Dunbar Parents Will Meet Tonight

In a second meeting about the recent issue facing Dunbar-Stuggs High School, parents will meet again tonight, Thursday, January 3, 1991, to find some solutions to the problems which are confronting the high school -- the second oldest high school in Lubbock.

Prof. Daniel H. Benson, law professor at the Texas Tech School of Law and an attorney representing the minority community against LSD, will be speaking to the group and answer questions about the present Dunbar-Stuggs situation.

The meeting will take place at the Lyons Chapel Baptist Church, beginning at 7:30 p. m.

The public is invited to attend.

Mrs. Cheryl Snell is coordinator of the special meetings. "We want everyone to come out and ask questions, and help our kids," she said.

1991 Legislative Priorities

The 1991 Legislative Priorities of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce are now available and have been mailed to the home district offices of the 31 senators and 150 representatives of the 72nd Texas Legislature.

According to Sam Ogletree, chairman of the Chamber's Governmental Affairs Committee, the 1991 Legislative Priorities represent the concerns and input of hundreds of Chamber volunteers. He said representatives from business, education, health care, transportation, agriculture, law enforcement, government and energy all helped to formulate the Chamber's position on the many issues.

Ogletree said the Legislative Priorities would be distributed again to members of the Texas Senate and House of Representatives at their Austin offices after the regular session of the Legislature begins in January.

Copies of the 1991 Legislative Priorities are available at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce offices, 14th Street and Avenue K.

Our hope for creative living ... lies in our ability to reestablish the moral ends of our lives in personal character and social justice."

Congratulations To Mr. Adorfus Bell

Mr. Adorfus Bell

Mr. Adorfus Bell, a graduate of Dunbar-Stuggs High School, received his B. S. degree in Criminal Justice from the University of North Texas in Denton, Texas on Saturday evening, December 15, 1990 in a class of 1,600 students.

He is a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc.

Adorfus is the proud son of Mrs. Frances Bell who was there to say "congratulations", along with his brother, Terrance Bell, and other close family members and friends.

During his high school years, Adorfus was active in sports where he played football, basketball, and ran track. He also was active in various clubs and other organization.

Mr. Bell is presently employed at the District Attorney's office in Denton, Texas. He is an active member of St. Immanuel Baptist Church in Denton.

Adorfus future plans are to continue his law career.

Vaccine Injury Compensation Program Deadline Extension

Here's some new information about the national Vaccine Injury Compensation Program. That's a program for people who believe they've suffered in injury related to childhood vaccines given before Oct. 1, 1988. Congress passed an extension of the filing deadline, so petitioners now have until Jan. 31, 1991 to apply for compensation. People may write to the Clerk, U. S. Claims Court, 717 Madison Place N. W., Washington, D. C. 20005, and the Health Resources and Services Administration, U. S. Public Health Service, will continue to operate a toll-free hotline, 1-900-338-2382.

RUBY JAY'S CORNER

Order of service for New Hope Baptist Church on last Sunday morning included the devotional period which was conducted by the Deaconess and Deacon Ervin who led prayer. The scripture was Psalm 18:1-6.

A selection, "Be All Right", was led by Sister Lucille Jackson. Responsive reading was "God's Everlasting Mercies" which was done in unison. Another song was sung. It was entitled "When We All Get To Heaven."

Pastor B. F. Moton gave his pastoral observations. Following another selection Rev. Art Hall, a former member of New Hope Baptist Church, preached from the Philippians 3:12-16. His subject was "Keep Up The Press." It was a fine message, and enjoyed by all in attendance.

Another song, "Amazing Grace" was sung. Invitation to discipleship was extended.

Announcements and welcoming of visitors was done by Sister Celestine Kyle.

Offering was conducted by the Ushers and Deacons.

The Women's Society Missionary Fifth Sunday program was held at 3 p. m. last Sunday. They presented a skit entitled: "In Times Like These." It was a very good program, and enjoyed by all in attendance.

Mr. Harrison "Bull" Davis was rushed to the hospital last week. He is much better and at home at this report. Let us continue to pray for him. His daughter, Mary Ann, from Dallas, Texas is here. Their birthdays are on January 1st. They always celebrate it together.

Happy Birthday, to both of you!

Final services for Mrs. Katie Tanner who was 90 years old was held Monday afternoon at Mt. Gilead Baptist Church at 2:30 p. m.

She was a past member of this church, and passed away in Dallas, Texas. Her husband passed in 1966. Survivors included a son, Richard Knox of Dallas, Texas.

Burial was in the City of Lubbock Cemetery under the direction of Adams Plains Funeral Home. Our prayers and sympathy go out to the family. We are still praying for all sick and shut ins.

Congressman Hawkins' Weekly Column 'Setting The Agenda for 1991'

As my congressional career comes to a close, I thought it would be appropriate to list what I believe to be pressing issues facing this nation next year and beyond.

One very important concern for leaders on the local and national levels is the unemployment rate, which stands nationally at just under six percent. A critical component in this figure is the rate of unemployment among Black males.

Many of these men have marketable skills that employers can use. A by-product of this problem is the possibility that some of the men are resorting to criminal activities to support themselves and their families.

Unfortunately, the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) legislation to assist many of those with the greatest need, was rejected in the Senate after being passed in the House.

Overall, America's Black males, in particular, are being ignored, which is a shortsighted approach to this valuable resource.

Fiscal year 1991 will see $30 billion being spent to provide for our troops overseas. An expenditure of this magnitude in the face of a lessening communist threat is misplaced, particularly when public education continually needs a financial infusion for basic items such as text and library books, building improvements, better teachers salaries, classroom supplies, and such needs.

Another bill that failed to pass was the Omnibus Education bill. This bill was crafted, in part, to meet the education goals established by the state governors. It needs to be revised to provide compensatory programs, Head Start, parental programs, and for teachers, especially minorities, to serve as role models.

Some said it appears we are "losing at home what we are supposed to be fighting for overseas." With discrimination on the increase, as veto of the Civil Rights Act of 1990 and many unfunded programs designed to help the needy, those words have an uneasy ring of truth to them.

A civil rights bill needs to be passed in the coming Congress, and I urge each of you to communicate your wishes to your congressional representatives. The Bush administration has indicated its intention to take the "quota" issue against civil rights a national issue, which will further roll back gains by minorities. Your voice needs to be heard.

My top priority has been education of our nation's children, it will continue to be so as I move on to my new career, leading the Hawkins Foundation.

Don't Worry . . .

Ten, nine, eight, seven, six, five, four, three, two, one, Happy New Year!

For most of us, Jan. 1 simply marks the beginning of a new year — a second chance to meet the goals we set but weren't able to attain the year before. But for others, like Alan Caruba, it means another year to worry about the little things.

Caruba, executive director of the National Anxiety Center, will issue the center's official list of the "Ten Silliest Things to Worry About in 1991" on New Year's Day. The list is designed to take both a humorous and a serious look at the issues that distract Americans the most.

What are the big 10 for 1991? They include: Am I going bald? Will I win the lottery? Are other people having more fun than me? Can I lose weight in 1991? and, What brand of sneakers should I wear?

For a complete list of the "Ten Silliest Things to Worry About in 1991," write the National Anxiety Center, P.O. Box 40, Maplewood, N.J. 07040-0040.

AT ISSUE

Use of Force in the Persian Gulf?

Richard N. Perle served as U.S. assistant secretary of defense for international security policy from 1981 to 1987. Currently, he is a resident fellow of the American Enterprise Institute.

YES

Is the use of force by the United States against Iraq justifiable and/or inevitable?

Saddam Hussein has now launched his second war of aggression in less than a decade, a war that has included pillaging, murder and hostage-taking on an unprecedented scale. He has built and threatened to use weapons of mass destruction, including an arsenal of biological and chemical weapons, some of which he has used on his own population. He is racing to acquire nuclear weapons. There is no doubt that he intends to dominate the Persian Gulf by force and intimidation, to use control over oil as a political weapon, and to lead the Arab masses in an anti-Western holy war. He must be stopped, and the use of force to stop him is fully justified.

What other alternatives exist to resolve this crisis?

Naturally, it would be better to resolve this crisis through continuing application of sanctions, especially the embargo, now in effect. But the sanctions are unlikely to work — and they certainly will not work quickly.

The weakness of the sanctions is that they aim too low — only at Iraq's withdrawal from Kuwait. But that is not enough. It is also necessary to dismantle or destroy Iraq's instruments of aggression, including Saddam Hussein's capacity to build and use weapons of mass destruction. How could we hope to deal with Saddam Hussein once he has nuclear weapons? How could the weak states of the Persian Gulf hope to protect themselves against further invasions by his million-man army? How can there be any lasting peace while this war machine casts its shadow over the region and the world?

James H. Webb Jr. is a former U.S. secretary of the navy and assistant secretary of defense. He is the author of five books, four of them novels.

NO

Is the use of force by the United States against Iraq justifiable and/or inevitable?

No. It is, in my view, wrong for the administration to be pressing the issue of using force among other nations when it has no mandate regarding the clearly expressed feelings of the American people. We have no treaties in this region. None of the countries involved are democracies. Our troops have not been attacked. Using a United Nations vote as a lever to force the Congress to support offensive action is perplexing and even cynical. The administration needs to clarify our national goals in the event force is to be used.

Recent history indicates that, had the president dispatched a modestly structured air-ground presence to Saudi Arabia and then began negotiating a mutual withdrawal of American and Iraqi forces from their respective positions, the crisis may have been over by now.

What other alternatives exist to resolve this crisis?

In my view, the proper course of action for our country would be to immediately and dramatically reduce the number of troops committed to the region and consolidate them into a defensive posture. The president should use his well-known connections around the world in order to persuade other affected countries that they should commit soldiers toward the goal of containing and eventually reversing Iraqi aggression.

In sum, initiating a violent clash because another nation has not agreed to the president's timetable for unconditional surrender is not the appropriate approach at this time toward achieving peace.

An independent newspaper serving the Lubbock, West Texas, South Plains of Texas and Eastern New Mexico areas printing the news impartially - supporting what it believes to be right without opposing what it believes to be wrong, without regard to party politics.

Devoted to the Industrial, Educational, Social, Political and Economical Advancement of Black People.

You may be critical of some things that are written, but at least you will have the satisfaction of knowing they are truthful and to the point.

People will react to that which is precise, and we will publish these articles as precisely and tactfully as is humanly possible. We will also give credit and respect to those who are doing good things for the Lubbock Area and the people. We will be critical of those who are not doing as they have said they would, and this, we think, is fair.

So, this is our resolution to you: "Feel free at anytime to call this office for information concerning this newspaper or any other matter that is of concern to you."

Humanitarian Day

Many celebrated individuals have struggled and sacrificed -- even given their lives -- to ensure that the constitutional rights and privileges of all Americans are upheld. Martin Luther King Jr., Rosa Parks, Thurgood Marshall and John F. Kennedy are among the most notable. However, countless others have fought and sacrificed in the name of the civil rights movement but have not been recognized for their efforts. In conjunction with the national observance of the Martin Luther King holiday, Jan. 15 has been proclaimed Humanitarian Day. On this day -- a day of respect and honor for all the unsung humanitarians who have fought institutional racism and contributed to the demise of segregation -- we celebrate the courage and dedication of those who continue to fight for the rights guaranteed by the U.S. Constitution.

We Thank God For Jesus

"Lord, No; I Don't Wanna Go!!!" Part 5

Brothers & Sisters in Christ: This Part 5 was to be presented 12-6-90, but the devil and his "imps" told me it wasn't because nobody would believe it. I didn't ask anybody to believe it. I'm just telling what "the grace of God did;" when I was lost in my sins, I was working for the devil and he was trying to kill me all the time; and I was a "very good worker." "So devil got the hell under my foot, with all your imps; I will praise the Lord with all my heart and soul." And many dangers I didn't even know to speak about, "but it's grace."

Proverbs 1:7 -- The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge; but fools despise wisdom and instruction.

With my finger under the snap ring of the beer can and speeding along at 80 mph, "the Lord" flashed my death out before me on the highway, I never had fear of anything, (being raised in Queen City, called bad). Seeing my body and blood running out of it; I said it out loud, "that's me out there; I'm going to die today." I put my foot on the brakes and came to about 50 mph. I put the beer can in the can holder on the dash, as "the Holy Ghost" breathed on me. I began to shake hysterically; and I began to pray and testify. O' my God, please don't let me die today. Please give me another chance! Because if I die today, I'm going to hell; I know the type of life I'm living, so please, Lord, I don't wanna die!!!"

(The Lord shook my world, and I didn't call on the gods I had made: my ride, my money, my diamonds, my top breed of dogs or my woman. I went back to "the true God for mercy.")

(Psalm 51:17 -- The sacrifice of God are a broken and a contrite spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O'God, thou wilt not despise.

I John 1:9 -- If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (I was as Paul said: I'm chief of sinners).

(Brothers and Sisters, as I look over my life: the "Hand of the Lord" has been no me even from my mother's womb. I worked hard for the devil; but he was out to kill me. I didn't use names in the first writing, but for the devil calling it a lie; they are here).

In 1961, James Lee Shepherd pulled a shot gun on me while I was holding my daughter Myra. I told him he had better not shot me and he didn't. "Only the grace of God." In 1962 Plains Co-Op Oil Mill blowed up. I was inside of it, but got out without a scratch. It closed the doors as I went out running, the people thought I was yet inside, because Robert Avery told them I was.

When I walked back up they had slug hammer busting in the wall. "By the grace of God I got out with the small of my flesh burning and a knot." In 1971, Eddie Jones pulled a shot gun on me, about his wife; "but by the grace of God, I'm yet alive." Also in '71, Mother Pollie Thomas da I went to Denver, Co. and on our way back, I was doing 80 mph, and the steering wheel shook hard, I said: "Something's wrong and got out and the front tire was leaning out. I said, "the lugs are loose; I'll jack it up and tighten them, when I jacked it up the tire fell in the street." By the grace of God, we're alive. In '73, my brother J. R. and I went to Eagle Lake, Texas. I picked this woman up an went to her bed. Then we went to sleep. Woke up fast; she said what's wrong? I said a car justed pulled up outside. She went and looked and said on ones there. I said, I saw a car pull up with a man in a cowboy hat. The car was a black Ford, with a long antenna on the back, and he has a cigar in his mouth. She said: "That's my husband, but he's not due back until tomorrow night. I got dressed and woke J. R. up, and we left. A little while later, I went back down and she told me her husband did come that night. "By the grace of God, we're alive."

(Devil, I thought we were friends, and you were out to kill me, all the time." You didn't then and with the word of God I want to tear your kingdom down. "The song writer said: 'Thro' many dangers, toils, and snares, I have al-ready come; tis grace hath bro't me safe thus far, and grace will lead me home." Now devil, I don't have a mule, but stand back while I praise "My Lord; and My Saviour: Jesus Christ.) I know thousands who have died in sin, but had chances just as I had. "It's the grace of God I'm alive; I praise him only.")

Psalm 29:1-2 -- Give unto the Lord, O' Ye Mighty, give unto the Lord glory and strength, give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.

God is not through with us yet. So let's pray for one another always.

too if you continue to travel around at night and write on other people's property with spray paint. Don't your conscience tell you this is wrong?? I know it does because you do these evil acts at night when no one's looking. Do you know there is an all Seeing Eye watching you. He sits high and looks low. You can't hide. If you have so much power and are so bad, get you some property and write all you want to with your spray paint. Why destroy others' property by writing on it. Did they give you permission??? If not, you are wrong and you will give account. You are loved by us and God and we know you are destroying yourself by your own action, go home, homeboys, pull off your caps and whatever you are wearing to identify yourself, help beautify this world. That's what you are here for. Not to destroy it. Make it a better place for you and your family as well as others, go to the nearest person that you have confidence in, your mother - father - priest - preacher - anybody that cares about you, or ask Jesus to come into your life where you are. Time is running out for you and "Gang Banging". John 3:16 in the Holy Bible, not a Satanic Bible, says God loves you, and we do too. We are in Spiritual Warfare and you know what??? We Win, We Are Winners. Go Clean up you have messed up, do it today, Son! Help to bring peace on earth

In the New Year!

Love you,
We're praying for you!

Keep smiling and loving your enemy, Lubbock, Texas. They will know we are Christians by our love!

FROM THE OF
PARSON D. A. SMITH

Someone has said that one of the lessons we learn from history is that we learn nothing from history. The gospel holds out the chance for new-life, new beginnings, and new opportunities. The questions that each of us must ask ourselves is, "How do we make 1991 the new year and not just a repeat of the same old mistakes in our personal life, family life, and business life? How can we avoid the habits and attitudes - lying, stealing, resentments, grudges, quarrels, gripes, running battles -- that have gone before?"

All of us can make 1991 a new year if we put the past in perspective. Many of us look the other way and will not deal adequately with our pasts. We seem not to have the capacity to remove the weight that so burden us down. Consequently, we carry the heavy luggage of yesterday into the present. Some of our luggage is stamped "hazardous", for within it confines are sins that have not been forgiven, frazzled relationships, and mistakes that we continue to make again and again.

The Bible admonishes us to forget those things which lie behind. When we review the itinerary of the Hebrews, we discover that they were told to travel light when they made their journey toward the Promise Land. This was necessary because the journey would have been too cumbersome and if not impossible carrying heavy loads. As we enter into 1991, we must discard some of the things that will make the year's journey a hard one.

As we enter into 1991, it will become a new year if we revise our timetables. Something new has entered the scene. We can begin to look at life a little more objectively. Ask yourself the questions: "Have I been happy where I am? What kind of relationship had I had in my marriage, with my children, with other people? Did I grow in 1990 and what areas of my life do I need to zero in on during this new year?" Re-dedicate your life to Jesus as a starter for the new year.

Philadelphia Museum of Art to Mount Retrospective of Henry Ossawa Tanner

The Philadelphia Museum of Art will present a major traveling retrospective exhibition devoted to the work of Henry Ossawa Tanner (1859-1937), the foremost African-American artist at the turn of the century. Henry Ossawa Tanner will premiere in Philadelphia on January 20, 1991 and continue through April 14, before traveling on to museums in Detroit, Atlanta and San Francisco. Born in Pittsburgh and raised in Philadelphia, Tanner studied at the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts under distinguished artist Thomas Eakins. Declaring he could not "fight prejudice and paint at the same time," Tanner sailed for France in 1891, where he was to settle for the rest of his life. He began to exhibit at the annual Paris Salon in 1894, and was soon winning awards and selling his paintings to museums and private collectors. During a visit to Philadelphia in 1893-1894, Tanner painted several of his most famous genre works - moving and original depictions of life among poor African-Americans following the Civil War. After his return to Paris in 1894, however, Tanner became especially acclaimed for his portrayals of Biblical subjects, which were endowed with the same human dignity and contemplative spirit that characterize his scenes of every day life. His long, illustrious career was recognized by the French government, which made him a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor in 1923. The exhibition will be comprised of approximately 90 paintings and 20 drawings illustrating Tanner's celebrated career, from his student days to the mature works which won acclaim at the Paris Salon, as well as other memorabilia relating to the artist's life. Works will be lent by public and private collections throughout the United States and France.

The exhibition is accompanied by a catalogue which presents new and comprehensive information on the artist's life and career. The Museum has planned programs including tours, lectures, a public symposium, an art history course, performances, and workshops. A videotape on the artist will be located within the exhibition, and a gallery guide will be available free of charge.

The exhibition and catalogue were made possible by the Ford Motor Co. Additional support was provided by The Pew Memorial Charitable Trusts, the National Endowment for the Arts, The William Penn Foundation and Midway Airlines. Funding for initial research was also provided by the Samuel S. Fels Fund and The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Council on the Arts.

Insulin: Important Health Warning

The FDA has an important warning for anyone who takes insulin: Never change the type of insulin or dosage you take, or accept a different insulin from your pharmacist, unless your doctor tells you to do so. If you have any questions about your medication, see your doctor.

New types of insulin may improve treatment of diabetes. Be sure to use insulin products only as directed by your doctor.

If you ignore this warning, medical experts say, you risk not maintaining good control of your diabetes.

New types of insulin, such as premixed formulations or those produced by new methods of manufacture, may improve treatment of diabetes. Since 1980, when purified insulins were introduced in the United States, the FDA, based on clinical data, has required that all insulins carry a boldfaced warning statement in the package literature. This warning reads in part: "Any change of insulin should be made cautiously and only under medical supervision. Changes in refinement, purity, strength, brand, type, species source, and/or method of manufacture may result in the need for a change in dosage."

Anyone changing to different types of insulin products should know of the possible need for dosage adjustment. It's also very important to use insulin only as directed. Do not change the strength, brand, or type of insulin unless told to do so by your doctor.

Pharmacists should be made aware of the insulin specified by your doctor, and not substitute a different type or brand without physician authorization. To switch insulins without physician supervision may expose patients to harm, and pharmacists to the risk of liability.

Among most adults there is almost no difference in eye size. Some appear to have larger eyes because of such factors as position in the skull or prominence of eyebrows.

NOTICE OF CLASS ACTION AND HEARING ON PROPOSED SETTLEMENT

State Farm Insurance Companies has agreed to settle an employment discrimination class action now pending in federal court in Houston, Texas. The lawsuit claimed that State Farm discriminated against women, blacks and Hispanics in the recruitment and hire of insurance sales agents and field claims representatives between 1975 and 1983. The proposed Consent Decree affects only State Farm's Texas Region, which covers roughly the southern half of Texas, including such cities as Houston, San Antonio, Austin and El Paso.

- The Proposed Consent Decree. A settlement fund of $11.5 million will be established to satisfy individual backpay claims. The money will be distributed through a claims procedure administered by the Houston office of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Individual claimants may recover up to $100,000 or more from this fund. In order to be entitled to an award, a claimant will be required to meet certain qualifications and follow the agreed-upon claims procedure.
- The Affected Classes. The following persons may file claims under the proposed Consent Decree:
 - All women, blacks, and Hispanics who were not hired within 18 months after applying or constructively applying for a Trainee Agent position in State Farm's Texas Region at any time from January 1, 1975 through December 31, 1983;
 - All women and blacks who were not hired within 18 months after applying for a Field Claims Representative Trainee position in State Farm's Texas Region at any time from January 1, 1979 through July 1, 1983; and
 - All women employed as claims secretaries or inside claims representatives in State Farm's Texas Region who applied for promotion to Field Claims Representative Trainee positions at anytime from January 1, 1979 through July 1, 1983, but were not selected within 18 months of their initial application.
- Rights of Class Members. If you are a member of one or more of the classes listed above, you have four options:
 - A. You may participate in the settlement proceeding.
 - B. You may request exclusion from the class and the settlement.
 - C. You may object to the proposed Consent Decree.
 - D. You may do nothing.
- IMPORTANT NOTICE TO POTENTIAL CLASS MEMBERS WHO HAVE RECEIVED NO NOTICE THROUGH THE MAIL. Mailed notice has already been sent to the last known addresses of those individuals believed to be potential class members. If you believe you are a class member, but received nothing in the mail similar to this notice within the last month, then you must notify the EEOC if you wish to participate in the class. To notify the EEOC, please call the EEOC Claims Counselor at the following toll-free number: 1-800-253-1175 or in Houston 650-1557. Once the EEOC has been notified, your name will be placed on the class mailing list, and you will receive further notices and instructions by mail. Failure to notify the EEOC will result in your receiving no further notice regarding this action.
- If you wish to object to the proposed Consent Decree, you must mail written objections to either Mari Mayeda, counsel for plaintiffs, or A.L. Dent III, counsel for State Farm, at the addresses listed below, no later than January 15, 1991. A hearing will be held regarding the fairness of the proposed Consent Decree on January 28, 1991 at 9 a.m. and persons who have mailed written objections will have an opportunity to voice objections at the hearing.
- Further Information. A copy of the complete Consent Decree is available for inspection or copying upon request from the library of the Houston District Office of the EEOC, 1919 Smith Street, 7th Floor, Houston, Texas 77002, telephone number 1-800-253-1175 or in Houston 650-1557. Letter to Pastors And Youth Directors

Dear Pastors & Youth Directors:

Once again it is time to make plans for the Annual Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Birthday Celebration, January 17 - 21, 1991.

Youth Night is scheduled for Friday, January 18, 1991 at the Community Baptist Church, and we need the involvement of the entire community to make Youth Night a success. There will be a mass choir with special selections; we also need speeches, poetry, skits, etc.

The rehearsals will be Saturday, January 5 & 12, 1991 at 2:00 p.m. at Lyons Chapel Baptist Church. We are asking that your youth and youth directors be present. Once again our goal this year is to have at least 100 youth participating. Won't you encourage your youth to be a part of this annual event.

Sincerely,
Gwen Titus

Classic Southern Fare: Gingerbread With Lemon Sauce

Years ago, colonists used molasses for flavor and as a source of energy. Today, molasses is still a preferred ingredient, adding just the right flavor to that Southern classic, Gingerbread With Lemon Sauce.

Bisquick baking mix, cinnamon, ginger and nutmeg are blended with the richness of molasses to make this gingerbread delight a special treat at any time of day.

- Gingerbread With Lemon Sauce
2 cups Bisquick baking mix
1/4 cup sugar
1 egg
3/4 cup milk
2/3 cup dark molasses
1/4 cup shortening
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
Lemon Sauce (below)

Heat oven to 325°. Grease and flour square pan, 9x9x2 inches. Beat all ingredients in large bowl on low speed 30 seconds, scraping bowl constantly. Beat on medium speed 3 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Pour into pan. Bake 45 to 50 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan before turning onto serving plate. Serve with Lemon Sauce. 9 servings.

- Lemon Sauce
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 1/2 cups water
1 egg yolk, beaten
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1/3 cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Mix sugar and cornstarch in 4-cup microwavable measure. Gradually stir in water. Microwave uncovered on high 4 to 5 minutes, stirring every 2 minutes, until mixture boils and thickens. Stir small amount of hot mixture into beaten egg yolk. Stir egg yolk mixture into remaining mixture in 4-cup measure until smooth. Microwave 30 to 60 seconds or until mixture begins to bubble around edge. Stir in remaining ingredients. 2 1/2 cups sauce.

No-cholesterol Gingerbread with Lemon Sauce: Substitute 2 egg whites or 1/4 cup cholesterol-free egg product for the egg, skim milk for the milk and 2 tablespoons vegetable oil for the 1/4 cup shortening. Omit egg yolk and use margarine in sauce.

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): For No-Cholesterol Gingerbread with Lemon Sauce, heat oven to 375°. Add 1/3 cup all-purpose flour. Omit 1/4 cup sugar. Increase eggs to 2. Bake about 35 minutes.

Texas Caviar (Black-Eyed Pea Salad)

Black-eyed peas are a Southern New Year's tradition. This year, why not heat up your meal with this spicy specialty from the Lone Star State?

- | | | | |
|---------|----------------------------------------|----------|-----------------------------|
| 2 cups | black-eyed peas, dry | 2 tbsp. | acceptable vegetable oil |
| 1/2 cup | diced green bell pepper | 2 tbsp. | red wine vinegar |
| 1/4 cup | diced white onion | 1 | clove garlic, minced |
| 2 tbsp. | finely chopped canned jalapeno peppers | 1/4 tsp. | freshly ground black pepper |

Sort black-eyed peas and soak overnight in 8 cups of water. Drain. Cook peas in 4 cups of fresh water until done but still firm, about 1 1/2 hours.

Rinse in cold water and drain. In a medium bowl, combine all remaining ingredients and mix well. Add peas and chill. Makes 6 servings.

* Corn, soybean, safflower, sunflower, canola or olive oils.
