Niagara Falls Viewed By Churchill; Allied Planning Tapers Off

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain left today for an unannounced destination after viewing Niagara Falls from the Canadian side.

Churchill crossed to the American side of the falls after an hour-and-a-half sight-seeing trip on the Canadian side of the cataract.

He was accompanied by his daughter, Subaltern Mary Churchill of Auxiliary Territorial Service, and a large party.

Churchill, who crossed to this country by automobile, boarded his special six-car train after only a brief stay on the American side.

He was greeted at Niagara Falls, Ont., by Maj. Gen. C. F. Constantine, officer commanding military district No. 2 (Toronto), and George R. Ingalls, mayor of the Canadian city.

He viewed the falls from the Canadian side, drove through the Niagara Falls Parks Commission's formal garden and motorcade down the Niagara river as far as Queenstown Heights, Ont., to see the whirlpool rapids below the falls.

Before boarding his train on the American side, the Prime Minister gave the "V" salute.

QUEBEC, Aug. 12 (AP)—A tapering off of Allied war planning became apparent today but with every indication it would reach a new and sustained peak when President Roosevelt begins his conferences with Prime Minister Churchill of England.

The discussions which began here Tuesday between Churchill and Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada and their chiefs of staff naturally have been directed toward problems and war strategy of interest primarily to their own countries.

Not until Mr. Roosevelt and Churchill sit down at a conference table are the consultations expected to get around to the point of final determinations of the next steps toward victory to be taken by all the English-speaking Allies.

The tapering off in Anglo-Canadian discussions began yesterday. Under the direction of Churchill and Mackenzie King, the first joint session ever held by the British war cabinet and the war committee of the Canadian cabinet took place at the Chateau Frontenac.

The impending Roosevelt-Churchill conferences which may chart the Allied invasion route into the European continent, may be expected to extend over several days, as have their five meetings in the past. And they may be expected also, if past performances offer any guidance, to culminate in a joint press conference.

But the real meeting of the discussions probably will become known only when new sledgehammer blows are swung at the enemy on the world's battlefronts.

Flying Fortresses Raid Nazi Targets; RAF Blasts Rhineland

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Flying fortresses of the U. S. Eighth army air force attacked industrial targets in Germany today, it was announced at American headquarters.

The American thrust made across the channel in bright sunlight, followed night raids on the Ruhr and Rhineland by RAF Mosquitos.

The German radio said that targets in the Rhineland, particularly Bonn, 15 miles southeast of Cologne, were hit by the American raiders.

The Nazi broadcast said a strong force of four-engined bombers made the attack, taking advantage of excellent cover in their swing down the Rhine.

"The raiders were spotted before reaching the French coast," the German radio added.

The broadcast said the raiders concentrated their heaviest attack against the "inner city" of Bonn, which has a population of approximately 100,000.

An air ministry communique did not list specific objectives of the night-raid Mosquitos.

Coastal observers said the daylight force appeared to be fairly large.

In other operations by the RAF during the night, mines were laid in enemy waters and railway targets in France and the low countries were attacked.

One night bomber was reported missing.

German planes retaliated last night in the heaviest raid on Britain in several weeks when about 10 raids dumped incendiaries on an unnamed southwest coast town.

Eight persons were killed and a number were injured, it was announced, when bombs destroyed a number of dwellings and stores and damaged two schools, a church and a number of shops.

Two neighboring towns also were attacked, it was announced, but only slight damage and no casualties were reported.

The overnight attacks on German war production plants in the Ruhr and Rhineland followed a heavy Tuesday night attack on the Nazi shrine city of Nuernberg, where heavy RAF bombers spilled more than 1,500 long tons of explosives.

(A Bern, Switzerland, report received by CBS said that 2,000 bodies had been recovered from the Nuernberg ruins and that 40,000 persons were made homeless. Fires still burned in the city last night, the report said.)

Key Railway To Kharkov Is Taken By Reds

Reports Say Bastion Already Under Fire; Bryansk Drive Pressed

MOSCOW, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Russian stronghold on Kharkov tightened today as Red army troops drove within seven and one-half miles of the big Ukrainian city from the northeast and severed the Poltava-Kharkov railway, main lifeline of the defending nazis, over a 10-mile stretch west of the nearly encircled bastion.

(The British radio reported that Kharkov already was under fire from Russian guns. The broadcast, recorded by CBS, quoted a late message from the front.)

The big drive against Bryansk rolled ahead through fresh German tank divisions that had been rallied in a desperate effort to halt the advance.

Perfect coordination of Soviet tanks, infantry, artillery and aviation was an important factor in the high-speed rush to envelop Kharkov, Red Star, army newspaper, reported.

Soviet infantry and artillery were waging battle against Nazi strongholds while tank forces bypassed garrison towns to sever communications and capture settlements in the hills around the enemy bases.

East of Kharkov, where Red army forces were fighting their way tenaciously into the city's suburban districts, the Germans were reported felling cherry and apple trees to construct pillboxes among the ruins of the villages.

The drive on Bryansk from Orel pressed forward through 70 more villages yesterday and drew steadily closer to the main objective.

Despite bad weather, squadrons of Russian bombers rained destruction on the retreating Germans.

Two German armored trains operating on the railway east of Karachev were assisting fresh German tank and infantry units as they made numerous counterattacks in an effort to stem the Soviet drive.

(The German high command said the "great defense battle" was continuing in the Belgorod area, without mentioning the threat to Kharkov, and declared that Soviet attacks southwest of Orel were frustrated. It said the Russians lost 102 tanks in yesterday's fighting.)

New Bridgehead Established East Of Cape Orlando

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 12 (AP)—A task force of American infantry has again landed from the sea behind German lines on the north coast of Sicily in an amphibious operation even more daring than the first and established a bridgehead east of Cape Orlando after cutting through powerful Nazi resistance.

The Yanks had to fight their way ashore to launch the assault at dawn Wednesday and were met immediately by strong German counterattacks, reports to headquarters said today.

American warships and swarms of fighter-bombers covered the landing, pouring a storm of shells, bombs and machine-gun fire into German detachments as they surged down the beach to give battle.

The surprise element which contributed to the success of the outflanking of the San Agata-Cesaro line from the sea at the weekend was lacking, but the Americans broke up the counterattacks, and a field dispatch said they had "successfully established a bridgehead."

The action, near the mouth of the Naso river 40 miles due west of Messina, probably trapped large German forces within a 10-mile area between the main American army attacking frontally along the north coast and the landing party at the rear.

Elsewhere in the battle for Sicily steady Allied advances were reported on all fronts and large-scale air attacks on the Italian mainland were resumed.

A strong force of American flying fortresses bombed Terni, an important railway and manufacturing center 50 miles north of Rome, in the heaviest of these sweeps.

The key German base of Randazzo has been brought under fire by light as well as heavy artillery of the American force fighting its way eastward along the road from Cesaro, indicating ground lines have been established within three miles of the town.

Closing in from the southwest a British Eighth army column was reported more than half way along on the 10-mile road between Bronte and Randazzo.

The villages of Prajola and Zafferana Etna, on the eastern slopes of Mt. Etna, fell into British hands. (The daily communique, as received in New York, referred to capture of a "village south of Prajola" and Zafferana Etna. This dispatch presumably is based upon later information.)

The area of San Marco d'Alunzio on the north coast about seven miles behind Cape Orlando, has been consolidated by the northern column of the American forces.

Terni, railway communication center about 100 miles north of Rome, was attacked yesterday by heavy bombers from the northwest Africa command and bombs were reported to have struck the railway yards and an industrial buildings.

Allied fighter-bombers, continuing their sweeps against Axis shipping, sank four enemy vessels off the Sicilian coasts.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—A Japanese broadcast recorded by the federal communications today reported American fliers had attacked the "northern sector" of the Kurile island approaches to Japan and warned:

"Further appearances of enemy planes from the north are to be expected."

SUIT IS FILED

DALLAS, Aug. 12 (AP)—A suit was filed here today in federal court charging that the West Texas Packing Company of San Angelo, violated a war food administration order forbidding the slaughter of livestock by local slaughterers or butchers without a valid permit.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—The war department's mysterious messenger, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, was back home again today after a trip to the Soviet Union on a "technical air inspection" for Secretary Stimson. Details of Rickenbacker's mission to Moscow were kept secret.

COLORADO CITY, Aug. 12 (Sp)—Peace officers, ranchers and volunteers from the Colorado City unit of the Texas State Guard combed the rugged expanse of the 200,000-acre Spade ranch south of here today for Arnold Stepp, 49, missing from a fishing trip since Sunday morning.

Although officers and cowboys, under the direction of Sheriff Nick Narrel of Colorado City, had searched the area for two days, the only traces of Stepp were some empty tobacco packages, his hat bands and some holes scratched in a draw, presumably to get water.

He disappeared early Sunday noon after he, Lee Reynolds, M. F. Reynolds of Stanton and Allen Chambers of Lorain, had pitched camp at the junction of Silver Creek and the Colorado river. Stepp complained of being tired and left the group of fishermen. Sheriff Narrel quoted other members of the party as saying:

Ranchers in the area were riding out the territory Thursday after a thorough search of the immediate area failed to indicate the trail over which Stepp had gone.

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Aug. 12 (AP)—At least 16 Japanese small craft operating in the Bismarck sea felt the sting of skip-bombing and strafing attacks today from two B-24 Liberators on long-range armed reconnaissance missions more than 550 miles north of Port Moresby, New Guinea.

At least one small enemy freighter was sunk.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP) Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala) declared today that any person wilfully delivering defective materials to the armed forces is guilty of "treason," and he predicted congress would enact the death penalty for such a crime.

The Alabamian, member of the judiciary committee, said the war and justice departments had approved his bill, which would write the extreme penalty into the sabotage act of the First World War.

"I cannot think of a more treasonable act," he said, "than a person or persons, for private gain, producing and delivering inferior materials, which might cost the lives of many of our boys and endanger the success of military operations."

So far-reaching is the Hobbs bill that it would hold stockholders accountable, under certain circumstances, where an offense is committed by a company.

That should make the stockholders more careful in the selection of directors," he said. Under present law, the maximum penalty on a war frauds conviction is two years imprisonment and $10,000 fine, and the severest punishment under the sabotage law is 30 years, except where there is a military test with the death penalty possible.

Lost Time—ice cream Staff Sgt. Clifford R. Wheeler, Elmwood, Ill., missed most while serving at top turret gunner on a B-26 Martin Marauder in North Africa, winning the air medal with three oak leaf clusters. So when he returned to Washington to be discharged because the Army discovered he was only 14 when he enlisted April 1, 1942, he made up for lost time at a drug store.

Abduction Case Grows More Perplexing

ALBANY, Ore., Aug. 12 (AP)—The Judith Gurney kidnaping case grew more weird today as authorities checked conflicting stories of the past life of Mrs. Catherine Wright, who confessed taking the two-day old baby girl from a hospital nursery last week.

The 26-year-old suspect's story that she was wounded in the bombing of Pearl Harbor was challenged yesterday by Army officials and a Long Beach, Calif., cafe worker, who said he was Mrs. Wright's husband at the time.

Harry (Woody) Morgan told Long Beach police that he was married to the present wife of Army Sgt. Jesse Wright on Oct. 7, 1941, in Honolulu, and that her injuries resulted from falling off the back porch of their home a week later.

Morgan said his wife left Hawaii shortly after the bombing and that he has never been officially notified if she has obtained a divorce or an annulment of their marriage.

District Attorney Harlow Weirick said Mrs. Wright told him after her arrest on a child-stealing charge that she had been married to Morgan but had obtained an annulment after three days.

She also told Weirick that she had been wounded by shell fragments on the head and neck while working as a teletype operator at Hickam Field during the Pearl Harbor attack.

CHUNGKING, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Chinese press urged today that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill give full attention to strategy against Japan in their impending conference, and particularly to strengthening the Chinese offensive front.

"The duration of the war will be lengthened if an offensive cannot be launched on the Chinese front at the same time as offensives get under way on the other fronts," declared the army mouthpiece, Sao Tang-Pao.

The China Times expressed hope that "concrete decisions" would be reached for the reconquest of Burma.

COAL ALLOWANCE CUT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Secretary of Interior Ickes said today that as a result of production losses due to work stoppages coal dealers will be limited to 90 percent of "last year's requirements" of anthracite.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Action which may retard and minimize the drafting of fathers is expected to be announced Sunday by War Manpower Commission-Selective Service officials.

The line to be taken probably will be aimed at adapting draft operations to the manpower problem by giving draft-eligible men an inducement to shift into vital war production work. It was described as about the ultimate WMC move short of a general labor draft.

But even as this was developing, Senator Davis (R-Pa.) proposed that Congress remove selective from the "domination" of the WMC and specifically bar induction of fathers until all other eligible men are taken by the

Jones Calls In Ex-Associate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Food Administrator Marvin Jones has called in a one-time associate in congress, former Rep. William L. Nelson (D-Mo), to help rebuild the wartime food program along lines which would, Nelson said, give "the folks back home more to say about what's to be done."

The Missourian, who was one of the democrats swept out of office by the farm belt uprising at last fall's election, has been named special assistant to Jones. He will serve as the connecting link between the food administrator and the state and local agricultural war boards.

Nelson served nine terms in the house, and for many years was a member of the agriculture committees headed by Jones.

The new assistant told an interviewer that it was his and Jones' intention to "give the folks back home" greater responsibility in running future farm programs.

"Regulations issued from Washington," he said, "will be held to the very minimum."

Nelson said the decision to decentralize the food program reflected the thinking and wishes of the people.

"That's one thing I learned since the election," he added.

Says Vets Will Need Jobs Most Of All

McKINNEY, Aug. 12 (AP)—America must provide "jobs, not doles," for able-bodied veterans of World War II and the best medical care for its sick and wounded, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Botham declared today, when he arrived to participate in the dedication of the U. S. Army's new 1800-bed Ashburn general hospital.

armed forces. There is, he said, no military need for drafting family heads.

The forthcoming action was said to be embraced in new draft regulations:

1. Broadening the "non-deferrable" list so holders of certain jobs in specified activities would be subject to call first, regardless of how many children they have, unless their induction would mean "extreme hardship and privation" to dependents.

2. Granting super-eligibility for occupational deferment to certain jobs and to certain industries engaged in direct production of war goods and machines.

Thus, draft-age men would have an incentive to get out of non-deferrable jobs to avoid speedy induction.

Shipments To Italy Halted

BERN, Aug. 12 (AP)—A report from the German frontier said today that Germany had halted shipments of all types to Italy. No further information or explanation was given for the reported step.

Inside Italy in the meantime, Premier Pietro Badoglio's government, although continuing the war, appeared to be awaiting developments on other fronts that might alter the Italian situation and provide a chance to take Italy out of the war.

The Rome correspondent of Die Tat of Zurich said the Italians recognized the importance to them of the forthcoming Churchill-Roosevelt meeting.

Italian newspapers, giving prominence to the conference, declared the allies appeared uncertain whether the Casablanca formula of unconditional surrender applied to the political as well as the military field.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Cheaper prices at butcher shops and grocery counters brought the cost of city living down in late June and early July for the first time of any consequence since Pearl Harbor was bombed.

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins announced yesterday that retail food prices declined 2 per cent from mid-June to mid-July—enough of a drop to bring the cost of living down 0.8 per cent despite slight rises in clothing and other items.

The bureau of labor statistics index showed the cost of living on July 15 was 25 per cent above January, 1941, and 5 per cent above last September.

The Office of Price Administration cut-back of meat prices—8 1/2 per cent for beef and veal, 8 per cent for pork and 4 per cent for lamb—joined with cheaper summer vegetables to make marketing less expensive for city housewives. Victory gardeners and big commercial supplies helped slide fresh vegetable prices downward.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Three children, one only three months old, were hacked to death in bed early today, Capt. Pete Weibenga said, and police immediately began a search for their mother.

Weibenga, head of the homicide bureau, in charge of the investigation, said Mrs. Mildred Davidson apparently fled after the children were killed.

Robert Davidson, father of two of the children and stepfather of the other, found them in bed, their heads slashed and skulls crushed.

EELS ENGAGED IN WAR WORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—The New York Aquarium's five electric eels have gone to war.

Dr. Christopher W. Coates, Aquarium director, disclosed yesterday that the eels have been removed from public view and are being used in secret war research.

"The research study is both physical and physiological," he said, adding that it would probably be a fair guess to say that the eels were being used in connection with study of nervous activity of human beings.

Movement On For Nationwide Meet Of Cattle Men

AMARILLO, Aug. 12, (AP) — A movement is underway here to call a nationwide meeting of cattle producers, feeders and packers for early September.

Object of the meeting would be to open feed lots and keep up beef production, cattlemen at a conference of livestock leaders from five states reported here.

Western cattle usually go to the feed lots for finishing but cattlemen predicted there would be no feeder market this fall unless there is a marked change in government policy.

Those here for the conference included Claude McCann, Victoria, Texas, president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association; Jack Mansfield, San Angelo; C. A. Freeze, San Angelo; and W. M. Deck, Perryton, vice president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation.

Chanslow Weymouth, Amarillo, vice president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, presided.

Tea Shortage Largely Result Of Hoarding

There's been no "Boston tea party" staged by indignant Americans like there was back in 1773 but the result in Big Spring is much the same as it must have been in Boston that year. No tea.

For the past two weeks grocers in town have seen their small supply of tea dwindle down to nothing and ice water has replaced iced tea on many tables.

Grocers admit that they have ordered more tea which hasn't arrived but is still expected soon. The reason for the shortage or complete lack of tea boils down to the same old reasons that put coffee on the ration list, along with sugar, and canned goods. The "patriotic" housewife heard that there might not be enough to go around, so she bought enough to last her and her family for the next five years.

Warehouses allocate to each section of the country a quota as nearly normal as possible and that supply divided evenly

Uncle Sam Says To Can It!

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
AP Food Editor

Even if you haven't a Victory garden, you will want to put up some of the summer's good vegetables and fruits for enjoyment next winter.

Tomatoes are the best bet in the vegetable line because they are plentiful, easy to can and full of vitamin C. This vitamin cannot be stored in the body so one has to get the supply daily.

Tomatoes also are the only common vegetable which the U. S. Bureau of Home Economics says can be canned safely without the use of a steam pressure cooker. When you put up vegetables without a steam pressure there is danger of spoilage and the possibility of the deadly food poisoning called botulism.

If you are planning an extensive vegetable canning spree, shop around the neighborhood for pressure cookers. Several neighbors can club together and do their canning and surely those owning pressure canners will gladly share them. Various food agencies are holding canning clinics, so attend these and pick up all the latest information.

COFFEE JARS can be used for home canning through use of a special top called the "thrifty lid," which may be obtained at the place you buy your coffee.

CONSTIPATION can cause HEADACHES

If that's your trouble, PRU-LAX the tasty laxative—may be just what you need to help relieve faulty elimination. PRU-LAX is a laxative—not a cathartic. It helps to stimulate "rhythmic activity" by aiding peristalsis of the colon. A compound of Senna and Cascara, combined with syrup and mild carminatives, it is pleasant to take. Constipation may be the cause of headaches, vertigo (dizziness), anemia, acne and other skin affections. Don't let it distress you. Get a bottle of PRU-LAX at your druggist today. (Caution: Use this or any laxative only as directed.)

It's important to have the proper equipment and canning instructions handy before you go to work. Best way to CAN TOMATOES is in a boiling water bath. For this you can use a large container with a tightly fitting lid. A wash boiler, metal pail or large kettle will do. Select a wooden or metal rack to fit into the bottom of the container to hold the jars. A wire cake cooler or homemade rack is satisfactory. The rack keeps the jars off the bottom of the container and allows the water to circulate.

Check over your jars and tops, making sure they are perfect. Some tops seal the food completely before it goes into the hot water bath and others are partially sealed beforehand and then completed when the processing is completed. So make sure that you know what type you have. You will need a funnel, measuring spoon, three large pans, wire basket or colander and a pair of tongs to remove the jars from their hot bath.

Wash all equipment in hot water. Place a cloth in bottom of a kettle and add jars, rubbers and lids. Bring slowly to boil and boil gently 5 minutes to sterilize. Keep over low heat until needed for filling. Then "fish" out the jars as needed. If you are sealing the jars with metal discs with rubber compound on them do not boil these but dip quickly in boiling water just before placing on the filled jars as they are ready to be processed.

Select firm ripe tomatoes, wash in cold water. Handle carefully and place several in a wire basket or colander, dip into a pan of gently boiling water for one minute. Plunge into a pan of cold water, then quickly peel off skins and discard blossom ends.

Cut the tomatoes into quarters or leave whole and boil them a minute. This reduces bulk. Pack them, boiling, into hot jars, add 1 teaspoon salt to each jar. Fill the jars to within one-half inch of the top, slip a silver knife down around the edge of the jar to let out any air bubbles. Seal the jar according to instructions which come with the lids. Carefully transfer the filled jars to the container, half filled with boiling water. Fill up immediately with more boiling water, covering jars by 2 inches. Adjust the cover of the containers. If the lid does not readily stay in place, weight it down with several heavy objects.

When vigorously boiling, start counting the time. Process (boil) 10 minutes. (Increase the processing time one minute more for each thousand feet above sea level. This means that two thousand feet elevation requires 12 minutes of processing.) Carefully lift out the jars with tongs, and let cool out of a draft on a cloth. Store in dark, cool, dry place.

Lewis' Offer Left Up To Convention

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP)—John L. Lewis' surprise offer to lead his United Mine Workers back into the American Federation of Labor was logged today as a routine order of business for the federation's annual convention. Range Paralysis Shows Increase

O. F. GRIFFIN, County Agent

Leudosis, or range paralysis, has been more prevalent during recent months than other poultry diseases, according to poultry veterinarians.

Its cause, thought to be a virus, has not been isolated. Infestations cause an abnormal growth of blood cells. Occasionally it takes the form of what is called the big liver disease, and at other times appears as a tumor. On rarer occasions it takes the form of enlargement of the bones, especially the shanks which become greatly distorted in size. The disease is transmissible through the egg from adult to offspring, and from infected birds by bites of external parasites such as blue bugs, fleas, mites and mosquitoes.

The disease manifests itself wherever it strikes. For example, if infection appears in the eye, the grey eye form of range paralysis is present. The pigment of the iris immediately around the pupil fades to a jagged grey, and the pupil also becomes jagged. However, the be cautious in culling young birds because their eyes normally are of a grey color before they come into production.

Although no medical treatment has been found for the disease, veterinarians recommend as a preventive the control of external parasites through a good program of sanitation and spraying. For the house and roosts he suggests carbolineum one part and kerosene four or five parts. As a further precaution keep young pullets from sharing poultry houses with older birds. If this is not possible, a thorough culling of older birds should be made before the pullets are allowed to house with them. All lightweight emaciated, crippled and grey-eyed birds should be removed.

Culling Now Will Effect Feed Saving

By RHEBA MERLE BOYLES
Co. Home Dem. Agent

You can cull 20% or more of your hens now if they have not already been culled. A reduction of 20% of culls in all flocks in Texas would mean a saving of approximately 72,000,000 lbs. of feed during the next two months. Feed is scarce—so help save it by culling now.

Confine hens to the house during the night—next morning use a catching hook and work quietly among them. Take out all that have these qualities:

- 1) Shiveled combs; 2) yellow legs and beaks; 3) molters; 4) weak and emaciated; 5) grey eyes; 6) saggy abdomens; 7) coarse, masculine heads; 8) all roosters.

When you cull your flocks now you accomplish four important things: 1) Save feed; 2) meat for table—save ration points; 3) canned chicken—for year-round use; 4) cash for loafers.

Remember—Weed the culls, feed the layers; cull today so you can feed tomorrow.

Special Reductions In Butter Point Value

By RHEBA MERLE BOYLES
Co. Home Dem. Agent

Preventing spoilage or waste and protection of producers are objectives of a recent OPA order reducing the point value of country butter from eight to five points per pound in certain localities. Authority for this reduction in point value recently was granted district OPA directors in Texas and Louisiana.

Permission to reduce the point value is granted only where country butter is in danger of spoilage, and the privilege is given only to producers who do not manufacture the product on a large scale.

Where farm families who make small amounts of butter for sale are in danger of losing some because of the high point value, they should consult their local war price and rationing board, the OPA has advised the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Phillies Still 'Phenomenal'

Double Win Scored Over Pirates; Cards, Yanks Also Losers

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies simply won't allow any dust to collect on that adjective "phenomenal" which for a while it seemed would never be needed again.

The Phillies returned home yesterday for their first appearance in Shibe Park under the management of fat old Freddy Fitzsimmons and promptly swept a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates to extend their present winning streak to six games—matching their best string under the piloting of capable Bucky Harris—and stole the spotlight in the National league once more.

The Phillies beat Truett (Rip) Sewell, the leading pitcher of the year, 2-1 in the first game and followed with a 3-0 shut-out in the second to knock the Pirates out of their exclusive hold on second place in the Senior Circuit.

Five errors contributed to the downfall of Sewell, who had won 17 and lost three previously, but the four-hit hurling of Lynwood (still called schoolboy) Rowe was a factor of some importance to the outcome. Richard (Kewpie) Barrett officiated at the whitewashing in the second session with six-hit pitching 1 1/2 1 1/2 with eight strikeouts.

The setbacks for the Pirates enabled Cincinnati to move into a tie for second even though the Reds were beaten 5-3 at Brooklyn. Whitlow Wyatt and Ray Starr started out to have a pitcher's duel, but the Dodgers went on a rampage for five runs in the seventh inning to end their ten-game losing streak with a dramatic flourish.

New York's woeeful Giants turned back the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 on two home runs by Nick Witke, the second coming in the tenth inning after the redbirds had tied the score in the ninth. Doubleheader at Boston. Hiram Bithorn pitched a 3-0 shutout for the Cubs in the first game, but the Braves came back to win the nightcap 9-3 behind Red Barrett for their first victory of the season over the Cubs at Braves Field.

In the American League the New York Yankees were wallowed hard for the second straight day by the St. Louis Browns, 9-1, and for the third time this season were held to one hit. The only blow off Steve Sundra was Charley Keller's 18th home run. Previously Nick Etten and Joe Gordon had spoiled no-hit chances for Les Ross and Orval Grove of the Chicago White Sox.

Faul (Dimmy) Froat pitched five-hit ball as Detroit downed the Washington Senators 3-2 with the help of Rudy York's 19th home run in the eighth inning.

Cleveland captured a twilight slugging session from the Philadelphia Athletics 10-5 with manager Lou Boudreau and Oris Hockett each batting in four runs and then bagged a pitching battle 2-1 in the night game that followed. Lefty Al Smith held the A's to two hits while the Indians made three, including a homer by Boudreau, off Roger Wolff and Jess Flores.

Joe Dobson abouted the White Sox 10-0 while his Boston Red Sox teammates collected 16 hits and clustered seven runs in the eighth inning.

War-time restrictions on gasoline have rolled back the death toll of motor vehicle accidents back to what it was two decades ago.

Each new discovery on the road to efficiency with glasses has been the result of a definite need. That, however, is true of scientific discoveries.

Lambert Hopes To Win District Title

WACO, Aug. 12 (AP)—Standard Lambert says if his squad "can remember that the state championship team graduated" he will have an excellent chance of piloting his Austin Maroons to another district schoolboy football title.

Lambert, here attending the Texas coaching school, admits he has prospects of "a good ball club" and that if it has the spirit that marked his 1942 team might go far in the state race, although he does not think it potentially as strong as last fall's brilliant outfit.

"I have only one starter back from last year," he said. "He is Jack Wiswell, 145 pound left end. I could have had George McCall, the other end; Jimmie Banks, tackle; Frank Gerling, guard, and Tommie Davis, Jimmie Casady and Bobby Coy Lee, backs, had they chosen to wait another year before graduating. But they didn't and got their diplomas along with Joe Billy Baumgardner and Billy Quinn, backs; Terrell Allen, center; Glenn Cooke, tackle, and Billy Penn, guard, of my starting team."

Austin has seven lettermen around whom Lambert will build his 1943 team. They are Gene Rea, end; Billy Wende and Carl McClendon, tackles; Don White, guard, and H. K. Allen and Raymond Puckett, backs, along with Wiswell.

And he also has his "suicide squad," that gang of third-stringers who played in every home game except one last year—even the state final against Sunset (Dallas).

"I would say," said Lambert, "that I have an even chance of winning the district title. If the boys will just forget about the state championship of last year and develop the same morale that carried my 1942 team along, I will have a good ball club. You know, it was spirit and condition that gave me the title last year. Physically, my boys didn't stack up with most of the other teams we met."

Headline: Phillies win six straight under Fitzsimmons. Isn't it almost time for the Dodgers to announce a new manager for the Phils?... Or shouldn't you ask?

WHAT'S BERLIN, MERLIN
Andy Pafko, the Los Angeles outfielder who's leading the Coast league in everything except selling hot dogs, and Red Schoendienst, Rochester's switch-hitting shortstop who can run like Haegz and Volo Song put together, are rated the class of the minor leagues this year by the big-time scouts... But don't hurry, pals—Andy's all wrapped up for the Cubs... Incidentally, the scouts tell you the pitching crop in the bushes this summer is so sorry it should be plowed under.

BRINGING AROUND
Who's the mysterious passer from somewhere in Texas that stout Steve Owen is threatening to spring at the National Pro grid league in his New York Giants' backfield this fall?... Could it be he's made that Sammy Baugh-for-Andy Farkas trade with Washington?

The U. S. soldiers' run-ins with Australian slang reminds Sam Cohen, Meriden (Conn.) Journal sports ed., of the four Charlie Finkington, the old featherweight, made down under some years back... The first question he was asked when he got off the boat was "Will you fight fair dinkum?... I'll fight anybody—how much does this Dinkum guy weigh?" came back Charlie... When the local boys recovered they explained that fair dinkum is the Aussie equivalent of "on the up-and-up."

WACO, Aug. 12 (AP)—The boys who pledged to do or die for their school now are doing or dying for their country in greater numbers than from any other state of the nation because, says R. J. Kidd, athletic director of the Texas Interscholastic League:

"For more than 20 years there has been promoted in this state the greatest athletic organization of its kind in America.

"More than 20,000 boys play football in Texas each season. The spirit of competition engendered by our plan has put a fighting spirit into the hearts of these boys to battle that their country too may stand at the top as did the high schools for which they gave their all on the gridiron.

"I credit schoolboy football with the record of Texas in having more men enlisted in the armed services than any other state in the union.

Kidd, attending the Texas High School coaching school here, said the interscholastic league was serving a great purpose in the war effort—developing boys physically for this armed service and at the same time furnishing entertainment for travel-rationed people.

Even this year the far-flung program will be carried on with 500 schools participating. It does not lay itself open to charges of being unpatriotic because boys who play in it are not of draft age (the limit is 17) and because travel to games is discouraged. Local attendance supports the program.

Insurance Now Includes Travel Mishap Clause

WACO, Aug. 12 (AP)—Realizing that travel under present hazards, the Texas high school coaches association has added a clause to its insurance contract providing payment of hospital bills up to $250 and for $1,000 payments in case of fatal injuries.

Under the policy to this time—at a cost of $2.00 per boy—only a specified amount was paid for each type of injury. The rider to the contract taking in hospital bills and payment for death was voted at the annual business meeting last night. The added cost is only $1.00 per boy.

A marked reduction in football injuries was reported to show the four-year campaign of the association was bearing fruit. One hundred and ninety-five claims were filed in 1940—first year under the insurance policy—while last year there were 100.

The study of accidents has been conducted by F. E. Shotwell, Longview coach, who attributes quite a number of injuries to failure of officials of strict rule enforcement. He declared if stiff penalties were assessed for violations of the rules against rough play the percentage of accidents would be materially reduced.

W. C. O. Harris, coach of Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth), was elected president of the association succeeding Harry Suttler of Waco. Howard Lynch of Amarillo was elected vice-president and Bill Carmichael of Bryan was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

'Biscuit Bombers' Win Many Honors
SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Aug. 12 (AP)—Ground troops call them "biscuit bombers." To the fighting pilots of flying fortress bombers and lightning interceptors, they are, generally and appreciatively, "flying truckdrivers."

But call them what you will, they still are heroes and one of the most important cogs in the aerial machine that powers the war in the southwest Pacific.

They are the transport pilots and crews—the young men who fly into enemy-haunted skies to drop parcels of food and supplies to isolated Allied ground forces. They land on rough jungle clearings, not far from Japanese lines, to bring in troop reinforcements and to remove the wounded to secure areas.

At the present writing this troop-carrier group has totaled 15,581 combat missions. A combat mission is any flight on which enemy interception is probable and expected.

Personnel of the troop carriers have received more than 1,200 medals of all types—air medals, silver stars, purple hearts, soldiers medals, distinguished flying crosses and a variety of oak leaf clusters.

Among the transport fliers who have received awards is Second Lt. Richard W. Doyle of Van, Tex., who has won six medals.

Blasting for Axis Oil

"Torpedo starboard stern," cries the watch... The bells in the engine room ring excited orders... The transport veers sharply in its course... "Whew," whistles the captain as the tin fish passes harmlessly by, "that was a close call."

Already a sub-chaser was racing to the spot where the enemy submarine crashed. The Y-throaters go into action... Wider and wider the spot is circled... Geysers of water mark each detonation... Then a yell from the crew as the sea boils up a film of Axis oil and debris... The last bomb found its mark.

THOUGH it had been weeks since the Y-guns had seen action, every part of the mechanism functioned perfectly. Non-corrosive grease, marine paints, rust preventives protected all working parts against the insidious attacks of the salt air of the sea.

Instructions Issued To Those Planning To Watch 'Olympics'

Civilians who plan to attend the bombing olympics Sunday morning at 8 o'clock from their vantage point on Scenic Mountain were issued instructions Thursday from the post with regard to parking and driving their cars to the mountain.

Civilians going up the mountain are to take the main or left hand road at the base of the mountain while military cars will take the right hand drive.

Cars should continue up the left hand drive to a point just short of the pavilion. Cars can be parked on the road or on the flats off the road. However, it was explained that the first cars to arrive and park near the pavilion will be forced to stay for the full four hours of the bombing as they will not be allowed to continue down on the right hand side of the drive until the meet is finished.

Those residents who attend and plan to leave before the Olympics are completed will have to park lower down on the mountain and walk to where they can see the bombing.

Those attending are also urged to bring thermos jugs of water as there is none available on the mountain.

The target bombing as well as the skip bombing of targets on the One Mile lake will be plainly visible from the top of Scenic.

Summers Outlines Legislative Course In Kiwanis Talk

The legislative procedure of introducing a bill, passing and making it into a law was the theme of an address by Representative Burke Summers at the regular weekly Kiwanis luncheon Thursday.

Urging that the people should keep the power of legislation in their own hands by questioning their representatives' votes, Summers asserted that the time was near when the voter would have to take more direct interest in what is taking place in the nucleus of their government.

"We have in Austin, a House Journal, record of our state government which is similar to the Congressional Record of our national government," the representative added, "yet we have very few calls from our constituency for them."

Vocal solos were presented by Miss Cornelia Frazier, accompanied on the piano by her mother, Mrs. Bruce Frazier.

Corporal M. H. Willson, Kiwanis man now in the service, was a visitor.

Small Section Suffers From Bollworm Harm

Worst damage from bollworms is centered in a territory a mile south and west of Fairview, County Agent O. P. Griffin reported Thursday.

Fields in that area are affected to a greater or lesser extent, and prospects of a second infestation next week are good. Griffin said that he found worms at all stages in adjacent corn and that the crystals of the pests were much alive in the ground at the base of cotton plants. Moths should be appearing from Sunday on, he said, and urged farmers to maintain a watch.

Another infestation, lighter than in the Moore - Fairview section, is reported in the Cagle community around the Brindley place. Gay Hill has a small infestation.

Leafworms are still few in number and no poisoning for these is yet necessary, said the agent.

Best results poisoning for bollworms has been accomplished with a spray, going over the cotton twice, reported Griffin. Dusting is not getting comparable results.

Cotton will make an average crop, and if rain should come to give stalks in afflicted areas a second chance, a better than normal yield might be expected. Rain would mean a bumper feed crop, according to Griffin.

Cans Containing Ashes Avoided

If your garbage isn't picked up, it may be because you also use your garbage can as an incinerator.

Operators of garbage trucks have orders not to empty garbage cans which contain ashes, said City Manager E. J. McDaniel. This is for the reason that in the past fires have occurred within the trucks by picking up what appeared to be dead embers from trash cans in residential districts. Because these are expensive and endanger equipment, and because the garbage ordinance holds against burning kitchen refuse which is to be picked up, cans with ashes are avoided.

Action Is Taken In Glider Crash Case

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Two air force inspectors have been suspended and 100 gliders grounded in the St. Louis area as an outcome of the glider crash which killed 10 persons Aug. 1.

The war department said yesterday a faulty strut caused the crash. Blaming a sub-contractor, the department halted use of craft which might contain fittings from the same manufacturing plants.

There was no evidence of sabotage, the department said. Further inquiry was ordered to determine if disciplinary action should be invoked against USAF inspectors Charles L. Latty and William A. Williams.

Wall Street

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—Scattered peace-rated stocks, apparently paced by the persistently hopeful war news, made a fairly good showing in today's market but a wide assortment of leaders failed to achieve any worthwhile progress or lingered in the losing ranks.

Turnover of around 450,000 shares was one of the smallest of the past two years. Near-closing trends were notably sketchy with price changes, on the whole, exceptionally slim.

International Business Machines was up 7 points on the first sale since last Monday and Eastman Kodak hardened on meager trades. Occasional lifts were given American Export Lines, Bethlehem, Southern Pacific, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Western Union, North American and Standard Oil of Indiana. Stumblers included U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Goodrich, Westinghouse, Anacosta, Douglas Aircraft, General Electric, Pepsi-Cola and Chesapeake & Ohio.

Sgt. Ferrell was graduated from McMurtry College where he lettered in sports and was later employed as a teacher and coach at Leuders and Plains, Tex., before entering the army.

Sunday and consumption stop at 1:15 a. m.

Water Supply Problem Needs Long Range Answer

A constituent raises this question: "Why don't you start a campaign now to solve our water problem?"

Well, this is a matter which probably doesn't require a great deal of campaigning, for it is an apparent and long known fact that while we have a basic supply sufficiently for essentials, our water reserve is too capricious for expanding industries. Under proper conditions, we might furnish more water than all our residents and industries could consume. On the other hand, during prolonged droughts, our comparatively small lakes will be drawn dry and we will be thrown wholly dependent upon our wells.

Naturally, this knowledge generates a spirit of constriiction which enshrouds plans for current and post-war development. The threat of shortage more than actual shortage is the thing against which the average Big Springer wants to "campaign."

There are some things which we ought to thresh out to our own satisfaction. What sort of a supply do we want—a surface supply that we can visualize and gauge; or do we want an underground supply that may be copious for one, 10 or 100 years? What do we want to invest in water security, and how far are we willing to go after our unlimited supply?

These are pertinent questions, for they should be answered for once and for all so far as the community is able to answer them. Most people are agreed on this. Our city officials are alert to the problem, for they account it the No. 1 post-war project. Meanwhile, it is good to talk about it, to gather facts, to explore possibilities, to look for "bugs" in various solutions. Out of it all may someday come the foundation for inviting any sort of industry large or small, and for more beautiful yards and gardens.

In the interim—let's pray for rain.

Washington Daybook— Congress Will Explore 'Oil From Coal' Program

(During Jack Stinnett's vacation, his column is being conducted by members of the Washington staff of the Associated Press. Today's column is by Francis Le May.)

WASHINGTON—Unless America finds something better, the "gasoline age" has some 3,000 years to run—notwithstanding that known petroleum reserves are estimated sufficient for only 13 or 14 years more.

In the view of some Washington experts, we are approaching an era of synthetic fuel for locomotion.

While some Americans might believe that right now the time would be better spent in devising a synthetic beefsteak, the Bureau of Mines already has made experiments in the hydrogenation process for coal, and its finding is in effect that for many centuries ahead Americans may continue to burn along the highways always and seaways as far and as fast as the law allows.

The bureau says the process, "if applied to the total coal reserves of the United States, could yield enough oil to supply the nation's needs for almost 3,000 years at the present rate of consumption."

It figures the coal reserves at 3,000,000,000 (three trillion) tons—enough to yield 3,600,000,000,000 barrels of oil. The nation now consumes about 1,400,000,000 barrels annually.

Congress, when it returns after the summer recess, will explore the matter of future motive power, having been warned by the House Interstate Commerce Committee that with respect to natural petroleum "we face a period of declining supplies, increased demand, increased costs and prices."

Harold L. Ickes, Interior Secretary and war fuels and petroleum administrator, has proposed that hydrogenation of coal, now confined to an experimental plant at Pittsburgh, be undertaken on an industrial basis as a guide for development of an industry when needed.

Meanwhile, elements within the oil industry and Congress are trying to find means of encouraging more discovery and enlarged production of natural petroleum. For four years there has been a declining rate in the number of new oil fields found each year. Discoveries since 1939 have been only about half of the consumption rate.

No definite cost figures have been worked out on hydrogenation, but it appears the established petroleum industry has no great worry in the prospect of competition as long as a substantial quantity of natural petroleum remains.

"When production costs permit," said the bureau, "coal hydrogenation probably will serve as an auxiliary source of gasoline, diesel oil, tar acids and solvents. It is not necessary to envision the exhaustion of petroleum before coal hydrogenation can become economically feasible."

Experimental yields of crude oil range from 67 to 31 tons for each 100 tons of coal, or 168 to 78 gallons per ton of coal as mined. This spread is due largely to variations in moisture and oxygen content of the coals.

$12,000,000 DAMAGE
HOUSTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Damage to the Texas gulf coast area from the July 27 hurricane was set at $12,000,000 by the national board's clearing house supervisory office.

More than 25,000 public health nurses are employed in the United States and territories by state, local and national agencies.

Another Mark Twain story is set for filming: "The Mysterious Stranger." . . .

Signe Hasso, Swedish glamour girl in "Dr. Wassell," talks freely about her nine-year-old son and can't understand when studio people ask her why she does, being young and pretty and just starting her career. "Why not?" she says. "You know, I can't understand why you Americans, who are the most natural people in the world should try to hush up the most natural thing in the world!"

William Prince, supposed to perform an amateur appendectomy on a submarine shipmate in "Destination Tokyo," wondered why a man from the studio first aid department was assigned as a surgeon. He found out: Paul McWilliams, the first aider, was the first known amateur to perform such an operation on shipboard—20 years ago aboard a U. S. destroyer. The operation was performed with knives from the ship's galley, 1,500 miles at sea. McWilliams says the patient recovered before he did. . . .

New picture: "Behind the Rising Sun" does to Japan what "Hitler's Children" did to Nazi Germany. It's by the same writer-director team, Emmett Lavery and Edward Dmytryk, and it has the same hard-hitting integrity as an exposition of the life and "ideals" of an enemy country.

To show what's wrong with Japan, the film takes an American-educated Japanese boy and returns him to the Nipponese family circle. There tradition, plus his noted father's fascist ideas, sets in to undermine his ambition to aid his country by creative work, and forbids his marriage to an America-loving Japanese secretary.

The army gets him, and little by little his participation in the "China incident" brutalizes him, turns him into a fanatic fascist and imperialist. His father, too late, suffers a change of heart and turns to hari-kari in explanation. The boy dies in the American bombing of Tokyo—staged in the movie at night.

Tom Neal, Margo, J. Carroll Nash make fairly convincing Orientals once you forget the make-up, and Robert Ryan, Gloria Holden, and Don Douglas are there as Americans. Action highlight of the film is the hammer-and-tongs fight between Ryan and a Jap wrestler, played by Mike Marzke. "Madame Butterfly's" Japan was never like this.

Restrict American Currency Movement
BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 12 (AP)—Two-dollar bills and silver coins are the only kind of American money which may be taken into or out of Mexico and profits from money exchanges here are being donated to a cigarette fund for service men. Restaurants and other public places make a small charge for providing visitors to Mexico with the necessary two-dollar bills. These fees go into the cigarette fund.

Movement of currency is restricted to two-dollar bills to prevent axis agents in Mexico from disposing of American currency which may have been seized in conquered countries.

MURDER IN TIN

By CARL A. PETERSON

Chapter 22

I stared at Johnson and tried to think. Lew Fall had felt that our best bet would be to let the Gestapo work on the job of picking up Taggard and his location, and after they had done so, to close the net.

Johnson, of course, had ripped all our nets. His new scheme, no doubt, included techniques to break any other nets of ours. He was clever and he had a good chance to really defeat us. The dust we had thrown at him had whirled back into our own eyes. He had only been taken in by the pretended love affair.

And as I glanced at Lila's frightened face, her large brown eyes moving from Johnson to me and back again to Johnson, I knew that it was no longer pretense. What had been pretense had changed under impact of the last few days into the real thing. Time had worked for the Gestapo and not for us.

"What about it?" he said. "What about it?" The veins on his temples were filled with blood. The heat of his play was everywhere visible on his face. He was contemplating the moves open to me and what they meant for himself. Chevalle didn't count. He, too, had been over-run by Johnson's panzer drive. Suddenly Johnson approached me. "Calder, get in the bathroom there! You know the deal. You know it now. Get in!"

I stood up. I knew that if I jumped at him he would shoot. I knew that he would kill her, too. He would keep on shooting until he was killed himself. I knew everything about Johnson in that second. "What about her?"

"She gets free as soon as we get her old man. Get in there."

I stood there, not knowing what to do. I couldn't trust him. I thought he would kill her. And he would kill us both if I stood there. "Get in," he cried. "I'm pulling the trigger if you don't start walking when I tell you to. Walk."

I walked. I walked across the room into the small bathroom. I heard a key lock. I heard footsteps outside and then I heard nothing.

My unconscious spell didn't last long. I came to and pulled on the knob of the heavy old-fashioned mahogany door. The door was the only exit. There was no window.

Keys At The Capitol Connally Enjoys Visiting In Texas

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
AUSTIN, Aug. 12 (AP)—Senator Tom Connally was in mellow mood, obviously glad to be back in Texas, when he spoke at a chamber of commerce testimonial dinner here.

He told the crowd he very much enjoyed speaking to an audience of officers at Camp Swift.

"It's a comfort," he confided, "to speak to a group under strict military discipline—they can't get up and leave."

Mussolini, he mused, could NOT have been a democrat, "or he never would have resigned."

Connally, a graduate of Baylor University and of the University of Texas law school, also recalled his days in the Texas legislature.

"I strutted around in a Prince Albert coat that hung below my knees, wearing a wing collar and black string tie," he said.

"In fact, I was a heap bigger statesman than I am now."

Mayor Tom Miller of Austin said the banquet started a little late because the senator had to stop and get a shave. He didn't know how much later it would have been had the senator gotten a haircut.

"Mr. Mayor, I'll remind you that I did NOT come to Texas to get trimmed," rejoined the senator.

Connally, like John Garner and other Texans who have scaled the political heights, saw plenty of service in the Texas legislature. There are those who believe Governor Coke R. Stevenson, twice speaker of the house, will follow the same path.

The governor has not announced whether he will seek another term or run for a national office.

Asked point blank at a press conference whether he would seek the nomination as a vice presidential candidate he gave what some observers considered a negative answer.

He put it this way: "You would know the answer if you had seen me up at the ranch last weekend."

Those who have seen him relish the hard work and relaxation he derives from visits to his Kimble county ranch feel that he would like nothing better than to stay on there. He leaves it reluctantly upon every visit.

Donning old clothes, the governor cuts cedar, rides the ranges and joyfully plunges into the routine of ranch chores. For relaxation he reads and swims in the crystal water of a falls fed pool in the South Llano which virtually skirts the door of the Stevenson ranch house.

There is no telephone to mar the calmness of the big ranch home which has concrete walls and ceilings.

The war is publicizing Texas in more ways than one. Visitors to the Texas Memorial museum on the University of Texas campus are increasing. Many are soldiers.

"Are all the tales about Texas as true?" is the first question most of them ask, says Mrs. Kathleen E. Sanders, secretary and hostess.

They report they've heard of Texas from so many unofficial sources that they want material and facts about the "late" history, "Twice Told Tales of Texas," the museum's most popular publication frequently is given to out-of-state visitors. It is a brief history of the state as pictured by the series of dioramas in the museum.

Latest addition to museum exhibits is a life size oil painting of Colonel Ovetta Culp Hobby of Houston, commander of the WAC, which was presented by the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary. It is the work of artist Seymour M. Stone of Fort Worth.

Cigarette Drive Making Headway

The American Legion post is still making headway in its cigarette campaign—that is its drive to furnish cigarettes to men overseas. The third order for a block of 5,500 packs of cigarettes has been sent in—running the total provided through the local post's promotion and efforts to 16,500.

Brownsville Expects Influx of Animals

BROWNVILLE, Aug. 12 (AP)—W. A. King anticipates a movement of wild animals into Brownsville this winter but it's nothing to be alarmed about. The most shortage in the winter quarter territory of America's circuses will force show owners to send their big cats and other meat eaters here where all the horse and burro meat needed can be obtained, King said. "In the usual winter quarter areas of Florida, Kentucky and California, beef is as rare as a twenty-pound chunk of platinum and there aren't enough horses to go around," he explained.

ery maps in their possession. Yet they are counting on getting possession of the map and slipping through us out of the country.

"They are counting on one of their short waves still at large to get them passage out. Passage on a Nazi sub." He leaned towards me. "They're not getting passage out unless they have the proper passports, the authentic discovery maps. The Gestapo has never been guilty of sentimentalism. Johnson and Mirtle must escape from Mexico or eventually be caught by us. The Gestapo has selected the passport. That explains Johnson's desperation. He could turn Government witness and give away the small fry under him. But that wouldn't save him from prison. He's desperate. The Gestapo operates in small rings. The members of each ring know each other. Each ring has a leader. Instructions come in by short wave. Johnson realizes that Berlin has cold bloodedly calculated on some of its agents turning Government witness. Johnson knows this. He must succeed or face a prison sentence if he turns Government witness.

"As for Chevalle, his position is even more desperate than Johnson's. Psychologically he still hasn't made the switch in his own mind from merchant to spy. He was flustered, panicked when I phoned him."

I wasn't listening. I was thinking: To hell with this logic. Lila was gone.

County Financial Position Sound

Howard county continues its sound financial position, the July report presented to the commissioners court by Auditor Claud Wolf shows.

Balance for all funds at the end of the month was $90,821, which is $2,000 under the balance at the same time a year ago—but this year the county has $16,800 in war bonds which it did not have a year ago.

Principal gain was in the road and bridge fund, with chief savings here in the equipment purchase funds. The general fund also was stronger, and only partly so because of the $2,000 put back into it from the abolished food stamp program.

Road and bridge expenditures for July amounted to $7,303, including $3,833 for regular wages and $1,000 for parts and tires. The general fund figure was pegged at $2,150. Included was $275 for medical fees and hospitalization for charity cases, $48 for miscellaneous welfare transportation, and roughly $150 other welfare and charity expenses. Officer salary disbursements stood at $3,428.

Fund balances after July checks were cleared were: Jury $4,967; road and bridge, $47,071; general, $19,960; salary, $3,448; permanent improvement, $1,172; road refunding, $3,015; special road, $4,843; courthouse and jail warrants, $907; and viaduct warrants, $1,804.

Jane Froman Plans Comeback On Stage

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—Jane Froman, 32-year-old radio and night club singer who was injured critically in the Lisbon clipper crash on February 22, plans a comeback.

Although unable to walk, she will appear in "Artists and Models," scheduled to open on Broadway on Oct. 26, her husband, Don Ross, said today.

"Jane has improved and we believe that the cast can be removed from her right arm in about three weeks," said Ross who will be co-producer with Lou Walters and general manager of the show. "When the show opens, her right leg will still be confined to a cast and at present we're working out stage effects to get her on and off for her numbers without having to resort to the use of a wheelchair."

The People of Big Spring Are Lucky!

While many towns are unfortunate in that they do not have enough doctors to take care of them, Big Spring does have enough doctors to take care of us adequately — if their time is not wasted.

Your Doctor could possibly see a dozen patients while making one home call.

Do not disturb his rest with night calls unless it is an absolute emergency!

Your Doctor will appreciate your kindness and thoughtfulness.

MAIL BRINGS NEWS TO BIG SPRINGERS OF LIFE IN SICILY AND NORTH AFRICA

North Africa is like New Mexico in many respects, Maj. James T. Padgett, who is in foreign service with the national guard outfit with which he was associated for 18 years, has written his aunt, Mrs. Dick Hatch. The presence of a large number of Texas boys—and some of them from Big Spring, also gives a southwestern atmosphere to the new country, which has "lots of mountains and irrigated valleys."

"There are only two crops," continues Maj. Padgett, "wheat and grapes. Grape vineyards are as thick all over North Africa as cotton fields used to be in Bell county. The grapes make wine and the wheat bread, which is the standard meal of the French and Arabs. They cut the wheat by hand and thresh it by having horses tramp it and then wind it by hand."

"This country is exactly 1000 years behind the USA and I am sure in some ways further behind. We have tough times in America some times, but the toughest of times is luxury to the way these people live at the best," said Maj. Padgett.

And Jack Douglas, former sports writer for The Herald, writes from Sicily that "business has picked up around these parts." He wrote while using a "K" ration can for a chair and a "5-1"

Barkley Disagrees With Wheeler On Reconvening Time

PADUCAS, Ky., Aug. 11 (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley today sent a telegram to Senator Burton K. Wheeler at Belton, Mont., advising him that he would not feel justified in attempting to reconvene congress prior to Sept. 14 to consider bills dealing with the drafting of Pearl Harbor fathers.

The Montanan had wired Sen. Barkley asking him to reconvene congress before the end of the recess Sept. 14 to "take up these bills to determine the policy of the nation on the subject."

Sen. Barkley told Sen. Wheeler that the recess will terminate two weeks prior to October 1, the date on which the draft order under discussion is supposed to take effect, which will give congress ample time to consider and dispose of any legislation on the subject if it desires to do so.

Barkley added that he had communicated with House Leader McCormack and that McCormack concurs in his (Barkley's) views.
