"Dunbar to Remain Open" — School Board Says

City Woman Shot Here Saturday Night

Aside from the murder which happened here early Sunday morning, another one involving a woman, Mary Young, 40, of 1504 East 16th Street, was shot in the right elbow with a 16-gauge shotgun at her residence.

According to Policeman Don Dye, he arrested a man leaving the residence in a pickup truck and confiscated a shotgun found in the bed of the pickup.

A neighbor said the woman had been chased through and out of the residence by a man who first brandished a pocket knife and later fired several times with a shotgun.

At this report, the lady was in fair condition at Methodist Hospital. Charges were pending further investigation.

County Men Shot Sunday at Slaton

In a Slaton cafe, Pauline's, last Sunday morning at about 3:00 a. m., Frank Johnson, 53, and Earl Johnson, 17, both of the Midway community in eastern Lubbock County, were wounded in the chest by a small caliber pistol.

A 60-year-old suspect was taken into custody by authorities in regard to the Slaton shooting.

Both victims were in fair condition at Methodist Hospital early Monday morning.

In a Tuesday morning meeting of the Lubbock Independent School District Trustees, a majority of them declared their intent to continue to operate the Lubbock Public Schools under the present neighborhood concept, with simultaneous acceleration of integration programs.

With this decision, the trustees rejected, in effect, a "suggestion" by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) that Lubbock High and Dunbar High Schools be closed.

Because of the HEW "suggestion" the board was to have complied with this by February 15th. The HEW suggestion was the interpretation of the Civil Rights Act.

Relating motion, carried by a 5-2 vote, read in its entirety: "That the (school) administration be instructed to inform the Department of Health, Education and Welfare that we will continue to accelerate our program of integration in the Lubbock Public School system by promoting more crossover teachers and doing everything economically feasible to bolster or improve the educational facilities in all of our minority schools, and take any steps that we deem educationally sound to see that this program is carried out. But at the same time we propose to continue to operate under the neighborhood school concept."

The motion was presented by Bill Kingsbery, and seconded by Bill Tucker. Others voting in favor were Joe B. Cassel, Charles Waters and A. Doyle Justice. Voting "no" were Watson Carlock and Dr. James Reynolds, board president.

The split vote was interpreted by some "on the spot" observers as reflecting the cross section of community opinions that have been expressed vocally and at some length by citizens in several board meetings.

Today's action came less than a week after a group of citizens of the East Lubbock community met in a two-and-one-half hour period to discuss their opinions relating to the Lubbock schools, and offered specific "solutions" or engaged in lively discussion interchanges with individual school board members.

The school administration was directed Tuesday morning to draft a letter to HEW, bringing it to the board for final approval of its specifics, before forwarding it by the February 15 deadline.

Also speaking from the floor at Tuesday's meeting were the Reverend E. D. Toines and Harry Stokley, Jr.

Some of the solutions which were suggested have included: perfect balance of minority-majority groups in schools in relation to community population (taking at least 80 buses at exorbitant expense and inconvenience, according to Supt. Nat Williams); closing Dunbar and Lubbock High School; transporting Anglo students in grade groups to Struggs or Dunbar on a one-year basis, making Struggs a 7th grade school only, and other interchanges in which students would get to spend their senior year at their "home" high school; complete two-way integration, upgrading of alleged inferior facilities and programs at some schools; full compliance with HEW suggestions, all down the line; "open choice" schooling, phasing out of some schools, and so on.

Young Women's Christian Association Moves to New Location this Month

The Young Women's Christian Association hopes to be moved into the new YWCA building, 3101 35th Street, early in February. With the new facilities the program will be expanded to offer many new classes and programs not offered before, according to Mrs. John Graw, program director.

Two physical fitness classes to be offered are an evening Judo class and a morning slimnastics course for housewives. The Judo was scheduled to start February 3, and the first slimnastics class was

Vows to be Exchanged in Lockey Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Baldwin of Lockney, Texas announced the engagement of their daughter, Ruby Mae, to Kenneth Olison, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Olison, Sr., of Plainview, Texas this week.

Miss Baldwin finished school in Little Rock, Arkansas. The wedding date is Friday, February 7, 1969, at 8:30 p.m. at Evans Chapel in Lockney, Texas, with the Reverend Bennie Anderson, pastor, officiating.

The couple plan to reside in Amarillo, Texas.

Dunbar Parent Teachers Association Appears Before School Board Friday

The stage was set last Thursday evening, in the library of Dunbar High School, when members of the Dunbar PTA met to make final preparations for an encounter with the school board of the Lubbock Independent School District last Friday morning at 7:00 a.m.

At the offset of the meeting, two letters were read to the group—which also included names of citizens of the community as well as members of the PTA—by Octavia Givens.

The letters indicated that this organization was very much concerned about the future of Dunbar High School. The first letter was addressed to the school board, requesting an audience with the board, while the second letter made it known to the members present that a confirmation had not been received from the board in regard to the audience request.

However, the group was given the green light to present their case in a meeting with the school board last Friday morning in a telephone call from Nat Williams, school superintendent.

At the Thursday evening meeting, plans were mapped out for an approach to the problem.

Everyone present expressed their complete cooperation in keeping Dunbar High School open and operating.

City Man Charged With Murder Here

A Lubbock man was charged with murder in connection with a shooting which occurred here Sunday morning outside a cafe in Southeast Lubbock. The man is Lester E. Turner, 30, of 2712 East Colgate Avenue.

The victim, Henry L. "Bud" Davis, 36, of 2102 East 19th Street, was dead on arrival at Methodist Hospital after the 2:15 a.m. shooting spree. According to authorities, he had been shot four times with a small caliber pistol.

To Speak at Unitarian Church this Sunday

Mr. Wilfred M. Calnan, Executive Director of Family Services Association of Lubbock, will speak on the counseling service of this organization at the 11:00 a.m. service of the First Unitarian Church, 36th and Avenue U, Sunday, February 9, 1969.

All those interested in this topic are cordially invited to attend.

Another victim of gunshot wounds was Carla Mae Baldwin, 33, of 1819 Fig Avenue, who was treated at Methodist Hospital for a flesh wound in the back and released.

According to police, a witness reported that a man walked up to the car and shot both the occupants who were sitting in the front seat.

The early morning shooting occurred outside the Lucky Corner Cafe, located at East 37th Street and Walnut Avenue.

It was also learned that Police Lt. Curtis Strange was within a block of the shooting when it occurred. He escorted to the hospital a volunteer who had jumped behind the wheel of the car with the wounded man and woman in it.

According to information given to Lt. Strange by a woman, police went to the home of the suspect and arrested him as he arrived on foot.

Block Concept Is The Answer

There's no doubt about it, the block concept is the answer to many of the shortcomings in our community. For years, we have found ourselves on the short end of many decisions which occurred in our neighborhood.

The block concept of organization will make it possible for us to come together and improve the communication gap which is so prevalent within our area. This will also help us to determine those individuals who are to be the link between the powers of government and each citizen within our neighborhood. In this manner we will be able to see to it that what we need or desire is really for the good of the whole area.

With the block concept as a tool, the citizens will be able to utilize their resources from within their own community and make better contributions for the entire community, rather than having to depend on just a few who so often capitalize off of the many.

There are some among us who feel this idea will not work, and on the other hand there are those from our own neighborhood who are not in accord with the movement—evidently because it may interfere with their means of greasing their pockets at the expense of the rest of the people in the area.

Taking a look at the present condition of this idea, which has snowballed in the last several meetings and has only been underway for several weeks, hundreds of concerned citizens have been contacted about the movement. Presently those who are participating show much concern about the future of the idea and appear to be willing to do all in their power to keep it active and alive.

This idea, at this early date, has found those among us who have leadership capabilities which have never been seen before. With this type of participation, there is no reason why our community can't move boldly forward and make the whole area a better place in which to live and raise our children.

The time has gone when the "Uncle Toms" will continue to sell the individuals in the community out to others; just as the time has gone when powers elsewhere can any longer rely on a "grapevine" within our community, which has often hindered rather than helped our area, as a source of information for their purposes.

The citizens of Tract 12, with the block concept, are attempting to tell our elected officials that they are to the point where "talk, talk, talk," must stop—and by their participation they expect better participation on the part of their elected officials.

This movement will let the citizens of Lubbock know that the day is coming when everyone must take an active part in their community—if they are going to have a city they can be proud of. The block concept will encourage everyone to choose which side he is on—not black or white—

BOY SCOUT WEEK

Boy Scout Week is February 7 - 13

Millions of young boys throughout America will be celebrating the 59th Anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America this next week. Here on the South Plains, there will be many who will be exemplifying their talents from knot tying to outdoor exhibits on vacant lots.

A program has been initiated here by the South Plains Council which will involve an eight-year program for our youngsters. This long range program is called Boypower '76. It will help broaden Scouting membership as well as make known to boys, leaders, and local organizations the availability of the Scout Program to all who can accept its commitment of service to God, country and other people.

Scouting, of course, has made a profound impression on America since its beginning in 1910, and its success is evident in the number of former Scouts now in responsible positions.

For example, 328 members of the 90th Congress of the United States were either Scouts or Scout leaders; 29 state governors have had Scouting experience; and 36 of the 47 living astronauts were Boy Scouts as youth.

In looking at the 59th Anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America which will be celebrated from February 7-13, we can't help but observe the new concept of Boypower being used. We must realize that by involving more boys in the Scouting program a great deal can be accomplished. Without any doubt, there is a special emphasis on seeing that boys have a quality program under trained leaders and that there are adequate manpower and resources to carry out the program effectively.

The slogan for this ambitious eight-year plan is "America's Manpower Begins With Boypower." The slogan is strengthened when one considers that Scouting prepares each boy to achieve his adult potential as a responsible citizen; that it offers a variety of experience, challenge of mind and muscle, opportunity to develop self-confidence, satisfaction of service to others, and the fun of working together; and that is an active, virile program with broad appeal for the emerging young adult.

The South Plains Council with its various districts—including Mackenzie Trail, Longhorn, George White, Comanche, Arrowhead, Quanah Parker and Haynes Districts—without question are using Boypower '76 as their blueprint, and are hopefully looking forward to the results gained by dedicated men and women who are committed to making Scouting relevant to the needs and concerns of our community as well as our nation and our youngsters.

Good Luck to the 8,700 young Scouters in the South Plains Council who are striving hard to continue to exemplify the cardinal principles of Scouting, Service to God, country and other people.

Developing your "boy" power creates more "man" power.

Being a Scout, sort of rounds a guy out. And they offer fun, action, and adventure, too. JOIN TODAY- phone EMMA HARDAWAY Days: SH 7-2601 Evenings: PO 2-3142

Around The Hub City

Around the Hub City had the opportunity of talking with Tommie L. Wyatt, an old friend of mine and Lubbock's. Tommie, as many of you may remember graduated from Dunbar and later from Bishop College in Dallas.

Living in Austin now, Wyatt is a partner in an insurance firm and owner of the Busy B Day Car facility there. He admits that the time to involve oneself in a city is while you are still young, and this young man is certainly doing so. He is involved and very much concerned about the welfare of the capitol city of Texas.

Around the Hub City is always happy to meet people who at one time or another lived in our area and have moved away to take up constructive occupations elsewhere.

Of course, there are many Tommy L. Wyatts, but this reporter was happy to be able to report to you of this young man's progress lately.

The Lubbock Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will hold a meeting Sunday afternoon, February 9, at 3:00 p.m. at Mount Vernon United Methodist Church. Reverend M. T. Reed, minister, is president of the local chapter.

The meeting is open to both young and old who are concerned about the future of the city in which we live.

"A big job is ahead of us. We are very much concerned about reaching our goal of 500 new members during the year," admits Reverend Reed.

If there are any adults who would like to become a member, please contact Reverend Reed at his home, 2306 Cedar Avenue, or call SH 4-0777. For the youth who would like to become involved in the youth activities, contact David Sowell, youth director, at 1806 East 26th Street, or call him at PO 5-8679.

The public is cordially invited to attend this worthwhile meeting which will be held Sunday afternoon.

The block concept is moving in a big way and members of the area who have been contacted in regard to their involvement have all responded favorably thus far. Another block meeting will be held this Friday evening at the Multi-Service Center.

Attention, Choir President and Musicians. The Federation of Choirs is having a called meeting tomorrow night, Friday, February 7, at 8:00 p.m. at Lyons Chapel Baptist Church.

All officers and musicians are urged to attend this important meeting. Please be present and on time.

This meeting is of special importance.

Around the Hub City learned last week that one of our own has departed Lubbock—moving to Dallas for employment.

He is Lawrence Fury, who was a policeman in our city. Lubbock needs young men like him and it always hurts when men of Lawrence's talent leave our area.

Vehicle registration for 1969 got off to a fast start this week. Start of registration was delayed two days because the legal opening, February 1, fell on a Saturday.

The new 1969 license plates must be on all vehicles operated over public streets, roads and highways in Texas by midnight April 1.

National Crime Prevention Week begins this Sunday through February 15. Let's make that special effort to avoid involvement in any situation which could conceivably be construed as a crime and protect our brothers to do likewise.

West Texas Golden Gloves Set For Next Week

The West Texas Golden Gloves will get underway here next Thursday. This is surely a dynamic move for many of our young fellows. This type of activity can help those young people make a strong contribution to their community.

If you can remember, this got started last year when our city was fortunate to have the presence of Joe Louis, a great boxer in his day, here for a short visit.

Let's all get out and support this worthwhile event which will help our city to benefit from the growing stature of our young fellows. They need your support, let's go to the fights and help them along.

He has no idea who could have broken into the house, but he does believe that it was someone who knew that he was away at work.

Dr. R. A. Pillow, 1822 East 24th Street, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that someone did enter his car while it was parked at 402 Ute Avenue, the location of his business.

According to Dr. Pillow, entry was gained to the automobile by prying open the right vent window, causing approximately $25.00 worth of damage.

Once inside, the unknown person took ten-eight track tapes which were valued at $80.00.

House Burglary

Alberta Mills, 1521 East Auburn Street, reported that someone entered her residence while she was away and took $354 worth of food, a wiglet, clock and many other items.

Memo from Mac R. B. 'Mac' McAlister State Representative

Over 80 Bills have already been introduced in the House, and the 45 standing committees will start looking at some of them this week. Already Daylight Savings time exemption is in the hopper, as are several bills on liquor legislation, and Joe Allen of Baytown who sits right behind yours truly has offered a bill making it illegal to sell cigarettes to anyone under 18. One of the tricks to gain immediate support for a bill is to secure as many co-sponsors as possible. The only rub in this procedure is your co-sponsoring a bill in the beginning can result in your having your name on a bill you won't even recognize by the time it comes back to the house after committee "add-to's" and "take-away's".

The mail has been pouring in to us representing District 76, mostly concerning opposition to school consolidation, and various opinions on the Texas Tech Name Change. For your information, the most effective letter from a citizen is one that is written personally. Group mailings that are obviously uniform in wordology, or petitions are not nearly as effective as one simple, sincere letter. This is a personal opinion, but one I find prevalent among many legislators.

Representative Harold Davis of Austin tells me he lived in Levelland for several years as Minister of Education at the First Baptist Rabbit hunting is almost a lost sport in Texas.

I mean honest-to-goodness rabbit hunting.

Sure, some hunter will be out after doves or quail and will plunk an occasional bunny. But how many Isaac Walton Leaguers do you know who go hunting strictly for rabbits? Very few, I betcha.

Why this is true, I don't know. Rabbit hunting offers some of the finest sport to be had in the great outdoors.

Perhaps it is because the bunny isn't protected by game seasons in Texas. You can hunt cottontails and jackrabbits anytime. Somehow, by throwing the sport open to anyone, any time, it sort of takes something out of the pleasure.

But it shouldn't. Rabbit hunting actually is a bonus hunt. When other hunting seasons are closed and the hunter is home twiddling his thumbs, wondering what in blazes he can do, there is great sport to be had in scouting the woods for rabbits.

Believe it or not, rabbit hunting can be as simple or as complicated as you want it to be. This is one of the real appealing aspects of the sport. There are deluxe rabbit hunts and plain vanilla rabbit hunts, and just about everything in between, depending on your pleasure.

One of the most enjoyable means of seeking Mr. Rabbit is with a dog or dogs. Any canine that will chase rabbits can be used in the sport. But when you talk about rabbit hunting, you sort of think about Bassets and Beagles. These are the rabbit-hunting hounds.

Basically, both accomplish the same purpose. Idea behind rabbit hunting with dogs is to flush the bunny into the open where the hunter can get his sights on it. But dogs are not alike in their hunting methods. Beagles pursue rabbits mostly by sight; Bassets by scent.

When a Beagle spooks a rabbit into the open, the dog takes out right on the heels of the bunny, its legs a blur of motion. Since the Beagle has short legs it can't stay up with a rabbit in a foot race. However, this really is an advantage rather than a disadvantage. If the dog makes the rabbit run too fast, it will take off instantly and soon be out of gun range.

Experienced hunters know that a rabbit often will circle and come back to the spot where it started. Thus the hunter stands still and waits, listening to the high chop-chop bark of the pursuing Beagle. Chances are the bunny will soon come hippity-hopping back in view again.

A Basset hound moves along with its nose almost dragging the ground. Seldom does it look up to see where it is going. When a rabbit is spooked by a Basset, the bunny sort of hops off leisurely in front of the dog, always keeping well out in front, but not hurrying. The hunter tagging along usually can get some fine shooting opportunities.

But dogs are not absolutely necessary to make a rabbit shoot a memorable event. If you don't believe this just take out your trusty shotgun or .22 rifle and walk through any wooded area known to be inhabited by rabbits. Keep your eyes alert. Be on the lookout for one to jump suddenly into view. . . often from almost under your feet.

Best time to hunt is real early in the morning or late in the afternoon. During these periods the rabbits are up and about, feeding. Then they are more susceptible to a stalk. In mid-day they bed down in clumps of brush and you almost have to step on one to make it show itself.

Whether you prefer a shotgun or a .22 rifle is simply a matter of personal preference. A shotgun loaded with No. 6 shotshells is more deadly at short range and on running shots, but the .22 rifle is more sporting. Get your .22 out often during the year, for a little rabbit shooting, and you won't have any trouble connecting with a deer when the big-game season rolls around.

Another facet of rabbit hunting, usually ignored, is that cottontails are very good to eat. A young, tender cottontail is especially delectable.

Skin one by making a cut crossways right on the backbone, insert your fingers under its skin on each side of the opening, and spread your arms apart. Half of the skin will peel down over the hindquarters, the other half over the head.

Cut the meat into chunks and fry it just as you would Southern fried chicken, in a deep skillet brimming with lard and laced with some bacon drippings. Or if your prefer, boil and later add dumplings.

One session at the dinner table when cottontail rabbit is the specialty of the house and you'll be a rabbit-hunting convert for life.

Anyway, rabbit hunting itself is just plain fun.

veterans rated 10 to 90 percent disabled, the increase averaged about eight per cent.

Those with 10 per cent disabilities have had their compensation increased from $21 to $23 a month; veterans rated 20 to 90 per cent service-disabled now receive payments ranging from $43 to $226 monthly.

The checks now being received are for the higher rates that went into effect January 1.

Not increased, however, are the extra allowances payable for dependents of veterans rated 50 per cent or more service-disabled.

Veterans seeking more information on their disability payments are urged to contact their nearest VA office.

BOY SCOUT

★ WEEK ★

FEBRUARY 7-13

59th ANNIVERSARY

Scouting points the way to good citizenship!
In the Scout Laws, a boy finds a code of conduct that will serve him well all his life.

Through Scouting boys learn the obligations and rights of citizens in a free land. Many will become leaders of tomorrow. We feel secure in the knowledge that they will uphold the high ideals of our democracy. Let's offer them our support.

We were happy to have Miss Roberta Robinson back with us again. Mrs. Ethel Harper, who is to be a new counselor, joined the club also.

The club wishes to say that our doors are open for membership to all interested young ladies.

MODERN MOMS SERVE QUICK-AND-EASY LUNCHES

In days of old, it took hours and hours in the kitchen to make a delicious homemade soup. But, today's modern Moms can put together a hearty, appetizing pot of soup in less than 15 minutes.

The secret is in handy convenience products. With just three pantry shelf items—a jar of Junior Beef High Meat Dinner, onion soup mix and tomato juice—you can make a taste-tempting Beef Onion Soup that's sure to be a hit with every member of the family.

For a deliciously different luncheon menu, team up hot cups of this zesty soup with flavorful Chicken Corn Muffins—another quick-and-easy recipe made with two convenience products. Both soup and muffins are enriched with nourishing High Meat Dinners—an especially important factor for active youngsters and grown-ups, too.

If your family's growing appetite demands something extra, complete the menu with individual Lime Delight Fruit Salads. You can make these appetizing pear and pineapple flavored salads the day before. Then at lunch-time, just unmold them and serve on a bed of salad greens.

Sometimes busy days call for "eat-and-run" meals. That's when you can rely on a homemade-good luncheon menu of Beef-Onion Soup, Chicken Corn Muffin and Lime Delight Fruit Salads.

The Reverend Robert C. Tracy, Director of New-Life Mission, announces an upswing in the number of families coming to the Mission for assistance. One of the greatest needs at the present time is for clothing of all kinds, but particularly for children's clothing (infants to 14 years) and maternity clothing.

He also says that many of those filing applications for aid are in dire need of beds and bedding, and that personal check-ups on these reveals that many of them are presently sleeping on floors, so lacking are they in means to provide for themselves.

Your assistance in helping to meet these urgent needs is solicited. Pick-up can be arranged by calling the Mission at PO 3-3818.
