

X-Ray Survey Launched With Good Turnout

Howard County Tuberculosis Association officials expressed satisfaction today with large turnout during first day of the mass chest X-ray survey Monday.

State Health Department X-ray technicians administered 921 chest X-rays Monday. And approximately 400 other persons had reported for the free examinations by noon today.

The X-ray center is located in Zale's Jewelry, at Third and Main. All Howard County citizens 15 years of age or older are being urged to get the X-rays during the through Saturday.

The mass survey is being conducted by the tuberculosis association as a means of finding any "hidden" cases of TB in their early stages. Diagnosis of the infection will permit prompt and early treatment and more rapid cures than if sufferers wait until the infections become evident to secure treatment.

Last year 16 Howard County residents were found to have tuberculosis infections of which they had no knowledge. Treatment has been made available to all but two of these, four have completely recovered and 10 are on the road to recovery, Health Department officials report.

The chest X-rays may be secured at any time this week between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m.

Snyder To Get Pioneer Service

The Civil Aeronautics Board today notified Pioneer Air Lines that it could serve Snyder on the route from Dallas-Fort Worth to Midland-Odessa instead of on the route from Dallas-Fort Worth to Lubbock and New Mexico.

Robert J. Smith, Pioneer president, said service to Snyder would start as soon as the necessary ground and communications equipment can be obtained.

The Board decision came about as the result of a Pioneer application for reconsideration. In the earlier decision, the Board awarded Pioneer authorization to stop at Snyder between Abilene and Lubbock on Pioneer's Dallas-Fort Worth to Albuquerque route.

Pioneer, and the city of Lubbock asked that this be changed so that Snyder could be served on the Dallas-Fort Worth to Midland-Odessa route. The City of Snyder agreed to this change.

Worth to Midland-Odessa route. The City of Snyder agreed to this change.

Under the new Civil Aeronautics Board order, Pioneer will provide a minimum of two roundtrips daily to each of the three intermediate points between Midland-Odessa and Abilene—Sweetwater, Snyder and Big Spring, and must stop at two of the three cities on all flights.

The Pioneer route authorization is now from Dallas to Midland-Odessa via Fort Worth, Breckenridge, Abilene, Sweetwater, Snyder and Big Spring.

Taft Contributors Urged To Give To Cancer Research

WASHINGTON (AP)—Businessmen who contributed to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's political campaign funds have been urged to endow cancer research projects in his name.

Taft died of cancer in New York Friday.

Sen. Robertson (D-Va.), endorsing a proposal by Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.) to set up cancer scholarships in Taft's memory, said businessmen had "contributed liberally" to Taft's campaign funds and "could erect no better monument to his memory" than by aiding cancer research.

Shepherd Asks Veto For Shelf Oil Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepherd asked President Eisenhower today to veto the continental shelf bill, which provides for federal control over submerged lands not within state boundaries.

Shepherd said in a telegram the bill "embodies an unsound and inefficient approach to the problem, results in confusion of responsibilities and multiplied costs to the taxpayers through the duplication of agencies already set up by individual states."

Scout Awards Set

Regular monthly Court of Honor for the Lone Star District of the Buffalo Trails Council will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at the senior high school cafeteria. A large number of awards will be made, said Wesley Deas, chairman of the court which recognizes the Scouts for their advancement.

Waiting For Customers

Relief workers in a food station in a school at Wilmsdorf, in the British sector of Germany, wait for customers from the Russian zone. Communist blockade of rail travel from East to West zones prevented East Germans from visiting this and other food stations as they had done previously to obtain food under the American emergency plan. This station, which serves people from Brandenburg in the Russian zone, was jammed Saturday, but business was understandably slow Monday. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Berlin).

Dulles Reaches Seoul For Talks With Rhee

SEOUL (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles arrived tonight to confer with President Syngman Rhee on American-Korean relations.

Dulles' plane, carrying Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, and several of the secretary's top aides, landed 13 hours later after a flight across the stormy North Pacific.

By flying to Korea, Dulles fulfilled a pledge he made before the signing of the Korean truce—that a high-ranking American diplomat would visit the fiery South Korean President if Rhee agreed not to obstruct an armistice.

Dulles will visit Rhee at 10 a.m. Tuesday (7 p.m. Monday CST). "President Eisenhower's trip to Korea last December demonstrated his deep interest in Korea and that is an abiding interest," Dulles said.

"I hope and believe that these talks, conducted on a basis of mutual respect and mutual cooperation, will help insure that respite from war, now made possible by the armistice, will be transformed into an honorable and lasting peace for all Korea."

"I have put aside heavy duties in Washington to come to Seoul to talk with Dr. Rhee as evidence to all the world that the United States highly respects the views of the Republic of Korea and that we intend to cooperate in the ways of peace as well as of war."

He added that "we shall try to concentrate on a common effort towards the unification of Korea by 'peaceful means.'"

Far East Air Forces said in Tokyo a second big transport carrying U. S. Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens was accompanying Dulles' flight.

They were anxious moments between 9 a. m., Dulles' original scheduled arrival time at Seoul, and an Air Force announcement nearly 2 1/2 hours later that the secretary's plane had not left Shemya until 9:47 a. m.—12 hours late.

Presumably the delay was caused by stormy weather over the Aleutian route which the plane took from McChord Air Force Base Wash., although there was no official explanation.

Dulles is scheduled to confer five days with Rhee, unhappy partner in the Korean truce.

Before his departure, Dulles called the talks "a preliminary exchange of views with the government of the Republic of Korea" prior to the post-armistice political conference.

He will discuss with the fiery 78-year-old President a U. S.-Korean treaty to strengthen the war-torn country against the possibility of future Communist attack, and the American plan to make Korea "a show window of the free world" by using troops for rehabilitation.

The White House stressed Monday that combat troops would not be used for construction work. A presidential secretary said that instead technical training and equipment will be used to speed reconstruction of South Korea.

Banners on Seoul streets gave some hint of what Rhee wants to tell Dulles. The major points stressed included:

1. Unification of North and South Korea under the Republic of Korea.

2. Withdrawal of Chinese Communist troops from North Korea.

3. Early conclusion of a mutual security pact between the United States and the Republic of Korea.

President Rhee conferred at length with another member of the Dulles party, Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, last month.

Rhee strongly opposed the present truce in Korea because it left the country divided with the South holding a little over half of the Korean land area and the Communist North holding a much smaller population group but most of the major industrial cities.

There was a possibility that one or more ranking U. S. senators might show up for part of the Dulles-Rhee talks. Two Republicans and two Democrats had planned to go until Congress failed to adjourn as planned last week-end.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), acting GOP leader, said he would decide sometime Tuesday on a request by Dulles to join him in Seoul.

There was a report in Washington that Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), Democratic vice presidential candidate last year, might take the place of Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), the Senate minority leader who originally was slated to go.

Berlin Police Turn Back Food Station Attackers

400 POWs Wait For Homecoming

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR PANMUNJOM (AP)—Four hundred Allied war prisoners—70 of them Americans—come home to freedom in a few hours, opening the happiest postscript to the Korean War—"operation big switch."

The big trade of Allied war prisoners for Red begins tomorrow at 9 a.m. (7 p.m. Tuesday, EST).

The Reds are handing over 12,763 captives—3,313 Americans, 8,186 South Koreans, 922 British and 342 from 9 other Allied countries. Four hundred will be freed daily, 100 each hour for four hours.

Some spent almost all 37 months of the Korean War in bleak prison camps in North Korea.

They'll return to freedom at this neutral center where Allies and Reds met for two years and finally wrote an armistice July 27—the ticket to freedom for the POWs.

The Allies are giving the Reds 74,000 prisoners—60,000 North Koreans and 5,000 Chinese—at the rate to 2,400 able bodied and 300 sick and wounded daily.

On the eve of the great exchange, Red Cross representatives from both sides crossed the line at Panmunjom to begin inspection of prisoner camps and to comfort the homebound captives.

Thirty Allied members went north, the first time in more than three years that any Allied representative has gone into North Korea without fighting.

Thirty Reds came south under protection of U. N. military police, grinning like schoolkids at their first ride in helicopters.

Panmunjom itself rustled restlessly as The Hour neared.

The Reds said the first group, 100 men to be freed would be sick and 4 wounded—35 Americans, 50 South Koreans, 5 Turks, 2 Filipinos, 1 Briton, 1 Australian, 1 Canadian, 1 Belgian and 1 South African.

An hour later, at 10 a.m., they'll hand back 50 South Koreans, 25 British, 10 Filipinos, 7 French, 7 Colombians, and 1 Greek.

The 11 a.m. group will include 35 Americans, 15 Turks and 50 sick and wounded South Koreans. At noon, 100 South Koreans will be released.

Allied troops hurried through last-minute preparations to care for the freed captives.

From Panmunjom, the American prisoners will be sped by truck to Freedom Village, near Munsan, there they'll get medical care, showers, mail, food, press interviews for those who are willing and just about everything else the Army can think of.

British prisoners will go to North by Camp Britannica and South Koreans will go to Liberty Village.

After quick processing at Freedom Village, the Americans will be flown by helicopter to Inchon, the port of Seoul on Korea's west coast. They'll be held briefly there a few days, and then be picked up by troopships for the biggest ride home.

Some of the sick and wounded Americans may be flown to Japan and on to the United States for treatment.

Communist correspondents said the first Allied captives arrived by train Monday night at Kaesong, the advance Red truce headquarters six miles northwest of here.

A Red Cross spokesman estimated there must be 2,000 POWs in Kaesong or en route from Red camps far to the north.

The U. N. Red Cross representatives sent $2,000 pounds of food and other personal gear into North Korea for Allied prisoners and the Communists sent 25 truckloads south. Long lines of Red and Allied trucks entered Panmunjom.

The Communists have insisted that all Red Cross supplies will be distributed only by Red military personnel.

The application for a television station in Big Spring was on file today with the Federal Communications Commission in Washington.

The application is that of the Big Spring Broadcasting Company, operator of radio station KBBT here, for channel 4, the TV channel assigned to this city.

It is the second TV proposal for Big Spring to go before the FCC. Early last month KBBT-TV of Lubbock had filed for a station here under a proposed arrangement of re-televising the Lubbock station's programs.

The Big Spring Broadcasting Company's application is for a standard TV operation, and proposes power slightly in excess of 1,000 watts, with a proposed minimum operation of six hours daily.

Site of both studio and transmitter would be on a 10-acre plot in the extreme northeast corner of Howard County Junior College property. The company already has concluded a lease deal with the city for this ground. The facilities would be located at the extreme east end of Kentucky way.

The Big Spring Broadcasting Company is a local corporation whose directors and stockholders are William J. (Jack) Wallace and H. W. Whipple, both of Big Spring, Roward Barrett of Abilene and Lewis O. Seibert of San Angelo. Wallace is president of the company. The concern has owned KBBT for four years, having acquired it from the Big Spring Herald Broadcasting Company which put KBBT on the air in December, 1936.

The application estimates that cost of construction of the TV operation at $127,207.50, and puts its estimated cost of operation the first year at $144,000.

It proposes use of RCA equipment. A three-section antenna would be used, with height of 440 feet. A map prepared as a part of the engineering section of the application shows that the station would offer coverage in a territory roughly bounded by Midland, Lamesa, Gail, Snyder, Colorado City, Sterling City and Garden City.

Seminole's Sheriff Killed in Accident

BAIRD (AP)—Sheriff Robert L. McReynolds, 46, of Gaines County was killed yesterday when his auto plunged from a steep embankment near here.

McReynolds, who lived at Seminole, was towing two quarter horses in a trailer. It was believed the trailer began whipping and caused the sheriff to lose control of his car.

Mrs. McReynolds was seriously injured. A daughter of the couple, Juanda, 16, was less seriously hurt.

6,000 Reds Invade West Aid Centers

BERLIN (AP)—More than 6,000 Communists invaded West Berlin today, and made three attacks on food stations in an effort to break up the free distribution of American food to East Germany's hungry.

West Berlin police called out reinforcements, and beat back the columns of riot gangs with clubs and water guns in swirling street battles.

Dozens of heads were cracked, and about 150 Communists, including seven women, were arrested. Police said they expect more attacks. They reinforced their guards around the free distribution centers and moved mobile guns up to strategic sectors.

The invasions took place in the American and French sectors. "We gave them a good beating," said a West Berlin policeman in the American sector.

Police headquarters said about 50 Communists were arrested in the two clashes and that there were many "broken heads."

The riot in the American sector was started by young Communists who infiltrated into a food station area in the guise of food-seekers. While standing in line they began jeering police and the Americans. When minor scuffling with police broke out the infiltrators were joined by a body of young communists who rushed across the sector border.

The attacks by communist storm columns were the first direct attempt to smash food stations in West Berlin. But during the past week the Reds have manhandled hungry Germans who returned home with American aid packages. The communists also have imposed a blockade on train tickets to Berlin in an effort to stop the floods of hungry from East Germany to the food centers.

Some 3,000 red toughs stormed across the border into the French sector.

Another 3,000 attacked in the American sector and battled West Berlin police in a street fight. Police finally smashed the raid after calling up reinforcements.

Some 150,000 East Berliners defied communist police threats and sporadic confiscation of food parcels yesterday and visited the free food stations. Many more thousands swarmed over the sector border today despite communist disturbances.

West Berlin's American radio station told the Germans who are barred from coming to Berlin that the parcels would be held for them until they can get through the Iron Curtain.

New strikes and demonstrations against the blockade were reported in East Germany.

The East zone police struck back, hunting down East Germans who had returned with the Western parcels, seizing the food and imposing fines and other penalties. Communist-controlled East German newspapers were filled with "blacklists" naming people who had received the American aid.

But the U. S.-controlled radio told the barred East Germans to sit tight, promising that parcels would be held "until your Communist jailers let you out they can't blockade you forever."

The East Berlin hungry still poured in despite Communist threats that anybody accepting an "American Jutes parcel" faced punishment as an "enemy of the state." As the food giveaway went into its ninth day, the total hand-out was expected to reach the 1 1/4 million mark.

Despite food shortages, East Germans were forced by their Communist rulers to offer gifts of grain to Communist North Korea. Newspapers announced that one district pledged three tons.

Most East Berliners today appeared to be getting home safely with their Western food, even those who carried it openly past police at the sector borders.

City Is Due To Hear Dairymen's Protest

A delegation of area dairymen is expected to voice complaints against Richard Braze, milk sanitation inspector, at the city commission meeting this afternoon.

The dairymen Monday registered protests at the County Commissioners Court. Ransom Galloway, spokesman for the 19-man delegation, charged that Braze "is interested in keeping us in business, he is putting us out of business."

J. K. Webb, manager of the Central Texas Milk Marketing Association, Monday complained to the Howard County Commissioners Court about Dr. C. A. Pigford, director of the Midland-Ector-Howard Health Unit.

The objection was not a general one but was based upon Dr. Pigford's remarks about local producers as quoted in the Midland Reporter-Telegram last week. Webb said he took offense at what Dr. Pigford had to say about Big Spring dairymen.

Dr. Pigford was quoted as saying: "This milkshed here in Midland for years has had the lowest record in the state. We have had watered milk on numerous occasions. In some cases, the milk even has been poisoned when producers have put in chlorine powder in sulfazone amounts to cause dangerous reactions."

"There's a group of dairymen in Big Spring who don't want to produce good milk. They try to cut every corner possible. They are not

Congress Adjourns; Ike To Air Estimate Of Its Achievements

By DON WHITEHEAD
WASHINGTON (AP)—At the stroke of midnight, the Republican-controlled 83rd Congress wrote its final to a mixed record of action and lethargy in helping President Eisenhower fulfill his campaign pledges.

But the lawmakers left behind for their second session beginning Jan. 6—or a possible special meeting this fall—an imposing list of key measures which will make or break their record.

Many of the hottest potatoes, including some of the President's recommendations, were simply left in the bin. Others, on the advice of the President, were handed to study commissions for closer scrutiny.

This first session of the first Congress in two decades to be Republican-controlled while a Republican was in the White House—made a firm start toward edging away from the Democratic party's New Deal and "Fair Deal" philosophies.

But even Republicans conceded it was only a start, and much of it at that achieved only with Democratic aid.

Eisenhower will give the nation his own estimate of this session's achievements in a radio broadcast Thursday, from 8:30 p. m. to 9 p. m. EST, to be carried by all major networks and possibly rebroadcast later.

Last night he sent letters of "warm thanks and appreciation" to the House and Senate for the long hours they put in.

There was no hint in the letters of any change over his biggest legislative misfire: a plea to boost the statutory debt limit.

But there was a hint, or appeared to be one, of no intention to call a special session in the fall. With the debt now 27 1/2 billion dollars and more borrowing predicted, Eisenhower's fiscal leaders had been insisting that the statutory debt limit be raised from 27 1/2 billions to 290 billions.

A special session in October or November was obviously in prospect. But Eisenhower said in his letters to the members of Congress "I look forward to seeing all of you again in January . . ."

When the Senate Finance Committee killed off the House-approved debt limit proposal Saturday, both houses lit into their race for early adjournment again.

Official windup time for the Senate was midnight local time. Actually it ran 39 minutes longer, but the adjournment resolution made midnight the final hour.

The end came in the House at 11:07, just three minutes before Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) began a speech in the Senate attacking the Eisenhower administration's power policy. About a dozen senators were still on hand at the final gavel.

But the end didn't come in the House before an angry debate over a resolution to open the way for members of Congress to give themselves a pay raise.

The House approved the resolution 171-28—without a record vote—setting up a commission which would recommend the proper salary level for congressmen and members of the judiciary. Congress would have to vote on the commission's report.

The final logjam was broken when the Senate gave way to House demands to cut out of an appropriation bill 12 1/2 million dollars which had been earmarked for airport construction. That cleared the way for quick passage of the measure appropriating $1,088,000,000 for the State, Commerce and Justice departments.

In the closing hours that included a pause for tribute to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), Congress pushed through final agreement on a huge $3 1/2 billion dollar program to finance the spending of the government and the armed services in the year which started July 1.

The bill was trimmed but not enough to balance the budget.

The outlook is that despite the cuts there will be a whopping $5,800,000,000 deficit at the close of the fiscal year.

The money bills also included $4 billions for military and economic aid to friendly nations, plus another 200 millions for South Korean rehabilitation. The Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, a vehicle for the trade-not-aid theory, was extended to next June 12.

Next year's meeting will be able to start work much more quickly on the money bills. The Eisenhower budget for fiscal 1955 will be submitted in January. This year it was May before the new regime could finish its revisions of Truman's 1954 budget.

1. National debt ceiling — The President and his legislative lead-

other look at tax collections in September, and then decide whether a fall session would be required.

2. Tax revision—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has promised to have a comprehensive rewriting of the tax laws ready in January.

3. Broadening of social security

4. Revision of the Taft-Hartley labor relations law—Lengthy hearings were conducted, but neither House ever tried to send a bill to the floor in view of the administration's failure to agree on its recommendations.

5. Farm price supports—Mandatory 90 per cent supports on six basic crops expire after the 1954 crop year. Secretary of Agriculture Benson has indicated he believes it might be better to let the law revert to the sliding 75 to 90 per cent scale.

6. Postal rate increases—Postmaster General Summerfield pressed hard this year for 240 million dollars worth of rate boosts to cut into the 600 million dollar postal deficit. But a House committee shelved the bill while a Senate group decided to make a study and report next year.

7. Revision of McCarran-Walter Immigration Act — Eisenhower criticized provisions he said were discriminatory. But he did not send specific recommendations for changes. A group of legislators—none of them Republicans—introduced a bill yesterday to overhaul the act.

8. Hawaiian statehood—passed by House but stuck in Senate committee, expected to come up early in 1954.

9. St. Lawrence seaway—A Senate committee approved a billers decided yesterday to take an calling for the United States to contribute 100 million dollars toward joint construction with Canada. It was scheduled for debate next January.

10. Niagara falls power development—The House passed a bill calling for private utilities to handle the project. But a Senate committee held it up.

11. Rio Grande water flow—The water is being transported 23 miles into Lakes Culberson and Palito Blanco. The lakes have been empty several months.

12. Mexico is diverting 350 cubic feet per second, or 45 per cent of the Rio Grande flow, under an agreement with the International Boundary and Water Commission. The water is being transported 23 miles into Lakes Culberson and Palito Blanco. The lakes have been empty several months.

Mrs. Hila Weathers, manager of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce, says the trip will be concluded about 3 p. m. when the cars will return to Stanton.

Farmers, ranchers and businessmen from over the entire West Texas area are invited to make the trip, she said.

Black Minorca Lays Triple-Yolk Eggs

WEST HAVERSTRAW, N. Y. (AP)—Frank Carella's Black Minorca hen has local farmers amazed at the way she can lay eggs with double and triple yolks.

Since July 24 the 7-month-old hen has produced one double-yolk egg every day, Mrs. Carella reported, except on July 19 and July 26. On those two days she laid triple-yolk eggs.

State farm authorities declined to say this was a record but called the whole thing "unusual."

Rough Playmates

Some of these Brahma roping calves brought here by Tommy Steiner for the annual Big Spring Cowboy Rodeo will open its four-night run at 8 p. m. Wednesday, weigh as much as 300 pounds, which makes them rather rough playmates for even a husky cowboy. The Steiner stock is now in the corrals at the Rodeo Bowl in the southwest part of town. The rodeo will be officially opened with the downtown parade at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

Probe Indicated In Tax Ruling Fee Case

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators sought information today about a $65,000 fee a New York manufacturer said he paid in cash after getting a favorable income tax ruling from the Treasury.

William S. Lasdon of Katonah, N. Y., testified yesterday he paid Washington Atty. Welburn S. Maycock such a fee under those circumstances.

Maycock was identified by John Tobin, counsel for a ways and means investigating subcommittee, as attorney for the Democratic National Committee in 1944 and 1948.

The subcommittee summoned Maycock for questioning today about the money and what he did to earn it. A witness testified yesterday that high Treasury officials intervened in the case after government tax experts had recommended against a ruling in Lasdon's favor.

The committee is looking for "undue influence" by top Treasury officials on tax case decisions.

Lasdon, president of the Nepara Chemical Co. of Yonkers, N. Y., testified yesterday he paid Maycock $65,000 cash less than three months after Maycock took the case on a contingent fee basis.

Lasdon denied "any suggestion of a bribe or political contribution." He said he thought it rather unusual, however, that Maycock asked payment in cash.

He said William Solomon of New York arranged a meeting with Maycock after Lasdon's own attorneys had failed to obtain a tax ruling, and, in fact had advised against pressing his application on grounds it would be rejected.

Lasdon told the committee he met Maycock in July 1948, and that the favorable tax ruling was handed down in September 1948.

Karl R. Price, then an attorney in the Internal Revenue Bureau, testified that in August 1948—shortly after Maycock entered the case—former Asst. Secretary of the Treasury Edward H. Foley telephoned him urging "all haste" in consideration of Lasdon's tax application.

Price, now in private law practice in Washington, testified Foley said John Snyder, then secretary of the Treasury, had inquired about it.

He said Foley asked him to discuss the case immediately with Charles Oliphant, then chief revenue bureau counsel, and report "whether you would approve the application."

Price told the committee he recommended against the ruling, but that it was issued after Oliphant ordered him to produce a justification.

There are still sturdy, self-reliant Texans who don't believe in government assistance to the extent they can help themselves.

One of these has been observed along the roads in Howard County the past week. He is harvesting mesquite beans to feed his livestock. He may have to come to the government feed before this thing is ended but the chances are that when he does all the mesquite beans will be gone.

Last week, too, a reporter from the Washington (D. C.) office of the New York Times was in the county writing a story on the drought and he met the mesquite harvester. A talk with this man gave the news correspondent a picture of Texas ruggedness he hadn't met anywhere else.

Even back in 1853 there were two kinds of Texans. One kind went out and killed marauding Indians. The other kind sat around the stores in the settlements complaining about the government not sending enough soldiers to the frontier.

If the Grub Liner ever gets rich he's going to erect a monument to the men who gathered and ground mesquite beans when the going got rough back there in 1853.

A few days ago a lady dropped in at Poncho's News stand and after making her purchase looked across the street at the new annex to the Masonic Hall and commented:

"What a funny building. It doesn't have any windows. I wonder why?"

"Lady, I can tell you why," Poncho said. "They forgot to put the windows in it."

"Forgot the windows," the lady exclaimed.

"Yes ma'am, I saw the blueprints and those plans called for plenty of windows," Poncho made a good story of it, "and then the contractor forgot to put them in. Just closed that wall up completely and never even thought about a window. It's a shame ain't it, a nice building like that," the straight-faced Poncho asked.

"It certainly is," replied the lady. "I never heard of such a thing. Who put that building up anyway?"

"My friend, Arlie Suggs," Poncho told her and the lady went out wondering how a man could forget to put windows in such a handsome brick building.

The spread of the drought has caused President Eisenhower to include parts of Nevada in the disaster area. Secretary of Agriculture Benson will designate the counties that are to receive assistance.

In Grant County, New Mexico (the Silver City area in the southwestern part of the state) some wells 300 and 400 feet have gone dry. In parts of the county the water table has fallen as much as 200 feet in the last three years. Yucca and cacti are dying because of a lack of moisture. On the McDonald Ranch, 25 miles south of Silver City, a total of 0.47 inch of rain fell in 1952. Fifty miles southwest of Silver City a total of two inches of rain was recorded last year.

Grant County remains one of five counties in the southwestern part of New Mexico that has not yet been put on the drought disaster list.

The people out there say they don't know why.

Wyoming has announced it will need help in harvesting a crop of 46,000 antelope this year in order to bring the population of the herds into balance with the amount of pasture that is available.

The antelope season begins in different areas from Sept. 5 on through Oct. 11, according to an announcement.

Nonresident licenses range from $25 for Omeo antelope to $75 for a moose and $100 for an all-inclusive hunting permit including elk, deer, bear and mountain sheep.

Marvin Sewell has sold to Jim Tracy of Carnegie, Oklahoma, six pairs of cows and calves and 13 heavy springers from the George White herd, and all the yearlings and steer calves from the Wilkinson Ranch, the latter averaging 455 pounds.

Tracy bought the White cattle for the purpose of rebuilding his foundation breeding herd, all the Tracy cattle having been recently wiped out by poison gotten in their feed. The Howard County cattle have been delivered. Sewell has also sold Tracy some cattle off the High Plains that haven't been delivered.

The ranchman said he thought the ranchers in his country, west of Anadarko and north of the Lawton-Fort Sill area, were in pretty bad shape until he came down here and looked around. Now he has concluded the folks up in his country don't know anything about range distress.

Walter Rodgers, one of the finest gentlemen who ever lived and a Texas cowboy who moved out into New Mexico many years ago, has done a whole lot toward riding that state of cats, coyotes, wolves, lions and other predators.

Rodgers tells of a farmer he has observed at work on New Mexico's Eastside this year. He says: "It takes a pretty rugged individual, and one with plenty of stamina and faith, to practice dryland farming in New Mexico. I saw one farmer struggling with dry blowing sand in a large field all spring. Every time he would get it listed up in some semblance of a farm, the winds would whip it into sand dunes, and completely obliterate all his efforts.

Then when the rain came, this good man mounted his tractor again and went through that field in a high lobe planting seed that may and may not have a chance to mature if he gets them up. . .

"Then a few days later I came along and a flash flood had struck the upper side of that sandy field, and literally washed that man's work out of the field. Deep washes were seen everywhere and very little sign of his previous efforts remained as a testimony."

Gas Sales Program Approved By Power Commission Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Power Commission approved a transaction yesterday which will eliminate West Texas Gas Co. of Lubbock as a "middle man" in delivering natural gas to Southern Union Co., of Dallas.

The commission authorized El Paso Natural Gas Co. to acquire facilities from both West Texas and Southern Union and to construct a new metering station at the point of delivery of gas to Southern Union near the Texas-New Mexico state line.

The gas which West Texas now sells to Southern Union is purchased from El Paso.

Rio Grande Starts Flowing Into Canal

MISSION (AP)—Rio Grande water began flowing yesterday into the new 17 million dollar canal which Mexico has built for irrigation.

Mexico is diverting 350 cubic feet per second, or 45 per cent of the Rio Grande flow, under an agreement with the International Boundary and Water Commission. The water is being transported 23 miles into Lakes Culberson and Palito Blanco. The lakes have been empty several months.

A special session in October or November was obviously in prospect. But Eisenhower said in his letters to the members of Congress "I look forward to seeing all of you again in January . . ."

When the Senate Finance Committee killed off the House-approved debt limit proposal Saturday, both houses lit into their race for early adjournment again.

Official windup time for the Senate was midnight local time. Actually it ran 39 minutes longer, but the adjournment resolution made midnight the final hour.

The end came in the House at 11:07, just three minutes before Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) began a speech in the Senate attacking the Eisenhower administration's power policy. About a dozen senators were still on hand at the final gavel.

But the end didn't come in the House before an angry debate over a resolution to open the way for members of Congress to give themselves a pay raise.

The House approved the resolution 171-28—without a record vote—setting up a commission which would recommend the proper salary level for congressmen and members of the judiciary. Congress would have to vote on the commission's report.

The final logjam was broken when the Senate gave way to House demands to cut out of an appropriation bill 12 1/2 million dollars which had been earmarked for airport construction. That cleared the way for quick passage of the measure appropriating $1,088,000,000 for the State, Commerce and Justice departments.

In the closing hours that included a pause for tribute to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), Congress pushed through final agreement on a huge $3 1/2 billion dollar program to finance the spending of the government and the armed services in the year which started July 1.

The bill was trimmed but not enough to balance the budget.

The outlook is that despite the cuts there will be a whopping $5,800,000,000 deficit at the close of the fiscal year.

The money bills also included $4 billions for military and economic aid to friendly nations, plus another 200 millions for South Korean rehabilitation. The Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, a vehicle for the trade-not-aid theory, was extended to next June 12.

Next year's meeting will be able to start work much more quickly on the money bills. The Eisenhower budget for fiscal 1955 will be submitted in January. This year it was May before the new regime could finish its revisions of Truman's 1954 budget.

This is a listing of some major items left over for 1954:

1. National debt ceiling — The President and his legislative lead-

other look at tax collections in September, and then decide whether a fall session would be required.

2. Tax revision—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has promised to have a comprehensive rewriting of the tax laws ready in January.

3. Broadening of social security

4. Revision of the Taft-Hartley labor relations law—Lengthy hearings were conducted, but neither House ever tried to send a bill to the floor in view of the administration's failure to agree on its recommendations.

5. Farm price supports—Mandatory 90 per cent supports on six basic crops expire after the 1954 crop year. Secretary of Agriculture Benson has indicated he believes it might be better to let the law revert to the sliding 75 to 90 per cent scale.

6. Postal rate increases—Postmaster General Summerfield pressed hard this year for 240 million dollars worth of rate boosts to cut into the 600 million dollar postal deficit. But a House committee shelved the bill while a Senate group decided to make a study and report next year.

7. Revision of McCarran-Walter Immigration Act — Eisenhower criticized provisions he said were discriminatory. But he did not send specific recommendations for changes. A group of legislators—none of them Republicans—introduced a bill yesterday to overhaul the act.

8. Hawaiian statehood—passed by House but stuck in Senate committee, expected to come up early in 1954.

9. St. Lawrence seaway—A Senate committee approved a billers decided yesterday to take an calling for the United States to contribute 100 million dollars toward joint construction with Canada. It was scheduled for debate next January.

10. Niagara falls power development—The House passed a bill calling for private utilities to handle the project. But a Senate committee held it up.

11. Rio Grande water flow—The water is being transported 23 miles into Lakes Culberson and Palito Blanco. The lakes have been empty several months.

12. Mexico is diverting 350 cubic feet per second, or 45 per cent of the Rio Grande flow, under an agreement with the International Boundary and Water Commission. The water is being transported 23 miles into Lakes Culberson and Palito Blanco. The lakes have been empty several months.

Seeds Of Major Battles Lie In Work Undone By 83rd Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican-controlled 83rd Congress, first to serve under a GOP president in more than 20 years, adjourned its first session last night with a final rebuff to President Eisenhower.

The lawmakers' rejection of the President's belated request for a boost in the national debt limit may force them to reconvene in the fall. Otherwise they won't meet again until next Jan. 6.

Congressional leaders didn't rule out the possibility of a special session, but they considered it a remote one.

Although the Congress accomplished much in its seven months of sessions, the seeds of major battles lie in many of the legislative proposals shunted off until next year.

These include staidhold for Hawaii and Alaska, revisions of the Taft-Hartley labor law, enactment of a new farm price support law, broadening of social security coverage, revision of the immigration laws, a general overhauling of the tax laws, an increase in postal rates, and development of the St. Lawrence seaway. The House passed a bill to admit Hawaii to the Union, but did nothing about Alaska. The Senate did nothing about either territory.

Here's the record of Congress on major legislation:

APPROPRIATIONS: Voted 53 1/2 billion dollars in new money. This is $12,700,000,000 less than former President Truman requested and 3 1/4 billion below the revised Eisenhower budget.

TAXES: Extended for six months, until Dec. 31, 1953, the excess profits tax due to have expired on June 30 of this year. Took no action on a bill to reduce individual income taxes effective July 1, 1953. Passed and sent to the President a bill ending the federal tax on admission to movies.

FINANCES GENERALLY: The House passed, at the President's request, a bill to raise the national debt limit from 275 billion dollars to 290 billion; the Senate Finance Committee killed the bill. The House Post Office Committee shelved a bill, requested by the President, to increase postal rates there was no Senate action.

SOCIAL SECURITY: Put off until next year action on a presidential request, repeated at the session's end, for broadening of social security coverage. Took no action to prevent a scheduled increase of 1/4 of 1 per cent in social security payments of individuals and employers starting next Jan. 1.

GOVERNMENTAL REORGANIZATION: Approved 19 presidential plans for reorganization of executive agencies. Created a new "Hoover Commission" to study proposed reorganization programs, study overlapping functions of the federal and local governments.

Barred top federal executives from receiving terminal leave payments when they leave federal service. The Senate approved, but the House shelved, a bill to lump all appropriation bills into a single measure. Created new positions of undersecretary of state for administration and assistant postmaster general for personnel.

VETERANS and SERVICEMEN: Extended to July 1, 1955, authorization for payment of family allowances to dependents of servicemen missing in war. Expedited naturalization of aliens who served in U. S. armed forces. Continued until June 30, 1953, the law providing for direct housing loans to veterans.

NATIONAL DEFENSE: Appropriated 34 1/2 billion dollars for the Defense Department and one billion to the Atomic Energy Commission. Authorized a new military public works construction program. Extended the President's power to fix allocations and priorities and to expedite defense contracts. Extended, with modifications, the law permitting the drafting of doctors and dentists for military service. Passed bills designed to build up a reserve fleet of tankers and a larger merchant marine.

INTERNATIONAL: Extended the foreign-aid program designed to help non-Communist nations resist communism and appropriated 4 1/2 billion dollars in new funds to pay the cost of the program. Authorized the President to spend 200 million for reconstruction in South Korea. Unanimously voted a gainst admission of Communist China to the United Nations. Extended the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for one year. Defeated a bill providing additional tariff protection for American-made goods. Extended the President's power to limit exports. Simplified customs laws and procedures. Approved bill to admit approximately 214,000 refugees to the United States during the next three years. Gave one million tons of wheat to Pakistan to help avert a famine. Gave the President power to send limited amounts of American food surpluses to hungry foreign nations. Denounced mistreatment of minority groups by Russia and Soviet satellites. Approved loan of 2 submarines to Italy. 1 aircraft carrier to France, and up to 25 destroyers and smaller craft to an unidentified friendly Far Eastern nation. The Senate debated, but did not pass, a resolution to limit the President's treaty-making powers.

AGRICULTURE: Appropriated

150 million dollars for emergency loans to farmers and ranchers in drought-stricken areas. Extended the International Wheat Agreement. Extended the program of importing Mexicans to help work on American farms. Reorganized the Farm Credit Administration to give farmer groups more control over policy. Authorized imposition of reduced wheat acreage quotas.

GENERAL: Increased Federal Housing Administration's authority to insure housing loans. Limited to 20,000 the number of new public housing dwelling units that may be constructed this year. Authorized continuance of program of federal aid for hospital construction. Continued program of federal aid for school districts whose pupil population is swollen by defense activities. The Senate approved, but the House shelved, a proposed constitutional amendment to provide equal legal rights for women. Extended limited rent controls but restricted them to critical defense areas. Ordered liquidation of Reconstruction Finance Corporation and created Small Business Administration to make loans to smaller industries. Authorized sale of government-owned synthetic rubber plants. The Senate passed, but the House sidetracked, a proposed constitutional amendment curbing the President's authority to seize private property in emergencies. Approved a compact between New York and New Jersey to regulate port facilities in an effort to curb crime. Prohibited the movement in interstate commerce of inflammable fabrics and clothing. Spelled out the right of states to ownership of submerged lands and resources within their historic boundaries, with the federal government declared exclusive owner of submerged lands beyond historic state boundaries.

INVESTIGATIONS: Major investigations in the Senate included those conducted by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) in the field of communism and Sen. Smith (R-Maine) in the national defense field, particularly with respect to air strength. Headline House probes included those of communism in the field of education and religion, by the Un-American Activities Committee; of the internal revenue service, by a ways and means subcommittee; and of the Justice Department, by a special judiciary subcommittee.

Judge Told Starr County Ballots Marked By Clerks

RIO GRANDE CITY (AP)—An absentee ballot supervisor told a special judge that many Starr County ballots were marked by clerks and put in the ballot box.

Some ballots, Sidrio Hinajosa testified before Judge Royce Oxford of Mission, were taken out of the voting place, marked and then returned to the ballot boxes.

Testimony began in the hearing yesterday with neither the defendant nor his lawyer present. A witness, Elardo Trevino of Rio Grande City, testified he saw the defense lawyer, State Rep. A. J. Vale, standing on a sidewalk here Friday morning, the second day lawyers had tried to start the trial. The trial continued this morning.

Defendant in the suit is J. M. Longoria, a "New Party" member in Starr County who was named winner on a county commissioner's race by a write-in vote last November.

Alleging irregularities, Armando Longoria, an "Old Party" member whose name was on the ballot for the commissioner's post, filed the suit.

The hearing had been postponed twice before it opened yesterday. Lawyers at the courthouse elected Oxford a special judge to hear the case when Dist. Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Alice said he was too busy to appear.

Armando Longoria's attorneys yesterday introduced evidence intended to show that Vale and J. M. Longoria had been notified by mail and through newspaper accounts that the trial was to begin yesterday.

Listening to the testimony in which irregularities were cited yesterday were two Texas Rangers, Capt. A. Y. Allee of Carrizo Springs and Ranger Joe Bridge of Falfurrias.

Atty. Gen. John Ben. Shepperd said he posted the rangers and an assistant attorney general in Rio Grande City "as observers for the state, 'just in case,' you might say."

County To Furnish Records Of Arrests

Howard County commissioners Monday approved a request that the county furnish arrest record cards to the local highway patrol office.

Patrolmen Amon Jones and Jimmie Parks submitted the request. The two patrolmen, who began their first day of work here Monday, asked that the county print about 3,000 cards for them.

Cards will have spaces for the name of people arrested, charges, and disposition of case. Jones and Parks said they need the cards so that they can keep a running record of arrests.

Their regular arrest reports and accident forms are submitted to Austin headquarters, leaving no immediate record here.

Our Policy In Europe Depends On The Longevity Of Adenauer

The grand objectives of American policy in Europe look more and more like so much pipe in the sky. If you are to believe that these aims are actually to be achieved, you must perform a whole series of acts of faith.

You must believe, for example, that West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is virtually indestructible. Adenauer's coalition, to be sure, is expected by American officials here to retain a thin majority after the September elections.

Bank Robbing May Some Day Be Found Respectable Line Of Work

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

The way things are going I expect to live long enough to see bank robbery with guns declared respectable, provided some means can be devised to make the Federal Government absorb the financial loss.

It isn't too hard for me to understand how some 18-year-old youth who sees well-to-do farmers getting something for nothing feels that he also has the same moral, and should have the same legal, right to get something for nothing, too.

Never before in the history of this nation has it taken so little moral fibre to make a man respectable in the eyes of fellowmen who are equally guilty of lower standards. The standards for high character have been tremendously lowered in 50 years.

If A Man Thinks He Has Found The Truth He Can't Compromise

I heard the other day that a mild commentator on the radio, who is quite popular and well-served, privately referred to me as a fanatic. I was not present when the profundity was so smugly spoken.

Now, fanaticism means excessive, stubborn, uncompromising acceptance of a postulate as the truth. If a man, in any field, is sure that he has discovered the truth, he cannot compromise with those, for instance, who are always willing to take the comfortable middle-of-the-road position, which, in effect, says that if it does not rain today, it could be a nice day. You can't go wrong with that.

Rev. Blessing 'Twas Genuinely Blessed

DENVER (AP)—The man was looking frantically on the counters and floor at the Central Bank & Trust Co. yesterday. Mrs. Margaret Lahey asked if he'd lost some money. Assured he had, she turned over to the Rev. William Blessing the $4K. in small bills she had found on a counter.

Meeting A Need

Mrs. Truett Thomas, president of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Church of God, points to Kenya Colony in British East Africa. The group recently sent a reconditioned sewing machine to help some native women there. Looking on are, from left to right, Mrs. A. L. Holley, assistant spiritual life chairman, Mrs. J. D. Jenkins, stewardship chairman, and Mrs. Minnie Black, secretary-treasurer.

WMS Sends Sewing Machine To Africa

A reconditioned sewing machine is the expression of the interest of a group of Big Spring women in another group—similar in many ways—almost half-way around the world in Kenya Colony, British East Africa.

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Church of God sent the sewing machine to Africa after two missionaries, the Rev. and Mrs. W. N. Donahew, described the need to the local women in April.

Mrs. Donahew, who has organized a Women's Missionary Society in the Kenya Colony described how hard it was to teach the women there to sew because they aren't used to making or wearing the fitted clothes of the Western world.

They don't know how to use a needle, and they won't use a thimble, she explained.

The Big Spring women were just completing a study of Africa and so were doubly enthusiastic about meeting the need. They expressed their enthusiasm by making donations and purchasing the machine.

Supporting a native pastor in India is another way they put their missionary studies into action. The pastor is at the Orissa mission at Cuttack, India.

The women have also packed eight boxes of clothing and food this year and sent them to Germany, Greece and Japan.

The group of 41 women is now making plans for a study of Church of God missions among Spanish speaking Americans. Later in the year they will have another special mission study, similar to the one on Africa.

Locally, the women sponsored the Vacation Bible School this summer. They regularly set aside one week for visiting the sick and absentees.

Their studies, their support of national and state church work and their projects were recognized recently by the national organization when they received a Certificate of Award for achieving "standards of excellency."

Organized in 1930, the Missionary Society has a leadership of four officers: Mrs. Truett Thomas, president; Mrs. Andrew Dickson, vice president; Mrs. Minnie Black, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. F. P. Hickson, historian. Chairmen are Mrs. J. M. Lee, spiritual life; Mrs. John E. Kolar, missionary education; Mrs. J. D. Jenkins, stewardship; Mrs. R. E. Hickson, membership; and Mrs. J. E. Parker, hospital.

Going Steady

Should teen-agers go steady or play the field? This question has certainly brought me a lot of bitter pro and con letters. One stack is from teens who want to go "steady" but their parents won't let them.

The other, and this stack is equally high, is from teens who are too active to have the slightest interest in settling down to one person, yet their parents oppose their playing the field.

All this leads me to question the old adage that "Parents know best." How can they all be right on the matter of going steady when so many of them disagree?

Probably ninety per cent of the wrangling between you and Mom and Dad over your dating life stems from misunderstanding on one side or both. Just what is going steady, anyway? It's dating one person exclusively. Most of you know that, although after discussing it with my family, I was surprised to learn that during my grandmother's teen years it simply meant dating a boy on a certain night each week. For instance, every Friday night was Harry's therefore she was going steady with Harry. Saturday and Sunday could be regular nights for Tom and Dick with whom she could also properly be going "steady."

Confusing? When Mother was the Belle of the high school ball a girl went "steady" with just one boy and it was almost like being engaged!

My, haven't times changed!

When you announce you want to go "steady" is it any wonder if your parents object? They may conjure all sorts of false notions and to them going "steady" may mean something foreign and remote from what it means to you.

In good old 20th century Texas, USA the custom is a perfectly harmless one. Most teens go steady several times. Usually the relationship is one of mutual friendship in which both parties have fun—that's all. Only occasionally is it based on love. More frequently it is done because steady dating is a fad and it gives a girl or boy a sense of social security.

It is seldom a lasting arrangement—unless, of course, the parents make an issue of it. In that case I wouldn't want to be responsible for the consequences. Several things could be brought about by unnecessary parental meddling. In first place is a broken heart. In second is hurt pride or a determination to meet and pet indiscreetly just for spite. Third could be elopement and unhappiness, depending up on the type individual involved.

For happiness all around, steady dating or playing the field should be left up to the daters unless they have proved themselves untrustworthy or are obviously mixing with the "wrong person." Unnecessary parental meddling can cause only trouble and strangle a teen-ager's desire to share innermost thoughts with Mom and Dad.

What Brides Know About Housework Is Theoretical

By DOROTHY ROE

Today's brides are crammed with more miscellaneous information and assorted theories than almost anybody except a Quixote.

By printed page and family friend they are exhorted: "Feed him properly. . . Laugh at his jokes. . . Don't prize his neckties. . . Pretend you like to go fishing. . . Keep your mother out of this. . . And, dearie, remember the first year is the hardest."

In theory, the modern bride is a paragon, equipped for come-what-may. She has boned up on marriage psychology, how to keep husband happy, how to be alluring while washing dishes, how to be a perfect hostess, an accomplished home decorator and a budget balancer. She has studied how to keep her hair curled without going to bed in curlpapers, how to soothe a husband after a hard day at the office, how to choose a wallpaper to match her complexion and how to keep her breath kissing-sweet.

But when it comes to practical experience with the cookstove and dustpan, that's a different story.

This fact emerged from a recent survey, conducted by a washing clinic to determine just how much actual housekeeping training equips the average bride for her job. To get the answers, researchers queried 100 city and suburban housewives, with the following results: Half of the housewives admitted they didn't know a frying pan from a pressure cooker when they glided down the aisle. Only a scant 10 good cooks at the time of their marriage. Only 19 per cent felt they were proficient housekeepers. Only a few knew how to do the washing. Said a Connecticut housewife: "When I told the grocer I wouldn't buy his lettuce because it was too hard, he stared at me and said, 'Lady, that's cabbage!'"

Most of the women queried felt that if they had it to do over again, they would learn more about the job of housewife before taking it on. Some 75 per cent felt specific training was needed, just as it would be for a job as secretary, nurse or accountant. Said one of the women questioned: "Practically any other job requires training. But the job of housewife, which is so complex and diversified and on which so much depends, is a pretty hit-and-miss affair. And there are more misses than hits for most of us."

Confessed one young matron: "Six months after I got married I was still serving my husband beets with the skins on."

Said another: "The first time I tried to bake a cake, my husband had acute indigestion."

Most of the women agreed that a course in housekeeping should be a must in preparation for the job of housewife—a practical course, not one dealing in advice and theories.

But of course, such a course might be fairly complicated. It should include instruction not only in cooking and cleaning, but plumbing, bookkeeping, interior decorating, child psychology, social etiquette, landscape gardening and electrical engineering.

Fruit Potholders

A seven inch "slice through" of mouth-watering red watermelon is one inspiration for the big potholder in top illustration! Looks like the real thing, too, when crocheted in red cotton thread, sprinkled with black seeds and rimmed with cool green to simulate the rind. The half-apple is also seven inches in diameter, is in white with brown seeds, nice red rim, brilliant green leaf and a brown stem. Good-sized for the hand, double thickness in construction, easy to crochet and a cheerful gift set!

Dr. O'Brien Leads Study For Circles

Dr. P. D. O'Brien led the Bible study when all circles of the First Baptist WMS met at the church Monday.

The study was a continuation of "The Commission in the Old Testament." Using Isaiah, Ezekiel and Jonah as examples, Dr. O'Brien told the group that "These men first had to be conscious of the divine presence and had to have special courage from God to meet the situations that confronted them."

"Some of the men failed in their commissions, but they, as we to-day, were not required to succeed—just to be faithful."

During the business meeting, Mrs. P. D. O'Brien presided in the absence of Mrs. W. B. Younger. The group voted to appoint a committee, composed of Mrs. Clyde Angel and Mrs. W. F. Taylor, to represent the WMS at the inner committee meetings of the church organizations.

Mrs. Della K. Agnell reported that her phonograph fund was growing and that any one wishing to help this cause could do so by making a contribution to her.

Mrs. O'Brien announced that next week would be a mission program. Prayers were offered by Mrs. Theo Andrews and Mrs. V. H. Cowan.

Margaret Martin is spending a week at Las Cruces, N. M., with Mary Elizabeth Martin, who is in school at New Mexico A&M. They will return together Sunday.

Donald Crittendens Are On Wedding Trip

After a short wedding trip to points in New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wayne Crittenden will make their home at 1008 Gregg here.

The couple was married Aug. 1 in Seminole.

The bride is the former Peggy Joyce Crow, daughter of Mrs. J. M. Crow of Seminole and the late Mr. Crow. Mrs. Mollie Crittenden, 1205 Lancaster is the mother of the bridegroom.

The Rev. H. A. Shoerock of Seminole officiated at the double ring, informal ceremony at 4 p.m. at the home of the bride's mother. The couple repeated their vows as they stood beneath an archway outlined in fern and centered with white wedding bells tied with matching ribbon.

Mrs. Barbara Payton, pianist, played "I Love You Truly." The bride, who entered alone, wore a blue nylon organza ballerina-length gown. It was designed with a fitted strapless bodice outlined in embroidery and rhinestones and a bolero featuring three-quarter length sleeves. She wore white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Appropriately, her wedding ensemble was new, earrings belonging to her mother were old; and she borrowed a strand of pearls from Mrs. Wortham Crow of Anson. She had a blue garter made by Lanell Engle and wore a penny in her shoe belonging to Frances Henderson of Big Spring.

Mrs. James Crittenden of Seminole, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a pink dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

James Crittenden served as his brother's best man.

The bride, a graduate of Seminole High School is employed by Webb Air Force Base. Her husband was graduated from Big Spring High School and is now employed by the T&P Railroad.

Mrs. Crow chose a navy blue silk shantung dress with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding.

At the reception which immediately followed the ceremony, the table was laid with a lace cloth over green. An arrangement of white dahlias formed the centerpiece and white candles in crystal holders flanked the scene. Silver and crystal appointments were used. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. George Franklin and Miss Henderson, both of Big Spring, served.

Among the out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. George Crittenden, Dot and Alma Crittenden, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Winn and Jimmy and Vanell Scott all of Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Coburn, Paula Hall, Ronnie Coburn and Gwen Coburn, all of Lamesa.

McCarthy Says CIA Head Covers Files

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) today accused Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, of covering up information about a top official of the supersecret organization. McCarthy, chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee, made public correspondence with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles about getting information in the loyalty-security file of William P. Bundy. McCarthy, in a Senate speech last month, said Bundy had contributed $400 to the defense fund of Alger Hiss. Bundy is a top CIA official and a son-in-law of former Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Hiss is a former State Department official, convicted of lying under oath when he denied passing secrets to a pro-Soviet spy ring. Dulles advised McCarthy that a complete investigation of Bundy resulted in a "favorite determination by the CIA loyalty board and the loyalty review board of the Civil Service Commission." He added, however, that a re-evaluation of Bundy's case is being made in line with President Eisenhower's new security program and he felt he should not "comment on certain phases" meanwhile. McCarthy wrote Dulles yesterday: "Your insistence that the Congress is not entitled to obtain information about improper conduct on the part of your top officers is extremely revealing—doubtless in view of the material which has been coming to me within the past few weeks. Unfortunately the Congress is going out of session tonight. However, the full matter will be submitted to my committee and undoubtedly to the Senate upon its return. "I might add that it would seem that the last man in the world who would try to protect and hide the facts about one of his top officers' associations with and contributions to a convicted traitor would be the head of the CIA." McCarthy earlier had said he wanted to subpoena Bundy, but after a conference with Dulles announced a delay to try to work out arrangements to question a CIA employe without impairing security.

Quinn, on vacation, stopped here for an inspection of the scenic Mountain park. He contacted the Chamber of Commerce and told J. H. Knowland Only Candidate For GOP Leadership

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—Brushing aside some protests, Republican senators today set out to elect a permanent majority leader, with Sen. William F. Knowland of California the only candidate in sight. And Knowland supporters indicated that Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan then would replace him as chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee. A last-minute effort to delay the election—scheduled at a closed-door session to which all 46 Republican senators were invited—was beaten late yesterday in a contest that may open a breach in GOP Senate ranks. The delaying move was led by Senators Bridges of New Hampshire, who tops all Senate Republicans in seniority, and McCarthy of Wisconsin, who told reporters it would be "a serious mistake" to hold the election today. Knowland met the challenge head on by quickly assembling the policy group. It was learned he told the committee he was unwilling to continue as acting leader. Knowland has been acting leader since June, when Senate Leader Robert A. Taft of Ohio unshouled the task as his health weakened from the cancer which took his life Friday. In the showdown yesterday, Sen. Millikin of Colorado acted as chairman and reported a "unanimous decision" by the policy group, with Bridges absent and Knowland not voting, to push ahead with the election. Millikin produced letters of requests for a delay from Bridges, Capehart and Jenner (Ind.), Welker (Idaho), Malone (Nev.) and Bricker (Ohio). McCarthy said yesterday that he and "a great number" of Republicans would have to leave the city before voting time. However, Millikin guessed that about 40 of the 46 eligible Republican senators were on hand. He said the party should not be without a permanent majority leader during the congressional recess, because of possibility of a "worsening in the international situation, a special session or other matters."

Hyperions Endorse Beautification Plan

The General Hyperion Club informed the Howard County commissioners by letter Monday that members favor a lawn surrounding the new courthouse construction. Members are definitely against any parking facilities around the square, according to the letter. Some 100 signatures appeared on the letter. Man Jailed Here On Morals Charge

Charges of sodomy were filed this morning in Justice Court against Loyd S. Newby, local truck driver. Newby, who was arrested Monday night by sheriff's officials, is accused of forcing two small boys to commit immoral acts. One of the boys is 8 and the other is 9. Complaint was filed against Newby by the boys' father Monday afternoon. He was arrested when he returned from a trucking trip to El Paso late Monday evening. Newby has been in Big Spring about three years, officials said. He was a resident of Comanche before that time. Peace Justice Cecil Nabors set his bond at $4,000 this morning after Newby waived examining trial. He is still in jail.

Democratic Party Still Remains Sharply Divided In Grass Roots

By JACK BELL
SEATTLE, WASH. (AP)—The Democratic party remains so sharply divided that poles-apart members like Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas and G. Mennen Williams of Michigan have serious doubts they will be able to get together by 1956.

publicans a second four-year claim in the White House.

In Washington it is fashionable these days to say that the Democrats are learning in adversity the value of unity they never knew in success.

That is the theme of the leadership of both houses of Congress, with Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas keeping his Senate Democrats marching in party file and Minority Leader Sam Rayburn calling an accepted turn for Democratic House members.

Sen. Taft Rifes Planned Today In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bob Taft's homefolk met in reverent prayer for the late senator today and prepared to lay his body to eternal rest in the fresh, green burying grounds of Indian Hill Church.

Yesterday, in Washington, the nation's leaders assembled in the Capitol to pay their respects to Sen. Robert A. Taft, a president's son who earned the title of "Mr. Republican." Taft died Friday.

Blanketed with yellow roses, the plain bronze casket lay unopened at the end of the carpeted parlor of a downtown funeral home.

Then the public filed in. Some had been waiting in the hot sun for an hour and a half before the doors were opened at 4 p. m. An estimated 15,000 persons filed by.

High temperatures Monday included Presidio 107, Midland 106, Cotulla and Wink 105, Big Spring and Del Rio 104, Abilene, Waco, San Angelo and Childress 101, and Dallas and Austin 100.

Ike's Legislative Program Met Some Defeats Before Congress

By JERRY T. BAULCH
WASHINGTON (AP)—Six months ago President Eisenhower laid down to Congress what he called "a sure and substantial beginning" toward the kind of program he thought best for the country.

Congress, in the session which ended yesterday, adopted some of his proposals and rejected others. Still others outlined in the President's State of the Union message Feb. 2 were never presented to Congress by the administration.

The President gave his own estimate last month when he told his news conference he felt progress had been made, but not fast enough. New ideas and new people need time to get going, he said, and there is always some friction.

Eisenhower's first big victory and his biggest defeat came in the fiscal field—taxes that bring in revenue and borrowing power that gives economic elbow room.

The victory was in overriding the vigorous objections of Rep. Daniel Reed (R-N) and winning a six-month extension until Dec. 31 of the excess profits tax on business.

The stunning setback was in losing an 11th-hour plea to raise by 15 billion dollars the 275 billion dollar limit on how much the government can be in debt.

Eisenhower had said, in his State of the Union message, that taxes should not be reduced and the statutory debt limit should be raised.

But Congress did vote to reduce a tax, by passing a bill to repeal the 20 per cent levy on movie theater admissions. It went to Eisenhower's desk for signature days ago and there was some talk he might veto it.

The administration moved toward his goal of a balanced budget but it still faced a deficit this year estimated at $5,800,000,000, including many items left over from the Truman administration.

Eisenhower ran into a heated fight but won an over-all victory in getting approval for 6 1/2 billion dollars in foreign aid outlays.

Here's how far Congress went in implementing other major foreign policy proposals in Eisenhower's State of the Union message:

1. Authorized the President to spend 200 million dollars for reconstruction in South Korea.

2. Extended the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for one year until next June.

3. Approved admission of some 214,000 aliens during the next three years above regular quotas. The administration did not offer a proposal outlined in Eisenhower's message to revise the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act, although such a measure was introduced yesterday by eight senators and 24 representatives—none of them Republicans.

4. Denounced mistreatment of minority groups by Russia and Soviet satellites.

5. Authorized use of 100 million dollars of surplus government-held foods for famine relief abroad.

In the domestic field, measures Eisenhower proposed in his message but which were not acted on fully by Congress included:

Statehood for Hawaii; revision of the Taft-Hartley law; enactment of a new farm price support law; broadening of social security coverage; a general overhauling of the tax laws.

In line with Eisenhower's expression of determination to gain efficiency in government, Congress approved 10 presidential plans for reorganization of executive agencies.

The administration let economic controls die and, as Eisenhower proposed, kept rent controls in critical defense areas.

Building Report Heard By Court
Howard County commissioners were told Monday by Bill French, engineer, that construction work is going a little slower than anticipated on the new courthouse.

French said he is not so sure that office holders will be able to move into the structure by October. "We'll just have to wait and see when it is completed," he said. "They aren't going so fast as I thought."

French said he is not planning to push construction, however. "We want to get a good job, and I don't think a month more or less matters," he said. "I am well pleased with the way it has been going."

WOULD YOU?

Some East Germans Risk Lives To Get Food Packs

BERLIN, Aug. 4 (AP)—Would you risk your life for seven pounds of simple foodstuffs? For a parcel of two pounds of flour, two pounds of lard, two pounds of dried peas and four small cans of condensed milk?

Some hungry East Germans are doing that now as they struggle to break through a Communist travel blockade that bars them from entering West Berlin to collect free American food packages.

Would you creep four hours through a forest, dodging Communist police, for this gift ration? And when you got it, would you risk a long series of Communist reprisals when you got home? Like a heavy fine, having your husband fired from his job, misery for your children?

Frau M., from a small town near Dresden thought the free food was worth it.

She has been living for eight years in the Russian zone, and she looked it—shabby, pale and washed out, though still in her 30s.

Last week she heard on the Berlin American radio station that free food would be distributed here.

She and her husband scraped up 20 marks (about five dollars) for her train fare. If she got through Frau M. could pick up four parcels—for herself, her husband and their two children. This would be a windfall worth several weeks of her husband's salary—even if the same food could be obtained in the poverty-stricken Russian zone.

Frau M. got through to Berlin last Saturday, just before the Communists blockaded all rail travel from their zone to the free food city.

She picked up her four portions Sunday and started back today.

But at the Russian zone border outside Berlin Communist police seized her and confiscated all her food. The police pushed and cuffed her.

"And the worst is still to come," the police warned her, as they recorded her name and identity card number.

"Just wait until you get home. There you are going to pay a fine of 150 marks ($37.50, or about a month's salary). And then your husband is going to be fired from his job. That's what you are going to get for going to Berlin to pick up these American Judas packages. And don't you dare tell anybody we confiscated your food. Things will go even harder."

In tears, Frau M. left the barracks where her prizes were confiscated.

But she recovered her courage. She decided to return through the new blockade to Berlin instead of going home. Frau M. thought if she could get more food parcels to replace the confiscated ones she could store them with her mother, who lives in West Berlin.

"So I crept back through a woods for four hours until I got back to another station on the Berlin inter-urban transit lines," she related.

"I came back here to the relief station and told my story and they gave me another four parcels for those I had lost. Maybe my mother can send them to be by parcel post. It still gets through."

Thousands of other Soviet zoners are now adopting this ruse to circumvent the Russian hunger blockade and confiscations. They have relatives and friends in West Berlin store the free food for them until the coast is clear to spirit it in through the post. Many East Berliners come across town and sneak their food back home piecemeal.

Continental Plan To Extend Route Rejected By CAB

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposal of Continental Air Lines to extend its route from Wichita Falls to Dallas was rejected yesterday by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The CAB authorized Continental to continue its service to Lawton-Fort Sill as an intermediate point between Oklahoma City and Wichita Falls until Feb. 19, 1956.

It authorized Braniff to provide non-stop service between Tulsa and Dallas. It gave Braniff authority to service Lubbock and Wichita Falls on the same flight. Previously Braniff was restricted to serving only one of the two cities on the same flight.

Moseley Named As College President

AUSTIN (AP)—John Moseley says he will become president of Austin College at Sherman as soon as he can leave his post as executive director of the Legislative Council.

He will succeed Dr. W. B. Guernert as head of the Presbyterian liberal arts college.

Guernert resigned last spring to head the Bible Department at Hampden-Sydney College in Virginia.

Moseley came to the council from the Federal budget bureau. He had held other government jobs, was executive secretary to a private research organization and was an assistant in the reorganization of the Connecticut state government.

He is a graduate of East Texas State and the University of Texas.

He Died In A Land He Found No Use For

DURANGO, Colo. (AP)—A letter and a telegram arrived yesterday for Mr. and Mrs. Dave E. Reeder, parents of a soldier in Korea.

"I wouldn't trade an inch of Colorado soil for the whole country," wrote Pfc. Howard Reeder, 22, in a letter dated July 24.

Enlistments Open In Air Force Again

The Air Force is again open for enlistments, it was announced today by Sgt. A. M. Burt, local recruiter.

For several months, he pointed out, the Air Force has not been taking any men. A huge waiting list had to be whittled down before any more recruits could be signed up.

Now the waiting list is no more, and Burt has received orders to enlist others in the service branch. There will be only a short waiting period, he said.

by those who don't know the facts and care less about them." Williams said with heavy sarcasm that this couldn't have been said by a nicer guy in a nicer way.

It's Still A $25 Fine For Setting Off Firecrackers

SEATTLE (AP)—John B. McBay, 33, was brought into court on a charge of setting off fireworks in violation of a city ordinance.

This was the explanation he gave Municipal Judge John H. Neergard.

He had a cigarette loose in his pocket. He also had some leftover Fourth of July firecrackers—small red ones.

He reached for a cigarette and unknowingly got a firecracker. He put it in his mouth, lit it, heard it sputter, frantically threw it away.

"And up walks the officer and arrests me," McBay concluded. One minute of silence. "Twenty-five dollars," says the judge.

The reindeer is the only deer which has been domesticated.

Stanky Signs New Contract

Eddie Stanky, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, and August A. Busch Jr., president of the club, (right) read over a new three-year contract calling for a salary believed to be in excess of $40,000 before a signing ceremony in St. Louis. The contract is effective next year and extends through 1955. (AP Wirephoto).

Cook's, Col-Tex Tangle Tonight

COLORADO CITY — Cook's Appliance Store of Big Spring, a newcomer to the Colorado City softball wars, takes the field here tonight against Col-Tex Refinery, a team that has been in the finals of the Jaycee League playoffs for six straight seasons. The game is the first of a best-three-of-five game set. The two sides clash again Thursday. Cook's finished in third place in regular season play, Col-Tex in fourth. The Big Spring club then proceeded to defeat Sun-Oil in the first round of the playoffs while Col-Tex vanquished Coahoma, regular season champion. Manager James Watts of the

Putting Tournament Tonight Cancelled

No putting tournament will be held at the Big Spring Country Club tonight, Pro C. A. DeWees has announced. The greens have recently been aerified and are not in condition to be used, DeWees stated. The next tournament will probably take place next Tuesday evening. Ed Mathews of Milwaukee and Gus Bell of Pittsburgh already have hit more home runs than during 1952 when they collected 25 and 16, respectively. Miami University's football forces will play against night games this fall in Florida.

JOE NIEDSON WIELDS MACE

Jolly Joe Niedson, who managed the Big Spring Broncs before the club folded, wielded the big stick in Carlisbad's 2-1 victory over San Angelo in Carlisbad Monday night. Niedson's double in the second inning accounted for both of the Potashers' runs. The blow came off Bobby Gregg, recently sold by Angelo to the St. Louis Cardinals. Earlier in the season, while with Big Spring, Niedson clubbed a home run with the bases loaded off Gregg.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Basketball teams get to travel more than football eleven. If you don't believe it, consult the University of Arizona's 1953-54 schedule, assuming you have one handy. The Wildcats, who headquarter at Tucson, play in Los Angeles, Peoria, Ill.; Beloit, Wis.; Buffalo, N. Y.; El Paso; Las Cruces, N. M.; Tempe, Ariz.; Canyon, Texas; Lubbock and Abilene.

Heard a fellow say recently when the wind was right he could thump a peanut over the left field wall at Stear Park, while standing at home plate. The outer barriers in the Amarrillo ball orchard are supposed to be an even bigger joke, by the way, which accounts largely for all those home runs being hit by Jim Matthews. Bob Crues had a lot of power in his prime but there are those who swore that Crues bunted at least two of those 69 round trippers he hit in the WT-NM League a half dozen years ago.

The best cellar ball club in the history of the Longhorn League (judged solely on their record) was the 1949 Roswell club, which won 57 decisions while losing 82 times for a .410 average. The Rockets were 37 1/2 games off Big Spring's winning pace. The cellar club with the worst record was the 1950 Ballinger team, which played only 280 ball. The Beakrats that season won 39 times while losing 111 decisions. The Cats finished 57 games behind first place Odessa.

Didja know? When Henle Zimmerman of the New York Giants pulled that famous trick of chasing Eddie Collins of the Chicago White Sox across the plate with the winning run in that 1917 World Series, while no one was covering home plate. Yet Zimmerman is given credit for having pulled a bone-head play. He asked a petitioner once if the press expected him to throw the ball to Umpire Bill Klem, who was working behind home plate at the time.

This sage observation is from Henry (Red) Sanders, the UCLA football mentor: "Blocking is the toughest thing to teach in football. We spend 91 per cent of our time in spring training on offense, and that means most of it on blocking." Mind you, he said the toughest thing to teach, not learn.

When Tommy Bridges, the Detroit star, hurled a no-run, no-hitter game for Portland over San Francisco back in 1947, the only man to reach base on him was Battle Malone (Bones) Sanders, and Sanders was later wiped out in the midst of a triple play. Sanders used to play in Big Spring regularly while performing for Amarrillo before World War II.

US Tennis Finish Sweep

By Will GRIMSLEY
RYE, N. Y. — Great Britain's women tennis players have taken their annual shelling at the hands of the United States, but they're not ready to throw in the towel. "It's true this has been a one-sided series," said Col. Duncan MacAulay, captain of the British forces. "But it's wonderful competition. I think by all means we should continue it as it is."

There were suggestions in Great Britain recently that the international series in which Britain has won only four times since 1923 either should be abandoned or changed to make the humiliating defeats less frequent. Led by Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly, holder of every major women's title, and Doris Hart, the Americans completed their sixth 7-0 sweep in eight years yesterday at the Westchester Country Club. They didn't lose a set. It was America's 17th straight Wightman Cup victory and the 25th against four setbacks. Misses Connolly and Hart, two young ladies in a terrific hurry, won their second singles matches of the series by identical scores. Miss Connolly, from San Diego, Cal., trounced left-handed Helen Fletcher 6-1, 6-1, while Miss Hart routed Angela Mortimer 6-1, 6-1. Saturday Miss Connolly had beaten Miss Mortimer and Miss Hart had won a close decision over Miss Fletcher.

The fifth singles point—and incidentally, the clinching one on yesterday's carried-over program—was produced by Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, who downed Mrs. Jean Quertier Rinkel, Britain's most experienced player, 6-2, 6-4. In doubles, the Wimbledon and U. S. champions, Misses Hart and Fry, toyed with Mrs. Rinkel and Miss Fletcher 6-2, 6-1. Miss Connolly and Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Cal., scored the other doubles win Saturday when the Americans assumed a 3-0 lead.

Mangrum Ready For Tam Play

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO — Pro golf's top money winner, newly crowned All-American Champion Lloyd Mangrum, today appeared properly "cased" for a potential loss of $25,000 in the "World" Pro meet starting Thursday at Tam O'Shanter. Mangrum, Tam's host pro, yesterday pocketed $4,500 as he won the All-American pro tour to the $75,000 "World" Pro with a 13-under-par total of 275, three strokes ahead of Sammy Snead and Ted Kroll.

That moved the debonair Purple Heart veteran of World War II ahead of Ben Hogan, a notable Tam absentee, as the year's leading cash collector with $18,788. Mangrum will be favored to take the $25,000 prize in the big "World" purse offered by his boss, George S. May. That would far more than double his earnings to date. Mangrum yesterday treated Tam just as a home pro should, banging a 5-under-par 67 after rounds of 69, 68 and 71.

His 275 would have been good enough to win last year's "World," which forced a playoff at 276 between Julius Boros and Cary Middlecoff. Boros won the showdown with a 68 against Middlecoff's 70. Kroll, who like Mangrum finished with 67, and Snead, stroking a final 68, collected $2,180 apiece. Fourth spot and $1,700 went to the 1953 PGA champion, Walter Burkemo, with 279.

Patry Berg will be favored in the "World" women's pro. Miss Berg won the All-American in the final round with a 76 for a 208 total, a stroke ahead of another capable pro, Louise Suggs. Top gal amateur was Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., who wound up 18th in the All American with 236.

Frank Stranahan, the handsome Toledo, Ohio, golf trail regular, who won sixth straight All American amateur crown, will be seeking his fourth successive "World" title. Final scores and prize money winners: Lloyd Mangrum 68-69-71-67—275 $1,450. Ben Snead 72-69-68-74—283 $1,180. Ted Kroll 67-72-72-67—278 $2,180. Walter Burkemo 68-69-70-70—277 $1,700. Cary Middlecoff 72-70-71-282 $1,148. Al Bealish 72-70-69-69—280 $1,148. Jim Tuohy 72-68-70-70—280 $1,148. Henry Hanson 71-71-70-68—280 $1,148. Chandler Harper 72-71-71-66—280 $1,148. Pace Setters Win In WT-NM Loop

By The Associated Press
Albuquerque and Lubbock, running one-two in the West Texas-New Mexico League, were both victorious Monday night and remain three games apart. It marked the second straight night both clubs won in the tight fight. The only change in the league makeup occurred at third-place level. Plainview topped Pampa 9-5 in 11 innings and moved to a third-place tie with Clovis. The Pioneers were beaten by Amarillo 22-5. Albuquerque, behind Grover Blacksher, stopped Berger 8-5 and made it "blue Monday" for the Gassers' new manager, Hershel Martin. Lubbock drove over seven runs in the first two innings against Abilene and was then forced to add three more in the ninth, winning 10-8.

Eagles Decision Sweetwater Cubs

The Eagles, local Little League baseball team, are looking for more words to conquer after having scored an 8-5 victory over the Sweetwater Cubs in Sweetwater last weekend. Alan Alexander, Bob Evans and Danny Birdwell divided time on the mound for the locals. George White hit a homer and scored two runs for the Eagles. Wesley Phillips, Jimmy Parkhill, Arlan Bryant, Billy Gage, Joe Perry and Birdwell all scored for Big Spring. In another game, the Big Spring Flicks lost to the Sweetwater Rebels, 6-3.

Coach Says TD Output To Slump

HOUSTON — Don't look for games like your pappy played but there'll be a marked slump in the touchdown output this football season as emphasis goes on defense, says Johnny Vaught, coach of Mississippi. The builder of top teams at Ole Miss dissected the one-planet system and decided: There will be fewer men on the bench, scoring will be lower and the Split T, which he coaches, will bloom larger. Vaught gave his views on the gridiron situation at the Texas Coaching School here where he is lecturing on the Split T and coaching an All-Star schoolboy team. He said there would be fewer men on the squads this year with abandonment on the two-planet system but that the real cut-down would come next year when coaches realized they need't carry large squads. "We are back on the right road financially," Vaught declared. "It was necessary in order to prevent college football teams from quitting. Athletic scholarships were costing too much money."

Scoring will be lower, Vaught observed, but it won't go back to the era of one-touchdown, scoreless games because of the development of football with all the formations that have been devised. One-planet won't halt the Split T formation, Vaught said, although it will lose some speed and fitness. He anticipated more Split T than ever before and said it would continue to spread for several more years—or until some new formation comes along.

Coach Says TD Output To Slump

HOUSTON — Pat Pattison, coach of Lubbock's all-conquering Westerners, thinks his team's string will end this season—and quickly. Lubbock will be defending state Class AAAA champion when the schoolboy football season opens next month. It will have two straight titles and 26 consecutive victories behind it. But Pattison, here attending the Texas Coaching School, can't see the Westerners doing it again. And even if they do it won't be with an unbeaten record, he says. He has two returning backfield starters—Jim Welch, all-state fullback, and Red Noland, a fine halfback. But Noland has just undergone an operation on his knee and probably won't be able to play before mid-season, said the Lubbock coach.

SOUTH FAVORED IN BIG GAMES

HOUSTON — The South was established as the favorite today in both of the Texas Coaching School All-Star games—basketball Thursday night and football Friday night. A decided edge in backfield strength featuring the great Doyle Traylor of Temple and a brigade of big, fast, hard-running mates, made the South the choice to beat the North and run its dominance to four straight triumphs in football. With giant Ellis Oimstead of Galveston terrific at the vital post position in the offensive of Coach Buster Brannon of Texas Christian and with smooth Jerry Mallett looking like a million on the scoring line, the South was a top choice in basketball. Henderson's squad was slowed down in workouts yesterday by sore feet, with blisters showing up here and there. And the heat and humidity also bothered the North cagers.

The basketball game will be Thursday night at Rice Institute Gymnasium while the football game comes off Friday night at the Rice Stadium. With favorable weather, officials expect more than 20,000, possibly 30,000, for the football contest. Henderson's squad was slowed down in workouts yesterday by sore feet, with blisters showing up here and there. And the heat and humidity also bothered the North cagers.

Hurling Greats Inspire Defense

By BAR LINEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
It may have only been coincidence but on the night that the incomparable Dey Dean and Schoolboy Rowe, two former major league pitching greats, visited the Texas League three 5-hitters and one 3-hitter were recorded. It was definitely a pitchers' night. Dean and Rowe returned to their old league to take part in a special Beaumont "Old Timers" night. The Deans won over the Rockies 8-0 before 6,612 fans.

In regular competition Monday night, league-leading Dallas defeated Oklahoma City 3-0 on Red Murf's 5-hit pitching. Shreveport lost a full game to the Eagles, losing to Houston 3-2. Mike Clark and Floyd Melliere stopped the Sports on three hits. Manager Max Macon shuttled four pitchers in and out against Tulsa and came up with a 5-hit, 8-5 victory. The win put the Fort Worth Cats two games ahead of the fourth-place Oilers. San Antonio knocked off Beaumont twice, taking the day half of the double-header 3-2, coming back to crush the Shippers 15-2 at night.

Dodgers Move Further Ahead In Race By Blanking Braves

By The Associated Press
This might be an appropriate time to wonder what Steve O'Neil thinks now of that roundabout winter trade that sent Russ Meyer from Philadelphia to Brooklyn by way of the Braves. The Phillies' manager pooch-pooched the idea at the time that Brooklyn had traded itself into the pennant. But with the season two thirds gone, the temperamental right-hander's 11-4 record would look mighty good on the Phils' pitching roster, which seems to consist almost solely of Robin Roberts.

And you can bet your bottom dollar the Braves wince every time they remember that they engineered the deal. Meyer threw his second straight shutout at the Braves last night in Milwaukee, winning 1-0 in eight rain-soaked innings. He's beaten them four times this season against one setback. The victory moved the Dodgers 8 1/2 ahead of second-place Milwaukee in the National League pennant race. During the winter the Dodgers had designs on Meyer but they weren't able to pry him loose from Philadelphia until Lou Perini and the Braves, then still in Boston, stepped into the trading picture. In a fast and involved deal the Braves got Meyer in exchange for first baseman Earl Torgerson and cash and then shipped the pitcher to Brooklyn for infielder Jim Pendleton and Rocky Bridges. Bridges was swapped immediately to Cincinnati as part payment for first baseman Joe Adcock. Meyer has turned out to be the real prize in the package. His 11 victories loom large in the Brooklyn pennant picture. The Braves got themselves a good first baseman in Adcock but the big fellow is hitting only .269. Torgerson has improved his hitting from last year but still is a good distance short of the best at 277. Pendleton has played only briefly in Milwaukee and his hitting, .235. Bridges' current average is .224.

RUSS MEYER

Meyer not only pitched a shutout last night, he batted in the winning run with a single in the seventh inning. With a runner on second base and two out the Milwaukee board of strategy ordered an intentional walk for Billy Cox and took their chances with Meyer, who hit a Lew Burdette pitch off second baseman Jack Dittmer's glove to drive in his first run of the season. He gave up four hits, struck out three and walked nobody.

Brooklyn has beaten Milwaukee 11 out of 15 games so far, including all six played in Milwaukee. Meyer didn't own exclusive rights to good pitching in the majors last night. At Washington Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox gave up just two hits in a 1-0 triumph over Johnny Schmitz and the Senators. And at Cincinnati Joe Nuxhall of the Redlegs limited Pittsburgh to five hits in winning 5-0. In other major league action, the St. Louis Cardinals whipped Philadelphia 9-3 and climbed within half a game of the third-place

Phils. The New York Yankees smothered St. Louis' hapless Brownies 11-5. Pierce's shutout was the fourth straight scoreless game in the Washington-Chicago series, which the two clubs split. The winning run scored in the ninth when Tom Wright was hit by a pitch, banged into shortstop Jerry Snyder while running on a sacrifice and continued to third as the prostrate Snyder dropped the ball. He scored after a long fly. Dick Smith got two of the five hits off Nuxhall, who was given a two-run lead in the first inning and a comfortable margin in the fourth when Andy Seminick homered with one aboard. The Cardinals routed Jim Konstanty with four runs in the first and added three more in the second inning. Wilmer Mizell coasted with a scoreless three hitter until the ninth when the Phils railed with a two-run pinch hit homer by Connie Ryan. The Yankees maintained their five-game margin in the American League by battering St. Louis pitching for 18 hits. The attack included four triples and three doubles. Whitey Ford won his 12th game against four defeats.

Eagles Decision Sweetwater Cubs

The Eagles, local Little League baseball team, are looking for more words to conquer after having scored an 8-5 victory over the Sweetwater Cubs in Sweetwater last weekend. Alan Alexander, Bob Evans and Danny Birdwell divided time on the mound for the locals. George White hit a homer and scored two runs for the Eagles. Wesley Phillips, Jimmy Parkhill, Arlan Bryant, Billy Gage, Joe Perry and Birdwell all scored for Big Spring. In another game, the Big Spring Flicks lost to the Sweetwater Rebels, 6-3.

Hard Time Foreseen For U. S. Sales Tax

By CHARLES F. BARRETT
WASHINGTON (AP)—House Ways and Means Committee members today predicted the roughest sort of legislative sledding for a proposed national sales tax.

They commented after the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM), at a hearing last night, urged a uniform excise or sales tax at the manufacturers' level to put the nation on "a firm road to fiscal security."

There has been some talk that the Eisenhower administration might join in a similar proposal at the next regular session of Congress in January. Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has said he is considering that among other ideas. But hasn't made up his mind yet.

"We must honestly recognize the present federal tax system has failed us," NAM President Charles S. Sligh Jr. told the committee. He called for abolishing the present system of sharply varying excise or sales taxes—from 1 per cent to 60 per cent—on scores of separate items, with many more products remaining untaxed.

He would replace this with a uniform tax of 4 1/2 to 5 per cent on all manufactured goods except food and food products, effective next April 1. Separate, higher taxes would be continued on alcoholic beverages and tobacco, however.

Sligh said the NAM proposal "would be equitable, fair to everyone—fair to producers and distributors, fair to employees, fair to consumers."

"The discrimination of the present system, which causes resentment and controversy, would be gone," he said. Sligh estimated his proposal would raise about 10 billion dollars annually, the same as the present diversified excise tax schedule.

Several Ways and Means Committee members, agreeing that the present system is controversial, suggested that a uniform sales tax would be even more so.

But Rep. Mason (R-Ill.) told Sligh he was proposing "just what I've been for all along."

"I can't believe that the committee would approve it," Rep. Eberhart (D-Pa.) said in an interview. "In my opinion the manufacturers' excise tax is even more vicious than a general retail sales tax. It's a scheme that has inherent in it the shifting of the burden to those less able to pay."

Rep. Byrnes (R-Wis.) commented, "In my view the committee would approach the proposal with considerable skepticism. . . . It would tend to pyramid in prices at the retail level. There is a very serious question whether the federal government should attempt to raise its revenue with a general sales tax."

Others had similar comments. Sligh discounted in advance Eberhart's argument that a sales tax "would shift tax burdens from the big fellow to the little fellow." He said a 4 1/2 per cent uniform sales tax would cost $96 a year for a family of four with $4,000 annual income, and $213 for the same family with $10,000 income.

Sligh also attacked the argument that a sales tax at the manufacturing level would be "pyramided" as goods are channeled from manufacturer to retailer.

"If retailers could make more profit by raising prices," he said, "they would do so, tax or no tax." Sligh said that, although the NAM favors a manufacturers' tax, it would not rule out a retail sales tax if Congress chose that course.

Four Texas PMA Committee Members Give Resignations

By The Associated Press

Claude K. McCan of Victoria was all alone Tuesday on the Texas committee of the Production & Marketing Administration.

The other four members of the group of which McCan is chairman resigned Monday. All were appointed under Democratic Party administrations.

McCan, appointed under the Eisenhower administration, said in Denver Monday night that the resignations were a "big surprise" to him.

County Funds Drop In July

Howard County's cash fund balance at the end of July totaled $419,567.24.

According to records in County Auditor Lee Porter's office, this is $76,704.45 less than the balance a month earlier. Porter says the decrease is due largely to expenditures out of the courthouse and jail fund.

Some $55,059.27 was spent from the courthouse and jail fund during the month. Total expenditures during July were $85,167.82, and receipts were only $8,427.37. Losses in the other funds were as follows: Jury, $1,522.85; road and bridge, $11,383.88; general, $4,124.55; officers salary, $4,126.27; and library, $677.95.

Increases were made in the permanent improvement fund ($31.37), the road and bridge special fund ($7.08); in the road bond series ($19.74); the law library, ($38.00) and the sinking ($58.23).

Balance in the various funds at the end of July were: jury, $7,796.20; road and bridge, $138,602.60; general, $46,944.66; officers salary, $31,129.47; permanent improvement, $8,648.15; road and bridge special, $7.08; road bond series, $1,435.42; library, $6,371.58; law library, $475.75; lateral road, $25,884.41; courthouse and jail, $108,443.86; and sinking, $43,828.06.

A Tot By Any Other Name Likes It Better

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Attendance had dropped off sharply among the 8-year-olds at the Sharon Hill community YMCA's summer recreation club.

Director Pete Ledonn decided to phone the mothers and find out why. He found out. Seems the kids objected to being put in an age-group called "tots" and playing in an area called the "Tot Lot."

Ledonn worked fast. The play area is now called "Indian Village" and its denizens are "braveys."

Attendance is back to normal.

Mrs. Killam Will Attend College

Mrs. Jessie Killam, Salvation Army Sgt. Major here, will leave in a few days for West Virginia where she will attend college.

Mrs. Killam has been stationed here with the Army for approximately two years. Before that she was in Abilene for about 15 years. She has recently received an associate arts degree in Bible at Howard County Junior College, and plans to obtain a bachelor's degree. She is well known here as a seller of "War Cry," the Salvation Army magazine, with the group.

Dean Apparently Not To Be Early Returnee

MUNSAN (AP)—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean apparently will not be among the first American war prisoners returned by the Communists at Panmunjon tomorrow.

The first group of prisoners to be freed by the Communists arrived at the Red armistice camp in Kaesong last night, and Communist correspondents said they had no knowledge of Dean arriving with the group.

Sen. Jenner Calls For Total Change In Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) called today for a "total change" in U. S. foreign policy and termed the recent Korean truce "the last tribute to appeasement."

Jenner, who consistently opposed former President Truman's foreign policy and has criticized American participation in foreign aid programs and the United Nations, questioned the right of Russia, Red China and North Korea to participate in the international political conference on settlement of the Korean situation.

"Our government has agreed that Russia, Red China and North Korea ought to be participants," Jenner told the Senate. "But by what right? North Korea is only a geographical expression. . . . Red China has taken no responsibility for the truce."

"Can it be true that our government has consented to sit down in a Pacific conference where Red Korea and Red China are included but the Republic of China is not included?" Jenner asked.
