BRIGHT SPOTS IN BUSINESS

(By United Press)
NEW YORK—A contract to furnish all electric light and power in the Rockefeller "Radio City" project was awarded to the United Electric Light & Power Co.

CLEVELAND—A $2,500,000 contract for 774 heavy duty trucks for the city of New York sent 3,000 workers of the White Motor Company back to work on a full-time basis.

NEW YORK—Hygrade Sylvania Corporation, declared an extra dividend of $1 a share of the common stock in addition to the regular quarterly disbursement of 50 cents a share.

WHERE MEN AND PRIZE HORSES PERISHED IN WRECK

Above is shown part of the wreckage of the "million-dollar livestock special" of the Missouri Pacific railroad which was wrecked near Lexington, Mo., en route to the International Livestock exposition in Chicago. Four men were found dead, three others were known to have been in one of the cars buried in debris, 15 men were injured and 13 valuable show horses were killed.

General Bill, "I'll bet you this hat I am wearing (it was a Stetson that cost $80) against that freshman cap of yours A&M wallops Texas next Thanksgiving."
"I'll betcher," said the freshman. The other day when Texas took a licking from the Farmers, General Sterling was there in his full uniform. That bet came to his mind but he couldn't recollect the name of the freshman who had been so rash.

Next day after Thanksgiving there came into the adjutant general's office one Bill Stubblefield of San Marcos and deposited the freshman's cap on the general's desk.
"I just wanted to pay that bet," he said, and the general added another pelt to his collection.

Lieutenant Governor Edgar Witt of Waco is putting a whole lot of these days. At the Thanksgiving day game in College Station he did considerable handshaking, as he does wherever he goes. He and Mrs. Witt spend considerable time in their capitol apartment, a cozy place to the rear of the senate chamber maintained by the state for its lieutenant governors. They do much coffee serving to friends there.

It is a foregone conclusion that he hopes to succeed R. S. Sterling as chief executive, whether at the end of the present term, in case Mr. Sterling should not seek reelection, or two years later.

While he was basking in the limelight at the Texas-A&M game the writer overheard this conversation on a tier of seats behind him.

"See that fellow there with his hat off shaking hands with Governor Sterling; that is Lieutenant Governor Witt," said one man.
"Oh, is that Governor Witt?" asked the second man.
"Yes, that's Witt," came the reply. "He is a good man, too, and has a fine chance to be governor."
"You bet, I like him," said the other.

Friends of J. F. Hopkins, secretary of the Behrens Drug Company of Waco, will regret to learn of his untimely death last Tuesday when he was struck down by an automobile on the streets of Waco. Mr. Hopkins was one of the outstanding drug men of the state.

Zane Gray's Own Favorite Novel To Be At Ritz

When Zane Gray was asked not long ago which of his famous adventure stories he considered his favorite he answered instantly, "Riders of the Purple Sage." The Fox Films version of this pulsating romance, featuring George O'Brien comes to the Ritz Theatre Saturday.

Gray stands above all competition in the crowded field of western fiction in which he excels. Hunter and frontiersman himself, he has lived what he writes and writes as cleanly and vigorously as he has lived.

Bill Sterling Wins Texas U. Fish's Cap; Witt Is Politicking

AUSTIN, Dec. 4.—William W. Sterling, Texas' adjutant general, has what he calls a "dunce cap." Its colors are white, orange and green and it bears a huge orange T and the figures 35, meaning it once was the proud property of a University of Texas freshman.
General Bill won it on the recent Texas-A&M game. The tall adjutant general, you know, is an A&M man. He is as loyal to the Farmer lads as he is to the Texas range, where he was nurtured.
One day last September he was riding a bus between Austin and San Antonio. At San Marcos a lad boarded the motor car. Football was mentioned and the boy began bragging on Texas. The lanky one-time ranger and all-round man of the cactus and huische called his hand.
"I'll tell you what I'll do," said

Mending Our Ways CHARLES A. HEARD, the editor of Harper's Magazine, writes that the cause of individualism is a thing of the past.

Washington Daybook WASHINGTON—It remains to be seen whether President Hoover will be a champion of the tariff commission.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS Can't Park Where You Please THE appellate division of the New York supreme court has determined that the owner or occupant of a house or store has a right to mow.

FAST WORKING COMMISSION Whether the dignity which he invested tariff commission hearings had any bearing on results perhaps is not important, however.

DIFFICULT JOB AHEAD The democratic in all probability will control the house. The margin between democrats and republicans in the senate—which must confirm O'Brien's appointment—is very slender.

With this prevailing situation the activities of O'Brien and his commission will be watched closely. Demands already have been made by various congressional factions for a readjustment of the rates in the Hawley-Smoot bill. There must be answered, or else something will happen.

This fact, together with a presidential campaign in the offing makes the lot of Mr. O'Brien of Boston not a particularly happy one in prospect.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by Dr. Lago Goldstein, M.D. Academy of Medicine

TULAREMIA The winter months are open seasons for wild rabbits, and in consequence too for the season for tularemia.

The disease is caused by a germ present in the blood of the affected animal. It may also be transmitted to man by the bite of a flea or tick.

The patient is weak and recovery takes place slowly. The disease is practically never fatal and appears to leave no permanent after effects.

LADY with a PAST BY HARRIET HENRY

SYNOPSIS: Excitement begins for Venice Muir when she finds that the Marquis de Thénardier seems interested in her. She cares especially for her success with him, because she has come to Paris to bury a past of social unpopularity in New York.

Chapter XXIII COULD YOU MARRY FOR A TITLE? The taxi drew up before the Louis-LeGrand. Rene helped her to the pavement.

"Good night," she said. "Good night, Venice." He made his small bow.

"Thank you for a charming evening. And I will see you tomorrow at my party."

"Perhaps you don't want me to come now?" She felt that he was definitely annoyed.

"But certainly I do. I will find out about those fine lines."

"No. It would take the greatest amount of loving for me to marry at all."

"I want to warn you about Rene. He has debts all over town. I know he'll marry the first rich girl who isn't ugly that will have him."

"But why should she ask me?" "Because she can't get Rene any other way. She has her eye on him for the niece."

'Peruna' Band Of SMU Strikes After Trip Is Refused

DALLAS, Dec. 4. (UP)—There was a prospect today that athletic games at Southern Methodist University may be played in a deafening silence.

The absence of cheering students and a peppy band may be the consequence of the band and the cheer leaders going on a strike because the athletic authorities at the university "crossed 'em up."

When the SMU team entrained the cheer leaders presented a "hoof and mouth" problem to the university as the athletic council refused to pay for shoes that were listed among necessary items to a cheer leader's costume.

Yuletide Tea Compliments Mrs. McGeath

Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Larson Lloyd Are Joint Hostesses

Mrs. D. E. Bishop and Mrs. Larson Lloyd entertained with a clever Yuletide tea and handkerchief shower Thursday afternoon...

Miss Mabel Eddy and Miss Mamie Hair dressed alike in frocks of black and white...

Mrs. Gus Pickle, in a gypsy fortune-teller's costume, presided over a cleverly arranged wishing well at which each guest made three wishes...

In fairyland, the honoree found two dainty fairies, little Betty Hatcher, wearing a gorgeous red-ruffled gown...

The guests were then ushered into the dining room where Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Terribly Embarrassed She couldn't go... and she couldn't tell him 'why'...

Lynn Hatcher presided over the tea table, assisted by Misses Eddy and Hair.

The centerpiece was a lovely grouping of white chrysanthemums and glossy holly brought from East Texas by Mrs. McGeath.

Plates containing individual point-setta salads, tea and unique little parlous favors were passed to the following guests: Misses McGeath, Randall Pickle, Shirley Robinson, Alfred Collins, Gus Pickle, John Kilway, Glenn D. Guilkey, Clyde Waits, Jr., Arthur Woodall, and Misses Lola Bell Stewart, Elizabeth Northington, Irene Knauis, Vallia True, Naoma Stone, Frances Sullivan, Florence Cotten, Louise Shive.

In the evening three couples played bridge with Mr. and Mrs. McGeath. They were Mr. and Mrs. Randall Pickle, Mr. and Mrs. Larson Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Collins.

Mr. Collins scored highest and received a prize.

E.S.A. Literary Club Has Nice Refreshments

The members of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Literary Club met at the home of Miss Georgia Kirk Davis Thursday evening for a very pleasant session.

Delicious refreshments of fruit cake and coffee were served after the program.

Mrs. Driver will entertain the club members at a Christmas party Monday evening.

The members attending were Misses Vallia True, Roberta Gray, Marie Faubion, Elizabeth Owen, Mary McElroy, Kitty Wingo, Clara Cox; Misses Ira Driver, Frank Ector and Leslie Dahme.

G.I.A. Reelect All Officers At Session

The G.I.A.'s held an election of officers at the regular meeting Thursday afternoon at the Woodman Hall, which resulted in a return of all the old officers to their posts.

Mrs. A. B. Wade was re-elected president; Mrs. Lamar Smith, vice-president; Mrs. Chas. Vines, secretary; Mrs. A. F. Weeg, treasurer; Mrs. Max Wiesen, relief secretary; Mrs. W. C. Bird, guide; Mrs. R. Schwarzbach, chaplain and Mrs. P. H. Coburn, sentinel.

A lovely lighted Christmas tree and other Yuletide decorations with tall red tapers shedding a soft glow over the room, formed the setting for the party at which the Susaanah Wesley Class of the Methodist Sunday School were entertained in the church parlors Thursday afternoon.

In the business session the following officers were elected for the new year: Mrs. T. B. Vastine, president; Mrs. W. J. Riggs, vice president; Mrs. W. O. Thompson, treasurer; and Mrs. Felton Smith, secretary.

The circle leaders for 1931 will be Mesdames G. E. Freeman, C. E. Shives, J. A. Myers, S. P. Jones, H. R. Short, J. R. Chaney, J. M. Faucett, Arthur Pickle, B. P. Lovelace, H. P. Williamson, Horace Penn, and J. B. Dalton.

Ten boys and girls from the boys and girls' World Friendship Club sang beautiful Christmas carols and Miss Dorothy Bell Riggs gave an interesting reading, using a Russian Yuletide legend for her selection.

James Underwood accompanied by Laura Bell Underwood sang a song. The hostesses, Mesdames S. P. Jones, V. H. Fiewellen, J. M. Manuel, T. B. Vastine, Clyde Thomas and J. L. Hudren served lovely refreshments to the following: Mesdames Annie Stone, G. E. Freeman, Arthur Pickle, H. R. Short, W. O. Thompson, W. J. Riggs, F. D. Wilson, H. F. Williamson, Jno. R. Chaney, W. A. Underwood, C. E. Shive, J. Richard Spenn, Chas. Morris, Joe Faucett, Logan Baker, W. A. Miller, J. B. Hodges, D. F. Bigony, J. A. Myers, A. D. Franklin, and Felton Smith.

CORRECTION Mrs. Johnny Lane, instead of Mrs. Leslie, will be the next hostess for the Economy Bridge Club.

Mrs. Emma Lynch, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Ben Carpenter, has returned to Big Spring after a visit with her sons in Dublin and Carlton.

Let the Children Eat Their Way To Health

Surprising as it may seem to us here in America, neither wheat nor corn—but rice—is the world's most popular grain. Nearly three-fourths of the population on this planet depends principally upon rice for its cereal food requirements.

Toasted in crisp, crunchy flakes, rice can be served not only with fresh fruits and rich milk for breakfast and supper, but also may be used in many other novel ways that bring its gentle roughage and bulk to help establish regular health habits for the entire family—and more particularly among the children.

As an example of the new possibilities in these delicious rice flakes, just see how greatly they will add to the flavor of your next meat loaf, baked tomatoes, too, when stuffed with cheese and rice flakes, are substantial enough to form the main dish for luncheon or to replace a vegetable for dinner.

Below will be found a number of attractive recipes for making use of rice flakes. Try them and see how they will suggest many other ways for introducing this delicious healthful food into your daily meals!

Beef Loaf: To 2 pounds ground beef and 1 pound ground pork, add 1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce, 1 onion minced finely, and 1 chopped green pepper. All 2 cups Rice Flakes and 2 slightly beaten eggs. Season with salt and pepper, form into a loaf or two small loaves—and bake in a well greased pan in a moderate oven. During the baking, baste with 3/4 cup of water to which has been added 1/4 cup tomato ketchup. This makes a moist, well flavored loaf.

Baked Tomatoes with Rice Flakes and Cheese: Wash and core 6 medium sized tomatoes. Remove as much of the insides of each tomato as possible, and add to 1 cup Rice Flakes, 3/4 cup grated American Cheese, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. (1/4 cup chopped boiled ham also may be added if desired.) Pack this filling as tightly as possible into each tomato. Place in a casserole with a little water and bake in a moderate oven until done (about 30 minutes).

For Breading: Chop, Croquettes and Fish: Crumble Rice Flakes with a rolling pin, and use for breading as you would bread or cracker crumbs. The Rice Flakes give an excellent brown color and a desirable crispness used in this way.

As delicate cups in which to serve berries, peaches, or ice-cream, meringue shells make a most attractive and particularly good dessert. Serve these at your next party filled with berries, or berries topped with ice-cream.

Meringue Shells: Beat 4 egg whites stiffly, and gently fold in 1 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, and 1 cup Rice Flakes. Drop by tablespoonfuls on a sheet of waxed paper in a baking pan, and bake in a slow oven (about 270 degrees F.) until puffed and delicately brown and crisp. This will take from 40 to 50 minutes, depending on the size of the meringues. When baked, take from the oven and lift from the paper at once. This recipe makes about one dozen shells.

Children always long for sweets and the type of confection given them should be carefully chosen. These Balls of Rice Flakes and Peanut Butter are healthful as well as very good, and the older folks will enjoy them as much as the youngsters!

Rice Flakes and Peanut Butter Balls: Mix and cook together without stirring, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup dark corn syrup, 1/2 cup Peanut Butter, and 1/2 cup water, to 235 degrees, or until a few drops in cold water form a soft ball. Remove from fire, allow to cool slightly, and add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Pour over 1 package Rice Flakes in a bowl, stirring only enough to coat the flakes with the syrup, and then form into small balls.

How To Use Color To Be Shown At City Federation

The City Federation has postponed its meeting from last Tuesday afternoon until tomorrow at 3 o'clock at the club house, due to the bad weather and the fact that so many members had expressed an eagerness to hear Mrs. James Schmidly give her talk on "Art in Everyday Life."

Mrs. Schmidly has prepared a series of color charts, costume designs and interior decorations. Views to illustrate the artistic principles which govern uses of color. She will explain many of the principles underlying becoming a choice of clothes, color arrangement in the home and other everyday problems confronting the average woman.

Mrs. Schmidly majored in art in C.I.A. and is especially well prepared to give such a talk. There is practically no business to attend to, tomorrow, and the entire hour will be turned over to the lecture.

Reports Mrs. Joyce Fisher, president.

MORE 'REST FOR PLANTS BRINGS EARLIER BLOOMS

ZANESVILLE, Ohio, Dec. 4 (AP)—An experiment with black shades over chrysantheums by florists here resulted in the blooms being advanced from three to five weeks.

Acting on a suggestion from Ohio State University, the florists covered the plants with black cloth three hours before sunset each day and kept the covers on until two hours after sunrise the next day.

Giving the plants a longer period of rest each day brought about the earlier blooming, the florists said. The flowers were as large and richly colored as those cut in up-mid-season.

Local Writers Furnish Leading Stories For Prominent Magazines

Two Big Spring women have broken into print this season with the leading stories in magazines.

Mrs. J. L. Sullivan's story, "The Love Pirate," will be featured in the first issue in the January 15th issue of Allotory Magazine—and it has been given that prominence indicates that it is, in the eyes of the editors the best story in the entire issue.

Mrs. Sullivan's pen name is Pearl. Her friends are expecting a treat, since the story is reported to be one of those sweet clean, romantic love stories that magazines always want but seldom find.

In the December issue of "The Mrs. H. S. Faw" has a story which is also featured as the leading story. It is called "The Miracle of the Little Red Wagon."

Mrs. Faw has been a regular contributor to this magazine for more than a year and the editors have told her that this is the best story she has sent them.

Another Big Spring person who has had the thrill of seeing some of his expressions in print is Paul Reagan, of San Antonio, Chile, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Reagan.

His contribution was an interview with Isaac Marcosson, for a series of articles on the business relations of North America with South America. When Mr. Marcosson was in Chile and wanted an account of the nitrate development into which the Guggenheims have put much money, Mr. Reagan furnished him with information concerning the nitrate company and also the recent upheavals of the Chilean government; his name, however, does not appear in the write-up.

The article dealing with Chile appeared in the Saturday Evening Post of November 28.

Idle Art Members Enjoy Merry Party

The members of the Idle Art bridge club were entertained by Mrs. Cecil McDonald Thursday evening with a lovely party.

Mrs. Lytle made high score and received a set of individual bridge ash-trays. Miss Freeman made visitor's high and was given a set of bath salts and bath powder.

The red and green colors of Christmas were beautifully carried out in the party accessories and the refreshments.

The visitors were Misses Lucille Rix, Pauline Sullivan and Emma Louise Freeman, and the members, Misses Margaret Bettie, Lennah Rose Black, Lena Kyle, Polly Webb, Imogene Ryan, Jamie Barley, Louise Hayes; Misses Harold Lytle and Tommy Jordan.

Miss Kyle will be the next hostess.

In keeping the opposing football team, the Rangers, from making a goal during a close game at Glasgow, Scotland, recently, John Thompson, of the Celica was knocked down by a player and killed.

Dr. Dillard Talks To So. Ward P.T.A.

Dr. J. R. Dillard's talk on "The Nervous Child" at the South Ward P. T. A. meeting Thursday afternoon was reported to be one of the best lectures which the association has heard this year.

In connection with this Miss Oia Mae Keller's first graders put on a program introduced by Margaret Thomas. She was followed by a Christmas reading given by Fay Belle Whaley and one by Billy Owen Dunn. The class sang a song, after which Jess Slaughter Jr. and Shirley June Robbins each gave readings.

During the business session the members voted to buy forty instruments for use in the Children's Rhythm Band, to help sponsor the Red Cross Seal sale and to plan a gift project to include all the South Ward children.

Mrs. A. S. Smith's room had the most mothers in attendance. There were 50 members present.

When persons receiving the dole at Forbes, Australia, were informed recently that they could not substitute articles for those mentioned in the schedule, they gathered in a large crowd outside the dole depot and refused to accept any goods.

Altar Society Members Entertained In Party

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mary entertained the members of the Altar Society of St. Thomas' Catholic Church in their lovely home in Edwards Heights Thursday evening with an auction and contract party.

The high scorers for the women were, contract Mrs. Higgins; auction, Mrs. Stewart, each of whom received a silhouette plaque. For the men, contract, Mr. Henry; auction, Father Francis, each of whom won a novelty ash tray.

Mrs. Boyd and Camille Koberg Francis, were each given a rubber toy for consolation prizes in contract and auction, and Miss Pauline Decker a loaf nut cake for high cut.

The lovely cake made by Mrs. Bob Austin was given to Mr. Jenkins.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Jenkins, Misses Chas. Krberg, T. J. Higgins, Emory Duff, Ruth Stewart, M. W. Paulsen, Max Boyd; Misses Portia Davis, Frances Sheeler, Pauline Decker, Roth, Conroy, Camille Koberg; Messrs. William Barker, Franklin Nugent, J. M. Morgan, Frank Morgan and the Rev. Theo. Francis.
