

New GOP Slate Set For State

Conservative Republicans, a Fort Worth GOP leader said, are planning a separate party slate for the November election.

Edward B. Holman, a witness for the Taft Texas delegation at the Chicago Presidential convention, said the new group would be composed of Republicans opposed to the leadership of National Republican Committeeman Jack Porter of Houston.

Holman said the new group called itself the Conservative Party and would present a full slate of "real Republicans" for state and local offices.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower and Sen. Richard Nixon would head the Conservative ticket, he said, but complete slates of local candidates would be added to the present Republican line-up.

Earlier in the week, a group calling itself the Christian Nationalist party entered the name of Gen. Douglas MacArthur on the Texas presidential ballot for November.

While the new parties developed, Gov. Allan Shivers urged Texas Democrats to exercise their right of vote in Saturday's Second Democratic Primary.

"All elections are important in a democracy," Shivers said. "The second primary is no exception," and he added:

"The fact that only one state race is at issue should not lessen the interest of the voters in having a voice in their government, since many important district and local races will be decided."

Seeking Place I on the Texas Supreme Court, Judge Frank P. Cullen of Fort Worth and Spurgeon Bell of Houston are the contestants in the lone state race.

District races include one Civil Appeals Court post, four Congressional seats, three State Senate seats, two district judgehips, four district attorney posts, one criminal district attorney place and 29 seats in the state House of Representatives.

Several counties have such jobs as sheriff, county clerk, treasurer, justice of the peace, etc., at stake. While the governor probed apathetic Democrats and while

Details Are Asked On Drought Relief

Gov. Allan Shivers Thursday called for immediate response from farm leaders and small farmers and ranchers on whether they think Texas should seek benefits of the federal drought disaster program.

He said he wanted replies today so he could decide tomorrow whether to act or not.

"I think if we're going to take any action, it should be taken immediately," he said.

His request for wires went directly to county agents, farm editors, editors, and county judges in areas he considered most seriously affected by the drought. He asked each to contact at least six small farmers and ranchers to determine if they want the program in Texas and what they think the benefits will be.

Shivers said he has also wired Under-Secretary of Agriculture C. J. McCormick to determine the benefits of the program for small farmers and ranchers and how soon assistance could be given.

Shivers said he was "amazed if not astounded" to find at a drought conference he called Wednesday that state leaders did not know what the federal drought program involves.

"There's no question that some small Texas farmers and ranchers need help," he said, "but I don't want anybody to mislead them about what they can expect to get."

Dairyman-Farmer Joe Bob Shelton of Brownwood said, "We're at the end of our rope. We have come to a point where we need some help that we're not able to get at home."

James McAnelly, assistant manager of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, added: "We didn't come here to talk politics. . . . If we dilly-dally around, it's going to be too late. I think it's time we did something."

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, backing the Shivers stand, said the governor had not been slow to act but had waited to hear from the farmers before doing anything.

B. F. Vance, state director of the USDA's Production & Marketing Administration, was doubtful specific information could be secured on how the program would work.

Shivers wanted to know if farmers would get hay at subsidized prices, what kind of herds it could be used for, and what would happen to hay prices. He asked Vance to seek the best answers possible from Under-Secretary of Agriculture C. J. McCormick, who attended the West Texas drought conference in Abilene Monday.

Shivers noted farmers had been receiving emergency loans from the Farmers Home Administration since 1951, when Secretary of Agriculture Brannan declared Texas a disaster area under another law.

Rep. Bill Chambers of May said Wednesday's meeting was not the proper place to argue the kind of program would be available. He maintained the only purpose of the conference was to decide whether

Truman Knows Nothing Of Washington 'Mess'

Factories Are Left In Flames By Superforts

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD. SEOUL, Korea (U. N. B-29 Superforts, B-36s and fighter bombers left Communist factories, stockpiles and troop installations in flames today in two massive raids.

Thirty-eight Okinawa-based B-29s hurled 350 tons of bombs on Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, last night and early today after civilians had been warned to get out.

The Air Force said the big bombers rumbled 400 acres of troop, supply and industrial areas and left huge fires burning at opposite ends of the city in the four-hour strike. All 38 planes returned safely despite Red anti-aircraft fire and fighter opposition.

More than 100 B-29s and fighter-bombers followed with a daylight bombing of a giant cement plant at Omi, about 20 miles south of Pyongyang. Returning pilots estimated they destroyed 63 buildings and damaged 29 others.

The Omi raid was the third big Allied bombing of Communist targets in two days. The Air Force said 58 buildings were destroyed Wednesday in a 200-plane Navy and Air Force smash at the Red buildup area near Namyang, 25 miles northwest of Pyongyang.

Swift U. S. Sabre jets destroyed three Communist MIG-15s and damaged two more in high-altitude dogfights over Northwest Korea Wednesday.

The raid on Pyongyang was the third in six weeks. U. S. Marine planes blasted 33 troop concentrations and buildings on the battlefield Wednesday.

Ground action was extremely light yesterday and early today.

At one point, he took a swipe at the Saturday Evening Post, saying it is always wrong. That was in response to an inquiry whether he intends to answer an article in the magazine that said he gave the country false information about a grain shortage.

Truman said he didn't intend to. He said he almost never reads the Post because it is always wrong. Asked how he knows, whether he got a briefing on such things, the President said all he needs to do is look at the table of contents and he knows.

Another line of questioning centered on an exchange of correspondence between Gov. Stevenson and a Portland newspaper editor which referred to "the mess in Washington." Truman said he had no comment because he knew nothing of any mess.

A reporter noted that Stevenson has said something "to the effect that he wants to bring a refreshing of what's gone on for 20 years."

It was then that Truman spoke of infusing new blood into the Democratic Party while declaring there will be no turning back on what the party has done for 20 years.

Admits New Blood Needed By Demos

By DOUGLASS B. CORNELL. WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP) — President Truman said today there ought to be some new blood in the Democratic Party but he knows of no mess in Washington.

At a news conference with the accent on politics, Truman said he had no comment on the way the Democratic candidates, Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Sen. John Sparkman, have started their campaign. He said too that:

He doesn't have to read what the opposition says—he knows ahead of time what it is going to say and it's all wrong. He thinks he knows more about the government than anyone in the United States.

Certainly Stevenson can have the advantage of the good research which fortified his own campaign speeches in 1948. Stevenson can have all the information he wants—and so can

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican Presidential nominee. Truman said he will give them the truth and if they want to use it, it's up to them.

While the Democratic Party can stand some new blood, that doesn't mean we are going back on what the Democratic Party has done in the last 20 years.

There was no comment on Sparkman's statement that the recent steel strike had been mishandled.

Nor did the President want to go into any detail on the incidents involving daughter Margaret, Secret Service and Swedish newspapers.

In response to a question, Truman said he hadn't made any personal inquiries but had read reports regarding charges in the Swedish press that Secret Service men accompanying his daughter had used roughhouse tactics.

He said no new instructions are planned for the Secret Service guards because they are always right and don't need any.

On another international matter, Truman had nothing to say about the calling of a new Communist Party Congress in Moscow, sizing it up as none of his business.

At one point, he took a swipe at the Saturday Evening Post, saying it is always wrong. That was in response to an inquiry whether he intends to answer an article in the magazine that said he gave the country false information about a grain shortage.

Masked Gunmen Hold Up Station Attendant Here

Three masked Negroes, armed with an automatic pistol and driving a stolen automobile, held up and robbed a service station attendant of some $130 here early today.

The trio were the objects of a quest covering several area counties. Search apparently was narrowed about 11 a. m., however, when the 1950 Lincoln Cosmopolitan they were driving was found abandoned at Fifth and Gollad.

Eddie Lynch, 37, relief night attendant at the Reed Oil Company Station, 1628 E. 3rd, identified the automobile as the one used by the three Negroes when they robbed the service station sometime after 2 a. m. today. The car was one stolen from James Petroff, 1111 Settles, between Monday night and Wednesday when its disappearance was first noticed.

Police and sheriff's department cars swarmed to the scene of the robbery about 2:40 a. m. today. They set up roadblocks on Birdwell Lane and between Big Spring and Garden City in hopes of bottling up the stickup men who turned off East Third onto Birdwell Lane after leaving the Reed station.

Lynch reported the robbery several minutes after it occurred. The masked bandits had forced him into a restroom and cut telephone lines before leaving the station. Lynch had to go next door to the Skyline Supper Club and awaken the proprietor before he could notify officers of the holdup.

Lynch said the three men drove into the station and parked near a soft drink machine. Two got out of the car, leaving one man in the driver's seat. The masked man confronted the attendant with an automatic pistol and took approximately $130 from the company's till.

City and county officers Thursday were attempting to determine the approximate time Petroff's car was stolen, or locate someone who had hired the three men in possession of the machine.

Petroff had parked the car at the Big Spring VA Hospital Monday when he entered the institution as a patient. He first noticed it was missing from the parking place Wednesday afternoon.

Right-Of-Way Deeds Signed

Two of three remaining pieces of right-of-way for the U. S. 97-U. S. 80 cut-off have been acquired.

The road is to connect the San Angelo Highway with the Station Highway via the foot of Scenic Mountain and will skirt the Webb Air Base on the northeast edge.

Deeds have been signed to right-of-way on the Edwards Estate (on Marcy Drive) and by M. S. Goldman adjacent to the Air Base, said A. J. Stallings, commissioner of Precinct No. 3 in which the road lies.

Remaining right-of-way to be secured from the Texas & Pacific Railway Company which has agreed to donate the required land. However, the form of deed under which the company has given the state roadway for a quarter of a century now has been questioned by the State Highway Department.

This legal snag remains to be worked out before construction can be started under a co-operative program by the county and state. Plans call for surfacing the road, which would make the Air Base accessible from the east by all-weather road.

NOT MAN FROM MARS Pilot's Peculiar Rig Bars Welcome

Orval O. McGee, crop-duster pilot from Sinton, wasn't impressed with the hospitality hereabouts when he tried to find a place to park his light plane late Wednesday afternoon.

He admits, however, he was flying a queer-appearing craft and thinks he may have been mistaken for the celebrated "man from Mars."

McGee's difficulties started shortly before dusk when his efforts to land the "duster" at Webb Air Force Base drew repeated red lights. He knew there was another landing field around someplace, but was unable to locate it in the falling light.

Finally McGee picked himself out a nice level farm field a few miles north of Big Spring and landed. Not too far away was a house with the porchlights on and people sitting around the yard.

The flier taxied his odd-shaped plane—with all its crop-dusting attachments and a modified fuselage—toward the house, hoping to get permission to park the craft and maybe catch a ride into town. As he approached the house the people disappeared and the lights went out.

McGee dismounted, halted the plane and found everything locked up tight and quiet. He walked over to another house, nearby, where he said a man was hiding behind some shrubbery. He did some more hailing, asked permission to use a telephone, and still got no response.

Then the airman gave up, tied down his plane and started hoofing it into town. He was met out on the Lamesa Highway by Barney Edens, local airport manager, and M. B. Anderson, another duster pilot from Sinton, who had seen the plane go down.

After McGee related his experiences, the three airman decided it would be best to wait until daylight before he picked up his "flying saucer" and completed the hop to Lamesa.

State and federal narcotics agents engaged in a crackdown on an alien and narcotics smuggling ring said to be operating from Mexico, have arrested a suspect on charges of possessing a three-pound brick of marijuana and 18 heroin capsules.

State Narcotics Officer John Mistry identified the suspect as Antonio Alvarez, who was seized with the dope in his hotel room yesterday.

Mistry said it is known Alvarez's supplier is an illegal Mexican alien who is still at large.

Testifying before an assembly subcommittee on narcotics Tuesday, Mistry said a combination alien and narcotics smuggling ring has caused a large increase in the dope traffic in the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys.

The dope peddler, he said, find their markets among the illegally smuggled-in aliens to whom the use of narcotics is not exactly strange.

Mistry said Alvarez served a prison term from 1948 to 1951 on a narcotics conviction.

A HOT TIME IN BOX CAR

HOUSTON, Aug. 21 (U.S. News) — Twenty million matches burned early today—but nobody got a light.

The matches were in a steel box car at the Houston Central Warehouse. No estimate of damage was made and the cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Chest X-rays had been given to more than 1,650 persons at 11:30 a. m. today as the anti-tuberculosis survey moved into its third day.

Chest pictures still were being made at the rate of about 100 an hour, a pace established on the second day of the survey.

Local health authorities were disappointed with the relatively light turnout of foodhandlers, however. Only 125 persons who work as distributors of dispensers of foods and beverages had been registered Thursday morning.

Thirty Soldiers Caught In Flood

By SAM SUMMERLIN. SEOUL, Korea (U.S. News) — Thirty U. S. soldiers on a training exercise were engulfed by a wall of water as they crossed a river and today are feared drowned, the Eighth Army announced.

The Army said bodies of only four men caught in the flash flood had been recovered.

Boats with grappling hooks swept the unidentified South Korean river for the other 26 missing men of the 45th Infantry Division.

Names were withheld.

Rain from a typhoon which lashed Okinawa and Korea this week unleashed the crushing nine-foot wall of water in the normally knee-deep river.

The men, part of one platoon, were trapped on a sandbar as they started to ford the river.

The Army said the platoon leader lost his life trying to reorganize his men and get them to safety when the flood roared down the stream.

It called the tragedy an "act of God" and said the tricky terrain in Korea made sudden river floods possible at any time.

A truck bearing eight men and some ammunition was caught in the flood as it started across at a shallow point.

A sudden slide bowled over the truck and swept it and its passengers downstream.

The Army said the missing 26 included one officer and 25 enlisted men.

Eleven of the platoon were swept onto higher sandbars and escaped.

The 45th Division originally was made up of Oklahoma National Guardsmen called to active duty but in recent months it has become something of a rainbow division, with soldiers from all over the United States making up its ranks.

Two Stolen Cars Found Abandoned

Two automobiles reported stolen here since Monday have been recovered, police said today.

A 1941 Ford, stolen from Francisco D. Valdez Tuesday night, was found abandoned Wednesday afternoon on West Highway 50.

A 1950 Lincoln Cosmopolitan, owned by James Petroff and stolen from the VA Hospital sometime between Monday night and Wednesday, was discovered abandoned at Fifth and Gollad this morning. Petroff had parked the vehicle when he entered the hospital for medical treatment Monday. He noticed the machine was missing from its parking place Wednesday and notified officers.

Cleaning's A Big Job

LL and Mrs. James M. Kennedy find it takes a lot of dusting and sweeping to get ready to move into a new house but they're glad to do it. They are moving into the first house occupied of the 300-unit housing project under construction in Big Spring. They moved in their house at 1202 College Avenue Wednesday.

FIRST IN PROJECT

Couples Move Into New Rental Houses

The happy day many have been watching for months finally arrived for two couples Wednesday as they moved into two houses on College Avenue—the first two houses completed and occupied of the 300-unit housing project southeast of town.

LL and Mrs. James M. Kennedy were the first couple to occupy a house. Their furniture was moved Wednesday. They spent most of the day cleaning, waxing and dusting preparatory to putting their furniture in their new home at 1202 College Avenue.

LL and Mrs. John Nyquist were to have occupied their house next door to the Kennedy's Wednesday.

In addition to the two houses occupied Wednesday, 17 more on College and South Monticello will be inspected and be ready for occupancy by Friday, officials of the Henry A. Young Construction Company builders of the houses, have announced.

LL and Mrs. Kennedy, who moved here from their home, Sherman, in March, were among the first ones to register for a house about June 1 and Mrs. Kennedy declared, "We have watched them build the house from the foundation almost board by board, we've been so anxious to move in."

She went on, "Living in one room and eating three meals a day in cafes, like we've done since moving here, is not like living at home."

Walkouts Will Be Blocked In Atomic Plants

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—A plan to block any further unauthorized walkouts at the billion-dollar atomic energy plant was agreed upon by union and management officials yesterday.

While there was no word on whether the dispute involving AFL carpenters had been settled, the agreement, drawn up by President Truman's atomic energy labor relations panel, was signed four hours after the carpenters withdrew their picket line at the plant.

The declaration of policy provides penalties for workers taking part in wildcat walkouts and failing to return when ordered by the company and the union.

Although only a third of the 22,000-member work force went through the picket line yesterday, a spokesman for the F. H. McGraw and Co., prime contractor, said normal operations are expected today, the series of walkouts began over a week ago, reportedly caused by strife within the union local.

Yesterday, state police and sheriff's deputies were on guard to see that those who wanted to work were allowed to pass.

The agreement provides the following machinery for handling any future disturbances:

When a stoppage occurs the company will contact the union involved to learn if it was authorized. If the walkout was not, the union will notify its members to return. Failure to do so makes the member liable for discipline provided by the union's constitution and by-laws.

The company also will be required to inform workers the stoppage was unauthorized and request them to return. Any employee who remains out will be fired or disciplined.

The panel said the policy may be extended by the consent of the parties involved to other projects for the atomic energy program in the vicinity.

Stevenson Working On Drafts For Talks

By DON WHITEHEAD MINOCQUA, Wis. (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson blocked out the rough drafts today of the 10 or 12 speeches he will make on a hard-driving tour next month to win the Western vote in the November election.

This campaign may open Sept. 5 in Denver, Colo., the headquarters of his opponent, GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower, before moving westward to the Pacific Northwest and California.

Stevenson planned to sleep late and mix a little fishing, boating and just plain loafing with his speech writing. He also agreed to another news conference today.

Yesterday, the Democratic presidential nominee told reporters he feels "very comfortable" about his chances for beating Eisenhower. But he said the greatest obstacle in his path is the Republican argument that it's "time for a change" in administration.

Stevenson and his lieutenants have clearly indicated that in conducting this argument they will hammer on the counter-argument that Stevenson's election would be a change in faces and in approach to policies.

He said yesterday he would deal with corruption "ruthlessly" if elected. "I always have and I always will," he added.

And he went on to say that the best way to deal with what he has called "a mess in Washington" would be to name qualified and incorruptible men to government jobs—thus eliminating the wrongdoing before and not after it happens.

Asked if it would be a desirable thing to have Eisenhower directing America's foreign policy, Stevenson replied: "I don't know that I shall address myself to his undesirability for anything. I don't think it will."

Stevenson reiterated he thinks foreign policy the greatest problem facing the nation. "The destiny of the United States and the free world are at stake," he said, "and it's a problem that will confront us for years to come."

He was asked to expand on what he had meant last week when he wrote a letter to Editor Tom Humphrey of the (Portland) Oregon Journal in which he referred to a "mess in Washington."

Stevenson said he was only repeating a phrase that Humphrey had used in a letter to him when he referred to a "mess." But then he conceded that the conviction of wrongdoers was proof there had been a mess and he said: "Crime, corruption and misconduct are messy wherever they are."

PX Units To Cut King-Sized Smokes

BERLIN (AP)—U. S. Army post exchange stores in Germany have been told to cut down sales of king-sized cigarettes to stem the flow of the coveted "longies" to the German black market.

King-sized types are a premium-priced item on the black mart, where they bring a seller 18 marks ($4.28) per carton. Regular size cigarettes yield 15 to 16 marks—50 cents or so less.

PX employees said an Army survey showed that between 35 and 40 per cent of all cigarettes sold recently in Army stores in Germany have been king-sized. The long variety accounts for only about 8 per cent of total sales in the U. S.

Three Pilots Are Fished From Water

TOKYO, Aug. 21 (AP)—Three American pilots were fished unhurt from Communist waters off Northwest Korea yesterday after they ditched their crippled aircraft, U. S. Far East Air Forces said tonight.

Two were rescued by a helicopter flown by Capt. Edwin L. Leonard, Spokane, Wash.

Leonard first picked up a Sabre jet pilot, Lt. Norman Schmidt of Boulder Creek, Calif. On his way back to U.N. lines with Schmidt, Leonard dropped down again, within range of Communist shore batteries and rescued a Marine fighter bomber pilot, Maj. J. B. Griffin, Jacksonville, Fla.

A thunderjet pilot, Lt. G. L. Whisenand, Cushing, Okla., was hauled to safety in a helicopter flown by Capt. Walter E. Krutz, Sacramento, Calif.

None of the rescued pilots was injured. All managed to fly their crippled planes over water and parachuted.

Crewmen aboard Leonard's helicopter included Lt. James P. Kirkland, Fort Arthur, Tex. In Krutz' crew was Lt. Walter L. Johnson, 106 E. Houston St., Highlands, Tex.

(Pol. Adv. paid for by friends of R. H. Weaver)

An Endorsement Of J. B. Bruton

We, a representative group of the women voters of Howard County, have made an independent investigation of the administration of J. B. Bruton as sheriff, and this we have done without his knowledge, and we make the following findings of fact:

That J. B. Bruton is absolutely honest, and has so conducted his official duties during his term of office.

That J. B. Bruton is a Christian man, and has been active in his church ever since he has lived in Howard County, long PRIOR to his TAKING OFFICE.

That, as sheriff, J. B. Bruton has treated everyone alike, with no enemies to punish and no friends to reward.

for SHERIFF

That J. B. Bruton has been vigorous in presenting to Grand Juries cases well prepared, and has collected more in fines during his administration than has been collected ever before during the same length of time.

That, after long and patient work, J. B. Bruton and deputies have, with help of other officers, broken up a 'dope ring' of marijuana and narcotics, this being the first time in the history of law enforcement in Howard County that such dope peddlers have been convicted in groups, with still more pending trials.

That J. B. Bruton's present opponent was defeated when he and Bruton were candidates two years ago, in the SECOND PRIMARY; that his opponent Jess Slaughter, then RAN AGAIN as an INDEPENDENT in the GENERAL ELECTION.

That J. B. Bruton is such an honorable man that we feel that we can be assured that, if HE is defeated in the Second Democratic Primary he will not run as an INDEPENDENT in the GENERAL ELECTION.

Thus, we believe that, in the interest of law and order, and an honest administration of the Sheriff's office, J. B. Bruton should be given a second term.

Polio In Two-Thirds Of State Is Record

By The Associated Press

With three and one-half months still to go, Texas has recorded more polio cases this year than ever before.

Incidence has touched two-thirds of the state's 254 counties and State Health Officer George W. Cox—who reported 214 new cases for last week—fears his earlier prediction of 3,000 cases may be exceeded.

Already, Texas' 2,784 cases exceed the number reported in 1950, the record year until now.

Still on the downgrade, the disease continued to kill and cripple Wednesday.

A 25-year-old expectant mother, Mrs. Ellen Simmons, died of the disease in Dallas and doctors were unable to save her baby. Mrs. Simmons' illness was diagnosed as polio at 1 p.m. and she died in a respirator at 7:45 p.m.

Three new polio cases in Dallas, all four-year-old children, boosted Dallas' polio count for the year to 258, only 58 less than for the entire year in record-breaking 1950.

Eleven new cases at Houston pushed the count there to 363 cases and 12 deaths compared with 111 cases and six deaths for the same period last year. The Harris County total was 230 and eight deaths against only 28 cases and no deaths at this time last year. Non-resident cases treated in Houston to-dated 213 and 19 deaths, compared with 213 cases and no deaths a year ago.

Five new patients, three children and two adults, were reported at Waco, bringing the McLennan County toll for the year to 78.

A Lockhart girl and Elgin youth were admitted to Brackenridge Hospital in Austin Tuesday, raising the non-county total there to 53 since Jan. 1.

Dr. Cox' latest report said 54 counties reported polio cases last week. Three counties—Cochran, Denton, and Terrell—reported their first cases of the year, one each. The mysterious malady has now struck in 172 counties.

In Houston, meanwhile, the condition of Barry Bishop Jr. continued to improve although he was still seriously ill.

Bishop's father, press attache at the U. S. Embassy in Mexico City, said the boy had perked up considerably and asked for a look to read.

He is undergoing treatment with aniodic, a new drug developed in Mexico by a Belgian doctor, Stricken with unusually deadly bulbar polio, Bishop was wholly paralyzed until the drug was administered.

Approved by the Mexican Ministry of Health, the drug has reportedly cured some polio cases in Mexico within 12 days.

Ping-Pong Ball Voyage Is Off

MARSEILLE, France (AP)—Safety-minded French officials say an adventurous Chicago youth and his crew of three aren't going to sail from this port on pingpong balls.

The maritime authorities have ruled that 26-year-old Richard Miller's raft Ken-took—which floats on 75,000 pingpong balls in steel drums—is not a fit craft for his dream voyage across the Mediterranean.

Their decision appeared to have sunk the Miller expedition before it really got started.

Plans for the non-scientific excursion were laid this summer in the bars of the Paris Latin Quarter. Fellow students donated most of the pingpong balls. A former British Royal Air Force pilot, Michael Kindler, 28, of Jessup, Md., and a slim 23-year-old British nurse, Muriel Grand, volunteered as a crew.

The four bobbed down the Rhone River from Lyon this week. Two then quit the expedition. Undaunted, Miller and Jones were rounding up more volunteers when the French officials put a halt to the venture.

ISSUE BOUNCES

Secret Service Is Right, Says Harry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—President Truman, asked today about Swedish newspaper assertions that Secret Service men guarding his daughter, Margaret, roughed up photographers, said Secret Service men are always right.

He told his news conference he had read reports of the inquiry as they came to him.

But, otherwise, the President dismissed the now-celebrated Swedish incident.

The question of Margaret's bodyguards still ping-ponged across the Atlantic.

Swedish newspapers had first serve yesterday. They reported what they called "tough guy" tactics used by three Secret Service agents accompanying the President's daughter on her European tour.

The Swedish newspaper Expressen said the bodyguards flung aside a photographer who tried to snap Miss Truman's picture at Stockholm's Central Station, blocked a theater entrance until her arrival there and kept newsmen and photographers outside Stockholm's Town Hall while she visited it.

Aftonbladet, Sweden's biggest newspaper, called the agents "gorillas." It said they were uncouth and intercepted Swedes who wanted to pass "any place where it pleases Miss Truman to be at a given moment."

The White House bounced back an unequivocal denial. Joseph Short, the President's press secretary, said:

"Our preliminary reports indicate there is not one word of truth in any of the stories alleged to have been published in the Swedish newspapers." He said the investigation was continuing.

The Swedish Foreign Office, meanwhile, had begun its own investigation. Stockholm dispatches said it wanted to know by what right Miss Truman's bodyguard was armed in Sweden, where even the police are traditionally unarmed.

The U. S. Secret Service, also traditionally, arms its agents whenever they are on duty—whether bodyguarding or trailing counterfeitters.

At the White House, after conferring with State and Treasury Department officials (the Secret Service is a branch of Treasury) Short gave this version of the reported incident at the Stockholm Town Hall:

"One photographer approached one of the agents at City Hall and asked if Miss Truman would permit her picture to be taken. She was looking at some exhibitions, and the agent said she preferred not to be photographed at the time."

"The photographer asked if any other photographers were present inside the building and was told there were not."

"That ended the incident. It was just a very calm discussion."

The Swedish Foreign Office backed up Short. It said in a statement that the agent who reportedly stopped a photographer had simply said: "No pictures, please."

U. S. Ambassador Walton Butterworth said virtually the same thing. He cabled the State Department, quoting the special agent in charge of Miss Truman's bodyguard as saying about the City Hall incident:

"There was no discussion, no argument and no weapon was displayed at any time."

State Department Press Officer Michael McDermott told newsmen he was confident Swedish-American relations would not suffer as a result of the reported incident.

There was some comment from Republicans in Congress.

Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa expressed curiosity as to "why Miss Truman should be traveling with bodyguards at government expense on a private trip abroad."

Short emphasized to reporters that the Secret Service is required by law to guard members of the President's immediate family as well as the President himself.

Rep. Albert M. Cole of Kansas said he feared the hubbub could be "quite damaging to our friendship with Sweden."

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett of Utah suggested Communists might have engineered the whole thing.

LOSES PHOTOS OF FAMILY

The Austrian bride of a sergeant stationed at Webb Air Force Base has lost her only remaining mementoes of her family back in Vienna.

When someone took Mrs. Elizabeth Conley's billfold from Nathan's jewelry store, where she works, they took all her family's pictures, along with her social security card, air base passes and other valuable papers.

Mrs. Conley, who has been in this country about nine months with her husband, Sgt. George Conley, doesn't care about the approximately $2 in cash which the billfold contained, but she is very anxious to get back the pictures and papers.

Strange Things Happen Again

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—For the second time in about a year strange and sundry things have been turning up at Mrs. Wilmore Alexander's front door—and back door, too.

First there was an auto salesman, then an auctioneer interested in selling her furniture, then two typewriters and an adding machine were delivered. Next a garage man came to fix a flat that wasn't, and then a new battery, and a load of concrete blocks and a taxicab.

The harried housewife said she couldn't explain it. The stuff came in response to telephone calls she hadn't made, and the pranksters who placed the orders always insisted on "the best."

Last year about this time, she said, her house was flooded with rabbit food, straw, a load of rock and an ambulance on a rush call.

Red China Premier Confers At Kremlin

MOSCOW (AP)—Red China's Premier Chou En-lai conferred at the Kremlin last night with Prime Minister Stalin—making it evident the generalissimo is keeping in closest touch with the current Chinese-Soviet talks here.

Diplomats regarded the visit, at which top aides of both leaders were present, as more than a courtesy call and predicted it would be the first of a series of such talks while Chou is here as the chief of a delegation seeking stronger ties between Russia and China.

It was recalled that Stalin personally steered negotiations leading to the 1950 Soviet-Chinese Treaty, which is the basis today for co-operation between the two big Communist nations.

An official communique after last night's meeting did not reveal how long it lasted or what subjects were covered.

Benjamin Franklin's famed "Join or Die" cartoon, published in the Pennsylvania Gazette in 1754, and showing a snake cut up in parts, each representing one colony, was the first newspaper cartoon.

Presbyterian Group Meets In New Church

Around 15 or 23 prospective members of the new Presbyterian Church being erected on Birdwell Lane across from Howard County Junior College attended the first meeting in the partially-completed structure Tuesday evening.

The walls of the building are now up, and the contractor expects to finish the roof within a few days.

Charles Spivey of Midland, a student at Princeton Theological Seminary, has been here since Aug. 4 assisting with organizational details.

At the meeting Spivey showed a film, "Like A Mighty Army," showing how one small church was started, and appointed a steering committee to work out policies and future plans of the church and a religious education committee to study the Sunday school situation.

On the steering committee are Ralph McKenzie, Leroy Olsak, D. T. Evans and Mrs. C. M. Wozniak.

Comprising the religious education committee are Mrs. Gill Barnett, Mrs. Hal Culp, Leon Moffett, Mrs. Eugene R. Peters, Mrs. Harry W. Banker, Billy Suggs and Mrs. L. B. Edwards.

It is hoped that the building will be completed in time for Sunday School classes to be started by the middle of September. Parents interested in sending their children to the school should contact some Presbyterian in the area so that some estimate may be made of the potential enrollment and the necessary materials ordered, Spivey said.

Sponsored by the Presbyterian Board of Church Extension, the new church will be sponsored by the Board as a home mission church until it becomes financially independent.

A number of members of First Presbyterian Church have contributed to the building fund. Most of those who attended the meeting were members of First Presbyterian who live in the vicinity of the college and expect to unite with the new church.

New Lamps Follow Lines Of Bookcase Headboards

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

Lamps fit more spots in the room than they used to, and there's more reason for putting them there. The popularity of the bookcase headboard, for one thing, brought about a need for a new kind of lamp and so has television, which demands a new plan for room lighting.

F. C. asks what kind of lamp to put on her bookcase headboard. "I still don't really like the modern, fixture kind of lamp," she writes, "but haven't found any other kind made would stay put with safety." Lamp designers have just come up with an answer to your problem.

Mrs. C., by plotting a lamp that follows the lines of the top of the headboard. Here is one in wrought iron with a polystyrene shade that is sturdy and low and gives a long range of light. It's intended for use atop a chest or higher piece of furniture in a room for television, too. Because it can be set where another type of lamp could not go, it helps to balance the lighting of the room as it should be according to the advice of the lighting experts.

NY Hospital Finds Way To Erase Children's Fears

By DR. MARTHA M. ELIOT, Chief, Children's Bureau, Federal Security Agency

A hospital needn't be a terrifying place to children.

The child who first sees a hospital as a place where he can play while he is waiting for the doctor or while his mother is seeing the doctor certainly would not be as likely to approach his first hospital experience on his own as something to be feared.

Some children have their first contact with the smells, sounds and sights of a hospital because they are accompanying their mothers when they go to a clinic, or are attending well-child clinics.

At the Jewish Memorial Hospital in New York City, a way has been found to make the first hospital experience reasonably acceptable for children.

It started when officials found that attendance at prenatal clinics was dropping off sharply. A check of mothers-to-be showed that many of these women were not attending clinics because they had no one with whom to leave their little children during the clinic hours. The women were worried that they were not receiving prenatal care, but had no way of solving the problem of temporary care for their other small children.

Out of this problem, an idea grew. If the mothers had some place where their children could play in the hospital's out-patient department while they attended clinics, they could come for prenatal checkups.

So hospital officials checked with the engineer and the carpenter, who found space for a play corner close to the clinic. The social worker and assistant administrator of the hospital learned what equipment would be needed. This included sturdy, child-size tables and chairs, which were built on the premises. Toys and photographs for the walls were donated. Within a month the play corner was open for business.

Not only did attendance at the prenatal clinics increase, but mothers took to sitting outside the playroom so they could have the fun of watching their own children play with others.

The play corner was such a success with the enthusiastic youngsters that before long, doctors and nurses wanted to join in the fun to help them with their "garages" and "trains."

Soon, not only children waiting for their mothers, but children coming to well-child clinics were crowding into the playroom.

The children got a great deal of enjoyment out of learning to make things under the guidance of an arts and crafts teacher, and much encouragement from the teacher in expressing their own individuality.

Officials at the Jewish Memorial Hospital feel that a hospital should not only be concerned with illness, but with persons as individuals. They feel that this concern is one way of wiping out fear of the hospital, doctors and other hospital personnel.

GOP Solons Cheer Ike's 'Middle Way'

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower's theme of "the middle way" for his presidential campaign drew cheers today from three Republican senators.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota said Eisenhower's campaign kickoff at Boise, Idaho, yesterday set a "sound sense of direction for the coming campaign."

Millions of independent voters and constitutional Democrats will welcome the opportunity to support a candidate pledged to our traditional American concepts," Mundt said.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa called the Eisenhower speech "extremely sound" and added: "He believes that in order to go forward the American people must be freed from the extreme views of the leftwingers on one hand and the so-called complete reactionaries on the other."

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett of Utah said he could support everything that Eisenhower listed as goals for the American people. He added that the address would have a special appeal to Westerners.

"Westerners don't want to federal government to turn us into reservation Indians," Bennett said. "We want Eisenhower's attitude carried out in proposals for reclamation and power developments."

In plunking for "the straight road down the middle, the path of progress" in government, Eisenhower promised to avoid both "reactionary" and "radical" paths.

The GOP presidential nominee said the middle way assumes that all Americans have now accepted and will forever support what we call social gains.

Among these he included such things as adequate old age security, workers' insurance against unemployment, "equal opportunities for everybody" regardless of race, religion or national origin; decent housing and "the rights of each of us to earn what he can and to save it as far as taxes will let him."

"The facile arguments of the leftists are now the doctrine of the party in power—proof that it has been too long in power," Eisenhower said in his prepared text.

Mundt called this an "indictment of the party in power for their studied efforts to push and puff America far to the left of center."

Top Official Is Target Of Investigators

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Justice Department official was reported today to be a prime target of House investigators in hearings starting next Tuesday.

Rep. Chelf (D-Ky), chairman of the special Judiciary Subcommittee investigating the department, declined to identify the official beyond saying he is still in the department.

Most of the top assistants to former Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath have resigned or have been given new duties in a department shake-up instituted by McGrath's successor, James P. McGranery.

The subcommittee is known to have been working on one official "in particular" for some time, and investigators reported they now think they have the "missing link" of evidence they needed.

Chelf gave no indication of the nature of the committee's case, but said there would be some "surprising revelations."

Since taking over the Justice Department helm, McGranery has got along well with the department's critics on Capitol Hill and has won Chelf's praise for his "co-operation" in the ensuing shakeup.

Committee sources say the shuffle is not yet completed, and predict that others in the department will go to complete what Chelf terms "that new look."

One of the latest to go was James A. Mullally, 52, long-time lawyer in the department's Criminal Division, who was suspended late yesterday pending an investigation of his "outside activities."

Mullally recently had been assigned to the division's racket unit, which has been correlating reports from special grand juries assigned to racket investigations around the country.

McGranery declined to elaborate on the reasons for his suspension, but other department officials said it had "nothing to do with cases which he has been handling in the Criminal Division."

Mayor Is Named By Flip Of Coin

CARBONDALE, Pa. (AP) — The flip of a coin has made Thomas F. Moran the acting mayor of this Northeastern Pennsylvania borough.

The Scranton Tribune says: Mayor Walter J. Bryden died recently after seven months in office. His successor under the borough laws is the director of accounts and finance. In this case it was Moran.

Last January, when Moran was to be sworn into office along with Councilman Peter A. Gillette it was a question of which man would assume the accounts and finance post, which a councilman must manage under borough laws.

They decided to flip a coin and Moran won. Gillette is now director of streets and public improvements.

Write-In Boost For Mac Forecast

BALTIMORE (AP) — A determined bid for write-in votes for Gen. Douglas MacArthur may be made in November in Maryland if a group of dissatisfied conservatives have their way.

It all depends, at this point, on whether similar dissident groups in other states will make the same move.

G. I. Whitmer, Baltimore insurance man and a leader in the Maryland movement, said a group of Marylanders, most of whom were part of the defunct Marylanders-for-Taft committee, are dissatisfied with the platforms of both parties and would move on their own.

Korean Farmer Will Never Forget This Interruption

WITH EIGHTH ARMY, Korea (AP) — Somewhere in Korea there is a farmer who never will forget this day.

He was plowing a field when his ox stepped on a mine. The ox was blown to bits. The farmer was scratched in the chest.

Allied troops took him to a nearby evacuation hospital for treatment. A little iodine and some bandage patched him up nicely. To show his appreciation, the farmer offered to help around the hospital tent for a while.

But by and by he got sleepy, lay down on a stretcher inside the tent, and soon was fast asleep. A helicopter landed to pick up a wounded South Korean Marine and fly him to his hospital ship at Inchon.

A sergeant said the wounded Korean was right by the tent door. Medics rushed into the tent, picked up the first stretcher and lashed it to the outside of the helicopter. The "egg-beater" took off for Inchon with its burden — the sleeping farmer.

The farmer awakened high in the air. It was worse than a dream. The helicopter blades whirred crazily overhead. His beloved earth lay several thousand feet below. Only a thin piece of canvas held him aloft.

The farmer yelled and lashed his arms wildly. The pilot waved back reassuringly and flew on toward Inchon. He understood no Korean.

On the ground at Inchon, the farmer made his plight understood — between gasps. The pilot flew him back to the hospital, this time inside the helicopter.

AREA OIL

Plugging Due Hobo Outpost; Shallow Test Nears Pay Zone

Abandonment was due for a southwest outpost to the Hobo field which was bidding as a possible link with the East Velmour pool. Operations were nearing anticipated pay zone in a shallow test east of Vincent.

Considerable oil was recovered in a wildcat northeast of Stanton, but so far it is all load-oil injected during a shut-in period.

Stanford No. 1 Flynn, in northwest Martin, topped the Devonian and is preparing to core.

Borden

Union No. 1 Loggie, C SE SW 3-32-2a, EL&RR, prospector 15 miles northwest of Gall, drilled past 7,885 feet.

Standard No. 6-E-14 Griffin, 467 from the north and 1,980 from the east lines of section 35-25, H&TC, half a mile southwest of Hobo production and 2 1/2 miles east of Velmour, took another (the fourth) drillstem test from 7,145-76 in line with the 'tool open air' at the outset and it increased to a good blow in five minutes. Recovery was 150 feet of salt water-cum-mud and 955 feet of salt water. Operator is plugging to abandon.

Dawson

Sinclair No. 1 Scott, 660 from the south and east lines section 101-M, EL&RR, 10 miles west of Lamesa, continued at 12,506' in Devonian lime.

Standard and Chicago Corp. No. 1-4 Smith, C NE SE 2-H, EL&RR, 14 miles north of Lamesa and a mile north of present Spraberry production in the Smith pool, drilled to 5,512 in lime.

Glasscock

Turner No. 1 Currie, C SW SW 4-32-2a, T&P, 14 miles southeast of Garden City and 4 1/2 miles northeast of Seaboard No. 1 Bishop, a recent discovery in the Wichita-Albany, drilled to 4,653, within about 300 feet of the possible top of this section.

Sinclair No. 1 Had, C SW NW 5-34-2a, T&P, drilled below 8,797 in shale.

Phillips No. 1-C McDowell, C SW NE 31-33-2a, T&P, was at 931, waiting on cement to set. Youngblood

Howard

Crane Oil and Newman Bros. No. 1 Clinton, C NE SE 35-32-3a, T&P, drilled below 5,630 as an east outpost to the Velmour pool.

Cosden No. 1 Jones, C SE NW 5-25, H&TC, two miles east of Vincent, was drilling at 7,255 in shale. This is about 200 to 250 feet above the anticipated top of the reef.

Cosden No. 1 Reed, C NE NE 23-30-in, T&P, drilled to about 4,500 but it had drillpipe stuck at about 1,800 feet again Thursday morning.

Stephens Petroleum No. 1 Simpson, C NE NE 43-31-3a, T&P, drilled to 3,252.

Standard of Texas No. 1 Jones, 200 from the south and 1,850 from the west lines of section 29-20, La-Yaca, two miles east of Vincent, was at 2,896 in lime, taking a drillstem test from 2,876-2,696. This is near the level where Coronet No. 1 Brookhage discovered a 19-gravity producer in the San Angelo lime. A drillstem test had been taken in Standard No. 1 Jones from 2,696-98 with the tool open one hour. The packer failed. Then a test was taken from 2,705-2,200 with the tool open two hours and 25 minutes.

Sparkman Plans For Next Talk

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Ahead of schedule in his vice presidential campaign, Sen. John Sparkman headed today for this humming steel center primed for another economic blast at the Republican convention in the United States now and before the Democrats came to power 29 years ago.

Recalling his own humble background, the vice presidential candidate turned back to the days when the entire nation was in a depression.

"I remember those days, year after year, when farmers, merchants, businessmen, bankers went broke," he continued, "when people everywhere lost their homes, their businesses, their savings."

But a "daring program" under 20 years of Democratic administration has brought unheard of prosperity to the nation instead, the senator declared, "and I know what it has meant to the people."

He confined his kickoff speech to a comparison of economic conditions in the United States now and before the Democrats came to power 29 years ago.

Recalling his own humble background, the vice presidential candidate turned back to the days when the entire nation was in a depression.

GOP

ing Republicans fussed and fumed, a State Senator announced he had a bill proposing a preferential primary law for Texas ready for the next legislature.

Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton said his aim was "to eliminate the evils of the convention system of election delegates to national nominating conventions."

"If ever we have had proof that the convention system allows small political system without too much political cliques to try to rig the regard for public opinion it was this year," Phillips said.

In both Republican and Democratic conventions—at every level—this year in Texas there were rump meetings, walkouts and contests. Both parties sent contesting delegations to their national conventions in Chicago.

"The public is tired of walks and rumps and so-called contests," Phillips said.

The proposed measure calls for Presidential primaries every fourth year on the second Saturday in June preceding the national conventions.

Every political party whose nominee for governor in the last preceding general election received as many as 25,000 votes would be required to name its national convention delegates by popular election in that primary. Delegates would be elected by Congressional districts.

Phillips called for citizens support of his measure.

Meanwhile, Fort Worth Republican Holman said he had been touring the state in an organizational effort with the backing of Marshall H. Kennedy of Fort Worth and Eugene Nolte of San Antonio. Both are members of the Republican State Executive Committee.

But Kennedy said in Fort Worth that Holman's statements were "all his own" and that he knew of no "concerted effort, organization, program or anything else being done about a new party except for 'some talk about it'."

He said Nolte was expected in Fort Worth Thursday (today) to attend the opening of state headquarters for Eisenhower. Holman, in Houston, said the new group does not plan to bolt the State GOP Convention in San Antonio next Tuesday.

But, he maintained, whether they win or lose control of the convention, they definitely would have another party ticket for the general election ballot.

He said a full party organization will be set up on a state-wide basis and conventions are planned for selecting candidates.

Holman charged Porter was controlled by a "few wealthy Democrats."

"There is a terrific cleavage among the Eisenhower forces of Texas," he said. "We feel that Porter sold us out." He said his group definitely was not Old Guard and contained many original Eisenhower supporters.

Lynn

Great Western Production No. 1 Williams progressed to 5,508 in lime.

Phillips

Phillips No. 1-C Schar, section 24 LaSalle CSL, plugged back at 8,320 and pulled tubing and was squeezing.

Plymouth No. 1 Morris, C NW SW 7-35-1a, T&P, pumped 128 barrels of load oil in 2 1/2 hours and was still pumping to test. It has been shut in for several days and is not testing to see if it can be made into a small producer.

Stanford No. 1 Cowden, C SE SW 30-40-in, T&P, swabbed at 9,260 with no gauges.

Stanford No. 1 Flynn, C SW SW 12-248 Hartley CSL, was at 12,378 in Devonian, preparing to core.

Strike Is Called In IH Factories

CHICAGO (AP) — The Independent Farm Equipment-United Electrical Workers Union called a strike last night at 10 International Harvester Co. plants in three states after contract negotiations broke off on a bitter note.

The union called 25,000 workers off the job, declaring, "The company has asked for a fight and is going to get a hell of a licking."

The company in turn accused the union of "irresponsible leadership."

The union had served notice of a walkout if a new contract was not signed when the old one — already extended, 60 days — expired at midnight.

Plants involved in the dispute are at Canton, East Moline, Rock Island, Rock Falls, Ill.; four in the Chicago area, and at Richmond, Ind., and Louisville, Ky. The company manufactures farm equipment.

Picket lines were placed around the Chicago plants, but there was no violence.

The union's demands included a flat 15-cent hourly pay hike, compulsory union membership for employees sharing union-negotiated gains and other benefits.

Boys Who Whipped Girls Are Sought

Police today were still seeking two boys, both about 12 years of age, who were reported to have whipped two eight-year-old girls Wednesday.

The youths hammered the girls against a fence in the 500 block of Main Street and attacked them with switches, officers said. Mrs. Ruth Gibson, 503 Main, reported the incident and all city officers were alerted to be on the lookout for the boys.

Demonstration By Paratroopers Set

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP) — A mass jump of approximately 2,000 paratroopers highlights the activities today as this military base puts some of its armed might on display for 46 military attaches from 37 countries.

Heavy equipment, including bombers and jeeps, were scheduled to be dropped during the aerial display in which paratroopers of the famed 82nd Airborne Division planned to take part.

Key Figures In Soviet Changes

This is one of the few pictures ever to reach the United States showing Georgi Malenkov with Josef Stalin. It was taken from a Russian movie made during the 1945 May Day parade in Moscow. The announcement of the first all-union Communist Party congress to be held in Moscow October 5 is regarded as bringing Malenkov again to the fore, as Stalin's protégé, and his probable successor. ## Shivers Plans Saturday Visit With Stevenson

AUSTIN, Aug. 21 (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers said today he will confer Saturday with Gov. Adlai Stevenson on issues in the Democratic Presidential campaign.

The Texas governor said issues he plans to talk over with Stevenson to get his views include foreign policy, corruption in government, taxation and spending, the federal budget, civil rights and tie-limits.

Stevenson earlier wired Shivers that he was taking a few days' vacation but would be back in Springfield for the conference Saturday, Sunday or Monday. He left choice of a specific day to Shivers.

Shivers plans to leave for Illinois by plane early Saturday from Wichita Falls where he will attend the Oil Bowl football game tomorrow night. He expects to arrive in Springfield about 9 a.m. (CST) Saturday.

Shivers has repeatedly refused to take a personal stand in the presidential campaign until he learns Stevenson's views, particularly on the tie-limits question. He says he will not support a man who does not favor state ownership of the potentially oil-rich tie-limits.

He has also expressed belief that Texas Democrats will be influenced greatly by the stand the Democratic nominee takes on tie-limits.

Until Stevenson's stand on the issue has been made clear, Shivers has said he believes Texas is in "the doubtful column" as to how it will vote in November.

Freighter Crewmen Rescued By British

DOVER, England (AP)—Two British lifeboats hauled the 37 crewmen of the American Liberty ship Western Farmer from the gale-swept English Channel early today after their freighter, rammed by a Norwegian tanker, split in two and sank.

The lifeboats landed Capt. Gunnar Ulvik of Galveston, Tex. and the rest of his crew — some bruised and battered but all safe — at this famous old port of Southeast England and at nearby Ramsgate.

The 11,723-ton tanker Bjorholm, out of Oslo, came through without serious damage. She stood by until the rescue boats picked up the crew of the ill-fated Western Farmer, a 9-year-old veteran of World War II.

The collision occurred shortly after 10 p.m. last night in a wind-driven rain near the Goodwin Sands — the "channel graveyard" eight miles off the Southeast Coast of England.

The tanker's bow, one survivor related, smashed into the freighter.

amidships — "right into the radio room." The crash put the American ship's engines and radio out of action, but emergency signals from the tanker brought rescue craft rushing to the stormy scene.

As searchlights from the rescue ships played over the wallowing wreck, the forward part of the stricken ship broke away and the crew abandoned her, some taking to the ship's boats and others going over the side straight into the rescue craft.

The forward half sank almost immediately, but as we left, the after part was still afloat but sinking slowly," said First Engineer Duccio Santiago of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The two big lifeboats, meanwhile had assembled the survivors. Capt. Ulvik and 23 others in one that brought them to Ramsgate, and the other 13 in a Dover boat.

The Western Farmer, which sailed under the name Henry Lomax during the war, was on her way to Bremen, Germany, with a load of coal from Norfolk, Va. She was owned by the Western Navigation Co. of New York.

The survivors, soaked and covered with grease and oil, were taken to a local seamen's club and given hot drinks, food and dry clothing.

At another point off Britain's East Coast, a small British trawler, the 260-ton Magnolia, blew up and sank in seven seconds. Three of the crew were killed; eight were rescued.

Among 13 men in a lifeboat which landed at Dover was Steve Munroe Fland, third engineer, Texas City, Tex.

SERVICE SET FOR SATURDAY

Southwest Will Pay Respects To Memory Of J. Frank Norris

FORT WORTH, Aug. 21 (U. S. News)—A large portion of the Southwest will pay respects to the memory of the Rev. J. Frank Norris here Saturday at 2 p. m. when his funeral services are conducted in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church.

Texans today recalled the high spots in the long life of Norris who died Wednesday at the age of 74. Death came at a Florida camp meeting for the man who termed himself a fighter for fundamentalism.

The Rev. R. D. Engle of Jacksonville, Fla., a close friend of the Rev. Norris who was with him when he died of a heart attack, will conduct the Saturday services.

The fiery Fort Worth evangelist gave battle on religious, moral or political issues, and in the pulpit, on the courthouse square or on the world scene, he met all comers rough and tumble.

Often the center of controversy and tempest, he killed a man in 1928 and was acquitted on a plea of self-defense. It was a famous Texas court case.

Widely travelled, Rev. Norris came home from his last trip abroad only a few months ago. He championed the Jewish cause in Palestine. For years he spoke out against Russian Communism. His early career was devoted to "stirring up the devil" in Texas. World War II saw him on the world stage, speaking his mind in Great Britain and other countries.

He carried letters from then Secretary of State Cordell Hull and other members of President Roosevelt's Cabinet. During a wartime visit with Prime Minister Winston Churchill at Downing Street, the British war leader asked Norris: "How do you serve as pastor of two great churches 1,300 miles apart?"

"How do you administer the British Empire, scattered all over the world?" Norris countered.

"What do Fundamentalists believe?" Pope Pius XII asked the Texas preacher during a special audience in 1947.

"I believe the supernaturally inspired written word of God," Norris answered.

When the Pope asked Norris and his group, the Texan with the hearty informality of the Southwest, responded: "And may God bless you, too, your Holiness." Norris was accompanied by several of his Fundamentalist Baptist preachers.

In Texas, in his prime years, "J. Frank," as he was called by friend and foe, was one of the most controversial figures of his day. In civic and state politics, on public issues and in denominational disputes in his church he was a man of action. His Fort Worth church covered almost a city block.

From his study there he directed his battles against religious "modernism." His long record of tumultuous campaigns against liquor, his clashes with leaders of the Southern Baptist Convention and fiery zeal in all his works resulted in melodramatic episodes.

His sensational murder trial sprang from a crusade in Fort Worth politics.

D. E. Chipps, a lumberman, protested accusations made from the pulpit against Mayor H. C. Meacham. On July 16, 1928 after words in his church study, Norris whipped a gun from the top drawer of his desk and shot Chipps five times.

Through passing years Norris was quick to demand in errors of statement regarding the Chipps affair. On occasion he would re-enact the shooting in his study. His voice broke and he spoke with "sorrow, but not remorse" when he talked of the Chipps killing, saying: "It was his life or mine."

During the trial he had wept in the witness box and told the jury he prayed no man among them would have to so defend himself in such a tragic moment.

Perjury and arson indictments against Norris grew from a hot liquor fight in Fort Worth as long ago as 1912. Thousands heard his tirades against liquor and local politicians, and one night the great tent where he preached was cut to pieces. Later his church burned.

Norris stood trial on a perjury charge and when the jury acquitted him, followers stood in the courtroom and sang "The Old Time Religion." An arson indictment was dismissed.

As an evangelist Norris' friends ranked him with the great Billy Sunday. His churches in Fort Worth and Detroit were great barn-like structures. In 1947 the total membership rolls of both churches were more than 22,000, said to be the largest membership in the world under one pastorate.

In London a newspaper described Norris as a "fundamentalist who preaches hell fire and brimstone." Another London paper described him as "a man of powerful physique, with craggy features and a picturesque violent vocabulary."

Norris lived to see the passing of

Secret Information Is Held By General

MINEOLA, N. Y. (U. S. News)—Secret code books and "top secret" information on all airfields in Chinese Nationalist territory were reported yesterday to have been found in the home of a dismissed Nationalist general.

The home belonged to Lt. Gen. P. T. Mow, former chief of a Chinese Air Force purchasing commission in Washington. He now is in a Mexico City jail, accused of failing to account for at least 25 million dollars in Nationalist funds.

Nassau County police and Nationalist officials search the home Tuesday on a search warrant obtained by the Nationalists. Dist. Atty. Frank A. Galotta impounded the records.

Ginny Simms Is Hailed Into Court

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (U. S. News)—Ginny Simms' ex-husband says the singer has ignored his demands for custody of their children for the summer vacation.

As a result, Superior Court yesterday ordered Miss Simms to show cause Aug. 29 why she should not be held in contempt of court.

Her former husband, Hyatt H. Dehn, industrial engineer, said that under the terms of their 1951 divorce he was granted summer custody of David, 6, and Conrad, 2.

The first child of a President born in the White House was Esther Cleveland. Her birth took place on Sept. 9, 1892. Seven years earlier her mother had married Grover Cleveland in the famous Blue Room.

International Film Festival Is Opened

VENICE, Italy (U. S. News)—Venice became a temporary movie mecca last night as Italy's 13th International Film Festival opened amidst brilliant klieg lights, shimmering gowns and the flags of 5 nations.

The opening night's movie was the Italian-made "Altri Tempi" (Other Times), produced by Alessandro Blasetti. It is a collection of episodes from the works of authors over the last half-century.

The fortunes of the First Baptist Church have been a part of the history and progress of Fort Worth. The church membership can attest the spiritual influence of an outstanding institution under the able, long leadership of Rev. Mr. Norris.

YANKEES STUMBLE

Easter Propels Warriors Toward American Lead

By RALPH RODEN Associated Press Sports Writer Ever since Luke Easter became a regular infielder for the Cleveland Indians it has been said, "As Easter goes so go the Indians."

Easter

Cleveland, with Easter playing a leading role, swamped the Boston Red Sox, 15-8, yesterday and pulled to within a game of the American League's front-running New York Yankees.

Chicago also came up with a big inning to beat the Yankees. The White Sox scored six runs in the third inning to wipe out a 2-1 deficit and that was more than Saul Rogovin needed to hang up his 11th triumph.

Carl Scheib drove home two runs and scored the winning run in the A's triumph over Detroit. Scheib singled home two runs in the seventh to tie the score at 3-3 and then pranced over the plate on one-bagger by Pete Suder and Ferris Fain.

LITTLE LEAGUE

Yankees Go One Up In Set With Tribe

D. R. Gartman's exploded for nine runs in the fourth inning and went on to beat the Indians, 18-6, in the first game of the Little League championship series at St. Paul Park Wednesday night.

Jimmy Martin led off with a home run but the uprising fell far short. Billy White pitched all but the final inning for the winners and did a fine job of containing the Indians power.

Cook, People's Register Wins

Two games in the YMCA Industrial Fastball League Wednesday night produced 61 runs as Cook's Appliance and People's Investment won from Henderson Plumbing and Webb Air Force Base.

Hugh Cochran, former Big Spring High School grider, has been named a Seventh Grade football coach at Crockett Junior High in Odessa.

The winners scored four in the first frame, one in the second, went scoreless in the third and fourth and came across with 11 in the fifth. Henderson scored their lone tally in the first inning.

Graham Defeats Carmen Basilio

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN CHICAGO (AP)—At the age of 30, and after 113 professional fights, Irish Billy Graham is willing to admit that it's hard work being a boxer.

"I always liked to fight and can remember when I'd rather fight than eat," he said. "But now it's just plain hard work. The only thing that keeps me going is the chance at Gavilan's title."

After polishing off rugged Carmen Basilio, the Upstate New York former union-grower, in 10 rounds at Chicago Stadium last night, Graham wasn't even breathing hard.

"I'm going back to New York and rest for five days then go back to work," he said. "I'll start preparing for Gavilan by doing roadwork at Greenwood Lake (N.Y.) then move my training quarters to Miami about Sept. 10 or 12. I'll go to Cuba 10 days before the fight."

The powerfully built Graham, who, in his Chicago debut, impressed ringiders as the sharpest and cleverest boxer since Ray Robinson, will shoot for Kid Gavilan's welterweight crown in Havana Oct. 4.

Graham, who lost in New York to someone named Joey Giardello two weeks ago, easily took a unanimous decision over the aggressive Basilio in last night's nationally televised bout. He weighed 148 to Basilio's 146½. Only 2,762 fans were at ringside, contributing to a gross gate of $5,313.

Dallas, Tabbies Maintain Pace In Loop Race

By CHARLEY ESKEW Associated Press Sports Writer

Dallas and Fort Worth, first and second in the Texas League, are bound and determined for a last ditch, finish fight over the championship this year.

Both won Wednesday night and extended into the fifth day their matching strides that are a game apart. What's more, the two have been rubbing shoulders with no more than two and a half games difference for over a month.

Dallas Dave Hoskins tossed his best game of the year to get the Eagles by Beaumont, 2-0, the third time the Roughnecks have been shutout in five days. Hoskins' performance was a two-hit job and he drove the first Eagle run in the third with a double.

Getting only four hits, the Cowtown club mustered three of them in the second inning for all of its runs and a 3-2 victory over Shreveport.

In the other games, San Antonio enjoyed a rare 20-hit night in beating Tulsa, 12-2, and Houston snapped Oklahoma City's win streak at four games by a 6-2 margin.

DeMolays Drill For State Meet

Big Spring's DeMolay softball team, winners of the district tournament held here July 25, are currently working out in preparation for the state meet August 28, 29 and 30 in Waco.

Local Big Spring Golfers In Meet

Three Big Spring linksters have rated the championship flight in the first annual Midland Junior Invitational Tournament, which is now underway in that city.

They are Lake Thompson, who qualified with a 76-78-154; Bobby Ruhn, 81-82-163; and Frank Hunt, 85-86-171.

LIKE LAST YEAR?

Jimmy Dyke's Athletics May Be Starting Another Drive

NEW YORK (AP)—It's beginning to look as though Jimmy Dyke's hustling band of Philadelphia Athletics are starting to make another stretch run reminiscent of last year's final quarter push.

With a come-from-behind 4-3 win over the Detroit Tigers last night the Philadelphia Athletics moved into a tie for fifth place with the Chicago White Sox, eight games behind the first-place Yankees.

And to make their threat serious, the A's have as well a balanced squad statistically as there is in the league. Three of their number either lead or are near the top in almost every hitting department.

Ferris Fain, Dyke's swarthy first baseman, is making a substantial bid to retain the league hitting crown he won last year. He is setting the pace with a .341 mark, 14 points ahead of his closest pursuers, Dale Mitchell of Cleveland and the Yankees' Gene Woodling, who are deadlocked in second place with .327. The A's first sacker, whose forte is consistency, went four-for-five last night.

After a slow start Fain rose gradually from the low 200's by virtue of two long hitting streaks, one for 24 games, a league high this year. He also seems to have abandoned the habit of aiming for the fences. The results speak for themselves, as his 140 hits are second best and his 36 doubles are tops in the league.

The long ball department is in the hands of Gus Ferrel, Gus set the pace last season in home runs and runs batted in and is making motions toward the double crown again. He stands third in homers with 22 and third in RBI's with 78.

Last in the trio of Athletics so prominent in American League hitting is the remarkable Eddie Joost. At the present sidelined with a leg injury, the 36-year old shortstop has been in the big leagues for 18 years, and still ranks second in runs with 79 and is just out of the top five in home runs with 19. Be-spectacled Eddie has also knocked in 61 runs, an eye-opening figure for a leadoff man. In this capacity he tops all leadoff men in baseball.

In pitching there's no need to tell anything about Shantz. Every other baseball story this year has been about Bobby Shantz. Just for the record, he is second among A. L. hurlers in percentage with .360. His 21 victories are tops. In strikeouts little Bob is third with 118.

Abilene Loses Pair Of Games

The home-run happy Amarillo Gold Sox spun out a double victory in the West Texas-New Mexico League Wednesday night and netted third place in the standings.

Stan Machinsky homered twice in the first game and one in the night-cay to pace Amarillo. The Gold Sox humbled Abilene, 20-5 and 7-1.

Lubbock held out for a 11-5 victory over Clovis in the opener of their bill but gave in on the comeback 9-8.

Borger stopped Lamesa, 15-2, and Albuquerque edged Pampa, 5-4, in the other games.

Grantham Loses In Hill Duel

ROSWELL, N. M. — Gil Guerra outpitched Elwood Grantham to achieve his 22nd mound success of the season as the Big Spring Broncs nipped the Roswell Rockets, 4-3, here Wednesday night.

The defeat all but eliminated Roswell from any chance at entering the Shaughnessy playoffs, which begin Sept. 8. Artesia defeated Odessa to move eight full games ahead of the Rockets in the battle for fourth place.

Big Spring leads Roswell by 13 full games, with but 21 to play. The Broncs also sliced into Odessa's lead. They now trail the pace-setters by five games.

Buddy Grimes again paced the 14-hit Big Spring attack with four safeties, all of them singles.

The visitors' victory was achieved through a steady 14-hit attack on Grantham, plus the hurrying of their own mound ace. Big Spring hit safely in every inning and had a 4-1 lead over Roswell before a two-run outburst brought the Rockets back into the ball game in the seventh inning.

The seventh stars Rockets tallies were the work of Bill Roemer and Bobby West, who singled in rapid succession after Manager Al Monchak had led off the inning with a single and Audie Malone had received one of four bases on balls given up by Guerra. Roemer's single to right scored Monchak, West's to the opposite field plated Malone.

Roswell's first run came in the opening inning and deadlocked the ball game, 1-1. Bobby Lemme's leadoff double plus Les Palmer's single accounted for the Rocket tally while Big Spring tallied on a single by Witty Quintana and Roswell's only two errors of the game.

The Broncs surged to a 3-1 lead in the third. Quintana opened the stanza with a single to left, went to second on a wild pitch and third on an infield out. Juan Visteur plated Quintana with a single to right, then scored himself when on a ground out after moving around to third on a safety by Buddy Grimes.

Big Spring scored its fourth and final run in the fifth, then held on. Manager Pat Stacy walked to open the inning, went to third on a single by Visteur and scored when Al Costa sliced still another single into left field.

The two clubs play the second game on a three-game series here tonight.

McAlester Holds To First Place
By The Associated Press
Texas City, hopelessly deep in the Gulf Coast League cellar, refuses to take its licks and like it now that the race is about over. The heart-but-not-brake Texans ran their win streak to four over first division clubs Wednesday night. First place Port Arthur, invading the Texans' lair, was the victim this time, 7-6.

Sixth-place Brownsville got 13 strike-out hurling by Andy Sierra and four consecutive doubles on the part of Wall Sessl in beating Harglingen 9-2.

Lake Charles rapped 20-game winner Roy Contreras for 15 hits and beat Galveston 8-5.

Caddie Medalist

Fred Lawson, 17, Tulsa, Okla., mops off with a towel after he proves to be the hottest golfer in the opening rounds of the PGA-National Caddie Tournament being played at Columbus, Ohio. Lawson said he sprayed through the trees most of the day, but still turned in cards of 71-77-148. His prize is a $300 one-year college scholarship. (AP Wirephoto).

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Now that the bitterness of the principals involved has been sweetened by the vicissitudes of time, the pillar will try to unveil the mystery that surrounded an eighth inning play which occurred in the first game of the San Angelo-Big Spring set here last week.

Big Spring, ahead at the moment, was threatening to go further out in front after loading the sacks. With two away, Catcher Al Valdes stepped to the plate.

The runner at third, Witty Quintana, elected to try and steal home at that time. Valdes didn't know it and didn't offer at the pitch as it rode in. In his eagerness to arrest the speeding Quintana, Catcher Ronald Dacko of Angelo, says Valdes' charged and ran into Valdes' bat in such a way that it propelled the pitch out onto the diamond, where it was taken by J. E. May, the pitcher, for an easy out.

Valdes protested interference, insisting he should have been given first base. Umpire Orville Eckstine insisted he did not see it that way and had no alternative but to call Valdes out.

Fortunately, Big Spring didn't need the run. The Broncs prevailed, 3-2. It's just as well. The parties involved would probably have been arguing until midnight.

Clarence Grantham, who will pitch for the Old-Timers if that one-inning game between the Graybeards and the Broncs shapes up, says he played his best ball for Amerillo after leaving here in 1940.

Tranham was used as a relief pitcher that year and saved many a ball game for the Gold Sox.

Sacramento of the Class AAA Pacific Coast League, drew only 5,048 paying customers to a recent seven-game series. That averages out to better 721 a game. Several of the Longhorn League clubs have been faring better at the gate.

FARQUHAR TO PLAY FOOTBALL AT ARLINGTON
Ronald Farquhar, who is carrying 20 more pounds than he did last fall, will try and make the Arlington State College grid team this fall.

Ron, who played end for Big Spring High School, is up to 185 pounds now and is hard as nails. He's been working as a roughneck this summer.

Jumbo Joe Stydahar, the Los Angeles Rams' coach, says he wouldn't trade Jim Winkler for any tackle in the National Football League.

Winkler, as most every one knows, played college ball at Texas A & M.

POP WARNER ALMOST WENT TO MINNESOTA
Pop Warner, the great football mentor who gained fame as Jim Thorpe's coach at Carlisle, almost went to Minnesota University as coach instead of the Indian school.

Texas Favored By Magazine

The University of Texas Steers will be the best team in the Southwest this fall, and should drop only two games, to Notre Dame and Oklahoma, Francis Wallace predicts in this week's Collier's.

Collier's associate editor believes that Texas will pull away from the park and land in the Cotton Bowl, with Georgia Tech winner of that classic.

At the same time, Wallace turns to Baylor for his sole choice from Texas for Collier's pre-season All-America eleven. Wallace selects Bill Athey, Baylor guard.

The team lines up with Dekker of Michigan State and McPhee of Princeton, ends; Evans of Penn and Modzelewski, Maryland, tackles; Athey and Michels of Tennessee, guards; Catlin, center; and a backfield comprised of Lettner, Notre Dame; Oleszewski, California; Scarbath, Maryland; and Vessels, Oklahoma.

The University of Maryland is chosen as the top team in the nation. Among the top 20 teams, Wallace rates Oklahoma fifth and Texas 18th.

Here's the way Wallace figures teams in the Southwest will finish the season in the win-lost column: Texas, 8-3; Rice, 7-3; TCU, 7-3; SMU, 6-4; Arkansas 6-4; Baylor, 5-5; W. Texas State, 5-4; TAMU, 5-5; Texas Tech, 5-3; Temple, 6-3; McMurry, 6-4; Hardin-Simmons, 6-3; and Arizona, 6-4.

Cherry Beats Stranahan Ward Loses To Littler

By BOB MYERS
SEATTLE (AP)—Sixteen survivors of play, headed by former Champion Charlie Coe and such strong challengers as Walker Cup player Jimmy McHale, sailor Gene Littler and cruiser Don Cherry, head into another double round of match play today in the Men's National Amateur Golf Championship.

Coe, the 1940 champion, and McHale are familiar names in the national classic.

Stranahan, twice British champion, has never won the American crown.

Saving Regular Hurlers Hurt Yankee Drive

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Win today's game today and worry about tomorrow's game tomorrow.

That's an old baseball saying in which Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees apparently doesn't concur.

At the least it looks that way with the pilot of the world champions holding out his two ace pitchers — Allie Reynolds and Vic Raschi—for the two-game series against the red-hot Cleveland Indians opening in Yankee Stadium tomorrow.

"Old Case," obviously concerned with Al Lopez's sluggers breathing down his neck, twice had led with second-string hurlers against the second-division Chicago White Sox.

And twice he has seen his proud Yanks go down to defeat. As a result today they hold only a one-game margin over the Indians and that's in the win column. They're all square on the losing side—50 games each.

That's the shortest lead held by the champions since June 14, when they paced Cleveland by a half-length.

Stengel, however, will try again today to whip the Pale Hose with a second-string pitcher. He has nominated rookie Tom Gorman, a righthander with a 4 and 1 record. Should Gorman fall and the Indians again beat the Boston Red Sox, the standings tonight would show Cleveland leading by one percentage point.

Present plans call for Reynolds to hurl tomorrow's game against the Indians with Raschi getting Saturday's assignment.

Either one or both were ready to pitch against Chicago but Casey chose to gamble with Johnny Schmitz Tuesday night and lost.

Then yesterday the Yankees manager tried to slip his bullpen brigade past the White Sox. Johnny Sain took a quick whipping as he was belted for six runs in the third.

Clue To Russia's Next Premier May Come From Party Congress

By JOHN A. SCALI
WASHINGTON (AP)—A solid clue pointing to Russia's next ruler may emerge from the full dress meeting of the Communist party congress in Moscow Oct. 5.

And American diplomats will not be surprised if tough, 50-year-old Georgi Malenkov steps up as Josef Stalin's personal choice as next Russian Prime Minister.

In fact, some suspect Stalin's aim in staging the whole affair may be to give a formal, open hint as to who the next boss should be. This may be Stalin's way, they believe, of lessening the possibility of a bloody struggle for power within the Communist high command after he dies.

Until they have more time to analyze Moscow's announcement of the calling of the first Communist congress since 1929, American diplomats say their view is a theory rather than a considered opinion.

But here is what they think: Stalin's heir apparent will be the man who is chosen to be chairman of the new Presidium, to be organized at the meeting to replace the Politburo.

The 12-man Politburo, now the top governing body, has no chairman or chief executive. But a Presidium under the Russian setup generally does have one.

Anyone picked for this job would automatically be proclaimed publicly as the most important Communist in Russia next to Stalin.

It is entirely possible that Stalin himself will be designated chair of the new Presidium. But, if so, why for the first time since 1925 is he not to give the main address to the congress, the report of the Central Committee?

This is a sort of state of the union speech summing up Communist stewardship of the Soviet Union since the last congress met. In this case it will cover a 13-year period and will be especially important.

Malenkov, a Communist party wheel who worked his way up from the ranks like Stalin, is now scheduled to give this report, the most important thing on the agenda.

Furthermore, neither Marshal Beria, head of the Soviet secret police and Deputy Prime Minister Malenkov's main rival, nor Deputy Premier Y. M. Molotov, is scheduled at this time to play any prominent role in the congress session. This may be a clue that Molotov is being pushed into the background, since he read the new five-year plan at each of the two previous congress meetings, in 1934 and 1939.

Molotov is 63 and his age has been considered a factor against him in speculation on Stalin's successor.

American officials know little about Malenkov except that several years ago he launched a determined campaign to make sure the floors of all Soviet factories were kept clean.

He also was a key figure in setting up the Cominform, the guiding Soviet policy bureau for Russia's Eastern Europe satellites. At present, he is a member of the Central Committee Secretariat under Stalin.

Storm Sweeps Fair Grounds

SEDALIA, Mo., Aug. 21 (AP)—A wind and rainstorm swept the Missouri State Fair grounds today killing one person, injuring 12 and causing extensive damage.

The high winds destroyed feris wheels and other carnival rides and wrecked buildings. The storm came during the early morning hours when the fair was not in operation.

Storms also caused damage in other parts of the state. At Clarence, in Northeast Missouri, a dozen houses were damaged and carnival tents, put up for a town celebration, blown down. A severe thunderstorm also hit St. Louis. The storm stopped a performance at the outdoor municipal opera and blew down some stage scenery.

Just across the Missouri border, in Kansas City, Kan., wind and rain delayed the landing of a plane carrying Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and his party.

The plane finally landed after circling the area for an hour and 20 minutes. The Republican presidential nominee showed no concern during the waiting period. He came to Kansas City from Boise, Idaho, for a conference with midwest Republican leaders.

There was no official estimate of damage at the Missouri Star Fair, but officials indicated it might exceed $500,000.

The dead man was identified as Harry Pyle, Kalamazoo, Mich., a concessionaire in the carnival.

Painters Ignore Volunteer Model
BELMONT, Calif. (AP)—Two Belmont ladies, both amateur artists, were quietly painting a clump of trees yesterday when an ancient car pulled up and a man popped out.

He quickly stripped to the raw and struck a model's pose in front of their easels. "We did our best to ignore him," the two women later told police.

They continued to paint. He continued to mug. The women—strictly landscape painters—packed up and left.

Lanzo Is Suspended By Movie Company
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Singer Mario Lanzo has been suspended indefinitely by MGM for "failure to report for the start of production on 'The Student Prince'."

Lanzo could not be reached for comment. There was no indication why he failed to report.

Mexico Cattle To Move Soon

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 21 (AP)—Mexican cattle will start moving northward across the Rio Grande on Sept. 1 for the first time in six years.

But the Mexican government still has not decided how fast the flow will be. Government export plans are in the hands of President Aleman and will not be made public until he approves them.

During the war, Mexico exported about 400,000 cattle a year to the U. S. Then the foot-and-mouth disease came along in 1948 and the border was ordered closed. Now that the plague has been stamped out the border will be reopened Sept. 1.

Mexico's problem is to make sure that enough cattle remain in the country to feed her own people and to keep 18 packing plants running. The plants were built after the closing of the border to shipped canned or frozen beef.

At the same time Mexico wants to export as many live cattle as possible to bring in the dollar. U. S. Department of Agriculture officials have estimated that Mexico could ship the same 400,000 head as during the war without upsetting her home markets.

On the other hand the National Stockmen's Association estimated yesterday that it could ship 500,000 cattle without difficulty. The association, due to end its convention earlier this month, is staying in session to be ready to protest the quotas if they are not high enough.

Earlier some cattlemen predicted that transportation problems would limit U. S. shipments to the best cattle, leaving older cows and less desirable animals for the packing houses here. They said no quotas would be necessary.

Louisiana Demos Assure Full Billing For Nominees

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Louisiana Democratic leaders pledged to Gov. Adlai Stevenson the party's 10-electors of the rooster emblem but withheld endorsement.

The 100-member Democratic State Central Committee whipped up a 77-9 vote yesterday to assure the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket full billing on the ballot.

It was a victory for Stevenson and Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, the national party nominees, although members said they were not necessarily endorsing them and certainly were not endorsing the party platform.

A top party platform leader who asked not to be identified said the action gave the nominees "a seat in the balcony instead of the front row of the party."

Members snuffed out a "split ticket" move by 58-32 vote.

Committee Vice Chairman W. J. Erikson of New Orleans termed the final decision a big Stevenson victory because "it pledges our electors the ticket."

In the past, the committee usually has not pledged its electors.

Two electors, W. Scott Wilkinson and Grove Stafford, promptly resigned after blasting the national party. They will be replaced by action of congressional district committees.

Gov. Robert Kennon, strong anti-Trumanite who refuses to discuss Stevenson or Sparkman, said he was not surprised at the committee's action.

"Members made it easy for the people of the state as a whole to see the difference between the national Democratic platform and the ideals of our Louisiana party," Kennon said.

"With that information, and with the action of the committee before them, Louisiana voters can make a clear-cut choice between the two parties."

Claims Ordered Paid In Crash Of Buses

WACO, Aug. 21 (AP)—Personal property claims totaling $800 for two Fort Hood soldiers were ordered paid yesterday. The claims resulted from the two-bus collision near here Aug. 4 in which 23 persons died.

Judge D. Y. McDaniel, in 70th District Court, ordered Southwestern Greyhound Lines, operators of both vehicles, to pay $350 to George H. Taylor and $450 to William Vilkus. Neither of the men were injured seriously and the claims represented damaged or lost property.

Insurance Agent Makes Timely Sale

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—George Betzold sold a Roanoke man a family liability insurance policy last week. And Betzold filed a claim under the policy yesterday.

The sales talk clincher by Betzold was that the unidentified client's big police dog might hurt somebody.

The dog did — he bit Betzold.

Strongest Foe Of Rearing Germany Dies

BONN, Germany (AP)—The strongest foe of West German rearmament and alignment with the West, Socialist chief Dr. Kurt Schumacher, died here last night. He was 58.

The fervent leader — second only to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer as a political force in postwar Germany — succumbed to a blood circulation ailment. A cripple with only one arm and one leg, he had been falling ever since his health was ruined in Nazi concentration camps.

Quiet, soft-spoken Socialist Party Vice Chairman Erich Ollenhauer is slated to inherit Schumacher's party leadership. Ollenhauer is expected, however, to keep pushing the Socialists on the same nationalistic course opposed to communism on the one hand and European federalism and common defense on the other.

Dr. Schumacher studied law and the labor movement and entered politics as editor of a provincial Socialist Democratic paper. His life was a stubborn battle against chronic ill health and political enemies.

He lost an arm fighting in World War I. The Nazis threw him into a concentration camp in 1933. Ten years of brutalities and poor food permanently weakened his stomach.

Amputation of a leg after he was stricken with thrombosis in 1947 failed to dampen his fervor or will to fight. He kept battling, opposing almost every phase of Allied policy toward the federal republic and trying to halt the Adenauer government's steps toward European federation and defense.

Exhaust Ignites On Ike's Plane

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Exhaust gases from one of the engines on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chartered plane burst into flame when the engine was being started at the Cheyenne Airport tonight. It was described by a United Airlines official as "a normal occurrence, not a bit uncommon."

Carl Hempel, UAL station manager at Cheyenne, said, "There absolutely was no engine fire. The gases in the exhaust bled and the starting crew squirted some chemicals to put out the flames. They do that quite often."

Eisenhower's plane stopped at the Cheyenne Airport to permit Wyoming Gov. Frank Barrett to leave the plane. He had accompanied Eisenhower to Boise. The Eisenhower plane proceeded on schedule to Kansas City, Hempel said.

American Mercury Magazine Is Sold

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Mercury magazine has been sold to a group headed by Russell Maguire of Greenwich, Conn.

The sale was announced yesterday by William Bradford Huie, owner and editor of the publication for the past 18 months.

Huie, who will remain as editor, said the magazine has an average circulation of 80,000. The purchase price was not announced.

X-RAYS MIGHT HAVE HELPED Tuberculosis Listed As Big Killer Here In Recent Years

If chest X-ray surveys, such as the one being conducted in Big Spring at present, had been held 10 or 15 years ago a number of recent deaths—due to tuberculosis—might have been prevented.

Records at the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit show that 40 local residents have died of tuberculosis in the past five years.

In 18 of the 40 cases, diagnosis of the tuberculosis infection was not made until the patient was on the verge of death. In other words, victims of the disease didn't know they suffered from tuberculosis until it had advanced to the "incurable" stage.

If the chest X-ray service had been made available a decade or so ago—and if all the tubercular persons had reported for the free examinations—diagnosis of the 18 cases of tuberculosis might have been completed in time for medical treatment that would have meant a cure.

Also, some of the other 22 persons who have since died of the disease might have learned of their condition in time for the same life-saving treatment.

Farm Wife In Minnesota Hopes Ike Likes Chicken

By GEORGE MOSES
KASSON - DODGE CENTER, Minn. (AP)—Mrs. Henry Snow hopes Gen. Eisenhower will like her chicken dinner. But the friendly farmwife isn't likely to have an attack of nerves over the prospect of entertaining the Republican candidate for President during the National Plowing Contest Sept. 6.

"I don't know what they expect," said Mrs. Snow as she treated a group of visitors—among the first of many—to apples from the Snow orchard.

"I'm just going to fix a dinner like I do for the menfolk. And I hope they like it."

The Snow farm in South-Central Minnesota is a neat and pleasant layout, but no gentleman farmer's showplace. It felt the glare of national publicity suddenly this week when Eisenhower accepted an invitation to address the plowing contest. Upwards of 100,000 visitors are expected both for the contest and to hear the GOP candidate make his first major farm address of the campaign.

Local sponsors of the affair—as earnest as they are unruffled—want the outside world to get a few points straight.

In the first place, it's not just a plowing contest. The main billing is "National Soil Conservation Day," and farmers are more concerned with soil conservation than in who plows the straightest furrow fastest.

Second, there's a good deal of local and understandable concern about which of the three tiny towns almost equidistant from the Snow farm gets its name into the national headlines.

If the show is described by outsiders as "near Kasson," the folks in Dodge Center and Mantorville aren't going to like it. And vice versa.

The three towns together don't total 3,000 persons, and this point they're sure of: You won't be able to see the towns for the visitors on the big week end.

Is the Eisenhower visit going to influence any votes in the Snow family?

Henry Snow, a tanned and wiry dirt farmer, every bit as calm as his wife, says with a laugh: "Just say we're independents."

Buildings Planned

DALLAS, Aug. 21 (AP)—Two $50,000 Baptist Student Center buildings will be built this fall near the campuses of Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos and West Texas State College at Canyon, the Baptist General Convention said yesterday.

Living Room Has New Jungle Motif

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Mrs. Jo Farmer's living room had a jungle motif she didn't plan on when she returned home yesterday from a month on Cape Cod.

The huge kudzu vine which almost covers her home found its way through a slit near a window and grew into the living room.

She found long tentacles entwining picture frames, the piano and other pieces of furniture.

When she planted the vine 25 years ago she was told it would grow a foot a day.

Father Has Attack When Child Drowns

NEW YORK (AP)—A 9-year-old boy drowned in Brooklyn's Gowanus Canal yesterday, and his father died of a heart attack rushing to the rescue.

The victims were John J. Cassidy, 50, and his son Robert.

The youngster had been playing along the canal bank when he fell in.

The first newspaper advertisement in America appeared in May, 1704, in the Boston News-Letter, and offered for sale or rent a "very good Fulling Mill" in Oyster Bay on Long Island.

Portions Of Lake Dried By Drought

One part of Phantom Lake, near Abilene, Tex., gives this appearance after a prolonged drought in the area caused water levels to drop. Stranded in this section of the lake are the floating boat house at left center and the rowboat at left. A boat dock at center gives an idea of the height of the former water level. Other portions of the lake, however, are said to contain a two-year supply of water. The State Board of Water Engineers reports that water levels of lakes, reservoirs, and wells vary in several areas of Texas. The board said the only real precipitation during the month of July came from light, scattered thundershowers. (AP Photo).

DOORS OPENING SOON

Many School Rooms In Texas Are Still Sadly Overcrowded

By BO BYERS
AUSTIN, August 21 (AP)—"Back-to-school" time is almost here, and Texas public schools will be opening their doors to approximately 1,400,000 children in the next few weeks.

Opening the school doors will also open state and local treasuries to the tune of an estimated 400 million dollars during the coming school year.

Even with that large an expenditure for educating its youth, Texas will see thousands of youngsters going to school on a half-day basis because of inadequate classroom space.

And many of the students—particularly in elementary classes—will be taught by teachers who do not fully meet accreditation requirements of the State Education Office. The reason for this is that the supply of teachers still is not filling the demand.

In fact, the teacher shortage appears to be growing more critical, according to Executive Secretary Charles Tenyson of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Tenyson's opinion is backed by a report from State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar that "superintendents are having more difficulty than at any time since World War II in filling their staffs."

Edgar revealed that this year marks "the first time we've had a significant shortage in high school teachers of academic courses such as English and sciences." Superintendents are also busy looking for school nurses, band directors, and coaches.

Does this shortage of teachers and crowding of classrooms mean Texas school children are not getting a good education?

Absolutely not, said Edgar. "They are getting a better education than you or I got," he said emphatically. "And they have many more opportunities for learning outside the schools. I'm satisfied with the way my three girls are being taught in high school, junior and elementary school."

The opening date for public schools is strictly a matter of local school board decision, but Edgar anticipated most schools will start Sept. 2 or Sept. 8.

"The only thing the state office is interested in is that they comply with the law requiring 175 days of actual instructional work within one year. They can start when they want to, give holidays when they want to, just so they get in 175 days," he explained.

A school day is defined as a day of at least seven hours, including recesses, with at least two hours of instructional work in the morning and two in the afternoon.

Incidentally, if you are kicking about not being able to put your child in school because he is under 6 on Sept. 1, don't blame state law entirely.

The law does not prohibit children under 6 going to school but

Red Party Loses Influence Fast

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—The Australian government claims membership of the Australian Communist Party today is about half what it was in 1949. In 1949 Communist Party membership was believed to be about 12,000.

Labor Minister Harold Holt says the Liberal-Country Party government had made a well-learned penetration of Communist ranks since it gained power in 1949.

Communists have lost control of some trade unions since the government introduced secret ballots, supervised by Arbitration Court, for positions as union executives.

Swiss Suspend TV Experiment

BASEL, Switzerland (AP)—Experimental television programs in Basel have been suspended because of a "lack of public interest," the Swiss Broadcasting Corp. announced.

The Basel cantonal government last year authorized the establishment of an experimental television station with public funds, but this decision was subsequently reversed by a cantonal referendum. The station was nevertheless set up, with private financial support, and for two months this summer it broadcast two-hour programs three times a week.

Television sets were put up in various parts of the canton where the public could view the experimental programs free of charge.

King Copyrights Seven Compositions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven new unpublished musical compositions of the King of Siam (Thailand) were recently brought by an emissary to the U.S. Copyright Office for copyright registration.

One of the compositions is entitled "March of the Royal Bodyguard; another is "Life's Destiny—Elegy."

UNEMPLOYMENT

Italy's Economic Story Being Told

By ALBURN WEST

ROME (AP)—Young men who never had a pay day and jobless fathers with hungry babies are telling the sad story of Italy's economic ailment—unemployment—in the first parliamentary investigation of its kind in this country.

Alongside the sad stories of the jobless is tragic testimony of their incapacity for jobs crying to be filled.

Rome and its province have 47,326 unemployed today. Yet building contractors need and can't find 2,000 carpenters and bricklayers.

Three deputies—two men and a woman—flanked by a battery of stenographers and experts are drawing the often pitiful stories of the perennial jobless from young men who have never had a job and older workers who hardly remember their last regular paycheck.

The lawmakers are Iginio Giordano, 58, a journalist who worked with Premier Alcide de Gasperi in the safety of the Vatican Library in the last years of Mussolini; Maria Federici Agamben, 53, a school teacher, and Oreste Lizzardi, 58, a pro-Communist Socialist. Giordano and Federici are members of De Gasperi's majority Christian Democrat party. Lizzardi is the minority member of the Committee.

Almost all the jobless get government unemployment payments, but these fall far short of providing food and lodging for a family.

Manual workers get about 64 cents per day and trained or white collar workers get 83 cents. (Today in Rome an average meal in a low-priced restaurant costs about $1. A pound of meat costs the same.)

Thousands of unemployed throughout Italy depend on their wells in supplement their subsidy to feed their families.

How they do this is one of the big stumbling blocks of the committee. Workers young and old are reluctant to tell about what one Italian reporter described as their "secret acrobatics" in living without a pay check.

At a committee hearing, Lizzardi, the Socialist, explains the purpose of the inquiry and urges that frankness is desired.

Fishing Barge Gets Face-Lifting

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—A former fish barge has had a recent face-lifting—it's now half a pirate ship.

The barge was remodeled by Vin Taylor, set dresser, and D. Steele, lighting technician, for use in marine films.

Fishermen who have delivered catches of albacore to the barge wouldn't recognize the vessel, Taylor said. Its freezer house is now a replica of a ship's bridge, complete with wheel, mast, shrouds and ratlines.

SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY

Mrs. C. E. Chaffin takes time out from her household chores for a chat with her four children in their combination living room-kitchen of their house trailer.

True Southerner Is Mrs. C. E. Chaffin

A Southerner who never left the South even after marrying an Army man is a good description of Mrs. C. E. Chaffin.

M-Sgt. and Mrs. Chaffin and their four children, Curtis Edward Jr., 8, Alice Jane, 6, David Lynn, 2, and Ken, 11 months, came here last November from House Air Force Base near Lubbock.

During the couple's ten years of married life, Mrs. Chaffin has lived in most of the Southern states, but somehow she has never been east of the Mason-Dixon line.

She is a native of Johnson City, Tenn., and her husband's home is Magnolia, Ark.

After fighting a losing battle with high rent, the family bought a two-bedroom house trailer in January and moved into Webb Air Force Base, where Sgt. Chaffin is assistant sergeant major.

Mrs. Chaffin had rather cook than keep house, even in a compact trailer.

"If one thing gets out of place as it's bound to do with four children, the whole house looks dirty," commented the blonde mother.

The Chaffins are members of the First Christian Church and she is president of the NCO Wives' Club.

The entire family is blessed with good appetites and when Mrs. Chaffin wants to satisfy them without much effort she prepares spaghetti and meatballs.

SPAGHETTI AND MEATBALLS

Ingredients:
2 packages spaghetti
1/2 bell pepper (chopped)
1 large onion (chopped)
Garlic to taste
6 crackers (crushed)
2 pounds hamburger meat
1 cup catsup
2 cups water
Worcestershire sauce
Dash of barbecue sauce

Method:

Prepare spaghetti according to directions on the package. Combine pepper, onion, garlic, crackers and meat. Shape into balls and cook in cooking oil until brown. Add to cooked spaghetti. Combine catsup, water, Worcestershire and barbecue sauces and heat. Pour over spaghetti and meatballs or serve separately.

If you have an electric food mixer in your kitchen, be sure to lubricate it regularly according to the manufacturer's directions. Never overload a food mixer by trying to mix too large a quantity or too stiff a mixture for its capacity.

Just A Little Meat Can Be Made Satisfying, Elegant

Trying to budget the food dollar these days is no easy task—especially if yours is a family that expects meat every night for dinner. But there's more than one way to pinch a penny, and just a little meat can be made really satisfying and indeed quite elegant.

Potato, Beet Salad

2 cups diced cooked potatoes
1 cup diced cooked beets
3-3 cup French dressing
2 small cucumbers
1 cup diced celery
4 hard cooked eggs, sliced
1/2 cup salad dressing
1/2 tsp. salt
Lettuce for bowl

Mash the potatoes and beets in the French dressing and let stand in refrigerator 2 hours. Pare 1 cucumber and dice it. Slice the other one unpared. Place them both in ice water in refrigerator until ready to serve, then drain. Also drain beet mixture. Combine by tossing lightly with two forks, the beet and cucumber mixture, the celery and eggs, then mix with the salad dressing. Serve from the bowl, lined with crisp lettuce. May save some of the sliced cucumbers for garnish if desired.

Take a simple rice and chopped meat combination, for example. Dress it up a little and you have Spanish Rice with Meat Balls. Use the new and popular quick-cooking pre-packaged rice, give it color and flavor with green pepper, onion and canned tomatoes and top it with meat balls. Serve in individual gay pottery baking dishes, toss a tangy, crisp green salad in a big wooden salad bowl,—you have a meal that sounds good, looks good and tastes good, too!

SPANISH RICE WITH MEAT BALLS

4 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup minced onion
1-2 lb. ground beef
1 1-3 cups packaged pre-cooked rice
2 teaspoons salt
Few grains pepper

Beans, Sour Cream

1 cup mushrooms
2 tablespoons fat
4 cups cooked green beans
1 cup sour cream
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Brown mushrooms in fat, add beans, cream, salt and pepper. Heat thoroughly.

Good 'n Fresh

Fresh Fruit Salad Makes Cool Eating

The hot to cook? Then a fruit salad luncheon is the answer to the cook's menu problems. Not only do fresh fruit salads provide a spark for jaded appetites, but their popular ingredients, easily available, are a boon for the calorie-counter, too.

Salad making may be an art, but it certainly is an art that should be mastered by all smart summer cooks. If they're entertaining on a hot summer day, they might try a tempting platter of fresh fruits and let each person help himself. Served at a bridge luncheon or a patio dinner, such an arrangement is guaranteed to bring lots of compliments and can be made by even the most amateur salad maker.

Sliced Peaches

A fresh California orange, supplemented by thin sandwiches and other fruit, form the center of this appealing luncheon. In order to make the salad plate, start with a specimen that's juicy and sweet and carefully peel the orange. Then stand it on end and cut across three times, being careful to leave enough uncut so the orange will hold together.

Place the orange on a bed of romaine and fill the center with cottage cheese. Arrange sliced strawberries around the edge. In one corner of the plate, put slices of bananas, and berries in still another spot. Add several small cheese-filled sandwiches, and you'll have a satisfying, yet refreshing luncheon plate.

Play Time Salad

A novel and quick-as-a-wink salad with lots of appetite and eye appeal employs an unusual way of cutting and serving oranges. To add to its virtues, the salad can do double duty, either as a dinner plate, or as a dessert. The salad looks and tastes good with strawberry slices and shredded coconut. The process may seem complicated, but it's really as simple as can be. Peel one thin-skinned orange for each serving. Then cut across the orange four or five times as though you were going to make cartwheel shaped slices, but do not cut all the way through. Leave enough uncut so that the orange will hold together on the plate.

Place the orange on a bed of romaine and insert a slice of strawberry between each cut in the orange. Sprinkle coconut on top, and you'll have a salad that looks involved, yet takes only a short time to prepare.

"Peachy" Peaches

The peach season is short, but while they are on the market, the cook will want to serve them often. She can serve them for breakfast with cereal, or for lunch or supper freshly sliced with sugar and cream, or with one of the following sauces.

Both sauces will serve to make the peaches go further as well as add to the attractiveness of the dessert. What's more, they're simple to make because they're made from versatile prepared pudding mix. Just add a favorite flavoring and use a little more milk than you would for pudding, and you will have a smooth dessert sauce in a very few minutes.

Almond Sauce

Combine 1 package prepared vanilla pudding and pie filling mix and 3 cups milk in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Add 1/2 teaspoon almond extract and stir to blend. Cool, covered, or stir occasionally while cooling. Chill in desired. Before serving, stir in 1/2 cup slivered, toasted almonds. The recipe makes about 3 cups sauce, or 3 to 4 servings.

Lemon Sauce

1 package prepared vanilla pudding and pie filling
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
Dash of salt
3 cups milk
Combine all ingredients in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Cool, covered, or stir occasionally while cooling. Chill if desired. Serve on plain cake, pudding, or lime sherbet. The recipe makes 2 1/2 cups sauce, or 3 to 4 servings.

BANANA GRAPEFRUIT WHIRL SALAD

... peach or orange sections may be used in place of grapefruit

Suggested dessert accompaniment are rolled maple lace wafers, Maple Lace Wafers
1/2 cup maple-blended syrup
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
Combine syrup and butter in saucepan. Place over high heat, bring to a boil, and boil hard 1/2 minute. Remove from heat. Sift flour and salt together. Add dry ingredients to hot liquid all at once, blending thoroughly. Drop from teaspoon on greased baking sheet about 3 inches apart. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 5 to 9 minutes.

Remove from oven and allow to cool about 1 minute. Then remove each wafer and quickly roll up in tube shape. Place on rack to cool. If wafers harden before they can be rolled, return to oven for a few seconds. Store in airtight container. The recipe makes 3 dozen.

For spicy lace wafers, use above recipe, adding 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, and 1/2 teaspoon cloves to the flour before sifting with salt.

As easy as peeling a banana, and what could be easier, is banana grapefruit whirl salad. Made summer-simple with fresh bananas and fresh or canned grapefruit sections, this pretty luncheon or supper salad is quick and easy, yet has excellent food values.

Bananas blend with many summer fruits, as well as with the canned and frozen variety. The cook will find them a summer salad asset that lends beauty as well as flavor.

Banana Grapefruit Whirl

1 ripe banana
Salad greens
12 grapefruit sections, fresh or canned (about 1 grapefruit)

Peel banana and cut lengthwise into halves. Place one half, cut side up, in center of each of 2 salad plates. Arrange 3 grapefruit sections in fan shape, around each side of the banana. Serve with a sweet or tart dressing. The recipe makes 2 individual servings.

Sliced peaches, pears, apples or orange sections may be used in place of the grapefruit. Sprinkle with shredded coconut, if desired. Fresh, frozen or canned fruit may be used.

Dessert Double

A "sunshine-in-a-bowl" fruit salad can be served as a luncheon main dish or dessert. Taking advantage of the fruits in season, the hostess combines them with care and sautes them with a New Orleans style dressing. It's good eating, and a real appetite-tender.

For the dressing, heat together one 3-ounce package cream cheese, 3 tablespoons lemon juice and 3 tablespoons light New Orleans mayonnaise. Fold in 1/2 to 1 cup chopped nuts and serve with fruit salad. The recipe is for 4 to 6 salads.

Chipper Seasoning

A teaspoonful of Angostura mixed into a cup of tartar sauce, Hollandaise sauce, lemon butter sauce, mayonnaise or bottled cocktail sauce gives fruit salads, shrimp, oysters, crabmeat or lobster "chucks" a different and unusual flavor.

Patio parties are fun for guests, and for hostess also if the latter plans a movable meal—something light and refreshing. She may serve it from an heirloom tea cart, or place a tray on the coffee table. If it is a feminine gathering, she may serve ambrosia fruit salad, hot rolls, a cold beverage and angel food cake.

Ambrosia Fruit Salad

2 bananas
1 No. 2 can sliced pineapple
Crisp salad greens
1/2 pound black cherries
Whipped cream dressing
Coconut
Peel bananas; cut in half and into fourths lengthwise. Sprinkle with syrup from pineapple. Arrange slices of pineapple on salad plates covered with crisp salad greens. Place 4 pieces of banana around edges of pineapple. Garnish with black cherries. Fill center with whipped cream dressing and a sprinkling of coconut. The recipe makes six salads.

Rainbow Fruit Salad

2 unsweetened canned pear halves
Lettuce
1/2 cup watermelon balls or cubes
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Mint sprigs
Drain pears and arrange on a bed of shredded lettuce. Surround with watermelon balls. Sprinkle with lemon juice and garnish with fresh mint. The recipe makes one serving of 120 calories.

A glorified version of old-fashioned Waldorf salad is this "harvest salad" recipe. For a dessert the children will like, as well as the grownups, the cook may add crisp, buttery nuts and red apples, sliced orange and sliced banana.

Hot biscuits should be served hot; so cover them with a napkin before placing them on the table, or serve them in a tea warmer.

Army Policy For Reserve Training Next Year Told

AUSTIN—Policies which will govern active duty training of Army reservists during the next fiscal year were received from the Department of the Army by the Texas Military District headquarters this week.

Col. C. M. Culp, chief of the district, stated that in general policies for the year will be the same as in 1951. All members of organized reserve units will be required to attend the two-week field training if the unit is ordered to camp. The same rule will apply to reserve officers who have definite mobilization day assignments. Officers of the volunteer reserve may be attached to organized units and participate in the summer exercises if suitable vacancy is available.

In addition to these categories of reservists, members of the staffs and faculties of the six ORC schools in Texas will receive two weeks active duty training on a mandatory basis.

Provision is made for reservists to attend regular Army service schools. For this purpose 90 days of active duty are authorized for officers and 30 days for enlisted reservists except for special schools conducted for longer periods of time. This is in addition to the two weeks with their units at summer camp.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

James is one of the most active of the Howard County 4-H club members and a top hand when it comes to feeding out calves either for the show ring or the block.

Bill Wright, fieldman for the American Hereford Association, was in Big Spring a couple of days last week and while here visited every 4-H calf on feed. Wright expressed himself as being well pleased with the prospects for this county's 4-H boys and girls to develop more grand champions this year. He said he was particularly impressed with the general high quality of this year's Whiteface projects.

Cattle breeders all over the country are busy getting their animals ready for the major show circuit which is scheduled to open with the Buckeye Regional Hereford Show to be held during the Ohio State Fair at Columbus, starting August 22. More than 300 head of the Whitefaces will be shown here by 45 exhibitors from six states.

There will also be many state and county fairs throughout the nation, then will come the start of the major show circuit with four national Hereford shows.

Opening event on the national route will be the Mid-South Fair at Memphis, Tenn., September 18-27, which will include the Mid-South National Hereford Show at which $10,000 in premiums will be awarded on September 23 and 24. The Silver Jubilee presentation of the Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Show at Omaha will be the next stop October 3 through 12. Here the Herefords will compete for $15,000 in prize money.

On the West Coast, Hereford breeders will center their attention on the Pacific International Hereford Show at Portland, October 4 through 11. Here also the premiums will total $15,000.

After the Ak-Sar-Ben, show herds will move into Kansas City for the American Royal October 18 through 25. The annual banquet of the American Hereford Association will be held during the Royal.

Following the Royal the Hereford spotlight will move to Tulsa for the fourth national Hereford show of the year. Then will come the Grand National Livestock Show at the Cow Palace, at San Francisco; the Ogden Livestock Show; the Eastern National at Timonium, Maryland; with the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago serving as the final major show before the Christmas holidays.

A 1,200-pound Aberdeen-Angus steer from the herd of Tommy Brooks of Brady won top honors in the steer division at the Centennial Illinois State Fair in Springfield, over 100 quality steers of all breeds.

This steer, Blackhawk, was the entry of a 12-year-old club boy, who did not sell the steer and who plans to show Blackhawk at other shows in the coming circuit. The owner did not get to see his steer win. He was away at a summer camp and his father handed the steer in the ring.

The Junior World's Champion Rodeo parade is scheduled for 4:30 p.m., Thursday, August 28, and the committee having charge of it is listed as Doris Bissard, Sunbeam Morrison, Melvin Choate, Loyd Wooten, Harvey Wooten, Ronnie Davidson, Delbert Davidson, Benjie Jo Bissard and Travis Fryar.

These committee members have been told they are free to draft any other person they wish to help them and to add him or her to the committee membership.

One hundred and fifty-two breeders over the nation were named to membership in the American Hereford Association during July, bringing the total membership to an all-time new high of 21,117.

A great many of the new members are from California and the South.

Among recent registered Hereford sales Leon M. Black of Del Valle purchased eight heifers from I. A. Bird of Robert Lee; John Gammon of Muleshoe shipped 15 bulls and 48 cows to J. F. Goodrite of Sarda, Mississippi, and nine cows were transferred from P. K. Mackey of Colorado City to Carter G. White of Post.

Drivers Wish They Had Some Armored Suits

By BRACK CURRY
BONN, Germany (AP)—Many people who drive cars in Western Germany wish they could wear armored suits.

And with reason. More than 14,000 persons die every year and 365,000 are injured in West German traffic accidents.

Slaughter of the nation's highways has rocketed 18 per cent over last year.

The West German traffic accident rate already was one of the highest in the world before this increase. And more Germans are learning to drive and are buying vehicles every month.

Worried government officials call this traffic slaughter the greatest national catastrophe since the war. They've finally decided, after long prodding by the Allies, to do something about it.

Federal Transport Minister Hans Seeborn announced the first nationwide safety drive since the war. Seeborn kicked off the drive with a public lecture to German motorists, saying:

"It seems that on German streets there is only one right—the right of the strong over the weak."

White-haired, ruddy Seeborn said traffic accidents in West Germany take half as many lives as were lost in the Franco-Prussian War of 1870-71. And traffic injuries hit 4½ times as many people as were wounded in this war, he said.

Seeborn said the nation had 319,828 traffic accidents last year.

A big cause of the mounting traffic toll is the vast increase in motor vehicle registrations, the minister said. There are now 2,500,000 motor vehicles on West German roads—more than before the war. This figure includes 1,300,000 motorcycles. Fifty-one thousand new drivers were licensed in a single month recently.

Traffic safety officials plan to plaster roads with "Will you be next?" signs. Traffic rules are to be tightened. Films, speeches, billboards, magazines and posters will urge caution in driving.

Compressed air for construction of a tunnel was first used in 1879 in work on the Hudson River tunnel between Hoboken, N. J., and New York City. The following year, however, the air blew a hole through the tunnel roof, flooding the tubes and drowning 20 workmen—and the tunnel was not opened until 28 years later.

A Bible Thought For Today—

The stars in their course fought against Sisera, as Ice and snow fought against Napoleon. God gets tired of tyrants and conquerors. "The Lord discomfited Sisera."—Judges 4:15.

Response To Chest X-Ray Survey Good But It Needs To Be Better

Response so far has been encouraging in the current mass X-ray chest survey. But because the edge may tend to wear off as the campaign moves along, there is a danger that the rate of survey may decline the latter stages during the week that the mobile unit is here.

Everything possible ought to be done to make the reverse true. We need to step up the rate, if anything, in order that every person from young people up be brought within the purview of the service.

If you haven't taken time out to get your chest X-ray, please plan now to have that done at the earliest possible moment.

Except in periods of mild rush, there is seldom a time when more than a couple of minutes will be required to get your mailing address, age, physician, etc. and to actually have the X-ray taken.

How can two minutes compare with the possibility of mountains of lost time which conceivably could be lost through failure to spot an unsuspected lung condition.

Happily, there will be a very few who go through the unit (at E. & R. Jewelry) who will need further checking to ascertain if there is a possibility of tuberculosis or some other abnormality.

But there will be some. We could tell you of an individual who today might be alive had he taken time out for this free health service not so many years ago. He didn't suspect a chest condition and when it was discovered subsequently, it was too late.

Air Force Doing Something About Reducing 'Fat' On Manning Tables

Last July the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee under Senator Lyndon Johnson issued a blast against the Air Force and Navy for waste of manpower, and cited chapter and verse.

Last week end at least one branch of the service, the Air Force, acknowledged the corer and came up with concrete plans to do something about it.

Secretary Finletter announced plans for reducing overstaffing designed to cut down the "bloat" that has afflicted the service. The new Air Force manpower program, he said, "is one of planned and rigorous austerity, carefully aimed at eliminating the personnel 'fat' in the Air Force as fast as it can be found."

As a result of this program, the secretary went on, the Air Force will operate during the next fiscal year with the same personnel ceiling as last year in spite of expansion of its fighting units. He thinks nearly half a million men and officers can be saved on plans for a 143-wing force by cutbacks in manning tables originally set up for an 80-wing force.

Nor did he neglect to spell out just how his department planned to accomplish all this. Manning tables for 166 bases in the U. S. have been cut down and 1,980 "officer spaces" have been eliminated. Officer job eliminations include public information, personal affairs and food service at wing headquarters. At base headquarters, Finletter said, "spaces for recruiting, personal affairs, special services, athletic programs, information and education, food service and postal officers" have been eliminated. (A "space" is the official chart space or job description for a man or officer.)

"Some of these deleted functions have been made additional duties to various officers; others have been abolished altogether," Finletter explained.

A survey of 15 bases he said, disclosed that the number of passenger-type motor vehicles could be reduced by one third without harming efficiency in the least.

Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

In Review, Kefauver Finds That His Campaign Wasn't Total Loss

(Note: While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being Sen. Estes Kefauver, Democrat, of Tennessee.)

By SENATOR ESTES KEFAUVER

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—During the last few weeks, I have been riding the roughest campaign of my life. I lost the campaign, but my faith in the basic greatness of the American people has been increased tremendously by this experience. I don't want anyone to get the impression that I enjoyed losing. I don't like to lose, any better than the next fellow. It was especially hard to lose in this case, when we had been at it for so long and my friends had worked so hard for me.

When the Democratic convention was over, my wife Nancy and I came to Memphis, Tenn., to get some rest in the country on a farm of a good friend of ours, Cowan Oldham. I didn't want to talk about the convention when friends came to see me, but the subject always seemed to come up, and to be frank I think I brought it up as often as anyone else. I couldn't sleep at night, although I tried to relax my mind and get good and tired swimming, fishing, and boating with the children.

I would keep going over the events of the convention in my mind, trying to see where I could have changed things by taking a different course. Should I have held out and tried to deadlock the convention? Did I do right in going to the convention hall to withdraw? Should I have advised my friends to vote differently on some of the issues?

"Stop worrying about it, Estes," Nancy told me at last. "You did your best and the people realize it. They believe in you regardless of the outcome."

My friends were very understanding. They wrote me thousands of encouraging letters from every section of the nation. Those who lived near enough came to see me. When I went to Memphis to make a radio and television talk, they gave us such a welcome and were so thoughtful of us that I began to feel for the first time that things weren't so bad after all.

I began to see some of the good things that came out of our campaign, even though we were beaten.

Campaigning across the nation is a tremendous experience. I should certainly be a better equipped senator as a result. Now I know first hand of the attitudes and ambitions of our people in every section of the nation. River development in the far west, loss of industry in New England, special farm problem of many regions, bigotry, religious and racial intolerance are to me no longer problems to study merely from congressional hearings. I have seen them first hand.

Too often in Washington we tend to become cynical and disillusioned. When one has an opportunity of visiting as I have, the people in every section of the nation, that cynicism is washed away. This campaign has reassured me of the spiritual and economic sturdiness of our great people.

From a personal standpoint, the campaign was very rewarding. Nancy and I have made good friends in every section of the country, from New Hampshire to California and from Wisconsin to Florida.

The loyalty of these friends would be inspiring to any man. I think when I was sitting on the platform during that last ballot at the convention, waiting to make my announcement of withdrawal, I saw an exhibition of the personal greatness of men and women which has made America the nation it is.

These delegates knew my purpose in coming to the convention hall. As the roll call went on, it was obvious I had no chance. By all the rules of political conduct, it was to their interest to get on the winning side.

Some of them carried the mandate of the people of their state. Others, in states where they had no primary, had pledged support individually. With very few exceptions they stood up and counted their votes for a lost cause, because they were truly loyal.

As each delegation cast its vote, memories crowded in on me of long, hard campaigns, in the hot sun of California and Florida, through the cold snow of New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Nebraska. I remembered the courage of free people fighting against dictatorial and selfish political machines, and the enthusiasm of inspired young citizens who had never taken an active part in politics before. I remembered victory celebrations with New Englanders, with Middle Westerners and Far Westerners; and I remembered one or two post-mortems when we were beaten.

I do not think these good people who supported me lost what they were fighting for. They had a lot to do with the Democratic party presenting a sound and progressive platform. Also, I have a deep conviction that many beneficial reforms such as a federal presidential primary law will emerge.

They want our government to work steadily for peace with honor, for high integrity in government, for elimination of criminal influences, for clean politics with young people and women being brought more actively into the councils of the party.

I am glad to be able to say to those fine people all over the United States who stood shoulder to shoulder with me: We haven't lost—we have won a great deal. We won because we played the game hard and fair, we made no deals, and we didn't abandon the principles in which we believe. We won, because no man and no campaign group can say honestly that a cause is lost when it has resulted in such an outpouring of public interest in the basic things of which our American democracy is built.

I have visited with Governor Stevenson since the convention. He appreciates the fact that accomplishing these things is not only the desire but the mandate of the rank and file Democrat, and my good friend and neighbor John Sparkman and I have fought together in the Senate for these principles. While Governor Stevenson was not exactly my first choice for the Democratic nomination, I wish him good luck and trust he will carry the invigorated Democratic party on to a great victory.

Halts Red Money

TAIPEI, Formosa (U)—Chiang Kai-shek has ended a steady flow of money from Nationalist China to Communist China. Government sources estimated Chinese on Formosa had been sending about $200,000 a month via Hong Kong to relatives in Red China.

"Well, Pretty Soon It'll Begin To Warm Up"

World Today—James Marlow

Soviet Communists Want Small, Rigidly Disciplined Organization To Rule People

WASHINGTON, (U)—Because the Communists always want a fairly small, rigidly disciplined organization, not everyone in Russia is a member of the party. Out of a population of more than 200 million people, probably not more than 10 million are permitted to belong.

The number may be smaller. Before he admitted, a would-be member is screened. Party members must work for him. And after he's in his work and loyalty to the party are watched and examined.

But the Russian Communists, who set the style for Communists everywhere, protest they have a really democratic setup.

Theoretically, all party members are expected to argue sincerely on any issue the party is trying to decide. But, once the decision is made by majority vote, they must obey the party's will absolutely.

Actually, the decisions are made at the top by Stalin and his hand-picked lieutenants who form the Politburo, which runs the party. Since the party runs Russia, the Politburo runs the whole show.

But if the Politburo just kept on doing this indefinitely from within the Kremlin walls, without even pretending to let the party members think they have a say, it couldn't keep up the democratic fiction very long.

So Stalin and his friends decided long ago there should be a national congress every three years. But they got pretty careless about it. The last was held in 1939.

Yesterday announcement was made in Moscow that there'd be another congress, the first in 13 years, in October. Why now? The usual guessing game started in the Western capitals.

Stalin has never been considered a Confidential Charlie. So there will not necessarily be any connection between the real reasons for the congress and any reasons

Stalin may give for calling it, before or after.

So the guesses will range from the most ominous and sinister Communist motives to a simple desire on Stalin's part to keep up democratic appearances or tighten the strings on party members getting careless.

The only amusing note in the Moscow announcement was the news that the Politburo will be abolished and replaced by a "Presidium." The only possible effect this can have is the added difficulty of spelling Politburo under the new name.

Plain Old Anger Is Fuel Women Use During Work

NEW YORK, (U)—The reason women get more things done than men is that they know better how to make a fuel of themselves.

There is no fuel like an old fuel, and the oldest and best fuel isn't wood; coal or oil. It is anger—plain old inner anger.

Notice how a woman operates. If she has a distasteful job to do, the first thing she does is get all steamed up about it. Let us suppose the chore her conscience tells her she should be doing is her semi-annual housecleaning. A man faced with this task says, "I ought to tidy up this joint, and I will, one of these days, but I feel awful tired today." And he doesn't get around to shoveling out the debris until it threatens to smother him.

But a woman says, "I hate the way this place looks." She is angry at it, the anger gives her energy, and soon the dust and furniture are flying. By the time her anger is worn out, she can collapse on a spick-and-span couch in a house that is shiny-bright.

That is why men are secretly afraid of women—because of the power of anger they have. Few obstacles can stand before the flaming energy of a wrathful lady at peak cry.

A wise man, however, can exercise some influence over a woman if he cunningly learns to channel her ire in the right direction. Instead of coaxing her to do something he wants, he might find it better to make her so mad she can't help doing it in spite of herself.

A friend of mine worked this ruse successfully. In getting his wife to pack her suit case in time to catch a train for their vacation trip.

He pulled out his watch and pointed at it. She dawdled. He pleaded. She dawdled. He begged. She yawned. Finally, he picked up one of her favorite dresses and said:

"Well, I forbid you to take this along. It makes you look like Queen Victoria on a picnic."

"Oh, it does?" she snarled. "I'll wear what I want to, smarty!"

In a tempestuous burst of energy, she packed the suitcase, snapped it shut. They caught the train.

"As a matter of fact, she was so angry she wouldn't speak to me for a week—but is that altogether bad?" recalled the husband. "But I learned a lesson: if you want to get a wife anywhere on time, first get her mad. Ruffle her feathers, then smooth them later."

That is sound psychology, up to a point. Of course some wives, when they get mad, just go into another room and lock the door. No ruse works with all of them.

And, of course, it usually works the other way. A woman uses her anger to whammy a man into obeying her whim. Many a fellow is prodded into success in life only because of the long slow burn of his wife over the fact the husband next door is getting ahead faster. Her wrath feeds his will, and he rises in the world on borrowed fuel.

There is another inner fuel, as old as anger. It is called fear. Anger is a fighting fuel, fear is the fuel for running away. You need both to live.

I may be a traitor to my sex, but it seems to me that women keep these two fuels in better balance than men. They are less likely to be overwhelmed by either. They know better when to be angrily brave, when to be cautiously afraid.

Princess Margaret Observes Birthday

BALMORAL, Scotland (U)—Princess Margaret is 22 today—and like many another British little sister, she's spending her birthday quietly with the family.

The petite princess, one of the gayest leaders of London's smart set until the death of her father, King George VI, earlier this year, donned tweeds and sensible low-heeled shoes to picnic on the Grouse Moors near here.

Queen Elizabeth II, the Duke of Edinburgh and Queen Mother Elizabeth were to be there, together with friends of the royal family. A small family birthday party was to be held tonight in Balmoral Castle but no official celebrations were planned.

Mother Wants Child Father Tried To Sell

HOUSTON, Aug. 21 (U)—The mother of little Sharon Ribnikar, whose father was charged with trying to sell her for $500 and an automobile, will appear here today to try to get the two-year-old blonde returned to her.

Mrs. Agnes Koncokol of Pittsburgh, Pa., said she didn't know how long it would take but "we are going to fight for the baby." She said she had hired a lawyer to present her case.

Sharon has been in the custody of the Harris County probation department since her father was charged with trying to sell her. The father, Steve Ribnikar, was sentenced to nine months in jail, but has been freed on a $500 appeal bond.

We're Missing The Boat By Not Expanding Population Figures

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Things are booming in West Texas and Big Spring seems to be asleep at the switch.

There's no excuse for it either. If we'd get on the ball, we could boom right along with the rest of 'em.

It wouldn't be too much of a job. All you gotta do is get the Highway Department to repaint the city limit signs—and write in the latest population estimate. Why, we could have 30 or 35,000 people living here overnight.

That's the way other towns are doing it. They just work out a formula that'll increase the population 15-to-50 per cent, apply it to the last estimate, and call in the Highway Department. The latter doesn't argue much, humors the people and puts up a sign with the desired figures.

Odesa is the latest West Texas city to win the new signs and bigger population. Revised figures on the town's "fast-growing 1952 population" were posted on Highway 80 last week. According to the city council and chamber of commerce, that made Odesa's official population, total 42,125. That's a healthy gain of some 13,000 since the Census Bureau's some count in 1950.

Other cities which have "grown" proportionately are Amarillo, Lubbock and Wichita Falls.

The latter town was the first to break over the wire. Last year, not too long after census takers got out of town, someone got the idea of estimating the city's population. Net result was a gain of nearly 30,000 people. According to the census, the population was 67,700-and-some-odd.

The guesstimate, duly placed on the city limit markers, boosted the head tally to the neighborhood of 96,000.

That success apparently inspired Amarillo, which subsequently hiked its population from 73,737 to the 92,000-plus bracket.

Lubbock, "fastest growing city on the plains" or somewhere, never to be outdone by its two neighbors and rivals, then got busy and devised a formula for some more growth. As a result, Lubbock highway signs now boast of a constituency of more than 95,000 people—a number that put that city slightly ahead of both Wichita Falls and Amarillo.

Haven't heard what the Wichita Falls reaction was, but Amarillo is enraged by the influx of Lubbockites. The newspaper up there suggests that the Amarillo-C-C just paint a big "1" in front of the latest sum and let it go at that.

Next in line probably will be Midland. Don't know how many people live over there, but if they can't outdo Odesa, I'll be disappointed.

Which brings us back to Big Spring. With a paint factory located right here, something's wrong if the population doesn't get up to 25,000 or better.

Business Outlook—J. A. Livingston

Wall Street Sees Good Business At Least Until After Election

Common stocks are right up close to a 22-year high. That ought to be a promise of prosperity ahead. Yet, Wall Street isn't taking its own promises too seriously these days. Business on the New York Stock Exchange is too sluggish. There's no real heart in the market.

Wall Streeters won't go much beyond the election. "TIN them," they tell you "good business is in the bag. Harry wants it that way."

The belief is widely prevalent that President Truman possesses a special magic. By manipulation of government expenditures, he can turn prosperity on and off. That's a fallacy. If money's to be spent in September and October on planes, tanks, and other military items, then orders must have been placed as early as January, or even earlier. It takes time to tool up, get parts flowing, and then assembled.

What Truman can't do, the steel strike did. It clinched, underwrote, good business. How can you have a letdown between now and election day when all the metal-working industries, which were slowed down by the strike, are rushing back into production?

Even a coal strike in October by the vaunted and unpredictable John L. Lewis couldn't have much effect by Nov. 4. Coal stocks above ground now amount to 30,000,000 tons, equivalent to a three-months' supply. No wonder the Democrats keep saying, in one form or another, "Never have so many had it so good."

The stock market's current optimism is paradoxical. It costs an investor today about $10 to buy one dollar's worth of earning power in an industrial company. A year ago, the cost was only $7. That's because corporation earnings, as second-quarter reports conclusively showed, are down, while stock prices are up.

Dividend yields on stocks are correspondingly down. The current return on industrial shares is about 5.6 per cent. That's lower than at any time since late in 1948. From 1948 through 1951, 6 per cent and 7 per cent returns were the rule. Railroad shares yield even less, about 5.4 per cent, and utilities are yielding about 5.3 per cent.

So, investors and speculators are paying more for less. Why? There are two reasons:

1. Corporation earnings are backstopped by high taxes, paradoxical as that sounds. The corporation tax rate this year is 52 per cent, plus an excess profits levy which can raise the overall rate to nearly 70 per cent. The average rate runs around 60 per cent. Well, suppose a corporation's earning drop $5,000,000. Its net income would only drop $2,000,000. Uncle Sam would foot 60 per cent of the loss.
2. Investors seem to be betting on lower taxes which would raise earnings. Early in June, Republican Candidate Eisenhower promised a cut in the budget and in taxes, and now Democratic Candidate Stevenson has said that in 1953 the defense program ought to level off sufficiently to permit an ultimate cut. Congress may even force the Presidential hand. That happened in 1949 over Truman's veto. In politics, taxes are always reduced early and raised late. That's why it's so hard to balance federal budgets.

The excess profits tax automatically expires on June 30, 1953. Congress is not likely to renew it unless another wave of inflation is under way. (Cuts in individual income taxes may be made to accompany the elimination of the excess profits levy.)

The prospect of lower corporation taxes late in '53 does not help corporation management now. Costs are rising. Expansion programs still require cash. And companies can't hold on to money like they used to. Back in 1950, corporations plowed back 36 of every $10 earned into the business. But now, after dividends, the plowback's only $4.

Company presidents can't count on earnings to meet commitments. They're forced to borrow from banks, insurance companies, and float bond issues. Which adds to the pressure on an already tight money market.

New York City banks have just raised interest rates on brokers' loans from 2 1/2 per cent to 3-3/4 per cent. And there's talk of putting up the commercial borrowing rate to above 3 per cent. After all, if Secretary of the Treasury Snyder pays 2 per cent for one-year money, the cost of debt for everyone else is bound to go up.

Uncle Ray's Corner

Famous Lawyer Of Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—In the capital of Illinois, the people think of Abraham Lincoln as their own. Other places have their special claims to this famed American, but the practice of law and the fortunes of politics led him to make Springfield his most lasting home. He was a resident of the city from the time he left New Salem until he was chosen president.

For the start of Lincoln's political career, we must go back to New Salem. There, at the age of only 23, he offered himself as a candidate for the Illinois legislature. He failed that time, but obtained 227 of about 900 votes cast in the New Salem area.

It may be that Abe would have been elected had it not been for his absence during the campaign months. The Black Hawk War broke out, and he served as a captain of volunteers. Later he said that, during the war, he never had met with "any live, fighting Indian" but had had "a good many bloody struggles with the mosquitoes."

In the next election, Lincoln was chosen for the legislature. At that time Vandalia was the state capital.

Lincoln was elected again and again to the Illinois legislature. He took a leading part in bringing about passage of a bill which transferred the capital from Vandalia to Springfield.

The young politician loved New Salem, but the village was in a dying stage. Lincoln finally gave up his residence there and moved to Springfield.

Soon Lincoln became a partner in the law firm of Stuart and Lincoln. Stuart later lost interest in legal work, and Lincoln joined Stephen Logan, a former judge, in forming the firm of Logan and Lincoln.

During the greater part of his life, Lincoln was smooth-shaven, but most of the pictures we see of him show him with a beard. For this we may thank an 11-year-old girl, Grace Bedell, who wrote to him while he was running for president. Earnestly she suggested that he should grow a beard, and promised that women would like it and would coax their husbands to vote for him. From letters which still exist, it appears that the appeal of this child really led Abe to let his whiskers grow.

AMATEUR IN POLITICS

Mrs. Lord Jumped Into Fray Just To Be 'Helpful' To Ike

By ROBERT FARRINGTON
NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Oswald Lord, co-chairman of Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon, is an amateur.

last spring because of a wartime acquaintance with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and because she likes "being helpful."

Tall, dark-haired and with a quiet tactful manner, Mrs. Lord's grey eyes twinkle when she tries to trace her path from social work in her native Minneapolis to the smoke-filled rooms of politics.

She has devoted many of her 47 years to social work, civil defense, recreation, health and various national and international committees concerned with activities of women and children.

One thing led to another. She met Eisenhower during the war while touring Europe as a volunteer to the Women's Army Corps.

She got that job through civil defense and she got into it a defense when the late Mayor Aurelio LaGuardia suddenly announced at a luncheon that she was his new assistant CD director in the New York area.

She was at the luncheon in her capacity as a director of the New York World's Fair.

She became a director of the fair because she was president of the New York Junior League. That tied in with her social work after she moved here from Minneapolis.

Mother of two grown sons, she has found time to give advice to the Army (she was national chairman of the WAC's Civilian Advisory Commission), to the secretary of defense on housing and to the New York State Institute of Applied Arts and Sciences.

She has held posts in an array of organizations both during and since the war. They include the state and national war funds, the East Side Settlement House, the Women's Council of Greater New York, the New York Defense Recreation Commission and the chairmanship of the U. S. Commission for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

To get back to her friendship with Eisenhower:

After their first meeting in Frankfort soon after VE Day, they worked together in Washington on legislation which made the WAC part of the Army, rather than an auxiliary.

And she ran into Eisenhower again when he was trying to rebuild Western Europe's defenses and she was overseas for the UN Children's Committee.

"It was interesting to see how he was liked in foreign lands," Mrs. Lord said. "Over and over again, I'd hear that he was the only man the Communists feared. And at NATO he'd walk down the hall talking to people and you could just tell they felt they were all on his team. It isn't easy getting people to work together. You know, especially with different, sometimes conflicting national interests."

"It's extremely heartening the way the people in the grass roots want to go to work for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket," she added. "We have had mail and calls from 20 states asking for speakers and other help. People come in here volunteering to give their vacation time and evenings to campaign work."

"We hope to bring out a huge women's vote."

News From Webb Air Force Base
By A-2C FERD J. BORSCH

TELEPHONES

Webb Air Force Base switched to its new automatic dial telephone system Monday. The cutover was made at 9 a.m. when Col. Ernest F. Wackwitz, base commander, flicked the switch in a special ceremony at Communications Building, where the new telephone plant is housed. At present, there are 400 lines booked to the dial system. A total of 600 are expected to be in operation by December.

CADET SELECTION TEAM

A four-man aviation cadet selection team will visit Webb next Monday and Tuesday. Meetings for personnel eligible for cadets will be held in the Academic Building auditorium each day. A program, including movies, will explain the cadet program. The selection team will introduce an aviation cadet currently in training as part of the program. In Webb's case, the cadet is James K. James of class 52-F.

Reds Planning Overthrow In Japan, Officer Says

TOKYO (AP) — The head of the Japanese "FBI" says there are signs that an active Communist underground movement is seeking to overthrow the government of Japan.

MELVIN WISE

THE GOSPEL MEETING OF THE 14th and MAIN STREET

Church of Christ

Is now in progress and will continue through Aug. 27. Melvin J. Wise of Dallas, Tex., will do the preaching. Mr. Wise is well known by many in this community as he lived in Big Spring only a few years ago.

The morning services begin at 7:00 a.m. and the evening services at 8:00 p.m.

The public is cordially invited to hear the gospel of Christ preached without fear or favor of man. Sermons will be preached directly from the Bible.

Japan. "But," he added, "it is very difficult to get evidence that is good in court."

He gave no hint he plans any immediate action against the Communists under Japan's brand new anti-subversive law—except watchful waiting by his 2,000 "public security agents."

Seiki did not disclose any details of the evidence uncovered. The Subversive Activities Prevention Act does not specifically outlaw the Communist party. It provides for imprisonment of persons who incite riots or rebellion, and for possible dissolution of organizations which engage in subversive activities.

Seiki indicated his major concern was not the Communist party itself, but 35,000 former registered Communists who no longer admit they belong to the party. He said the nucleus of an active Red underground came from this group.

During the Allied occupation of Japan, all Communists were required to register with the government. In May, 1949, there were 100,000 registered. The number has dwindled to 45,000.

"What has happened to the other 55,000 is the big question," Seiki said.

Presumably many of them have dropped communism completely. But Seiki said "a sizable amount" have gone underground.

The anti-subversive act was bitterly opposed by Japanese labor groups on the ground it could be used to suppress the labor movement. Seiki said some Japanese labor unions are leftist, but none could be called Communist. He said some may contain Communist cells.

The White House was the first building erected by the government in Washington, D. C., and was modeled after the Irish palace of the Duke of Leinster.

Raids Designed To Weaken Enemy Will

By C. YATES McDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Nations Command has embarked on a systematic bombing campaign deliberately calculated to destroy the enemy's will to hold out against an armistice in Korea.

Military officials here placed this interpretation on the Tokyo announcement that military targets in 78 North Korean population centers have been selected for destruction, after civilians have been warned by radio and leaflets that bombs are coming their way.

The psychological warfare section of Gen. Mark Clark's U. N. Command borrowed a leaf from World War II history in stressing the warning phase. The most notable precedent for telling enemy civilians that their cities were earmarked for obliteration was established in the final, atomic bomb chapter of the war against Japan.

Gen. Clark's disclosure of the scheduled effort to smash North Korea's will and ability to continue resistance held no hint, however, of atomic bombings or the kind of mass destruction raids that were launched against German and Japanese cities during the last war.

The U. N. Command and more than 1½ million leaflets have told North Korean civilians that the Allied air forces "must destroy all Communist military supplies and installations—and it knows where they are."

U. N. Intelligence has known for a long time that the Reds have been using cities and towns not only to house troops and supplies but also for important headquarters and military communications centers. The Allies hit some of these objectives earlier in the war but generally tried to avoid bombing population centers unless urgent military needs dictated otherwise.

The campaign announced from Tokyo said flatly that civilians in North Korea are subject to bombing and strafing when military targets in their areas are attacked. The leaflets dropped behind enemy lines blame the Red leaders for jeopardizing civilians by hiding military objectives in population areas.

Days Of Bossy Husband End In West Germany

By BRACK CURRY

BONN, Germany (AP) — In West Germany the days of the bossy husband are numbered.

The government has just prepared a draft law to give the little woman an equal say in all family matters.

It's a revolutionary step. German men long contended that women should have only three interests — kinder, kirche, kuche (children, church, kitchen) — with the man bossing all.

Until now, German law has supported this idea. Women have few legal rights in marriage or the home in Germany.

But the constitution adopted in 1949 says there shall be no discrimination between the sexes. The new equality for women bill is intended to comply with this provision.

Under present law, the husband has full power of decision in all joint questions. If the wife receives rent from a house she owns, she must turn over the money to her husband. The husband's approval is required before the wife can open a bank account. The husband can dispose of jointly owned property without her consent.

All these things would be eliminated under the new bill which soon will go to Parliament. Approval there is considered certain.

The bill would permit wives to control property they owned before marriage.

All property gained by husband and wife after marriage would be jointly controlled.

If a couple divorces, the new bill provides that property gained during marriage should be divided on the basis of who earned the more—husband or wife.

Under the new bill, a woman after marrying can also retain her own name, along with her husband's, in hyphenated form if she wishes.

The new bill also clamps some new obligations on women.

The psychological angle is frankly calculated to wear down the will of civilians and their leaders and thus to weaken the enemy's war effort.

Should North Koreans be permitted to leave the cities and the military support jobs they have been doing the Red commanders will find it even more difficult than now to get supplies and equipment to their front lines.

On the other hand, should the military bosses use force to prevent civilians from leaving the cities, the Allied campaign by leaflet, radio and bombs is expected to engender a feeling of helplessness and futility among the civilian population.
