

Convict Visibly Moved As Choir Delivers Cantata

A nervous mild-mannered man, due to spend the remainder of his life behind prison bars, had his moment of glory here Sunday afternoon.

Frank Marion Grandstaff sat with immobile face as the Texas & Pacific Railway company's 28-voice male chorus sang his cantata, "Big Spring."

Later Grandstaff shrugged his shoulders. His reaction? "I don't know. I just felt all torn up inside."

When the program in the jam-packed city auditorium was over, Grandstaff was swarmed by autograph-seekers and well-wishers. It took him most of an hour to satisfy the demand.

Dr. Roy Harris of George Peabody college at Nashville, Tenn., near where Grandstaff has been imprisoned under the habitual criminal act for larceny, termed the cantata "impressive."

Long before the program started at 3 p. m., the city auditorium was filled to capacity and several hundred were packed against the walls.

Grandstaff made his first appearance after W. E. Greenlee, master of ceremonies, had paid tributes to the pioneers who had developed the area.

To a vigorous round of applause, Grandstaff said simply that "happiness is a town called Big Spring."

Survivors include his father, Geronimo Calderon, three brothers, Basilio, Bentura, Geronimo, Jr., and a sister, Lupe Calderon.

Justice Douglas Badly Injured

YAKIMA, Wash., Oct. 3. (AP)—Justice William O. Douglas, one of the leading liberals of the U. S. Supreme Court, was injured gravely yesterday in the Cascade Mountains.

His chances of full recovery, however, appeared excellent today. Doctors attending him at a Yakima Hospital said his condition was not critical.

The 50-year-old jurist responded well to blood transfusions and emergency treatment given on his arrival from the accident scene, 77 miles away.

But for several days, his doctors said, the danger of pneumonia will be acute. As soon as his improvement permits, further examinations are planned to check against the possibility of other internal injuries.

Mrs. Douglas, who was in the east, and their daughter, Mildred, a student at her father's alma mater, Whitman College at Walla Walla, Wash., are on their way here to be by his side.

Douglas, mentioned frequently as a possible Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, was hurt on the eve of the Supreme Court's western term and two weeks to the day from his 51st birthday.

He had flown here from Seattle for a brief visit in this city where he spent his boyhood and helped work his way through grade and high school as a newspaper carrier.

The several hour horseback trip to the Chinook Pass area of the High Cascades had been planned in connection with Douglas' book, soon to be published.

With Elmer J. Gilbert, Yakima fruit broker who has been a close friend since they were youngsters, Douglas visited mountain scenes mentioned in the semi-autobiography.

Douglas had stopped to tighten his saddle cinch on a narrow rocky trail, and was remounting when his horse became frightened.

Part Of Coal Miners Return To Work Today

Government May Be Compelled To Step Into Dispute

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2 (AP)—One fifth of John L. Lewis' coal miners went back into the pits today but nearly a million other steel and coal workers remained on strike for pension benefits.

There are hints the federal government may step into the dispute. Some 80,000 anthracite (hard coal) diggers ended two weeks of idleness in eastern Pennsylvania.

And 22,000 soft coal diggers trooped back to mines in western states. Lewis said these miners' further inaction is "not now vital to the pending wage negotiations."

It's a morale booster for America's householders since virtually all of the coal mined by the returning 102,000 is used for home heating.

Coal-using industry, however, must continue to bite into a 46-day supply of bituminous stockpiled above ground. There was no hint of a return to work order for the 380,000 men who mine most of the nation's industrial coal.

How much steel is available? About enough for four to six weeks. The double-barreled steel-coal strike—It idled 513,000 CIO steelworkers and nearly 400,000 soft coal miners—made big dents in America's economy.

If it continues another month the over-all loss in wages and sales is expected to reach a billion dollars. All told 33 basic steel plants and 30 iron ore mines in 27 states are shut tight. That's 95 per cent of the nation's steel mills.

A handful of companies, notably American Can Co. with 15,000 workers in 28 plants, agreed to union terms. But a new strike threat hangs over industrial America.

The steelworkers' union has 500,000 members working in 700 steel fabricating plants from coast to coast. Their contracts start running out Oct. 15. And the union says the men will quit work unless management grants free pensions and free insurance.

Man Held In Fatal Shooting Near Ackerly Sunday

STANTON, Oct. 3.—Authorities here were holding Calisto Carrasco, 27, in connection with the fatal shooting early Sunday of Jose Cobas, about 32.

Deputy Sheriff Jim McCoy said Cobas was shot through the heart at about 12:30 a. m. Sunday at a dance hall in northeast Martin county near Ackerly. McCoy said a 25 caliber pistol was used in the slaying.

The victim, a brother-in-law of Carrasco, is survived by his wife and five children. He was working on the Hill ranch in northeast Martin county. Both Carrasco and Cobas had formerly lived in Presidio for a number of years.

Cobas' body was at Eberley Funeral home in Stanton. Funeral services was to be held this afternoon at Ackerly.

Big Spring Postal Receipts Increase

Postal receipts soared past the $100,000 mark during the third quarter of the year, which ended Sept. 30, according to figures released this morning by Postmaster Nat Shick.

Income during the month of September amounted to $11,990.42, an increase of $1,719.35 over the same month in 1948. That brought the aggregate for the year to $103,935.77, compared to $91,140.43 for the first nine months of 1948.

Third quarter receipts amounted to $34,611.67, Shick stated.

Russia Breaks With China Nationalists

MOSCOW, Oct. 3. (AP)—Russia has finally broken with the Nationalist Government in China to give the diplomatic nod to the new Red regime there. At the same time she accused the Western Allies of trying to split Germany by setting up a separate government in their zones.

The recognition of Communist China was announced yesterday in a note to the premier of the People's Government at Peking from Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Another Soviet note, delivered to representatives of the three big Western Powers in Moscow, urged the creation of the West German government at Bonn. It charged the U. S., Britain and France had broken big Four agreements to try to regain political and economic unity of Germany.

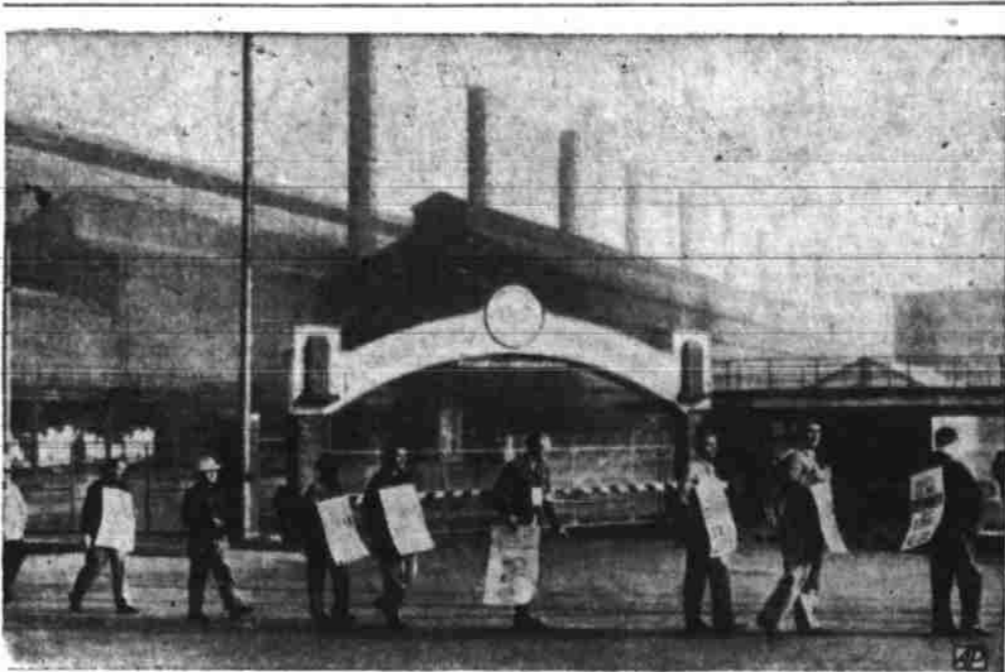

Meanwhile, Romania joined the parade of Soviet-style "people's democracies" in scrapping her friendship treaty with Yugoslavia. Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary already have followed the lead of Russia in denouncing their alliances with Premier Marshal Tito's regime.

Reports from inside Yugoslavia say tension is mounting among the people, as Tito's cold war with the Russian-led Cominform reached its toughest stage yet. There were unconfirmed reports in Belgrade that Tito was shifting his troops from western Yugoslavia to the eastern borders facing Hungary and Romania.

(Associated Press Correspondent Alex H. Singleton reported, however, there appears to be no fear in Belgrade that actual war is imminent.)

The people realize, nevertheless, that the Soviet satellites are united in a diplomatic-economic effort to oust Tito's regime.

Texas Gulf Coast Is Braced For Hurricane

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Oct. 3. (AP)—A hurricane with winds of more than 120 miles an hour was edging up to the industry-studded Texas coast today.

The latest report placed the whirling storm 276 miles southwest of Galveston, moving 12 miles an hour toward the center of the crescent-shaped coastline.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said if it held to its present course it would move inland tonight in the vicinity of Port Lavaca.

Four hundred miles of Texas' crescent shaped coast was battered down today awaiting a hurricane moving in slowly from the Gulf.

At 6:45 o'clock this morning the storm with winds estimated up to 90 miles was about 135 miles south east of Brownsville, on the southern tip of the Texas coast.

It was moving between Corpus Christi and Galveston late today along the coast during the morning. At 8 this morning it was racing hard at Houston, Texas' biggest city just inland from the coast.

Winds and squalls gradually increase along the Texas Coast with winds reaching gale force (55 to 63 miles an hour) by noon and hurricane force from Corpus Christi to Galveston late today. The U. S. Weather Bureau said in its advisory.

Tides are high along the Louisiana-Texas coast and are expected to become dangerously high along the Texas Coast this afternoon and tonight, the bureau said.

17 Killed As Train Hits Bus

ONTARIO, Calif., Oct. 3. (AP)—A racing passenger train ripped into a U. S. Air Force bus at a crossing last night, killing 17 of the 22 occupants.

The bus came from March Air Force Base, 40 miles east of here, and carried military and civilian personnel and girl friends homebound from a day at the beach. No one on the bus was unhurt, but no one was injured aboard the train.

The Union Pacific's Pony Express eastbound to Chicago. The railroad said the train was traveling 70 miles an hour. Engineer Al Hall declared "I didn't see a thing" before the crash.

Survivors include Omega and Marquita Pearce, 18, cuts and bruises. She said she was sitting on the rear seat with Charles Plezniak.

"I heard a scream 'Look Out!'" The next thing I knew, some men were picking me up," Plezniak said. He was taken to naval hospital at Long Beach with undetermined injuries.

Nearly a mile of the railroad right-of-way—some 50 miles east of Los Angeles—was strewn with bodies, some decapitated and many mangled.

A graphic eyewitness account came from O. K. Englund of La Crescenta, Calif., who was driving on U. S. Highway 60, which parallels the Union Pacific tracks. Englund said accident insurance and makes investigations of many crashes.

"Suddenly," he said, "rocks began hitting my windshield and I drove into a big cloud of dust. I stopped. A fellow was staggering around, yelling 'my arm, my arm!'"

"I saw one man lying against a post, bones sticking out from his body. There were pieces of bodies scattered everywhere. Pieces of the bus were scattered around, none so big you couldn't lift them. I came upon a girl, naked from the waist up and bleeding badly. I helped lift a man half buried in the sand.

"I must have seen about 15 people lying around and there were only five of them alive."

Charles, La., to Apalachicola, Fla., should remain in port as squalls and rough seas are reported over most of the northern Gulf," the bureau said.

The bureau ordered up hurricane warning from Corpus Christi to Galveston and storm warning elsewhere between Brownsville and Lake Charles.

The hurricane is the second tropical disturbance in the lower Gulf in two weeks. Ten days ago another storm swept inland near Vera Cruz, Mex., but did no great damage. It lost most of its sting as it hit the coast.

A heavy rain squall hit Corpus Christi during the morning. Corpus Christi is the site of a big naval air training center.

Thirty-five four engine bombers took off from the station during the rain. They flew to Goddard Field at San Angelo.

All Corpus Christi public schools were ordered closed. Merchants boarded up plate glass windows. Residents were advised to evacuate low-lying areas. The tide was rising rapidly.

GOP Accuses Dems Of Double-Cross On Social Security

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. (AP)—A pair of Republicans accused the Democrats of a double-cross today because of House leaders' pressure for a vote on an expanded social security program.

"There was a definite understanding," Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio) told a reporter, "that this legislation would not be brought up until next January."

Rep. Mason (R-Ill.) also said there was such an agreement in the House Ways and Means Committee, which handled the social security bill.

Speaker Rayburn says the Democratic leadership never made any agreement to delay action until next year.

Regardless of who is right, the bill is on the House work schedule for this week. It is supposed to come up tomorrow for its first taste of debate.

That schedule depends on getting clearance from the rules committee meeting today.

Whatever the House does, the Senate plans no action until next year. Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance Committee has predicted Senate approval then of social security expansion.

U. S. Cardinal Has Audience With Pope

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, Oct. 3. (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York had a private audience yesterday with Pope Pius XII.

The New York prelate, who arrived in Rome by plane Saturday night, is to have a second private audience with the Pontiff Thursday morning.

Yesterday's meeting was the first between Cardinal Spellman and the pope since the 1946 consistory, when the New York prelate was elevated to the sacred college.

Thousands Throng City For Spectacle

Gov. Allan Shivers landed at the Municipal Airport at 1:28 p. m. today to be greeted by Centennial and city officials. He was brought to town immediately to take his place in the lead of the Centennial parade and to disembark at the judges stand for formal review of the colorful procession.

Gov. Shivers was met by Mayor Dabney, Shine Phillips, president of the Centennial association, Schley Riley of the Centennial hospitality committee, The National Guard unit under command of Capt. T. A. Harris stood at attention while the Governor marched through its ranks on leaving the private plane which brought him here from Fort Worth.

The Centennial celebration went into its mass spectacle phase today. The city's honor guest was Governor Allan Shivers, who was slated to head the 2 p. m. parade, a review that has been designed as the biggest, most colorful ever staged in Big Spring. Thousands had gathered early on the streets to witness the procession.

Governor Shivers was to review the parade from an honor place in the stand at the courthouse square. Immediately following, he was scheduled to make a brief address, bringing greetings to the city on the festive occasion.

Then, tonight, at 7:30, there will be unfolded the "show of the century" as far as local folks are concerned, the impressive Centennials. The opener will include the special sequence of the queen's coronation, when Miss Patti McDonald is crowned by the governor.

Cannon Salute Officially Opens Big Celebration

Big Spring's Centennial celebration was officially opened with a three-volley salute from a pioneer cannon at noon today on the 100th anniversary of Capt. R. B. Mangey's discovery of the "big spring."

Mayor G. W. Dabney proclaimed the Centennial observance officially underway and paid brief tribute to the pioneers responsible for the development of this area in the past 100 years.

Concluding with a look into Big Spring's and America's future, the mayor declared that "we are going to have to become a Christianized and educated people in less than another 100 years if we expect to be here at the end of the next century."

"We must learn to be tolerant of the human race is to survive," he stated.

Shine Phillips, Centennial association president who was introduced to the several hundred spectators by Mayor Dabney, predicted that Big Spring's celebration "will be the biggest show ever staged in Texas west of Fort Worth." Phillips thanked "everyone who has helped make the show possible" on behalf of the Centennial association.

B. Reagan introduced as the Centennial celebration, remarked to the crowd that he had been considering the idea for a number of years.

Martial music by the Big Spring high school band, and a brief kangaroo court session closed the noon program from the Main street bandstand.

YMCA, BOY SCOUTS LAUDED

Youth Groups Stopping Crime, Says Grandstaff

Support of youth organizations leads to crime-stopping, declares Frank M. Grandstaff, the convicted felon who says he bases his opinions on his experiences, which have resulted in convictions on charges of burglary, larceny and receiving stolen goods.

He singled out the YMCA and the Boy Scouts for special mention.

"If any man keeps himself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight—that's from the Boy Scout oath—he can't go far wrong in any direction," Grandstaff declared.

"Young people need places where they can go for recreation and entertainment, places like the YMCA where they can enjoy wholesome social contacts without burdensome cost," the life-terminer continued.

"If circumstances are right for such a thing, there isn't a man who won't steal. On the other hand, if such circumstances are prevented, no man will steal."

Grandstaff said he believed that the YMCA and Boy Scouts were organizations that helped prevent such circumstances.

Prison definitely is not the answer, the life-terminer asserted. Prison systems have not changed basically in hundreds of years, he said.

"The minute they pin a number on your shirt tail, brother, you're stuck."

Grandstaff referred to reports that Actor Robert Mitchum had proposed a motion picture on prisons.

"If he makes that picture I would like nothing better than to write the music. I would write music that would make your hair stand on end. All they have to do is give me a ham sandwich once in a while to keep me going," Grandstaff said.

Deathless Days In Big Spring Traffic 653

Grandstaff Visit Should Not Be Linked With Future Plans

The fantastic case of Frank M. Grandstaff, who has gained a brief furlough from life imprisonment because of his musical talent and because of Big Spring's unusual celebration, has caught the fancy of the nation at large.

Because of its unique angles, the Grandstaff story has had widespread display in the public press throughout the country, and the spotlight has been thrown on Big Spring as well as Grandstaff himself.

Since such a flood of publicity sometimes tends to exaggerate matters in many people's minds, it seems proper to point out again this community's part in the affair.

Because Grandstaff wrote his cantata based on a book by Shine Philips of Big Spring, and because of subsequent contact between these two through correspondence, a request was made of the Governor of Tennessee that Grandstaff be brought here to hear his musical work. This request was graciously granted.

So, Grandstaff is here as a guest, in a sense, of the community and of the Centennial organization. He has been a most gracious guest, and his stay to date has been pleasant for all concerned.

The time must come, however, for the Centennial celebration to end, and for Grandstaff to take his departure. When it does, that concludes the affair insofar as the initial request made of the Governor of Tennessee.

And future movement or request for clemency of any sort for Grandstaff would have to be separate and apart from the temporary furlough that was granted for this week's program. First, because the Centennial furlough was all that was asked in the first place; and second, a clemency request would have to be directed through the proper authorities who handle such things in the state of Tennessee. That state's pardon board would have to handle the case on its merits, and not on any coincidence which brought the man to Big Spring to hear his musical compositions.

No Traffic Problem At Park If Instructions Are Followed

For the next three nights, traffic at the Big Spring city park will probably reach a record volume, will at least on individual nights compare with the dense crowds that have attended July Fourth fireworks.

The difference between this week and the Independence Day celebration, is that a big production effort, the Centurama, has cut down the available parking area, so that traffic control becomes a major problem.

It can be met easily if all people will cooperate with police officers, highway patrolmen and their special helpers, but only if the people cooperate.

Because the Centurama east contains some 500 people, the highway 87 entrance to the city park must be limited to cars transporting those people. The public's only entrance, then, to the amphitheatre show, and to the carnival is through the regular city park entrance. This means that parking must be scattered over a wide territory.

If a policeman flags you down and instructs you to park in a place that seems distant to you from the amphitheatre, please obey his instructions and take his word for it that there are no closer parking places. Failure to regard such instructions will only create congestion and possibly some accidents.

Nobody wants a traffic accident at any time (Big Spring is doing too well with its death-free record), and certainly nobody wants to have the Centennial celebration marred by such unfortunate affairs.

The traffic-entire situation has been well studied and well worked out by the officers. They will work long hours to see that things go smoothly. But they must have complete cooperation from all motorists. If they get it, there will be no undue congestion, no accidents during the affairs at the city park.

Ageless Billie Burke Is Link Between Old Theatre And New

NEW YORK, (AP)—MARY WILLIAM ETHALBERT Appleton Burke is an ageless girl. She starred back in 1907 with the late John Drew, played Ophelia to John Barrymore's Hamlet, spent 18 glittering years as the wife of Flo Ziegfeld, and has acted to more than 100 motion pictures.

Yet last week this busy lass of 64 years spent four minutes smooching with 37-year-old Mill Berlinger.

MWBAE is better known of course, as Billie Burke, and Berlinger is recognizable to many video viewers as Milton Berle.

Miss Burke is a living link between the great theatre of the past and today's television camera. Her memories go way back—but no one gets a bigger kick out of living in the present.

I went over the other day to interview her at Sardi's Restaurant, and it was like talking to a restless greyhound. She was all over the place.

On the screen Billie is famous for playing the role of a silly, fluttery woman. But in real life she doesn't flutter—she vibrates.

She burrowed for a moment in a huge lettuce salad. She said she'd just finished "And Baby Makes Three" for Columbia Pictures, and now was looking for a Broadway play.

Then she saw producer John Golden and whipped over to his table, had a few bites there, and whipped back.

"I can't find the right kind of play," she said. "I don't want to play a crude, low woman, but it seems like only plays about thwarted, frustrated people are popular now. Failure isn't part of my philosophy."

A PRESS AGENT CAME OVER TO ASK if she'd pose for pictures illustrating an article of geriatrics, the science of old age. "No," she said definitely, "that's not for me."

A moment later she hailed a waiter and pointed at her salad.

"Take it away—it's getting in my face." Suddenly she remembered she had to go to a studio to pose with Milton Berle for some theatre magazine photos.

She said that "Mr. Ziegfeld" was the nicest man she'd met in her life—and Mark Twain was next.

"I know people so far back," she complained. "I liked Mark because he was fond of red-haired people. The biggest regret of my life is that I never had a red-haired son."

Technical Victory Of Britain's Laborite Regime Means Little

BRITAIN'S SOCIALIST GOVERNMENT has won a technical victory of doubtful value in its battle in the House of Commons to justify the recent devaluation of the pound sterling as a solution of the country's fierce economic crisis.

Actually the three-day, full-dress debate degenerated into political tub-thumping by both Socialists and Conservatives in preparation for the next general election. It was neither illuminating nor edifying.

When the duel of words was over, Prime Minister Attlee, with his big Socialist majority behind him, first defeated a Conservative motion of no confidence in the government. He then proceeded to drive through a vote of confidence, in which the Conservatives headed by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, sat silent. Thus the vote was on party lines.

SO ABOUT ALL THAT THIS EAGERLY awaited debate achieved was to demonstrate again Attlee's ability to hold his following in parliament fairly well in line, although there was some dissention. What the general public eagerly wanted was an indication of government plans or handling the crisis, and of how the Conservatives themselves would deal with the situation if they were in power. But all the public got was a display of electioneering pyrotechnics.

Whether now? The fate of socialist rule in Britain is at stake. The Socialist leaders are divided over the question of whether the government should force a general election in the near future or should wait until, say spring. Under normal circumstances an election would be due in the middle of next year.

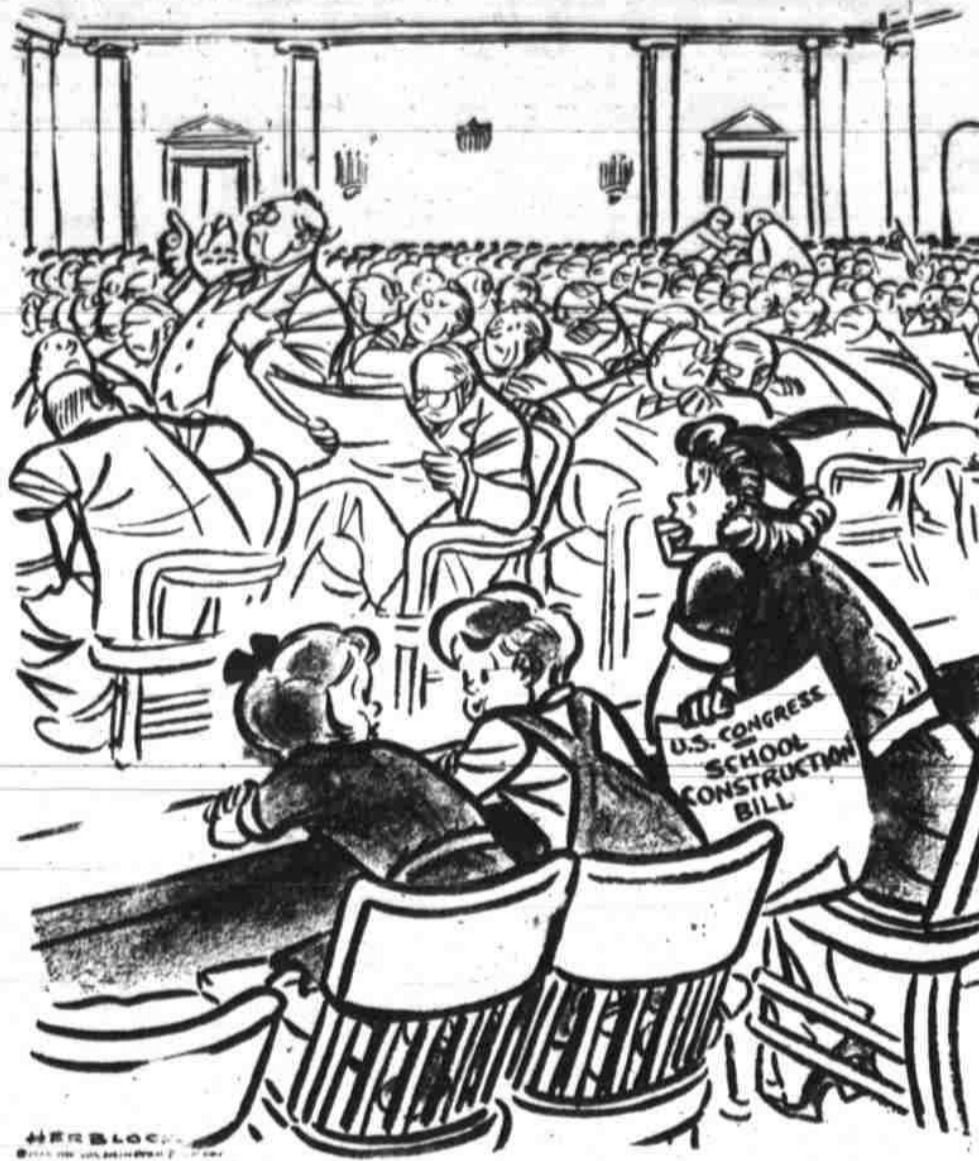

The Socialist decision will, of course, in effect be a gamble. That is, if they hold a quick election it will be on the basis that economic conditions may be better now than they will be later on. If they wait until next year it will be because they figure that devaluation will help matters, and because it will give time to complete nationalization of the steel industry and reform of the House of Lords—two planks of their platform.

Prime Minister Attlee wants to wait until next year for the election. He appears to have confidence in the effects of the devaluation which he himself is credited with putting through.

Gen. Patton Might Have Prevented Or Retarded Red Development Of A-Bomb

WASHINGTON — The famed Gen. George S. Patton probably turned over in his grave when President Truman announced that Russia had the secret of the atom. For Patton was one man who came near preventing, or at least retarding, Russian development of the atom.

In the first week of May 1945, Patton's 3rd Army crossed the Czechoslovak border and entered the city of Pilsen, headquarters of the vast Skoda munitions works. Patton had romped into Czechoslovakia before the Red Army had time to move its ponderous forces, just as U. S. troops advanced to the suburbs of Berlin, only to be ordered out by Gen. Eisenhower.

When this columnist reported the preemptory withdrawal of U. S. troops from Pilsen at Russia's request, it was officially and categorically denied. However, Gen. Patton's diary, now published, together with other memoirs show that these withdrawals were based on the Roosevelt-Stalin agreement at Yalta defining the limits of Russian advance into Europe.

Therefore, when Gen. Eisenhower ordered Gen. Patton out of Czechoslovakia, Russia immediately moved in and took over the uranium deposits at Jachymov, just a short distance from Pilsen.

And having marched into Czechoslovakia, the Red Army refused to leave. It has since had been given extraterritorial rights over the uranium mines of Jachymov. This made Russian citizens immune to Czech law in this area, a condition which continues. Even today no visitors are allowed in Jachymov, not even officials of the Czech government.

Of course, the present Czech Communist government has no objection to this arrangement, but the earlier Czech government of Edouard Benes did. In fact, the late foreign minister, Jan Masaryk—later murdered by the Russians—rose on the floor of the United Nations in January 1946 to place Czechoslovakia officially on record as favoring the use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes only, and proposed that Czechoslovakia's uranium should be made available to all nations.

As a result, official Moscow stood on its feet. The Soviet ambassador in Prague protested to Czech Prime Minister Ledschick, and the matter was implied that unless Czech uranium mines remained under Soviet jurisdiction, the Red Army would march in again.

Since the mines are only three miles away from the Soviet zone of Germany, this was no idle threat. Meanwhile, the extraction of uranium, by German prison labor, continues. Whether Russia has any other sources of uranium it not knows, but it is known that this is the richest source in Europe, and without it the recent atomic explosion might have been impossible.

NOTE — It should be recalled that the Yalta Agreement was concluded at a time when our wartime partnership with Russia was working reasonably well and when Roosevelt's great ambition was to continue this harmony to insure world peace. On the other hand, it should also be recalled that Alger Hiss, since accused of leaking State Department documents to the Russians, was an adviser at Yalta.

TOBACCO VS. SCHOOLS As a good Mormon Sen. Arthur Watkins, Utah Republican, isn't supposed to drink tea or coffee. But he was caught at luncheon the other day with a teapot in front of his plate. The incriminating pot was spied by Sen. Ralph Flanders, Vermont Republican. "Aha!" exclaimed Flanders. And he lifted the lid off the teapot triumphantly.

But the pot contained only plain hot water. "You won't catch me drinking tea," smiled Watkins. Then he explained that he was drinking "Mormon tea"—hot water, milk and sugar with no stimulants.

NOTE — It is also against Watkins' religion to use tobacco or liquor to show the moral of this, he ordered the Library of Congress to furnish him with statistics on the smoking and drinking habits of non-Mormons which disclosed that Americans have been spending $67.22 per capita on liquor and $36.39 per person on tobacco — but only $21.79 per capita on schools.

NEW ACTION BY GENERAL. In any administration, whether Democratic or Republican, the key cabinet post from a political viewpoint is that of the attorney general. For it is in the Department of Justice that the anti-trust cases against big business can be prosecuted — or fixed; where irremediable cases against political friends can be pushed — or dropped; where the big gamblers who contribute heavily to most political campaigns can be sent to jail or winked at.

For instance the political power of the Justice Department to break big city machines was one reason why forthright Attorney General Frank Murphy was kicked upstairs to the Supreme Court. Because of this it is always dangerous to put a politician in charge of the Justice Department, and for that reason a lot of people will be watching Howard McGrath, just appointed attorney general after serving as chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

While it's too early yet to judge so far McGrath is going about his new job not as if he wanted to do a job for the Democratic Party but as if he wanted to do a job for the country. His temptations will be great but, so far, he has made a good impression.

NOTE 1 — Among other things, McGrath is continuing Tom Clark's forthright position on civil liberties. Recently he ordered the prosecution of an Alabama policeman Cecil Thrash, who in the back, even though the on the charge of shooting a shooting took place two years ago last October.

NOTE 2 — McGrath's chief trouble so far is long work ends in Rhode Island.

MERRY-GO-ROUND Adm. Chester Nimitz, once a great Naval fighter, now a United Nations staff member, has become a great booster for the world organization. Cuba has lodged an official invitation to have the next UN General Assembly in Havana; the answer will be a regretful no.

Powell, Allyson Still Are Happily Married

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 3 (AP)—Five years ago, a wayward crooner, slightly on the downgrade, was starring in a hapless musical hash called "Meet the People." Playing a bit in the film was a winsome and hopeful young blonde from Broadway.

The crooner soon afterward traded his megaphone for a gat and blazed a new career as a private eye. The blonde straggled her way up the ladder to stardom.

The pair now re-star in "The Returner and the Redhead." Even the dullest-witted film fan can tell you that their names are Dick Powell and June Allyson. They are also Mr. and Mrs. as if you didn't know.

Their marriage has been remarkably smooth for such Hollywood unions, and it's possible that this picture will be the acid test. I visited them on their first day of work together and found them disgustingly happy.

"She's a doll," gloved Powell, looking like a college senior in his crew cut.

"He's wonderful," cooed Allyson, her squinty smile lighting up the sound stage.

The Powells have been plotting a film get-together for some time.

"I tried to get her for my production, 'Mrs. Mike,'" said the actor. "But her bosses said they didn't approve of married couples appearing together. I must have put up a good argument, because then the studio turned around and asked me to appear with her."

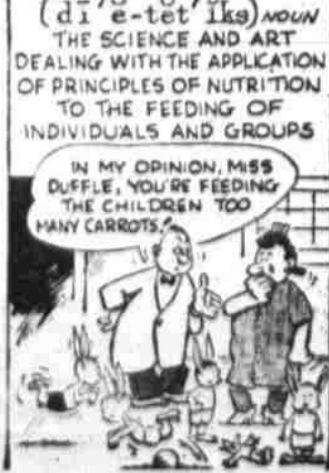

He figures the pairing will be more acceptable in a comedy, in fact may get added laughs. He explained that June has such lines in their pictures as: "Why haven't you ever married?" and "You're pretty nice—for an older man."

Mrs. Powell's reaction to working with her husband was unique: "You know, once I get into the scene and the camera starts rolling, it's just as though he were any other actor."

Guam To Ask Territorial Rank, With U.S. Citizenship Rights

AGANA, Guam.—In keeping with the trend of the times, Guam is beginning self-government under a U. S. civilian governor.

This week Gov. Carlton Skinner, appointee of the Department of the Interior and former Washington newspaperman, takes over civilian functions on the island, ending half a century of Navy rule broken only by the four-year Japanese occupation. The Navy will continue to be responsible for the defense and the military establishments of the island.

Both sides concur that Guam's progress must be evolutionary. Guam is a U. S. possession; it is hoped she can advance soon to the prouder status of a U. S. territory whose people enjoy the rights of American citizenship. Defense circles believe that its peculiar value as a Pacific outpost will prevent further advance into statehood or independence in the foreseeable future.

The 25,000 people for whom democratic rights Governor Skinner becomes spokesman are warmly described by Chief Justice John C. Fisher of the U. S. courts here as sober, moral and industrious. They are 98 per cent Catholic, a heritage from the Spanish conquest of the past century. It was from the Spanish that America took the island, in 1899, following the Spanish-American war.

In another heritage of conquest, Guamanians are trilingual, speaking their native tongue, Spanish and English with equal fluency. Many also can get along in Japanese. English is the language of the U. S.-directed schools.

The people are less the laborers of the island than they are the service trades. Many are in business and some are extremely prosperous. Their living conditions vary according to their means, as in any U. S. community.

Governor Skinner's opposite Navy number is Adm. Edward C. Ewen, well known in Washington as former head of Navy Public Relations. Admiral Ewen has also but recently arrived, waited—like Admiral Radford at Pearl—on the wings of rumor interests of unification.

Admiral Ewen has had a long experience in the Pacific and in protecting Navy interests. His bluff, hearty personality is in contrast to the liberal, intellectual ex-newspaperman who becomes governor. As the Arho cartoon put it, the Guam situation is fraught with interest.

The island already has a bilateral legislature, the Guam Congress, where much of the agitation for civil government was fomented. The principal native mover and shaker is F. B. Leon Guerrero, member of the House of Council and a second Fiorello La Guardia in build and personality. The Congress has appropriated $20,000 to send him and the Speaker of the Assembly to Washington to plead Guam's case for an organic act giving natives their civil rights.

The feeling here toward the Navy is good and there has been little trouble. But Guam's story is that America took over Guam, the now free Philippines and Puerto Rico simultaneously and that it is time to give Guam a break.

There are two schools of thought about the governor's duty. One says it is to protect U. S. interests. The other, held by many with long experience in these parts, is that U. S. interests have many defenders, that the governor should be Guam's friend at court, more Guamanian than the Guamanians. This, they feel, will best serve long-range U. S. interests in the Orient.

Pension Problem Has Priority In Thinking Of Labor Unions

WASHINGTON — THE PROBLEM OF pensions for workers now has moved into the front row of labor unions' thinking. You can be sure it will stay there.

John L. Lewis gave the problem a big push through the pension plan he got for coal miners from the mine owners over the past three years. It called for a pension of $100 a month.

This became a goal for other labor leaders who, if they wanted to retain leadership, could hardly seek less for their people than Lewis won for his.

Now Walter Reuther, head of the CIO pension for his members from the Ford Motor Company. The CIO steelworkers are trying to get the same from the steel firms.

So the Lewis and Reuther pension plans have set a goal and a challenge for other labor leaders. Therefore, it's logical to expect a continued drive for pensions in the years ahead.

Then, once the pension door is wide open, will come the drive for better pensions. This will explain why.

UNDER THE REUTHER PLAN FORD will not hand out a $100 monthly pension to his retired workers. He'll give them only the difference between $100 and whatever social security pension they get from the government.

(The average social security pension being paid a retired worker in this country, today is around $25 a month. The maximum anyone can get is $44.80. A retired worker's wife, when she reaches 65, get, a pension of her own, half as much as her husband's.)

So the wife of a man who got the maximum of $44.80, would get $22.40, giving the couple a combined pension of $67.20. But Ford pays a pension to a retired worker only, not his wife.)

Since the maximum social security payment is $44.80, the least Ford has to pay a retiring worker is $63.20 to bring his total pension to $100.

But Congress may pass a law—probably not before next year—increasing social security pensions as much as 70 per cent.

Suppose that happens and a retiring Ford worker—who under the present law got the maximum social security pension of $44.80—got a social security pension of would have to pay less to bring the work- er's total pension up to $100. If a man gets $44.80, Ford has to pay him $63.20. If he gets $76, Ford pays him only $24.

EX-GOV. NEFF IS SPEAKER

3,500 Attend Mass Religious Service Launching Centennial

In a spirit of Thanksgiving and remembrance, approximately 3,500 Big Springers and out-of-town visitors worshipped together under the stars Sunday evening.

Climaxing the Religious Day ceremonies, which launched the Centennial Week, the mass service in the city park amphitheatre featured an address by the Hon. Pat M. Neff former governor of Texas and retired president of Baylor University, and the music of the Texas & Pacific Railway company women's chorus.

Weather was ideal and hundreds of early arrivals heard an organ prelude played by Mrs. L. G. Talley. Only marring feature was trouble with the sound system until midway in the program.

Throughout the service there ran the dominant theme of homage to the Creator and to the founding fathers of the state and this area.

Former governor of Texas and an ex-president of Baylor University, Waco, Neff took as his theme "The Contribution of Religion to the Building of the West." Stating in the beginning that he did not wish to forecast the future or talk about the present, the speaker devoted himself to the recognition of contributions made by the builders of the nation, and later, the state of Texas.

"Big men came to Texas in the very beginning," said Neff, "they were kings though they wore no crown." He declared that Texas started a race all its own. He reviewed the facts that when Texas became a state, it was populated by some 30,000 people, that of that number, five had served as governors in other states, eight had helped in the writing of other constitutions, 22 had served on other state legislatures, 19 had attended European colleges, two, Mexican colleges, and 25, American colleges.

He expressed his belief that a higher grade of citizens could not be found in any other 30,000 people on the face of the earth.

"They started us right, more than one hundred years ago," continued Neff. Texas was built on foundations of education and religion combined, stated Neff, and the combination of the two cannot be defeated.

"We can't build a civilization on cotton, cattle and corn; a red faced boy is worth more than a white faced calf," emphasized the educator. He stated that when we forget these facts, we are headed away from the good and great.

Describing the early-day Texas leaders as trail blazers in the science of government, the former governor praised them for such advancement as the Texas homestead law, the abolishment of imprisonment for debt, and the separation of church and state.

The formal service opened with the congregational singing of "America," followed by the invocation by the Rev. Theo Francis, St. Thomas Catholic priest.

Dois Gibbs was the featured soloist in the chorus' rendition of "Rock of Ages." Other selections were: "In the Garden," "The Lord's Prayer," and "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked." Maurice Peterman, chorus director, was featured in a solo presentation of "The Publican."

The Rev. Lloyd Thompson, pastor of the First Christian church, read the scriptures for the evening, taken from Psalms 24. The Rev. R. Gage Lloyd led the evening prayer and the Rev. James S. Parks, the prayer of thanksgiving. Rev. Lloyd is pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. Parks, the East Fourth Baptist, pastor of the Wesley Methodist church. The Rev. Cecil Hardaway, gave a brief history of Big Spring churches. Dr. P. D. O'Brien, First Baptist pastor, introducing the principal speaker.

After the congregational singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," the Rev. John Kolar, Church of God minister, pronounced the benediction. Arrangements were under direction of the Big Spring Pastors' Association, and the Rev. Alsie H. Carleton, First Methodist minister, presided.

Robbins Named To Head Group

Shirley Robbins, veteran Big Spring golf professional, has been named president of the West Texas Pro-Amateurs, an organization which stages the annual West Texas Open golf tournament.

Robbins, who served as vice-president of the group last year, was elevated to the top post in an election held Sunday at Amarillo, scene of the 1949 tournament.

Gene Mitchell, Plainview, was named vice-president; Roscoe Pierce, Roswell, N. M., secretary; and Red Boat, San Angelo, tournament director.

Chuck Klein, Amarillo, won the 1949 crown Sunday in a playoff at Amarillo with Iverson Martin, Fort Worth and Graham and Bob Watson, Wichita Falls.

Klein finished with a birdie on the second extra hole after the three had turned in 72 hole scores of 272's, 16 under par.

T&P Choral Groups Feted By Local Officials Sunday

Members of the Texas & Pacific Railway company male and women's choral groups were greeted and entertained by representatives of the Centennial and the Pastors' association here Sunday.

As the group emerged from their cars at the T&P terminal, they were met by local officials and feted to a breakfast in appreciation of their part of the day's program. Many attended various churches and several congregations had pleasure of hearing T&P soloists. A number of the visiting musicians were conducted on informal tours of the city.

Following presentation of the cantata, "Big Spring," chorus members heard a play-back of their interpretation of the work. Dinner was served to the group at the First Baptist church.

Following the women's chorus numbers at the Religious Day mass worship at the amphitheatre, the group was transported to their train. For the cantata, men wore white dinner jackets and black trousers with black satin sashes. The women wore evening length black skirts and white blouses.

Arrangements for entertaining the visitors were in charge of Schley Riley member of the Centennial hospitality committee.

Faithful Dog Guards Body Of Mistress

LINCOLN, Ga., Oct. 3 (AP)—Softly the aged Negro commanded and the faithful dog left the body of his mistress. The posse watched silently.

Then they came out of the woods near here yesterday with the body of Mrs. Mary Anne Greer, 82, and the story of the German shepherd dog's faithfulness.

Mrs. Greer, whose 87-year-old husband learned Greek and Latin from Confederate Vice President Alexander Stephens, went into the woods four days ago to collect firewood.

When she failed to return Sheriff G. E. Norman organized a 100-man posse. They found Mrs. Greer, guarded by the dog, yesterday. For hours the dog defied possemen until Greer arrived to relieve the animal's vigil.

Sheriff Norman said rips in Mrs. Greer's clothing indicated the dog had tried to drag her homeward. Greer retired recently after 70 years as a schoolteacher.

Big Plant Operated Here By Seven-Up Bottling Company

In a roundup of bottlers in Big Spring, the Seven-Up Bottling company was incorrectly listed as a distribution office.

In reality, the company, headed by Louis Christian, is a bottling factory, distributing over a wide area and requiring the services of a staff of 20 employees. A fleet of five trucks is maintained to distribute the products bottled here, and to service the company's ware houses facilities at Odessa.

Christian has been operating his plant here for 18 years and directs activities of his firm at 1602 Young street. Due to pressure of production deadlines, information concerning the company was not developed fully in the Sunday issue of the Herald.

Texas-Sooner Game Heads Southwest Conference Card

Bovines Will Learn Truth

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

September's dream may turn into a nightmare for three more Southwest Conference teams this week.

Baylor, Arkansas and Texas stand a chance to be stripped of early season greatness. That lot fell last week to Rice and Texas Christian.

There's no danger for the slick Southern Methodist University Mustangs—they do not play. And Texas A&M hopes only for the best.

Louisiana State, A&M's foe this week, upset Rice, 14-7.

Arkansas, which meets Baylor Saturday at Waco, exploded Texas Christian's hopes that this year was "it." The score: 27-7.

Texas and Baylor rolled on undefeated, the Longhorns crushing Idaho, 56-7, and Baylor beating Mississippi State, 14-6.

But this week Texas finds out what it hasn't learned against three second class opponents. Am I really good? The Steers face Oklahoma, one of the top teams in the country, an ancient foe, and victor over A&M last week, 33-13.

All-America Doak Walker led Southern Methodist to its wild, 28-27, win over Missouri. The Mustangs played their usual brand of football, coming from behind, almost losing, but in front at the end.

Texas Christian faces Indiana this week and Rice meets New Mexico.

Arkansas and Baylor complete the list of undefeated conference teams. The Razorbacks head the conference standings and their tilt with Baylor this week again is the only one to count in the title race.

The licking in Rice took from LSU was not only unexpected, it caused some serious thought about that second best team rating given the Owls before the season.

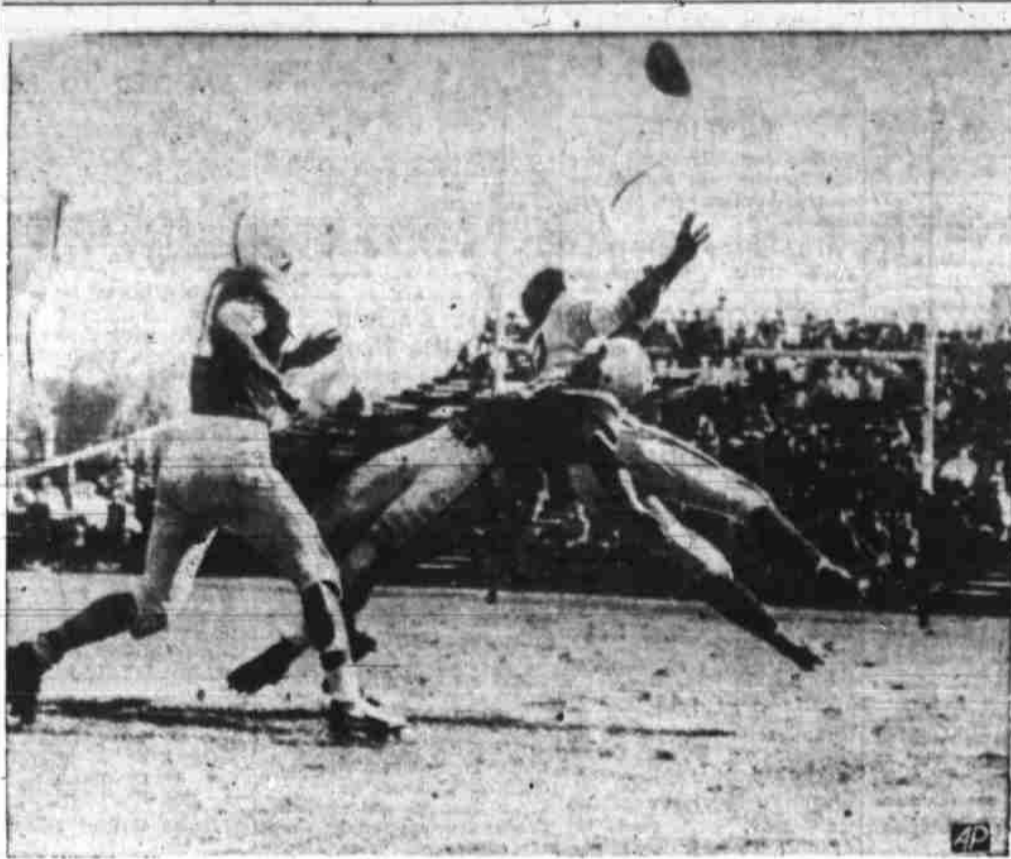

The Oklahoma game will tell the Texas story and a convincing victory may raise the Longhorns' status to chief threat to Southern Methodist in the championship chase.

This may be a foolish assumption, but it has a precedent.

At any rate, the game will be witnessed by the largest crowd ever to see a football game in the Southwest. The enlarged Cotton Bowl in Dallas seats 75,346 persons and all tickets have been sold for two months.

Last year, when the new Cotton Bowl was opened with the OU-Texas game, a crowd of 67,000 was watched. That was the old record.

Arkansas showed itself a real conference darkhorse by smashing Texas Christian. The Razorbacks

Quarterback Nick Sebok of Indiana rifled a pass to halfback William Mulcahy (42). The toss was incomplete. Halfback Bill Newell (31) of Ohio State is in the middle on his way to the ground. Army, Michigan Meet Saturday In Top Battle

By JOHN CHANDLER
AP STAFF

NEW YORK, Oct. 3 (AP)—Army and Michigan, two of the nation's college football titans, clash in an old time Doneybrook Saturday at Ann Arbor.

Although this probably will rate as the No. 1 fracas of the day, several other tilts are calculated to hoist the blood pressure. For instance:

Texas and Oklahoma, two old buddies who have been battling each other's wars off in a traditional rivalry since 1900. They met at Dallas, with no holds barred.

Ohio State and Southern California at Los Angeles, with the Trojans determined to boost Pacific Coast grid prestige, and the buckeyes hoping this won't be the only trip west this season. They'd like to return New Year's Day as the Big 10's representative in the Rose Bowl.

And down in Baltimore, a rejuvenated Navy eleven tackles Duke, a revitalized Blue Devil array that could be heading back to the football heights.

There are plenty of others on tap as the collegians swing into full gear, but these are the big ones.

As for Army and Michigan, take your pick. West Point's new team, showing no signs of weakness through graduation, plastered Penn State last week, 42-7. On the other coast, meanwhile, Michigan carved out a 27-7 verdict over Stanford.

Oklahoma pinned a 33-13 defeat on Texas A&M last week, and Texas as tuned up for the Sooners by taking Idaho apart, 56-7.

Ohio State continued its high scoring antics by submerging Indiana, 46-7, and Southern California had no trouble downing Washington State, 35-7.

For the second week in a row, Duke came through flying, pasting Tennessee 21-7. Navy's young Midshipmen overpowered Princeton 28-7, for the first Annapolis football victory in two years.

Notre Dame, recalling its 28-27 squeak over Purdue last fall, meets the Boilermakers, who dropped a 21-7 decision to Iowa Saturday.

The Fighting Irish polished off Washington 27-7.

Another Big 10 outfit with title ambitions, Minnesota, entertains Northwestern in one of the mid-west's major trysts. Minnesota sank Nebraska, 28-6, last week, while Pittsburgh's up and coming Panthers scored the day's major upset by knocking off Northwestern's Rose Bowl champs, 16-7.

Should have no trouble with West Virginia this week.

In the Deep South, Tulane gets a breather against Southeastern Louisiana, while looking forward to the meeting with Notre Dame Oct. 15. The Green wave rolled over Georgia Tech, 19-0.

North Carolina's Southern Conference powerhouse, with a thrilling 21-16 verdict over Georgia, lacks softer opposition this week in South Carolina.

In the Southwest Southern Methodist remained among the unbeatens by outlasting Missouri, 28-27. The Mustangs are idle this week, while Missouri meets Oklahoma A&M.

AMERICANS FAVORED Yankees, Dodgers Quality For Collision In Series

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP STAFF

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Still putting in from the closest two-league finish since 1908, the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers collide Wednesday in the city's eighth subway World Series.

The fall championship playoff finds the Yankees in familiar surroundings. This is their 18th appearance in the classic and the New Yorkers are solid favorites to capture their 12th world title.

The early odds establish Casey Stengel's taped-up athletes as a 10-17 choice. If you like the Yankees who have to lay $17 to win $10.

The first two games, Wednesday and Thursday, will be played in Yankee Stadium, the vast structure in the Bronx that seats 70,000.

Without interruption, the series moves across the river to the 35,000-capacity Ebbets Field Friday for three games, in case there isn't a sweep. The last two games, if necessary, return to the stadium next Monday and Tuesday.

Inflation has made this New York's first "dime" series. The subway fare has been raised from a nickel to ten cents since the last inter-borough battle in 1947 when these same Yankees outlasted the Dodgers, four games to three.

The Dodgers, who have been in four previous World Series and never won, also bowed to the Yankees in 1941 by four-to-one.

New York and Brooklyn squeaked through to league championships yesterday in a spine-tingling season climax.

The Yankees punctured the hopes of the confident and material-rich Boston Red Sox, 3-3, before a crowd of 68,055 at Yankee Stadium.

Vic Raschi set the Sox down with five hits, three of them coming in a bold ninth-inning three-run rally.

The Dodgers pushed across two runs in the tenth inning to repel the Phillies at Philadelphia, 6-7. They thus escaped a tie and three-game playoff with the pursuing St. Louis Cardinals, who bounded out a slump to whip the Chicago Cubs, 13-5.

The failure of the gold-plated Bostonians and the pressure-tough Cardinals provided a major surprise.

The Red Sox, built by Tom Yawkey's millions, were tabbed the best team in baseball and ruled heavy American League favorites. The Cardinals' old pros were figured to be the last to fade in the stretch, but they did—losing four of their last five games.

Here's how the races finished:

AMERICAN LEAGUE	W	L	Pct.
New York	97	57	.630
Boston	96	58	.623
NATIONAL LEAGUE	W	L	Pct.
Brooklyn	97	57	.630
St. Louis	96	58	.623

In 1908 three teams in each league, instead of two, went down to the wire in brisk fights for the flag. The Chicago Cubs and Detroit Tigers survived, and Chicago won the series.

Seldom in the past has a World Series caught two contenders in such an even physical state as this one. Both are weary from the rugged pennant drives and neither has its pitching staff ready for the pull.

White-haired Burt Shotton, manager of the Dodgers, said he wouldn't even hazard a guess on his probable starting pitcher. It probably will be one of his two ace, Preacher Roe or Don Newcombe.

Crusty old Casey Stengel has lefties Tommy Byrne and Ed Lopat ready for the Yankees.

The Bronx Bombers, plagued by 71 different injuries during the season, should be in pretty good shape physically.

Outfielder Joe DiMaggio, out the first half of the season with a heel ailment, has just rejoined his mates after a bout with a virus infection.

He insists he will be ready for full-time duty. Tommy Henrich and Catcher Yogi Berra, other important Yankees who have been on the ailing list periodically, are back in good health.

Other games yesterday had little effect on the final standings. In the American League, Cleveland, the 1948 champion, whipped Detroit, 8-4, to finish third. Washington beat Philadelphia, 3-0. St. Louis' Browns lost the first game with Chicago, 4-3, but won the second, 5-3.

The National saw Boston's 1948 champion Braves finish fourth, beating the New York Giants on the last day, 2-1. Pittsburgh won

Tigers, Allende Split Twin Bill; Rodriguez Hurls Three-Hit Game

The Big Spring Tigers and Allende Parrots halved a double bill here Sunday afternoon, the visitors from Old Mexico coming back to capture the nightcap, 1-0, after Ynez Yanez's locals had copped a 5-1 decision in the opener.

J. Rodriguez hurls three-hit ball as the Bengals swept to victory in the opener. The Tigers tallied twice in the first inning on two bases on balls, an enemy misplay and a hit by Tom Fierro.

Allende escaped a shutout when Solis, relief pitcher, crossed the plate on a hit by Requena.

A first inning run by Martinez proved the game's only score in the second go. Martinez came home on a hit by Ozuva. An error by Isa Mendoza had put the runner on.

The Tigers got to Salas, Allende tosser, for seven hits but could not bunch them.

Noted Composer Says Grandstaff Cantata Shows Definite Talent

Dr. Roy Harris, composer and music authority from George Peabody college in Nashville, Tenn., found the Frank Grandstaff cantata substantially less than great here Sunday.

On the contrary, however, he said that "the work was not the effort of a beaten man. The cantata was positive in mood and forthright in its plain utterance. There is no doubt that Grandstaff is gifted. Even a free man cannot capture the mood of narrative prose in apt literary phrases of obvious rhyme without talent."

Probably no other event in Big Spring's history has been so publicized as the appearance of Frank M. Grandstaff, Big Springers and out-of-town visitors flocked into the municipal auditorium Sunday afternoon to hear the cantata, "Big Spring," and to see the composer. As Shine Phillips stated, Big Springers have been trying to figure out a plan to fill that auditorium for a long time. If you've ever been to a program there on a cold winter night, you have probably wondered if it was possible to fill the down stairs section. Ripley would have liked to have known that it can be filled, even to most of the standing room.

That was no small crowd which attended the union vesper services at the amphitheatre Sunday evening. From the number of people who left before the service was completed, we'd say they know what the Centurama cast has gone through with during their closing rehearsals. It's amazing how warm it can be on down town streets and how cold it can be at the amphitheatre.

For comfortable enjoyment of the three-night performance, we suggest that spectators take along a fairly heavy coat. We have a fine amphitheatre, but this season of the year is not the time to go out in your shirt sleeves. That's what some people have been trying to do and they have been uncomfortable. You can be comfortable if you dress for the occasion and you will be uncomfortable if you don't. We know. We went out one night thinking it would be as warm as the down town movie.

The club decided to make a donation to the polo iron lung fund. Mrs. R. C. Nibbiss spoke on the subject, "Sanitation."

Attending were Mrs. George Hall, a visitor and Mrs. C. P. Brownell, a new member, and Mrs. R. C. Nichols, Mrs. D. F. Bigony, Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. Jimmie Ellis, Mrs. Shirley Fryar, Mrs. W. H. Ward, Mrs. J. F. Trivers, Mrs. L. Z. Shafer, Mrs. Bill Eggleston, Mrs. J. G. Hammock, Mrs. J. W. Wood and Mrs. O. D. Engle.
