News Behind The News THE NATIONAL Whirligig

WASHINGTON By RAY TUCKER

Scanty— Members of our Army general staff are secretly amused each time the headlines banner sensational stories about Herr Hitler's new land armaments.

The United States has the same modern equipment. But the "brass hats" are not advertising it—out of fear of domestic pacifists rather than foreign spies.

Germany has one advantage over us. This country has only a few experimental weapons in this class. Hitler is supposed to have stored up vast quantities.

Possible— Controller General McCarl doesn't take his presidential boom seriously. He has told friends that he would be the last man the politicians would choose if they cherished any hope of winning.

His reply to Senator Norris' attack on his anti-TVA ruling was the first notice he has taken of criticism in fourteen years. There was a sentimental rather than a political reason for it.

Mr. McCarl may have an outside chance to rep the GOP nomination. If the Republican king-makers decide that it is senseless to take a licking next year while waiting around for 1940 they might pick McCarl.

Rovers— An unpublished study of the transients' trek furnishes New Dealers with cause for optimism—or so they think.

Estimates of the number of these hard-luck gypsies vary. But the total is placed at between 250,000 and 400,000—much less than early experts thought.

The aristocrats of the road are the hitch-hikers. Hitch-hiking preserves their clothes, and a neat appearance enhances the service for a steady job.

Troubles— These rompers present a comparatively limited problem in point of numbers. But Harry Hopkins worries nights over them.

Hundreds Are Homeless In Flooded Area

Property Damage Heavy Near Colorado Springs And Pueblo

COLORADO SPRINGS, (AP)—Twenty-three persons reported dead and missing Friday as flooded mountain streams loosed death and destruction in this section.

Hundreds were homeless and property damage in Colorado Springs, Pueblo and two small villages north of here was estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

This city on the eastern slope of the Rockies was the focal point of torrents. Twelve persons were on Colorado Springs death list. Six persons are missing.

Five other deaths were charged to floods in northeastern Colorado.

NO NEW TAXES NEEDED

Says Representative Jeff D. Stinson, of Dallas, in an article in the Texas Weekly: "What we need right now is more business, more jobs, and not more taxes."

This statement will strike responsive a chord in the bosoms of property owners, farmers, oil and sulphur men, and a host of others who can not help but view existing deficit in the general fund, and Governor Allred's ideas on taxation with some apprehension.

In his article Mr. Stinson undertakes to demonstrate that there is no need for new taxes.

He points out that liquor, if repeal should be voted will yield an estimated $5,000,000 a year, while the new tax on marble machines is expected to bring approximately $500,000 a year into the state's coffers.

While Mr. Stinson admits that the great revenue expected from liquor is uncertain, he is optimistic. He says: "This estimate is, of course, problematical, but it is sufficiently prospective to render any additional tax levies unwarranted and unjustified at this time."

However, no one can say with any degree of certainty that the Dean law will be repealed. If we are in a judge from recent reorganization of dry forces the issue will be heatedly contested to say the least.

But even if repeal should be realized such levies as the proposed liquor tax and the marble machines tax have a way of falling far short of expectations. Such has already proven the case with the levies on beer, cigarettes, and the legalized race-track betting. It is not wise to count too greatly on such sources.

Recent bills strengthening collection methods will undoubtedly bring in some of the $15,000,000 dollars now owing the state in delinquent tax, and, as Representative Stinson points out, improving business will account for additional sums. These, with the potential revenue shown by Mr. Stinson, may justify his contention that no new taxes are needed. But that justification will not hold good indefinitely.

Sooner or later our increasing cost of state government will make greater revenue a necessity. "And when that time comes it is to be hoped that more constructive legislation than was introduced during the last session will be enacted."

A YOUNG MAN'S THOUGHTS

What does a man about to go to the electric chair think of in his final moments? The other night, Robert Edwards, neatly dressed in a black suit, lay down on a prison cot after several hours of praying and reading the Bible. Just after midnight he arose, quietly said goodbye to his father, chatted a moment with his home-town minister and walked into the cell where he was to be electrocuted for having carried out in real life the frightful "American Tragedy" drama written by Theodore Dreiser. In the death chamber he found another minister, who was softly repeating the twenty-third Psalm—

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. He set down wordlessly, but as the black cap was adjusted, his lips moved, as if in prayer. A few minutes later a physician pronounced Robert Allen Edwards quite dead, and the headline hunters turned away to give thought to other strange monstrosities of human impersonation.

To clear the way for a romance with another girl, Edwards killed his childhood sweetheart who trusted his promise that he would marry her, and sought to make it appear that she had died by drowning. What did he think of in his final moments? Did he try to think what he would say to his betrayed sweetheart when he should meet her in that "other" world? What did he think when he said goodbye to his father, the man who had hoped in him and believed in him from infancy.

The last thirty minutes that a man lives probably brings in more interesting thoughts than the first 30 years of the ordinary man's life. What a pity such earnest thinking couldn't be done earlier in life.—Tyler Courier-Journal.

TEXAS TOPICS

By Raymond Brooks

The two-year state budget appropriation bills are in no danger. Gov. Allred will complete their review and approval this week.

Not only will the measure in general find executive favor, but there will be few individual items stricken from the various bills. The measures accord the eleemosynary institutions funds for much better operation, and the construction of their largest biennial building program. They permit slight increases in departmental, and still larger increases in higher educational salaries. A total of $88,000,000, as compared with $79,000,000 two years ago, including the support of such new agencies as the planning board and relief administration and state safety department, not listed in the previous budget bills, will reflect the comparison. There is an additional $10,000,000 for rural aid, an increase over the past two-year period.

Not all this $48,000,000 comes out of general taxation. All the funds for operating the oil and gas and gas utility operations of the railroad commission, most of that for operating the highway department, all for operating the banking and insurance divisions, come out of special levies for the purpose. The administrative costs of beer and cigarette tax administration come from proceeds of these taxes. Part of the educational appropriation comes from local funds of the institutions, and, for A&M, and the University of Texas, from the university available fund.

His friends say that the young Judge J. E. Hickman of Eastland was just naturally slated for the Texas supreme court. Judge Hickman comes to Austin this week to take his seat by appointment of the court on its commission of appeals.

There is virtually no prospect that he will enter any race in the immediate future, when Judge Richard Critz runs next year for the rest of the elective term to which he was appointed, or when other members seek re-election; but in the course of time, either through promotion by appointment, or by a race should some member retire, or more particularly, when Texas, at last enlarges its court to nine members, he is a most obvious prospect. His abilities, as shown while presiding justice of the Eastland civil appeals court were given recognition when the supreme court chose him as a member of its commission.

Women To Take Golf Stage Soon

OMAHA, Neb. (UP)—It will be a tournament of champions when the cream of middle western feminine golfers tee off June 17 in the annual Women's Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament at Omaha Field Club.

Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City, four times winner of Trans laurels, will be on hand to defend her crown after a winter of scarcely any tournament play.

Favored to displace her is Miss Lucile Robinson of Des Moines, Wakonda Country Club, Iowa champion and runner-up to Mrs. Hill in last year's tournament over the lengthy Blue Hills Country Club course in Kansas City.

Staging Comeback

Then there's Phyllis Buchanan, 1924 medalist and Denver's choice to repeat her 1933 victory in the Trans. Mrs. Dan Chandler, Dallas, Tex., former champion of Mexico, whom Babe Didrikson routed to win the recent Texas State Tournament, has signified her intention of entering.

The Lone Star state also will be represented by Mrs. Frank Goldwaite, formerly Anielia Gorozoya, and will be guest at a round of social affairs in their honor, including dances, teas and receptions.

Mrs. L. M. Hardy of Stamford has been selected as hostess to the sponsors. Miss Clara Mae Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Jones of this city has been chosen as Stamford's sponsor.

Women To Take Golf Stage Soon

who last year made the trip to England with the American team for the Curtis cup series and who has blazed her way to three Texas championships and one Southern crown.

Long Driver Little Patty Berg, the Minneapolis Interlachen club 17-year-old, who always gets a big hand from the galleries wherever she has played—and she has played the best everywhere in this country—will have a chance to avenge her defeat by Mrs. Hill last year. Patty is considered one of the women's game's longest drivers and is a threat in anybody's tournament.

Rivercrest Country Club, Fort Worth, Denver Country Club, San Antonio Country Club, Omaha Lakewood, Omaha Field, Tulsa Country, Minneapolis Interlachen, Oklahoma City's Twin Hills and Wakonda at Des Moines have sent in their membership dues.

Raymond L. Hughes Files Exceptions

MIDLAND—Exceptions to the report of Examiner Ralph L. Walker, in which he recommended denial of application of Raymond L. Hughes for a broadcasting station license at Midland, have been filed by attorneys for Hughes, he said Thursday in a letter to The Reporter-Telegram.

"The examiner was in error and overlooked depositions substantiating my financial ability which were submitted direct to the commission, for their information," Hughes said. "Exceptions are being filed by my attorneys in Washington to the examiner's report which was made without due examination, and we will continue the fight for daytime broadcasting facilities for this area. "Such widespread interest and enthusiasm has been created in this project and so many people are very much interested that I feel they should know that every effort will continue to be made to secure this much needed service for Midland."

Mrs. French To Conduct Canning Demonstration

Mrs. Arreva French, who will conduct the last of two classes at the Big Spring Hardware Co. Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m. is particularly anxious to have a large crowd of women attend as she will demonstrate canned meat and pickling methods. Her first class was held Friday afternoon. Mrs. French who is a Home Economist of the Ball Brothers Co. says that the women will be allowed to ask questions following the demonstration. She will also give instructions as to how to serve canned foods, and give special recipes for all summer. The Big Spring Hardware Co. join with Mrs. French in urging all Big Spring and Howard county women to attend.

SHE FELT MARVELOUS WHEN HABITS BECAME REGULAR

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Relieved Her Constipation*

Read this splendid letter: "I tried everything, with little or no results. I felt miserable, was 20 but looked much older, and my skin was continually breaking out."

"I decided to try ALL-BRAN, three meals a day for about a week. Elimination became regular; I felt marvelous and looked better. Even my outlook on life was changed."

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. It also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle—and safe for normal individuals. More effective than "bulk" in leafy vegetables, as it does not break down within the body.

Isn't this natural food pleasanter than patent medicines? Just eat two tablespoons daily. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Much more effective than part-bran products. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Meet Ruth Ellington - Hariem's Gift To The World Of Music

New York has produced many musical celebrities—but only one different. It had to be outstanding. It had to serve as a fitting background for Ruth Ellington. Rehearsals started. It required lots of work, time and patience. She impressed everyone connected with her that lots of work and cooperation would finally lead to success. That was her goal. A single number would be rehearsed twenty or thirty times. It had to be perfect. Ellington would have nothing less. She must be a success. Nothing would stop her.

Ruth Ellington and Her Orchestra were later urged to make a professional appearance. They were in demand. Now she was sure. She had reached her goal. Success.

This nationally known attraction is gaining more popularity each day. Deserving popularity. There is a reason. They are entertaining. They know how to please. They convey to the dancer the last word in music for the ballroom. The arrangements are different, library complete, one of the largest in the world. And above all each musician an artist in his own right.

When you hear "Ruth Ellington" you soon learn why this girl "The Wizard of the Baton" is so popular. Critics have all agreed, Ruth Ellington is great. She is playing an engagement at Hotel Settles ballroom Saturday night, June 1.

School Men Oppose Football Age Limit

AMARILLO, (AP)—The Panhandle-Plains Superintendents' association, at a recent meeting here went on record as opposed to the new 17-year-old age limit for Texas high school football players. A resolution was passed protesting the action of the state inter-scholastic league in adopting the rule and making the executive committee of the league to repeal the requirement. The ruling, which is scheduled to go into effect next year, provides that a player must be not more than 17 years old by September 1.

Inventor's Day To Be Observed In Lamesa June 3

LAMESA—It will be Inventor's Day in Lamesa next Monday, June 3rd. All inventors are invited to be on hand with their wares for this, the first South Plains Inventor's Exposition. Manufacturers from Dallas, Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and St. Louis, Mo., have been invited to be present to view the inventions that will be placed on display at this exposition.

Officials state that the main reason for the show is to get both inventor and manufacturer together that mutual benefit may result. Already such items as plow tools, variety articles, school signal systems, sub-irrigator-cultivator attachments—windmills have been signed for the show. Others are expected from all parts of the section.

A large crowd will see the exposition, officials believe. The show will be held in the display rooms of the Arnet Motor Company here and there will be no admission fee. The inventors of Howard county, together with all others are invited to participate.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Cobb of Little Rock, Ark., are visiting Mrs. Cobb's brother, W. R. Perry.

BREAD TRUCKS DUMPED IN STRIKE

1 cup diced pineapple, 2-3 cup diced apricots, 2-3 cup diced peaches, 3 tbsps. sugar, 1 tsp. lemon juice, 1-2 cup chopped candied ginger.
 Mix and chill ingredients and serve in glass cups. If mint leaves are available, use several in each cup.
Stuffed Veal Steak
 (Rolled)
 3 pounds veal steak, 1 tsp. salt, 1-4 tsp. paprika, 5 tbsps. flour, 1 cup water.
 Select 3 large steaks and have cut 1-2 inch thick. Spread each steak with stuffing and roll up tightly, holding in place with white corns. Sprinkle with salt, paprika and flour. Arrange in baking pan, add water and lid. Bake 2 hours in moderate oven. Baste every 20 minutes. Remove strings and serve on platter.
Stuffing
 1-4 pound salt pork, 3 tbsps. chopped onions, 3 tbsps. chopped green peppers, 3 tbsps. chopped celery, 1 tbsps. chopped parsley, 3 cups soft bread crumbs, 1 egg, 4 tbsps. butter, melted, 2 tbsps. cream.
 Heat pork in frying pan, add and brown onions, peppers and celery. Mixing with fork, add rest of ingredients and mix lightly.
Browned Sweet Potatoes
 8 peeled potatoes, 1-2 tsp. salt.
 Sprinkle potatoes with salt and add to meat after it has baked 1 hour. Turn potatoes twice to allow even browning.

4 egg yolks, 4 egg whites, beaten; 1 cup sugar, 3 tbsps. flour, 1 tsp. baking powder, 1-4 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. vanilla, 1 cup chopped dates, 2-3 cup broken nuts, 1 pint whipped cream.
 Beat yolks. Beat whites and fold in sugar, flour, baking powder, salt, vanilla, dates and nuts. Add yolks. Pour into buttered shallow pan and bake 25 minutes in moderate oven.

"Somebody To See You!"

IF EVERYBODY with something to interest you should come and ring your bell, what a nuisance it would be! Think of the swarming, jostling crowd, the stamping of feet on your porch and carpets!

Every day we know of many callers who come to see you. They never jangle the bell—they don't take up your whole day trying to get your attention. Instead, they do it in a way that is most considerate of your privacy and your convenience. They advertise in your newspaper!

In this way you have only to listen to those you know at a glance have something that interests you. They make it short, too, so you can gather quickly just what you want to know. You can receive and hear them all without noise or confusion in a very few minutes.

In fairness to yourself look over all the advertisements. The smallest and the largest—you never can be sure which one will tell something you really want to know.

ENEMY'S KISS by Evelyn M. Winch

Chapter 13
ABOUT DAPHNE
 "I don't know what I should've done without Mr. Westurn," said Alison sweetly.
 Robert Rede took his cue.
 "I'm extremely grateful to him," he remarked.
 "I don't know what else I could have done sir," said Guy modestly, facing the two honest eyes which were summing him up. "Anyway, it was a pleasure."
 Major Rede nodded in approval—he liked young men to call him "sir" respectfully, and he liked a modest tone, compliments inserted in their proper places.
 "I hope you'll come and look us up," he said to Guy. "Live in London, do you?"
 "Yes."

the front door had shut, Alison gave a sigh.
 "Nice young fellow," Major Rede said warmly. "... good manners, decent. One can always judge." He linked his arm into Alison's and stooped to kiss her again. Said in gratitude. "We must ask him round to lunch or something one day, don't you think we ought to?"
 "I think perhaps we ought," said Alison. "He's really quite nice."
 Which only goes to show the complete duplicity of even good girls.
 She was halfway up the stairs when she remembered that she had not asked Guy for his address! Well, he lived in London and it would be in the telephone book. When she had unpacked, bathed and changed, Alison ran down to the library.

WHEN MANAGER MEETS MANAGER

"What else could I have done?" asked Guy.

"Mr. Westurn's an architect," put in Alison.
 "Ah! An architect. Well, I hope you'll come round and see us when we're less—when we're less—" he finished that sentence by a fierce twist which sent his tie into its place and a pat on his dishevelled, thinning hair. Alison seconded the motion with a soft "Yes, please do!"
 "It's like to very much, if I may." There are times when words are quite unnecessary; two pair of eyes can talk without such a clumsy medium. A glance exchanged on the way to the front door, a smile, a hand which lingers half a second too long in saying goodbye can express some things much better than any language yet invented. When Alison laughed.

 "Darling, isn't that like you!"
 "I should say she was about," he considered, "well, ten years older than you."
 Twenty-eight. Well, that wasn't too bad, decided Alison; it would be more like having an elder sister. The phrase in her father's letter: "a Mrs. Sumers, a widow," might have meant anything.
 "You know you haven't really told me anything about her; what's her other name?"
 "Daphne."
 "That's pretty; Daphne Sumers," said Alison approvingly. Her father twined her arm.
 "She won't be that soon!"
 "Why, when are you to get married?" Not soon, Alison hoped. Let her have a little while with her father first!
 "In about six weeks, we thought," he told her. "You see, we're going to honeymoon in Madeira, so I thought I'd wait until your aunt Emily got home from India and then you could stay with her while we were away."
 "I think that's a splendid idea," agreed Alison; her fat, red-faced cheery aunt was delightful and she liked both her young cousins.
 He said rather wistfully now, "I hope you are going to like her."
 Alison stooped and kissed him lightly.
 "I know I am," she said warmly, "I expect it has been lonely for you."
 He laughed slyly.
 "Has? Don't you think I'd be rather rash to count on many years of you, my dear?" He noted her flush with a smile and added, "Think I didn't notice how that young man looked at you?"
 "He didn't!"

"Yes, but what's she like?" Alison blankly.
 "You know, father dear, I'm not good at description! You haven't even told me whether she is dark or fair!"
 "Oh! Dark."
 "Pretty?"
 "I suppose she's not what you'd call pretty," he admitted. "But at my age, my dear, one doesn't judge by looks. She's charming and attractive. A woman who knows her world, and a delightful companion for a lone man."
 "Has she any children?" asked Alison.
 "Children? Good Lord, no!" He seemed almost shocked at the notion.
 "How old is she then?"
 Her father looked up at her

Three Young Pros Are High Raters

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Three young professionals who have been threatening for a couple of seasons to do something about serving youth with a national golf title of some sort will supply much of the dark-horse element when 163 of the nation's best attack Oakmont's long and bunker-strewn layout in the National open June 6-8.

Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., Johnny Revolta of Milwaukee and Ky Laffoon, the Denver simon—three of the most active performers of the last winter campaign—are expected to offer plenty of opposition to the older heads as represented by Defending Champion Gene Sarazen, P. G. A. champion Paul Runyan and Craig Wood, who seems overdue for a break after his heart-breaking loss to Sarazen in the Augusta National this spring.

The tall and willowy Picard, this year's Agua Caliente open winner, leading shot-maker and money-winner of the winter circuit, tuned up for the National by capturing the Metropolitan open with a brilliant 284, conquering, among others, Runyan.

The long-jawed Revolta, who beat Sarazen in the 1933 Miami open, less than six months after Sarazen had declared Johnny didn't have the rhythm necessary to become a champion, is threatening again, after a fine winter season in which he ranked third behind Picard and Runyan, averaging 72.1 strokes per round, for 46 eight-hole rounds.

Revolta and Picard paired last for the National by capturing the Metropolitan open with a brilliant 284, conquering, among others, Runyan.

Rainey, Akey Winners In Play Thursday

Mrs. J. M. Aldredge Trims 23 Strokes In Ringer Tourney

Mrs. Guy Rainey and Chas. Akey won Partnership play of the Ladies' Golf association at the Municipal course Thursday.

Play was also continued on the Ringer tournament. Mrs. J. M. Aldredge has sliced 23 strokes from her original score to lead in that division. Mrs. Akey has the low Ringer score, a 44 and Mrs. Aldredge is close behind with a 45.

Mrs. Akey has posted a 50 for the lowest score, and Mrs. Aldredge comes in second with a 53.

In order to kill the threat. Elmer Rowe took advantage of Savage's misdeed to give the Carters a boost in the seventh, went to third on Huggin's base hit, and ended the game when he counted on Ketter's roller into the infield.

Hall attempted to catch Rowe at home but the latter slid in safely. The WOW, definitely improved over their early season form, pulled farther away from the cellar by defeating Cosden Lab in the second game, 3-2.

Garrett Patton was in control of the situation at all times except the fifth when Phillips and Gordon scored the only Chemist runs. The Woodmen did not strike until the third stanza, but filled the sacks in that inning to count twice.

"Button" Hooser rapped out a base hit into right field in the fourth frame that rolled between Baird's legs for a home run.

The victory shoved the Woodmen into eighth place in the league standings.

PITCHING PATRIARCHS

(By The Associated Press)

The rookie pitching sensations of the National league, the Blanton and the Castlemans, have to move over and share the glow of the spotlight with that grand old veteran of the mound, Tom Zachary.

The Brooklyn Dodgers' 39-year-old left hander has been tossing them up since before the war and still has enough stuff to turn in one of the pitching gems of the current season.

His shutout victory over the Pirates in 13 innings was a masterpiece of mound craftsmanship. When he completed that game he left behind him a trail of 20 consecutive scoreless innings. The lone defeat charged against him, while scoring three victories, was a 1-0 loss at the hands of the Pirates. It took a ninth-inning home run by Arky Vaughan to bring about that setback.

The more you see "Old Tom" in action the more you have to marvel at his artistry. Apparently he has little on the ball, yet the answer to that is in the record of the few runs scored on him. He has no blinding speed, sharp breaking curves nor a screw ball, which seems to be used so successfully by a number of hurters today. But he does know how to pitch.

He never serves a batter what the latter wants. It is uncanny the way he makes hitters do exactly what he wants them to do. In the long struggle with the Pirates he had the batters squibbing easy grounders and pop flies. The Dodgers had not more than one really difficult chance to handle in the field throughout the entire game.

Zachary has a way of tormenting his opponents with his ability to play on their weaknesses. Batters come back to the bench puzzled at their own inability to knock the cover off his pitches, which apparently have nothing on them. As the game grows the batters "press" in their efforts to murder his offerings. And that is exactly what the veteran wants them to do. There isn't another pitcher in the league capable of working more intelligently on a batter and his task of outsmarting an opponent is much easier when the batter is over-anxious.

Zachary dislikes being called a veteran and discredits the claims that he is getting by on pitching brains and amazing control. He insists that his success is due entirely to the "stuff" he has.

Cast off by the Boston Braves last year, he pleaded with Casey Stengel to give him a chance with the Dodgers. Stengel took him on and he has been doing well ever since.

Other Oldsters Shine

While Zachary was scoring his 13-inning triumph over the Pirates, another pitching veteran, an even older one, the 43-year-old Sad Sam Jones was faring less fortunately in a 13-inning struggle with the Boston Red Sox. The White Sox pitching patriarch lost to Wes Ferrell, 2-1, when his catcher, Luke Sewell, dropped the throw to the plate which would have cut off the winning run.

Jones turned in three victories for the fast moving White Sox while being charged with a lone defeat.

Another grand old pitcher stepped down from the mound the other day when Adolfo Luque was placed on the retired list by the Giants and commissioned as a coach. Luque, dean of the National league hurlers, was at the peak of his career some 10 or 12 years ago. Of late his efforts had been confined to relief roles wherein he did yeoman service for the Giants.

He saved the Giants' opener at the Polo Grounds this year after Freddie Fitzsimmons had failed to stop the Braves.

Carter Chevy Trips Herald

Chevrolet Defeats Newsies For Second Time This Season

BY HANK HART

The Carter Chevrolet, with a very unimpressive record behind them this year and a victory over the Herald Type Lice their only bid for local fame, repeated Thursday evening by defeating the Newsies 6-5.

"Dunor" Davidson, who drew the limelight in his first game when he recorded a no-hit-no-run game against the Cosden Lab, settled down after a shaky first inning to hold the heavy hitting Type Lice to one run throughout the remaining six innings. Davidson allowed a total of seven hits, all of which came in the first three stanzas.

Driver, Hall, Gant and Pickle counted for the Herald in the first frame to give Guilkey a good lead, but the Krausmen staged an uprising of their own in the same inning and closed in on the Heraldites, tallying three.

The Herald added another in the second when Guilkey bingled, took second on Drivers' out, third when the Carter infield misplayed Hall's ground ball, and scored on Jake Morgan's fly.

Trailing two runs, the Carterites went down in the third and fourth frames, but Krauss tallied in the fifth and Davidson in the sixth to deadlock the game.

Fred Savage opened the seventh by reaching first when Jennings Ketter's throw was hurried, but the following three men went down correctly from the top.

Elderly golfers frequently do best with the closed stance and many young stars—Lawson Little, for example—have adopted it beneficially.

She calls it a Cook's Tour

NOBODY thought Katherine would make a very good wife. She seemed too frivolous. Always made a game out of everything. Hadn't a practical thought in her head—so it seemed.

Maybe that's why she DOES make Ed such a good wife. You still wouldn't think she was serious about a thing. Yet she must be. Because you've never seen a house kept better in your life. Or a budget balanced more neatly.

Most women come home from shopping all tired out. Not Katherine! She makes a grand game of it . . . calls in her weekly "Cook's Tour". She pores over her newspaper like a travel map . . . charts a course that takes her to bargain ports . . . and gets there without one wasted step.

How? She follows the advertisements. Watches them as closely as a sailor watches his compass. And she gets fun out of it all . . . But who wouldn't, with a happy home like hers and her knack for saving up money!

Bankers' association, which opposes the pending bank reform measure. He avails a big banking stick. In his notice to depositors he emphasized two factors which New Dealers like to soft-pedal at times.

Mr. Fleming spoke of the "continually lower rates at which government and corporate securities are being issued and refunded." He also mentioned "the lack of demand for credit and the low yield on investments." When conditions for employment of bank funds become "more favorable" Mr. Fleming promises to extend the benefit to depositors. The tone of his announcement is interpreted by officials as distinctly anti-New Dealish.

Peon—
One element in the work relief wage scale has northern manufacturers on their ears. The cotton textile code—after prolonged argument—established a wage spread of 8 1-2% between northern and southern mills. Now comes the federal government and sets up a minimum differential of 25%. In some classifications it amounts to more than 100%.

Doubtful—
Although President Roosevelt undoubtedly wished it otherwise the Supreme court has vindicated its long held position. He signed both the Rail Pension Act and the Frazier-Lemke measure with lawyer-like reluctance. He expressed fear that haste in framing and passing these important bills would mean their death when they penetrated the rarefied atmosphere of the Supreme court.

Blue—
Until administration policy is re-adjusted to the iron necessity of constitutionality it will be difficult to estimate the chances of putting through the AAA amendments desired by Secretary Wallace. Big majority votes by farm beneficiaries in favor of AAA are not enough now to compel lawmakers to rush through bills. The processing tax is attacked on the same grounds as those which caused the death of the Frazier-Lemke act—that it is taking the property without due process of law. Minus the processing tax AAA would be like an eagle without wings—mighty blue.

Notes—
Not a soul in Washington knew what was coming from the Supreme court—the administration was as much in the dark as the humblest citizen in Maine or Arkansas. The AFL is hard hit by the knockout of NRA—President Green has been insisting that codes should apply to businesses within states. Lights are on all night at the Department of Justice, nerve center of the search for the Weyerhaeuser kidnapers.

NEW YORK
By JAMES McMULLIN

Feather—
Secretary Morgenthau's experiment of selling $100,000,000 of bonds to the highest bidders—instead of at a set price—has a double purpose. One is to show that the treasury is not dependent on the big banks—nor on Federal Reserve open market purchases—for its financing. The fact that small bids are to be given preference is the tip-off. Small banks, insurance companies and individual investors will head the parade.

As a show its success is assured. Heavy over-subscriptions at high figures will look very pretty. Wall Street critics complain that a hundred million is hardly a fair test of the theory when they are billions in sight to be raised—but nobody else will bother much about that. New Yorkers also speculate as to whether the institutions which "cooperate" best by bidding highest will enjoy a favored status with the treasury hereafter by a new form of log-rolling. They're not certain what forms favoritism could take but on principle they view with alarm. Some bids were undoubtedly figured with this possibility in mind.

The second object of the move is to determine whether the same method can be applied successfully to the June financing—when Mr. Morgenthau will want to raise between half a billion and a billion in new funds. If it can it will probably mean cheaper interest than the treasury would care to stipulate outright—and another feather in Mr. Morgenthau's cap.

Speed—
A compromise is being shaped on the Board bill which will give New York bankers at least a part of the Confidence—

The New York aldermanic investigation of relief—designed to show off its defects—unwittingly did relief administrators a good turn. The committee raised a fine crop of headlines about hoodluming and such but was utterly unable to make any serious charges stick. It's news when a graft-hunting expedition cannot find graft to expose in this metropolis.

Public confidence in the state and city relief administration is striking. It's quite a testimonial to the calibre of the people running the show and also to a succession of New York governors who built up public faith by a consistent policy of integrity.

Simple—
New York observers remark that Americans just must have their optimism. Comment runs that if Mayor (Boom in Here) Angas had written about "The Coming American Debate" he would still be twiddling his thumbs in a London broker's office instead of netting commissions estimated at $10,000 a week.

The experience of a small but well-informed advisory service bears this out. It did very well as long as its prophecies were cheery. But it turned mildly bearish couple of months ago and has lost subscribers so rapidly since it will probably have to quit business.

Sidelights—
Exporters to Brazil are nervous about collections. The Bond Club's annual outing was the biggest and most joyous in years. Believe it or not, some banks are getting loan applications, from large corporations.

Mrs. Sarver

under that sign felt responsibility more keenly than others, hence, he theorized, she would be more apt to brood over hard times oppressing the family.

He even ventured a motive for the murder of Sarver, a 39 year old oil field worker. "An abiding and eternal love for her family is the motive in this case," he said.

On cross examination Collings asked if Mrs. Sarver remembered incidents of the tragedy. Dr. Everett said she referred to it only once.

When Collings recited incidents of a thrill murder case, and asked the doctor to express an opinion whether the defendant would be sane or insane, Dr. Everett blurted: "They would be a natural born fool."

He repeated his assertion that this "was the act of a person un-sound of mind."

Dr. M. H. Bennett and Dr. T. B. Hoover, Big Spring, concurred in their belief that Mrs. Sarver was "unsound of mind." They diagnosed it as a type of mania psychosis which would have the effect of periods of violence interspersed with more rational moments.

Both Dr. Hoover and Dr. Bennett answered the question as to her sanity with the opinion she was "unsound of mind."

Dr. Bennett said he based his opinion on her actions and history of incidents of the tragedy. Dr. Everett confined and not so much on the act.

Leona Sarver, 17-year-old daughter, could recall no marital difficulties and said she believed her mother was stricken with insanity because of the "why she acted then and now. She doesn't grieve and my mother has always been a tender hearted person."

Laura Ingalls (left), famous aviatrix, was given a thrilling ride over the Indianapolis speedway by Louis Meyer (right) of Huntington Park, Calif. All rules were broken to permit Miss Ingalls to ride in a practice spin. (Associated Press Photo) that he had contacted the state asylum at Wichita Falls and that Mrs. Sarver would be taken in immediately. He said that she would be taken there Saturday morning.

The spirit of caution which has marked recent New Deal moves reached a climax when the treasury decided to let bidders make their own offers for its bonds. In the past the treasury and reserve officials framed terms on the basis of what they thought the money

Strengthened By Cardui
A weakened condition, with pains in her side and back, was overcome by Mrs. J. S. Andrews, of Ramet, Ala., who says: "My husband kept after me to try Cardui. I continued to take it until I had taken twelve bottles. I feel now that I am a well woman."

WOMEN! Build up with the help of Cardui, for the monthly strain of nature has imposed. Many aches and pains go away as nourishment of the whole body is improved. Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician—adv.
