Conger Case Settled Not Dismissed!!

by Denise Kinner

The Lubbock Digest learned last week, that contrary to reports in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, a civil lawsuit filed two years ago by Elton Conger against the Lubbock Public Schools was not dismissed, rather it was settled out of court. Local TSTA official, Nancy Schriener, told the Digest that the Lubbock A-J misrepresented the facts. "The case was not dismissed, it was settled out of court. TSTA represented him (Conger) in the suit. The A-J, in its article, suggested that he took a beating in the case. He did not! Although I cannot talk about the settlement, I will say that it was an equitable settlement for both sides."

CHATTANOOGA, TENN. (NNPA) -- After a two-week trial, a Federal jury in Chattanooga, Tenn., recently awarded more than a half-million dollars in damages to five elderly Black women who were the victims of a Ku Klux Klan shooting attack which occurred in April, 1980. The jury verdict was hailed as a blow to the KKK. "It marks the first time that Klansmen have been held accountable for their evil and violent deeds by a Federal jury in a civil lawsuit," observed Randolph Scott-McLaughlin of the Center for Constitutional Rights, an attorney for the plaintiffs.

This historic lawsuit arose out of an incident in which a band of heavily-armed Klansmen, seeking to intimidate the Black residents of Chattanooga, rode through the Black community, burned two 8-foot crosses and then continued their malicious night-riding by firing their shotguns at the five elderly women. After the shooting incident, the Klansmen, William Church, Marshall Thrash and Larry Payne, were charged with felonious assault with intent to commit murder. An all-white jury acquitted Payne and Church of all charges and found Thrash guilty of a minor charge of simple assault. As a result of the verdicts the Black community of Chattanooga erupted. Pitched battles with local police were fought in the streets. Calm was eventually restored when Black ministers and other community organizers formed a community patrol.

Shortly thereafter, attorneys from the Center for Constitutional Rights, along with George Hairston of the NAACP, Charles Victor McTeer of Mississippi and A. C. Wharton of Memphis, Tennessee, filed the suit on behalf of the women. The novel suit was based on the Civil Rights Act of 1870, which makes it illegal "to go in disguise upon the highway" or to intimidate people because of their race. In this case the plaintiffs charged that the Klansmen had conspired to intimidate the Black residents of Chattanooga, and in fact carried out these violent activities in furtherance of that conspiracy. The suit was also filed as a class action on behalf of the Black residents of Chattanooga, seeking an injunction to prohibit the KKK for engaging in acts of violence, intimidation, harassment and unlawful conspiracies designed to deter Black people from exercising their civil and constitutional rights. A decision on this aspect of the suit will be forthcoming shortly from U. S. District Judge Frank Wilson, who presided over the trial. The significance of the suit was highlighted by attorney Betty Lawrence Bailey, also of CCR, who stated: "This case has established that Black people have constitutionally protected right to peacefully and safely walk the streets of their cities without fear of racially motivated violence." Attorney Scott-McLaughlin added: "In this era of resurgent racist violence there is an increasing need for this type of aggressive litigation to defend the rights of Black people. This is especially true at a time when the Reagan administration's Department of Justice is in the process of dismantling the gains of the civil rights movement, and refuses to prosecute Klansmen and Nazis for violent actions in Greensboro, N. C. and Buffalo, N. Y., as well as in Chattanooga, Tennessee. In this suit, we have seen that private attorneys utilizing the Ku Klux Klan Act of 1870 can, and will, bring these violent Klansmen to justice."

THIS N THAT GOOFS!

During the February 25, 1982 issue of the Lubbock Digest, THIS N THAT reported that it didn't know that the Reverend Timothy Fitzhugh was not a pastor in Lubbock. After looking into the matter, THIS N THAT talked with several local Black ministers and pastors and they said he had a church in Lubbock for a short while, but none could give the name of the church.

Unemployment Jumps In February

The unemployment rate jumped back to 8.8 percent in February, just shy of the post-war record. The jobless rate returned to the level first reached in December with more than 9.6 million people out of work. Another 5.6 million, the highest on record, were holding part-time jobs for back of anything better. Administration economists have said unemployment will average 8.9 percent this year, with monthly variations likely to eclipse the post-war record of 9 percent set in May, 1975. The Bureau of Labor Statistics stated that in addition to 280,000 Americans who joined the unemployment rolls last month, the percentage of Americans holding jobs declined in February to 57.3 percent, the lowest level in 4 1/2 years.

Dunbar-Struggs Drama Production

The Drama Department of Dunbar-Struggs High School will present I Never Saw Another Butterfly on March 25 at 8:00 p. m. in the school auditorium. All students enrolled in drama at Dunbar-Struggs are participating in the production. I Never Saw Another Butterfly tells the story of a young Jewish girl who survived the horrors of Terezin, a concentration camp for Jewish children during World War II. The girl teaches the other children at the camp; they create a world of laughter, flowers, and butterflies behind the barbed wire. "This play shows the best and the worst of which the human heart is capable," says Dr. Alice French, drama director at Dunbar. "During the process of rehearsing the play, students of three different ethnic backgrounds have discovered the qualities of human nature that

Veneral Disease Epidemic In Lubbock

Sexually transmitted disease (called "veneral disease" or V. D., after Venus, the Goddess of Love) are spreading more rapidly than all other communicable diseases combined. V. D. refers to several serious contagious diseases usually spread by sexual contact. Of these diseases, gonorrhea, herpes genitalis and syphilis are spreading more rapidly than other communicable disease. According to Susan Earle, Veneral Disease Clinic nurse at the Lubbock Health Department, "Gonorrhea is a common infectious disease second only to the common cold. In Lubbock, "syphilis is a major problem with a 93% increase in incidence in the past year." Sexually active people face an increased risk of infection because sexual partners can have V. D. not know it and infect others with it. Symptoms of V. D. may not appear for some time, may not be recognized or may be slight until severe complications set in. The disease may be contacted, and if untreated, may start a chain of infection. "V. D. tends to occur more in the 15-24 year age group," said Mrs. Earle. "And the incidence of veneral disease in this age group increases annually." "Gonorrhea, commonly called "clap" is caused by a bacterium called the gonococcus. Symptoms sometimes appear within 2-6 days after contact with an infected person, however, often there are no symptoms. Men may experience pain when urinating and may notice a whitish pus-like discharge. Some men have no symptoms whatever. In women, there are frequently no symptoms of gonorrhea. If untreated, gonorrhea can lead to serious complications. "Gonorrhea is the most common cause of Pelvic Inflammatory Disease (P.I.D.) in woman," said Mrs. Earle. "P.I.D. is a chronic painful inflammation of the pelvic region and causes abnormal pregnancy, pelvic abscesses and destruction of the ovaries." Pelvic infection may recur, even after adequate treatment. Other complications, which affect men, as well as women, include sterility, arthritis, blindness and eye infection in newborns. Syphilis is caused by a bacterium called a spirochete. The symptoms usually appear in

"Reports Are Due April 15"

People who received at least one Social Security check in 1981 and who earned more than the annual exempt amount last year have until April 15 to file an annual report of their 1981 earnings, with Social Security.

The 1981 annual exempt amount was $5,000 for people 65 or over and $4,080 for people under 65 all of 1981. A person who was 72 or older all of 1981 does not have to make a report. Neither do people who receive benefits because of disability, since different rules apply.

A person who did not receive any checks in 1981 because of expected earnings does not have to make a report of his or her earnings. But, if these earnings were less than expected, it would be in that person's best interest to make a report. This is because just $1 in benefits is withheld for every $2 of earnings above the annual exempt amount. It could be that some benefits may be due. If they are, they will be paid after the annual report is reviewed.

Most people who have to make a report of their 1981 earnings have already received a form for this purpose in the mail. Those who did not receive an annual report form of those who misplaced the one they did receive can get a copy at any Social Security Office.

From time to time people in the local area have asked whether Social Security taxes have ever been used for purpose other than payment of Social Security costs. The answer is no, not directly.

Social Security taxes automatically go into the Social Security trust funds. Money from these funds can be used only to pay benefits.

Social Security taxes automatically go into the Social Security trust funds. Money from these funds can be used only to pay benefits and administrative cost of the program. Any excess funds, however, are invested in U. S. Government obligations which earn interest. The Government can use this money, which it has borrowed, to pay for other programs and activities. This borrowed money has always been repaid with interest.

In recent years, reserves have had to be liquidated and the Government has had to return the money it has borrowed to pay benefits and other Social Security program costs. This is because incoming Social Security taxes have not been enough to pay all the costs.

A broad smile was on David Thomas' face as he walked down the hallway leading to his dormitory room. Even his roommate noticed the change in him. Earlier that day, Thomas had found a mistake in his bank statement which showed that more than $300 had been deposited into his account. Since he had been having financial troubles and had prayed for a miracle, he was sure that the money had been sent by God. After walking to the bank and withdrawing most of the money, he went shopping. He bought most of the things his heart desired and paid off some of his bills. At the end of the day, he happily returned home with $10. As he entered the room, his roommate said an officer at the bank had called. The officer had said that a mistake had been made in Thomas' account and that he should make arrangements to return the money as soon as possible. The smile quickly left Thomas' face and then returned. "Oh well," Thomas said, "God does work miracles." "That's the first loan I've ever gotten that I didn't have to pay any interest on."

Jones Bids For Place 7 LISD

Reverend Roy C. Jones announced last week his candidacy for Place 7 on the Lubbock School Board.

Jones told the Lubbock Digest that he is running for the school board post because he believed Lubbock "needed qualified and equal representation."

Among the issues and problems that Jones says he would like to address if elected are the following:

(1) "I want to return teachers to the classroom as educators and reduce their involvement in extracurricular activities."

(2) "I would like to look into the area of why there is a constant teacher turnover in this particular school district."

mouth, swollen joints, a flu-like illness and/or loss of hair. These symptoms may last several weeks before disappearing. 3) Late-stage complications occur 5 to 20 years after infection. "If untreated, late-stage complications of syphilis may include brain and organ damage, insanity, paralysis, heart disease and even death," Mrs. Earle explained.

Herpes genitalis is caused by a virus called Herpes Simplex, Type 2 which is similar to that which causes "fever blisters." Symptoms include swollen, tender, painful blisters which appear on the genital area within 30 hours to 6 days. Fever, irritability and fatigue may accompany the blister formation. Outbreaks recur without reinfection. "The disease is transmitted only when the blisters are present and physical or emotional stress can provoke a recurrence," said Mrs. Earle. Herpes can lead to birth defects or death of a newborn. "The complications of untreated V. D. can be disastrous. It's obvious that contact with multiple partners is akin to playing Russian roulette," said Mrs. Earle. Prevention and awareness are important in halting the V. D.

The linen bandages that were used to wrap Egyptian mummies averaged a thousand yards in length.

(3) "I would like to improve the management and utilization of future classroom space. We should make sure that space is utilized before we go ahead and spend money on new building facilities."

(4) "I am greatly concerned with teacher salaries. I believe teachers are professionals and should be paid accordingly. In order to achieve quality education, we must have quality teachers. The only way to attract quality teachers is for our salaries to be comparable to other districts."

Jones told the Digest that he is confident of winning the Place 7 post.

The School Board election will be held Saturday, April 3.

What's wrong with 'intent'?

By Julian Bond

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (NEA) — "I can't believe my voting rights are in any danger." That's what a reporter heard a 20-year-old black say here as civil-rights marchers filed past.

The march — over 150 miles of highway to this former capital of the Confederacy — was called to express support for two black women convicted of voting fraud and to demonstrate the urgency of the fight for renewal of the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

The act, which provides federal oversight of the political process in all or parts of 22 states, was passed by Congress and signed into law by President Johnson after another march on Montgomery 17 years ago. Important portions of the act expire in August.

The young bystander may believe — as do too many other Americans — that the right of racial and language minorities to participate freely in the democratic process is firmly established and beyond challenge. He may think that the rhetoric of the march's leaders was unnecessarily alarmist.

Who, after all, in 1982 would dare tamper with the most sacred right of the American people — the free, unhampered exercise of their franchise? Who would price lawsuits for legal redress beyond the reach of all but millionaires? Who would make it impossible for the victims of racial bias to prove their case in court?

Ronald Reagan, that's who.

The conditions set forth for the president's endorsement of the act's renewal would remove the most effective remedy to discrimination at the ballot box.

Reagan has proposed that "intent" — rather than "effect" or "results" — be the test for proving voting discrimination. This would nullify the act's protection of racial and language minorities, because establishing intent is time-consuming, prohibitively expensive and nearly impossible.

That's the opinion of Armond Derfner, director of the Voting Law Policy Project of the Washington-based Joint Center for Political Studies. In testimony before the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on the Constitution, Derfner called the "intent" test unsound and unworkable.

The administration's suggestions for altering the Voting Rights Act would legitimize "extraordinary" racial discrimination in the political processes of 22 states, Derfner said.

Last year, the House of Representatives overwhelmingly approved renewal of the act. That measure was introduced in the upper chamber this January as Senate Bill 1992. Sponsored by 63 Senators, S.B. 1992 adds some new features to the act and reinstates the "effects" principle that governed voting-discrimination cases until a little over a year ago.

In 1980, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in Mobile vs. Bolden that black plaintiffs must prove that the architects of that Alabama city's at-large election system had intended to dilute black voting strength. Until then, plaintiffs had been held to an "effects" test. If they could prove that an electoral scheme produced discriminatory results, the plan was illegal under the Voting Rights Act.

The Mobile plan was conceived before the turn of the century, and the plaintiffs have not been able to demonstrate the intent of its long-dead authors. A similar case decided on the "effects" test was reversed five days after the Mobile ruling.

Derfner, a white lawyer from South Carolina who has been involved in voting-discrimination cases since the Voting Rights Act was passed, has estimated the expense of retrying the Mobile case under the "intent" test: "6,000 hours for all lawyers plus 4,400 hours for expert witnesses and research assistants and $120,000 in out-of-pocket costs for all parties not counting attorneys' fees."

Moreover, as a lawyer in the Mobile case told Derfner, "not only are such events (as discriminatory intent) seldom documented nor are there any survivors, but we do not even have a group feel for the ambience or tenor of the times."

Another student of Southern politics, Sen. Russell Long, D-La., has also criticized the "intent" standard: "We used to have a saying in law school that the road to hell was paved with good intentions, and that doesn't excuse you if you do something that causes harm to other people. In this case, I don't think the test should be intent. I think the test should be the results...."

"If a law has the effect of denying people their rights or a practice has the effect of denying people their right to vote, it should be stricken down and people be protected."

It's too bad Ronald Reagan doesn't agree.

Ringing The Bell

A Look at the Black Press in America: And as Billy Rowe in his notebook column in the Digest stated in the February 18, 1982 issue: "The Black press is a major pivot upon which black history revolves. It was in 1827 when freed slaves, John Brown Russwurm and Rev. Samuel E. Cornish published Freedom Journal, the first black newspaper in America. That was 37 years before the Emancipation Proclamation, 1863.

Between 1827 and 1861 there were at least 40 black newspapers. After the Civil War, the number increased to 575. Before the E. P. blacks were legally not permitted to learn from books, the Bible, which most of the could not read, was excluded. Black newspapers have always played an important role in black life, states Billy Rowe. During the years following the Civil War, they devoted full space to the burning issues of that time.

As early as the 19th century, there was a need for a daily paper for blacks. The first such which came into being was the Daily Creole, founded in New Orleans in 1856 as the voice of the Creoles, or mixed blood of that city. Behind this effort Dr. Louis C. Roundanez, a black physician, established the New Orleans Tribune in 1854. B. T. Harvey, a Tuskegee graduate, founded and published the Georgia Messenger in 1887 the 4th daily in America for Blacks.

These black pioneers of black media history did their thing under the most adverse conditions and have left to us a legacy of incalculable wealth. We salute Black Press Week and our forefathers gone on before.

A Friend of Mine -- James O. Goodwill, is editor and publisher of the Oklahoma Eagle, a black-oriented newspaper in Tulsa, Oklahoma. He recently received a letter from an irate reader which reads in part: Dear Sir - Your biased minds decide that if something doesn't happen to or directly affect black people, it is unworthy of going in your prejudiced newspaper. You claim to be helping your race, but you do the opposite. You set the minds of the common people, who are brainwash, against all white people as racist, discriminatory monsters. I agree that the U. S. has not achieved total racial equality, but running editorials, stories, and editorial cartoons such as yours only makes matters worse. The way to get a fair shot is to gain respect. On the contrary, the respect decreases with an increase in hatred of ethnic groups other than own. Signed - A disturbed white reader.

The Reply: Dear Disturbed: We are accused of keeping up the color line. We confess: we are guilty. As long as over one-third of black Americans live in substandard housing, as long as black unemployment is twice as that of whites, as long as black youth unemployment is officially 38 percent, but in many urban centers it is 40 to 60 percent, as long as blacks are 11 to 12 percent of the population, yet fewer than two percent are lawyers, doctors and dentists and fewer than one percent are engineers, we must keep up the industry, as long as blacks are disproportionately the victims of police brutality, and increasingly the victims of violence from hate groups, we must keep up the color line, because our very lives and destinies seem controlled by it. The Black press must lead the black masses in combating both covert and overt racism in employment, housing, education and law enforcement. Our solemn responsibility is to keep up the colorline as long as color makes a difference. As the late Dr. King observed, we too look forward to that day when blacks are 'not judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character'. Unfortunately, that time has not yet come. Fraternally yours, James O. Goodwin - publisher - editor.

Congressmen Find New Ways To Spend Your $$ On Themselves!

by Eddie P. Richardson

While Congressmen are busy slashing away at the budget, they're discovering new ways to line their pockets with your tax money.

They passed one law giving themselves over $75 million in free mailing privileges — a staggering $23 million over the amount spent last year. These Congressmen — who earn a whopping $60,862 a year — also voted themselves an extra $4,300 for "official" expenses, and $8,000 increase for office equipment and furniture, and a 65% boost in airfare allowances. To cap off their self-generosity, Congressmen doubled the amount they are permitted to earn from speaking engagements and other outside activities. They jumped the allowance from $9,099 to $18,198 a year. And while ordinary Americans are hard pressed to pay their income taxes, Congressmen have voted themselves a high tax break.

Under this giveaway to themselves, each U. S. Congressman can write off his Washington home as a business expense and declare up to an estimated $13,500 of his salary tax free for this purpose. And a special amendment tagged onto this tax-break bill prevents Internal Revenue Service agents from auditing Congressmen's tax returns to make sure their homes are actually being used for business.

"I cannot fathom how a responsible member of Congress can have the nerve to ask the American people to sacrifice and turn around and vote himself such a tax-break," declared U. S. Rep. Clarence E. Miller (R. Ohio). "This type of extravagance gives Congress a bad name," agreed Rep. Miller.

If you don't vote, you really can't complain. I could scream everytime I hear someone complain about how this is being run and I know the person didn't vote because "my vote wouldn't make a bit of difference." They're just too lazy to go to the polls. Why don't these non-voters put up or shut up!

Damn shame that the Hicks Solar Roller, one of the best recreational areas in Lubbock, has to have some young brother act like they did recently. This act was not cool at all. Black people strive to have nice places in the community, and some bad actor has to be or act what they don't want to be called!!

NUF SED!! WHY NOT??

Parents, Talk To Your Kids!!

Parents, since the act which occurred at the Hicks Solar Roller has come and gone, this newspaper thought it is only fitting and proper that we far warn you that any actions taken against black businesses in this city, from now on, we will publish the picture of the young actor involved.

As parents, we should talk to our kids and let them know how bad it is for them to go around the community and destroy other people's efforts. It is time that we speak to our kids about this matter.

As mentioned, we will publish those bad actors names and pictures in future incidents so the public can see and know who these actors are.

Hang in there, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Hicks. We hope this will never happen again! You have a beautiful place and we are on your side.

to be shifted to the starving states. Considering the Commander and Chief of the U. S. military is making like a cavalry captain charging straight ahead just who is the White House helping to get out fiscal trouble. The states have no money. Twenty-nine states and the District of Columbia had to raise taxes last year.

The number of unemployed workers receiving an unemployment check is currently around 16.9 million. Unemployment benefits average only $100 a week nationally. Not enough for rent and car payments for people once employed hence bogged down with grocery and sundry bills.

Big bucks are going into the military budget, even at the expense of economic growth for the country. Conservative estimates of the fiscal 1983 and beyond Reagan military mind-budgets demand $100 billion of deficit financing each year. This amount of money will be borrowed from investors who might otherwise loan these funds for job producing business developments. Instead the U. S. Treasury under the Reagan Administration shall take these funds and move to bloat America's military Arsenal.

Chemical Warfare

The Pentagon and President Reagan, believe in the record $216 billion defense fiscal budget which by the way wrangles $30 million to build unchemical devices. Actually about $123 million is being spent including the maintenance of the pre-1969 weapons stockpile and the $30 million to acquire new weapons. In this fiscal year ending September 30, 1982, President Reagan's present budget includes $532 million for chemical warfare.

Well where were we, oh yes, welfare. When the military part of the budget is up 16 percent over last year and your President is considering cutting back on spending, it is a sure shot that welfare needs a closer look. As in whose? Welfare is deemed delivering needed services to the

Letters to the Editor "NAACP Prexy Comments"

Dear Editor:

The Reagan Administration has recently come under fire for its questionable positions on various Civil Rights issues. Despite the Republican proclamation that Reagan "does not have a discriminatory bone in his body," the action of the President show that this administration is the most calloused toward Civil Rights of the past two decades.

The Reagan Administration has opposed passage of the House - passed bill extending the Voting Rights Act. The Reagan Administration reversed a 12-year IRS ruling which denied tax exempt status to schools that discriminate based on race. The Reagan Administration has also criticized the Supreme Court's decision in the Steelworkers v. Weber, a decision which allowed collective bargaining on affirmative action programs.

The Reagan Administration has also backed attempts by right-wing extremists in Congress to divest the Federal Courts of jurisdiction in the Civil Rights area. This action has been criticized by the American Bar Association as well as judges across the country.

Perhaps the most insidious form of discrimination can be found in the Reagan economic policies which have had a drastic effect on minorities. Unemployment of Blacks in this country hovers just under 20%. Unemployment among Black teenagers approximates 40 percent.

We should realize that while Reagan appears an amiable person his policies on Civil Rights are not. Members of the public concerned with equality of opportunity in this country should speak out against these policies.

Sincerely,
Rose Wilson

"Enthusiasm Seen Here"

Dear Editor:

I have not seen so great of 'enthusiasm.' An interest in the hearts of any people than there are any place in the country that I've been.

About two weeks ago, we organized a voters coalition which has drawn interest to Austin, and all the people that I've talked with are ready to move in a direction of making our city a better place to live. I would like to ask all of you to attend our next meeting which will be announced at a later date.

Those interested people who have signed up to help in the voters drive will be published. I hope that within the next thirty days at least 20,000 of you voters in Lubbock will join the League of Progressive Voters and let us show our strength here elsewhere throughout the state. The time to stand up and be counted is now "The days of excuses are over". I will expect to hear from each of you.

Your Absence from Church is A Vote To Close its Doors

Rev. Robinson Speaks

Harvey E. Robinson
Pastor
East Lubbock Church of God

Who is A Deacon?

As promised, I will comment on the deacons only once, because the business of winning souls for Christ is a pressing matter, and the problem of deacons is one to be settled between pastor and local church.

During the early church, the welfare of the people was the responsibility of the church not the state. As a result of this, a problem came up between the Greek and Hebrew Christians, inasmuch as, the Greeks believed when the tables were served their widows were neglected.

The Apostles were busy preaching the word of God so they had to select someone to serve the tables. Let us see, "And in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministrations. Then the twelve called the multitude of disciples unto them, and said it is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables. Wherefore, brethren, look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom. Whom we may appoint over this business." Acts 6:1-3.

Also note, "The deacons must be grave, not double tongued. Not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre (money) holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience. And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless.

"Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things. Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well." 1 Tim. 3:8-12.

These are the qualifications as found in the scriptures and if a person is to serve as a deacon, then he must meet these requirements.

No church which says that it is based on Christ should have a man called deacon unless he meets the foregoing standards. Holiness is not a demonation, but it is a way of life for God's people.

The Church of God loves you. Call today 747-6899.

A Look At The Black Church

by
Rev. Robert D. Adams
Unity Baptist Church

(Editor's Note: This is a series written by Rev. Robert D. Adams, pastor of the Unity Baptist Church. Because of the interest shown by some readers, it will continue next week).

An Appraisal Of The Church

Appraisals are vitally important in all circles of our society, evaluations, checkups and other methods of determining something of what is happening to us is a climate of decay and deterioration. Church leadership has always been extremely sensitive to criticism. Much deterioration goes on in the church because of restricted appraisals.

One of the things that upset the temple leadership was the scathing criticism which came from the Carpenter from Galilee. The sensitive Scribes and Pharisees became outraged when this young teacher launched his criticism against their conduct of the religious affairs in the Temple. To shield the church from appraisals allows moral and spiritual decay to eat away at its heart.

Our churches are in a period of decaying. The members are usually the last to discover that deterioration has been so effective. Some of our churches have a beautiful external appearance but moral and spiritual decay are destroying it internally.

Ministers, we boast of our big numbers in church on Sunday morning, but have we counted the countless numbers who rarely, if ever, attend any church. Have we as black ministers or pastors awakened to the fact that the world holds the largest numbers of our young people?

Ministers have we awakened to the fact that singing and anniversaries can get more people to come to church than the word of God? Brother Ministers that is not right! God's word should have more power over people than singing or anniversaries. Do not misunderstand me, I am not saying for you not to have singing or anniversaries, but I am saying that these things should not come before the word of God. The members have a right to take care of their pastor and his needs. Any church that will give their pastor one thousand dollars for his anniversary and that same church will not give one hundred dollars for Christian Education -- that Church has a problem.

Ministers, have we awakened to the fact that if we are to have good churches, we must have a Training Department as director of Mae Simmons Community Center for three years.

She has spent the last thirteen years as an active citizen of Dallas, Texas, serving on several boards and agencies and employed by Channel 13-TV.

Revered Fury is currently a graduate student at Perkins School of Theology, Southern Methodist University, pursuing a Masters of Divinity degree.

She is the proud parent of a son, Kevan, and a daughter, Dionne.

Faith First Baptist Church News

Sunday School started at 9:30 a. m. with Supt. Roosevelt Portee at his post. The lesson was "Christ's Miraculous Power," Mark 1:21-27; 40-45.

Morning worship was at 11:00 a. m. Rev. F. B. Bell, pastor, delivered a wonderful message. His text was "The God We Serve." Scriptures were Danieis 3:17 and Luke 1:37. Everyone enjoyed the message. It was just beautiful.

Let us pray for our sick and shut-ins. On our sick list, we have Mrs. Juanita Bartlett. May we all pray for her.

We didn't have night service last Sunday program in our church. Whether we like it or not, we are faced with a number of young people who do not accept our answers, and some of them say that we are answering questions that nobody is asking. Are they right? We have left our brother and sister to struggle for themselves and sometimes we imposed upon them an undue burden. Often we have said to ourselves that's his problems are not mine. But his problem is mine. If I am his leader, whatever affect my membership, affect me.

Brother Ministers, let us take inventory of our churches and we will see the hundreds of souls who have never been inside of a church. Minister, what are we to do about it? Sometimes we put undue burden on our members. It is just as hard for me to live as it is for my member to live. (Think) then we can make our display so attractive as to pull the attention from yonder to here.

We must first prove to the outside world first our relationship to the church. A minister may have social concerns, his ministry may be community-oriented, but if he allows the fire to go out on the altar, the church is dead. There are no programs in the church that can replace a flaming altar fire.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

The members and friends of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast met last Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Pearl Baker. This lady is some kind of a hostess. This group wanted to remain in this home all day. What a morning it was. President Mary Ward presided over the meeting.

Opening devotion and business began the meeting. The scripture was found in Isaiah 40:26-31. Participating were Mrs. C. E. Brown, Mrs. Clara Brown and Mrs. Ward. Mrs. Clara Cage introduced the speaker of the hour. She was Mrs. C. C. Peoples who taught the morning lesson. Mrs. Baker gave the prayer of blessing for the speaker.

Mrs. Peoples' scripture was Luke 15:25-32. Her subject was "Church Goer (Christians) Stop Being Selfish."

— The Living Bible —

Meanwhile, the older son was in the fields working; when he returned home, he heard dancing music coming from the house, and he asked one of the servants: What was going on? Your brother is back; he was told, and your father has killed the calf we were fattening and has prepared a great feast to celebrate his coming home again unharmed. The older brother was angry and wouldn't go in. His father came out and begged him, but he replied: All these years I've worked hard for you and never once refused to do a single thing you told me to; and in all that time you never gave me even one young goat for a feast with my friends. Yet when this son of yours come back after spending your money on prostitutes, you celebrate by killing the finest calf we have on the place.

"Look dear son; his father said to him. You and I are very close, and everything I have is yours, but it is right to celebrate. For he is your brother. He was lost and is found!" This speaker said it makes no difference how many years you have worked in the church. This brother had served his father well, but he had a hang up. We will have to be like the son that came home. In last week's lesson and not the one that was so mean and selfish at home. Except others as they are admit not what you want them to be. It's not our works that saves us. You know we can go to church for many years, and work in all capacities and be so mean and selfish. When others join and do things different, we get angry, and say they are taking over. Your attitude makes a difference. Only what you do for Christ will last. Don't depend on all your welfare and social security, but, rather, depend on the almighty God who made the way for you. Lift as we climb. Without God, we can do nothing. People can't hear what you say for seeing what you do. People stop being so mean. Church goers stop being so mean. So called Christians, stop being so mean. We are your Brothers and Sisters in Christ. Stop being so selfish and mean." Think about it.

This lady speaks with authority, and with power. God has given her that privilege, and we love her just like she is.

Thought for the week: "Satan is a thief and robber. He will continue to rob and steal from you until you enforce the law of God. Only then will he flee." Think about it! Breakfast was served in large quantities. Need we tell you more. "Are you hungry?" Come and eat with people who try hard to please.

Our guest list last Saturday morning included: Rev. and Mrs. Tony Williams, Mrs. C. C. Peoples, Mrs. Louise Sparks, and Mrs. Luella S. Hall.

"Oh, people you lift up our lives. Please come again!" Our sick and shut in list include: Mrs. Hannah Lee Patterson, Mrs. Blevans, Mrs. Susie Johnson, Alonzo Houston, Mrs. Francis Patterson, Mrs. Verlina Hereford, Jodie Love, Dwight Hood, Hattie White, Dr. F. L. Lovings, D. C. Fair, Sr., Mrs. Mildred K. Lusk and Rev. J. Kilpatrick.

There is a responsibility on the sick person for his healing. Will thou be made whole? John 5:6. It is the will of God that you be in health."

Mrs. C. E. Fair thanked the group for the blessing for her husband on last week. The project blessing went out this week to Joda Love, 1702 East Auburn, and Mrs. Sally Mae Robinson.

Our prayers are that you be delivered in always that bound you, and that you live a healthy fruitful life thereafter.

Rev. Tony Williams was the winner of our door prize, based on the scripture Hebrew 9:14.

Drop us a line if this group has touched your life in any small way. The address is the Outreach Prayer Breakfast, P. O. Box 1223, Lubbock, Texas 79408.

We've got to spread the word until everyone has heard.

Closing prayer for the sick and prayer request was given. The food was blessed by Rev. Tony Williams.

Can any good come out of Nazareth?? Our next meeting will be held at the Community Baptist Church, 220 Quirt Avenue. Mrs. Mildred Bogus will be host. Rev. Tony Williams is pastor.

GREAT EFFORT! Last Sunday afternoon at the St. John Baptist Church several hundred people were present to pay a SPECIAL TRIBUTE to REV. & MRS. S. S. SCOTT. As many of you may or may not know REV. SCOTT is 103 YEARS YOUNG. He and wife are a credit to our community. This special tribute is the effort of Rev. James E. Moore, pastor and members of the St. John Baptist Church. There were TWENTY-NINE BLACK CHURCHES from Lubbock, Slaton and Petersburg and MINISTERS who made this effort become a reality. A dynamic message was delivered by two brothers BISHOP J. E. ALEXANDER and REV. O. W. GENTRY. What a blessing for the SCOTTS who have labored long. Those in attendance will agree. GOOD NEWS!! REV.

EDWIN SCOTT, SR. received good news last Saturday night at the THIRD QUARTERLY CONFERENCE at Bethel A. M. E. Church that he will be received in the ANNUAL CONFERENCE to be held at Bethel this August of the Northwest Conference of the Tenth Episcopal District of the A.M.E. Church to become an ORDAINED DEACON. This news has come from Presiding Elder A. J. Davis who presided last Saturday night. REV. SCOTT is rather elated over this good news!! CONFIRMED MODERATOR Perhaps the REVEREND A. L. DUNN is not pastor of the New Hope Baptist but has been CONFIRMED as MODERATOR OF THE WEST TEXAS DISTRICT ASSOCIATION at its recent meeting in Abilene, Texas. He will preside over a meeting in Odessa, Texas later this month. THIS N THAT heard him deliver a prayer recently and he sounded real strong. GOOD LUCK REV. DUNN! SETTLEMENT NOT DISMISSED! THIS N THAT learned this week that ELTON CONGER did receive AN EQUITABLE SETTLEMENT in his lawsuit against the LUBBOCK INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT. It was not totally dismissed as has been reported in local media according to NANCY SCHRNER, LOCAL TSTA OFFICIAL. Now we know don't we!! WILL WIN!! The REVEREND ROY C. JONES a candidate for PLACE 7 on the Lubbock School Board says he will win. With all the candidates aspiring for this position he should be able to run a great race. He is a concerned taxpayer and is willing to work for the position regardless of the price. NEED BETTER SHELTERS! With all the talk about raising the fare at least 50% for those who ride CITIBUS has anyone thought about the shelter people have to utilize while waiting on a CITIBUS? It would appear as though something will be done about this shelter on BROADWAY AVENUE. Regardless of the outcome there should be better facilities for the patrons who frequent the bus. This could be an issue for those aspiring to become MAYOR and CITY COUNCILMAN this year! Will you agree?? VOTING IMPORTANT! Let us all keep in mind that IF YOU DON'T REGISTER and VOTE we don't have a right to gripe about the way things are at the LOCAL STATE or NATIONAL LEVELS. VOTING IS VERY IMPORTANT and don't let anyone tell you any different. LOCAL CHAMBER

LOOKING AHEAD! Just recently members of the LUBBOCK CHAMBER OF COMMERCE spent a few hours in the city of HOUSTON talking with top executives about the need for their ENERGY COMPANY to look at LUBBOCK for a place to locate. After hearing and seeing the presentation recently THIS N THAT would like to report that is great! It is also great to know that we as citizens and taxpayers in Lubbock have this kind of a program being presented by gifted businessmen. According to JOHN LOGAN this kind of effort will continue throughout America in the near future. BROTHER LOGAN runs a great ship and we are glad to be an associate of him and those officers and members of the local chamber. THIS N THAT stands ready to do what it can. GREAT OPENING!! The CHAMBER OF COMMERCE RIBBON CUTTING CERE-

MONY last Friday morning at the HICKS SOLAR ROLLER as a first in East

Lubbock this year. Let's hope it will be the beginning of many more to come in the

Peoples, came forth under the anointed of the Holy Spirit with the subject "We Would See Jesus." His scripture was John 12:20-22.

At the close of the day, Rev. J. Williams finished up with "Guilty of Love in the First Degree." His scriptures were Luke 23:1-7, 13-15 and Matthew 24:25. Greater First Baptist Church

The Greater First Baptist Church had a great day last Sunday morning. It all began with Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. with Supt. Benea Hodge at the post. High points were discussed by Deacon Quenton Hodge. Rev. B. D. Baldwin had charge of the pulpit, because Rev. Wilson Baldwin was celebrating his sixth anniversary. During the 11:00 a. m. worship services, devotion was led by Deacons J. A. and Benea Hodge. It was great to hear the inspiring songs from the choir, with Sister Viola Hodge at the piano and Toyna Baldwin on the organ. Brother Wilson Baldwin was on the drums and Brother Lonnie Twitty on the guitar. The sermon of the hour was delivered by Rev. B. D. Baldwin. His scripture was Acts 3:1-8. His subject was "Journey Through The Jungles." The Sixth Anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. Wilson Baldwin closed out with Rev. F. Bell's choir of Lubbock singing a very outstanding acappella song of "The Solid Rock." Rev. M. Martin of Mount Sinai Baptist Church of Hereford, Texas brought the message. His subject was "Pay Day Is Someday." His scripture was Matthew 16:27. Both choirs sung some very touching songs. Sister Edna Jenkins, reporter; Rev. Wilson Baldwin, pastor. A business meeting of the Golden Rule Circle of the Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church was held Sunday evening, February 28, 1992, in the home of the president, Mrs. Elurd Devenport. At the meeting, Mrs. Ann Britt was devotional leader. The president had unfinished and new business discussed. Ways and Means chairman, Mrs. C. McCormick, and her group are deciding what part they will play in the Annual Conference during the month of August. Although Mrs. Helen Johnson, the Cheer Sweetheart, has been ill, she didn't forget to send cards to other sick and shut-ins. Her report and thank you notes were beautiful. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Mary Johns. Don't forget to count your doof knobs. The ladies said thanks to Pastor Stephen Pierson who was able to sit in on their meeting. He was present to answer questions. Someone once said: "With all of thy getting, get an understanding." Come back again, Rev. Pierson.

You say you've attended this church, for almost 20 years. You've seen people come and go, yet you're still here. You've got a special seat, no one sits there but you. If anyones there, when you come, they've got to move. ("Come Out of Your Act; 99% Won't Do") You know people who are hunger, and you've plenty to eat. You know of someone homeless, and no place to sleep. You wear the best of clothes, that money can buy. And you see the naked families with tears in their eyes. ("Come Out of Your Act; 99% Won't Do") You say your sons and daughters got good jobs and doing fine. Do you visit the boys and girls in jail doing time? You say you're in good health, your heart, lungs, and liver. Do you visit the shut-in, the old folks homes and the hospitals? Matthew 25:44-45 -- Then shall they answer him, saying, Lord, when we saw thee hungered, or thirsty, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister to thee? Then shall He answer them, saying, verily I say unto you, inasmuch as you did it not to one of the least of these, you did it not to me. Post, Texas News Post District Holy Convocation

The fifth annual Post District Holy Convocation was held in Post, Texas at the Power House C. O. G. I. C., with District Overseer E. L. Hastings and District Missionary V. M. Anderson presided. The theme for the week was "Perfecting Holiness in the Fear of God." This was one of the better meetings the Post District has ever had.

Monday night was Homecoming and Musical Night with Mrs. Thelma Moore, President of the Choir, presiding. We heard great gospel singing. Overseer James Scott of the Slaton District brought the evening message. His thought was "The Lord is upon me for He has anointed me to preach the gospel." Acts 2:4.

Tuesday night Evangelist Jimmy Hastings spoke to us. The Wayside Travelers graced our services. Everyone enjoyed them.

Wednesday night, Sunday School Supt. K. C. King, Jr. spoke to the convocation on the topic: "Hope in God." His scripture was Matthew 5:8, Hebrews 12:14; John 3:2. Everyone enjoyed it. Thursday night,

President of the Y. P. W. W., Roy Lacy, spoke to the group. His thought was "Thank God for the Praying People." Acts 3:1. It was a great service.

Friday night, the District Missionary, Mrs. Virginia Anderson came to the group in songs, praises, and electrifying words of exhortation. Evangelist Katie Dawson of Lubbock brought the official message. Her subject was: "Perfecting Holiness in the Fear of God." Scriptures were II Corinthians 6:11-18. The presence of the Lord filled the room.

Saturday night, Overseer Hastings brought a dynamic message on "Perfecting Holiness in the Fear of God." Overseer Hastings preached under the anointing of the Holy Ghost. The message was climaxed by Bishop W. D. Haynes who is certainly one of the "sons of thunder." The force of the message was very powerful and there was standing room only in the Church. Pray for us that we endeavor to do a work for God and as our lives become an exemplification of Christ Jesus.

Triumphs of the Black Press

NYORK CITY -- In the journalistic whirl, electronic and print, a vast majority has grown through self interest rather than altruistic purpose. In the case of what blacks call the white media, there always seems to be more judging that reporting about them. This same lack of fairness has also denied the black press its just position on the Pulitzer Prize list, while its irrational attitude has laid waste to its thrust and achievements.

In the Feb. 19, issue of the Gannett W'chester newspapers, Joyce Ingram, a staff scribe for that chain's Herald Statesman, Yonkers, N.Y., put an unusual write spotlight on the "Triumphs of the Black Press". Here was a most significant commentary that was woven into a tasteful article of style and balance. It reinforced a personal unshakable belief in the Black Press as it struck eye-level with force and conviction. I must send copies to that growing number of blacks on white media who look at us through white eyes.

In a whirl we've seen two N. Y. touring shows come and go, a locally-produced Broadway musical classic performed most successfully, a Texas Tech University Theatre comedy done up in acceptable style, and a flock of new films holding on or edging in during the past wintry month.

This week also saw the Lubbock Symphony's March concert sprout and come to flower, and tonight (Friday) the Texas Tech Symphony Orchestra will be heard in a free public concert in the University Center Theatre.

It's a jumping time on the boards around town as it always is during the burgeoning spring-to-come months hearabouts. It pays to keep track of the goodies before they slip past.

As you know, the annual Academy Awards time is rolling around and on Monday, March 29, we'll tear into those Price-Waterhouse envelopes again and see who emerges with that little gold-plated statuette, more familiarly known as Oscar, this time for the year 1981. Two special Oscars are being given this time to worthy players who are honored for a lifetime of service above and beyond the ordinary acting sweepstakes. They will be presented to the durable, lovely Barbara Stanwyk, crowning a long career and activity in Hollywood and to Danny Kaye for his untiring efforts in behalf of UNICEF, Symphony Orchestra's around the nation and many other public services reflecting nothing but good on the motion picture world and its people.

I think I have already commented on the fine, Oscar-nominated British film, "Chariots of Fire."

Winners will receive a $50 savings bond and a year's subscription to the magazine of your choice.

Entries can be mailed to: Kappa Alpha Psi Essay Contest, P. O. Box 4259, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas 79409.

Entries must be postmarked by April 12, 1982.

needy. Nowhere or way do weapon's manufacturers make the list. Less you consider profits a part of a welfare program. President Reagan has quickly placed the $700 billion budget of the $3 trillion Gross National Product (GNP) in the position to push profits for military arms manufacturers in front of general services to the people by the government. The intended Republican results of a Reagan budget was to be a smaller federal government with a much reduced role in domestic policy. Instead it is merely a shift from needed government services oriented budget to a big military build up budget. Or whose welfare is it anyway?

running at the Mann Fourplex across from the South Plains Mall. Here is a film about the events leading up to and climaxing with the 1924 Olympics held in Paris, France. It is the inspiring and courageous story of two young men who aspire to that Gold Medal in running. Each for his own reasons and self-justifications. It is a sturdy film, moving and taut and worthy of any awards.

There is yet another film at the Mann Fourplex that deserves your attention. It is the story of the breakup of a marriage involving four children. It is adult and thoughtful and poses problems all too common these days from both the parents' and the children's points of view. It is superbly acted by Albert Finney and his supporting cast with Diane Keaton as the wife in the triangle. It is grown-up in concept and in treatment and the best of the 1982 entries so far.
