East Lubbock AARP Chapter Will Meet April 1st

The East Lubbock AARP, Chapter No. 3591 will meet Wednesday, April 1, 1992 at 1 p. m. at the Mae Simmons Senior Citizens Center.

February 5, 1992, Mr.Duane Bowen, member of the United Teachers Association, spoke tot the group on "Whole Health Care and Nursing Health Care."

At this meeting, special emphasis was placed on what to look for when selecting long term care for the elderly. There are three important elements or levels of care to look for or to keep in mind. They are:

Skill care that is to be provided:

Intermediate care available to the patient; and Custodial care needed or/ and to be provided.

Everyone present gained an insight into the kind of care to look for when making selections for longterm care.

RUBY JAY'S CORNER

The Naw Hope Baptist Church, 2002 Birch Jenue, has a proud pastor. He is Rev. Billy R. Moton. The theme of the church is: If you have faith enough to believe it, God has power enough to do it. Matthew 9:18.

Sunday School began at 9:30 a. m. with officers and teachers present. Last Sunday morning, the men won both banners in Sunday School, but Sunday they lost. Class Number 2 won the attendance banner, Dorothy Kinner is teacher; Class Number 4, Joan Y. Ervin, teacher, won the offering banner.

The is quite a fete each Sunday morning.

The mroning devotion began at 10:45 a.m. with the Deacons and Deaconess Sister Winnie Knighton in charge.

During the 11:00 a.m. morning worship hour, the processional was done by the Senior Choir as they marched in singing "Soon And Very Soon." Altar prayer was offered by Rev.Johnson. another song, "We've Come A Long Way," was sung by the Senior Choir.

The scripture of the morning was the 25rd Psalms, and was read by Sister Phillips. Prayer was offered by Rev. Michael Matthews. Another song, "I Got A New Name," was sung. The responsive reading was read by the congregation with Sister D. Kinner leading.

"Father, I Stretch My Hands Out To Thes," with the congregation standing.

Pastoral observations were given by Pastor Moton. Pastor Moton asked the congregation if they had been a situafion where they had to as "Father, I stretch my hands to thee?" As usual, Pastor Mcton stressed the need for teachers' meeting which meets each Wednesday evening at 6 p. m. Prayer meeting begans at 7:00 p. m. and continues through 8:00 p. m. He's still asking those wish to pray with him every morning at 5:30 a. m. The church will be open, and he will be there.

Another song, 'Jesus Is Passing By,' was sung.

Pastor Moton's text was Matthew 23:27-28. His subject was "A New Look, But Thee Same Wicked Person." It was another wonderful message. The Lord used him in that message.

Invitation to discipleship was extended. Two came forward and one for restoration; and one by Christian experience. The remaining of the services were completed.

The Women Missionary Society will present the New Hope Male Chorus in a musical Sunday, March 29, 1992, at 3:30 p. m. Special male artistra are Brother Charles Hobdy, Lyons Chapel Baptist church; Brothereine Cleveland, Alexander-Chapel COGIC, a dynamic saxophone soloist, Brother Thomas Payton Rev. Solomon Fields and Fiew. Norman Garrett.

The public is invited to attend this event.

The Second Annual Gospel Music Workshop for Youth will begin March 26 through 28, 1992, beginning each evening at 7:00 p.m. Rev. Alvin Pope of Fort Worth, Texas will be the director.

The presence of the public will be greatly appreciated.

Me Have To May's Macossayi.

by Eddie Richardson

Every since our arrival on these shores, we have been survivors since up from slavery, Jim Crowism, segregation, and racism. Mostly, because of necessity a the will and desire to survive.

The hard thing to understand is how, with all the progress Black people have made over the years from slavery somehow, we have lost and are still trying to reclaim some of the advantages we had many years past.

On our so called freedom, from freedom, from slavery in those days, we had Blacks in every profession. Pinchback and other key politicians, publishers, community leaders, pricklayers blacksmiths, carpenters, best and saddlers makes etc. We had people in every field of endeared. We nad many Blacks who owned businesses, farms, and hundreds of acres of land and other properties between slavery and Jim Crowism. We lost much. Though, Jim Crowism, segregation, racism, desegregation, the courts, affirmative action, equal employment, housing, etc. We are still trying to play catch up and recapture what was already ours. Somehow, we have been reduced from the posture of giants to midgets. The only thing is to see we are not midgets. We are giants, standing in holes. We are not midgets; the holes are just deep.

We are elephants with grasshopper complexes, talent surplus, trade defict. We have been pychologically beaten down to feel, think, and as well as act inferior. For us to make our own way, it will take taith and trust in God and getting off our knees begging and getting up and hustling working planning and working together; loving respecting trust and helping each other. Also keeping more of our money in our community. We need to concentrate more of our onworking smart than hard

We must take charge of our communities; taking the initiative and leadership working with and cooperating with others who are concerned about our community by using their resources, money, expertise, etc.; but working with and taking the load, not following.

On our last week's editorial, we got more calls, mail, comments and response than we have in a long time. We had so much favorable response on the American Legion Booker T. Washington, Post 808 bingo, and the positive results to and for the community. We had the same kind of results, but a questionable nature, especially OIC which had bingo while none existenance.

The statements on basketball and Blacks not being treated equitiable. The school in question was Monterey High School ... as our sources will reveal their names if need be. Alledgely the superintendent, plus the principal, school board members, and the Dunbar intervenors group has been formed. This writer still says and stands by our previous article. This needs to be checked out!! before the Dunbar flood gates are open an if this is so, the coach of the girls' basketbail team needs to be confronted before we have a confrontation!!

LHS Black History Class Tour 1992 Of Black Colleges and Universities; Mission Accomplished!"

by Gloria Ware-Carter Black History Class Sponsor

The Black man has long possessed a deep faith in the power of education to bring about a change in the status of the conditions affecting his personal life.

Black colleges are not being properly funded by the government an this issue became a major concern to the Black History Class of Lubbock High School. The class wanted to visit some of the colleges and universities in Texas and Western Louisiana to gain a personal insight of conditions on these campuses.

The tour has been planned for two years. This year, the class washed cars, had soul food dinners and various fundraisers to raise money, but fell short of its goal again. Our prayer was an swered by John Washington, administive assistant for Lubbock Indpendent School District, tho took an interest in the class' potentials an spoke to Dr. Mike Moses, Lubbock Independent School Superintendent, about helping to fund this trip. Some how, they worked it out and obtained maney from private donorss to pay for the bus. Without their help, our trip would have been delayed once more. Students got sponsors to raise money for motel cost. Kenneth Wallace, principal at Estacado High School, paid for his students motel fee; Coronado and Monterey High School students' parents paid their fare.

The four schools united as one as we visited the colleges and universities. It was so beautiful seeing them unify as one big happy family while learning and sharing at the same time. I know that I had the best students from Lubbock ISD on that buss with me. Two parents, Mrs. Diarne Thomass, LHS parent; and Mr. Don Humphrey, EHS parent, came along as co-sponsors and one exstudent, Laterrian McBrewer, LHS, helped everyone feel comfortable and special during our tour.

Various businesses and private individuals sponsored students, but God blessed us in so many ways. I had asked Rev. J. H. Ford, pastor of St. Luke Baptist Church, to pray for us on Sunday priod to the tour. My students attended church with me, and ne prayed for us. After church services, Mrs. Clara Leriord and Mrs. Georgia Richardson voluntee ad to give the class a donation to holp while on the tour. That touched me so much to see that these people cared about these youth. Mrs. Richardson delivered a $100 check for food about 9:30 p. m. from the Booker T. Washington, American Legion Post 808' Women Auxliary. I've never met or seen this person, but had to mention my story of a special blessing I received after a special prayer. A booklet will be written about the tour and will be submitted to Black magazines, hoping to get others to focus on the outlook of Black colleges and universities.

This four became a surcess, because so many people unified to make it possible and we had so many prayers from everyone. Rev. F. B. Bell, pastor of Rising Star Baptist Church, came out at 5'30 a.m. on Monday morning and had circled prayer as we were about to depart Lubbock. John Washington also came at 5:30 a.m. to show his support and spoke to the group about represending LISD in the most fashionable and positive manner. Students and I were very appreciative for their caring and made this four a learning experience. We found role models right here in Lubbock, Texas.

These students chose to take this tour to make their first step toward making history for themselves by taking the first-ever Black history tour of Black colleges and universities.

My goals and purposes for the tour were to motivate these youth to graduate from high school and attend a college or university, any institution as long as he or she continued his or her education, to know what Black colleges and universities lieve to offer and to see how Black students on these campuses are struggling to make their dreams come true. Most students were shocked to see and hear what these colleges have to offer.

Students met positive. Black role module on each campus. Each stressed to this group, that they can be successful, if they program their mind to succeed, and not to failure. Students were elated to meet Grambling State. University's headcoach, Eddle Robinson, who awaited our arrival and spoke to the group about giving their best at all times.

We overbooked our activities and did not visit Carver Museum in Austin. Texas, but did visit Texas College in Tyle., Texas: Paul Quinn in Dallas, Texas; Jarvis Christian College in Hawkins, Texas; Grambling State University in Grambling, La.: Prairie V.ew A&M.

THIS N THAT

EMS TO THE RESCUSE!! THIS N THAT has always heard about the speedy and efficient work of the dedicated men and women who man the vehicles of EMS ... but midmorning Tuesday THIS N THAT witnessed their expertise as they were working with one of our longtime pilizens SIDNEY HALL who a parently fell while talking with another citizen

MRS. NETTIE LOU GADISON and apparently out of the blue Mr. Hall just fell to the ground ... and hitting his head on the curb But THANK GOD for the EMS they arrived shorty and attended to Mr. Hall and gave him the necessary attention he needed After performing their task they took him to the University Medical Center for treatment.... This was great to see THIS N THAT wants EMS to know that we appreciate what you did for Mr. Hall and we are sure this is done all over Lubbock.... Again THANKS FOR A JOB WELL DONE

The word "par" is derived from the Latin word for "an equal."

THMO Bus took students to visit Black colleges and universities in Texas and Western Louisiana.

University, Texas Southern University in Houston, Texas and Huston-Tihotson College, Austin, Texas.

Five students will attend a Black university in the fall and three will attend a university this summer.

Three students wish to become Black history professors. What more can be said -- "Our mission was accomplished!"

Thanks to Mr. Eric Strong for helping to set up the tour for the class. We are hoping that other tours, like this one, can take place to inspire more of our Black youth to attend a college or university. Hearing about these places is quite different from getting to be there as an eyewitness. The class stresses its guiding principle: "We must know of our past and present in order to build a better and brighter tomorrow for all mankind."

Many people have small stickes without even knowing it -- until they have more serious strokes.

Often, a person will have what is called a transient ischemic attack, a sma., stroke thet usually is a warning that a bigger stroke could occur, according to Valerie Gregory, R. N., coordinator of University Vascular Lab at University Medical Center.

The symptoms of TIA should go av ay in 24 hours because reduced blood flow to the brain was only temporary. But. the symptoms should not be forgotten, said Gregory.

"Most people have TIA's before CVA (cerebral vascular accident, or larger stroke)," she said. "The TIA is simply a warning of what could come later."

Symptoms of a TIA are temporary blindness in one eye, numbriess and weakness on one side of the body but not the other, slurred speech, drooping of one side of the Tace or being unable to speak

The most common cause of carotid artery disease, which often leads to strokes, is atherosclerosis, a thickening of the arteries caused by buildup of cholesterol and fatty plaque. The carotid artery is the artery in the neck that carries blood to the brain.

The problem with atherosclerosis, said Gregory, is that there may be no symptoms until the diameter of the artery is reduced 50 percent. Often, it is not until a patient experiences a TIA or CVA that the problem becomes apparent.

One way risk of stroke can e detected, however, is through regular visits to a physician. A stethoscope can help a physician notice a bruit (prouncedd BREW-ee) in the artery in the carotid artery. The abnormal noise indicates that a patient may be at risk for vascular disease.

If vascular disease is suspected, a physician can refer the patient to a viscular specialist for diagnosis. The recently opened University Vascular Lab uses noninvasive techniques to diagnose vas cular disease.

A diagnostic procedure at the lab takes an hour and a half and requires no preparation or special observation afterward. Because no needles, dves, or x-rays are used, the procedure is painless, and any risk involved is minimal.

"Everything is done outside the body." said Gregory.

If narrowing or blockage is found, the patient can be treated with various methods. The first, Gregory said, is to control risk factors.

"Some risk factors, such as sex, age and family history, can't be controlled. But, there are several that the patient can choose to control," she said. Controllable factors include high blood pressure, smoking, cholesierol, and proper management of diabetes.

"Smoking is a big Insult to your own body. Smoking speeds up the progress of the disease. This is especially true to palients with diaby, es," said Gregory.

The patient's p visician can also choose from other treatments, including medication or surgery, Glagory said. If surgery is recomended, the r-sual procedure is a carotid endarterectomy to remove plaque from the artery walls.

Gregory said atherosclers's can cause pain in the hips, thighs, and calves and, if not treated and managed, can lead to loss of tissue, gangrene or, inextreme cases, amputation. Atherosclerosis also increases the risk of heart atherosclerosis, it usually does not become a problem until th age of 45 and is most common in those 55 and older. Furthermore, blacks can be a higher risk for blood pressure, one of the risk factors that can lead to the disease

Although anyone can have

Gregory advises patients most of all to control risk factors and to stay informedd about their overall general health care.

"Be well informed about your health care, and follow your physician's advice. It's important that you understand what is happening to your body so that you can make the proper choices about your health care management," she said.

Do You Need A Doctor?

Unfortunately, we don't always know where or how to find a doctor. And, many times we don't know what kind of doctor to call for help.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

The members of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast met last Saturday morning at the Parkway Nursing Center. Opening scripture was il Chronicles 7:10-14. Prayer was offered by Sister Chrisine Burleson. A solo was sung by Sister Katie Dawson. She sung "Amazing Grace."

The morning scripture lesson was taught by Rev. W. H. Stephenss. His lesson scripture was Matthew 7:7-8; John 7:14-18.

"Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and yo shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you; for everyone that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

John 716-18 -- Jesus answered them, and said, my docrtine is not mine, but his that sent me.

If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.

This teacher said, "Look to Jesus for guidance; he's counting on us. Turn it over to him and not try to do anything on our own. Be patience, be led by the spirit. Cast all our cares on him, because he cares. We won't to know God's will, but won't apply ourselves. Gideon wanted to see a sign from God, also !ijah propesied the drought. Live close enough to God to get an understanding. The will of God is in word of God The will of God is in the Word of God.

We thank God for you, Rev. Stephens. Keep up the good things you are doing.

Stand on the word with all your might. He will never let you down.

Thought of the week: *Before destruction, the heart of man is haughty, and before honour is humility.'

Think about it.
There are many ill people in our city. So let's apply the word of God. Pray the word. He cares about you.

Our sick list includes: Sicter Hattie Henry, Brother Luke Blacknell, and many, many more not mentioned. By his stripes we are healed. We were healed.

Write to us: Outreach Prayer Breakfast, P. O. Box 1223, Lubbock, Texas 79408.

We love you out there. Keep smiling. Even if it hurts. We look better when all we do, and it pase the hurt in someone else.

Did any good come out of Nazweth?

Our next meeting will be April 4, 1992. See you there. Dorothy Hood, president; Ardelia Hardrick, vice president.

A cactus is a truculant succulent.

—Karl Metzenberg Lord Jesus descends in. The dust of humiliation and angula. "When He went forth with his disciples over the Brook Cedron, where was a garden, into which he entered and his disciples." In this garden occurred the greatest mony in history as in the other garden was the greatest happiness. In a garden man had been happy once; now in a garden Jesus was betrayed. The first Adam had been blessed three times in a garden, but the soul of the second Adam, in a garden was sorrowful even to death.

And yet, a short time later we read and discover the third truth: "Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre. Wherein was never man yet laid. There laid they Jesus" (John 19:41-42). The darkest tragedy of earth was over, and it ended where all earth's happiness began in a garden.

FROM THE OF

"Where was a garden." John 18:1.

During my boyhood, I would often tread my way through the woods so that I may be alone to talk with God. Yet, was not alone for nature seemed to prepare for me a candescent setting in the midst of pine trees towering toward the sky with wing like branches displaying their cone shaped pollen-bearing bracts while diffusing the rays of the sun. The needles leaf of the pine trees would take on the sound of percussion instruments as the wind ever changing direction would seem to inhale and exhale and produce tune melodies. Even when there was a quiet hush declared by the atmospheric agencies. The mocking bird would mimic it tone in harmony with its fellow creatures. This small space in God's world would become my garden where I would walk with God and talk with God and cast my every care on Him.

What was true about this type of scene of yesterday is represented in similar fashion today. We live our life in a world of plain, hill, and stream, an we strive or fall amid fields, forests, or streets until at length the ground on which we tread is ennobled or debased by what we are. Thereby becoming our garden. There are scenes in our lives where we oppose actively and with force sin and unerringly conquered it. These scenes will always be beautiful to us, even in December. There also are places where we have yieled — where we gave way and all — and all the sunshine and romance of June cannot make those places becautiful again. The places that we associate some momentous experience can never be common or impure again.

In the Bible, we discover that the world's pristine happiness and deepest sorrow are associated with gardens. There are three important garden scenes in Scripture which illustrate this truth.

The first is the Garden in Eden. Here God put the man whom he had formed. Here is a beautiful picture when the music of heaven and earth was in harmony. There was no sin, no suffering; there was an exquisite and unutterable peace.

Time past and the second truth surfaces when we hear that the Lord, I know that was right, for I was raised in a Christian home, but went into a sinful world: "to do my thing: I was now grown."

I thought I had the world on a string, and I was doing my thing. "I was living my life in the lowest of the hog pen, shame, shame!"

Proverbs 13:5 -- A righteous man hateth lying, but a wicked man is loathsome (disgusting), and cometh to shame.

Lord, as I look back over my life: by the law average, I should be in my grave, but I know it's by your grace. only your grace, I'm alive this day."

Joel 2:28-29 -- The Lord said, it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flech: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dram dreams, your young men shall see visions: and also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit.

(Lord, thanks to your grace: in 1961, a man pulled a shotgun on me, I was in sin, but your grace was there! In 1962, Plains Co-Op Oil Mill blew up. I was inside a building that was destroyed; but your grace: I didn't even get a scratch on me. In 1971, a man pulled a shotgun on me, about his wife. Your grace was there! In 1971, the front tire fell off my car after coming to a stop after doing 80 mph. I it was your grace again! In 1979, a man pulled a shotgun on me in a gambling game. It was your grace again. Praise God!)

Proverbs 3:11-12 -- My son, despise not the chasting of the Lord; neither be weary of his correction; for whom the Lord loveth he correcteth; even as a father the son in whom he delighteth.

"Lord, in 1979 when coming out of Bryant, Texas, death came once again to take me. You showed me laying in the highway: I was dead, first time fear came to me. I cried, Lord, please don't let me die today. My soul would go to hell. Playing while your spirit was on me, I repented: I'm saved. I love you, all is well."

Proverbs 1:7 -- The lear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but roots despise wisdom and instruction.

(Lord's will 3-30, I'll be 51 years old. I give God all the glory I'm just a nobody trying to tell everybody, about comebody, who can save 'anybody.' Pray for me and my tainity each and everyday. AAAMANNNN.) God is not through with us yet. Let's pray for one another always.
