Furrs' Cafeteria Receives 1st Annual Bass Award

From left to right: Mr. & Mrs. Mark Bass, Mrs. Roy B. Bass, Mr. James Watkins, Mr. & Mrs. Bernie Bass and Mr. David Bass.

The Human Relations Commission presented its first annual Roy B. Bass Human Goals Achievement Award to Fur's Cafeteria. The award was created by James Watkins of the City of Lubbock Pottery Center. It will hang in the mall area of the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center. The winner will be selected each year as the Business of Lubbock that has done the most in hiring and promoting minority employees. Sharon Cole of the Human Relations Commission was master of ceremonies, October 27, 1980 when the recognition took place before the City Council, the Human Relations Commission, the American Society of Personal Administrators. The selection committee was composed of Joan Ervin, Ida Alford, and Tim Hatch -- all members of the Human Relations Commission.

Lubbock Woman Receives Award

U.S. Rep. Kent Hance of Lubbock congratulated Mrs. Ernest (Manuela) Barton after she received a special award from the Social Security Administration. Mrs. Barton was in Washington as part of her trip to Baltimore to the Award Ceremony of the Social Security Administration. Mrs. Barton is employed in the Lubbock Social Security Administration office and received the Commissioner's Citation Award for Humanity in Government. She serves as a special claims representative in the Lubbock office.

Jordan Speaks

Vernon Jordan, Jr., Tuskegee, Ala. (NNPA)

Vernon Jordan, Jr., National Urban League Executive Director, making his first public appearance since an attempt on his life last May, in Fort Wayne, Ind., was the keynote speaker of the Career Awareness Conference at Tuskegee Institute, October 19-21. Introduced by Dr. Luther H. Foster, President of this historic black college which is celebrating its 100th anniversary, culminating in 1981, Jordan spoke to a captive and responsive audience. He urged blacks to go to the polls on Tuesday, November 4, and cast their vote for the Presidential candidate of their choice. However, he did not endorse either of the three candidates, but reminded blacks that "Not voting is a vote against participating in the political process, against increased black political influence, against making black interests a matter of importance and is a vote for black powerlessness." "Even more than that," he said, "Not voting is a betrayal of our heritage of struggle against oppression, a betrayal of the black and white people who marched together under the banner of equality in the 60's." Continued Jordan, "Black people are the barometer of America's social health. When Americans demonstrate a willingness to join their society to blacks, they demonstrate the health of that society. The 1960's were such a time; a period when the majority of Americans showed generosity of spirit and a realistic conscience was moved and it responded to black demands for equal rights. But the pie was growing then, and people were willing to set another place at the table. Today, the pie is shrinking, and we see an effort to push black people and poor people away from the table again." Jordan stressed that "In 1976, hands that picked cotton picked a President of the United States. In 1980, those hands may well decide who wins the Presidency again. But in 1976, less than half of the eligible blacks voted in the Presidential election." Jordan reminded his listeners that "It is true that blacks have done best when everyone else has done well. When the economy is on the upswing, we've found jobs and opportunities; when it's down, we've been the first ones to be laid off. John F. Kennedy said that broad economic expansion helps the poorest. He put it this way - 'A rising tide lifts all boats.' But black people, reading the lessons of history, respond that a rising tide lifts only those boats in the water and black people are in the drydock of the American Economy." He received a rousing applause. Speaking of the near tragedy in Fort Wayne, Jordan stated that "In the darkest our before dawn last May 29, I was on an operating table in a Fort Wayne hospital. A team of black and white doctors and nurses were working together to save my life. They were led by a young black surgeon, educated at a black college. When I came out of the operating room, telegrams and wires started arriving at the hospital. One of them came from Montgomery

Another Look At Coronado Apartments

Not only does the Coronado Apartments need to be cleaned up and made suitable to live in, but those abandoned cars need to be moved from this area. The Lubbock Digest will continue to let the public know of this condition at the Coronado Apartments. Perhaps one day, since housing is a problem in Lubbock and at the recent Community Development neighborhood meetings residents spoke about the need for housing, the City of Lubbock will do something about these apartments. WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. - Toussaint Holland recently completed college degree requirements through an R. J. Reynolds Industries program with High Point College, which enables employees to take college classes at night in the company's headquarters building. Holland, 30, received a B. A. degree the same month his six-year-old daughter Monica (left) entered first grade.

NAACP Will Meet Saturday

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), Lubbock Branch, will hold a regular meeting of its general membership at Mae Simmons Community Center, 2100 Oak Avenue, at 7:30 p. m. on Saturday, November 8, for the purpose of nominating officers and members of the Executive Committee for the next two years. The Nominating Committee elected at the October meeting will submit its report. Additional nominations may be made at this meeting by petition signed by three or more members with the written consent of the nominee. The branch election will be held December 13. For the purpose of voting in that election, a member must have dues paid no later than November 13, thirty days prior to the election.

Western Signs Minority Supplier Agreement

Western Electric has become the first corporation in America to undertake a pilot program with the U. S. Small Business Administration designed to identify and encourage minority-owned businesses with the potential to become suppliers to major corporations. A one-year memorandum of understanding was finalized recently in Washington between SBA and WE's Purchasing and Transportation Division. The document was signed for the company by Robert A. Kraay, vice president, Purchasing and Transportation, and for the government by William Clement, Jr., associate administrator for Minority Small Business. The arrangement is essentially a referral system in which the SBA will periodically provide WE with information on minority companies which have successfully undertaken government contracts. WE will review the information and attempt to identify the companies which might become WE suppliers. When appropriate, the agreement calls for WE Purchasing and Transportation representatives to visit those minority firms with potential to become suppliers. Visits will provide an opportunity for WE representatives to determine how individual companies can best meet WE's requirements and get a firsthand look at the suppliers' products or services. Western Electric has operated its own Minority Supplier Development program for 12 years. Last year the company purchased about $67 million in goods and services from 730 minority-owned firms. The consultation and development work with minority companies under the SBA agreement is similar to the services offered to minority companies as part of the WE program. Western's agreement with the SBA requires, though, that the company provide follow-up information on any contacts Western Electric has with companies referred to us by that agency.

Former Dallas Administrators Receive Fraud Terms

Three former Bishop College administrators were sentenced last week to 60 days of unsupervised probation in five-year-old federal fraud case. Former college president Patrick Higginbotham sentenced Curry, Leffall and Johnson last Thursday in a charge of mishandling less than $100 in federal funds.

Lubbock Arts Festival Seeks International Foods

On May 1, 2, and 3 the Lubbock Arts Festival will include more than just paintings and music. It will provide many fine examples of the international art of cooking. In preparation for the 1981 "Celebration of the Arts," the Lubbock Arts Festival is seeking applications from area non-profits groups which wish to operate a non-raising ethnic and regional food concessions at this year's event. Concession applications may be obtained by writing the Lubbock Arts Festival at P. O. Box 561, Lubbock, Texas 79408 or by calling 763-5566. The increasingly prestigious festival drew 75,000 people in 1980, thereby making it one of the largest indoor arts festivals in the Southwest. It is jointly sponsored by the Lubbock Cultural Affairs Council and Civic Lubbock, Inc.

Girl Scout Volunteers Needed To Work Here

Girl Scout leaders and assistant leaders are needed now to work with Girl Scout troops in East Lubbock schools. There are many girls, 6 through 17 years of age, who are anxious to become a part of the Girl Scout program but are unable to because of lack of leadership. Schools where leaders are needed include Martin, Wheatley, Iles, Posey, Dunbar and Struggs. Girl Scouting operates on the principle that girls grow, learn and have fun making decisions, doing and discovering for themselves. The Girl Scout program is carried out through ways of work that support the aim of helping each girl develop her fullest potential through group experience.

This aim is accomplished by working on activities in five different areas of interest: the world of well being, the world of people, the world of today and tomorrow, the world of the arts and the world of the out of doors. Prospective leaders are given courses to help them in their work with the troops. These cover such subjects as Song and Games, Multi Media First Aid, and Camp Training as well as a complete Leaders Training Course which aids in planning the first six meetings with a troop. Those interested in further information about working with a Girl Scout troop may visit the Caprock Girl Scout Council office 2567 74th Street or call 745-2355.

The Confident Person

by
Dr. Charles W. Faulkner

"I don't care what anybody thinks about me."
"Nobody makes me nervous, not even the President of the United States."

Have you ever heard anyone make these statements? Have you ever said these things to another person ... or said them to yourself?

Were these statements actually true or did they represent an aggressively emotional effort to defend oneself against a strong feeling of insecurity? The secure, self-confident person who likes himself/herself and feels good about himself/herself usually never makes complimentary statements about oneself.

The secure person so strongly believes in himself/herself and is so confident about personal capabilities that such statements are not necessary. The person's self-confidence is clearly expressed in pleasant, relaxed behavior and in the ease with which such a person communicates with other people, compliments other people and makes other people relaxed in his/her company.

The insecure person who lacks confidence finds it necessary to tell other people about how strong and confident the insecure person is. This is usually the insecure person's way of convincing other people of his/her confidence. This is usually a fraud and is usually the technique used to hide a lack of confidence and insecurity. Such a person has a deep-seated feeling of inadequacy but attempts to disguise it with continuous self-praise.

Such a person is emotional, depressive, temperamental, critical of other people, quite moody and constantly complaining. These factors of insecurity are a part of the inadequate person's personality and may be detected through close observation.

A pattern of behavior (a regularity of behavior) is the criterion that is used to evaluate such behavior. When a person consistently displays the characteristics of insecurity, that person has a low opinion of himself/herself and a negative self-image even though occasional indications of security are present.

The secure individual regularly displays the qualities of security even though an occasional loss of temper might occur.

When we display behavior that indicates a specific kind of personality, that behavior may be our attempt to hide our true feelings about ourselves from the public.

People are not always as they appear to be. Behavior may be an unfortunate act that is consciously used to hide feelings of inferiority.

No one is perfect. We are what we are. And, we can become what we want to be. Much less energy is required to change ourselves into the confident, proud and happy persons whom we want to be rather than to spend the time, effort and torment needed to adopt a confusing disguise which may, in fact, convey the opposite impression that we wish to convey and lead us down the road to stress and depression.

We Must Get It Together

The election has come and gone. If you voted, your candidate probably won and if you did not your candidate probably lost. The point at hand is for us to get up and do something together and work for the good of Lubbock, Texas and America collectively working for the good of us all. We need to join our hands, elbows, parties and whatever to move ahead.

Something came to the attention of this paper and this writer that 90% of the murders around the clubs, joints, discos and others happen outside the establishments. This suggests that club owners, law enforcement agencies and others need to take a closer look at the outside hand arounders. Most of the time, they are broke, molest females, begging from patrons and awaiting customers.

A funny thing for me to understand. You see we have Coronado and people without a place to live. Green Fair Manor is almost empty! But the hardest thing for me to understand is from Parkway all the way back through Cherry Point, houses are boarded up and people all over town need some kind of housing. Why??? Later we will run some photos of some of these boarded up houses.

On December 5th, we will be having a workshop on illiteracy with national, regional, local educators, friends of education, SCOOP and BMI. Look for more on this later. Dr. Ben Wright, who was our guest speaker at the last Market Seminar, will be here also.

Next week, this writer will give a hard political analysis on the recent politics and politicians - good and bad - of the recent campaigns. We will look at the insides, outsides and behind the scenes. Whys and Why Nots.

We will not leave Coronado Apartments alone until something is done. (City, one side is vacant, why not condemn it). The other side is make a few improvements, i. e. growing grass, weeds being cut and little face lifting.

The election is over. We must get it together. Let's put on the band aids and get at the work at hand and try to pull ourselves up by whatever boot straps. You see if we do this, in the end, it is to be is up to me - that goes for each of us. The only one who can help us is us. Remember that!!

Know Times To Contact Social Security

by
Manuela Barton
Claims Representative

It is important that everyone in the Lubbock area know the proper times to contact social security. Knowing the five times action is needed is too important to take for granted. It can mean greater security for local residents and members of their families. A person should contact social security:
* Before he or she gets a first job, because he or she needs a social security number to get proper credit for earnings.
* After a death in the family, to learn if survivor benefits or a lump-sum death payment are payable.
* When somebody is disabled, to find out if disability

BLACK EMPOWERMENT

By Dr. Nathaniel Wright, Jr.
Human Rights Activist

ECONOMIC SURVIVAL AND COOPERATION

Americans have been faced these past few years with the ugly, frightening and seemingly unending problem of inflation. Inflation, most simply explained, means higher costs for basic needs and proportionately less money to secure them. Hardest hit, of course, are those Americans at the bottom of the economic ladder. This immediately makes the greatest pinch of inflation a largely racial matter, since a much greater proportion of black people—along with brown and red Americans—are poor than are white people.

While black Americans are suffering most bitterly from inflation in this country, we must not lose sight of the fact that billions of others outside of America are suffering far more severely than we are. Indeed, hardship cannot even be compared to famine.

Black Americans must fight at home for lower costs and more wherewithal (that is, just plain money) to secure the means of our survival. But we must do much more than this. As black people, we must see our lot as being one with the many millions of darker skinned people, tens benefits are payable.

* At retirement age; 65 for full cash benefits or as early as 62 for reduced payments. Sign up for Medicare 2 or 3 months before 65, even if the person has no plans to stop working.

* Whenever a person has a question about social security or needs to report a change that will affect monthly benefits.

The people at the Lubbock social security office can tell a person how much work he or she needs to be insured, who can qualify for benefits, how to replace a lost social security or Medicare card, how to get a free statement of his or her earnings record, or what documents are needed when a person applies for benefits.

These and other questions can be answered at the Lubbock social security office, located at 1205 Texas Avenue. The telephone number is 762-7381.

We take from others in an unprecedented way, and we heard and see proportionately more of the earth's goods and resources than any other people on our planet. It is a face on its face for Americans to claim generosity with profits made at the expense of others. It is, further, unjust—or even unrighteous, if that term does not offend—for us to claim as our right to literally squander resources which are beyond our just share.

"Mi casa su casa" (My house your house) say the Spanish-speaking peoples of the Caribbean and South America. The theologian, John Donne, echoed the same sentiment when he wrote that "no man is an island unto himself." The black African concept of uhuru speaks of the oneness of life and of its purposes and forces. Man is made to be one and our destinies are forever intertwined. This is the message which we must make clear to the pompous "fat cats" who profiteer from world inflation, who make it hard for us and who cause—without even flinching—countless children and older people, most of whom (at this point in time) are dark-skinned, to die.

A revealing commentary upon our morality was evident in the advice not too long ago to all members of the Latter Day Saints (the Mormons) to hoard at least a year's supply of food for their own families, just in case harder times were ahead. This kind of spirit may pervade our outlook as a nation to a greater extent than we would like to think. There among us who are on the shortest end of the American stick have, then, a double duty. We must have our own just share of what is available to and in America. But far more important, beyond any doubt than this, is our seeing to it that no one in America consumes more than his or her share of what equitably belongs to the peoples of the world.

The ancient Hebrews were mindful of the fact that "The earth is the Lord's and all the fullness of it." In ideal tribal societies, there is sharing and sharing alike. We need to recover the sense that all humanity belongs to the human tribe. To what other tribe do we in America want to belong? If not, then we must stop telling others how many children they should or should not have while we eat and heat and drive with what they and their children, whether many or few, should have. It is our burden, as America's most greatly oppressed, to remind our neighbors and brothers near at hand of all of humanity's interdependence.

BLACK POETRY

MYSTERY OF THE ROSE

Who clipped that precious rose,
A passerby or a child at play?
The first to bloom this late July
How radiant it was to the eye.
I gazed on it with such joy
You'd think I'd fashioned it alone
For even a dash of pink had shown
With leaves as green as pine.
What happened to that rose?
I'd planned it so, prayerfully
And God, the real Creator, knew
I loved that rose—
And so, before some stranger
Took it from our view
I clipped the rose, and Poised it in a vase for you!
—Annetta Elam Capdeville

Ringling The Bell

by
Bob Ticeul

Dear Bob: Blacks must stop voting a one-party ticket. They are being taken for granted by the Democrats and must become active participants in America's two-party system. To do that, Blacks must examine both candidates and their records and make a rational choice. As the head of California's government from 1966 through 1974, Ronald Reagan appointed more blacks to key state positions than any of his peers in the other 47 states, and more than any other governor in California history.

"Before his administration took office, no Black had served as director of a state agency or department. He appointed six. Reagan's record on welfare, human relations and employment was equally outstanding. He opened the doors of California's civil service system to Blacks, and Black employment rose 23 percent during his administration. He created new permanent jobs through sensible programs that used the experience and muscle of private enterprise. He increased welfare benefits for the truly needy by 40 percent while working with all areas of society to move the unemployed off welfare and into meaningful jobs. Reagan will provide welfare not welfare, real work and not make-work jobs.

"I am most enthusiastic about Reagan's call for 'enterprise zones' in America's depressed urban areas to rebuild them through a practical partnership between government and industry. Above all Ronald Reagan is not a racist. I am always most suspicious—and all Blacks should be too—of the candidate who first raises the race issue in any campaign. Wish I could be with you on Black College Day in the Permian Basin but we can all meet at the polls on Tuesday, November 4th. Dr. L. P. Tolliver.

There can be little doubt that more Blacks will vote for the Republican nominee - Ronald Reagan than they did for the nominee - Ford in 1976. Some of the nation's top leaders are in the Reagan camp as evidenced by the letter above from an old bellringer - Dr. L. P. Tolliver, an educator from Oklahoma, where this correspondent first saw the light of day. The question: Will it be a large enough "swing" vote in the more black populated areas of the North and East.

The 1980's are considered as prospectively difficult times for Black people because of the increasing problem of inflation, the fact that big business is in a recession - restricting production and limiting hiring - and growing unemployment, according to Dr. Charles W. Faulkner, a black psychologist with NNPA. He believes that a period of benign neglect is in prospect during which time blacks will be in a void - little advancement as a group, minimal opportunity and increasing conservatism, he adds.

He states that it does not matter whether Carter or Reagan is elected Blacks must accept the challenge of the increasing psychological pressures that will be exerted upon them and refuse to be broken emotionally. Emotional toughness and a common sense appraisal of the world go quite a way toward the development of emotional stability, Faulkner believes.

Sunday's Child: Sometimes ago, some of the nation's top black leaders made a joint statement and declared in part: "Our communities are in turmoil. The elements that destroy human lives are running rampant. The greatest challenge that faces us as a people today is how to communicate a sense of moral pride to children who see so much temptation. "For generations, the Black church has been a powerful influence in our lives. The Black Church brought us through slavery and it can still be a positive influence in our young people's lives and in our communities. We need to care more about the Black Church today." We salute Mt. Zion Baptist Church, and its beloved pastor, Rev. Lon Bailey of Pecos, Texas for 30 odd years of faithful service.

"Dedicated to Freedom, Justice, and Equality"

AS PUBLISHERS of the weekly newspaper, we owe to YOU, the reading public, to be factual and fair. You may be critical of some things that are written, but, at least you will have the satisfaction of knowing they are truthful and to the point.

People will react to that which is precise, and we will publish these articles as precisely and factually as humanly possible. We will also give credit and respect to those who are doing good things for the Lubbock Area and the people. We will be critical of those who are not doing as they have said they would do, and this, we think, is fair.

So, this our resolution to you: Feel free at anytime to call the office for information, concern, or any other matter that is of concern to you.

This is not a propaganda sheet made to create or validity. This is a newspaper made to educate and not to agitate.

Your Ministers

Bishop W. D. Haynes
Pastor
Christ Temple Church
of God in Christ

Another minister in our community is quite concerned about the welfare of the community and church is Bishop W. D. Haynes, pastor of Christ Temple Church of God in Christ. At present time, his church is making big plans for a Thanksgiving Retreat which will involve many citizens of community and the great state of Texas. Christ Temple is located at 2411 Fir Avenue.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

The members of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast met last Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Juanita Sowell. President Mary Ward presided over the meeting. If it wasn't for the Lord, tell me what we would?

Opening devotion was led by Mrs. C. Cage, Mrs. M. Ward, and Mrs. E. Dinwittie.

The scripture was taken from St. Matthew 9:1-6.

Morning discussions took place with each person speaking about two minutes. II Chronicles 7:14: "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin. And will heal their land."

This was a glorious morning. You should have been there. We thank God for the ability to love.

Thought for the day: "Go to the polls a winner."

No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper," Isaiah 54:17. Think about it.

A beautiful solo was sung by Mrs. Day. Breakfast was served by a full shift. We were happy to have Mrs. Buelah Winters back on last Saturday morning. The food was great. Come and share this morning meal with friends who love you.

Our guest list included: Rev. J. V. Harris, Mrs.

Susietta Shoman, Yvete Moore, Yvonne Moore, Victor Moore, and Levy Moore.

We were very happy to have Mrs. Willie Thomas back with us. You know, because of you, this day was truly successful. Our sick and shut in list include: Mr. M. E. Collins, Mr. Sterling Belvin, a patient at University Home; Mrs. Essie Blevands, at home; Willie M. Thomas, Mrs. Susie Johnson, mother of Mrs. Lavina Childers; Mr. Philip Gant, Jr. and Rev. James B. Lester.

We're sure there are others in the community whom we fail to mention, but you are included in this scripture: John 3:2. Mrs. L. E. Moore, the well known evangelist, lost her brother on last week.

"Oh how sweet it is to be loved by Gods." He gives strength in these sad hours.

The prayer request was made and so many answers to prayer. This was beautiful. If you have one, come or call. It will work both ways. Our morning prayer was offered by Rev. J. V. Harris.

The food was blessed by Mrs. Elnora Dinwittie. Can any good come out of Nazareth??S Our next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Annie M. Johnson, 1709 East 25th Street. Come and see! Mrs. Mary Ward is president; Mrs. C. E. Fair, vice president; Mrs. C. E. Brown, secretary; and Mrs. D. Hood, reporter.

Musical Extravanza Set For Nov 9th

The Mass Choir of the Mount Gilead Baptist Church, Rev. Larry L. Polk, Sr., pastor, will sponsor a "Musical Extravanza" on Sunday afternoon, November 9th, at 3 p.m.

Choirs and soloist of the city have been invited to be special guest. Among those who will participate will include: Rising Star Baptist Church, Rev. Herman L. Phillips, pastor; St. John Baptist Church, Rev. James Moore, pastor; Rev. Minnette as soloist; and the Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church, Rev. A. L. Davis, pastor.

The public is invited to attend and share this evening of good gospel singing. A reception will follow the program.

9th Annual Thanksgiving Holiday Retreat

The 9th Annual Thanksgiving Holiday Retreat will be held at Christ Temple Church of God in Christ, 2411 Fir Avenue, November 27, 28, 29 and 30, 1980.

On Thanksgiving night, there will be a "Thanksgiving Musical" at 8 p.m.

On Friday, November 28, breakfast will be held from 7 to 8 a.m. At 8:15 a.m., Interdenominational Seminar, Bible Study Workshop and Music Workshop conducted by Bert Cross of Dallas, Texas.

Guest expected to be in attendance include: Elder Michael Ray, with the Children of God of Fort Worth; Elder E. Demerson of Amarillo; Evangelist W. E. Mitchell of Dallas; Evangelist Levi Lenley of Lubbock; and Minister Donovan Craig Howard of Dallas.

"We are asking the Lubbock community to help us house the delegates who will be coming from Dallas, Fort Worth, Amarillo and other towns not listed," said Bishop W. D. Haynes, director and pastor of Christ Temple. "If you will help us, contact Miss Katy Jauslin at 793-2597," continued Bishop Haynes.

Minister W. D. Haynes, Jr. will serve as Assistant Director.

Ms. Ola J. Andrews of Oakland, California, with Hymn of Praise To Him - spoken words and songs, a gospel singer choir trainer, seminar teacher, has recently returned from Europe teaching praise worship in Germany, Austria, Switzerland, and Paris, France. She will be one of the speakers at the Thanksgiving Retreat.

RUBY JAY'S CORNER

It was good to hear of the great reception that several blacks in our community received when they visited with President Jimmy Carter at Abilene, Texas last Saturday afternoon. Those who were in attendance were: Ms. Rose Wilson, Ms. Annie Mae Jones, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Chatman.

Not only were this group excited on being there, but the large number of blacks from throughout the state was gratifying.

The New Hope Baptist Church began its 28th Anniversary of their pastor, Rev. A. L. Dunn, last Sunday afternoon. Among those in attendance was the Rev. Larry L. Polk, Sr.; pastor of Mount Gilead Baptist Church. The choirs sang beautiful and Rev. Polk preached out of his heart. Praise God for this service. The anniversary will close on Sunday afternoon, November 9, at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Etta Tucker has returned home last week from a tour which included Dallas, Waco, Chilton and Lott, Texas. She visited relatives and friends. She has a sister in Lott. Ms. Tucker reported a most enjoyable trip.

Mrs. Vera Holloway Ward of Waco, Texas is a new subscriber to the Lubbock Digest. If you would like to become a subscriber, please let me hear from you by writing: Lubbock Digest, P. O. Box 2553, Lubbock, Texas 79408 or call 762-3612.

Rev. Carl Jefferson will be reporting news from the black community in Amarillo, Texas. It is good to know that we will have more news from that community.

Mrs. Mary Ludd of Sacramento, California was here for several weeks attending the Dunbar High School Reunion. She is expected to leave on Saturday for home. She has enjoyed herself here, and is still talking about the reunion. She is carrying her mother back home with her for a visit.

Let us continue to pray for our sick and shut in members of the community. Among them are Rev. James B. Lester, pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church of Abilene, who is a patient at Methodist Hospital; and Rev. S. R. Roberts. Also Mr. A. W. Savage, father of Lee Savage, who is a patient at Lubbock General Hospital, room 369. Renae Knighton had surgery last Saturday night at Lubbock General Hospital. Mrs. Mary McKinney, mother of Bernice Kelly, is a patient at University Hospital.

Hope you voted Tuesday for your favorite candidate. If you didn't vote, then you don't have anything to complain about. Don't you agree?

Wille Blocker is recuperating nicely at home after having surgery recently at Lubbock General.

The Saturday morning retreats at Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church are going nicely. They are held each Saturday morning at 7:30 a.m. If there are young people who want to participate, please contact Mrs. Thelma Pierson at 765-9046. The retreats feature outstanding blacks from the community who are available to advise young people about the many opportunities available for them.

Obituary

Mrs. Lee Anner Fairchild

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Lee Anner Fairchild at the Rising Star Baptist Church on last Thursday morning with Rev. Heman L. Phillips, pastor, officiating.

Arrangements were under the direction of Jamison and Son Funeral Home.

Mrs. Fairchild was born in Giddings, Texas, Lee County, to Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Morris. She was married to Johnnie Rayford and to that union were born six children. They were Willie B. Brown Kindie, Johnnie L. Rayford, deceased; Curtis Rayford, Pearl Bullock, Elsie Phillips and Gladys Donald.

Mrs. Fairchild passed away Sunday, October 26, 1980.

She leaves to mourn her passing: four daughters, Willie B.

Brown Kindie, Elsie Phillips, both of Lubbock; Pearl Bullock of Oklahoma City, Ok. and Gladys Donald of San Jose, California, a son, Curtis Rayford of Lubbock; a sister, Vera Manning of Dallas, Texas; sixteen grandchildren, fifteen great grandchildren, and a host of other relatives and friends. Pallbearers were Grover Colvin, Gene Williams, Leroy Chiles, Lorenzo Robison, Richard Rollison and Esau Turner.

Pudding Carrot Cake

The KITCHEN BEAT

Surprise for the Lunch Box

In today's black American home, cooking is no longer the responsibility of one person. Because of busy and varied schedules, usually every member of the family at some time or another has to prepare personal meals or meals for other members of the family. The Kitchen Beat is designed to meet some needs of the various cooks in the modern black family.

If your youngsters are not eating their lunches, it's time to take some action because that lunch time is very important! It is that mid-point in the day when their active growing bodies need recharging, and they need the right kinds of food to keep them alert and healthy.

Packing a lunch at home is good for many reasons—not only because it can be less expensive, but because you can choose just those foods, and the amounts, to suit the individual needs of your children. And with a little bit of guidance, your youngsters can share in preparing their lunches. Setting aside a little time the night before, you can wrap most lunches to keep their freshness the next day, and this saves time during the morning rush hours.

To guide you in putting lunches together, bear in mind that a child's midday meal should provide about one-third of the day's nutritional needs. It should include vegetables and fruit; meat or another protein source such as eggs, cheese or peanut butter; enriched or whole wheat bread and milk (purchased at school).

Then—for the surprise that makes Mom the heroine, and for lunch-time treats, here's one that has lots going for it—good taste, texture and nutrition. Pudding Carrot Cake starts with a packaged cake mix to which you add vanilla flavor instant pudding and pie filling, eggs, grated carrots, raisins and spice. One slice of this cake makes a very tasty dessert and provides more than 30% of the daily requirement for vitamin A.

Following are some sample lunch menus which can be helpful to you:

Remember, lunch time is important, and it can also be fun!

PUDDING CARROT CAKE

Recipe Courtesy General Foods

- 1 package (2-layer size) yellow cake mix or pudding-included cake mix
- 1 package (4-serving size) vanilla flavor instant pudding and pie filling
- 4 eggs
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/4 cup oil
- 3 cups grated carrots
- 1/2 cup raisins or golden raisins, finely chopped
- 1/4 cup chopped walnuts or toasted sliced almonds
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Combine all ingredients in large mixer bowl. Blend; then beat at medium speed of electric mixer for 4 minutes. Pour into three greased and floured 6 1/2 x 2 1/2-inch aluminum foil pans. Bake at 350° for 30 minutes or until cake begins to pull away from sides of pans. Do not underbake. Cool in pans about 15 minutes. Remove from pans and finish cooling on rack. For ease in cutting and mellowing of flavors, wrap in aluminum foil and store overnight. Frost, if desired.

Alternate Baking Pans:
One 10-inch tube pan for 65 minutes
Two 9x5-inch pans for 45 to 50 minutes

Orange Cream Cheese Frosting
Cream 1 tablespoon butter or margarine with 1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese until smooth and well blended. Gradually add 2 1/2 cups sifted confectioners sugar, alternately with 1 tablespoon (about) orange juice, beating after each addition until smooth. Add 1 tablespoon grated orange rind. Makes 1 1/4 cups.

Nutrition Information.
One serving of Pudding Carrot Cake (1/24th) provides about 170 calories, without frosting—with frosting, about 230 calories.

One serving with frosting provides more than 30% of the U.S. RDA of vitamin A.

Nigerian Vice Consul Guest Speaker At African Week

The Vice Consul of Nigerian Consulate Office in New York, Mr. Kabir Garba, was the guest speaker at the conclusion of African Week, November 2, at the Lubbock Room of the University Center at Texas Tech University.

Mr. Kabir Garba Vice Consul of Nigerian Consulate Office

Mr. Garba spoke to an audience of Africans, Americans and others on different topics.

In what was termed an excellent presentation, the young diplomat touched on Nigerian economy and foreign policy. He emphasized on Nigerian's position on the total liberation of African countries.

When asked by Dr. Richard Vengroff, a political science professor, what Nigerian position would be if Ronald Reagan, a longtime sympathizer of South Africa's apartheid government, comes to power and seeks to implement his policy of close ties with the apartheid regime. The young diplomat made it clear that Nigeria has its own interest to protect and will do so at all costs, regardless of who occupies the White House.

Dr. Vengroff is the current sponsor of African Student's Association and an authority on the politics of Africa. His books on Africa include: "Botswana: Rural Development Under the Shadow of Apartheid," and "Upper Volta-environmental Uncertainty and Life-Stock Production." Answering questions from the audience mostly on Nigeria, Mr. Garba made one theme clear to Nigerian students patriotism. He constantly reminded them that they should be patriotic enough to return home and make use of their acquired knowledge. He estimated the number of Nigerian students in the U. S. universities at 35,000. The African Week was declared closed at 9:15 p.m. by the President of the African Association, Mr. Ambrose Amaole, thus marking the end of a long week of planning.

Would You Believe?

Charles Deo of 2503 Ash Avenue began growing sweet potatoes as a hobby, but if you look at his recent crop, he's come a long way in growing sweet potatoes.

Mr. Deo took time out for the Lubbock Digest to photograph several of his sweet potatoes at Nettie Lou's Barber Shop recently.

"I am enjoying growing sweet potatoes and will continue to grow more in the future," says Mr. Deo. Mr. Deo is a faithful member of the Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church. (Photo by Eddie P. Richardson)

The Dictionary Habit, A Crucial Tool In Developing Effective Communication

Dear Reader:

The Lubbock Digest is a black-owned newspaper that brings you the news of our community and that reinterprets, from a black perspective, the national and international events of the day. We hope that our readers of all ages will keep a dictionary handy when reading the Lubbock Digest. Our publisher and staff want to see black Americans in this community and in every community across the land build word power.

Why is this necessary? This is crucial because if we are to reach our goal: that, we desire for black America, we must be able to communicate clearly and concisely with one another in Black America; and we must also be able to not only understand what White America is saying to us but to be able to communicate our goals, aspirations, needs, etc. to white Americans at every level.

The first jigsaw puzzles, which first appeared in the 1780s, were called dissected maps.
