Longtime Lubbock Resident, Mrs. Maybell Bolton, Passes Away Here

Final rites were conducted Saturday, October 12, at 2 p.m. at Mount Gilead Baptist Church for Mrs. Maybell Bolton who passed away last Wednesday afternoon at 4:05 p.m., October 9th, at Methodist Hospital where she had been a patient several days, ending an illness that had lasted four years.

Rev. S.R. Roberts, minister, officiated and was assisted by

Jackson State Tigs Tamed, 15-14

Arkansas A M & N's Edward Cross' fourth period touchdown and two-point conversion proved to be the deciding factor as the Golden Lions topped Jackson State 15-14 here at Alumni Field Saturday night.

Jackson State now stands at 0-3, having lost to Prairie View 10-8, and Alcorn 30-6. Arkansas sports a 2-1 record. Both the Arkies and Jackson State defensive units were tough on yardage. The first three series of downs found both teams being contained in their own territory. Jackson State, having had problems, started off with converted defensive halfback Johnny Johnson. After starting a drive in his own 20 and moving the ball to the 45 Johnson fumbled and Arkansas' Clarence Washington recovered.

From the State's 42, the Lions moved to the 15 behind the running of fullback Charles Harkles. Jackson's defense then rose to the occasion and froze the Arkie's out on the 15 with a fourth and one.

In the second quarter the Lions turned the tables on Jackson State by halting a 57-yard drive only eight yards from paydirt. The first score came with 3:55 remaining in the second quarter. When Harkles bucked five yards capping a 75-yard drive by the Lions, Larry Bankston added the conversion by kicking to make the halftime score, 7-0.

Jackson State employed the quickie third down punts throughout the game that caught Arkansas off guard. The third quarter was scoreless as both teams showed their defensive tactics.

Cross' score in the fourth quarter was set up when Lion's defensive halfback Terris Harris intercepted a Richard Lampkin pass and returned it three yards. This put the Lions on the Tigers' 46. A pass interference call against the Tigers moved the ball to the State's (State's sixth) first and goal. Arkansas then executed an end reverse pass. End Ernest Johnson took the ball and passed to Cross for the TD. The Lions faked the kick and Robert Jones hit Cross with a two yard pass for a two point conversion. Coach Rod Paige of Jackson State rotated Freddie Jackson, Johnson and Lampkins

Rev. A.L. Dunn, minister of New Hope Baptist Church. Burial was held in the City of Lubbock Cemetery under direction of South Plains Funeral Home.

Maybell Johnson, the youngest of three daughters, was born October 13, 1905 to Mr. Moss and Mrs. Lou Johnson at Lorena, Texas. She moved to Lubbock in 1922 where she met and married Mr. Isom Bolton in 1932. He preceded her in death years ago, also her parents and one sister.

She became a member of Mount Gilead Church and for awhile was active in service and remained a member until her death.

Her constant concern was her three daughters and four grand children, all through her illness. She leaves to mourn her passing a sister, Mrs. Ida White of Slaton, Texas; three daughters, Martha Lou, Mary Florence and Sue Bolton; and four grand children, a niece and nephew of California, and other loved ones and many, many friends.

Contemporary Literature In the Mainstream

Have a good time—with books. The Friends of the Lubbock City-County Libraries is sponsoring a series of discussions on "Contemporary Literature in the Mainstream." Mrs. Alexander Kline will lead the discussion. The first will be held in the Daisy Godeke Lecture Room Main Library at 10 A.M. on Thursday, October 17. The reading public is invited to join Mrs. Kline in an exchange of ideas to feel the pulse of this changing society through contemporary fiction and have a good time discussing books.

This year it is an unbelievable one. Those fighting Dunbar Panthers who have been the king of football were uplifted from that throne last Saturday at Lowery Field when nearly 10,000 fans were on hand for the contest.

Defeating the 3-AAA champions of last season by this score, kept them as the team which no one has scored on this season.

Estacado's offensive machine keeps on rolling. The Matadors rushed for 362 yards and went to the air for 42 in ripping Dunbar's defense to shreds.

Upcoming sophomore Jesse Lethridge of Estacado carried the ball 16 times for 96 yards to lead in this honor. Following close behind his effort was their hard-running fullback, James Mosley, who piled up 92 yards on 20 carries.

The powerful 215 pound fullback of the Panthers, A.G. Perryman, could only manage 17 yards for the 10 trips he made to the line of scrimmage.

Dunbar, now 2-1-1, only picked up four first downs and two of those came during the final minutes of play. Their effort to gain yards came to a minus two rushing while their aerial game allowed for only 42 yards.

However, the Blue and White of Estacado had 24 first downs. Their touchdowns came when Mosley ran a three yard run in the first half and again ran one yard in the third quarter. James Judie came back in the fourth quarter and scampered 26 yards for a brilliant run. The final TD for the Blue and White came when Lethridge ran two yards.

Other dates are: November 17, January 16, February 20, March 20 and April 24.

TAKE A GOOD LOOK AT YOURSELF

"It's always a pleasure for me to have an opportunity to speak to a group of Christians. I must admit that in this day and time we as Christians have a great job to do. We know that there are three institutions which play a most important role in our lives. They are home, church and school.

"This morning, I would like for each of you to take a good look at yourself. Perhaps you have been guilty of talking about your friends, being against the community you live in and many other things.

"It appears as though most of us this day and time, not looking at the national scene, but right here in Lubbock, are primarily concerned about tearing down something rather than trying to build it up. Too, there are those who would rather brush things under the rug than bring it out into the light.

"Let's look at our community for a few moments. We are familiar with this because we either were born here in Lubbock or we work here daily. I wonder how many of you have really asked yourself what you could do to make it a better place in which to live instead of tearing down the little we have.

"How many of you know where you are going and how you are going to get there?

"Perhaps this is an unfair question to direct to a group such as you, but as God's children, we must start now. You'll probably agree that most of us — and a great number would be considered most — are complacent. We are in the same routine each God given day.

"From our educators to those who were not able to receive that little piece of paper which certifies that we are able to go out into the world and make a constructive contribution, we sometimes forget that we still have bigotry and hatred within our own community.

"We have people in our Black community who discriminate against those of us who are not fortunate to have some of the good things in life. Sometimes we ask ourselves why these things happen. We sometimes forget that there is somebody upstairs who loves us. We forget the sermon which was so dynamically rendered by our pastor each Sunday morning and go through the week trying to out-do our beloved friends.

"Take a good look at Yourself, people. Ask yourself if you are guilty of these bad acts. If so what are you going to do now? Some of us say we must pray for a better time. Prayers are the answer, but after prayer, we must get up and do something about the situation.

"Several weeks ago I spoke to the Dunbar High School student body. I told those young people that they have an opportunity to become somebody in life if they start now. The same is true

FACING THE FACTS

With Lester C. Means

Americans are an angry people in 1968. They approach Election Day in an almost bitter mood. For they see a nation in torment, drifting leftward into anarchy. A growing number of citizens are demanding radical changes to get the country out of its trouble.

As never before, Christians in America need to implore God to move the hearts of men to vote for the best candidate as God alone knows him, "for promotion cometh neither from the east, nor from the west nor from the south. But God is the judge; He putteth down one and setteth up another."

One big danger in this present upheaval is that on November 5th voters will respond emotionally rather than rationally. And friends this could cause a tragic result. The crisis demands that all Americans who are of age exercise the right of franchise, reasonably and responsibly.

These are the basic questions voters should ask before they act:

- (1) Who among the candidates will best perpetuate the Judeo-Christian principles upon which this nation was founded and under which it has prospered?
- (2) Who will provide the kind of leadership needed to inspire Americans to a new respect for constitutional processes and, for laws that serve the interest of all the people and ensure equal rights and justice for both majority and minority groups alike?

for the parents of some of those young Americans who will become our leaders of tomorrow.

"Anyone who is concerned about their future, especially when it involves helping make our community a better place in which to live, must consider these following factors.

"First, we must have a goal in life. Know where we are going and what we are going to do once we get there. If I would ask some of you today what is your goal in life, I would get a negative answer. This is true because we have not been concerned about our future and therefore it has hurt our little ones. What is your goal? Are you a constructive thinker?

"Second, we need a plan. We need to know how we are going to accomplish our goal in life. A plan is important because without it we are lost. Just trying to drive from here to my birth home, Waxahachie, without a map, I'd be lost before I got started. I'll admit that sometimes we change our plans in order to do a better job. Actually, have many of us made plans to make our neighborhood a better place in which to live?

"It's remarkable of how often we talk about each other. We are always trying to tear each other down. Take a good look at yourself, my dear Christians and see if you are responsible for this type of action.

"Desire is another factor which will help us over the hump. We must want to do these things. We are not doing it to please our friends. You must want to participate in the betterment of your community.

"Let's look at the voting boxes here on election day. It is absolutely ridiculous to consider the size of the turnout. Who is to blame? It's simple, you, you and I. If we would put more emphasis on the constructive things in life rather than the dance on Saturday night, and I'm not against public socials for I too love constructive recreation, we could get the ball rolling.

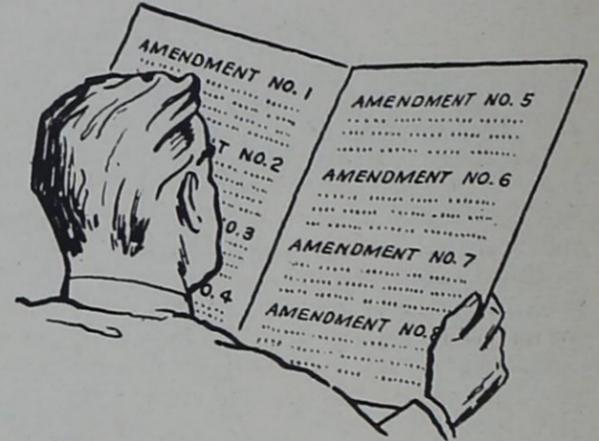

"It's also amazing to me to evaluate some of the attitudes in our community. I can remember the organizing of the Concerned Citizens Group here in this area. People were saying that they are trying to start something to confuse the neighborhood. What they should have said was that we were trying to find some type of media to help in the communication gap we have here.

"Let's look at the fourth factor, confidence. It takes confidence for us to do anything. Yet, some of us doubt what we can do. If we would start today not being concerned with what people are saying about us and put some plathformate in our hearts, the day might come when other people's attitudes wouldn't matter anyway.

"These other factors will not work without persistence. We must have the will to hold on in whatever we do.

"Let's start now upgrading our community. We can do it — if we want to. Let's use these factors in determining our destiny.

STUDY THE ISSUES*

Be an INFORMED Voter

- (3) Who seems most likely to put an end to riots, lawlessness, and civic disorder, not playing on fear?
- (4) Who is able above the others to bring an early and honorable settlement to the tortuous problem of Viet Nam?
- (5) Who will halt the inflationary wage-price spiral?
- (6) Who will inspire the people to move voluntary concern about one another?
- (7) Who offers the most constructive options for dealing with the great problems of urban overcrowding, air and water pollution, and conservation of national resources?
- (8) Who is best qualified to confront the Communist world in a way that will prevent nuclear holocaust and ensure at least a tenuous peace?
- (9) Who best comprehends the intricate political and economic problems of the underdeveloped countries and offers helpful and workable solutions?
- (10) Who will nominate Supreme Court justices who will close the doors to pornography and not coddle criminals?
- (11) Who will choose the most competent men in America, free of conflict-of-interest entanglements, to serve on his cabinet?
- (12) Who will work best with Congress, and perhaps with a Congress dominated by an opposition party?
- (13) Who by past actions has shown himself to be the most far-sighted in statesmanlike conduct and concern for national unity?
- (14) Who has shown the greatest degree of personal integrity and discipline, and who promises to look not to his own strength but to divine guidance?

Choose carefully. Judge the candidates not by the evasions and code words of campaign oratory but by their full record. You can help persevere the greatest land of all.

Think this over and remember that the troubles of this country could be summed up in these few words, "not being honest with each other".

We seem to think that honesty is a dirty word.

THE POLICE BEAT

by: T. J. Patterson

It's rather interesting to look at some of the chores our patrolmen explore from day to day. This week, The Police Beat would like for you to know exactly what they are doing.

Two Lubbock patrolmen—James Price and Lawrence Fury—were challenged with an uncommon incident this week. A call was made to the Lubbock Police Department in regard to a woman shooting a gun.

This case was given to these two young officers. Knowing of what they would have in store once on the scene—they had to be extremely cautious.

Upon their arrival, they observed a man running out of the apartment house yelling, "There is a crazy woman upstairs shooting a gun at everyone that moves."

I'll admit it took courage to get to the bottom of this unusual situation. However, these young men—using their talents wisely—proceeded up the narrow stairway, looked into the room, and saw a 30 year-old woman slumped in the chair with a .22 caliber pistol in her hand.

She was told to drop the gun. At this point, she put it in the back of her pants. She was arrested and was taken to the Lubbock police department. It was learned that she was in a most drunken condition.

Readers, can you imagine what these men went through in this time. I am sure you can also see what other patrolmen have to do to protect US.

Assault With Intent

How about this one? A man who has admitted being deeply in love had a problem last week.

According to him, he and his girlfriend—whom he has hoped to become his partner in life one day—got into an argument.

He lost his "cool" and was in process of removing his girl friend's furniture (we all know how that goes) from her apartment by throwing it out the front door. Out of no where comes the aunt of the girl. He begins asking his girl friend to get out (using force) when the aunt stabs him in the upper left shoulder.

Now, not only does he have a broken heart, but a sore shoulder. He admits that he will file charges. Yes, he thought he was in love.

From My Scratch Pad

By George Parrish
Amarillo, Texas

This has been a very exciting weekend for all sport fans I am sure, with all of their favorite teams winning, well maybe I should say most of them winning. We motored over Saturday evening to watch the game of the week between the Estacado Matadors and the Dunbar Panthers of Lubbock. Dunbar didn't come out on the winning end of the clash by 28 to 0, Estacado. We are still with you boys because we know that you can do better.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Parrish were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Roquemore of Lubbock, Texas. Dianne Parrish spent the weekend with Patricia Smith while Mrs. Lillian Webster of Mineola, Texas was spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. DeVaughn. Mrs. Webster is the sister of Mrs. Parrish, we all had a wonderful time while in the city.

I hope all of the participants of the classes being held at the North Heights School saw themselves on TV last week just in case you didn't, there will be another take real soon. These classes are doing real well, in fact, this is how the enrollment stands as of this date, 18 enrolled in Typing and 23 in GED with 18 due to enroll Monday night. If you think you qualify, please call your nearest neighborhood center.

Making A Man

Hurry the baby as fast as you can,
Hurry him, worry him, make him a man.

Off with his baby clothes, get him in pants,
Feed him on brain foods and make him advance.

Hustle him, soon as he's able to walk,
Into a grammar school; cram him with talk.

Fill his poor head full of figures and facts,
Keep on a-jamming them in till it cracks.

Once boys grew up at a rational rate,

Now we develop a man while you wait,
Rush him through college, compel him to grab,

Of every known subject a dip and a dab.

Get him in business and after the cash,
All by the time he can grow a mustache.

Let him forget he was ever a boy,
Make gold his God and its jingle his joy.

Keep him a-hustling and clear out of breath,
Until he wins-nervous prostration and death.

Anderson stressed that older workers and professional people benefit from guidance, too, when they face a job change or seek to upgrade their positions. Therefore, during National Vocational Guidance Week, Anderson urges everyone to find out the services guidance counselors can provide. Besides in schools and colleges, counselors are located in government and voluntary agencies, industries and in private counseling firms.

Sponsoring National Vocational Guidance Week are the National Vocational Guidance Association and its local chapters and branches throughout the country.

at quarterback. But Lampkins was the spark in the fourth period. On the ensuing kick-off, the Tigers marched 49 yards to the Lions' 29 on the feet of Marvel Chavers who ran for 22 yards, and the arm on Lampkins for 20 yards to Richard Caster.

Chavers was injured on that run when an Arkansas player, Amos Arvers, tackled him by the face mask. Chavers was then hospitalized with a pinched nerve. But again the Arkie defense rose to halt the Tigers on fourth and 22 on the Lions' 29. The Lions took over and after three unsuccessful attempts to move the ball went into punt formation. Defensive line backer Monroe Allen broke through the Arkansas line to block and scoop up the pigskin for a 20-yard touchdown run.

A two-point conversion was added by a Lampkins to Caster pass with 6:10 left in the game. Jackson State's defense came to life and forced Arkansas to punt in the next series of downs. From the Arkie 47, Lampkins rambled 23 yards on a keeper. On fourth and 10 Lampkins tossed 25 yards to Caster to make the score 14-15 with 1:15 left in game.

Instead of going for a tie Jackson State gambled and tried for the two-point conversion. After being penalized five yards for delay of games Lampkins pass fell short of the intended receiver, Leroy Mason.

Arkansas took the kickoff and ran the clock out.

The Future Looks Bright for Carter Chapel

Under the leadership of Rev. Raymond Campbell, Carter Chapel Christian Methodist Episcopal Church shall make a move with the target date set for January 1, 1969.

The Epworth Methodist Church at 402 North Quirt— object of Carter Chapel's affection—voted Sunday to return the church building to the City Board of Mission of the Methodist Church giving the Carter Chapel CME Church first Prerogative in its purchase. Negotiation between Dr. Marvin Boyd—superintendent of this District, the Trustees of Carter Chapel, and Bishop Norris S. Curry have been taking place for the past three months. Arrangements have finally been made possible for the transaction of property by January, if not sooner. The City Board of Mission of the Methodist Church will meet in ten days to consider the proposition of Carter Chapel and approve its purchase of the building.

This will be the first predominately Negro church in the area. However, it is hoped that members of the Epworth congregation will want to remain and become a part of the Carter Chapel's fellowship. Rev. Campbell would like to see a multi-racial church in the area. An extensive program will be planned under the direction of the Christian Board of Education of Carter Chapel. In the planning will be; a day care nursery, transportation to-and from the church as well as the nursery will be provided, the now-existing kindergarden is hoped to be retained with the present teacher. The kindergarden will include more children of the city, after the expansion.

The church building will be the headquarters for the Northwest Texas Conference of the CME Church. District meetings of the Abilene, Wichita, and Amarillo Districts will also be held in the facilities. It will be the proposed place for the 1969 Youth Retreat.

Slides will be shown Sunday night at 7 p.m. at Carter Chapel in connection with the facilities.

Last week, our daily newspaper told of a young Anglo from this area who is in the space program and said that he is the only one from this area. This is not true. There is a young man, not only from this area but, from the Mount Bernon United Methodist Church. He is holding a very important position in the "Space Program."

He is now in the Pacific Ocean keeping track of the "Space Ship" which is most vital in the success of the Space Program. He says if all goes well in this trip we will have a man on the moon the latter part of 1969. Oh! I should tell you he is Leon Reagan, our own, a member and friend and husband of Mary Nells.
