

Ike Offers 'Crusade' To Gain World Peace

By DON WHITEHEAD PHILADELPHIA (U) — Dwight D. Eisenhower was off to a roaring "crusade" for world peace today which he said could be achieved only by throwing the "wasters, the bunglers and the incompetents" out of office in Washington.

meet at noon with Republican leaders and candidates for state offices in Illinois, Michigan and Indiana. Tonight he was to talk with ward and precinct workers in Cook County (Chicago).

Eisenhower lost no time in lashing out at the Democratic administration. He set the crowd to cheering by saying: "I have said and will say again and again that there is only one issue in this campaign. That issue is the mess in Washington."

Stevenson Heads On Western Trip

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U) — Gov. Adlai Stevenson, primed for a fight, was to fly to Denver today to open a campaign tour of the West that his managers hope will outmatch Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's thunderous sweep through the South.

Smathers came out of the governor's office with a prepared statement, in which he said some nice things about Stevenson and declared he would "support him."

Allied Naval Armada Sets For Maneuvers

OSLO, Norway (U) — More than 100 Allied warships including eight big aircraft carriers begin maneuvers off Scandinavia next week, warning Russia that the West is ready to defend the seas even up to the Arctic Circle.

24,500-ton Vanguard down to small but vital minesweepers. Eight large carriers from the United States, Britain and Canada will provide the task force's aerial punch.

Injuries Of Woman Are Unexplained

Mrs. E. A. Meeks, whose address is listed at Box 1822, Big Spring, Friday was receiving treatment at Cooper Hospital for "extensive lacerations of the scalp" and loss of blood.

The actual maneuvers will begin Saturday, Sept. 13, under the command of Britain's Adm. Sir Patrick Brind, commander in chief of Allied forces in Northern Europe. They will end Sept. 25.

County's First Cotton Will Be Sold Saturday

Howard County's first 1952 cotton bale, grown by Ralph White of Coahoma, will be sold in a Chinese auction on the Courthouse corner of Third and Main Streets at 4 p. m. Saturday, it was announced this morning by Loyd Wooten, projects manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce which is sponsoring the event.

"This is quite an annual event," Wooten said, "and we hope everybody will turn out for the affair. Chinese auctions are a lot of fun and this sale is very important, particularly this year in view of the drought and short cotton crop."

To Probe James A. Mullally (above), Grand Forks, N.D., is shown as he appeared to testify in Washington at the House Judiciary Subcommittee investigation into the Department of Justice, Mutual, a long time attorney in the department's criminal division, resigned after his recent suspension by Attorney General James P. WASHINGTON (U) — The Defense Department today identified 94 casualties of the Korean War.

'Poliwog Parade' Is Slated For Kiddies

Parents are invited to bring the youngsters, too, as that children under 12 may frolic briefly under a spray of water that will course into the air from fire hose. An autumnal touch of breeze may cut down this "poliwog parade", but the kids are welcome to have a fling if they want it.

Before the water goes up—and special lines were being laid to the stadium today—a series of brief talks is scheduled. Principal speaker will be Frank Kelley of Colorado City, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and one of the pioneer workers for West Texas water development.

City's Joining Of CRMWD Line Said Success

Mating of the city's new water distribution system and the water supply of the Colorado River Municipal Water District apparently was proving a success Friday.

Big Springers used the CRMWD water Thursday for the first time, and with the lifting of restrictions late in the afternoon consumption soared to a summer peak—slightly less than 4.5 million gallons for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a. m. today.

Man Held As Police Probe Theft Reports

One man was being held in city jail today while police continued investigating three theft and burglary reports.

He was detained for investigation in connection with the Wednesday night burglary of the Negro Elks Club. Taken in the burglary was $17, officers said.

Felipe Munoz, 608 N.W. 4th, reported burglary of his home sometime during the day Thursday. Six packages of cigarettes and possibly a wrist watch were taken, Munoz told officers. He said the house has been entered by prowlers several times in the past week.

lean nominee for President, has taken three positions on this matter," Rayburn said, "and I wonder what his position is now."

At Corsicana, McCraw devoted a large part of his rally speech to the tidelands question with the charge that there has been "double talk" and "lack of frankness" about the tidelands.

"Why not tell the truth?" the Dallas lawyer asked. "We have collected some nine million dollars for leases and royalty payments. This is ours. Even the Supreme Court decision approves this."

And McCraw continued: "There has been spent millions by oil companies in drilling exploration, but you have not been told that the Texas tidelands offshore leases of 1947 have not produced a single barrel of oil in the last five years."

"The school fund has every penny of the lease money. Despite all the political talk about 'robbing the school children', every dollar is ours and there are no claims to the contrary. It is true that since the Supreme Court decree revenues have been impounded. This fund is less than $500,000. We will get it if we fight and win."

Gov. Shivers, just back from Banff, Canada, where he attended business sessions of the interstate oil compact commission, was not available late Thursday night for comment on the Daniels' charge.

But the aide, who asked not to be identified, said, "Actually, the governor has not violated any pledge at all" and continued:

"It was Shivers who forced the credentials committee to make the pledge read so that inclusion of the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket on the general election ballot in Texas was all that was necessary to get the Texas (Shivers) delegation seated."

"The only pledge that Shivers made at the national convention was that he would see to it that the national party's nominees were on the ballot."

"And as for Daniel's saying he broke a pledge... well, that's ab-

When O. D. Frost, operator of the Sunshine Home in Vernon, and B. J. Woodington, Wilbarger County welfare officer, appeared at the fourth floor desk to drive Tommie to his new, if temporary, home, the little boy was all smiles.

He grinned and laughed all the way to the mother car.

Tommie's mother is serving a 10-year prison sentence for the holiday beating which damaged the youngster's brain so his entire right side was paralyzed. The little boy, when admitted to Baylor, was covered with bruises, was thin and could not talk.

Tommie today was a fat cry from that very sick little boy, although his right leg is in a steel brace and his conversation is still limited to a very few words, he is the picture of a bouncy, healthy little brown-haired boy.

His white boxer shorts were stiffly starched and he wore a red and white striped T-shirt.

No one told him he was leaving the hospital for good, but all the nurses, the elevator girls and janitors called a cheerful "goodbye" to the unfortunate little boy they had virtually adopted.

Frost, who in addition to operating the home is a candy salesman, carried Tommie down to the car where a motherly Mrs. Frost and their adopted son, Larry, 6, waited. Larry was the second child ever to enter the Vernon Sunshine Home. After he was there for awhile, Mrs. Frost couldn't bear to see him leave, so they adopted him.

The two little boys hit it off right from the beginning. Larry took Tommie's hand protectively and the latter grinned and put his arm around Larry.

Then Frost picked Tommie up in his arms and walked over to the waiting car where nurses were loading a huge box of clothes and toys. The box contains Tommie's only possessions, gifts from folks who read about the little boy who was so badly beaten.

What happens to Tommie now? It's not definite. Tommie is a ward of the state and under the jurisdiction of the Wilbarger County Welfare Department. It's up to Dist. Judge Jesse Owens of Vernon to decide whether the child can be adopted.

In the meantime, the crippled children's division of the State Health Department will bring Tommie back to Dallas for check-ups.

The money donated by sympathetic folks, totaling $1,300, is virtually gone. Baylor doctors donated all their services and the hospital itself absorbed a great deal of the youngster's expenses.

One thing is certain, however, Tommie is going to have his Christmas, even if it's a belated one.

YOUTH IS INJURED IN SCOOTER MISHAP

Jimmy Dorsey, 12, was received at the Cowper Hospital about 12:30 p.m. today for injuries sustained when a motor scooter he was riding collided with an automobile in the 1600 block of West Third.

A son of Mrs. Oma Johnston of Broadway Motor Courts, he was taken to the hospital by a Nalley Ambulance. The full extent of his injuries were not immediately determined but these included a broken leg and multiple lacerations and bruises.

The money donated by sympathetic folks, totaling $1,300, is virtually gone. Baylor doctors donated all their services and the hospital itself absorbed a great deal of the youngster's expenses.

Turned to the oilman, Rayburn said, "many of the oil people are very much opposed, or say they are, to the Democratic administration. In the first three months of 1953 at the close of the Republican administration, their oil was selling for 19 cents a barrel and the average for the whole year of 1953 was 25 cents a barrel."

"Today crude oil selling for $2.58 a barrel, and the oilmen still have their 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance."

India Medical Team Seen As Leaving Korea

By HAROLD K. MILKS

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A high-placed source said today that the U.N. sole contribution to the United Nations forces in Korea — the 300-man Indian Army medical unit — will be called home in November and won't be replaced.

The decision, the source said, was made by Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru. Nehru and other leaders of his government have frequently criticized the U. N. campaigns against the North Korean and Chinese Communists.

The Indian parachute medical battalion has won high honors for its attendance on U. N. casualties since it went to Korea in November, 1950. It had been presumed here a similar group would be assigned to continue the service when the men now there are relieved.

Failure to replace the ambulance unit will end India's direct connection with the Korean campaign.

Defense Ministry officials refused to comment on Nehru's reported decision, terming it "a political question" — a matter for the Prime Minister and Foreign Affairs Ministry.

As word of the action leaked out, there was general disappointment in military circles that India was breaking its only link with the U. N. military command.

India's active support of the Korean campaign virtually ended when U. N. troops crossed the 38th Parallel. Nehru had warned such action would spread the conflict.

More recently the Indian Prime Minister has criticized publicly, in Parliament and elsewhere, the U. N. bombing attacks on North Korea during the truce negotiations.

Reading of Tommie's return home, G. F. Reynolds, T&P conductor who contributed to the original fund, said he was sending $5 to the Herald for Tommie. Any such funds received will be forwarded to Vernon for the lad's benefit.

Seven Persons Fined Total $195 By Court

Seven people were fined a total of $195 in Justice of the Peace W. O. Leonard's court Friday with being in a drunken affray, one with passing a worthless check, one with being drunk and two with disturbing the peace.

Jess O. Ward, E. A. Meeks and Howard Manning were arrested for being drunk and fighting. Ward and Manning received $38 fines each, and Meeks paid $23.

Walter Cover and Mrs. Crawford Cover, both Negroes, were fined $25 each for disturbing the peace. Joe Sedwick was fined $23 for passing a worthless check, and Cleo Galloway was fined $23 on a charge of drunkenness.

Local Gathering Hears Of Labor's Insurance Venture

A group of labor and business leaders gathered last night to hear of labor's successful venture into the insurance field.

At a banquet at the Settles, some 30 men were told of the Insurance Company of Texas Group, owned by Texas union members.

Speakers included J. A. McMahon Jr. of Dallas, ICT state supervisor of the securities division; J. G. Vaughn, Dallas, executive vice president of the Life Insurance Company of Texas, and ICT subsidiary; and Bill Sams, ICT district business development supervisor of Lubbock.

The union people, pointing to the great growth of their companies in two short years, are making available some of the stock in the companies to the public, although union members will hold controlling interests. Business people were invited to make thorough examination of the affairs and record of the ICT.

Jack Smith, public relations manager for Cent Petroleum Corporation, presided at the meeting.

Handicapped Pair Lose Life Savings

Luck of the toughest sort dogged Mrs. Effie Teeter near here Thursday evening.

Somewhere between a grocery at 3rd and Benton and the family home eight miles north on the Snyder highway she lost a purse containing $100—the family savings.

Both Mrs. Teeter and her husband are physically handicapped. They are employed at the Big Spring State Hospital and drive back and forth to work. The purse, a small black one with handle on it, also contained an identification and a couple of meal tickets at the hospital. It may have been lost about 2 1/2 miles north where they stopped to fix a flat.

Fined $25, Costs

Charles Ehrhridge, charged with theft by larceny, pleaded guilty before County Judge Walter Grice Friday and was given a $25 fine plus costs. Ehrhridge had borrowed a pistol from a friend and later sold it.

IT'S COOL, BUT IT'S ALSO WARM

By The Associated Press

If you think it's cool today, says the Weather Bureau, you are just plain wrong. It's the humidity—or lack of it.

The Weather Bureau said Thursday's middle-90 temperatures seemed cool because the air was so dry. Perspiration evaporates more quickly in dry air, and Texas air Thursday and Friday was dry.

It was so dry that the only rain was a bare trace at Marfa.

Temperatures stayed in the mid-90s in most places but Presidio had a 104-degree reading.

Slightly warmer weather was due Friday, the Weather Bureau said, but it might seem cooler.

No need to get the overcoat out—yet.

Farmer Won't Return To Site Of Polio Cases

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—With six of his nine children in the polio isolation ward of a San Antonio hospital, farmer Paul Pehl said today he would not return to the farm where they apparently contracted the disease.

Yesterday, Pehl walked wearily away from the ward where he had just left his sixth child, tow-headed little 6-year-old Dorothy.

Dayton Pehl, 34, was admitted on Aug. 26. Tuesday of this week four more of the Pehl children—Daniel, 15; Paul Jr., 11; George, 10; and Elaine Frances, 9—were admitted to the polio ward.

Pehl is a small, sun-burned man from the hill country about 75 miles west of Austin.

"The children were a big help around the farm," Pehl said. "I've a few crops left. What little the drought hasn't got the kids sure help take care of. I've heard somewhere that over-exertion has something to do with bringing on polio, but my children certainly haven't been overworked this summer."

Pehl said he wasn't suspicious of the clear, cool waters of the Pedernales River where his children swam this summer or the family's well where they got their drinking water.

He said he just wanted "the polio examined, and besides if I leave it alone just like it was when the children left there, it might mean something to the research team they say will come up here."

Dr. Lawrence Feller, the Pehl family physician and Gillespie County health officer, said he would make a request to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis that a complete research program be undertaken at the Pehl farm.

Dr. Feller said the parents and three other Pehl children were being watched for any signs of illness.

MARKETS

COTTON: NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—Noon cotton prices were unchanged to 40 cents a bale, less than the previous close of Oct. 30.33, Dec. 30.38, and March 30.13.

LIVESTOCK: PORT WORTH, Sept. 5 (AP)—Cattle 500; calves 300; steady to weak. Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $13-15; common to medium offerings $11-12; good and choice slaughter calves $13-15; common to medium kinds $11-12; culls $10-11.

WALL STREET: NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—With extreme slowness the stock market today held to a narrow price range.

There was an opening rush of overnight orders of less than usual intensity. The tide still is for a conservative market hereafter.

Only a few blocks were on the tape. The stock market today held to a narrow price range.

Texas Business Showing Signs Of Picking Up

AUSTIN, Sept. 5 (AP)—Texas business showed signs of picking up in July.

The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research today reported reduced retail inventories, increased bank deposits, a slowdown or possible reversal in the downward movement of construction and increased postal receipts for July.

Total retail sales were down 4 per cent from June but average 5 per cent above July 1951.

July inventories were cut down by threatened shortages from the steel strike, removal of credit controls and a strong upturn of consumer buying during the early weeks of the summer it brought increased buying interest on the part of Texas merchants, the bureau said.

The bureau's adjusted index of bank deposits at the end of July stood 19 per cent higher than in July 1951 and 5 per cent above June of this year.

Biggest increases came in the lower Rio Grande Valley, reflecting the increased agricultural activity there.

The July construction index dropped less than 5 per cent below June and was well above the abnormal low level registered in July 1951. The index has been declining since February but each successive drop has been smaller than the preceding one.

July postal receipts totalled $5,250,357, compared with $4,818,216 for June and $4,219,205 for July a year ago.

Two Get Jail Terms

Mr. Jones, 71, a pioneer veterinarian of Hamlin, suffered a heart attack last Saturday, and succumbed Wednesday. Funeral rites were conducted at Hamlin, and the body was taken to Moran for burial in the family grave plot.

Draft Officials Set Meeting In Midland

A meeting of state and local Selective Service officials will be held in Midland Sept. 18 to discuss problems in filling expected higher calls for draftees this fall.

Members of the local board are expected to attend the meeting, according to a state release. Miss Louise Block, local draft clerk, says the local board has not been informed of the conference.

W. H. Wright, Howard County member of the board plans to attend if possible. Board members from Odessa, Pecos, McCamey and Midland are also scheduled to attend the conference.

Doubt Still Remains Over Old Kidnapping

CHICAGO, Sept. 5 (AP)—A young California woman enjoyed a friendly visit with a Chicago mother today, but the biggest question in both their lives remained undecided to them.

The question is Mrs. Mary McClelland of San Pablo, Calif., really Mary Agnes Moroney, kidnapped 22 years ago at the age of two?

Two newspapers thought she was. The Chicago Daily News and Oakland, Calif., Tribune spent months compiling evidence in an effort to prove that the missing Mary Agnes had finally been found. When they felt their case was sufficiently strong, they brought Mrs. McClelland to Chicago to meet Mrs. Catherine Moroney, 40-year-old mother of Mary Agnes and seven other children.

The newspapers based their deduction on comparisons of genetic traits in the teeth of the Moroney family and Mrs. McClelland; blood tests which showed she could be a member of the family; finger and hand prints with characteristics similar to those of the Moroneys; physical resemblance, and other factors.

But there were discrepancies, too. A doctor at Martinez, Calif., said he personally had arranged for the adoption of Mrs. McClelland by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beck in 1927, shortly after her birth in a California nursing home. He said she couldn't be the kidnapped Moroney child. The kidnapping took place in 1930.

San Pablo police telegraphed Chicago police that Mrs. Beck, Mrs. McClelland's foster mother, told them she adopted Mrs. McClelland in November, 1927, more than two years before Mary Agnes Moroney was kidnapped.

Mrs. Moroney had said she hoped a personal meeting with Mrs. McClelland would help her decide if the attractive young brunette really was her long missing daughter. But it didn't.

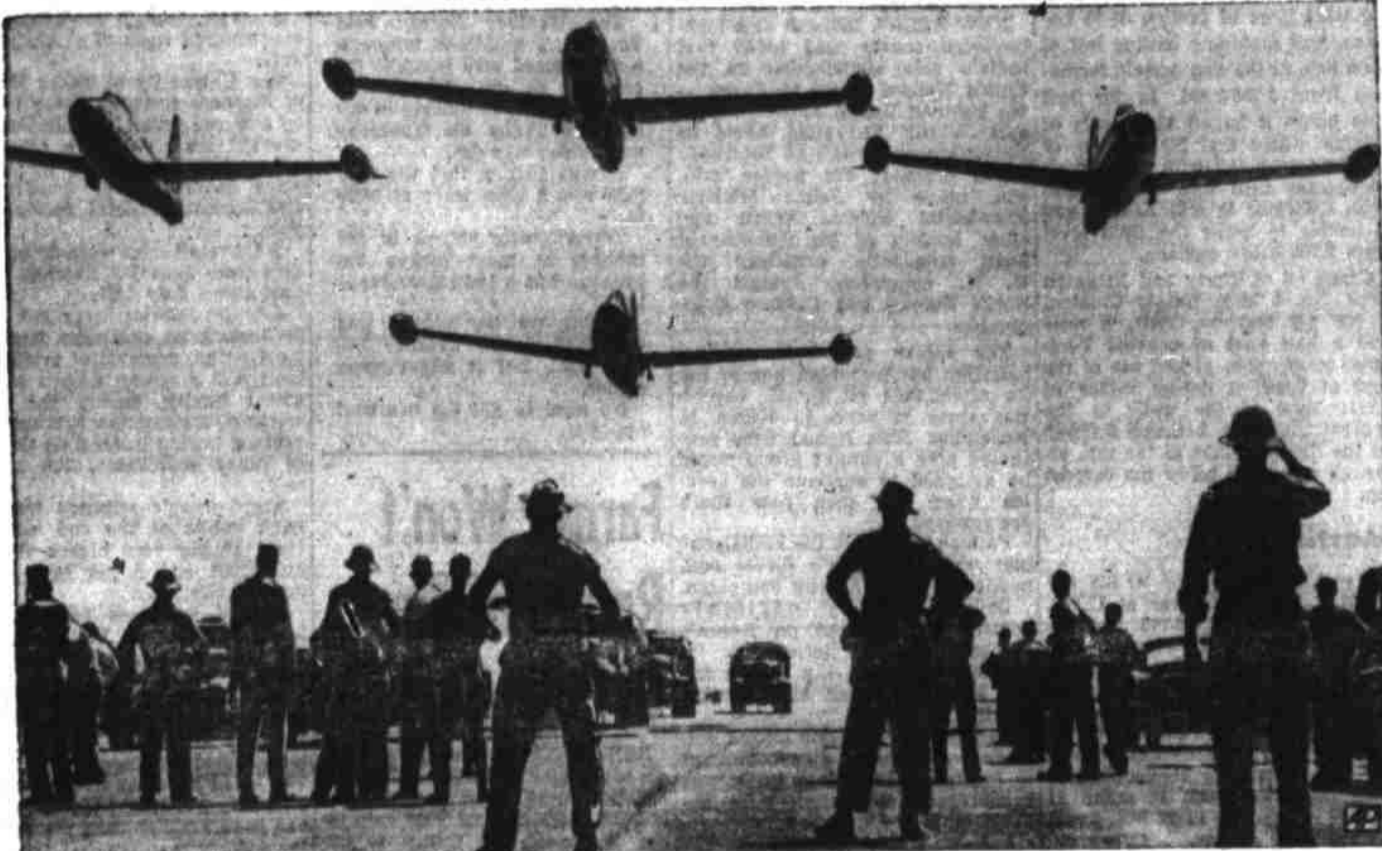

After a visit at the Moroney home on the west side yesterday, both

Greatest Press Support For Any GOP Nominee In Recent Times Given Ike

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—Republican Nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower has more support among the nation's press than any GOP Presidential candidate in recent history, the trade publication Editor and Publisher says.

On the basis of questionnaires returned by 918 daily newspapers in an Editor and Publisher poll, newspaper support shaped up like this:

Eisenhower, 75.16 per cent.
Democratic Candidate Adlai Stevenson, 15.47 per cent.
Independent or undeclared, 9.37 per cent.

Polled by Editor and Publisher were 1,773 daily newspapers. The 918 which responded represented 51.78 per cent of those polled.

Newspapers supporting Eisenhower's candidacy, Editor and Publisher said yesterday in announcing the results of its first poll of the campaign represent 81.25 per cent of the total daily circulation among newspapers replying.

Those supporting Stevenson's candidacy represented 9.54 per cent of the total daily circulation among the 918 dailies.

The independent or undeclared newspapers represented 9.21 per cent of the circulation on the same basis.

Editor and Publisher said the unprecedented support of Eisenhower largely was the result of a switch by many Southern newspapers which traditionally had supported Democratic candidates.

Editor and Publisher said it would continue to make later surveys during the campaign.

The publication's final poll in 1948 showed:

GOP Candidate Thomas E. Dewey was supported by 65.17 per cent of the dailies with 78.55 per cent of the daily circulation.

President Truman was supported by 15.38 per cent of the dailies with 10.03 per cent of the circulation.

Editor and Publisher said Eisenhower's major numerical and circulation support comes from states with the big metropolitan cities, while Stevenson's support is scattered.

Carlo Storza, Liberal Italian Leader, Is Dead

ROME (AP)—Italy today mourned her senior diplomat, Count Carlo Storza, who died last night after a half century of liberal, anti-Fascist service in world politics.

Storza—a Cabinet member without portfolio at the time of his death and twice in the past a foreign minister—died in a Rome clinic after a year's serious illness. He would have been 79 on Sept. 25.

The cause of his death was not announced, but reportedly he was under treatment for phlebitis. He was said to have suffered a blood clot yesterday morning.

His funeral will be tomorrow. Premier Alcide de Gasperi cut short his vacation to attend the services along with the country's other top leaders and foreign envoys.

Abroad, Storza's fellow statesmen voiced their regrets. In Washington, U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson described his Italian colleague as "a great statesman and a distinguished scholar" who "staunchly supported throughout his lifetime the principles of freedom and justice for which he had worked untriflingly."

Storza, said De Gasperi in a tribute, "served his country and its cause to the last and always was supporter of justice and freedom."

After 17 years in voluntary exile during the totalitarian regime of Benito Mussolini, Storza returned to his homeland after the Allied landings in 1943 and played a leading part in lifting the nation from defeat to its present partnership with the Western democracies.

As foreign minister under De Gasperi from 1947 until last year, Storza signed the European Recovery Program Pact with the United States in 1948, the Atlantic Pact on behalf of Italy in 1949 and the Schuman Plan Treaty for a West European coal-steel pool. He was an active booster for Western European unity.

'18-Acre Audience' To Greet Adlai And Ike At Plow Meet

By GEORGE H. BRADLEY
KASSON - DODGE CENTER, Minn. (AP)—Ike and Adlai will have an "18-acre audience" for their Saturday speeches at the National Plowing Contest.

Site for the talks by the two presidential candidates is a natural amphitheater of that size—but without any seats for the spectators.

"Each person, average that is, will take up a standing space two by two square feet," explained W. M. Roberts of Rochester, director of operations. "That brings it to 10,000 standees per acre, or 180,000 for the whole shebang. Could be."

Roberts added, however, that his committee would be "more than satisfied" if the expected crowd of just over 100,000 shows up.

"We'll have our hands full with traffic, even at that figure," he said.

In addition to two score Minnesota Highway Patrolmen, two battalions of State Guardsmen and 300 Boy Scouts will help handle the thousands of cars.

Parking is free in 11 spacious open fields surrounding the speaking site. From the parking lots the farthest a mile away, tractor-drawn wagons will provide "taxi" haulage to the main arena.

Roberts admits one prospective concessionaire is worrying him.

"Fellow called me on the phone Thursday and asked what we wanted for exclusive rights to sell raincoats and umbrellas on the grounds for the day," he reported. "Now, brother, rain here Saturday would be like tossing a snowstorm at the Atlantic City bathing beauty show."

"None, we haven't made any deal with him—yet."

Still unexcited about having the nation's currently most publicized guests for dinner—Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower and Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson—Mrs. Clara Snow was going calmly about her preparations for their chicken, apple pie and trimmings.

"All our menfolks like that kind of meal and so will they," she said. "Our chickens are nice and plump. And the apples, thanks to a wet season, are fairly oozing with juice."

Gen. Eisenhower will eat at the Snow farm after his noon talk. Gov. Stevenson is scheduled to sit down at the table sometime before he goes onto the plank platform, near the Snow farmhouse, about 4 p. m., CST.

Slightly larger scale planning is being done in the food department for the spectators. One Kasson butcher alone is taking delivery of five tons of wieners. The Dodge Center American Legion post is stocking its concession tent with two tons of coffee as a starter.

Accidental Death Is Verdict In Burning Of Two Children

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 5 (AP)—An accidental death verdict returned yesterday in the fatal burning of two Negro children brought the release of an 11-year-old boy.

The boy was taken into custody by juvenile authorities Wednesday for questioning in the deaths of Mary Louise Cunningham, 12, and her brother, Lindsey, 8.

The two children were burned to death in the attic of their home. A sister, Esther, 11, was critically burned when she tried to put out the blaze with a pan of water.

Justice of the Peace B. B. Brothman returned the accidental death verdict. He and Juvenile Detective Jack Turner said two witnesses had changed their stories to say that they had not seen the 11-year-old boy toss kerosene on the children and light it while they were in the attic.

Ike Captivates Fems With Eyes And Smile

By BILL LOFTUS
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—GOP Presidential candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower is using his famous twinkling eyes and big smile along with campaign oratory to win the women voters of the country.

Perhaps partially because of this effort, more than half the 250,000 persons who cheered him on Philadelphia's downtown streets yesterday along his 40-block route were women. Some of them ran alongside his car shaking hands and wishing him well.

And again last night at Convention Hall where he made his first big political speech of the campaign, a majority of the audience were women. Reporters traveling with the candidate in his two-day tour of the South said they noted the same trend.

Eisenhower's main theme was peace—a subject always close to the hearts of women.

His most definite accession to the feminine interest in politics came at Independence Hall where he remarked:

"I believe women are even more impressed because the American heritage strikes a little closer to them than to the average man. A man working all day long may get too busy at times to think of the spiritual values of this great shrine. Women, I think, never."

The female enthusiasm was just too much for one middle-aged lady. She broke through the cordon of protecting police at least a half dozen times. She left Independence Hall to shout "I love you, Ike!"

And the woman behind Ike, pert Mamie Eisenhower, received a rousing ovation when ushered into Convention Hall. Holding a bouquet of roses, she waved and waved. Then she listened intently as her husband outlined his peace program.

Despite 17,500 screaming enthusiasts inside and at least 5,000 outside, the Convention Hall rally failed to outdraw another major attraction. The New York Yankees whipped the Philadelphia Athletics in an American League night game, 12-2, as 31,424 fans watched Bobby Shantz lose his sixth game while seeking his 23rd win. Shibe Park's capacity is 35,000 compared to 15,000 at the hall.

Men were in the majority at the ball game.

And the general turned politician didn't match the crowd which the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt drew when he toured here in 1940, campaigning for re-election. But FDR's one million persons were stretched over 20 miles compared to Ike's 250,000 in 40 blocks.

Bookkeeper Sought In Money Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP)—An FBI search was under way today for the bookkeeper of the Boys Club of Washington after the discovery of a $38,500 shortage in the club's accounts.

The bookkeeper, James H. Kinsey, 53, was described by a club official as "a funny little Milque-toast," but was said by police to have a criminal record.

An FBI spokesman said a complaint has been issued charging Kinsey with interstate transportation of stolen property.

Police said Kinsey, who had been employed by the Boys Club since 1948 at a salary of $4,000 a year, received a three-year prison sentence for obtaining money under false pretenses in Baltimore in 1937. He was given a one year suspended sentence for forgery in the District of Columbia in 1947.

R. J. A. Kaemmerer, president of the Boys Clubs board of directors, reported Kinsey rented an automobile Aug. 9 and disappeared. A check the next day showed the money missing.

Hereford Official Is Buried In Iowa Town

UNION, Ia., Sept. 5 (AP)—J. Kinzer, prominent Hereford cattle official, was buried yesterday in nearby Bangor cemetery.

Kinzer, 76, was for many years secretary of the American Hereford Association at Kansas City. He became chairman of the board when he retired four years ago.

Kinzer was born and reared in the Bangor community. He had resided in Florida since retiring and died Aug. 30 at Plant City, Fla.

YANKS MAINTAIN PACE

Allie Reynolds Outpitches Bobby Shantz In 12-2 Win

By RALPH RODEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Allie Reynolds has achieved two of three feats a pitcher dreams about—a no-hit game and a World Series triumph. Today the 34-year-old New York Yankee right hander stands a good chance of realizing the third—a 20-win season.

Reynolds, one of the game's best "money pitchers," turned in his 17th Strickland victory of the season last night as the Bombers wheeled the tar out of Bobby Shantz and the Philadelphia Athletics, 12-2. This enabled the Yanks to protect their three-game American League lead over the Cleveland Indians.

The Indians, behind Mike Garcia, had turned back the Detroit Tigers, 2-0, in the afternoon. In other games, Washington defeated Boston, 4-2, and St. Louis trounced Chicago, 8-0.

Brooklyn's National League advantage was sliced to seven games as the Dodgers dropped a 6-5, 11-inning decision to Boston while the runner-up New York Giants disposed of Philadelphia, 4-3, also in 11-innings. St. Louis turned back Chicago, 1-0, and Cincinnati humiliated Pittsburgh, 7-2.

The Yanks held to one hit by the A's Harry Byrd Wednesday night, ripped Shantz and Ed Wright for 13 hits while Reynolds permitted but eight blows.

Reynolds and little Bobby were hooked up in a tight duel for five innings. The Yanks scored twice in the second on Gil McDougald's homer and the A's countered in the fourth, an inning in which they blew a fine chance to rack Reynolds up. The A's loaded the bases with none out in the fourth but Reynolds was equal to the occasion and ended the inning after allowing Ed Joost to score.

Shantz got a taste of what was to come in the sixth when the Yanks showed three runs home on Yogi Berra's two-run double and Gene Woodling's single. The seventh was a nightmare for Shantz as the Yanks rammed seven runs home.

Reynolds, who pitched two no-hitters last year and has four World Series conquests, came close to winning 20 games in 1947, his first year with the Yanks. He missed the boat by one.

Garcia recorded his 18th victory for Cleveland in blanking Detroit on five hits. Luke Easter's 25th home run of the season in the fourth inning off Bill Wight was all Garcia needed. George Strickland singled home Birdie Tebbetts with an insurance run in the seventh.

Former Yankee Duane Pillette encountered easy sailing in beating the White Sox. Vic Wertz led the Browns to their first victory of the year in Chicago by driving in four runs on his 22nd and 23rd homers.

Bob Porterfield, also a Yank alumnus, tamed the reeling Red Sox on eight hits. The Senators broke a 2-2 tie with a pair of runs in the fifth inning on Ken Wools run-scoring triple and a wild pitch.

The Dodgers suffered their first defeat in 15 meetings with the Braves in losing the night game at Boston. Brooklyn-born Sid Gordon singled home Johnny Logan from third base with two out in the 11th to win the game.

Logan reached base when plate umpire Frank Secory ruled that he was hit on the right shoulder by one of Joe Black's pitches. Dodgers Roy Campanella and Clem Labine were banished from the game for disputing the decision.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Bobby Jack Gross, the weights tosser whose picture adorned these pages last week end, has altered his approach in putting the shot.

Before, Bobby Jack placed his back foot almost parallel with the rear boundary of the circle to which the athlete in the act of firing is confined.

Now, he points it almost directly at the arc, with the result that he gets more leverage in his throws. Result: A toss that is now approaching 50 feet and will undoubtedly go higher.

Gross' teacher was Darrow Hooper, the United States Olympics star, who is in school at Texas A & M with Bobby Jack.

With Darrow and Jimmy Samuelson back in 1953 and Bobby Jack becoming of varsity age, the Aggies should field the best weight-throwing team in collegiate track next season, the University of Southern California notwithstanding. There are those who will bet you Hooper will be beating Parry O'Brien of USC consistently in the shot put next year.

Gross has spent quite a bit of the summer working with the shot. Chances are you might have run across a fine-looking young man toying with the iron ball on a vacant lot or in an open field. That would probably be Gross. He was good enough to win the Texas Inter-scholastic League championship at one time and he wants to get a whole lot better.

With Leon Leopard, the peerless runner, he ranks as the hardest working athlete the city has ever had.

DOUGLASS IS TAKING TO LINKS GAME

Jake Douglass, who has tried about every sport there is, has found golf. He intends to stick with it.

Jake, who lost something like 86 pounds over the summer by respecting the advice of his doctor, has been setting all sorts of bowling records in this area for years.

If he concentrates on the links game as he did on bowling, then he'll be tough to beat, in time, Douglass hits a prodigious tee shot now. It might wind up in two fairways to the right or left but it'll be way out there. If he ever straightens out his drive, the golf golliaths had best look to their laurels.

If you're looking for a different and more exciting pastime, why don't you try javelin catching?

Old King Kamemeha of Hawaii is said to have been a sensation at fielding spears thrown at his heart. You field 1,000 in that game, you know. One miss, and you wind up with a lily in your hand.

Ben Hitt and Carl Preston, two of the local high school's better tracksters last season, are headed for MCJC on athletic scholarships.

Hitt and Preston are half mifers. Each can also run on the relay teams.

The Jayhawks will probably be salty in the spring sport again.

SMU may have landed one of Tennessee's best high school gridgers. He is Buddy Cruze, who was supposed to attend Tennessee University, too.

STEERS WILL SCRIMMAGE COLORADO CITY WOLVES

The Big Spring High School varsity football troops move to Colorado City Saturday afternoon for a scrimmage with the Colorado City Wolves. The starting hour is around 4 p.m.

The Steers and the Wolfpack have at it every year about this time. J. J. Buxkemper is the Colorado City mentor and he's expecting to field a fairly strong lineup.

Big Spring will have had a full week of workouts behind and Coleman wants to take a look at his club in combat before they tee off against Breckenridge in their regular season's opener a week from tonight.

The local athletes are plagued by a series of minor ailments, principally blistered feet and sore muscles. Most all of them are due to see action tomorrow, however.

There'll be no kickoffs in Saturday's encounter. Each team will control the ball for a set period of time, rather than get a down renewal if they gain ten yards. That's the reason it's a scrim rather than a game.

The Steers will go at it ham-

umph was Corwin's fourth without a loss.

Stu Miller, sensational Cardinal rookie righthander, turned in his second shutout over Chicago in three weeks under the lights at St. Louis. The Cards nicked Warren Hacker for the game's only run in the first inning on singles by Red Schoendienst, Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter.

Tayoan, Umpire In Odessa Scrap

Longhorn League observers are awaiting League Proxy Hal Sayles' decision on a Pier Six brawl which occurred in Odessa Thursday night between Johnny Tayoan, San Angelo infielder, and Umpire Orville Eckstine.

The scrap developed after Manager Pepper Martin of the Odessa club slid into first base as he sacrificed Leo Eastham to second and Eastham went all the way to third on the play. The rubebarb occurred in the 11th inning.

Witnesses said Tayoan first pushed Eckstine and then jumped on his back.

After a series of wrestling holds, the two involved in the fracas were parted and Tayoan was removed from the field by the police.

Aussie Youth Is Talk Of Tourney

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. FOREST HILLS (AP)—All on account of a 17-year-old kid, the form chart for the 71st U. S. Singles Tennis Championship today showed a sharp rise in the direction of an all-Australian final for the men's title.

And there was a corresponding dip in America's already low prospects of regaining the Davis Cup.

The kid is Ken Rosewall, Australia's junior champion, whose first appearance in the big Forest Hills Stadium was a somewhat breath taking affair.

Ken not only knocked America's No. 1 player, Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, out of the tournament, 3-6 6-2, 7-5, 5-7, 6-3, but he showed some 10,000 spectators the kind of tennis they haven't seen from a newcomer in years.

Even those who have been following Rosewall's progress were gasping a bit over the improvement he has made since last winter.

And T. E. Richardson of Melbourne, one of the Australian Davis Cup selectors, immediately stamped Ken as a very bright prospect for the team that will defend the trophy next winter.

ON TEMPORARY BASIS

Bristow Is Named Chairman Of Local Quarterback Club

Big Spring high school football players will have a formally organized boosters club behind them this season.

Temporary organization of the club was effected at a called meeting attended by approximately 35 fans at the high school auditorium Thursday evening.

The organization will be called The Big Spring Quarterback Club, it was decided by vote.

Heading the slate of temporary officers is Obie Bristow, former coach. Vice-chairman is Omar Jones, and the secretary-treasurer is A. Mack Rodgers.

Plans are to meet each Thursday evening before the games on schedule for the Steers. Initial meeting will be at a pep rally held in the auditorium at 8:30 a.m. on Sept. 12 to see the Steers off for their game at Breckenridge.

Fans attending stressed the importance of impressing the gridgers with community support.

Carl Coleman, coach, said that this stimulated boys to do their best. In addition to giving encouragement to the players, Coleman said fans could be helpful in seeing that the lads observed training rules.

Training is important. Some boys are good enough that they can get by, maybe, by not training as they should, but when a boy playing next to them knows it, he is not disposed to train as he should or put out as much as he could for the non-trainer. One hundred per cent training makes not only for good condition—it makes for a good team spirit, a good school spirit and a good community spirit.

A committee of 12 will be named by Bristow to propose rules and regulations and a nominal membership fee.

Allentown, Pa., downed Dallas, 4-2, to win its third game and stay in the running with six other clubs.

AAU APPEARS

AUSTIN, Sept. 5 (AP)—Leaders of the AAU in Texas will meet here Sept. 21 to form the Texas AAU, a merger of the four associations and two subordinate bodies that have been operating independently in the state.

Odessa Regains Lead As Broncs Defeated

Jacome Chills Big Springers

It was good while it lasted but the Big Spring Broncs are no longer the velvet push in Longhorn League standings.

The Broncs, up there two days, tumbled from the heights last night when Eddie Jacome and the Midland Indians grabbed a 3-2 verdict over Bert Baez and the provincials.

Manny Temes had a major hand in the decision. Fact is, the Indians little-second sacker was instrumental in all the Midland runs. His first inning double, which dropped just inside fair territory down right field, scored Scooter Hughes and Glenn Selbo, the latter all the way from first.

Hughes had singled and Selbo was given a free ticket to first. In the fourth, with the score tied at two-all, Temes greeted Baez with a double, went to third on an infield out and sprinted home on Bill Brown's slashing single into right field.

Big Spring got one in the first when Rick Gonzales doubled, ambled to third on an infield out and breezed plateward on Witty Quintana's hopper to Stan Hughes at shortstop.

The Broncs' other run was unearned. Two outs deep in the second, Buddy Grimes made it across when Earl Bossenberry dropped Woody Pennington's throw following Al Valdes' ground ball.

The locals loaded all stations in the fourth with only one away but Jacome forced Valdes to line into a double play. Temes to Bossenberry, to end the inning.

Baez pitched fine ball but Jacome never gave the Cayuses a look-in after the fourth.

The resident nine managed hits in each of the last three innings but, in each, instance runners were left stranded at first.

The defeat dropped the locals in to second place, a half game off Odessa's pace. The Oilers beat San Angelo.

TOUCHING ALL BASES... Buddy Grimes ripped a single to right center in the ninth but was out stealing. The win was Jacome's 21st of the year against 13 losses. Midland's triumph, their sixth in their last eight games with Big Spring, moved the Indians to within three games of Big Spring.

Gil Guerra, who was honored in a pre-game ceremony, benefitted to the extent of about $125 and received numerous merchandise prizes. The game was held up 15 minutes due to the party but was then completed in an hour and 55 minutes. A paid turnout of 1080 looked on.

Dove Pie Proves Expensive For Sportsmen These Days

By L. A. WILKE

AUSTIN. — How many times is a man justified shooting at a pinfeathered dove?

At ten cents per each for hulls, many dove pies are now quite expensive. One hunter we heard of in the Lampasas area shot 53 times and got nine doves. Another friend here in Austin shot a brand new gun 25 times and got six doves. A 12-year-old boy we heard of sat down at a water hole with a 410 gauge and got his limit in ten shots. His father shooting at the pass burned up a box and got seven birds.

We saw an interesting sign in a San Antonio sporting goods store last week. "Ten Doves Are All You Can Have," it said. The sign then pointed out that if you have five doves in the ice box and go hunting and kill ten more you've violated the law. Something to think about!

Dove shooting throughout North Texas has been generally good, especially in the water hole areas. Some of the birds haven't been in too good condition. The northerly which came in Monday helped to move them about. With another good blow or two the South Texas season should be very good. The doves will be better feathered out by that time, too.

Bass fishing has been picking up during the past several days, with good catfish being reported this week from several of the state's lakes. The change in weather probably brought a few of the bronzebacks up to level again.

Rain predictions for the week end may help a lot, too. Fishermen generally think a good flushing of the lakes with fresh water would help a lot.

The time has come now to get those top water plugs to a handy place in the tackle box. There's a lot of fun fishing with a top water lure, when the bass are hitting. Of course once in a while a bass will rise to a top water lure in any season. There is a time in the spring and again in the fall, however, when top water lures are at their best.

Anything To Help

HOUSTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—The last-place Houston Buffs have signed a professional clown to help boost gate receipts for their remaining games of the Texas League baseball season.

Dykes Underdog In Turner Go At New York

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Aggressive Gil Turner is a 9 to 5 favorite to get back on the winning trail tonight when he takes on stiff-punching Bobby Dykes of Miami in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Stopped in 11 rounds by Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan in his last start in July, the 21-year-old Turner has been handed one of the toughest possible foes for his comeback effort.

Dykes, a 22-year-old six-footer with dynamite in either fist, has 42 knockouts to his credit in 90 was barely nosed out by Gavilan in a title fight in February and has won six in a row since. Like Turner, he has ambitions to fight Gavilan again and he's ready for the fight of his life. The winner figures to share in some rich purses in the near future.

"We figure that Gil is in the position of the plane pilot who has crashed," said Turner's manager, George Katz. "The pilot usually is sent right up again to regain his confidence. We feel the same about putting him right back with the best."

Turner's loss to Gavilan was the first of his career. He had won 32 in a row with 25 knockouts. Dykes' record is 78-7-5.

The 9 p.m. EST. bout will be broadcast and telecast nationally.

Broncs And Braves Collide Tonight

Shaken by a 3-2 loss to Midland Thursday, the Big Spring Broncs head for Sweetwater this evening for two important games with the resident Braves.

The Steeds will remain over for a Saturday engagement, then return here to wind up the regular season's place.

The locals are half a game back of the pace-setting Odessa club now. The Oilers will be entertaining Vernon in the four of a four-game series tonight.

By winning all their games with Sweetwater, the locals could still finish in a tie for first place, even if Vernon failed to achieve a win over the Oilers.

Gil Guerra will probably go to the mound for Big Spring tonight, seeking his 27th win of the season.

MIDDLECOFF LEADS

CHICAGO, Sept. 5 (AP)—Six Texans are still among the top 25 money winners of golf so far this year.

Julius Boros of Mid-Pines, N. C., is the leader with $35,662.97 with Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., second with $30,739.98.

BURNETT IS HAPPY

Dallas Five-Year Plan Pays Off As Eagles Win Pennant

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—Five years and a million dollars later found Dick Burnett basking today in the glory of a Texas League pennant.

The man who does things with a flourish, and changes his mind when convinced he's wrong, finally reached his goal last night. But he had to do it through recapitulation to chain baseball.

Burnett came into the Texas League in 1948 with his pockets full of oil money and a boast that he would buy himself a pennant. He even tried to buy the St. Louis Browns franchise in the American League.

For three years he shelled out the cash, this including some $60,000 paid to Charley Grimm, the ex-big league manager, who was brought here three years ago to pilot Dallas at $30,000 a season—a fabulous minor league salary. Grimm's club didn't do any better than the two before him—it finished in the second division. Burnett paid Grimm off on his three-year contract, settling for a reported $60,000.

Then Burnett said he couldn't win going it independently—he couldn't get the players, because the chains had them. So he formed a working agreement with Cleveland.

L. D. Meyer, who had managed one of his "farm" clubs in East Texas, came in to pilot the Dallas club. Through the help of Cleveland, Dallas wound up third last year but lost in the playoffs.

This season, with six players being furnished by Cleveland, among them Dave Hoskins, the sensational Negro pitcher who has won 21 games, Dallas led the race most of the season. Last night the Eagles clinched the pennant for the straightway leader by beating Fort Worth 1-0.

Burnett was a happy man. He said it was worth the million dollars and he also said he felt just as good about it as if he had won the championship without help from anybody. "After all," he said, "we developed the men Cleveland sent us."

Don Klosterman Goes To Texans

KERRVILLE, Sept. 5 (AP)—The Dallas Texans of the National Football League have obtained Don Klosterman in a trade with the Cleveland Browns, Texas Coach Jimmy Phelan said last night.

The Texans were needing a quarterback and especially a passer. Phelan said Klosterman was obtained in exchange for a future draft choice.

Klosterman, former Loyola of Los Angeles star, racked up one of the greatest passing records in college football history. In three years he threw 729 passes and completed 368 for 4,481 yards.

'It Was Slaughter,' Says GI Of Korea's Bunker Hill Fight

By SAM SUMMERLIN
 AN EVACUATION HOSPITAL, Western Front, Korea, Sept. 5 (AP)—The wounded soldier looked up from his cot with sad, bleary eyes and said softly: "It was slaughter."
 The youth lay, quiet but pain racked, in an evacuation hospital filled with casualties flowing down from Bunker Hill, where Chinese troops hit in darkness this morning.
 His arm was shattered by mortar shrapnel.
 He said bugle blasts and the screech of whistles pierced the darkness as the Chinese infantrymen surged toward U. N. positions.
 Another patient, his head wrapped in white bandages, leaned over and said, "Those bugles sounded like horns from a string of Model-T Fords." Their names were withheld pending notification of relatives.
 The attack started about 1 a. m. with the thunder of Red artillery and mortars.
 "Those shells came down like a steel screen," said the soldier with the riddled arm.
 "I was on a machine gun, but we never got to fire it."
 A mortar shell landed near his cot, killing one and wounding three others.

"We could see the Goonies coming over the top. They kept coming right through their own shell fire. That killed a lot of them. But those Goonies were in front of us, on our flanks and behind us. They got in our trenches. Some of our guys got it from bayonets. It was slaughter."
 Hand grenades filled the air. Corpsmen moved him out of his bunker when the fighting quieted.
 "I counted about 15 Chinese bodies sprawled on the ground around us," he said.
 A corpsman lying on a cot nearby said he had not slept for 36 hours. Some of his buddies were killed while carrying litterers off Bunker Hill because—"Those Goonies 'ave our trails zeroed in with their mortars."
 On another cot, a blond machine gunner with a broken knee said it was the worst battle seen on Bunker Hill. His hands were stained with dried blood.
 "The Goonies came at us from all sides. He and his crew had to leave the protection of their bunker."
 "They started coming at us from behind. We put our machine gun on top of the bunker, but a mortar round got us."
 Navy doctors at the evacuation hospital got little sleep. Their busiest hours are at night and early morning, because it is difficult to get wounded men off Bunker Hill in the daylight when Chinese can spot litter bearers.
 Two of the surgeons are Lt. William S. Ogle, Corpus Christi, Tex., and Louis E. Shirley, Jennings, La. Shirley said the doctors credit blood and the new armored vest with saving the lives of many soldiers.

 "That vest has proved invaluable," he commented. "We have few chest wounds now."
 The helicopters, which often pick up wounded under enemy fire, have speeded treatment of casualties.
 He said two patients with major wounds recently used 40 pints of blood.
 "But we never run out of it."

Adlai Doesn't Have To Worry About Shoes

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—People were having a lot of fun today with Gov. Adlai Stevenson because of an Associated Press picture that showed a hole in the sole of his shoe.

Telegrams and letters poured in to the Democratic presidential candidate's headquarters in Springfield.
 Most of them kidded him, an aide said. But some—apparently from Republicans—were couched in sharper terms. And others simply inquired how come the governor of a great state went around with a hole in his shoe.
 One man offered to buy Stevenson a new pair of shoes, provided "you won't wear them in Washington. I don't want to see you go there."

Stevenson said he might counter with an offer to wear the shoes only in Springfield, even if he is elected. "I'd like to accept the shoes," he grinned.
 Another asked him if he had "stepped on a hot spot" in this political campaign. And still another accused him of trying to arouse the maternal interest of women voters by going around in such apparel.

The photograph was taken while Stevenson was sitting, with crossed knees, waiting to speak in Flint, Mich., last Monday.
 BROCKTON, Mass. (AP)—The mayor of this famous shoe city doesn't like to see a fellow Democrat going around with holes in his shoes, particularly when that man is a candidate for President.
 Mayor C. Gerald Lucey saw The Associated Press wirephoto of Gov. Adlai Stevenson on the speakers' platform at Flint, Mich., with a hole in the sole of his right shoe—so he sent him a new pair of shoes last night.
 "Brockton shoes are best for standing on a good Democratic platform," said Lucey's message accompanying the shoes.

School Board Meeting Elects 16 Instructors

Sixteen teachers were elected at a meeting of the board of trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District Thursday evening.
 Trustees met in the high school library following an organizational meeting of football fans.
 A resolution accepting the attachment, in event it is authorized, of two sections which might be detached from the Couble common school district, was approved unanimously.

Involved are section 3 and section 30, block 33, township 1 south, T&P survey. One of these sections includes much of the airport residential area, the other lies north of U. S. 80 and of the Webb Air Force Base field. The detachment and attachment of the two sections was recommended by representatives of the two districts in a previous conference and will go to the county board for action.
 Time for use of the high school auditorium, under regular fee schedules, by the Temple Baptist Church was extended through September. In May the board had granted permission to the congregation to meet there through August. A motion to extend time until completion of the church's auditorium died for want of a second.
 At the end of September, the matter would have to come up as a new case if presented to the board.

Charts showing enrollment and the registration of under-age children for possible attendance were presented to the board for study. Action on the "unders" problem will be taken at the next meeting of the board at 6:45 p. m. on Tuesday.
 Teachers, engaged by the superintendent subject to board approval, who were formally elected included Mrs. Jennie L. McEvers, Roy Thurston, Mrs. Mildred G. Rose, Mrs. Bobbie Hill Latham, Mrs. Helen Feather, Mrs. Leola C. Hale, Harold Dean Bentley, Verney Boynton Cook, Mrs. Lydia B. McGahey, Omar L. McGahey, Earl W. Peeler, Mrs. Alice Woltmann McCulloch, Lewis E. Andrews, Mrs. Catherine Price Andrews, Mrs. Witt Hines, Mrs. Bernice Cochran, Mrs. Roberta Reed Welsa.

Mrs. Leo Turner, Martin Sanitarian, Begins Her Duties

STANTON, (SC) — Mrs. Leo Turner, who recently resigned as secretary of the Martin County Extension Service to accept the post of city-county sanitarian, has opened her office in the old jail building in the Courthouse yard.
 The post of sanitarian was established recently by joint action of the county commissioners and city council with expenses being divided between the two governmental agencies.
 Mrs. Turner, who was extension service secretary for several years, and who was formerly a resident of Big Spring, has been a leader in civic improvement activities. She is chairman of the Martin County Forum, the organization which sponsored the recent Stanton-Martin County clean-up drive. She is one of the few women sanitarians in Texas.

U. S. Civilian Payroll Soars By $2 Billions

By EDWIN B. HAANKINSON
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Uncle Sam's civilian payroll for the past fiscal year that ended June 30 soared nearly two billion dollars above the previous year to a total of more than 9 1/2 billions, Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) reported today.
 Byrd also said 2,599,122 persons were on the government's civilian payroll during July, an increase of 2,369 over June.
 Both the fiscal year costs and the July totals are based upon certified reports made by the scores of federal departments, commissions, and agencies to the Congressional Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Expenditures.
 It is known as the Byrd Committee because he is the chairman and founder.
 For the past fiscal year (1952), the committee said payrolls of government civilian workers totaled $9,541,000,000, an increase of 24 per cent or $1,822,000,000 over the previous 12 months.
 The increase was due to (1) pay raises voted federal workers by Congress during the 12 months, and (2) the fact there are more government workers.
 Civilians employed by the military establishment received $4,639,000,000, an increase of 32 per cent or $1,136,000,000 over fiscal 1951.
 Workers in civilian agencies were paid $4,902,000,000, a gain of 16 per cent of $686,000,000 over the previous year.
 Most of the July increase in civilian government workers was military establishment which gained 2,329 during the month.
 The report showed 384,317 civilians employed outside the continental United States in July.

Local Moviegoers Aid Polio Drive By More Than $1,700

The Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation—polio therapy center maintained principally for Texas—has been aided by more than $1,700 through generosity of Big Spring theatre goers this week.
 The local showhouses joined in the Texas Theatres Polio campaign, with collections at all programs. The solicitation will end Saturday.
 Money derived through the theatres goes to the Warm Springs Foundation, where Texas children victims of polio are given treatment.

Stanton Grade School Enrollment Way Up

STANTON, (SC) — Approximately 450 students have been enrolled in the Stanton grade school, which is more than were enrolled last year. Last year 167 were enrolled in the high school and it is anticipated that this year's enrollment will at least equal that figure.
 According to J. C. Anderson, principal of the grade school, the enrollment in his division is more than 100 above that of last year. There are 14 members of the elementary school faculty and the classes are averaging about 35 pupils.
 O. W. Winstead is the new superintendent of the schools here.

Martin Countion Is Wounded In Korea

STANTON, (SC) — According to word received here from the Department of Defense, Marine Pfc. Conell J. Carstensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Carstensen of Martin County, has been wounded in action in Korea.
 Information concerning the extent of his injuries has not been available. The parents live in the northern part of the county west of Knott.

Child's Death Place Probed By 2 States

AMITE, La., Sept. 5 (AP)—Authorities in two states sought to determine today whether a five-year-old girl was dead or alive when placed on a Louisiana-bound train in Chicago.
 The girl's mother, identified by Sheriff Tom Sanders as Mrs. Ann McSherry Snee, 34, insisted that little Ann Teresa was alive when she left Chicago early Tuesday.
 At Chicago, Lt. John Golden, head of the Chicago Homicide Bureau, said there was no doubt that the child was dead before the trip began.
 "In 30 years of police work," Golden added, "I never ran across anything even similar to this case."
 Sheriff Sanders said that Mrs. Snee, an attractive brunette, and her mother, Mrs. Arthur McSherry, both of Chicago, were held in the parish jail of this little South-eastern Louisiana farm town without charge pending an investigation.
 Sanders said Chicago authorities also asked that the two women be held.
 Both women were arrested at Hammond, 20 miles south of here, where the girl was buried after funeral services late yesterday. Hammond is 40 miles east of Baton Rouge, the state capital.
 Sheriff Sanders said that when the mother and grandmother arrived at Hammond Tuesday, they immediately took the child, wrapped in a bundle like a small infant, to a funeral home.
 When the funeral home learned that the mother could not produce a death certificate, it notified Sanders who ordered the body sent to New Orleans for an autopsy.
 Sanders said the autopsy report showed that death was due to starvation and indicated that the child had died before being taken aboard the train in Chicago.

 Mrs. Snee, maintaining Ann Teresa was alive in Chicago, said the child had been ill since May but had not received medical attention.
 At Chicago, police questioned Miss Florence McSherry, 30-year-old railroad clerk and aunt of the girl, last night. Mrs. Snee, Mrs. McSherry and Ann Teresa had lived in her apartment for the last eight months.
 Golden said Miss McSherry told him that the child had been sick for years, had never walked and never had been treated by a physician.
 "I did agree with Nash Adams on a plea of guilty in Nevada," Potter said in an interview with the Dallas News, "because I felt extremely doubtful that a conviction could be had in the Binion case."
 Adams is a Binion lawyer.
 "Later," said Potter, "I conferred with Mr. Monroe, representing Urban, about a plea of guilty for his client. Mr. Monroe felt as I did that the government's case against Urban was strong and that Urban might receive a lighter sentence on a plea of guilty."
 "From the standpoint of prosecution, I felt that the government would be saved the expense and trouble of a costly trial. And a conviction is a conviction, whether it results from a plea of guilty or a contested case."
 Potter said the Star-Telegram was correct in that he made the two agreements.
 But he maintained there was "no grade," that neither agreement was contingent upon the other.

Potter Denies Any Trade Over Gambler's Case

DALLAS, Sept. 5 (AP)—U. S. Attorney Frank Potter denied today that any agreement had been made to transfer Nevada Gambler Benny Binion's income tax evasion case to Nevada in return for a guilty plea from Harry Urban of Dallas.
 The Fort Worth Star-Telegram yesterday quoted Potter as saying he had made such a trade with Nash Adams, Maury Hughes and the late Ted Monroe, Dallas lawyers.
 "I did agree with Nash Adams on a plea of guilty in Nevada," Potter said in an interview with the Dallas News, "because I felt extremely doubtful that a conviction could be had in the Binion case."
 Adams is a Binion lawyer.
 "Later," said Potter, "I conferred with Mr. Monroe, representing Urban, about a plea of guilty for his client. Mr. Monroe felt as I did that the government's case against Urban was strong and that Urban might receive a lighter sentence on a plea of guilty."

Garden City Notes Increase in Schools

GARDEN CITY, Sept. 5—The Garden City schools opened Tuesday with an increase in both the grade and the high school.
 The grade school had 144 enrolled this year to 138 last year. The high school received a total of 99 students which is the number of students that registered for the entire nine months of the past school term.
 Mrs. M. A. Barber took the second grade when Audna Neely resigned. Mrs. W. E. Mason was hired to drive the bus coming in from the Soho Camp and Henry Hilliger is driving the bus from the Hilliger community.
 Mrs. A. H. Self will be manager of the lunch room and assisting her will be Mrs. Tom Ashill, Mrs. Warner Huggins, and Mrs. W. E. Mason.

HS Band Slated For Appearance At Water Fete

With its first appearance slated for 7:30 p.m. today at the water celebration, the Big Spring High School Band is swinging into regular action.

J. W. King Jr., director, said that there were 70 members enrolled in the band.

The junior high band has around 75 members, and the beginners band (fifth and sixth grades) has 33.

Membership is still open, King said, especially in the junior high and the beginner levels.

"We have a large number of openings in the beginner band," he said. Practice for this group is so scheduled that pupils in the various schools can report for practice.

The initial appearance of the senior band will not be in uniform, said King, because not all uniforms have been fitted and issued.

Assisting in the direction of the bands is Harold Plumley, who is working with the junior and beginning sections.

Student officers have not all been named in the band, but Charles Partain is captain and Shirley Wheat is queen. She will be crowned officially at the initial football game here.

Texan Registers Two MIG Kills In Korea

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 5 (AP)—The U. S. Fifth Air Force today credited a Texas pilot with a double kill in yesterday's jet fights that cost the Reds 3 MIGs over Northwest Korea.

The two MIGs destroyed were the first by Lt. Ira Porter, 608 Fairview St., Houston, Tex.

Eight other pilots were credited with one MIG kill each.

money is made available to counties for actual construction. Total for this purpose is $333,927. The additional $38,956 is for financing bonds voted originally for roads which were taken over subsequently by the state highway department.

All of Howard County's allotment, which this year amounts to $25,884, goes to construction.

Basis for the distribution is not explained. There are some seeming inequities such as $25,000 for Howard County and $32,000 for Lynn, or $18,500 for Midland and $25,632 for Terry.

Here is the breakdown on the distribution of the funds ($7,300,000 on a state basis) to the counties in this area:

Andrews	$13,429	$13,429
Borden	$1,072	9,024
Coke	3,296	11,548

Fraternity Collects Church, Fire Bells

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Missing any church or fire bells? You might try the Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity house at College of the Pacific here.

Last December, someone stole the 600-pound brass nose maker long used as the fire alarm in Santa Clara.

Yesterday, Fire Chief Leonard George got a tip to look in the Alpha Kappa Phi house here. So he grabbed Police Inspector Frank Sapena and sped the 60-odd miles from Santa Clara to Stockton.

Sure enough, there was Santa Clara's big fire bell in the fraternity's trophy room.

So, added Sapena, are seven or eight other bells—trophies, he was informed, of freshmen pledge raids.

That Million Dollar Income Is Not Going To Be Easy To Make

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Editor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Your best chances of having an annual income of a million dollars or more will come when you are between 80 and 89 years old, an Ohio University psychologist reported today.

Dr. H. C. Lehman presented statistics to the annual meeting of the American Psychological Association (APA) showing that in general, people who become big-shot in politics, diplomacy, college administration, military service, industry, commerce and the high courts of the land usually are at least 50 years old.

But—He also reported that a man's best years for producing creative work—like writing books, painting pictures, or doing big things in science—are usually in the thirties or early forties.

In the field of leadership in politics and other endeavors—as distinguished from men who are outstanding in creative fields—the psychologist gave these figures:

The most likely age to become President of the United States is anywhere from 50 to 54; ambassador, senator, or boss of the Army from 60 to 64; Supreme Court justice or speaker of the House of Representatives, 70 to 74; a college president, 50 to 54.

About those million dollar plus incomes: Dr. Lehman failed to state the attributes of the folks who received them; all he said was that oldsters between 80 and 89—without necessarily working—are the folks who most usually receive them.

He had a separate category for receivers of earned annual incomes of $50,000 or more: persons 60 to 64.

On the age differences between the "creativity" and "leadership" fields, Dr. Lehman offered this view:

"It appears that the conditions essential for creativity and originality, which can be displayed in private achievement, come earlier than those social skills which contribute to leadership and eminence and which inevitably must wait, not upon the insight of the leader himself, but upon the insight of society about him."

Price Clinic Is Slated Tuesday For Businessmen

A price clinic for Big Spring businessmen will be conducted at the Chamber of Commerce office next Tuesday by W. C. Reynolds, price specialist for the Lubbock Office of Price Stabilization.

Reynolds may be contacted at the chamber at any time between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. He invites all local businessmen who may have pricing problems under OPS regulations or who desire additional information on the OPS program to participate in the clinic.

"The OPS is still in the business of price regulation," Reynolds declared. "All businessmen who need more information in order to properly comply with the law, or who have some pricing problem for which they need assistance are invited to attend the price clinic. The clinic is designed to provide convenient, on-the-spot assistance to businessmen who otherwise might be put to considerable time and trouble in order to affect full compliance with OPS regulations." Reynolds suggested that operators of service establishments in particular attend the price clinic. Service establishments include pressing shops, cleaning and television repairmen, garages and other businesses selling services. Such businesses are under the OPS services regulation, CFR 34, and are required to have their ceiling prices posted for public view.

Extension Is Urged

MANILA, Sept. 5 (AP)—Philippine immigration officials have recommended an indefinite extension of immigration permits for 1,273 American technicians engaged in rebuilding war-damaged areas and installations.

Local Draft Board's October Quota Is 28

Local Selective Service Board faces one of its largest induction calls since the start of the Korean conflict.

Twenty-eight men will be ordered to report for induction on Oct. 9, draft officials announced today. The call is the largest since September, 1950, when 35 men were inducted from the three-county area served by the local board.

Eighteen men from Howard, Martin and Mitchell Counties will be ordered to induction headquarters on Sept. 9, the draft board announced earlier.

Larger calls are expected for the next few months. Reason for the increase is believed to be the discharge of some of the first fighting men inducted after the start of the Korean conflict.

Draft boards now must supply "rotation" personnel to take the place of discharges as well as meet the regular expansion demands of the Army and Marine Corps.

Pre-induction physical quotas for September and October also have been announced for the local board. Thirty-five men will be sent for physical examinations on Sept. 16.

The October pre-induction quota is 70 men. Thirty-five will go for physicals on Oct. 29 and a like number will take the examinations on Oct. 30.

Abilene is headquarters in this area for both pre-induction physicals and the induction process. Draftees usually are sent by bus from the local Selective Service office to the induction center.

Carpenters Here Aid Vernon Milam

Members of the carpenter's union here have done a $100 good turn to Vernon Milam, who formerly worked under the Big Spring local.

Milam lost his wife and 15-month-old twin daughters in a highway collision near San Angelo Aug. 17. LeRoy Renfro, who was driving the car, also died and Milam's son Jimmy Ross, 8, was burned critically.

Floyd R. Jones, financial secretary, and William Gamble, business agent, started a free will offering to aid Milam. Fellow carpenters responded with gifts aggregating $100, which Jones delivered to Milam in San Angelo last Saturday. Meanwhile, some other funds have been received and Jones urged an even more generous response. All money received will be sent to Milam, who has not taken his son to Galveston to begin skin grafting on his horribly burned face. Doctors say vision in one eye likely will be all right and that in time they may be able to restore him to a degree of normal living. Milam plans to seek work in Galveston.

Ike, Mamie Consider Gettysburg, Farms As 'Permanent' Home

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mamie Eisenhower says she and her husband, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, now consider Gettysburg, Pa., their "permanent home" no matter where they may go in the future—even the White House.

Talking with a group of Pennsylvania girls from the Young Republican Club yesterday while the GOP presidential candidate was touring Philadelphia, Mamie said of their farm at Gettysburg: "The house is mine and I love it and the trees around it. Some of my friends are trying to persuade me to build a new place on one of the hills but I fell in love with the old house first."

The Eisenhowers are co-owners of a farm at Gettysburg with George S. Allen, one-time adviser to President Truman.

A Humble and Greathearted Leader

HE ATONED FOR HIS SIN, AND JEHOVAH FORGAVE HIM.

Scripture—11 Samuel 11:1-19:33; 12:1-13; 18:1-5; 21:33; 19:1-6; 18:28; 21:18-25.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
KING DAVID was not a perfect man. He was tempted and fell, even as you and I. His great sins, which angered Jehovah, were adultery and murder, both of which in an ordinary man would have meant death. There was no one in his kingdom who had the power to condemn him, however, but he was punished severely, the result of these crimes following him all through his life. Jehovah forgave him, however, because he was truly repentant and realized the enormity of his wickedness. Walking on the roof of his palace, he saw a beautiful woman bathing. Although she was the wife of another man, Uriah, an officer in David's army, he took her. Then, when the husband returned he decided to get rid of him, so he gave the husband a note to Joab, his captain (first having gotten Uriah drunk), telling him to place Uriah in the most dangerous place in the battle line where he certainly would be killed. He was slain, and after a period of mourning, David and ever, David found the Ark of the Covenant had been brought with the royal party, David ordered it carried back, for, he said, that if Jehovah were merciful to him he would come back to Jerusalem, but if God rejected him, "Let Him do to me as seemeth good unto Him."

As David continued his flight, a man of the family of the house of Saul, Shimei by name, came out and cursed the king and threw stones at him. One of David's company wanted to kill the man, but David would not let him, saying, "Behold my son, who came forth from my bowels, seeketh my life; how much more may this Benjamite now do it? Let him alone, and let him curse; for Jehovah hath bidden him." This, too, David must have thought, was part of his punishment, which he must bear stoically.
Later the man repented and apologized to David, but this was after the revolt of Absalom was quelled. David had given command that Absalom was to be the woman, Bathsheba, were wed. Nathan, the prophet, came to David, and told him a parable about a rich man who had many flocks and herds, and a poor man who had but one ewe lamb, which he treasured like a child. The rich man wished to entertain a traveler, but didn't want to take one of his own flock and so took the poor man's only lamb, killed it and served it to his guest.

David was furious at the rich man for his action, and said he should not be allowed to live, but Nathan spoke sternly, "Thou art the man."

David was shocked into a realization of his great sin, and bitter remorse followed. Nathan told him that he need not die, but punishment would surely follow. The child that was born of Bathsheba would die; war would never depart from his house. The child of David and Bathsheba did die, and David mourned his death, but he felt it was a just punishment, and strength was given him to bear the loss.

The second son born of Bathsheba was Solomon, the wisest and greatest of kings, whose reign was marked by glory. We are not given the chapters describing the terrible events connected with the revolt of David's son, Absalom, a handsome youth whom David loved dearly. He treacherously conspired to dethrone his father, winning many to his cause, and making it necessary for David and his court to flee from his palace. When, how-

AT BIG SPRING CHURCHES

Many Revivals Continue As Some Churches Celebrating Communion

Many Big Spring churches are continuing revival services this week while others are observing special days and still others are celebrating communion.
APOSTOLIC FAITH
Revival services will continue through next week at the Apostolic Faith Church, NW 10th and Lancaster, according to the Rev. A. W. Ferguson, pastor. The Rev. Bill Patterson, evangelist, of Granby, Mo. is in charge of the services and the Rev. and Mrs.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, will discuss "Living Our Religion with Others" at the morning services of the church. Members of the Junior League will meet at 7 p. m. Sunday at the church.
METHODIST
"Resources for Life's Mastery" will be the sermon theme of Dr. Alsie H. Carlton, pastor of the First Methodist Church, at the morning services Sunday. That evening at 7:30 the communion meditation will be "The Upper Room."
The Rev. Marvin Fisher, pastor of Wesley Memorial Methodist Church, will tell of "The Man Sent From God" at the morning worship. That evening a sound film "Go Forth" will be shown.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN
Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will speak on "The Lamb of God" based on John 1:29 at the morning services of the church. The choir will sing as the anthem "Teach Me O Lord." The evening topic will be "Children of Jerusalem" and the children's choir will sing "Keeping Step."
BUSINESSMEN'S BIBLE CLASS
The Businessmen's Bible Class will meet at 9:15 a. m. Sunday in the Stiles ballroom with the lecturer bringing the message.
BUILDER'S BIBLE CLASS
Members of the non-denominational Builders Bible Class will meet in Carpenter's Hall at 8:30 a. m. Sunday. Coffee and doughnuts will be served prior to the lesson.

BILL PATTERSON

Leland Grimmer of Enid, Okla. are directing the choir. Services are held at 8 p. m. each day and young people's services are held Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday at 7 p. m. with the Rev. Grimmer in charge.

BAPTIST
As is his custom once a year, Dr. P. D. O'Brien will speak at the First Baptist Church morning worship on the subject "What Must I Do To Be Saved?" This message, based on Acts 16:30, has been prepared in tract form and multiplied thousands of copies have been distributed over the world through provisions made by A. L. Wasson. Dr. O'Brien's evening subject will be "Man's Final Recourse Against Satan," from Jude 1:9.

Sunday will be Building Fund Day at the Baptist Temple Church and offerings will go into the fund. The Rev. James S. Parks, pastor, will speak on "You Cannot Remain Neutral Toward Christ," from Matthew 27:22-26 at the morning service. Sunday evening he will ask, "Can You Bear the Cross?" Mark 15:21.

Regular services will be held at the Airport Baptist Church. Sunday School begins at 9:45 a. m. followed by the worship service at 11. Training Union will be held at 7 p. m. and the evening worship at 8.

CATHOLIC
Masses will be conducted by the Rev. William J. Moore, OMI, at 7 and 9:30 a. m. at St. Thomas Catholic Church. Rosary will be recited at 5 p. m.

The Rev. Paul Hally, OMI, will say masses at 8 and 9:30 a. m. at the Sacred Heart (Latin-American) Catholic Church.

FIRST CHRISTIAN
Arthur Wenger of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, will speak at both services of the First Christian Church Sunday. Joyce Howard, soloist, will sing "How Beautiful Upon the Mountain" at the morning worship.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
Peace and joy naturally follow the spiritual understanding and assurance that you are a child of God. This thought will be emphasized in the Lesson-Sermon to be read at the Christian Science services Sunday. Selections from I John and I Corinthians in the Bible and from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will also be read.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST
"Never a Convenient Season" will be the morning topic of Lloyd Connel, minister of the Main St.

LLOYD CONNEL

Church of Christ. The text will be Acts: 24. That evening from Matthew 15:1-20 will come the subject, "Making Void the Word of God." A series of evangelistic services will be held at the Ellis Homes Church of Christ Sept. 5-14. Lloyd Connel, minister of the Main St. Church, will preach and there will be congregational singing. Services will be held at 8 p. m. each day and 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. on Sundays.

CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER DAY SAINTS
Sunday School for members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will be held at the Girl Scout Little House at 10 a. m. Sunday.
FIRST CHURCH OF GOD
The Rev. John E. Kolar, pastor of the First Church of God, will

CAN YOU KEEP THEM SMILING?

"The happiest years of their lives," you say of your teen-agers. But these youngsters you love so deeply can go on being happy through all their lives. It all depends on you.
They are like tender, growing plants. You have to give them the right kind of soil to grow in. You have to feed and water them. You have to cultivate them, keeping down the weeds—choking weeds of questionable character and evil—until they can rise above them.
You have to protect them from rigorous storms until they are strong enough to stand by themselves. And their roots must sink deep—deep into fertile soil such as that found only in the spiritual teachings of the Bible.
Give your children rich, well-balanced lives through religious as well as secular education. Go to church with them regularly, and you'll all have reason to keep smiling.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Tax Case Is Settled By Famed Violinist

By FRANK O'BRIEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Fritz Kreisler, world-famed violin virtuoso, and his wife settled tax claims amounting to $1,364,513 in 1944 for $395,000, the Bureau of Internal Revenue disclosed today.

The bureau quoted the Vienna-born violinist as saying he had no intention of defrauding the government, but became involved in the case through innocent error, had advice, and his own complicated affairs.

Officials said the compromise was accepted because of the age of the case, the complex nature of the government's proof, Kreisler's stock market losses, and deductions he was entitled to but had not listed.

The case was brought to light under the bureau's new ruling under which current compromise tax settlements are automatically reported, and old cases disclosed upon requests giving specific names.

The bureau's voluminous file on the case indicated that the government was somewhat dazzled by its encounter with the great artist, and that Kreisler lived up to the best artistic tradition in knowing practically nothing about his prosperous but tangled affairs.

Kreisler said he had always depended upon advisers, adding: "I have not the slightest commercial sense."

His wife, Harriet, told the bureau: "He knows nothing, nothing, he can only fiddle, fiddle, fiddle."

During the years for which the government claimed tax deficiencies jointly by Kreisler and his wife they lived abroad as non-resident aliens. They were in this country only during such times as Kreisler played here. Since then both have become American citizens.

Kreisler's affairs were complicated by two corporations set up in his name. He played concerts and made records for fees paid to him by the corporations and the corporations collected Kreisler's earnings, far richer than the fees paid to him.

Things were further complicated, the bureau report said by the fact that Mrs. Kreisler did not like some of Kreisler's financial dealings and that the violinist tried to carry on some ventures with relatives — to help the relatives — without his wife's knowledge.

Altogether the report said, Kreisler's affairs were sometimes handled in "a somewhat unorthodox manner."

They were so complex, and the government was so late in getting around to some of them — 19 years — that in the end it was decided that the government had little chance to prove in court what it thought the Kreislers owed in taxes, interest and penalties.

Furthermore, the report said, the fact Kreisler was a "genius of world renown would not be helpful to the government in a trial."

Texan Saves Trio Of Airmen In Sea Rescue By 'Copter

TOKYO, Sept. 5 (AP)—The Air Force today told how a Texan and his helicopter rescued three U. S. airmen from the sea off Northwest Korea yesterday.

Lt. Laverne G. Stange, Minneapolis, Minn., parachuted from his crippled Sabre jet after downing an enemy MIG jet.

Two rescue helicopters flew to the scene. One was piloted by Maj. Roy A. Thompson, Lubbock, Tex., and the other by Ens. Theron Ray, Richmond, Calif.

Ray arrived first but while maneuvering to pick up Stange his helicopter crashed into the sea. With Ray was his crewman, F. C. Davney of Kansas City.

After repeated trials, Thompson and his co-pilot, Lt. Thurman Lawrence Jr., Route One, Beaufort, N. C., lifted the three men to safety on a hoist and took them back to Allied lines.

Riding The GRUB LINE

By Franklin Reynolds

A survey of the drought-stricken cattle situation in Howard County presents a more unfavorable picture than existed a few weeks ago.

Bulls are about $8.00 per hundredweight off what they were this time last year; fat cows are $9.00 off; fat yearlings about $5.00, or perhaps a little more off; stocker steers calves about $11.00 off, while cows and calves are from $70.00 to $120.00 cheaper by the pair—but the whole story can't be told in figures, particularly as it pertains to these pairs.

Cows and calves of much better quality are selling for less this year than cows and calves of inferior quality brought at the same time last year. On the basis of quality and last year's prices Howard County beef cows and calves would probably be bringing from $150.00 to $200.00 more a pair than had been rain and if there was grass.

Cowmen elsewhere who do have grass are passing up a mighty good thing by not coming to Howard County and buying these cows and calves.

Part of the drop in prices may be seasonal and part may be due to a price decline on the national average, but it is safe to assume that at least 50 per cent of the drop here is due to the drought, and the figure should probably be set even higher than that.

More breeding cattle were moved out of the county this week, more will go next week and even more in the weeks to follow. Howard County breeding herds are already at the lowest level since the first Spanish-blooded Longhorn drifted up this way for a drink from the Big Spring.

Cowmen who have all the money they need to buy feed for their cattle are throwing the beef on the market anyway, for two reasons. They figure it is foolish to spend money this way, and then realize it isn't good for cattle to have to fight heat from two directions—inside and outside. Alfalfa and cake are heat generating feeds, and cattle out under the West Texas sun during this dry spell don't need any warming up from the inside. The dual-heating process isn't calculated to greatly improve their condition.

One of the county's best Hereford breeding herds will probably be sharply reduced within the next few weeks. The reduction will come as the result of the drought and feed situation and for no other reason.

The entire situation is made worse by the fact that breeders are being forced to market registered breeding stock at meat distress prices and will later have to replace these animals at the breeding cattle prices prevailing at replacement time.

This is a situation that has never occurred before. There have been other times when West Texas cowmen have had to get rid of their cattle because of drought, but never before have there been so many registered breeding animals sacrificed. In the earlier days, in most instances, when a cowman had to get rid of a breeding herd because of drought it was a matter of selling so many bulls and so many cows. They could be replaced later by buying an equal number of bulls and cows. In those days a bull was pretty much a bull and a cow was pretty much just another cow. In those days a breeding herd could be bought with the words: "I'll take 'em!" In these days foundation breeding herds are built through years of selective breeding and culling. And such are many of the herds being sold as drought-disaster cattle now.

In other words, herds like these being sacrificed by Howard County breeders at this time can't be bought—they must be built, and Howard County dairymen are in a quite similar situation. They too have spent years building productive herds. Some of them are going to be forced to stand helpless while the drought destroys their years of effort as well as their investment in cash. And because of the financial sacrifice involved some of these breeders may have a hard time re-establishing their herds.

And what about the registered bull market now that we stand before the sunrise of another season of association sales? That is a question that the purebred breeders are asking themselves and each other. And nobody seems to have the answer which must inevitably be provided by the sales themselves. Who will want these bulls and where will they go and how much will they bring in the face of the cattle shortage?

The Hereford Roundup Sale, to which Howard County cattle are consigned will be held in Fort Worth, November 12, under the sponsorship of the Texas Hereford Association. Other sales to which Howard County Herefords are consigned will be the Concho Hereford Sale at San Angelo, January 6 and the Howard County-South Plains Hereford Association Sale at Big Spring on January 8.

Sea Boundary Policy Hearing Set For Oct. 3

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—A special House Interior Subcommittee appointed to investigate and recommend policies on the nation's seaward boundary will hold a public hearing in Los Angeles Oct. 3 and 4.

Rep. Engle (D-Calif.), chairman of the subcommittee, said the Los Angeles session "will largely concern the position of the State of California and California interests" on the seaward boundary of that state.

The resolution authorizing the committee investigation was introduced by Rep. Yorty (D-Calif.) and $15,000 was appropriated for committee expenses.

Yorty has proposed that the seaward boundary of the United States, in the interest of national security, should be fixed in accordance with a recent decision of the International Court of Justice in a fisheries case involving the coastline of Norway.

In that case, the court held that the boundary of Norway extended from the shore around the outer edge of rocks and islands off the coast.

In a case pending in the Supreme Court, the U. S. Government contends that the seaward boundary of California follows the shore line, and that water areas between the shore and off-lying islands are not inland waters. The California case involves off-shore oil lands beneath the marginal sea.

Engle said he is seeking to engage competent counsel to assist the committee in organizing material.

MEDICAL JOURNAL SAYS Horror Shows Can Hurt Nation's Kids

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
CHICAGO (AP)—The Journal of the American Medical Association took a swipe today at some of television's crime - and - horror programs, saying they could endanger the health of the nation's children.

"Unfortunately, a astonishingly little research has been done on the medical and psychological impact of television on children," the Journal said in an editorial.

The Journal said that, "for its own interest" the television industry should acknowledge the "adverse medical and psychological implications" found in many such programs.

"It should foster research on the impact of television on mind and body, and should make a sustained effort to avoid programming shows potentially dangerous to the health of the nation's children," the editorial said, adding:

"Indeed, the television industry would be well advised to accomplish this voluntarily and as rapidly as possible in order to neutralize the growing hue and cry for government regulation and its attendant evils of censorship."

The Journal cited two studies in its conclusions:

1. A survey made by TV Magazine of television programs on Los Angeles stations the week of May 24-30.
2. A survey made by Dr. M. I. Preston in 1941 on the effects of movie horror and radio crime shows on children.

It said the TV Magazine survey showed that in one week Los Angeles stations carried 852 major crime incidents, in addition to innumerable saloon brawls, sluggings and assaults and other "minor" acts of violence. Seventy-five per cent of the crime deluge was on programs for children.

The editorial said Preston's study showed that in the group of 153 children subjected to horror movies and radio shows, 78 per cent showed increased nervousness, 85 per cent suffered from sleeping disturbances, fears were increased five-fold in 94 per cent and 51 per cent were found to be nail-biters. The Journal added:

"Up to the age of 12, common reactions included retreating to the mother's bed for comfort and reassurance, screaming, pulling the bedcovers over the head, burying the head under a pillow, or diving under the covers—there to spend an uneasy night plagued by vivid recollections."

The Journal said Preston's study showed the children exposed also suffered from lack of appetite, scholastic difficulties and increased irritability. It added:

"As early as the seventh year it was noted that habitual exposure often produced a callousness to the suffering of others and an atrophy of sympathy and compassion toward those in distress."

Sparkman Is Campaigning In Southwest

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama swung southward through New Mexico today, taking his bid for the vice presidency to towns in the populous Rio Grande Valley.

The Democratic candidate leveled his guns at critics of the present administration's foreign policy, describing it as "strongly and hopefully positive."

He accused Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential aspirant of poor hindsight and foresight both, as far as Russian-U. S. relations are concerned. On at least two occasions, Sparkman said Eisenhower said Russia wanted friendly relations with the U. S.—at a Moscow news conference and before a congressional committee in 1945.

Bipartisanship in foreign affairs, Sparkman said, is necessary if the United States is to perform the role of leadership it has assumed.

Sparkman hit New Mexico in a series of quick visits to some key areas.

Four Sailors Dead
SAN MARCOS, Sept. 5 (AP)—Four enlisted men from Corpus Christi Naval Station were killed last night when their car was in collision with a truck about a mile south of here.

San Marcos Air Force Base withheld identification of the men until next-of-kin were notified.

The truck driver, Joe Wornis Hamb of Grapeland, was not injured.

"I've just heard a wonderful story...and it's about you!"
SAYS OLIVIA DE HAVILLAND

Do you know why your ears were burning a bit ago?

I was listening to a wonderful story about a Defense Bond owner. It's the story about a patriotic person, a wise and thrifty one; one I respect and admire. You.

By tying your prosperity and your country's safety firmly together through Bond saving, you're writing the most exciting success story the world has ever seen. Your story is sort of a personal thing with me. We're on the same team. And I'm proud of it, for you see, I'm a Defense Bond owner, too.

I wonder if you know all the good things that Defense Bonds mean to us. For example:

- FIRST—Thanks to new Treasury regulations, every Series E Bond we buy begins earning interest after only 6 months. It earns 3% interest compounded semiannually when held to maturity. It reaches full maturity value earlier (9 years 8 months) and the interest it pays is now bigger at the start.
- SECOND—Every Series E Bond we own can now go on earning interest for 10 more years after it reaches the original maturity date—without our lifting a finger!
- THIRD—During the 10-year extension period, every unexpired bond earns at the new, higher interest rate (average 3% compounded semiannually). Our original $18.75 can now pay us back $33.67. $37.50 pays back $67.34. And so on.
- FOURTH—When we make ourselves and our families economically secure through buying bonds, we're helping to build the great economic strength that backs up our national defense. And this is the best security our money can buy. For after two world wars we have found that peace is for the strong!

U. S. Defense Bonds are one of the easiest, most convenient forms of saving ever invented. For through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, you can buy bonds on a time payment plan. Just specify the payments, as large or as small as you like, and they will be automatically set aside from your salary. This way you save the money before you spend it. And millions of people have found this is one sure way to save.

Peace is for the strong...for peace and prosperity save with U.S. Defense Bonds!

The U. S. Government does not pay for this advertising. The Treasury Department thanks for their patriotic donation, The Advertising Council and

One More Day Of Grace Before The Inspection Deadline Takes Effect

You have one more day in which to get your motor vehicle inspected, if you have not already done so, and satisfy requirements of the state law.

Falling in this, you would be better advised to leave the car parked until arrangements can be made to get it to an inspection station and a belated check. We can't argue the law on this point, because the law says that the inspection must be done not later than Sept. 6, so the attorney general's opinion said. But then the law didn't exactly say that in the first place, but a six-months loophole was discovered.

Even a belated stamp likely would prevent any pick-up troubles the balance of the year. It is a foregone conclusion that the inspection law will be changed drastically if not repealed outright when the legislature meets next January. Since most everyone has gone on and complied with terms of the statute, some of the heat has subsided, but there's still enough feeling to assure that there will be some changes made. Thus, penalties for not having made the Sept. 6 deadline may not confront the driver when registration time comes around next spring.

The problem of the unexpired is getting by between now and the time the legislature takes action. So far there has been no delineation of responsibility in enforcement. In its absence, all agencies are quite apt to assume that it is the responsibility of the other and hence law, like justice, could be blind.

Soldier Vote Could Bear Heavy Impact On Outcome Of Election

Of the approximate 3,500,000 persons now in the armed services of the United States, it is estimated that one million or more will be deprived of the vote in November. President Truman used this figure last June in urging Congress for special legislation to enable such persons to cast their ballots, but Congress adjourned without passing a soldier-vote bill.

The Senate did pass a bill of this nature, including a provision that no state could require a poll tax payment as a requisite to voting; but this bill died in House committee.

According to the Census Bureau, 977,000 U.S. soldiers were abroad as of July 1, and the Army estimated that 600,000 of them were adults from states which have done little or nothing to provide for soldier voting.

The Constitution of Texas denies the vote to any member of the regular establishment of the Army, Navy or Marine Corps. The way this works out is that a man who volunteers his services is denied the vote, but those who are drafted aren't.

The Texas election law exempts from the poll tax provision any member of the Armed Forces, or who has been a member of the Armed Forces within 18 months immediately prior to the time of the election. But it adds "during the time the United States is fighting a war. (Regulars, however, are barred under any circumstance.) And the affair in Korea is not a formally-declared war.

In actual practice, members of the Armed Services overseas, and some even closer to home, are deprived of the vote in Texas because they must cast an absentee ballot, and insufficient time is allowed to get the ballot to them and have it returned in time to be counted.

In view of the fact that we're probably in for a long period of having to maintain a large military establishment, the federal government and the states, in the interest of common decency, should make it possible for our fighting men to cast their ballots in every election.

Vacationing With A Grandson Is Reported As A Tiring Excursion

WASHINGTON.—A paper bag of rabbit food is on my desk... A broken slingshot, a book called "Trigger" (Roy Rogers' horse)... A pair of swimming trunks is on a chair... Still damp... A pair of dirty shoes, very small ones, are under the couch... My room is a shambles, littered with remnants of my vacation—reminders of a small boy who spent the vacation with me.

He is a small boy who isn't interested in Eisenhower or Stevenson... Who doesn't know the nation is about to hold an election, who has no idea that this election could shape the destiny of the world, perhaps decide whether some day he himself will march off to war.

This small boy had the faculty of making his grandfather feel both very young and very old. His energy was inexhaustible, his questions endless, their scope limitless... "Why do mosquitoes make you itch, Grandfather?" Who teaches little calves how to get milk from their mothers?... Can eagles fly away with little boys?... Can hawks?... Can buzzards?... "Why do pigeons always eat your alfalfa seed and not other people's, Grandpa?" "Why does Harry Truman (our bull) always break down so many fences?" I have had hundreds of questions fired at me in public forums or by irate readers, but none so difficult to answer—though so pleasant.

So before I get back to the grind of being the tough, hard-boiled poker under the political rocks looking for the worms of corruption, I hope I may be forgiven if I say just a word about life with a young man who has scarcely heard the word corruption and who aside from "influencing" himself out of taking a bath at night wouldn't know what the word means.

For if you ever want to relive your youth... If you ever dream of the birds' nests you used to find, the trees you used to climb, the garter snakes you used to catch and take to Sunday School to scare little girls... the frogs' legs you used to fry in a skillet out of doors... The streams you used to dam up to make a waist-high swimming hole... the giant hay-loads you used to ride, sitting way-up so high you got scratched by the branches as you came up the lane to the barn... Or the mowing machine had uncovered their nests in the hayfield...

If you have, and want to recapture your youth, then just take your grandson out on a farm for two weeks and all those memories will come crowding back, more vivid than ever. And you'll be so tired at night, you won't lie awake thinking about the problems of the world.

My two weeks were spent on a farm on the banks of the Potomac where the stone forts of the Union Army once looked across at the Johnny Rebs on the other side in Virginia.

The sharpened trees that were pointed down the hill toward the river to keep the Johnny Rebs from crossing are gone now, but some of the stone ramparts still remain. And sitting near them in the moonlight on those nights when I was not too exhausted even to sit, I could almost see the ghosts of men maneuvering for position in the shadow of the oak trees in that bloody, futile war 90 years ago.

The Potomac still flows on serenely in the moonlight. The fish jump in the moonlight. And if you toss a pebble from the cliff alongside our farm, its ripples spread out in the moonlight as if no blood had ever stained its waters—as if no war or fear of future war ever ruffled its surface on the way past Washington, past the White House to the sea.

I do not know how many sons and grandsons have marched forth to war as a result of decisions made on the banks of the Potomac. I cannot predict how many more may march in the future. I only know—as I am left with strict instructions on how to feed two rabbits—that we of the present generation have a greater obligation than perhaps we realize.

And if we can instill among our fellow men some of the love and faith of our grandchildren; if we can banish hate, deception, fear; if we can truly remember the teaching "a little child shall lead them;" then the wars that have been fought along the Potomac and elsewhere some day may be no more.

Concise Statement On Foreign Policy By Truman Or Acheson Can Be Helpful

WASHINGTON (AP)—A brief and clear statement by President Truman or Secretary of State Acheson on precisely what our foreign policy is would be helpful to everyone's understanding.

Both men have stated that policy in different ways at different times.

Yet, it has been a many-sided, developing policy. Starting with aid to Greece and Turkey, moving on to the Marshall Plan, it went into the Atlantic Pact, arms for Europe, defense of Korea, and huge rearmament.

Now that the policy has been made an issue in the presidential campaign by Gen. Eisenhower and his adviser, John Foster Dulles, it is rapidly getting fogged in semantics.

Acheson indicated at a news conference yesterday he may soon make a statement on foreign policy, although an aide said later he does not think it proper for a secretary of state to get involved in a political campaign.

In general the foreign policy can be said to be this: It's aimed at stopping Russia from going any further or gobbling up any more people. Eisenhower and Dulles, in general, agree with that.

But Eisenhower, in his speech to the American Legion Aug. 25, indicated the policy doesn't go far enough to suit him, although he himself was pretty vague on what he'd do to make it work better.

He said we should tell Russia we'll "never rest" until the people in the satellite nations are freed. Would we go to war to free them if Russia ignored us? He didn't say so. He didn't say how we could free them.

This statement caused concern in Europe and questioning here. Yet Acheson himself had said pretty much the same thing in a speech March 17, 1950, although not speaking as boldly as Eisenhower. Among steps he said Russia could take to give the rest of the world some reason to believe there might be peace, he suggested Russia withdraw its arms and its presence from the satellite countries, leaving them independent.

Two days after Eisenhower spoke Dulles undertook to explain what the general meant. He said Eisenhower didn't mean violent revolution in the satellite countries but peaceful revolution, using such "quiet" methods as passive resistance, non-cooperation, discontent, slowdowns, industrial sabotage.

"They go along the street wearing these twin jumpers, holding hands, and then they are called a gruesome twosome. That means they are going steady—and for everybody else to lay off."

One of Diane's greatest adventures here was attending a baseball game.

"All the spectators got up, began booing, stomping their feet, and throwing cushions at the umpire," she recalled.

American Teenagers Are Defended By Aussie Lass

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—Everybody has been picking on American teen-agers so much lately it is a pleasure today to report they have a new defender.

She is lovely Diane Bell, 18, the "Miss Teen Age of Australia." Her reward for winning her title in a countrywide competition was a trip to the United States, and it has been a wonderful surprise.

"I was told they would pour chocolate sauce over my roast beef here, and I'd never get a decent cup of tea," she said, laughing. "But it hasn't been that way at all. They also told me I'd meet nothing but boddies and widgies over here, and I haven't met one."

"A boddie, she explained, is a jitterbug-crazy boy 'who wears his hair curled and long and a sport coat two sizes too big for him.' A widgie is a jitterbug-crazy girl 'who wears vasoline in her hair, which is cut very short.'"

Diane said a majority of Australians "think the American teenage girl is very sophisticated, goes out every night with boys, drinks, smokes and paints her fingernails."

"I have found exactly the opposite. The girls here are sweet and natural. And our teen-age boys are just like the Australian boys except for their crew haircuts. It spoils their looks—reminds me of convicts."

"I love a boy to be courteous, and I found the American boys very courteous. I was thrilled."

As a matter of fact, she said, American boys are more attentive to a girl on a date than the boys in her homeland.

Diane thinks the delinquency of teen-agers everywhere has been over-emphasized.

"There are a few naughty ones in every country," she observed. "Some feel their parents treat them as if they were too young and that may make them act too old."

Both Diane and her mother like the American teen-age girl's custom of dating different boys.

"I've only dated two boys myself," she said. "In Australia teenage boys and girls are much more keen on going steady. When a girl gets keen on her boy friend, she knits him a fine pale blue polo neck sweater with a white deer on the chest. Then she knits herself one just like it."

"They go along the street wearing these twin jumpers, holding hands, and then they are called a gruesome twosome. That means they are going steady—and for everybody else to lay off."

"I don't know who invented that gruesome twosome business—probably a boy."

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

Citizens of the new independent nation of Texas trooped to the polls on this day in 1836 to express their opinion of the constitution drafted in March by the Constitutional Convention.

One may wonder why it took five months to get around to such a vote. The first reason, quite obviously, lay in the generally unsettled conditions which followed the successful (for Texans) conclusion of the Revolution.

The second reason is much more unique in the annals of nations. The document drafted so laboriously and adopted by the ad interim government disappeared. The manuscript itself had been taken to Tennessee, where a Nashville newspaper printed it. From this version a Cincinnati paper reprinted the document and from this reprint Gail Borden's "Telegraph and Texas Register" reprinted the constitution in August—thus giving Texas their first opportunity to read their own constitution and furnishing an "official copy" for the government.

No one seems sure what happened to the document after delegates of the convention drew it up. Jess Grimes, one member of the convention, stated that it was not signed or engrossed at the convention. The best explanation is that one of the clerks, perhaps Borden himself, completed the document by "signing" the names of all the delegates himself.

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—The Columbus Enquirer announced today it will support the presidential candidacy of Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower.

It is the first time in history the morning newspaper in this city of 80,000 population has failed to support a Democratic presidential nominee. The paper is nearing its 125th birthday.

Fireworks Galore Are Expected At State Democratic Convention

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

The State Democratic Convention in Amarillo Tuesday is likely to set off a political struggle the like of which Texans have never seen. Delegates to the convention may select a Texas Democratic presidential nominee for the 1952 election.

Although the national Democratic candidates are Adlai Stevenson and John Sparkman, there is still a question as to who the Texas candidates will be. Many Democrats wish to have General Dwight D. Eisenhower's name printed on their Texas ballots.

Governor Allan Shivers recently proposed that General Eisenhower's name be printed on the Democratic ballot as a candidate of the Texas Democratic party. He would also retain Stevenson and Sparkman on the ballot as candidates of the national Democratic party.

This plan originated when Stevenson refused to support state ownership of the tidelands. Recent reports reveal that the majority of Texas Democrats support Shivers' plan, the ratio being 10 to 1.

Texas Republicans have already cross-filed the state Democratic candidates on their ballot. General Eisenhower and Senator Nixon are the only two Republicans on the Republican ballot. This move will enable Republicans to pull more votes on general election day, Nov. 3.

If the Republican candidate for President is entered on the Democratic ballot, it will be the first time in Texas history. Such a move would probably mean that a large number of Texans would vote Republican on a Democratic ticket.

This is in line with the old saying, "If you can't lick 'em, then join 'em."

If Eisenhower is placed on the Democratic ballot and receives the majority of Texas votes, it would be the third time Texans voted for candidates outside the Democratic party. The first time was in 1895 when Sam Houston of the Know-Nothing party defeated Hardin R. Runnels for governor. The second was Herbert Hoover's defeat of Al Smith for President in 1928.

If the Democratic party in Texas does enforce Eisenhower, it will mean a near uniform party in Texas. Yet the Republicans could probably field a pretty good Texas team in the future if Eisenhower is elected. A two-party system might be the eventual result.

A two-party system has its advantage. In 1928, when Texas voted Republican, the northern-controlled Democratic party was greatly disturbed. John Nance Garner, a Texan, was nominated as vice presidential candidate to in a bid for Texas votes. As a further attraction to Texas, Sam Rayburn was made Speaker of the House of Representatives.

With the 1928 ballot, Texas received prestige. However, as the years progressed and Texas continued to vote the Democratic ticket, the prestige was lost. The Democratic party was ready to make concessions only to the states where the vote fluctuated from one party to the other.

This year evidence points to an unsteady vote in Texas. Both parties will fight for the Texas vote, and both parties will be likely to offer concessions. If enough Republican creeps into Texas, it might get to the point where Texas could some day produce a President.

If the State Democratic Convention does place both Democratic and Republican candidates on the ballot for the November election, it is almost certain that the two presidential candidates will make Texas theirs this year.

If the Republican candidates are not placed on the ballot then it is still likely that Eisenhower will visit the state to strengthen Republican hopes for the Texas vote. The General probably postponed his recently scheduled tour to Texas to see what would happen at the state convention.

The showdown comes Tuesday at Amarillo when representatives from this and other Texas areas decide which nominees to place on the Democratic ballot. Whichever decision is made, many will support the opposing view, and national politics on the Texas level will take on the aspects of a mad scramble.

Gallup Poll

New Ike-Adlai Poll Shows GOP Edging Ahead As Drive Opens

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 5.—Just prior to the opening of the formal campaign this week, the Eisenhower-Stevenson race continues to be a close-fought battle.

The latest nationwide sampling of the political opinions of Mr. and Mrs. American Voter shows that when the vote of all groups—those who have definitely made up their minds, those who express a "leaning" toward one party, and those who are still undecided are taken into account, Eisenhower emerges with a slight edge.

Interviewers for the Institute questioned men and women in all walks of life on the following question:

"If the presidential election were being held TODAY, which political party would you like to see win—the Republican party or the Democratic party?"

Here is the vote of those who have definitely made up their minds or expressed a "leaning" toward one party:

Republican	51%
Democratic	43%
Undecided	6%

When the past voting record of the 6 per cent undecided in today's survey is examined, it is evident that these persons were overwhelmingly Democratic in 1948.

Obviously, the crucial question is how the still undecided group of 6 per cent will go.

If they behave the same way this year, Stevenson will gain a substantial number of votes from this group. The most reasonable conclusion to draw is that the great majority probably will go to the Democratic side in the end.

If they all went Democratic, the present figures would then be: Republican party 51 per cent, Democratic party 49 per cent.

As compared with the 1948 election vote, Eisenhower is currently running 5 percentage points stronger than Thomas E. Dewey did four years ago in the Middle-Atlantic states as a whole, and approximately 10 points stronger in the Mid-west farm states.

In the East Central section comprising Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan—Gov. Stevenson's home territory—Eisenhower is running about the same as Dewey did four years ago. Reports on other sections will be made by the Institute in the near future.

The present poll figures indicate how the rival candidates stood before the presidential campaign entered its intensive phase with Governor Stevenson's Labor Day speech at Detroit and General Eisenhower's Philadelphia speech.

The Institute is conducting complete new polls at intervals of approximately two weeks until early October, when the frequency will be increased.

At the start of the campaign, Governor Stevenson was the lesser-known candidate. His strength may increase as the tempo of the Democratic campaign is stepped up. The shifts and trends of sentiment will be measured and reported by the Institute.

At present Republican voters appear to be somewhat more confident of a Republican victory than Democratic voters are of a Democratic victory.

When the Institute asked people which side they think will win, Republicans willing to venture a guess voted 7-4-2 that Ike would win. Democrats stood 2-1-1 in predicting a Stevenson victory.

The 1952 election is the ninth national election covered by the Institute since its founding in 1935. The poll has thus far been on the right side seven times, on the wrong side once. The average error on the division of popular votes in the eight elections has been 3.4 percentage points.

Uncle Ray's Corner

Crickets Have Ears On Legs

Often we hear about the "singing" of crickets, and this may give a person the idea that sounds come from the mouths of these insects. The truth is that crickets are silent so far as their mouth goes, even if they do make a singing or chirping noise.

Certain insects which are called crickets are without wings. These include camel crickets, which are closer to katydids than to true crickets.

House crickets and field crickets have wings. The wings are poor, but those of the male are used in making sounds. Each front wing of a male has a "file" which can be scraped against the same part of the other wing.

Male crickets rub their wings together to produce a call for the females. This call has been described as "the cricket love song."

If we study the head of a female cricket, we fail to find anything in the nature of ears. Does this mean that the female never hears the call?

Hardly that! On the front legs of a cricket, male or female, are hearing organs. These are located just below the knees. They serve as ears, even though we may feel that they are out of place.

True house crickets are natives of the Old World, but some have been brought to North America. They are brownish and are the original "crickets on the hearth."

In Europe many persons say that they bring good fortune to a household. During winter, they like to live in nests near fireplaces.

On this side of the Atlantic, black or blackish field crickets sometimes enter homes, and are spoken of as "house crickets."

In parts of southern Europe, as in Italy, crickets are caged so that members of a family can hear their chirping. They also are caged in China and Japan, but the Chinese and Japanese value them for fighting. Two male crickets are matched against each other, and those who win may make heavy wagers on the outcome.

Crickets hop about, very much as do grasshoppers. Most of them have little, if any, power of flight, but some kinds (as the long-winged mole cricket) can fly fairly well.

Mole crickets make long burrows under the ground, after the manner of moles. They destroy the roots of food plants, but they also destroy the wormlike young of harmful insects.

LIL' ABNER

OH SOB!

AM I NOT MEAN TAKE OFF THIS PAPER BAG?—MAM! NOSE IS—MAM! TOO P-PEE! KOOL-YAR!!

TELL 'O' WHAT I'LL DO!!—MAM! I'LL BUST MAM NOSE!!

—THEN, AM I'LL BUST EVERYONE'S NOSE IN DOGRATCH!!— THEN, AM I'LL BUST EVERYONE'S NOSE IN TH' WHOLE WORLD!!

THEN YORE NOSE WON'T BE PEE-KOOL-YAR!!

NO—AM I WOULD'NT WANT OTHERS' SUPPER LIKE THIS. AM I'LL WEAR THIS BAG UNTIL AH BEESS—

BLONDE

MY GOODNESS—IT SAYS HERE THAT THE PRESIDENT SHOOK HANDS WITH 2500 PEOPLE AT A RECEPTION YESTERDAY.

—HE ALSO SIGNED 350 DOCUMENTS AND HAD SIX CONFERENCES WITH CABINET MEMBERS AND FOREIGN AMBASSADORS, AND AT NIGHT HE SPOKE AT AN OFFICIAL DINNER.

DAGWOOD PROMISE ME YOU'LL NEVER RUN FOR PRESIDENT.

ANNIE ROONEY

AN' YOU MEAN THERE'S LOTS A ROOM FOLKS BACK IN THOSE MOUNTAINS THAT DON'T HAVE ANY DRUGSTORES OR DOCTORS OR HOSPITALS TO GO TO WHEN THEY GET SICK?

THAT'S ABOUT IT, ANNIE— BUT WITH MY TRAVELING DISPENSARY I CAN BRING THE WORLD OF MODERN MEDICINE RIGHT TO THEIR CABIN DOORS.

BUT IF THEY'RE KINDA POOR, THEY CAN'T PAY YOU MUCH MONEY.

THAT IS TRUE—EACH ONE PAYS ACCORDING TO HIS MEANS—OR NOT AT ALL IF THEY HAVE NOTHING. IF IT WERE NOT FOR AN ENDOWMENT I COULDN'T CARRY ON THE WORK.

EVEN SO THERE IS NEVER QUITE ENOUGH MONEY, BUT GARRY ON I MUST—THIS IS MY DUTY—MY SOLEMN OBLIGATION—

—GEE, DR. PILGRIM—I THINK YOU'RE SWELL!

SNUFFY SMITH

BOY!! THERE'S A SNAZZY OUTFIT, SNUFFY!! HOW COME WE WEREN'T INVITED TO TH' COSTUME PARTY??

WHAT ON AIRTH YE TALKIN' ABOUT, SID—UH—??

THAT HAIN'T NO COSTUME, COUSIN!!

GRANDMA

BUT, GRANDMA, I KNOW THERE ARE NO FISH IN THIS POND!

AN' THERE'S NO BAIT IN TH' BAIT CAN, EITHER!!

WHY, GRANDMA, YOU DON'T EVEN HAVE A HOOK ON YOUR LINE!!

WELL, IF YOU MUST KNOW, BUSTERS, I CAME FISHIN' 'T' REST!

SCORCHY SMITH

YOUR TALISMAN OF OGAR IS A RUBY...

...BETTER THAN ALL THREE OF US TOGETHER!!

YOU DON'T MEAN IN 6228?—AND YOU CAN'T MEAN IN MILLIE...?

IN 6228, YES! IN VALUE, IT SYNCHRONIZES THE ACHIEVEMENTS AND AMBITIONS OF ALL—ASTAR PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE!

OAKY DOAKS

GEE! WE WERE SNATCHED FROM THE JAWS OF DEATH!

MURDOCK! I TOLD YOU NOT TO BRING HER BACK INTO THE MIDDLE AGES!

BUT, PRINCESS POMONA!

THANKS FOR THE TRIP INTO THE PREHISTORIC PAST, IT WAS VERY INTERESTING!

I'M GLAD YE AIN'T MAD, MISS MAM!! I SENT YE THERE BY MISTAKE.

I HOPE YOU'RE READY TO BE SENT BACK INTO THE FUTURE!

OF COURSE I'M READY IF OAKY IS SENT TOO!
