

Truman Refuses To Comment On Word From Ike

It's Up To General To Decide When He Will Leave Position

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—President Truman declined to say today whether he has had any word that Gen. Eisenhower wants to leave his European defense command.

Truman was asked whether he would make the announcement if, and when, Eisenhower does request release.

There have been reports that Eisenhower was about ready to return to the U. S. and had, in fact, already communicated his desires to Washington.

Mexican Telephone Workers Back On Job

MEXICO CITY, April 10 (AP)—Mexico's telephone workers agreed today to go back to work for 12 1/2 per cent wage increases.

The agreement came after a ten-day strike marked by government seizure of the company and the employment of strike breakers.

Only Emergency Calls Are Handled

Telephone service in Big Spring was still reduced principally to emergency status this morning, as operators and other union workers remained off their jobs.

The Southwestern Bell employees left their posts at noon Wednesday when Western Electric pickets put in their first appearance here in front of the exchange at Fourth and Rannels.

John Moore, local manager for Southwestern Bell, this morning estimated that approximately 170 workers were idled here because of the Western Electric strike.

There is no dispute of any kind between the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and the union representing its employees in Texas.

Riot Breaks Out In Detroit Picket Line

DETROIT, April 10 (AP)—A picket line riot in one city marked the fourth day of the CIO telephone workers wage strike today—after scattered instances of other disturbances.

For the most part, however, the strike scene was orderly. Meantime negotiators at Detroit, key city in the wage dispute, prepared to resume talks looking toward a settlement.

Over much of the nation 'phone employes were staying away from work, respecting picket lines, but managements said calls were continuing to go through.

The picket line riot was at Pittsburgh. Police swung night-sticks to subdue the fighting.

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—For the fifth straight day truce negotiators made no move toward ending the fighting in Korea.

They met and adjourned. That was all. Today's session lasted six minutes. That brought the grand total for five meetings this week to 30 minutes and 30 seconds.

'Stop - And - Go' Tactics Used By Texas Strikers

Phone Pickets At Nine Cities Out; 15 Others Struck

By The Associated Press CIO Union members today employed "stop and go" tactics against the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Texas.

Bell's Dallas office said the strike was extended to fifteen smaller Texas cities Thursday—but that pickets were withdrawn from nine others.

There was no interruption of picketing, however, in the metropolitan centers. The "hiccup" tactics apparently were being reserved for smaller cities.

A Bell spokesman said these cities were added today to the list of those struck—Seminole, McKinney, Celina, Cisco, Ranger, McGregor, Odessa, Monahan, Fort Stockton, Marfa, Kermit, Pecos, Cuero, Temple and Burkburnett.

He said pickets were withdrawn from these cities: Sweetwater, Edinburg, Taylor, Arlington, Mesquite, Weatherford, Mineral Wells, Cleburne, and Granbury.

Meanwhile the threat of a new oil industry strike diverted some attention from the continuing work stoppages in the telephone, telegraph and steel industries.

The Wage Stabilization Board scheduled a hearing at St. Louis today on the months-old dispute between the oil industry and CIO unions.

At Dallas, International Representative R. W. Staley of the CIO Communications Workers of America said "at least 12,000 Bell, Western Electric and long lines workers in Texas are off the job."

Bell's Texas manager, Walter Prehm, had set the figure at five thousand.

Staley said his estimate includes only employes in the larger cities. Western Electric pickets were expected to show up today at Bell exchanges in smaller cities, a union source said.

This is the signal for Southwestern Bell operators to leave work for "continuous meetings." Both the Western Electric and Bell workers are CWA-CIO members.

In Dallas, Manager Walter Prehm said Bell had about 27,000 employes in Texas including 20,000 to 21,000 in categories which could be affected by the strike.

He said the company and some 7,000 supervisory employes were doing all they could "to meet our responsibility."

T. E. Webb predicted at Austin that telephone employes would continue to honor picket lines, leading "possibly" to a nationwide work stoppage.

Webb is Texas director of District 6, CWA, with offices in Dallas.

Webb differed with telephone company officials who said there

US Judge Won't Waive Rules To Advance Steel Industry Injunction Bid

Operations To Be Resumed Promptly

Flag Flies Over Steel Plant

FULL OUTPUT SEEN

Steelworkers Hail Sawyer's Optimism

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The nation's giant steel industry—backbone of defense—throbbed back into gear today under the government's say-so.

Within 24 hours of President Truman's dramatic seizure of the plants, heads of the industry told Secretary of Commerce Sawyer he could count upon a return to normal production as soon as possible.

And Sawyer, who took over the running of the steel industry under the President's order Tuesday night, said, "I hope by tomorrow to be able to state that there is a nation-wide resumption of normal fulltime output."

Sawyer added that he expected to confer today with Philip Murray, president of the CIO United Steel Workers, who called off the strike a short time after the President's declaration.

As the American flag flapped over the mills, the many thousands of steelworkers hailed Sawyer's optimistic words with fresh cheer.

"Let's get on with it and stop the arguing," was a common expression.

Although the country's four biggest steel producers started summing their men back to work, the full-scale re-employment of some 150,000 furloughed workers was expected to take as long as 10 days to two weeks.

In the tense days before the President's seizure of the mills the big crews of skilled workers were laid off in stages as the industry began to slow down against the threat of a strike.

The companies emphasized it takes nearly as much time to put a steel plant back in operation as it does to close one.

Bethlehem Steel, second largest producer in the land, was one of the latest companies to call its men back. Spokesmen said, "Our plants are being put back into operation as rapidly as possible."

Thus Bethlehem lined up with United States Steel, biggest of them all, Republic and Jones and Laughlin in acquiescence to government rule.

Ben Morrell, chairman of the board of J. and L., lined his announcement of work resumption with a statement that his company is joining Republic Steel, Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet and Tube in a court challenge of the legality of the seizure.

Morrell telegraphed Sawyer: "There is no basis in the Constitution or laws of the United States for the action so taken by the President and by you."

He said, however, that J. and L. is "ready and willing to operate all its properties as far as it may safely do so."

J. and L. said its coke ovens now are being charged and its

Operations To Be Resumed Promptly

BULLETIN WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Federal Judge David A. Pine refused today to waive court rules and grant an immediate hearing to the steel industry on its suit for an injunction against government seizure of properties.

Lawyers for four major companies—Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, and Jones & Laughlin—pleaded in vain in U. S. District Court for immediate hearings on their suits.

Judge Pine ruled that he would not advance the suits under court rules. The rules allow 20 days for the defendant, in this case the government, to reply to a suit.

By ROWLAND EVANS JR. WASHINGTON, (AP)—The steel industry, violently protesting its seizure by the U. S. government, began today to heat up its cooled furnaces for full-scale production and to gird itself anew for a bitter court battle.

In an angry attack on President Truman and CIO President Philip Murray, a top industry official said last night that seizure "discharges a political debt to the CIO" and that Murray "now gives Harry S. Truman a receipt marked 'paid in full'."

Clarence B. Randall, president of Inland Steel Company, told a nation-wide radio and TV audience that "if any man now threatens the country's safety for lack of steel, that man's name is Phil Murray."

Union aides said the attack on Murray was "so extreme and unwarranted as not to deserve a reply."

Randall's blast was keyed to the emotional pitch which industry and union officials have reached in the long, tense steel dispute.

But the industry said it was ready to resume full steel production. Both sides were summoned to a meeting with John H. Steelman today in another attempt to reach agreement on a new work contract.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, nominal boss of the eight-billion-dollar industry, was visited last night by presidents of nine big steel companies. "Without exception I was assured by those present that, except for purely mechanical or temporary impediments, all operations would be resumed immediately," Sawyer said.

He scheduled a meeting with Murray today. The union already has told its 650,000 basic steel workers to get back on the job.

The President's seizure order set off an angry dispute on Capitol Hill that brought various proposals to meet the situation. They ranged from a demand that Congress declare the seizure illegal to a bill that would give the President specific power to seize industrial plants.

Truman threw the squabble upon the lawmakers' doorstep with a message inviting them to write their own rules for handling such a situation if they didn't like what he did.

The reaction of candidates campaigning for presidential nominations varied, mostly according to political lines.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, seeking the Republican nomination, said Truman had "usurped" the powers he used. Harold E. Stassen, another GOP hopeful, said seizure resulted from neglect of presidential duty, that seizure does not solve the wage dispute.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, seeking the Democratic nomination, said he did not question the President's power to seize the steel mills but declared the dispute should never have been allowed to reach such a point.

In the dispute that precipitated seizure, the union says it will not settle for less than the Wage Stabilization Board's recommendations.

These include a three-installment pay boost totaling 17 1/2 cents an hour and other benefits worth slightly more than 8 cents, plus a union shop.

The industry says it would have to have a price increase of $12 a ton—steel is now selling around

Chances Slim For Enforcement Money

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Two key senators said today chances are slim for providing funds the Internal Revenue Bureau says it must have to enforce the new gambling tax law.

Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa.), chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee which handles funds for the bureau, said he personally was sympathetic to the agency's request for more personnel.

But he said he doubted the 35 million dollars cut out of the Internal Revenue Bureau's budget by the House would be restored in the Senate.

Sen. Ecton (R-Mont.), ranking Republican on the subcommittee, said he felt the same way.

Ecton said the Senate appears to be just as economy-minded as the House this year, "especially those of us who are running for re-election."

The Montanan added that in his view "it is impossible to enforce the gambling tax."

Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap wrote Kilgore that Congress should give his bureau the money to enforce the gambling tax or repeal it.

Dunlap said the entire federal tax system is "balancing precariously on the brink of collapse through lack of funds to enforce the new gambling levy."

The gambling tax law requires bookmakers and certain other professional gamblers to buy a $30-a-year occupational stamp and pay 10 per cent of their gross take each month to the government.

Congress estimated the law would bring in about 33 million dollars a month. But in the first four months of operation, it yielded a total of about two million.

IF PENTAGON DOESN'T ACT FIRST

Congress Set To Slash Army 'Luxuries' In Overseas Posts

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—Irate Senators aimed an axe today at plush living quarters, free servants, special trains, and other luxuries for U. S. military personnel in overseas posts.

If the Pentagon fails to curtail "luxury living" by U. S. occupation forces in Germany, Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) told a reporter, Congress will find a way to do it. O'Mahoney is presiding at closed-door Senate hearings on the multi-billion-dollar annual defense money bill. He said he probably will offer an amendment calling for an end to free servants and special trains to recreation centers for U. S. military forces in Germany.

Two Republican members of the purse-string committee, Ferguson of Michigan and Young of North Dakota, said in separate interviews they will support O'Mahoney.

"The American taxpayers are paying the costs for all these civilian employees of the military in Germany and elsewhere either directly or indirectly," Young said. Young said the Pentagon informed him that 17,200 German servants "or quarters attendants" were being used by the military last Oct. 31 at an average pay of $37.50 a month.

"That's some $600,000 a month or six million a year," he said. Young said he learned the armed forces in Japan had hired women secretaries in Australia and supplied them with free Japanese maids, quarters and transportation to and from Japan. He said free servants for both military and civilian workers in Japan ended last July 1.

Ferguson said extravagant living in occupied countries "by our representatives is bad public relations" and "it also tends to soften up our armed forces."

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) said the "high living of military personnel abroad, particularly in occupied countries, not only is a source of great expense but produces resentment and hatred." All four senators expressed surprise at a report by Chauncey G. Parker, retiring assistant U. S. high commissioner for Germany, that the Army refused to give up free servants, special trains and other luxury items in Germany.

Area Youth Presented Belt For A&M Rodeo Clown Act

Cadet Tom Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Montgomery, Gall Route, has been presented a trophy belt buckle by the Aggie Rodeo Club.

The award was made in recognition of his contribution as a clown in the Texas A. & M. Intercollegiate Rodeo on April 5.

Tom had one narrow escape. When the Brahma bull he was leading away following the tossing of a rider charged at him, Tom took to a fence. But the top board gave way, and he fell. The bull narrowly missed him.

This is the third show in which Montgomery has served as clown. Others were at Morton and Andrews. He says he likes being a clown. "It's interesting and fun. The same thing never happens twice."

Montgomery is a freshman majoring in animal husbandry, and is in Squadron One, U. S. Air Force R. O. T. C. He is a member of the Aggie Rodeo Club.

Giant Long Horn Maneuver Is Over

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP)—Exercise Long Horn is officially over but the generals won't gather to see how good—or bad—it was until tomorrow.

Most of the foreign observers who have been here since the big mock war started March 25 thought it was "good."

The 1st Armored Division linked up with the 50th Airborne Regimental Combat Team yesterday and, in lightning fashion, drove to the line where the maneuver was to end April 11.

With the objective accomplished, Lt. Gen. William Hoge ended the maneuvers.

During the maneuver there were 10 actual fatalities. Nearly 100,000 field troops were involved.

Phoenix Awaiting Word On Swindler

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Phoenix police today awaited word from the FBI in Washington on the record of a man who claims to have swindled more than one million dollars from banks in a 30-year career as a confidence man.

They want to know if any charges are pending against dapper 62-year-old Gabriel F. Rosenthal. He said he is on parole from New York, where he had been convicted as an habitual criminal and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Rosenthal was picked up here yesterday while laying the groundwork for an attempt to take $30,000 from two Phoenix banks, Detective Earl Moore said.

KC Swimming Pool Opened To Negroes

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A federal judge ruled yesterday that Negroes shall be admitted to Kansas City's Swope Park swimming pool.

The city has maintained the Swope Park pool for white persons, and the Parade Park pool for Negroes.

Judge Albert A. Ridge said the Parade Park pool was not equal to the one in Swope Park. For that reason, he said, the city's refusal to admit Negroes to the Swope pool is a denial of equal protection under the 14th Amendment to the federal Constitution.

Newsmen Score High Mark In Illinois Races

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois newsmen scored a bull's eye in predicting in an Associated Press survey the results of the Illinois Republican presidential preference primary.

In the case of each candidate in Tuesday's election, the newsmen were off only 3.12 percentage points on the average in the total vote each candidate would poll.

The survey, tabulated five days before the primary, downstate correspondents and political writers on Chicago newspapers gave an estimate of the percentage of the total vote they thought each man would draw in their districts.

The survey reached into all sections of Illinois and opinions were received from about half of Illinois' 102 counties.

Correspondents predicted that Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio would draw 64.7 per cent of the downstate vote. Actually, he did slightly better. On the basis of almost complete unofficial returns, he polled 70.7 per cent.

The Chicago writers estimated Taft would get 70.3 per cent of the Cook County (Chicago) vote. He actually received 76.2 per cent.

While the newsmen tended to underestimate Taft's strength, they predicted Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would draw a slightly greater write-in vote than he did. They estimated he would receive 18.3 per cent of the downstate vote while he actually drew 12.3 per cent.

The Chicago writers also estimated Taft would go to the general. He received 10.7 per cent.

The most accurate guess made by the Chicago writers was only one-tenth of 1 per cent off. They estimated that Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, would get 9.3 per cent of the Cook County total. He received 9.7 per cent.

Taft Aides Not Upset Over Outlook In N. J.

By RELMAN MORIN

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Some of Sen. Robert A. Taft's campaign lieutenants are well pleased, privately, with the outlook for him in next week's New Jersey primary—an election they say has been rigged against him.

The underdog's role, which they claim for the senator, is by no means an uncomfortable one.

Their reasoning is that Taft has very little to lose in this situation and should be the unexpected happen—everything to gain. Even a sizable total of popular votes in New Jersey for Taft would permit his backers to claim a "moral victory."

Taft goes to the post next Tuesday against Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen in the GOP primary. The election has a preferential ballot, a "popularity contest," and it will name 38 delegates to the Republican convention.

The state organization slate, headed by Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll, is listed on the ballot as unpledged.

The governor, however, announced March 17 that he favors Eisenhower.

When the news reached Taft, he called Driscoll's statement a piece of "political trickery," tried unsuccessfully to have his name taken off the ballot, and closed his headquarters in New Jersey. Officially, there has been no campaigning for him in the state. Actually, however, a good deal of work has been done.

Two supporters of Taft charged in prepared radio texts yesterday that Driscoll had made a promise to Taft to remain neutral in the presidential primary poll.

The charge was made by industrialist Charles Edison, former Democratic governor, and Albert W. Hawkes, former Republican

U. S. senator. Driscoll denied the charge later in a broadcast.

The Edison and Hawkes radio texts said Taft was given the promise of neutrality at a meeting with Driscoll and New Jersey GOP leaders, and that Taft therefore did not enter a slate of delegates in New Jersey.

Hawkes followed the text in his radio address in Philadelphia. But in New York last night, Edison deleted the reference to the meeting in his address.

On the air, Edison said only this on the issue: "Given to understand that the Republican state organization would remain neutral, Sen. Taft's supporters agreed not to enter a slate" in the primary.

Edison explained later: "I deleted the paragraph from my broadcast remarks at the last moment because information reaching me late today had created certain doubts as to the paragraph's complete accuracy."

"Its deletion, however, in no way alters the fact that the spirit of the primary laws has been violated, as I set forth in the balance of my talk."

Driscoll, purchasing radio time later last night to reply to Edison, declared:

"No pledges were broken at any time under any circumstances."

Driscoll said Edison "has been sold a very bad bill of goods" and was "being misled by his friends."

Earlier at Trenton, Driscoll had told reporters that there was a meeting in Washington in January, but that Taft's intentions for the New Jersey primary were not discussed.

Driscoll told this reporter that his position either was misunderstood, or that Taft's men had misrepresented it to the senator. Months ago, Driscoll made it plain in an interview that he favored Eisenhower.

In any case, Taft today is in the position of having tried to withdraw from the race, of being on the ballot only because a New Jersey court denied permission to erase his name.

He has no delegate candidates officially on the ticket, although 11 people claiming to represent him are candidates for seats.

Taft is not without strength in the state. There are indications that he has wide popularity in sections of Bergen, Hudson, Atlantic, Ocean and Camden Counties.

Conservative Taft people estimate that he may get 25 per cent of that total. But one put it as high as 40 per cent.

Eisenhower's lieutenants are optimistic, but by no means overconfident. One of them pointed out that "the results of this election will be wide open for interpretation, even if it turns out as we hope. If it doesn't—well, no comment."

Stassen, the only GOP candidate personally campaigning in New Jersey, declined to forecast the election results. He has a slate on the ballot.

In the Democratic election, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee is the lone entrant. However, a number of the Democratic delegate candidates—have said privately, they would support Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois if they were elected today.

One Cure Leads To Another One

ST. ALBANS, England (AP)—A shotgun blast that wounded an accused burglar really did him a good turn—it cured his thyroid gland disorder, his attorney told a court.

The defendant, 34-year-old Frederick Thompson, needed an operation on his thyroid, but then he was shot in the back of the neck by a householder who caught him climbing through a window.

Presiding Judge J. Neville Gray was impressed by the shotgun cure. But he said he had another case for the man's window-climbing tendencies—four years' imprisonment.

U. S. Purchases Of Pork, Eggs Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan bowed to a congressional recommendation today and ordered government buying of pork and eggs in an effort to bolster their prices.

He announced that the Agriculture Department will offer to buy a "substantial" amount of smoked pork and up to $90,000 cases of eggs to use next fall by the government - sponsored non-profit school lunch program.

SHE LEAVES MEN COLD

But not the average woman!

She sees what the man misses: a fascinating new accessory—the "glove stole." With hat to match!

No matter where she first picks up such news tidbits—about clothes, food, beauty, home decorating—only the newspaper gives her answers to "Where can I get it? For how much?"

So she watches the newspaper every day. Sometimes for a definite purchase—a new rug, or refrigerator, or a topcoat for Daddy. Often for any one of a dozen half-conscious wants.

Like men, women have found from experience that if they miss a single issue of their local newspaper, they miss something important.

● Why do advertisers spend more of their money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising?

Because everybody reads the newspaper every day! So, why advertise only to fractions of the people who can buy?

Radio and TV programs reach fractions of anybody's market—sport fans, homemakers, kids, or whatever. And even they can't all listen when a commercial is broadcast.

Magazines reach only fractions of a market. For each one appeals to some people—not to others.

The Newspaper talks to everybody in town. It's created fresh every day to appeal to everybody.

Only the newspaper is first with the most news... the most people... the most advertisers!

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

BIG SPRING

A Bible Thought For Today—

It takes great troubles and sorrows to bring us to this state. So misfortunes bring us measureless blessings. "As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God." — Ps. 42:1.

Federal Seizure Has Implications Which Should Be Pondered Long

An apparent attempt to stack the Senate group of conferences on the tidelands issue was broken up Monday after the Senate, which voted last week 50 to 35 to award the oil of the marginal seas to the states, got wind of it.

Vice President Barkley, in naming the five members of the Senate group to iron out differences between the House and Senate bills, had named a solidly antagonistic group—antagonistic, that is, to state ownership. The three Democrats he named—O'Mahoney, McFarland and Murray—voted against the bill passed by the Senate. The two Republicans are Butler and Cordon.

On motion of Senator Long of Louisiana, the Senate voted to withdraw conference named by Barkley, on the ground that the three Democrats had not supported the Senate bill, so the Veep will have to try again.

If and when the Senate-House differences are resolved, the bill is doubtless ticketed for veto by the President. The House is certain to override the veto. The Senate, which may not muster the necessary two-thirds majority, might well look to the implication of nationalization that federal seizure carries. The arbitrary seizure of state ownership, established by tradition and repeated decision, could be but the first step. Others might come easier.

There Is Third Voice Which Is Due Consideration In Dispute

Once more we are witnessing the paralyzing of a communications system on the basis of a decree arising out of an inability to achieve a contractual agreement for a segment of the telephone industry.

It seems almost incredible that the presence of a single individual, with a tiny sign, is sufficient to silence the phone system. But the man with the sign is a symbol rather than a barrier. He is the evidence of concerted power exercised by the head of the CWA in wielding his most potent weapon against the Bell system to gain wage objectives.

The strike started as one by Western Electric workers. These are ordinarily men who do construction and installation work. They contended for increases to which they doubtless felt that they were entitled to and which could be met without penalty to the company. On the other side, the company contended it could not meet the terms under its record of charges and earnings without lowering investor pay while raising worker pay. And there it stood until the matter came to a strike. Both sides had a right to their position, and right to manage and the right to strike are ones which are as basic as the right to work and the right to go into business.

However, the matter did not rest there. It requires no stretch of the imagination to see that phone operations could go on a considerable time without construction or installation. Workers out on strike had the pinch of economic loss put on them, and the CWA head exercised an expedient to put the pinch of public inconvenience on management. Whether it was because of the kindredship of companies (Bell is the parent of Western Electric) or the singularity of unionism that made the move possible is not so important at the moment.

The economic loss sustained by workers staying away from work is one that they are perhaps prepared and willing to absorb. But what about the individuals and businesses whose livelihood and economic well being are largely or almost wholly dependent upon telephone service? Maybe they need someone with a sign to symbolize their stake in this situation.

Steel Workers Scoff At Statistics, Want To See That $1.90 An Hour

"You say in your column," writes James E. Hawk, of the Bethlehem Steel structural plant at Potstown, Pa., "that steel workers are averaging better than $78 a week. Just where do you get that from?"

"I want you to know that we have men in our plant getting $1.31 an hour, or $52.50 a week. I am a riveter and there are about 25 of such men in the gang. There are three helpers, two men get $1.46 an hour, or $58.40 a week, one man gets $1.41 an hour, or $56.40 a week, and the riveter's rate is $1.68 an hour, or $66.40 a week.

"A first class fitter gets $1.91 an hour, or $76.40, and you could count all the first-class fitters on your two hands. I do not believe that the average will be any more than $1.50 an hour. I suggest you get out from behind your desk and talk to some of these workers and find out for yourself. We steel workers would like to know where the rate of $1.90 or better per hour comes from."

of Labor Statistics figure is an average. It includes the pay of workers in large companies who sometimes get slightly higher rates than small companies. It includes workers in the South, with a lower scale than workers in the North.

Further, it includes workers in jobs with high rates of pay as well as low rates. It includes workers who receive incentive pay, based on tonnage as well as workers who get only straight time. It includes plants which have a higher proportion of upper-scale workers than other plants.

It's like the average height of people. You mix in 6-footers and 5-footers to get the national average of 5 feet 8½ inches for men with shoes on. Men below average are apt to think that the average is a slight exaggeration. But that doesn't make the average wrong.

The fact is that in 38 steel plants, embracing 26,000 workers, gross hourly pay (including overtime) runs less than $1.70 an hour. To workers in those plants, the $1.90 rate looks too high. Indeed, 60 per cent of the workers in steel plants, according to a special BLS study, get straight wage rates below average.

Again that doesn't make the $1.90 wrong. Nevertheless, when workers in the below-average brackets see the $1.90 average—like Mr. Hawk and Mr. Seay—they wonder where that kind of money comes from. You can't blame them. A man can't spend an average—when he's below it.

Mr. Hawk is not alone. Nevitt Seay, a crane operator at Alan Wood Steel Co., Conshohocken, Pa., came in to see me. He represents the United Steelworkers union as a shop steward. He said he couldn't get the statistics to jibe with his experience. He showed me the wage scale in the contract. It started with $1.31 an hour and ended up at $2.40 an hour.

"But," said Seay, "we have 30 men on our turn in the strip mill making $1.40 an hour, we have only one man getting $2.40, and four foremen making $2.25."

Using Seay's data, I did some work with a calculating machine. The average hourly rate on the day turn at the strip mill came to $1.67 an hour. But we had to make an allowance for the shift differential of 4 cents on the second shift and 6 cents on the third shift. That adds 3 cents an hour, over-all, bringing the total to $1.70.

Seay looked triumphant. "That's not $1.90, which you put in the paper, is it?"

I agreed it wasn't. I asked, "Are you sure you have the same rate for all companies in the industry?"

"No," he said, "some companies pay higher rates—6 cents an hour."

Add that in, and the $1.90 didn't seem so out of line—compared with $1.76.

Not only that, but that $1.90 figure includes overtime. It's "high" for the worker who puts in 40 hours a week or less on straight-time pay.

But the main point is this. The Bureau

World Today—James Marlow

Though Winning Major Foreign Policy Points, Harry Has Had Rough Tenure

WASHINGTON—It's no wonder if President Truman looked tired when he addressed the nation on TV this week. The steel dispute is just one more crisis in his seven White House years.

His critics may argue that many of his crises could have been avoided if he had anticipated them, and acted sooner, although criticism always has the benefit of hindsight.

But the fact remains that since 1945, at home and abroad, he's been a man with a hose, running around trying to put out three-alarm fires, even within his official family.

He acted in the steel dispute, seizing the mills, just a few days after Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson quit. This was followed by his firing of Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath, who had found it necessary to sack Newbold Morris.

Before that the President had to move in, over McGrath's head, and bounce an assistant attorney general, T. Lamar Caudle, in the midst of the scandals that were popping all over Washington.

And before Caudle there was the most sensational firing of all—Gen. Douglas MacArthur—which had been preceded by the dismissal of Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson.

In an official family crisis between Henry Wallace, secretary of commerce, and James F. Byrnes, secretary of state, Truman sacked Wallace.

There have been few peaceful weeks or even days for Truman. When he went on a Florida vacation last winter the smell of corruption in his administration drove him back to Washington.

And his most recent Florida trip was ruined by the steel dispute. The problem of government corruption—plastering mud on the RFC, the Justice Department, the Internal Revenue Bureau and the whole administration—has been a lingering and widening sore for him.

He had to buck the uproar, now subsidized a bit, about Communist government, knowing the continued congressional attacks in that direction were bound to weaken the faith of a lot of people in their government and him.

In Congress he has been frustrated right and left, especially in domestic affairs where his administration certainly set no records for carrying out the party platform.

And while he's won his major points in foreign affairs it was not without a struggle.

There was the decision to arm Greece and Turkey, which put the U. S. in a new relation to the rest of the world and meant abandoning the doctrine of isolation of the Monroe Doctrine.

Then came the Marshall Plan, a gigantic gamble to stop communisms without guns, and when he found this wasn't enough he had to take the gigantic gamble of using guns—without firing them, if possible.

That was in creation of the Atlantic Pact and arming Europe. But the Korean War, and his decision to take America into it, was the most drastic crisis of all and he's still being lashed for the way he carried it out.

Now that he's 58 the accumulated crises of these seven years must be a little trying, even for his sturdy body, which is why he must have written in his diary: "What a life." Maybe because he wanted to prolong it a bit he decided not to look for another four years in the same place.

Bellhops Play A Big Role In This Everyday Drama

CINCINNATI, April 10—When you register at a hotel, the desk clerk bangs a bell importantly and calls out:

"Boy! Show this gentleman to his room."

The next few seconds are always full of tremendous suspense. Getting a hotel room is one of the great dramas of everyday American life. Each person must play his role exactly right or the whole thing is ruined.

The desk clerk has acted his part perfectly. He looked at you with icy suspicion when you first stepped meekly up to him, like a prisoner at the bar of justice.

Then a slow smile spread over his stern countenance like a spring river breaking up in frozen. Yes, sir! Prefer a tub or shower? As you sign your name a small sensation of self-respect creeps back into you.

"Boy! Show this gentleman to his room!"

Who will step forward? Whoever he is, he will make or break the whole performance.

There are some bellhops who pick up your bags, stare at them disdainfully and make you feel like a dime store thief as you trail them through the lobby to the elevator.

Others can do it with pomp and ceremony, as if they were Cleopatra's servants unrolling the welcome rug for the great Caesar. Other guests look up impressed, and you secretly hope they think you are a mighty elephant hunter just in from Africa.

Some day a perfect hotel will be built. One of the first things they will do is hire midgets to strew rose petals in your path. I have always thought that would make an impressive entrance.

There are all sorts of bellhops. Travelers will recall at least some of these types:

1. The elderly retainer bellhop—he is white-haired and time-beat and has been with the hotel ever since it put in its first Gideon Bible. He usually picks up your briefcase in dignified silence, and you carry the heavy bags yourself, grateful to be of any assistance you can.
2. The palsy-walsy bellhop—he starts whispering in your ear in the elevator, gives you the low-down on the town, and waits until you open your bag in the room to see if it contains an open bottle he can share.
3. The chamber-of-commerce bellhop—"we've a great little city here, sir," he says, and begins un-reeling statistics on bank clearings, employment figures and the prospect of new industries. This boy lets you know he expects to own the hotel himself soon.
4. The busy bee bellhop—he flutters about the room opening windows that ought to be closed and closing windows that ought to be left open. When he finally says, "will that be all, sir?" you feel as if the very least you can do is offer to send him through college.
5. The Hamlet bellhop—he never utters a word, just puts down your bag and looks at you like a melancholy bound dog. On his face is an expression that asks silently, "How could life do this to me?" You have a wild sense of fear that tears will begin to roll down his cheeks.
6. The dodo bellhop—this is the old-fashioned bellhop who takes you briskly and cheerfully to your room, puts down your bag, hands you your key, and says "thank you" if you give him an old-fashioned two-bit tip.

Wildlife Diet

BISSETT, Man.—People who are feline about their diet should try the fare of "English John," a trapper on the fringe of this mining settlement, 100 miles northeast of Winnipeg.

English John has lived with the Indians of Manitoba as one of them since he was a small boy. He speaks the language better than most natives.

In his time—John figures he's "somewhere around 63"—he has eaten most of the foods of his adopted brothers including caribou, fish, beaver, squirrel, lynx and hawk. But he has often gone hungry while on the trap-line trail.

"Sometimes we would go three and four days without food," he says. "We had to live on the wild stuff. If there was none we went hungry. But I backed up on night owls and skunks. That was too much for me."

Easter Services Held At BSMS

Special Easter services at assembly marked the closing of the Senior High School for the holidays today.

The Rev. C. O. Hill, chaplain at the Veterans-Administration Hospital was speaker for the program held at 2 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the high school choral group.

Schools will not be in session again until Tuesday morning. The same Easter holiday schedule is being observed by the Howard County Junior College.

Names Censored

COPENHAGEN—If you want to pick the name of your baby by your own choosing, don't settle down in Denmark.

Here, any priest may refuse to christen a baby with a name he doesn't like. The parents may take the case to the Ministry of Ecclesiastical Affairs, which usually upholds the priest's decision. The ministry sticks to a 124-year old decree authorizing it to see that no children have "improper" names.

But is a girl's name improper for a boy? This question will be decided in district court here. The parents want to call their boy "Glennie." The ministry considers this a girl's name and has asked that the case be thrown out of court.

Confusing How We Can Favor An Idea, Yet Be Against It, Too

How can a man be for something yet at the same time be against it? Impossible, you say? Nope, not according to Senator Robert A. Taft, Republican from Ohio and aspirant to his party's Presidential nomination.

Taft, a brilliant man, must have gone beyond himself when he voted for the United Nations Charter, yet was recorded as against American participation in the U.N.

Even Sen. Taft must be aware of the fact that in waging a cold or hot war against Communism, moral support means a good deal. Yet, despite moral support from American sources, the Soviet leaders took over quite a few countries and then laughed at our moral support.

Consider, now, the change. Today, instead of moral support alone, we are adding to this by building up our armed strength and military resources. And, since we did begin our defense preparations, many a nation has been taken over by Soviet rulers.

Another point of interest is that Sen. Taft stands firmly behind Gen. MacArthur's insistence that we go all-out in fighting the Korean War. Yet, according to the senator's voting, we should not even be in Korea in the first place. Why? Because it is a U.N. effort and America is not supposed to participate in U.N. activities if we adopt Taft's point of view.

In the field of foreign aid, Taft stood behind the Marshall Plan, yet was against military assistance funds and Point Four. While these stands are not as drastic as Taft's U.N. position, one cannot be a substitute for the other. Both are essential. One of the primary purposes of Marshall Plan, besides strengthening our friends and their economy, is to provide a further bulwark against Communist aggression by making our neighbors self-sustaining. If we intend to thwart Joe Stalin with the help of our friends, we must supplement Marshall Plan aid with military aid.

It's not hard to realize that if Marshall

Plan aid were to be used for military purposes, then defense preparations would be nil and the friendly states over-run by Russia. Contrarily, if Marshall Plan funds were used for military purposes, the economies of our friends would suffer and thus collapse. It's a tough decision to make but we have made our decision and must stand by it. It costs money, yes, but pays for itself in the saving of American youth.

However, if we are overly extravagant, then we must cut down, but the program must be continued to the hilt if we are to gain any sort of victory in our struggle with Russia.

By voting against ratification of the North Atlantic Treaty, Taft again defies American intentions to aid and assist, as well as to be aided and assisted should war come. We are no longer self-dependent and must finally realize this. Europe has the manpower and resources, but they have to be utilized. To do this, we must work together and in the common defense. This is best realized by a defensive alignment as is afforded us by NATO.

Finally, as regards this North Atlantic pact, how could Sen. Taft be against it when the U. N. charter expressly permits such regional agreements, and the senator did okay the U. N. charter?

Make up your mind, Mr. Taft!

FRED GREENE.

Image Of Il Duce Is Engraved In The Hearts Of Many Italians

By HOUSTON HARTE

ROME.—There is nothing in Rome but the smoke stained second story doorway on the Palazzo Venezia where Mussolini once bartered his Black Shirts to remind the people of Italy that they were ruled by Il Duce for more than 20 years.

But the image of the little demagogue whom Churchill called a Jackal is engraved in the hearts of many Italians. Chiseling off his name and pulling down his statues, burning his books and erasing his laws cannot end Mussolini.

Shakespeare said, "The evil men do lives after them, but the good is oft interred with their bones." Mussolini seems to be an exception to the rule.

Italians remember him because he did things for them, much as the Cajuns remember Huey Long. They recall he gave them work. They know he built highways. They ride on the electric railroads he built. They recall they were well-fed.

They do not remember the men who went to prison. They do not count either the dead or the number who suffered from the castor oil treatment. They remember the provinces in North Africa and the Ethiopian campaign. All they can think of is the empire which is lost.

Yes, they say, Mussolini made a mistake in getting involved with Hitler in a war. But do you remember Mussolini tried to get Laval and Halifax to form a Rome, Paris, London axis? England and France would have nothing of it. What could he do?

You remind them that war cannot pay and they agree. They do not want any more of it and there is great doubt that Italy even has the will to fight again. As of today any government which ordered an army in the field would be overthrown.

England gets credit for Italy's difficulties, past and present. An Italian who should be well informed laid at England's door the lack of Italy's territory into which its rising population could expand. He thought if England was interested in peace in Europe she should come into the United States of Europe. He was bitter

Champagne Is 'Electrocuted' By The Russians

MOSCOW—One form of making champagne here is an "electrical method." Moscow scientists have claimed that by electrocuting the champagne in a certain way it can be made as good as the finest of French champagne. It only takes a very short time, so they say.

Official Soviet figures show champagne production is up 121 per cent over 1950.

An Italian who should be well informed laid at England's door the lack of Italy's territory into which its rising population could expand. He thought if England was interested in peace in Europe she should come into the United States of Europe. He was bitter about Churchill's failure to join the Schuman Plan wholeheartedly after he had advocated a common citizenship and money for the western part nations. In this respect he had some grounds for his opinion.

Driving from Naples to Rome the highway cuts out across the Pontine Marshes. For 68 kilometers there is not a turn in the road, something unusual in Europe. The driver proudly told how Mussolini had drained the waste land, built the highway, erected homes upon the 75,000 to 100,000 acres of land and leased it to landless Italians. Here Italy was helping herself and Mussolini was the father of the project.

In all, Italy has 1,000 kilometers of highways. All of them were built by Mussolini. They are not as good as ours, but they are straight and without grade crossings. They eliminate all traffic hazards through villages and towns and speed traffic between the big cities. They are a monument to Mussolini which the Italian does not forget.

Since ancient times there has been a saying that "all roads lead to Rome." They do today. No matter where you are, the highway marker tells you how far you are from "Roma" in big numbers and the next town in smaller numbers. Every Italian is constantly conscious of his distance from Rome.

You are knocked out of your complacency when you get your first sight of an Italian express train, gliding along at a much higher speed than most of our trains and so silently you are unaware of it except for its brightly lighted windows. This, too, is one of Mussolini's projects.

Starved for fuel, Italy utilized her streams that rise in the Italian Alps to create hydroelectric power, not only to light her cities but to propel her trains. The 370 kilometers from Florence to Rome are covered by express trains in four hours. Some of them are 20 cars in length. The service is frequent and the equipment is good. Most of the big cities are connected with double track systems and the road bed is perfect.

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

Land Commissioner John Pettit Borden reported to Congress on this day in 1838 about some of the difficulties of his office, and it must be admitted that he had plenty to complain about.

In the first place, the land law he was trying valiantly to administer was anything but clear. As he wrote to Congress, "claims are presented in many different ways and so very complex in their nature, that no two ordinary men are capable of deciding justly upon them." The very wording of the law invited speculation and fraud, both hard to detect and prevent under the circumstances.

Houston weather and cramped office facilities presented other hardships. The documents Borden was able to secure overflowed into the corridors and the basement of the capitol building leased from the Allen brothers—and frequent rain made the basement a rather soggy place to store papers. After two hectic years of facing nearly 38,000 land claimants who asked for over fifty million acres of the public domain, Borden still had only a single office and six employees.

But lots of people wanted Texas land and somehow or another they got it. In the short span of the Republic's existence a total of some thirty million acres was handed out to various claimants, legitimate or otherwise.

amounts. The minerals are likely to include iron, calcium, phosphorus and sulphur. The richer the soil, the better its supply of minerals. Nitrogen is important for plants, and many farmers provide it by using nitrates to enrich the soil.

Big plants usually have long roots, and little ones usually have short ones. That is true, in general, but there are trees which have shorter roots than we might expect. The coconut palm, for example, has roots only a few feet long. This tree can be transplanted with success when 20 or 25 feet tall.

Some small plants have very long roots. Perhaps you have tried to reach the end of dandelion roots!

Wheat stalks also have a strong root system. Certain roots under a stalk may measure five feet.

Alfalfa, a kind of hay, has greater roots than wheat. The alfalfa stalk may be only two or three feet high, but the roots under it are likely to have a length of many feet. In rare cases it has been found that alfalfa roots go down to a depth of 40 or 50 feet!

Roots Of Plants Differ Widely

Certain plants, including Spanish moss and some orchids, have aerial roots. They can get along without touching the soil, since they find resting places on trunks and branches of trees.

It is usual, however, for roots to be imbedded in the soil. Thousands of kinds of trees and other plants must know the soil if they are to live.

Roots in the soil anchor a plant in its place. They may hold it firmly even when there is a powerful wind.

Another service of the roots is to take up water. The water is carried through the plant and into the leaves. When it gets into green leaves, the water, or sap, plays a part in making starch and sugar. Rain water which seeps through the soil tends to pick up minerals in small

DESIGNING WOMAN

Design For Dining Area Gives Neat Arrangement

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

As dining rooms disappear, the dining table and chairs tucked up wherever there's room for them. The trick is to find a place for them that doesn't crowd a living-dining room, especially the room that has no dining alcove. Here a compact and well-organized arrangement of furniture provides a new spot for dining, and the dining table itself is half the answer to the problem of dividing the room.

The arrangement depends on a new type of table, the long drop leaf that's very narrow with the leaves down. Now that sofa-back tables are in fashion, this type of table is used whether or not it's needed at mealtime, but when it must be the dining table it joins with a sofa or upholstered sectional units to divide the dining area from the rest of the room.

Chairs, shown here at the table, can move back against the wall or pull up for extra seating in the living room area. A lamp that brightens the corner is useful on both the upholstered and the table side. The arrangement is both unusually compact and unusually comfortable. The same number of pieces of furniture scattered around the room would crowd and clutter it, but organized this way they free floor space to make the room look larger than it is.

Smells Good, Too!
Susan Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stephens, 1507 Eleventh Place, admires the blooms of an Easter Lily plant.

Lilies Now Familiar As Symbol Of Easter

Almost as much a symbol of the Easter season as the cross, is the Easter lily.

The beautiful white blooms are more prevalent this time of the year than any other and many will decorate churches on Easter Sunday.

But where do they come from? Do they just appear in time for Easter?

Apparently not. Local shops get their supplies from hot houses around the country. According to Big Spring florists the plants for sale here are not field grown.

The Easter lily is the only kind that is forced upon a commercial scale in the United States.

For forcing, the bulbs are planted as soon as possible after their arrival from the Bermuda Islands.

Charges HST Pays Off Debt To Murray

NEW YORK (AP)—A steel industry spokesman asserted angrily last night that President Truman had abused his power, distorted facts and paid off a "debt to the CIO" in the steel dispute.

Clarence B. Randall, president of Inland Steel Company, called the government's seizure of the still mills a "corrupt political deal" and said:

"This evil deed, without precedent in American history, discharged a political debt to the CIO."

"Phil Murray now gives Harry

S. Truman a receipt marked, "Paid in full!"

Randall's no-holds-barred address—industry's first formal comment on the seizure—was made over four major radio and four major television networks.

The seizure, Randall said, was done "without the slightest shadow of legal right."

He noted that Truman had said in his seizure announcement that the steel industry made 19.50 profit on each ton.

"This, the steel spokesman said, was a 'basic misrepresentation' and didn't include the fact 'that he (Truman) takes at least two-thirds of that away in taxes.'"

Elaborating on his "corrupt political deal" statement, Randall said one of the principals was the Wage Stabilization Board, which recommended a 17 1/2 cents an hour wage increase for the CIO United Steelworkers.

Murray, CIO - USW President, called a strike after the industry refused to accept the recommendation without a $12 a ton increase in steel prices.

The public members of the industry - labor - public WSB panel, Randall asserted, were "public in name only—for Harry Truman knew in advance that they would not let Phil Murray down."

City Water Use Is Up By A Third

Water consumption in the city during March was up by practically a third over the same month a year ago. It is shown in a report from City Secretary C. R. McClellan.

Water metered last month totaled 61,484,000 gallons, an increase of 15,346,800 over March, 1951. The total was down, however, from February by 4,148,200 gallons.

Water-sewer billing amounted to $3,127.71 last month, an increase of $4,147.99 over March, 1951, but $1,110.83 less than February of this year.

General fund receipts in March amounted to $117,467.05, with $97,465.88 transferred from other funds. Water and sewer system revenue fund receipts were $36,643.42.

Current tax collections amounted to $706.43 and delinquent tax collections aggregated $2,111.83.

Other items of revenue for the month included interest and penalties, $1,305.41; occupation taxes, $62.50; dog taxes, $17; bus franchise, $42.05; taxicab franchise, $134.86; licenses and certificates, $49.

Receipts to the parking meter fund were $2,642.40; to the airport fund $4,182.79; to the cemetery fund, $725.50; to the swimming pool and park fund $577.07.

King Is Cleared Of Intervening In Tax Fraud Cases

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional colleagues have formally cleared Rep. King (D-Calif.) of improperly intervening in tax cases.

Rumors had circulated that King, chairman of a subcommittee investigating tax scandals, had taken an improper interest in cases involving taxpayers at Long Beach, Calif.

King himself ordered an investigation into the reports.

The Ways and Means Committee yesterday filed with the House its report on the investigation—the rumors, it said, were "unfounded" and the probe failed to disclose any trace of "improper intervention" by King.

U. S. Economy Is Said Strong Despite Weakening In Prices

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics said today the national economy is strong despite some recent weakening in prices.

In a forecast of market prospects for farm products, the bureau listed these factors as indicating the nation's economy will continue operating in high gear:

1. Industrial production is up from January and February levels.

2. Employment remains virtually unchanged.

3. Personal incomes continue near high levels of recent months.

4. The defense program is still expanding.

"Available information for the first part of the quarter indicates," the bureau said, "that national security spending may be up approximately four billion dollars from the annual rate of 44 billion dollars in the fourth quarter (of 1951)."

"Evidently business investment also rose, according to surveys of plans for capital expansion, and indications are that new construction expenditures averaged around 5 per cent above the fourth quarter."

The bureau said that apparently rising incomes are resulting in an increase in consumer buying.

"With prospects for higher wage rates in the steel industry and some other major industries, consumer incomes are expected to continue to rise," the agency said.

It added, however, that wage increases may not be as general this spring as last, because of slackness in some industries, particularly those producing non-durable goods.

The bureau said farm marketing of food and fiber in the first quarter of this year were running about 5 per cent larger than last year.

It gave this summary of the food and farm product supply and price outlook:

Meat—Production is running substantially higher than a year ago and probably will continue higher for the remainder of this year.

Dairy products—Demand con-times strong and prices for the rest of 1952 probably will be equal to or above those of 1951.

Eggs—Production is up 9 per cent from last year. The spring price decline has about run its course, but prices are expected to continue below last year's levels.

Wheat—Domestic and export sales running at highest level since 1948.

Canned vegetables—Stocks are appreciably larger than a year ago and prices of truck crops for processing are expected to average somewhat lower than a year ago.

Dry beans—Production this year may fall short of expected demand.

Livestock feed grains—Demand expected to continue strong over the next several months, but relatively unfavorable producer prices of hogs and poultry may tend to weaken demand later in the year.

The colorful House of David team, always capable of putting on a good show, moves into Steer Stadium tonight for a baseball exhibition against the Big Spring Broncs. Game time is 8:15 o'clock.

The Bearded Beauties, most of whom have sprouted a lot of foliage around their chins, are one of the best traveled teams in baseball. They have toured in every state in the union, all the provinces of Canada, in Old Mexico, the Hawaiian Islands and in Fairbanks and Anchorage, Alaska.

Locally, the Beauties haven't been seen since the immortal Grover Cleveland Alexander was with the club and that was a long, long time ago. At that time, the local park was located east of town.

Highlight of the David act is the "pepper game" staged by Manager George Anderson and several hirelings during a fifth inning interlude. Anderson has been practicing the art since 1928 and is regarded as the finest "pepper player" in all of baseball. He'll fit in at second base for his club, too.

The first House of David team was organized in 1914 by Francis Thorpe, now secretary of the House of David Colony at Benton Harbor, Mich. The team didn't go on the road until 1919, however. Since that time, they have appeared in the Polo Grounds, N. Y.; Shibe Park, Philadelphia; and other big league parks. With the exception of the war years, 1942 through '45, they have had representative teams on the road every season since 1919.

The Davids have had many imitators, both colored and white, but the team appearing here is the only one which represents the Colony.

This spring, the Davids trained at Marietta, Okla., and are just starting their tour. They expect to play around 160 games this year.

Total attendance figures for the past four seasons show the team has played to over 745,000 paid admissions.

Starters for the Davids tonight will be Bob Mitchell at first base, Anderson at second, Al Sternberg at shortstop, Jack Garrett at third, Dick Drain catching, Charles Chapeta, Wayne Goodman and Morley Cato in the outfield and Charles Liska, Clare Westphal or Lefty Floyd pitching.

Here Tonight

Homer Garner, a pitcher for the House of David, will appear here with the Bearded Beauties in an exhibition game against the Big Spring Broncs this evening at 8:15 p.m.

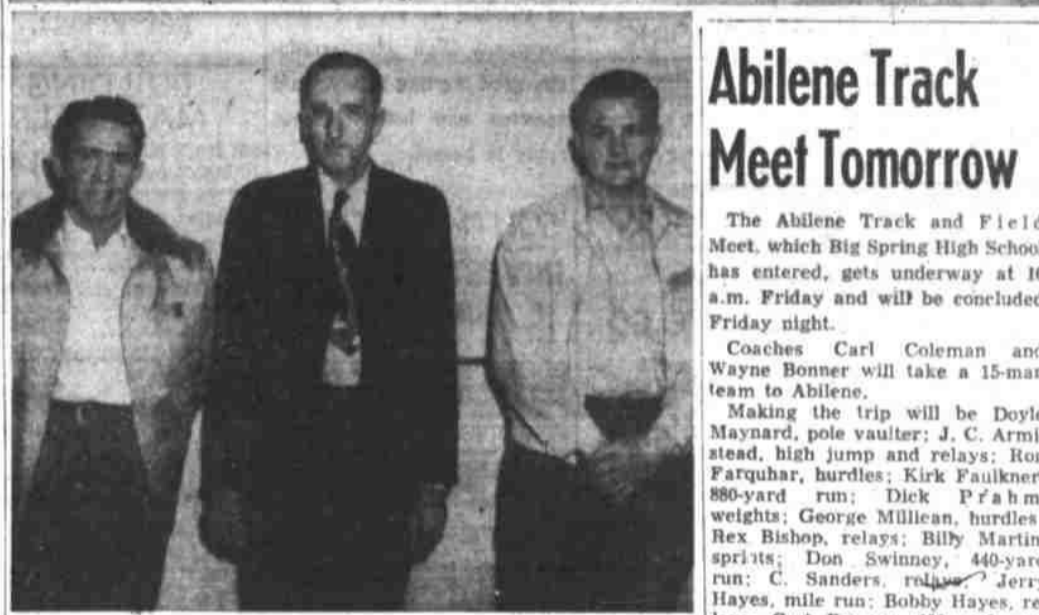

Lamesa Golf Tourney Will Get Underway On April 18

West Texas' golf season will be opened Friday, April 18, at the Lamesa Country Club with qualifying rounds of that city's first annual invitational tournament. Competition will begin Saturday and continue through Sunday afternoon.

More than 100 players are expected to compete for $700 in prizes. Some of the top amateur golfers of the section have assured Lamesa tournament officials that they plan to enter.

Qualifying rounds will be played the 18th; however, players unable to qualify on that date may do so anytime or by sending in cards signed by their club professionals and accompanied by the $10 entrance fee. Championship flight contenders must qualify in Lamesa on the 18th.

A long-driving contest will be held Friday afternoon following qualifying; first and second rounds will be played Saturday; and semi-final and final rounds will be played Sunday. Identical prizes will be given winners of all flights, and

Net Group Plans Sterner Policy

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—It is good to get back home from the baseball camps and learn that the nation's tennis leaders have made their first important move toward winning the Davis Cup back from the Australians next winter.

Preparing our athletes mentally for the struggle to come, the tennis association, through Harold A. Leibair, the chairman of its rules committee, has formally notified each and every one of the scamps that he had better observe the so-called eight-week rule this summer—or else.

The rule in question, which was abolished by England last year and never was heard of in Australia, stipulates that a player may draw expenses in only eight tournaments outside the various national championships and five sectional events—scarcely sufficient to get a boy well warmed up.

After warning the miscreants that they needn't try to get around the edict by hiding out in rooming houses and private homes during a tournament and pretending not to know where their next meal is coming from, the letter from Leibair concludes in fatherly fashion, "These rules will be strictly enforced."

That should do it. Any tennis player who isn't ready and anxious to throw himself into the struggle against the Aussies after he has received such a ringing call to duty isn't worthy of representing the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association anyway.

Frank Heasley, Lamesa professional, states that the course will be in "fair" condition. The beautiful bent-grass greens, he said, should be in good shape, but the fairways will show effects of severe drought and sandstorms this spring.

Par is 72 on the 6,026-yard course. A course record is sure to be established since there has never been an official tournament at Lamesa. Gene Lowry, former professional, holds the unofficial record with a 9-under-par 61.

Country Club President C. L. Schmidt and Bob Van Wic, vice president, are tournament directors. Leroy Brannon, well-known in West Texas golf circles, will be official tournament starter.

Freshman Takes His Lumps But Retains Post

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Eddie (Austerly Program) Sawyer, the Philadelphia Phillies' scholarly manager, had a brand new problem on his mind today, along with the recurrence of a new one.

"Remember Steve Riddick, the rookie who hurried the no-hitter against the St. Louis Cardinals the last time out? It turned out that he didn't have any Indian sign on the Red Birds, who proceeded to knock him out of the box in the sixth inning of yesterday's game, which the Cards went on to win, 8-6.

Riddick had been somewhat of a surprise to Sawyer, inasmuch as the rookie compiled only a 5-11 record with Baltimore last year. Sawyer doesn't intend to abandon Steve, although he has his fingers crossed that the no-hitter wasn't a fluke.

Then, while he was mulling over the shelling Riddick took, Sawyer brought in his one-time relief ace, Jim Konstanty. Two years ago, when Konstanty got in a ball game, he usually was the last pitcher in the Phillies' part of the line score, he was so effective.

Well, the aging Jim managed to fan Del Rice, but was slapped for successive doubles by Gene Mauch and Cloyd Boyer, neither of whom is regarded as exactly a fence buster. Even with his strong starting hurlers, Sawyer was hoping that Konstanty would come back to his 1950 form when he won 16 games and compiled a 2.66 earned run average. Last year he won just four with an ERA of 4.03.

The Cards even won the "B" game part of a doubleheader, whipping the Phils, 3-2, in a five-inning affair called by darkness.

But the Cleveland Indians certainly have a hoodoo on the New York Giants. The Tribe slapped down the New Yorkers for the 11th time in 13 meetings, 2-1, on only three hits. Ironically, the Giants got nine of the combined offerings of Bob Chalkers and Lefty Karrigan.

In New York, The Giants got fairly encouraging news from Monte Irvin, who returned there last night for treatment of a fractured ankle.

Asked if he expected to play again this year, Monte replied: "Sure, in two or three months."

Then pointing to his toes and wiggling them under the white sock at the end of his cast, he said:

"Look, I can wiggle my toes now."

The veteran Ken Raffensberger turned in a smooth performance yesterday for the Cincinnati Reds, although he didn't get credit for the Redlegs' 3-2 triumph over the Washington Senators. He went seven innings, but left the game with the count tied at 2-all. Niles Jordan who relieved him, got credit for the victory.

Steers, Odessa Tangle Today

Still winless after five starts, the Big Spring High School Steers move to Odessa this afternoon for a district baseball bout with the Resident Bronchos.

The Broncs are trying desperately to remain in the scrap for the south half title and need a win over the locals. Odessa battered the Steers, 25-3, last time out.

The Steers, youthful and for the most part inexperienced, have played some good ball but need to co-ordinate play.

Raymond Gilstrap probably will start against the hard-hitting Broncs. Ray Todd and Oakie Haggood will be ready for relief chores.

ON WAY HOME

ATLANTA, April 10 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox will wind up their spring excursion against Atlanta today and then head for Chicago.

Abilene Track Meet Tomorrow

The Abilene Track and Field Meet, which Big Spring High School has entered, gets underway at 10 a.m. Friday and will be concluded Friday night.

Coaches Carl Coleman and Wayne Bonner will take a 15-man team to Abilene.

Making the trip will be Doyle Maynard, pole vaulter; J. C. Armistead, high jump and relays; Ron Farquhar, hurdles; Kirk Faulkner, 880-yard run; Dick Prahm, weights; George Milleen, hurdles; Rex Bishop, relays; Billy Martin, sprints; Don Swinney, 440-yard run; C. Sanders, relays; Jerry Hayes, mile run; Bobby Hayes, relays; Carl Preston, 880-yard run; Donald Love, mile run; and Pashal Odem, relays.

Contest Closes This Evening

The contest to decide a bat-boy for the 1952 Big Spring Broncs closes at midnight tonight. Ballots mailed before that hour will be counted.

More than 1,500 persons have voted in the contest, with the winner far from decided. Ben Richbourg and Ladell Howell are running neck and neck in the lead with Kelsey Meeks a strong third.

Lewis Porter is fourth, followed by Charles Saunders and George Peacock.

An individual can vote no more than once but entries are permitted to solicit support any way they choose.

The winner will shag bats for the Broncs during the coming Longhorn League campaign. He will be aided by the club and be allowed to make several trips with the team after school is out.

Schmidt Promoted

ST. LOUIS, April 10 (AP)—Willard Schmidt, rookie 21-year-old right-hander, has been bought by the St. Louis Cardinals from Houston. Schmidt was assigned to Houston, but never played there. He had a 19-4 record with Omaha last year and led the Western League in strikeouts with 202.

Texas League Begins 57th Campaign Saturday Night

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, April 10 (AP)—The Texas League rolls open another campaign—its 57th in 65 years—Saturday night and President J. Alvin Gardner has forecast a substantial attendance increase.

Basing his prediction on a population gain in the league area and on what he thinks will be a closer race than last season, the circuit's head man said he figured 1952 would record 1,750,000 paid admissions.

Last year the total was 1,345,371. It was a year in which Houston held a long lead in the last half.

Opening games Saturday night are Tulsa at Dallas, Fort Worth at Oklahoma City, Beaumont at Shreveport and Houston at San Antonio. The second "openers" will be Monday when Dallas plays at

Tigers Will Use Two Newcomers

CHATTANOOGA, April 10 (AP)—Only a couple of new faces will appear in the Detroit Tigers' opening day lineup.

They are Matt Bas, catching, and rookie Ben Taylor at first. Otherwise the regulars will be on the job—Jerry Friday at second, George Kell at third, Johnny Groth in left, Hoot Evers in center and Vic Wertz in right field. Neil Berry will be at the shortstop post held last year by Johnny Ligon.

STEVE SADOWSKI

Sadowski Will Rejoin Staff

ABILENE, April 10 (AP)—Steve Sadowski of St. Louis has been added to the umpiring staff of the Longhorn League, President Hal Sayles announced today.

Addition of Sadowski, who umpired one year in the Longhorn and the past three in the West Texas-New Mexico League, completes the staff.

Rice The Winner

DURANT, Okla., April 10 (AP)—Rice Institute defeated Southeastern College here yesterday in a 4-2 tennis match.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The Pacific Coast League, which uses a theme song entitled "I'll Go First Class Or I'll Stay Home," prides itself on being big league in every respect.

However, the opening night attendance figures at Hollywood (3,825) are due to be bested in at least two and possibly three Longhorn League cities—San Angelo, Roswell and Midland.

PERMIAN BOWL WILL ENDURE, ODESSANS ANNOUNCE

It's good to learn Odessa didn't let a little thing like a Texas Interscholastic League edict discourage them from planning the annual Permian Bowl football game. (The scene of the all-star high school battle has been changed from the Odessa Stadium to the Otter baseball park).

Its existence is justified because all proceeds go to charity. Some local lad is reasonably sure of being named to play in the game. It probably will be Harold Haynie, a fine lineman for the Steers last fall.

Dick Laswell represented Big Spring in the game last year. Jackie Wolf of Coahoma also played.

Midland's Country Club had a chance to stage a Women's Open Golf Tournament featuring Mildred (Babe) Zaharias, the Bauer sisters, Betty Jameson and others this summer, but vetoed the plan. The required fee ($3,000) was too much.

Prooke Medical Center, which sends its stellar baseball team here next week to play the Broncs, almost got toppled by Roswell last week. The Rockets had the sacks jammed with one out in the eighth but went down in order and finally yielded, 4-3, to the Comets.

A. C. Gonzales, owner of the Sweetwater Longhorn League team, is building himself quite a baseball empire.

Gonzales, a wealthy lawyer who lives in Del Rio, recently acquired the Decatur club in the Ohio-Mississippi Valley League. That's the city that replaced Mattoon in the circuit this year.

Gonzales also owns the clubs at Paris, Texas, and Chickasha, Okla.

Julian Acosta, who used to play first base for Ballinger, was mastermind of the Decatur outfit.

Floyd (Little Pepper) Martin, who grew up here, is leading off for Abilene Blue Sox, and doing right well with the stick.

Robert McEwen Is Elected President Of Lions Club

Lions squeezed a charter presentation and an election into the same program Wednesday.

While ballots which elected Robert McEwen as president were being tabulated, the club was given the charter for operation of Boy Scout Troop No. 7 and Explorer Post No. 7 for the year.

John Dibrill, president, received the charter and in turn committed it to Pete Cook, chairman of the troop committee.

Others elected in the balloting, which was preceded by campaign talks between Streamliners and Steamroller parties, were:

Rosie Dobbins, first vice president; Gil Jones, second vice president; Choc Jones, third vice president; Larson Lloyd, secretary-treasurer; R. H. Snyder and Roy Worley, tailtwisters; Jack Cook, Liontamer; Carl Smith and Dr. Marshall Cauley, directors; Mrs. J. W. King Jr., club sweetheart.

New officers take office the first week in July. Election is had at this time of the year in order that they may gain the benefit of instruction and inspiration from the district convention.

In the charter ceremony, Bill Sheppard, district commissioner and who represented the district committee on behalf of Chairman Gil Jones, asked for additional committeemen for the troop—and got them. Members of the committee besides Cook are Fred Stitzell, Dick Willard, Jess Thornburn, Dr. Marshall Cauley, Marvin Miller, and George Melear, institutional representative. Introduced as special guests were Jesse Mendoza, scoutmaster, Ed Vasquez, assistant scoutmaster and the Explorer post advisor and James Hale, field Scout executive.

Wins '52 Dealey Memorial Prize

DALLAS, April 10 (AP)—A 17-year-old Kilgore pianist, Van Cliburn, is the winner of the 1952 G. B. Dealey Memorial Award.

The Dealey Award winner is chosen annually from among the winners of the Statewide Young Artist Competition, sponsored by the Dallas Council of World Affairs in connection with the Civic Federation.

For the first time in the eight-year history of the Young Artist Competition, only three winners were named. They were also pianists, John Woods of Denton and Marshall Williamson of Fort Worth.

Because pianists dominated the competition again this year, the advisory committee of the auditions will be asked to set up three classifications for final awards with not more than two winners from each. They would be voice, stringed instruments, and piano.

The Dealey Award winner still would be chosen from all winners regardless of classification.

It was originally donated by the late publisher of the Dallas Morning News for whom it was named and in whose memory it is continued. The winner receives $250 and appears as soloist with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra.

Each of the Young Artist winners receives $50 and a solo recital in Scott Hall the following season.

Judges for the Dealey Award this year were Walter Hendl, Dallas Symphony Orchestra conductor; John Rosenfield, amusement editor of the Dallas News, and E. Clyde Whitlock, music critic of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

WHITE HOUSE HOPEFUL

Stassen Is Pulling No Punches In Seeking The Nod From GOP

By LEE LINDER
PHILADELPHIA, April 3. (AP)—Harold E. Stassen, shuttling back and forth across the country in plane, train and auto, is pulling no punches in his bid for the presidency of the United States.

In his speeches, in casual before-dinner conversations, at news conferences and at political gatherings, Stassen declares the big task of the Republican party is to end "the present misuse of our nation's government."

And he adds that it is the Stassen program—a "humanitarian and liberal" one—that will do it.

Since 1946, publicly, and perhaps years before that, privately Stassen has wanted to be President. He makes it clear that he believes he is the man who in '52 can regain the White House for the Republicans for the first time since 1932.

HAROLD E. STASSEN

As far back as 1943—when he was only 36—there was talk that Stassen, then governor of Minnesota, would be a good presidential candidate. He joined the Navy in 1944—while on duty in the Pacific war zone—he was supported at the Republican convention as "favorite son" of his home state.

Stassen hustled far and wide but failed in his determined bid to win the Republican presidential nomination in 1948. His failure was not for lack of trying; he probably was the most traveled candidate to take to the hustings.

In the 1948 nomination race he said he felt the way to defeat the Democratic Truman administration was to take the fight directly to the people everywhere. And he did, with 20 full months of intensive campaigning, seeking the support of young men and young women and all independent voters.

Today, hustling as ever, he is again criss-crossing the nation, buttonholing GOP leaders big and small.

Stassen is president of the University of Pennsylvania on leave and makes his home in the Chestnut Hill section of Philadelphia. His basic ties, however, remain with Minnesota, where he was born and served three times as governor. He was a Navy officer from 1943-1946, entering as a lieutenant commander and retiring as a captain. He was detached from naval duty to serve, by appointment of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, as a delegate to the San Francisco Conference that wrote the United Nations Charter in 1945.

When he announced his candidacy again last December Stassen drafted what he described as a school, graduating in 1929 at the age of 22. There he gained a reputation as a debater who didn't waste words and time to come to the point.

He helped organize the law firm of Stassen, Ryan & Olson, and built up a substantial practice in nine years. He resigned from the firm after being elected governor in 1938.

While he enjoyed private work, he liked the public eye, and turned to politics. At 23 he was elected a county attorney. However, it was some six months before he could take over the office. During the campaign he had been felled by tuberculosis. Came back stronger than ever.

He started from the very bottom as a precinct committeeman. He was one of the organizers of the "forward looking program" to end 20 years of Democratic rule.

Cheer From Cheerio Club

Officials of the Cheerio Club were on hand Tuesday for the formal presentation of woodworking power tools to Lowell Holland, one of the members. Lowell, a veteran of the Korean campaign, like other Cheerio Club members is blind. At left is Mrs. Ina Monteith, club president, and next to her is Mrs. W. D. Willbanks, vice president. In the center is Mrs. T. Tom Rogers, club secretary and only club member with normal eyesight, who is presenting Lowell with a check for materials. Between them is J. R. Stanley, who helped provide the machines. The check represented an excess that friends subscribed toward the shop.

Handicapped Folks Also Aid Others In Trouble

Being blind does not handicap the heart.

Members of the Cheerio Club have demonstrated this along with a boundless faith.

When Lowell Holland, who lost his eyesight in an explosion of a land mine on a Korean battlefield, returned here after his discharge, he had woodworking skill taught him by the Army and the Veterans Administration. He also had some simple hand tools.

But Low. I had worked with power tools in training and he felt the need of them to turn out work more expeditiously.

Members of the Cheerio Club, composed of the blind and near blind, learned of his problem.

"Why can't we help," they asked. Passing the hat among themselves, they raised enough to down payment on some tools and motors, which J. R. Stanley provided at cost and absorbed the freight himself.

They had no idea where the remainder of the money, well in excess of $200, was coming from. But they had faith that they would get it. And they did, plus enough that Holland was presented with a check to buy some materials to go with his new shop equipment at his apartment at 1701 Lancaster.

Mrs. Ina Monteith, president of the Cheerio Club, Mrs. W. D. Willbanks, vice president, and Mrs. J. Tom Rogers, secretary, all expressed deep appreciation for those who helped. So far as they can remember, these are the ones who gave aid, and "if any are overlooked," said Mrs. Willbanks, "we want them to know how much their help meant, too."

The list follows:

Urges Go-Ahead In Texas River Projects

AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Rep. Thompson (D-Tex.) has urged President Truman to give a go-ahead signal for construction projects on three Texas rivers in the Gulf Coast area.

Thompson said that in a White House conference yesterday, he pointed out that proposed improvements on the Guadalupe, Colorado and Trinity rivers, would contribute to the national defense effort.

The projects have been authorized by Congress, but appropriation of money for them has been held up by the ban on starting new projects during the present emergency.

Need a bunny rabbit for the kids for Easter?
A couple of the boys enrolled in the FFA Chapter activities at the Big Spring High School have rabbits as their projects and they'll probably have some young ones for the Easter market, mainly white ones, some blacks, perhaps, and probably some black-and-white ones.

FFA'ers with steers, lambs and capons as projects have a market in the sale that promptly follows the Fat Stock Show. The Grub Line is trying to give 4-H'ers and FFA'ers

The boys who have been listed so far by FFA instructors are Author Sundry, 1509 West 5th, and Jimmy Cross, 206 Harding Street.

The American Hereford Association has what it calls a "Traveling Album" of the 100 best Hereford pictures made in the United States. This album circulates among livestock writers and from it they may select any picture they need in their work.

Most of the scenes are on the larger ranches such as the Largent spread at Merkel; the Milky Way Ranch; the Wyoming Hereford Ranch; the Painter Ranch, and others.

Among the 100 best Hereford pictures there is only one of club calves and was made here. In the picture is County Agent Durward Lewter, and 4-H'ers Edgar Allen Phillips and John Tovar, accompanied by Charlie Hunt, formerly of the American Hereford Association, and now manager of the Robertson Hereford Ranch at Mustang just outside Oklahoma City.

Don McCarthy of the American Hereford Association assures the Grub Line Rider that there isn't another county in the world that can equal Howard County boys and girls.

The influence of Dr. Krick and his fellow rainmakers is being felt everywhere.
The Grub Line has found some mesquite with roots growing straight up out of the ground. Evidently with the idea of reaching up and pulling some moisture down out of the skies.

More evidence that spring is here.

The Waynoka (Oklahoma) Chamber of Commerce is booming its annual rattlesnake hunt scheduled for April 20th. The chief object of the event originally was to rid the breaks of rattlesnakes which average killing from 50 to 100 head of cattle a year. At this season the rattlers emerge from hibernation and sun themselves on the warm rocks. It is expected that at least 10,000 people will join in the fun and that a minimum of 600 snakes will be captured or killed. There's a $100 cash prize for the fellow who turns up with the longest snake.

Many people have been under the impression that the late Gov. T. A. Simpson of Pleasant Hill, Missouri, and his cowman associate, the late Charles Gudgell, the men who imported the greatest of all Hereford sires, Anxiety 4, were exclusively Hereford breeders.

The fact is that they were also importers of some of the greatest of the early Aberdeen-Angus sires, and Mr. Gudgell was one of the organizers of the American Aberdeen-Angus Breeders Association, and the first office of the Angus Association, and also the first office of the Hereford Association, were in his home at Independence, Missouri.

Veteran In Hospital, But He's Not Hurt

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Civil war veteran Douglas T. Story, 107, is in the hospital—because his daughter broke her leg.

Story was admitted to Sawdell Veterans Hospital recently. But doctors there said it was only because of the accident to Mrs. Dulcy Petee, 68, the daughter with whom he had lived. There was no one else to take care of him.

"Best rest I've had in years," he said.

Iran Oil Case Put Off For A Month

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, April 10 (AP)—The International Court of Justice announced today it has postponed for one month, at the request of Iran, a hearing of the Anglo-Iranian oil case.

The hearing had originally been

LOYAN H. WALKER

Walker New Head Of WTCC Ag. Dept.

ABILENE.—Appointment of Loyan H. Walker as manager of the agriculture and livestock department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was announced today by Fred H. Husbands, executive vice-president and general manager.

Walker will fill a vacancy created by resignation of C. DeWayne Davis, who now is manager of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce.

After his graduation from Texas A & M College in 1939, Walker became vocational agriculture teacher at Aspermont High School, serving there until 1942. It was in Aspermont that he met his wife, the former Patsy Ruth Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Mitchell, Stonewall County ranchers.

Most of his three years of World War II Army service as an infantry officer was devoted to training of troops. He spent 14 months with the 90th Infantry Division at Camp Barkley, Abilene.

Following his military service, Walker taught agriculture at Wylie, Taylor County, during the 1944-45 session and was an employee relations counselor at Abilene Army Air Base when he joined the Veterans Administration in 1945.

His first VA assignment was at the Abilene Veterans Guidance Center at Hardin-Simmons University. A year later he became a technical training specialist in agriculture and has served in that capacity since. He has been supervisor of field training officers of 51 counties of the Dallas regional area. At the peak of the GI educational program, eight thousand veterans were in institutional on-the-farm training in his territory.

Walker was born at Walnut Springs, Texas, in 1918. He majored in agricultural education at A & M College.

220 Displaced Persons Recruited Into The U S Army

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—After a year of effort, only 220 European displaced persons have been recruited into the U.S. Army. The quota for these aliens was set at 12,500. Army authorities frankly doubt they will ever get even a tenth of them.

When the alien enlistment law was passed by Congress, many expected that Europe's young refugees from war and communism would flock to the American colors by the thousands.

A spokesman at the Army's European headquarters said about 5,000 aliens from 41 countries have applied but most failed to meet qualifications.

Napalm Being Tamed For Use During Peace

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Reporter
NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—The hell fire death of war—napalm or jellied gasoline bombs—is being tamed to useful peacetime work.

In war, napalm is one of the most feared and most useful weapons.

Napalm itself is a yellow powder and is just a thickener of fluids. It turns gasoline to a jelly for use in bombs and flame-throwers.

In peace, some of napalm's present or promised jobs include:

A thickener for vinyl resin plastics. It forms paste-like materials that can be easily molded or worked, and then fused by heat no higher than in a roasting oven to make resilient, non-breakable plastic products.

Discs, the size of a quarter, to start up the logs in your fireplace without paper or kindling. Research on these is under way.

Mixing in fuel oil to ignite huge coal furnaces and bring the coal fire to high temperature rapidly. Flame-throwers to burn out vegetation on waterways, to kill weeds, or start back fires to combat forest fires. Or in flame-throwers for quick removal of hard-packed ice and snow from airport runways.

Napalm gasoline bombs are set off by detonators in the mouth of the tank of jellied gasoline. The stuff flies everywhere, sticks and burns. It burns far longer than liquid gasoline.

Communists in Korea call it the hell bomb. It fires tanks and trucks and towns, brings flaming death or suffocation to troops hiding in dugouts or in tunnels. The average napalm bomb covers an area 275 feet long and 80 feet wide with fire.

Psychologically it has tremendous impact, and panics many troops.

Napalm is a pure war baby, developed out of necessity in World War II and used then to burn out Japanese troops.

Napalm thickener is an aluminum soap of naphthenic, oleic and coconut fatty acids.

SERVING BIG SPRING

Special Easter Dinner

Mrs. Cloy Lyles, wife of the pastor of the Park Methodist Church, is shown above preparing her Spring Salad that will be on the family table Easter Sunday. Mother's little helpers are Teresa, 10 months, and Carol Ann, 5. Below, Mrs. George Harrington, wife of the minister of the Main St. Church of God, is caught shaking pieces of chicken in a paper sack, prior to preparing her dish, Chicken Maryland. Looking on is daughter, Hope, 5.

Veal Steak Is Delicate, Cook Slowly

Veal steak refers to slices cut from the leg. These steaks containing a small round bone are usually cut 1/4 to 1-3/4 inch thick and weigh from 1/2 to 1 pound each. Slices from the round-bone side of the shoulder or chuck may be sold as steaks, too. Slices from the chuck containing one or two long bones are sold as shoulder chops. These may be cooked like steaks but the several muscles and the amount

Keep Meat At Best

Remove store wrappings from fresh meat the minute you get home from your market. Then lightly top with a sheet of waxed paper and place in your refrigerator. Ready-to-serve meats and leftovers should be stored in just the opposite manner; that is, they should be tightly wrapped with waxed paper or placed in a closely covered refrigerator dish before being refrigerated.

of bone make these less desirable and usually lower-priced than the meatier, firmer leg steaks. Veal steak is a delicate meat with too little fat to make a satisfactory broiling meat. For real perfection, veal should be seasoned, dipped in flour, browned in fat, then cooked slowly in a liquid or sauce, until fork tender.

Four Pastors' Wives Contribute Recipes For Special Easter Meal

The wives of four pastors of Big Spring churches have joined at this Easter season to give their recipes for special dishes for an Easter Sunday meal.

The main course of the Easter dinner prepared with recipes from ministers' wives consists of fried chicken, prepared like the family of Mrs. George Harrington, wife of the pastor of the Main St. Church of God, likes it. The family consists of three daughters, Georgetta, 14, Diane, 11, and Hope, 5.

Chicken Maryland is a favorite with the family because Mrs. Harrington can start cooking it before going to Sunday school and church. Upon her return, the dish is ready to serve.

Chicken Maryland
 Ingredients:
 1 frying chicken, cut up.
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
 1/2 cup flour

 Dip pieces of chicken in egg. Combine salt, pepper and flour in paper sack. Add few leaves of chicken at a time and shake until chicken is coated. After all chicken has been coated, put it and shortening into heavy skillet. Pour milk over chicken and cover and cook in slow oven about two hours. The chicken can be browned by removing lid for the last few minutes.

Mrs. A. H. Hoyer, wife of the pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, contributes the vegetable recipe, Asparagus Special. The Hoyers have lived in Big Spring almost five years and are the parents of two sons. One, a chaplain, has just returned from service in Korea. The other is a student at the University of Texas working toward his doctorate degree.

Asparagus Special
 Ingredients:
 1 medium size can white asparagus tips
 2 tablespoons butter
 1 tablespoon flour
 Juice from asparagus

Mrs. Cloy Lyles, wife of the minister of the Park Methodist Church, has presented her recipe for Spring Salad. The Lyles are the parents of two daughters, Carol Ann, 5, and Teresa, 10 months.

Spring Salad
 Ingredients:
 2 medium tomatoes
 1 cup chopped spinach
 1/2 to 3/4 cup chopped green onions
 1/2 cup chopped radishes

Here's Tips For Calorie Counters

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor
 Anyone in your family trying to acquire a new slim figure for a new spring suit? Want some appealing recipes that fit a reducing diet? Here are two suggestions that look good, taste good, and go easy on calories.

For a Reducer's Luncheon Plate peel big juicy oranges so no white membrane remains, cut into round slices, and arrange on lettuce. Next on the plate put white or pink-meat grapefruit, carefully sectioned. Add deviled egg, shrimp, and crisp cucumber slices. Leave the peel on the cucumber for a bright green note. Serve the salad with a low-calorie salad dressing. This plate will give you a reducer's plenty of good nutrition. The eggs and fish provide protein, the fruit offers vitamin C plus delicious flavor, and the cucumber adds crunch texture.

A dessert that will make dieters happy is a tapioca cream made with a new non-caloric sweetening solution and apricots canned without sugar. This new non-caloric sweetening solution and apricots canned without sugar. This new non-caloric sweetening solution is a blessing because it can be cooked without losing its sweetness or leaving a bitter aftertaste.

LOW-CALORIE APRICOT TAPIOCA PARFAIT
 Ingredients: 1 egg (separated), 2 cups milk, 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 3/4 teaspoon non-caloric sweetening, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, apricot halves (canned without sugar).
 Method: Beat egg white stiff but not dry. Mix egg yolk with small amount of the milk in a saucepan. Add tapioca, non-caloric sweetening solution, remaining milk, and salt. Cook and stir constantly over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil—5 to 8 minutes. Stir small amount of hot mixture into egg whites; stirring constantly blend in remaining mixture. Stir in vanilla. Cool. Stir once after 15 minutes. Chill. Arrange alternate layers of tapioca and apricot halves in parfait glasses, using 4 apricot halves to a serving if desired. Makes six servings—a each containing only 92 calories.

Carving Leg Of Lamb
 Here's a word to pass on the man of the house about carving Easter's leg of lamb. With the roast placed on the platter with the leg bone to the carver's right, cut three or four slices from the side next to the carver. Then turn the roast and rest it on the cut surface. Starting at the leg bone end, cut slices at right angle to the platter down to the leg bone. Release by cutting along the bone parallel to the platter.

Expert Says Taxes Are Now 'Too High'

By SIGRID ARNE
 WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—When do taxes get "too high?" Right now all types of taxes—federal, state and local—are taking 27.5 per cent of the gross national income.

Colin Clark, world-famous Australian economist, thinks trouble starts when taxes get past 25 per cent of gross income. He made that statement after studying several governments from the early '20s on.

Clark describes the trouble this way:

"Many people don't find it worth their while to work hard. Production doesn't expand as fast as it should. There is a shortage of goods, followed by an inflationary rise in prices."

This, he says, "benefits some but harms the great majority, especially those low-paid workers who keep their savings in money rather than in real property."

Clark's opinion was made public as moves here in Washington to put some limit on federal spending gained momentum.

It looks now as though the House Judiciary Committee will hold hearings this year on three bills that attempt to put a limit on taxes or curb government spending.

Here is what the three proposals would do:

1. A proposed constitutional amendment offered by Rep. Mason (R-III) would limit federal income, estate and gift taxes to an overall 25 per cent. In a war emergency Congress could suspend this limit for a year by vote of three-fourths of all members.
2. A bill by Rep. Reed (R-III) also proposes a 25 per cent limit with a similar emergency provision, but taxes would not be allowed to rise above 40 per cent.
3. A plan by Rep. Jwin (R-NY) would limit government spending, thereby indirectly reducing taxes, but the tax structure would not be altered.

Those in favor of the 25-per-cent limit argue it would (1) prevent abuse of the taxing power; (2) free the states from any threat of domination by Washington; (3) expand production by permitting greater savings which could be put into industry; (4) stop non-essential spending by Congress.

Those opposed call it a "rich man's tax."

They say it would reduce government revenue by 16 billion dollars, based on 1951 income, estate and gift tax rates. They think it would be natural to attempt to make up this loss by increasing other kinds of taxes, such as excises like the tax on cigarettes.

The burden, they say, would be shifted from those who pay income and corporation taxes to the much larger number of people who pay consumers' taxes.

Also, they point out, this plan puts no limit on the size of the debt, and Washington might finance spending by larger borrowing—and normally government borrowing means price jumps.

Two congressional committees—the House-Senate Committee on the Economic Report and the Senate Select Committee on Small Business, recently joined in a study of the 25 per cent limit. Their report shows that when they took a final vote, not a single hand was raised in its favor.

Ordered To Thailand

Master Sergeant Fred T. McMichael, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Winterrowd, 805 Runnels, looks over a picture of Bangkok, Thailand. Sgt. McMichael, who has been operations sergeant at headquarters of the Oklahoma military district at Oklahoma City, has been ordered to the Thailand capital with the U. S. Military Mission to that country. He is scheduled to leave from San Francisco by air late this month. He is a veteran of 12 years service. His wife and daughter, Memmie Grace, 6, will stay in Big Spring with her parents.

LIKE THE OLDEN DAYS

Trading Posts Of Indians Flourish

WINSLOW, Ariz., April 10 (AP)—In this day of supermarkets, the Indian trading posts still flourish on the vast Navajo reservation just as they did in the frontier days of 80 years ago.

The trading posts which dot the bleak Northern Arizona Indian country look and smell like the general stores of long ago. Groceries, clothing, hardware and notions are stacked in disarray. Sheepskins are piled in the storerooms at the rear.

Trading posts are the centers of reservation commercial life. Indians drive their wagons and ride their horses from miles around to buy, sell, trade, pawn and just gossip.

"A trader is almost everything to an Indian from a banker to an undertaker," says Roman Hubbell. "He marries, doctors and buries them. His most important function, however, is that of financial agent."

Hubbell knows by experience. He has spent 59 of his 63 years in the trading business.

"I learned to speak Navajo before I did English," Hubbell said. His father, the late John Lorenzo Hubbell, established the first trading post on the Navajo reservation.

"Indians were financed by my father for as long as five years to enable them to make a decent living," Hubbell said. "Rug-making was an industry where the Navajos could be almost entirely self-sufficient. They could herd the sheep, shear the wool, make dyes for coloring the yarn and weave the rugs all on the reservation."

But rug-making now is a vanishing industry, Hubbell says. Not counting herding time, wages for making a rug would amount to 10 cents an hour.

The elder Hubbell was responsible for another innovation on the reservation. He brought a silversmith from Mexico to teach the tribesmen the craft. Making beautiful silver and turquoise jewelry also developed into a profitable industry but in recent years has been set back by what Roman calls "white chislers" who make cheap imitations by machinery.

One of the main phases of trading is pawn. The Navajos pawn their expensive jewelry to meet emergencies. Traders usually get 10 per cent interest for handling the pawn which they keep for at least a year before reselling it. Hubbell has a pawn he has kept for 15 to 20 years.

"Indians are not as mentally happy as they were in the old days," Hubbell says. "They have taken too many ways of the white man in regard to installment buying. Half of them are worried sick about payments on their pickup trucks and washing machines."

Hubbell is sure the Navajo tribe can become prosperous if it is not given the chance to buy liquor and its land is kept undivided and untaxed.

The Capitol building in Washington, D. C., is situated on a plateau 88 feet above the level of the Potomac River.

Beaumont Will Try Out Parking Meters

BEAUMONT, April 10 (AP)—One of the largest cities in the U. S. without parking meters, Beaumont has voted to try them out for six months.

In yesterday's city election, the city voted 1,877 to 1,743 to put the contraptions on trial.

Mayor Otto Plummer and four members of the city council were reelected without opposition.

'I Am A Camera' Is Drama Critics Winner

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Drama Critics Circle top award for the best dramatic play of the past season was given today to "I Am A Camera," John Van Druten's exciting dramatization of Christopher Isherwood's stories "The Berlin Stories."

In this play young Julie Harris won stardom with her poignant playing of a British girl of free morals.

STASSEN

president of the Council of State governments.

Re-elected again to the governorship in 1942, he resigned four months after the term began to join the Navy. He saw service in the Pacific, part of the time as flag secretary to Adm. William F. Halsey Jr. and later as assistant chief of staff for administration of the Third Fleet under Halsey.

An active Baptist and a Mason, Stassen is married and has two children—Kathleen, 10, and Glenn, 16. He prefers dark double-breasted suits and likes plain "meat and potatoes" meals with pumpkin pie his favorite dessert.

Like many men in politics he has a remarkable ability to remember names and faces; additionally, he has a sharp memory for both facts and figures.

He acts as his own campaign manager and chief booster. He says he knows himself better than anyone else.

In April, 1945, President Roosevelt in a surprise decision nominated Cmdr. Stassen to serve with the American U. N. delegation. During the drafting of the U. N. charter, Stassen fought bitterly but unsuccessfully to eliminate the veto power within the Security Council.

At the end of 1948 he announced he would seek the GOP presidential nomination in 1948 and began a 20-month campaign. He maintained a terrific pace. Not only did he tour the U. S. but he went to Europe, visited 16 countries including Russia, where he conferred with Stalin. He estimated his travels covered nearly 200,000 miles.

Businessman Of China Does OK In Indochina

By BOB L. KROON
 SEMARANG, Indonesia (AP)—Despite the tides of war and revolution that have swept over Indochina, the position of the Chinese businessman remains firm. He is in control of this nation's billion-dollar retail trade and plays a large role in the wholesale business.

Through the heart of Semarang's Chinese section runs a hot, grubby alley called Petundjagan. Its main characteristics are ageless, sagging Chinese hongs and stores, bustling throngs of peddlers and the smell of dried fish and tropical fruits.

But it is called "Millionaire's Alley," and there is one in practically every town in Southeast Asia.

Siong Kim Sie is just one of the merchants along Petundjagan. His family came to Semarang three generations ago from Fukien province.

In his Toko (shop) he sells a wide variety of small merchandise. The stock varies from Austrian-made lighters to American flash-lights, from mentholated balm to aspirin, from a Japanese toothbrush to an article of clothing from Hong Kong.

The stock is about the same as that of 10 years ago—before the Japanese invasion, the Indonesian revolution and the victory of the Communists in Siong's homeland.

He has taken note of these developments. Indonesia has recognized the Peiping regime, so the star-spangled banner of Red China flutters over his front door, in his back room is an old picture of Chiang Kai-shek.

He's making more money than ever. Several times a week a big limousine draws up in front of his store, and well-dressed representatives of big Chinese importing firms enter to talk business in a dingy back room office.

On one occasion Siong bought $25,000 worth of Japanese-made nails. They weren't sold in his store. But he owns a number of trucks. He uses them to send the nails and similar articles to the interior where a shortage of building materials exists. Bandits may hijack a truck now and then, but it's all figured into the price paid by the purchaser.

Although Siong is a wealthy man he doesn't look like one. He has no car, no luxurious home, wears a colorless shirt over khaki army trousers and wraps his feet in cheap coolie sandals.

He has no bank account. Why? There's the matter of the tax collector. He knows that steep taxes would cut deeply into his profits.

Texas Reservists On Active Duty May Vote In Elections

Reservists on active duty in the armed forces, draftees and members of The National Guard on active duty may vote absentee in Texas elections this year, and, if they meet other qualifications, they are not required to have poll tax receipts.

County clerks throughout the state have recently received instructions from the state comptroller for absentee voting by servicemen.

The instructions point out that any member of the reserve on extended active duty, selective service draftee or member of the National Guard on duty with Federal forces, and members of the Maritime service and Merchant Marine is qualified to vote without a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate provided he was at least 21 years old on the day of the election, a citizen of the United States, has resided in Texas at least a year next preceding the election and for at least three months within the county, in which he offers to vote.

The time spent in the military service after the beginning of the prescribed periods may be counted in determining whether time limits have been met.

The privilege extends only to reservists, National Guardsmen, etc., which means that members of the regular Army, Navy, Air Force or Marines are not eligible to vote under these provisions.

Servicemen entitled to absentee ballots may make application for ballots at any time by communicating with the county clerk in their respective counties.

The Armed Forces Air Mail "Application for Ballot" will be accepted by the Secretary of State and will be forwarded promptly to the appropriate county clerk if servicemen desire to use it.

As soon as ballots are ready the county clerk will mail absentee ballots to qualified applicants who have submitted requests.

Secretary of State John Ben Sheppard has suggested that one statement, "I am not a member of the regular or permanent military or naval establishment of the United States" be included in each serviceman's statement in application for a ballot.

The statement of application must be made under oath, and the ballot must be marked by the voter in the presence of a notary or other person qualified under the laws to take acknowledgements. The affidavit on the ballot envelope must be filled out, signed, and sworn to by the voter and certified by the officer.

A ballot cannot be marked soon-

El Paso Natural Gas Seeks Rate Boosts

EL PASO, April 10 (AP)—Gas rate boosts costing three million customers $20 million yearly will be sought by El Paso Natural Gas Co. The company distributes gas to utilities in West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

Vice president C. C. Cragin of the firm said yesterday the pipeline company will ask July 1 for Federal Power Commission permission to effect the 20 per cent rate hike Jan. 1, 1953.

After The Last Good-Bye

After a brief farewell message before a large assembly of his former employes, J. Howard McGrath stands alone at the main entrance to the Department of Justice, Washington, as he wound up his affairs as Attorney General. McGrath, whose resignation has been accepted by President Truman, said he was closing the books on the attorney generalship as of April 7. (AP Wirephoto).

Catholic Article Condemns Idea Of Psychoanalysis

ROME, April 10 (AP)—Catholics who submit themselves to psychoanalysis expose themselves to mortal sin, warns the current issue of the official monthly bulletin for Rome's Catholic clergy.

An article by Magr. Pericle Felici, member of a special commission of the congregation for the discipline of the sacraments, took exception particularly to the doctrine of Sigmund Freud, chief developer of psychoanalysis, that religious sentiments are a form of sexual sublimation—"sublimation with which one wants to explain all the moral activity of man."

Therefore, he continued, "religious sentiment would be a shameful instinct; charity would be instinct; Christian mortification would be instinct; every noble sentiment would be instinct."

"It is difficult to excuse from mortal sin anyone who, knowing all this, adopts this method of cure and voluntarily submits to it."

Mortal sin, in the Tenet of the Catholic church, is a grievous act committed after full reflection and full consent of the will.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PERFECTER, the alkaline (non-acid) powder on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Check "plate odor" (venture breath). Get PERFECTER at any drug store. (A&P).
