

Wreck Injuries Take Life Of Joseph Glenn

Auto Overturns On Highway Just East Of Big Spring

Joseph Glenn, 30 years old, of Brownwood, died of head injuries at 1 o'clock Monday at a local hospital following an auto mishap at 9 o'clock Monday morning just east of the old highway intersection, a mile east of the city limits.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete, but rites possibly will be held Tuesday afternoon. He leaves his wife and two children; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glass Glenn, and two brothers, Granville Glenn, Big Spring, and Walter Glenn, Tyler.

Glenn, who was enroute to Brownwood, was accompanying Virgil S. Williamson, who was driving the car. According to Williamson, the steering device seemed to break and the car went out of control. Williamson was suffering from shock but uninjured.

Members of the sheriff's department said that the car in which the two men were riding, overturned five times on a straight stretch of road near the intersection.

Death of Glenn was due to a skull fracture and severe scalp lacerations. It was the first traffic fatality in the county this year.

Both men had spent the weekend-end here and were returning to Camp Bowie, where they were in the civilian guard.

Glenn, who was more familiarly known as Jack Glenn, was formerly associated with the Big Spring Laundry here.

Greeks Close In On Valona In Big Drive

ATHENS, Jan. 13 (AP)—Greek warriors closing in on Valona, the Italians' only remaining port of entry into southern Albania, were reported sweeping forward without check today in what Greeks called the greatest offensive of the war.

The spearhead of the Greek drive was declared to have reached the vicinity of Tepelen, ancient fortress town 10 miles southwest of captured Klisura, and its fall was expected momentarily by authorities here.

There even were reports from Yugoslav frontier that Tepelen, guardian sentinel of an Italian-built road leading to Valona, already had been captured, but this lacked official confirmation in Athens.

Further Greek advances were reported on the northern sector of the Albanian battlefield, in the Pograsia sector, with fierce hand-to-hand engagements in progress. A large number of fascist pack mules were captured on this front, Greek advisers said, adding that the Italian supply situation had become precarious there because it would be impossible to bring additional animals up through snow clogged passes.

A Greek spokesman declared last night that the Greek drive had shaped into three spearheads: one toward Valona along the Tepelen road, the second toward Valona along the coast where large new gains were reported, and the third toward Berat and the central Albanian offshoot north of Klisura, whose capture the Greeks announced last Friday.

British Drive In Ethiopia Seen

LONDON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Belief grew among observers today that Britain may soon attempt a major drive against Italian forces in Ethiopia with the aid of native rebellions in the fascist-conquered East African empire.

Interest in a possible Ethiopian campaign as an accompaniment or sequel to the present British drive across Italian Libya increased after Prime Minister General Jan Christian Smuts of the Union of South Africa declared in a week-end speech that South Africa's 1941 role would be to "help clear the Abyssinia (Ethiopia) of the enemy and not only Abyssinia, but British Somaliland."

BRITISH CLAM AIR SUPREMACY

LONDON, Jan. 13 (AP)—British air sources said today the Royal Air Force is winning a "slight edge" in the aerial conflict which they expect to decide the success or failure of any German invasion attempt.

Britain holds supremacy, they said, because of continuous and systematic bombing of German industry and communications, because of a slight advantage over the Luftwaffe in the vital races for altitude and because of the increased number of planes coming from British and American factories.

"It must be remembered," one informant said, "that this position is being held despite engagements on three fronts, Greek, North African and home, and at a time when most American factories are not near maximum production."

Since the start of air warfare, one source said, British planes have attacked Nazi military targets with such regularity "the Germans never get a chance to rebuild them."

This inability to repair damage, it was said, has considerable effect on the methodical Germans.

Augmenting these bombings now are recent daylight forays by fighter-escorted bombers against troops in Germany and Nazi-occupied countries and against communications.

Golden Gloves Tournney Dates Are Revised

The Big Spring district Golden Gloves tournney will be staged on two successive Monday nights—January 20 and January 27.

A change in dates was announced Monday—original dates were Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 20 and 21—to avoid a conflict with another sport event on the night of Jan. 21.

On that date, the local Lions club is staging its annual banquet for the Elmer football squad, and Dana X. Bible of Texas university will be the principal speaker. It was felt that a large number of sports fans will want to hear Bible and also want to see the final night of Golden Gloves bouts, hence the change.

Separating the two night programs of Golden Gloves bouts will make for better interest in the tournament, it was thought, and the public can arrange to see two full programs of amateur boxing.

Both fight programs will be at the municipal auditorium. Seats for both nights are on sale now at the Cunningham & Phillips No. 1 and No. 3 stores, and at the school administration office. Ringside seats are $1.10, including tax, and other seats are available at 85c, 55c and 20c.

Luxury Liner Sticks In Sand

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 13 (AP)—Eight-foot waves drove relentlessly early today against the luxury liner Manhattan, stuck fast broadside of the beach some 250 yards offshore at Lake Worth inlet.

Coast guardsmen said there was no imminent peril threatening the 200 cruise passengers and 556 crew members aboard the 24,289-ton ship which went aground last night.

The coast guard cutter Mojave tried unsuccessfully today to refloat the liner.

It appeared the assistance of the tug Warbler, coming here from Key West, might be needed to free the ship.

WILKIE'S APPROVAL PLEASES PRESIDENT

HDYE PARK, N. Y., Jan. 13 (AP)—White House officials said today that Wendell L. Willkie's qualified endorsement of the administration's plan for helping "democracies" had pleased President Roosevelt, but that he definitely would not comment on it.

They said Mr. Roosevelt welcomed support of the program, from whatever source it came, because he felt it contributed to national defense and national unity.

BEAUTY OF OLD TASCOSA GOES TO JOIN LONG-DEAD HUSBAND

AMARILLO, Jan. 13 (AP)—A Creole beauty who deserted her Baton Rouge, La., family to deal monte to such characters of the old west as Billy the Kid, Bat Masterson and Pat Garrett died yesterday at 75—her identity still her secret.

Mrs. Mickey McCormick, 75, known as Frenchy when she dealt monte at Tascosa in the eighties, died yesterday at Channing, Texas. She will lie beside the husband she vowed never to leave.

"Frenchy" and Mickey McCormick were married at Tascosa in 1881 when he was a rolicking Irish gambler and she was a blue eyed belle of the rip-roaring cow country.

He taught her to run a game in his gambling house. There she saw arguments settled with six guns and the losers sent to Tascosa's "Boot Hill" cemetery. Her husband died in 1908.

Colorado City Man Accidentally Shot

COLORADO CITY, Jan. 13 (Sp)—A hunting accident late Sunday resulted in the death of J. M. Doss, 48, well known Colorado City druggist.

Doss died almost instantly after two discharges from an automatic shotgun struck him in the back. He had been quail hunting on a ranch south of town all Sunday afternoon with J. B. Pritchett and Jule Henderson.

According to information given T. E. Arnold, justice of the peace, at an inquest held at the scene, the three were riding in Pritchett's pickup with Pritchett's gun back of the seat. They were winding up their hunt when their dogs pointed a covey of quail. Doss, riding in the middle, followed Henderson out of the car and slammed the door. The jar caused the gun to discharge twice. The first discharge struck Doss in the right shoulder. The second hit him between the shoulders. Arnold, who rendered a verdict of death from accidental gunshot wounds, said that the first shot would not have been fatal.

Doss died in the arms of Pritchett, who ran around the car and caught him as he fell. Doss' only words were "I've been shot," his companions said.

Doss was born and reared in Colorado City, being a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Doss, Sr. His father was one of Colorado City's earliest pioneers and a life-long druggist. Except for a few years spent at Mingus, Doss had lived here practically all of his life. He had served on the school board for around 12 years, being secretary for several years. He was secretary-treasurer of the Colorado country club for several years.

Funeral services are to be held at 4 p. m. Tuesday, although details were incomplete Monday morning. Kiker & Son have charge of arrangements.

Survivors are Mrs. Doss, the former Flo Clark; a daughter, Doris Flo, student in the University of Texas; a son, Johnny, student in Colorado City high school; a brother, W. L. Doss, Jr., of Colorado City and a sister, Mrs. W. R. Motley of Colorado City.

Youth Admits Burglary Of Three Places

Officers today had a statement from a 16-year-old youth admitting burglary of three places on E. 3rd street.

His arrest was the second following a series of burglaries in that area. The youth made a statement to Denver, deputy sheriff, after Dunn and A. W. Crocker, city policeman, had worked on the case.

Police said that the statement contained an admission to burglary of the Rainbow Inn, Steak House and Logan Feed & Hatchery Co. Two weeks ago another 16-year-old youth was taken into custody on a similar complaint and made a statement to the officers. Although they had visited the same places, they apparently had worked independently and neither had knowledge of the other's operation, said officers.

New Constitution Proposed For CC

Directors of the chamber of commerce Monday endorsed a new constitution and set of by-laws to be submitted at the annual banquet Jan. 23 for action by the membership.

Changes in nominating methods and providing for honorary members of the board were included in the proposed by-laws.

President Ted O. Groebel was authorized to appoint a committee to study the West Texas chamber of commerce legislative proposal for a new fiscal control system for the state of Texas, and to report next Monday on whether or not the local directorate should endorse the WTCC program. Directors also heard the list of 21 nominees for the new board read.

Rioting Breaks Out In Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador, Jan. 13 (AP)—Many arrests were made today and strong forces of military police were held in readiness for new outbreaks following a bloody clash in which two rioters were shot dead, 11 others wounded and 13 policemen hurt.

Authorities blamed communist agents for the disorders, which started with a demonstration through the capital's streets and ended in the stoning of the presidential palace yesterday. The attack was dispersed by a tear-gas barrage and gunfire.

Among those arrested were Bolivian Leon and Walter Andrade, socialist leaders, and Moises Eaton, Daniel Alcoer, Carlos Quiroz and Manuel Casares, described by police as "extreme leftists."

HATCHET SLAYER OF SONS IN CUSTODY

NORTH BERGEN, N. J., Jan. 13 (AP)—Police maintained a guard today at North Bergen hospital, Weehawken, over John Behmer, 41-year old knitting mill owner, who Police Chief John J. Simmen said slew his two small sons with a hatchet because he feared they might inherit a nervous ailment.

Hospital attendants reported Behmer was recovering from the effects of illuminating gas which Simmen said had inhaled in a suicide attempt after the dual slaying. Behmer was a patient at the New Jersey hospital for the insane at Greystone Park in September, 1939, Simmen said.

Teacher Tells How Not To Fly

SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 13 (AP)—T. R. (Ted) Young, 39, manager of the Bossier City airport and operator school, was injured fatally Saturday at an air show exhibition of "how not to fly an airplane." He died of a skull fracture. Young was unable to get his plane out of a stunt spin started at 2,500 feet.

Willkie Asks Modification Of Lease Plan

Republican Leader To Go To England Soon For Visit

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie favors passage with modification of President Roosevelt's aid-to-Britain bill and plans a flying trip to England to survey the war situation.

Approval of the proposed "lend-lease" measure was announced by the 1940 republican presidential candidate yesterday and brought immediate comment from Alf M. London, who said:

"Mr. Willkie has revealed that to his position before the republican national convention he would not have been nominated.

The former Kansas governor, who himself was defeated on the republican presidential ticket in 1936, declared at Topeka that Willkie's position was "essentially the same as Mr. Roosevelt's."

Willkie tempered his support of the bill by declaring the powers it would grant the president should be "for a fixed term, not too far in the future" and that congress should not be "harried" into its passage.

His views were expressed in a statement he read to newsmen at his hotel headquarters and during an interview afterward.

Regarding his planned trip abroad, he disclosed he had already received permission to obtain a passport and would leave by Clipper within two weeks seeking personal contact with the situation—"just as I did when I was practicing law and wanted to know the facts of the case." He said he would see "most anybody who wants to see me."

After a stay in England of two or three weeks, he said he expected to resume the practice of law in New York.

Supreme Court Upholds Spy Convictions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The supreme court upheld today the conviction of two men—one a citizen of Russia and the other a Russian-born naturalized American—on a charge of violating federal anti-spy legislation by obtaining information from United States naval intelligence files.

Justice Reed delivered the opinion, which applied to Hafis Salich, former Russian employed by naval intelligence at San Pedro, Cal., and Mikhail Nicholas Gorin, a Soviet citizen employed by a Los Angeles tourist company.

No dissent was announced. Justice Murphy, former attorney general, did not participate.

Salich was alleged to have supplied Gorin with data from naval intelligence files in 1938 after Gorin had solicited information concerning "Japanese activities" in that area for use in the event of trouble between Japan and Russia. Salich was said to have received $1,700.

O'Daniel To Deliver Talk In 2 Sections

AUSTIN, Jan. 13 (AP)—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel will address a joint session of the legislature Thursday and Friday mornings, house officials said today.

The unusual procedure of receiving a governor's message in two installments will be followed at the request of Governor O'Daniel, it was stated. Each day he will talk about an hour.

O'Daniel will not be inaugurated until Jan. 22. The legislature convenes in its biennial general session at noon tomorrow.

Little Girl Who Had Never Seen A Movie Becomes Movie Actress

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 13 (AP)—The fairy queen touched Cinderella with her wand.... So today six-year-old Arlene Jackson, who has never seen a movie, becomes a movie actress.

Last week Arlene was playing in a children's home while her mother worked all day at a factory. Today she has a private dressing room, a stand-in, a wardrobe mistress and a hair-dresser. Most important, she has an income of $25 a day.

It all started when Director George Stevens, trying to cast a child for an orphan's part, remarked after two days of interviews: "That was nice." Arlene told her. "I never tasted any before."

British Flyers Machine-Gun German Soldiers In Trenches Along French Invasion Coast

SOME MORE ARMY HUMOR:

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Jan. 13 (AP)—Major William G. Moses, camp signal officer from Birmingham, Ala., was strolling through the Shelby reservation on a pitch black night.

Suddenly an interior guard cried: "Halt! Who's there?" "Major Moses," was the reply. The guard, believing that some smart private was ribbing him, said: "Advance, Major Moses, and recite the Ten Commandments."

RAF Makes Many Raids Over Europe

Airdromes, Shipping, Ports Among Targets Of British Airmen

LONDON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Flying daylight attacks on troops in trenches near the beach along the German-occupied French coast were reported by the air ministry today along with night bombing raids on the harbors of Brest, Le Havre and Lorient and targets in Italy and Germany.

Fires and bomb bursts were said to have been sighted at the three Nazi-occupied ports. German airdromes at Vannes, Nantes, Evreux and Morlaix also were reported attacked last night. Fires were set and some planes on the ground hit, a communique said.

Shipping and ground defenses were assaulted in the daylight raid yesterday, the fourth in succession by British bombers and fighters, and informed sources said they were designed to hamper preparations for the nightly raid assaults on Britain.

The British Press association commented that "it is significant that, since the first daylight raids upon the airdromes nearest our shores, the enemy's night attacks have been of briefer duration."

The ministry reported three fighter planes lost in the daylight attacks yesterday.

The entrenched troops were understood to be stationed in defense lines around emplacements of large guns used to bombard the Dover coast and ship convoys in the channel.

An authoritative source said the daylight gunning of German troops along the French coast was part of a campaign to force and defenses back from the channel by "making it hot for them."

In daylight raids on "enemy" shipping off the Norwegian coast, it was added, direct hits were made on two merchant vessels.

Earlier, an authoritative source reported that in offensive operations last night British aircraft attacked objectives in northern Italy as well as "invasion ports" and airdromes in German-occupied territory.

One source in discussing the new tactics for the British—of daylight raids described them as an outgrowth of increasing air strength.

"You can be sure that if we were seriously short of planes," he said, "we would not dare to risk losses in continuous daylight raids."

County's Cash Balance Drops

Howard county's cash balance dropped off during December on the eve of the last month rush for tax paying, but through Jan. 10, with current bills paid, all funds had an aggregate balance of $107,708.

This compared with $105,117 for a month ago. The road and bridge fund eased off from $29,855 to $27,775 during the month; a comparatively slight decline for the fund. Construction of the Coahoma-Vine and Moss Creek lake road jobs reduced the lateral road fund from $5,631 to $1,751.

Up to $27,086 was the general fund, representing a gain of approximately $1,900 for the month of December. The officers salary fund was $10,573, down by about $1,000. Interest and sinking balance was up around $2,000 to $21,105.

Receipts for December totaled $8,579, of which $3,290 went to the general fund, $1,381 to the road and bridge and $1,708 to the officers salary fund.

Disbursements from the road and bridge fund amounted to only $2,005. Regular and extra labor, material and supplies and repairs costs all were down sharply. Lateral road expenditures ran to $2,415, up by about $2,000. From the general fund $2,480 was expended and officers salary fund disbursement totaled $1,091.

Auditor Claud Wolf recommended that the county transfer $123,811 from the general to the road and bridge fund to care for gas and oil stock for the sheriff and county welfare association during the last half of 1940. In event machinery purchase exceed $15,000, he suggested commissioners amend the budget.

AUTO WRECK FATAL

HASKELL, Jan. 13 (AP)—Miss Viola Strickland, 39, of Brockington, was killed today and three persons injured when the automobile in which they were riding overturned eight miles east of here today.

Until she met Cary Grant and Irene Dunne, who play her parents in "Penny Serenade," she never had seen a movie star. But not a moment's nervousness did she show.

Then the "fairy queen," Miss Chevens, took her to lunch. Ice cream pie topped it off.

"That was nice," Arlene told her. "I never tasted any before."

Seven Reasons Why Women Are Flocking To Labor Markets

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON—A new census report on employment discloses the startling fact that every fourth American woman over 14 years of age is a wage earner, or wants to be one. The total is nearly 13,000,000.

This phenomenon in our labor force is no old bit of information for a radio quiz. It actually may be changing our way of life.

The number of women holding jobs today is equal to the total number of women in the nation in 1870. In those days it was unadvisable to work. But, to survive, 10 per cent of the women, or about 1,900,000, had to work for wages in 1870.

The shifting economic force of women has been slow through the years, until the last decade. In 1930, less than 17 per cent of all women were working for a wage envelope.

Take Your Choice
Ask Census Bureau officials what the sudden step-up in employed women means, and they'll give you answers which indicate that this is something to be alarmed or pleased or worried about, according to your own ideas of what women should do in life.

It means among other things that women in cities are working in far greater numbers than women in small towns and rural areas. For instance, more than 31 per cent of the women in South Bend, Ind., are working for wages.

The depression played a large part in this great shift of women into the labor market. When men lost their jobs, daughters and wives went out to hunt work. Some of them were stenographers who had given up their jobs to marry. Others were young women who entered the labor market for the first time.

The great increase in the service, trade and clerical occupations had a lot to do with it. Women are good at detail in such industries—good clerks, good typewriter operators, good stenographers and secretaries.

Machines A Factor
The great increase in machines requiring only semi-skilled work-that require intense detailed watching, but no special skill. It's also listed by the Census Bureau as an important cause of the shift. People buying homes, or women wanting fur coats and other luxuries their husbands' salaries will not supply, are examples of this force at work.

WORKING WOMEN

The Social Security laws are causing more workers in the higher age limits to leave their work. The minor work of older people who have been at a detailed job for many years can often be transferred to the shoulders of young untrained women.

Have More Time
Finally (and in the opinion of some investigators, the most important reason) the increase in women workers is due partly to the little gadgets around the house—electric irons, vacuum cleaners, electric sewing machines and a host of other things which make it easier for married women to keep house. They have more time for outside work.

Add that to the fact that food companies are processing their products so that palatable meals can be prepared in a twinkling—and you've got seven reasons why women are flocking to the labor markets.

Seven Rules To Delicious Vegetables

By Katharine Fisher

Director, Good Housekeeping Institute

Often we're asked, "How can I make my family like vegetables?" Sometimes we suspect that the family in question does like vegetables, but not when they are prepared in the way they've been getting them. In short, the cook, and not the vegetables, may be to blame. Nothing has less appetitive appeal than the vegetable which has been poorly cooked, which usually means cooked too long, or cooked in too much water. Poor seasoning, too, detracts from good flavor. Here are seven rules every cook should know and remember if her vegetables are to be the delicious, nourishing items on the menu that they ought to be.

1. In buying market vegetables, pass up those with wilted leaves and shriveled skins. Look around until you find a store with a quick turnover. Buy locally grown vegetables whenever possible.
2. Remember, too, that canned and quick-frozen vegetables are often better sources of vitamins than market ones, since they are picked at their prime and canned or frozen almost immediately after picking.
3. Wash the vegetables promptly and store them in the refrigerator in the vegetable crisper, or in refrigerator bags. Buy only enough leafy, green and yellow vegetables for two days, for they are perishable foods as far as vitamin values are concerned.
4. Pour not more than 1 inch of boiling salted water into a saucepan; add the vegetable, cover, and cook as quickly as possible. Use only enough water to keep the vegetable moist. You don't need to add any water to spinach and other greens, as the water that clings to the washed leaves is enough. The bit of water left may be boiled off or served with the vegetable. Water drained from cooked vegetables has been found to contain as much as half the vitamins and some of the minerals. So don't pour off half the goodness of your vegetables.
5. Just in case your family prefers a mild version of strong-flavored vegetables such as onions, cabbage, cauliflower, etc., you can cook them in boiling salted water to cover—with the saucepan cover off. But don't overcook them.
6. Test your vegetables from time to time, and take them off the heat when they test tender. There's nothing better than cauliflower, string beans, or cabbage with a hint of garden crispness. When done, season to taste.
7. Plan the rest of the meal so that when your vegetables are done dinner can be served. Keeping vegetables hot destroys vitamins.

To preserve the full flavor of canned vegetables—and most of their vitamins and minerals—here is a good method to follow: Drain off into a skillet or saucepan the liquor from such canned vegetables as peas, lima, and string beans. Boil the liquor down until only a third of it is left. Then turn in the canned vegetable, which is, of course, already cooked; heat, add the seasonings you like, and serve.

Crowning Touches For Trim Coiffures

AP Feature Service
A semi-circle of spiral brilliants brought this blonde coiffure into the spotlight. Fred Behr, the designer, planned these spirals especially to complement a coiffure with bangs. They can be used effectively across the back of a longer bob or around a bun for really long hair.

A pearl comb pins chignon curls slightly below the natural hairline in this suggestion of the Coiffure Guild of New York. The front can be pompadour or curls as you like. The important thing is that horizontal part near the center of the head. It starts the sleek effect.

A single rosette of brilliants set into the side of a pompadour is a trump trick, especially if you are wearing other jewelry. Quaint indeed is the idea of taking several of these big brilliant swirls to make a top-knot splash as substitute for grandmother's perfect pompadour.

Downtown Stroller

Hitched a ride with Mrs. W. W. Inkman and her daughter, Mrs. Maurice Koger. They came along just as we got to the hump in the hill. Probably never would have made it otherwise.

Met up with Mrs. Theo Willis, who was Dorothy Le Fever, on her way to work. She had her hair low on her neck and caught with a bow at the neck. Looked awfully cute.

Glady's Smith is another early bird, cause she was enroute to her job too. She seemed to get an unhealthy lot of glee out of seeing me marching up the street.

Talked with Willard Sullivan yesterday and got on that old subject—Missouri. We thought the weather was one of Missouri's best examples of a damp spring day. Almost made us homesick.

Talked with Mrs. Ray Shaw and she said the whole family had been drinking down gallons of fruit juices in an effort to avoid the flu. So far so good, she reported, if they don't founder on the fruit juices.

Talked with two boys over the weekend who are sitting around biting their nails waiting for the draft board to send them off during the next ten days. For the first time the whole idea seemed real and not just an abstract problem to be argued over pro and con.

Now is the Time to Beware of Contagious Colds!

At a treacherous time like this, with contagious colds all around you, what you do today may save you and your family a lot of sickness, worry and trouble later.

Follow these simple rules of health: Live normally. Avoid excesses. Eat simple food. Drink plenty of water. Keep elimination regular. Take some exercise daily—preferably outdoors. Get plenty of rest and sleep.

Then use these two time-tested treatments when needed.

AT THE FIRST SHUFFLE, SNEEZE OR SIGN OF NASAL IRRITATION... put a few drops of Vicks VapoRub up each nostril right away. This helps to prevent many colds from developing, because VapoRub is expressly designed to help Nature's own defenses against colds. (If a head cold causes stuffiness, you'll find that a few drops of VapoRub helps clear the clogging mucus and makes breathing freer and easier.)

IF A CHESTY COLD OR COUGHING COLD DEVELOPS (some colds get by all precautions) depend on Vicks VapoRub to relieve miseries. Rub VapoRub on throat, chest and back and cover with a warmed cloth. VapoRub acts to bring relief 2 ways at once. It stimulates surface of chest and back like a warming poultice. At the same time it releases helpful medicinal vapors that are breathed direct into the irritated air passages.

Both VapoRub and VapoRub have been tested through years of use in millions of homes. When you use these two medicines you are not experimenting, you are not taking needless chances. Remember: If the condition of the cold fails to respond quickly to treatment—or if more serious trouble is indicated—call your family physician right away. In the meantime be prepared! Get a bottle of Vicks VapoRub and a jar of Vicks VapoRub today—have them handy, ready to use.

Congress Begins Arguments On Lease And Lend Bill

Dream Forecasts Finding Of Money

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 13 (AP)—Ida Randall dreamed someone handed her three one dollar bills and the next night had a vision of holding a whole bankroll in her hands.

Two days later she went to the basement of her home hunting an old picture of herself.

"Something, I don't know what it was, made me tear out lining of a trunk my father used for camping trips before his death. I started to throw the lining and a newspaper which was behind it into the furnace. Then I saw a roll of bills, $200 in musty old national bank notes."

Assignment To Committee Is First Problem

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The administration won today the first congressional skirmish over its lease-lend bill for aiding Britain when the house upheld, procedure charted by the leadership for rushing consideration of the measure.

By a voice vote Speaker Rayburns assignment of the bill to the foreign affairs committee was approved and an effort by the military committee to bring the measure under its control was defeated.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—A tense congress braced itself today for the initial skirmish over the controversial aid-to-Britain bill, which received support from Wendell L. Willkie amid opposition efforts to curtail its scope.

As a prelude to momentous debates, the house was involved in an argument over committee jurisdiction. The military committee sought to take supervision of the bill away from the foreign affairs committee, but indications were that the house would reject the challenge.

In that event, public hearings on the program to lend or lease American-made military equipment to warring "democracies" could be started tomorrow.

Reflecting a myriad of interpretations of the bill's broad language, amendments being drawn were aimed at "de-generalizing" the virtual wartime powers it grants to the president. Others were designed to insure against jeopardizing domestic defense preparations while American-made guns, tanks, planes and ships were going to England and perhaps Greece and China.

As in the days before congress rewrote the neutrality act to permit munitions to go to belligerents on a "cash and carry" basis, advocates and opponents took to the radio last night to give a foretaste of the formal debates to come.

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont), who is organizing an opposition bloc in the senate, said during a radio forum that approval of the bill "means war—open and complete warfare."

Senator Lee (D-Okla), taking the other side, asserted: "America has only one chance to escape total war and that chance is England. England is the only barrier between America and a apism of blood. If that barrier reaks, America will have war and we will have it with odds heavily against us."

Mexican Electricity Rationed Further

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 13 (AP)—In a midst of consumer protests, Mexico City and the entire federal district prepared today to undergo a still sharper curtailment in the use of electricity which the government ordered Saturday.

Starting today all light and power services will be suspended daily between 11:00 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. and all stores, business houses and factories will have to shut at sundown, 7:00 p. m.

An unusually light rainy season and Mexico City's already over-taxed power facilities were held responsible for a shortage of current that might reach total exhaustion before the rains come again in June.

Sabine River Swamp Turned Into Shipyard

ORANGE, Tex.—Two months ago it was a swamp. Today it is a shipyard site.

When the navy decided to have a dozen $8,000,000 destroyers built here, the most likely site was a dismal marsh along the Sabine river.

So the construction company decided to wip out the swamp with some hard work, and that is what has been accomplished.

The 425,000-cubic yard dredging job has been completed. Sand from the Sabine river channel has been deposited through huge 24-inch pipe lines over the shipyard site and now the area has been packed into a firm foundation for the $100,000,000 shipbuilding work ahead.

Twins Upset Sergeant At Recruiting Station

MOBILE, Ala.—Sergeant H. P. Ernst of the army recruiting station here has fingerprints to thank for keeping him from going daffy.

James Beck, Geneva, Ala., applied for enlistment at the air corps school at Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala.

"I've enlisted him before," muttered Ernst.

Only after fingerprints were taken did Beck get his enlistment papers, so much did he resemble his twin brother who had enlisted several months ago.

"They look so much alike I don't see how anyone is going to tell them apart," said Ernst.

The twins will serve at Maxwell Field.

Stranded Americans In Europe Get Help

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Uncle Sam is making one more effort to bring his worried and war-trapped nieces and nephews back from Europe.

The state department, assisted by the American Red Cross, is repatriating cash-shy or destitute Americans who have remained in France through the war, either by choice or circumstances beyond their control.

Most have lost their property or their jobs and find it impossible to continue to live there under German occupation of northern France, increasing unemployment, and severe food rationing.

The Red Cross has undertaken to provide railway transportation and maintenance through Spain and Portugal to Lisbon.

The state department, utilizing a small emergency fund, is lending the destitute Americans money—against promissory notes—sufficient for minimum passage on steamships from Lisbon to the United States. The offer expires January 31.

Officials estimated that approximately 600 persons thus would be repatriated, including 500 from German-occupied France (mostly Paris), and 100 from unoccupied France.

The first group is en route to New York on American Export Line ships. The others will be returned home, 50 each trip, by either American, Spanish or Portuguese ships as quickly as they can leave France and reach Lisbon.

Officials here estimate that, even when the 600 are repatriated, about 1,500 Americans will remain in France, mostly along the Riviera.

Twelve hundred Americans in England would like to leave the bombings behind and come home, officials said, but there is no prospect at present that they can be repatriated as a group.

Mexican Indemnity Talks Resumed

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 13 (AP)—Mexico and the United States will shortly resume negotiations on a general indemnization settlement for American-owned farmlands expropriated by the Mexican government.

In the foreign office it was reported officials of both countries hoped to agree on a lump sum for the seized lands which Mexico would pay in annual installments of $1,500,000.

Similar payments are now being made to the United States and other countries for the property of their nationals destroyed during the republic's frequent revolutionary movements.

Porkers Hold Unsafe Lead In Southwest

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
DALLAS, Jan. 13 (AP)—Over in the Ozarks the tallest, if not one of the best, basketball teams in all Arkansas history has slipped a noose on the Southwest conference.

Tightening it is still another matter—one reserved for the closing chapters of a race already seeping storybook dramatics.

Dented by one defeat but blessed with enough talent to come back and challenge Arkansas is Rice Institute, defending champion. The Owls, weary from harrowing far up to Gotham's Madison Square Garden and back home again, lost to a brilliant University of Texas five in the conference inaugural, 37-48.

But four nights later they came back out and lashed the Texas Aggies, 68-34. The plump Frankie Carwell that Texas held to a single foul shot stood out on the rim of the foul circle and one-handed 24 points through the mesh to come within a single point of tying the conference scoring record. It wasn't the same Rice team that crumpled before inspired Texas.

It was the club that Arkansas must beat to win the title.

On Feb. 12 and 13, up in Razorback field house at Fayetteville, Rice makes its challenge. It should be one of the greatest two-game series in recent years. Arkansas, 50-38 and 44-34 winner over Texas last week, will have things cinched if they can handle Rice on those evenings.

But meanwhile, they have the Aggies to worry about next Friday and Saturday nights at Fayetteville. And Rice has business that could be dangerous. On Saturday night at Houston the Baylor Bears, a strange team that hasn't shown too much yet but has possibilities, take a whack at them. The Bears did all right in their opener against Texas Christian, 40-32. Beating Texas Christian this season is more than just exercise. The Christians have a solid five that won't collapse at any time.

Southern Methodist, with its great court Wilkerson, found out about T. C. U. in squeaking out a 35-34 decision. The Methodists make their second appearance against Baylor at Waco on Tuesday to open the week's play and then back to Dallas to await the Friday night invasion of Texas.

On Saturday night at Fort Worth, Texas challenges Texas Christian to fill out the second successive week of six games.

Off in the front ranks in the scoring derby, just as he was last season before forced out of the game with a broken ankle, is Arkansas' Johnny Adams. The rangy roper who led the conference as a sophomore two seasons ago, purred 32 points through the hoop in the Texas series. He is three points behind Carwell's 35 points.

Camera Evidence Sends Young Thief To Prison

Tilden Say Lenglen Greatest Of Great Women Tennis Stars

AP Feature Service
Susanne Lenglen, the French star, and a couple of California girls, Helen Wills Moody Roark and Alice Marble, rank as perhaps the greatest women players in tennis history.

Which was the best? That's a question which can be argued late into the night. Each reached her peak at a different time. But Bill Tilden, probably the all-time best of the male players and one who saw each of the girls at her best, gives top rating to Susanne.

Tilden says that for fine day-after-day play he believes Miss Wills was more consistent than Miss Marble. However, Big Bill concedes that Alice, on her best days, is possibly the most brilliant star tennis has known. "She possesses the widest range of shots," he explained, "and is certainly the finest of all women volleyers."

These players have passed on now and amateur tennis is searching for another queen. Miss Lenglen died in 1935. Mrs. Roark has virtually retired from competition and Miss Marble is a professional.

Miss Lenglen was the first of the better women players to turn professional. That was back in 1926 when she made a successful tour of this country. Mrs. Roark resisted the professional call but Miss Marble answered it after winning her third successive United States championship.

Alice beat Mary Hardwick, English star, in the first match of her winter tour in New York January 6. Accompanying them on the swing around the country are Tilden, still one of the greatest players at 48, and Donald Budge, perhaps the world's No. 1 star now.

Lookin 'em Over

WITH JACK DOUGLAS

Jodie Tate and Tink Riviere, new owners of the Odessa baseball club franchise and backers of Big Spring's efforts in the coming West Texas-New Mexico league, are moving their recently acquired material into the local precinct. When they closed their deal for the Odessa club, they also took title to every piece of equipment, lock, stock, and barrel.

Tate and Riviere are more than manager-promoters of Big Spring's baseball prospects—they've put their own money in the show, which means, friend, that they're doubly interested in making the club a financial success. And, since a money-making club is one that satisfies the paying customers—and the customers aren't happy if their boys fail to make a good showing, especially at home—Big Spring is likely to have a team this summer that can be supported by the local fans.

As we have said before, there is no reason why this can't be a consistently good baseball town. Big Spring has stood behind its clubs before, and, with a little help from the players, should do so again.

A couple of Big Springers are making a showing for themselves in scattered basketball circles. Bobby Savage has turned in a court game at John Tarleton college that has won him a place on Plowboy Coach Wisdom's cage crew, and Maxie Carrol is a regular member of a House of David quintet.

Savage has half of both games played by Tarleton to his credit—games that were won by the Plowboys, 51 to 27 and 54 to 35.

Carrol is now some place in the middle south, heading toward Texas. Midway of this month the bearded five goes on the hardwood in Paris, and then moves on to the Panhandle for a series of basket jousts. Up to date, the Bewhiskered Ones have dropped four games.

This spring weather, although strictly on the false side, is making tennis addicts prick up their ears and start testing the bounce of balls and tautness of rackets. Last year, Big Spring had a system of competition for local netters, but, according to some of those in charge, a plan is on foot to work out actual matched rounds, with a champion and all the fixtures.

Texas Coaches Get Impressive Lineup Of Teachers For School

ATHENS, Jan. 13 (AP)—Clark Shaughnessy's football ledgerman that brought him Rose Bowl glory will go through a clinic for a complete diagnosis.

When they get through delving into the intricacies of the T formation, there will be no secrets because the research is to be done at the world's largest coaching school.

The executive committee of the Texas High School Football Coaches association, meeting here over the week-end, picked Shaughnessy as one of the instructors for the annual school Aug. 4 to 9.

The T formation has intrigued the Texas mentors and they voted by a heavy majority to bring Shaughnessy here to demonstrate it.

Then, too, the rags to riches story of Stanford's miracle man was a major selling point. Some of the Texas coaches are going to have to do something of the same thing in order to hold their jobs and they figure Shaughnessy, who went from down-trodden Chicago to the Rose Bowl in one season, is just the guy to tell them how.

Jess Neely, who dug Rice out of the Southwest conference cellar to within breathing distance of the championship in one year, will be co-instructor.

The Texas coaches also want to find out about Frank Leahy and his Boston College team that clinaxed an unbeaten season with the Sugar Bowl title. Leahy will lecture on line play.

This impressive line-up of coaching school instructors cost a wad of cash but the association is an opulent organization that has more money than it knows what to do with. It has even discussed paying for athletic insurance in Texas high schools in order to use up some of the mounting reserve.

Shaughnessy, Neely and Leahy will give the inside of football to from 300 to 500 coaches. Shaughnessy and Neely also will coach the squads that play in the annual all-star game.

Where the school will be held is to be determined today.

There'll be some things for the Stanford coach to learn down here in Texas where the material is so good the college scouts pluck the stars off their own front doorsteps.

Twenty thousand boys play football in this state each season. There are plenty to go around with a nice overflow for colleges in adjoining states.

Cawthon Ends Philly Visit

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13 (AP)—Pete Cawthon, who conferred lengthily here with owners of the Philadelphia Eagles concerning the job of head coach for that National professional league football club, planned to leave today.

Bert Bell, co-owner of the Eagles with Art Rooney, said they had talked all yesterday with Cawthon, "but we haven't come to any definite understanding as yet. There probably won't be anything definite for some time as Pete wants to go back to Lubbock and think things over."

Cawthon, who resigned recently as coach of Texas Tech, arrived Saturday night and was guest of honor at a party given by Rooney and Bell.

Basketball's Leaders Meet

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—Upsets already have taken a fearful toll from the nation's foremost college basketball teams and the week ahead seems certain to pile the wreckage even higher.

In some cases nothing but cancellations could keep disaster from catching up with the standouts, because the hot and heavy schedule calls for undefeated teams and various league leaders to collide with each other in a grand coast to coast jumble.

As matters stand today the principal conference and independent leaders are:

East—Cornell and Dartmouth in the Ivy league; Villanova and Duquesne among the independents.

South—North Carolina and Richmond in the Southern conference and Florida in the Southeastern.

Midwest—Ohio State, Indiana and Minnesota in the Big Ten; Toledo of the Independents; Nebraska and Iowa State in the Big Six; Creighton and Oklahoma A. and M. in the Missouri Valley.

Southwest—Arkansas.

Rocky Mountain—Colorado State, Denver and Brigham Young.

Pacific Coast—Southern California and Stanford in the southern division; Oregon State and Washington in the north.

Kovacs Wins Net Tourney

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 13 (AP)—Lanky Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., is champion of the 17th annual Dixie tennis tournament.

He won the singles crown yesterday with a 6-0, 6-3, 6-2 win over Eddie Alloo, midwest Rollins College star from Winter Park, Fla.

Alloo reached the finals with upset victories over a trio of high-ranking players—Jack Kramer of Los Angeles, Bryan M. Grant of Atlanta and Bobby Riggs of Chicago.

Don McNeill of Oklahoma City and Kramer won the doubles championship from Frank Guernsey of Orlando, Fla., and Russell Bobbitt of Atlanta, 6-1, 7-5, 6-2.

Among those entering Malone and Hogan Clinic-Hospital recently were Ben McCullough, for medical treatment; Mrs. Roy Green, minor surgery; Carl Weaver, Midland, medical attention; and M. Stynes, Crawford hotel, medical attention.

Light-Heavy Title Match Set Tonight

CLEVELAND, Jan. 13 (AP)—Power versus speed and stamina is the size-up of tonight's battle here for the world's light-heavyweight title.

Ex-champion Melio Bettina, the rugged scrapper from Beacon, N. Y., and Anton Christoforidis of Greece, who reigned over all the middleweights of Europe when the fighting was still in the ring, will go 15 rounds or less.

The National Boxing association, declaring Billy Conn automatically abdicated by failing to defend his crown, has labelled the bout a title match.

Southpaw Bettina is the better puncher and, at 174 or so, will carry about a seven-pound weight advantage. He dropped the crown to Conn after only six months on the throne and has been busy slugging his way back up the ladder since.

The New Yorker, an unorthodox portlander, throws his best punches with his right hand. Christoforidis' Sunday blow is a left hook.

The speedy Greek is a keen strategist and his handlers say he has mapped an attack to get his left through Bettina's defense.

The 15-pound distance will favor Christoforidis. He fought several 20-rounders in Europe and has been a strong finisher since coming to this country.

Bettina enjoys a slight edge in experience and this factor added to his powerful punching made him a 15 to 10 favorite in late betting.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—Week's wash in the football dodgers are denying Larry MacPhail has a ten per cent slice of the club.

...They're organizing a drive to have bookmaking legalized when and if racing returns to New Orleans. ... There are two open dates on this year's Boston College grid schedule and the papers up there think one of them would be a good spot in which to launch a new B. C.-Fordham series. ... The teams haven't met since away back when the Eagles were pretty small football potatoes. ... Cubs are the first big league team out with a 1941 player roster. ... A beaming Jimmy Wilson is featured on the cover.

Reasons and Reasons—
The Ohio High School Football Coaches' association is 100 per cent behind Paul Brown for the Ohio State job. ... for one thing, Paul is fine fellow and a fine coach. This Massillon teams have lost only one game in the last 60. ... For another, some of the other boys wouldn't mind winning a state championship once in a while.

Quick Look-Around—
At last! Here's a guy who's smart enough to quit while he's on top. Eddie Leahman, who piloted Twin Falls, Idaho, and Spokane, Wash., to pennants in his first two years as a manager, is retiring. ... What have the country boys got that the city slickers haven't when it comes to playing ball—for instance Devil's Slide (pop. 321) won the Utah sandlot championship and Minter City (pop. 350) was the Mississippi winner. ... Virginia Lee Graham, 12, plays second base for the boys' team of a Wyoming, Ill., grade school and is a .300 hitter. Also, she is a regular on the boys basketball team. ... Laff-of-the-week: Ancel Hoffman saying Max Baer won't fight Joe Louis again until Joe regains his reputation and gets hot again. Nuts.

Today's guest star—
Lynn C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "Bert Bell is still shopping for a Philadelphia Eagle coach with a high-sounding name. ... And when they get him, let him bring his football team along, too."

52-Year-Old Wins PGA Tournament

SARASOTA, Fla., Jan. 13 (AP)—His first start in the National PGA seniors' golf tournament brought 52-year-old Jack Burke of Houston, Tex., the championship.

Using an old home-made aluminum putter, the veteran pro came through with a 142 total in the 36-hole medal play event. He succeeded Otto Hackbarth of Cincinnati, who did not compete.

Big Spring Polo Squad Nosed Out

Although they fell by a one-point margin, in a game that ended 10 to 9, Big Spring's poloists hit their stride Sunday afternoon in a tilt with Lamesa's White Riders at Lamesa.

"Hottest and fastest game we've played so far," was the tab put on yesterday's performance.

Dr. M. H. Bennett chalked up three counters for the Big Springers to take scoring honors for the visiting quartet.

Riding under the local colors were Bennett, Lewis Rix, Lloyd Wasson, Lee Barron, and Gus White, Jr.

White, Sr., Elre Barron, Red Barron, and Sol Cleveland carried the mail for the hosts.

A crew of local poloists, composed of Bennett, Barron, White, Jr., and Jay Floyd, will go to San Antonio next week to enter a two weeks tournament, according to present plans.

Douglass Hotel Bowlers Drop Two, Win One

Douglass' hotelmen dropped two and won one match in a bowling meet with Palomar's keggers at San Angelo Sunday night. This was the first foray made by the local crew in the current season.

High point mark of the night went to Julius Frits and Son Emerson of the San Angelo team. J. C. Loper and Jake Douglass tallied the top spot for Big Spring's lineup. High single game honors were topped by Frits' 236, with Big Spring's Rat Ramsey trailing in second with 218.

Pete Howze, Mel Richards, Douglas, Ramsey and Loper made up the visiting crew. A six-man San Angelo team had J. O. Alexander, Pat O'Hara, Bomar Horton, Emerson, Jake Tally and Frits on the roster.

Odessan Wins $85 In Golf At Oakland

OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 13 (AP)—Oakland's fifth annual $5,000 open golf tournament was finished for most of the boys today but three musketeers were still shooting for what amounted to half the original prize.

Tied with 72-hole totals of 176 and prepared to battle it out at 18 holes, E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, Ben Hogan and Leonard Dodson had an early afternoon date to settle ownership of $1,500 first prize, $750 second money and $550 consolation.

Fourth place money of $450 went to Harry Cooper of Chicopee, Mass., with a 279.

Defending champion Jimmy Demaret, Houston, with 282, won $250. Jim Walkup, Odessa, Tex., 284, won $88.

Gibraltar was besieged by the Spanish in the 18th century for three years and seven months, without success.

Repairs Asked In Liquor Leaks

(Herald Austin Bureau)
AUSTIN, Jan. 13.—Rep. Tom W. Deen of Floydada believes he has a plan to stop a big leak in the liquor control law.

In order to restrict the sale of medicinal liquor in dry counties, he is considering a bill to require the doctor who gives prescriptions and the druggist who sells the whiskey to make weekly reports to the county clerk.

"These reports would have to be turned in every Monday," he explained. "They would list the names of persons who bought prescription whiskey the week before, how much they bought, and what disease they were suffering from, according to the doctor."

"The reports, of course, would be a matter of public record, and anyone could come into the county clerk's office and see them. Persons whose names appear too often may have to do a lot of explaining."

Rep. Deen suggested a fine of $100 to $200 as a penalty for failure to file the weekly reports under oath. He suggested stiffer penalties might be provided to discourage the use of fictitious names on the reports.

More than 97 per cent of automobiles stolen in the first nine months of 1940 were recovered.

Of all sections of the country, New England has the lowest rate of robberies.

Cutting Horse Contest Planned

FORT WORTH, Jan. 13.—The champion cutting horse of the southwest will be picked at the forty-fifth annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show in Fort Worth, March 7-16.

Plans for the contest were announced Saturday by John B. Davis, secretary-manager of the show. It will be a featured event at each of the matinee performances of the world championship rodeo and horse show.

Top cutting horses from the leading ranches of the southwest cattle country are expected to be entered in the contest. Entries will be limited to 36 horses, each of whom will be seen in action with a cowboy working cattle in the rodeo arena. Entries will close February 15.

Six horses will be seen in action at each of the first six matinee performances beginning Saturday, March 8. At the two succeeding afternoons show the semi-finals of the contest will be run off, four horses being picked for competition in the final contest at the closing rodeo show on the night of February 16.

Three money winners will be placed at each performance with prizes as follows: first, $25; second, $20; and third, $15. The owner of the champion cutting horse which will be chosen in the finals will be awarded a trophy.

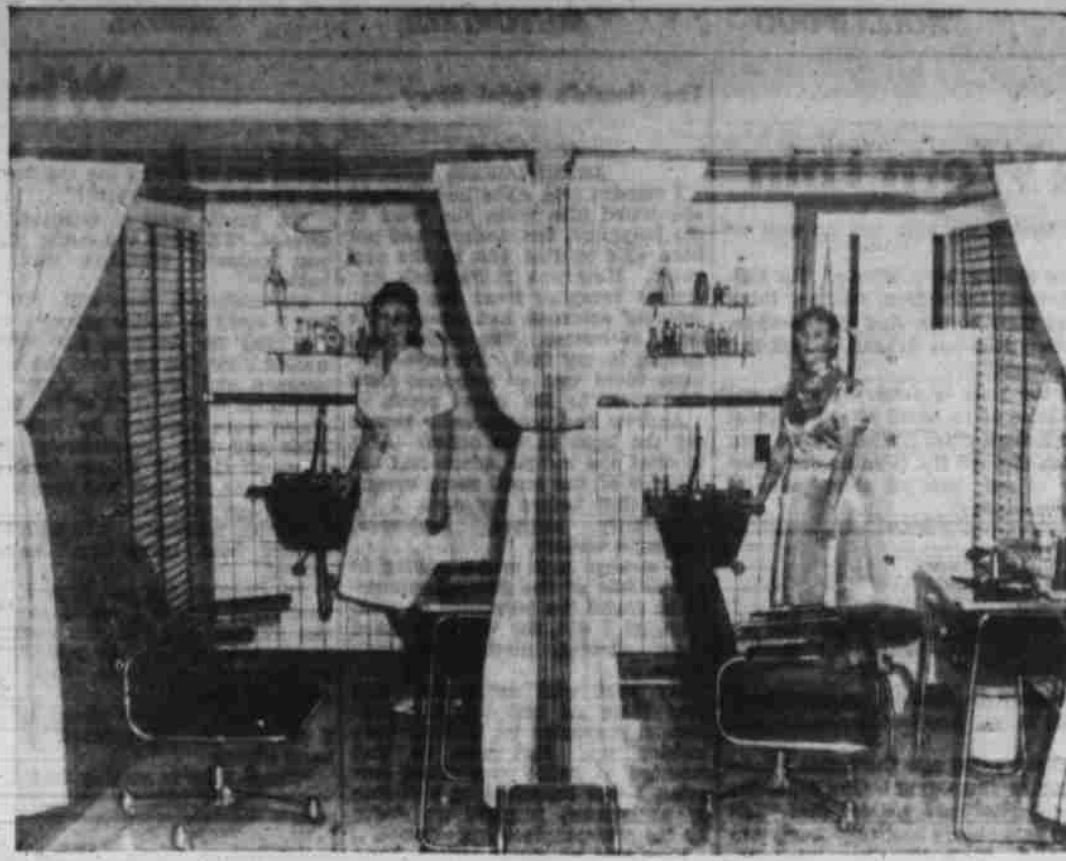

Plymouth Sales Set New Record

DETROIT—Total new car sales of Plymouth division of Chrysler Corporation for the 1940 calendar year were the greatest for any year in this company's history, it was announced today by J. E. Bayne, general sales manager.

Year-end reports on Plymouth's domestic factory sales for the twelve-month period, covering both passenger and commercial cars, reached a total 48 per cent above the 1939 calendar year, the factory official said.

"Upward trend of domestic sales reports since the introduction of 1941 models," he said, "makes the new 1941 Plymouth the biggest selling model in this company's record-breaking history. The designs and engineers who developed this year's valuable improvements have again scored a bull's-eye in public favor—a fact which Plymouth's splendid dealer organization has quickly translated into a record of increased sales which speaks for itself."

"It must be remembered that Plymouth repeatedly secured new sales records during the darkest years of the depression, when automobile sales in general were falling off. These sales peaks are milestones of achievement in the automobile industry—to which this new all-time sales record adds another chapter by gaining for Plymouth the greatest public acceptance in its history."

Insurance Men To Meet In Dallas

Big Spring life insurance producers who have been invited to attend the Dallas session January 30 of the annual tri-city sales congress of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters were advised today through President H. A. Stegner of the Big Spring association that a highlight of the program will be an address by a national authority who has been a million dollar personal producer as well as an outstanding manager of salesmen.

The speaker will be Stanley E. Martin of Columbus, O., a leader in the National Association of Life Underwriters. Mr. Stegner was notified by President John A. Monroe, Jr., of the Dallas association.

Metcalfe Sponsors Truck-Load Bill

(Herald Austin Bureau)
AUSTIN, Jan. 13.—A bill to exempt agricultural products and livestock from the 7,000-pound truck load limit law will be sponsored in the 47th legislature by Sen. Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo.

Metcalfe's bill will be designed to give relief to farmers and ranchmen who transport their produce by truck, in the event the movement to repeal the 7,000-pound law should fail.

Sen. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg and Rep. Lonnie Alsop of Carthage will sponsor companion measures in the senate and the house to raise the load limit on all goods transported by truck according to a scientific formula.

Pontiac Reports Higher Sales

Deliveries of new Pontiac cars for the final ten days of December were 7,773 making the total for the last month of the year 23,851, according to D. U. Bathrick, general sales manager. This brings the total for the 1940 calendar year up to 239,402.

Used car sales were equally good with 12,317 for the final ten day period, 37,432 for the month of December and 449,097 for the year 1940. Used car stocks were turned 11.5 times during the year or an average of once every 31.5 days.

"General business expansion, growing employment, bigger payrolls throughout the country, together with improvements made in our product plus the fine stability of our dealer organization during 1940, have been largely responsible for the fine Pontiac sales record in the year just closed," said Bathrick.

"Further return in these basic factors should continue to have a beneficial effect on Pontiac sales in 1941," he concluded.

New Owner Takes Over Beauty Shop

Under new management is the Crawford Beauty Parlor but the only thing changed about the establishment is the first name of the new owner. It is still the Crawford Beauty Parlor. It is still owned by a Mrs. Martin. But instead of Mrs. Etta Martin, it is now Mrs. Oscar Martin who is in charge.

Mrs. Oscar Martin took over the ownership and management of the shop on January 4th and will still have the same girls employed.

The operators include Mrs. J. F. George, Odessa Crenshaw, Juanita Young, Mrs. Dora Jones, Mrs. Eva Godfrey. The shop has such fine equipment as six turboaster dryers, a pre-heated machine for permanent, an electrical steamer, a machineless wave machine. And the shop uses all nationally-known and advertised supplies.

Mrs. Oscar Martin has resided for seven years in Big Spring and was formerly in the cafe and hotel business here. As she phrased it, "It is my first venture in the beauty parlor business but I know I'm going to like it."

The present owner has experienced operators and a large clientele and the only change in the set-up will be in the ownership.

Mrs. J. E. Kelly and Mrs. P. L. Daniels and children were Midland visitors Friday.

James Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Webb of Stanton, underwent an appendectomy in the Stanton hospital.

Mexico Will Buy U. S. Armaments

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 13 (AP)—Sources in the ministry of national defense reported today that a substantial share of the department's $100,000,000 peso budget this year would be used to purchase modern arms and supplementary equipment from the United States.

The army's general staff was reported particularly interested in bolstering its well-trained force with warplanes and motorized equipment.

The Sunday school is much more highly developed in North America than on any other continent.

Editorial - - Alibis For City's Appearance Worn Thin

If a newcomer to Big Spring, his appreciation of beauty shocked by the city's unsightly appearance, asks why people do not make their homes look better, the average local answers:

"Well, it's hard to have a nice place here because the water is so high and the soil is so bad."

We wonder if the price of water has any bearing on the price of paint? Could we not paint our houses as regularly as residents of other towns? We do not.

And do soil conditions make fences sag, garage doors hang off their hinges and junk litter up our yards? A little work will remedy all these much-too-present ills in Big Spring on poor soil as well as good.

Residents of Big Spring have allowed the soil-and-water excuse prevent them from doing a thing about appearances of their homes. And all the while, cleanliness of premises does not depend on soil and water at all, but on work.

None of us are too poor to rake the trash out of our front yards. Most of us could afford to paint our property a little more often. Whether we can afford to haul in rich dirt for the lawn or use great quantities of water or not, let's all start paint-up and clean-up campaign—today!

Washington Daybook - - The Old Senate Ain't What It Used To Be

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—To the handful of new senators who are just settling in their chairs for the first time—some don'ts in the senate that might have been Do's if you had taken your seat a long time ago.

1. Don't carry firearms onto the senate floor. Just because Vice President Van Buren used to preside with a brace of pistols in his jeans, don't think it's an old senate custom to work armed. Since the days when Senator Foote of Mississippi drew his trusty derringer on a colleague and some years later when Senator Sausbury tried to shoot the sergeant-at-arms, packing a gun in the senate has been looked on with high disfavor. There's even a rule that you have to check your six-gun at the door.
2. Don't invite ladies to visit you on the senate floor. There was a day, as one lady observer put it, when "The senate chamber was crowded to crushing with ladies. I never go on such squeezing occasions." And again when "It was supposed yesterday there were 300 ladies, besides their beaus on the floor of the senate." Those days are gone forever. As far back as 1924, "Something of a sensation was caused by entrance of a woman to the floor, outside the bar, accompanied by two senators. It proved to be Frau Schreiber, who, being a member of the German Reichstag, was entitled to the privilege of the floor." The gallery is the place for women nowadays.
3. Don't prepare any speeches with the idea that you are going to deliver them on the floor and sway any pending legislation. Sen. Carter Glass: "In the 28 years I have been a member of one or the other branches of congress, I have never known a speech to change a vote."

Man About Manhattan - - Columnist Pauses To Discuss Mumps

NEW YORK—I must warn you that I have come down with the mumps and that anything you read here within the next week or so will be written in bed.

I am a little sorry for those friends who have unwittingly exposed themselves to me, for I have attended parties in many of their homes, and I wouldn't be surprised if half of them are down with it too in a very few days.

As for myself, I will not pretend that the prospects of a week in bed are distasteful to me. When people think you are suffering, which I am not, they bring you books and send you notes and flowers. Already I have half a dozen interesting-looking books which I have not read, including "Trelawny," and "Embezzled Heaven," and "For Whom the Bell Tolls." I also have an elephant with a red ribbon around his neck and sprouting a small century plant. And one of my friends has also brought me a portable typewriter to use in bed, mine being at the office and unavailable.

So you can see that the prospects of the days just ahead are not altogether unattractive. I feel no pain, and though my cheeks are swollen to half again their normal size, I would never know anything was the matter with me but for the merry shouts of my friends when they first come upon me or the evidence to be found everytime I gaze into a mirror.

The postman rang twice today, this morning with notes from Frank Smith, publisher of the American Press, Lake Charles, La., which is my old home town; from Joe Glaston in California and to whom I am indebted for as handsome a fitted traveling case as I have ever seen; from Meymo Holt, the dancer; Woody Herman, the orchestra leader, and Owen C. Orr, a St. Joseph, Mo., boy who made good in the big city and now lives in Los Angeles.

When the postman came back again he brought a new album of recordings by Andy Iona and his orchestra, and also some recordings by Bonnie Baker and by Kay Kyser. The Bonnie Baker recording reminded me of a polite and I suppose entirely excusable little fish she told me when she was in New York. There was so much talk about her being married to Orrin Tucker, the orchestra leader, that I asked her whether it were true. "No," she said and her eyes became solemn as owls. "I'm not married; I'm not engaged; I'm not even in love. I'm just one of the gang." I then said, "I can print this in good faith, can't I?" "Sure," she told me. "I really mean it." Well, according to the news stories recently, Bonnie isn't just "one of the gang." . . . But then what of it? I never could hold grudges against brides anyway.

With my head puffed out like a pillow I am naturally not abating, and by the end of the week I ought to be able to pass for Jeb Stuart at least. My beard and hair grow very fast. I remember reading somewhere once that cleft chins, and fast-growing nails and hair were indications of degeneracy; and being young at the time I may have wondered about it if a portrait of the author hadn't revealed him to be altogether bald and with almost no chin at all.

The only medicine they're giving me is camphorated oil; first you paint your cheeks and neck with it, then you tie a linen towel about your head. The effect must be comical, but then the odor is pleasant and that is something anyway.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds - - Show Mingles Murder And Philosophy

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—"Flight From Destiny." Screenplay by Barry Trivers from story by Anthony Berkeley. Directed by Vincent Sherman. Principals: Thomas Mitchell, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Jeffrey Lynn, James Stephenson, Mona Maris, Jonathan Hale, David Bruce, Thurston Hall.

A kindly old professor of philosophy with six months to live takes an academic approach to death: what socially useful thing can he do with his remaining time?

"Commit a socially useful murder," suggests one of a group to whom he puts his (to them) hypothetical question.

Academically, the suggestion interests him. Practically, it grows on him as he discovers that one evil woman (Maris) is threatening the happiness and future of two of his young friends (Lynn and Fitzgerald). With scholarly precision, he collects data on the woman, finds her past filled with evil and betrayal, making her the ideal candidate for murder unless she repents.

She does not repent. He kills her. He is condemned to die. At any time he wishes he can cheat the chair, and he is philosophically content with his deed until the social fallacy in his self-appointed judgment of human beings is brought dramatically to light.

"Flight from Destiny" is an engaging tale, splendidly acted, directed simply and with precision. And posing an intriguing question. It could have been, with other treatment, something of a bore. Instead, it is delightfully human, fresh, and entertaining. Funny scene: the professor turning the tables on the psycho-analyst who's trying to prove him insane.

"This Thing Called Love." Screenplay by George Seaton, Ken Englund, P. J. Wolfson from play by Edwin Burke. Directed by Alexander Hall. Principals: Rosalind Russell, Melvyn Douglas, Ailyn Joselyn, Gloria Dickson, Lee J. Cobb, Leona Maricle, Binnie Barnes, Gloria Holden.

There are some laughs in this bedroom farce (played largely outside the bedroom), but a story dealing solely with a husband's efforts to win his wife away from her platonic platform becomes monotonous after the first couple of reels. Rosalind and Douglas, as brilliant as usual, deserve better.

"Hudson's Bay." Screenplay by Lamar Trotti. Directed by Irving Pichel. Principals: Paul Muni, Gene Tierney, Laird Cregar, John Sutton.

Mr. Fran, M'sieu Moo-nee, he dees-co-vaire the reech Hodson Bay, and he bring back plenty fur, plenty goods, plenty scenery but not so much entertainment, non! My Fran, M'sieu Moo-nee, he sing-song his Canadian talk tres, tres jolles—but I'd have liked less sing-song and more Territory.

The Herald's Serial Story

Who Killed Aunt Maggie?

By Medora Field

Chapter 45
INTERLOPER

I remembered Alice had thought she heard him when she went to the basement, but Andrew had not been able to find him in the coal chute. How was it Plutarch was always escaping from the office? Because someone had opened the door, of course. The office—I sprang to my feet. Perhaps—perhaps there was an entrance from that room to the secret room.

Andrew had economically turned off the light in the office. As I touched the switch button and the interior of the small room sprang into being before my eyes, I involuntarily stepped backward, stifling a scream.

A strange man was standing in the middle of the floor. Apparently he found the encounter as awkward as I did, for we both stood there silently, staring at each other.

My first wild conclusion was that there at last was the suspicious character we had all been looking for. But even in that moment of initial shock and surprise, I was conscious of a feeling of anticlimax, inspired no doubt by his commonplace appearance.

Here was no movie villain. Here was no devil with horns and tail. Here was only a stockily built young man of perhaps thirty, a little on the hard-boiled side and rather flashily dressed, it is true, but otherwise not at all remarkable looking.

But appearances are often deceiving, and I told myself that I must be very clever and engage him in unsuspecting conversation until I could pull the bell cord and summon Andrew. I could scream, if necessary, but it would be much better to be calm and take him unawares. So I said, somewhat weakly, "I didn't know there was anyone in here."

He grinned, disclosing an impressive gold tooth. "Place is lousy with police."

"What?" I asked stupidly.

"Plain-clothes man," he explained, flipping his coat lapel.

"Oh," I said, not quite convinced, "but remembering that Lieutenant Gregory momentarily expected someone from the solicitor general's office. It could be true."

"Then," I suggested, trying to keep the doubt out of my voice, "you'll want to see Lieutenant Gregory?"

"Yes," he agreed. "In a few moments. Just doing a little reconnoitering. Like to go over the ground and form my own conclusions, you know."

"Oh," I said again, inanely.

"Bright," he reassured me. "Call Gregory if you want to. Just delay things is all." As I hesitated, he went briskly on. "But you can help me if you will. You want to get this cleared up, don't you? Now, I gather the bedrooms in this shack are on the next floor. How about sort of giving me the layout of who has which room?"

"If you'll wait a moment," I offered. "I'll have the butler show you around. Wouldn't that be better?"

He hesitated, then said, "Okay, but I could do better alone."

I rang for Andrew, and as we waited I led the way into the back passage and explained that the bedrooms on the right of the back stairs were occupied by Bob and Kirk and Bill respectively and those on the left by our feminine guests, one of whom had been murdered that afternoon.

"Pretty wholesale slaughter around here, looks like," he observed.

As Andrew did not appear immediately, I said I would step to the kitchen and ask the cook to locate him. "Oh, never mind," my visitor told me airily. "I'll get along all right."

"I'll send Andrew along later," I promised as he vanished up the back stairs.

"Them bells is ringing in all directions," Bessie explained, as I entered the kitchen. "Andrew's done gone to the front door and I was comin' to the office just as soon as I could get my apron changed."

"It's all right," I told her. "Just tell Andrew that a plain-clothes policeman is snooping about upstairs and that I would like it if he would sort of keep an eye on him and see that he reports to Lieutenant Gregory. I'll tell Mr. Bill if he ever gets out of the library."

I went back to the office but I still could find no sign of any hidden entrance. I would try the basement stairs and see if I could hear Plutarch as Alice had claimed.

It seemed to me that the single bulb which lit the back passage had never cast so pale a light nor the little room itself seemed so remote from the rest of the house. But I must go on if that hunch about Plutarch was to be investigated. I opened the door cautiously and began the descent to the basement.

And there on the landing, a line from the jingle came back to me. "Steps up, steps down..."

"Steps? Steps could be stairs, of course. Perhaps I had thought of it because of the fact that I was standing with stairs above and below. But, of course, that was true of so many places in the house. All the way from the basement landing to the third floor by way of these same back stairs, Aunt Maggie had been killed in the passage with steps leading up and down....

In a fever of excitement I decided that I would go and drag Bill from Lieutenant Gregory's clutches. Somewhere around some of these stairs....

Then it was that I seemed to hear, ever so faintly, a series of muffled moans. But try as I might, I could not decide which direction they came from. "Plutarch," I called. "Plutarch." Faintly the answer came back, but I was just as much at sea as ever.

Life again is evidence of what might be considered my greatest strength—grandfather's eccentricity. Straight in front of me, as I stood on the landing, was a door leading down into the game room. To the left is another, leading to the furnace room. In my ancestor's day part of the game room had been a wine cellar. The present furnace room had provided space for provisions. It was because he wished them to be entirely separate that he had individual stairways built down from the landing.

I opened one door, then the other, calling out to Plutarch as I did so, but no sign of any white cat. I called again, and again heard Plutarch's plaintive meow. But where could he be? On my right was only a wall which I had always thought stood flush against a wall of earth.

But as I looked at it now, I saw that it, too, was fashioned to look like a door, except that there was no door handle. Of course, this might have been simply to provide a uniform effect.

But suddenly I was certain that Plutarch's cry had come from behind this wall. Here, I knew, was the secret room. The answer to everything that had happened.

Caution whispered to go back and wait for Bill. But, I thought, no harm in just to see if it is the door. Just to see if it will open.

I banged on the paneling. Was that a hollow sound that came back? In my excitement I could not be sure. I sought in vain for some secret spring to press. I ran my hands up and down the outside of the frame. Perhaps somewhere....

Then suddenly an abyss opened under my feet and I was falling.... falling....

A steep flight of steps broke my fall somewhat. Except for this and the fact that I had thrown out my arms and happened to grasp the stair rail on one side, there is little doubt that I would have landed on the brick floor with a broken neck.

Even so, I was sure that I was just a nice little bag of broken bones, afraid to move lest I find that I could not. As I lay there in the dark, for the opening through which I had fallen had closed behind me, something soft and alive rubbed against me and I screamed at the top of my voice. Also I involuntarily drew away, and this showed me that at least I could move.

My scream was answered by a loud and petulant meow close at hand, and I realized with hysterical relief that it was Plutarch who had rubbed against me.

"How did you get here?" I asked him, as he rubbed against me again. And although Plutarch could not tell me, the answer, of course, was that somebody had opened that concealed trap door on the landing and Plutarch either had followed that someone down the steps or had been brought down.

The latter supposition did not sound very plausible, for after all there was no reason to conceal the unlikely animal. Nor was there reason to think that Plutarch had followed anyone in particular, for he is a fairly friendly cat with the usual feline curiosity and would have trailed anybody who did not actually kick him aside.

"The presence of Plutarch, therefore, was no clue to the discoverer of this underground retreat, which I knew must be the secret room.

Alone at last with the object of my frantic search—the secret room—my one desire was to escape. I had no wish to linger in the dark or to be discovered there by the murderer. But having landed with my right foot doubled under me, the ankle was giving me various and assorted fits. Otherwise, I seemed to have no injuries beyond bruises. I tried to rise, but the ankle hurt so badly that I was forced to sink down on the bottom step.

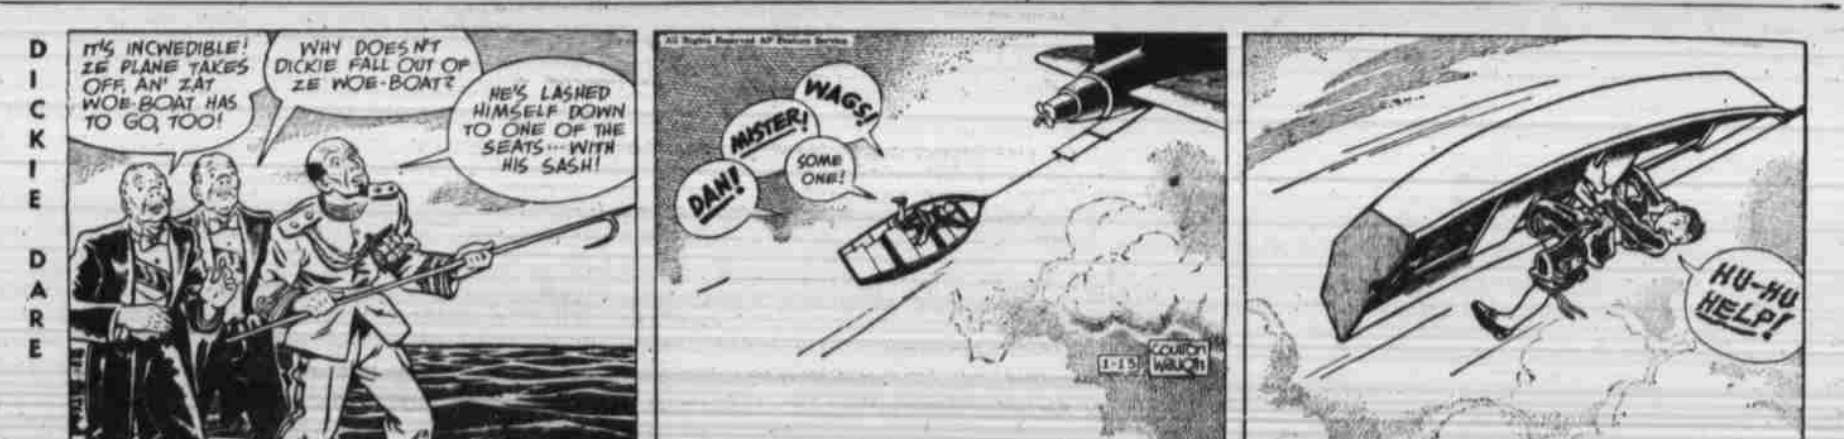

"Just an old-fashioned girl," I told myself in bitter disgust. "A sprained ankle."

Letters addressed to Greece must now be carried around the Cape of Good Hope into the Indian ocean and thence overlaid through Iran and Turkey.

South Dakota Highways

Biggest Taxpayer Item

PIERRE, S. D.—Highways cost South Dakota taxpayers more than any other item, a report on 1939 state expenditures discloses.

Approximately $6,000,000 was spent to build and improve roads. Social welfare work cost the state $3,785,000 and financing the state debt $3,429,000.

21 Names Listed On C Of C Ballots

Twenty-one names instead of 20 will go out to chamber of commerce members today or Tuesday in final balloting for directors of the organization.

An additional name was included in the list of nominees named by the membership after several had tied for one of the 20 top spots.

Nominees selected by the membership were: Cliff Wiley, J. L. LeBlou, Orlis Bristow, Pat Kenney, E. O. Ellington, V. H. Flewelling, B. L. LeFevre, Manley Cook, James Little, Ira Thurman, R. L. Tollett, H. W. Smith, Carl Blomsheld, R. W. Whippley, Thomas J. Coffey, J. C. Douglass, Jr., Dave Duncan, W. L. Mead, O. H. McAllister and W. S. Satterwhite.

Voting covered an enormous spread, only 13 votes separating the high man and those tied for inclusion as nominees. Out of 442 names on the membership list, no less than 375 received some votes.

Voting for directors will continue through the week. After canvassing the returns, officials will call the new board into session to select a nominating committee for officers and appointive directors. New directors and officers will be introduced at the annual chamber banquet on Jan. 23.

Here And There

When city workers began digging in the alley between Main and Runnel near E. 3rd street, their picks brought up a pile of old rusted horse shoes. Old timers immediately recalled a black smith shop on the location years ago when the Cosmopolitan (Stewart) hotel was located nearby. Some thought the Earl of Aylesford had had a shop located at that point when he owned the hotel.

Tom Beasley, formerly of this city and now with the state fire insurance commission in Austin, was here over the weekend. Tom is learning to fly. His latest thrill occurred last week when foggy weather forced him down in a farmer's oat patch between Austin and San Antonio.

Car collisions reported over the weekend include: Joe Barron, driving a car owned by Weldon Engle, and George Dempsey at Gregg and the old highway intersection south of town and Paul Milam, Ackery and Raymond Garner at Gregg and 3rd streets. None was hurt in either collision.

Officers were searching for a 1938 or 1939 model maroon Ford with aluminum colored fenders. Ralph Rios, Muleshoe, gave this description to officers on a car which was reported to have struck Salvador Lopez, Mexican, on N. Gregg street Sunday night. Driver of the car fled.

E. V. Spence, city manager, was flustered when he got a certain bill for gas and oil Monday. He contacted the station owner and found someone apparently had called up, imitated his voice and secured a tank of gasoline and oil. The manager said that the city would give written orders for all purchases—but none would be given to transients for fuel.

Schmeling Won't Fight—In Ring

BERLIN, Jan. 13 (AP)—Max Schmeling, former world heavyweight boxing champion, has been denied an army furlough to accept a challenge by Heinz Lapek, Viennese heavyweight, for the European boxing championship.

The reason given today was that the German fighter's "parachute training has reached the stage which demands extreme exertion and the most intense concentration."

His actress wife, Anny Ondra, declared:

"Max will fight soon—but not in the boxing ring."

First Glascock Selectee Leaves

GARDEN CITY, Jan. 13—Band music and speeches were heard here Sunday as Glascock county residents wished T. D. James Daves godspeed as the county's first selective service recruit.

He left for Big Spring Sunday evening for Fort Bliss at El Paso. At ceremonies Sunday in Garden City, N. P. Taylor, school superintendent, and the Rev. Blair Morris, Baptist pastor, spoke, and the band furnished music for the occasion. Glascock county was not required to send a man under the initial draft call.

University Of Texas Names Folk Lore Research Director

(Herald Austin Bureau)

AUSTIN—The University of Texas this week took a step which will have its effect on almost every community in the state.

W. A. Owens, one-time A. & M. faculty member, was named director of research in folk material for the university extension division.

His job will be to supervise, coordinate and encourage the collection and revival of folk dances, songs, games and stories which spring out of the soil and history of Texas. One of the proposed tasks, for example, is to have a statewide folk festival at the university each year where old songs and dances and stories of bygone days in Texas will be shown to the public.

Texas has been a frontier state for many decades, devoting its energies to the conquest of the wilderness and the development of a modern civilization. It has had little time or money to devote to the task of building a culture which includes all forms of art and literature and community activities.

Yet there have been a few lone voices crying in the wilderness that Texas should start building its own culture, drawn from the Indians and Spanish and Anglo-American and negro cultures which have built this state's traditions. J. Frank Dobie, noted Texas storyteller, Walter P. Webb, able historian, and J. Evetts Haley, formerly of Amarillo and now of Houston, veteran collector, have been in the vanguard of this Re-member-Texas movement.

Then Dr. Homer P. Rainey was named president of the university, and he announced that this was one of his major aims. All great literature comes out of the soil, he said. Texans can never build a great culture by imitating the Puritans or the Quakers or the English or the Norwegians. Their culture—their music, poetry, painting, folk dances, stories—must come from the soil of Texas and from its history.

And Texas, with its dramatic history, its variety of races and nationalities, and its multitude of geographical differences, should be a veritable treasure-house of culture materials, he insisted.

Owens job will be to furnish the leadership for the accumulation and the preservation of these materials. Into high schools and reading clubs and civic clubs in almost every community in the state his program will go, urging a revival of interest in things Texan.

Community groups will be organized to hold song festivals and music meets such as the Athens old fiddlers contest, and dance meetings. This the movement's leaders declare, will bring about a revival of morale and interest in the life of local communities.

And there is another angle which cannot be ignored. The University of Texas depends upon legislative generosity for its money. And legislative generosity depends
