

Even some of the Democratic members of Congress who ordinarily would feel no pain at all in being one of the Senate's most important Republican leaders discomfited by legislation he had sponsored, admitted privately and with a grin that the senator probably was more than half right.

The War Department started out by issuing what Sen. Taft called "a book of incomprehensible regulations which no commanding officer could interpret." With that as a basis and the threat of $1,000 fine or a year in jail which the act provided for violations, the Army went to work.

First went the books which had the slightest taint of political argument, including even Charles A. Beard's "The Republic." Then went the magazines and in England even the British newspapers.

Just whether any movies were actually put on the banned list isn't clear even now, but it does appear that the report that the film "Wilson" was blacklisted under the act was erroneous. Sen. Taft said the War Department informed him that the more than two-hour length of the film made it impractical for use on Army posts where it is impossible to schedule entertainment of that length.

However, when the Army ban-

Interscholastic League Reason For Good Football Record In Texas

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff

Kid football in Texas has grown into a giant who doesn't know his own strength.

He'll be 25 years old this fall; not too old to have lost his enthusiasm, not too youthful that he doesn't know all the answers.

He represents the Texas Interscholastic League, an organization sponsored by the University of Texas which today has 600 high schools enrolled for a gridiron program that starts in September and ends Christmas week. In normal times—that is, when there's no war—the total is more than 800 schools.

Maybe Texas schoolboys have trouble squaring the hypotenuse but they go through the T formation and the single wing like the breeze that whistles over their prairie country.

The Texas Interscholastic League is the reason the Lone Star state grew into a national football power—a Rose Bowl team, two national champions; gridiron greats like Sammy Baugh, Davey O'Brien, John Kimbrough.

In 24 years 11,561 schools have had teams in the gold medal sports event of the state, playing to packed houses from the first autumn leaves to a new year's icy blast.

In that time an estimated 165,000 boys have performed. And that's making allowances for boys who may have been in interscholastic league teams two or three years and thus were not counted twice.

Coaches of these teams draw $1,000,000 in salaries per year. Athletic equipment costs $320,000 a year. That's an average of $16 per boy.

Then, imagine the added thousands that pay for game administration, handling and printing of tickets and other incidentals. Why, there's been enough pop sold to float a house—and a big house, too. And if all the peanuts were placed end to end, the folks in New York could scoop them up in their front yards.

And attendance! Conservative estimates place the turn-out each week over the state at a quarter of a million fans and that means two and one-half millions for the season, because they play a schedule of ten games not counting the play-offs in December when the top 16 teams of the class AA, or larger schools, get together to decide a champion; the district champions of class A and class B and six-man football—the smaller schools—determine regional titles for the former and bi-district crowns for class B and six-man teams. Each August they hold the world's largest coaching school. From 300 to 400 mentors go to it and hear nationally famous coaches discuss the latest in gridiron strategy. Really, the season starts in Texas in August because from the time the coaching school begins until the schedule opens the latter part of September all you hear is football.

Interest: Say, they'll fight over it down here as much, if not more, than over politics. And Texas politics, as the national democratic convention showed, is a scrapping proposition.

Football has been taken as high as the supreme court. There was the time back in 1937 when Beaumont didn't want Port Arthur to play boys who were in the twelfth grade. Port Arthur case got to the highest tribunal the season was over and the supreme court held the matter was moot. The interscholastic league settled the question for 1938 by voting the 18-year age rule.

In 1931 the league suspended Cisco for using a player it considered ineligible. Cisco took its case to the courts but finally the league was victorious.

It was in 1920 that Roy Bedichek, director, and Roy Henderson, athletic director, of the interscholastic league established the Bureau of High School Football Results. This bureau was set up for the purpose of selecting a state champion. All games were reported to the league office and by comparing scores outstanding teams were picked in various sections of the state. This plan aroused a great deal of interest and the first state championship game was played at Austin, the home of the league office.

Immediately after the 1920 season, Bedichek and Henderson outlined the first football plan which divided the state into 12 districts. The district idea has been used ever since. That first year 229 schools participated in the campaign. The high mark was reached in 1941 when 856 had teams in the field. The two war years have seen the total drop to 647 in 1942 and 616 last year. The fall off was caused by transportation difficulties and the fact that most of the young coaches went off to war and many schools just couldn't get the mentors to carry on.

But this year Athletic Director R. J. Kidd figures on a substantial increase over last season what with transportation difficulties ironed out to a great extent and with older men returning to the coaching ranks to fill the breach. But Texas schoolboy football hasn't been a closed corporation. Schools from this state have gone over the nation to play inter-sectional games—and, we might add, done mighty well at it. Probably the outstanding inter-sectional game was played in 1927 when Waco high beat Lath high of Cleveland in a post-season tilt for what was scheduled as the national schoolboy championship.

Teams have been played from Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona, Massachusetts and other states. Kidd says the state of Illinois probably has as many teams and boys playing as Texas but does not have the championship set-up of the Texas Interscholastic League.

No wonder, then, that this state produces college teams that rank with the best in the nation—that Texas had the national championship outfits of 1938 and 1939 and that in 1935 Southern Methodist University sent a team to the Rose Bowl.

In fact, they have so many football players in Texas, few protest when coaches from other states come down here for material. If all the gridirers in Texas stayed at home the congestion would be terrific.

Gold Coins Sold In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 29 (AP)—Forty thousand dollars' worth of gold coins are being sold to the public daily by the official Bank of Mexico, officials of the institution say. This is not a limit, and the public may buy more, if it wishes.

The bank officials said that the government's selling gold was to encourage saving and increase the value of paper money in circulation by limiting its amount. The final result would be to lower prices and bring down the cost of living.

GI Bill Of Rights Law Provides Aid For Veterans Out Of Work

United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP)—Little interest has been shown by veterans so far in the employment features of the "G.I. Bill of Rights," but with increasing talk of demobilization and industrial reconversion the "readjustment allowances" of the act are expected to attract increasing attention.

Machinery created in the GI bill to put discharged servicemen and women of World War II into jobs already has been outlined. In addition, the efforts of a reemployment committee of each local draft board are provided by the Selective Service law.

But when jobs are not available, each veteran will be eligible to receive from the government $20 a week for a maximum of 52 weeks during the two years following his release or discharge or the termination of the war, whichever is later.

This program gets under way Sept. 3. To be eligible, a veteran must have served at least 90 days in the active military or naval service of the United States after Sept. 16, 1940. No "readjustment allowance" will be made for any week commencing more than five years after the war's termination.

Must Be Available

To claim the allowances, the veteran must also be "completely unemployed, having performed no service and received no wages," or be partially unemployed to the extent that services performed for less than a full week have yielded wages less than $23. The claimant also must report to a public employment office, and be "able to work and available for suitable work."

Veterans are automatically disqualified for the benefits, according to the law, if, without good cause, they "leave suitable work voluntarily, or are suspended or discharged for misconduct in the course of employment," fail to apply for suitable work referred by a public employment office or to accept work offered, or "do not attend an available free training course. . . ."

Another proviso disqualifies the veteran if his unemployment is "due to a stoppage of work which exists because of a labor dispute at the factory, establishment, or other premises at which he is or was last employed."

Ninety Days Included

The number of weeks for which a veteran is eligible to receive the $20 a week is dependent on length of service. Each calendar month or major fraction of active service is equal to four weeks of allowances, with the qualifying 90 days considered automatically as eight weeks.

Allowances also are made available to veterans who meet the general qualifications and are self-employed for profit, providing their earnings fall below $10 a month. The sum to be made available is the difference between this figure and previous monthly net earnings.

Any allowance or benefit received under a federal or state unemployment or disability compensation law must be deducted from the allowance to be granted under the GI bill.

Group Plans For Rural Aid System For Employment

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (UP)—A joint legislative committee is making emergency plans for the rural school aid system, in an effort to revive it enough to enable all school doors to open in September.

The committee headed by Sen. G. C. Morris of Greenville, was told by members of the Texas state teachers executive committee that there are an estimated 2,000 teacher vacancies in the rural aid schools which cannot be filled unless definite assurance is given teachers of a raise above their present $100 per month level.

Inasmuch as rural aid salaries are fixed by law, only the legislature can change them. It is the intention of the present committee to frame an emergency bill for submission to the 49th legislature when it convenes in January, which will assure teachers of a substantial raise.

Henry W. Stillwell, superintendent of schools at Texarkana, said they had better make the assurance concrete because teachers would not sign up on the strength of nebulous promises.

Sen. Morris said the committee as a whole is certain the legislature will incline favorably to a bill to raise rural salaries. Gov. Coke Stevenson has also said he would recommend teacher salary increases to the legislature.

July Top Month For Employment

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (UP)—More Texas workers were placed in jobs, mostly war jobs, in July than in any other 30-day period.

C. E. Belk, state director of the War Manpower Commission said referrals by the U.S. Employment Service totaled 108,941 including 87,982 to essential war jobs and that reception contracts also reached a peak of 219,315. These contracts included in addition to referrals, requests for information, service to veterans, availability statement requests and employer visits.

Summing up the situation Belk declared:

"The more jobs we fill the more jobs we are asked to fill and these jobs are all on the national urgency list. One firm released 3,700 workers and 26 recruiters from all over the nation swarmed into that area.

"You can bet that production heat is still on when recruitment of labor is so vital."

Belk said Texas has consistently met its quota of workers needed in other areas and will not need the services of specialized recruitment teams which are being organized in Washington but "in the face of increasing quotas our 12 area directors in Texas are being forced to get tougher and tougher on the matter of civilian production."

Under an order of War Stabilizer James Byrnes certification for resumption of civilian production cannot be made, he said, until all local and national war labor demands have been met.

Pulpwood Is Placed Under Price Control

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (UP)—The Office of Price Administration today placed pulpwood produced in the western half of the United States under the general maximum price regulation and delegated to regional or district OPA offices the issuance of pulpwood pricing orders.

Effective Sept. 1, the action limits producers' prices to their highest March, 1942, prices. It applies to pulpwood output west of the 100th meridian line which runs through North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

The move was made principally to alleviate a threat of serious local shortages of firewood, OPA said.

Torrential Rains Close 3 Highways

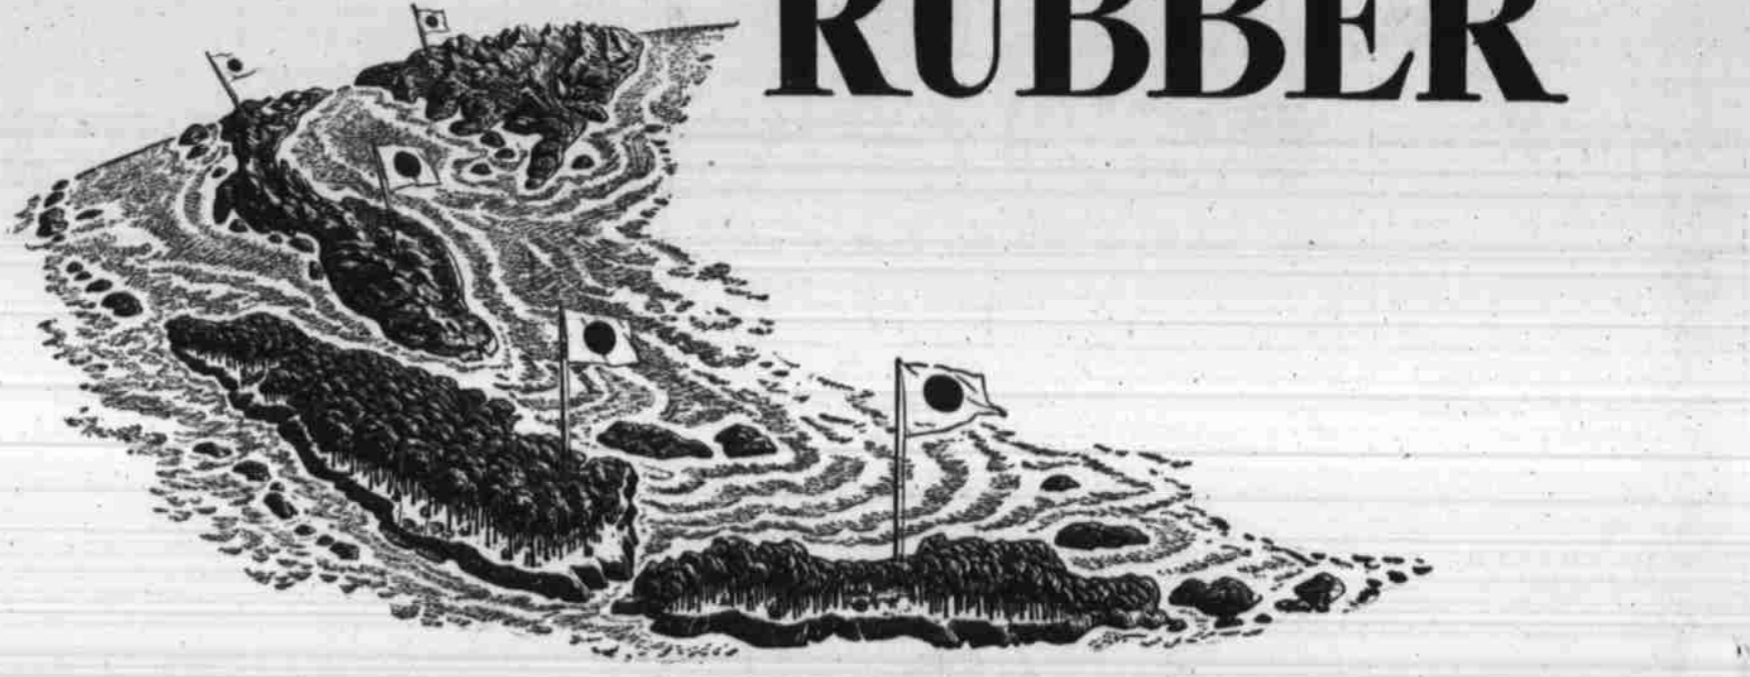

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (UP)—Torrential rains in the last two days have closed three highways in South-west Texas, the state highway department reported today.

The roads closed were: U. S. 83, between Catarina (Dimmit county), and the Webb county line; U. S. 83, between Crystal City (Zavalla county) and Carrizo Springs (Dimmit county); State 76, between Eagle Pass and La Pryor (Zavalla county).

When War Came We Had All of These:

...but the Enemy had the RUBBER

Synthetic rubber... America's great war miracle... quickly overcame this crisis chiefly with the aid of alcohol produced by beverage distillers

The Japanese conquest of the world's largest natural rubber producing centers produced a grave crisis in America's war effort. Synthetic rubber was the only solution. The problem... to produce it in time.

America's rubber chemists knew how to make it. But... the most practical process at the time required huge amounts of alcohol... far beyond the already overtaxed productive capacity of industrial alcohol plants.

Fortunately the beverage distilling industry was in existence in this country with 125 distilleries and a capacity of nearly 250,000,000 gallons annually.

Beverage distillers stopped making whiskey overnight... converted 100% to the manufacture of industrial alcohol. Soon millions of gallons of this vital ingredient were flowing into synthetic rubber plants.

The rest is history.

Synthetic rubber production today is ample to meet our needs for essential civilian and war rubber goods... this emergency no longer exists.

Proof!... the request of Bradley Dewey, Rubber Director, to terminate his wartime powers.

Thank you for your patience!

America's beverage distillers are fully aware of the inconveniences you encountered during the 22 months when not a drop of whiskey was made in this country. For your extreme patience and understanding during this period, they express their sincere thanks and appreciation.

Conference of Alcoholic Beverage Industries, Inc. (CABI)

CRISIS IN 1942

"If we fail to secure quickly a large new rubber supply our war effort and our domestic economy both will collapse."
—Baruch Report, Sept. 11, 1942

ACHIEVEMENT IN 1944

"A synthetic rubber industry has been established and is in complete operation. It is providing the nation with an ample supply of rubber."
—Bradley Dewey, Rubber Director, July 25, 1944

TRIBUTE

Commenting on the beverage distilling industry's contribution, a high W.P.B. official said on April 13, 1944...

- "...it is fair to regard the rubber manufactured to date, as being almost solely the product of the beverage distilling industry."
- "...synthetic rubber is from 6 to 9 months ahead of where it could have been if alcohol had not been available for butadiene production."
- "...an almost unparalleled example of the overnight conversion of an entire industry from peace to war."
—Dr. Walter G. Whitman

CONGRESS TAKES FIRST STEP TOWARD MODERNIZING ITSELF

By JAMES MARLOW WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (UP)—Congress has taken the first baby steps toward modernizing itself.

The story of this move, which may have deep importance for the future of the country, was buried under a torrent of good war news when it broke last week.

The senate approved a resolution—offered by two democrats, Senator Maloney of Connecticut and Rep. Monroney of Oklahoma—which would:

Set up a committee of six senators and six representatives to make a "complete study of the organization and operation of the congress of the United States."

Before the committee can be set up, the house has to approve the resolution, too. There's a good chance it will. But don't expect any speedy action by the committee.

Its work probably would be long-drawn out. It would hear all kinds of witnesses testify at hearings on whether congress should be streamlined or modernized.

Then the committee, if it finally decided congress needed a face-lifting job, would draw up a bill. The bill then would have to be fought over on the floor of both houses of congress.

The fight on the floor would be sturdy. Some congressmen are all for changes. Others like things just as they are.

Here are just a couple of things the committee might recommend, for they are two of the changes most talked about:

Consolidating some congressional committees and even individual congressmen with experts.

Thus the work of the two committees is duplicated. If those two committees were combined into one—made up of senators and representatives—all the work could be done at one time.

The sponsors of the resolution say there is a real need for expert assistants—economists, for instance—for congressmen and congressional committees.

A trainman's lantern from the 1860's was equipped with a strap which fastened about the chest, leaving the conductor's hands free to inspect tickets or signal the engineer.

There are no old maids in Tibet. Marriages are arranged by family contract, and sometimes a man takes all the daughters of a household as co-wives.
