Mustangs Win Super Bowl Also!

During Super Bowl Sunday, November 18, 1990, another team in East Lubbock, the Mustangs also became victorious by defeating the Raiders, 26-6. This victory brought their record for the year to 6-0.

These young fellows were coached by the following coaches: Bob Moore, Head Coach and Curtis Nealy, who were defensive coaches. Offensive coaches were Rodney Moore, Kenneth Jackson and Larry Isaac.

We are truly proud of these young fellows as they too displayed good sportsmanship during the season.

This Super Bowl Sunday was the climax of the season of the Youth Football League (YFL).

Miss Galaxy Crowned

Cecilia "Cee Cee" Peniston, taded her Miss Black Arizona crown for the "Miss Gakaxy" crown recently in the Blue Bonnett Room at the University of Texas at Arlington near Dallas/Ft. Worth.

Pictured on the left is Kiki Shepard, hostess of the popular New York City Appolo Amateur Show, displaying her well known voting hand above the winner's head.

Miss Peniston, a popular home town singer has just returned from New Jersey where she tried out with a nationally known recording group. Her goal is to someday get the opportunity as Miss Regina Belle, a 1983 second-runner up of the Miss Galaxy Pageant.

The Miss Galaxy Pageant is sponsored by Youth Together, Inc., a Federal tax-exempt organization of Phoenix, Arizona. The 1991 show will be held in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Letter to Citizens "System Does Work"

(Editor's Note: This letter comes from the brother of Lambert Wilson who was recently freed from an incident which needs to make known to the community. The letter is from his brother, James Wilson, a resident of Virginia Beach Fla.)

Dear Sir:

I am sure you are aware of the details surrounding the murders that occurred in Lubbock concerning Lambert Wilson and others. I am an older brother of Lambert and have just recently received a letter. I was really touched not only by the letter and its contents, but also by the tone and sincerity of message he was trying to convey to me.

When I received his letter I really was expecting something reflecting how bitter he might be because it is a strong feeling among Blacks and Spanish Americans in the West Texas area that good legal representation does not exist and that they are easy prey for convictions in most cases. These same feelings are probably prevalent nation wide by poor minority groups.

I realize that I could probably be influenced in my interpretation of the letter because of my personal involvement in the situation and Lambert being my brother. Therefore, I had several friends that do not know Lambert read the letter and they received the same message.

In conclusion, where this happened and who was involved is not important. Lubbock, Texas could be anywhere in the United States and this situation could apply to any family. There is a very strong message for drug users, potential users, educated, uneducated, rich and poor. We all realize that the drug situation is at a crisis state and presents a very complex problem for our society to deal with. My brother being one that knows that from experience, has pointed a message we often hear and can confirm it to be a workable solution the national drug problem. Although seeing drugs as a national problem, he alludes to a very simple act that anyone can do, and if done could help wipe our national drug problem ... that action is "To Just Say No."

The second message received from his correspondence is that the legal system does work. Doubt existed in my mind and a lot of the family members with the court appointed lawyer. Things did not happen as quickly as we might have wanted, but justice was served. I cannot say the system is not without faults, and that all cases will have the same results, but we can still have faith in our legal system and the American way of doing things.

Lambert was looking for a drug program to enter to attempt to overcome his drug problem when this all happened. I know he is drug free at this time. Three years is a long time to dry out. It also seems like he is ready for the final step to a complete rehabilitation. It seems that he is aware of where he has been and knows where he wants to go. I also feel it is going to be very difficult to weather the storm in Lubbock, but I admire his willingness to face up to what has happened and still push forward.

Small Town, U. S. A. can be a very difficult place to be, with a lot of small town influence in the legal system. However, a lot of good people also remain in small towns and hopefully, a man can still receive a chance.

Sir, after reviewing the enclosed articles and letter, if you sense the same sincerity, and can realize the same messages being offered, I am sure you will agree that there is a message of interest for the public. The same way the media disseminated all of the details of the murder that occurred. I am requesting your help in getting out something positive to the public. Just as was pointed out in the letter. There is good in even the worst situations, individuals are not blame society for what has occurred. Lambert has indicated he is willing to do this.

Lambert, he has always had the family support. Therefore, I will encourage him to continue to work hard and not to be discouraged by all the odds that he will face, and, hopefully, some of those good people that still remain in Lubbock, Texas will hear of his attempts and desires to once again become a productive member of the community and possibly be willing to step toward and give him another chance. He is at a very critical point and with encouragement and support, I am confident, he can reestablish credible credentials in his home town area. If you share my sentiments, I would appreciate any type of encouragement to Lambert or efforts you may be able to offer in getting this message out to the public.

Thank you in advance for your time and possible interest.
Very respectfully,
James Wilson

Prairie View A&M University President Julius W. Becton, Jr. (left) presents an honorary Doctor of Law degree to Gen. Colin L. Powell, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, after his convocation address on the Prairie View campus. Powell told the audience of faculty, students, staff, alumni, friends and visiting dignitaries that "Prairie View has a vital role to play in preparing Americans, particularly African-Americans, to face the challenges of the new world." He added that in selecting Julius W. Becton, Jr. to be president, "the university is making a statement to the world for excellence."

RUBY JAY'S CORNER

This writer RUBY JAY is a patient at Methodist Hospital, room 618 and is taking training for a new leg. She desires your prayers.

What a lovely program last Saturday for Mrs. Ruby Jay at New Hope. A committee, composed of Mrs. F. Stokley, Mrs. A. Taylor and Mrs. L. Jackson prepared a lovely program.

The topic of discussion was: "Our Love For You -- Ruby Jay."

Prayer was offered by Sister Colquitt and Sister Joan Y. Ervin gave a lovely occasion. Sister Elnora Dyer sang: "Give Me My Flowers."

Memories of Sister Jay's leadership was given by several members.

What a beautiful program, and this writer says "THANK YOU!"

Sister G. H. Davis and members of New Hope are responsible for sending flowers and cards to our sick and shut ins. Her address is 2105 Ash Avenue. Why not help her with this project?

She is also selling cards for all occasions.

Crazy Horse

by Stephen C. McIntyre

Admiral Crowe and General Jones, former chairmen of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, recently testified before Congress that they advised caution before getting into a war in the Middle East. They also urged the President to allow time for the sanctions to work.

A recent poll of former men who served as Secretary of Defense also revealed that a majority encouraged the President to allow time for the sanctions to work.

Some folks may interpret my desire to see Congress debate this issue before rushing into war as anti-military. It is not. We do not live in a perfect world. While I might turn my cheek in many circumstances, I can envision many situations where I would out-Rambo George Bush. I was raised that way.

My Uncle George was a Seebee in WWII. Uncle Joe and Uncle Ed were in Vietnam on several tours. Uncle Ed and Uncle John retired from the Navy. Uncle John served on nuclear submarines. Cousin John Allen was in Vietnam and Cousin Paul was in the Army in Europe. Grandpa Lonsbury moved to Oklahoma and built bombers during WWII and Grandpa McIntyre was in the Navy in WWII. My brother turned down his chance at West Point and Air Force Academy. He was more interested in science and they really only wanted him for football. My father was a sergeant in the Air Force and his sister works at Ft. Chaffee back home.

I am raised in a military oriented family. We followed orders. We are fighters. But being willing to fight does not necessarily mean you are naive. Our Constitution says that the Congress, those hundreds of men and women we elect, will declare the wars for this country, not the President. It was set up this way 200 hundred years ago to avoid the problem of the "King" getting involved in wars without the approval of the people. The Constitution was also set up in this country so that we would have a civilian commander in chief of the military, not a military one. This was to avoid the obvious problems with the military. Some may recall Truman having to fire McArthur when he would not follow orders. Finally, our system gives the purse strings to Congress so that if there are problems with the way the President leads the military, the people through their elected Congressmen can cut off the finances for the war.

But first things first. Let's see if Congress is willing to declare war. We must have a debate of the people, not sound bites from Bush and his advisors with a different reason for war each week.

Is it possible that Bush and his small circle of advisors are wrong? If so, it will be a heck of a mistake. This issue must be debated.

If you are interested in people move in Texas you might consider purchasing, or asking the local librarian to purchase, "Cold Anger: A Story of Faith and Power Politics" by Mary Beth Rogers, Denton, University of North Texas Press, 1990, 222 pages for $14.90; or, "Let Them Call Me Rebel: Saul Alinsky-His Life and Legacy" by Sanford D. Horwitt, New York: Alfred K. Knopf, 1989, 595 pages.

"Cold Anger" is about Ernie Cortes and the IAF movement in Texas. It was written by Ann Richards campaign manager. You may be more familiar with IAF's work in Texas as from the very successful organizing record of COPS in San Antonio. "Rebel" is about the founder of the IAF organizing movement in Chicago. Alinsky wrote two books that may be familiar to some: "Reveille for Radicals" and "Rule for Radicals."

The November 22nd issue of The Texas Observer has a review of both of the books as well as several articles about the IAF movement in Texas. A movement that has been described by Duke University historian Larry Goodwyn as "the only group that can change politics in this country."

People will react to that which is precise, and we will publish these articles as precisely and factually as is humanly possible. We will also give credit and respect to those who are doing good things for the Lubbock Area and the people. We will be critical of those who are not doing as they have said they would, and this, we think, is fair.

So, this is our resolution to you: "Feel free at anytime to call this office for information concerning this newspaper or any other matter that is of concern to you."

This is not a propaganda sheet made to chastise or vilify. This is a newspaper made to educate and not to agitate.

Letter to Editor

Local Group Calls On President Bush

Dear Editor:
We, the members of the Lubbock Worship Group of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers), call upon the Bush administration to reconsider its current policy in the Middle East crisis. Specifically:

1) We urge the continued use of economic sanctions and the scaling down of American troop commitments in Saudi Arabia.

We are disturbed by the President's drive to obtain the U. N. Security Council's approval of an ultimatum to Iraq with a deadline. It is far from proven that such preparation for war is the only alternative to the present crisis. It is far from certain that the ultimatum will have the desired effect. We are encouraged by word of administration plans to enter into talks with the Iraq government.

2) We urge the President to assume leadership in promoting a re-examination of American consumption patterns.

The underlying reasons why our government considers the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait a major threat to our own security are related to our own habits of excessive consumption, particularly of petroleum. Abhorrence of aggression alone does not explain our commitment of over 400,000 troops to Saudi Arabia; we have tolerated comparable acts of aggression elsewhere in the Middle East. We have known, at least since the petroleum shortages of the mid-70's, that our desire for middle eastern oil might lead us into just such a situation as the one we now face.

The words of the 18th century Quaker John Woolman come to our minds: "May we look upon our treasurers, the furniture of our houses, and our garments in which we array ourselves, and try whether the seeds of war have nourishment in these our possessions, or not." It is a great tragedy unfolding - a tragedy which is quite avoidable - if what we are actually doing is wandering into a war merely to protect our treasure.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

Members of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast met last Saturday morning in the lovely home of Delbert & Dorothy Hood at 9 a. m. Sister Christine Burleson, our president; Sister Dorothy Nash and Sister Elnora Jones conducted our devotional period. What a time we had!

The morning scripture lesson was taught by Sister Jones. Her subject was "The Making of A Good and Faithful Servant." Her text was Phillip 2:13 & 14; Matthew 16:10-13; and St. John 12:37.

"For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do if his good pleasure. Do all things without murmuring and disputing.

Matt. 16:13 -- "When Jesus come into the coast, Caesarea Phillipi, he asked his disciples, saying, "Whom do men say that I the Son of man am?"

St. John 12:37 -- But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him.

This speaker said:

"The making of a good servant is first to believe God, study the word, pray and ask for guidance of the Holy Spirit in order to know when to speak; what to say; how to say it; to rule out all malice, anger, selfishness, greed; and put on the whole armour of God, be strong, have the assurance that his word says: "I'll be with you always; you can be a faithful servant. When we expect leadership in-different officers. We are not kings and queens, but humble servants of the Almighty God. We are not put there to rule with an iron hand, but a humble heart."

We were so blessed by this lesson. Thanks, Sister Jones.

Thought for the Season: "Does it make a real difference what day Jesus was born on? What makes a real difference is that He was born, and 'lives according."

Think about it! To all our sick and hurting people. God loves you; trust Him. Read II Chronicles 7:14; Mark 11:22-26.

This season: "Slow down people." And thank whose birthday you are celebrating this season!

We will meet in the lovely home of President Christine Burleson, 2407 East 9th Street, on Saturday morning at 9 a. m. We will continue to elect officers. Come by!

We continue to need your support. Call or write: Outreach Prayer Breakfast, P. O.

Box 1223, Lubbock, Texas 79408.

Keep smiling; loving your enemy; you will make it. Did any good come out of Nazareth??

"Lord, No, I Don't Wanna Goli"
(My Salvation On My Damascus Road)
Part 4

Jeremiah 26:13 -- "Therefore now amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the Lord your God; and the Lord will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you.

After the tree fell the cold chills over me: (The Holy Ghost) telling me to talk with my family, when the horn had blown, the chills came over me (The Holy Ghost) telling me it was time to go to Garland, Texas. I drove back to Heame, Texas and paid my cousin Melvin Potts the money he had loaned me for the auto parts.

Thinking everything was alright; my Dad and Wife was talking things out, my debt was paid. Now I can go home in peace. I gassed up my pickup truck and got a six pack of beer for the road like I always did. As I was pulling out of Heame, I got on my CB radio and said: "This is Dr. Bo-Fly, how is it looking back to Waco? A voice came back: paddle to the metal, it's clear that way. I said: I'm just pulling out and can't help you, but have a good day. (Even my name had changed to Blo-Fly; the devil's game, he'll change your name.)

I then turned my tape player on to my blues singers, while my speed picked up to 75 or 80 mph. (You see I was raised on speed, in the 60's. If your car couldn't do 120 mph, you didn't have a good car.) As I reached in teh & got out a beer, with my finger under the snap ring, a voice said: "Don't open that beer! Now there was no one in the pickup I thought to myself, I just told my Dad that a little while ago; but who's saying it now."

Isaiah 1:19-20 -- If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land; but if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

I yet had my finger under the snap ring of the beer can ready to pull it, (about 3 wks ago I had a dream that I was lying in a field, with blood in my throat: it was choking me. I was dying; I woke up and sat in a bed soaking wet; I went back to sleep and the dream came again: I woke up and didn't go back to sleep fearing I would have it a third time). I was ready to open the beer and the dream came as I was speeding along, the very same thing. "I said it out loud I'm going to die today," the cold chills came again (The Holy Spirit). I put my feet on the brakes, my speed came to 50 mph, I put the beer in the beer holder on my dash; I gripped the steering wheel hard, my foot was shaking "hysterically" on the gas peddle, and I began to pray."

Psalms 6:1-2 -- O' Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure. Have mercy on me, O' Lord, for I am weak: O' Lord, heal me; for my bones are vexed.

Lord's will Part 5 next week: God is not through with us yet. So let's pray for one another always.

Your Brother in Christ Jesus Always!!!

FROM THE OF
PARSON D. A. SMITH

The questions that twentieth century man may ask in this Advent season are: "What's the big deal about the humanity of the Christ Child? Why is the discussion of the humanity of Jesus so important? Are not the complex social problems of ethnicity, health, institution, crime, family and sex enough to sole without trying to affirm the humanity of Jesus? What difference does it make anyway?"

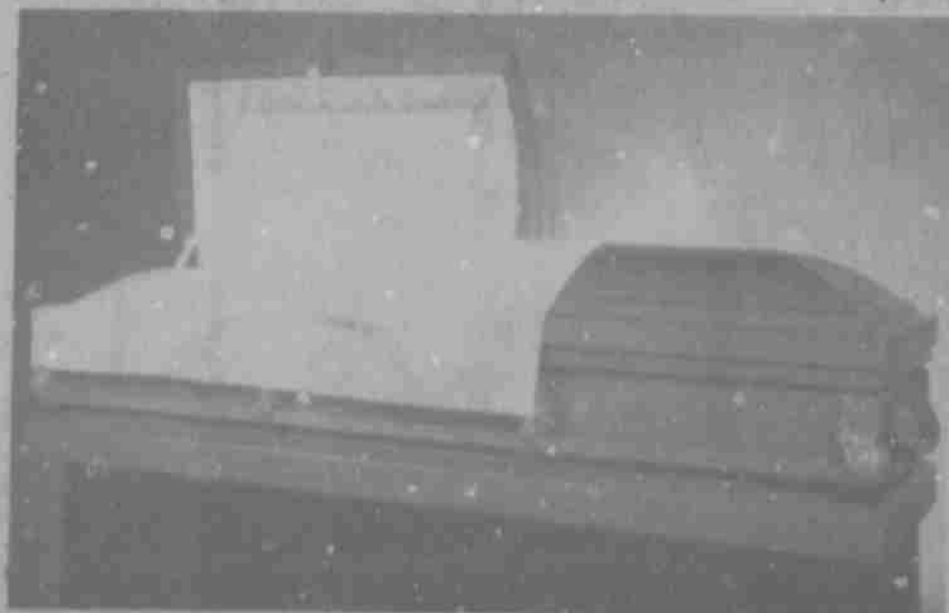

The writer of Hebrews discusses the results in human life that would have been impossible without the full humanity of Jesus. Man who was created in God's image came under bondage to Satan because of sin. Death was the penalty. Man needed a saviour, one of his own ranks who had not succumbed to temptation. There was no man on earth worthy. So, Jesus became a man, lived our life, experienced our death, and then won the victory over it, he broke the hold Satan had on man. He opened a new highway for man that would lead not to death, but to eternal life. He became what we are, so that we might become as he is.

Jesus' humanity was important because it enabled Jesus to redeem us. When you get tired and don't think you can go, he understands. When you are treated unfairly by others, he understands. When you are confronted by a temptation so powerful that it almost sweeps you off your feet, he understands. When your best laid plans are sabotaged by the jealousy and envy of others, he understands. When you stand at the tomb of one that you loved with all your heart and cry, "Why did it have to happen?" he understands. Because of his humanity, he can sympathize with us.

Words cannot express my heartfelt appreciation to each of you in helping to make our Annual Women's Day the big success that it was.

It is so good to know that so many of our friends were ready and willing to do their share in spreading the Word of God. Each of our guests was an inspiration to me and the Missionary Society of St. Luke. I am still crying tears of joy.

If we can ever help you in any way, please don't hesitate to call.

Eggnog isn't Just for Drinking!

The holiday season conjures up images of mistletoe, holly, candy canes, open-house parties and eggnog. But eggnog isn't just for drinking this season! You can create a mouth-watering "eggnog" dessert that will dazzle your holiday guests and satisfy even the most discriminating palate.

What better way to get into the yuletide spirit than by serving a dessert that has "holiday" written all over it - Eggnog Cheesecake! Decorated with red and green glaze cherries, this treat makes a delicious, eye-catching finale to any holiday meal.

Take advantage of free time now and bake ahead for a tasty and care-free celebration this season!

Eggnog Cheesecake

- | | |
|--------------------------------------|---|
| 1-1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs | 1 cup cream, whipped |
| 1 tablespoon sugar | 1/2 cup (4 ounces) glaze whole red cherries, coarsely chopped |
| 1/3 cup melted butter or margarine | 1/2 cup (4 ounces) glaze whole green cherries, coarsely chopped |
| 5 egg yolks | 1/4 cup coarsely chopped toasted almonds |
| 2 teaspoons rum extract | |
| 1/3 cup sugar | |
| 1 package (15 ounces) ricotta cheese | |

Combine graham cracker crumbs and 1 tablespoon sugar in bottom of ungreased 8-1/2-inch springform pan; mix in butter. Pat mixture on bottom and 1/2-inch up side of pan.

Beat egg yolks and rum extract in large mixing bowl until thick and light in color, 3 to 5 minutes. Beat in 1/3 cup sugar gradually. Process ricotta cheese in food processor or blender until very smooth; stir into yolk mixture. Fold whipped cream into yolk mixture; fold in glaze fruits and almonds. Pour mixture into springform pan. Freeze until firm, 8 hours or overnight.

Let cheesecake stand at room temperature 5 to 10 minutes. Carefully loosen cheesecake by running sharp knife around sides; remove side of pan. Return to freezer until serving time.

Makes 12 servings.

Long-Term Freezing Directions

After removing from pan, wrap securely in aluminum foil and return to freezer. Let cheesecake thaw until soft enough to cut (15-20 minutes at room temperature, 1 to 1-1/2 hours in refrigerator). Eggnog Cheesecake can be frozen for up to three months.

BACK TO BASICS COOKING

Quick and easy dinners can be healthful and exciting. Just stir-up "Mandarin Orange & Cashew Chicken." Fresh snow peas, mushrooms and onion combine with tangy mandarin orange segments, roasted cashews and tender chicken to create a delightful, full-flavored stir-fry. And, the authentic flavor is a breeze when you start with bottled Kikkoman Stir-Fry Sauce. A blend of naturally brewed soy sauce, sherry, garlic, oyster extract and select seasonings, bottled stir-fry sauce eliminates the fuss of extra measuring and mixing. Serve piping hot with fluffy rice and enjoy one of the best stir-frys Chinese cuisine has to offer.

MANDARIN ORANGE AND CASHEW CHICKEN

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1 can (11 oz.) mandarin orange segments | 1/4 cup roasted cashews |
| 1/4 cup Kikkoman Stir-Fry Sauce | 1 clove garlic, minced |
| 2 whole chicken breasts, skinned and boned | 1 medium onion, chunked |
| 3 tablespoons vegetable oil, divided | 1/4 pound fresh snow peas, cut in half |
| | 1/4 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced |

Reserving 2 Tbsp. syrup, drain mandarin oranges. Blend reserved syrup with stir-fry sauce; set aside. Cut chicken into 1-inch pieces. Heat 2 Tbsp. oil in hot wok or large skillet over high heat. Add chicken, cashews and garlic. Stir-fry 3 minutes; remove. Heat remaining oil in same pan. Add onion; stir-fry 2 minutes. Add snow peas and mushrooms; stir-fry 2 minutes longer. Add chicken and stir-fry sauce mixture; cook and stir to coat chicken and vegetables with sauce. Remove from heat; gently stir in mandarin oranges.

Makes 4 servings.

Lions Club Selects New President

William L. Biggs, of Omaha, Nebraska, took office as president of Lions Clubs International on July 14, 1990, during the final session of the Lions 78th International Convention in St. Louis, Missouri.

Biggs will serve a one-year term as the leader of 1.4 million Lions club members in 170 countries worldwide. Lions raise hundreds of millions of dollars each year to aid the blind and visually impaired, to sponsor the world's largest drug abuse prevention curriculum, and to support diabetes education and research.

His responsibilities include reviewing Lion humanitarian projects, such as the establishment of SightFirst, a global blindness-prevention effort. He will also serve as the association's ambassador in meetings with heads of state, community and business leaders.

Active as a Lions club member since 1962, Biggs previously served on the Lions International Board of Directors as a director from 1983-85 and as an appointee from 1985-89. He is a member of the Omaha Lions Club and has received a number of local and international awards for his service. Biggs has also served on the board of the Lions Eye Bank in Nebraska, Inc., and is active in the YMCA and the Immanuel Medical Center.

Biggs, a lawyer, and his wife, Beate, live in Omaha. They have five children and two grandchildren.
