LOCAL MINISTER CLEARED!!

On Wednesday, October 1980, Judge Robert Wright cleared the Reverend A. L. Patrick of charges brought against him by members of the Mount Gilead Baptist Church and Willie Ross.

church and miss using the church's property. According to one of the former church members, these charges were used by Mr. Ross and non-participant members of the Mount Gilead Baptist Church to force Rev. Patrick out as pastor of the church (Mount Gilead Baptist). Representatives of Mount Gilead Baptist Church - Mr. Willie Ross, Mr. William Givens, Mr. Saul Williams, Mr. Charles Johnson, Miss Nettie Lou Gadison and Mrs. Frances Bell - were told by Judge Wright that they had "no case." Judge Wright dismissed them and the case. He told them that they had not presented "one bit of solid evidence" that the Rev. A. L. Patrick was guilty of any wrong doings. He also told the members that the cost of court would be shared by both parties, namely, Mount Gilead Baptist Church and Rev. A. L. Patrick.

Rev. Patrick has organized the Zion Missionary Baptist Church and serves as pastor. He was represented by Mr. Grady Terrell and Mr. Roger Key.

Sandra Simmons Wins Miss Black College 1980

Sandra Simmons, a 19-year-old native of Greenwood, Mississippi and a junior biology major at Mississippi Valley State University, has been crowned Miss Black College 1980.

She is a niece of Mrs. Bessie Cox of Lubbock. She was crowned last month at the nation's capitol during Black College Day '80 festivities. She won the first national Miss Black College title in competition with 36 other queens representing black colleges and universities across the country.

Sandra Simmons
"Miss Black College"

The new crown is the third one for Miss Simmons since her senior year at Amanda Elzy High School in Greenwood. She reigned as Miss Elzy High in 1978 and is currently Miss MVSU.

Her third crown brought with it a bouquet of roses, a king-sized trophy, and a one-year contract to work in a public relations capacity for Pepsi-Cola Co., including appearances in television commercials.

Primary competition in the Miss Black College contest called for contestants to dress in business attire and deliver a five-minute address on "How My College Has Benefited Me."

Southwestern Bell Will Implement Rate Increase

Southwestern Bell will implement increased rates under bond on November 11, but the increases will be significantly smaller than amounts requested by the company in its original rate filing.

to make customer refunds, with interest, on some or all the bonded rates.

Texas. "We would prefer not to put in bonded rates now, but the unusual length of the hearings caused us to do so," he said.

The rate increases under bond will total $152.8 million. The company's request is for $326.3 million.

A continuing critical need for additional revenues prompted the Southwestern Bell decision to put in rates under bond, said Roth.

Roth said the prolonged hearings resulted from introduction of some unusually complex issues. He pointed out that one of the most critical and complex issues, the cost study methodology to be used in pricing various services, is the subject of a separate docket pending before the PUC.

The rates put into effect under bond amount to about 47 percent of the company's request. The bonded rates will roughly parallel the PUC staff recommendation of $152.8 million made early in the hearings.

"Naturally, we'd prefer to have a final decision before implementing any rates," Roth said. "However, a PUC determination apparently will not be made for several weeks. Meanwhile, our need for increased rates has not diminished. Inflation continues at high levels, offsetting our gains in expense savings and sales. Interest rates are above our earnings level. We still are investing huge sums to meet the needs of a growing Texas."

Southwestern Bell filed the $326.3 million request on July 7. Hearings began September 15 and ended October 27. Thousands of pages of testimony and exhibits were introduced by all parties in the case.

"We've documented a need for $326.3 million," said Paul Roth, vice president revenues and public affairs for Texas. "In no way do we concede that we need any less. However, we feel that the staff recommendation is a good reference point for implementing temporary rates to provide some relief until a final decision is reached."

The situation is not improving. In the interests of continuing good telephone service in Texas, we simply cannot wait."

Hearing Examiner Philip Ricketts, who presided over the hearings, must first make his recommendation as to the outcome of the case. Then, the full Public Utility Commission must Herbert R. Doggett, Jr.

Social Security's No. 2 Man

When Herbert R. Doggett, Jr., stood before President Carter September 24, his calm confident demeanor betrayed no signs of hesitation or uncertainty. As the No. 2 man in Social Security's mammoth organization of more than 80,000 employees, Doggett is a career civil servant who knows what public service really means.

he has twice received the SSA's highest award - the Commissioner's Citation. The magnitude of Doggett's responsibilities includes financial and physical areas. During the fiscal year 1981, SSA will handle some $155 billion in program benefits - roughly one fourth of the total federal budget.

Nearly $137 billion of that will go to nearly 36 million men, women and children receiving benefits through Social Security Trust Funds for old age, survivors and disability insurance.

Another $6.3 billion will go toward federal benefits for 4.2 million needy aged, blind and disabled persons under the separately financed program of Supplemental Security Income.

An additional 10.8 million people - mostly women and young children - will receive $7 billion in benefits for Aid to Families with Dependent Children - i. e., the federal share of a program jointly administered by the U. S. government and state governments.

Together these various benefits make up the keystone of the national income security system - which guarantees a certain level of basic benefits to the elderly and their families, the disabled, survivors and the needy of all ages.

The physical element of SSA's national effort is staggering: SSA maintains more than 1,300 local offices and has six Program Service Centers to review information.

Members of the 67th Texas State Legislature representing West Texas have been invited to participate in a pre-session legislative conference sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, November 19-21, at the South Park Inn in Lubbock, Texas. The three-day WTCC Mid-Year Meeting will also place special emphasis on municipal water resource development in West Texas.

National Ad Hoc Task Force On Violence Against Minorities

Under the auspices of the Black Leadership Forum, leaders and representatives of concerned national organizations, community leaders and individuals met recently in Washington. Participants expressed their sense of outrage at the nationwide resurgence of unchecked acts of violence against Blacks and other minority Americans.

The unsolved murders of Black children in Atlanta and of Black men in Buffalo, the McDuffie killing in Miami and the Jose Campos Torres killing in Houston and the cowardly attempt on the life of Vernon Jordan - along with a pattern of unresolved murders of Blacks in other localities - all constitute an intolerable threat to the security and peace of the nation.

The principal focus of the meeting was on the grave implications of these attacks on the lives of Black and other minority citizens by persons unknown. The participants agreed to establish an Ad Hoc National Task Force on violence Against Minorities to: Respond to the immediate needs of those affected; and formulate a strategy for the establishment of an independent and nongovernmental center.

Joint Chiefs Of Staff Exercise Proud Spirit

Reese AFB, Tx - The Department of Defense announced last week that Exercise Proud 80, a command post exercise sponsored by the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will be conducted November 6 through 26, 1980. The exercise, a follow-on to Exercise Nifty Nuggin 78, is designed to test the military services and JCS plans, systems and procedures for mobilization and deployment.

Proud Spirit 80 will exercise procedures used to expand the active components by simulating the mobilization of all units in the approved force, all individual reservists and the logistic, communications, medical and industrial resources to support this effort. Federal civil departments and agencies having significant roles in the mobilization process will also exercise their procedures. These include the Department of State, the Department of Commerce and the Department of Transportation, as well as the Federal Emergency Management Agency, all of whom will participate directly in the Exercise.

Proud Spirit 80 will also examine civil procedures to support military mobilization requirements while satisfying the emergency needs of the civil sector. Such exercises are particularly beneficial since they permit a review of the procedural difficulties and shortfalls by which the mobilization process can be refined and improved.

Three East Lubbock Teams In Super Bowl

Three East Lubbock Youth Football League teams - Panthers, Oilers and Redskins - will again compete in the Super Bowl for the second consecutive year. The game will be held Sunday afternoon, November 16, at Lowery Field. Games will begin at 1 p.m., 3 p.m. and 5 p.m.

Admission is $1.00. "We need the support of the black community," says Fulton Berry, a coach of the Panthers.

Marines Need Toys!

The Lubbock Marines are looking for a few good toys. Like every Christmas the local Leathernecks are asking you, the community, to help the Lubbock city's less fortunate children. You can do this by supporting the Marine Corps Reserve toys for tots campaign.

Please drop off your donations of new, unwrapped toys at the Reserve Center, 2903 Reserve Center, 2903 4th Street, or look for the brightly colored image of the LOLLIFOP DRAGON on posters and collections barrels, located throughout the city.

CDAC Meeting On Tap Nov. 17

The Community Development Advisory Committee (CDAC) meetings originally scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, November 17 and 18, 1980, have been rescheduled for the following week at 7:00 on Monday and Tuesday, November 24 and 25, 1980. The CDAC will evaluate all projects proposed for the 7th Year Community Development Block Grant application and will develop a recommendation to the City Council for presentation.

May I use this note to express my sincere thanks to all the people who supported my bid for Re-Election.

Save $76.6 Billion Using Solar Energy

While strolling through the park one day - actually laid back at a blue's festival in Golden Gate Park in smoking San Francisco, an idea flashed before my eyes. Why not write an article about how poor folk could save on their energy bill by using solar energy? You see this big dude laying "on the grass" in front of me was wearing a bright yellow t-shirt that asked what's clean, cheap and available? Everybody in front of him could see the answer emblazoned on his belly - solar energy! Think of the savings seven million barrels of oil a day at $30 per barrel or $76.6 billion a year!

Solar Energy Information Data Bank has published a couple of free pamphlets entitled "What Your Community Can Do About Energy" and "What Every Community Should Do About Solar Access." Both are available for the asking from Solar Energy Research Institute, 1617 Cole Boulevard, Golden, Colorado 80401. They outline how interested communities encourage the use of renewable energy sources, recycling programs, waste-to-energy projects and co-generation projects.

Recycling projects are financially sound systems that convert community and individual efforts into a profit. The aluminum and glass industries are active users of recycled materials and many cities and individual citizens have benefited through the sale of SCRAP materials collected separately during regular garbage pick ups. Putting some responsibility on the refuse company to comply with a regular "specials scrap" pick up is a problem for property owners and politicians.

Everyone should favor building waste-to-energy facilities that use municipal solid waste to generate steam, methane gas, or electricity. Such projects could include extracting methane gas from old landfills, burning solid waste to be at buildings and generate electricity, producing a liquid fuel, ethanol from organic garbage or crop wastes.

Cogeneration projects, on the other hand, could capture and use waste heat from electricity generation or energy-intensive manufacturing processes in some places. Saugus, Massachusetts collects its own garbage and garbage from nearby towns to sell to the local General Electric plant for steam production. Probably a good idea for many of the small southern all black towns.

Trenton, New Jersey uses waste heat from an electric generating plant to heat and cool state office buildings in downtown Trenton. This is something any city in the country could give a try and reduce the cost of government to the taxpayers.

Solar space and water heating systems can be more financially attractive in colder, northern parts of the U.S. than in the "sunbelt" because of higher fuel prices and longer heating seasons in the "frost belt." There are two basic approaches to solar heating and cooling: passive solar and active solar systems.

Active systems differ from passive systems in that active systems have moving parts such as fans and pumps. Often active systems use solar collectors. Although it is usually more expensive initially to install a solar collector, fuel for the solar heating system is free and will remain so. Solar collectors are used in all 50 states.

Passive solar systems are normally designed with features such as south facing windows, attached solar greenhouses and Trombe walls that provide a large percentage of their heating, cooling and daytime lighting needs.

Canton, Mississippi has a solar lumber drying kiln. Santa Clara, California has a solar heated and cooled community center. Half Moon, New York has a solar heated and cooled town hall. Reston, Virginia has a solar heated and cooled school. These buildings may have a higher initial construction cost, but they are dramatically less expensive to heat and cool.

Passive solar features are usually more effective when incorporated into new construction but additions such as greenhouses can often be added to older buildings to help reduce fuel consumption. Communities can cut their fuel bills if the citizens care enough to demand a clean, cheap and available energy resource.

Tell It Like It Is

by
T. J. Patterson, Sr.

The man on East 24th Street says: "Defeat should never be a source of discouragement but rather a fresh stimulus."

This writer, who served as Precinct 70 chairman during the general election at Ella lies Elementary School last week, had a very interesting experience. Someone called the Federal Bureau Investigation (FBI) office here and told them (FBI) we were running an illegal election. What was funny about the caller to the FBI, that person didn't give his or her name.

After receiving such an anonymous telephone call, a FBI agent called this writer and told me of this call. He advised us of the seriousness of the charges made by someone unknown.

At first, this writer couldn't understand why such call was made to the FBI. But we did assure the local FBI agency that we were following the election procedures to the letter of the law.

It only goes to show you that no matter what you are doing positive for the total community, there are still many obstacles which have to be overcome. It would be interesting, however, to know who that caller was.

If you ever want to meet a man who is good with raising a garden, then meet a man named Mr. Lawrence Pittman of 1821 East Colgate Avenue. Every year, he has a splendid garden with all kinds of vegetables.

Just the other day, this writer had an opportunity to stop by and pick up some potatoes and greens.

Several months ago, Mr. Pittman had open heart surgery. Today, he is still doing what he loves to do best. His wife joins him in this effort.

If you get an opportunity, why not tell him you read about his unique way of gardening in Lubbock. He will be glad you did.

Yes Lubbock, residents of east Lubbock will vote! Over 2,000 voted last week in the general election in boxes 6 (Alderson), 20 (Ella lies) and 40 (Fousey). If politicians think people of these areas won't vote, then they are incorrect. The message should have been received loud and clear that there is tremendous political clout in these boxes.

If you don't think so, just ask Rev. McKinley Shephard if there are voters in these areas. And if you don't want to take his word, then as the incumbent Froy Salinas, State Representative, 75-B.

This week, our school board officials are in court over their recent decision pertaining to prayer in the public schools. ACLU representatives are contesting the Lubbock Independent School District's ruling on prayer in school.

For both parties, no one is going to come up with a ruling to stop anyone from praying -- in school or out of school.

Ever there was a time in America for more prayer, the time is now. It is this writer's opinion that we as Americans won't forget that! Even the Hebrew children -- Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego -- prayed in the fire, furnace and was insulated by God. Daniel prayed in the lion's den and was protected by God. So you see, no rules or regulations will prevent God's children from praying.

Biblical Thought: "For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass, he shall have whatsoever he saith. Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them." St. Mark 11:23-24.

Until next week, take care and pray.

Expresses Feelings

Dear Editor:

I am writing to express my feelings in regard to the race for State Representative in District 75-B.

The people of the district had an opportunity to elect a fine man and a well qualified man for this office in McKinley Shephard. He has demonstrated a compassion for this community through his work in the church and in local politics. He has access to the Governor of Texas, who is receptive to McKinley and will listen to his ideas. McKinley has focused state-wide attention on East Lubbock; just ask yourself when a sitting Governor was ever in the black community here. Governor Clements came here, and he came here for McKinley Shephard.

I'm going to be frank; I can't be any other way about the outcome. I attribute McKinley's defeat to one major factor. When a black man with a solid chance of winning presents himself as a candidate for an office the magnitude of State Representative, one would think that the black community would unite behind that man's cause. This didn't happen. More than any other factor, the refusal of blacks to unite behind a good black candidate caused the candidate's downfall. I have definite reasons in my mind as to why this took place, but to account them here is unnecessary.

Yet, I wonder how many people were "instructed" that they could only vote for a straight Democratic ticket? I worked as an election judge that day; I'm aware of this particular occurrence. How many were manipulated because of misinformation on how to use the punch card ballot? How many believed the out-and-out lies printed about McKinley, such as the garbage about him not advertising in either the Lubbock Digest or El Editor? Far too many, I say!

I strongly feel that if blacks are to succeed in society, they must integrate themselves wholeheartedly into the conventional political process. And the must unite! I consider many of the black community leaders that shunned McKinley to be some of the biggest back stabbers in this city. I'm sorry if that statement offends anyone, but I said that!

would be frank. Blacks are always crying out for black leadership in government to represent their needs. But when a viable black candidate is put up, they knife him in the back! East Lubbock had never seen so much political attention focused on it before. McKinley did this, and, as a result, was victimized by a select group of individuals who lied to and misled the voters until they got their way. Well, I hope you're damn well satisfied!

To McKinley, I sincerely hope that you will run again two years hence, and I hope that you will announce that intention immediately, in order to build your base and keep Rep. Salinas on his guard. Don't let him rest! You have the might of right on your side, and nothing can change that. I will be alongside you every step of the way.

To Rep. Salinas, congratulations on your victory. Let me say, however, that you will be carefully scrutinized in the next two years. Your mistakes will be picked out and criticized before the public. I will see to that. My colleagues on the State College Republican Executive Committee are with me, as are the members of the Republican Party of Texas and the Republican Party of Lubbock. Be wary, Rep. Salinas, be very wary. "The good Reverend," as you so derisively put it, is not out of it yet.

To the black community, don't allow yourselves to be tainted by selfishness and petty hatred. These insignificant emotions can only hurt us in an area where we badly need to build a power base. Blacks have had a terrible habit of not backing their own. They also have not turned out to vote in large numbers. In the general election, only 8% of the eligible black voters nationwide turned out to cast their ballots. We have the power, my friends. But we have to use it, and WE MUST QUIT USING IT AGAINST EACH OTHER!

Ringling The Bell

Editor Writes on Black Experience: Dear Bob -- "We do not begrudge Rev. Jackson's national stature and prominence. He is a national Black leader. We will of course admit that many Black citizens will and maybe should support the Republican party. However, we do question the fact that on national television there was the clear impression that the feelings, opinions, and political ideology of Rev. Jesse Jackson was indeed those of the Black religious establishment.

"The public at large does not know that Rev. Jesse Jackson, despite his clerical credentials, is not an integral part of the established Black religious community. He does not speak for the millions of Black Baptists, Methodists, Church of God in Christ, and others throughout the nation.

"It seems like White America has always tried to decide who would speak for Black America. This attempt has been a strong element in the rampant racism which permeates this nation. CBS, NBC, and ABC have no right to decide, by picking out whom they will interview, who should be the spokesman for the Black religious community.

"The Christian Methodist Episcopal Church does not take partisan stands in political elections. It urges its members to participate in the political process as a part of their Christian duty. The Church tries to keep them informed so that they can act intelligently.

"Our church is also aware of the growing conservative mood in this country and that any president must take into account the larger electorate if he is to remain in office... Yes, Rev. Jackson, we are of age, we will speak for ourselves. Keep ringing the bell, Bro. Bob. You are doing a good job. Signed Othal Lakey, Editor - The Christian Index - Official Organ of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church. (NOTE: This memo received about two weeks before national election, November 4).

Another Black Editor Writes: "Dear Bob -- We cannot believe that Rev. David Abernathy could have made a decision to support Ronald Reagan without a severe search of his soul, as well as consideration of the denunciations which he would be sure to get from friends and foes alike.

"We believe that it represents a growing degree of political sophistication among black leaders who are beginning to react to the American political scene in a more realistic manner.

"Abernathy's defection deals with two realities: (1) that we cannot allow any administration to come to power in Washington without having representation in that administration; no matter how repulsive the administration might appear to be. And (2) we cannot continue to put all of our eggs in our basket.

"It has long since been argued that we cannot afford to put all our eggs in one basket. It may be precisely because we have not heeded this warning that the Carter administration has been rather negligent about fulfilling its promises made during the last presidential campaign.

"We cannot believe that all of it has been Carter's fault. Congress also, shares a large measure of the blame. Signed: The Editors - Oklahoma Eagle. (NOTE: Written three weeks before national election, November 4).

Recent Great Quotes: "Our country has entered into a turbulent and challenging decade. We face the challenges of international instability, the growth of Soviet imperialism, problems of reindustrialization and many others like employment stability and inflation. All of these problems require a unified country. end of quote from Bayard Rustin.

Our thanks to the mass media of the Permian Basin and to the many bellringers and friends who helped to make our first "Black College Day" one that will be remembered. Let's hope for a bigger celebration next year. In the meantime, long live our Black Colleges!

Ardmore Williams, Jr.

Final rites were read for Mr. Ardmore W. Williams, Jr. at the St. John Baptist Church, Hobbs, New Mexico, on Saturday, November 1, with the pastor, Rev. J. W. Ward, officiating. Interment was held in Everglade Cemetery under the direction of Griffir Funeral Home. Masonic rites were held at the cemetery.

Mr. Williams was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ardmore Williams, Sr. in Hamlin, Texas on September 30, 1926. Three sons and a daughter were born to this union, all preceeded him in death. The father is also deceased.

Mr. Williams departed this life on October 26, 1980 at Lea Regional Hospital at Hobbs. He graduated from high school in Amarillo, Texas and later attended Texas Barber College in Tyler, Texas where he graduated.

He united with the church in Hamlin at an early age. He became a member of St. John Baptist Church in the early 1970's.

Mr. Williams was a member of the East-Gate Lodge No. 9 of Hobbs.

He leaves to mourn his death: his mother, Mrs. Cardie L. Williams of Lubbock; seven daughters, five sons, five grandchildren, a host of relatives and friends.

Pallbearers were Pete Parker, Nobel Phillips, L. B. Perry, M. T. Finney, Rubin White and Cleveland Whitfield.

Honorary pallbearers were the East-Gate Lodge No. 9.

LAYAWAY NOW FOR CHRISTMAS

RUBY JAY'S CORNER

Last Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m., the closing of Rev. A. L. Dunn's anniversary was held at New Hope Baptist Church. Rev. Stephen Pierson, pastor of the Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church, delivered the closing message. There were members of Bethel present at this service. It was a wonderful affair!

The young people of Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church, who attend the Saturday morning retreats, are making plans for Pre-Thanksgiving Breakfast for Sunday morning, November 23, at 8 a.m. They are inviting all of their previous speakers to be their special guest.

Speaking of Rev. Stephen Pierson, pastor of Bethel, he was appointed last Saturday in Odessa, Texas at a planning council meeting of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, Northwest Conference, by Rev. A. J. Davis, presiding elder, as chairman of the executive committee of the Lubbock District.

Lubbockites who attended the West Texas Board this week in Eastland, Texas were Rev. A. L. Dunn, Mrs. Calie Howard and Ms. Ruby Jay.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swain, Jr. of 8602 Fint Avenue are new subscribers to the Lubbock Digest.

Let us continue to pray for and visit our sick and shut in members of the community. Among our sick and shut in are: Mrs. Susie Williams who has been ill for two weeks; Rev. James B. Lester, pastor of Bethel Baptist Church of Abernathy, Texas, who is home from the hospital. Mr. Crowell Johnson was admitted to a local hospital this week. He is reported to be doing nicely.

Mrs. Mary McKinney, the mother of Mrs. Bernice Kelly, is home from the hospital and is doing fine.

Mrs. R. B. Thompson attended a family reunion in Cameron, Texas last Sunday. She reported a wonderful time with relatives and friends.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

The members of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast met last Saturday morning at 9 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Annie Mae Johnson.

Because of the upcoming Thanksgiving season, all present had something in common on last Saturday morning. President Mary Ward presided over the meeting.

Participating in the devotional services was Mrs. Ward. The day's scripture was taken from Psalm 53:1-9.

The morning scripture lesson was brought by Mrs. Annie M. Johnson. It was taken from 100 Psalm.

"Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands, serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing. Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name. For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations."

Mrs. Johnson, we were all truly blessed by this lesson, and we love you for bringing it. Thought for the day: "Millions of people lie down each night in fear of the next day; the fact that they have survived today is ignored." Think about it. Songs with special meaning was sung by Mrs. Dunwitt and Mrs. Annie Day.

Remarks and testimonies were given from members and friends. The breakfast was served decent and in order. This included home made biscuits, sausage and potato bits. There were other breakfast goodies. Want you join us!

Mrs. Johnson was the proud winner of the door prize. We were happy to have Mrs. Ophelia Smith back. We appreciated having Mrs. Annie Day join this group.

Prayer requests were made and answers to prayer. Morning prayer was offered by Mrs. Annie Day, Mrs. E. Dunwitt and Mrs. Tommie Ervin. The food was blessed by Mrs. C. C. Peoples.

Our sick list includes Mr. M. E. Collins, who is doing nicely; Mr. Pralin Gant, Jr., who is in ICU at St. Mary's Hospital; Mr. Belvins, a patient in a local rest home; and Mrs. Claretta Brown, who is at home.

We advise all of them to read St. John 3:2. We are praying that God gives all the bereaved families strength.

There will be a Pre-Thanksgiving Breakfast coming soon. It will very special. Can any good come out of Nazareth?? Our next meeting will be held at 2420 East 8th Street. Come and see. For more information, call 762-3347. Mrs. Mary Ward, president; Mrs. C. E. East, vice president; Mrs. C. E. Brown, secretary; and Mrs. Dorothy Hood, reporter.

AS AMERICAN AS APPLE PIE, the very first chocolate chip cookie was created in 1930 by the innovative Mrs. Wakefield, owner and prized baker of the Toll House Inn in Massachusetts. In the past 50 years, her discovery has become an American legend: nearly seven billion Toll House® Cookies are baked in American homes each year.

The legendary Toll House® Cookie got its name from a lovely old toll house on the outskirts of Whitman, Mass. Built in 1709 at the halfway point between Boston and New Bedford, it became a haven where weary travelers stopped for food, drink and rest while they waited for a change of horses. The historic old toll house was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Wakefield in 1930, and turned into the now famous Toll House Inn. Mrs. Wakefield experimented with, and improved upon, many old dessert recipes. Her incredible baked desserts attracted people from all over New England.

It happened one day

One day, she was experimenting with a favorite Colonial cookie—the Butter Drop Do. She cut a bar of Nestlé Semi-Sweet Chocolate into tiny bits and added them to the cookie dough—half expecting them to melt.

Instead, the bits of chocolate held their shape, softening just slightly to a delicately creamy texture. Mrs. Wakefield named her delicious discovery—the Toll House Cookie, the very first chocolate chip cookie.

Billions baked

As the popularity of the Toll House Cookie grew, Nestlé looked for ways to make it easier for people to bake the recipe. They started producing a special scored chocolate bar accompanied by a chopper for cutting the chocolate into small pieces.

In 1939, Nestlé started offering little pieces of chocolate in convenient, ready-to-use packages—and the very first Semi-Sweet Real Chocolate Morsels were introduced to American bakers.

Today, Morsels are used to make hundreds of delicious chocolate treats all over America, in addition to the nearly seven billion Toll House Cookies baked in homes every year. Since the original Toll House Cookie recipe appeared regularly on the Morsel bag, here is a variation of America's favorite recipe—The Junior Toll House Cookie.

NESTLÉ'S JUNIOR TOLL HOUSE® COOKIES

- 2 1/4 cups unsifted flour
- 1 measuring teaspoon baking soda
- 1 measuring teaspoon salt
- 1 cup butter, softened
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 measuring teaspoon vanilla extract
- 2 eggs
- 1 12-oz. pkg. (2 cups) Nestlé's semi-sweet real chocolate morsels
- 1 cup chopped nuts

Preheat oven to 375°F. In small bowl, combine flour, baking soda and salt; set aside. In large bowl, combine butter, sugar, brown sugar and vanilla extract; beat until creamy.

Beat in eggs. Gradually add flour mixture; mix well.

Stir in Nestlé's semi-sweet real chocolate morsels and nuts. Drop 1/2 cup dough onto ungreased cookie sheets.

Lightly press into a 3" circle. Bake at 375°F. for 10-12 minutes. Makes 21 1/4" cookies.

Meatballs Stroganoff

Serve these delicious meatballs over buttered noodles or rice. A salad of marinated cucumbers and tomatoes will add just the right texture. To serve 4 you'll need:
 1 1/2 lbs. lean ground beef
 1 cup bread crumbs
 1/4 cup minced raw onion
 1 tbs. Worcestershire sauce
 Salt and pepper to taste
 1/4 cup flour
 2 tbs. cooking oil
 1 cup beef bouillon
 1 cup sour cream
 Combine beef, bread crumbs, onion, 2 teaspoons of the Worcestershire and seasoning. Mix well and shape into 18 meatballs. Coat the meat-balls in two tablespoons of the flour. Heat oil in skillet and brown meatballs over medium heat. Combine bouillon with remaining Worcestershire and sour cream. Heat very gently, pour over noodles or rice and serve immediately. If you use rice dress it up with 1/4 cup each sauteed minced green pepper and sliced raw mushrooms for flavor you won't easily forget. A summertime dessert of strawberry tarts and iced tea will round off this meal beautifully.

An American classic with an Italian accent

Now that school's well under way, so are football and cheerleader practice, after school club gatherings, and boy and girl scout meetings.

Sure the kids are busy, but so are mom and dad. At this time of year, they're not only super parents but, more often than no, they're super chefs, too.

So, when it comes to busy weekday dinner choices, tasty, quick-to-prepare dishes are the best bet. And, after weeks of hamburger and tuna casseroles, the family is sure to welcome a change of pace.

Baked Macaroni Italiano is one way to revive the family's tired menu plan. For this casserole, elbow macaroni is layered with shredded cheddar cheese and takes on an Italian flair with the addition of Ragù 100% Natural Spaghetti Sauce.

Because Ragù sauces include the same fine ingredients you'd choose at home, there's no need to start from scratch. So, the entire casserole can be prepared, cooked and served to a hungry family in less than an hour's time.

Perfect with a green salad and followed by fresh fruit for dessert, this main course dish can be your solution to weekday menu monotony.

BAKED MACARONI ITALIANO

- 8 ounces (2 cups) elbow macaroni
- 1 jar (15 1/2 ounces) Ragù 100% Natural Spaghetti Sauce
- 1 pound (about 2 cups) grated sharp Cheddar cheese
- 1/2 cup packaged breadcrumbs
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Preheat oven to 375°F. Cook macaroni as label directs. Drain well. Layer macaroni, Ragù

Spaghetti Sauce and cheese alternately in 1 1/2 quart casserole, ending with a liberal layer of cheese.

Stir breadcrumbs with melted butter or margarine.

Sprinkle over casserole. Bake 25-30 minutes or until sauce is bubbly and surface lightly browned. Serves 5.

and I read I was shocked and saddened to learn of your injury. I am praying for your complete recovery and am thankful that your life was spared. That was what was signed George C. Wallace. We have disagreed about many issues, but each of us knows what it is to feel the pain of a would-be assassin's bullet."

Mr. Jordan concluded that "Together, we can make America work for all. Together, we can conquer the bitter heritage of racism and triumph over injustice. Together, we can overcome the harsh hatreds that are tearing this country apart. Black people have suffered much in this America of ours, but it is ours. America too often forgets that we helped build its power and glory, that we dug taters, toled cotton, lifted bales, sank the canals, and laid the railroad tracks that linked ocean to ocean; that we have died in every war. Let us neither stunible nor falter, rather let us mount up with wings as eagles, let us run and not be weary, and walk together children, and not faint!"

Vernon Jordan, Jr., a black leader, a man loved by millions of people all over the world, will long be remembered at Tuskegee Institute, where in spite of doctor's orders, he risked his health to participate in the National Urban League Tuskegee Institute - sponsored Faculty and Career Development Program, Career Awareness Conference at Tuskegee in Tuskegee, Alabama.

The final decision process will continue beyond the bonding date, Roth said.

Texas law provides for putting rates into effect under bond if the PUC has not reached a final decision within a specified time limit. The Southwestern Bell bonding date under the time frame was November 11.

tion received from the field offices. At three Data Operations Centers around the country, employees enter into SSA's computer system the information needed to keep up-to-date records on earnings records and Social Security numbers issued. In fact, the agency's newest computer center in Baltimore, Md. is the largest non-defense-related computer center in the United States, and the most modern in the government.

advantages. Instead of being sent to a person's home, the check is sent directly to his or her financial institution. Some advantages are:

* A person never has to worry about the check being lost or stolen.

* A person can leave home on vacation and not worry about the check sitting in a mail box. The money is available in an account.

* A person can save transportation costs and help conserve energy. He or she does not have to go any place and stand in line to cash or deposit the check.

* Keeping money in a checking or savings account is safer than carrying a lot of cash.

* A checkbook provides a written record for keeping track of expenses. Checks are often less expensive than money orders and cancelled checks serve as receipts.

To arrange for direct deposit, a person should complete a direct deposit form, SF-1199. The form can be obtained at any financial institution and the people there will help complete it. A monthly benefit check contains all the information needed for direct deposit.

Completing the form only authorizes deposits into a person's account. Only that person or someone authorized by him or her can make withdrawals.

It is very important for people using direct deposit to keep social security informed of their correct mailing address so they will continue to receive important notices about their social security or SSI checks or about Medicare.

For more information about direct deposit, call or visit the Lubbock Social Security office, located at 1205 Texas Avenue. The telephone number is 762-7381.
