LOIC Will Remain Open — Misses Ax!!

by Denise Kliner

Although the classrooms at Lubbock Opportunities Industrialization Center (LOIC) may look deserted, rumors that the center may soon close its doors are not true, according to LOIC's executive director, Diana Henderson.

According to Henderson, LOIC recently completed a clerical class and are now starting GED classes for adults trying to earn their high school diplomas. "We are waiting on more adults to enroll in the GED program. We want everyone to know that its not just for CETA students, but open to the general public as well," Henderson said.

In addition to those students enrolled in the GED classes, LOIC has 150 people involved in LOIC programs throughout the city. However, despite these brightspots, there have been difficulties at the center, especially with President Reagan's budget cuts.

Fannie Jaushalin smiles as she enjoys a reception held for Grandparents at Estacado High School.

"We've had to cutback our staff from 18 to 8. It's kinda like you're doubling up on everything. Everybody that's working here are doing twice as much as they did before. Another problem caused by the budget cuts, according to Henderson, is that she still does not know how much money LOIC will be allocated for next year. Because of that, many classes that would be in session may be delayed until next year.

Councilman Off To D. C.

City Councilman Alan Henry will be in Washington, D. C., Thursday for a briefing by President Reagan and members of his cabinet.

Henry, president of the Texas Municipal League, will join leaders of city, county and state associations from across the nation for the special White House briefing.

"Local elected officials are a key link in the president's federalism goals," according to the president's assistant for intergovernmental affairs. "We hope you will be able to attend this meeting so that you might be more fully informed on the president's initiatives."

The Thursday morning briefing will be held in the East Room of the White House.

Reese AFB Christmas Teams Announced

Major Dave Meier, the project officer for the seventh annual Reese Air Force Base Christmas

Classic High School Basketball Tournament announced the sixteen team line up for this year's three day event last week.

The Classic field will be divided into two divisions. The larger schools will compete for the President's Trophy and the small schools will compete for the Commander's Trophy.

This year, neither division will have a defending champion as El Paso Andress will remain at home and Dimmitt, the Commander's Trophy Division champions in 1980, will step up to compete in the President's Trophy Division.

Address won President's Trophy Division titles in 1975, 1978 and 1980 but will not travel to Reese this year due to a new school district policy that now prohibits travel to out-of-town tournaments on consecutive years. They hope to return in the future.

However, El Paso Bowie will represent the El Paso I. S. D. at Reese this year. In another sense, Andress will again be represented at Reese as their former coach, Phil Hilliard, will lead Coronado in the Classic after switching jobs this past summer.

The field for the President's Trophy Division will consist of Amarillo, Big Spring, El Paso Bowie, Canyon, Lubbock Coronado, Dimmitt, Midland Lee, and Morton.

Of those teams, only Bowie is a newcomer to the Classic. Morton won the co-championship of the 1976 tourney and finished second in 1975. Big Spring will be hoping to improve last year's surprise third place finish, but most "experts" tab the team they beat for third place, Midland Lee, as the eventual champion this year.

Childress, Clyde, Denver, City, Kermit, Lorenzo, Lubbock Christian, Slaton, and Tahoka will contend for the Commander's Trophy Championship. Clyde and Lorenzo are playing in their final Classic. Kermit returns after a two year absence and Slaton returns after a five year absence. Lubbock Christian, the 1975 champion, is the

Longtime Resident Succumbs

Final rites were held for a longtime resident of Lubbock, Mrs. Lucille M. Lovings, Monday afternoon, November 30, 1981, at the Mount Gilead Baptist Church with Rev. Herman Phillips, pastor of Rising Star Baptist Church and Rev. Larry Polk, pastor of Mount Gilead, officiating.

Interment was held in the City of Lubbock Cemetery under the direction of Sedberry Funeral Home.

Mrs. Lovings was born September 12, 1900 to Eva and John Dunlap in St. Louis, Missouri where she received her formal education. She was united in marriage to the late Mr. Raymond Argonne Wheatley, Sr. To this union, a son, Raymond Argonne Wheatley, Jr., was born. He preceded her in death.

On September 18, 1928, she became the bride of Dr. Franklin L. Lovings. The family moved to Lubbock, Texas on March 19, 1950 and united with the Mount Gilead Baptist Church under the pastorage of the late Rev. I. M. Woodard. In later years, the family moved their membership to the Rising Star Baptist Church where Mrs. Lovings served as a very faithful member until health prevented her regular attendance.

Citizens Await Capital Improvements

by Denise Kliner

Now that Lubbock's record bond election is over, and seven of the eight propositions approved, citizens are now waiting for those capital improvements to get underway. East Lubbock citizens, in particular, are wondering when construction will begin to remove the curve at East 34th and Quirt Avenue.

According to City Planner, Jim Bertram, a definite time frame has not been scheduled for any of the projects. However, in the city's Capital Improvements Program, the East 34th and Quirt issue was scheduled for 1983-1984.

Once construction does begin, a portion of American Iron and Metal Inc. on Quirt Avenue will be taken out. However, Dean Veisley, manager of American Iron, says he does not foresee any problems with the new role for Quirt.

Warning Against Cold Weather

The recent cold weather has prompted Lubbockites to start turning on furnaces, collecting firewood and looking for other ways to stay warm. But often, in an effort to stay warm, people are exposing themselves to the dangers of carbon monoxide. "The colder weather of the winter season signals the start of the most dangerous time of the year for accidental carbon monoxide poisoning," according to Lee Orr, Registered Sanitarian and Environmental Health Coordinator for the Lubbock Health Department.

Last year 134 Texans died from carbon monoxide poisoning. Approximately 58 percent of these were apparent suicides.

Carbon monoxide is a colorless, odorless, very toxic gas which formed by the incomplete combustion of any carbon fuel. "Anything that burns can form carbon monoxide including gasoline, wood, charcoal and natural gas," said Mr. Orr. Carbon monoxide can be lethal unless it is sufficiently diluted with fresh air or properly vented out of closed quarters.

Carbon monoxide poisoning has been known to occur in the home when furnaces are in need of repair or when vents, duct work and chimney, are obstructed. "When turning on furnaces, look for a blue flame - a sign of proper combustion," said Orr.

Mr. Orr also warns against the danger of carbon monoxide build up from car engines. "Frequently, people attempt to warm a cold car by letting the engine run in a closed garage. Carbon monoxide build's up rapidly when car engines are idling," said Orr. "Cars idling outdoors can also prove fatal to passengers setting inside."

Hunters and campers should be wary of gas fires left burning while they sleep in a closed trailer, van or camp house. Unvented gas stoves should also be avoided.

Being aware of the warning signs of carbon monoxide poisoning could save a life. "Be alert for these symptoms: yawning, headache, nausea, jizziness, ringing in the ears and abdominal cramps. The time between recognition of symptoms and the onset of fatal poisoning is rapid," said Orr. If you suspect carbon monoxide poisoning, get out of the building immediately and breath fresh air," recommends Orr.

The approaching winter season brings an increased danger of carbon monoxide poisoning. Being aware of potentially dangerous heating and cooking practices and knowing the warning signs of carbon monoxide poisoning may help reduce the carbon monoxide danger associated with colder weather.

Life Style

by Joe McConnell

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Here is another series by Mr. Joe McConnell about "Life Style." It is his way of sharing his any experiences in life.)

What Is Maturity??

This Is What A Community Needs!

Within each house, the people build a primary community where all household tasks and economic responsibility for maintenance are shared. There is also a great deal of interaction between people of the different houses in work, fellowship, celebration, worship, study and analysis, mutual support and struggle for change in the larger community and society. There is thus a shared community of spirit and concern in the entire life center community as well as in the many small communities within it. A strong concern in the life center community is outreach. They are attempting to integrate living in a caring community with struggling for fundamental change in the larger society. They are living the revolution in their own lives as well as working to transform the larger society.

Some questions for further discussion:

1. How are you practicing community right now?
2. What kinds of community exist around us now?
3. How would community help us bring the future into the present or to be the kind of people you want to be?
4. Are there ways you can begin to build real community in the area where you live now?
5. Are there people you feel close to with whom you would really like to build a community? What is preventing you from moving ahead on this? Who are the people you trust?

Perhaps that will define your community. "What Can You Do?" Start a resource and skills exchange as one way to help build community, get a group of friends or neighbors together and ask each person to fill out a card

New Comic Strip Set In inner City Debuts Next Week

LOOKIN' FINE, the new comic strip starting next week in this newspaper, is the brainchild of 23-year-old Ray Billingsley.

The strip, which focuses on Ray Bradley, his supercool friend Richard, his gorgeous girlfriend Maxine, his parents and his younger brothers Ricky and Dayrel, is set in the inner city. But the characters and situations are universal.

Billingsley, who was born and raised in New York City, feels that sibling rivalry and an accident were the two major factors in helping his career as a cartoonist. His older brother was also drawing when the two were younger and the competition between them gave Ray the extra push he needed to outdo his brother. Then, at the age of 14, Ray had an accident and broke his hand. When the cast came off eight weeks later Ray discovered he'd developed a whole new drawing style.

Ray developed his first comic strip at age 16. Called

Ray Billingsley

"City Limits," it was about two old men living a retired life in the city. His drawing talent enabled him to get a four-year scholarship at the School of Visual Arts.

In addition to developing LOOKIN' FINE, Ray has contributed artwork to numerous magazines including Ebony, Career World, Pizzazz, Current Health and Crazy. In the summer of 1979 he and three other students from the School of Visual Arts worked at the Walt Disney Studios in Florida animating a Donald Duck film.

Saga of "The First" Is No Song

"The First" introduction of Jackie Robinson to the Broadway stage should not have been a musical. There was no music in his entrance into major league baseball; only discord. I know, I was there. Only a few white writers could capture, and pen paint, the Jackie Robinson who fought through the corrosive byproducts of prejudice, which before him, blocked the basepaths. Nor could they properly highlight the dignity, the grace and the courage with which he met his daily adversaries. Or epitomize his tremendous energy, will-power and the formidable talent which kept him performing through depression and edginess as he flirted with danger of his own physical well being. All this brought to the edge by sleepless nights when the exhilaration of success was drowned in the bitterness of bias as he was kept off the team bus and shoved to the other side of the railroad tracks. His was an intensely vivid experience with life time effectiveness. The nightmare of it, the drama and impact upon the past, present and future are not conducive to the shuffle and sham, fun and games of musical abated by a quick "buck and wing" before the backdrop of a song. Jackie Robinson's destiny was sealed. His was an unusual experience which changed the face of America. How he did it, and all those involved, deserves far better than a stereotyped pen approach for Broadway critics to pick over.

GLITTER & GLAMOUR - The inclement weather did not deter the glamour set from making the H'wood like opening of "The First." The big conversation piece however were from Amb. Franklyn Williams and John Johnson, the ABC-TV newscaster. They both were said to be escorting ladies of the other color spectrum. Rachel Robinson, a gracious and gorgeous hostess, had several guests down front and in boxes. They included Lee and Ina Archer, Warren and Teena Jackson, Ruby and Jack Gordon and this scribe and his Isadorable. Others who caught eye-level were Raymond and Marion Rogers, Marion Logan, David and Mrs. Robinson, Hal Jackson, with his lovely daughter, Jewel Jackson McCabe, the striking Sheron Robinson, Melba Moore, in a lovely gown which did nice things to her well proportioned body. Mr. and Mrs. Eubie Blake and Joe Bostic who came late enough for his front row seat to be as embarrassed as a deejay without an open mike.

The opening nite folks loved "The First" and gave it their standing approval. And that was deserving for a well rounded cast; especially David Huddleston, David Alan Grier and Lonette McKee. The after party at 54 was fun. Beer and hot dogs, pop corn and corn on the cob, in an Ebbets Field decor, kept the myth alive. It was a good evening that was well done and in good taste. Too bad "The First" wasn't a drama which immortalized the dramatic things which Jackie Robinson did after walking through a door which the black press opened. After all we all don't have rhythm and some of us hate watermelons.

NEWS FRONT -- None of the dailies screamed about it, but there were a few lines that the Dade County Commissioners voted to award the family of Arthur McDuffie $1 million. Plus an additional $100Gs from the city of Miami. McDuffie is the gentleman who died after a beating by the police which inspired the three days of rioting in Miami when they were adjudged innocent back in '80. The settlement is expected to end a 14-month old litigation in Federal court in which the family of the late insurance man had asked for $25 million. Out of Denver a Federal Judge has ruled that Trailways discriminated against driver Floyd Henry when he was fired for refusing to shave his beard. Said the Judge, "25% of the black men suffer a skin disorder that is alleviated by wearing a beard." The ruling here is that you just might enjoy "Merrily We Roll Along" at the Alvin Theatre. It has a spirited young mixed cast that tries awfully hard to make something out of what we felt wasn't that hot. It's that time again and the Harlem Dance Foundation plans for the 6th, annual presentation of "Santa Claus and the Unicorn" are in their final stages. Bob Evans, seeking private money to film "The Cotton Club," is insuring backers that it will be a gangster film covering the 20s and 30s and not a black musical as some thought. Red Randolph, who spent a bundle trying to make a go in the 46 street restaurant row, has found a buyer. He was that happy to sell the spot and lucky to walk away a few bucks ahead of what he had when he left his Harlem location to try downtown. Aubrey Lewis has been reelected proxy of EDGES and does he have some grandiose plans on the front burner

BY MAIL: A mostly male audience at the H'wood Palladium loved every second of Grace Jones' encore. Instead of kissing the outstretched hands, she licked them... If you were around then, or interested in the history of his period, "The Whole World In His Hand," authored by Susan Roberson, is a hard to put down "Pictorial Biography of Paul Roberson."... B'klyn lensman Dave Green is at the walling wall after his studio was burglarized and torched to destroy too many important photo negatives... Jim Cuffee, the big B'klyn and Atlanta City land owner, is set to do his thing in Liberia where he and the head man are as close as 12 o'clock. Lovely Debbie Allen and Veteran actor Moses Gunn may walk away from "Ragtime" the recognized superstars they are. Moses has been doing it right for a long time and Debbie is the most exciting new beauty to light up the stage since Dorothy Dandridge almost made it to the stars... Cutting the silk to open H'wood's new one step motion picture-tv coordinating office Mayor Tom Bradley declared war against the lure of other environs seeking that which is H'wood's trade mark.

Thanks, LPD!!

by
Eddie P. Richardson

At a time when the Lubbock Police Department is being criticized and put down, the Lubbock Digest has nothing but praise for the exceptional job done to recover the items stolen from our office last week. A very good, fast, and professional job. Thank you, LPD!!

On another police matter, we still believe the punishment was too severe. We felt this way at the time of the Civil Service hearing - that the punishment was too severe for the crime in the case of former Lubbock Police Department Lt. Wayne Roberson who was a 19 year veteran of the force before dismissed. A demotion, suspension without pay for a given amount of time or early retirement or some other method of punishment could have been administered. But not giving up 19 years of service to this city!! We feel this way about anyone who has given these many years of their life in any career or occupation. To us, well, that's too many years to go down the drain!!

In 1982, if you owe child support payments and if you have a refund check coming from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), you may be in for the surprise of your life. You see, a new program has been developed where names of non-child support payments are being fed to a computer at IRS headquarters.

Brothers, in the future, you may run but you won't be able to hide. The computer will have your number if you work and pay income tax. Something to think about! Don't you agree??

Now that the bond election is over and seven of the 8 propositions were approved by the voters of Lubbock, we will watch the powers that be and see that the citizens get what they voted for - planned organized growth! We will especially watch the East 34th Street and Quirt Avenue right-of-way project.

Something to think about: The best social program for any poor or minority (or anyone) is a JOB!

Speaking of planned organized growth, the words of former Mayor Roy Bass as a candidate speaking in January, 1977: "The City is at the threshold of an enlarged opportunity. We need to view it as a unit. A blight in any part hurts all. A benefit in any part helps all."

"All Lubbock citizens are concerned about the safety of themselves, their families, and their possessions. A prime function of local government is to help in that protection. Whoever has the mayor's post has a tremendous challenge, and a wonderful opportunity for service. I would like to participate in the excitement of the challenge and the service."

American Auto Industry Roars Back

Detroit ... For those who just can't wait for the American automobile industry to come back like a true champion - fear not. No one is going to push this country's big three car manufacturers around much longer. The air is still here in Detroit.

Like raging bulls, the Big three have seen enough red and intend to keep fighting even with open wounds. General Motors Corporation, Ford Motor Company, and, of course, Chrysler have been cut and shamed enough by high domestic interest rates and low down dirty tricks by foreign firms as much as they can stand.

At total risk is one out of every six jobs in America. Automobile manufacturing in this country touches directly or indirectly that many would be wage earners. Everybody can understand why Detroit is

President Reagan, David Stockman Fail Humphrey's Moral Test of Government

When I read about David Stockman's problem with foot-in-mouth disease, I was not surprised by his revelation that "supply-side" economics was just a new name for "trickle-down" policies that favor the rich.

What does bother me, however, is the fact that in the face of Stockman's candor - as some have described his rambling - many Americans are still willing to give President Reagan's upside down economic program a test. And this test comes at the expense of America's children, senior citizens, and the sick, needy, and handicapped.

This lack of concern for such a large segment of our population reminds me of former Vice President fighting back. Performance is the name of the new car game. Perfection in automotive manufacturing is magnified in the marked excellence of an efficient performance car on track. Corvette, crown jewel, of the Chevrolet division of General Motors Corporation in 1982 will include a special Collector Edition Hatchback Sport Coupe with a V3 engine rated at 200 horse power.

Heaven help the foreigner in the crosswalk when this Cross-Fire Injection fightin' machine whips around the corner. "This year we've added economy and performance," comments Corvette's chief engineer. Correct. Everyone wants to get into the performance act.

Actually, you can too with Ford Motor Company's gang - new 157 horse power Mustang. Believe. Your pocketbook can play the performance game at the magic Mustang love price level. If you have to beg, borrow or heaven forbid steal to get Ford's fastest Mustang, you definitely should be able to get away - it clocks to 60 miles per hour in 6.9 seconds - faster than the law allows.

All of us cannot afford to play foot loose and fancy free, but first we still need a little action every now and then. Take a Chrysler Corporation car, comes for America's finest families. For instance, the new Chrysler Corporation continues to have the biggest, best, most beautiful front-wheel drive family car offered in the country today. Fantasy Island's Chrysler "Le Baron."

A fancy car any family in America can learn to love or at least lust in their hearts. What's more, the performance - and price is right! Heaven help the hicks from foreign shores when these 1982 American cars compete across the country.

These three cars will not, of course, make or break the automobile Big three in its struggle to secure the confidence of the country's car-buying public. They however, will put a but in their ear and a buck in their pockets if they take the time to check the cars out.

These three perfectly priced cars are not only more performance oriented, but more fuel efficient than anything you have seen similar in the past three years.

That's scoring three to one, in the first round, no - a bad start for the Big three on the cost-back trail. Next week we will take a closer look at General Motors Corporation and see how the big guy did it.

Hubert Humphrey's yardstick to determine government's integrity.

Humphrey said, "The moral test of government is how it treats those who are in the dawn of life, our children; those who are in the twilight of life, our senior citizens; and even those who are in the shadow of life - the sick, the needy, and handicapped."

I used this quotation as part of my opening remarks at the final session of the 41st annual convention of the Maryland NAACP State Conference of Branches in St. Mary's County, Maryland, on Oct. 31. Incidentally, that organization at the same time presented me with a plaque designating me "Freshman Congressman of the Year". The award recognized me as "Initiator, Agitator, Legislator, and Communicator".

I told the Maryland NAACP that the Reagan Administration should just try Humphrey's moral test of government. When we look at the effort to remove the floor from Social Security; when we look at the cuts in the food stamp program, the school nutrition program, and the Comprehensive Employment Training Act program, we see a clear lack of concern for those who need government's help the most.

We see what is called a government supported by a "Moral Majority" that is indeed a very immoral minority.

Even a child would know that a family that earns only $10,000 a year would certainly need more money back from taxes than one that earns $100,000 a year. Yet the President's tax cut is upside down so that a family of four earning $10,000 a year would only benefit to the tune of $40 in the first year of this bill. Whereas the family earning $100,000 would get $4,000 back from taxes. That's just completely upside down.

And Reagan's assertion that the rich, out of the goodness of their hearts, would invest this money in such a way as to bring prosperity to the nation was,

"Legislation Changes Age"

Recent legislation has changed the age at which Social Security beneficiaries are no longer subject to the annual earnings test. The annual earnings test limits the amount a beneficiary can earn and still receive full Social Security benefits. Those people receiving retirement and survivors benefits who are under age 65 can earn up to $4,440 in 1982 without any effect on their Social Security benefits. Those 65 or over can earn up to $6,000 in 1982 and receive all their benefits.

Beneficiaries age 72 or over can receive all their Social Security benefits regardless of how much they earn in a year.

Under the old law, the age at which the annual earnings test no longer applies was scheduled to be lowered to age 70 effective January, 1982. The new law delays this change for one year. Therefore, effective January, 1983, beneficiaries age 70 or over will be able to receive all their Social Security benefits regardless of their earnings. Until January, 1983, the annual earnings test will continue to apply to beneficiaries under age 72. Beginning January, 1983, the annual earnings test will apply to Social Security beneficiaries under age 70.

If you have any questions about the annual earnings test, please call the local Social Security Office. The phone number is 762-7381.

The annual earnings test does not apply to people receiving disability benefits. People receiving disability benefits should report any work to their Social Security Office.

From a Beltinger - "Dear Bob - Racially motivated random violence. That's a mouthful you'll have trouble saying five times fast. By the time you have done so, another black person may have become its victim. Such violence occurs more often than your worst nightmares might suggest. Of course, even one incident is too many.

Racially Motivated Random Violence "is also the name of a privately published monthly newsletter that lists instances in which a white person (usually a policeman) made an inexplicable and unprovoked assault upon a black or brown person (Mexican).

The perpetrators of violence against blacks and Mexicans are, in more than half the cases reported, precisely those whom we pay to protect us against it" says the newsletter. For example, the publication charges that policemen in New Orleans have shot at least 10 blacks and killed eight of them during the past 10 months.

Other reports culled from the local and national press reveal an increasing number of assaults upon blacks by law-enforcement officials and private citizens. These attacks range from drunken off-duty policeman's firing into a sidewalk crowd to a white woman's hitting two black women with her car. And in Washington, the Reagan administration has already announced plans to weaken or erase many of the civil-rights protections erected over the past three decades. The new racist ethic is also pervasive in American foreign policy as witness recent action against Haitian refugees. The old racism was never bearable but the present racist policies and actions in many sections of the country are even less so. Racial random violence - by individuals or by governments only provoke a response in kind from its victim. end of quote - Julian Bond (George state legislator and president Atlanta, Ga. NAACP).

Bulletin: President Reagan has fired Arthur Flemming, a strong advocate of civil rights, as Chairman of the Civil Rights Commission and named Clarence Pendleton to succeed him. According to press reports, the White House has been angered by the strong position Flemming has taken on affirmative action, voting rights and busing to achieve school desegregation.

Founded 37 years ago to assist poor and predominantly Black institutions of higher learning, the United Negro College Fund has won the respect and the cooperation of the nation's largest corporations and its most prestigious foundations. UNCF schools receive 80 percent of their contributions from corporations and foundations and 20 percent from individuals, while the ratio for other small private colleges and universities is the exact reverse. UNCF's national goal for this school year is $21 million.

It is reported in this column that Pecos, Texas has one of the best working and integrated ministerial organizations in the Southwest. Protestants, Catholics (there is no Jewish synagogue in Pecos) work together for the best welfare of its people. The ministerial fellowship meets weekly and is composed of almost every church pastor in the city, with the exception of the Church of Christ and several small independent groups. Community wide observances are held on Thanksgiving and Easter and on special days if desirable.

Book Review: Their Eyes Were Watching God, by Zora Neale Hurston, University of Illinois Press - Janie's story is a carefully wrought exploration of all facets of life in an environment that is circumscribed by the many conditions and circumstances of being poor and black in a society that is wealthy (by comparison) and white. Hurston's perception of black womanhood is flawless and thereby timeless states D. Harris of The Eagle. Get a copy bellringers.

Rev. Robinson Speaks

"There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man; but God is faithful who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it." 1 Cor. 10:13.

Temptations are as much a part of our lives as the air we breathe. We cannot get around them; we must bear them. Jesus had said that He will never leave us nor forsake us. As a result of this, we can have the assurance of overcoming our temptations.

Please note that the scripture tells us that temptations are common to man. If your temptation comes in the form of a man or woman, he or she is common; so you don't have to yield to the solicitation of sexual sins. If your temptation is alcohol or tobacco, they also are common. If it is money; money is also common to man.

The list could go on and on and we would find that everything that Satan has to tempt a person with is common, for there is nothing new under the heavens.

Notice that God has equipped us with the power to be able to bear all of the temptations of life. The believer must remember that God is faithful, who will not suffer us to be tempted above that we are able to bear.

The power in the life of a Child of God must be the Holy Ghost. The believer cannot stand without the Holy Ghost working in his life. There are problems many of you, my readers, face. Some of you may think that you are at the end of your rope. But remember God is faithful; and if He allowed the temptation to come, He will take you through it, if you will only trust Him.

There are two factors in every temptation -- the heart within and the evil world without. They stand to one another much in the relation of the powder-magazine and the lighted match. Temptation originates in the heart, which is the powder-magazine. But for the fuse raging there, the allurement of the world would be absolutely powerless for harm, because Jesus has already made a way to escape.

There is no need to panic in the face of temptations. All one needs to know is that Jesus is near us all of the time.

The Church of God loves you. Call us today at 747-6899.

Pioneers At Carter's Chapel Will Be Honored

The pastor and members of Carter Chapel C. M. E. Church will have a special service "Pioneer of Faith" honoring their church father and mother -- Mr. Theodore Phea, Sr. and Mrs. Sarah Taylor.

An open invitation is extended to all to fellowship with this congregation in this "Pioneers of Faith" service on Sunday afternoon, December 6, 1981, beginning at 3 p. m.

Members of Carter's Chapel realize both of these pioneers have truly

Rev. A. L. Dunn left Monday for Fort Worth, Texas on a business trip for the West Texas Baptist District Association. He is asking the prayers of the church. He also received word that his cousin had passed away in East Texas. He

"Papa Phea" as he is affectionally called came to Lubbock in July of 1931, and united with Carter's Chapel, Mama Taylor as she is also affectionally known came to Lubbock January 7, 1929. At that time, there was no C. M. E. Church in Lubbock. She united with New Hope Baptist Church. She married the late Rev. J. T. Taylor and during this time, the C. M. E. Church of Lubbock was organized and she united with the church in July of 1939. To this date, they are still exemplifying faith.

Carter's Chapel is located at 420 North Quirt Avenue. Rev. Raymond McKeever is pastor.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

Members and friends of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast met in the home of Mrs. Juanita Sowell at 9 a. m. last Saturday. "Oh what a beautiful morning."

Presiding over the meeting was Mrs. Dorothy Hood. Opening devotion was taken from Psalm 136:1-26, by Mrs. Mildred Bogus. Mrs. J. Savage sang a song.

Sentence prayer for all present. Morning scripture lesson was conducted by Mrs. C. C. Peoples. It was taken from I Corinthians 13. Her subject was "There Is A More Excellent Way."

Another solo was sung by Mrs. Bogus. The title was: "Just A Closer Walk With Thee."

"I Corinthians 13" "Thou I speak with the tongues of men and of angels and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling symbol."

V. Charity suffereth long, and is kind; Charity envieth not; Charity vaunteth not itself; is not puffed up.

XI When I was a child, I spoke as a child; I understood as a child; but when I became a MAN, I put away childish things.

XIII And now abideth FAITH, HOPE, CHARITY, these three; but the greatest of these is Charity.

Mrs. Peoples spoke many truths. She said she is a Christian at the football game -- on the ballroom floor -- in your home with your family. You see if you have to be in a special place at a special time to be a Christian -- having to hold a special office or position just to be recognized by title and not have LOVE -- you see it profit you nothing. People, there is more People, there is a more excellent way. That is having true LOVE, PURE LOVE, for God and your fellowman. Oh how I wish you could have heard this great message -- by a great woman, We love you, Lady.

Thought for the day: "You see something brass or tinkling symbols carries no melody... Just noise... without LOVE we are... Think about it!"

Breakfast was served. All things are now ready for you. Come to the feast. You are always WELCOME!!

Our sick list this week include: Mrs. Ophelia Smith, Bertha Hood, a patient at West Texas Hospital, room 437; Mrs. Willie Mae Carrothers, a patient at West Plains Medical Center, Muleshoe, Texas; Polite Smith, who is at home;

Services at New Hope Baptist Church last Sunday were great. Beginning with Sunday School opened by Sis. D. Kinner. During morning services, Deacon Howard and Swindle led devotions. Choirs were at their post of duty. The sermon was delivered by Dr. M. P. Swisher of Austin, Texas. His scripture was Matthew 5:44-45; 1 John 4:16. His subject was "Has Christian Ethics Changed?"

The Board of Christian Education will sponsor a musical Sunday afternoon, December 6th. President Edwards is asking the full support from all.

The Women's Interdenominational Alliance will hold their annual meeting Saturday, December 12th, at 7:30 p. m. at New Hope

Thank God For Jesus (Especially For Mother)

"Jesus Is Weeping"

My Lord is weeping, there are tears in His "eyes". I'm standing here dumb founded and I ask why? Then I remembered in John 3:16. We put them there, "We are so mean."

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son!"

This was to show the world that He loves "everyone" "And that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."

To do some things like this, He's got to be alright! He's been our "All and All"; He comes to our every call! If He didn't??? Our problems would have us up the "Wall!"

He removed our Daddy from the unemployment lines; He restored Sister's sight; when she was going blind! When the doctors gave Mother up; He made her well! When Brother was in the county; He went his bail!! He's been with us through "Thick and Thin" (Revelation 1:8)

He's our Alpha & Omega -- the Beginning and End! We're going to need Him again -- "That's no lie!" Let's start back "Praising His Name"; Wipe the tears from His eyes!!

O give thanks unto the Lord; call upon His name; Make known His deeds among the people. Sing unto Him, sing Psalms unto Him; talk ye of all His wonderful works. Glory ye in His Holy name; let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord. Seek the Lord, and His strength; seek His face evermore. Remember His marvelous works that He hath done; His wonders; and the judgements of His mouth. (AMEN)

This N That

NATIONAL!! It has been reported in SAVANNAH, GA. that BLACK citizens are victims of HARASSING incidents by the KLU KLUX KLAN. Cross burnings and other Klan-type racial incidents have been occurring in Savannah for more than a year. A BLACK EDUCATOR there recently elected to head the Georgia Education Association had a cross burned in his yard. bring it to two for the year. The educator who lives in a predominately white neighborhood found INVISIBLE EMPIRE "business cards" in his mailbox. Another example that the KLAN is still on the march in the South!!

PUBLIC OPINION!! According to a recent PUBLIC OPINION SURVEY CONDUCTED last month an overwhelming majority of the American public, 74% said President Reagan should consult with former U. S. presidents on foreign policy issues. Only 18% of the public disagree. RISING STREET CRIME!! Every SECOND TWO INNOCENT AMERICANS will be KILLED RAPED OR ASSAULTED somewhere in the United States. Rising street crime is rapidly becoming the NUMBER ONE concern of Americans from coast to coast. One anti-crime measure to curtail some of the crime is ENCOURAGING STATES TO USE HABITUAL OFFENDER STATUS TO IMPOSE LIFE SENTENCES ON CAREER CRIMINALS. What do you think?

GOOD MOTTO!! We've all heard the familiar motto by the United Negro College Fund (UNCF) "A MIND IS A TERRIBLE THING TO WASTE" Why not add: "AND (MIND) A WONDERFUL THING TO SAVE" Have you or your organization given to the UNCF this year???

MARIE LONG and members of the LUCKYTWELVE SOCIAL CLUB mailed their yearly check off last week. Ask Marie and she'll give you the address.

SUPPORT SCOUT-O-RAMA!! All of us will have an opportunity to support the upcoming SCOUT-O-RAMA which will be held at the Lubbock Civic Center SATURDAY December 5th from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. Tickets are only one dollar. This year's theme is SCOUTING'S GAME PLAY IT WITH A FRIEND.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT!! THIS N THAT and the LUBBOCK DIGEST is most concerned about the economic development aspect of the BLACK COMMUNITY. We've got to change our approach to solving the economic problems in our community. What will happen when people are let go by many of the governmental and private industries here??

We've got to find a means of being able to hire our OWN. Even in the INNER CITIES people are seeing this problem daily. There are so many opportunities in EAST LUBBOCK. Some of the blighted houses and old businesses could be restored and if it is done right you wouldn't know them. Take a look at the OLD KING CAFE and OLD KING HOTEL on East 23rd Street. This would make a great effort wouldn't it?

DARK CHURCHES! On Sunday nights BLACK CHURCHES are dark. In past times ALL BLACK CHURCHES had something going in East Lubbock. But today it's not like it USETA BE!! Some PASTORS say that members will not return back to church services on Sunday nights. This is no reason for churches to be dark on Sunday nights. We need to find a means of having some activities going. Some will say that THIS N THAT is meddling. SORRY but that's the way it is! Why don't you get in your car and drive in East Lubbock on Sunday nights!

SENATOR SHORT SPEAKING!! Since the Constitutional Amendment on Water was defeated last month SENATOR E. L. SHORT is exploring legislation to introduce next year. According to the Senator it will be in the form of two Constitutional Amendments: 1) TO ALLOW THE STATE TO GUARANTEE LOCAL WATER BONDS, and 2) TO PERMIT THE STATE TO PAY UP TO 12% INTEREST ON THE BONDS SOLD! The outcome should be interesting since next year is election year.

QUALITY AT SBA!! PHIL O'JIBWAY District Director of the Lubbock Office of Small Business Administration has passed on the word to his area that SBA will no longer look at "QUANTITY" in its loan process. But will look at the QUALITY of the loan. In the days of QUANTITY LOANS BLACKS in Lubbock didn't get their share. Now since the NEW QUALITY PROGRAM let's hope we have some opportunity to secure a loan.

DID YOU KNOW?? Between 40 and 50 percent of all BLACK and SPANISH-ORIGIN households with school age children receive FREE or REDUCED price school lunches in 1980. The school lunch program is one of the four major non-cash federal programs to assist low income households. Even with this assistance some of our kids don't appreciate it says EDDIE P. RICHARDSON. They waste food!!

WIFE ABUSE!! In Lubbock according to JOE LOVE NELSON executive director of WOMEN'S PROTECTIVE SERVICE, INC. 70% of abuse on wives in Lubbock is in the white community with at least 10% in the Black community and 20% in the Mexican-American community. Very interesting!!

according to Stockman, merely a pretense. Of course, you and I have always known this. We have always known that we could not expect concern from such people, the vast majority of whom not only do not possess goodness, but do not even have hearts.

But as I told the Maryland NAACP branches, politicians come and go. Congressmen come and go. Presidents come and go. Whatever laws that people enact, people can reverse. There is nothing that has been done that cannot be changed. No one is in office permanently.

We need to marshal ourselves and our forces as others are doing today. Just as the "Moral Majority" is working in hopes of gaining an absolute majority in the House of Representatives for Reagan.

Make no mistake about it. Four- or five-hundred-thousand souls that came to Washington on the 19th of September have had an impact on even Reagan. Now he is beginning to worry a bit about how many additional cuts he can propose with hopes of getting approval.

In addition to joining coalitions such as labor, we need also to have our own agenda. The fact that the budget cuts have negatively impacted on Blacks much more than whites is only further evidence that the race problem is far from gone.

EHS Hosts Grandparents Day

Ruby Jay

Students at Estacado High School recently hosted a special reception honoring Grandparents as a part of the activities highlighting American Education work. Members of EHS student body invited grandparents to attend early morning classes and held a reception for them to show how much grandparents are appreciated. Activities Director, Mrs. Rose Aguilar, said the program was held in order "to bring the community together."

With nearly 71 grandparents in attendance, students at EHS displayed some of the talents of the modern educational program. Directed by Mrs. Rose Lincoln, the EHS Choir entertained the students and grandparents with songs including "One in a Million" and "I Know I'll Never Love This Way Again." During the reception held in the EHS cafeteria, Homemaking students served refreshments and drawing were held awarding some of the grandparents with dinner on the town, provided by EHS Student Council officers.

Mrs. Hooker, age 82, whose grandchildren include Curtis Lewis and Debbie Lewis, and Mrs. Veronie Cole, age 82, whose grandchild is Lashelle Hunter received free dinners for being the advised that students should strive "to get all of the education possible." Many grandparents commented on the thoughtfulness and consideration of the younger generation who provided the reception and communication between the two seemed to continue openly as grandparents were invited to visit morning classes.

oldest grandparents in attendance, Mrs. Rose Wilson, age 51, whose grandchildren include Patricia Walton, Felton Walton, and Stella Walton, was awarded a dinner for being the youngest grandparent who attended the reception. Dinners were also awarded, Mrs. Mae Jackson for having the most grandchildren attending Estacado High School this year. Mrs. Juanita Saldana, grandmother of Vivian Martinez and mother of Rebecca Saldana, won the general drawing for a free dinner. Teachers at EHS were also encouraged to bring their parents and Mr. Grover Colvin, father of Mrs. Kathy Richardson won the second dinner drawing. In addition to fostering a greater understanding of the modern educational program, students, parents, and teachers shared ideas about the needs and concerns of today's schools. Proud students listened to the memories of grandparents who commented on the changes they had witnessed over the past forty years. When asked what advice they would give students today, Mrs. Fannie Jaushalin remarked that students should "continue in school and learn to deal with the modern changes in today's world." While Mrs. Opha Wallace
