ITALIANS ENTER WAR; ALLIES FALTER IN FIGHT FOR PARI

MUSSOLINI WARNS OTHER NATIONS TO NEUTRAL REMAIN

ROME, June 10-Italy joined the war tonight at the side of the German nazi legions which are pressing down perilously on France and Paris itself.

(In Berlin it was announced that Italian troops already had entered France through the Riviera.)

Notice of the plunge into hostilities, after months of teetering on the brink, was made in a wildly cheered, bombastic speech by Premier Mussolini from the balcony of the Palazzo Venezia.

His announced war aims called chiefly for recovered control of the Mediterranean. He declared for preservation of peace in the Balkans and in Turkey and Egypt, all factors in Mediterranean con-

"Our will," he said, "is that Italy does not intend to bring other people into the conflict.

"Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey and Egypt will take notice of this fact." He also mentioned Switzerland in this con-

Where Italy would strike its first blow he did not say, but it long has been said in fascist circles that the first act of war would be a surprise, sprung probably before the actual declaration of war. Mussolini warned the Balkans and the Mediterranean nations that any breach of neutrality would spread the war to them. His pronouncement affecting Egypt and Turkey was seen as attempt to divert them from pledges to assist the allies. Overtures to Egypt were made by the Italian press last week but were generally rejected.

Italians have attempted to break up the mutual assistance pact the allies have with Turkey, a vital point in the control of the eastern Mediterranean. With Turkey favorable or acquiescent to the axis, alms, Italy might open up for itself the British controlled gateway to the rewards its conquest of Ethiopia.

Axis Powers Hope To Control Gibraltar

At the other end, the axis powers hope to wrest control of Gibraltar from England, with Spain as the nominal overseer of the great fortified rock Italy's declaration of war, Mussolini said, had been handed to the ambassadors of France and England, The fateful step was made after weeks-even months-of hesitation to weld into actual hostilities the ends of the long existant axis between Berlin and Rome.

It came as Adolf Hitler's nazi forces were closing in on France and gravely imperilling Paris Itself.

Before making his definite announcement of war on the allies, Mussolini called upon "combatants on land, sea and in the air, Blackshirts of the revolution and of the legion, men and women of Italy, of the empire and the kingdom of Albania"—to listen.

He declared that "the allies should have accepted the proposals of Hitler before the Polish campaign" which began the war last Sept. 1, two days before the actual declaration of open hostilities by the allies The declaration of Italy today clears up the verdict reached in the historic meeting of Hitler and Mussolini at the Brenner Pass, a high-way new linking the common war interests of Italy and Germany.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 16-President Roosevelt will discuss the European war and International relations this evening in a hastily-planned address at the University of Virginia's commencement exercises.

Stephen Early, White House secretary who made the announcement last midnight, described the speech as a "very important pronouncement."

No hint was given as to its details, but there was speculation here that the president might touch on the administra tion's policy of making military equipment available to the allies.

Major broadcasting companies were invited to carry the address throughout the United States from 5:15 to 5:30 p. m. Central Standard Time, and it will be rebroadcast internationally in sev-

NE million Texans would have to find other means of livelihood if the Texas petroleum industry were to shut down tomorrow.

Steady employment, good working conditions, reasonable working hours and fair wages are the industry's responsibilities to its workers and their families - a million Texans in all.

It must maintain production, find and develop new fields, meet competitive markets for its products and pay its total expense bill of 750 million dollars a year, which includes payrolls.

The Texas petroleum industry now has to pay 97 million dollars a year in taxes to Federal, State and local governments before it can consider wages and employment.

When expenses must be cut to satisfy increasing tax demands, employment suffers—and with it the buying power that employment creates in our State.

Pat Stasey, the former Baron, is leading off in the Moline (Three-I league) lineup. He was hitting .372 at the latest count. In a recent test against a leithanded pitcher, Patrick, in nine trips to the dish, cajeled seven walks and collected two hits.

Sammy Hale, Midland skipper, crying for pitching help, ecently signed Bill Brown, the Big Spring boy who worked long and hard for him last year but who was not forwarded a contract at the beginning of this season. A couple of games in Odessa in which Brown pitched grand ball convinced Sammy that Bill had not lost any of his stuff, Tony Rego, local skipper was all set to sign Kirby Jordan, the North Carolinan released by Hale one day last week but Kirby talked it over with the Midland pilot and was re-signed.

Jordan, it is believed, could have caught on with any outfit in the league. He is hitting in the vicinity of .380. 'Tis said he isn't very popular with Hale's superiors.

Local baseball fans are glad to see Stanley Bolton in Rego's lineup. He proved himself to be a clutch hitter while working in the Amarillo gardens in 1939.

He came to town from Elk City, Oklahoma, unexpectedly over the weekend. Rego had wired him an attractive offer, had supposed that Bolton saw fit to remain out of the game when the message went unanswered but Bolton elected to bring in the acceptance personally.

Obie Bristow set some sort of a record recently when he qualified for the Texas Golf Association's tournament at San Angelo one day, went to Tulsa, Oklahoma, the next to shoot for a place in the Oklahoma Open.

FOLLYWOLD William in War Screenplay, son, Barbara Pepper, Billy Gilbert, Dennie Moore, I

By Robbin Coons

First 100 per cent new World war movie to hit N the acreen, "Women in War," succeeds in proving however unintentionally, that women in war should stay home and stop letting their emotions clutter up the front.

These women don't. They're right in the thick of things at a French base hospital. They've come E over from England to serve under head nurse Jania and competent assistant Peterson. They do beau tiful work here, too, and took nice and professional in their starched uniforms. By the time they're called to active front duty, however, the depredations of a "fifth columnist" named Love have brought things to a pass prettier than most of the participants. The handsome man in the case is Knowles, R. A. F. officer. He is engaged to Gail (Clarke), but fails for Pamela (Barrie). With the nursing unit taking sides in the issue, Janis gets order to take M ambulances under a friendly barrage to a vital sector. Here Love has Gail, driving one of the three mercy wagons with Pamela beside her, do a silly thing. She drives right into the friendly fire.

By the time repentant Gail has died trying to mend her jealous crime, and Janus has risked her O life effectively mending it, the ambulances never get where they were going, and the friendly barrage has had to be lifted to save the silly femmes. This is obviously tough on the waiting wounded and a comfort to the enemy.

There is some pretty good war spectacle herean air raid during a channel crossing, and the barrage lire on the deserted village where the girls are trapped-but most of it is pale beside the horrows
