The hospital's board began discussing the idea of a foundation in 1977. They then applid for and received a charter on Dec. 21, 1978. The founding members who helped shape the structure of the new foundation, write its bylaws and obtain its charter were local banker Gibbs, Dr. S. C. Pastors Talk About Church

(Editor's Note: Lubbock Digest staff writer, Denise Kinner, invited various pastors and ministers in the Black community of Lubbock to address the problems of the community and their opinions and ideas for solutions. This week Rev. Larry Polk, pastor of Mount Gilead Baptist Church, is interviewed by Ms. Kinner. Another local pastor, Rev. J. H. Ford, pastor of St. Luke Baptist Church has refused to be interviewed. He told Ms. Kinner that he didn't have time and wasn't interested.)

"Exodus of Black Youth To White Churches Is Problem"

Rev. Larry Polk, Sr., pastor of Mount Gilead Baptist Church, has been in Lubbock for almost two years. During that time, Polk has seen black ministers and black churches in East Lubbock, criticized for their lack of involvement in community affairs. However, Polk believes that black preachers and the church still have a role to play.

"I don't buy the concept that the black preachers role has diminished. The black church has stood for liberation in the black community. The black church was fighting battles long before we had the NAACP and ACLU. I see the church in East Lubbock seeking to attain the goal of being a restoration center for the lost souls, a house of bread for those who are hungry and a fortress for those who are frightened."

Polk added that one of the biggest problems of the East Lubbock community is a lack of involvement. "The black community lacks involvement and total commitment. Everybody is out for the limelight. We have leadership but no followship. If there is no followship you don't need leaders." One problem that continues to plague black churches in the community is the exodus of black youth to white churches. "The members of our church have been made aware of the need to a bus ministry and a door-to-door ministry. But it is not enough to have just a bus ministry. You have to have a ministry to hold the youth after you get them into the church. If you don't have something to hold them there, vou're still lacking." Besides the goal of providing a bus ministry for youth in the community, Polk says he wold also like to provide services for ministers in the community. "I would like to do some modification of Mount Gilead to house a religious institute to serve ministers of this community. It would give them the opportunity for seminary training and refresher courses." But these goals are in the future. At present, Polk's main concern is to build a church.

"My goal is to build a church, not a physical plant but to build the membership. I hated to see the church divided. Sometime splits are for the better. Our only goal is to do the will of God."

This is in keeping with the policy of the Digest to serve the entire West Texas area and Southeastern New Mexico.

Husband Shoots Dying Wife

Indianapolis - Louis Desmonds, 91, shot and killed his 88 year old wife, Charlotte, with whom he had shared a small home on the city's Eastside for 70 years.

He then took his 38 caliber revolver and shot and killed himself.

Desmonds had been informed that his wife had terminal cancer and was not expected to live through last week. An unidentified visiting nurse quoted the despondent man as saying, "I just can't lose my little girl."

"They were like two kids," the woman said. "He loved to hear her play the piano. He petted her a lot."

A. falsely accused Wallace of wrongdoing and froze Wallace's funds thereby halting construction of an oil refinery and an oil storage facility near Tuskegee, Alabama.

Wallace alleges that administrators of the S. B. A. used unwarranted investigators to destroy the character of Mr. Wallace and his family and the credibility of the project.

Wallace claims that these actions were taken because he was an active worker and contributor to the Republican Party.

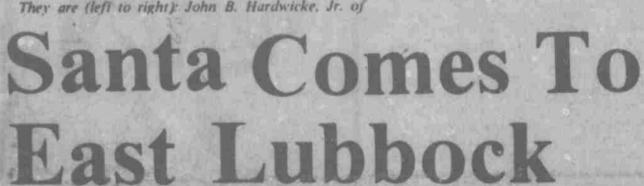

"This racist and political conspiracy to de troy this project did not begin until 1977 during the beginning of President Jimmy Carter's administration," according to Wallace.

Wallace learned that during this period of time, that administrators of the S. B. A. were out to destroy the project because he was a leading black Republican.

These were nice medium priced apartments which flourished for a number of years. Eventually, they changed hands and were remodled and some furnished, This lasted for a while. They changed hands again and again!

With each change, they began to decline in upkeep and appearance until it became the eyesore of the City of Lubbock.

In early December, Santa came to East Lubbock - through the efforts of Dan Griffin of Dan Griffin Investment and Development, along with his associates who are developers and investors, purchased the Coronado Apartment complex.

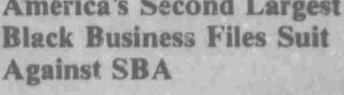

In an interview at the apartment complex last Wednesday (December 16, 1981), the following information was revealed to the Lubbock Digest by Dan Williams and Tommy Daniel of Water Walk Developers, both of McAllen, Texas ---

Griffin told the Lubbock Digest the first thing he wanted to do was "change the image" of the apartments in order to do an outstanding job. In order for this to become a reality. however, the following must be done: "Have topnotched first class professional management, change the name from Coronado, fence the place in - with an entrance and an exit; have armed guards for security and protection of

So. African Treatment of Blacks Is Appalling'

Washington, D. C. — The appalling treatment of black South Africans by that nation's white Apartheid government filled Congressman Richard Ottinger with such dismay during a recent stopover visit. He was so horrified by it all he wrote the U. S. Senate Dept., and on his return home, read his findings into the Congressional Record. His indictment of the insensitive nature of the white ruling class of this ludicrous land is repeated here for your eyes and the shame of others.

"Mr. Speaker, I raise to bring to the attention of my colleagues a most devastating experience. In August, I attended the first United Nations Conference on New and Renewable Energy in Nairobi, Kenya, as a congressional adviser to the U. S. delegation. On the way, I visited South Africa with the House Subcommittee on Africa, chaired by my good friend from Michigan, Howard Wolpe. What we saw and experienced was appalling."

"We learned firsthand the absolute horror of apartheid, a policy of systematic repression and torture wreaked upon the black population of South Africa, which constitutes a 6-to-1-majority of its inhabitants. South Africa's black population is being consigned to "homelands" which are nonarable areas designated arbitararily as black zones, given independent status, and thus cast off by South Africa. Blacks living in these "homelands" cannot make a living, cannot farm, and many are starving as a result."

"No black is permitted to migrate to the white areas of South Africa without a special pass issued by the government ... Since the burgeoning economy of South Africa's white community requires more manpower than that community can provide, black males are encouraged to work in the mines, factories, and as domestics in white areas. They are not, however, allowed to bring their families to join them in these areas. Police checkpoints are set up outside the white areas to insure against illegal entry, and unannounced searches are conducted in the homes of blacks to rout out illegal entrants. Violators are taken before 'pass courts,' one of which we visited, where trails are conducted in the Afrikaans language, which many blacks cannot understand."

"Despite the repressive 'pass laws' against immigration of blacks from their "homelands," conditions there are so desperate that women and children have been migrating in large numbers to join their husbands and fathers. We saw the government's brutal treatment of these refugees who settled outside Capetown in a community called Nyanga. Hundreds of women and children were foreibly arrested, removed, and repatriated to conditions of starvation. in Transkei. When I brought this appalling situtation to the attention of the State Department in a letter to Secy Haig, I was told that our Government considers the incident in Nyanga "a particularly grevious example of the serious human rights implications inherent in South Africa's apartheid policies." Yet despite its own acknowledgement of the particularly repugnant nature of this incident, the State Department insists that these tragedies are best resolved by "quiet diplomacy," read "Acquiescence by

'At any sign of protest to their brutal treatment, the South African Government can arbitrarily invoke a law which makes it illegal for more than two blacks to congregate. Banning, which prohibits the banned person from conversation with more than one person or any contact with other banned persons, is also instituted. Violations can result in jail terms. Black leaders suspected of organizing opposition to any government law or edict have recently been subject to severe physical torture, leading in some cases to death, as was the case with black leader Stephen Bike."

"Incredibly, the Reagan administration has chosen to respond to these tragedies by remaining silent. As Jacabo Timmerman, an Argentine exile who endured the torture and repression of another government said, "A quiet diplomacy is silence; a silent diplomacy is surrender."

"Indeed, our silence on these issues is tantamount to complicity in these atrocities. Under Pres. Reagan's foreign policy, we have become an international outcast, alienating our allies as well as our entire developing community, ironically thwarting the stated goals of Reagan's foreign policy: The halt of Soviet expansionism."

"Every black nation we visited has made a priority of seeking an end to apartheid in South Airica and South African actions against its neighbors. They want to end South Africa's forced domination of N mibia through settlement in accordance with U. N. Resolution 432. We visited Angola, including some of the communities claimed to be under control of the South Africas movement, UNITA, which the Reagan administration seeks to recognize and help. The Angelan Government made it clear to us, as it had proclaimed publicly in the past:, that it does not want Cuban or Russian domination any more then it wanted Portuguese colonialism. A gola is being threatened by the South Africans, however, and its people abhor apartheid. Officials reiterated that if the South African military threat were withdrawa, they would be delighted to see the Russian and Cuban troops withdrawa.

"Mr. Speaker, apartheid is one of the most blatant possible violations of buman rights, and witnessing its horror firsthand was simply devartating. If the United States is to tolerate the starvation torture, and repression spartheld details entails, it is simply handing the Seviets a victory that could not otherwise be contemplated. The American public provided no clectors! mandate for these dangerous and counterproductive policies that have us siding with the worst elements of the world against our own interest."

Annual Christmas Party

The Ladies Community Club sponsored its annual Christmas Dinner last Saturday night, December 19th, at the 7 p. m. hour in the home of Mrs. Claretta Brown. Every year the club get together with their many friends and share the joy of the Christmas season, and the birthday of Jesus. Not as a helpless babe, but as a man grown up to carry the problems of the world on his shoulders, to sit at the right hand of the father and intercede for our sins.

For too many people still see Jesus as a helpless babe, but how would you like to always be remembered as just a Labe.

The Ladies Community Club is one which shares a Christmas atmoshpere and the love of God in their hearts.

The occasion was one to be remembered for years t come. The guest was enertained with games and songs—several guest received presents from the games

The table setting was in the traditional Christmas flavor — red and green. The food was delicious.

Now Is The Time To Move Forward

Eddie P. Richardson, Jr.

The Lubbock Digest has had its share of ups and downs as well as any limited financial business during the past four years. In September of 1982, the Lubbock Digest will celebrate five years of continuous service to the Lubbock community and surrounding areas.

We have a problem! The problem now is ..., the Lubbock Digest needs to expand its efforts. The services this newspaper has, needs to be utilized throughout the South Plains of Texas -- within a 150 miles radius. Not only has the need grown, but he demand is there. Since 150 miles in any direction — from Lubbock, there is no Black Oriented Newspaper.

No doubt about it, the request for expansion is mounting. The first month of the new year, with the bielp of God, one of our columnist — Rev. Bob Tieuel, it. — will open regional offices in the Midland/Odessa area. In talking with Rev. Tieuel and another agent in the Clovis, New Mexico area, the name Lubbock is not the best seller for other areas and towns.

This is true! Come early next year, a phase out program will began to phase out the present name. Hopefully, this newspaper will become either the "Southwest Black Digest" or "Sun Belt Digest." Further, we thought about having some kind of a contest to depict the new name What do you think?? Let me hear from you!

Anyway, the demand is there so now is the time to move forward.

On the recent civic leader tour of the Air Force Academy and the Cheyenne Mountains NORAD complex, the highlight of the tour was the return home on a cargo plane -- which was a 1957 KC130 (it also doubles as a troop carrier). It was great, because a lot of our civic leaders who made the trip — may have forgotten how the troops travel, even in the war zone, and some of the new military people who did not know just how the troops traveled.

In my opinion, this was necessary and informative. The difference between this carrier and some this writer has flown on in past years — when I was in the U. S. Air Force — it was rather luxurious as compared to some I flew, even with a parachute on my back and no seats. Only canvas benches or the top of jeep served as a place of comfort. Some of us today who fly in luxurious birds, can appreciate the experience we had recently. It's just good to see how the troops travel.

Now to one of my favorite gripes - Coronado Apartments have been turned into praise - and will be named the Phenix Apartments. In talking with the new owners from McAllen, Texas, they really mean business

As stated to this writer recently, "We are putting a lot of money and effort to correct this mess."
"We will have to have some conduct, decency, and hard work to live down what has happened in the

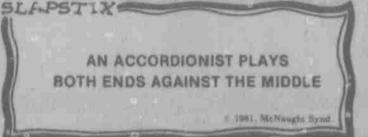

The people in the city, especially officials, have been very nice and cooperative. This writer was most fortunate to have been told by one of the owners that this writer didn't laugh when he was advised about the purchasing of the complex. Today, no doubt, it would take at least $6½ million dollars to replace them. The predominent factor, as it was explained to this writer was. "We are investing private money, without government strings. We will provide safe decent housing for Lubbock citizens and we will protect our investment."

This column and newspaper has nothing but good wishes and high hopes for the courageous people from McAllen!! Congratulations and good luck!!

As we close the year, we would like to thank all of our advertisers, supporters, readers and everyone who helped us through another year — and even if only goodwill. Thank you!! God bless all of you, Have a Merry, Merry Christmas and a most prosperous New Year.

If you travel, have a safe and happy holiday season.

To you, you and yours — a most joyous and happy holiday season. Thank you for everything. Hope we all will grow and prosper n 1982.

Personnel, Performance and Profits Ford Figures in Your Future

Dearborn, Michigan ... Ford Motor Company wants to be your car company-anywhere in the world. While every manufacturer of automobiles on the globe has got an itch to invent a car it can sell around the world. Why wait for second best? Best selling car in America is the Ford Escort. Excellent mileage and magnificent styling. Still easy on the pocketbook.

Performance in any area of the automobile market is what makes Ford stand out among its competition in this country or abroad. Ford is winning the light in every car category on the basis of performance.

Mustang, magic in the 60s, is sensational in the 80s. Every hot foot in America will rave over the new 157 hoursepowered Mustang. Maybe some people cannot appreciate a high mileage car which can get up and go to 60 miles per hour in lets than seven seconds! But 1 can! This is a quality built car created by and for champion auto race drivers at a decent price to the public.

People are the key to Ford's future and and they're turned on at Ford Motor Company. "Fundamental changes in management style," have taken place at Ford according to John B. Ferguson, Equal in Dearborn, he knows the personal sacrifices several thousand employees have made "voluntarily" to get involved in improving the quality of Ford Motor Company cars. Minorities have played a major part in the Ford Motor Company family for more years than he can remember.

William Perry was Ford Motor Company's first know Black American employee, "According to published reports, Perry was hired February 9, 1914, at the Highland Park Plant in Michigan. In 1918, over a thousand Black Americans were employed by Ford, today the number is 30 times that size. Salaried minority employees earnings over $29,500 today also far exceed the total in 1918. Ford has found that around one-fourth of its workforce for the past few years comes from a minority background.

Black Americans and women have found Ford to be one of the finest companies to work for in or out of the automobile industry. In point of feet, Ford has found its female employees reflect the growing professionalism prevalent in today's society. Some highly motivated fashion design features of Ford's EXP and Mercury Lynx reflect this too long detayed sexual revolution in society. Some $4 billion per year will be spent each between 1981 and 1985 for worldwide facilities and tooling. This capital formation is an effective tool in increasing productivity and combating inflation.

It should reflect in lower prices for Ford Motor Company products. Performance, personnel and profits are expected to be in the winner's circle with any Ford Motor Company car in your future.

Another view of the Black Experience: Dear Bob — Our young people represent the future leadership of the Black community. However, they need some guidance, and we, Black adults and designated Black leaders, have a responsibility to encourage and assist these leaders of tomorrow, We must remember that a college graduate in 1975 was probably born in 1953; thus he or she was only 2 when Mrs. Rosa Parks was too tired to move to the back of the bus; ten years of age during the outrage of snarling dogs and forceful fire hoses in the park in Birmingham and the memorable 'March on Washington' and 12 when thousand marched from Salem to Montgomery.

"As a results, too many of our young don't know or understand the thrust of the Civil Rights Movement. Too many young Blacks have chosen to be guided by emotion and want to believe that all this struggle and suffering proved that Black can beat White or we will get something just because we are Black. We must tell our young people what they are spending too much time worrying about the word 'racism'. It is not something new — when we were young, we called it 'prejudice' or 'segregation' or 'jim crow.'

We have more college-educated Blacks then we have ever had and also higher unemployment. Racism is not our primary enemy. We must select courses of study that are not just 'sop' ones but courses in college that will make us competitive in today's labor market. The doors that were opened during the Civil Rights Movement are for the most part still open. We just have to go marching through them. Signed: Joe Black -- Vice-president of The Greyhound Corp.

Social Security Diability Benefits

Social Security is more than a retirement program for old people... It's also a disability insurance program that protects workers and their families throughout their lives. That's right If you've worked long enough and recently enough in a job covered by Social Security and you become severely disabled and can't work for a year or more, then you may be eligible for Social Security disability benefits. And if you're eligible, then your spouse and young children may also be eligible. You'll get help from State's vocational rehabilitation service so that you can return to work as soon as possible. But, if you get disability checks for 24 months, then you'll get Medicare to help pay your hospital and medical bills. Re: Civil Rights Commision Call for Tighter Police Discipline

Better civilian complaint procedures and tighter discipline within police departments could ease the problem of police brutality and draw police closer to their communities, while changes in Federal law and staffing would help ensure needed legal action in cases of police misconduct. These are among the key conclusions of Who is Guarding the Guardians: A Report on Police Practices, a recent report by the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

"The volume of complaints of police abuse received by the Commission has increased each year, and the nature of the complaints has become more serious, "says the report. The Commission found such abuse to be closely tied to the lack of effective discipline exercised within police to meet the varied demands of their jobs and communities. Abuse and ineffectiveness are further fueled, says the report, by continuing race and sex bias in the hiring of officers.

Among the recommendations contained in Who is Guarding the Guardians

The Teacher In Error

The teacher in error is one who will try and blame the people for his wrongdoings. Let us consider Aaron, the brother of Moses and also the first priest in Isreal Exodus, Chapter 32, in the Word of God reveals Aaron's character and the response of God to an unstable preacher "And when the people saw that Moses delayed to come down out of the mount, the people gathered themselves together unto Aaron and said unto him. Up, make us gods, which shall go before us; for as for this Moses, the man that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him. And Aaron said unto them. Break off the golden earrings, which are in the ears of your wives, of your sons, and of your daughters, and bring them unto me. V. 4. And he received them at their hand, and fashioned it with a graving tool, after he made it a molden calf: and they said, These be thy gods, O Isreal, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt."

Ex. 32:1-2 & 4. Notice when Moses was gone, the priest of the people did not have enough heart to lead the poeple in God's way. Rather he would give them the desires of their hearts, instead of the will of God. Aaron knew the law of God, and had seen the blessings of God; yet, for his own glory, he was willing to deny God for idoltary. After Mosescame back and destroyed the calf, he said unto Aaron, "What did this people unto thee, that thou has brought so great a sin upon them." V. 21.

Moses rebuked the sins of Aaron. It does not matter who a person is, if they are wrong, their sins should be rebuked.

Aaron tried to lure Moses into believing that he (Aaron) was innocent of all wrongdoings in V. 22. Aaron accused the people of being mischievious in V. 23. He tried to say that he had to do what the people wanted, and in V, 24 he almost accused God of making the calf. Please notice, "I cast it into the fire, and there came out this calf."

How many a time teachers in error will lie to try and cover up their lack of effectiveness. One would only have to read V. 4 and you could see that Aaron melted the gold and shaped it and now he (the preacher) is trying to lie out of being responsible for the failure of the people left in his charge. Because of the unfaithfulness of Aaron, the people were found naked. And when Moses saw the people were naked (for Aaron and had made them naked unto their shame among their enemies in V. 25); notice that the sins of this preacher caused the people to suffer shame in the eyes of the world. God does not except sin from anyone.

Because of Aaron 3,000 people died and many were plagued. "And the Lord plagued the people because they made the calf, which Aaron made." V. 35. Many leaders know the things that are not accepted before God, but will do the unaccepted thing anyway.

Many people have died and were lost because of leaders who would not stand up for the truth of

"Jesus Birthday Party?? Was He Inivited?

I heard you were planning a Christmax Party on the other side of town! You said you were celebrating the birth of Jesus Christ, & Sure going to get down! You said you were going to have some -- wine - lust pills - weeds!

Those things are deceiving - So Jesus' party it can't be! Besides if it was Jesus' party - surely you'd be invited the main guest!

But you didn't say - You had a Bible on the party list! First -- we've got to know who's birthday we've celebrating!

Some say its Jesus' -- But deep down we know it's Satan's

Matthew 1:21 - And she shall bring forth a son; & thou shalt call his name Jesus, for he shall save his people from their sins. Call his name Jesus, for he shall save his people from their sins. And we know sin is an offense in the sight of God So will your party & partying - with all that booze.

Then rest for sure someone will lose! Proverbs 20:1 - Wine is a mockery, strong drink is raging and whosoever is decieved thereby is not wise. Wine tells the man - beat your woman - you're the king of this land!! Then it tells the woman to retaliate -- He's now dead --Hit by a .38!!

(Wine is deceiving & It's sin) Wine tells the man - Go out for a drink or two. But he ends up drunk before he is through. He won't stop there -- He needs one for the road. He kills a family of 7 -- Heaven only knows!!

(Wine is deceiving & It's a sin) Wine says you need money to buy me - brake in your neighbor's house and get their TV!! Now it's trail time - the judge says 15 years! Now you hate the wine that spoke into your ears.

Wine is deceiving & it's a sin. Proverbs 23:35 -- They have stricken me, shalt thou say, and I was not sick: they have beaten me and I felt it not; wher shall I awake? I will seek it yet again. I'm going to a party & it will be in honor of the LORD!!

Jesus Chirst It will be just taking and being nice. (Making love) Jesus is love -- Proverbs 8:17 I love them that love me; and those that seek me early shall find me!

For many, Christmas is the Ionlinest time of the year. What about the person in the home for the elderly? What about the child who don't have a father? What about the hospitals? What about the jails? Let have a party of love & the gift is so cheap. (LOVE) Romans 6:23 For the wages of sin is death: But the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. Let us seek Jesus today. Brothers and Sisters .. tomorrow is not promised to anyone. Now is the time to repent and pray. Also pray for me! Directed - Arranged - Produced - Guided By the Lord Jesus Christ Written by Billy "B. J." Morrison Your Brother in Christ Jesus. Let's pray together for one another. AMEN
