Republicans Close Listless Meeting; Democrats Move In

Sanders Made Chairman Of Control Body

Texas Delegation Pleased With Prominent Part In Convention

CHICAGO, (AP)—The big Republican show is over but the Democrats are moving in.

Having nominated Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis and chosen Everett Sanders of Indiana campaign manager, and melted down a great variety of prohibition views into a plank promising submission of a plan for modification, the G. O. P. voters vacated the city during Thursday night.

It was not apparent what strategy was behind selection of Sanders to the national chairmanship. It is understood Mr. Hoover was looking for a business man with contacts that would be helpful in filling an empty party campaign chest.

The 49 Texas delegates were satisfied with the prominent part they played in the convention. Unusual recognition was gained for demands of the southwest. A tariff for protection of crude oil and refined products and agriculture were planks in the platform the Texans had a large part in framing.

Twelve of the Texas delegates voted for prohibition repeal, but under the unit rule the other 37 determined Texas' full vote would be cast in support of the administration plank.

The Texans put life into a listless convention that appeared to promise no fight on anything excepting the party's attitude on prohibition. They started the Dawes movement which promised to become a stampede until halted by Dawes himself. The final bombshell exploded when R. E. Creager, national committeeman from Texas, nominated B. H. Snell of New York and Texas' 49 votes were cast for him in spite of his protest.

Home Town Talk by Betty

Guadalupe peak in the moonlight. That sight is worth flying from Big Spring to El Paso on the new night planes.

As you soar through the star-filled skies, with a full moon casting subdued shadows over the world below—as you skim at 100 miles per hour, 10,000 feet above sea level, and off to the north pick out that big black shadow that is Texas' highest peak and the last entry of the Rockies on the stretch southeastward from the Big Divide, you get a new feeling of the immensity, the grandeur of Texas.

You understand a little bit better just how weak the old bird is when you are age-stricken before Dame Nature when you consider how many interesting things, what a wide variety of things were created in this one small portion of the earth—the great State of Texas.

Below the peak jutting majestically above the rest is a light—a beacon to guide the pilots of American Airways' great ships along the course of safety. Just before you get alongside the peak you see a cluster of light down in the pass—the Guadalupe radio station of American Airways.

At frequent intervals outlined by border lights, each with a revolving beacon at one end. It is a great trip.

This from the News of "Uncle Bill" Kellis, editor of the Sterling City News-Record.

HARBIDGES CLUB President Grumblin McCrocker took his place on the east end of the bench in front of the Sterling Theater last Monday morning. A large red ant was having a heated argument with a flea that was eating his breast meat from the right ear of Pokalong's hound dog which was taking his morning's siesta under the official bench. The dog lay with his body under the bench while his tail protruded for about a yard over the sidewalk.

As Postmaster Hal passed that way he raised his No. 7's very high in order that the slumbers of the sleeping canine be not disturbed. From the short barks and low whines, while his feet and legs twitched, one was led to conclude that old Nero was dreaming that he was engaged in a fierce combat with a ferocious jackrabbit.

The flea and the ant kept up their fuss until secretary Dandy Obersteher fired a stream of Brown Mule tobacco juice into the right ear of the flea and scattered the left eye of the ant with the same shot. The flea died for long hair.

Special Session Plea Unanswered

By RAYMOND BROOKS AUSTIN—Plea of citizens from several southwest Texas counties for a quick emergency session of the legislature remained unanswered here. External evidences that seem conclusive is that:

1. A special session will be held in September.

2. None will be called before the primaries.

3. Relief sought by the land men can come only from congress.

The petition sought some official action to prevent foreclosures on farm lands, reported to be imminent in wholesale quantities in some areas.

Gov. Ross S. Sterling discussed the question, and was impressed with its serious import.

He questioned the delegation what type of relief was considered within the power of the state legislature, and no definite suggestion was left with him.

The fall session appeared more probable than counties in every section joined Jones county in petitioning it in time to allow counties to fix lower tax rates for collections in 1933, based on the state's assumption of highway bond issues outstanding.

For counties having these local bond issues, the tax saving will be equivalent on an average of the total tax of 33 cents for support of the state government.

Gov. Sterling has held to the belief that it will require a constitutional amendment to permit the state to assume the payment of bonds whose proceeds went into state highways. Lawyers were divided on the question but a majority of them, in passing the Brooks bill which he vetoed, were willing to let the direct assumption plan and let the courts pass on its legality.

Think Before You Vote

THE OVERTHROW OF SENATORS
Smith Whitman Brookhart in Iowa and Senator Harrison in North Carolina is symptomatic of the political trend of the times—a disposition on the part of the electorate to throw the "ins" out, regardless of past services.

Henry Field, whose fame rests on his homely philosophy expressed over the radio from his own station, from which he dispensed with equal facility sales talks on seeds and groceries and buccle observations, overturned the Brookhart precedent. It is probable that after six years in Washington Senator Brookhart was due for an overthrow, anyhow; but the probability is that the size of the Field majority is an indication of the widespread disposition to deal a new hand all around. The Brookhart defeat was unexpected, as was that of Senator Morrison in North Carolina.

Doubtless many good men will be beaten and many demagogues will be elevated in their steads as a consequence of this spirit of dissatisfaction. Unfortunately it is not a reasoning spirit. Good men will be defeated along with men who deserve to be beaten. Their sin consists in holding office at a time when politics has broken down completely and failed to justify its elaborate claims to existence.

Whether we shall profit in the long run as a result of this awakening of the electorate remains to be seen.

SPORTS ON PARADE

By CURTIS BISHOP

Next week the Cisco versus Oil Belt case will be held. And Bobby Campbell writes—

The court battle of the century—the Cisco High school ouster suit—has been set for June 20, according to news dispatches bounding out of the city of big dam fame. That means that the legal minds of the country will match their legal wits, as legal minds are prone to do, and decide whether or not Cisco was treated like a stepchild, given a crust of bread, and booted off the doorstep of the district. It will be recalled that Cisco violated rules and as a result was suspended for a year. This did not appeal to Cisco any more than catfish and milk appeal to the normal person, so Cisco immediately becomes involved in the habeas corpus, et vir voi dire business. The case, in all probability will be a farce. The truth of the matter is the committee was ready to let Cisco back if Cisco would apologize. Cisco wouldn't and neither would the committee and that constituted that.

Another quotation from one of the eastern scribes. Jinx Tucker of the Waco Tribune says an all-time state backfield would be composed of Post Welch of Sherman, Father Lamphig of Oak Cliff, Boody Johnson of Waco and Leo Baldwin of Wichita Falls.

Prexy Anderson says sufficient support could be mustered for Aultman Smith of Ahlens in '27 and '28, Boyce Magnus of Breckenridge in '28, '29, and '30, and Tack Dennis, the Big Spring team of 1931.

Incidentally Tack, his duties over, has returned to Oklahoma. He almost single-handed, as much so as it is possible for one man to be a single team, carried his adopted school into second place in both the district track and football races.

He introduced color to teams that never before had possessed it. He was all-state in two sports.

The semifinals of the Abilene net tournament find Leo Brady meeting Noll Sewell and M. M. Beard playing Andy Moore. Brady beat Raymond Deberry 6-4, 8-6, while Moore defeated Bynum 7-5, 8-2.

The Cisco Country Club tournament starts today. Favorites are Jimmy Phillips, the new West Texas champion, and Jack Satterwhite, who, however, will not be on hand despite press notices to that effect. Young Satterwhite will lead the Texas pack into Big Spring Sunday, and if he has been able to defeat a chump named Harvey in a challenge match, he will be well on his way to a shot at the No. 1 contest. Robbins is, as was said before, our idea of the best sand green golfer between Abilene and El Paso on the east and west, Amarillo and San Angelo on the north and south.

Add to the nominations of District 3 stars for all-state berths next year, Elmer Dyer, Steer center. Which makes three, George Delker and Ney Sheridan of San Angelo and Sweetwater respectively having already been advanced by scribes of their respective cities.

We look for a wealth of improved linemen in the district next season. A certain Oil Belt scribe said that the new district had imported plenty of backfield material but had forgotten to order some linemen. In the last six months, however, the Oil Belt scribes have said very little, due, no doubt, to the attention which the Cisco allegations are receiving. Nevertheless the fact remains that the linemen in this portion of the state were very weak indeed in comparison.

Abilene's state championship club battered the Sweetwater forward wall unmercifully in their bi-district clash, and the Mustang line of Strother, B. Raugh, Rogers, Trammel, Jones, Henson, and Grimsley was cast as the class of the district. Of that collection only Raugh, Jones, and possibly Grimsley will be on hand next year. Big Spring had Hopper, Coats, Forrester, Harris, Martin, Sanders, Hildreth, and Dyer. Only Hopper and Forrester graduate.

Which leads to the conclusion that George Brown will have the best line in the district next year.

Summer Styles At The Races

One scorching hot afternoon last week at Belmont Park races many cotton and linen dresses were worn by the smartest women ever in that rather formal environment.

Linen is by nature well adapted to tailored treatment so two of the most effective linen costumes were made in strictly plain two-piece styles. One linen showed the kind of buttoned-up blouse which is a faint echo of the old Norfolk jacket, a type becoming more and more popular in recent months. As a subtle combination with the flat color of the linen the buttons, belt and pocketbook were pale yellow.

times than ever before. It is natural to see a great deal of organdy. The neckwear consists of the big shawl collar and large organdy collars cut close to the throat. A little newer are the sets of organdy cuffs and a large bow to wear at the side or front of the neck instead of a collar. An enormous white organdy bow of this type looked strikingly smart on a dress of black tucked chiffon worn at Belmont.

A more original use of organdy, however, appeared on the costume of an attractive young girl. The little stand-up pointed collar, narrow cuffs and wide waist tied in a bow were all of white organdy on a dress of red and white plaid semi-sheer crepe.

New Arrivals At Public Library

The Public Library announces the arrival of several new books. Those for the pay shelf are: "Pre War Lady" by Margaret Widdemer; "Younger Sister" by Kathleen Norris; "Joy Girl" by John V. A. Weaver; "Tad" by Alice Duer Miller and "Spokane Girl" by Bobby Serendith; and "Spawns of the North" by Barrett Willoughby.

The following reprints of lighter fiction for summer reading have been ordered for the 7 day and two-week shelves: "Old Pybus" by Warwick Deering; "Love of July Borel" and "Margaret Yorks," both by Kathleen Norris; "Harvester" by Gene Stratton Porter.

"The Fountain" by Charles Porter is expected in next week. Children who expect to join this summer should do so early, suggests Mrs. Cardwell, in order to take advantage of the full summer for reading.

Post Office Employee Charged With Robbery

PORT WORTH—A. W. Fuller, post office employee, was held here today in lieu of $1,000 bond on charges of robbing the mails at the Texas and Pacific station and charges of robbery were filed against Mack Tate, railway car checker, as an aide. Tate still is at liberty.

Body Identified

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (UP)—The body of a man found slashed to death in the sandhills near here today was identified as that of J. H. Parker, Amarillo, Texas.

His landlady said he left his room Tuesday saying he was going to Amarillo to be a witness in a trial.

His wrists and throat had been slashed and though authorities could not find the instrument used they believed he died at his own hands.

His Health Improved 40%

After Use of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

If you are constipated, read this letter which Mr. Murray had attested by Notary Public:

"Two months ago I commenced using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to relieve constipation. I am in better health today than I have been in years, due to the use of your wonderful bran. My bowels move regularly, and my general health has improved 40%."—George A. Murray, 288 K Street, South Boston, Mass.

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN brings two things needed to correct common constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently it clears the intestines of wastes.

How much better to use ALL-BRAN than to abuse your system with pills and drugs—often harmful.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation—in serious cases, with every meal. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooking. At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Texon Golf Team To Play Here Sunday

Satterwhite And Kelly In Championship Form Now

Fighting to regain their place in the first division the Texon linkers, stronger than at any time this year with young Jack Satterwhite back in championship form and Kelly displaying surprising skill, will invade Big Spring Sunday afternoon in the sixth week of activities in the Sand Belt Golf Association.

Satterwhite, finalist in the West Texas tournament at San Angelo last weekend, was to meet R. H. Harvey for the No. 1 berth on the visitors' squad in a challenge match, and is expected to be successful. Should he win he will be paired against Shirley Robbins, Big Spring crack. Kelly, a semifinalist in the Rivercrest play recently, will face either G. R. Porter or L. Coffey.

Weakened by the absence of O. E. Bistow and Fred Stephens, regulars who are out of the city on vacations, the local golfers were conceded little more than an even break against the Texon crew which won the championship this year and which has been struggling helplessly in the lower division throughout most of this year. Cecil Wasson, who ranks 8 on the local team, will play No. 6 position, with two alternates, Val Latson and Hayden Griffith, due to see service.

As it stands at present the local roster will be composed of Robbins, Porter, Coffey, Hicks, Alken, Wasson, Latson and Griffith in the order named.

In other matches on the Sand Belt program Snyder plays Colorado, Midland invades Lamesa, and Sweetwater tackles Odessa on the latter's course.

Standings through last week's matches show Lamesa safely on top of the heap with 143 points, Colorado in second place with 126, the locals third with 120, Sweetwater fourth with 117, Snyder fifth with 109, Texon sixth with 108, Midland seventh with 106, and Odessa last with 83.

Republican Platform Introduces Principle Of Tariff On Petroleum

CHICAGO—Three planks in the Republican platform are of special interest to the southwest—the tariff plank, which introduces for the first time the principle of an oil tariff; conservation, which specifically mentions oil, and the plank devoted to Indians.

The tariff plank emphasizes a tariff on many southwestern farm products designed to put agriculture on a basis of equality with industry, and adds:

"We favor the extension of the general Republican principle of tariff protection to our natural resource industries, including the products of our farms, forests, mines and oil wells, with compensatory duties on the manufactured and refined products thereof."

The plank on conservation points out, "the conservation of oil is a major problem to the industry and the nation. The administration has sought to bring coordination of effort through the states, the producers and the federal government. Progress has been made and the effort will continue."

This marks the first time that oil conservation, stressed urgently in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, has been so emphasized in a national Republican platform and represents federal recognition of the dramatic conservation program waged in southwest oil fields.

Charles N. Shaver Announces Candidacy

Chas. N. Shaver, in announcing his candidacy to succeed himself as State Superintendent of Public Instruction, says:

"Election to the state superintendency is a challenge to the best that any man has to offer in patriotic service and sane leadership. No other office in the state government is of more vital importance to the welfare of the people. To measure up to its responsibilities a man must be wholeheartedly devoted to the cause of public education; must believe in and work for the education of all of the children of Texas. The training of its children for useful citizenship, irrespective of their place of residence or their material circumstances, is a primary function of a democratic state.

"As a preparation for my work as state superintendent, I have shared the experience of thousands of Texas boys and girls on the farm and in the rural school! I have first-hand knowledge of the problems of the rural teacher, of the small town school; and I know the educational problems of the urban centers.

"My legislative experience, as vice-chairman of the committee on education and as a member of the committee on finance, gives me a thorough understanding of the problems and responsibilities of the legislative branch of our state government and will enable me to cooperate with the legislature in its plan to finance an efficient system of public education.

New Tire Tax Heaviest Of All Auto Accessory Levies, Says Smitham

Announcement was made today by Webster H. Smitham, of the Firestone Service Stores, Inc., Firestone dealers that the price, now the lowest in history, will remain unchanged until midnight, June 20, when the new excise tax of from 10 to 15 per cent on tires and tubes becomes effective—the highest tax on any automobile accessory.

"A few days remain in which it is possible to save from 10 to 15 per cent by buying Firestone tires now," Mr. Smitham said.

"The new billion dollar revenue bill signed by the President will have the inevitable effect of increasing many retail prices," continued Mr. Smitham. "The thrifty will see the wisdom of taking advantage of the prevailing low prices.

"The prices on all grades of Firestone tires will remain at the lowest prices ever known until the date the tax becomes effective as long as our stock lasts and the car and truck owners who act promptly will have the benefit of the saving."

Cosden Oilers Beat Coahoma

Scoring four runs in the third inning the Cosden Oilers defeated Coahoma 4 to 3 in a closely-contested game Thursday afternoon.

Although touched for nine hits while his mates committed three miscues afield "Lefty" Bob Potter had the situation in hand after the fifth inning, when singles by Watts and L. Walker and a two base hit by Homer Reed sent two runs scrambling across the plate. Held contributed three safe blows to the Coahoma cause.

The locals scored all of their runs in the third. Davidson struck out but reached first on a passed ball, McMahon walked, and Baker slugged out a three base hit. Terrance singled to score Baker and later crossed the plate as Bass drew a base on balls and Henning singled.

The score:
 Coahoma 100 020 000—3 0 8
 Cosden 004 020 008—4 3 3
 Batters: N. Walker and J. Walker; Potter and Davidson.

Desert And Old South Mingle On Texas Plains Botanically Speaking

A high-powered botanist would have enough variety in Big Spring to keep him busy. If he should arrive in the city this week he would be hard put to decide whether this country is a desert or the old south, according to the flowers in bloom.

The desert flower is the native mesquite, or century plant, which towered above the Chas. A. Ruhp home on Runnels street until the recent hailstorms battered it down.

The flower of the old south is the cape jessamine blooming profusely in the Steve Ford home in Edwards Heights.

In there another section of the United States which raises such tall cactus plants and such beautiful cape jessamine within one miles of each other?
