Possibility Of A War Lessened

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley thinks the chance of Russia making war by 1954 is lessened but that the possibility "is so great we can't afford to slow down" the defense buildup, as Britain is doing.

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said so in talking with reporters today about his recent inspection trip to Europe. He presumably gave a similar although more detailed account to President Truman.

In answer to newsmen's questions, he also expressed these other thoughts:

1. Although there is no idea of telling the secrets of atomic-bomb manufacture, won't the top military leaders of the other NATO countries need to have some idea how many atomic weapons they can count on as part of the Western European defense plan?
2. With the military organization now a going concern of commands and forces in being and emphasis turning more toward overall administration of the international structure, where do the member nations look henceforth for leadership? To the secretary general of NATO's permanent council, a post now held by Lord Ismay, of England? Or should the military commander, Gen. Matthew Ridgway, be continued for a time as the general figure who makes decisions and does negotiating?
3. There is no split among military leaders over strategy for the defense of Western Europe against a Russian attack. "The people over here are studying two or three or maybe more methods" for stopping a Russian strike into the free areas of Europe.

When reporters asked the general if he thought the possibility of war with Russia was less than a year ago, he thought for a moment and then replied slowly:

"Yes, I think so.

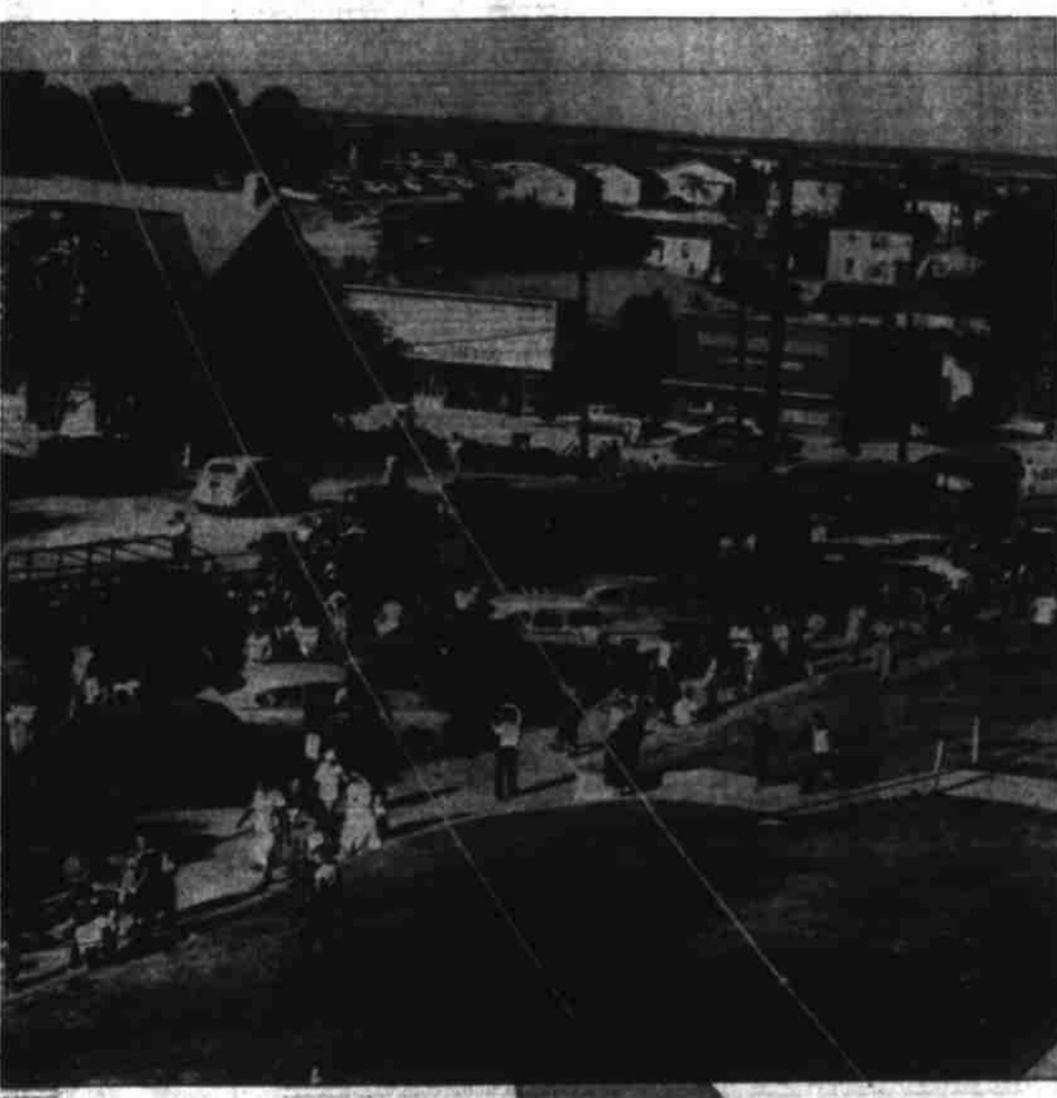

"We've increased our security forces (the NATO forces in Europe) we've gained more in the atomic field than Russia."

"Frankly, I was worried in 1946 when we found (Russia) was working on an atomic bomb."

Then, referring to the former capability of Russia to make a lightning strike by suddenly converting a seeming routine troop maneuver in Eastern Germany into an actual, sudden offensive against the West, Bradley said:

"Two or three years ago we were afraid the Russians would just forget to tell their guys to stop" (when they got to the West German border).

But now, with an expanded, organized defensive force facing them, the Russians no longer have adequate to launch and sustain an offensive. They must bring up additional forces and equipment. And this would be a tip-off that an attack was being organized.

Kids By The Hundreds

Something over 700 youngsters disperse from buses and trucks which had transported them to and from Webb AFB on a special "National Kids' Day" tour Saturday. The youngsters, many of whom were accompanied by parents, participated in a parade, a motion picture at the Ritz and the finished up with a baseball game following the AFB tour. Over 1,200 youngsters participated in one or more of the activities, which had been arranged by the Big Spring Kiwanis Club.

Truce Talkers Meeting Again At Panmunjom

MUNSAN, Sunday, Sept. 28 (AP)—Allied and Communist truce negotiators resumed their talks today at the end of their eighth straight weekly recess but there was no indication the long deadlock on prisoner exchange was any closer to solution.

Delegates were scheduled to meet in Panmunjom at 11 a.m. (8 p.m. Saturday, EST).

Having a change of attitude on the top governmental level, it appeared that military negotiators had progressed about as far as they could go.

The Reds insist that all prisoners be returned home.

The United Nations Command has emphasized that no prisoner will be forced to return to Red rule.

The U. N. command has reported more than 700 prisoners were killed by other Red POWs inside the camps. It also has reported several suicides lately, largely at the Cheju Island stockade for Chinese prisoners.

Ike Confident He Is On Right

By JACK BELL

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower is reportedly convinced he rang the political bell on a 12-state campaign tour into the Midwest and South by pounding on the issue of "a change in Washington."

Ready for a quick dip into Dixie to speak at Charleston, S. C., Tuesday and then a long train trip to the West, the Republican nominee was pictured by aides as confident.

Many of his aides secretly confess they don't let a cut on the supervising 1,000 persons of Gov. Barkley limps at party in Stevenson.

Stevenson said the appointees "joined the state services without any promise or expectation of extra compensation, and when I gave the gifts to them there was no indication that such gifts would be repeated."

"In some cases," he added, "they have rejected offers in private employment of more than double their present compensation."

"Pending provision of more adequate salaries by the legislature," Stevenson said, "I investigated the possibility of making gifts to citizens to mitigate financial hardships."

"When other plans were found impracticable, I adopted the practice of making gifts, usually around Christmas time, to a small number of key executives who were making sacrifices to stay in the state government."

Stevenson's list showed the largest single gift went to William H. Flanagan, his press secretary and the superintendent of the State Reports department, who received eight payments totaling $7,000.

The regular state salaries of Flanagan and the other appointive officials who got gifts were not reported in the Stevenson statement.

Stevenson said $18,744.96 was left over out of his campaign fund after he was elected governor. This balance, he said, was turned over to him by the Stevenson-for-Governor Committee. "For such purposes connected with the office of the governor as Mr. Stevenson shall determine."

In promising income tax disclosures from himself and Sparkman, Stevenson said:

"I have often thought that every candidate for high public office should, as a matter of regular course, make a full disclosure of his personal financial condition over a period of years. It would be much better if machinery were available so that such disclosure could be made by a bipartisan body which could guarantee the public the integrity of the candidate without violating his right of privacy."

Largest of the contributions listed in the 1948 campaign fund was $7,100 from Marshall Field Jr., a top executive of the Chicago Sun-Times. They ranged down to $1.

Stevenson also released a smaller list of $2,900 in contributions received "from certain Chicago businessmen" after his election as governor.

Largest of those donations was $2,000 from Kenneth F. Burgess, who was not otherwise identified.

Among well-known names on the 1948 campaign donor list were: William Benton, Encyclopedia Britannica, $100. (Sen. William Benton (D-Conn.) has been associated with the Britannica.) Philip K. Wrigley, 419 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, owner of the Chicago Cubs baseball team, $1,000. Bennett Cerf, 457 Madison Ave., New York, $10. Mrs. Frank Knox, Coral Gables.

Nation Urged To Back '52 Chest Drive

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—President Truman tonight called on all Americans to support the 1952 Red Feather campaign because "this annual drive is one of the finest and most important things that ever happened in America."

"When we open our hearts and our pocketbooks to meet the needs of others, we are at our best," the President said in a talk prepared for broadcast nationally over TV and radio.

Truman made the appeal before he left Washington on a nationwide whistle-stop campaign tour.

The President's speech marked the kick-off of the annual Red Feather campaign for Community Chests in 1,600 cities. A total of 250 million dollars is being sought in the various local campaigns.

Nobody in the Eisenhower camp can explain this Sinatra appeal. "But you can bet you'll see it in the papers," said Wendell L. Williams, one of the same sort of speech. He's going today. And even if he didn't win, Williams got more votes than any other Republican has been able to rack up.

The Eisenhower crowds — and they have been some big ones — must mean something, but nobody knows just what.

One version is that Eisenhower is a national hero everyone wants to see. The general's backers admit that they aren't sure whether the crowds come merely out of curiosity. Of course, they would rather admit it if they turn out to represent a "winning" candidate. Eisenhower calls it "a crowd."

When ever air force, the citizens are and to get a ride by or sit to hear him speak appear to be more interested in the man than what he is saying. They are figuratively, if not literally, almost open-mouthed as they look.

When ordinary Americans will stand, held back by police, for two hours in a hotel lobby as they were in Baltimore, merely to get a glimpse of a man, then he must have something.

Approximately $1,000 Still Needed For Yuletide Fund

Approximately $1,000 still is needed for the Chamber of Commerce Christmas fund, Loyd Woolen, projects manager for the chamber, said Saturday following a tabulation of subscriptions.

The fund of $3,000 is being raised by the Chamber's Merchants Committee to finance street decorations, parades and other activities in connection with observance of the Yuletide season. Santa Claus' first visit to the city, to coincide with the annual parade, will mark opening of the Christmas season Dec. 2.

Latest subscribers to the fund include Quick Lunch, $5; Courtney Barber Shop, $3; J. B. Pickle, $2.50; National Life Insurance Company, $5; Don Bohannon Distributing Company, $10; Pear Beer Distributing Company, $15; A. K. Lobkowsky & Son, $25; Adair Music Company, $10; Toby's Drive-In Grocery, $5; Mike Moore, $1; Leonard Pharmacy, $5; C. W. Parks Golf Service, $5; Coffee and Gilliland, $5; Crawford Cleaners, $10; Reeder Insurance Agency, $10; Creighton Tire Company, $10; Easley's Barber Shop, $5; Courtesy Service Station, $5; McDonald Motor Company, $10; Men's Store, $10; Stanley Hardware, $15; Foy Dunlap Corden Station, $5; and Homer's Grocery, $5.

Others are Safeway, $20; D&H Electric, $5; Morales Grill, $5; Cecil Thixton, $5; Louisiana Fish and Oyster Market, $10; Big Spring Motor Company, $25; Westward Motel, $10; Big Spring Plumbing Company, $5; Eason Brothers Garage, $5; Ranch Inn Courts, $5; Big Spring Iron and Metal Company, $5; Dr. Pepper Bottling Company, $5; Shamrock Liquor Store, $5; Phillips 66 Cafe, $5; McDaniel Variety Store, $5; Mack Tate $5; Cactus Grill, $5; Hill & Plumlee, $10; Frank Rhodes, $5; O'Dell's Barbecue Stand, $5; Trailer Camp Grocery, $2; Al's Cafe, $5; Tom's Liquor Store, $1; Phillips 66 Service Station, $5; Heffington Auto Parts, $1; Branch Inn Cafe, $5; and Taylor Electric, $15.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Drouth-weary people would agree that rain—at least two inches of it—was the big news last week. Hard rains Monday morning poured out 4 1/2 or more inches on northeast Howard. Big Spring was near the western edge of the heavier rain belt but the fall here amounted to 2 1/2 to 3 inches. Most of the rain fell ideally for penetration. By the end of the week the faint tinge of green was beginning to show on pastures.

Typical of how many feel about this dent in the prolonged drouth is Jewel Tittle. When friends pointed out weeds were popping up where her lawn should have been, she didn't care. "I just love to look at something green," she said.

Two lakes in the area got some benefit. Around 500 surface acres were inundated at the CRMWD dam in southwest Scurry. The

Stevenson Gives Fund List; Money Came From His '48 Campaign Chest

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 27 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson announced tonight his "gifts" to eight top Illinois appointive officials out of $18,150 left over from his 1948 political campaign fund.

And the Democratic presidential nominee said his financial showdown with the Republicans will go further—he will make public his income tax returns for the last 10 years after he returns to Springfield, Ill., tomorrow.

Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama, his vice presidential running mate, has promised to do the same thing, Stevenson said.

Stevenson said there was no fund specially raised to "mitigate financial hardships" of his key state officials. And he said the gifts "did not come from a fund specially created for the purpose."

The money came from a balance left over from his 1948 campaign for governor, he said. Giving details on this, he released a list of 1,000 persons who contributed to the original campaign fund—which originally totaled $172,840.10.

Only four days ago, Sen. Richard M. Nixon, Republican nominee for vice president, gave a public accounting of an $18,000 political fund of his own and demanded that Stevenson do the same thing. There had been some demands for Nixon's withdrawal before he made his televised explanation of the expense fund set up for him by California supporters.

Stevenson said the number of key executives who were making sacrifices to stay in the state government.

Yank Raiders Withdraw After Battling Reds

By GEORGE A. McARTHUR

SEOUL, Korea, Sunday, Sept. 28 (AP)—Aggressive U. S. Second Division raiders clashed hand-to-hand with Chinese Communists before dawn today on a Red-held western hill before withdrawing.

The small but bitter two-hour action in the Old Baldy sector, west of Chorwon, coincided with another fight near Kelly Hill, seven miles south of Chorwon, where the Reds pushed a seven-hour night attack on an Allied position. The Reds seized Kelly Hill last week and have fought off all Allied attempts to regain it.

The U. S. Eighth Army said U.S. Third Division troops stood their ground and beat off the Chinese assault in heavy fighting.

In the two actions, the Reds were estimated to have lost at least 100 dead and 100 U. S. casualties were not announced.

A third hill fight started northeast of the Punch Bowl on the Eastern Front, an Army spokesman said. Allied forces were beat back the last of three brief Red stabs by daybreak. The Punch Bowl sector has been the scene of numerous Red probes in recent days.

Elsewhere along the battlefield, only light patrol and probing were reported.

Russia Turns Down West Bid On Austria Pact

LONDON, Sunday, Sept. 28 (AP)—Russia has rejected the latest Western bid for a Big Four meeting to draw up a treaty to restore independence to occupied Austria, Moscow radio announced early today.

The U. S., Britain and France submitted to Russia Sept. 5 proposals for an Austrian independence treaty which they said met previous Soviet objections to the long-delayed pact.

The three Western Powers asked for four-power talks in London beginning Monday to draft the treaty.

To meet Russian objections, the Western Allies said they would agree reluctantly to limit Austria's future armed forces. They said they would be willing to demand that an independent Austria guarantee free elections, basic freedoms and anti-Nazi measures.

Sam Rayburn To Talk Here On Oct. 11th

"Sam Rayburn, 'Mr. Democrat' of Texas, will make a major political address here Oct. 11, the Howard County Stevenson-Sparkman club announced Saturday.

The speaker of the House of Representatives, who is generally regarded as one of the most powerful men in Washington, has confirmed the date here as one of a series of speaking engagements he will make in behalf of the Democratic nominees for President and vice-president.

Frank Hardesty, temporary chairman of the local Stevenson-Sparkman club, said that special invitations would go out immediately to all party leaders in this area.

Rayburn, who represents the Fourth District of Texas in Congress, was permanent chairman of the National Democratic Convention, at which Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Sen. John Sparkman were nominated as president and vice-president, respectively.

Since the convention, Rayburn has reiterated his support of the party nominees and has vowed he will stump his home state in their behalf before the general election.

Rayburn's address here will be in the Municipal auditorium. He will come to Big Spring following an Oct. 10 address in Brownwood.

Adlai Wins

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 17 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson ripped into Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on foreign policy tonight and accused the Republican of laying down a barrage of "ugly, twisted demagogic distortion."

Addressing a capacity crowd of 2,400 persons in the Memorial Auditorium, the Democratic presidential nominee declared there is a danger to the opposition party, one that would result in a foreign policy weakly leading to a world war.

Chorus loudly in audience Stevenson cut loose with perhaps his sharpest attack on the Eisenhower campaign.

The Illinois governor said the general, the GOP candidate for the White House, has been trying to make a "getting issue of our ordeal" in the "cold war."

Stevenson was introduced by Vice President Alben W. Barkley, who told the crowd that if the Democrats can present their "unmatched record" to the public as "the only real way to keep our country safe, we will win in November."

"Four it on," someone in the audience yelled as the 74-year-old "Veep" lashed at the Republicans.

"I can pour it on, but my pitcher is running out," Barkley quipped. "I can pour it on, but my pitcher is running out."

Then Stevenson wanted the speaker's team, he had a grand ovation that lasted half a minute.

He received another big round of applause when he said he would not be criticizing Eisenhower if the general had not "pointed the accusing finger."

"Better we refrain from competing in denouncing each other in a scramble for votes, admit our common mistakes—and get on with our business," the governor added.

"That brought a loud 'give 'em hell' from a man in the crowd.

The governor was cheered, too, when he said Eisenhower had reversed the advice of Theodore Roosevelt to "speak softly and carry a big stick."

The new GOP advise, Stevenson added, is to "talk tough and carry a twig."

Peace, said the Democratic nominee, is far more important than who wins the election. And that brought applause.

Stevenson said the Democratic party has been "consistently the

Mrs. Margaret House Dies Saturday; Funeral Pending

A four-year illness Saturday claimed the life of Mrs. Margaret Hoppel House, 43, a native and life-long resident of Big Spring.

Death came at noon Saturday in a local hospital.

Mrs. House was born at the family home, 900 Johnson street, where her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Hoppel still reside.

In addition to her parents she is survived by a son, Frank Edward House, now serving in the Air Force and stationed at Biggs AFB, El Paso; two sisters, Mrs. A. L. de Graffenreid of Big Spring and Mrs. Mary Atkins of Lake Charles, La.

Other relatives include three sons, Mrs. Mildred Jones and Mrs. Maggie Cox, both of Big Spring; and Mrs. Virgie Ruhlén of Pecos; two uncles, John E. Massey of Fredericksburg, and Dr. J. H. Hoppel of Kerrville.

Funeral arrangements will be made at the Eberly Funeral Home. Services probably will be held Monday afternoon, with the Rev. Clyde Nichols, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating.

Burial will be in the Masonic section of the city cemetery beside the grave of Mrs. House's husband, the late Sidney House.

Palbearers will be Don Berk, Warren Holley, Walton Morrison, Elbert Long, Dr. W. B. Hardy, W. E. Carrizosa, Marion Edwards and Brown Hale.

"And That Ain't Hay!"

That is the opinion of some of the Mitchell County farmers and ranchers who have received shipments of the bales consigned from northern states as drought disaster hay. Will Jones, at the car door, Mitchell County PMA administrative officer, found the hay in this car mouldy and dirty. The prospective buyers, left to right, are Herman Minor, E. R. Venus and Les Minor. "Iowa farmers are baling and shipping their fence rows, posts and all, to Texas," says some of the Mitchell County livestock men.

Poor Quality Hay Is Scored By Buyers At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY — Mitchell County farmers and ranchers had received 11 cars of the government drought disaster emergency hay through Saturday, and three of these had been refused. Some of the turned-down hay, however, is finding buyers at "condemned" prices. Two of the 11 cars were consigned to Loraine, two to Istan and seven to Colorado City. Doule Williams, owner of the Farm and Ranch Store here, who is acting as distributor of the PMA hay, says that both cars of the Istan hay were refused, principally because the hay ordered had been represented to be 75 per cent legumes and 25 per cent grass. Williams said it failed to meet these specifications. "Actually," says Williams, "it ran about 50 per cent legume and 50 per cent corn stalks and other foreign matter." Williams says that the farmers and ranchers are now jokingly remarking that "the Iowa farmers are baling their fence rows, posts and all, and sending them to Texas." Generally speaking hay buyers are disappointed in the quality of the hay they have been getting although the majority of the beef breeders are accepting their hay because the need for feed is so urgent.

COMMIE 'TREATMENT' Political Education Given To Prisoners

By MAC CLOS SAIGON, Indochina (AP) — French soldiers captured by the Vietminh are drenched with Communist propaganda. Some show interest, and some get bored. With officers, the political schooling is optional. Enlisted men have to take it. That is a summary of experiences of three French fighters who recently were released by the rebel Indochinese armies. There were about 4,000 French and colonial prisoners in the hands of the Vietminh. Medical assistance is scarce, but none of the three interviewed by The Associated Press reported serious mistreatment. L. Zavier de Villeneuve, a French regular Army officer, was captured two years ago in the disastrous French retreat from Cao bang and Langson. He spent all his captivity in one camp in North Tonkin near the Chinese border. With him were about 100 other French officers. "It wasn't a classical prison camp, with barbed wire, barracks, and sentries," he said. "We were divided into groups and lodged with local inhabitants. The guard was pretty light because there was little chance of escape through the thick jungled mountains. The mountain people were sympathetic and did what they could to make our situation easier. "Food and medicine were scarce, and we were cold and hungry. We suffered much from malaria and dysentery, but beginning in October 1951, the Vietminh made a serious effort to treat the sickest of us. "We were never asked to work, but each afternoon were given political education. The teacher was a young man, about 30, in uniform but without insignia. He spoke faultless French. "He never tried to intimidate us but tried to convince us." The teacher told them that the Vietminh wanted the French to get out, leave Vietnam independent and thereafter to help keep world peace. "Each of his lectures was followed by a discussion. At first we were skeptical, but later we were convinced of the sincerity of the man. He was always ready to discuss our point of view. We didn't have to go to the lectures. At first we went out of curiosity, then because we were interested." Finally part of the hundred were liberated under no special conditions except that they should not give out military information. Parachutist Cpl. Herve Huet, 30, was a prisoner for five months. He was a regular Army soldier. He and about 30 other parachutists were captured near Hoa Binh last November. Five who tried to get away were punished in a pillory for several hours. All were marched 20 days to a camp. No medical attention was given the wounded. He was put in a camp with 300 men, mostly Negroes and North Africans. Political education began immediately. The men had to sit through a two-hour course daily with lectures on such subjects as "Why the French are making an unjust war against the Vietminh." After a three-month course, 200 of the 300 were told they would be liberated. Before being freed, all the prisoners were made to sign a declaration admitting some war crime or at least to having committed a theft. Soldier Pierre G., (who didn't want his name used), told a story similar to that of Huet. He said the political teaching left him unmoved, and his captors soon discovered this and let him go.

Tech's Directors Mixing Business With Pleasure

HOUSTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Texas Tech's directors, in Houston to mix "business with pleasure," met today for the first time since Dr. E. N. Jones took over as president. Members, with tonight's football game against Rice very much in their minds, brushed through minor business in 40 minutes with Leon Ince, Houston, as acting chairman. Chairman Charles G. Thompson, Colorado City, failed to appear. Dr. Jones, who took over the presidential reins Sept. 1, asked newsmen to leave midway in the session. "I'm still new at this job," he explained. "There are certain things I want to discuss with the board in private." Before going into closed session, board members heard a statement by Marshall Pennington, vice president and comptroller, that the Red Raiders' stadium may not be enlarged from 22,000 to 30,000 seats as planned. He said it was doubtful that necessary approval by the National Production Authority can be obtained. Dr. Jones reported enrollment for the fall term will exceed 5,000, compared with 4,906 last fall.

Surgeons' College Membership Given To Local Doctors

Fellowships in the American College of Surgeons have been conferred on two Big Spring doctors. Among those receiving the F. A. C. S. distinction in 1952 were Dr. Roscoe B. G. Cowper and Dr. Carlo B. Marcum Jr. The American College noted that level of competence among American surgeons was increasing as evidenced by the fact that this year's fellowship class was the largest in history of the organization. New members were inducted in cap-and-gown ceremonies in New York Friday night, climaxing the annual five-day annual convention.

Soviet Appears To Be Seeking Economic Equality With U.S.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN Associated Press Foreign News Analyst With its fifth five-year plan, the Soviet Union gives the impression of digging in for an economic siege, building feverishly for a day of reckoning perhaps still far away. In outlining the measures to be accomplished in the 1953-55 period, the Russian text of the five-year plan uses the words "to insure the country against any accident." It seems a meaningful phrase. The five-year plan, published recently for approval by the All-Union Communist Party congress next week, actually has been under way almost a year and a half. The party congress, meeting Oct. 5, simply will rubber stamp the plan. Its major aims already are known to the non-Soviet world: ambitious goals for heavy industry, coal, steel, cast iron, oil, electric energy and the like. These goals are looked upon as a Soviet effort to reach economic equality with the United States.

The overall impression is one of a unready giant laying in supplies for a waiting game but anxious lest chance, play a major role in shaping history in the next few critical years. This unreadiness is indicated in the fields of transport and communications, public medicine, trained industrial personnel, food production for a war-gearred economy and measures to hold the line against the inflation threatening such a economy. The Communist party is ordered to drag on all forces for the big effort, and the responsibility is all the party's.

The tasks laid down by the five-year plan present great requirements to the party, to Soviet, economic, union and young Communist organizations," says the text, "and oblige them to mobilize the broad masses of toilers for fulfillment and overfulfillment of the new five-year plan, bringing out broad criticisms of shortcomings in the work of our organizations, with the aim of most quickly liquidating these shortcomings." Great stress is laid upon "socialist competition" in industry — the Russian term for the speedup. The speedup is extended to agriculture and even to people in intellectual pursuits. Failure in any branch will not be tolerated. Every day now the Soviet press carries reams of copy concerning "socialist competition" promised by this factory or that, this collective farm or that, all under the spur of the party. This means the party has decided that workers will be required to work more hours for less income. It is likely some sort of device will be arranged by the Kremlin planners later on to make this palatable, possibly a "price reduction." The plan is to be advertised to show "the superiority of the Communist system over the capitalist." This is for home consumption, promising once again the transition "from socialism to communism." But the transition is farther away than ever. There is no sign whatsoever of the promised "withering away of the state." The state gets more powerful daily, but the workers will be told great strides have been made and the speed of transition depends on them. The five-year plan also is to be a "patriotic" undertaking to guard the state against enemies abroad and at home. Fear of a new war is being used to whip the people uncomplainingly into great production efforts. Abroad, the five-year plan will be a keystone in a renewed Soviet trade offensive. In the words of the text, it will "contribute to further securing and developing collaboration of the Soviet Union and countries of People's Democracy (Communist satellites) with all countries wishing to develop trade on the basis of equality and mutual advantage."

parison with the U. S. the Soviet production goes into the heavy industry which produces shovels of war. If the "accident" of which Stalin spoke were to occur, the Soviet Union probably would be a formidable foe, economically. But chances for its ultimate defeat would be great. The USSR does not relish taking such chances.

Wafd Party In Egypt May Go Underground

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 27 (AP)—The powerful Wafdist party which waged the fight for Egyptian independence refused today to submit to government regulations—and thereby scuttled itself as a legal political organization. Ibrahim Farag, former Cabinet minister, in announcing the decision said the party would "continue its activities"—a hint that it might go underground after 33 years of dominant activity. This was the first serious defiance of the strong man Premier, Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib, whose government has given Egypt's political parties 30 days to purge themselves of grafters and corrupters and present a reorganized slate of officers for a clean bill of health from the Interior Department. The Wafdist party was organized in 1919, soon after World War I, to fight for independence and has been in office six times since 1923 when Egypt was established as a sovereign kingdom. with the 1953 goal 45. The U. S. produced about 97 million in 1950. Soviet pig-iron production is estimated at about 20 million tons, against 65 million by the U. S. The 1955 Soviet goal is 35 million. Soviet coal production is estimated at 265 million tons, with a Soviet goal of 375 for 1955. The U. S. 1950 figure is about 560 million. While Soviet figures may be considered suspect, underestimating the potential of the USSR could be a dangerous practice for the West. There is still a great gap, as these figures show, between Soviet and American industrial production. But the Soviet Union is devoting relatively little of its production to consumer industry. Buffel Grass Experiments Seen Successful In Area

By FRANKLIN REYNOLDS
Is the Buffel grass, which is proving to be such a great grass for southern soils, a perennial or an annual?

We will have the answer next spring when we see whether or not it will grow again from this year's roots. In the South Texas region, and even as far north as Dallas, it has come to be regarded as perennial. In this West Texas area, however, it may prove to be only an annual, although it withstood, with but very little damage, the long cold spell of early 1951 in the San Antonio area when the temperature went as low as two degrees with no snow cover and a very dry soil. It has also been established that it survives severe drought and even burning by fire.

It was introduced into this area this year for the first time by the specialists in the Big Spring office of the Soil Conservation Service. One of the first plantings was in a flower bed in front of the office of the Big Spring Daily Herald. Already this bunch has produced an unusually large amount of seed. Much of this has already matured and been gathered and equally as much more is now in the process of maturity. It has been demonstrated in Howard County that this grass reseeds very freely.

The seed is rather light and fluffy and is borne in clusters very plentifully. But it does not mature uniformly, and therefore one harvest of the seed is hardly expected to be successful. However, the seed is easy to harvest by hand and some persons growing the grass for seed, which retails at about $5.00 a pound, have found hand stripping to be the best and most economical manner of harvesting it. It is a naturally clean seed and is very easily pulled from the stem with the fingers.

And nobody in Howard County is more interested in experimenting with this grass than Mr. and Mrs. Wesley C. Carroll, who live on the Gail Highway. Last spring they got a pound of the seed. They now have two large patches of the grass which they are growing for seed and from which they have already gathered a large quantity of seed. One of these patches was grown from the seed and the other by transplanting patches of the grass which they are a height of about 12 inches.

And now for the strangest part of the Carroll story. They still have left most of the original pound of seed with which they started. The transplanted grass "didn't even wilt," Mrs. Carroll comments, and in explaining how they happened to have so much seed left she'll tell you that just a few of the Buffel grass seed will grow a lot of grass.

It is a grass that takes deep hold in light blow sand, and worthless sand can be turned into valuable pasture in a few weeks. The planting rate is usually from one-half to two pounds per acre, and Buffel grass seed has been known to come up with only .30 inch of rainfall.

On the basis of this year's experience with Buffel grass W. S. Goodlett, area conservationist, is satisfied that will be possible to grow two crops a year in Howard

"And We Have Most Of The Seed Left"

Mrs. Wesley Carroll, Gail Highway, is explaining to Grady Lane Jr., Soil Conservation Service technician, that even with this Fourth of July patch of Buffelgrass that she and her husband are raising for seed, they have most of their original one pound of the seed left. Mrs. Carroll says that Buffelgrass can easily be transplanted and that it will not show any symptoms of withering if given a little water.

and surrounding counties, by planting the second crop from seed produced by the first one. With only a reasonable amount of moisture and good warm days the grass will produce good seed heads in about two months, or possibly in even less time. Maturity of the seed comes soon after the full growth of the seed head.

Buffel grass has made surprisingly good growth on low fertility soils and sand, and yet it responds to fertilizer; planting should be done in the spring preferably after frost, but September plantings have resulted in good stands by November, even in droughty conditions. It may be broadcast but recommendations are that it be planted in rows from 36 to 52 inches apart. Row cultivation to control weeds is to be recommended if the weeds are particularly troublesome, but once the grass gets a fair start it will take the weeds, particularly in this area where we have found that Buffel grass from a broadcast planting will choke out even goatsheads. It has an extensive root system and in South Texas reports show that it has placed as much as 40 tons of organic matter into one acre of land from the roots alone in an 18 months growth.

It is a strong bunch grass, imported from the low rainfall area of South Africa. It has tall rather slender stems and branches; is usually bushy, from a tough knobby crown and the roots, as indicated, are both deep and spreading. The leaves are usually numerous, narrow, long and a little rough. Many buds are formed in the crown and these develop into separate stems thus spreading the above-ground part of the plant.

The seeds readily germinate and the plants make rapid growth even when the topsoil is drying out too quickly for other grasses to thrive or even survive. And as we have learned from even our small experimental planting, Buffel grass is no vigorous and competitive that it will choke out less desirable

NATO Air Strip In France Said To Be Defective

By ROBERT C. WILSON
PARIS, Sept. 27 (AP)—Defects in three new runways at French-built NATO airbases in France, to which American taxpayers contributed funds, have prevented their use by U. S. jet planes.

This was learned today from official American sources in Paris who said repairs are underway on two of the runways. These informants said they did not know when the air strips would be ready for the American Air Force jet units assigned to the bases under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's defense plan.

The three defective strips were built with NATO funds into which the United States paid a share. The concrete runways were laid by French contractors, workmen, engineers and supervisors using French materials. It is the usual practice for nations of the country in which NATO defense installations are being built to do the work.

A French Air Ministry official connected with airfield construction for Allied use in France refused to comment on the condition of the runways. The European edition of the New York Herald Tribune said French officials were inclined, however, to regard the faults as something to be expected under the conditions and that they could easily be corrected.

The defective air strips are one of a long line of troubles NATO has had in its air base construction program. First, the French complained that NATO officers were slow in deciding where they wanted airfields. There also was a long controversy over how the costs would be shared.

After sites were selected, the French government had trouble in buying the land from reluctant French farmers for construction and expansion of the bases. Then material and labor shortages plagued French contractors.

When these troubles finally were ironed out, the French contractors rushed the work through during a particularly rainy winter and spring. At the time, however, U. S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, commander in chief of Allied air forces in Central Europe, said he still hoped the air bases would be ready to handle the 4,000-plane NATO air force scheduled to be on hand by the end of 1952. Whether the air base defects will affect the timetable was not commented upon by the American sources.

Truman Democrats Afraid To Face Peace Prospect

MEXIA, Sept. 27 (AP)—The national Democratic leadership is afraid to face the prospect of peace, a leader of the Texas Democrats for Eisenhower said today.

Claud H. Gilmer, Rocksprings, chairman of the organization, also referred to corruption in government in a speech prepared for delivery at the Mexia Farm Festival. He charged the administration coddles Communists, bungled the Korean War and fears peace because its foreign policy is geared to a war economy.

"Our sons, meanwhile," Gilmer added, "are confronted with the probability of being drafted and sent to the wastes of Korea, where they will meet bitter cold, bullets and death. That is the kind of foreign policy the Democratic ad-

Fines For Reckless Driving Lead List

Reckless driving displaced drunkenness as principal cause for fines in Corporation Court during the past week.

There weren't as many fines assessed for reckless driving, but the offense accounted for the greatest amount assessed—$410 as compared to $348 for intoxication.

It was the first time in several months that drunkenness didn't account for the largest volume of fines. However, in addition to the $348 in fines assessed for that offense deposits totalling $175 were forfeited when 11 persons failed to appear in court in answer to drunkenness charges.

Two persons were fined bulk of the $410 assessed for reckless driving. Fines of $200 and $100 were levied as a result of the charge Friday. The motorist fined $200 has given notice of appeal to county court and posted $400 bond.

Other reckless driving fines were for $75 and $35. Eight fines totalling $100 were assessed for speeding. Three for an aggregate of $30 were levied for ignoring a stop sign, and two persons were fined $3 apiece for prohibited left turns.

Riding double on a motorcycle was responsible for a $10 fine and three levies for $15 resulted from charges of creating excessive noise. Parking in a prohibited zone cost a driver $2 and another was fined $25 for driving without license.

Two fines—of $5 and $25—were assessed for gaming. Fines of $1 and $15 were levied against two men as a result of disturbance charges.

Transferred to other authorities were three cases involving driving while intoxicated, two involving robbery, two on charges of carrying and one case of car theft.

U.S. Trying To Oust Rich Track Owner

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 27 (AP)—It must have been another fat man who got into San Francisco that day," said Big Bill Lias today. That was the massive man's answer to a charge by the Immigration and Naturalization Department that he entered the country illegally in 1935 after a trip to Greece.

Warm Days, Cool Nights Over Texas

Brown, curled leaves floated to earth over much of Texas Saturday but their falling wasn't the only way you could tell early autumn was here.

The state is experiencing the seasonal fall reign of warm days and chilly nights. Although a bright sun shining through clear skies later boosted thermometers generally to the 80-degree levels in the afternoon, it got mighty chilly at many places before morning.

Folks out at Salt Flat in West Texas stepped onto a cold floor upon awaking to 45-degree morning air. Mr. Pleasant in Northeast Texas had a pre-dawn low of 46. Other chilly readings included 47 at Muleshoe, 49 at Dalhart and Albany and 51 at Amarillo.

But by afternoon you didn't need the light jackets or sweaters. The highest reported afternoon reading was 93 at Laredo and Alice. Lubbock's 82 was the lowest.

No rain was reported anywhere in the state Saturday and the weatherman forecast the same kind of weather for Sunday.

Fire Destroys Stands At Texarkana High

TEXARKANA, Sept. 27 (AP)—An early morning fire ate through a section of Texarkana, Tex., high school stadium today just a few hours after a major football game. An estimated 2,000 of the stadium's 6,000 seats were destroyed.

Late today police continued an investigation of the blaze. The probe centered around the discovery of a five-gallon oil can and a report that four boys were seen in the stadium after the lights were turned off.

Colorado City lake on Morgan Creek caught six feet. Most of the intense rainfall stayed off the city lakesheds and Moss Creek caught less than a foot and bone-dry Powell Lake around three feet.

Tragedy struck training operations Thursday evening at Webb Air Force Base. Lt. Gordon A. Moody, 30, and a foreign national student whose identity cannot yet be announced, were killed in the crash of their motor-driven trainer south of Garden City.

Capt. John T. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Y. Moore, was revealed as the pilot of a plane that recently flew U.S. newsmen from the new far-North base (Thule) over the North Pole. Our fliers have a habit of getting in on interesting flights. Doug Rayburn, it will be remembered, was pilot on the record-breaking cross country for the Air Force's new hot jet bomber.

Kick off of the general campaign for the Community Chest gets underway Monday. Before the week is out most people should have an opportunity to give—and we hope liberally. Five worthy agencies—including a starter for a servicemen's center—can't operate 12 months on tiny gifts.

Ira Driver is stepping out after nearly 18 years as secretary-treasurer of the Big Spring National Farm Loan Association, which has grown considerably in that span of time. He's going to become a front yard foreman—and enjoy it. His successor is Max Fitzhugh, former Glasscock county agent and well known in the area.

A dozen physicians and dentists took pre-induction physicals Friday at Abilene. Uneasy patients needn't be unduly alarmed. The check is to determine availability and does not necessarily foreshadow a call.

The confessed killer of Francisco Villa, who was beaten fatally on April 29, was given a 35-year sentence last week. Villa was victim of one of the most brutal beatings officers said they had ever seen.

Financial campaigning has not been restricted to the Chest. Merchants have subscribed about $2,000 so far on the pre-Christmas activities. The milk and ice fund closed out right at $700, and political parsons were beginning to pass the hat.

Kids had their day Saturday, thanks to the Kiwanis Club. Several hundred took part in a parade, free movies, a trip to the Air Base and in a pet parade. Since Mama and Papa have their "days," this about makes it unanimous.

The 440-pounder was arrested yesterday on the illegal entry charge. He was freed on $2,000 bail for a hearing in Pittsburgh in two or three weeks.

The government contends Lias was born in Greece and came to this country with his mother in 1909 and was never naturalized. The specific charge, however, relates only to a trip the government says he took to Greece in 1935.

But Big Bill who is 52, told a reporter today he was born in this country and has never been out of it.

Lias' version is that he was born in Wheeling July 14, 1900, the son of Greek parents, George and Antoinette Cokkalis Lias.

A delayed certificate of birth to this effect is on file in the office of County Clerk Raymond J. Falland. The certificate, listed as having been filed Oct. 28, 1946, bears notation that it was accompanied by documents which included an affidavit by Lias' brother, John, a voter registration record, and "school record, Center School, Sept. 1908."

The documents reportedly were forwarded to the Bureau of Vital Statistics in Charleston, which was closed this afternoon.

The certificate on file here, blank in the place provided for a statement by a reviewing official, was sworn to by Lias before Notary Public Mildred B. McGill.

The Internal Revenue Department has a $2,850,000 lien pending against Lias involving back income taxes, interest and penalties. The case now is in the U. S. Tax Court, where further hearings are scheduled in Washington on Oct. 6.

Nixon Greeted At Nashville By Big Crowd

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 27 (AP)—Sen. Richard Nixon was met by a huge crowd today as he carried his Republican campaign for the vice presidency into traditionally Democratic Tennessee.

Police estimated 2,000 persons waited to welcome the California senator when he arrived at the Nashville airport from Tulsa, Okla.

More than 100 automobiles lined the publicized route to the downtown war memorial square where a howling crowd estimated by police Lt. D. Duke at 8,000 heard Nixon in the still air of dusk.

The nominee, who has accused the administration of "a cover-up" on corruption, charged that the Democratic bosses "tossed aside" Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee for the presidential nomination—even though he had led in the first and second ballots at the national convention and received millions of votes in preferred primaries.

"They didn't dare let him be the presidential candidate," the Republican senator said. "He knew too much about them."

Kefauver made his political name as chairman of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee. Nixon's chartered airliner left Nashville shortly afterward for Knoxville, where the California senator ends his current trip tonight. He plans to return to Washington, D. C. shortly after midnight.

The Californian also drew friendly crowds in Oklahoma and Texas in earlier appearances, and these receptions prompted Nixon to predict victory for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, GOP presidential nominee, in November.

Iran Premier Reveals Press Law For Nation

TEHRAN, Iran, Sept. 27 (AP)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh issued the draft of a stiff new law regulating the nation's press today and asked all interested to study it and present their views within 15 days.

The law, which can be enacted by decree under the sweeping powers handed Mossadegh a month ago, outlined a series of offenses for which publishers of newspapers, magazines and books may be punished by jail sentences ranging from two months to five years.

Subject to punishment would be publishers who incite sabotage, arson, looting, murder, mutiny and disorders; those who publish state secrets, anti-Moslem material, insults to the monarchy, and those who commend murders or looters.

All offenses would be considered political rather than criminal and would be subject to trial by jury. In its present form, Mossadegh's press laws call for the creation of a national press council made up of the minister of education, the prosecutor general, members of the law and literature faculties of Tehran University and three prominent writers.

The council would administer the law and issue licenses to newspapers and other publications. The decree would bar all persons under 30 and all government employees from owning or publishing periodicals.

Vets Lead Yankees Over Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27 (AP)—A pair of veterans, Ray Scarborough and Big Johnny Mize, combined talents tonight to help the American League champion New York Yankees brush off the Philadelphia Athletics 3-0 in the next to last game of the season for both teams.

Scarborough limited the A's to five scattered hits, and Mize contributed a homer and single, good for two New York runs.

The Yankees took a 1-0 lead in the third inning as Mickey Mantle slammed a double to score Scarborough who had singled.

In the fourth, Mize clouted the first pitch of the inning over the right field wall to give New York a 2-0 margin.

The final run of the game came in the ninth as Mize singled Andy Carey across.

Cleveland Romps Over Tigers, 11-6

DETROIT, Sept. 27 (AP)—With the championship pressure off, the Cleveland Indians romped to victory over the Detroit Tigers, 11-6, today in the first of a two-game series which will draw the curtain on the league season for the two clubs.

A crowd of 7,875 saw the two teams roll up at total of 33 hits, 19 for the Indians and 14 for the Tigers, off seven pitchers.

Bob Chakales, rec'd full right-hander, was the winning flinger, his first of the season with the Cleveland club.

The Indians crowded 10 of their runs into the first two innings. The contest was marked by home runs off the bats of Joe Tipton, Joe Ginsberg and Walt Dropp.

Wool Growers Seek To Get Import Fee

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—American wool growers, hit by heavy imports, are going before the tariff commission Monday to urge an import fee in addition to the present duty on the fiber.

Although the present tariff on clean wool is 25¢ cents a pound, incoming shipments have been so heavy that the price has dropped below the income the government guarantees domestic growers for their clip.

Rep. Clark Fisher (D-Tex.), legislator from the major wool-producing state, told a reporter he will urge the commission to do something to relieve the situation.

"The present setup just doesn't make sense," Fisher said. "It seems to us that it is foolish to provide a loan program to support the price, and at the same time permit the dumping of foreign wools on the market to drive prices down below the loan level."

The latest Agriculture Department figures, said Fisher, showed the parity price of wool to be 60 cents a pound grease basis, just as shorn and before being secured.

Although the government loan program guarantees growers 90 per cent of parity, or 54 cents per pound, the market price currently is about 52 cents, he said. Parity is a formula intended to bring growers a fair return for their investment and efforts.

Bitterest complaint of American wool growers, Fisher declared, stems from shipments from Argentina and Uruguay.

"We have been hurt particularly by a method Argentina has in subsidizing its exporters of wool tops," he continued. "Their government gives them a higher rate of exchange of pesos for American dollars than granted to other Argentine exporters on goods they sell in the United States."

Wool tops, he explained, is a grade of clean wool which has gone through an initial processing stage and is ready to be made into yarn.

mate Communist victory." Stevenson said "Intelligent and responsible men in both parties," including the late Republican Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, agreed that the Chinese Nationalists failed to reform enough to deserve popular confidence.

5. On "writing off" the Far East: Stevenson defended the Secretary of State Acheson's 1950 definition of America's defense perimeter. Stevenson said: "The general fails to point out that this defense perimeter was a line developed by the military authorities themselves.

"Twice in 1949 Gen. MacArthur, then our top commander in the Pacific, defined our defense perimeter in the terms later used by the secretary of state. It was on the recommendation of our military authorities that Korea and Formosa and mainland areas were not included in a direct military commitment."

Stevenson added to his attack on Eisenhower: "How does he honestly square this campaign-time charge of writing off Korea with his own statement in July, 1950, that 'When our government guaranteed the government of South Korea, there was no recourse but to do what President Truman said and did?'"

Stevenson took up, point by point, Eisenhower's own foreign policy speech in Cincinnati last Monday.

1. On underestimating the Soviet threat: In November, 1945, Stevenson said, Eisenhower told the House Military Affairs Committee, "nothing guides Russian policy so much as a desire for friendship with the United States."

Stevenson said he himself made an economic survey of Italy in 1945, and "I warned that the obvious Russian interest in the Balkans and in the Eastern Mediterranean posed an eventual threat to Italy."

2. On rapid demobilization after World War II: "Although the general warned against too rapid demobilization, he later said in September, 1946, 'Frankly, I don't think demobilization was too fast.' Demobilization did go too far too fast. But it would have gone farther and faster if the Republicans had been in power."

3. On the withdrawal from Korea: "While he was chief of staff of the United States Army, the chiefs of staff advised that South Korea was of little strategic interest to the United States and recommended withdrawal of the United States forces."

4. On "abandoning" China: "He did not talk this way once... he still must know in his heart... nothing except the sending of an American expeditionary force to China could have prevented it."

Lewis Seen As Securing More Memorial Time

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—A boost in the length of "memorial period" mining holidays was reported contained in a final agreement worked out today between John L. Lewis and Northern soft coal operators.

The Northern owners reportedly gave the United Mine Workers, headed by Lewis, the right to call the miners off their jobs for a total of 10 days during the life of the contract.

The union wants the memorial time, it says, so its members may stay away from work in memory of miners killed or hurt in the pits.

Lewis and Harry Moses, chief negotiator for the Northern owners, both declined to confirm or deny they had reached final terms, but other informants said they had done so and initiated the agreement. It is to be signed after being ratified Monday by the union's 200-man policy committee.

The principal terms of the pact were announced a week ago by Lewis and Moses. It provides a $1.90 pay increase bringing the miner's basic daily wage to $12.25, and a 10-cent-a-ton increase in the employer-paid royalty on coal production.

New Buildings At Waco Due To Be Dedicated Today

WACO, Sept. 27 (AP)—Seven new buildings will be dedicated and ground will be broken for two more at what is described as "the biggest day in the history of the Methodist Home" Thursday on the home campus here. Supt. Hubert Johnson said today.

Preliminary to the ceremony, the Texas Methodist Planning Commission will meet Wednesday. A hundred leaders of the church from the five annual conferences will play the Methodist calendar for the coming year.

Ground breaking for two buildings will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. followed by lunch, and at 2 p.m. the seven new residences will be dedicated on the lawn of the home chapel with Bishop Paul Martin, Little Rock, guest speaker. Open house in the new homes will follow.

The two buildings to be begun are an administration building given by J. S. Bridwell and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Perkins, Wichita Falls, and a $400,000 student center made possible by the home's "thousand dollar club" and bequests from the wills of the late Mrs. Rosa B. Lampton, Huntsville, and Mrs. Ida Stephenson, San Antonio.

Donors of residences include Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Deshong and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Deshong, Paris; Mrs. Phil Scharbauer, Midland; and Mrs. E. R. Thomas, Austin; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Youngblood, Waco.

Wife To Fight For Marine's Freedom

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Chiarello said today that she will fight for "complete clearance" of her 25-year-old Marine sergeant husband—reported sentenced to 10 years for leaving weapons behind after he was ordered to abandon his fighting position in Korea.

Mrs. Chiarello said she and her brother-in-law, Louis Chiarello, of Trenton, N. J., would continue to fight for her husband's exoneration. "I don't want clemency," she declared. "I want complete clearance."

Earlier, Louis, brother of Sgt. Ralph Chiarello, claimed the Marine had been sentenced to a dishonorable discharge as well as the

$30,000 Car Has Bathroom, Barbecue Pit

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27 (AP)—A lavishly equipped $30,000 hot rod—it has a bathroom, barbecue pit and washing machine—pulled into town today to complete a 6,000-mile trip across the country and back which its passengers claim was made non-stop.

The owner, Louis Mattar, 41, San Diego garage owner, and two companions, Ernie Barbara of nearby Anaheim and Joe Mitchell of San Diego, left from National City, Calif., a week ago.

"The wheels never stopped turning the whole trip," Mattar told newsmen. He said the car had a motorcycle escort through many towns. A 200-gallon gas tank in a trailer provided fuel for the trip. A water tank, also in the trailer, provided water for the engine, washing machine and shower.

Mattar claims the car, a 1947 Cadillac, is the most lavishly equipped anywhere. It has hot and cold running water, a 110-volt generator for lighting and shaving, a refrigerator, radio telephone, bar, table, shower, drinking fountain, public address system and an air pump for inflating tires while underway. It is serviced while moving by a hydraulically adjusted catwalk.

White Sox Clinch Third In American

CHICAGO, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox today clinched third place in the American League by defeating St. Louis, 8-4.

Minnie Minoso stole three bases to tie Jim Rivera, also of the White Sox, for the league lead at 21.

Joe Dobson went to the rescue of starter Marv Grissom in the eighth when the first three St. Louis batters singled. Jim Dyck clouted Dobson for a double to score two runs but Dobson got the next three hitters out.

Record Is Equaled By Native Dancer

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—Native Dancer took charge in the final eighth of a mile today and won the $107,545 Futurity stakes at Belmont Park going away, equalling the world's record of 1:14 2/5 for the six and one half furlongs.

'Handicapped Week' Set For October 5-11

The week of Oct. 5-11 will be observed as National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week in Texas, Leon M. Kinney, manager of the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission, has announced.

"The physically handicapped people of Texas will get statewide attention in Austin Monday," Kinney said, "then members and guests of the Texas Committee for the Employment of the Physically Handicapped gather to discuss ways and means of rehabilitating and finding employment for them."

Gov. Allan Shivers, one of the featured speakers at the meeting, will award Ernest Tupin, a watch repairman and triple amputee from Comanche, a distinguished service certificate for the latter's contribution to the welfare of some 60 other handicapped people. Tupin was selected as "Handicapped Person of the Year in Texas" by the committee of which Harry Benge Crozier is chairman.

Another feature of the one-day meeting tomorrow, Kinney said, will be an address by William P. McCahill, executive secretary of the President's Committee on National Employment of the Physically Handicapped Week.

Other highlights of the committee meeting, Kinney said, will be three panels concerned with the problems of the handicapped. J. J. Brown, director of the Rehabilitation Division of the Texas Education Agency, will be moderator of one of the panels. Crozier will guide the discussions of another panel, and R. L. Coffman, assistant administrator of the Texas Employment Commission, will be moderator of the third panel. Many leaders in industry and labor, as well as representatives of civic, business and other organizations from all over Texas will attend the all day conference at the Driskill Hotel, Kinney said.

The Big Spring TEC manager also announced that plans are now being made for local observance of the week in Big Spring.

Men In Service

WESTBROOK, (Spl.) — Sgt. Thomas Lee Conway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otha Conway, is home on 30-day furlough after spending 14 months in Alaska with the infantry training department.

After his furlough, Sgt. Conway will report to Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio for discharge. He entered the service Nov. 9, 1950 and served eight months at Camp Carson, Colo., before going to Alaska.

Sgt. Conway attended Sul Ross College at Alpine and Baylor University before entering service.

Jimmy L. Newsom, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Newsom, 1800 Donley, is now at Lackland Air Force Base taking basic training. He enlisted in the Air Force for 4 years recently at the local recruiting station.

Newsom is a graduate of Big Spring High School, where he lettered in football, track and golf. He also attended Howard County Junior College and was employed at the local Texas and Pacific station before enlisting.

Cpl. Arthur Dufane Leonard of Big Spring is serving with the Fifth Infantry Regiment in Korea where he has seen front-line duty practically ever since landing in the war theater last April.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leonard, 1704 Scurry. Cpl. Leonard entered the Army in February, 1951. He received basic training at Camp Rucker, Ala., and attended leadership school at Camp Gordon, Ga., prior to going overseas.

Before entering the service, he was employed by Amerada Drilling Company.

Legion Meeting Set For Thursday Night

An important meeting of the local American Legion post has been scheduled for Thursday night in the Settles hotel, Commander Harold P. Steck has announced.

Legionnaires will hold their business session in Room No. 1, while the auxiliary will meet in another meeting on the Settles mezzanine.

Following the business meetings, the Legion and Auxiliary will join in a social and recreational session on the mezzanine. All members are urged to attend.

Moscow Expanding Its T-V Programs

By EDDY GILMOIE

MOSCOW (UP)—The Soviet Union is in the midst of a large and varied program of television expansion and experimentation.

The biggest station is in Moscow, but others are being installed around the country.

The Moscow station has one channel presently, but plans three by next year. This channel operates six days a week.

On an average the programs begin just before 8 p.m. when a pretty blonde with a sweet voice says, "Greetings, comrades!" She then announces the program for the evening and the next few days.

Then comes the first offering of the evening. It may be a news-reel, a documentary about some part of the Soviet Union, or a group of people from a nearby collective farm who relate their activities.

The big feature follows: This may be a film, full-length feature, or a show televised directly from the Bolshoi Theatre, home of the ballet, or from Moscow's two dramatic theatres.

The shows are televised right from the theater with the audience present.

Between the acts there are newsreels or music. Some of these programs are quite long. A recent one was an opera direct from a theater and running from 8 p. m. to 12:15 a. m.

The long summer evenings here provide plenty of light for televising outside sports events. The most popular of all is football, or soccer.

I am seeing television here under interesting, but different circumstances, for I have an American set converted to the Russian system. Up to now it works well.

The Soviets are very careful what they show children and all Sunday afternoon is devoted to their programs.

The children's day starts with an animated cartoon based on old Russian fairy tales put to music.

The cartoons are followed by documentaries and movies. One of these—shown the day before the Soviet schools opened—was a full-length feature of a girl's first year in school.

Sets are licensed here and registered. I registered mine and paid a fee of 40 rubles (nominally $10) for four months. This money goes toward the upkeep and expansion of the television system.

They're Coming To Town

These two Martin County 4-H Club boys, Chalmers Wren Jr., left, and Ronnie Bingham, right, will be in Big Spring Thursday to show their champion Duroc against the best Howard County has to offer in the area Sears Foundation Show being held in conjunction with the 7th annual Howard County 4-H and FFA Pig Show at the new barns of the Fair Association. Here the boys are receiving their blue ribbons from Martin County Agriculture Agent Ray Hastings at Stanton yesterday morning, where in the county show Wren had the best pen of three pigs raised from a 1951 Sears gilt and Bingham had the best 1952 gilt. Wren also has the Martin County boar that will be shown in competition with the Sears boar from this county.

Martin Youths Ready To Enter Pig Show Set Here Next Week

By FRANKLIN REYNOLDS

STANTON — Chalmers Wren Jr., 4-H Club boy and Duroc breeder who lives three miles south of here, will have the pen of three pigs and the boar that will meet the best Howard County pen of three and boar in the Sears Foundation area pig show at Big Spring Thursday morning.

The area show will be held in conjunction with the annual 4-H Club and FFA pig show and sale at the new Howard County Fair Association barns.

Ronnie Bingham of Stanton, who had the best Sears 1952 Duroc gilt in the Sears Martin County show here Saturday morning will take her to Big Spring to show against the best Howard County Sears gilt which will be selected earlier in the day of the Big Show sale.

Elbert Steele, vocational agriculture teacher in the Stanton High School, judged the Martin County show and placed the gilt entered by Jerry Caughman of Ackery in second place. The white ribbon in the gilt class went to the entry of Freddie Martin of Stanton.

The red ribbon winner at the Stanton show for a pen of three pigs was John Paul Cave of Ackery, who incidentally is the only Martin County 4-H Club boy who is feeding out an Aberdeen-Angus stealer for the coming show, all the other Martin County calves on feed being Herefords.

The top pen of three with which Wren won were first litter pigs raised from a Sears Foundation gilt he won as an achievement award in 1951. This year as an additional achievement award he won the unrelated boar which is presented annually to some 4-H Club member in each county where the Sears program is in operation.

This year also, Chalmers' younger brother, Bobby, a 10-year-old sixth grade student won a gilt as an achievement award and was presented one from the litter raised by Chalmers.

Each year the winners of the previous year's gilts return a first litter gilt to the program to keep it going. Also each year the Sears Foundation ships in an unrelated registered boar to which the gilts are bred. After all gilts have been bred the boar becomes the permanent property of the winning 4-H clubber.

Other Martin County 4-H Club members entering gilts in Saturday's show were Bobby Wren of Stanton; Carl Anderson of Patricia; Jerry Weiborn of Tarzan; Ed Wilson of Stanton, and J. C. Randolph of Ackery.

The Foundation awarded a total of $62.00 in cash prizes at the Stanton show, divided $15.00 to the first place gilt, $10.00 to the second place gilt, $5.00 to the third place gilt; $20.00 to the first place pen of three, and $12.00 to the second place pen of three.

At the area Foundation show in Big Spring Thursday the cash premiums will total $120.00 with prizes of $30.00 going to the first place gilts and boars; $20.00 to the second place gilts and boars, and $15.00 to the first pen of three and $5.00 to the second pen of three.

The cash prizes are awarded with the understanding that the money will be invested in furthering the winner's swine raising program.

Poage Plans To Support Stevenson

WACO, Sept. 27 (UP)—Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage (D-Tex.) said today he would support the Democratic presidential nominee, Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

Poage has been on a visit to the Korean battlefield. He issued a statement from his Waco home saying he had been asked about his position since Stevenson has said he favors federal ownership of submerged lands.

Poage said in his statement he believes that Texas owns her tidelands by virtue of her annexation agreement with the U. S. but she needs friends in Congress. He said he believed he could be most useful to Texas by working with the Democratic Party.

His statement in part: "I believe in the principles of the Democratic Party. I have accepted many honors at the hands of my party. In turn I have always supported its nominees from president to constable. I expect to do so this year.

"I do not know anyone with whom I agree on everything. Particularly I definitely disagree with Mr. Stevenson on his position with regard to the ownership of the submerged lands. Texas owns her tidelands by virtue of a solemn agreement between two sovereign countries. I do not believe that the U. S. can afford to repudiate its international agreement."

Rita And Aly Patch Things Up; Divorce Papers Shelved

By CHARLES LANE

PARIS, Sept. 27 (UP)—The feuding Aly Khans—glamorous actress Rita Hayworth and her debonair Moslem prince—have patched things up and she is shelving her divorce papers, for now at least.

Posing for photographers with her husband at Aly's mansion, Rita said she did not intend to press through immediately the preliminary divorce papers she has filed at Reno, Nevada.

Later, after lunch together in a suburban restaurant, Prince Aly said, "as far as I am concerned we have no intention of breaking up. She has her job that takes her

Heiress Faces Murder Trial

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 27 (UP)—A murder trial opens here Monday for a pretty young Oklahoma heiress who told officers she shot her husband one month after an argument over help from her parents.

The defendant is Mrs. Mary Jean Parsons, 21, slender, blue-eyed blonde, socially prominent in Tulsa, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Fleegeer, live. Fleegeer is a manufacturer of oil field equipment.

Richard O. Parsons, 24, Pleasantville, N. Y., was shot to death as he lay in bed in the couple's apartment in El Paso Feb. 16.

Attorneys for Mrs. Parsons asked for a sanity trial and it was held in El Paso the last of May.

Defense Attorney O. B. Fisher, Paris, Tex., said Mrs. Parsons was insane when she put the .22 target pistol inches from her husband's head and pulled the trigger twice.

But on May 27, a jury declared she was sane then and sane at the time of the sanity trial and must stand trial for murder.

Water Line Breaks Keep People Busy

Several water line breaks kept city water department personnel working overtime Friday night and Saturday.

Breaks occurred in lateral and service lines at Seventh and Runnels, 300 North Gregg, Third and Gregg and at about 1100 Scurry.

Officials said the leaks probably were due to increased pressure in the water distribution system resulting from recent connection with the Colorado River Municipal Water District's transmission line.

McCarthy To Speak At Tyler Oct. 17th

TYLER, Sept. 27 (UP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) will come to Tyler Oct. 17 to speak on "Communism and Corruption in Washington."

B. G. Byars, Tyler businessman, announced today McCarthy had accepted an invitation extended by a non-partisan committee of Tyler and East Texas citizens.

McCarthy gained wide publicity by his charges of Communists in government.

Byars said plans call for McCarthy's address to be carried over a state radio network. The Wisconsin senator's visit will coincide with that of Democrat Adlai Stevenson, who is scheduled to campaign in Dallas Oct. 17.

LOST 33 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Barcostrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off extra fat. It's simple. Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcostrate. Pour into a glass bottle. Add 33 ounces of grapefruit juice. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the results, keep on taking it. You'll lose 33 pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles. Just return the empty bottle for your money back. No starvation diet. The Barcostrate way.

LOST 33 POUNDS

"I cannot praise Barcostrate enough," writes Mrs. Lois Butler, 216 Washington Ave., Waco, Texas. "It has done wonders for me. I don't have that tired, worn-out feeling any more. I weighed 170 pounds when I started to take Barcostrate. I now weigh 137."

period to turn the game into a near rout. North Carolina, fighting to regain some of its former glidron glory, scored in the closing minutes on a 15-yard pass from substitute Quarterback Marshall Newman to Back Ken Keller.

Texas, showing a dazzling mixture of deception and speed, began rolling midway in the first period. The Longhorns stormed from their 28 to North Carolina's eight where Jones smashed over left tackle for the score.

Texas added its last two points on a safety late in the period when North Carolina's Billy Britt fumbled. Keller recovered and Stohlhanske tackled him in the end zone.

Dibrell's, 7-Up Leading Bowlers

Dibrell's and 7-Up captured three victories each to enter a deadlock for first division in the Women's Bowling League.

Bronte's Longhorns Wallop Ira, 39-12

BRONTE — Bronte's Longhorns reeled over the Ira Bulldogs, 39-12 here Friday night.

13-yard loss to Hunnicutt brought the first score.

The Steers broke through to block Boyd Dollar's extra point try from placement.

Early in the second the Eagles took possession on another Big Spring fumble, this time on the Eagle 40-yard line.

Late in the fourth quarter the Eagles got another scoring drive started when they took over on downs on the Big Spring 35 yard line.

The Longhorns managed to add a couple more first downs late in the third quarter, with Brick Johnson, James Hollis and Hayworth juggling the ball.

Billy Martin turned in the longest run of the game for the Steers when he dashed 31 yards up the field in the first quarter.

The Steers, who were making their third bid of the season against non-conference opposition, were out-manuevered, but far from out-classed in the struggle.

After Stockton had plunged through center in the first quarter to put his team ahead, the Wolves came roaring back at half time and held a 12-6 lead at half time.

Stockton, who scored all of the Cubs' points, resumed command in the second half. He circled end for one touchdown and galloped 75 yards on a punt return for the clincher.

The Gobblers had the high series with 2,285, while Wing Headquarters had the high single game, 821.

Maj. W. R. Kerr of the Gobblers turned in a 474 for the high individual series. R. D. Caston of Supply had a 190 for the high individual game.

The Texans are in the National Conference but the game with the Giants counts in the championship standings.

A look at the Giants' roster might indicate that the club was not aptly named—it has almost as many Texans as the Texans' roster. Among them are a couple of Southern Methodist immortals, the great Kyle Rote and that passin' man of Southwest Conference history, Freddie Benner.

A crowd of 25,000 to 35,000 is expected.

Texans Win Battle Of Aggies By 14-7

DALLAS, Sept. 27 (AP)—Texas A & M ground out a grudging 14-7 victory tonight over rough, tough Oklahoma A&M, scoring the winning touchdown with less than four minutes to go.

The Texans cashed in on a pass interception to drive 53 weary, battering yards for their victory as a spruce but enthusiastic crowd of 18,000 roared in the Cotton Bowl.

The Cadets had virtually camped in Oklahoma Aggie territory the entire last half but couldn't puncture the Cowpoke defense until that break came as the game was nearing its end.

Both teams scored in the first period. The Texas Aggies took the opening kickoff and roared to their touchdown. Don Ellis ran the kickoff back 35 yards to the Oklahoma Aggie 46 and with Ellis, Ray Graves, Ray Haas and Connie Magourik, alternating at carrying the ball, slammed the 54 yards easily enough.

Magourik scored the touchdown with a 13-yard blast through center. It came on a second try. Ellis had circled end from the score from the six but the Texas Aggies were penalized for offside. Then Magourik made his lunge. Darrow Hopper converted.

Oklahoma A&M came right back to take the kickoff and roll 73 yards to its touchdown. A pass interference penalty helped the Oklahoma Aggie cause along. The

Bruins Hand Frogs 2nd Shutout, 14-0

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27 (AP)—The UCLA Bruins, displaying one short burst of offense in the third quarter and an alert ball-snatching defense by Lineman Terry DeBay, handed Texas Christian University its second straight shutout in a row today.

The score was 14-0 for the Pacific Coast Conference team in the rubber game of its series with the Horned Frog dating back to 1938. TCU bowed 13-0 to Kansas last week.

Not since 1947 have the passing Texans from Fort Worth been blanked twice in a single season. The game, played before 34,158 fans under cool and cloudy skies, showed the coast team with a better all-around running and passing attack against TCU's offense, which was effective only in the air.

Midway in the third period the Bruins broke up a scoreless battle. Safety man Pete Dalley ran a punt back 18 yards to the Frogs' 38.

Tailback Paul Cameron took the Bruins to the 3-yard line in six plays, on a pass for 13 yards to End Ernie Stockert. From the 3 yard line, Dalley booted the extra point, his first of two for the day.

Late in the third period came the unusual feat of a defensive guard stealing the honors. Terry DeBay, who had been a standout throttling the Frogs' running game, almost intercepted one of Ray McKown's many passes. He barely missed.

On the next play, McKown faded back to pitch from the 23-yard line, stumbled and threw while falling. DeBay deflected the ball and caught it when it came down and ran to the two yard line. On the fourth play, little Ted Narleski, Cameron's alternate, shot through for the second touchdown.

Coach Red Sanders' Bruin defense was too much for the TCU running game, and in the late stages the visitors' passes began to backfire.

The Kansas whitewash of TCU ended a 43-game string in which the Frogs had never failed to score.

Spartans Boom To 27-13 Win

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 27 (AP)—Michigan State's under-ramping Spartans, stunned by under-rated Michigan, turned loose its eight free-wheeling backs and boomed from behind to a 27-13 victory before a sell-out crowd of 97,239 fans today.

But Michigan State, top ranked in the Associated Press pre-season poll, stepped to its 16th straight victory with the help of only a pass interception and a fumble that set up Spartan scores, and a penalty that crushed a Michigan drive.

The fans were reeling in their seats from surprise when Michigan, a two-touchdown underdog, whizzed to a 13-0 lead in the opening minutes of the first quarter.

But 23 seconds after Michigan scored touchdown No. 2, Don McAuliffe streaked around right end 70 yards for a touchdown. Four minutes later Michigan State tied it at 13-all in the second period on Leroy Bolden's three-yard plunge. Billy Wells and Bolden accounted for the third and fourth Michigan State touchdowns.

Shorthorns Are Nudged, 19-13

SWEETWATER — The Big Spring B team Shorthorns make a spirited bid for their first victory of the season here Saturday before bowing to the Sweetwater B team, 19-13.

The Shorthorns, showing much improvement since their first outing two weeks ago, scored in the first quarter on a 30-yard pass from Tommy McAdams to Gene Odell.

The other Shorthorn score came in the third when McAdams plunged over from the one-yard line. Coy Berry went eight yards for Sweetwater's first touchdown, which came in the first quarter. In the second period Gerald Patty scored on a 15-yard run for Sweetwater.

The clincher came in the third when Young took a pass from Patty and went 18 yards for the score. Each team made six first downs, and the Shorthorns exhibited a promising pass attack, completing 14 of 21 attempts. Two passes late in the game almost gave the Big Spring team a chance for a tie before the ball rolled incomplete.

Rawls Captures Lead In Tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 27 (AP)—Betty Rawls of Austin, Texas, the leading money winner among the women golfers, shot a brilliant three under par 34-35-39 today to take the lead in the Betty Jameson Open Golf Tournament with a 36-hole total of 141.

Miss Rawls' par busting effort vaulted her one stroke in front of Patty Berg, B. Andrews, G. and Louise Suggs, Carolynn G. and Miss Berg shot her second straight 71, 67-64, for a 142 aggregate, while Miss Suggs, the first round leader was adding a 36-37-73 of her opening round 69.

Cardinals Rumble By Divide, 39-6

HERMLEIGH — The Hermleigh Cardinals struck for three touchdowns in the first quarter and then went on to defeat the Divide Trojans, 39-6 in a District 5-B football game here Friday night.

Dickie Wall, Joe Graves and Jimmy Cooper counted in the first quarter for the Cardinals. Hermleigh used reserves liberally thereafter.

Houston Cougars Nip Razorbacks By 17-7

By CARL BELL. FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 27 (AP)—Houston University's sharply honed Cougars this afternoon registered their first football victory over a Southwest Conference team—a rightly deserved 17-7 upset of the Arkansas Razorbacks.

The Cougars came to this Ozark mountain town ready both physically and mentally. They outcharged and outsmarted sluggish Arkansas all the way.

A shoulder injury put all-Southwest Conference Quarterback Lamar McLean on the sidelines in the first four minutes, and Arkansas never was able to gain consistency. The Razorbacks got their lone touchdown on a lightning 61-yard pass from Bob St. Pierre, the left handed sophomore who substituted for McLean, to Fullback Lewis Carpenter.

S. M. Meeks, a slippery 160-pound sophomore, led a crew of knifing Cougar backs who ripped the Arkansas line for consistent gains. He carried 18 times for 82 yards and one touchdown.

Meeks had plenty of help in the rushing department and quarterback Bobby Clatterbacks' passes were true in the clutch.

Houston won the coin toss and, possibly pointing for the break it got, chose to kick-off. On the first scrimmage play, Jack Chambers—a bruising center whose blocking was vital to the Cougar offense—grabbed an Arkansas fumble on the Parker 24. The visitors drove to the 8, from where Verle Cray kicked a field goal.

After the Razorbacks took their brief lead on the long second quarter pass play, Houston wrapped up the win quickly in the third. Vic Hampel, a 6 foot 5 end, made a great leaping catch of Clatterback's 35-yard toss on the Arkansas 4. Meeks shot through right tackle for a touchdown.

As though to prove their conquest was no fluke, the Cougars marched 60 yards for an unneeded tally in the final period. A 23-yard Clatterback-to-Hampel aerial was the big play. Tom Bailes powered the final eight yards in two stabs at the middle.

Houston 3 0 7 7-17 Arkansas 0 7 0 0-7 Houston scoring: touchdowns, Meeks, Bailes; conversions, Houston 2; field goal, Cray. Arkansas scoring: touchdown, Carpenter; conversion, Maza.

Brooklyn's Black third baseman Ed Matthews helmed three home runs today as the Boston Braves spoiled Joe Black's World Series triumph by thrashing the National League's pennant-winning Brooklyn Dodgers, 11-5. Matthews struck out in the first, homered in the third, sixth and eighth innings and grounded out in the ninth.

Matthews is the first rookie in the history of the league to sock three home runs in one game. Only other players to hit three homers in one game this season are Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs and Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians.

Black was solved for five runs and as many hits in the first five innings. He was jolted for four in the third on two-run homers by Jack Dittmer and Matthews. Ben Wade was tagged for Boston's remaining six tallies in four innings.

Virgil Jester went all the way for the Braves scattering eight hits including Duke Snider's 21st home run.

Rice Derails Tech Raiders In 34-7 Rout

HOUSTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Penalties, passing and Pounding Koss Johnson tonight gave Rice a lopsided, 34-7 victory over Texas Tech.

The penalties seemingly came on every other play and slowed action to a crawl, but when the ball was moving it was Rice doing the rolling to two touchdowns in the first and second quarters and one in the third.

A vicious, burly Rice line doomed defense for the West Texans and Johnson batted it even further, loosening it for lightning darts by Billy Ed Daniels and Dickie Bob Haddock.

Directing the carving was Dan Drake, passing when he wasn't calling Johnson in the middle or Daniels on the outside.

The only really sustained drive Tech put on came late in the fourth period, when, mostly against third and fourth stringers, it moved 86 yards in 12 plays with Jerry Johnson going the final one and Jack Kirkpatrick adding the extra point.

But this Tech drive was refreshing in that what remained of a crowd of 37,000, it came after five Rice tallies, four extra points by LeRoy Fenstermaker and two Owl touchdowns that were rubbed out by penalties, one a 12-yard run by Horton Neersta.

Rick Spinks' 52-yard run and the bullish short plunges of Jim Turner set up the distance in the Red Raider march.

A total of 256 yards was called in penalties, 96 against Rice and 160 against Texas Tech. Half again as many penalties were declined. Johnson, who packs only 178 pounds on his six foot frame, capped a brilliant performance with a 77-yard run on the first play of the third period.

Half A Dozen Basin Tests Are Staked

Half a dozen well tests, spotted widely over the area, were announced at the end of the week. Recipients of the locations included Runnels, Tom Green, Upton, Sutton, Crockett and Nolan.

Payne-Johnson, et al of Taylor No. 1 Jesse Little will be 1,770 from the south and 690 from the most easterly east line of section 25-20, T&P, in eastern Nolan County. This puts it 4 1/2 miles southeast of Eskita. Projected depth is 5,200.

In northern Tom Green the Hancock Oil and Gas, Ltd. of Dallas No. 1 W. F. Williams, 660 from the southeast and southwest lines of the north 17 1/2-acre tract of block 22-B Carl Kelleg survey, abstract 189. It is one mile southwest of Carlsbad and is to go to 4,300.

Thomas D. Humphrey, Dallas, No. 1 Roy Roper, 2,206 from the north and 1,153 from the east lines section 7, H&GN, will be a Runnels County wildcat. It is half a mile southwest of Norton and is contracted for 5,300.

The Upton County Wildcat is Cities Service No. 1-A-R University, 660 from the north and east lines section 3-58. University survey, three miles northeast of Ranvick. The rotary test will go to 12,000 in Ellenburger.

Hewghey Drilling of Midland will sink its No. 1 Arthur Seward in Sutton county, 25 miles southeast of Sonora. Contract depth is 5,500 feet to test the Ellenburger and the exact location is center of the Northeast quarter of the northwest quarter section 60-7, TW&NW.

Nine miles northeast of Sheffield in Crockett County, Cities Service, et al No. 1-B Hobbs, 2,098 from the north and 665 from the west lines of section 7-GC&SF, will be a 7,500-foot rotary venture.

Baker To Address Texas Oil Parley

DALLAS, Sept. 27—Hines H. Baker, president, Humble Oil & Refining Company, Houston, has been named as one of the panel of speakers scheduled for the 33rd annual meeting of Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association at Fort Worth on Oct. 14-15.

Baker's address, "Statesmanship in Industry," will be delivered on the second morning of the meeting, Charles E. Simons, association executive vice president, announced.

"This is the first time we have had the opportunity of having Mr. Baker address our annual Texas meeting, though he has long been a nationally recognized leader in petroleum industry circles," Simons said.

Head of the state's largest petroleum company since 1948, Baker is a native of Goldthwaite where he began life on a farm. A Phi Beta Kappa at the University of Texas, he was graduated with a law degree in 1917, joining the law department of the Humble Company two years later.

Baker has served in numerous industry, civic, church, and educational organization posts. A former president of the University of Texas Ex-Students Association, he is a member of the school's Development Board. He is a director of the American Petroleum Institute and member of the National Petroleum Council as well as the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association and other industry groups.

WEEK'S REVIEW

Canyon, Devonian Discoveries Final

By JOHN B. BREWER

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 27—A Canyon strike in the Poe field of Runnels County, additional flow from a Devonian discovery in Upton County highlighted West Texas oil news the past week.

Humble No. 3 G. W. Poe, opener of Canyon reef lime pay in the Poe field of Runnels County, completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 144.80 barrels of 43.8 gravity oil, gas-oil ratio of 255-1.

Production was through perforations between 2,996-3,008 feet following acidization. No. 3 Poe drilled to total depth of 4,513 feet in the Goens which it found barren. Location is 1,320 feet south of Humble No. 1 Poe, opener of Goens pay in the field. The Canyon discovery is 80 feet from south, 1,400 feet from west lines of CTRR survey 71.

Oil flowed Tuesday on a fourth drillstem test of the Devonian at Gulf No. 1 McKelroy Ranch Co. State, deep discovery three-quarters of a mile east of the shallow McKelroy pool in western Upton County. The test flowed to tanks for four hours with production amounting to 113.5 barrels of oil and 2.2 barrels of basic sediment and water, or a daily rate of 681 barrels of oil. Gas-oil ratio was 2,010-1.

The discovery also flowed oil from the Devonian at 10,250-379 feet, 10,500-544 feet and 10,540-594 feet. Location is C NE SW 182-E, CCSD&RGNG.

Superior No. 14-598 R. H. Jordan et al, northeastern Borden County wildcat C SE SW 598-97-H&TC, has indicated discovery production from the Mississippian. Recovery on a one-hour drillstem test between 7,890-910 feet was 60 feet of 35.8 gravity oil, 120 feet of gas-cut mud, 90 feet of mud-cut oil and 30 feet of oil and gas-cut mud. There was no formation water.

Operator was coring. This project is 1 1/4 miles southeast of a recently-opened field in northeastern Borden County producing from the Mississippian.

A wildcat 25 miles southeast of Fort Stockton in Pecos County surfaced gas at an estimated rate of 17 million cubic feet daily on a one-hour drillstem test between 7,765-807 feet. Recovery was 30 feet of gas-cut mud.

The project, at 7,961 feet, is located C SE SE 42-101-TCRR, J. D. Wrather Jr. of Dallas No. 1 G. T. Hall and others, southwestern Ector County wildcat in section 7-B15-psi, recovered the 1,500-foot water blanket and 500 feet of salt water on a three-hour and 30-minute drillstem test between 9,886-916 feet.

Earlier this discovery, an indicated Fusselman discovery, flowed oil estimated at 20 barrels hourly on a drillstem test between 9,830-886 feet, the tool being open 2 1/2 hours. It is four miles north of Judkins.

A Sutton County wildcat located 15 miles northeast of Sonora, W. M. Lyle of Midland No. 1 I. G. C. Allison, flowed gas and logged oil shows in the Strawn.

On a drillstem test of unreported length between 9,013-60 feet, using a 3/4-inch tubing choke, the wildcat surfaced gas in seven minutes at an estimated rate of one million cubic feet daily. Recovery was 285 feet of oil and gas-cut drilling mud. Operator plans to drill another 50 feet and test again. Location is 660 from south, 1,980 feet from east lines of section 90-9-TW&NG, on a 1,120-acre lease.

Located two miles south of Seagraves, Sandor Petroleum Co. No. 1 Oil Development Co., fee, "light" central-north Gaines County wildcat, is reported to have swabbed 30 barrels of oil and 30 barrels of salt water per day from open hole between 5,387-720 feet in Permian lime. The section is reported to have been treated with 2,000 gallons of acid prior to the 24-hour swabbing test. Location is 330 feet out of the southeast corner of section 3-C34-psi, 10 miles northeast of Seminole.

Stevenson Speakers' Bureau Is Organized

DALLAS, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Stevenson-Sparkman Campaign Committee of Texas today set up a speakers' bureau headed by Speaker Sam Rayburn.

State Campaign Manager James C. Sewell said the bureau "will fill requests from all over the state for speakers on behalf of the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket."

Sewell said other speakers available besides Rayburn include State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, William McCraw, Judge Sarah T. Hughes, Tom Howard, Judson C. Francis, W. O. Cooper and Edward C. Fritz, Dallas; Jim Wright, Weatherford, and C. C. McDonald, Wichita Falls.

Kincaid Drilling

Cosden No. 1 Pearl L. Kincaid, et al C SW NW 60-20, LaVaca, extreme northwestern Mitchell County, had drilled below 3,600 Saturday. This test is seeking the lower Canyon zone.

Exploration In NW Glasscock Is Scheduled

Cities Service and Skelly Oil Co. 1 H. G. Cross has been announced as a 11,500-foot wildcat in north-west Glasscock County.

Operations will start soon at the location in the center of the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter section 17-35-28, T&P.

This puts the exploration 4 1/2 miles southwest of Sinclair No. 1, 10,917. The Sinclair No. 1 Hall has had some shows, notably in the Spraberry, but its most recent sampling in the Fusselman resulted only in recovery of sulphur water. The venture is to continue to the Ellenburger.

Nearest tests to the Cities Service No. 1 Cross are a pair of shallow holes drilled in 1927 by Landreth Oil as its No. 1 Houston, 2 miles northwest, and No. 2 Houston 1 1/2 miles southwest. The nearest deep test was the Southern Minerals No. 1 Houston, four miles west and slightly north which went to 7,777 in January 1951 as a Spraberry venture.

Toklan Production Company No. 1 Driver will be a Driver Spraberry location 660 from the south and east lines of section 30-36-48, T&P, 20 miles southwest of Garden City and projected with rotary to 7,800.

Sinclair No. 10 Fannie Boyd, 660 from the west and 1,980 from the south lines section 9-35-58, T&P, amended to deepen with cable tools from total depth of 6,835 to 6,965.

Hanley No. 1-AB TXL will be a Driver Spraberry location 1,980 from the north and 660 from the east lines of section 25-37-48, T&P, rotary to 8,000.

Odessa Oil Show Fare Announced

ODESSA, Sept. 27—Headlined by such nationally-known names as Hollywood's Blondie and Dagwood Bumstead, radio commentator Fulton Lewis, Jr., the orchestra of Will Osborne and Leo Pipera, the Permian Basin Oil Show in Odessa October 16 through 19 has scheduled a full entertainment fare.

The Arthur Lake show, with Dagwood, Blondie, their lovable children and dogs also highlights such radio and movie figures as Preston Foster and Sheila D'Arcy, the comical Musical Dons, and Buck Bradley and Suzie, unique rope spinning team.

Fulton Lewis, Jr., one of the best known network commentators and reporter of national affairs, will originate his coast-to-coast program from Odessa during the show and will be the speaker at a stag dinner and discussion session in the Lincoln Hotel ballroom. A limited number of tickets will be sold for the Lewis dinner at $12.50 a plate.

Price of Oil Show ticket books, which cover four nightly dances, recently performances of the Arthur (Dagwood) Lake show and a barbecue, is $2.00. Tickets are on sale in all Permian Basin Cities or can be ordered from show headquarters in Odessa.

Kickoff attractions for the oil show will be the annual meeting of the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute on October 15 and the opening day downtown parade.

New Coronet Test Staked

Still another location has been made in the Coronet shallow area, this one over in northwest Mitchell County.

Standard of Texas No. 1-2 C. L. Jones will be 990 from the north and 330 from the west lines of the southeast quarter of section 60-20, LaVaca.

This puts it three miles east of Vincent and a half a mile east of the Howard County line. It is 1 1/4 miles northeast of the closest producer in the Coronet-2900 field.

Over in northeast Howard, Standard of Texas No. 2-1 C. L. Jones, 330 from the south and 2,310 from the east lines of section 59-20, LaVaca, spudded and drilled to 360 in redbeds and lime.

This puts it three miles east of Vincent and a half a mile east of the Howard County line. It is 1 1/4 miles northeast of the closest producer in the Coronet-2900 field.

Cosden No. 1-B Chester L. Jones, 330 from the north and east lines of the south half of the northeast quarter section 5-25, H&TC, was moving in materials for a Coronet test.

Driver Spraberry Pair In Midland Take Completion

Texas Crude No. 1-5 Driver has completed as a Spraberry producer in the Driver pool on the Midland side.

It flowed 24 hours through 5-16 choke after 6,000 sandfrac to make 10 per cent water and 272 barrels of 40.2 gravity oil.

Tubing pressure was 250, gas-oil ratio 690-1, elevation 7,275; top pay 7,903, total depth 7,940, and 5 1/4-in. at 5,444; perforated 7,914-7,920. Location is 660 from the south and east lines of the lease in section 5-37-5n, T&P.

Magnolia No. 4-N TXL, 1,980 from the north and west lines section 29-37-48, T&P, flowed 24 hours through 24-64 choke after 15,000 gallons hydracraft. It made no water and 381.35 barrels of 37.8 gravity oil. Tubing pressure was 240-280, gas-oil ratio 612-1, elevation 7,279; top pay 7,093, total depth 7,313; the 5 1/4-in. at 7,098.

Equal Security Is Sought For Members Of Pact Organization

STRASBOURG, France, Sept. 27 (AP)—The European Consultative Assembly today strongly demanded a pledge of "equal security" for all members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

It also adopted a companion resolution criticizing NATO's public information policies and calling for regular official reports from NATO on the progress of defense planning.

It further adopted an outline for a European supreme court and asked for a conference of legal experts to draft a detailed proposal.

The assembly, the lower house of a debating parliament of 14 countries and The Saar, includes three countries not members of NATO. They are Sweden, Ireland and West Germany. Germany is included in NATO's defense setup, however, through the projected European army.

Plenty Of Brothers Serve On Carrier

TOKYO, Sept. 27 (AP)—There are more brothers serving aboard the USS Princeton than on any other Navy vessel, sailors aboard the big aircraft carrier claimed today.

The 31 sets of brothers include three from Texas: Joe and John Kalenda, Rt. 4, Temple; D. E. and J. W. Batterson, Houston, and D. R. and R. L. Hatter, San Antonio.

OVER-ALL RATE FOR DRILLING IS ON THE UPGRADE

Drilling activity on a national basis is steadily on the upgrade.

A total of 2,635 rigs were active in the United States and Canada as of Sept. 22. This was, according to a report to American Association of Oil-Well Drilling Contractors from Hughes Tool Company, a gain of 56 for the week. A month ago there were only 2,470 rigs operating, and a year ago the comparable date saw 2,963 rigs drilling. The steel strike, however, put activity into a nose dive and only now is recovery pronounced.

In the Permian Basin area, informed sources said that tubular goods were being received at a good rate but that full scale resumption may not get underway until after general elections.

Odessa Oil Show Fare Announced

Pay Shows In Waddell

Phillips Petroleum Company was preparing to test the Waddell No. 1-B Hillard, indicated discovery from that formation in Southwest Ector County.

Five and one-half-inch casing has been perforated from 8,375 to 8,405 feet for the testing. The Waddell flowed oil on drillstem test when the formation was drilled.

No. 1-B Hillard, west offset to a recently completed five-eighths mile northwest extension to the Penwell (Ellenburger) field, already has shown for production in the Ellenburger.

Last flow from open hole in that formation was 129.36 barrels of oil through a one-half-inch choke in five and one-half hours.

Hole is bottomed at 8,667 feet. Plans are to dually complete from the Waddell and Ellenburger.

Location is 660 feet from north and 665 feet from east lines of section 24, block B-15, psi survey.

Coke Outpost Is Spotted

S. E. Adams and Lloyd Davidson of San Angelo will drill No. 1 Halne Phelan as a 6,500-foot project in the Jameson area of Coke County.

It will be drilled one-eighth mile south and slightly west of a recent one-half-mile northwest extension to the field.

Location is 2,307 feet from southwest and 330 feet from southeast lines of Snyder & Von Rosenberg survey No. 6. It is on a 480-acre lease.

Elevation is 1,944 feet. Operations will start within 90 days.

Andrews Strike In Ellenburger Completes Test

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation has completed its No. 1-24 Faaken as a flowing Ellenburger discovery in Southeast Andrews County.

The wildcat reported a daily initial potential of 674.80 barrels of 49.9 gravity oil, flowing through a 24-64th inch tubing choke.

The production was natural. Gas-oil ratio was 560-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 690 pounds. There was no formation water with the oil which was produced on the completion test.

The oil and gas is coming from perforated section in the Ellenburger at 12,672-702 feet. This project drilled to a bottom of 12,775 feet. That bottom section made water. The 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented on the bottom. The pipe is filled with cement from 12,702 feet to the total depth to keep the water out of the oil pay zone.

Top of the Ellenburger is at 12,645 feet. Elevation is 3,057 feet. The discovery is 15 miles southeast of the town of Andrews and 23 miles northwest of the city of Midland. It is a twin to a shallow producer from the Grayburg in the Midland Farms field.

Location is 530 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 24, block 42, T-1-N, G&MMB&A survey.

Plans For Observance Of Oil Progress Shaping Up

Committees are at work on plans for annual observance of Oil Progress Week, Oct. 12-18, to impress residents of this section of oil's economic role in economic and other areas of activity.

Newspaper and radio publicity will help carry the message, and there will be speech and essay contests for high school students. Service clubs will hear speakers who are prepared to describe the impact of oil leasing, drilling, production, processing and distribution on local life.

Programs are being shaped under the direction of the Howard-Glasscock Oil Industry Information Committee headed by Carl Smith and the Chamber of Commerce Petroleum committee headed by J. W. Pursler.

This year's observance may include some downtown shows and exhibits. Zollie Boykin and G. H. Hayward are in charge of this phase. Obie Bristow and Carl Smith head up the essay and speech committee, while Dave Duncan and Champ Rainwater are directing plans for service club programs. Radio publicity will shape up under Jack Wallace, Charles Long, Jess Stanton and Ed Fisher. Several installations may observe open house or conducted tours during the week.

Truman Seeks End Of Crippling Strikes At Airplane Plants

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—President Truman today called upon both workers and management to end the strike at the Douglas and Lockheed aircraft plants in California in the interest of national defense.

The White House disclosed that the President had sent a telegram to the heads of both aircraft companies and the union officials involved.

Some 40,000 workers have been idled by the strike at the two plants.

Top IPAA Officials To Appear On Regional Meeting Monday

MIDLAND, Sept. 27—Charlton H. Lyons, Shreveport, La., president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America and Russell B. Brown, Washington, D.C., general counsel for the association, will be featured speakers at the Permian Basin Regional meeting of the IPAA to be held at the Midland Country Club Monday.

Alden S. Donnelly, IPAA Permian Basin vice president, has announced that Lyons will speak on future plans and activities of the association. Title of Brown's talk will be "Effect of Foreign Imports on United States Domestic Production." Both men, Donnelly said, probably also will discuss such subjects as decontrol of prices and material shortages as related to the oil industry.

Lyons, an independent oil man, has long been active in the IPAA and was vice president for Louisiana and a member of the Executive Committee before becoming president. He was recently appointed chairman of the association's Western Hemisphere Oil Study Committee. Lyons also has been active in other industry groups and served as vice president of the Louisiana-Arkansas Division of

The regional meeting in Midland will start with registration at 5:30 p.m. and will be followed by dinner at 6:30 p.m. Because of limited facilities, the meeting will be for members and guests only.

Inside Location Is Due In East Howard

Fleming Oil and Fleming & Kimbell No. 12-B J. C. Denman has been staked as an Iatan-East Howard location.

It will be located 990 from the north and 330 from the east lines of the lease in section 14-30-18, T&P, five miles south of Coahoma. This inside location is projected to 3,200.

Northwest Borden Venture Past 5,840

George Hammonds No. 1 William Cebulak, C NW NW 132-6n, EL&RR, drilled to 5,840 in lime. This venture is 24 miles northwest of Gall and is six miles northwest of the one-well North Gall field and eight north of the one-well Borden field.

Truman Ready To Depart On Extensive Tour

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP) — President Truman boards his campaign train tonight for a 15-day, 8,500-mile whistle stop tour as intensive as any he made in his own behalf four years ago.

The President, never happier than when he is out on a back platform lambasting the Republicans, is expected to make at least 90 speeches in his all-out effort for Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee. This will include 11 major addresses.

Most of the talks will be west of the Mississippi but the trip winds up with a swing into the East which will find Truman speaking in New York City on the final day.

The tour will give the President a chance to discuss conservation farm problems at an Iowa fair, civil rights in Harlem in New York City, and many other topics.

It is the second whistle stopper of the campaign for the President. The other was a two-day affair en route to and from Milwaukee for a Labor Day speech. The Democratic National Committee reportedly is preparing another itinerary for his soon after he gets back to Washington Oct. 12 from the 22-state tour starting tonight.

Aides said he would not make political talks tomorrow, Sunday, so that his first give-em-hell opportunity will come at Breckenridge, Minn., at 7:30 a.m., CST, Monday.

After that he will campaign through North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, California, Utah, Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York.

SUFFERS 10 SERIOUS INJURIES Badly Wounded Officer Tells Story Of 84 Hours Of Agony

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
 TOKYO, Sunday, Sept. 28 (AP) — "The human body can stand just so much punishment," the lieutenant said.

"I think the four of us reached our limit."

He paused a moment, grimacing from the shattering pain of 10 serious wounds, and then said softly: "In the past, we had run out of hope and were living on prayer alone."

From his bed in an Army hospital, Lt. Edgar A. Peterson, Geneva-on-the-Lake, O., told for the first time how he and three other wounded Americans survived 84 hours of agony and thirst in a bunker when Chinese forces captured Old Baldy Hill on the Korean Western Front, 11 days ago. U. S. Second Division troops recaptured it four days later.

Peterson told his story over a period of 48 hours, broken by periods of acute suffering and dangerous shortness of breath. An Army doctor said, however, that the officer would recover, despite multiple wounds from rifle, sub-machine gun, mortar and hand grenade fire.

"Old Baldy isn't much, but it has been through the war," Peterson began. During the day of Sept. 17, the Chinese threw mortar and artillery at us. Everything from soup to nuts. About 800 rounds. At 7 p.m., on the nose, a big enemy barrage broke loose.

"Our guns opened up, but it was too late to stop the attack."

"My company commander yelled: 'Here they come—they're all over the hill!'"

"Everywhere you looked, the Chinks were swarming. One ran up behind me and grabbed my carbine. I swung around and pulled the trigger. He caught it in the chest and dropped dead."

I was framed in the doorway (of the bunker). One of my own men, inside the bunker, shot me through the left shoulder with a rifle, thinking I was a Chink.

"There were wounded and unwounded men inside the bunker. The fragments got a lot of us, including me. Then a Chink stepped in the doorway with a burp gun and sprayed the whole bunker. I caught several bursts in the chest and hips and right leg. One shot broke my upper right forearm."

"Two of the wounded died that night. That made three dead men in the bunker. Five of us were alive—a master sergeant, a corporal, a private, a medic and me."

"All of us were pretty bad off. Except for the medic, a Negro boy, we couldn't move around."

"We went crazy for water. We never found anything more to drink except the juice of corned beef hash, which made us very sick."

"That night we flashed an SOS signal to our lines. Later, I learned the signal was caught. All that night we could hear Chinks moving and digging around outside the bunker. We kept quiet."

"Next day I could hear the private praying out loud most of the day. Artillery kept banging away. I didn't see how the bunker could take much more. We dressed our own wounds, with some help from the medic. We ran out of dressing. I stuffed a shirt into my chest wounds, which were bothering me most."

"That night and the next day, Saturday, (Sept. 20) were awful. We were burning with fever. We were sort of delirious and plotted that we might crawl down the slopes to our lines."

"Of course this was impossible,

Body Of Forsan Gil Back From Korea

The body of Sgt. Kenneth W. Barnes, Forsan youth who gave his life in action in Korea, has arrived back in the United States. Kenneth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wylie J. Barnes and is the nephew of Garner McAdams of Big Spring.

His body will be returned here for final rites and interment. It was among the 256 American war dead returned Friday aboard the Baylor Victory.

'People's Owned' Paint Is Pledited Around Leipzig

By TOM REEDY
 LEIPZIG (AP) — The Soviet sign painters have gone cuckoo at this year's Leipzig Fair.

There's enough paint splashed around to make a paint manufacturer dream of getting the concession rights.

The "peoples' owned" paint, however, and the painters are Communist activists bombarding the fair visitor with their slogans. If he isn't blind he's likely to wind up with a glazed look after his encounter with the fresh paint display.

Top motif this year is the "build socialism" theme adopted by the rulers of East Germany early this summer, with Soviet approval. It is an all-out drive to turn the Soviet zone into a purely Communist state in every respect.

Woman's Condition Is Reported 'Fair'

Mrs. W. F. Armstrong, 60, of Route 1, Ackery, was reported in "fair condition" at a local hospital Saturday night shortly after she was rushed here in an Eberly ambulance.

Deputy Sheriff Dub Weatherford quoted the woman's husband as saying he removed from her hand a quantity of a strange potion about 6:45 p.m., just before the ambulance and sheriff's officers were summoned. Mrs. Armstrong was to remain in the hospital at least until today for observation.

Funeral Rites Held For Former Resident

Funeral services were conducted last week end at Winters for Tillman Jennings of Andrews, former Big Spring resident.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mary Lou Jennings and Mrs. R. C. Horton, all of Andrews, and a son, Tillman Jennings Jr., who is stationed in San Diego, Calif.

Out Of Hospital

Mary Freeman, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Foreman, Big Spring, is among the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation patients who have been discharged. Mary was stricken with polio in 1952 and was admitted to the Gonzales Warm Springs hospital last June for three months treatment. She will report back, however, for a series of periodic checks.

COMPLETE BEDDING LINE. PATTON FURNITURE & MATTRESS FACTORY 818 E. 3rd Phone 128 SALE CONTINUED To Clear Our Bargain Basement

WE still have a few good washing machines, gas ranges, and console radio-phonographs left. (Unfortunately.) Again we are going to reduce the sale price! Please come in and see what we have to offer in our bargain basement, as we are running out of price tags. We are still offering the best prices on used merchandise to be had, and you can practically name your own terms. In the used gas stoves, there are many good serviceable ranges that are clean and ready to go! All of these will be delivered and installed free if you help us clear the basement this week.

Also in the washing machine department, there are many, many, good wringer type washers that have been retired far too early, just because the people who owned them wanted an easier way of life and bought automatic washers. So, if there are a few of you left who can stand the work of washing, we would like very much to see you, to the tune of $22.50 up, $1.25 per week. GEORGE SANTAYANA

Philosopher Santayana Succumbs

By JAMES PARLATORE
ROME, Sept. 27 (AP)—George Santayana, world renowned philosopher and writer of the best-selling novel "The Last Puritan," died last night in a Catholic convent in which he had lived in solitude for 25 years. He was 88.

Ranked as one of the 20th century's greatest thinkers, Santayana, a Spaniard by birth, was known and loved by thousands of Americans, many of whom were his students when he was a professor of philosophy at Harvard University from 1889 to 1911.

His philosopher's mind stayed sharp and alert to the end, although age had enfeebled and shriveled him. His final book, "Dominations and Powers," a philosophical summation, was completed and published only last year.

Surrounded by the books he loved, Santayana died in his tiny room at the clinic of the Little Company of Mary, a British order of nuns known as the "blue sisters" because of the pale blue habits they wear.

The famed philosopher was born in Madrid, Dec. 16, 1863. Although a Spanish subject to the end, he was considered by many to be an American since he lived in the United States from the time he was 9 until 1911.

Santayana was probably the only philosopher to write a best-selling novel. He did that in 1935 when he turned out "The Last Puritan." It was perhaps this book, about life in New England, rather than his many poems and philosophical works, that brought his name to the mass of American readers.

Cattlemen Told To Apply For Disaster Hay

Cattlemen planning on buying some of the government drought disaster emergency hay should get their orders in just as quickly as possible, Gabe Hammack, Howard County Production and Marketing Administration administrative officer, warned yesterday.

Hammack said 30 cars have either been received at Coahoma or Big Spring or are headed this way. As a general thing, he commented, the hay is very good and purchasers have been well pleased with it. He said, however, that two cars were loaded with damaged hay and that these two loads will be sold on public bids. He said persons interested in buying the hay should see him or call at the PMA office for information on placing their bids. The hay may be inspected, he said.

The PMA administrator explained that his organization wants to get some hay for everyone who needs it before placing additional orders for those who have already received hay. If this is to be accomplished, he said, persons ordering for the first time will have to place their orders immediately.

He also again called attention to the fact that orders cannot be accepted for legume hay unless it is with the understanding that the order can be filled with mixed hay if legume is not available. No legume hay has been received here yet, he said, but some of the cars en route are loaded with it.

Martin Farm Bureau Reactivation Sought In Monday Meeting

STANTON, (SC) — A meeting of Martin County people interested in the reactivation of the Martin County Farm Bureau will be held at the Grady School at 7:30 p. m. Monday, it was announced by Ray Hastings, county agriculture agent.

He said the purpose of the meeting is to enlist workers who will be sufficiently interested to go out and aid in the membership drive next month.

The meeting is not restricted to residents of the Grady Community, he explained, but is open to all persons in the county and surrounding area who are interested in the reorganization of the bureau.

Disease Prevalence Reported Increased

A sharp increase was noted Saturday by health authorities in the prevalence of contagious diseases.

Eighty-six cases of communicable infections were listed on the weekly report of the Big Spring, Howard County Health Unit. Eleven different diseases were reported, intestinal influenza being the most prevalent with 30 cases. Diarrhea ranked second with 20 cases, and there were 14 cases of tonsillitis diagnosed during the week.

Other infections and the number of cases of each were pneumonia, two; mumps, one; hepatitis, one; virus infection, five; gastroenteritis, seven; syphilis, one; whooping cough, four, and gonorrhea, one.

Draft Deferment Testing At HCJC

Howard County Junior College will be one of the testing centers when Texas college students take the third nation-wide series of Selective Service college qualification tests.

B. M. Keese, registrar, said that HCJC had qualified for both the tests on Dec. 4, 1952 and April 23, 1953.

Scores made by students are used by local draft boards in considering educational deferments. Big. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state draft director, estimated 4,000 Texas college students would take the two tests. In the past approximately 16,000 have taken the tests and 7,000 are deferred currently on the basis of test scores or class standing.

In the first series, only 46 of 100 college students in Texas made a passing score or better as compared with 63 out of every 100 for the nation as a whole.

Students whose academic year will end in January 1953 were urged by Gen. Wakefield to take the December test so they will have a test score in their draft board files before the end of the fall semester. At the end of the student's academic years, boards reopen and reconsider their cases to determine whether they should be deferred as students.

To be eligible to apply for the test a student must: 1) intend to request deferment as a student, 2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction, and 3) must not previously have taken the test. Blank forms for making ap-

Colorado City Kids Receive Their 'Day'

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 27—Kids had their day here Saturday with a round of events arranged by Kiwanians.

Colorado City's fire department put on a demonstration of fire fighting Saturday morning and the national guard unit put its equipment on exhibit in the 100 block on Walnut.

After a theatre party at the Palace at 10 a. m., the youngsters were served ice cream by the Kiwanis members. At 1:30 p. m. the kids paraded through the downtown section, ending up at the Williams Farm and Ranch store for a pet show.

Working with Dan Pritchett, Kid's Day chairman for the Kiwanians, were Dub Oliver, R. B. Baker, Church Diegel, Nathan King, A. O. Hickman, Herman Lockhart, Rev. Harold Tilman, Chester Thomas, Jimmy Kelley and Dewey Davis.

1,434 Persons Visit TEC Office In Month

During the fiscal month just ended 262 persons were referred to non-agricultural employment by the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission and 187 were placed in jobs, Leon M. Kinney, manager of the office, said yesterday.

Kinney said that during the month 1,434 visits to the office were registered and that 88 new applications for jobs were filed. Twenty-two initial claims for unemployment compensation were filed during the month and there were 68 continued claims. These do not represent that many different persons, however, Kinney pointed out, inasmuch as each claimant must renew his claim each week.

Two Services Today Will End Revival Meeting

An afternoon mass meeting and a night service will close out the tent revival campaign of Rev. Lester Roloff today. Services are set for 3 o'clock and 7:30 o'clock at 16th and Nolan Streets.

The Rev. Roloff stated Saturday that he has had the greatest response in attendance here than in any other city this size. "I certainly wish to thank the people here for such wonderful cooperation," he said.

Sermon topic this afternoon will be "Missing in Action," which will deal with the present day indications of the second coming of Christ. Tonight's sermon will be "God's Last Call," which the Rev. Roloff said would be an invitation for "all."

The evangelist said that many people have shown interest in his staying in Big Spring for an extra week. However, he said present plans call for leaving after tonight's service.

"We are planning to take the tent down right after the service tonight," he said. "Our next revival will be held in Robstown."

Rev. Roloff also stated that he would broadcast at 2 p. m. today over KTXC. He said that his program would remain on the Big Spring station at 7 a. m. each morning for the next week.

The children's service Friday afternoon was the largest the evangelist has ever had. He said the children nearly filled the tent, despite the change of service time at the last minute. He said more than 100 children made decisions for Christ.

New Contributions To Milk-Ice Fund

Another $20 was added to the Milk-and-Ice Fund Friday. New donors were Cosden, Agent J. L. LeBleu and R. F. Burns.

The fund has been built up through generosity of Big Spring people to such an extent that County Health Nurse Jewel Barton feels that sufficient milk and ice can be distributed to the sick children in poor families who need help.

Student Biologists May Have An Owl

The high school biology department may have an owl to study this week — if someone doesn't claim the wise old bird Danny Cook captured Saturday morning. Young Cook, 15, of 2303 Scurry, caught the owl in some shrubbery near the VA Hospital. He said it's a "big bird that surely can scratch."

Danny plans to keep the owl a day or two, in case it's someone's prodigal pet. If not, student biologist will have owl for class.

Mitchell Farmers Seeking REA Loan

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 27. — One hundred thirty five Mitchell County farmers and ranchers met with REA officials and experts on irrigation to explore the possibility of obtaining 4 per cent loans from the REA to drill and develop water wells for purposes of irrigation. The meeting was held Thursday night at the REA building in Colorado City, with E. V. Wilder, REA manager presiding.

Wilder asked those interested in obtaining a loan for the drilling or improvement of existing wells to register with the Co-op so that it could apply to the Rural Electric Administration for the necessary funds.

New Home For Newcomers

Newcomers See Many Changes In Big Spring

Big Spring has undergone a number of noticeable changes in the past 18 years and among the first to realize this are Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hefflin, 507 Edwards Blvd. For 18 years ago the Hefflins came to Big Spring as a bride and groom. Three months later they moved away and this is the first time they've been back here to stay. The Hefflins and their two daughters, Linda, 13, and Jeanette, 10, arrived in Big Spring a short time ago. They are former residents of Brownfield, where they lived 12 years. Mr. Hefflin is general manager for the O. H. McAlister Company. The family is building a new home across from the Park Hill School and is deeply engrossed in selecting the right carpeting and colors for the rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Hefflin are natives of Longview and he devotes his spare time to hunting and fishing. While in Brownfield, Mrs. Hefflin was active in the work of the P.T.A. When queried about her hobbies, she replied that she had none. "I don't want to do anything that I don't have to do," the dark-haired mother of two commented.

Federation To Have Talent Party For 'Follies' Tuesday

Members of the Big Spring City Federation of Women's Clubs are issuing an invitation to all interested persons to attend a talent party Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the Seattles Hotel Ballroom. Object of the affair will be to select talent for the Federation's "Follies of 1952," which will be held at the City Auditorium, Oct. 16-17. Proceeds for the Follies will be used for the club-house project. A representative of the Jerome H. Cargyle Co. will be in Big Spring to select the talent for the show and to serve as its director. Mrs. J. Y. Robb, chairman of the committee in charge, has announced that specialty acts, waiting couples and people for the chorus are particularly needed. However, she stressed the fact that whenever a person could sing, dance or act the director would teach them what was needed to appear in the show. The public is invited and light refreshments will be served.

Doyle Ragle To Speak At County-wide Rally

The Rev. Doyle Ragle, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Munday and former professor of Bible at McMurry College, Abilene, will be guest speaker at the county-wide observance of the publishing of the revised standard version of the Bible to be held Tuesday.

The program will be presented in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church beginning at 8 p.m.

The service, held on the 500th anniversary of the publication of the first book the Gutenberg Bible, will be one of 3,000 such observances held throughout the world.

The completely inter-denominational rallies have as their purpose to deepen the religious life of the people, to encourage wider reading and studying of the Bible, to make the community more aware of the basic unity in the common heritage purpose and religious idealism in the Bible and to celebrate the completion of the revised version as a historical moment in the great tradition of translating the Bible into languages spoken by the people.

The revised Bible was translated by a group of scholars selected by the International Council of Religious Education. The group worked gratis for 15 years to complete the writings.

"This is the greatest Bible news in 341 years," local churchmen say. Calling attention to the fact that 341 years ago the King James

The course will be taught by Margaret McAdams and Jean Oats of Abilene and Rex Browning, local field director.

Poet Adds Letter From Gov. Shivers To His Collection

G. Frank Smith, who has been exercising his poetical talents on political verse, has another letter from a dignitary to add to his collection.

After writing a lengthy tribute to Gov. Allan Shivers congratulating him on the stand he has taken on the "deafness" issue, Mr. Smith mailed the poem to the Governor and has received a signed reply expressing the Governor's appreciation.

Mr. Smith also has a letter from Gen. Eisenhower in his collection.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By DARLENE SNEED

An all school assembly was held Tuesday during activity period. Nominations were made for student body officers, editor and business managers of the annual, Jayhawker, and the school paper, El Nido. Cecil Hoggard, temporary student body president, presided. Short campaign speeches were made by Lomia Mase, Jackie Fryar, Charles Warren, Cecil Hoggard, Wayne Glenn, and Milburn Hoover.

Nominees for the different offices are Cecil Hoggard and Richard Gilmore, student body president; Charles Warren and Casey Jones, vice president; Robert "Dallas" Williams and Lou Ann Nail, secretary; Beverly Jones and Bobby Reed, editor of Jayhawker; Gerald Fehler and Darlene Sneed, business manager of Jayhawker; Bobbie Adams, Leonard Hartley and Don Martin, editor of El Nido; Cecil Niblett and Don Stevens, business manager of El Nido.

The election committee composed of Charles Warren, Cecil Hoggard, Lou Ann Nail and Beverly Jones met Tuesday morning to finish plans for the election. They are planning a dance next Thursday night at which time the outcome of the elections will be announced.

The Nucleonians Science Club will meet Tuesday morning during activity period in the science lecture room. Any and everyone interested please be present.

All students who may be interested in joining the Engineering Club be present Tuesday morning at the general assembly. There will be an announcement explaining when and where the first meeting will be held. Any student may join, preferably students who are taking pre-engineering courses.

The girl's physical education classes are planning intramural basketball games sometime next week.

B. M. Keese, dean and registrar of H.C.J.C., received a letter last week from A. O. Egunlesi of Lagos, Nigeria, Africa. Mr. Egunlesi wrote that he would like to come to our college and finish his education. We felt flattered that news of our college has reached this distant point.

Student and faculty pictures were made Thursday, Friday and Saturday, in the college auditorium by Olin Chancellor. Bobby Reed assisted him.

The assembly committee met Thursday morning to set up a tentative schedule for assembly programs. Every other Thursday was decided upon unless too many complications prohibit it. Members of this committee are Charles Warren and Georgia Dyer, student members; Elizabeth Cope, Betty Wright and Mrs. Jannelle Davis, faculty sponsors.

An observance was made of a Citizenship Day in the library this past week. Exhibits of books appropriate for this occasion, magazines, clippings and suggestions as to reading on good citizenship were displayed on tables, shelves, and the bulletin board.

Shine Phillips gave the librarian, Pru. M. Taylor, a "Shine Phillips Fund" to be used in purchasing good books for the library.

Concert Association To Present Opera 'Carmen'

The opera "Carmen" will be the first program presented here this year under the auspices of the Big Spring Concert Association, it has been announced.

New members of the Association still have a few remaining days in which to buy tickets, officials have said. Newcomers to Big Spring may purchase tickets until Nov. 6. Prices are $10, dual ticket for all three performances; $6, single ticket for three performances; and $1.50 student ticket for the three performances. Tickets will not be on sale at the door before the performances.

Those wishing to attend the programs are being asked to contact Mrs. Shelby Reed, phone 2233-J. "Carmen" will be presented at the City Auditorium, Nov. 7. The opera will be produced by the Charles L. Wagner Opera Co. of New York.

As has been the case in many great masterpieces, Bizet's opera was a total failure at its first performance. In fact, the composer died three months later, despondent, not knowing that one day his work would become one of the most popular of all operatic fare.

The story of "Carmen" was written by Prosper Merimee and Bizet portrayed the drama in his masterly fashion as he was musically able to give it local color. Throughout its entirety, despite its lively scenes and gay, reckless melodies, the listener is given a sense of foreboding, of impending disaster which intensified until the final curtain.

The second program to be presented by the Association will be the San Antonio Symphony Orchestra in concert. The third, and final program, has not been announced.

The DEARBORN Puts Heat Where You Want It

$21.95 to $49.95

The ordinary heater wastes heat at ceiling level—but the amazing DEARBORN SAF-T-CABINET forces heat outward and downward, from wall-to-wall, at FLOOR LEVEL.

With the DEARBORN you get all the heat you're paying for—and get it where you want it.

The SAF-T-CABINET stays cool all the time—no matter how long the DeARBORN is on. You have to feel it to believe it.

SMART LIPS SAY MEAD'S FINE BREAD Good 'n Fresh

THE PARTY SURPRISE THEY'LL NEVER FORGET... You mommas know the eagerness with which your youngsters await the great occasion of their annual birthday party... next to Christmas it's just about the most important day of their young lives, and this year you can make it even a greater day by serving their cake with the "Musical" cake.

THE MAN BEHIND THE DESK... will write you a love letter if you present him with the unusual and dashing letter opener I found at the HARDESTY DRUG this week. It's fashioned after the bold and beautiful daggers used in the swashbuckling days of old, complete to the gold inlaid leather scabbard. The blade and guard are gleaming brass, and the handle is a rich Jade quartz.

A CLOSE-UP VIEW... of your fashion accessories is always a good idea, because it's not only your smart suits and dresses, but the small pieces too, that make your costume "you". At M-LADY'S ACCESSORIES you'll find the most complete selection of gloves, to match or contrast with your every costume color... double woven fabrics in cottons and nylons... the smoothest, softest kidskins, handstitched or pique sewn with finesse and fine craftsmanship... shortie string gloves in a host of happy colors.

THE RAINS CAME... and we can again think about the possibility of a garden with a little encouragement. And while we're thinking about it, we should remember that many of our beautiful spring blossoms are those that have been planted in the fast FAYE'S FLOWERS has just received a new shipment of seeds to start your fall planting. If you think you don't have time for gardening, you're in for a lucky surprise, because with these Mandevilla triple-tested seeds come complete instructions on how to raise flowers at a minimum amount of time.

MEET ME AT THE DOUGLASS... this is a well known phrase among the business people of Big Spring, because they know that if they take their breaks at the DOUGLASS COFFEE SHOP they will always be enjoyable. Whether it be for coffee, a mid-morning or afternoon snack, or a tasty lunch, the food is the best and the service the finest. A pleasant and attractive atmosphere, a friendly and courteous smile will always greet you when you make the Douglas the place to meet to coffee or eat. Not only the business people, but busy shoppers will agree that a place to relax and enjoy a really good cup of coffee is always welcome in the hustle and bustle of a busy day's schedule.

Where to shop for what--- HELEN'S HINTS

KITTEN SOFT... and completely feminine... the most beautiful sweater you've seen in many a moon. You'll find it at ZACK'S OF Margo's, and I think you'll agree that it's as soft and cozy and beautiful a cashmere as you've ever seen. It's fashioned by Catalina in white with long raglan sleeves and a demure turtleneck collar, and it's skillfully designed and knit with most advanced knitting techniques to attain the ultimate in quality fashion and fit. Here's a dream of a sweater that's been carefully finished with the most meticulous care... designed to grace your smartest suits... turn your favorite skirt into a special occasion costume. And just for the record, it's even been moth-proofed for five years. The most luxurious feel... the most elegant look... the price, $18.95.

IT'S A GRAND SLAM... with the help of kibitzing from HESTER'S SUPPLY, and the seven high tricks they'll throw your way are the seven essentials you'll need for bridge at its best... Congress and Kem playing cards, score pads and pencils, attractive tables, shufflers, table covers, rule books and appropriate prizes. If you're planning a party or just an informal foursome, attractive accessories will applaud your taste and foresight in choosing such pretty partners for the game. You'll surely want to see one or all of these items soon, because many clubs are again reorganizing for the fall and winter season. These smart bridge accessories hostess.

A SPORTS-MINDED COLLECTION... of mighty good looking, easy going "corduroy" sport coats for plain and fancy relaxing have just arrived at ELMO WASSON'S, California tailored by Finch of Julliard Lusteroy, they're something new in fabric development. Lusteroy is a mixture of fine rayon and cotton that's a noble successor to corduroy with notable improvements... beautiful sheen, lighter weight, longer wear, crease resistance and wonderfully soft and pliable. This ideal sportswear fabric is turned into a handsome styled and fully finished coat that any man would be partial to. Their easy-going elegance, their impressive parade of shades, their smartly blue, sand, grey, burgandy, and caramel, they're priced at $21.50.

THE PRETTIEST THING ON TWO FEET... are the new Fall shoes you'll find at MARGO'S. This week I found a shoe that will certainly appeal to your feminine fancy. It's styled by Paramount along the lines of the always distinctive, individual opera pump, yet its accented by a flattering cut-work design around the throat that marks it as a smart city slicker... wise to the ways of fashion. The heel is medium height, and it's made up in smoothly polished calfskin in navy blue, red, brown or black. These are truly shoes you can choose with that certain feeling that they'll see you smartly through a busy fall and winter season... right into spring. Unadorned, sleek, keyed to the clothes you will wear, they're a style-plus value at only $12.95.

EASIER LIVING 'ROUND THE CLOCK... with an RCA Victor Clock-Radio from THE RECORD SHOP. Here's a priceless servant for your home... it sings you to sleep and shuts itself off, wakes you with morning melodies or the news, heats your coffee, turns lights on or off and tells you the time—all automatically. This clock-radio is complete with built-in Magic Loop antenna for finest reception without an outside connection, and it even has a handy phono-jack for plugging in a record attachment so you can select just the music you want for a bed-time or wake-up serenade. Just imagine it... all this plus a beautiful gold trimmed case for instant eye appeal. And remember... you'll always get up on the right side of the bed when you begin your day the RCA Victor way.

HI-TALK

By Margie McDougle

If you had walked down the halls of BSH last week, you would have seen all the proud seniors holding up their right hands with bright new, shiny, gold class rings on them.

M'DOUGLE Saturday the senior members of the El Rodeo staff left for Austin to attend the school annual clinic. The program was planned so that every phase of yearbook building was to be covered by a variety of speakers who are experts in their fields. The clinic also planned several round-table discussions, demonstrations, and exhibits. Attending are Janice Boardman, editor; Shirley Wheat, associate editor; Joyce Gound, art editor; Bobby Hayworth, sports editor; Iva Hampden, senior editor; and Luan Lamb, class section editor.

The annual staff has two new members added to the assistant staff. They are Beverly Vaughn, staff assistant, and Kirk Faulkner, student photographer.

The annuals will go on sale Oct. 14 and remain on sale until Thanksgiving.

Since Junior High will not be in the annual this year we will have a lot more space for snapshots. Everybody should turn in their snapshots.

The National School Yearbook Association of the University of Houston just completed the rating of our last year's annual. The judges gave us an A rating. A majors club will be organized on Thursday at 12:30 in the gym.

Anyone who is particularly interested in physical education is invited to join. The purpose of the club is to promote interest and give additional training to girls who plan to major in physical education in college.

Girls who become members of the majors club will participate in extra-curricular activities such as hiking, camping, and bicycling. Also they will participate in intramural volleyball and basketball tournaments.

Thursday morning the election of class officers was held. Bobby Sayworth is president of the senior class, John Lawrence, vice president; Narrell Dene Choate, secretary-treasurer.

The junior president will be Robert Angel, vice president, Louis Slipp; secretary-treasurer, Claudette Harper.

Glen Rogers will serve as president for the sophomores, Pat Tidwell, vice president; Peggy Hogan, secretary-treasurer.

Fried Chicken Dinner

Members of Indoor Sports may have physical handicaps but there was nothing wrong with their appetites when they sat down to this chicken dinner at their third birthday party Thursday evening. Members of the B&PW Club assisted with the table decorations and the serving.

B&PW Members Begin Observance Of National Business Women's Week

Business and Professional Women's Club members and their guests were breakfasting this morning at the Settles Hotel while plans proceeded for their observance of National Business Women's Week, Sept. 28-Oct. 4.

H. W. Whitney, city manager, was to be guest speaker, and Mrs. Nell Frazier, a member, was presented in special piano selections.

Following the affair members were to proceed in a group to attend church services at First Baptist Church. Mary Cantrell was in charge of arrangements for the breakfast.

Members of the group unofficially opened the week's observance Thursday night when a number of them, known as Good Sports for their assistance to the Indoor Sports in the organization and activities of the latter club, attended the birthday dinner party given by the Indoor Sports.

Next Friday, members of the international relations group of the B&PW, headed by Committee Chairman Thelma Roe, will have a covered dish supper at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Nell Frazier, 1901 Owens. A box of clothing will be packed for shipment to Europe to Germans who have escaped from behind the Iron Curtain.

Drama In Pleats

This striking outfit is made of that new creation orlon-wool mixture.

larly winter garments for men and boys, is requested to contact Mrs. Roe at her office, No. 840, or her home, No. 2511-J, and she will arrange to have them picked up. A number of articles have already been collected, Mrs. Roe said Saturday.

Probably the most important event of the observance will be a birthday dinner and political cross-fire forum to be held Oct. 7 at 7:45 p.m. in the Settles Hotel ballroom. The dinner was delayed until the following week because of previous engagements for the ballroom.

Mrs. Addie V. Payne of Colorado City, state third vice president of B&PW and a prominent political figure in this area, will be moderator.

Controversial political issues will be discussed by a panel consisting of women who were delegates to the state Democratic convention in Amarillo, including Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow, Mrs. Norman Read, Arach Phillips, Anna Smith, Roberta Gay and Mrs. Lee Rogers.

The program will be modeled after Town Hall and a round table discussion, considering questions from the audience, will be held. The dinner and program will be open to all women who are anxious to acquaint themselves with problems confronting state and national governments.

Members of the legislation committee, including Mrs. Ina McGowan, chairman, Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle, Pauline Sullivan, Mrs. B. M. Keese and Mrs. Viola Robinson, are in charge of the program.

Plate reservations will be open until 10 a.m. the previous Monday. Women who wish to make reservations should call Mrs. Faye Kuykendall, Mrs. Ina McGowan or Mrs. Lina Flewellen.

Georgia Johnson, radio chairman, announced that she would have spot announcements on both local radio stations throughout the week, Monday through Friday, plugging the national observance, which has taken for its slogan this year, "The Ramparts We Build."

Mrs. Nell Frazier is general chairman of National Business Women's Week events.

The Big Spring B&PW Club was organized by the Colorado City club Oct. 4, 1939, with 12 charter members. In its infancy the club assisted in the purchase of high school band uniforms, sponsored

Woman Has Trouble Recovering Shoes

Police couldn't quite visualize the situation about 12:30 a.m. Saturday when a woman called to complain that "my man won't let me have my shoes."

Officers investigated and learned the woman was "moving." They called a cab for her, after she recovered the shoes.

THIS IS COMMUNITY CHEST WEEK . . .

Will You Do Your FULL SHARE?

Don't you think it is worth a great deal to live in Big Spring . . . where active agencies are carrying on strong programs of youth guidance . . . where younger citizens are being directed in such a way that they will make Big Spring a BETTER community in the future?

Your investment in Big Spring is represented in your gift to the Community Chest. It is YOUR responsibility. You will be called upon this week to meet this responsibility. Remember that solicitors are giving their time and effort in this cause, and you are asked to meet them courteously, and be prepared to give generously and promptly.

Remember that your ONE gift is for FIVE organizations. It determines whether or not they can function effectively for another year. You expect them to operate, and to grow, and to have a wholesome influence on our community. They can do this only if YOU do your part. Will you do your full share?

At Day Nursery

Day Nursery Helpful To Working Mothers

A day nursery for pre-school age children of working mothers has been opened by Mrs. R. J. Walker, wife of the principal of the Lakeview school, in her home at 911 NW 4th.

From 8 in the morning until 2:30 in the afternoon when the mothers collect their children, Mrs. Walker, whose own children are now grown and away from home, hurries from one charge to another, keeping them amused with games, teaching them the alphabet, feeding the bottle babies or tucking them away for naps.

Since starting the nursery a few weeks ago, Mrs. Walker has had an average of some nine children, ranging in age from six months to five years. Most of the time she keeps the youngsters in her home, but should the enrollment increase sufficiently to warrant expansion, she has available a large building at the rear which is divided into two classrooms that she can utilize.

lem is furnishings, particularly baby beds for the infants, and she would like to get in touch with anyone who has such items they would donate or sell at a very reasonable price.

Mrs. Walker, who once conducted a kindergarten here, says she will operate the nursery as long as the demand for such a service continues.

While Mrs. Walker charges only $1.50 per week for a "walking baby," the extra care required for an infant who requires special feeding and an occasional change of underwear necessitates a higher fee of $3.50. However, mothers with large families get extra consideration and Mrs. Walker will take three from the same family for $5. So far, she hasn't had any in this category, but four in the same family would cost the mother only $6.50.

Mrs. Walker, who loves children, finds they also furnish her with an occasional laugh. For instance, her 3-5 age youngsters were showing attention on one of the infants, referring to the baby as "he," when a visitor remarked: "Oh, is it a boy? I thought it was a girl."

A chubby, red-headed 5-year-old studied a moment and then replied: "Yes, I guess he is a girl!"

Two Children Entertained With Party

Mrs. L. B. Conway entertained her children, Larry Bob, 3, and Karen Dale, 2, with a party in honor of their birthdays Friday afternoon in their home, 620 State.

Favors were whistles and bubble gum and two cakes and ice cream were served.

Attending were Rickie, Robbie and Reggie Robertson, Frankie and Gloria Jean Neill, Rebba and Ronnie Redell, Dickie and Dannie Wright, Dana Paul and Diane Ryan, Terry Wayne Wegman, Sue Gall Hammond, Eddie Wayne Wilkinson, Kay LaRue Cline, Jimmy and Julia Ann Wington, Diane Hatcher.

Mrs. Morris Robertson, Mrs. Frank Neill, Mrs. Ike Redell, Mrs. Claude Wright, Mrs. Jim Marshall, Mrs. Wanda Wilkinson, Mrs. Ray Cline, Mrs. Kay Gay, Mrs. Bryce Wington, Mrs. Robert Hatcher, Mrs. Inez Miller, grandmother of the honorees; and Mrs. Ern Conway, also a grandmother of the children.

Health Nurse Plans Visit To Rural Area

Jewel Barton, public health nurse for the Big Spring-Howard County Health unit, will visit all rural schools this week.

Miss Barton will conduct dental and visual examinations and hold conferences with teachers concerning any health problems. Later this fall, Dr. Charles Pigford, health unit director, will visit the schools with Miss Barton for more extensive examinations.

Imported Woolens, Black And White Formals, Furs Star In Fashion Show

Imported English woolens, Scotch tweeds and jerseys in daytime fashions and floating nylon tulles, sparked with silver embroidery, sequins and jet beads stole the Officers Wives Club fashion show Friday evening at Webb Air Force Base.

The 10 models were presented first in morning and daytime frocks, suits and coats, topping them later with soft, luxurious fur coats, capes and stoles in pale champagne and rich brown tones. Fashion's favorite Scottish tweed combined with Paris design was shown in a three-piece costume suit worn by Mrs. John A. Thomas. The pebbled cinnamon and black tweed gave bulk and depth of texture although actually very lightweight. Interesting high pockets accented the softly-moulded shoulder line.

Mrs. E. R. Connors represented the pocket idea in an envelop dress wrapped in a boxy jacket, accompanied by a matching stole. The slim wool dress was distinguished by tuck detail and the furry wool jacket was suggested as an accompaniment to other frocks in the wardrobe.

Mrs. Robert N. Meeker was featured in a combination of tweed with wool fringe in a black and white sheath with fringe appearing at the front inset pockets and ends of the stole.

Coats were of Angora, champagne poodle cloth and alpaca, in neutral colors, and furs in the lighter tones were fashion favorites.

Blacks, in wools, taffets, Chantilly lace, crepes and tulle were predominant in after-five fashions as well as in evening formals.

Fabulous formals were the hit of the show. These included an exotic beaded sheath in Chantilly lace for night-blooming sophisticates, modeled by Mrs. Meeker; two layers of nylon tulle—black over pink in a succession of scallops in the new 10-inch length, modeled by Mrs. Ralph E. Kauffman; the "stren look" in all-over black sequins, shown by Mrs. Phillip T. Munn.

Nylon tulle in ice blue under black, reflecting the gleam of a beaded satin bodice, modeled by Mrs. Robert D. Ingram; Christian Dior's new mushroom jacket in forest green velvet over nylon tulle, shown by Mrs. James S. White; a frothy pink tulle for dancing, with silver and sequin trim, modeled by Mrs. E. R. Hospital Dedication Set Today At Post

POST, Sept. 27 — Formal opening of the new Garza Memorial Hospital is set for 2 p. m. here Sunday.

This $400,000 hospital, containing 24 patient beds, was completed in June and is now being dedicated. The speaker for the occasion is the Rev. T. Robert Ingram, Ableme, assistant rector of the Episcopal Church of the Heavenly Rest. The VFW post here is sponsoring the ceremonies and Johnnie U. Foster, Lufkin, state department commander for VFW, will also appear on the program.

Although there had been talk of a hospital for several years, it was not until a chamber of commerce committee made a study of possibilities in 1950 that the project moved toward reality. Bonds of $175,000 were voted and the federal government matched the amount. However, material, construction and furnishing costs had gone up so that another $50,000 had to be raised privately.

The hospital is dedicated to the memory of Garza County's war dead. Also memorialized are the late Dr. Glenn E. Kahler and the late John T. Harv, who gave the site, and Edgar Bergen, who with Charlie McCarthy, raised $4,500 in a benefit performance here.

In every respect the hospital is one of the most modern in the country, according to the American Hospital Association. Its six private and nine semi-private rooms were furnished by Garza families. The hospital contains the latest in surgical and obstetrical facilities as well as therapeutical equipment.

Administrator is Jack Rex. Active staff is comprised of Dr. D. G. Williams, Dr. A. C. Surman and Dr. Harry A. Tubbs, Post, and Dr. D. H. Jaynes, Dr. M. T. McSweeney and Dr. T. L. Talbert, Slaton, are on the visiting staff. However, the staff is open. Chief nurse is Mary Stauder.

COMMUNITY CHEST WEEK PROCLAIMED

To The Citizenship of Big Spring: The annual summons is here again for us to share equitably and fairly in the support of worthwhile training and welfare agencies. It is the week for us to respond to the call of the Community Chest.

This, your organization, appeals for sufficient support from you to take care of the year's work of five organizations—the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Salvation Army, The YMCA, and a Servicemen's Center for Big Spring.

It should be established in all our hearts by now that every single one of these organizations accomplish untold good for the morality, the stability, the future welfare of our community. It should be established in our hearts by now that our one gift for five agencies should be as generous as we possibly can make it.

Literally hundreds of our young folks are being given guidance and character development through most of these agencies. In the case of the Servicemen's Center, here is a challenge to Big Spring, as host to thousands of young men in the military, to help them find a home away from home.

In the name of decent citizenship, and in the cause of responsibility toward our youth, I am hereby proclaiming this week, Sept. 28-Oct. 4, as COMMUNITY CHEST WEEK in Big Spring, since it is the period that all of us are called upon to give promptly and openheartedly, for a quick and successful conclusion in a campaign of which we must be proud.

As mayor of your city, I request all citizens to heed the summons of this special week, and to give their fair share of time, effort and money to this eminently worthy program.

G. W. DABNEY, Mayor, City of Big Spring

Chest Drive Ready To Get Going Here

Howard County's annual "five-in-one" Community Chest campaign gets into full swing this week, which has been designated "Community Chest Week."

General county-wide canvass will start following a campaign kick-off dinner Monday at the Settles Hotel. Nearly 300 workers will conduct the drive, aiming at a completion date little more than two weeks in the future.

Victory dinner to mark successful completion of the campaign already has been scheduled for Oct. 16.

All workers are being urged to attend the kick-off banquet Monday evening at 8:30. Rep. George Mahon of the 19th Congressional District will address the group.

General Chairman Elmo Wasson and Vice Chairmen Gil Jones and Dan Krausse also will make brief remarks, distribute pledge cards and other supplies for the drive. All three stress importance of 100 per cent attendance of workers.

The campaign has been divided into four phases for the drive for $49,953 for Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, YMCA, Girl Scouts and a local Servicemen's Center. Chairman of the business and industry division is Lewis Price, while E. L. Powell is area chairman, Mr. and

Rent Control Office Reviews Its Cases Here

Steadily, all cases on file with the rent control office are being reviewed.

During the month ending Sept. 25, there were 122 rental inspections, Tom Adams, area rent director, announced.

These involved 117 cases which were processed for reductions in rent. In 78 cases, rents were actually reduced, but another 31 cases were dismissed. That left five cases for other causes.

In addition, the office handled 25 landlord petitions for increases in rents, and 24 of these were approved. Four others were dismissed, said Adams.

Of the 11 compliance cases coming before the office, nine were disposed of and two were left pending.

Out of the 78 cases processed for rent reductions, 114 were appealed to the rent advisory board which may consider the cases this week.

Still remaining to be investigated are 278 "sore thumb" cases, Adams disclosed. These are cases, spotted because of requests from either tenant or landlord or because of the record, which need checking.

Usually they are cases which appear to need checking with comparable facilities and conditions.

To further familiarize the public with the activities of the rent office, Adams said a series of radio programs would start next week.

Members of the advisory board, to whom many of the problems are submitted, are Hollis L. Shirley, J. D. Elliott, Curtis Choate, W. D. Berry and William R. Dawes.

W. M. HATTON

Eagles Advisor To Speak Today

W. M. (Bill) Hatton, legislative advisor for the Fraternal Order of Eagles for the Texas-Louisiana bi-state area, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of District 4 to be held in Big Spring this afternoon at 2 at the Eagles Hall.

Hatton is also state conductor of the Lodge. He is an attorney in Houston.

Attending the meeting will be representatives of the lodges in San Angelo, Midland, Odessa, Amarillo and Big Spring.

All local members of the Eagles, their wives and members of the auxiliary are invited to attend.

Stanton Bank Files Suit In 118th Court

The First National Bank of Stanton brought suit against Charles Eberley Friday in 118th District Court to foreclose on a deed of trust lien.

The petition alleges that Eberley delivered a deed of trust note to the bank for $81,000 on April 29 for payment in three months. It further alleges that Eberley delivered the deed of trust on July 18, and that payment is overdue.

The bank asks that judgment be given for the debt and that foreclosure of deed of trust lien be authorized. The land involved is section 5, block 34, tp. 2 south, T&P surveys in Howard and Glasscock counties and section 44 and north 1/2 of section 45 in block 34 in tasp.1 south, T&P surveys, Howard County.

Choate said the cases would be spread out over next week. He did not know which would be scheduled first.

Phone Company Seeks Damages

SCVAK Telephone Company of Coahoma filed suit in the 118th District Court Friday for $20,000 damages against W. A. Hunter of Coahoma and C. E. Orr and B. J. Caudle of Big Spring.

The petition claims that Hunter entered a binding contract with W. D. Berry, SCVAK president, to sell the Coahoma Telephone Exchange to SCVAK for $10,000.

SCVAK claims an additional $2,000 was paid Hunter in a supplementary contract extending time of payment for 60 days. SCVAK claims that while the contract was in force, Hunter sold the exchange to Orr and Caudle for "about $15,000" and that the City of Coahoma transferred the franchise to Orr and Caudle.

SCVAK asks that a restraining order be issued to keep the defendants from further action, and that an injunction enforcing the original and supplemental contracts be issued.

Judge Charles Sullivan has set trial date for Oct. 2 at 9 a. m.

It's the spontaneous giving that cheers the volunteers with the Community Chest.

Like a gift that came Friday, Mrs. Kate Norton and Miss Sally Norton came from their home, 407 Bell Street, to deliver their contribution to the Chest office at 117 1/2 Runnels. They didn't wait for solicitation.

"We are most grateful for this generosity," said Campaign Chairman Elmo Wasson. "If all our citizens were like the Nortons, you could be assured that the Chest campaign would be a resounding success."

Second report of special gifts workers was heard at Chest headquarters Friday, and contributions to that phase of the drive amount to approximately $12,000, although only about a third of the special gifts solicitors have reported. Chest officials expressed complete satisfaction with progress of the campaign to date.

As an example of the good response to special gifts efforts, Chairman Thurman pointed to the T&P Railway Company's contribution of $1,200—an increase of 20 per cent over last year. All contributors are being asked to raise their gifts slightly this year to help provide for the added expense of establishing a local servicemen's center.

The Big Spring residential canvass will be conducted by zones this year, with chairmen having appointed a Zone leader for each section of the city. The seven zones will be covered by some 150 workers under the captaincies of Rev. N. M. McCarter, David Gomez, Mrs. J. E. Parker, Mrs. Truman Jones, Harold Davis, Mrs. D. O. Newsum, Mrs. Milton Talbot, Mrs. W. C. Blankenship and Mrs. Harold Steek.

Area and business and industry solicitations also will be conducted by "teams."

Picking Up Of Trash On Roads Is Expensive

It's against the law to toss cans, bottles or other trash on highways, but apparently a lot of people don't believe it.

The Texas Highway Department here would be hard to convince that some people, and particularly those who quaff beer along the road, aren't oblivious to the law.

Although one truck is in constant operation cleaning up the worst spots as well as attending to sign maintenance, Sam McComb, maintenance engineer here, had a complete clean up run across the county on U. S. 80.

In 16 days, two men and a driver gathered 184 cubic yards of trash, 35 per cent of it beer cans and most of the rest bottles. This did not include cans which had been flattened and were therefore too difficult to gather.

Average cost of gathering the refuse was $4.69 per cubic yard, said McComb, or a total of $864.99 for this sustained clean up of the right-of-way. McComb ran the pickup as a sort of test over the 30-mile stretch.

"We have 170 miles of state maintained roads in Howard County," he observed. "You can see what the cost of getting over all of it would run into."

The department is doing the next best thing. The highway sign maintenance man has been given two helpers who comprise a sort of clean up crew along U. S. 80 and U. S. 87. They make no effort to pick up single cans or bottles, but they do stop and pick up cases and piles of the trash.

"They go out in a different direction each day," according to McComb. "When they return at night, they always have a load of cans."

Odds that a state highway patrolman will catch someone tossing cans out of the car are mathematically small in the first place, and they shrink even more in the face of the reality that most drivers can spot the patrolman's car with uncanny accuracy. For that reason McComb thinks some other line of attack must be made on the problem if it is to be minimized.

Changes Noted In VA Hospital Personnel Here

A number of changes are being made in Big Spring VA Hospital personnel, including management.

Dr. L. B. Andrew, hospital manager, is to leave Thursday for Birmingham, Ala., where he will be manager of a new VA hospital, his secretary, Carolyn Murphy, will leave Oct. 10 for the same station. New manager hasn't been announced.

Kay Curran, occupational therapist, is being transferred to a similar position with a federal hospital at Salt Lake City. Gerald Turner, veterans service officer, is moving his state office to the McKinney VA medical center. Wendell Allen, bacteriologist, resigned and left Saturday for Wichita, Kans., where he will be associated with a private medical clinic.

Nurse Jean Richardson, who recently resigned her VA Hospital position, has enlisted in the Air Force. She is assigned to the medical section at Webb Air Force Base as a first lieutenant.

New to the hospital staff are Rex M. Bishop, corrective therapist, who is to arrive this week to fill a position formerly held by Roy Crumley, who resigned; Mrs. Adelyne M. Holbert, chief dietitian replacing Pauline Pottling who also resigned; and Dorothy L. Grants and Ocie F. Newton, new nurses.

VA Officials Due To Visit Hospital

Two area Veterans Administration officials are to visit the local VA Hospital in the next few days. George A. Walker, St. Louis, medical rehabilitation supervisor, is to be here for a survey of physical medicine activities. He will conduct the survey Wednesday and Thursday.

Due Oct. 10 for an inspection of electro-medical equipment is John T. Barrow, equipment man for the VA.

Give This Week From The Heart In Supporting Community Chest

If you were to sit down and list some of the great assets of Big Spring and Howard County, what would you include?

Too many of us would start out with some physical and material things in which we may take due pride because of the economic contributions and implications. Most of us would list our churches and our schools then we would add such things as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the YMCA, Salvation Army and similar agencies.

It so happens that the latter agencies, plus one for servicemen, are those which are supported through our Community Chest. If they are assets — and there can be little argument about that — then they are worthy of the support of everyone who is a part of the community.

Purely from a negative or rather a defensive point of view, the Chest agencies deserve your support. It is far cheaper to you individually, whether you realize it or not, to prevent through various programs of activity the trouble that might come to some youths through idleness and lack of guidance.

Fortunately, the approach need not be negative. It is true that money invested in the Chest is actually money saved in support of enforcement and corrective costs. Better than that, money invested in the Chest plants within the minds of hundreds of our young people the positive precepts of Christian character, of initiative and good citizenship, of wholesome activity and individual responsibility.

In the final analysis, they are aiming at strengthening our society today at some of the points where it most needs bulwarking.

Now the Community Chest has little meaning unless it has a definite meaning to you. Whether you like it or not, the responsibility of supporting these worthwhile things is as much yours — and probably more so if you have children or have friends who have children — as it is the person who has been blessed with a lot of this world's goods. The fact that we can't give a big contribution shouldn't be used as an excuse for not giving at all.

There is hardly an individual who couldn't somehow spare at least a day's pay for five deserving agencies that will attempt to spread that contribution over a whole year. Many can and will give much more than that.

But the story of genuine success of the Chest will be written in the extent to which you and you and you help it, not in whether it exceeds its goal.

Big or small, won't you please give from the heart this week? Won't you look for a reason and not an excuse? Please.

Business Outlook—J. A. Livingston

Lewis Tops Murray In Wages, But Not In Economic Powers

John L. Lewis has done it again. He has got more for his United Mine Workers than his arch rival, Philip Murray, got for his United Steelworkers.

After a 32-day strike, Murray came out with a package worth about 21 cents an hour, of which 16 cents was wages and 5 cents fringe benefits. That was a July 1947 package. Lewis' package came to about 22 cents an hour. It consists of a wage increase of $1.90 a day (24 cents an hour) plus a 10 cents a ton increase in the royalty paid into the miners' welfare and retirement fund, bringing it to 46 cents a ton. A miner digs about 6 1/2 tons of coal a day, so the increased royalty amounts to about 8 cents an hour.

During the postwar period, Lewis has outdistanced Murray by about three cents to two. Specifically, his gains in wages and benefits have amounted to $1.45 an hour, Murray's to 93 1/2 cents, as follows:

Year	Steel	Coal
1946	18 1/2c	24c
1947	15c	35c
1948	13c	20 1/2c
1948-50	10c (pension)	16 1/2c
1950-51	16c	17c
1952	21c	32c

93 1/2c 145c

Lewis' glory isn't all that the comparison makes it. He's master of a declining union and industry. Employment in coal rose from 396,000 miners in 1899 to 922,000 in 1923, and has been going down intermittently since. Today, some 467,000 miners are at work.

Murray is the leader in an expanding industry. Employment in the basic iron and steel industry is up from 230,000 in 1899 to an all-time high at 546,000. Nor is that all of Murray's empire. He takes in steel fabricating.

The decline in coal—Lewis' power—is indicated by the diminishing dependence of the country on bituminous coal and anthracite for power. Back in 1900, 89 per cent of the nation's energy was derived from coal. In this modern era of natural gas and petroleum, coal delivers only 40 per cent of the nation's energy. Whereas, consumption of coal per capita is down from 4.5 tons in 1918 to 2.7 tons today, steel consumption per capita is up from one-half ton to two-thirds of a ton.

Lewis must make the best of that decline—for his miners. During the negotiations, the story went 'round that he wanted a three-day work week with penalty overtime pay for the fourth and fifth days. Lewis has denied this, and twitted the newspapers for printing a "prat." He implied that southern operators, who run marginal mines, put out the rumor.

Lewis does want a shorter work week, though. He proposed to Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association—the northern group—a pay increase of $75 a day for a seven-hour day. Moses wouldn't agree. He represents steel-company mines, among others. They need a full 8-hour day. Lewis made a concession: 7 1/4 hours and $1.80 a day increase in pay. When Moses took that to his principals, they objected. Moses bought off the 15 minutes for an additional 10 cents a day in wages.

Neither Moses nor Lewis could afford a strike. It was the first real test of their ability to get along with one another. The Bituminous Coal Operators Association was founded in the fall of 1950. Lewis was partial to the idea. Moses had been U. S. Steel's "coal" man. He was a man who talked Lewis' language and vice versa. Inference: They'd get along. They reached an agreement in 1951 quickly. That was almost pro forma.

This year, Lewis notified Moses that the contract would end September 22. That was nine days before the termination notice to Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association. Presumably, he counted on a settlement with Moses and a fait accompli with Moody.

Trouble Caused By Firewater

Mary Jewison was happy in her marriage with the Shawnee warrior, She-nin-jee. Several children were born to the couple, and the young white woman almost forgot that she had been made a captive during her childhood.

In general she felt well pleased with life, but she missed her husband deeply when he spent weeks or months on hunting trips. At length there came a journey from which he failed to return. Other warriors reported that he had died.

Mourning followed. Mary took care of her children, and did the usual outdoor work of an Indian woman, but felt that she never could get over her feeling of loss.

Four years passed, and then came an offer of marriage. A Seneca chief, who had visited the Shawnee tribe, now wanted the white woman to be his wife.

This chief was named Hi-o-ja-loo. His offer was accepted, and he took her to his wigwam, along side the Genesee River in western New York. She was treated fairly well by her new husband, but his nature was less kind than that of She-nin-jee. White men were selling firewater to the Senecas, and the chief found a quick liking for the drink. Time and again he fell into a sleepy state after taking firewater. On other days his tongue was loosed, and he spoke more roughly than was his custom.

Mary Jewison lived to the age of 91. Her second husband died during her lifetime, and so did her sons. I am sorry to relate that the sons, as well as the Indian chief, were victims of firewater. One son fell into a quarrel with another young warrior, and his death was the result.

Despite her troubles, Mary enjoyed being in the Seneca tribe. More than once she had full freedom to go back to live among the whites, but always she chose to stay with the Indians. They were her friends, and at an early age she adopted their religion.

After the end of the American Revolution, the Iroquois found themselves pressed more and more for space. Many of them moved to Canada, where the government provided land in southern Ontario. Others were placed on reservations in the state of New York, also in Wisconsin. To the end of her life, Mary Jewison remained in the valley of the Genesee River.

Spotlighting A Week Of News

Nixon Ought To Have More Expense Funds; Publicity Does The Party Good

By FRED GREENE

Sen. Richard B. Nixon, Republican vice-presidential candidate, took the Spotlight this week when he stepped before a nation-wide radio and television audience to explain in detail an expense fund set up for him by a group of Californians.

Nixon, fighting for his political life, defended his acceptance of this fund, insisting he did no wrong since the money actually was spent by others in his behalf, rather than his taking such money from the government to pay expenses.

Democratic Presidential Nominee Gov. Adlai Stevenson apparently recognized this point and told the American people not to prejudice Nixon until all the facts were made public.

Nixon, following Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's insistence that his running mate "come clean as a hound's tooth," bared the details to show that no illegal use of the funds was made.

Stevenson later had no comment. Other Democrats did have comment, but no evidence was brought forth that Nixon misused the expense fund donated by wealthy Californians.

As a matter of fact, Stevenson himself became embroiled in an expense fund hassle. It seems the Illinois governor promoted a special fund to help pay additional salaries to appointees so that he could acquire better caliber men to help run the state government.

And just like the Democrats, the Republicans began to holler. However, GOP howling was not quite as loud inasmuch as the party sought to play down the Nixon fund issue.

Boiling it all down, it appears that the Republicans have reaped considerable good, not to mention publicity, from the entire affair. In quick sequence after the revelation of this fund, Nixon decried "smear" efforts by the Democrats. Ike insisted his mate come clean. Nixon addressed the nation. Eisenhower withheld judgement, though leaning toward Nixon's side. Ike met with Nixon at Wheeling, W. Va. Republican national committee members unanimously behind Nixon. Ike retains Nixon as a running mate and they both go off on their tours.

And who ever heard of Sen. John J. Sparkman?

Why Sparkman is the Democratic vice-presidential nominee. In other words, Nixon's doing fine. People are responding to his plea that he did no wrong by firmly announcing their intent to stand behind the Californian.

We don't believe the GOP at first relished the news of this Nixon fund. The Democrats persisted in stressing it. However, the Grand Old Party must now be happy.

A lot of people, previously on the fence, did not much like Democratic attacks on Sen. Nixon without first giving him a chance to explain as did Gov. Stevenson.

Many Democrats forgot they had some dirty linen of their own to wash out. Even Adlai joined in the fun.

All of which added more people to the Republican roster, awakened others to the need for actively taking part in the campaign and most important, brought about more unity within the Republican party than heretofore was thought possible.

Perhaps overlooked, too, is the idea that Ike, by insisting his mate come clean and not blindly defending him until he knew Nixon was not illegally involved, demonstrated his (Ike's) intentions to demand clean government from all segments of his party.

So the furor dies down, but many Americans are going to show more interest in a candidate who stood up to fight, rather than just another vice-presidential nominee.

T. Lamar Caudle, ousted as an assistant attorney general by President Truman for improper conduct, continued to testify before a congressional committee looking into the Justice Department.

Although much of the testimony is the same old story, one explosive session was held. Caudle said former Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, once booted by the President, knew enough about the White House to blow it sky-high. Existence of a clique in the executive mansion was also claimed.

Mr. Truman, of course, denied the existence of a clique and also said he was not sorry he ousted Caudle.

Korea continues to assume a good portion of the Spotlight's glare, though the only real action is on the warfront.

After heavy rainfalls this week, American Sabre Jets took to the skies again and raised their record toll of Enemy MIG-15 kills to 58 for the month. This far surpasses any previous month's bag.

The truce talks started and adjourned before anyone could say Jack Robinson. Seems propaganda harangues are all the Reds could give out with vocally.

Other news in the Spotlight: Secretary of State Dean Acheson entered the political arena when he scored Gen. Eisenhower for his attacks on the Administration's Korean policy. According to Acheson, Ike was in agreement with the "defense perimeter" views as expressed by Acheson. The secretary of state said the general helped form his attitude while chief of state.

A French submarine with 48 men aboard sank this week. No explanation was given and no hope was held for survivors.

"Operation Mainbrace," gigantic North Atlantic Treaty Organization naval maneuvers in the Baltic area came to an end. "Successful," was the term used by officials.

Trygve Lie, UN secretary general, reportedly will not serve in that capacity at the end of his present term in 1954. Lie is said to desire to retire to his home in Norway, perhaps someday becoming its prime minister.

President Truman still believes that public officials should give an accounting of their income.

Judy Holliday, Oscar winner for her movie performance in "Born Yesterday," told a congressional committee that she had her eyes opened when she found out what Communism meant. Judy previously had lent her name to Red-tainted groups. The testimony was released in a committee report.

SESGI Organization Proposed; The Women Will Encourage It

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Come now a proposal for the establishment of a Society for the Encouragement of Southern Gentlemen, Inc.

The first conception of this, I understand, was in the crowded cities where members of this society would identify themselves by offering their seats to the ladies on public conveyances.

But why limit this noble cause to public conveyances? Why not encourage Southern Gentlemen any and everywhere? Why not encourage 'em all over the place?

Why not get 'em buttons (to wear after the campaign is over) with the letters SESGI. Then when the curious inquire as to the meaning of the letter, the true Southern Gentleman (Inc.) will reply, in all courtesy, as he tips his hat:

"I am a Seggi. That means I treat the ladies like a gentleman—I mean like a gentleman should. I give them my seat on public conveyances."

"I go much further than that. I am even a gentleman to my wife. I put down my paper at the breakfast table and answer most civilly when a silly question is asked. I refrain from caustic comment on her latest plunge into that mad, mad world of feminine millinery. I even agree when she parades the hat and asks, 'Don't you think this is cute?' I do not even ask her the price."

"I do not say a word when the silk stockings hanging on the shower rod flap me in the face as I attempt to grope my way into the tub."

"I do not lose my temper when she brings up for the fifteenth time that the flower beds have not been spaded. I have patience with her when she seems to doubt my assertion that I have a pain in my back and am in no condition to spade."

"I pat her affectionately when she tells me that the bank has called about an overdraft, and that the silly old bank has made a mistake again."

"I sit patiently, even enjoying the long meditation, as I wait for her to 'powder her nose,' when we are already 20 minutes late getting to some social gathering."

"I laugh heartily when, on a trip, she is reading the road map and tells me to take the wrong turn; I even say 'a good joke on us' when we discover this 84 miles and two hours later."

"I throw away my old clothes every time she tells me to, and refuse to clutter up our (7) closet with my favorite old jackets and hats."

"I thoroughly enjoy the search for a particular pair of socks just after she has straightened up my bureau drawer. I commend her for her neatness."

"I am flattered no end in being able to explain the intricacies of the game when we attend a football game together. I revel in her questions. Her 'where are the wings, and how can some boys get by with a single wing, when others have to have double wings?'"

"When she bumps one fender into the garage door, I commend her warmly for not having bumped both fenders into both doors."

"Yes, I am a Seggi. Would you like to join? The only obligation is that you be a Southern Gentleman at all times."

"By this time your other party is either prone in a dead faint, or is three blocks down the street, yelling 'madman.'"

"Oh, well, it's a good dream gals, if you can make it come true. Next time your husband acts the heel he really is, tell him to go join the Seggies."

I bow today to a superior. You remember a couple of weeks ago I wrote some stirring phrases, trying to show how our conversation sounds?

Well, Charles (Happy) Kee, the estimable reporter on the 11th District Court, has done me one better. He was good enough to read my piece, and write me a letter about it. He said that the same thing takes place in the courtroom, and this makes it pretty tough on the reporter. Kee's illustration:

"Yorhonor, Iobjectathat, Irevellntimaterialimproper, calcalateda nfiama minsahajury prejreduem aganlasta rightsadefenat; askourtaia nstruckjury notacnsiderit franypurpose."

The difference is, I wasn't too upset by all this Texas talk, while it is a serious matter with Happy Kee. Wish you lawyers would try to improve your speech a little.

GOP Faction Seeks To Get Close To Ike; Byrnes Suggested Adlai

WASHINGTON — A bitter power struggle is going on aboard the Eisenhower train. It's the usual struggle to get close to the man who may be the next President — except that its roots go deep down inside the Republican party.

The struggle is between Arthur Summerfield, Old-Guard pro-Taft chairman of the Republican National Committee, and Governor Sherman Adams, who soundly defeated Taft in the first primary in the nation — New Hampshire.

Ordinarily the national chairman of neither party seldom travels on a campaign train with the presidential candidate. It's a duplication of effort. He stays at headquarters to direct 48 different state campaigns and supervise national strategy. This is a backbreaking job and the man who does it has to be near the telephone 24 hours a day, not on a train where he can be reached only two or three times a day.

However, Senator Taft, the man behind Chairman Summerfield, privately advised him: "You can't control a candidate unless you're with him."

So Taft urged that Summerfield stick closer to the train, which is what the chairman is doing.

Behind this is: 1. Taft's resentment against Gov. Adams, the man who beat him in New Hampshire; 2. The isolationist issue which runs deep through the party.

Taft leads the isolationists; Gov. Adams is a leader of the internationalists.

So what Taft is trying to do is push Adams out of the picture. Right now he is engaged in putting another Taft friend on the Eisenhower strategy board. This is in accordance with the agreement reached with Eisenhower at Morningside Heights, when the general offered to put a Taft representative on his board. At first Taft offered the position to his cousin, Dave Ingalls, but Dave declined. Now Taft wants Paul Walter, one of Taft's campaign managers in Ohio.

NOTE — It's interesting that Summerfield, long a power in Michigan politics, originally battled at the Michigan state Republican convention for Taft. But he switched to Eisenhower when General Motors, with which he is connected as a Chevrolet dealer, turned on the heat. As a result, Summerfield was one of the key men in delivering the Chicago convention to the general, but now he is back with his old love — Taft. "A politician, like a leopard," remarked one GOP observer, "Doesn't change its spots."

Governor Jimmy Byrnes of South Carolina, who recently swore off Stevenson, is the man who first recommended Stevenson to Jack Arvey of Chicago. At a luncheon on Capitol Hill in the summer of 1947 Jimmy Byrnes told Arvey:

"There is a great Democrat in Illinois right under your nose. His name is Adlai Stevenson."

"Stevenson? Who's he?" replied Jack Arvey.

Byrnes, who served as war mobilizer, got to know Stevenson when he was assistant to Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and later worked in the State Department.

Ohio Republicans clamored aboard the Eisenhower bandwagon as it rolled across the Buckeye State—but not until their political chief, Senator Bob Taft, got on first . . . The two Tafts, Bob and Charlie, almost stole the show away from Eisenhower. At many stops, Bob got a bigger roar out of the crowd, and Charlie, running for governor, outginned the general . . .

Remarkable Mayor James Rhodes of Columbus in the celebrities' car: "Dave Ingalls and Paul Walter (Taft's Chicago campaign managers) have taken off their black arm bands." . . . The big Taft purse, which had been snapped shut after Taft lost the nomination, has also been pried open. The Ohio money raisers reported privately to Eisenhower aboard the train that the state had just about met its campaign quota. Yet less than three weeks ago, the same money raisers could hardly find an Eisenhower nickel in Ohio . . . One interesting figure who slipped aboard the Eisenhower train in Ohio was Harvey Firestone Jr. . . . In the celebrities' car, Senator Taft ribbed the state GOP chairman, Ray Bliss, about his feud with Ohio's congressman-at-large, George Bender. The two argued at an Eisenhower banquet over a month ago, but the feud is still hot. When the Eisenhower train pulled into Bender's home town, Cleveland, Bliss started looking for an exit that would take him around Bender.

General Ike sauntered out of his private car and visited with the Ohio politicians two cars back. Newsmen were kept out as Ike chatted about meeting a Wellington, Ohio, man in France 25 years ago. Eisenhower was a major at that time, and made an official call at the American embassy in Paris. An Ohio man, Myron T. Herrick, was then the ambassador. It seemed that France was going through an inflation panic, and Herrick had roused French public opinion by purchasing an expensive French house with Frances. What Herrick was trying to do, Eisenhower told the Ohio politicians, was show his faith in the Franc. But the French people took it the wrong way.

Lunch with cardinal — When Governor Stevenson lunched with Cardinal Spellman in New York the other day, it was on a rebound. He had previously asked to pay his respects to the cardinal, but the latter remained aloof — though friendly with General Eisenhower. Meanwhile, Cardinal Stritch in Chicago has been one of the governor's most enthusiastic friends, and later Cardinal Spellman warmed up too. Ike's statement about a crusade up the Cromwell hasn't helped him with the Irish who've read their history books.

Bible Words to Live by

The following is a scriptural text of special significance to me.

LUKE 9:23—"If any man will come after Me, let him take up his cross daily and follow Me."

Some time ago, I had the opportunity to visit the Tower of London. I was particularly impressed by a single, meaningful sentence carved by a prisoner on the wall of a cell over three hundred years ago. It read: "It is not adversity that kills, but the impatience with which we bear adversity."

In merely rebelling against trouble or affliction we often do little more than make a bad situation worse. It is much more sensible to do something to correct an evil insofar as you can and take the rest with patience.

Christ, Who gladly suffered so much for each of us, expects you and me to be cheerful in meeting adversity.

THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

As spick and span as Shine Philip's prescription counter!

That's the way the boys say they want to have the new buildings of the Howard County Fair Association when the Farm Bureau meets there Tuesday evening.

The first three days of the week crews of not less than 10 men a day put in full days cleaning around both buildings, putting in the racks and concrete walks in the livestock barn, painting and finishing up the pig pens and feed alleys. There are still a few finishing touches to be added and these will be made by the time the 4-H and FFA pig show opens Wednesday afternoon.

There is the space for 50 head of cattle in the barn. Just now this space has been converted into stalls with removable panels for the pig show.

The men who have given their time and building talents (and advice) to the program included J. H. Fuller, Doris Blisard, Gra dy Cross, Charlie Creighton, Rexie Cagle, James Cagle, R. V. Fryar, Edgar Phillips, Lloyd Connell, R. J. Shortes, Robert Massey and Durward Lewter.

Also Floyd White, Jesse Brooks, Melvin Choate, James Wrenn, L. J. Davidson, Jeff Grant, Raymond Phillips, J. D. Dempsey, John Tovar, Jack Marion and E. W. Lomax.

Feed alleys and space for the exhibitors to store their gear has been provided behind partitions to which the tie rings are fastened. Spectators will not have to step off elevated concrete walks to see every animal in the barn. The wash rack will accommodate at least four large steers at a time. An efficient trap has been constructed to clean out the wash rack drain when necessary.

No matter how bad the sand blows Howard County now has a clean, comfortable place in which to hold the various livestock shows and sales.

The first of these livestock events will be the seventh annual 4-H and FFA Pig Show Wednesday and Thursday, which is being sponsored by the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The pigs must be weighed in before 5 p.m. Wednesday and judging will start at 8:30 a.m. Thursday. The sale will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

There will be six classes of swine in the 4-H and FFA division of the show. These will be heavy weight and light weight market hogs, with a prize of $10.00 for first place and down to $1.00 for the tenth place animal in each group; the grand champion market hog will win $10.00 for his owner, and the reserve champion market hog is good for a $5.00 prize.

There is a $5.00 prize for the best breeding gilt and prizes run down to $1.00 for the fifth place gilt. There will be three prizes for breeding boars, $5.00, $4.00 and $3.00.

In connection with this show there will also be the annual show for Duroc gilts won by 4-H'ers through the Sears Foundation program. This part of the program will be divided into two sections—the county show and the area show, the latter including the winners of the Martin County Sears Foundation show held at Stanton yesterday morning.

Heretofore the Sears Foundation Shows have been covered in this column. Not listed, however, have been the names of the Howard County 4-H boys who will have pens of three pigs to exhibit. They are Jerry Iden, John Tovar, Bobby Grant, Norman Donelson and Delbert Donelson.

The pigs in these "pens of three" are from the first litter from the Sears Foundation gilts the boys won in the Sears Foundation program for 1951. They must have fed out these pigs themselves.

The best Howard County pen of three, the best Howard County 1952 gilt and the Howard County 1952 boar pig will meet the best of Martin County for the area championships.

Two carloads of the government drought disaster emergency hay shipped into Howard County have been condemned because of quality and the hay is being stored pending disposal orders from the state office of the PMA.

Purchasers are not required to take hay that does not come up to specifications, says Gabe Hammack, county PMA administrative officer. Most of the buyers, he says, are well pleased with the hay, although some cars have been right loaded even though the hay in these cars is of acceptable quality.

Down around Fort Worth they say: "It ain't hay, but the ranchers are taking it, anyway." Feed dealers and men with livestock to feed in that area say the general opinion around there seems to be that if the cattlemen were being offered the same quality of hay at the same price by the commercial dealers, that they wouldn't take it.

The government hay has also disrupted the commercial market in the Fort Worth area and hay dealers there are making an effort to get the government to take the hay they have stocked off their hands, but are being told this cannot be done.

Both dealers and feeders admit this government hay being received in Fort Worth area isn't up to the standards to which they are accustomed, and even though it is different, the feeders are taking it anyhow. It's $20.00 a ton cheaper than top grade legume hay and the feeder puts up $5.00 a ton forfeit money when he orders it.

On the whole, however, according to the state PMA office, the hay is generally satisfactory. In all the PMA has forwarded orders for more than 70,000 tons for Texas cattle and sheep ranchers and dairymen.

Members of the Jaycee's pig sale committee are Durward Lewter, W. L. Thompson, Jack Buchanan, George Elliott, Mercer Simms, Commodore Ryan, Glenn Gale and Culin Grigsby.

Thirty pigs will be passed through the ring.

Some men well known in the world of Herefords were in Big Spring during the week, looking over some of the fine Howard County Whitefaces, including some of the club steers headed for the Texas State Fair and the American Royal at Kansas City.

The visitors were H. A. Fitzhugh, manager, and Joe Straus Jr., partner, from the Straus Medina Hereford Ranch at San Antonio, and Ed Gardner, registered Hereford breeder from Carrizo Springs.

HIGHLIGHTS ON KBST

Pro Football Tilts On Local Station

Arrangements were completed this week for KBST to broadcast all this season's pro football games played by the Dallas Texans, the Lone Star state's new entry in the big grid leagues. First play by play broadcast will be heard this afternoon at 2:15, when the Texans open conference play against the New York Giants in the Cotton Bowl.

The season's schedule calls for 11 games to be aired over the local station.

COLLEGE GAMES

Two of the nation's top collegiate grid games are on the schedule for KBST this coming week end. The Texas-Notre Dame clash at Memorial Stadium in Austin will be aired Saturday, beginning at 1:30 p.m. On Saturday night, at 8 o'clock, the SMU-Georgia Tech tilt will be heard.

POLITICAL TALKS

The Democratic National Committee has scheduled three quarter-hour programs over KBST during this week. These political programs will be heard at 2:45-3 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Roberts Stresses Individual's Role In Course Of Government

A decision on the course of government in this nation is coming and it won't be made in Congress, the state legislature, by heads of business or of labor unions, but rather by the everyday activities of individuals.

This was the premise from which Delmar Roberts, Las Cruces, N.M. farmer, talked in a Citizenship Week address before the Jaycees American Business, Lions and Business and Professional Women's Clubs at the Settles Friday.

Roberts declared what he said was a drift into socialistic fields and into the philosophy of big government. He stood up for social security and old age assistance, then warned that there was a thin line between those things which provided freedom from want and fear and those which were socialistic. The New Mexico operator, who is on a number of farm and other boards, was disturbed by a change in philosophy of government, from that of the government being servant of the people to that of bigger and bigger government.

With six per cent of population, seven per cent of land, the United States has 94 per cent of the world's output, he said, which is a "considerable record." A system which has accomplished this ought not be changed lightly, he added.

Roberts scored the national health program, the Brannan plan, and price controls as socialistic. The issue today is "whether we are ready for the next step which will be disguised and presented in its most salable form."

To be against such programs, he contended, was not to be negative in attitude but rather to be positive for freedom.

"I'm against bollworms because I'm for cotton," he asserted.

The line of action suggested by

Roberts is to "inform yourselves on issues, to unwrap the package before we buy, to take group action."

Because freedom is after all an individual matter it must start with the individual. Roberts rapped those who are abstractly for holding the line "but don't let it start with me."

The issue of freedom will hinge upon "practicing what we preach and preaching what we practice," he said. Howard Schwarzenbach, ABC club president, presided at the joint meeting, and Truman Jones, president of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced Roberts. Invocation was by W. A. Hunt and Darrell Block furnished music. Citizenship Week was a jointly sponsored activity between the Chamber of Commerce, West Texas Chamber of Commerce and National Cotton Council.

School Children Planning Trip To Dallas State Fair

Success of last year's weekend trip to the State Fair in Dallas has stimulated plans for another trip for school children.

Dorothy Davis, principal of Kate Morrison School, said that a bus would be chartered to leave here the evening of Oct. 10 and return the following evening after a day at the fair.

While all school children are invited to register, Mrs. Davis is particularly anxious to have as many of the Latin-American students to go as possible.

Last year there were 29 of the Latin-American children who made the bus trip. The bus will accommodate 39 passengers and if there are more, it is possible another bus can be secured, said Mrs. Davis.

Six teachers will make the trip. Fare for the trip is $7 and it could be less, depending upon the number. There may be several cases of Kate Morrison children who are unable to go but who are worthy of help. If there are those who would like to provide a fare for some child, they can see or phone Mrs. Davis or Jesse Mendoza.

New Bible Is To Be Issued Next Tuesday

By GEORGE CORNELL

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—American Protestants have a new Bible. Its completion climaxes a 15-year project, backed by 40 denominations.

A million copies—described as the biggest first edition in book publishing history—will be issued next Tuesday.

"This will be one of the most important religious events of the century," said Dr. Philip C. Landers, administrative secretary of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.

Advance copies were released today.

The council is sponsoring publication of the new Bible, called the "revised standard version"—the first revision in 51 years.

Thirty-two biblical scholars have been at work on it since 1937 under supervision of Dr. Luther A. Welge, dean emeritus of Yale University Divinity School.

Catholic scholars still are at work on a new Bible translation—the first eight books of which will be published Monday in a special volume. It is the first translation undertaken by the American Catholic clergy.

Hundreds of Protestant churches will begin using their completed, revised Bible in services and Sunday schools within a few weeks.

It aims to correct old errors and clarify obscure usages, without losing the dignity of the King James language. It contains numerous general changes.

The "est" and "eth" suffixes on verbs have been eliminated. Obsolete pronouns such as "thee" and "thou" have been converted to "you," except in prayers addressed to God.

Modern substitutes have replaced archaic usages such as "would fain" and "aforetime" and "unto." In Genesis, all those "begat" phrases have been changed to "became the father of" phrases.

The creation story speaks of "the great sea monsters" that were put in the ancient seas instead of "the great whales."

In Psalms 8:5, the famous verse, as revised, reads that man was made a "little less than God," instead of the old way, "a little lower than the angels."

About the only change in the 23rd Psalm is the use of "my cup overflows" for "my cup runneth over" and the starting of the phrase "yea, though I walk..." with "Even though I walk..."

The widely quoted Ecclesiastes 1:9 which in the old form reads, "There is no new thing under the sun," is converted to the popular expression, "There is nothing new under the sun."

In the new book, John 14:2 says, "In my father's house are many rooms," instead of "many mansions." Much of the lofty old language is reduced to schoolboy simplicity, as in 2nd Timothy 2:5, which is changed from this:

"And if a man also strive for masteries, yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully."

To this: "An athlete is not crowned unless he competes according to the rules."

Lawyers Bring Suit To Secure Payment

Clyde E. Thomas and George T. Thomas, attorneys, brought suit in County Court Friday against Taylor Anderson and E. W. Anderson for services rendered totaling $500.

The two attorneys claim that the Anderson brothers did not pay the fees for legal work when suing Leonard Lyons for stock in radio station KTXC.

Drama At The Circus

Betty Hutton and Charlton Heston in a dramatic scene from "The Greatest Show On Earth." This, of course, would be about the Ringling Circus, and the picture contains all the thrills of the big top, as produced by the master of the spectacle, Cecil B. DeMille. Dorothy Lamour, James Stewart, Cornel Wilde and Gloria Grahame are others in the cast of the Technicolor opus. "The Greatest Show On Earth" comes as a roadshow attraction to the Ritz Thursday, to play a week.

Country Style

Leo Gorcey—better known as "Mugs"—is shown above with two country girls in a scene from "Feudin' Fools," latest Bowery Boys production. The show will be at the State Theatre today and Monday. Action centers around a feud between the Jones clan and the Smith clan, which the boys move into upon inheriting a southern "plantation." Somehow the Smiths think the boys are members of the Jones clan, and the shooting begins.

Time Out

Constance Smith and Richard Widmark take time out from fire fighting in the movie "Red Skies of Montana," shown at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. Widmark plays a "smoke jumper" with the U.S. Forest Service, and Miss Smith plays his wife. Jeffrey Hunter also has a leading part in the movie as a member of Widmark's parachute crew. Both men distrust the other's courage in fighting fires.

Merry?

Lana Turner and Fernando Lamas look dead serious in this scene from the movie, "The Merry Widow," which is playing today and Monday at the Ritz Theatre. Miss Turner plays the part of multi-millionaire widow, and Lamas is an amorous count after her money. The two start off at odds, but after much chasing and confusion end up in each other's arms, as above. Setting is in Paris.

LANA TURNER STARRED Dolled-Up Version Of 'Merry Widow'

Music, money and mischief are combined into a colorful love story in the movie, "The Merry Widow," which is the Sunday and Monday selection at the Ritz Theatre. Lana Turner and Fernando Lamas have the lead parts in the Technicolor production. The songs of Franz Lehár, including the famous "Merry Widow Waltz," furnish the background music. Thomas Gomez and Una Merkel are the outstanding actors in secondary parts. Gomez, who plays the part of the King, is the cause of the action—an unknown cupid. Miss Merkel plays attendant for Miss Turner.

Miss Turner is the widow of a multi-millionaire. As she is in Marshovia, the King orders Lamas—a Count—to woo and wed her for money. Lamas thinks that Miss Merkel is the widow and attempts to woo her, meanwhile falling in love with Miss Turner (who he thinks is penniless).

The straightening out of the difficulties necessitates a trip to Paris, where most of the action takes place. Visits to night clubs and balls plus a prison term and diplomatic entanglements add to the interest. Lamas displays triple talents in "The Merry Widow." He shows ability as an actor, a dancer and a singer. He has five singing sequences and four dancing scenes. Lamas has risen to stardom in the last twelve months—on two pictures. His first was "Rich, Young and Pretty," with Jane Powell, and the second was "The Law and the Lady," with Greer Garson. He is from Argentina, where he starred in 22 films.

DE MILLE OPUS OPENS THURSDAY

Thrills Of Circus Life Put In 'Greatest Show On Earth'

Hollywood talent plus real-life circus entertainment has been combined by director Cecil B. DeMille to make the movie, "The Greatest Show On Earth," which will show at the Ritz theatre starting Thursday.

The much-discussed Technicolor production stars Betty Hutton, Cornel Wilde, Charlton Heston, Dorothy Lamour, Gloria Grahame and James Stewart—and entertainers from Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey circus. "The Greatest Show" concerns the story of actual circus life—the hardships and loves of the traveling entertainers. It was filmed under the Big Top of the world's greatest circus while on actual tour. Each of the Hollywood actors do their own stunts in the movie. Betty Hutton and Cornel Wilde take to the trapeze, and Gloria Grahame plays a "elephant girl" who actually sticks her head in an elephant's mouth and under the giant animal's foot. James Stewart plays a clown in the movie, who does not take off his makeup at any time. Regular circus clowns surround Stewart, making the filming authentic. Performers from the circus which have featured spots include acrobats, tightrope walkers, clowns, acrobats, jugglers and trained animals—elephants, horses,

New Comic Pair To Be Seen In 'Gobs And Gals'

Two brand new comics will stage a take-off on the United States Navy in the moving picture, "Gobs and Gals," scheduled for the State theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. The comics are George and Bert Bernard, long time dance and pantomime artists on the stage. They began work on the movie after finishing an engagement in England. Other actors in the U. S. Navy show are Robert Hutton, Cathy Downs, Emory Parnell, Florence Marley, and Gordon Jones. Hutton plays the part of a commanding officer, and the two comics are his problem gobs. The Bernard boys, in charge of weather reports, send up balloons with the CO's name on them and ask girls finding them to send letters to the CO. Hutton is besieged with letters, candy, girls and laughter. Highlight of the show comes with the presentation of "The Ballet of the Gloves," the Bernard boys' trademarked routine. They have presented their eccentric dances at London's Palladium and the Folies Bergere in Paris. They were famous in Europe and the United States before the war.

plantations and a real feud. The movie is one of the first to get the boys out of the "big city." Dorothy Ford and Anne Kimbell furnish the feminine interest in the show—both being country lasses of the "Smith" clan. The Bowery Boys are part of the "Jones" clan—enemies of the Smiths. The "Smiths" thought all the "Joneses" were dead before the Bowery Boys came on the scene, and the Smiths attempt to send the Bowery Boys in the direction of their ancestors.

rhinoceroses, lions, gorillas, giraffes and tigers. A 300-man Hollywood troupe flew more than 20,000 miles to enact the story while circus performances were being presented. More than a half million dollars' worth of costumes, floats and decorations went into production expenses. Views of circus training quarters for winners are also in the picture, as well as roustabouts raising the Big Top and mile long parades at various towns. The movie cost DeMille more than $4,000,000 and three years planning. More than 1,400 people were actively engaged in the production, and almost 20,000 crowd extras were recruited for the parade sequences.

Science Fantasy, 'Red Planet Mars' To Be At State

A science-fiction story will be beamed on the screen of the State theatre Friday and Saturday with the motion picture "Red Planet Mars."

Starring Peter Graves and Andrea King, the movie concerns a scientist who attempts to make contact with Mars—by radio. He evidently succeeds, as a reply is sent to earth from the mysterious planet. Andrea King plays the part of Graves' wife, as well as a fellow scientist. She displays faith in her husband's attempts to make contact when others do not. The reply from Mars makes the surprise ending of the film, and in the movie the repercussions shake the world. The movie sticks close to the line of scientific realism, making no speculations as to the appearance of Martians other than to claim life on the planet.

Basis of the show was the series of radio signals which scientists bounced off the moon several years back. Outside scientific accomplishment, the purpose was to see if someone on the moon would respond to the signals. No one did.

Forest-Fire Fighters Are Dramatized

There'll be a hot time in the Ritz on Tuesday and Wednesday when Richard Widmark and Constance Smith join forces in the Technicolor production, "Red Skies of Montana."

The movie concerns the Parachute shock corps of the U. S. Forest Service fire-fighters. Widmark plays the part of the crew chief of a group of the fire troopers, and Miss Smith plays the part of his wife. As if the struggle with the fires is not enough, Twentieth Century-Fox gave Jeffrey Hunter the part of a rival trooper to Widmark. The two men question each other's courage in the face of fire. One of the fires which was staged for the movie cost $250,000 and covered seven-acres of man-made forest. The filming took place in the mountains of the northwest with full cooperation of the federal authorities.

I DON'T SEE ANYTHING WRONG, SO FAR, WITH THE PICTURE SHMARZAN MADE, AFTER HE RETURNED FROM ENGLAND. HE SEEMS HIS USUAL GREEK-GOD-LIKE SELF.!!

HE'S GONE SOFT ON US, I TELL YOU!! WAIT TILL YOU SEE THE CLOSE-UP OF HIS FEET TRAMPING THROUGH THE JUNGLE.!!

SPATS!!

IT GETS WORSE!!

LOOK AT THAT HAND!!

SLAVE BRACELETS!! GET THAT BIG HAM IN HERE!!

YES, GENTLEMEN?

WHAT'S COME OVER YOU, SHMARZAN, TERROR OF THE JUNGLE?—WHAT ARE THE KIDS WHO IDOLIZE YOU GONNA THINK, WHEN THEY SEE YOU DRESSED LIKE A SISSY?

YOU JUST DON'T LOOK LIKE YOUR OLD, PRIMITIVE SELF, SHMARZAN!!

I'M NOT!!—VISITING ENGLAND, LAND OF SHAW AND SHAKESPEARE, CHANGED ME!!—I'M THROUGH PRANCING AROUND IN A LEOPARD SKIN, CATCHING MY DEATH OF COLD, STRANGLING UNSANITARY APES, AND UTTERING DISGUSTING CRIES.!!

I WANT TO BRING SOMETHING FINE INTO THE SHMARZAN PICTURES! IN MY NEXT, INSTEAD OF CONQUERING AN APE, WITH BRUTE STRENGTH, I'LL CONQUER A HARVARD PROFESSOR WITH PURE LOGIC.!!

—AND THEN, INSTEAD OF POUNDING MY CHEST AND ROARING, I'LL RECITE THE SOLILOQUY FROM 'HAMLET'!!

—BUT, SHMARZAN!! YOU'VE GOTTA HAVE SOME KINDA BEAST IN YOUR PICTURES.!!

OH—VERY WELL, THEN—BUT NO MORE APES!!—THE NEXT WILD BEAST I FIGHT MUST BE ATTRACTIVE.!!

GULP!!—THERE'S NO SUCH THING AS A WILD BEAST THAT'S ATTRACTIVE!!

WOW! WHAT AN ATTRACTIVE GIRL!!—

DON'T GET TOO CLOSE, STRANGER! THASS TH' WILDEST BEAST IN ALL THESE HILLS!!

WASHABLE COLORS
LOOK BRIGHTER, TOO!

New FAB washes clothes

WHITER WITHOUT BLEACHING

than any other product with bleaching!

And FAB washes clothes CLEANER than any soap on earth!

IT'S AMAZING - BUT TRUE! New Fab washes whiter without bleaching! Whiter than any soap! Whiter than any other washing product known with bleach in the wash water.

And freshly rinsed Fab clothes are cleaner than you can get them with any soap because Fab washes out dirt and leaves no dulling soap scum. What's more, Fab gives you the world's sweetest-smelling wash!

IF YOU PREFER NOT TO RINSE, Fab gives you the cleanest possible, sweetest-smelling no-rinse wash!

SAVE CLOTHES! New Fab alone washes so dazzling white you don't need to bleach! Clothes last longer with no bleach to harm fabrics or fade pretty washable colors.

SAVE WORK! Fab immediately loosens dirt; keeps it floating in the wash water. No soaking needed! No dulling soap scum to rinse out - even in hardest water.

SAVE HANDS! New Fab is wonderfully mild to hands... safe for baby's clothes. And Fab is kind to your own pretty washables! Get the economical GIANT SIZE.

CUT DISHWASHING TIME IN HALF! Fab soaks dishes, glasses, pans shiny clean! If a food speck clings, the dishcloth whisks it off. Just a quick rinse and dishes drain sparkling clean. No hard scouring! No wiping!

WONDERFUL FOR DISHES, TOO!

THE NEW TELEGRAPH LINE BRINGS TO THE WEST AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE FROM WASHINGTON.

GREAT SCOTT! THIS NEWS WOULD BE WORTH A FORTUNE TO THE NOSEY BRENNEN GANG!

WE WILL BRING MAP SHOWING LOCATION OF BURIED GOLD.

THIS MESSAGE HAS TO BE DELIVERED TO THUNDER MARTIN'S RANCH. THE LONE RANGER'LL GET IT WHEN HE VISITS HIS FRIEND.

THANKS, SIMMS, FOR SHOWIN' IT TO ME FIRST.

WHAT IS IT, NOSEY?

IT'S OUR CHANCE TO STEAL A MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF GOLD AND AT THE SAME TIME KILL THE LONE RANGER!

I'VE WANTED A CHANCE TO GET SQUARE WITH HIM FOR JAILIN' MY PALS.

ME, TOO!

I GOT NEWS FOR YA! IT'S A TELEGRAM FROM WASHINGTON ABOUT A MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH O' GOLD THAT'S BEEN LOST FOR MANY YEARS!

THE GOLD FROM VIRGINIA CITY!

WHAT THAT?

DURING THE CIVIL WAR, A LOT OF GOLD WAS SENT, BY WAGON, FROM VIRGINIA CITY TO GENERAL LEE. THE WAGON TRAIN WAS AMBUSHED BY INDIANS. THE GUARDS AND DRIVERS WERE FOUND DEAD, BUT THE WAGONS WERE GONE.

ONE MAN ESCAPED. NOW HIS BONS COMIN' WEST WITH A MAP THAT SHOWS WHERE THE GOLD WAS HID WHEN IT WAS KNOWN THAT INDIANS WOULD ATTACK.

AN' THE LONE RANGERS TO MEET THE STAGE THAT'S BRINGIN' THE SON. IS THAT IT, NOSEY?

YEAH! AND WE'LL MEET THE STAGE AN' GET THE MAP AND THE LONE RANGER!
