TV Capital Is Seen Shifting To Hollywood

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD, (U)—NBC and CBS wind up the first heat of a spectacular television building race this week end with buxom Marie Wilson out in front for CBS.

The two biggest networks are spending more than 100 million dollars to make Hollywood the television capital of the world, a title now held by New York.

CBS unveils a 12-million-dollar initial unit of its television city tomorrow with the fall return of Miss Wilson in "My Friend Irma." On Saturday, NBC will microwave a special "All-Star Revue" with Red Skelton, Milton Berle, Jimmy Durante, Dinah Shore, Phil Harris, Harpo Marx and George Jessel. Berle, an NBC standby from New York, is flying out for the opening show, which will be broadcast from a new 3 1/2 million dollar studio, the first in an eventual 50-million-dollar project.

The NBC studio was rushed to completion with the fast fill-up method construction. Walls, pillars and other big parts of the building were made horizontally and then lifted into position by giant cranes. Ground was broken only last July.

The NBC studio has two sound stages in its 9,000 square feet. It occupies an acre and a half of a 48-acre tract next to Warner Brothers movie studio in Burbank. The network claims it to be the world's largest audience studio.

The CBS unit, in Hollywood proper, will open Studio 31, the first of four mammoth studios, each measuring 12,100 square feet. A 13-story administration building is also to be built.

This first CBS unit covers 15 acres in what the network calls the world's first community designed exclusively for television.

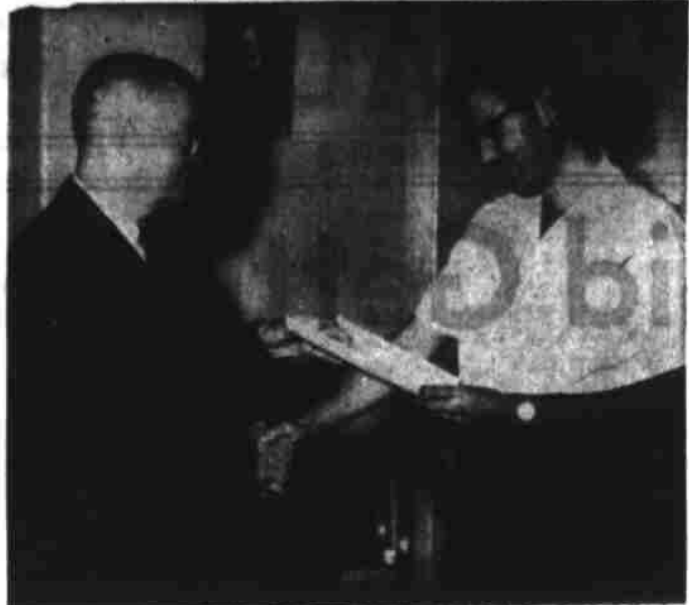

It boasts the world's largest stage-lighting control installation, total 5 1/2 million watts and can control 5 1/2 million watts and can create a brilliant sunset.

SURGERY DOES THE JOB

Man Lives A Normal Life With His New Fingers

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
NEW YORK (U)—The man looks at his hands...

All 10 fingers are gone. There are only stumps left, less than an inch long. He is a useless cripple, unable even to feed himself.

That was Marion Cody, 42, of Milwaukee, three years ago. Snow-bound on a hunting trip in Alaska, he lost his gloves. His frozen fingers were amputated later.

Today Cody has eight new fingers and thumbs, created by surgery. He has a job, can write, smoke a cigarette, use a screwdriver, dress and feed himself, live a normal life.

The Cody story of surgery plus rehabilitation was described today to the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery by Dr. William H. Frackelton of Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis.

Cody's fingers froze two days before Christmas, 1948. He was on a vacation trip from his job in government service as an engineer on the Alaskan Railway.

In March and June, the fingers were amputated in an Alaskan hospital. Home that summer, Cody turned for help to the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational and Technical Education, Rehabilitation Division. Starting in October, 1949, Frackelton operated twice on Cody's right hand, once on his left. Clefts 1 to 1 1/2 inches deep were cut into the palm, between the fingers, freezing the bones in the palm to make them the beginnings of longer fingers and thumbs. The ring finger of each hand was removed. Some tendons were transplanted from one part of the hand to another to give more power to the new fingers, each now about three inches long.

Painful scars and balls of severed nerves were removed from the old stump ends of the fingers.

Even while his hand was healing from the first operation, Cody began courses in business arithmetic, law and English at Milwaukee Vocational School. Soon the Curative Workshop of Milwaukee gave him treatments to strengthen his hands, to learn to dress, to eat, to write with his new fingers.

A month after the last operation, Cody took a job at the Wehr Steel Company, Milwaukee as timekeeper and work analysis recorder.

500 Women Attend Eisenhower Clinic

By MARTHA COLE
FORT WORTH, Oct. 2 (U)—Six hundred women from 300 towns in Texas have signed up to spread the word that Texas should go for Dwight Eisenhower for President. Some 500 of them—both Republicans and Democrats—came here yesterday for a day-long clinic of "Womanpower for Eisenhower" to learn how to do it.

"What you've learned here and what you've heard is not worth one tinker's dam unless you get out and spread the gospel," Ben Guill, state Eisenhower campaign manager, told them.

The women got pep talks from Mrs. Bertha Adkins, director of the women's division of the Republican National Committee; James Cromwell, New York author and lecturer; Robert Stripling, Midland, former chief investigator for the House Un-American Activities Committee and Carol Arth, of California, vice chairman of the National Federation of Young Republicans.

Then they went to two-hour long workshops to learn how to get out the vote for Eisenhower. Personal contact with every individual poll tax holder in Texas is the secret, they were told.

"Contact everybody in every precinct of Texas," said Mrs. Randolph Wheeler of Houston, leader of a workshop.

"Don't argue anybody that says he's going to vote for Adlai Stevenson. The best approach is to get some of your wonderful Democratic friends back home to see him—a Democrat who is for Eisenhower. Get him to see that man and say 'Look, I'm a Democrat, too; now let's face the facts.'"

A lot of Texas Democratic women were among the well-dressed crowd, both young and old, that came to learn what to do. Mrs. Hal C. Peck of Midland, vice chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, led it.

J. C. Potter First To Pay City Taxes

J. C. Potter, 1200 Austin, was the first Big Spring to pay 1952 city taxes.

Potter was on hand when tax office doors opened Wednesday, first day taxes were payable. It was easy for him to be there. He works down the hall as timekeeper for city employees.

she known that she would work for Eisenhower.

Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Frank O'Brien of Amarillo, vice chairman of the State Republican Executive Committee, announced they would serve as co-chairmen of "Womanpower for Eisenhower" in Texas.

Long after the women left Fort Worth, Mrs. Peck and Mrs. O'Brien sat in a hotel suite figuring out who would be the best workers. They took Texas, Congressional district at a time.

"Oh, she was a roommate of mine in college," Mrs. Peck would say, and a name went down on the list.

"Here's a woman in District 14—but will she work?" Mrs. O'Brien mused.

The women overflowed their hotel headquarters and set out their business seriously, talking in little groups long after adjournment came.

Mrs. R. F. Farr of Uvalde laughed about the taxicab driver with four women and a man from the airport. The man wanted to go to the Texas hotel.

"Brother, if you ain't for Eisenhower, you better not go there," the driver told the man in all seriousness.

"I have a hunch there will be a Korean armistice within six to nine months," he added in an interview. "Why, I don't know."

Lovett Claims Reds Could Get Truce Any Time

FORT WORTH, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Secretary of Defense said yesterday that the Communists in Korea could have had a truce any time they wanted it over the past year.

Robert A. Lovett added: "The longer we work 'em over by air and keep the pressure on, the more uncomfortable it will be on them. It's obvious there's not going to be much left of North Korea if they carry on this way."

Lovett said there are "no indications of any break that I'm aware of."

Lovett toured Carswell Air Force Base and the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp. plant before holding a press conference.

He conferred with General Anderson, Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, strategic Air Force chief, and Brig. Gen. Joe W. Kelly, 19th Air Division commander.

The secretary said Convair has done "very well" in repair of B-36, damaged by the tornado early last month.

"They're ahead of schedule," he said. "The unit here is fully operational."

Assistant Defense Secretary Charles A. Collidge said he was "astonished" at how quickly repair work has been accomplished by Convair.

The secretary said the nation is beginning to reach a period of considerable aircraft production.

"The incubation period—too long—has been done," he said.

Lovett, Collidge and three military aides are scheduled to leave today by plane. The secretary plans to stop briefly at Wichita, Kan., then go on to Washington during the day.

Jury Taking Binion Tax Testimony

DALLAS, Oct. 2 (AP)—A federal grand jury was set to begin taking testimony today in an investigation of the 1948 income tax returns of Nevada Gambler Benny Binion.

The grand jury was recalled Monday and heard but one witness—A. A. Eads, public accountant who made out Binion's tax returns for several years. However, he did not bring his records with him and is expected to return today.

Two Washington tax experts are here to lead the probe. They are Edward Molenof, assistant to U.S. Atty. Gen. James P. McGranery, and Richard Burman, also an assistant in the Washington office.

A number of Dallas gamblers have been summoned to appear before the grand jury as well as Dist. Atty. Henry Wade and others of his staff who prosecuted Binion's alleged partner, Harry L. Urban under state gaming charges.

Wade wants to bring Binion back to Dallas to try him on a companion gaming charge and appeal to McGranery for aid. Both Binion and Urban were convicted of tax frauds in 1949. Urban got two years when he pleaded no contest here. Binion's case was transferred to Nevada where he got a probation sentence and a $15,000 fine.

Clergyman Can't Get U.S. Entrance

LONDON (AP)—An Anglican clergyman who tried to get United Nations Assemblies to get South Africa censured for its treatment of Negroes says U. S. immigration regulations are keeping him from the U. N. Assembly opening in New York Oct. 14.

The Rev. Michael Scott told a news conference he had applied for a visa at the U. S. Embassy here July 30 but refused to swear he was never a member of a totalitarian organization or to say in what organizations he held membership.

The 45-year-old white churchman declared:

"If this screening principle is to be applied to individuals, it seems a serious limitation of the freedom of the United Nations and the access of people to it. I think the oath is wrong... I am not a Communist."

Scott said he wanted to attend the U. N. session as a representative of the International League for the Rights of Man.

In Washington, the State Department said it had no comment.

Newspaperboys' Day Honors The Carriers

Associated Press Newswriters

Newspaperboy day, Oct. 4, is again this year an important part of Newspaper Week. The United States government has joined the list of those who will honor the boys who deliver your paper.

A special three-cent stamp will be issued during the newspaperboy theme.

The newspaperboys who have long had an honored place in American life will make a further contribution to U. S. programs on that day. They will deliver Defense Bond leaflets with their papers.

There are some 250,000 newspaperboys in the United States. Their Defense Bond project grows out of the thrift club activities which have spread across the country.

The thrift clubs started in Philadelphia in 1946. During the war, the 5,419 boys who delivered the Evening Bulletin sold thrift stamps from door to door as a public service. In the process the boys themselves were their own best customers.

The United States Treasury Department and the International Circulation Managers' Association took note of their activities and sponsored the setting up of clubs in other cities.

The kind of programs in which the American newspaperboy can participate is indicated by the record of the Standard-Times boys in New Bedford, Mass.

For five years, these boys have won the first place award in the paper's circulation class (40,000 to 75,000) in the annual International Circulation Managers' Association newspaperboys' program competition. In addition they won a plaque in 1946 from the New England Circulation Managers' Association and a 1947 plaque in competition with papers in all classes in the United States and Canada.

The 1,078 Standard-Times boys have three baseball leagues. They have competition in pingpong, and basketball leagues.

They have stamp clubs, model plane clubs and glee clubs. One of the important programs is the newspaperboys' band. This group takes part in many parades and has appeared on a number of radio and TV programs. Outings and "feeds" are part of the band work. But reliability as a carrier and attendance at rehearsals are required to retain membership.

All the boys join in picnics and other outings at appropriate times during the year. A high school scholarship is awarded annually.

Programs for newspaper boys vary among the American newspapers. But for most of them, newspaperboy day is a high point in their year. In many cities community leaders pay tribute to the work which the boys are doing.

Gulf Official Thinks Govt. Seeking Industry Control

HOUSTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—An official of the Gulf Oil Corp. says many "Washington bureaucrats" hope that the oil industry can be forced into accepting government control.

William K. Whiteford, Pittsburgh, Pa., executive vice president of Gulf, addressed the petroleum branch of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers here yesterday.

He said government attacks on his industry are "many-sided" and "evidently on the scatter-gun principle."

Whiteford said the idea seems to be that some of the shot will reach home "and, at least, weaken our industry to the point where we will be forced into accepting government control. This has long been the ambition of many Washington bureaucrats."

He defended the 27 1/2 percent tax depletion allowance as providing the necessary incentive to invest huge sums of money in wildcatting.

Whiteford referred to recent federal charges that a number of American oil companies belong to an international cartel designed to control prices.

"We learn that our industry's efforts to meet the global requirements of our armed forces and at the same time fulfill the nation's industrial and civilian needs, spring from the desire to overcharge our customers, control prices and to be and do about everything else that is illegal and reprehensible," he said.

Another speaker, Walter J. Levy, New York City, defended government controls in developing foreign oil.

Claude Richard Hocutt of Houston was named chairman of the petroleum branch. Vice chairmen are Basil P. Kantsler, Los Angeles, and John P. Hammond, Tulsa. Executive committeemen are Roland Gouley, Wichita Falls, Thomas A. Atkinson, Casper, Wyo.; and Paul R. Turbull, Corpus Christi.

TV-Radio Drive For Ike Denied By Ad Official

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—An advertising agency official denies the Citizens for Eisenhower organization plans a two million dollar radio-television campaign. Such a plan had been suggested but rejected, he said.

The advertising man, Rosser Reeves, says the group backing Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower hopes to spend several hundred thousand dollars on a radio-TV campaign if the money can be raised.

The comment from Reeves came last night after another advertising man, Michael Levin, said the Citizens for Eisenhower planned a two million dollar program.

Levin said at a news conference yesterday that the campaign would be the most concentrated one of its kind in history. He said Eisenhower had approved the project and already had made two score TV programs for distribution to local stations.

The purpose, Levin said, was to swing 12 key states. The states he named were New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan,

Where To Next As Man Takes Long Ferry Ride

HONG KONG, Oct. 2 (AP)—A man without a passport today began his third week as an unwilling passenger on a Hong Kong-Macau ferry. And the end is not in sight. Like the fabled Flying Dutchman, he appears doomed to ride the high seas until eternity.

He got on the ferry at Portuguese Macau Sept. 18. Hong Kong authorities wouldn't let him land because his papers weren't in order. He went back to Macau. No soap there, either. Back to Hong Kong. . . . back to Macau. . . . back to Hong Kong.

The ferry company would like to get rid of him but can't just throw him overboard. He sneaked aboard without paying his fare and apparently has paid nothing for his round-and-round trips since. However, he has enough money to pay for his meals for a time.

The perpetual passenger says he is an American. The American consulate general says he isn't. The man says his name is M. P. O'Brien. Friends say O'Brien is a contraction of his real Hungarian name.

New U.S. 80 Bridge Opened

New Bridge Is Opened Across C-City River

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 2—A snip of the scissors by J. C. Roberts, district engineer for the Texas P'ghway Department, cut ribbons and symbolically opened a new quarter-million dollar bridge across the river here Wednesday.

The new bridge replaces one built in 1922 and which was demolished early this year. Stretching 392 feet in length, the new bridge has no super structure. The floor is four lane and 60 feet wide with a concrete divider. Cost is estimated at $250,000.

This bridge, said J. M. Page, district engineer for the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads and who made the principal talk, represented a policy of the highway department to build for the future.

Ceremonies followed a parade through the downtown area by the Colorado High School Band. Flanked by two pretty band members Sue Dillard and Camilla Bassham, Roberts cut the ribbons which officially opened the bridge to traffic.

Members of service clubs, out-of-town guests and other visitors adjoined for lunch served by the Sweetwater Chuck Wagon Gang.

State Sen. Pat Bullock presided over both the ceremonies and the luncheon program. Rep. George Mahon, back home for the event, observed that the military now required $4 billions a month and added "Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could spend this on permanent improvements of this type?"

Others who spoke briefly were Delbert Downing, Midland, State Sen.-Eliet Harley Sadler, Abilene, Frank Melton, Abilene, member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce staff, Mrs. H. W. Broughton, Sweetwater, Marvin Miller, Big Spring. Bullock recognized A. L. McSpadden, Colorado

Red Plane Is Shot Down In Korean Fight

SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 2 (AP)—U. S. and Communist jets tangled in October's first air battles today. The Fifth Air Force said one Red MIG-15 was shot down and two others damaged.

The day's heaviest ground fighting flared on the East-Central front. South Korean infantrymen fought to within 50 yards of the top of Wire Hill, captured by Chinese Reds Monday.

Late reports from Eighth Army Headquarters said heavy fighting was still in progress.

The Air Force announced Allied planes shot down 107 Russian-built MIG-15s in the past three months. U. N. losses in the air battles were seven U. S. F-86 Sabres and three F-84 Thunderjets. Sixty-two of the MIG's were downed in September.

Today's MIG kill came in an air battle between two Sabres and four MIG's southwest of Sinuiju, deep in northwest Korea.

Soviets Protest Pact Bases Within Denmark

MOSCOW, Oct. 2 (AP)—Russia has accused Denmark of negotiating with the U. S. to set up NATO bases for foreign troops on Danish territory. Such bases, a firmly worded Russian note declared, would create a "threat to the security of the Soviet Union."

The formal Russian protest, published today in all Moscow newspapers and delivered yesterday to the Danish minister here, said establishment of such bases would violate Danish-Soviet agreements reached since the end of World War II.

A Bible Thought For Today—

Barabbas probably belonged to the Jewish underground. Like Robin Hood he had many friends among the poor. Christ was not well understood then nor is he too well understood today. Men still crucify him. "Away with this man and release unto us Barabbas." — Luke 23:19.

Who's To Blame For The Increase Of Crime Among Young People?

The FBI's Edgar Hoover points out in that agency's latest report on crime that more persons 18 years old were arrested for crime in the first six months of 1952 than any other age group. In the comparable period of last year the 23-year-olds stood first.

Statistics are tricky things. In this instance we would want to know by how much the 18-year-olds outnumbered the 23s in this year's crime bracket. Then we'd want to know how many eighteens there were and how many twenty-threes in the total population.

Tax Discount Available, So You Might As Well Make Use Of It

Tax statements have been placed in the mail or will be by the end of the week on most of the agencies here. The city, county and Big Spring Independent School District have combined levies of $942,741.

There is a way that taxpayers can save $28,280 off that tax bill, and that's worth saving. Payments made in October will merit three per cent discount.

In the case of the school district, this is tantamount to shaving three cents off the $1.50 rate; in the case of the county it is like cutting 2.7 cents off the 90 cent rate; and in the case of the city it is like slicing off 3.1 cents of the $170 rate.

The larger taxpayers certainly will take advantage of the discount. Many of the average or small taxpayers either do not know about the discount or do not appreciate that it effects a significant saving. Many are new taxpayers—the school district alone has 512 new names on its roll—and may be unaware that October payments can save them three per cent.

The various agencies have fixed their budgets on the assumption that maximum advantage will be taken of the discounts, hence widespread resort to it will not pose any fiscal problems. On the contrary, by having funds in hand early in the taxpaying season, some agencies may be able to avoid borrowing or at least hold pre-season loans to very short terms.

Thus, agencies as well as the taxpayer share in some benefit of the arrangement. It's there; you might as well take advantage of it.

Republicans At Odds Over How To Spend Money For Ike 'Spots'

WASHINGTON.—After General Eisenhower spent two days at a New York film studio recording radio and TV "spots" for the wind-up of his campaign, the Republican high command is at odds regarding their use.

More specifically, they are at odds on how to raise the money to buy the radio and TV time for their use.

The subject came up at a meeting of top GOP money-raisers in New York recently, at which Lloyd Dalzell, dynamic, young tugboat operator, offered to raise $600,000 to $800,000.

"I will raise the money, but only to be used for the general's spot announcements," he said.

However, others were skeptical; not over Dalzell's ability to raise money, but over the same issue which has caused friction inside the Republican party in the past—local leadership vs. national leadership.

Winthrop Aldrich, head of the Chase National Bank and brother-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, was afraid that Dalzell's money-raising would conflict with local money-raising. He feared he would tap the same moneyed people that local leaders will have to tap. Others agreed. Even if the national ticket should lose, they argued, Republican organizations must be kept strong locally and local tickets must be elected.

Jack Whitney, who once served in the Roosevelt administration and married Jimmie Roosevelt's ex-wife, took the opposite view. He felt nothing was more important than raising money for the spot radio and TV time.

These consist of radio recordings and TV kinescopes in which Eisenhower answers current political questions. They are to be used in the last three weeks of the campaign for "satellite" key states in the East and Midwest, which Truman carried in 1948 by only a narrow margin.

This idea was evolved by Rosser Reeves, ace advertising specialist for the Ted Bates Agency. Co-operating with him was Mike Levin of the Erwin-Wasey Agency. Later Fred Rudge of Fisher, Rudge & Neblett came in.

NOTE.—Presiding over the finance meeting was Sidney Weinberg, head of the giant banking house of Goldman-Sachs. Born in Russia, brought up in Brooklyn, Weinberg is a director of more corporations than he can recite himself, got to

Your Tax Gripes— Sylvia Porter

Tax Exemption Way Behind The Times And Ought To Be Revised In Congress

Back when the dollar was worth 100 cents, Congress decided that if you had a child and he earned less than $500 a year, he was worth a $500 exemption to you on your income tax.

Now the dollar that bought 100 cents of groceries in 1939 will buy 53 cents of groceries.

So now Congress has raised the income tax exemption for each of your dependents to $600.

A dollar slashed virtually in half—and an income tax exemption raised by only $100.

The exemption is obviously antiquated, the figure obviously should be drastically revised.

And to wage-earners, to smaller taxpayers particularly, this would be of vital significance—for it is in the sphere of exemptions that their major hope for tax economy lies.

For the first time since the income tax became a part of our budgets, a Joint House-Senate tax committee is asking us—the taxpayers—what's wrong with the law and how it can be improved.

Presumably, the committee is serious about this and its study will become the basis for an overhaul of our entire tax system to make it more fair and equitable.

The above is just one illustration of how provisions covering exemptions are unfair to wage-earners. Below are others—gathered from experts who know the tax problems of the little fellow and who hope his chance for relief is coming up soon.

All over the country, families are sharing in the support of their aged parents or ill relatives. It's normal in America for two or more members of a family to agree to share in the support of their parents or sister, etc.

But today's law says you can get the $600 exemption—merely as that is—only if you contribute more than half of your dependent's support. If the support is divided 50-50, the exemption is denied to both; you may contribute 40 per cent of your mother's support year after year.

Jim Hagerly, press aide to Eisenhower and one of the best in the business, may be eased out. He's been the subject of considerable private debate among the general's advisers, so much so that John Foster Dulles, a good friend of both Ike and Governor Dewey, has been in touch with Dewey regarding the situation.

Hagerly is a veteran of many presidential campaigns, having been right-hand man to Governor Dewey. He is popular with newsmen, but has one handicap—the general doesn't know him well. And the general doesn't feel comfortable with people he hasn't known a long time.

For one thing, Hagerly can't get in to see him on important questions which should be given the press without delay. Eisenhower's friends keep a tight wall around him, anxious to conserve his strength.

The man who would take Hagerly's place, if he leaves, is Maj. Gen. WILSON G. Persons, an old friend of Ike's, who is an expert at getting along with people in tight places. During part of the war he was the Army's top lobbyist on Capitol Hill, had the job of smoothing the ruffled fur of congressmen.

Manganese Imports

NEW DELHI.—The United States received the overwhelming share of India's manganese ore exports during April, commerce ministry sources announced recently.

U. S. imports totalled 21,000 tons, with West Germany's 8,000 tons ranking second. Japanese importation reached 3,000 tons and the United Kingdom, 2,000 tons.

never get any tax consideration.

In the words of one tax authority, "It's so unrealistic. Why the members of the family cannot be given their pro rata share of the exemption is hard to understand."

All over the country, sons are supporting parents who have gross incomes of more than $500 but net incomes that are painfully inadequate in today's high price era.

A father, for instance, may own a house on which he receives $700 a year in rentals. But his interest, taxes, maintenance charges may come to $500—and his net may be only $200 a year.

That man's son may give thousands to his father. But he'll get no exemption because his father's gross income tops $600 a year.

It's the smaller taxpayer who most frequently is pinched this way. It's so unnecessarily, unreasonably tough.

And so the injustices in the exemptions go. Many in-laws and step-relations—such as sisters-in-law, brothers-in-law—are omitted from the list of those who are eligible exemptions for a taxpayer.

Why? If a taxpayer is the chief support of a dependent (although distant) relative, why shouldn't the law recognize the support?

A legally adopted child can be a tax exemption, but a foster child cannot.

Why? If the support is 100 per cent, why such cruel discrimination against taxpayers who cannot go through the adoption process?

When peak tax rates are piled on top of such inconsistencies, the invitation is to evasion and the groundwork is laid for a tax revolution. A final column on this tomorrow.

There was a trace of envy in his voice as he recounted the young girl's feat, a real landmark in the history of bubble gum.

"Personally, I'm not a very good bubble blower myself," Hutson admitted wistfully. "I'm handicapped by false teeth. Kids don't have that problem."

The irony of Hutson's case arises from the fact he is president of a Philadelphia firm that turns out two billion pieces of "Bubble Gum" gum a year. He estimates this is about half of America's annual output.

In less than 25 years this business built on a bubble has grown into a still mushrooming 40 million dollar industry. Bubble gum has followed the American flag, and is now popular around the globe.

Eskimo children even prefer it to blubber.

Hutson's product has been banned in Iron Curtain countries because the wrapper of each piece of gum contains a printed U. S. historical fact and a comic strip about a typical American family.

"The Russians banned it two years ago because the comic strip made the American way of life look too happy," he said.

The U. S. Army buys 20 million pieces a year, and troops overseas have used it to plug oil leaks in bombers or to keep rain out of their rifles. They sometimes have found it better than money in Korea to hire kids to clean their barracks or run errands.

"We have heard of many instances where it has been used as currency," said Hutson. "Some headhunters in Borneo captured a minor British diplomatic official and released him only after a ransom of 2,400 pieces of bubble gum was paid."

"And in Africa we had a report that a man bought a wife for a case of bubble gum instead of the usual price—two or three oxen and a half dozen sheep."

Bubble gum formerly was made from pontianak, a gum tapped from a Borneo tree. When this source dried up during the last war, the industry developed a plastic base, and this is still used.

Hutson employs 21 persons, including three chemists, who do nothing but test and blow bubble gum. He is proud that, although he is a poor blower himself, he was able in his laboratory to stretch an inch square piece of gum large enough to cover an 8-by-10 foot rug.

"It was rather frightening," he said, "we didn't know what to do with it."

Many a mother with a gum-chewing small son, however, would hardly regard that as a record.

Hutson sees no bust ahead in the boom in the world's largest penny confectionery. Adults buy only 6 per cent of the bubble gum output, the kids buy the rest themselves.

"Our market is the children from 5 to 15—and there are 28 million in America alone," said Hutson, and added dreamily:

"Our goal is to sell each of them one stick a day—that would be $102,200,000 in retail sales."

Hutson is violently opposed to marketing bubble gum on a health basis or on the grounds it provides needed exercise for growing mouths.

"The day they start putting chlorophyll in I retire," he said. "We never claim bubble gum is good for kids. It is just one of the few things left that can give them harmless fun for a penny."

Around The Rim — The Herald Staff Education Plus Legislation Are Needed To Acquire Equal Rights

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Civil rights, at the same time an abstraction and a very real problem, has stirred one of the most tropical controversies to be debated in the last decade or so.

The topic has to do with the "rights" to which various "minority" groups aspire, and which sympathizers of the minorities hope to confer — one way or another.

Judging from the most publicized arguments, civil rights are bundled up with such items as the opportunity to vote without fear or without having to pay a poll tax, freedom from the threat of lynching and flogging, and the right to hold a job on the same level with anyone else, technical qualifications being equal.

The concept is wider than that, however. It assumes equality of creation, like a number of well-known-but-little-read documents declare, and the right to be considered a human being until proved otherwise.

Most people probably agree that "civil rights" are something that all citizens have a claim to, regardless of the religion they believe in, in part of the world their ancestors occupied, or the yellow, black, blond or bronze tint of their wrappings.

The argument arises over the methods to be used in assuring an even break for everyone. Opponents of the Fair Employment Practices Commission proposal and the suggestions for laws against lynching and the poll tax claim you can't legislate good neighborliness, equality or anything of the sort. Education and evolution appear to be their solution to the problem.

I haven't heard of any proponents of FEPC and allied legislation claiming that is the whole means of eliminating discrimination in any of its forms, but they do believe legal action is a necessary step in that direction.

My own opinion, probably alien in Texas, is that it'll take some legislation, a dab of education and a good while to get everybody on a nearly-equal footing for opportunity's knock. Legislation, on either a state or national level, ought to hasten the educational process.

One experience, among "educated" people, did a lot to fix my opinion. A reporter working for another newspaper was assigned to write a story about a middle-aged Negro woman who became a heroine by barging into a burning house to rescue her three-year-old nephew.

In the story he referred to the woman as "Mrs.," so-and-so. A couple of hours later, after the paper had been distributed and a copy reached the publisher's desk, the reporter found that "we just don't" refer to a Negro woman as "Mrs." His immediate superior was called on the carpet for letting such a tradition-shattering slip get into print.

That newspaper also has a policy against the use of pictures of Negroes, and I'm sure it didn't print the one of the modest Negro soldier who pulled a pair of lighter-skinned passengers out of the burning bus near Waco.

Such prejudicial practices amount to an attempt to throw a paper curtain around a group of people because of their race. There probably are other examples of prejudice overshadowing common sense and decency. They ought to be wiped out.

That is, provided we're qualified to meet the competition of the different racial and religious groups, the "old folks," the physically handicapped and other "minorities."

Bankers Think Of Higher Pay For Men Just Out Of College

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. —Are you looking for a career, young man? Well, don't turn up your nose at banking. The bankers want you.

No, they're not paying five and six grand a year for youths just out of college. They're not yet up to the scales some industrial companies pay for engineers and chemists. But they're getting more competitive.

They've found out that the prestige and glory of being a banker isn't enough of a lure in these times of inflation, high taxes, and premium pay for brains and personality.

Robert M. Hanes, president of the Wachover Bank & Trust Co., Winston-Salem, N. C. developed this theme at the 78th Annual Convention of the American Bankers Association here. Hanes, a past president of the ABA, said: "We are not attracted to banking the type of young people we need."

H. Frederick Hagemann Jr., president of the Rockland-Atlas National Bank of Boston, supplied the obligatio. He urged banks to "pay slightly above average going rate for any job and thus get better material and less turnover."

Banks have been hard-pressed by industrial companies such as du Pont, General Motors, General Electric and other large corporations, which comb colleges for "executive material" such as college football coaches scout high schools for star backs and tackles.

Working through William Powers, director of ABA customer and personnel relations, 88 institutions are collaborating on a package deal for campus recruiting. The emphasis goes beyond starting salary and embraces an all-round training course. These banks include the National City, Chase National, and Guaranty Trust of New York; the Philadelphia National; the Continental Illinois of Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Co., St. Louis; the Bank of America of California; and the Security-First National of Los Angeles.

Usual starting pay in a big-city bank runs from $3,000 to $3,500. That's not competitive with the pay of the larger industrial companies, at which $3,500 is often a minimum for an A. B. degree, and $5,000 is not outlandish for engineering or special training. Bankers defend their scales by asking: "What can a boy just out of college do in a bank?"

Hanes has often gone as high as $3,000 to $4,000 for hand-picked young men from such southern institutions as Washington and Lee, University of North Carolina, Duke, Davidson College, and Wake Forest. But pay alone is not enough.

"No worthwhile young man," he said amid nods of approval, "will start in a bank where he has to wait for three or four layers above him to die before he can get a real promotion. Nor will he work for a bank for less than he can earn in industry, although many banks still seem to believe he will. Public opinion surveys indicate that banking is not regarded by many people as a business that offers good opportunity for young people."

Hagemann urged his fellow bankers, who have a hard time competing salary-wise with defense industries, to offer "something that means more to certain kinds of people than a few extra dollars. The appeal of bank jobs is not hard to isolate. We offer, or can offer, reasonable wages, steady employment, collective benefits (such as pensions, medical care, vacations), job comfort and, above all, the recognition of individuality." This last, however, in routine banking operations is easier said than achieved.

Alexander Chmielewski, bank commissioner of Rhode Island, went a step further. He associated low salaries in banks with the temptation to defalcate. Bankers, especially up-and-coming junior officers, have a position in the community to uphold. When their salaries don't give them living standards comparable to their friends in industry, they feel put upon and neglected. Some may decide to supplement their stipend with bets on the horses or self-made loans.

"Higher salaries and better pension plans should tend," said Chmielewski, "to neutralize temptation to which all mortals are theoretically susceptible." Hanes summed it up by saying: "Man is still the most important factor in management." Therefore, banks have no choice but to go out for men.

Uncle Ray's Corner Watched Catfish Make A Nest

Usually (but not always) it is fairly simple to keep such pets as canaries and goldfish alive inside a home. If we try to make pets of "wild" birds, fish or furry animals, we have more trouble. Sometimes this is done with success, but more often it fails.

Now and then, men of science carry out tests with "creatures of the wild." An experiment with catfish was carried out years ago by two naturalists, Hugh M. Smith and L. G. Herzer. They placed a pair of catfish in a good-sized tank, and spent hundreds of hours watching them.

The female laid four batches of eggs in a short period, the total number of eggs being about 2,000. Before these were laid, the adult fish cleared a space at one end of a large tank. With swishing motions of their tails, they cleared sand from the bottom. They also picked up scores of pebbles and carried them away in their mouths. Some of the pebbles were taken only a few inches from the nesting site before being dropped. Other pebbles were moved to the far end of the tank.

That work lasted two days. Then the batches of eggs were placed in the "nest." The male stood guard, and at the same time kept moving his lower fins to stir the water around the eggs.

In five days more than 1,900 eggs hatched. The tiny fish, called "fry," gathered in masses, but the parent fish swam into the masses from time to time to break them apart. While guarding the young, the male fish would bite at the fingers of anyone who touched the surface of the water.

Fish which behave in much the same way have been found in Africa. These include the cambanos in the valleys of the Congo River and the White Nile. They like to live in marshes or shallow streams. A cambona has a fin which runs along its back for two-thirds the length of its body. The cambona has sharp teeth and a strong bite. Sometimes it bites another fish and makes a hole just the shape of the cambona's mouth.

When possible, cambanos choose little pools in a marsh as places for their eggs. Such a pool may have a diameter of two or three feet. The male cambona guards the young as long as they need his care. For NATURE section of your scrap-book.

In eight spots, more than 100,000 people came to cheer the GOP candidate even though there was a threat of rain most of the day.

Eisenhower didn't mention President Truman by name in any of his speeches yesterday. But time after time he hit back with sharp criticism of the President.

"We are determined to pursue in the foreign field a comprehensive, firm, broad policy that will truly lead toward peace. We think there has been enough triffing around, enough indecision and enough failures in that field in the last seven years."

By limiting this criticism to the past seven years, Eisenhower was hitting directly at Truman who went into the White House after the death of President Roosevelt in 1945.

While Ball said the GOP has plenty of money for what he called a "campaign of corflakes," he said Volunteers for Stevenson are dead broke. He said it was at the last minute that they got together $35,000 to pay for Stevenson's television radio address Monday night.

Longhorn-Irish Game Is Tops

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff

The conference opener—Texas Christian against Arkansas—and a heavy scheduled of interconference games featured by the Texas-Notre Dame tilt, occupied Southwest Conference eleven Thursday. The week ends promised more football for the circuit than any similar period in the season. All teams expected to be in top shape by Saturday.

At Austin, the Texas Longhorns went through their last hard practice scrimmage Wednesday without the services of T. Jones, stellar Split-T quarterback. But Frank Medina, Longhorn trainer, said the sparkplug of the Texas offense, nurse a charley horse this week, would be ready for the Notre Dame game Saturday.

The defending champion TCU Horned Frogs, scoreless in their first two games of the season, had another overtime drill as they tapered off for the conference opener against Arkansas' Razorbacks. The defensive platoon drilled against Razorback T-formation offense while the offense spent its time on play execution and blocking assignments.

Meanwhile Coach Otis Douglass watched his listless Razorbacks loll through scrimmage against TCU formations. Douglass, who has threatened to resign unless his charges start "playing football," wouldn't predict the outcome of Saturday's game. "I just don't know," he said. The Hogs have won one and lost one.

Southern Methodist went through its scoring plays in search of a more deadly scoring punch for their game in Dallas Saturday night against Georgia Tech. The Mustangs racked up 23 first downs against Duke but couldn't reach pay dirt but once.

Baylor's Bears polished running and aerial plays at Waco as they prepared for Washington State. They want to keep their rating as the nation's fourth best passing team in the Saturday tilt. Coach George Sauer indicated starting assignments were still in doubt at some backfield posts.

Signal drills were down for Rice Institute's Owls Thursday and Friday. They concluded the heavy work for their Louisiana State game Thursday with 30 minutes of scrimmage. Coach Jess Neely hasn't worked his team hard for the Tigers, observers noted. LSU was to arrive in Houston Saturday morning from Baton Rouge.

The Texas Aggies practiced long and hard Thursday night in their final workout before their Saturday night game with Kentucky. The Wildcats were to fly in Friday afternoon for a workout under the College Station lights.

Meanwhile, the Texas-Notre Dame game looked more and more like an aerial dogfight. Word from South Bend said Coach Frank Lewis conducted a long drill on pass offense and defense Wednesday. The same thing has occupied most of Coach Ed Price's time at Austin this week.

Aggies Facing Rugged Test

LEXINGTON, Oct. 2.—Kentucky, its staying power a newly found asset, measures its football recovery program Saturday against unbeaten Texas A&M.

Kentucky hasn't won in two starts but proved its durability in a strong comeback effort against Mississippi last week. Trailing statistically and in the scoring, the underdog Wildcats burst forth with a last quarter spree that earned a 13-13 tie with Ole Miss.

In getting ready for the Texans, the Kentucky backfield was revamped in a move that left halfback Tom Fillion without regular employment. The vacancy may be claimed by a freshman lightweight, Charles Bell, who hasn't seen action this season.

"Our scouts tell us Texas A&M has terrific team speed," said Kentucky Coach Paul Bryant. "They are playing at home for the first time after two wins and I don't think it will be to our advantage."

In Aggieland, Coach Ray George promoted sophomore fullback Don Kachuk to the first string as a reward for piling his way 37 yards in six smashes in the winning drive against Oklahoma A&M last week. "They say Coach Paul Bryant lost his offense with the graduation of Babe Parilli," commented George, "but our scout who saw them this Mississippi reports the Wildcats still have a rough team. We just hope they don't spoil our opening home game."

Knott Invades Gail Friday

KNOTT — The Knott Hill Billies, fielding one of their better six-man football clubs in recent years if not in history, are heavy favorites to topple Gail in a District Seven clash at Gail Friday afternoon. Gail is fielding its first team in history and Coach Cliff Frazer is trying to build for future years. The Billies play their next home game Oct. 17, at which time they meet Loop in a conference game.

Claassen Picks Tech, Maryland, Texas To Win

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Picking football winners while ducking World Series bunts and bats (last week's average—37 correct, 11 incorrect for 77). Season's average: 63 correct, 18 incorrect for 778).

Michigan State over Oregon State this was the Spartans hardest battle last year and they squeaked with a 6 to 0 verdict. But it closes should be the same. Wisconsin over Illinois: It is as simple as this—Wisconsin wants to go to the Rose Bowl and Illinois knows it can't. The Illini won last year and since 1932 neither has been able to win twice in a row in this bitter struggle. Amescho to star.

Maryland over Clemson: neither club is in the good graces of the suddenly prim Southern Conference so this game has been dubbed the "Suspension Bowl." Jack Scarbath of Maryland to outshine Clemson's Buck George.

Georgia Tech over Southern Methodist: those wild Mustangs from Texas aren't so wild this year.

Southern California over Army: the Trojans scored 31 points against Northwestern last week and displeased Coach Jess Hill. So woe to the poor Cadets.

Duke over Tennessee: Jack Kistler of Duke has gained 225 yards in 27 tries. That's the fourth best total in the entire nation.

Cornell over Navy: Coach Lefter James says he has discovered what caused the Big Red team's defeat by Colgate last Saturday. His team is the pick in the belief that he also found a remedy.

Texas over Notre Dame: who can remember when a good Texas team ever was roped and tied in its own backyard? But the Longhorns had better keep John Lattner under close watch.

Michigan over Stanford: The Big Ten club seems the more solid but it will have to be solid if it expects to keep Bob Mathias in check. It is the day's TV offering.

Holy Cross over Fordham: Holy Cross gets the nod with Fordham's captain, John Hyatt, out with polio.

Ohio State over Purdue: too close for comfort.

Oklahoma over Pittsburgh: Billy Vessels to move that ball for the Sooners.

Pennsylvania over Dartmouth: The Penns outman their Ivy League brethren.

Skippping over the others in a hurry: Friday night: Alabama over Miami, Syracuse over Temple.

East: Albright over LaFayette, Wake Forest over Boston College, Wake Forest over Yale, Columbia over Harvard, Colgate over Buffalo, New York University over Kings Point, Princeton over Rutgers, Williams over Rochester, West Virginia over Wayneburg, Penn State over William & Mary.

Midwest: Boston University over Marquette, California over Minnesota, Kansas over Colorado, Tulsa over Cincinnati, Houston over Oklahoma A & M, Nebraska over Iowa State, Indiana over Iowa, Villanova over Detroit, Northwestern over Vanderbilt, Wichita over State.

South: Mississippi over Auburn, Mississippi State over Arkansas State, North Carolina State over Davidson, Georgia over North Carolina, Virginia Military over Richmond, Tulane over Santa Clara, South Carolina over Furman, Florida over the Citadel, Virginia over Virginia Tech, Washington & Lee over George Washington.

Southwest: Texas Christian over Arkansas, Texas Western over Hawaii, Texas A & M over Kentucky, Rice over Louisiana State, Baylor over Washington State.

Far West: Arizona over Utah, Brigham Young over Montana, Denver over Colorado A & M, Oregon over Idaho, College of Pacific over Texas Tech, Washington over UCLA, Wyoming over Utah State.

His opposite number, Roy Campanella, didn't do too well, either.

Although Mickey Mantle struck out in his final time at bat when the Yanks were desperate for a hit, the "pneumon" from Oklahoma gave warning that he must be dealt with by collecting two of his team's six hits, one of them on a bunt. The fleet kid also raced to make a catch on Reese in the fourth inning which would have done full credit to Joe DiMaggio.

Joe Black Has Developed Fast

BROOKLYN (AP)—Two years ago today Joe Black was traveling by bus and pitching for the Baltimore Elite Giants in the Negro National League.

A year ago today he was getting ready to pitch the Oct. 4 opening game for Manager Billy Herman's Centenios team in the Havana Winter League.

Today Black stands on the threshold of World Series greatness. The 28-year-old rookie, who won 15 games and saved 14 others with his relief pitching for the Brooklyn Dodgers, beat the Yankees' ace, Allie Reynolds, 4-2, yesterday.

"He'll see a lot of this series," Manager Charles Dressen said. Black, when asked why he had shaken off several of catcher Roy Campanella's signs, replied: "We both shake our heads once in a while but I never shake him off. He knows the hitters better than I do. I just throw to him."

The Dodgers got Black on a "look basis" from the Baltimore Elite in December, 1950. They paid $11,000 for him and two other players.

Dressen lashed back at critics who said he was gambling by starting his brilliant fireman against Reynolds, who has won a World Series game for the Yankees in each of their last four classics. "I guess that will hold them," said Dressen. "Black was my soundest pitcher and deserved the chance. Reynolds was their best pitcher. Casey Stengel says that by the way he talks."

MIDLAND FACES YSLETA

Port Arthur-Ray Go Tops Schoolboy Grid Program

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Port Arthur and Ray of Corpus Christi clash Friday night in the feature game of the week in Texas schoolboy football, but there will be important battles from the Panhandle to Gulf running throughout the four top divisions.

The Port Arthur-Ray contest matches undefeated, untied teams. Ray has been ranked with Baytown as the strongest teams in the south half of the state.

Another outstanding game in Class AAAA matches Midland with Ysleta. Midland is unbeaten and untied. Ysleta is undefeated but has been tied.

Class AAAA has a bona fide scrap of undefeated, untied teams with Edison of San Antonio tackling Victoria in a conference game of District T. The titlist clashes with Emmerich from this battle.

Paris of AAA also runs into a rugged test. The undefeated, untied and unscored on Wildcats take on Ennis, which has almost a similar status in Class AA.

Class A has two games sending undefeated, untied teams against each other—Ballinger at Stamford and Silsbee to Huntsville. Silsbee is unscored on, Center plays Alvin, unbeat, untied team of Class A—Shelbyville. Terrell clashes with Wills Point, which is undefeated, untied and unscored on in Class A; Brady plays unbeaten, untied Dublin of Class A; Alvin tackles unbeaten Spring Branch of Class A, and Uvalde plays Hondo, undefeated but tied in Class A.

The headline games in Class A are Clifton vs Mansfield in a conference game of District 11 and Northwest vs Pilot Point in a district 10 conference struggle. All four teams are undefeated and untied.

Hull-Daisetta, undefeated and untied, plays Dayton, undefeated but once-tied, in a conference game of District 20.

Defending champion Lubbock of Class AAAA plays a weak North Side team at Fort Worth. Breckenridge, 1951 Class AAA champion, tackles Abilene of Class AAAA. Arlington, defending champion of Class AA, meets Hillsboro. Gliding, the champion of Class A which has won four straight this season, plays Taylor.

There are 122 undefeated, untied teams in the four top divisions of schoolboy football and prospects are that the list will be trimmed to around 75 with the 250-odd games to be played this week end.

Morrison, East And West Seek Second Wins

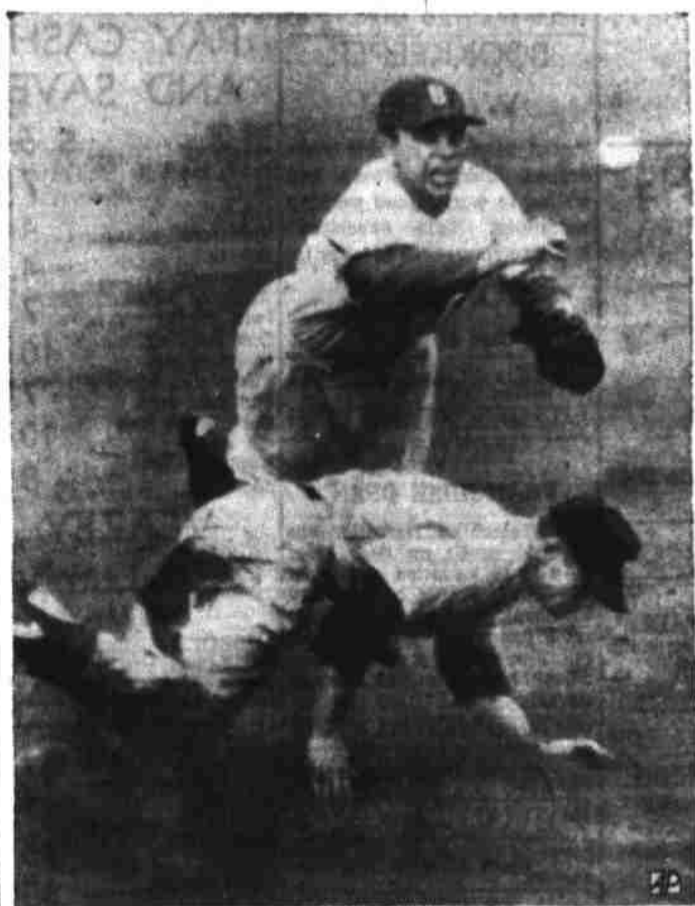

The second round of Ward School Football League games will be played at Steer Stadium, starting at 8 a.m. Saturday.

The schedule will send Central Ward against Kate Morrison in the opening test. College Heights against Airport at 9. North Ward against West Ward at 10 and Park Hill against East Ward at 11.

Airport is seeing action in the league for the first time while Washington Place draws the bye.

In opening games last week, Kate Morrison won over Washington Place. East Ward shaded College Heights. West Ward belted Central and Park Hill and North Ward played a tie.

The season will run through Nov. 22, with each school playing eight games.

PeeWee Fires In Vain

Dodgers' Shortstop PeeWee Reese fires over the sliding Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees in a vain try for a double play at first base in the fourth inning of the opening World Series game at Ebbetts Field in Brooklyn. Mantle was forced on Yogi Berra's grounder to first baseman Gil Hodges who threw to Reese. (AP Wirephoto).

BLACK DOES IT

Bums Look Capable Of Winning Series

By GAYLE TALBOT
BROOKLYN (AP)—Know what?—The Dodgers could win this World Series and make a lot of experts look very bad.

It was a smart, loose team which outshined the Yankees, 4-2, in yesterday's opener, extremely skilled on defense and a picture of confidence, in its every move.

Joe Black, the big Negro rookie proved himself a very fine pitcher as he throttled the American Leaguers in the tight spots, and he is due to be back for several more helpings before it is over.

This was the first opener the Dodgers ever have won in six World Series.

Dressen's all-or-nothing gamble of starting his freshman reliever didn't really look like a gamble at all as Black mowed the Yanks down inning after inning. The big fellow appeared to get faster as he went along. No harder ball was thrown all day than the strike which Irv Noren looked at to end the ball game.

As they went into the second game today behind Carl Erskine, their small-size righthander, the National Leaguers had every reason to feel their oats. Having disposed of Allie Reynolds with three well-hit home runs, they had no particular reason for fearing Vic Raschi, the Yankees' second best.

Black probably will be given a day's rest, but he will be back ready for relief duty in tomorrow's third game at Yankee Stadium.

Black's pitching was, of course, the standout performance of the opener, but not by too much.

Andy Pafko, the Dodger left-fielder, turned in two tremendous plays to choke off a Yankee threat in the fifth inning. First he made a remarkable peg to third to cut

Infielder's Errors Costly As Sports Lose To Chicks

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 2.—Shreveport and Memphis wind up their Louisiana stand tonight with the Chicks' Tommy Hurd trying to pitch the Southern Association nine into a Dixie Series lead.

Memphis took a 3-2 victory over the Texas League Sports last night to even the series at 2-2. The win came about when the Sports shortstop, Joe Koppke, erred in two runs for the Chicks.

Shreveport Righthander Bud Lively was the victim of Koppke's ninth inning collapse even though he pitched brilliant seven-hit ball through eight innings.

Koppke overthrew first base to let in the tying run and then led Ed McGhee score all the way from first on an easy pop to short.

Koppke overran Al Kozar's weak pop-up and finally let it drop for a fluke double.

Millard Howell, who relieved Starter Tommy Fine in the seventh, protected the Chick lead by striking out three Shreveport batters in the ninth. It was Howell's second win of the series.

Memphis had taken a 1-0 lead in the fourth only to see the Sports tie it up in the same inning and go ahead in the seventh when Grant Dunlap parked one out of the lot.

Massachusetts and New York each have 18 representatives on the Brandeis University football squad this season.

Midwestern Guns For First Win Over Wildcats

ABILENE, (Sp)—Abilene Christian will be out to protect its record of having never lost a football game to Midwestern University when the two teams clash in Stamford Saturday night.

In the four previous games between the teams the Wildcats have won three and tied one, spoiling three Midwestern homecomings in the process.

The two elevenes appear evenly matched this year. Midwestern has won its only two games of the season, downing two of ACC's Texas Conference foes. The Indians whipped McMurry, 25 to 14, and last Saturday night downed Austin College, 21 to 7.

After winning their opener, 20 to 7, over Southwest Texas State, the Wildcats have met successive defeats at the hands of East Texas State, 21 to 0, and the University of Chattanooga, 28 to 0.

The Midwestern attack is built around the running of Halfback Jackie Robinson and the line drives of Harry Hansasler and Tomie Ward, fullbacks. Ward, transfer from Tyler Junior College, gives the backfield plenty of extra punch, and he is an outstanding punter as well.

The Wildcats hinge their hopes of victory on the deception of Quarterback Ted Sitton and the ground game provided by Don Smith, Wesley (Red) Rushing, Jerry Mullins and Jimmy Hirth.

Jorge Is Pleased With GOP Progress

STOCKTON, Calif., Oct. 2.—Defense was stressed today as College of Pacific drilled for its home opener Saturday night against Texas Tech.

Coach Ernie Jorge expressed satisfaction with the squad, adding he was especially pleased with the lack of fumbles.

T&P Veteran Of 42 Continuous Years Retires

DALLAS—Forty-two years of continuous service with the Texas and Pacific Railway Co. has ended in retirement for William M. Mooney, auditor of passenger receipts and station accounts. Tuesday was the last day of work for Mooney, who came to T&P in 1910 after having started his railroad career three years earlier in Palestine with the International and Great Northern Railroad Co. He is a native of Alabama, but will continue to live in Dallas.

At the same time some promotions and personnel shifts for five key T&P accounting department officers in Dallas were announced by F. R. Latimer, general auditor. J. R. Theford, auditor freight receipts, has been elevated to the newly created position of auditor revenues.

J. W. Chick, assistant auditor freight receipts, continues as Theford's assistant by taking over another new post, assistant auditor revenues.

W. B. Moseley, chief clerk of auditor passenger receipts, becomes assistant auditor revenues, a new position, and R. E. Hardwick, auditor disbursements, and W. A. Godfrey, auditor capital expenditures, have been named to new positions of auditor expenditures and assistant auditor expenditures, respectively.

Abraham Lincoln was elected captain of a volunteer company in the Black Hawk War.

IT'S THEIR 'WEEK' Governor Salutes Texas Newspapers

AUSTIN, Oct. 2 (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers yesterday officially saluted Texas newspapers for their part in protecting basic freedom.

He issued this statement, taking note that National Newspaper Week is being observed from Oct. 1-8:

"All over the nation during this week of Oct. 1-8 Americans are pausing to give recognition to the vital role newspapers and newspapermen are playing in our democracy.

"Here in Texas we have more than ordinary reason to observe National Newspaper Week. For here in the great Lone Star State a vigilant and responsible press is doing what I think is an outstanding job for our state and its people.

"Ever since the days of Gail Borden, the father of Texas Journalism, Texans have relied on their newspapers to lead the way in telling the story of Texas progress and Texas problems. How well they have done that job is reflected in the progress of this state. I know of few major accomplishments for the public good, the doing of which was not aided materially by the support of a newspaper or someone from its staff.

In almost every community of Texas, newspapers are the guiding force in shaping public opinion, in doing those things which have made Texas what it is today.

"For all those things, we in Texas salute the newspaper industry.

"But I have in mind a greater debt that Americans owe the fourth estate. That debt is due newspapers for the fight they are waging to protect the basic freedom of Democracy: freedom of speech and press. In the world today it is possibly our most vital freedom. I would remind you that there are those who would take from our newspapers the right to print the truth. It is in this fight that our newspapers are waging a relentless—and I am happy to say—a winning battle. Americans everywhere should join that fight. Texans, like their newspapers, should lead the fight."

U.S. 80 Officers
M. N. Caddell, Colorado City, center, was elected president of the U.S. Highway 80 Association at its annual meeting in El Paso on Saturday. He is owner of an asphalt distributing company. L. A. Chapman, left, executive director of the association, said that the State Highway Department had plans to let $12 million in contracts within a year on U.S. 80. Named secretary of the association was A. C. Bishop, Sweetwater, right.

Just A Trifle Late For The Fireworks

BALTIMORE (AP)—It was nearly three months late for fireworks and besides, motorists don't usually go around shooting Roman candles of fire into the night air.

So police arrested Peter Mworczynski and charged him with driving without registration, driving under a revoked license, with fictitious tags and reckless driving.

Construction Activity Down In September

Construction activity declined in September, with the smallest amount of building being started for any month this year.

The year's record to date:

Lions Are Told Of JC Surveys

Help of the community in making known its desires was sought by Bill Holbert, who is heading up a survey for Howard County Junior College, in an address before the Lions Club on Wednesday.

Holbert pointed to the multi-faceted field of opportunity for junior colleges. Besides the academic or college-parallel role, it has the responsibility of providing vocational or terminal courses; of meeting needs of adult education; of basic preparatory work for those who did not get secondary schooling; and perhaps of stabilizing some few students who falter in an initial attempt at senior college level.

Individuals and groups will be surveyed to ascertain their needs and desires in expanding the curriculum, Holbert said.

Dr. L. B. Andrew, who is leaving Thursday for Birmingham, Ala., to open a 500-bed VA hospital there, was recognized by the Lions, who said they felt they spoke for other clubs, chamber of commerce and civic agencies expressing appreciation to him for his leadership as the VA hospital manager here. Dr. Andrew was honored not alone for his hospital work, but also as a citizen who had fit right into the community life.

Bennie Compton, member of the Junior Hi-Y, gave the Lions a first hand look at "what the YMCA has done for me." Bennie told of how he and other students at junior and senior high school had been given lessons in deeper appreciation of home, school and church, and of the necessity for co-operative effort and solid leadership. Roy Worley, high school principal, told Lions that it was his experience that the students active in YMCA affairs invariably turned out to be better students.

Damage Suit Is Moved To Abilene

A damage suit between Mrs. Alma Hill and the Banner Ice Company has been transferred from the 118th District Court to the 42nd District Court in Abilene. Mrs. Hill is suing Banner for $50,000, claiming her 9-year-old daughter's hand was caught in a Banner ice crusher on June 24.

Mrs. Hill claims her daughter was buying crushed ice at Banner's Big Spring office and was left by an unattended crusher while change was being made. Her daughter, Jimmie, caught her left hand in the crusher, according to the petition.

Damages are being asked for pain and suffering, deformity of hand, loss of earning power, and negligence on the part of Banner.

Students Warned To Apply For Educational Deferments

AUSTIN.—State draft headquarters today warned college students who want educational deferments that they must ask for them in writing if they expect to get consideration.

Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, said that a student who intends to take the draft qualification test must ask his board for deferment.

"Application to take the test does not constitute an application for deferment," General Wakefield said. "The test score serves the purpose of added information for the draft board to consider."

General Wakefield also pointed out that it is not the responsibility of colleges and universities to ask for educational deferments. He emphasized that it is the responsibility of the individual student.

"The student who intends to ask his draft board for a deferment should sit down and write his board a letter when he definitely makes up his mind to request the deferment," the state draft director said.

Colleges and universities are not required to send class standing of a student to a board unless the individual student requests his school to do it.

Indonesia Terrorists Kill 850 In Half Year

JAKARTA, Indonesia, Oct. 2 (AP)—Terrorists in the west have killed 850 civilians, injured 190 others, kidnapped 120 and caused about 1 1/2 million dollars worth of property damage in the first six months of this year, the government announced today.

The official tabulation did not otherwise identify the attackers, but it was assumed most were members of the fanatic Moslem Darul Islam organization.

OCTOBER 16 TO 19 Large Crowds Due At Basin Oil Show

West Texas and New Mexico will boast the world's largest event during National Oil Progress Week in the presentation of Permian Basin Oil Show in Odessa October 16 through 19.

Anticipated crowds of 75,000 to 100,000 persons are expected to inspect the 350 exhibits of 200 exhibitors representing more than 500 manufacturers.

Everything from delicate oil field instruments to a 131-foot high drilling rig will be shown at the four-day exposition in Ector County Park.

All phases of the show—the acres of outside exhibits and five show buildings—will be free except for entertainment.

Top names from the movies and radio, including Blondie and Dagwood Bumstead will be featured in daily variety shows designed for family groups. Four nightly dances, with music by Will Osborne, Leo Pieper and two local bands, will be on the schedule along with a giant Chuck Wagon Gang barbecue for more than 15,000 persons.

Saturday, October 18.

Ticket books, priced at $2 and including tickets for each of the dances, a performance of the Arthur (Dagwood) Lake Show and the barbecue, are being sold throughout the Permian Basin. W. D. Lane, Plymouth Oil Company, Midland, is ticket chairman and John Ed Cooper, the Western Company, Midland, is co-chairman.

Cotton Clover, general manager, announced this week that that handful of remaining inside and outside exhibit spaces were going at a rate to indicate closing out of the exhibitor list soon.

Entries of floats, bands, oilfield rolling stock and mounted units indicate the kickoff parade at 10 a.m. October 16, will be the biggest in West Texas history.

The opening day will be Education Day with special invitations to local and area schools to send science and physics classes and any other interested students along with bandmen and faculty members. Keeping the Progress theme, the Oil Show will present free movies in a theatre and lounge set up by the Oil Industry Information Committee, sponsor of Oil Progress Week.

Other non-commercial exhibits will include Odessa College, the National Safety Council and Texas

THE MOTHER OF A SCOUTING FAMILY

... Mrs. Bill Earley, leader of Girl Scout Troop 11, is only one member of a scouting family. Her son, daughter and husband are also active in scouting circles.

Earley Family Shares Interest In Scouting

It isn't often that you find an entire family that's interested in the same thing.

So the Bill Earleys, 1704 State, are one in a million, for they all share an enthusiasm for scouting.

Betty Jo, 15, has received a curved bar, the highest award in the Girl Scouts, her brother, Billy, 16, is an Eagle Scout. Mrs. Earley is leader of Girl Scout Troop 11 and Mr. Earley assists with both groups in whatever way possible.

In addition, the family has a collection of things of nature that are on exhibit to scouting and school groups.

To Mrs. Earley, cooking is not a hobby.

"I just cook to fill folks up and then I keep cooking to build up the children," she chuckled.

Since she's so vitally interested in scout work, the greying Mrs. Earley has concentrated to a great extent on outdoor cookery.

But for special occasions the family likes to be treated with an extra-special cake that no one can bake just like Mother.

WHITE CAKE

Ingredients:
7 egg whites (stiffly beaten)

- 1 cup butter
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup milk
- 3 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 teaspoon lemon extract
- 1 teaspoon almond extract

Method:
Cream butter and sugar. Add milk and flavoring alternately with flour sifted with baking powder. Fold in egg whites. Bake in prepared pans 30 to 35 minutes in 350 degree oven. Makes three large loaves.

For a filling, Mrs. Earley likes to use pineapple.

PIEAPPLE FILLING

Ingredients:
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup sugar
2 cups crushed pineapple
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Method:
Mix all ingredients together and cook slowly until thick and clear. Spread between cake layers, serving small amount for decoration. Frost with seven-minute icing and edge top of cake with remaining filling.

'Eat American' Is Wonderful Subject

Whole families holiday in Europe and newlyweds honeymoon in Hawaii or South America and spend less time traveling than was required, not so long ago, for a tour to the Grand Canyon, Salt Lake City, and Yellowstone Park.

All this international visiting has brought a great interest in international eating, with the result that almost any foreign recipe will have a dozen or more housewives experimenting with new food combinations and trying their hand at spice and condiment magic.

Then comes a reader with a request for more typically American recipes. This was her opening question: "Do you remember when the vacation slogan was 'See America First'?"

And she continued, "Why doesn't someone start saying 'Eat American First', and suggest more of the fine regional dishes that are a part of this nation's tradition and heritage?"

There is cookbook after cookbook on this subject, and many home food files bulge with treasured recipes. Test kitchens constantly add to supply. Yet no research was necessary, for along came a new release from the Memphis, Tenn., office of the National Cotton Council. The subject was typical American foods and six favorite regional dishes were spotlighted. Included, too, was a collection of food fancies and facts that can only be presented under the title: "Cookery Americana."

So, for the Texans who want to follow the suggestion of at least one other reader, here is information on "Eating American First." Up East, Down South.

Plain old American food is just the best in the world, and it's as varied as ever a food could be as the National Cotton Council. The report continues:

We've got clam chowder from up East, Minnesota wild rice, New Orleans gumbo, Southern fried chicken, Spanish rice from somewhere in Texas, steak from the West, and citrus delights from the coast.

American history yields some wonderful stories of the heritage of some of the fine regional dishes. There is the Thanksgiving feast as the America I tradition. Beans and Beans.

The American Indian is to be thanked for many varieties of the plain old bean. Americans eat lima, string beans, soy beans, pole beans, pinto beans, and many others. In Europe, most peoples know only the broad bean. The Orient depends upon the soy.

A temperamental chef at Boston's famed Parker House clenched a handful of dough and threw it in the oven when he learned his sweetheart had been accused of thievery. The browned folded rolls were served, so the story goes, to the evening's guests for lack of other rolls. We've been calling for Parker House rolls ever since.

Another famous chef, Oscar, of the old Waldorf, whipped up a very special salad for a dinner to be attended by the 400. So, Waldorf salad came into being.

One-dish meals originated back in the days of the pioneers. It was common practice for the meat and vegetables to be cooked together in one pot hanging in the fireplace. In various parts of the country, today, families still enjoy "pot luck supper."

Out West, it's spuds and steak. In New Orleans, one eats gumbo and jambalaya, and many other creole dishes handed down from the days of the Spanish and the French rule.

Utah Mormons eat salt pork pancakes. A Nebraska never boils corn in salted water for fear it might toughen the kernels.

An "up East" gathering is the "sugaring off a party." Families gather up snow, spread freshly tapped maple syrup over it, and eat with doughnuts and dill pickles.

Virginia cooks soak chicken in rich buttermilk a half hour before frying it in shallow fat. Marylanders stuff country cured hams with kale and mint leaves. Cleveland cooks add a drop of tarragon vinegar to maple sauces or dishes.

A thrifty New Yorker tired of seeing left over chicken and ham being thrown away, so he creamed it, a la King.

The Gulf Coast broils flounder. In San Francisco, home of abalone steaks, they serve flounder just as deliciously broiled, but this fish is a sand dab.

New Orleans steams its crabs. On Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco, crabs are cooked in giant pots of boiling water.

Mexican Influence: Mexican Cookery: Some of the best dishes in the Southwest borrow heavily from the finest Spanish and Mexican cooking. A gastronomic tour of this fascinating "young" part of the United States would surely include tamales pie. This is a direct quote from the Cotton Council.

Ground beef, richly browned and highly seasoned, is baked in a crust of cooked corn meal. The flavor combination is delightful. The blandness of the corn meal is a good foil for the spicy filling.

Tamales pie can be baked in any casserole or baking dish, but a Mexican dish provides the perfect setting for this handsome, flavorful main dish. Serve ripe olives and little pickled onions as a relish.

TAMALE PIE. (Makes 8 servings)
2 cups boiling water
2-3 cup yellow corn meal

TAMALE PIE IS DISH FROM SOUTHWEST ... speaks for influence of Mexican cookery

- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 pound ground beef
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 2 tablespoons margarine
- 1 small can tomato paste
- 1/2 cup sliced ripe olives

1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 cup beef bouillon or consommé
1 No. 2 can whole kernel corn
Dash of cayenne pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shredded cheese
Paprika
Stir corn meal into rapidly boiling water. Cook and stir until thick. Remove from heat. In a heavy skillet melt margarine and brown onion in it. Add ground beef. Stir and cook until meat is no longer red. Add tomato paste, olives, green pepper, chili powder, bouillon, corn, cayenne and salt. Stir well. Taste to be sure this is enough salt. Line a shallow baking dish with part of the corn meal mush. Pour meat and vegetable mixture into lined dish. Drop remaining corn meal mush in spoonfuls on top of meat, and sprinkle shredded cheese over top. Dash paprika liberally over surface. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour.
Steak and Spuds
In the West and Middle West, everybody likes steak. They raise and know good beef, but they also know that a steer produces only a limited number of Porterhouse cuts. So the beef round and sirloin tips are transformed into wonderfully good eating and it's called "Country-Fried Steak." Potatoes most often are served with this steak; but in the corn states, corn on the cob rates high.

Lunch Box Meal Deserves Inclusion Of Good Coffee

Even though the mid-morning and mid-afternoon work break these days is the signal for coffee, and despite the fact that coffee vendors are wheeling their wares right in to offices and factories, coffee is still being carried to work in many thousands of lunch boxes. Might be that the coffee in the plant doesn't taste quite like the home-brewed variety. In many cases it's because fresh coffee isn't available at exactly the time and place the lunch-eater selects.

Whatever the reason, fact is that every carried lunch deserves the best brewed coffee that can possibly be included. And, as is usually the case in all cooking matters, it's the attention to detail that makes the difference.

Most lunch packers take care of that chore before the family sits down to breakfast. The second he finishes his morning coffee, the worker can grab up his box of lunch and rush to catch a ride on the bus or in the auto pool. The coffee in the box, then, was the first brew made that morning. It was made fresh, with a generous amount of coffee to water, and poured into the thermos bottle at the exact moment it was ready. That would make it good coffee. When the bottle is opened at noon, the brew should taste exactly as if it was just made.

Here are some tricks to make sure. Before pouring the freshly-made coffee into the thermos, scald the bottle with hot water. Then, if it can possibly be carried separately, do not add the cream. In a thermos, the cream has a tendency to "cook" and change in flavor. If you can put the necessary cream into a small bottle to be carried along with the thermos and added at lunchtime.

In the evening, unpack the lunch box and again scald the thermos. Using soapsuds and hot water, clean out the inside with a narrow brush, making certain to get into the farthest reaches of the bottle. Rinse with warm, clear water, and air out the bottle. That's just good common sense, but some women will make a mistake by depending on the quick rinse given by the menfolk when they're finished with lunch.

In the morning, then, you've got a clean, sweet-smelling thermos in which to pour the fresh, fragrant coffee brew. If the coffee tastes good, and gives the pick-up for which it's famous, the rest of the lunch will suddenly gain importance, too. Your man will consider that you pack the best lunch in the world, and he'll look forward to the break in his working day.

Enchiladas

- 1 dozen tortillas
- 6 dried chile peppers
- 1 large onion chopped or grated
- 2 cups water or broth
- 4 tablespoons fat
- 2 cups grated cheese

Remove seeds from peppers, boil, remove skin and mash to a fine paste. Heat fat, add pepper, salt to taste, add 2 cups water or broth. Let boil.

Place a tortilla in boiling sauce; turn it in the sauce so it is well covered. Remove to a plate, sprinkle with cheese and onion or onion juice and roll up like any filled pancake.

Place into an oven-proof dish or to serving dish for immediate serving. Sprinkle more cheese and onion on top and cover with sauce. Enchiladas should be served piping hot. For that reason, many prefer putting them into a slow oven until cheese is melted and they are well heated.

If you prefer, use a chile con carne for the sauce.

Swiss cheese can be used in place of or in combination with American cheese.

Chile Con Carne

- 2 pounds round steak cut into small pieces
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 4 tablespoons fat
- 1 medium onion
- 1 teaspoon cominos
- 8 to 10 chiles
- 2 buttons garlic

Cut meat into small pieces; season with salt and pepper and flour. Heat fat. Add meat and let it brown. Add chopped onion and paste made of boiled, skinned chiles mashed with cominos and Add one cup hot water, cover and simmer until meat is tender. Add more water if needed to cook. This should have a thick—not watery—gravy.

Prepare chicken or cabrito (kid) in the same manner. First cut it into serving-size pieces. Nice served with rice or hominy.

Huevos Rancheros

- 1/2 small onion
- 3 buttons garlic
- 3/4 teaspoon cominos seed
- 2 tablespoons melted shortening
- 4 tablespoons tomato sauce
- 1 cup water
- 1 small hot pepper
- Salt to taste
- 8 eggs

Chop onion very fine. Mash garlic and cominos. Add to melted fat and cook slightly. Add tomato sauce and water and boil until the sauce is thick and well flavored.

Poach eggs in sauce and serve upon toast with a spoonful of sauce over each.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

The only Martin County club calf going to the Texas State Fair this year will be this one being washed and readied by the owner, exhibitor, Bobby Owen Kelly, Courtney School 4-H Club boy, who worked hard and developed calves that came in for a heavy share of the top ribbons last year.

Bobby, and his father, Owen Kelly, raised this calf from their herd. Since only one calf from the county is being taken to Dallas this year, one will be shipped in the van with the Howard County entries.

Martin County Agriculture Agent Ray Hastings says he will be at the fair when the calf is shown but will not go along with him. Hastings says he doesn't know yet just where the other Martin County steers will be shown.

THE SPRINGBOARD News From Webb Air Force Base By A-2C FERD J. BORSCH

COMMUNITY CHEST
With the base Community Chest campaign barely one week old, Webb personnel had pledged 60 percent of their $5,000 goal according to Maj. Ridsen Wall, project officer.

Almost $3,000 had been pledged the first five days of the drive which opened September 23.

Medical Group has provided the early punch in the drive which has the establishment and maintenance of a servicemen's club in Big Spring as one of its main projects.

The base campaign is being run in conjunction with Howard County in conjunction with Howard County in a day with an overall goal of $49,952.

In addition to the organization of a servicemen's club in town for the recreation of Webb personnel, the 1952 Howard campaign also includes support of the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA and Salvation Army.

All told, 17 squadrons are participating in the drive with 2,846 pledge cards distributed. An award will be given to the squadron with the best record in the Red Feather drive.

KIDS DAY
Approximately 700 youngsters from Big Spring and surrounding area visited Webb Saturday as the local Kiwanis Club staged its "National Kids Day" program.

Seven buses and nine trucks, all Air Force vehicles, transported the group to and from the base. On each bus were aviation cadets who acted as guides and supervisors on the tour.

A combat film, "cockpit views" of aircraft, flight line, parachute shop, link trainer and dining halls were points of interest for the 700 kids.

FIRING RANGE
Webb's newly renovated firing range will soon take on the appearance and sound of a national rifle and pistol tournament site.

Beginning in mid-October personnel from all organizations on the base will take familiarization courses in either the carbine or 45 pistol.

The present schedule calls for all airmen and company grade and non-rated officers on the base to fire 100 rounds in carbine familiarization. Cadets and student officers will fire 100 rounds each from the .45 white field and rated officers will fire 50 rounds each from the same weapon.

OFFICERS CLUB
The Officers Club will stage a "Flying Suit" party at the base Saturday. The program is being sponsored by Pilot Training Group.

Everyone attending the party must be attired in flying togs. Music will be provided by the Lanning Sextet, a combo composed of Goodfellow Air Force Base band members. Entertainment will also include a skit.

NURSES
Four Webb nurses were recently commended for their devotion to duty in a July 4 automobile accident which injured four cadets stationed at the Big Spring installation.

The nurses — Capt. Mona Baldrige, Lt. Lee McKenzie, Lt. Frances Malone, and Lt. Irene Sofferis — were highly commended in a letter to Secretary of the Air Force Thomas K. Finletter written by William J. Wolf of Atlanta, Ga., father of A-2C William J. Wolf Jr., who was seriously injured in the accident.

The accident occurred on the outskirts of Sterling City, 45 miles distant from the base.

SPORTS
With a tentative schedule of 28 games on the docket, Webb will hold its initial basketball practice Monday, October 13.

Nightly practice Monday through Friday will be held until the season's opener November 14 against Walters AFB at Mineral Wells.

Following 16 pre-season games Webb will open its North Zone Division of the Air Force Southwest Conference schedule January 6 against Perrin on the Dusters home floor. Other teams in the north zone are Goodfellow, Sheppard, Amarillo, Carswell and Walters Air Force bases.

Tentative schedule:
Nov. 14, 15 — Webb at Walters
Nov. 18, 19 — Webb at Amarillo
Nov. 21, 22 — San Marcos at Webb
Nov. 24, 25 — Bergstrom at Webb
Dec. 1, 2 — Amarillo at Webb
Dec. 5, 6 — Webb at San Marcos
Dec. 8, 9 — Webb at Bergstrom
Dec. 12, 13 — Walters at Webb
Jan. 6 — Perrin at Webb; Jan. 8 — Webb at Goodfellow; Jan. 13 — Sheppard at Webb; Jan. 15 — Amarillo at Webb; Jan. 20 — Webb at Carswell; Jan. 22 — Walters at Webb; Jan. 29 — Webb at Perrin

Super Express Service Of War Two Is Revived

BY CHARLES C. LANE
ORLEANS, France, Oct. 2 (AP) — Another Red Ball Highway Express, patterned on the storied supply service of World War II, soon will start carrying supplies 600 miles across France to American troops in Germany.

The U. S. Army Communications Zone headquarters here has the men and machines ready to start the fast freight service.

The 9th Transportation Highway Transport Group, a unit which formed part of the Red Ball Express in the last war, has two companies, each with 40 10-ton trailer trucks. Lt. Col. Eugene Elliot of Washington, D. C., commands the unit, which will tie up in Germany with the 37th Transportation Group.

The command of Maj. Gen. Gerald Peterson of Lansing, Mich., a Red Ball commander in World War II, will change frequently to create a pool of trained soldiers for use in case war required quick expansion.

The trucks will carry freight needed in a hurry across France using three marshaling yards and three transport points where fresh drivers and tractors will take over.

The U. S. Army's supply system across France also will be bolstered by a 12-inch pipeline to carry gasoline.

The Red Ball Express and the pipeline are part of the U. S. Army's supply and communications system being built in France under the command of Maj. Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis Jr.

The command is trying to build a supply system which the U. S. Army can count on in case of war to feed arms, medicines, fuel and food to the four American divisions — approximately 80,000 soldiers — now in Germany.

Gen. Sturgis says the job of building this vast supply system across France — stretching over an area roughly the distance between New York and Columbus, O. — is about one-fourth completed. The Army does not know — and would not say if it did — exactly when the job will be finished, but it is expected to be very well along by the end of 1953.
